Sex Education and Frostburg State

"Too many of us in America received our sex education out of school," a young English professor said into a network TV camera, "and it seems to me that this is a grave defect."

The young professor was Dr. Edmund Skellings, 31, an SUI Ph.D. graduate and former instructor here. He is currently an associate professor of English at Frostburg State Teachers College, Frostburg, Md.

"The sexual aspect of literature is what makes books controversial in a society with a Puritan ethic. If literature with a sexual element cannot be taught in college in a controlled classroom, how will it be taught?"

In his television interview, Prof. Skellings didn't sound mad though he might well have been because he has lost his job at Frostburg State.

Prof. Skellings claims he was fired for proposing to teach the modern novel "Lolita" in his modern American literature course. "Lolita" tells of a love affair — including sexual relations — between a middle-aged man and a 12-year-old girl.

R. Bowen Hardesty, Frostburg State's president, describes the dismissal as a routine operation, coming after the annual evaluation of probationary faculty members. All members of the faculty are on probation for their first two years, which means contracts have to be renewed annually.

Whatever the reason, some have cried that academic freedom has been trampled on. Following is a sketch of the happenings at Frostburg, pieced together from Associated Press dispatches and stories in the Washington Post, Baltimore Sun and Cumberland News as well as an interview with Prof. Skellings.

Generally, Frostburg, Md., is a peaceful town of 6,000 nestled in the western Maryland mountains. Frostburg's biggest industry: the State Teachers College and its 1,340 students.

Everything seemed peaceful there until President Hardesty sent Prof. Skellings a letter:

"In accordance with your contract relating to probationary period, at this time I am writing to advise you that we are not renewing your appointment beyond

June 30, 1963."

Within hours, things began to happen. Three other members of the English Department were fired in the same way. They were Norris Merchant, John Ireland and John Cole. A fifth English instructor resigned to protest the "injustice" done his colleagues.

Prof. Skellings' observation: "The whole situation can be summarized as ignorance of reality on the part of the administration."

"The principle of academic freedom was fought in the rest of the country 20 years ago and won."

Prof. Skellings said Merchant was fired because he brought Norman Thomas, a Socialist leader, to the campus to speak. Ireland said his production of the play, "The American Dream," contributed to his dismissal. He charged that the administration tried to force him to remove certain lines from the play.

Shortly after the dismissals 600 students demonstrated in front of the president's office, sporting signs that read: "Wanted: Conformists and provincial thinkers. No original thinkers need apply."

Later, the Student Senate unanimously asked President Hardesty to reconsider the individual cases of dismissal of the four professors and in a five-point resolution criticized the administration of censorship of the student newspaper, adopted a positive statement on academic freedom and implied that the professors were dismissed for reasons other than academic competence.

The happenings stirred the town. D. C.oughry, owner of the local radio station, was quoted: "I don't think anyone should be free to teach filthy books. That's just the kind of thing the Communists want to happen — to undermine our youth. Anyone else who wants to use those kind of books ought to be fired too."

Coughry seemed to reflect the town's view. He does not allow any beer, liquor, cigarette, theater or nightclub advertising or rock 'n' roll music on his radio station.

The case was picked up by the Maryland Civil Liberties Union and the local chapter of the American Association of University Professors.

President Hardesty was quoted by the Associated Press as saying the contracts will not be renewed because the work of the four did not meet standards of "usefulness to the college, service to the college in research, value to the community and maturity." He has been unavailable to The Daily Iowan for direct comment.

Prof. Skellings was in Iowa last week to deliver a lecture at St. Ambrose College in Davenport. He is a Massachusetts native and holds a B.A. in English from the University of Massachusetts. He received his Ph.D. from SU's Department of English last year.

He has published three books of verse, "Duels and Duets," "In This Tone of Voice," and "Marriage Fire." Two were published by Qara Press, Iowa City.

Prof. Skellings said his attempt to introduce "Lolita" into the classroom was "not out of a desire to be sensational."

He said it fit a carefully-planned syllabus, composed of these books: "Light in August," "Man's Fate," "Miss Lonelyhearts," "No Exit," "Look Back in Anger" and "Birdman of Alcatraz." The course was organized around the single metaphor of man in prison.

