

The Daily Iowan

Serving the State University of Iowa and the People of Iowa City

Partly Cloudy
Partly cloudy today with scattered thundershowers in the extreme east. Clearing and cooler tonight. High today in the 70s. Partly cloudy and cooler Wednesday.

(Activity at SUI did not cease while students and faculty left campus for the spring recess last week. To update readers, The Iowan presents a summary of the top news events of the recess period.)

ON CAMPUS—
THE NEW Student Senate will meet for the second time at a regular meeting tonight at 7:30 in the House Chamber of Old Capitol. The meeting is open to the public.

ESTABLISHMENT of an Iowa City chapter of the National Association of Retired Federal Civil Service Employees will be discussed by Emory J. Lewis, field vice president, at 2 p.m. today in the Pentacrest room of the Union. The meeting is open to retired federal employees and those nearing retirement age.

IN THE CITY—
ONLY THREE ITEMS were on the agenda Monday for the Iowa City council meeting tonight at 7:30 in the Civic Center.

The items are a request from Boy Scout Troop 214 to permit marking of trees along an Old Capitol trail inside the city, a petition for Muscatine avenue widening and objections to Fourth Avenue paving.

LESLIE G. MOELLER, director of the School of Journalism, will speak on "Impressions of Africa" before Kiwanis International at noon today in the Jefferson Hotel.

IN THE STATE—
I KILLED, 5 HURT. One person was killed and five others were injured Monday night in a three-vehicle collision on Highway 218 about 11 miles south of Mount Pleasant.

The victim was William Walter Davis, 22, of Salem, alone in one of the cars. The sheriff's office said the Davis car apparently collided almost head-on with a car driven by Thomas C. Anderson, 22, of Minneapolis.

Both cars were then struck by a pickup truck driven by Clayton J. Casteel, 63, of Emporia, Kan., the sheriff's office said.

ACTION COMPLETED. Legislative action on two major bills — utilities regulation and judicial reform — was completed Monday and the measures sent to the governor.

The utilities bill gives the Iowa Commerce Commission power to regulate rates of most power and telephone companies in the state.

The senate previously had passed the controversial bill 26-20. The house approved it 101-6 after adding some amendments.

The senate concurred in the amendments Monday, then passed the bill 48-1 without debate.

IN THE NATION—
MAYOR INAUGURATED. Albert Boutwell was inaugurated as mayor of the racially troubled Deep South city of Birmingham, Ala., Monday, but the courts will determine the future of the city's administration.

Later, several Negroes were arrested in lunch counter sit-ins, but racial demonstrations which had been promised at Boutwell's inauguration failed to develop.

NEGROES WIN HEARING. Ten Freedom Riders convicted of unlawful assembly for trying to integrate an airport restaurant at Tallahassee, Fla., in 1961, won a Supreme Court hearing Monday.

This opened up for legal debate another facet of the many-sided question of whether Negroes may be barred from business establishments reserved for whites.

However, the arguments are not likely to be heard until the 1963-64 term, which begins in October.

TRAIN DERAILED. A broken rod on a baggage car caused Sunday night's derailment of a crack Chicago-to-Houston passenger train near Lomax, Ill., Santa Fe officials said Monday.

Officials said a 22-inch steel rod which fits on one of the car's axles broke, causing the baggage car to jump the rails. Thirteen persons were injured as 17 of 20 coaches derailed.

IN THE WORLD—
PEARSON HOPEFUL. Liberal party leader Lester B. Pearson said Monday he expects his new government to be sworn in Friday.

The reluctantly retiring Prime Minister, John G. Diefenbaker, indicated he would act today to get the changeover started.

Pearson made his prediction to newsmen shortly before he met with Diefenbaker for the first time since the Liberals trounced the Conservatives but fell just short of a majority in last week's parliamentary elections.

LAOTIAN CRISIS ON. Reports of new fighting on the Plaine des Jarres in violation of a cease-fire pledge kept the Laotian military crisis at the boiling point Monday.

Rites for Thresher Crew

Message Was Garbled

Thresher Signalled Twice, Testifies Skylark Skipper

PORTSMOUTH, N.H. (AP) — The nuclear submarine Thresher, experiencing some undefined trouble far beneath the Atlantic, sent two messages — both garbled — as she fought to regain the surface, a Navy court in inquiry learned Monday.

The blast of air into her ballast tanks as she sought buoyancy drowned out a message transmitted by hydrophone, the skipper of a surface escort vessel, USS Skylark, testified.

Lt. Cmdr. Stanley W. Hecker, 36, of Brooklyn, N.Y., testified Thresher signalled she was going down for her deep dive tests.

THEN AT 9:12 a.m. Wednesday came this message: "Experiencing minor problem . . . have positive angle . . . attempting to blow."

He said a half dozen men on the bridge of the Skylark then heard the sound of air pushing into Thresher's ballast tanks. The sound completely obscured another voice message from the submarine.

Then came another message, with two or three words garbled, which ended "test depth."

Another witness testified last week he had an impression the last three words were "exceeding test depth."

HECKER SAID at that point he had the hydrophone man ask Thresher, "Are you in control?"

When there was no answer, he testified he took the microphone and repeated the question three times.

Hecker said Thresher's last known position was about 3,400 yards from his ship and he was concerned that if she surfaced he could be in her path.

Hecker's navigator, Lt. J.G. James C. Watson, testified Saturday that he heard sounds which he recognized as those of "a ship breaking up — like a compartment collapsing." He described the sound as "a muted dull thud."

WATSON SAID he was familiar with the sound from World War II days.

Families, Friends Weep At Rites for Sub Crew

GROTON, Conn. (AP) — Men and women wept openly Monday as Secretary of the Navy Fred W. Frantz brought condolences from the Defense Department to the families and friends of the 129 men lost aboard the nuclear submarine Thresher.

The Dealey Center at the U.S. Submarine Base was filled to overflowing for memorial services for the lost submariners.

Fire Probe Yields No Clues; Investigators Suspect Arson

A team of local and state fire investigators are strongly considering arson the cause of two early morning fires last Saturday in the rear of Wikel Typewriter Company, 2 S. Dubuque, and Eicher Florist Inc., 14 S. Dubuque.

Iowa City Police Detective Paul Hoeffy said Monday evening that the investigators believed the fires were the work of an arsonist. No natural causes for the fires were discovered, he added.

ASSISTANT STATE FIRE Marshals Wilbur Johnson and Ronald Straup, Deputy State Fire Marshal Robert Smith, Iowa City Fire Chief Vernal Shimon and Police Detectives Hoeffy and Charles Snider compose the group of investigators.

Johnson began investigations in Iowa City Monday. Smith and Straup were in Iowa City earlier conducting an investigation of last Tuesday's fire at 510 S. Linn St. which took the life of Chester B. Frantz, 54. Frantz died of suffocation when his rented home was gutted in an 11:45 p.m. blaze. Officials still have not determined the cause of that fire.

The Saturday fires were discovered in the east end of a hallway above Wikel Typewriter Company and in the rear of Eicher Florist, Inc.

AT 3:35 a.m. firemen were called to 207 1/2 Iowa Ave., address of an apartment above Wikel's corner store. A small fire had burned a hole in the hallway wall.

As firemen were extinguishing the fire, they noticed smoke coming from the rear of Eicher's. The back door of the florist shop was burned, a hole was burned in the floor inside the door, and several electrical wires were melted. The building also received considerable smoke damage. The 3:47 a.m. fire was shortly extinguished.

FRANK EICHER said no damage estimates have been made, but the building is covered by insurance. The store is open for regular business.

First, Caroline; Next, John Jr.; Third, ????????

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President and Mrs. Kennedy are expecting their third child in the latter part of August, the White House announced Monday.

The First Lady will cancel all official engagements, spend much of the summer on Cape Cod, then return to Washington to have her baby, newsmen were told.

Another Steel Crisis?

Congressional Inquiry Set As 2 More Steel Companies Join in Price Increase Bid

NEW YORK (AP) — Two more steel companies joined Monday in selective steel price increases which must bear the scrutiny of President Kennedy and a congressional committee.

Newest to go along with the raises initiated last week were Republic Steel Corp., third-ranked among the nation's steel producers, and 14th-ranked Pittsburgh Steel Co.

Wheeling Steel Corp. started the round of selective raises last Tuesday and Lukens Steel Co., followed Sunday.

THE ACTION by Republic and Pittsburgh came soon after a congressional investigation of steel prices, profits and production problems was ordered.

There still was no word from U.S. Steel, No. 1 producer, and Bethlehem Steel, No. 2, on their intentions.

President Kennedy, vacationing in Florida, was reported conferring with advisers to determine if the latest increases were within his suggested "public interest" area.

BOTH REPUBLIC and Pittsburgh cited rising production costs since the last price boost in 1958. Republic said it was making selective price increases averaging $5.34 a ton on hot rolled sheet and strip to $5.50 a ton on cold rolled sheets and $6.50 on cold rolled strip.

The congressional inquiry was announced by Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.), chairman of the Senate-House Economic Committee.

He said hearings will begin next week on steel prices, profits, production, unit labor costs, raw material costs and the impact of foreign competition.

DOUGLAS, WHO promised "an impartial and factual" study, told a reporter he has no present plans of seeking the type of production cost figures that Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) failed to get last year in an inquiry by the Senate Antitrust subcommittee.

