Crews Continue To Dig for Miners

CARMICHAELS, Pa. — Laboring in the second day of rescue operations, work crews toiled slowly Friday toward 37 coal miners trapped 650 feet underground by a shattering explosion.

There was no way of knowing if the men were alive or dead.

After more than 24 hours, workers still were about 5,500 feet from the men.

Originally, it was believed that 36 miners were trapped, but U.S. Steel Corp. raised the figure to 37 after rechecking its records.

The miners haven't been heard from since the gas and coal dust explosion cornered them Thursday in a corridor of U.S. Steel's Robena No. 3 mine near this southwestern Pennsylvania town, about 50 miles southwest of Pittsburgh.

Mine officials blamed the necessary reconstruction of the ventilation system for making the job drawn out and tedious.

Workers had to build up apparatus to circulate fresh air and draw out carbon monoxide and methane gas.

The News In Brief

Combined from DI News Sources

GENEVA — A Soviet spokesman said the Russians had offered to permit international inspectors into Russia to police the "black box" method of detecting nuclear explosions but he denied later the Soviets had made such an offer. It appeared the Soviet delegation had sent up a trial balloon and then shot it down themselves. At any rate, U.S. negotiator Arthur H. Dean said the West would never accept such an offer with the strings the Russians attached to it.

LONDON — London's killer smog loosened its lethal grip in the city after four long-searing days that left more than 100 people dead and nearly 1,000 in hospitals. The first brilliant sunshine since Monday flooded down on central London.

BONN — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who will be 87 on Jan. 5, announced he will retire next September after 14 years in office. He reluctantly agreed to Ludwig Erhard, the Vice Chancellor, as his successor.

NEW DELHI — U.S. Ambassador John K. Galbraith said the first big sea shipment of American military aid to India had either left U.S. ports or would leave immediately. He said the shipments of weapons will arrive within a month.

HAVANA — Cuba unveiled a new type of anti-aircraft gun at the same time a Government spokesman pledged to export the Cuban revolution "anywhere in the world" where it could be useful. The Czech-made anti-aircraft gun appeared to be a late model of previous weapons supplied Cuba by Russia.

BERLIN — An East German border brigade major, part of whose duties included preventing the flight of border guards, put his knowledge of the frontier to use and escaped to West Berlin with his family and another couple. He was believed to be the second highest ranking officer to defect to the West since the Communist anti-refugee wall went up in 1961.

SUI Device In 'Mariner' Venus Probe

A tiny radiation detector from Iowa will be in the thick of things next week when a spectacular American space feat takes place some 36 million miles from the Hawkeye state.

Mariner 2, the Venus spacecraft, is due to "fly by" the planet Friday and, if complex electronic parts aboard keep up their work, a radiation detector from SUI may tell scientists whether Venus has radiation belts similar to those about the Earth.

Professor James A. Van Allen, head of Physics and Astronomy at SUI, and Louis A. Frank, G. Iowa City, comment upon the scientific implications of the SUI experiment in the current issue of "Science" magazine.

The SUIowans report that the Iowa detector showed a relative "cleanliness" about interplanetary space as Mariner 2 cruised for millions of miles, although on eight occasions in September and October (the probe was launched Aug. 25) the device recorded significant outbursts of radiation.

The cigaret-sized detector from SUI was designed to tell whether or not electrons and protons are magnetically trapped around Venus as such particles are held in the Earth's magnetic field. But it has been busy during the 3½ month flight as it "samples" space also.

City By-Pass Plan Given To Council

The proposed route of a highway by-pass of Iowa City was presented to the Iowa City Council in an informal meeting Friday by Van R. Snyder, district highway engineer at Cedar Rapids.

Snyder said that the by-pass was not included in the highway commission's five-year construction program which will be announced next week.

The proposed by-pass will continue west along Highway 1 until 1 curves to the southwest. The by-pass will continue west and north-west until it turns north at section 13 of Union Township. It will continue north from the township until it intersects the present Highway 6-218 junction.

Snyder told the council that construction depends on "local interest in getting the project going." He added that local authorities can help by preserving the land from development as much as possible.

The project, which Snyder said would qualify for federal aid, is proposed as a four-lane divided expressway.

John Brown, Fidel Similar Shapiro Says

Speaker Uses Analogy To Trace Careers Of 2 'Poor Statesmen'

By JEFF FRIEDMAN Staff Writer

A comparison between Fidel Castro and John Brown, the pre-Civil War abolitionist, highlighted a talk given by Samuel Shapiro, Professor of History at Michigan State University, Oakland branch, Friday evening in Shambaugh Auditorium.

The speech, "Cuba and American responses to Revolution," dealt with Castro's career, showing how it closely paralleled the career of John Brown.

Shapiro said that "we cannot assess Castro's career" because it is not over yet.

The similarities noted by Shapiro between Brown and Castro were both of a physical and personality nature. He said that conditions when each were active were similar, making the analogy more complete.

Shapiro said both gravitated to places where there was trouble. Both collected money and weapons to raid arsenals.

Brown raided the arsenal at Harper's Ferry and Castro raided the arsenal in Santiago. Both actions ended in disaster, according to the lecturer. Both men were captured and jailed for treason.

But despite this, Shapiro pointed out, both remained calm and cheerful.

Shapiro said that the newspaper accounts of both men were hostile, but many people considered them heroes. Essayist Ralph Waldo Emerson defended Brown, and author C. W. Mills defended Castro, Shapiro said.

He noted that Castro demoralized the Batista dictatorship as Brown demoralized the slave holders. Shapiro described them both as "good revolutionists" and "poor statesmen."

Shapiro said that there has been a tendency to apply labels like "paranoic," "manic depressive" and "megalomaniac" to both men. But, he continued, it is hard to believe that two madmen can have such impact.

Shapiro attributes success of the two men to the period of change each of their countries were undergoing at the time of their activity.

According to Shapiro, the United States was undergoing political and industrial revolution. Cuba at the time of Castro's actions was going through similar social revolutions, Shapiro said.

Had the United States found a way to abolish slavery peacefully, he said, there would not have been either a John Brown or a Civil War. Many slaves living in America before the Civil War lived better than many Latin Americans do today, he said.

Shapiro described Franklin Pierce, President of the United States at the time of Brown, showing this same analogy could be applied to Eisenhower. He said that both presidents were inconsistent and easily swayed by their cabinets.

Shapiro mentioned three reasons why it is difficult to discuss Cuba today. First, he said, Cuba is a current event. Secondly, Shapiro said that the Cuban situation is a highly emotional and volcanic issue. Thirdly, he noted that it is difficult to get information about Cuba.

And U.S. negotiators, it was stated, will be prodding the Russians to follow up Thursday's announced withdrawal of 42 IL28 jet bombers by a large-scale removal of Soviet troops and weapons still on the Caribbean island.

Although President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev built their public Cuban settlement only on removal of "offensive weapons" — which Kennedy designated as long-range missiles and bombers — the U.S. position is that any Soviet military presence in Cuba is abnormal for this hemisphere. Strategists in this country thus want to follow through on the momentum of the missiles-bombers pullout with reduction also of other Soviet forces in Cuba.

U.S. intelligence estimates on the number of Soviet soldiers now in Cuba range from about 9,000 to 15,000. A high proportion of this total is believed associated with the offensive weapons system which has been dismantled, both as technicians and security forces.

It was understood Khrushchev has informed Kennedy that several Soviet ground combat units sent to Cuba to protect the offensive weapons will be withdrawn.

U.S. officials also stated that various reports have been received from anti-Castro exiles of construction of underground fortifications in Cuba being undertaken by Soviet troops. But they said they have as yet no hard, significant information on this.

Eastern U.S. Gets Snowfall In Quantity

By The Associated Press

A thick snow of midwinter proportions poured down Friday on a small section of the eastern United States amid biting, damaging winds that reached 70 miles an hour.

