Lend-Lease Ships Aid Cuban Buildup

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviets refused to go above $300 million. Union has used in its Cuban military buildup some lend-lease ships obtained from the United States in World War II, the State Department said Friday.

Technically, State Department officials said, these ships still are U.S. property but there is no current program for attempting their recovery, either by legal procedure or by seizure.

Department press officer Lincoln White, in reply to newsmen's questions, said the Soviet Union still is operating 84 of 121 merchant vessels loaned to it during the war. Five or perhaps six of them, he said, have been used to carry supplies, including military equipment, to the Cuban Communist regime of Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

The ships were part of over-all lend-lease goods and equipment valued at $10.8 billion which went to Russia while it was fighting Nazi Germany. Most of the ships are cargo carriers in the 10,000-to-12,000-ton class.

The latest effort to reach a cash settlement on all lend-lease property was made in January 1960 but broke up after a short time in an apparently hopeless deadlock. The United States asked an $800 million settlement while the Rus-

Crippling Rail Strike Halted By Mediators

Key Points Submitted To Arbitration Board; Final Decision Coming

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy announced settlement Friday night of the 30-day telegraphers' strike against the Chicago and North Western Railway. The railroad said trains will be rolling again over its 10,600 miles of track within a few days.

The strike-ending agreement, engineered by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz and federal mediator Francis A. O'Neill Jr., sent to arbitration four unsettled issues, including key questions on elimination of jobs by the railroad.

The three arbitrators to be named within 24 hours by the union, the railroad and by agreement between the two, are to hand down their binding decision within 10 days.

The harvest-time strike on the nine-state Chicago and North Western was the first handled by Wirtz as secretary of labor since he took over from Arthur J. Goldberg late in August.

The 1,000 members of the AFL-CIO Order of Railroad Telegraphers walked off their jobs Aug. 30 in a dispute that hinged on job elimination procedures.

Doctors Check For Diphtheria

SIOUX CITY (AP) — Medical authorities, checking on the outbreak of diphtheria here in the last two weeks, removed three football players from scheduled high school football games before the contests were to start Friday night.

The athletes were found through throat cultures to show positive reaction but were listed only as possible carriers of the disease.

Teams were checked at Central, Leeds, Heelan and Riverside high schools.

Collier Named To Manage DI Circulation

James Collier of Yankton, S. D., has been named new circulation manager for The Daily Iowan. He takes over Monday.

The appointment by the board of trustees of Student Publications, Inc., was announced by Daily Iowan Publisher Edward P. Bassett.

It is Collier's responsibility to see that all subscribers get their copy of the Iowan.

Collier, 23, attended the University of Wichita where he received his Bachelor of Arts degree in June, 1962. He is now a graduate student in journalism studying public relations.

At the University of Wichita, Collier was editor of the campus paper, the Sunflower, and worked on the yearbook, Parnassus. He was also news and sports director of the campus radio station.

Collier worked on the El Dorado-Kansas Daily Times last summer, where he was sports editor and reporter. While in college, he was a sports writer and reporter for the Wichita Eagle.

They will meet either this weekend or late next week.

• VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. — A pushbutton Minuteman intercontinental missile was fired Friday for the first time under combat conditions — then destroyed within minutes by the safety officer.

The shot, aimed at Eniwetok Lagoon 4,000 miles over the Pacific, looked perfect. The superfast solid-fuel missile rose beautifully and remained in sight for more than two minutes.

But the Air Force said later, without elaborating, that the safety officer destroyed it because of a malfunction, caused not determined.

• UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — Secretary of State Dean Rusk expects to discuss the Berlin problem — and possibly the Cuban crisis — with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko in a new meeting. U.S. sources said Friday night.

They will meet either this weekend or late next week.

• BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — A white member of the American Nazi party attacked Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Friday as King addressed an integrationist group he heads.

Roy James, 24, Arlington, Va., was arrested and 2½ hours later convicted of assault and battery and disorderly conduct in the attack on the Negro minister from Atlanta, Ga.

Observers said James pummeled the nonresisting King with his fists until persons in the audience could get to the platform.

Ole Miss Atmosphere Said Not Entirely Rebel-Yelling

By RICK TUTTLE
(Special to The Daily Iowan)

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is a story giving opinions of some of the students at the University of Mississippi about Negro James Meredith and his attempt to enter the university. This story was provided to the Iowan by special arrangement with the Miami Herald and their correspondent on the scene).

OXFORD, Miss. — The University of Mississippi is not a solid mass of rebel-yelling support for Governor Ross Barnett.

Talk to the students and you will find that many of them — including some who were born and raised in Mississippi — would rather see Negro James Meredith admitted than see their institution closed and blood spilled.

"We are the most directly involved," said one. "We stand to lose everything but nobody bothers to consult us — to ask how we feel about Meredith. I couldn't care less if he comes here. And I think only a handful would rather see the University closed."

It's a measure of the tense situation here that neither he or the others were willing to be quoted by name.

The student body president, Dick Wilson, would not comment at all and a few students followed his example.

But most were willing to talk at length — provided they could remain anonymous.

"I don't give a damn about James Meredith or what color he is," a student declared. "I want this University to stay open and to remain accredited."

Most of them seem to feel that the Confederate flag-waving student body picture on television has been misleading.

"It was like a pep rally," said one student about the massing of deputies and federal agents. "We just wanted to see what was going on. I knew one guy who went down there just to get a date, because a bunch of girls were congregating. He got the date, too."

Students said many professors had discussed the issue in class and warned of the dangers of losing accreditation.

There is a petition going around asking for support of Barnett and there are bumper stickers saying "Help Ross Keep Mississippi Sovereign." But this does not appear to reflect the majorities' feeling.

The whole mess has harmed the University terribly," a junior said. "It has hurt Oxford and it hurts the state. No one will ever know how much."

There was little study on the campus Friday as the case made headlines across the country.

"It is as if the finals are over or we were ready to go home for Christmas," one student said.

"Every night the dorms are noisy with arguments and discussion on what is right and what will really happen. The trouble is that no one knows. The worst part is the waiting."

OXFORD, Miss. — Gov. Ross Barnett ordered his volunteer contingent of local Mississippi peace officers back on campus here Friday. None would say why, but apparently the governor moved to guard against another surprise visit by Meredith.