The demand for steel, spurred by buying as a hedge against a possible strike this summer, was reflected in the report of the American Iron and Steel Institute that the industry's production last week was the heaviest in three years.

The output of 2,464,000 tons represented the 11th consecutive weekly advance.

Emphasizing that it hasn't had a price advance since 1958, Republic said its profit ratio to sales fell from 6.8 per cent in 1958 to 3.8 per cent in 1962, when its earnings were the lowest in 15 years.

Bomb March Ends In Bout

LONDON (AP) — Britain's annual ban-the-bomb parade ended Monday night in a furious fist-swinging climax with 74 arrested and the nation rocked by yet another security scandal.

Swarming into London by thousands, the marchers — beatniks, dedicated clerics, intellectuals, professional agitators and the like — found themselves embroiled in clashes with police under orders to carry out the letter of the law against violence in demonstrations.

"Well, I'll tell you, Prof - you don't mark me absent and I won't tell on you!"

Tax Bill Under Fire, Unchanged By House

DES MOINES (AP) — The Iowa House in its fourth day of debate on a property tax relief bill Monday resisted all proposed changes in the measure, including one to keep the sales tax at two per cent.

Sitting as a committee of the whole, the House also defeated proposals to exempt from the sales tax fees for parking travellers in trailer camps in state parks, and to impose a two per cent gross premium tax on fraternal insurance companies and non-profit health and accident insurance firms.

The House has been working methodically through a long series of amendments to the bill which is designed to raise about $65 million a year in new tax revenue to supplant part of the taxes on local property.

The measure would set up a school property tax replacement fund of more than $100 million, from which would be paid the $41 million a year now appropriated for state school aids and agricultural land tax credits, plus about $65 million a year in new school aids.

The proposed three per cent sales tax drew heavy fire from western and northern border county legislators. They oppose any sales tax increase because neither Nebraska nor Minnesota has such a tax.

Rep. Howard Sokol (R-Sibley) said the sales tax "really hurts us now and its going to hurt more and more if you jack it up any higher."

"We contributed through the sales tax to the development of some of the finest cities in Minnesota," Rep. Maurice Van Nostrand, (R-

Sol Estes Handed 15 Years in Prison In Mail Fraud Case

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Billie Sol Estes, called by a federal judge, the "perpetrator of one of the most gigantic swindles in the nation's history," was sentenced Monday to 15 years in prison for mail fraud and conspiracy.

In sentencing Estes, U.S. Dist. Judge R. E. Thomason castigated him for mortgages on nonexistent fertilizer tanks involving $24 million, and then peddling them to finance companies.

"The record shows that you were the author and perpetrator of one of the most gigantic swindles in the history of our country," Thomason said.

A 10-STORY, $2.5 million addition to Currier Hall was approved by the State Board of Regents Friday. It is expected to be ready for occupancy by fall 1965.

The Regents approved the project and preliminary budget for the building to be constructed 20 feet west of the present structure. It is planned to prevent a space shortage in SUI's women's dormitories in 1965.

The new annex is the first SUI building planned which will reach a 10-story height.

The addition's preliminary budget is $2,525,000 which includes $225,000 for remodeling and equipping the existing Currier kitchen and dining room. Picture, Page 6.

THE STATE BOARD OF REGENTS also approved three faculty resignations, two leaves of absence, and six clinical professorships in a cooperative medical program for SUI.

Resignations were those of Fritz Rohrich, professor of physics, to accept a position at the University of Syracuse, effective Aug. 31; Arthur Mittman, assistant professor of education and director of SUI Examination Service, to accept a position at the University of Oregon, effective Aug. 7, and Oscar G. Brockett, associate professor of dramatic art, who will go to Indiana University, effective Sept. 1.

Leaves of absence were approved for Erich Funke, professor emeritus of German, to accept a position at Knox College in the 1963-64 academic year, and for Alfred B. Heilbrun, associate professor of psychology, to take a temporary appointment at the University of California, Berkeley, from Sept. 1 to Aug. 31, 1964.

The Regents also approved the appointment of six members of the Broadlawn Hospital staff in Des Moines to clinical professorships in the SUI College of Medicine. The appointments were made under the Family Practice Traineeship, a two-year program designed to prepare young physicians for general practice while at Broadlawn.

HARRIET STEVENS, assistant professor of home economics, was awarded the Order of the Golden Hawk last week.

Given for outstanding service to the Alumni Association and the University, the award was designed for alumni who have done extensive work in an area which reflects favorably on the association and the University.

FORMER SUIOWAN Dr. Richard E. Shope will be awarded an honorary degree at the SUI Commencement Exercises June 7. President Hancher announced the honor for the internationally known virologist at the April meeting of the State Board of Regents Thursday.

Shope, a professor at the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, Princeton, N. J., is noted for his research on diseases affecting animals and man.

An honorary degree will also be awarded to Lewis L. Strauss, former chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, who will present the commencement address.

FOR OUT-OF-STATE students, the Iowa Senate passed a home-rule type liquor-by-the-drink legislation last Wednesday. The margin 26-24, was the minimum number of votes needed for passage. The bill now goes to the house.

One of the main features of the bill is the provision leaving the issuance of a liquor license up to city or town council or county board of supervisors.

THREE SUIOWANS, who were scheduled to face minor traffic violations in Clarksdale, Miss., last week, decided not to appear at their trials.

Don Flockhart, A4, Boone, — charged with resisting arrest — and Ross Danielson, A3, and John Goulet, A3, Cedar Rapids, both charged with minor traffic charges, forfeited a total of $201 bond.

The three said they felt there was little likelihood of winning their cases.

THE SUI STUDENT Association for Racial Equality (SARE) sent a letter during Easter recess to 1,100 SUI faculty members asking contributions for Negro sharecroppers in the Clarksdale, Miss. area.

The letter was sponsored by the Student Senate, and co-signed by seven SUI faculty members.

THE SUCCESSOR to SUI President Virgil Hancher will be selected under a four-point plan unanimously approved by the State Board of Regents Friday.

The entire board will select the new SUI president. Hancher will retire July 1, 1964.

Comments on Happenings While You Were Gone

Welcome back, kind readers. You don't know how good it is for us to see you again. And we have an idea we aren't the only ones gleeful at your return.

Vacation time for you might mean friends and fun, but for Iowa City it means that a sleepy-type ruralism slips in. The campus is dormant. Familiar eating spots shut down. There are rows of unfed parking meters. The city's parking problem vanishes and so does much of its business. No concerts. No lectures. Nothing. It's good to have you back.

While you were away, nonetheless, a number of notable occurrences took place. Following is a brief resume of two that are worthy of editorial comment.

The Collection of Art We Stand To Lose

President Hancher announced a plan designed to enrich SUI's fine arts program.

The initial efforts of the plan are concerned with raising funds for an addition to the SUI Art Building. The funds are needed to provide gallery space for a famous art collection which has been offered to the University subject to SUI's ability to house and display it properly. In addition, SUI is out to gain needed space for classrooms and studios — important problems spawned by our University's growing reputation in the arts.

The renowned collection SUI stands to lose includes paintings, drawings and antique silver and jade offered to the University by a Cedar Rapids attorney, Owen Elliott and his wife.

The present Legislature has before it a request for $600,000 to provide the educational classroom and studio as parts of the $1.1 million addition. A special private program for the remaining $500,000, to finance the gallery section, is scheduled to begin shortly.

We grant that the Legislature has a number of urgent issues to attend to during the closing days of the session — but we almost plead that fund requests for the Art Building not be ignored.

This may be beating a dead horse. But apparently one point needs reiteration:

If the Legislature fails to appropriate needed funds for the art addition, a growing reputation may be permanently damaged. Along with corn and pigs, higher education happens to be one of Iowa's most important products — we hope the Legislature continues to recognize this fact.

The Clarksdale Campaign — They Should Have Gone

Three SUIowans failed to appear for trial last week in Clarksdale, Miss., on traffic charges filed after they delivered food and clothing there for needy Negroes. The three forfeited bonds totaling $201.

The charges were for running a red light, improper turning and resisting arrest.

The SUIowans need a hearty pat on the back for their efforts in delivering food and money collected here by the local chapter of SARE (Student Association for Racial Equality). They had to put up with petty police heckling and a lot of other nonsense that hardly measures up to our expectations of real Southern hospitality.

But at the same time, we remain disappointed. We are disappointed in the fact that they did not choose to return and face the charges.

A lawyer for the NAACP (National Association for the Advancement of Colored People) was available to legal counsel. While it is easy for us to criticize from the serenity of our newsroom, we suggest that the SUIowans should have taken advantage of the NAACP help.

A job half done is rarely as impressive as a 100 per cent effort.

The Political Spectrum

By ALLAN FRENKEL
Iowa Young Republicans
Communications Chairman

There has been considerable speculation as to who will be the Republican candidate for governor in 1964. The candidates that will ultimately oppose each other in next year's primary are Lieutenant Governor William Mooty and Attorney General Evan Hultman. There is no hesitation in saying that the entrance of these candidates into the "political ring" to vie for the championship of governor will result in an intense and expensive campaign.

Lt. Gov. Mooty is the "war horse" of the Republican party, having served four sessions in the House of Representatives. He was Speaker of the House in the 57th General Assembly and is now serving his second term as lieutenant governor. Being from a rural county, Mooty's support will come mostly from the rural population.