In some areas the fall hit 24 inches and drifted piled up to more than 20 feet. The temperature was mostly near freezing or a little below.

Vehicle traffic came to a standstill. Utility lines were downed by heavy snow and powerful winds. Thousands of cars were stalled by snow, ice or the hundreds of accidents the elements caused. Hundreds of schools were closed. Places of business and factories shut down for lack of workers.

At least 17 deaths were attributed to the storm, some in traffic accidents, some from overexertion in the wet, heavy snow.

The snowstorm started Thursday, swooping down on northern Indiana, then veered sharply to the east. It edged upward into New York State on Friday and moved over Lake Ontario later in the day.

Heaviest hit state in the storm's path was Ohio. Snow covered the entire state, from one-half inch upward to 24 inches.

In the Cleveland area, the snowfall measured about 15 inches and drifted piled up to 5 feet in depth.

Weapons in Cuba Gone, Reds Say

WASHINGTON — The Soviet Union has assured the United States that it has removed all of its offensive weapons from Cuba.

U.S. authorities said Friday they are inclined to believe this Soviet statement, reported received through negotiators in New York, because they believe it fits Soviet policy at this time and because U.S. intelligence has uncovered no evidence to the contrary.

Nonetheless, the U.S. Government intends to continue its aerial surveillance to make sure Cuba is kept free of long-range weapons with atomic capability.

And U.S. negotiators, it was stated, will be prodding the Russians to follow up Thursday's announced withdrawal of 42 IL28 jet bombers by a large-scale removal of Soviet troops and weapons still on the Caribbean island.

Although President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev built their public Cuban settlement only on removal of "offensive weapons" — which Kennedy designated as long-range missiles and bombers — the U.S. position is that any Soviet military presence in Cuba is abnormal for this hemisphere. Building Budget Divides Regents

10-Year Plan Doubtful Without 'Some Miracle'

DES MOINES — The Iowa Board of Regents, attempting to line up a long-range program to present to the 1963 legislature, Friday failed to agree on the amount of money needed or ways to finance a 10-year building program for the three State schools.

"Perhaps there will be some miracle," said Harry Hagemann of Waverly, president of the regents, after they postponed action on the proposals until the Jan. 10-11 meeting which is only a few days before the legislature convenes.

THE REGENTS expressed doubt that the legislature would approve a 10-year program for capital improvements at SUI, Iowa State University and State College of Iowa which have requested a total of $140 million for the period.

"Let us be hopeful, however," Hagemann said. "I believe there have been changes in the makeup of the legislature, and I think some of them will be very fair to our program."

"I am very hopeful that the governor and the legislature will cooperate and work out the best program for the state," Hagemann added. "I think the leading legislators will go a long way in supporting needs of our state institutions."

THE REGENTS already have presented a budget asking for $22 million for capital improvements at the three schools for the two-year period beginning next July 1. The $22 million is part of the $140 million the school presidents have recommended is needed in the next 10 years.

The regents asked SUI President Virgil Hancher, Dr. James Hilton of Iowa State and Dr. J. W. Mauker of the State College of Iowa to present a more detailed breakdown of the increases they have asked over their recommendations for a 10-year program two years ago which called for $103 million.

The regents said they would have to "well arm with explanations of the $37 million increase to sell the 10-year program to the legislature."

AFTER POSTPONING action on the presidents' recommendations, the regents discussed various ways to finance the long-range program but also postponed a decision on that problem.

Hagemann said he personally favored a standing appropriation from the legislature. Payment of the 10-year program from student fees at the institutions also was discussed.

During the discussion, John C. Oberhausen of Dubuque, a member of the regents, asked if it would be possible to seek greater contributions from corporations and other private sources.

HANCHER AND Dr. Hilton both said their schools now carry on efforts to obtain money in addition to tax funds, but Hancher said the state schools should be extremely careful in seeking private contributions so they "wouldn't tap the source of revenue for our private colleges."

Hancher also questioned the advisability of using state funds to employ staff members to carry out efforts to obtain private contributions.

A proposed survey by a "neutral expert" on the educational costs and load at each state school also was rejected by the regents for further study.

THE REGENTS had authorized the school presidents to agree on one man to carry out the survey, but the presidents said they were unable to find one man agreeable to all and recommended a three-man committee.

"This would be a waste of money, because it might wind up with three different opinions," said board member Stanley Redeker of Boone.

The regents voted to draw up several bills for presentation to the legislature, including a recommendation from Hancher that Iowa enter into an agreement with the University of Minnesota whereby Iowans wanting to become morticians could attend the mortuary science school at Minnesota.

"THAT WOULD save us from setting up a school of mortuary science at Iowa," Hancher said. "Iowa could pay the difference in tuition between Iowa and the University of Minnesota so it would cost the student no more than if he attended Iowa."

The regents also voted to go ahead with plans to draw up a bill making it illegal for firms to make copies of school keys marked "do not duplicate."

The legislation was recommended at a previous meeting by Dr. Mauker, who repeated Friday that it would prevent students with access to school keys from having them duplicated.

THE REGENTS decided not to draw up bills that would broaden their investment powers, change the name of the Iowa Child Welfare Station at SUI, and increase the mileage rate for use of private cars.

Much of the meeting was spent discussing the recommendations of the presidents for their 10-year capital improvement needs.

SUI is asking for $66,195,000 for the period, Iowa State requests $59,430,000 and State College of Iowa seeks $13,807,000.

Also recommended was $256,000 for the Braille and Sight Saving School at Vinton, the $14,500 for the Iowa School for the Deaf at Council Bluffs, and $343,000 for the State Sanatorium at Oakdale.

MOST REGENTS agreed with Wilbur Molison of Grinnell, who recommended no action be taken until a report becomes available from a legislative committee studying long-range needs of the schools.

"This is the first time a legislative committee has really gotten its teeth into the matter," Molison said. "I think we definitely ought to wait for the committee's report. We would have a much better approval of our plans from the legislature if they are similar to those of the legislative committee."

Philosophy of Italy Analyzed By Professor

Continental, Italian Philosophy Drawn From Social Milieu

The most important aspect of Italian philosophy is that it is drawn from the social and political milieu, Professor Ferruccio Rossi-Landi, of the University of Padua, Italy, said in a lecture Friday night.

Rossi-Landi, who is presently a visiting professor at the University of Michigan, spoke on "Some Features of Italian and Continental Philosophy."

Professor Rossi-Landi pointed out that pragmatic Italian philosophers like Giovanni Vailanti and Mario Calderoni, who concentrated on minute details and analysis, were not successful and did not have followers. Their ideas were foreign to the Italian people, he said.

He said that Giovanni Gentile, co-author of the fascist movement, and Antonio Gramsci, leader of the Communist Party in Italy, translated their philosophy in terms of the political and social atmosphere, and were able to succeed.

Discussing the differences in Continental and English languages philosophies, he pointed out three basic structures. The first, he said, was that philosophy was translated from English to the three main languages of German, French and Italian. He said that these languages were not as rich in their vocabulary as the English language.

Secondly, philosophy is taught in Continental schools from the secondary grades upwards whether it is understood or not.

Thirdly, he said that the most important difference is that Italian and continental philosophy is drawn out from the social and political circles.

Professor Rossi-Landi concluded that the future of Italian philosophy lies in its divorce from the social and political affiliation. He said it must be more disciplined, though it must remain in the social and political circles in an advisory capacity.

7 of Big Ten Governments Meet at SUI

The Big Ten Student Government Conference sponsored by the SUI Student Senate got under way Friday night with the absence of United States National Student Association (NSA) president Dennis Shaul.

Shaul, who was expected to present an evaluation of NSA, missed plane connections in Chicago and will not attend the conference.