By late afternoon about 40 sheriffs, deputies and city policemen had gathered in aimless groups at Alumni House, headquarters for Barnett's resistance to integration of Ole Miss.

None wore helmets or carried riot sticks and the gates of the campus still remained unguarded.

This appeared to be a sign that Governor Barnett clung to his resolve to fight Meredith's enrollment at the University to some future, bitter end.

Yet none of the Mississippians on campus seemed tense, laughing frequently, joking. They glanced upward when a plane flew overhead, remembering that Meredith flew in for his first abortive attempt to register.

In Memphis, 110 engineers from Ft. Campbell, Ky., arrived at Millington Naval Air Station, ready to help with administration and logistics the growing force of U.S. marshals. These are the first troops called out in the dispute.

The Justice Department in Washington would not say when the task force might move out to force entrance of Meredith into the camp.

In Washington, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said "We're prepared to respond to whatever emergencies may develop."

He said the Defense Department had not been asked yet for troop assistance other than some housekeeping help for U.S. marshals.

In New Orleans, Secretary of the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals Friday held Gov. Ross Barnett of Mississippi in civil contempt for blocking desegregation at the University of Mississippi.

The court gave the governor until 11 a.m. (CST) Tuesday to purge himself of the contempt.

If he does not comply by that time, the court ordered that he be committed to the custody of the U.S. attorney general and fined $10,000 a day until he complies.

The court defined compliance as (1) ceasing all resistance to the orders of the federal courts for desegregation and (2) maintaining law and order for the Ole Miss campus and cooperating with officers and agents of the federal courts.

The downpour ranged up to more than five inches.

Winds up to 55 m.p.h. hit Boston and more than 3½ inches of rain soaked the suburban area.

U.S. Court Holds Barnett

On Civil Contempt Charge

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals Friday held Gov. Ross Barnett of Mississippi in civil contempt for blocking desegregation at the University of Mississippi.

The court defined compliance as (1) ceasing all resistance to the orders of the federal courts for desegregation and (2) maintaining law and order for the Ole Miss campus and cooperating with officers and agents of the federal courts.

The downpour ranged up to more than five inches.

Storm Pounds Atlantic Coast

By The Associated Press

Gales, heavy rain and high tides pounded much of the Atlantic Coast for the second straight day Friday.

The long-playing storm killed at least 10 persons and injured a number of others.

Traffic accidents blamed on the rough weather caused two deaths in Massachusetts, two in New Jersey, one in New Hampshire, one in Connecticut and four in New York.

The new offense admittedly has been created to force the Beavers and future opponents into a single defensive pattern to be used throughout the contest.

Exactly which men are eligible to receive Szykowny's losses won't be known to the foe until before the ball is snapped.

Top "floater" backs — Sammie Harris and Paul Krause — line up split from the ends. This sacrifices a man from the front line, usually tackle.

The running attack of the Hawks features powering Bill Perkins, a 204-pound fullback, who sat out last year after being injured in the 1960 inaugural against California.

The new offense was also created to attempt to alleviate lack of depth at the tackle position. Gus Kasapis, a Detroit junior, will start at the only tackle position in the Iowa offense.

Beaver's Head Coach Tommy Prothro also has his worries over the tackle position. He has been hurt by the loss of Tom Holley, and has moved Jerry Neil to tackle, the end who grabbed the winning Baker touchdown pass last Saturday, to compensate for the weak spot.

Only Hawkeyes listed among the three deep line-up who will not be in uniform will be Dayton Perry, No. 1 center last year and converted left end, who has not completed a correspondence course to be eligible.

Another question looms of importance here: the ability of the Hawks' second and third units to play topflight football.

The second unit admittedly has

Ferguson Says Team Will Fight in Memory of Late Jim Helgens

Rousing Rally Cheers Team

By JOHN SCHOLZ
Staff Writer

Pre-game enthusiasm was loud and loyal as over 2,000 Iowa football fans gathered on the east bank of the Iowa River last night to cheer the Hawkeyes into today's football game with Oregon State.

SUI's band played fight songs and the new pompon girls led the crowd in rousing cheers as a huge bonfire consumed a Beaver dummy in the background. Several SUI student leaders spoke and participated in a short skit as the team arrived.

Master of Ceremonies John Niemeyer, L3, Elkader, introduced the team from a platform set up against the northeast side of the Union foot bridge.

Iowa Coach Jerry Burns and Captain Larry Ferguson spoke for the squad.

Burns expressed appreciation for the crowd's support. "In my book, there are no better fans anywhere than those here at Iowa," Burns said. "I hope that we can show the best student body in the country that we are one of the best teams in the country," he said.

Captain Ferguson mentioned the late Jim Helgens as one very special reason why the team wants to win. "After the first game, which we know we are going to win, we are going to dedicate the game ball to Jim's folks," Ferguson said.

Helgens was a highly-rated sophomore end on the 1961 squad. He was killed in a truck accident last July.

As the pep rally ended, the team left the platform to a deafening chant of "Beat Oregon State." The team then headed for a nearby town for a night's rest before the game.

Merchants Should Heed Survey Ideas

Business leaders in Iowa City are now digesting a comprehensive retail trading area analysis prepared by a University research bureau. They should pay particular attention to some of the findings that relate to single and married students.

Single students polled by staff members of the Bureau of Business and Economic Research in the College of Business Administration estimated they spent a total of $53,669 in all towns during the previous (1959-60) school year. An estimated $29,097 of the total was spent in Iowa City.

A projection of these estimates (based on a one per cent sample of students) to the entire single student population suggests that they spent approximately three million dollars in Iowa City during the school year and an additional 2.5 million dollars in other towns.

If it were possible to update these statistics (interviews were conducted one year ago for the analysis), the dollars spent by single students would be increased substantially. Married students account for about 25 per cent of the student body; a sample of married students reflects proportional spending.

Among the single students sampled a majority actually bought items in Iowa City for the following categories: women's shoes, 51 per cent; groceries and meats, 96 per cent — 64 per cent of the single students sampled don't buy their groceries and meats; restaurant meals, 93 per cent; snacks, 99 per cent, and for such other categories as drugs, beauticians, barbers, opticians, auto repair, books (100 per cent), technical equipment, gifts, photographic supplies and jewelry.