"CURLY" HULTMAN is the dynamic attorney general who is serving his second term. He is extremely popular and has had a brilliant career. He served as SUI Student Body President in 1948, has done outstanding work in the Jaycees, and is now on the Executive Council of the Attorney General's Association. The fact that Hultman is from Waterloo will help him in his bid to secure the large-city vote.

Mooty has had a close relationship with the legislature and therefore, it can be predicted with reasonable accuracy that a majority of legislators will support him. Mooty is a veteran at campaigning on political issues, whereas Hultman as attorney general, has been mainly concerned with interpreting the law. Consequently, Hultman has not previously taken a stand on issues. Further, Mooty's popularity is not strong among SUIowans, nor among the state's younger residents.

FINALLY, ONE THING is certain. Governor Hughes will provide strong opposition in 1964, and the Republicans will need an exceptional candidate. The candidate must be able to secure votes in the cities; he must be a candidate who can provide leadership and ability; and he must be a candidate who can give a "new image" to Iowa not only as a candidate, but as a governor.

Because our state is so concerned with the "outward migration" of its younger residents, both parties and especially the Republicans must provide a candidate who can gain the respect and support of younger Iowans. The Republican Party has been called the party for "rural Iowa." Certainly some evidence has shown that our party has not been strong in the cities.

Therefore, taking into account the future of the Republican Party and of the state as a whole, "Curly" Hultman must be put in the favorite's role for governor.

Sound Off! (And Bill It To the Boss)

NEW YORK — Here's an advertising agency that really believes in the communications business it is in: Marsteller, Inc., and its public relations subsidiary, Burson-Marsteller Associates. The company has taken note of Western Union's recent offer of a "Personal Opinion Message" service which enables a person to send a message of 15 words or less for 75 cents to any one of the following:

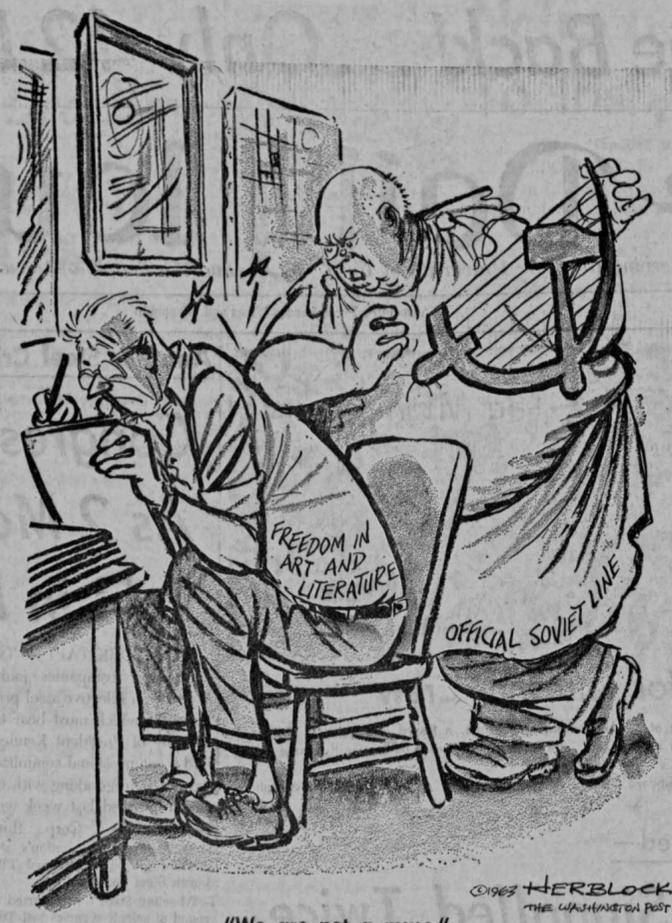

The President, the Vice-President, Senators or Representatives in Congress; the Governor, Lieut. Governor, State Senators or Assembly men in your state capital, assuming that the state capital is in the state from which the message originates.

The Marsteller people have sent a memo to employees (we seem to be on the receiving end of memos these days — has a homier feeling than a release) in which they offer to pay the cost of such messages as long as they conform to the WU limits.

There'll be no pecking by the Marsteller brass, either. Says the memo: "It is of no concern to us what your viewpoint may be — pro or con on any proposed legislation or issue. This is in no way any attempt to organize our employees for or against anything. It's simply an attempt to encourage you to make your viewpoints known to your elected officials in the belief that good government grows out of an interested vocal electorate.

Well, it's hard not to applaud Marsteller and Western Union on this. But, from a purely business standpoint, if WU really wanted to cash in on it they should have added one more person to the eligible list: The client.

The question is: Could you get it all in 15 words?

The Ralph McGill Column —

If Only... If Only... If Only Words with a Long Echo

By RALPH MCGILL

WASHINGTON NOTES: Poets have interpreted spring in many moods. Don Marquis, in his celebrated poem "Methusalem," had the Old Testament codger lift his voice in a paean to a spring in which the big bull oyster rode the flood of the tide and bellored for his mate. "Fill me with juniper juice, nurse, and then turn me loose," exulted the Biblical ancient, in an ecstasy of spring.

This goatish urge of the month of renewal usually produces panty raids on college campuses, and other exuberant evidences that the elfin music of Pan is heard in the ears and felt in the blood.

But in this April, though the redbud, dogwood, tulips and flowering trees are as wondrously beautiful as ever, the mood of it seems to me more in keeping with T. S. Eliot's opening lines in "The Waste Land": "April is the cruellest month, breeding Lilacs out of the dead land, mixing Memory and desire, stirring Dull roots with rain."

It is quite true that the dull roots of old wrongs, inequalities and injustices are being stirred by the rains of change. The pale purple lilacs, symbolizing life rising out of the darkness of death, are being bred out of the land.

The April mood was of Mississippi and perhaps half a dozen other Southern communities struggling with memory and desire. They were performing once again the preposterous charade in which the actors wear mask-like faces like those in old Japanese dances representing hate, passion, vacuity, cruelty, and greed. There was the same old choreography. In it the police strike, pull, shove or throw colored people into patrol wagons or buses because they have committed the offense of seeking to vote, eat at a lunch counter or attend a movie without going up an alley and climbing backstairs to a balcony.

THE SPOKEN lines are always the same... and have been for more than a century. In many places the cruellest month bred the funeral lilacs out of the dead land, mixing memory and desire. And on the stage in Greenwood the mummies went through their maneuvers of arrest and jail. Those with spoken lines said, their faces strained with pent-up fury, that if only the outside agitators would go away things would be all right... if only persons like the night club performer, Dick Gregory ("just look at him in that Italian suit, he thinks he's something"), would get out of town and quit stirring up our good colored people who know their place and are happy in it, all would be well. "If only — if only..." the words have a long echo. They come out of the skeletal flutes of men who died at the hands of the abolitionist mobs; out of those dead on the bitter battlefields of the Civil War... "if only... if only... if only..."

It is not only lilacs that are bred out of the dead land. Excesses breed excesses.

Dick Gregory would not be in Greenwood, Mississippi — the outsider-ministers would not be there — if the registrars of Greenwood and other Southern areas had not coldly and callously denied registration of qualified voters for a span of almost a century.

THERE ARE OTHER excesses, unjust and illegal. It was not until the federal Constitution began to assert itself in the form of federal injunctions that registrars, angry and sullen, began to open the books, and the police and deputies in some measure curbed their act.

Even so, in some communities there are still machinations which delay and slow down voter registration. Greenwood — and other areas — having for generations acted in excessive repression, now are confronted with excessive insistence on citizenship rights. One can understand the anger and concern of any city which, after years of denial of simple human dignity and those certain inalienable rights, finds itself in turmoil with outsiders active in leading and organizing a long-coerced people to demand their constitutional rights... but there is no honesty in saying "if only... if only... if only..."

Lilacs are bred out of the dead earth — dull roots are stirred with rain.

Student Parking — A Progress Report From President Carver

EDITOR'S NOTE: The new Student Senate administration, headed by Mike Carver and Pete Ptacek, will make it a policy to inform the student body of progress being made in problem areas. This is the first article in a series which will explain legislative action and policy decisions.

By MIKE CARVER and PETE PTACEK
Student Body President and Vice-President

In order to carry out a campaign pledge, we hope to keep the student body informed throughout the next year on the progress that the Student Senate is making, and on the problems that will inevitably arise.

One project that demanded immediate action was the Political Affairs Conference proposed for next year. Complete backing for this Conference was attained from the President's Office, and from the Political Science Department, and a letter explaining the program and requesting financial aid has been sent to the Falk Foundation in Pittsburgh. Contact concerning this project has also been made with Dr. Robert Ray of the Institute of Public Affairs, and with the two political parties, but further action towards financing it is pending upon notification from the Foundation. Utilizing previous work done in this area by a Student Senate committee, we also have begun contacting Washington politicians concerning speakers for the Conference.

ANOTHER ITEM that received immediate attention was the parking problem. Richard Holcomb, director of Police Science, allowed a Student Senate representative to sit in on the first meeting of the University Parking Committee that took place under our administration. With more of this spirit of cooperation, the students can expect to be granted a hearing this year on their parking distresses.

On this problem, as well as the others, we hope to utilize the committee system in the most effective manner possible. The student parking committee that will be established will consist in part of students from the traffic court who are aware of the troublesome student parking problems. This committee will discuss proposals that its members have drafted with the benefit of their experience, as well as suggestions offered to it by students at large. The committee will present the proposals it believes are necessary and sound them to the University Parking Committee.