Membership in NSA has been a subject of controversy in most Big Ten campuses this year.

The SUI Student Senate voted earlier this year to remain unaffiliated with NSA. Student body president Mark Schantz had supported membership.

Delegates from seven Big Ten schools are attending the conference which will be concluded tonight. Indiana, Northwestern and Purdue were not represented. Purdue is expected to attend today's sessions.

Friday night's meeting consisted of an evaluation of "sources of student government power."

Cloudy 30's Seen Today

Clouds moved across Iowa Friday, reaching the eastern counties by mid-afternoon. The clouds were accompanied by occasional light snow and temperatures in the 30s.

Some warming is expected in the Iowa City area today with a high in the mid- and upper-30s. Skies will be partly cloudy. Sunday will be partly cloudy, turning a little colder.

Iowa City Can Afford A Recreation Center . . .

Although over $1 million in bond issues have been approved by Iowa City voters this year, the city will be asked Monday to approve the $490,000 Recreation Center bond issue. On first examination, it would seem that the city should not incur this additional indebtedness.

However, the need for the center is recognized by most residents. The League of Women Voters conducted a survey four years ago that showed 86 per cent of the 164 residents interviewed felt such a center was needed. Continued growth of the city has increased this need.

The LWV survey also showed both those in favor of and those opposed to such a building were not clear on the means of financing the project.

Despite the approval of the $795,000 County Home and the $265,000 City Library bond issues this year and probable future school construction needs, we are assured that approval of the Recreation Center issue will not raise taxes or adversely affect the city's financial structure.

Support of this statement lies in these facts:

- 1) The total cost of construction of the center would be $671,000.
- 2) The bond issue to be voted on is for $490,000 which includes a $43,000 contingency fund.
- 3) The 3 mill levy will be sufficient to pay off the bonds without increasing taxes.

In short, the city can afford it. Therefore, a favorable vote at this time is a reasonable step. The amount to be paid in interest on the bonds will probably be less than increased building costs if construction is postponed.

The money has been and is accumulating for this project. These funds are not available for school construction.

The Recreation Commission anticipates completion of the Center by 1964 — if given a favorable vote — and the city would have the benefits of its facilities without added financial burden.

—Elizabeth Brooks

. . . And Needs One

Iowa City is the only city of its size (more than 30,000) in the state which does not have a recreation center of some sort. Even some smaller cities have some type of building devoted to recreation — Boys Clubs, YMCAs and the like.

The old Civic Center burned down in 1955. If Monday's bond issue is passed, it will mean the city has only been without recreation facilities for nine years.

Nine years is long enough. It is incongruous that a city of this size which has such excellent recreation facilities for the University students and faculty should have virtually no such facilities for the high school students.

For nine years Iowa City teenagers have had one night a week to use the University Field House for about three hours. High school gymnasiums are too small for many types of activities and are too often closed to the students on weekends when they are needed most.

The proposed Recreation Center will offer Iowa City youngsters, and older people, too, an opportunity to engage in many activities now denied them.

The center will feature all-year-long swimming, something lacking for Iowa Citizens now. Anyone who has visited the City Pool in the summer knows that it is more often than not very overcrowded. The pool in the new Recreation Center would help take some of the pressure from the City Pool, besides giving year-round opportunities to swimmers. The Recreation Commission has stated that the City Pool, has almost reached its capacity and can handle no more increase in swimmers.

Other activities not now open to Iowa Citizens will be made available if the new center is built.

Roller skaters will have a whole gymnasium to themselves. Rooms for individual and team sports will be available and there is even a planned handball court. Athletic enthusiasts in Iowa City now have no facilities for such sports.

The need of the city for the proposed building is evident to all of us and doesn't need much exposition.

America is fast becoming one of the least physically fit nations in the world. The President considers this so important that he has set up a National Council on Physical Fitness to study the problem and come up with some solutions.

And in Iowa City youngsters have a difficult time finding a place to play a game of basketball! The schools and churches which have been used for recreational facilities in the last nine years have proven very unsatisfactory.

Not only have these buildings been open only according to very irregular schedules but they just weren't built to handle recreational activities. And for the most part the athletic facilities available are for teenagers and youngsters, leaving the older people with nowhere to go.

Since 1961, the city has collected pay-as-you-go building fund from a city tax. This means the building cannot be started until enough money is collected.

If the bond issue is passed, the city will be able to issue bonds which will make money available for the center much sooner, possibly by 1964. No one knows how long it will take to raise the money otherwise.

Nine years is long enough for a supposedly progressive community to go without something as essential as a recreation center. Ideally, Iowa City should have one today. Hopefully, the city can have one within two years, but the decision remains with the voters.

Letters to the Editor—

In Defense of the Duchess

To the Editor:

I hesitate to write a letter to The Daily Iowan after the experience of recent weeks, but Wednesday's performance of "The Duchess of Malfi" compels me to do so, in a no doubt futile pursuit of justice. Your reviewer criticized the company's acting unmercifully; others have disparaged the directing. Both aspects of the production merit further defense, I think.

In the past decade I have seen two excellent presentations of the play, one by the Oxford University Dramatic Society under the direction of Tony Richardson, and one in Princeton by the A.P.A., a group of professional actors and directors. If the University theatre effort did not always match these in polish and flare, it nevertheless succeeded where these failed in one significant respect: the characterization of Bosola, an extremely subtle and elusive role, one which is of high importance in holding the play together, as it dominates the stage throughout the final scenes, after the Duchess's death.

Careful directing and superior acting are required to build this role so that it assumes its proper dimensions during the crucial fifth act, when the dramatic continuity of the play can so easily vanish, along with the dead Duchess. Both the directing of Lael J. Woodbury and the acting of Lawrence Gordon were superb in this regard.

Bosola, instead of remaining the stock Elizabethan villain that most directors apparently take him to be, rises in this production to a knowledge of himself, and of the often perverse experience in which he has taken part, sufficient to render the tragedy in Webster's hard vision of human reality. This fact alone justifies praising the production.

But, there are other virtues in it as well: better than competent performances by several of the leading actors and actresses, including that of Justice Gallagher as the Duchess (this your reviewer acknowledged), and certain moments of terror or beauty that startle the senses as good theatre should, for example, the murder of the Duchess and the compassion of Bosola shortly thereafter. It is also to the credit of the actors generally that few lines of Webster's frequently magnificent blank verse die on the vine, as is so often the case in university productions of Elizabethan and Jacobean drama.

It is perhaps late to say so, but the University Theatre deserves congratulations for what it has accomplished with this ambitious and difficult offering.

On Other Campuses

A Roman Catholic chaplain at the University of Virginia has issued a statement condemning fraternities as immoral, and prohibited Catholic students from belonging to the fraternities at that University.

In a statement given to the University newspaper, The Cavalier, Daily, Rev. W. A. Stickle said:

"It's a sin to belong to a fraternity which follows morally objectionable practices. A person is no longer free to do what is right when he commits himself to an organization whose practical policies are immoral."

Rev. Stickle continued, "Fraternities in themselves are not wrong. The name implies fraternal, or brotherly love.

"All social fraternities have high and noble ideals. In their dignified initiations they propose great goals. They claim to practice such virtues as unity, loyalty, scholarship, friendship and fraternity.

"However, it is a public fact . . . that the social fraternities at the University of Virginia do not practice these ideals.

"Instead of loyalty the social fraternities at Virginia promote dissension. Instead of scholarship the fraternities (here) create an atmosphere that is inimical to study. Instead of fraternity the fraternities at Virginia engender, unconsciously, perhaps, immeasurable harm to their brothers.

"What more potent means of harm could be invented than to undermine the moral integrity of a brother, to give scandal. Our Lord had the harshest words of His career for those guilty of this sin.