The single students sampled who actually bought items in Iowa City did not make a majority of their purchases in the following categories: women's and men's clothing, men's shoes, doctor, dental and optometrist care, tires, automotive accessories, sporting goods and records.

Of significance to local merchants is the analysis of married students sampled who actually bought items in Iowa City. Only in the categories of automobiles (22 per cent) and furniture (49 per cent) were less than half of the purchases made in Iowa City.

Iowa City merchants are selling most of the items needed and wanted by married students at the University of Iowa. These items range from groceries and clothing to record players and television sets and include such diverse items as sporting goods and building materials.

If student spending in Iowa City ranges into the millions each year and it can be shown that millions more are being spent elsewhere, it becomes fairly obvious that those serving the community in a commercial capacity should heed the suggestions of the Bureau of Business and Economic Research. These suggestions include such matters as making students aware credit exists and publicizing the convenience and service available in Iowa City's "shopping tour".

Beat Oregon State

As the car caravan pours into Iowa City and stadium vendors prepare their super-sell frosty malt pitches, football fever again grips the University community. Even the most devoted barflies, who never see the light of day and myopic hermits who never read a newspaper know there's a football game today.

But despite the fanfare, today's opener does not command the fever-pitch atmosphere that last year's first game against California did. This small difference in enthusiasm exists mainly because last year's team was pre-rated No. 1 in the nation and this year's squad has been out of the running in most Top 20 predictions.

Nevertheless, Iowa fans should take heart because this is an even numbered year. Take a brief survey of the past and see what we mean, even if you call it superstition.

In 1956, an even numbered year, the Hawkeyes won the championship and went on to win in the Rose Bowl. In 1958, Forest Evashevski produced another winner and the team again won handily in the Rose Bowl.

Two years ago, the Hawks missed it's bowl bid, but did manage to take a share of the conference title. Last year, like all the other odd-numbered years, Iowa football fortunes took a nose-dive.

Iowa's football team has experienced a month of grueling, painstaking drill, awaiting its 1962 debut. Today the Hawks get their chance to start proving the critics wrong.

SUI students, staff, faculty and followers could do much worse than to go out to Iowa Stadium today and vocally help the Hawkeyes BEAT OREGON STATE!

Wonderful Art—Not Writing

By JOHN CROSBY

The other day I journeyed down a succession of twisting, narrow streets in St. Germain des Pres, whose houses have not yet been washed, to visit my old friend Robert (whose last name shall be withheld to protect the guilty, namely himself). Robert is an American writer who doesn't write. Paris is full of them. Europe is full of them. There are even some in America, but, let's face it, America is not a proper domicile for writers who don't write. Too much electricity in the air in America. Pretty soon the writer finds himself writing and selling things to the Saturday Evening Post, Readers Digest, Random House, going down, down, down. Next thing you know he's got a house in Scarsdale, a bank account. He's finished.

CROSBY

not write a book. Not just everyone can do it. A great deal of the agony of non-creation goes into it. It's infinitely more agonizing to not write a book than to write one. Let's press forward, shall we?

"YOU KNOW," I said, "there's a musical on Broadway called 'No Strings' about a writer who doesn't write the great American novel."

"WHAT ELSE" is not being written now?

"Well, science-fiction. You got to be far out. Fantastic stuff. Macabre humor like 'Catch 22' and what I call the horror-whimsy school like 'Lord of the Flies.' Some of the other guys are not writing essays for the Partisan Review about the influence of jazz on poetry."

"WHAT'S THE DEAL?" I asked. "Some of them don't have scripts," I objected.

"WELL, YES, it's easier work than not writing a great American novel," he conceded. "You remember when I was not writing the great American novel, there was all that research I didn't do. That took a good deal of non-doing. Then there was character development, the unfolding of story, and all that. Avoiding doing all those things could fill your whole day. Well, the nouvelle vague script I'm not writing hasn't got any dialogue or any plot. That lightens the load. But they do go in heavily for exploration of character, the interior human, and all that, and avoiding doing that can take up a lot of time."

"WHAT ARE THE OTHER GUYS NOT WRITING?" I asked. "Doesn't anyone not write a novel anymore?"

"Oh, sure, there are some writers here not writing Jack Kerouac kind of novels — you know, plotless, pointless, endless — but it's a disappointing kind of non-work. The one thing a writer who writes has is discipline and Kerouac has none of that either. So the important distinction between writing and non-writing is lost. Non-writing the Jack Kerouac kind of novel is not much different from writing one — so, what's the point?"

"WHAT ELSE" is not being written now?

"Well, I spend a good deal of time sneering," said Robert. (That hasn't changed anyway.)

"WHO DO YOU SNER AT THESE DAYS?" Anne Lindberg? Leon Uris?"

The current effect of non-writers on publishers. Back in the '20's all those great American novels that weren't written and consequently weren't sold to the movies at tremendous prices represented a terrible loss of income. Now the shoe is on the other foot. Just think of all the money Random House has saved by not having to publish all those poems not written about beat or hip Americans pululating in their erotic juices in Spain this summer.

This is a direct refusal to comply with the legislative ruling that a Communist should be denied the right to speak at a Michigan university simply because he is a Communist.

The president of Wayne State commented that this resolution was an interim one only. He said a legislative committee is deciding on speaker policy for state universities, and the final word would come from it.

Housemother Views Book

Mrs. Naomi Adams, new housemother at the Alpha Delta Pi sorority, familiarizes herself with the activities of the girls by looking through the chapter scrapbook. Although she is new to SUI campus life, she says our campus, housemothers, and girls are just wonderful.

Mrs. Adams Shares Her Favorite Recipes

By SUSAN ARTZ
Society Editor

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second in a series of interviews with new fraternity and sorority housemothers on the SUI campus.)

Alpha Delta Pi sorority welcomed a new housemother early last September, just a week before they opened their doors to rushers. Between Rush Week, Orientation, and all the other activities that accompany the opening of the fall semester at SUI, we hardly had a chance to meet all the newcomers to our campus, but we have gotten a chance to talk with Mrs. Naomi Adams, a charming woman and the new "mother" at the A D Pi house.

Mrs. Adams was born in Washington, Iowa and belongs to a family of ten children. She attended school in Washington and "married young," as she put it. However, to us today, it doesn't seem so young.