One proposal that has often been made and which will no doubt be considered by the committee is prohibiting non-commuting freshmen from having cars on campus.

IN THE ALL-IMPORTANT area of student rights, much action can be expected this next year. Liaison has been established with the University Human Rights Committee, for Jim Bennett, one of the two students on the Committee, has been named the new Student Senate Commissioner of Student Rights. As our platform pledged, we are going to continue to work for the establishment of pledge cards in all listed off-campus housing. Mike will also continue to cooperate with AWS in devising an effective method for eliminating hours for women over 21.

Concerning the subject of housing costs at SUI, we are going to insist that the University has an obligation to tell the students in a frank and forthright fashion why the costs are so much higher here than at the other two state-supported schools. We feel it is the obligation of student government to continually voice the students' concern for a lower-cost housing. In this way we will give the University officials a further inducement to act efficiently and wisely in the future and to be ever alert for possible ways to reduce costs.

A matter that warrants a great deal of attention is the present diffused state of student government at SUI. As most readers know, there are now several organizations functioning on campus (Union Board, CPC, AWS, and Student Senate), each exercising authority or recommendation power over a certain area of student life. Our past student body president has touched upon the problems that arise from this situation... lack of programming coordination, overlapping responsibilities, lack of a powerful, unified student voice, and inadequate student representation on the Committee of Student Life.

THESE ARE PROBLEMS too basic to be ignored. Measures must be taken to correct them. We hope to confer with the leaders of these other organizations to find common ground for action leading towards a more unified student government. The plan set forth by the past student body president will certainly be one of the proposals that will be discussed. Changes in this area should and can come only after careful thought and consideration. The work will consume much time and patience, but we believe that it is our obligation to start the wheels turning.

The Student Senate has great potential and challenges under the present organizational structure, as well as a challenge to work with the other three campus governmental groups in devising a more effective student government complex. We need capable people to help with both the immediate objectives, only a few of which were mentioned above, and the long-range planning. Anyone willing to help us tackle these problems is asked to apply this week for the Student Senate committee active in the field that interests him.

SUI Dance Symposium To Feature Concert

A public concert by the Erick Hawkins Dance Company April 27 at 8 p.m. in Macbride Auditorium will be a feature of the second Annual Midwestern Dance Symposium here April 26 and 27.

Students from 31 institutions in nine states have registered in advance for the symposium.

Hawkins will present "Here and Now with Watchers," a constantly changing series of duets and solos in eight parts, with an especially commissioned score. Created by Hawkins primarily to communicate to the watcher the pleasures of a kinesthetic sensation, this work has been called a landmark in American dance.

Recognized as a leader in the avant-garde movements in modern dance, Hawkins will also present a master class for symposium participants from 1:30-3 p.m. April 27.

Another guest artist to be featured during the symposium is Masami Kuni, director of the Kuni Institute of Creative Dance in Tokyo, who will appear in the Midwest for the first time at SUI. He will present two sessions on creative dance and will lead a discussion session during the symposium.

A concert of dances by students and faculty members from colleges and universities taking part in the symposium will be given at 8 p.m. April 26 in Macbride Auditorium. Anyone may attend all of the symposium sessions except the Hawkins concert by paying a fee of $2. Admission to symposium sessions will be free to SUI faculty members and students, except for the Hawkins concert, for which tickets will be priced at $1.75 for all.

Tickets for the Hawkins concert will go on sale April 22 in the East Lobby of Iowa Memorial Union.

Tickets may also be purchased by writing to "Dance," Women's Gymnasium, State University of Iowa, Iowa City.

SUI To Host Management Conference

More than 70 Iowa water works officials and employees and Iowa State Department of Health officials are meeting at SUI today and Wednesday for study on problems of plant management.

The conference is designed to clarify managerial problems in the water works field. Among the topics to be discussed will be labor unions, job classification and salary administration.

Speakers will include SUI's J. F. Culley, Director of the Bureau of Labor and Management; Donald B. McDonald, assistant professor of civil engineering; Marcus P. Powell, associate professor of hygiene and preventive medicine; A. L. Bennett, Jack W. Clemens and P. J. Houser, Iowa State Department of Health, Des Moines; R. G. Bullard, Iowa Natural Resources Council, Des Moines and H. Garland Hershey, Iowa City, state geologist.

Sessions will be held in the Iowa Center for Continuation Study.

Tickets Still Left For Hillel Benefit By SUI's Treger

Tickets are still available for Charles Treger's benefit concert for the SUI Hillel Foundation Sunday at 8 p.m. in the Main Lounge of the Union.

Treger, first non-European to win the international Wieniawski violin competition, is scheduled to present a concert in the White House today for the National Symphony Women's Volunteers. Friday he is to perform with the Boston Symphony Orchestra before returning to Iowa City.

Tickets for the Hillel concert are on sale at Whetstone's, Lubin's, the Union, Campus Record Shop, Eble Music Co. and West Music Co. The tickets cost $1.50, $2.50 and $3.

Panel Topic: Politics' Role

The position of political parties in democracy will be the topic of discussion at Union Board's Spotlight Series Thursday.

Donald B. Johnson, head of the Political Science Department, will be guest panelist for "Political Parties: Institution for Democracy?" at 3:45 p.m. in the Pentacrest Room in the Union.

The topic is the third of a sequence dealing with institutions of prominence in American life today. Labor unions and corporations were earlier topics of discussion for the panel.

Permanent panel members joining Johnson in discussing political parties will be Patrick Alston, assistant professor of history; Robert Boynton, assistant professor of political science; John Harlow, associate professor of general business and Robert Michaelson, director of the School of Religion.

Refreshments will be served.

Cancer Crusade Volunteers Begin Local Fund Drive

Cancer Crusade volunteers began visiting homes in Johnson County Monday distributing educational material and soliciting contributions to continue the fight against the disease.

The Johnson County chapter of the American Cancer Society has a 1963 Crusade goal of $13,370. Dr. Lowell A. Luhman, Crusade chairman, said. Although the Crusade will continue for the balance of April, nationally designated as Cancer Control Month, it is anticipated that the home visits will all be made this week, he added.

Iowa City has been divided into 43 areas for the solicitation. Mrs. John Weaver and Mrs. Albert Luper, city co-chairmen, said.

The Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra

The Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra will present two concerts in the Union April 23. Stanislaw Skrowaczewski will direct the evening concert at 8 p.m., and James Dixon, SUI associate professor of music, will direct an afternoon concert at 2:30.

Alumni Group Plans Summer European Trip

SUI alumni will explore cultural and educational centers in nine European countries this summer on a 29-day tour beginning July 23.

Because the first European tour sponsored by the SUI Alumni Association in 1961 was so well received, another tour was planned for this summer, said Joseph W. Meyer, associate director of the association.

Deadline for making reservations for the SUI tour is May 15. The group will leave July 23 and return to the United States Aug. 19.

He said that Iowans will get a good panorama of European history and culture including the Shakespeare theater at Stratford-on-Avon, the Vatican in Italy, and art exhibitions at the Louvre in France.

In addition to England, France, Denmark, Switzerland and Italy, which were included in the 1961 SUI tour, the countries of Greece, Belgium, Austria and Spain have been added to this year's tour. They were added, Meyer explained, because of special interest expressed by members of the first tour.

The tour this summer will include three-day stops in London, Copenhagen, Vienna, Athens, Rome, Madrid and Paris; a two-day motor tour of Switzerland; sight-seeing in Barcelona and an overnight cruise and stopover at the island of Majorca.

In addition to services of a multi-lingual tour escort, a representative of the SUI Alumni Association will accompany the group.

Expert on Urology To Give Lecture For Med College

Dr. Frank Hinman Jr., San Francisco, Calif., will present the Alcock Memorial Lecture at the College of Medicine Wednesday.

Dr. Hinman will speak on "The Differentiation and Localization of Adrenal Disorders" at 4:10 p.m. in the Medical Amphitheater of the General Hospital.

A graduate of Johns Hopkins University, the speaker is clinical professor of urology at the University of California Medical Center and chief of urology at San Francisco General Hospital and Children's Hospital.

The lecture is given in memory of the late Dr. Nathaniel G. Alcock, who was professor and head of urology at SUI from 1915 to 1949. He died in 1953.

Dr. Alcock was one of the first to clearly understand the possibilities of transurethral surgery and he became internationally famous for his developments in this area of urology. His pioneering work is considered the most outstanding development in urological surgery between 1930 and 1940.

SUIowans' Films In Movie Contest

Two motion picture films produced at SUI have been accepted in competition at the Midwest Film Festival April 25-30 in Chicago.

"Waiting Room," a 10-minute film, was produced by Ray L. Preston, G. Miami, Fla., as part of the cinema production course in the division of television-radio-film. The film is a study of a small town girl and her confusion of values.

"Autumn," a 7-minute film, was produced by John B. Kuiper, assistant professor of TV-radio-film and James Hatch, of UCLA. The film was made in the Iowa City park and depicts the meaning of the fall season through the eyes of a boy.

SUI Concerts Scheduled By Minneapolis Symphony

Two concerts by the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra will be presented in the Main Lounge of the Union April 23.

Conducting the afternoon concert at 2:30 will be James Dixon, associate professor of music at SUI. Dixon was assistant conductor of the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra from 1961 to 1962. He is currently conductor of the SUI Symphony Orchestra and Chamber Orchestra.