"It is a most serious sin against charity . . . to cause another to commit sin by command, force, persuasion, enticement, approval or silence.

"These organizations (social fraternities at Virginia) provide such situations and pressures as to persuade and commend the members to serious sins of drunkenness and purity.

"Let it be asserted that I have no wish to wrap my parishioners in cotton batting. But an 'occasion of sin' is a situation . . . or a set of circumstances where only heroic virtue . . . can overcome temptation.

"It is then, with all the authority that I may have as a priest, that I forbid Catholic students' joining or remaining members of these fraternities," said Rev. Stickle.

"It is my purpose to make my parishioners aware that adoption of the garb and code of the 'gentleman' does not exempt them from the responsibility to remain virtuous, chaste and Christ-like," concluded Rev. Stickle.

Rev. Stickle said he pledged a social fraternity at Ohio State and said he proudly remains active in his fraternity.

An editorial in Iowa State's 'The Iowa State Daily' called favorable attention to SU1's Committee for Legislative Action. The writer suggested Iowa State should follow this University's method for appealing for increased funds.

The student paper there also favored a proposal that The Des Moines Register printed in its editorial columns recently and which the Daily dutifully reprinted — that of athletic competition between the two state schools.

The Society for Indecency to Naked Animals recently staged what proved to be an uproarious defense for clothing animals.

Students at the University of California, at Berkeley, heard an argument that traffic accidents are on the increase where naked animals are visible from the highway.

The vice president of SINA talked for an hour — frequently interrupted by guffawing from the student crowd — defending the clothing of animals.

During the talk he once proudly pointed to a picture of a horse (wearing bermuda shorts) standing in the middle of a garden surrounded by SINA members. He proudly said the president of the organization brought the horse into his garden party and his guests immediately arose and broke into the SINA marching song.

Prout said another innovation which SINA has inaugurated is their SINA mobile. "It contains someone who can spot a naked animal at 50 yards and can clothe the animal in 12 seconds flat."

Prout stubbornly claims that he seriously believes in SINA — but he seems to be the only one.

Red Rubin on Run—Red Party, Too?

To the Editor:

After hearing a speaker of the Socialist Discussion Club, Dan Rubin, discuss the goals and means of communism, we have come to a definite conclusion. Mr. Rubin, first of all, proved himself to be incapable of answering any questions without twisting them out of proportion. By answering each of the questions asked from the audience with an overabundance of incoherent dialogue, he made his position not only ridiculous but also comical.

Therefore, we must conclude that if this speaker is indicative of future presentations of the Socialist Club, the Communist Party of the United States is indeed in a state of decay.

New Beta Housemother,
 Mrs. Berge, Likes Friends,
 Traveling and Christmas

By SUSAN ARTZ
 Society Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series of interviews with fraternities and sorority housemothers new to the SUI campus this fall.

Mrs. Agnes Berge, housemother for the men of Beta Theta Pi fraternity, is a woman who has traveled extensively, likes people, and especially enjoys spending her vacations with family and friends.

Mrs. Berge was born, raised and received her schooling in Rock Island, Ill. She has two brothers and two sisters, and remembers that her Christmases when she was a child were always "just family get-togethers, never elaborate or formal, just family fun." Although Mrs. Berge just returned from a Thanksgiving vacation, when she visited her two daughters; she admits that she, just like everyone, is ready for a really relaxing vacation.

Mrs. Berge said, "I won't see my daughters on Christmas Day because they each have in-laws to visit, of course, but I will go to Rock Island where Joanne lives and to Aurora, Ill., where Carol lives sometime during the holiday."

Answering the question about how she happened to come to Iowa City to be a housemother, Mrs. Berge said, "I have a close friend who is a housemother and suggested that I apply. I did so at seven colleges and there were four openings. I chose Iowa City finally, because it is nearest to home." Home, to Mrs. Berge, means the Quad Cities. Although she was born in Rock Island, she lived in Davenport for the last five years. But now, she says she's here to stay. "I just love being a housemother. They're grand boys," Mrs. Berge continued.

Mrs. Berge wears the pin of the Beta fraternity and when asked how she got it, she explained, "One evening after dinner the boys took me into Great Hall, the large downstairs room, and suddenly I was standing beside the fireplace and they were all singing the sweetheart song. Then they presented me with the pin and some roses and sang more songs. I just love the pin and wear it all the time. It's a sweetheart pin."

Mrs. Berge said that the boys in the house have planned a big Christmas, and she seemed excited to be helping them with their preparations. Last Friday the boys and the ADPI's put up a 20-foot Christmas tree in the house. Then on Saturday, the house and the Delta Gamma's sponsored a Crippled Children's Christmas party in the house. I guess my part at these functions was to act as hostess. The boys didn't actually give me any work to do," she said.

But Mrs. Berge has prepared for another side of Christmas in the fraternity house, the delicious dinner. Already she's made the centerpiece for the dinner tables. She is looking forward to her Christmas, she says, so she can also see some old friends. "I'm going to Iowa Falls for ten days before Christmas to visit and then spend Christmas Eve and the rest of the vacation with other friends in Davenport and Rock Island. Visiting is what I like about Christmas. And then, of course, the Christmas Eve service is always a must. I

PI PHI CHRISTMAS
 Members of Pi Beta Phi social sorority have planned many activities in anticipation of Christmas.

On Monday the girls entertained members of the SUI football team with the annual Football Dinner.

For this evening there is a Christmas cozy planned, at which gifts for each girl are handed out by a Santa Claus.

Tomorrow evening a Christmas buffet will be held. All the rooms in the house are decorated and the girls and their dates eat in the rooms. Afterwards there will be some entertainment.

Next Monday the Pi Phi's will have an alumni dinner.

Next week will be one of surprises and clues for each Pi Phi, as Secret Santa Week begins. Finally, on Thursday, everyone will learn who her Secret Santa is and will receive a gift from her.

PI K A ATTENDS MEET
 This weekend, Dec. 7-9, several members of Gamma Nu chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha will attend the annual District XIX convention of the fraternity.

Traveling to the University of Omaha for the meeting will be Tom Darnier, A2, Neveda; Jim Gebbie, A3, Haywarden; Bob Alex, A3, Bettendorf; Tom Van Bramer, P3, Denison; Ron Hedglin, A2, Ransom, Ill.; Al Lundgren, A2, Maywood, Ill.; Wayne Thompson, A2, Arlington Hgts., Ill.; and Bob Vander Maten, A3, Ft. Dodge.

District XIX includes the states of Iowa and Nebraska. Iowa State, Drake, and Parsons will also send delegates to Omaha. Mr. Dana Powers, resident of Iowa City and District XIX president, will be on hand to conduct the proceedings. Representatives of Pi Kappa Alpha's national office will also be in Omaha for the convention.

Several other Pi K A's from SUI will visit Parsons College at Fairfield tomorrow for the official ceremony, establishing a colony on the campus. Pi Kappa Lambda, a local fraternity, will be installed as the sixth Pi K A colony in the national organization.

D G PLEDGE OFFICERS
 The fall pledge class of Delta Gamma sorority has recently elected their officers for the semester. Mickey Harvey, A1, Sioux City, was named president.

Other officers are Dee Veit, A1, Clinton, vice president; Mary Chaussee, A1, Sioux City, secretary; Suzanne Grace, A1, Mattoon, treasurer; Beckey Behrens, A1, Cedar Falls, social chairman; Linda Mast, A1, Waterloo, scholarship chairman; Ruth Nystrom, A3, Mt. Vernon, N. Y., song leader.

CORRECTIONS
 The Daily Iowan wishes to correct two mistakes which appeared on the Society Page on Friday, Nov. 30.

Judy Shafer, A3, Storm Lake, Alpha Delta Pi, was incorrectly reported pinned to Carl Fackler, A3, Storm Lake, Sigma Chi. Instead there were two pinnings:

Judith Kay Shafer, A3, Storm Lake, Alpha Delta Pi, to Ras Skare, A3, Gladbrook, Phi Delta Theta.