Naomi Aldene Clark met her future husband, Mr. Gilbert Adams, when she was 18, while she was working in Washington. "A friend of mine came to me one day and asked if I wanted a date, just like you do today, and I accepted," Mrs. Adams said. They were married later that year, and Mrs. Adams, then 19, moved to Keota with her husband, who opened a restaurant there.

Later, the Adams took over the proprietorship of a summer resort in northern Minnesota. "We spent our winters in Keota and on trips to other parts of the United States. The Redwing Lodge was under our supervision for 14 years. It was primarily a fishing resort, and we met many wonderful people and made a wide circle of friends," Mrs. Adams continued.

Mrs. Adams has one son, Tom, who is now married and has two children, both in high school. Tom attended Parsons College and was a flyer in the service. Today he is working for United Airlines in Cedar Rapids.

Mrs. Adams is a member of the Eastern Star and is a past matron of the Keota Chapter. Mr. Adams was a Mason. Mrs. Adams is presently a member of the Federated Church, a Presbyterian church in Keota.

Called "Mammy" by her grandchildren and "Mom Adams" by her girls at the A D Pi house, Mrs. Adams says she has always liked sports, although she does not claim great proficiency at any particular sport. She also enjoys spending her spare time playing bridge, listening to good music and knitting. Mrs. Adams said that she has knitted a dress, many sweaters, and socks for her son.

"My husband and I liked to dance and we danced often. We also did a lot of fishing, especially at our resort," the new housemother continued.

When asked how she happened to come to Iowa City, Mrs. Adams explained, "My husband passed away last January and I worked in Keota for a short while. Friends insisted that I apply for a position as a housemother. Mrs. Willa Freshwaters, housemother at the Phi Delta Theta house here, who is a friend of mine, suggested that I come here. I applied in the spring and Miss Reich and the A D Pi alumnae chose me."

Mrs. Adams seems very happy to be at SUI. As she said, "I have been so busy since I've been here, that I don't yet know any of the girls in other houses, but I'm very fond of my girls. A housemother is always pretty busy, especially when she's new and confused. When I first came, everyone was so nice to me. The housemothers are lovely and so wonderful. I have never met a more charming group of people. Being a mother to 65 girls is a job that requires special talents and Mrs. Adams has them. The report is that she has some very good recipes, and following is one for White Cherry Dessert. Mrs. Adams says that she first had this dessert at a bridge party and the hostess gave her the recipe. It is Mrs. Adams favorite.

WHITE CHERRY DESSERT
1/2 lb. vanilla wafers, crushed
1 cup powdered sugar
1/2 cup butter
2 eggs
Cream the above together.
2 cups white cherries
1 cup chopped pecans
1 cup cream, whipped

Place 1/2 of the crushed crumbs in the bottom of the pan. Cream and spread the mixture of sugar, butter and eggs over the wafers. Drain the cherries and put them in the whipped cream. Spread this on top of the filling and add the remaining crumbs and nuts as a garnish.

Mrs. Adams also has a special recipe for Cranberry Cake.

CRANBERRY CAKE
1 cup sugar
3 tablespoons shortening
cream together

2 cups flour, sifted
1/4 teaspoon salt

Sift together and add to the creamed mixture alternately with 1 cup of milk. Add two cups of raw cranberries. Bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes. Serve with the following sauce:

1/2 cup butter
1 cup sugar
1 cup cream

Boil slowly for a few minutes. Add 1 teaspoon of vanilla and serve over Cranberry Cake.

Zeta Award Goes To Judy McCrea

Zeta Tau Alpha social sorority presented Judy McCrea, A4, Newell, with the award for most outstanding senior in the sorority.

Miss McCrea, who is presently serving as president of the Iowa chapter, will wear a diamond pin of the sorority. The award was donated by Katherine Mull Falvey. Judy will wear the pin during the whole year.

The selection of the recipient is based on scholarship, chapter activity, and campus activities. Judy was secretary of her pledge class, pledge trainer, and is now president. She was a member of the AWS Freshman Council, Mortar Board, Orientation Council. She has worked on the Mothers Day Weekend committee for two years, and Project AID, Judy was Panhellenic Handbook chapter editor, an Orientation leader, and chairman of the decorations committee for Greek Week.

Cinderellas Are Fast Disappearing

If the shoe fits, don't wear it. Women today still seem to be following that procedure, which may well date back to Eve's first pair of sandals.

A recent report reveals that lady's feet not only are getting longer, they are getting wider.

It's true, the report said, that women's shoes are being made longer to accomodate her growing foot length. But since current fashion dictates a narrower shoe and pointed toe, the net result remains a pinch.

'Stockings With Seams Seen Again'

—says Fashion World

By EUGENIA SHEPPARD
Herald Tribune News Service

NEW YORK — American spectators at European fashion shows last summer were more than startled to find their old favorite seamless stockings completely missing from the haute couture scene. Designers disagreed on hemlines, waistlines and shoulders, but they were unanimous about the charms of nylons with seams. Even at Paris Dior, the world's best produced fashion show, mannequins exited with seams prominently bisecting the backs of their legs. They were not only wearing seams, but shaded, pointed heels in the style femme fatale manner.

We were ready to pass off the whole gesture as unprogressiveness, like the chronic ice cube shortage at European parties. Commentators at recent import fashion shows, though, have decided to make something of it.

"Europeans are definitely reviving stockings," . . . "In Europe it's no longer chic to wear seamless stockings," we heard last week.

The real reason Dior mannequins wear nylons with seams is because the late Christian Dior absolutely detested the seamless look, according to John Moore, a general manager of Dior stockings, a division of Berkshire. Mr. Moore gave the information a little reluctantly, since 80 per cent of his stocking business is seamless. It seems Dior used to say, "Get this stuff out of here," when he saw seamless stockings, "and bring me something with definition."

"Nylons with seams have always been more popular in Europe than the United States," Mr. Moore went to say. "Men do like women in seamed stockings. They're sexier looking. And the most important thing to a European woman is to please men."

American fashion greats are much less sold on the potency of nylons with seams. Though Mainbocher's models at a recent show were all wearing seams, Mainbocher says it was completely accidental. "I simply sent out somebody with orders to buy stockings. Seams have nothing to do with my look. As a matter of fact, I don't really like them. They're so often wiggly."

Designer Bill Blass insists that his models wear seamless stockings. He wants all eyes riveted on his clothes and not on distracting seams. He also thinks seamless stockings are prettier and much more natural looking.