Stanislaw Skrowaczewski, conductor of the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra, will direct the evening concert at 8.

Tickets for the concerts will be available at the East Lobby Desk of the Union from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. daily April 18-23 with the exception of Sunday, April 21. Price of tickets is $1.50 for the afternoon concert, and $2 for the evening performance. SUI students may receive tickets free upon presentation of identification cards.

High school students within a 25-mile radius of Iowa City may purchase tickets for 50 cents each for the afternoon concert. These tickets must be purchased with a group, and each group must be accompanied by its instructor.

Music at the afternoon performance will include Beethoven's "Symphony No. 6 in F major, 'Pastoral,' Opus 68;" Schoenberg's "Accompaniment to a Cinematographic Scene, Opus 34," and Wagner's "Overture to 'Tannhauser.'"

The evening concert will include "Symphony No. 38 in D major, 'Prague,' K. 504" by Mozart; "Composition in Three Parts" by Schuller; and "Symphony No. 4 in F minor, Opus 36" by Tchaikovsky.

Art Education Conference To Feature 4 Exhibitions

Four art exhibitions will be featured at the 33rd annual Art Education Conference to be held at SUI Friday and Saturday. Works by students in junior and senior high schools will be shown in the Annual Iowa High School Art Exhibit in the Art Building beginning at 10 a.m. Saturday.

An exhibition of paintings by Senaka Senanayake, 10-year-old boy of Colombo, Ceylon, and works by SUI art students will be on display during the weekend in the Art Building. An exhibition of elementary art from the SUI Laboratory School now being shown in the Terrace Lounge of Iowa Memorial Union will be up until April 29.

The Senanayake exhibition is a traveling show sponsored by Indiana University.

Three speakers to be featured during the conference are Garbor Peterdi, internationally known printmaker; Ralph Wickiser, chairman of the Department of Art Education and the Art School Master of Fine Arts Program at Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, N. Y.; and James Schinneller, director of Art Education for the Extension Division of the University of Wisconsin at Milwaukee.

Peterdi will speak at 2:30 p.m. Saturday on "Obsolescence and the Artist Today." Wickiser will discuss "The Nature of Art Experience" at 1:30 p.m. the same day, and Schinneller will hold an informal discussion session with high school art students from 11 a.m. to noon Saturday.

Peterdi, who has been an associate professor of art at Yale University and a faculty member of Hunter College since 1952, has won many major art prizes and has had nearly 40 one-man exhibitions in European and American galleries. He is the author of "Printmaking," published by Macmillan in 1959.

The SUI Art Education Conference is sponsored by the SUI Department of Art, the School of Fine Arts, the College of Education and the Extension Division.

Registration for the conference will start at 4 p.m. Friday in the Art Building. A preview of art films is scheduled for 7 p.m. Friday, and other films will be shown from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. Saturday. All films and lectures will be presented in the Art Auditorium.

Grad Student Given $3,000 Music Award

A young American composer who entered SUI in February after three years of study and composition in Europe has been named winner of the $3,000 Sutherland Dows graduate scholarship in music composition for 1963-64.

John R. Ronsheim, Cadiz, Ohio, graduate student in music composition, also is holding the Dows scholarship for the current semester.

The award was established in November, 1961, by Sutherland Dows Sr. of Cedar Rapids, chairman of the board of Iowa Electric Light and Power Company. The scholarship is administered by the SUI Foundation.

Ronsheim has begun work for a Ph.D. degree in music composition under the direction of Professor Philip Bezanon, SUI composer who is chairman of the committee of music faculty members named to select Dows scholarship winners.

Ronsheim has been commissioned to write a work for the Hart Chamber Players of New York City. In February he won the alumni prize in composition given by the New England Conservatory of Music. At present he is working on a composition for piano.

Preventive Psychiatry Meet Here April 26, 27

Recent investigations involving creative approaches to removing environmental stress or bringing it under control will take the spotlight during the fourth Institute on Preventive Psychiatry April 26-27 at SUI.

All sessions will be held in the Iowa Memorial Union.

The institute has been planned by the SUI Committee on Preventive Psychiatry, with assistance from the Grant Foundation, Inc.; the Maytag Company Foundation, Inc.; the Iowa Mental Health Authority and the SUI Graduate College. Prof. Ralph H. Ojemann, chairman of the Preventive Psychiatry Research Program at SUI, is coordinator of the institute.

In considering stressful factors in man's environment, speakers will first identify major stresses and then consider approaches developed by recent research to bring them under control, said Dr. Ojemann.

Stresses which the individual is able to handle tends to stimulate his growth, but stresses beyond his capacities tend to be harmful. Dr. Ojemann said. Conference speakers will distinguish between these two types of stress.

In mastering skills and traditional knowledge, we have learned the importance of grading tasks according to their difficulty so that they will be within the abilities of the individual, but we have not made the distinction between emotional stresses which the individual can handle and those so severe that they are beyond his ability to deal with them," Dr. Ojemann said.

Examples of harmful stresses are certain virus diseases which may produce deformities in the developing embryo if these diseases are contracted by the mother during early pregnancy.

The opening session of the April institute will consider research on types of stresses which can have a harmful effect during the fetal period and the early months of life.

"Recent Studies of the Adolescent's Search for Significance" will be the subject of another session with emphasis on examining factors which hamper young people in developing a sense of personal significance and purposeful achievement.

A third session will examine ways to counteract the authoritarian pressures which society imposes on the individual through home, school and community.

Other institute sessions will focus on stresses arising from the work environment and on stresses in the family.

Vermont Lecturer To Head Course On Color Photos

John W. Doscher, owner-director of the Country School of Photography, South Woodstock, Vt., will conduct a four-lecture course in color photography Friday, Saturday and Sunday at SUI.

Sponsored by the University Camera Club, the weekend course will include discussions of the Doscher System for exposing color film, how people respond to pictorial stresses which the individual can handle and those so severe that they are beyond his ability to deal with them," Dr. Ojemann said.

The lectures will be held at 8 p.m. Friday, 2:30 and 7:30 p.m. Saturday and 2:30 p.m. Sunday. All sessions will be held in Shambaugh Auditorium in the University Library. Registration may be made at the Auditorium at 7 p.m. Friday. Course tickets cost $12.

Assignment: build a sports car to rank with the world's best!

Result: The experimental Ford Mustang, lively 2-seater loaded with significant engineering features

Just under 13 feet long—weight, 1544 pounds, 400 to 700 pounds less than comparable models of popular imported sports jobs—the Mustang is representative of the interesting design challenges at Ford Motor Company. Unique ways of reducing weight without sacrificing strength, to improve performance and economy, may stem from its design.

For example, seats are an integral part of the Mustang's body, adding structural rigidity. Brake, clutch and accelerator are mounted on a movable cluster which can be adjusted fore and aft (as can the steering wheel) to suit varying sizes of drivers.

Other important features: low-drag, aerodynamic shape proven in the wind tunnel; independent front and rear suspension; disc front brakes; roll bar built as an integral part of the body/frame structure; hot V-4 engine mounted forward of the rear axle in unit with a 4-speed manual transmission.

The Mustang is another example of how challenging assignments met by our engineers and stylists help Ford Motor Company maintain engineering leadership and provide new ideas for the American Road.

Hawkeyes Defeat Bradley, 8-7

Mets Fall to Braves; Lose Sixth Straight

Safe at Second

Bradley's second baseman Steve Karch takes a high throw from the catcher and watches Iowa's Matt Szykowny steal second during the Hawks' 8-7 come-from-behind victory at the Iowa diamond Monday. 3-Run Eighth Inning Sparks Iowa's 7th Win

By HARRIETT HINDMAN
Assistant Sports Editor

A diving catch by center fielder Paul Krause gave Iowa's baseball team the needed boost and sparked the Hawks to a three-run eighth inning which clinched an 8-7 come-from-behind victory over Bradley Monday afternoon.

The Hawks, returning home after losing a three-game series to Bradley, took a 2-0 lead in the second inning, but allowed the Braves to score four runs on four hits and two errors in the top of the third. Iowa scored another run in the fourth when Bob Sherman tripled and scored on a fielder's choice. Bradley came back in the fifth to add two to its total and the Hawks put one more across in the bottom of the same inning.

With Bradley leading 6-4 in the eighth inning, Chris Barkulis, who got three singles in five times at the plate, grounded out, shortstop to first; and Bob Carress grounded out, third to first. The Braves' catcher Gary Bruington then hit a long fly to center, which was helped by the wind which played tricks with the ball all afternoon and gave the outfielders their share of trouble. Hawkeye center fielder Krause lost his cap but came up with the ball as he made a one-handed s t a b while running full speed to his right.

Coming to bat in the eighth, the Hawks began their bid as first baseman Rich Lee tripled, then scored when John Perkins' fly to center was dropped. Perkins advanced to third base on the error and scored on Jim Freese's single. The winning run came as Paul Krause, who was awarded a base on balls, was walked in by pitcher John Hermanek, who relieved starter Ron Patterson in the seventh.

In the ninth, Iowa's starting pitcher Jack Wiland struck out pinch-hitter Frank Ruffatto, then walked two before being relieved by Doug Winders. Mike Pohlman was forced out at home and third baseman Perkins tagged Ron Dwyer between second and third as the Hawkeyes posted their seventh victory against three defeats.