Arab States Reach Federation Accord

CAIRO (UPI) — The United Arab Republic, Iraq and Syria agreed Tuesday on the details of military, economic and foreign policies for their new and potentially powerful federation, an official spokesman announced.

The spokesman, Aly Sabry, who also is chairman of the U.A.R. ations, but said the federation's internal political form and the application of socialism to the federation were touched upon.

The Syrian and Iraqi delegations met before the tri-partite consultations Tuesday, apparently over the roles their new regimes would take in the union with President Gamal Abdel Nasser's U.A.R.

A spokesman said Monday night, when he announced the federation had been agreed on in principle, that the committee would produce a "national charter for federation which is binding to all revolutionary and unity forces."

A link-up of Syria, Iraq and the U.A.R. would bring a considerable change in the balance of power in the Middle East and spell new trouble for the remaining monarchies," he said.

Sabry said the representatives meeting in the heavily guarded Republican Palace in suburban Cairo, discussed the national charter for the federal state "which is the foundation of the federation's constitution."

He gave no details on the deliberations.

Chinese Are Spearheading Renewed Fighting in Laos

PARIS (UPI) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk and his western allies warned Tuesday that renewed fighting in Laos might be a "probe" for a planned Communist takeover of the neutralist southeast Asia kingdom.

Diplomatic sources said the Soviet Union is losing control over the Communist forces in Laos and neighboring Viet Nam and that Communist China had touched off the crisis to win greater influence.

In Thailand, defense and interior ministries alerted military and civilian officials to be ready for any eventuality. There was speculation that if the situation worsens the United States would repeat its incursion of two years ago when it sent 6,000 troops to Thailand.

Rusk, in a major speech to a closed door session of the conference, described the Laotian fighting as a "matter of concern."

French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville echoed Rusk's fears with a warning that Laos is giving "cause for anxiety."

It was the second successive day that Western and Asian ministers of the eight-nation defense alliance had turned their attention to disturbing southeast Asian developments.

The mounting crisis in Laos where the neutralists have suffered stinging losses at hands of the

Senate May Argue Liquor Bill Today

DES MOINES (UPI) — The Senate Judiciary II Committee completed work on Amendments filed to a bill to legalize liquor by the drink Tuesday.

There appeared a chance that it might be debated on the Senate floor today. But Majority Leader Robert Rigler (R-New Hampton) said some senators may ask that it be delayed so that more amendments could be filed.

THE COMMITTEE last week drew up the bill, labeled as a "home rule" measure. It would give city and county governments power to limit the number of liquor by the drink licenses within the maximums set by the bill. The local governments could decide to issue no licenses if they choose.

The committee approved an amendment to reduce cost of this license to $250. Licenses for commercial establishments would remain at $1,000.

Sen. Franklin Main (D-Lamoni) indicated he would call for a two year residence as one qualification for a license. Sen. Irving Long (R-Manchester) filed an amendment to raise the commercial license fee to $3,000.

Sen. Eugene Hill (D-Newton) filed an amendment to make the bill effective Jan. 1, 1964 instead of the normal effective date which would be next July 4.

IN OTHER ACTION Tuesday the Senate voted to appropriate $1,690,000 for each of the next two years to participate in the federal Kerr-Mills program for medical aid to Iowans past 65.

Despite the 48-0 vote, some senators doubted that the federal government would accept the Iowa plan.

The bill, which goes to the House, provides that any person who has received old age assistance payments within 90 days prior to application for medical aid shall not be eligible for Kerr-Mills funds.

THIS IS the provision to which the federal government objects.

The appropriation would enable Iowa to start a $4 million pilot program to see if it wants to make the plan permanent.

For each dollar expended under the Kerr-Mills plan, the state would contribute 42 cents and the federal government 58 cents.

Birmingham Police Break Up Picket Lines; Hibbler Held

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — Blind Negro singer Al Hibbler was taken into temporary custody Tuesday during a series of racial demonstrations — one of which attracted an elderly white man with a long-barreled revolver.

Hibbler and eight others were hauled off in a police van following one of the protests. The other eight were charged, but Hibbler was freed after about 30 minutes.