"I'm for seamless stockings as long as women keep on wearing short dresses and low heeled shoes," says Mollie Pariss. "Stockings with seams call for higher heeled pumps. They go with a different way of dressing — plumping necklines and ostrich plumes."

Specialty shops report a slight flutter of interest in seamed nylons among their very highest style customers. One of the stores that passed out the message of the stocking seam revival at its import show recently says that many women stopped after the show to invest in a couple of pairs, but for every two who bought seams, half a dozen bought seamless. Career women won't touch seams. The real stocking revival is in darker nylons for all the new black clothes, according to the stores.

"Combining a new deep blackish brown nylon with seams and you really have something men like," says romance prone Mr. Moore of Dior stockings.

Maybe some women forget what an all-around nuisance stocking seams used to be. It took twice as long to put on seamed stockings and maneuver the seams into place. Even then they were always pulling off center. Stocking seams were as treacherous as snakes.

No matter how high style, the stocking seam revival is one we plan to skip. If social pressure builds up, we're in the market for a talented tattoo artist. Let him tattoo those sexy seams right down the back of our legs, but let us go right on wearing those easy, happy seamless nylons.

The selection of the recipient is based on scholarship, chapter activity, and campus activities. Judy was secretary of her pledge class, pledge trainer, and is now president. She was a member of the AWS Freshman Council, Mortar Board, Orientation Council. She has worked on the Mothers Day Weekend committee for two years, and Project AID, Judy was Panhellenic Handbook chapter editor, an Orientation leader, and chairman of the decorations committee for Greek Week.

CHI O PLEDGE OFFICERS

Pledge class officers were chosen this week by the 27 new Chi Omega pledges. Maureen Lawlor, A3, Albert City, was elected president.

Other officers are: Marty Heiderer, A2, Quincy, Ill., vice president; Donna Smith, A2, Carthage, Ill., secretary; Linda Hansen, A1, Hampton, treasurer; Jan Brown, A1, Des Moines, social chairman; Carol Lee, A2, Davenport, and Jo Shiffer, A1, Des Moines, song leaders.

Greek Women Honored At Scholarship Banquet

By NAN GAUTHIER

The 24th annual Panhellenic Scholarship Dinner will be held Monday, Oct. 1, at 6 p.m. in the Main Lounge of the Iowa Memorial Union. The dinner is for all Greek women and Panhellenic Council invites every member to attend.

Special guests will be house mothers and members of the faculty. Hostesses will be the chapter scholarship chairmen. Both the scholarship chairmen and housemothers will serve as hostesses at the tables, and members of each house will sit at different tables so that all may become better acquainted.

Recognition will be given to the individual girls who have attained superior scholarship as well as to the chapters. Also, the Panhellenic scholarship award will be presented.

Speaker for the evening will be Loren L. Hickerson, current Director of Alumni Association at SUI. Mr. Hickerson, a native Iowan, is a former editor of The Daily Iowan, and once was an instructor of journalism at SUI.

He has served as secretary of the Governor's Commission on Economic and Social Trends in Iowa, and as President of the American Alumni Council, a national organization of alumni administrators.

Mr. Hickerson has done extensive writing in the field of education, and he has written articles on Iowa's people and prospects. Also, he is a frequent speaker on these subjects.

Since Delta Gamma retired the Panhellenic Scholarship award, a loving cup, last year, they will be replacing it this year with a Revere bowl, stated a spokesman for Delta Gamma. This bowl will be awarded Monday night to the sorority with the highest house grade point for the 1961-62 year.

Delaware Has A Woman Deputy

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — The New Castle County Sheriff's office has its first woman deputy, Mrs. Alice C. Farnan.

An attractive blonde and the mother of four, Mrs. Farnan replaces a deputy on leave of absence because of illness. She has been assigned to serving court writs.

"I believe there is a need for more women in law enforcement work," she says.

Sweater Forecast —

Accent on Colors, Knits

Sweaters for winter 1962 show a definite trend away from "tricky, over-designed styles and revert to classic interpretations of knit pull-overs and cardigans. Ranging from big, bulky stitches in wools and man-made fibers to the almost lacey knits of luxurious alpacas, the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear reports that sweater makers are about to score new fashion variety to the picture.

Another facet of the sweater scene is the "His and Hers" matched pullovers and cardigans that have already made a hit with the teenagers.

The all-pervading ski influence has made its mark on sweaters, too. Bold patterns strike the style note here as well as some styles that borrow liberally from both Scandinavian and Alpine influences. Look for zip-front cardigans that close-up to turtle necks and metal-buttoned Tyrolean knits in the typical round-neck types.

Newest style note: "Knit-on-knits" — the use of a bulky cardigan or pullover worn over a turtleneck or navy-neck jersey. Sometimes the two knits are separated by a wool, cotton or blended sport shirt.

The sweater look for fall is highlighted here in a shaggy cardigan. Sporting eight buttons down its heavy-ribbed closure, it features bold slashes of a darker tone, and is worn with a new zipper-placket corduroy sport shirt and plain-front slacks.

Game Parking Now $1—

Tickets Still On Sale at Stadium

Plenty of tickets are still available for the Iowa-Oregon State football game today, as SUI opens its 74th football season.

Game time is 1:30 p.m. at the Iowa Stadium. Reserved seats at $5 each will be on sale at the stadium ticket offices until game time. It is possible with the expected pleasant weather that the opening season attendance record of 56,000 set last year against California could be broken.

A knothole section at the south entrance will be available for those under college age. Admission is $1.

Two innovations at the game will be six pom pom girls and a "floating T" offense for the Hawkeyes.

This year, to try to solve some of the traffic problems, there will be a parking fee of $1 for cars in stadium parking lots.

Drivers are advised to park somewhere on the east side of the river, or some distance from the stadium and either walk or take a bus to the game.

The 140-member Hawkeye Marching Band and the 85 Scotch Highlanders will provide additional entertainment.

Drum Majors Gerald Kesler, A3, Griffith, Ind., and Bill Parisi, Chicago Heights, Ill., will lead the band in a pre-game salute to Oregon State, and the halftime show, "A Tribute to the Memorial Union." Majorettes Margaret Rossie, A4, Iowa City, and Midge Snyder, Elgin, Ill., will also perform.