Iowa got only five hits to the Braves' nine. Reddington, Freese and Wiland singled while Sherman and Lee both got triples. The Hawks were charged with three errors while Bradley committed five.

Wiland won his second game of the season against no defeats and Hermanek was charged with the loss bringing his record to 0-1.

Bradley and Iowa meet on the Iowa diamond at 3:30 p.m. today.

What's the Verdict, Ump?

Bradley's Chris Barkulis and Iowa catcher Jim Freese look questioningly at the umpire as Barkulis slides home in the fifth inning. The Bradley shortstop was safe and his score gave the Braves a 6-3 lead.

Detroit Gaining Confidence As NHL Playoff Continues

DETROIT (AP) — "We're the club that has the lift now and we did it without any help from Gordie Howe."

The Detroit Red Wings have stormed back into contention in their battle for the Stanley Cup with the Toronto Maple Leafs.

"We're on the move now," beamed Coach Sid Abel, whose Red Wings are behind 2-1 in the best-of-7 series for the National Hockey League's trophy. "Now we're going to be tougher Tuesday and we should win on our own ice. And if we do, it'll be a new series."

The Leafs, easy 4-2 victors in the first two games on their home ice, had their bid for a sweep stopped Sunday in Detroit's Olympia Stadium.

The Red Wings won 3-2 — and Howe, the NHL scoring champion, didn't chip in a scoring point for the first time in 25 games.

"That's what I liked about it so much," said Abel. "I'm glad to win a game with Howe taking only two shots. It shows we can still win when he's not going."

After tonight's fourth game, the series will return to Toronto for the fifth game Thursday. If more games are needed, they'll be played at Detroit next Sunday and Toronto April 23.

Punch Imlach, the gabby Leaf coach, is as confident as Abel — maybe more so.

"We're not in trouble now, we're never in trouble," he said. "The only time we'd be in trouble is if we lost the last game."

Iowa Thinclads Set 3 Records At Emporia

Two Hawkeye relay teams and discus thrower Cloyd Webb set new records in the Emporia State track meet Saturday, but the Hawks had to settle for third place behind Emporia State and Lincoln University.

In the first outdoor competition of the season, Iowa's two-mile relay team of Roger Kerr, Ralph Trimble, Gary Fischer and Bill Frazier set a record of 7:34.2. In the mile relay, Frazier, Kerr, Scott Rucker and Gary Hollingsworth teamed up for a record-breaking time of 3:10.9, almost a half-second faster than the Drake Relays record in that event which the Hawkeye foursome will be shooting for April 27.

Webb's throw of 166-6 in the discus competition also set a meet record.

KNOWS "SUDDEN DEATH"
DENVER (AP) — Ed Hughes, new backfield coach for the Denver Broncos of the American Football League, has had some connection with four "sudden death" overtime game plays.

He played for the Los Angeles Rams in an overtime exhibition game against the New York Giants in 1955, and for the Giants when they lost the National Football League title to the Baltimore Colts in 1958.

Hughes was a coach for the Dallas Texans when they lost to Denver in an overtime exhibition game last August and watched as the Texans beat Houston in "sudden death" for the AFL championship in December.

Castro Allows 7 Hits; Wins Game, 8-2

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro visited Cuba's delegation to the Pan American games Sunday and wound up pitching a baseball team to an 8-2 victory, Havana radio reported.

The broadcast indicated Castro organized two teams from among the athletes and spectators present. The prime minister, a pitcher during his college days, went nine innings and gave up seven hits, the radio said.

What a Difference A Trade Makes

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Attention slump-ridden batters! Shell-shocked pitchers!

Are you tired of going hitless day after day? Are you getting fed up with the way hitters are teasing off on your best pitches as if they knew in advance what was coming? Would you like to see your batting average without having to use a microscopic lens? Would you like to win a game for a change?

Here's what you do. Get a transfer to another major league club. It doesn't matter where you're traded. The important thing is a change of scenery.

It has done wonders for others. For example, try Jerry Walker, Ron Kline, Larry Osborne, Stan Williams and Orlando Pena of the American League.

Walker hurled shutout ball for 4½ innings after coming to the relief of starter Jim Grant Sunday and was credited with Cleveland's 6-0 victory over Detroit. Walker was 8-9 at Kansas City last year.

Kline's sparkling four inning relief stint helped the Washington Senators defeat the Boston Red Sox, 7-6. Osborne drove in two runs with a double and sacrifice and scored another Senator run. Kline was 3-6 and Osborne batted .230 at Detroit last year.

Williams turned back the Baltimore Orioles, 5-1, with a five-hitter as he pitched the New York Yankees into first place. He had a mediocre 12-10 record with Los Angeles last year and wore goat's horns after walking in the winning run in the Giants' final playoff victory over the Dodgers.

Pena pitched five dazzling relief innings in Kansas City's 5-4 triumph over Minnesota. The Cuban right-hander, a bust with Cincinnati, was rescued by the Athletics from the minors last summer.

In Los Angeles, where the only other AL game was scheduled, rain washed out the Chicago White Sox and the Angels.

A five-run fourth inning that sent starter Camilo Pascual to the showers gave the Athletics their third straight victory after two losses. Manny Jimenez, a pinch hitter, doubled home three runs and Joe Tartabull tripled home two.

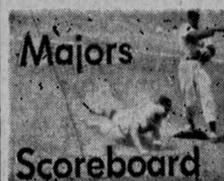

Rookies Vic Davalillo, Tony Martinez and Max Alvis collected seven hits among them in the Indian's triumph over the Tigers. Davalillo drove in two runs with his first major league home run. Martinez had three singles and Alvis two.

Walker took over with one out in the fifth when Grant was hit by a line drive on the pitching hand. He not only hurled scoreless ball the rest of the way but singled home a pair of runs.

Williams, acquired from the Dodgers last winter in exchange for Bill Skowron, fanned eight Orioles in recording his first Yankee triumph. New York got all its runs in the first three innings against loser Chuck Estrada, with Clete Boyer and Ellie Howard driving in two runs each.

Chuck Hinton had four hits for Washington, including a double and triple. Kline, third Senator pitcher, allowed only two hits and one run in the last four innings after the Senators had forged ahead 6-5 with a four-run rally against loser Hal Koldstad in the fifth. Ken Retzer's two-run single was the big hit.

Hawkeye Spring Grid Drills Open

'Winning Edge' Program Continues; 75 Men Report

By BILL PEMBLE
Sports Editor

The "Winning Edge" continued as the Iowa Hawkeyes swung into their first session of spring football practice on the practice field Monday. Coach Jerry Burns ran the entire squad of 75 through the ten stage drill prior to work on the regular football fundamentals.

Actually, the "Winning Edge" drills which were started indoors under the supervision of the physical education department, have a lot to do with developing football skills of the individuals as well as all around physical fitness. The drills, when transferred outdoors, kept the ten stages of the routine, but substituted a couple of methods especially designed for football, such as blocking dummies, trying to fight off blocks and a leg exercise drill.

COACH BURNS first ran the squad through several passing drills to loosen up the squad, but following a short talk with the squad, he sent them through the toughening up drill. Then it was down to the fundamentals of Iowa football. The men ran dummy drills and worked on blocking assignments as preparation for a short scrimmage which topped off the practice sessions. The entire first practice session lasted about two hours.

Interested spectators at this drill were three former Hawkeye standouts, back Bernie Wyatt, end Don Norton and end Bill Whisler. Wyatt is an NFL defensive back, Norton a star pass receiver for the AFL Los Angeles Chargers, and Whisler just completed his first year as an end for Winnipeg in Canadian pro ranks.

OTHER CONCERNED onlookers were several juniors from last year's squad who have been held out of practices this spring to give more time to developing the underclassmen. Co-captain Wally Hilgenberg, Mike Reilly, Bobby Grier, who will be their main competitors and Cloyd Webb were on the sidelines possibly looking for the men who will be their main competitors next fall.

Four men have been labeled as top quarterback prospects and all are participating in the drills. They are last year's top reserve, Bob Wallace, Fred Riddle, the only other man with experience and freshmen Gary Snook from Iowa City, and Mickey Moses from Escanaba, Mich.

Backfield coach Andy MacDonald will be working with the quarterbacks this spring in order to determine which one will be the No. 1 signal caller this fall. MacDonald and Burns work with all the backs and another major problem is the selection of a fullback for this fall. So far the three top hopefuls appear to be letterman Del Gehrke, (189) and freshmen Jim Killbreath (210) and Frank Reinhardt (195).

The biggest battle appears to be for an end position where two sophomore lettermen, Tony Giacobazzi and Lou Williams, join four rangy freshmen in the battle for the job. The frosh are Bill Briggs, (6-3, 210), Cliff Wilder (6-3, 205), Dave Long, (6-3, 220) and Karl Noonan, (6-2, 180).

Other lettermen returning to practice this spring are guard Benie Budzak, tackle Phil Deusch and center Dave Recher. Top freshmen prospects are tackles Leo Miller (235) and John Niland (245); guards Dick Carie (223) and Carl Harris (210); center Jim Cmerjek (225); and hallbacks Gary Simpson and Blake Oleson.

Netmen Beat Western Michigan; Lose 2 Meets

Iowa's tennis squad finished a four-team meet Saturday at Carbondale, Ill., with a narrow 5-4 decision over Western Michigan.