Linda Nelson, N2, Downers Grove, Ill., Alpha Delta Pi, to Carl Fackler, A3, Indianola, Sigma Chi.

Also, it was stated that the Delta Chi fraternity pledges did not receive dessert until they gave gifts for needy children. The Delta Chi's wish to clarify this; the statement should have been that the Delta Chi's are giving up dessert between Thanksgiving and Christmas, and the money saved will be spent for gifts to a needy family in the Iowa City area.

WEDDING ANNOUNCEMENT
 On Sunday, Dec. 16, two students of the SUI School of Nursing will marry. They are Fred Phelps, N4, Colesburg, and Ellen Louise Kuhn, N4, Hull, Ill. Mr. Phelps is the newly elected president of the General Nursing Students Association. At a recent meeting of this group, the couple was presented with a wedding cake.

Mr. Phelps and Miss Kuhn are the first nursing couple from SUI to be wed while in school.

Dr. Gresham —
 'Scholar's A Has Replaced
 Gentleman's C in Prestige'

Dr. Perry E. Gresham, president of Bethany College, Bethany, W. Va., delivered an address titled "The New Fraternity" on Saturday, Dec. 1, at the summary session of the 53rd meeting of the National Interfraternity Conference (NIC) held in Pittsburgh, Pa.

NIC serves as the clearing house for the activities of college fraternities. Attending the convention were more than 1,000 delegates from the United States and Canada, representing fraternity undergraduates, college administrators and interested alumni.

Members of SUI's fraternities may be interested in Dr. Gresham's address, which follows.

"Change is apparent everywhere in America, but the college fraternity is changing most of all. The scholar's 'A' has replaced the gentleman's 'C' in prestige. The beer bust boys have been crowded out by the intellectual argument and the deeper conversation. Casual, but civilized, dress has replaced the rascally coat and the sloppy job togs. Easy sophisticated manners are making the noisy boys and the strainers both look cheap. A first-rate chapter on a first-rate campus resembles a small college at a British university more than it does the adolescent gang's clubhouse which was once so commonplace. The peer group has become a major force for academic achievement rather than an anti-intellectual hideout.

"These drastic changes have come so swiftly that some chapters have not kept up with the times. Almost all the old grads are confused by the new attitudes. The returning alumnus who boasts of high escapades and low triumphs may

Coeds — What's New?
 — in Activities

Donna Ferguson, A2, Cedar Falls, has announced her committee chairmen for the Spinsters' Spree to be held Mar. 1, 1963. They are Carol Bokorney, A2, Cedar Rapids, tea and bids; Vernene Mary Rogers, A2, entertainment; Pat Popejoy, A3, Glen Ellyn, Ill., decorations; Susie Artz, A2, Jackson, Miss., publicity.

The AWS Freshman Council has invited the General Council members to a holiday tea next Tuesday at 4 p.m. at the Delta Delta Delta house.

A reminder to all artistic coeds — apply for the art editorship of the Code for Coeds, published for all new SUI coeds. Applications will be available this weekend in your housing units. They are due Jan. 9, 1963.

The Women's Recreation Association (WRA) lists the following bowling teams as leading in last week's competition.

1—McBroom II, 2—Alpha Phi.
 3—Wellman I, 4—Daley, 5—Currier (North 1st), 6—Alpha Xi Delta I.

Miss Brower
 Takes Stand
 Against Riots

Sidna Brower, 21, a senior at the University of Mississippi, at Oxford, Miss., who is editor of the Daily Mississippian, the campus newspaper, is currently under fire from Ole Miss students for her editorial policies after a six-week desegregation crisis.

At Ole Miss the Student Senate holds the same power of hiring and firing that SUI's SPI Board has. Some of the students there sought to impeach her, others just to reprimand her.

Miss Brower became a center of controversy with her strong editorial stand against student demonstrations after Negro James Meredith's arrival on the campus.

"I was elected by the student body and I'll continue speaking through the newspaper as a voice of the students until I'm impeached," said Miss Brower.

"The pressure from students doesn't bother me," she said. "In fact, it has helped some students to speak out in my favor although they previously were afraid to express their opinions."

She added, "Who in their right mind can condone violence?"

The campus senate committee decided Thursday, Nov. 29 to reprimand Miss Brower for failure "in time of grave crisis to represent and uphold the rights of fellow students . . ."

Originally the senate received a resolution from George Monroe of Newton, Miss., which called for censure of Miss Brower for editorials attacking students involved in violence.

In an editorial of Oct. 30, Miss Brower had quoted a New York Times dispatch which said, ". . . most of the students are unimpressed and little interested in events and opinions in the rest of the nation and world." The editorial called demonstrating students "barbarians . . . rabble-rousers . . . immature weaklings . . . engaged in civil savagery . . ."

Miss Brower said that she's now "an open field for criticism." While opposing the violence, she's never made clear her own feelings about segregation. "It's my contention that any expression of personal opinion would only inflame the situation one way or another," she added.

Miss Brower, who is from Memphis, Tenn. and is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, plans a newspaper career. She won the William N. Taylor award from Scripps-Howard newspapers for her coverage of the Meredith story and plans to join the staff of the New York World-Telegram and Sun after graduation.

Fashions For Coeds

Coeds Air Views
 At Fashion Show

As a result of informal style shows, being sponsored by Moe Whitebook's, many SUI coeds will soon be well versed on what is new for this winter and for the holiday season, and what may be here for next spring. The local merchant has sponsored several showings in the sorority houses in the past two weeks and will go to other houses next week.

The girls are getting a good look at the variously priced articles in Mr. Whitebook's five clothes lines for women. Mr. Whitebook does the commentary at these informal showings and then opens the floor to questions from the girls. The coeds have responded actively, with questions like why other lines aren't carried, why lower price range goods aren't carried, and what the styles, fabrics, and hem lengths for spring will be. Coeds also aired their complaints about what Iowa City lacks in women's wear.

Mr. Whitebook answers these and many other questions.

Iowa Gymnasts At Mankato Today

By GARY SPURGEON
Staff Writer

A potentially tough Mankato State gymnastics team will provide the first hurdle of the dual meet season for the Iowa Hawkeyes today. Coach Dick Holzaepfel admitted that he knew very little about the Hawkeye opponent and said his team might have a rough time in its invasion of Mankato territory.

SUI's Holzaepfel Is East Coach For Gym Clinc

"But I think we will be able to do more than meet them half-way." The Hawkeyes also competed in the Midwest meet and several performers reached the finals. Holzaepfel said he was pleasantly surprised about the performance of some of his men.

He expressed particular surprise that sophomore Glenn Gailis placed high in the still ring competition. He singled out George Hery for turning a strong effort in free exercise and tumbling.

The coach also said Russ Porterfield and Bob Schmidt performed well at the meet.

Following today's meet, the Hawkeyes will be idle until they travel to Southern Illinois on Jan. 11.

Dick Holzaepfel, Iowa gymnastics coach, has been selected to coach the East team at a gymnastics clinic in Tucson, Ariz., during Christmas vacation.

Holzaepfel will be in charge of an all-star team made up of the top performers from school located in the eastern United States. His team will compete against a similar all-star team from the Western U.S.

The Hawkeye coach said gymnastics teams will attend the clinic and these performers will compete in tryouts on Dec. 26.

"The men in the top echelon will be selected for the all-star meet," Holzaepfel explained. "Each performer will be limited to one event and it will be quite an honor for the men selected."

Holzaepfel will be taking his Hawkeyes to the clinic.