Frederick C. Ebbs, Associate Professor of Marching Bands, is beginning his ninth year as SUI band director.

The recreational facilities and the union guest house addition will be among those parts of the union saluted during the half-time performance.

Beavers Land At C.R.; Hawks Worry Baker

By a Staff Writer

CEDAR RAPIDS — Coach Tommy Prothro and his Oregon State team arrived here by plane Friday afternoon about 20 minutes ahead of time with star quarterback Terry Baker worrying about today's contest with the Hawkettes.

Before hustling the Beavers off to the Sheraton-Montrose hotel where they spent the night, Prothro said that he anticipated no changes in the lineup which was released earlier this week.

Baker, asked to comment on his Iowa counterpart Matt Szkowny, replied: "It's not only Skowny we're worried about — it's the whole Iowa team — Ferguson, Perkins and all the rest."

Baker, who gained total of 317 yards in last week's 39-35 win over Iowa State, said that he feels that the Beavers are up for the game and ready to go.

Oregon State will be the first team to face Iowa's new "Floating-T" offense, and the Beaver star commented, "Although I don't play on the defensive unit, I imagine that the 'Floating-T' will give our defense some trouble. It's always tough meeting Iowa, especially at home."

Bauer Quits A's Mad at Finley

Fencing Meeting Set for Monday

James R. White, whose appointment as the University of Iowa's new coach of fencing was announced Wednesday, has invited all interested varsity and freshmen to report for the first organization meeting.

The 40-year-old former New York Yankee outfielder announced he was quitting after waiting 90 minutes to meet owner Charles O. Finley, who was delayed in his arrival in Detroit.

Right-hander Larry Jackson went all the way for the Cardinals and scored his 16th victory in 27 decisions.

"My decision to resign was prompted by the indecision of the front office to make known their managerial plans for next year," Bauer said.

The schedule opens Feb. 2 and closes March 30. Dual meets will Cards Whip Dodgers!

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Charley James singled home the winning run with two out in the tenth inning Friday night as St. Louis defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers 3-2 and cut their lead over second place San Francisco to 1½ games.

This was the eighth loss in 11 games for the Dodgers who for the second straight night blew a chance to clinch at least a tie for the National League pennant. It will still take a combination of Dodger victories and Giant losses totalling two to knock the Giants out of the flag.

Right-hander Larry Jackson went all the way for the Cardinals and scored his 16th victory in 27 decisions.

Bauer said he decided finally to make his announcement without telling Finley.

Self-Pension Veto Hinted by Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tempers flared in the Senate Friday over a threat by Sen. George A. Smathers (D-Fla.) to block early adjournment of Congress to prevent pocket veto by President Kennedy of the self-employed pension bill.

Smathers touched off the angry exchange with fellow Democratic leaders shortly after the Senate passed the long-debated, much-revised measure to permit self-employed persons to set up tax-deductible pension funds. The 70-9 roll-call vote sent it to the President, who has not said what he will do but has hinted at a possible veto.

Kennedy has said he will study the self-employed pension bill carefully but indicated he might veto it and reconsider the proposal next year as part of his tax overhaul plan. Kennedy said he is concerned about the estimated $115-million-a-year revenue loss the bill would create.

The vote by which the Senate passed the measure suggested the

Solon Rodeo Wedding Set Amid Broncs

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — A resolution adopted by members of a three-state Baptist group urges Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett to "stand fast and die if necessary for what you believe to be right."

The resolution was adopted Thursday at a convention of the Tristate Fellowship, a division of the World Baptist Fellowship. A spokesman said the group is composed of members of about 50 churches in Florida, Alabama and Georgia.

The resolution sent to Barnett said in part:

"True Bible believers, North, South, East and West, hold the truth that God divided the races and intended them to remain so. Stand fast and die if necessary for what you believe to be right."

The message was signed by Lloyd Meyer, pastor of the Orlando Baptist temple, as president of H. U. Mullins, pastor of the Pensacola Baptist temple, as secretary.

Both luckily have had plenty of experience on horses, as the wedding will also be held on horseback. Miss Hofmeister comes from a family of long-time rodeo performers, and her husband-to-be works with a six-horse hitch in Illinois.

By the way, everyone in the area is invited to attend the wedding.

SUI Theatre Season Books On Sale Oct. 1

Season book sales for the coming University Theatre season will begin Monday at the Union.

The season books will be on sale at the theatre ticket desk in the east wing of the Union. The books, containing coupons for five performances, will cost $6. This is a saving of $1.50 for the season.

The first performance of the year will be "The Importance of Being Ernest" by Oscar Wilde. The play will be presented Oct. 25-31 and Nov. 1-3.

Dr. David Schaal, director of the play, has announced the cast for the coming production. He said only two roles are still to be filled.

George Gunkle, G. Monee, III, will play John Worthing; Alex Murray, A3, Marshalltown, will play Algon Moncrieff; Kenneth Wood, A2, South Dorset, Vt., will play the Rev. Chasuble; Ruth Longman, G, Des Moines, will play Lady Bracknell; True Fugate will play Gwendolen Fairfax; Wendy Wallace will play Cecily Cardew; and Nora Hull, A4, Cedar Rapids, will play Miss Prism.

Other productions scheduled by the theatre are: "The Duchess of Malfi" by John Webster, "The Threepenny Opera" by Bertolt Brecht and Kurt Weill, "Long Day's Journey Into Night" by Eugene O'Neill, and "The Servant of Two Masters" by Carlo Goldoni.

City To Host USIA Official From Egypt

Hussein El-Tarzi, an Egyptian employee of the United States Information Agency (USIA) office in Cairo, Egypt, will be a guest of the Chamber of Commerce here next week.

He is administrative assistant at the USIA in Cairo and manages operations of the post's motion picture unit.

El-Tarzi, 42, a former Egyptian army officer, is touring the U.S. to gain further information about this country, as well as other fields of interest.

He especially hopes to see corn, chicken, and dairy farming in the Iowa City area.

Baptist Group Urges Barnett To Stand Fast

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — A resolution adopted by members of a three-state Baptist group urges Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett to "stand fast and die if necessary for what you believe to be right."

The resolution was adopted Thursday at a convention of the Tristate Fellowship, a division of the World Baptist Fellowship. A spokesman said the group is composed of members of about 50 churches in Florida, Alabama and Georgia.