Police said they had taken Hibbler into custody because they "couldn't leave a blind man on the street without anybody to take care of him."

When picked up outside a downtown department store, Hibbler was carrying a sign reading: "Why buy segregation?"

Twelve other demonstrators were arrested during the day, bringing to 105 the total number taken into custody since Dr. Martin Luther King kicked off a renewed desegregation drive in this southern city a week ago.

One of King's lieutenants has said the drive was started because downtown store owners reneged on a promise to desegregate restaurants and lunch counters.

Hibbler and eight others were picked up when they started picking eting a downtown store. About an hour before he was apprehended the Negro entertainer told newsmen he had no desire to go to jail, but was determined to help with the desegregation drive.

One of those picked up with Hibbler was a white man.

The others taken into custody included a Negro pedestrian who refused a police order to "move on," and three others who took seats in a department store restaurant.

The white man who was taken into custody with a pistol in his possession was picked up outside one of the stores where a demonstration was in progress.

He walked up to one of the officers and asked: "Do you need any help?" He was later freed when he established he had a permit to carry the gun.

Notes Protest Proposal To Arm Cargo Ships

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union warned in a series of notes published Tuesday night it would consider a NATO project to equip merchant ships with U.S. Polaris missiles as "practically equivalent to an undeclared state of war."

The notes were delivered Monday to the United States, Britain and West Germany protesting Western plans for creation of a multi-nation nuclear force.

Copies were circulated to the other NATO members, including France, and the contents were disclosed by the Soviet News Agency Tass.

THE NOTES SAID that if such plans continue, the Soviet Union will have to take measures to "ensure the maintenance of the security of the Soviet Union and of its friends and allies."

The notes did not elaborate precisely what measures were contemplated nor did they make clear whether the Soviet might counter a NATO multi-nation force by creating a similar nuclear force among its allies in the Warsaw Military Pact.

Western diplomats considered such a Soviet-East European force unlikely because Moscow in the past has been reluctant to give nuclear weapons to its allies. This refusal is believed to be one of the reasons for Peking's coolness.

The bill, which goes to the House, provides that any person who has received old age assistance payments within 90 days prior to application for medical aid shall not be eligible for Kerr-Mills funds.

THIS IS the provision to which the federal government objects.

The appropriation would enable Iowa to start a $4 million pilot program to see if it wants to make the plan permanent.

For each dollar expended under the Kerr-Mills plan, the state would contribute 42 cents and the federal government 58 cents.

Tell of 'Stooges' in Cells—

American Skindivers Given Freedom From Cuban Jails

HOMESTEAD AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (UPI) — Nine Americans were freed from Cuban jails Tuesday and told how Fidel Castro's secret servicemen planted "stooges" in their cells in an attempt to disprove their contention they had been shipwrecked.

"Man, it's good to be free again.

Rice and beans just don't agree with me," said Robert C. Moran, 34, of Miami. He was second in command of a fishing expedition which set out from Florida Jan. 20.

NEW YORK ATTORNEY James E. Donovan negotiated the release of Moran and his companions and flew with them to this air base south of Miami.

Also aboard was Floyd C. Woodworth of Arcadia, Calif., an Assembly of God Missionary who was jailed as a spy when other U.S. missionaries were ousted from Cuba last month.

Woodworth slipped away without talking to newsmen.

The skipper of the expedition was Jack W. Browne of Miami, who marked his 45th birthday Monday. Like the others in his crew, he came home looking underfed and dressed in yellow sports shirts and soiled pants, bound for the men by Cuban officials after they landed.

He and the others insisted they were bound on a fishing expedition to the waters off the Dominican Republic but the boat went down in the Bahamas on the fifth night out.

BROWNE, GREETED at the air base by his black-haired wife, Betsy Ann, a nightclub dancer, commented that "things have improved a bit" since he was last in prison in Cuba in 1960.

That time he had taken a boat to Cuba for repairs and was held for six weeks.

The others aboard the vessel —

Federal Agents Raid Chicago Betting Spots

CHICAGO (UPI) — An army of 300 Federal agents Tuesday swooped down on 39 gambling establishments in the Chicago area in what was described as "the largest raid carried out in the history of Federal gambling enforcement."