Saturday's victory pushed Iowa's season record to 4-3. Earlier in the meet the host school, Southern Illinois, and Notre Dame took victories from the Hawks.

The Hawks won four of the six singles matches but Western Michigan came back to take the first two doubles matches to knot the score, 4-4. Ken Wright and Gary Fletcher provided the margin for the Hawkeye win by capturing the last doubles match, 8-4.

A rather interesting aspect of the meet was that Iowa's number one and two players, Wilkinson and Strauss, won their respective singles matches in Western Michigan's one and two players, Dill and Goodrich, but in the doubles match the tables were turned as Dill and Goodrich upset Wilkinson and Strauss.

WILKINSON

Asked if this was unusual, Iowa tennis coach Don Klotz replied, "No, the main reason for the loss was inconsistency. The academic requirements at Iowa have grown increasingly harder which cuts down on the practice time of the players. Some players have to skip practice several times a week in order to keep up in their academic courses."

Klotz went on to say that for a tennis player to be consistent he must practice every day. Klotz admitted his tennis players could be better if they had more time to practice but emphatically stated he favored the higher academic requirements instead of better tennis players.

"Besides," Klotz added, "these boys aren't going to be pros. Sure they play to win, but most important they play the game because they like it."

Iowa plays host to its only two home meets of the season this weekend. The Air Force Academy will be here Friday and Bradley Saturday. Both meets will begin at 2 p.m. and will be held on the courts across from the library.

Klotz mentioned that if Hawkeye fans wanted to see college tennis at its best, they should be on hand at the two upcoming matches to see Hawkeye netman Steve Wilkinson in action. Wilkinson received much acclaim not only from his own coach but also from the three other coaches at the meet in Carbondale last weekend.

"Steve is a coach's dream," stated Klotz. "He's not only an outstanding tennis player but also an outstanding student. Steve is a senior in Business Administration and has a 3.25 grade point. He's already received his teaching assistantship for next year at Iowa in order to work on his MBA."

"On any given day when he has his stuff," Klotz concluded, "Steve could give any Davis Cup tennis player all the trouble he wanted."

Iowa 5, Western Michigan 4
Singles — Steve Wilkinson (I) beat Bob Dill, 8-3; Dave Strauss (I) beat (WM) beat Denny Ellertson, 8-4; Dick Goodrich, 10-8; Norton Thomas (WM) beat Riley-Ellertson, 8-4; Ken Wright (I) beat Bert Wiersma, 8-6; Ken Wright (I) beat Jack Barkenbus, 8-5; Jim Teal (WM) beat Marc Mears, 8-4.
Doubles — Dill-Goodrich (WM) beat Wilkinson-Strauss, 8-6; Thomas Wiersma (WM) beat Riley-Ellertson, 8-4; Wright-Gary Fletcher (I) beat Teal-Barkenbus, 8-4.

Celtics, Lakers Continue Battle For NBA Crown

BOSTON (AP) — The worried Boston Celtics, hurt by the loss of John Havlicek, and the grim Los Angeles Lakers are gearing for the "cripple" tonight in game No. 2 of the National Basketball Association playoff finals.

Boston edged the younger, dedicated Lakers, 117-114, Sunday night in the sloppily-played opener for the best-of-7 series.

In the Celtics camp where an unprecedented fifth straight world title is the goal, the figuring is that Boston needs another victory badly. What's more, it must be gained without hustling rookie sparkplug Havlicek who is shelved at least until the weekend with a sprained left ankle.

"This is a stronger Lakers team than last year, though they didn't show it Sunday night," Celtics Capt. Bob Cousy said. "It has to be stronger with the addition of Dick Barnett, Gene Wiley and Leroy Ellis."

For that reason the players are anxious to win Tuesday night, certain they will be decided underdogs for both games in Los Angeles Wednesday and Friday nights.

Although disappointed by the opening loss, Laker Coach Freddie Schaus said, "If we go home with a split, we're in good shape."

Los Angeles wants to shatter the Celtics' dynasty and start one of its own, reversing the seventh game overtime verdict of 12 months ago. There is an electric feeling surrounding the hotter-shooting Westerners they could still break loose and wrap up a short series.

In answer to a question, Schaus said, "We hit 46 per cent of our shots in the St. Louis series." Los Angeles had an off-night 35 per cent Sunday night. If they had connected at the higher figure, they would have won by more than 20 points.

Then, too, the Celtics players admit they were lucky to pull through the opener. They are certain it will take more than luck in the future.

The Schaus battle plan is simple: More accuracy, better defense. Rookie Gene Wiley of the Lakers, with the cast removed from his right hand, did a splendid defensive job on Boston's Bill Russell in the early stages. His high jumping antics have put him in the starting pivot role over Jim Krebs.

Weeb Ewbank New Coach Of New York's AFL Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Weeb Ewbank became the new coach and general manager of the New York entry in the American Football League Monday as the new owners abandoned the luckless name of "Titans" in favor of the New York Jets.

No contract terms were revealed for Ewbank, who coached the Baltimore Colts of the National Football League for nine years until he was replaced by Don Shula Jan. 8. Informed guesses put his three-year contract at $100,000. Ewbank still had two years of his contract remaining at Baltimore, reportedly at $30,000 per. He said a "satisfactory arrangement" was made with Carroll Rosenbloom, Baltimore owner, but insisted details should be announced by Rosenbloom if he so desired.

EWBANK

David (Sonny) Werblin, president of new group of five men who recently bought the bankrupt franchise from Harry Wismer for a million dollars confirmed the hiring of Ewbank at a noon press conference. It had been the worst kept secret in years for Ewbank obviously had been the target for weeks.

"We never spoke to another head coach," said Werblin, who said he and his associates had only one objective: "to build a championship team as quickly as possible." The club hopes to play its 1963 schedule at Shea Stadium in Flushing Meadows, which it will share with the New York Mets.

Ewbank, chunky 55-year-old man who carried out a successful five-year plan with the Colts by winning a championship in his fifth year, won the NFL title twice in 1958 and 1959. His record for nine years was 59-52-1.

"I don't think this club is any worse than the Colts when I took them over," Ewbank said. "I'll feel right at home. I am used to challenges. We won't panic, I've seen sicker cows than this get well."

"When I went to Baltimore, I said in five years we would be a contender. It took us five years and eight minutes (an oblique reference to the Colts' overtime victory over the New York Giants in the 1958 title game). Our aim is to beat the record of the Colts."

Bulldog Turner, who succeeded Sammy Baugh as coach of the Titans last fall, will be paid off on the remainder of his contract, which has one year to go.

GLAD TO BE BACK

VERO BEACH, Fla. — Utility infielder Don Zimmer is happy to be back with the Dodgers.

"I won't pop off again by saying 'play me or trade me,'" says the player Los Angeles traded to the Cubs for Ron Perranoski in 1960. "I'm glad to be back with the Dodgers."

In 1961 the Mets obtained Zimmer from the Cubs for $75,000. The Mets traded him to the Reds last spring for Cliff Cook and Bob Miller. After the Reds released Zimmer, the Dodgers picked him up for nothing.

Iowa Golfers Finish Ninth In Midwest Invitational

Iowa's golf team opened its 1963 season in somewhat less than spectacular fashion by finishing ninth in a field of ten at the Midwest Invitational Tournament Saturday in Bloomington, Ind.

Mike O'Connor turned in the low score of the day for the Hawks by firing a 36 hole total of 161. Following him were Tom Dalton with a 162; Bob Gitchell, 163; Jim Mueller, 166; and Bruce Thompson, 168. Bill Brandenberger and Don Allen combined an 86 and an 84 respectively for a 170 total.

Coach Charles Zwiener reported that the team's lack of practice on the greens was especially evident as the boys did fine on the straight-aways but had considerable difficulty with their putting.

Coach Zwiener added that the team has much greater potential than their ninth place finish would indicate. He stated that all of the players are good competitors and with a few weeks of work on approaches and putting, they should be able to do much better in their next meet, which is April 27 with Minnesota and Wisconsin in Iowa City.

Golf Meeting

There will be a meeting for all men interested in trying out for the freshman golf team at 4 p.m. Thursday in the New Finkbine Clubhouse.

Straight talk

from Lutheran Brotherhood about student insurance

WHEN TO BUY INSURANCE. During college is an ideal time. Even though right now your responsibilities may be few, those responsibilities often pile on fast after graduation. If you've started an insurance program now—in anticipation of those responsibilities—you'll be better able to meet them.

TYPES OF INSURANCE. There are three basic types of insurance policies: (1) term, which is temporary protection; (2) whole life, which is lifetime protection with savings features; (3) endowment, which is primarily savings with protection included until the endowment matures. Various combinations of these are offered by most insurance companies.

THE COST OF INSURANCE. Don't be fooled by "bargain" insurance. You get exactly the protection and savings features you pay for—no more. Yet the earlier you take out life insurance, the lower the premium.

WHICH INSURANCE PLAN? No single plan will fit the needs of all college students. Lutheran Brotherhood offers a variety of plans—each excellent, but each designed to do different things. One, for example, offers $10,000 of protection for less than 50¢ a day to college age men. Another—for married students with children—offers $2,500 of protection for each child at only $7.50 a year up to age 18. Yet another—designed especially for college students and young family men—offers $10,000 of protection at less than 12¢ a day during the first years, then builds into a solid protection and savings plan as your income grows.