The resolution sent to Barnett said in part:

"True Bible believers, North, South, East and West, hold the truth that God divided the races and intended them to remain so. Stand fast and die if necessary for what you believe to be right."

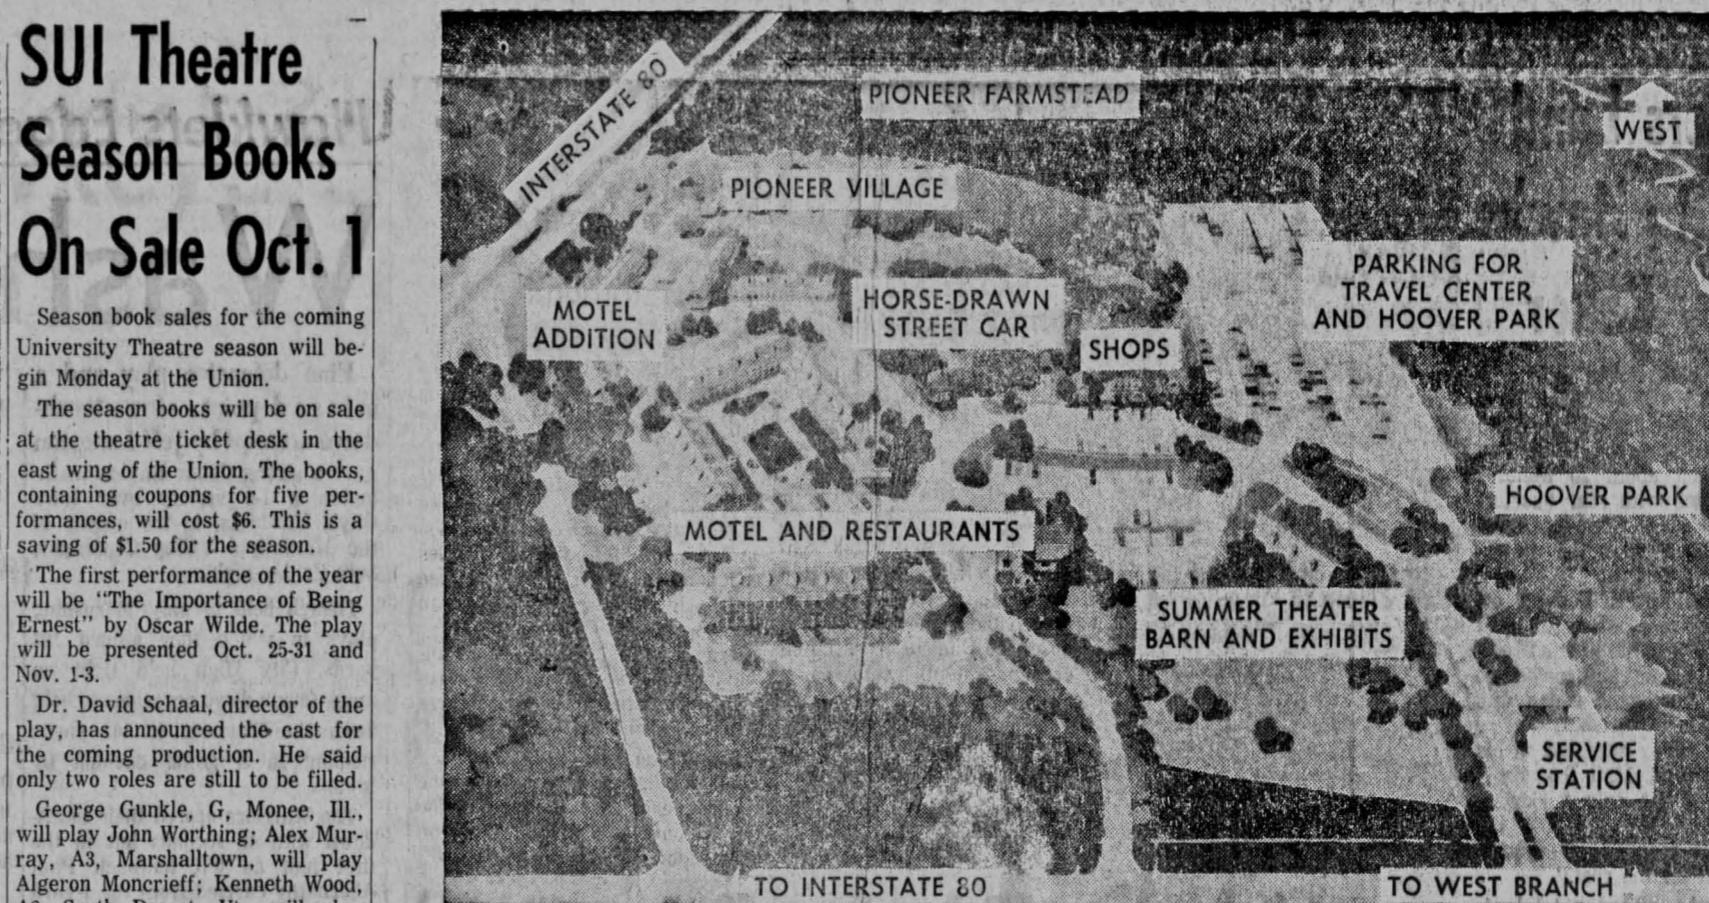

The message was signed by Lloyd Meyer, pastor of the Orlando Baptist temple, as president of H. U. Mullins, pastor of the Pensacola Baptist temple, as secretary.

Both luckily have had plenty of experience on horses, as the wedding will also be held on horseback. Miss Hofmeister comes from a family of long-time rodeo performers, and her husband-to-be works with a six-horse hitch in Illinois.

By the way, everyone in the area is invited to attend the wedding.

VATICAN COUNCIL HEAD

LISBON (AP) — The president of Portugal's National Assembly, Mario de Figueiredo, will head the government delegation to the Roman Catholic 2nd Vatican council opening in Rome next month.

Visitors' Center To Aid Hoover Park

Plans moved ahead for the visitor's center at the Herbert Hoover Birthplace Park in West Branch this week with the release of architects' sketches.

The center, planned by The Greater Iowa Corporation and its subsidiary Greater Iowa Development Corporation, will center on Interstate 80, adjacent to the mobile service station, and a spacious parking area for visitors to the travel center and the park.