"It was on the fifth night out that our rudder broke in a storm in the Bahamas and we had to anchor," said Moran. He explained the Shrub was bound for the Dominican Republic to fish in offshore waters for lobsters and sharks.

The vessel's decks had been piled high with lobster traps, he said. Castro's men never saw the boat. "We took a pounding in the seas and she opened up and went down," Moran said. "We took to a 26-foot whaleboat, but it was leaky."

"We were adrift four days and five nights with no food at all and only a little water. We went over the side trying to make repairs, but everytime we did, the sharks came around and chased us out of the water."

U.S. Appeals Court Rules Barnett Must Stand Trial

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — The U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals ruled Tuesday that the Governor and Lieutenant Governor of Mississippi must stand trial on criminal contempt charges. But it asked the U.S. Supreme Court to decide whether they are entitled to a trial by jury or before judges only.

The Circuit Court disclosed that it was deadlocked, 4-4, on whether Gov. Ross Barnett and Lt. Gov. Paul B. Johnson Jr. should have a jury trial in criminal contempt charges that arose out of Negro James Meredith's enrollment at the University of Mississippi.

The Appeals Court did not rule on whether Barnett and Johnson will be tried in New Orleans or in Mississippi, nor did it rule on a defense motion to separate the trials of the two state executives.

The Justice Department charged that Barnett and Johnson refused to carry out court orders to admit Meredith to the university. Two white persons were killed in riots when Meredith enrolled last September under the protection of U.S. Marshals.

The Appeals Court has already found Barnett and Johnson guilty of civil contempt charges but has not decided what fine they must pay. They could be sent to prison if convicted of criminal contempt charges.

In a 168-page ruling, the Appeals Court abruptly rejected motions by

Bus Driver Found Slain in Chicago

CHICAGO (UPI) — The body of a man packed in dry ice and insulation was found by FBI agents Tuesday in a car parked at O'Hare International Airport for about two months.

Authorities identified the dead man tentatively as Lloyd Richard Danielson, a Minneapolis bus driver missing from his home for four months and feared the victim of foul play.

Minneapolis police were investigating to determine whether Harold Carl Steen, 38, who had dated Danielson's wife before he was killed Feb. 7 in a gun battle with police outside a Davenport, Iowa, supermarket he had tried to rob, was involved in Danielson's disappearance.

The man whose body was found here is believed to be the victim of a gangland-style slaying, but FBI agents said there was no visible indication of the cause of death.

The body was taken to the Cook County Morgue and Coroner's investigators began an examination. Agents said the head of the victim was bent over between his legs.

Patrolman Robert Fitzgerald said the car had been in the airport parking lot about two months. The FBI was called into the investigation because the vehicle had Minnesota license plates.

Speakers and moderators will include William Higgs, Mississippi attorney handling civil rights cases, Dr. Clarence Yarrow, regional secretary for the American Friends Service Committee and Ernest Russell, executive secretary of the Des Moines Human Rights Commission.

Additional information on registration and housing accommodations for the conference can be obtained from SCORE at Iowa State Memorial Union, Ames.

Sir Winston Is U.S. Citizen

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy Tuesday bestowed Honorary U.S. Citizenship upon Sir Winston Churchill and lauded him as a man whose courage, faith and zest for freedom are truly indestructible.

The British statesman responded with a message that waved high the banner of his own "great sovereign state," expressed his deep affection for the "mighty and benevolent" United States, and paid tribute to Anglo-American comradeship in World War II.

"WE STOOD together," he said, "and because of that fact the free world now stands."

The President, in his prepared remarks, had called the former British Prime Minister "The most honored man to walk the stage of human history" in our time.

The President said he was only proposing formal recognition of the place Sir Winston "has long since won in the history of freedom and in the affection of my—and now his—fellow countrymen."

PUFFING A BIG cigar with his wife Clementine at his side, Sir Winston watched President Kennedy proclaim him an American citizen on a television broadcast seen behind the Iron Curtain.

The ceremony was as clear as if the event had been televised in London. Both sound and picture, via Relay Satellite, were what television experts termed "perfect."