HOW TO CHOOSE. You should have skilled counsel when you choose an insurance program. Your Lutheran Brotherhood representative offers that service. Whether you plan to buy insurance now—or simply would like a more detailed explanation about the role of insurance during your college days and in your future—drop him a note or give him a call. He'll be glad to give you all the information you want.

New Plan for Reservoir Operation—

Coralville Dam Talk Set

The revised plan of operation for the Coralville reservoir will be discussed Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Iowa City Civic Center.

The plan, which was announced Friday by the Corps of Engineers to take care of all the desires of the downstream landowners for flood control relief. Neither is there enough room to take care of all the wishes of the upstream recreational community, according to the Corps of Engineers.

The study from which the plan was determined endeavored to discover the earliest date possible to initiate a pool raise without adversely affecting the primary function for which the reservoir was authorized, flood control.

As a result of the study, operations will be altered to better control the frequent small floods while the ability of the dam to reduce damages from rare large floods of the Iowa River will not be significantly changed.

The study stems from requests of local interests, both downstream and upstream from the dam. Downstream interests during 1959 and 1960, the first two years of the dam's operation, considered the reservoir release rate, 8500 cubic feet per second (cfs) during the crop season, too great to provide adequate relief from flood damages. They wanted substantially lower release rates.

Unfortunately, there is not enough room in Coralville reservoir to take care of all the desires of the downstream landowners for flood control relief. Neither is there enough room to take care of all the wishes of the upstream recreational community, according to the Corps of Engineers.

The reservoir regulation plan which has been selected is considered to be the plan which will provide the greatest overall downstream flood control benefits and also, give the greatest consideration possible to the recreation interests within the framework for which the reservoir is authorized.

The study considered what changes might be made to improve the reservoir's recreational potential without reducing its flood control capacity.

Upstream interests are primarily concerned with the recreational enjoyment the reservoir provides. The recreational potential of the reservoir has had a tremendous impact on the area since there are few lake-type recreational water areas in that part of Iowa.

The new plan was established after studies indicated changes would help downstream farmers in most years, and not result in any appreciable increase in damage in those years in which rare floods occur.

These efforts are also compatible with the desires of boaters who want more water early in the summer. The general reduction of release rates will produce a deeper reservoir in most years. The general increase in water area makes it possible to continue the practice of allowing a few docks in coves not near available docking facilities.

The main points of the plan are:

A maximum release rate from the reservoir for the period April 21 through May 1 will be announced at the start of the crop season (established as April 21 to December 15). This flow will be set between 4,000 and 10,000 cfs.

If the pool is at the elevation of 670 ft. (measured from sea level) the maximum release will be 4,000 cfs. If the pool is above 670 feet, larger flows will be set up to 10,000 cfs as the maximum, depending on the depth of water.

On May 1 the maximum release rate will be established at no greater than 6,000 cfs for the remainder of the season. Furthermore, if releases from April 21 to

May 1 have been successful in lowering the reservoir, the maximum releases for the season may be further reduced.

University Club

To Meet Thursday

The University Club will hold its annual business meeting and Chit-Chat Tea Thursday from 2 to 4 p.m. on the sun porch of the Iowa Memorial Union.

The club will elect officers. The following officers and standing committee chairmen will present reports: Mrs. L. W. Dunlap, president; Mrs. A. W. Best Personal Library Entries Due April 22

Seniors have one week left to enter the "best personal library" contest being sponsored by the SUI Library Association.

Prizes of $50 and $25 in books are offered for first and second place. The winner will represent SUI in the nationwide contest which has a $1,000 first prize.

SUI seniors can enter the local contest by picking up entry blanks at the Special Collections Department at the University Library. The deadline is April 22.

The minimum library size that can be entered, including both hard bound and paper back books, is 35 books.

Such factors as type of books, subjects and authors, as well as quantity, will be considered in judging, which will be done during National Library Week, April 22-27.

Judges from the SUI contest are Dean Ray Heffner, vice-president for instruction; George W. Martin, professor emeritus of botany, and Leslie W. Dunlap, director of SUI libraries.

Old Style Meeting To Be Revived At Mt. Pleasant

An authentic Chautauqua — similar to those of yesteryear — will be a unique feature of the Midwest Old Settlers and Threshers Reunion held in September at Mount Pleasant.

A Chautauqua is a series of meetings combining music, drama, lectures, bell ringers, cooking schools, crusaders and sermons in a plan following one employed at summer schools in Chautauqua, N.Y. The old Chautauqua used to attract 40 million people annually in the United States and Canada.

The group in charge of the entertainment welcomes suggestions from those who remember the old Chautauqua. Those who have information may write to the Mount Pleasant Chamber of Commerce, Box 109, Mount Pleasant.

Iowa City Asks Court To Overrule Gas Rate Decision

Iowa City Monday submitted nine propositions to the Iowa Supreme Court in asking the court to overrule the district court decision in the Iowa-Illinois Gas and Electric Co. utility rate case.

The city is appealing from the ruling of Judge T. W. Miles in the district court trial of the case. The ruling, returned Sept. 29, 1961, supported in general the contention of the company.

The action was begun by the gas company in March, 1961, when it asked a temporary injunction against new city gas and electric rate ordinances, claiming that the charges provided in the measures deprived it of property without due process.

An injunction forbidding enforcement of the rates was made permanent by the district court.

The nine points mainly concerned errors which the city contends were made during the trial and final judgment of the district court.

Graduate Students Preferred —

29 Firms to Interview Job Hunters

There has been a notable increase on the part of companies coming to the campus this spring indicating a desire for applicants at the graduate level, according to Miss Helen Barnes, director of the Business and Industrial Placement Office.

Companies also have been specific in stating academic requirements necessary, either on the undergraduate or graduate level, such as maintaining a B average, being in the top 10 or 20 per cent or upper half of the class, Miss Barnes said.

Also, many firms are viewing with greater selectivity the applicant's potential for management. Evidence of this potential is often indicated through past summer or part-time work experience or through leadership experience in worthwhile campus activities.

The interview schedules have been heavy for the seven weeks preceding the Easter vacation, averaging 300 interviews per week, according to the Placement Office. Many students have made company visits during the vacation so that the number of campus interviews will be considerably less from now until May 1.

Miss Barnes said she anticipates that some companies scheduled toward the end of the season will have to be cancelled because of the lack of interest in further interviewing by many registrants. On the other hand some companies are cancelling their visits here since positions have already been filled as a result of visiting other campuses earlier this spring.

Twenty-nine companies are still scheduled to interview this week and next. They are:

National Bank of Des Moines; Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Company of Chicago; Iowa-Des Moines National Bank; Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago; Sears, Roebuck and Company, Chicago; Wood Conversion Company, Minneapolis; Procter & Gamble, Omaha; Cutler-Hammer, Inc., Milwaukee, Wis.; John Deere and Company, Moline, Ill.; S. S. Kresge Company, Chicago; Republic Steel Corporation, Chicago; Ralston Purina Company, Davenport; Caterpillar Tractor Company, Peoria, Ill.; New York Central System, New York City;

Elmer Jones, CPA firm, Burlington; Investors Diversified Services, Inc., Minneapolis; Montgomery Ward and Company, Kansas City; Calligan, Inc.,

Northbrook, Ill.; International Harvester Company, Cedar Rapids; Macy's, Kansas City; Golden Kutsums and Messro, CPA firm, Rock Island, Ill.; Nalco Chemical Company, Chicago;

New England Life Insurance Company, Davenport; Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance, Milwaukee, Wis.; Insurance by North America, Chicago; Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance, Davenport; Kemper Insurance Company, Chicago; United States Public Health Service, Chicago and the United States Army Audit Agency, St. Louis.

Leadership Dinners To Hear Van Allen

Dr. James Van Allen, head of the SUI Department of Physics and Astronomy and renowned space authority, will be the featured speaker at the annual Mortar Board — Omicron Delta Kappa leadership banquet at 6:30 p.m. Thursday May 2 at the Union.

Another highlight of the banquet, sponsored by the Iowa City Chamber of Commerce, will be "tapping" of new members of Mortar Board, senior women's honor society and ODK, upperclassmen's leadership society.

Chamber Retail Chairman Lloyd Berger will present the Outstanding Community Leader award at the banquet.

Business Training Session Scheduled for June 16-21

An unusual approach to training business executives will be offered at the 23rd annual Executive Development Program to be held June 16-21 at SUI.

The theme of this year's program will be "Management Problem Solving and Decision Making."

The program, organized by the SUI Bureau of Labor and Management, will be built around a series of five simulated business problems. Each participant will be assigned a position as an executive of a company. It will be his responsibility, working as a member of a five-man team, to devise sound solutions for the problems confronting the company.

Supplementing this instructional method will be a series of evening lecture-discussions devoted to problems of importance to executives.

The program is intended for middle and upper-level executives who are responsible for one or more major activities of their company.

brand-new, original editions nationally advertised at 2.00 to 10.00 - INCREDIBLE VALUES AT . . .

1.00 and 99c

One of New York's largest wholesalers is moving out of his warehouse after 23 years. Rather than transport 3,500,000 volumes he offered us the pick of his stock—brand new, original editions from Simon & Schuster, Random House, Alfred A. Knopf, Harpers, Scribners, other major publishers . . . lavish art books at less than wholesale . . . best-sellers, history, biography, travel books at less than production cost. They can't be duplicated at these prices (not even as "quality" paperback reprints) so take advantage of this opportunity.