SCHARM SCHEUERMAN
Relies on Defense

Play There Monday Night—

Hawks Seek 2nd Win at St. Louis

By HARRIETT HINDMAN
Assistant Sports Editor

Iowa's cagers travel to St. Louis Monday night for their second test of the season after the 62-57 opening victory over Evansville last Saturday.

Hawkeye Coach Sharm Scheuerman said Friday that he has confidence in the defensive ability of his team and the offense seems to be improving.

"We feel that defensively at Evansville we did a good job for so early in the season," Scheuerman explained.

"We don't feel we have had any let down in defense in practice this week and we are hoping that our defense will prove itself against St. Louis."

The St. Louis team has a 2-1 record for the season losing 84-69 to the Big Ten's Ohio State and defeating MacMurray College (Jacksonville, Ill.). Tonight the Billikens meet Kansas State. Thus they will have three games of experience compared to Iowa's one when the two teams meet.

Asked to comment on the Hawkeye offense, Scheuerman said, "We are not adding much new, but instead are just trying to perfect what we do have. A lot of small details need smoothing out."

The Iowa coach indicated he was pleased with practice sessions this week. "The win over Evansville did us a lot of good. The spirit in practice this week has been real good." Probable starters for the St. Louis team are Stan Luechtefeld, 6-5, and Donnell Reid, 6-4, at the forward positions; John Smith, 6-0, and Dave Harris, 6-1, at guards; and Garry Garrison, 6-8, at center. The Billikens will have a noticeable edge in height against the Hawkeye starters. Garrison, rated the Billikens' standout by Iowa scout Dick Schultz, scored 251 points last season as a sophomore and led the team in rebounding. His hook and jump shots are his greatest assets.

Scheuerman announced that Jerry Messick, 6-8 Iowa center, will guard Garrison, but added, "One of our biggest problems will be trying to keep Garrison from hurting us on the boards."

'Bobo' Newsom Dies in Florida

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI)—Louis Norman (Bobo) Newsom, colorful former major league pitching star, died here Friday at the age of 55.

Death was attributed to a liver ailment.

The Hartsville, S. C., native was a major leaguer for 22 years and ran up a record of 211 victories and 222 losses in a career mostly with second division clubs.

A large part of his career was spent with the Washington Senators, who had spring training here. After his retirement from active playing, Newsom was a pre-game television announcer for Baltimore. Upon retirement, he moved here.

Newsom was known in baseball circles as "the traveling man" having played for several major league clubs.

Pall Mall Presents - GIRL WATCHER'S GUIDE

CAMPUS TYPE V

The natural habitat of the Cupcake is the Home Economics kitchen. She believes, as her mother did, that the way to a man's heart is through his stomach. While this viewpoint might be considered unsophisticated by many of today's more enlightened male students, none of them has ever been known to turn down a tin of her Fudge-Frosted Nut-Filled Brownies. She really has a way with a dish and, as you can see, she's quite a dish herself.

Just as the Cupcake has found the perfect recipe for Frosted Brownies, the makers of Pall Mall have found the perfect recipe for a delicious smoke. Taste Pall Mall's natural mildness and see what we mean.

Pall Mall's natural mildness is so good to your taste!

So smooth, so satisfying, so downright smokeable!

ANNOUNCING THE 1963-1964 AFFLERBACH FELLOWSHIPS

BACKGROUND OF THE COMPETITION: No matter how much time our People in Naming spend thinking up just the right color names for our shirts (Maize, Stone Green, Peat Blue, etc.), the Eagle Secret Shoppers inevitably report that you choose your Eagle shirts with such statements as "Gimme six of them greenish ones" or "Could I bother you for two or three dozen of those stri-ped ones." Our problem is in selecting names which will capture the imagination of the shirt-buying public. ❖ NATURE OF THE COMPETITION: The 10 Afferbachs for 1963-64 will go to those persons suggesting the best names for our colors. Imagination-capturing names, like Well Red, Long Green, Charlie Brown, or Navel Orange. You may wish to inspect our shirts—for inspiration, if not purchase. Eagle shirts don't always have an Eagle label—some fine stores sew in their own—but if you write us, we'll suggest your nearest Eagle Shirt Color Inspection Station. ❖ STIPEND: The grand prize winner will have his (or her) choice of a Traveling Afferbach (a grand all-expense-paid weekend at the Bush House in Quakertown—an exciting chance to become acquainted with the natives—many of whom are us, including Miss Revera Afferbach, herself) or a Stationary Afferbach (a dozen Eagle Button-down shirts). The 9 other Afferbachs will consist of a grant of four Eagle Button-down shirts. Each, that is. ❖ RULES: The competition is open to all students and faculty members at schools, as well as to those who have filled in the coupon below.

*This, actually, is Eagle's second competition in as many years. Those of you who partook of the first, that is, what to do with the pocket on a Shirtkerchief, will doubtless be excited to learn that the book containing many of your letters to Miss Afferbach has now been published by the Macmillan Co. and is now available at your bookseller. We have called it Dear Miss Afferbach, or The Postman Hardly Ever Rings 11,342 Times, and the price is $4.95.

AFFLERBACH FELLOWSHIP APPLICATION FORM

3. City _____ 4. State _____
(If you live in Altoona, Fresno, or other places we've never heard of, would you help our Ladies in Addressing by telling us what city or town you live near: _____)
5. Suggested color name (s) (e.g. In Violet, Hugo Black, Whizzer White) _____

Mail the completed application to The Afferbach Foundation, Eagle Shirtmakers, Quakertown, Pennsylvania. Applications are due by January 1st, 1963.

At 50, Archie Stays in Ring

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — As of now, Archie Moore intends to continue fighting.

The old ring gladiator, whose closest friends say he will be 50 years old Dec. 13, told the San Diego Lions club in a talk Thursday that Doc Kearns, his veteran aide, was looking into the possibility of some fights in England.

Moore was knocked out in four rounds by Cassius Clay in Los Angeles Nov. 15.

Offers His Pay Raise To Assistant Coaches

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — This must be a first:

Frank Broyles, Arkansas football coach, turned down a raise in pay.

He said Friday, while attending the winter meeting of the Southwest Conference, that he declined the boost in order to give the money to his assistant coaches.

"I wanted them to have a nice raise," he said.

Sports in Brief—

AAU-NCAA Dispute Still Not Settled

CHICAGO (AP) — The United States Track and Field Federation, accusing the National Amateur Athletic Union of bad faith, formally renewed its war with the AAU group Friday over control of amateur track.

The federation's governing council met Thursday and Friday and announced at a news conference the group "is proceeding full speed with its broad, progressive track and field program for all ages groups."

Charles Chick Werner, federation executive director, released a resolution which stated that the federation's governing council regretted that an expected agreement between the AAU and the Federation could not be implemented because of the "AAU's repudiation at their Detroit convention of the Olympic House documents which were developed in good faith."

NEW YORK (AP) — Jerry Stovall of Louisiana State, the most sought-after running back in college football, said Friday he has no preference for either of the rival pro football leagues.

"I'll listen to both offers carefully before I make up my mind," he said.

Stovall, the 194-pound All-America halfback who runs with both speed and power, was the No. 1 draft pick of the St. Louis Cardinals of the National Football League and the New York Titans of the American Football League.

ST. LOUIS (AP) — J. G. Taylor Spink, publisher of The Sporting News and one of baseball's most influential supporters, died Friday at his home in suburban Clayton.

Spink, 74, had been ill for more than a year.

Spink built a sports publication empire after taking over as publisher-editor of The Sporting News in 1914. In addition to The Sporting News, referred to as the bible of baseball, Spink published The Sporting Goods Dealer, a trade magazine, and an assortment of baseball record books.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A confident appearing Emile Griffith of New York disclosed Friday he has another goal in addition to retaining his world welterweight title.

The 23-year-old champion is determined — and a 12-5 favorite — to turn back the challenge of a tough, hard-hitting rival, Jorge Fernandez, 27, of Argentina.