A small group of Londoners assembled outside his Hyde Park residence confident the Old Warrior would appear despite the heavy rain. He did—waving still another freshly lighted cigar.

CHURCHILL BEAMED when Londoners outside burst into cheers at his appearance.

The former British Prime Minister also received an "Honorary Citizen's Passport," which Acting Secretary of State George W. Ball said was the only one of its kind, "a unique document for a unique citizen."

After the ceremony, the 250 guests attended a White House reception where Sir Winston was toasted in one of his favorite beverages, Champagne.

In praising Sir Winston, the President said:

"IN THE DARK days and darker nights when Britain stood alone—and most men save Englishmen despaired of England's life—he mobilized the English language and sent it into battle. The incandescent quality of his words illuminated the courage of his countrymen."

The 88-year-old Sir Winston, unable to make the journey to the United States, matched eloquence for eloquence in a message read at the White House ceremony by his journalist son, Randolph.

"I have received many kindnesses from the United States of America, but the honor which you now accord me is without parallel," he said. "I accept it with deep gratitude and affection."

THE MAN who once said he did not become Prime Minister of Britain to preside over the liquidation of the British Empire did not let the occasion pass without reaffirming his faith and confidence in his native land.

"It is a remarkable comment on our affairs that the former prime minister of a great sovereign state should thus be received as an honorary citizen of another," he said.

"I say 'great sovereign state' with design and emphasis, for I reject the view that Britain and the Commonwealth should now be relegated to a tame and minor role in the world. Our past is the key to our future, which I firmly trust and believe will be no less fertile and glorious. Let no man underrate our energies, our potentialities and our abiding power for good."

"IN THIS century of storm and tragedy I contemplate with high satisfaction the constant factor of the interwoven and upward progress of our peoples. Our comradeship and our brotherhood in war were unexampled."

Furthermore, he said, the partnership is not exclusive: "The Atlantic Community is a dream that can well be fulfilled to the detriment of none and to the enduring benefit and honor of the great democracies."

Hawkeyes Rally in Ninth To Win 6th Straight Game

MACOMB, Ill. (AP) — Iowa won its fifth straight baseball victory Tuesday, dropping Western Illinois 6-3.

For the second day the Hawkeyes needed a ninth-inning splurge to win. Bob Sherman doubled in Syzkowny to break a 3-3 tie and Rich Lee's double scored two more runs.

Iowa's Bob Gebhard pitched a six-hitter. Lee had three singles besides the double.

Yankees Use 13 Hit Attack To Sink Kansas City, 8-2

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The New York Yankees, backed by Ralph Terry's six-hit pitching with a 13-hit assault, including two solo homers by Joe Pepitone and Elston Howard's two-run homer, crushed Kansas City 8-2 in their season opener Tuesday.

The world champions removed any doubts of the outcome with a four-run fifth, knocking out Diego Segui, Athletics staffer. Howard's two-run blow came in the fourth.

Rookie catcher Bill Bryan and newcomer Chuck Essegian homered for Kansas City.

Terry, a 23-game winner and World Series hero last season, permitted only one base runner until the sixth inning.

Drysdale Stops Cubs In Opener

CHICAGO (AP) — Right-hander Don Drysdale, a 23-game winner last year, opened the season by hurling the Los Angeles Dodgers to a 5-1 victory over the Chicago Cubs Tuesday.

A crowd held down to 18,589 by a brisk wind and near freezing temperature saw Dodger shortstop Maura Wills leave the game with an injured ankle.

The Cubs reached Drysdale for 11 hits but the winner of the Cy Young award last season was helped by three double plays, gaining his sixth straight victory over Chicago.

Wills, who stole a record 104 bases last year, apparently injured the ankle in the third inning when he was nailed at the plate on a double play.

Houston Classic Offers $10,000 for No Playoff

HOUSTON (AP) — The winner of the $50,000 Houston Golf Classic of April 18-21 will receive $10,000 instead of $9,000 — provided there is no playoff.

The last four classics have required playoffs.

"We are sick to death of playoffs," Doug Eason, executive vice president of the Houston Golf Association, said Tuesday.