Greater Iowa officials will control the project closely in order to assure "a proper and adequate facility to accommodate the thousands of visitors to Hoover Park," the corporations said.

Scheduled to be in operation during 1963 are motel and restaurant facilities, shops, an automobile service station, and a spacious parking area for visitors to the travel center and the park. Planned also for development within the next few years are a summer theater barn and exhibits building, horse-drawn street cars for sightseers, and a pioneer village and farmstead.

Greater Iowa Development Corporation, centered in Waterloo, acquired the 87-acre site for this project last spring and is now preparing to enter into various leasing, construction and franchise contracts with operators of the travel center facilities.

Another great step to reduce your cost of car ownership

FORD MOTOR COMPANY EXTENDS UNIQUE LINCOLN CONTINENTAL 24-MONTH-24,000-MILE WARRANTY TO ALL '63 PASSENGER CARS AND TRUCKS

LINCOLN CONTINENTAL

This is the total-car warranty

Ford Motor Company warrants to its dealers, and its dealers in turn warrant to owners, as follows: that for 24 months or for 24,000 miles, whichever comes first, free replacement, including related labor, will be made by dealers of any part with a defect in workmanship or materials. Tires are not covered by the warranty; appropriate adjustments will be made by tire companies. Owners will remain responsible for normal maintenance services, routine replacement of parts, such as filters, spark plugs, ignition points, wiper blades and brake or clutch linings, and normal deterioration of soft trim and appearance items. The benefits of the warranty are available to the original purchaser and to subsequent owners of the vehicle during the time and mileage limits prescribed in the warranty.

Here is what it means to you

The new 1963 Ford-built cars and trucks are quality-engineered and manufactured to serve you better and last longer than ever before. The proof is in the warranty... proof of quality unheard of a few years ago.

In fact, it was only two years ago that Ford Motor Company announced the 12-month, 12,000-mile passenger car warranty which became the industry standard as other manufacturers followed Ford's lead. At the same time, Lincoln Continental became the only American-built car warranted for two full years or 24,000 miles, whichever came first. Now, this warranty applies to all Ford-built cars, regardless of price. Why is this possible?

Actually, the new warranty is a natural outgrowth of the engineering leadership that has resulted in twice-a-year (or every 6,000-mile) passenger car maintenance. It goes hand-in-glove with such Ford-pioneered service savers as the elimination of the 1,000-mile inspection... 80,000- to 36,000-mile intervals between major lubrications, 6,000-mile intervals between oil changes and minor lubrications, self-adjusting brakes, aluminized mufflers, and longer-life electrical systems.

These features that save you time and money as you drive are a direct reflection of the total quality achievements of Ford Motor Company.

Local Man, 61, Dies in France While on Tour

James E. Herriott, 61, manager and treasurer of the local Jones-Herriott and Stevens firm, died in his sleep Thursday morning at Strasbourg, France, while on a tour of Europe. He had suffered from a heart condition.

Herriott, accompanied by his wife and daughter, Patsy, left Iowa City September 2 for the European tour.

The Jones-Herriott oil jobbing firm was established when Herriott came to Iowa City in 1949. This became Jones-Herriott and Stevens about 18 months ago.

Active in civic organizations here, Herriott was a past president of the Iowa City Lions club and of the Chamber of Commerce board of directors.

Survivors, in addition to his wife and daughter Patsy, are another daughter, Mrs. Richard Betzen derfer of Iowa City, two sisters and one brother.

Funeral services are pending at Beckman's.

Panhellenic Plans Scholarship Honors Dinner

Some 90 sorority members at SUI who earned grade-point averages of halfway between an "A" and a "B" or better during 1961-62 will be honored Monday evening at a banquet in Iowa Memorial Union.

The program for the banquet, the 24th annual event sponsored by the Panhellenic Association to recognize high scholarship attained by social sorority members, will include presentation of group awards to high-ranking sororities as well as individual recognition.

Loren Hickerson, executive director of the SUI Alumni Association, will discuss "The University You May Not Know."

Nearly 900 active members and pledges of SUI's 14 sororities, their housemothers and representatives of SUI's colleges and administrative staff will attend the affair.

Nancy Files, A4, Cedar Rapids, will serve as toastmistress. Miss Files is Panhellenic president. Carolyn Birch, A4, Cedar Rapids, is program chairman, and Rosemarie Zapf, A4, Glenview, Ill., is in charge of general arrangements. Helen Reich is faculty advisor of the sororities.

Rush Is On All October For Coeds

Wright To Head Married Housing

Informal sorority rushing will be held from Monday, Oct. 1 through Wednesday, Oct. 3.

All girls who participated in formal rushing Sept. 9-14 are automatically registered for informal rush. Other girls who would like to participate should register at the Office of Student Affairs before Oct. 24, or they will not be allowed to pledge.

Questions concerning informal rush will be answered at the Office of Student Affairs.

Town Women Meeting

There will be a meeting of Town Women tonight at 9:30 at 904 N. Dodge. The purpose of this meeting is to enable the Town Women to enter a candidate in the Miss SUI contest.

Town women are all those women students who do not live in a dormitory or sorority house.

Placement Office

Mrs. Barbara Rees, assistant director of Business and Industrial Placement Office, announced Friday that seniors and graduate students, expecting to graduate in February, must register immediately in 107 University Hall.

Companies will be coming to the campus this fall to interview prospective employees regardless of draft status, she said. June and August graduates are also urged to register as soon as possible.

New Instructor

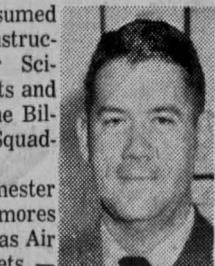

Air Force Captain Allen G. Lincoln, recently transferred to SUI from Elmendorf Air Force Base, Ala., has assumed duties as instructor for Air Science II Cadets and adviser to the Billy Mitchell Squadron here.

This semester 119 sophomores are enrolled as Air Science Cadets — approximately one out of every three who enrolled as freshmen last year.

Hypertension Talk

Dr. George W. Thorn, Boston, Mass., will discuss "An Approach to the Patient with Hypertension" at 4:10 p.m. Monday in the medical amphitheater of the SUI College of Medical.