CORAL GABLES, Fla. (AP) — Bill Collins, the big blond Baltimore better, conquered a backache Friday and blasted a 5-under-par 66 that gave him a 3-stroke midway lead in the 72-hole, $20,000 Coral Gables Open Golf Tournament.

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — Dan Grimm, 244-pound tackle at the University of Colorado, said Friday he has signed a contract with the Green Bay Packers of the National Football League.

Tresh A.L.'s Best Rookie

NEW YORK (AP) — If Tommy Tresh isn't celebrating his selection as American League rookie of the year it isn't because he isn't appreciative of the honor awarded him Friday by the Baseball Writers' Association of America. It's just that he's too busy with his school work.

The switch-hitting star of the New York Yankees currently is embarked on an off-season college program which he hopes will enable him to obtain his degree in physical education at Central Michigan University after four more semesters.

"It should take me 8 1/2 years, in all, to graduate," said the 24-year-old collegian, speaking over the phone from Mt. Pleasant, Mich.

Tresh has been returning to Central Michigan every year since 1957, some months before signing with the Yankees for a $30,000 bonus. He is now in his sixth semester.

"I promised my parents when I signed that I would finish college," he said. "I don't know whether they would hold me to that promise now but I'm determined to finish because I realize the importance of a college education."

Tommy's father is Mike Tresh, a fine catcher with the Chicago White Sox and Cleveland Indians from 1938 through 1949. Mike was known as a brilliant receiver but he could not hit with his son, whose qualifications for the 1962 rookie award included a .286 batting average, 20 home runs, 94 runs scored, 274 total bases and 93 runs batted in.

Tresh received 13 of the 20 votes cast by the writers' panel. Bob Rodgers, Los Angeles catcher, got four votes and the other three were divided among Bernie Allen, Minnesota second baseman; Dean Chance, Los Angeles pitcher, and Dick Radatz, Boston relief hurler.

Apartments Willed to SUI

Terms of a trust agreement through which a 14-apartment building in Iowa City will be deeded to SUI were presented to the State Board of Regents Thursday by SUI officials. The apartment building and real estate at Melrose Ave. and Melrose Place is that of Mrs. Thomas G. Caywood, whose husband was a member of the SUI College of Engineering faculty from 1914 until his death in 1947. Terms of the agreement provide for the eventual use of net income for scholarships for deserving students in engineering at the University. The property is to be managed by the SUI business manager, Ray B. Mossman, and is to be leased as apartments. If leasing becomes impractical, the property may be used for other purposes that will produce the best income, or may be used by SUI for fair and reasonable rental value.

Local Panel To Appear On WSUI

A panel discussion on "Why Council-Manager Government?" will be aired on WSUI Monday, at 8:30 p.m.

Participating on the panel will be Robert Boynton and Russell Ross, associate professors of political science and Mrs. Paul Huston; and Mrs. E. H. Eggers of the Iowa City League of Women Voters.

The League of Women Voters was instrumental in the adoption in 1952 by Iowa City of the council-manager form of government. Because it felt a need to bring both itself and the community up to date on the accomplishments, strengths, and problems of a city-manager government, the league voted to make the subject a major part of its current local program.

Mrs. Huston is chairman of the council-manager resource committee, and Mrs. Eggers is a member of the committee.

Robert Irwin, program director for WSUI, will moderate.

Cancer Society Names Dr. Evans

SUI professor Titus C. Evans, has been named state chairman of the American Cancer Society's 1963 April Crusade.

Dr. Evans is Head of the Radiation Research Laboratory in the SUI College of Medicine. He has been the recipient of several American Cancer Society national and state research grants. He is currently a member of the Iowa Division's State Board of Directors and the Executive Committee.

MOSCOW OUT OF CARDS

MOSCOW (AP) — A large Moscow shop has already run out of Christmas and New Year's greeting cards. The manager tells disappointed customers he's expecting a new shipment in the first or second week of January.

tional Center will speak on customs and homemaking in Turkey. A gift exchange and Christmas singing will follow the discussion.

Bake Sale

Town Women are sponsoring a bake sale today from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m. at the A&P Food Store, 700 S. Clinton St. Proceeds from the sale will go to pay for homecoming bills.

Ad Club Meeting

Gamma Alpha Chi, women's professional advertising fraternity, will meet in the Communications Center Lounge at 7:30 Sunday night. The outstanding pledge will be announced and there will be activation. A coffee hour will follow.

Travelog Sunday

The Iowa Mountaineers will sponsor a travelog Sunday at 2:30 p.m. in Macbride Auditorium. It will feature John Goddard, "From the Andes to the Amazon." It covers a journey from Peru, through Ecuador to Brazil. Goddard is a noted explorer and adventure photographer. He is on the faculty of Brigham Young University. He has traveled through 55 countries and explored three of the world's longest rivers.

Tree-Trim Party

Everyone is invited to a tree-trimming party at the Christus House, 122 E. Church St., Sunday night from 7:30 until 10:30. There will be refreshments, caroling and games.

SUI Dames

SUI Dames knitting group will meet Monday night at 8 in the home of Ise Buchheit, 518 N. Van Buren St.

Free Movie

Union Board will sponsor a movie, "A Night to Remember," Sunday night at 7:30 in Macbride Auditorium.

Folk Group

Harakdanim, the Israeli folk dancing group, will meet Sunday at 8:45 p.m. in the Conference Room 3 of the Union. The meeting is open to the public.

See additional campus notes, page 8.

News Group Initiates 12

Twelve SUIowans were initiated into Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism society Sunday.

The initiation coincided with the 50th anniversary of the founding of the SUI chapter.

Silent Actors To Perform In Pantomime IV Monday

The work of 14 silent actors, practicing since Thanksgiving, will unfold in the opening of Pantomime IV Monday, with performances scheduled through Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Studio Theatre of the Old Armory.

Some of the pantomime subjects included in the program are lumberjacks at work, a jabbering lady in a telephone booth with a man waiting to use the phone, a satire on the dental profession, and a pick-pocket in action.

The Daily Iowan series, a popular phase of Pantomime last year, will again be performed. Each day, articles from The Daily Iowan will be chosen and satirized that night.

During the show one of the pantomimists will be asked to portray a character in a short plot without previous notice or practice. This spontaneous act is a new addition to Pantomime IV.

The show will close with a version of the silent movies. James Gousseff, director, has labeled this act "about as wild as anything one could imagine." The action for this act includes special lighting, titles, and slides originated by cast members.

Tickets are still available for all performances, and may be picked up at the East Lobby Desk, Iowa Memorial Union.

When a cigarette means a lot...

get Lots More from L&M

- more body in the blend
- more flavor in the smoke
- more taste through the filter

It's the rich-flavor leaf that does it! Among L&M's choice tobaccos there's more of this longer-aged, extra-cured leaf than even in some unfiltered cigarettes. And with L&M's modern filter — the Miracle Tip — only pure white touches your lips. Get lots more from L&M — the filter cigarette for people who really like to smoke.

SUI Student Housing Rates Not Changed for 1963-64

The same rates that prevail now for SUI single student dormitories and married housing units will be maintained in the 1963-64 academic year, the State Board of Regents was told at the December meeting here Thursday.

SUI officials reported that it will be possible to keep the same rates for at least another year because of continuing economies effected in the operations of the housing systems, and because of the prospect of lower financing costs for expansions of the housing systems.

Boarding dormitory rates were set at their present levels in 1960 to take effect in 1961 while married student housing rates were raised last in 1958.

The cost of expanding SUI student housing — which includes construction and debt retirement — bears strongly on the housing rates because both dormitories and married housing at the Regents institutions must be self-supporting under Iowa law. The systems depend solely upon their own revenues for operating costs and new construction.

Current rates per academic year for SUI's four boarding dormitories range from $880 for a multiple room to $980 for a single room. The monthly rental for barracks-type married student housing unfurnished apartments is $62.50. Rentals for permanent married student apartments range from $65 for a Parklawn unfurnished, efficiency apartment to $83.50 for unfurnished quarters in Hawkeye Apartments.

SUI did recommend and the Regents approved increases in the daily rates charged for overnight use of dormitory rooms. The new rates, which replace those used for many years, are effective June 1, 1963. Increased from $2.50 to $3.50 per day was the rate charged to persons attending SUI conferences and specialized educational programs, class reunions and other University activities, who use multiple rooms in dormitories. The single room rate for this category of University guest was increased from $3 to $4 per day.

The daily rate charged to students — college or high school — for multiple rooms was changed from $1.50 to $2.50. Principal users of rooms under this rate are guests of students living in University residence halls, visiting athletic teams, student organization meeting delegates, fraternity and sorority rushes, and participants in music and forensic events.

Income of the SUI dormitory system last fiscal year was $3,937,205 while operating expenses totaled $3,021,575, leaving $915,630 to apply toward reducing the dormitory system's indebtedness of $11,108,500 at the end of the fiscal year.

Johnson To Tell Assembly Of U.S. Stuttering Care

Wendell Johnson, professor of Speech Pathology and Psychology, has been selected to present recent developments and current practices in the United States in the treatment of stuttering before the general assembly of the next meeting of the International Association of Logopedics and Phoniatrists. Johnson was selected for this assignment by the Association's Board of Directors at its most recent meeting. The Association meets every three years, and its next convention will be held in 1965 in Vienna, Austria.

At the last meeting of the international association, Aug. 29-Sept. 4 of this year, in Padua, Italy, Johnson participated as an official delegate of the American Speech and Hearing Association. He is a past president of this organization and currently the Chairman of its Publications Board. Johnson's book, "Stuttering and What You Can Do About It," published in 1961 by the University of Minnesota Press, was issued this year in a paperback edition by Doubleday Publishing Company, Inc., New York.

Citizens Express Views on Rec. Center

Most Iowa City residents favor the proposed bond issue for a recreation building, if the results of a straw poll conducted by The Daily Iowan are representative of community feeling.

Only one person of the 30 contacts was against the bond issue. Several others had not yet decided how to vote. The person opposing it gave no reasons for her stand.

Many people commented that a recreation center was needed for center could provide.

Rabbi Sheldon Edwards gave three reasons for voting "yes" in Monday's bond election: "First, passage of the bond issue does not provide for any increase in taxes. Second, the recreation center would provide the kind of facilities for our young people that all the experts have advocated. Third, a child playing in a supervised center is one less prone to accidents."

One woman commented that local churches had once provided room for recreational activities, but Iowa City had grown so large that churches could no longer handle this function.

Others suggested that adequate recreation facilities would help attract new people.

"It can't be stressed too much that we need a yes vote," Mrs. Allyn Lemme, member of the Recreation Commission said. "Cost of the building will be lower if we start now, since building costs are on the upgrade," she added.

Many felt that the fact that taxes would not be raised by building a recreation center was a major reason for voting yes. A current three mills tax levy for a pay-as-you-go building fund will cover the cost of the new building.

Polling places will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday. Polling places will be the same as for the general election in November.

On The Campus

President-Elect

Duane Moon, G. West Branch, vice president of William Penn College, Oskaloosa, was named president-elect of the college by the Board of Trustees Monday.

He will take office as president-elect on July 1, 1963, assuming full responsibility as president of the college in July, 1964.

Moon is presently working towards a Ph.D. degree in school administration at SUU.

Conservative Club

The Conservative Club will sponsor a talk on a proposed amendment to the United States Constitution Tuesday in the River Room of the Iowa Memorial Union.

J. S. Kimmel, Sr., Iowa state chairman of the National Committee for Economic Freedom, will speak to the group on the amendment, which would force the National Government to divest itself of its business interests and eliminate the progressive income tax.

The meeting will be open to the public.

Chamber Concert

Works by Rossini and Mozart will be presented by the University Chamber Orchestra Tuesday at 3 p.m. in North Rehearsal Hall.

Featured with the orchestra will be Lyle Merriman, G. Witchita, Kans. clarinet; James Kohn, G. Villa Park, Ill., piano; and David Daniels, G. Penn Yann, N. Y., conductor. Their performances are in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the Doctor of Philosophy Degree in Music Literature and Performance.

Scholarship Offered

Applications are now being accepted for a $145 scholarship offered annually by Delta Delta Delta social sorority.

Any senior woman who has a grade point average of 2.5 or higher and who shows sufficient need is eligible for the scholarship, which covers the cost of second-semester tuition.

Anyone interested in making application should see Miss Helen Reich in the Office of Student Affairs before Dec. 14. Applications will be due Jan. 10.

Bake Sale

Sigma Theta Tau, professional nursing society, will hold a bake sale at the One-Hour Martinizing cleaners, 10 S. Dubuque St. Saturday at 8 a.m.

Profits will be used for a fund scholarship for nursing students.

Medical Meet

The Women's Auxiliary to the Student American Medical Association will meet Tuesday, at 8 p.m. in the medical amphitheatre in University Hospital.

Don Senne, of Bettendorf, the district representative for Mead-Johnson, and Ted Spyra, medical center representative from St. Louis, will speak on "Management Principles in Medical Practice."

The first two films in a series of four will be shown. All medical students and their wives are invited to attend.

Christmas Party

The Math Wives Club will hold a Christmas party on Saturday, at 8 p.m. at the First Baptist Church.

English Lecture

Ralph Freedman, associate professor of English, will speak on "Self-Awareness in the Fiction of Franz Kafka," Sunday at 7:30 p.m. in the Fireside Room at the Unitarian Church.

Air Force Officers

Captain Leonard D. Fenner and Captain Virginia Selle, United States Air Force officers training school liaison officers for the 3507th USAF recruiting group, will be in Iowa City at the south lobby of the Iowa Memorial Union from 9:30 a.m. through 3:30 p.m. Wednesday.

All college seniors, male and female, interested in the Air Force officers training school, are invited to see them during this time.

Foreign Student Program Topic of AAUP Monday

"SUI's Foreign Student Program" will be the topic of a panel discussion highlighting the chapter meeting of the American Association of University Professors on Monday at 8 p.m. in the Senate Chamber of Old Capitol.

Members of the panel include Wallace W. Maner, foreign student adviser; Ted McCarrel, executive dean, Division of Student Services; Robert Michaelsen, director of the School of Religion and W. P. Mei, director of Chinese and Oriental Studies. Lucian M. Brush Jr., associate professor of mechanics and hydraulics, will serve as the program chairman.

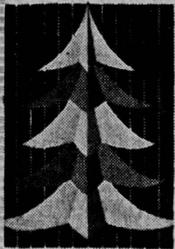

The report will enumerate cases and action taken concerning Board of Control action directing the presidents of the State Universities in Florida to have all University personnel fingerprinted by Feb. 1 and to "file with the executive director a confidential quarterly report on action taken with regard to the elimination of sex deviates on the campuses. . . ."

The presidents also have been directed to develop procedures for screening all material used in courses.

READING THE DAILY IOWAN
IS ONE OF THE FIRST THINGS
THIS YOUNG LADY DOES!

And who can blame her? Who, in their right mind, would want to miss the thought provoking actions of Feiffer and B.C. — or the daily utterings of LARRY HATFIELD? Why, nobody, that's who.

That's why 4 out of 5 City Council members, intellectuals and college administrators advise you to read THE DAILY IOWAN for lively up-to-the-minute news coverage.

Wherever you are, aren't you glad you're reading THE DAILY IOWAN? Don't you wish everybody did?
