

ON CAMPUS—
WORLD POLITICS TALK. Theodore Wallach, Chicago Christian Scientist, will speak on "Morality in World Politics" — with special reference to Cuba — in Shambaugh Auditorium at 4:15 today.
Wallach, who devotes all his time to the practices of Christian Science, has served a three year term as first reader in the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ Scientist in Boston, Mass. For a number of years he was a member of the Christian Science board of lecturership.

IN THE CITY—
CAR FIRE. Firemen extinguished a small fire at 3:25 p.m. in the rear seat of a 1951 model car belonging to Scott McLeod, A3, Marshalltown. Damage was minor and the fire started by a cigaret, firemen said.

CHARGES FILED. Charges of failure to stop in an assured clear distance were filed Wednesday night against Jerry Lee Mullinnix, Route 4, following a two-car collision at 9:53 p.m. at Clinton and Burlington streets.
Driver of the other car, Margaret E. White, 109 Stadium Park, was taken to University Hospitals for possible back or neck injuries. She was released following examination.

IN THE STATE—
GUILTY IN ACCIDENT. Edward J. O'Connor, driver of a car involved in an accident that claimed the life of a Pella girl, was sentenced Wednesday to 10 years in the State Penitentiary at Fort Madison.
O'Connor was driving a stolen car when it struck another vehicle on Highway 163, near Des Moines.
A passenger in the other car, Mary Jeanette Evers, 20, of Pella, died of injuries April 5.

DRAKE RELAYS. The 54th annual Drake Relays opens in Des Moines today as 881 college and university athletes from across the country compete for track and field titles. Iowa trackmen are entered in nine events. See story, page 4.

IN THE NATION—
OFFICER TRANSFERRED. A Navy public information officer has been transferred from his job in Iceland for permitting two Navy men to play parts in a movie described by a critic as giving a drunken, girl-corrupting image of American servicemen.

TRUMAN ILL. Former President Harry S. Truman left a luncheon at a Kansas City hotel today complaining that he did not feel well.
His secretary, Miss Rose Conway, said she hadn't heard from Truman but had been informed that "it was nothing serious; just nauseated, that's all." She said Truman "felt fine this morning."

MODIFY GRAIN LAW. The House passed Thursday a bill to extend with some modification the present feed grains program.
The vote was 205 to 196.
Price supports would be continued for cooperating farmers at 65 to 90 per cent of parity.

IN THE WORLD—
KHRUSHCHEV'S RETIREMENT. Premier Khrushchev referred to his advancing age and eventual retirement in a speech reported by Tass, the Soviet news agency, Thursday.
"I am already 69 and I have a right to say so," is the way he put it. "For everyone understands that I cannot hold for all time the position I now have in the party and the state."
Khrushchev has two official jobs. He is chairman of the Council of Ministers and first secretary of the Soviet Communist party.

LAST CALL. The Peace Corps signaled last chance for anybody who wants to get into a summer training program. They must take the placement test to be given Saturday.
The next placement test won't be given until June 8.

Hawks Open Big Ten Play Today

By BILL PEMBLE
Sports Editor
Big Ten baseball makes its first appearance on the local scene this weekend as Minnesota, ranked 8th in the nation, invades the Iowa diamond. The Hawkeyes of coach Dick Schultz will play Dick Siebert's Gophers in a single game today starting at 3:30 p.m. and a doubleheader Saturday starting at 1 p.m.

The Hawks have wrapped up one of their most successful non-conference seasons in years. They will carry an 11-4 won-lost record into Big Ten play. Minnesota, after a slow start in the south, has rounded into shape and now has an 11 game winning streak going and a 15-5 season's record.
Both coaches have named veteran righthanders with 4-0 records

NCAA crowns in 1956 and 1960.
The Hawks will seek to improve their 5-9 league record of a year ago when they finished 7th. Returners from that team are 12 lettermen including co-captains Joe Reddington from Orient and Ron Isler from Staten Island, N.Y. Both men are in their third year as Hawk baseballers. Shortstop Isler ranks as the third leading hitter with a .296 average; left fielder Reddington has a .207 average.
First sacker 'Duke' Lee leads the Hawkeye hitters with a .340 average followed by Matt Szykowny with .304. Szykowny has 17 hits, 13 rbi's, and 2 homers to lead in those categories. Paul Krause, center-fielder, has stolen 10 bases.
Pitching leader Jack Wiland (4-0) has also hurled the most innings with 32½. Bob Gebhard leads in strikeouts with 26 and walks with 13. Dale Miner's 1.3 earned run average is tops.
Catcher Steve Wally's .432 average tops the Gophers. Jim Bouton, an outfielder, with .382 and second baseman and captain Jon Andresen with .360 are close behind. Andresen is the top power man with 6 homers and 22 rbi's. Righthander Buhr and lefthander Fulton Weckman both have 4-0 records.
Siebert plans to start sophomore righthander Joe Pollack in the first game Saturday to be followed by either Weckman or righthander Glen Holzemer.
Schultz's choices for Saturday will be Gebhard and Miner. The pitching staff of each team has come up with a no-bitter this year. Iowa's Lee Petersen turned one in against Luther College, and righthander John Stephens got one for the Gophers against Parsons.
Coach Schultz will start the following lineup against the Gophers:
Krause, cf
Reddington, lf
Szykowny, 2b
Lee, 1b
J. Petersen, 3b
Isler, ss
Sherman, rf
Freese, c
Wiland, p
The Gopher batting order is not available at this time but coach Siebert is expected to start Wally at catcher, Bill Davis at 1st, Andresen at second, Duane Markus at short, John Oster, Botten and Alan Druskin in the outfield.

Harriman Hopeful On Laotian Peace; Agreement Seen

MOSCOW (AP) — W. Averell Harriman, bidding on President Kennedy's behalf for Soviet support of efforts to restore peace in Laos, expressed hope Thursday night that he will find Premier Khrushchev agreeable.
"I am always hopeful that, with good will, we will reach agreement," the U.S. undersecretary of state told newsmen on his arrival aboard a Soviet airliner from London.
"The United States wishes to support the stability of the neutral government. The United States is careful to adhere to the 1962 Geneva agreement, both in letter and in spirit," he said.
Harriman was fresh from talking with French and British authorities about the campaign of pro-Communist Pathet Lao guerrillas to expand their holdings in Laos. Neutrality and freedom for the rebels was guaranteed by the 14-nation Geneva Laotian conference last year.
The Soviet Union and Britain were co-chairmen of that conference. France and the United States were influential participants in the decisions that gave the Southeast Asian kingdom a government dividing authority among three factions, conservative, neutral and leftist, under a neutralist premier, Prince Souvanna Phouma.
Harriman responded briefly to questions from a score of foreign and Soviet newsmen at the airport. He said he hoped a way could be found to end the fighting.
"I have no reason to believe that Mr. Khrushchev does not intend to carry out the agreement reached on the neutrality of Laos," he said.
In a comment that appeared somewhat at odds with Kennedy's opinion, Harriman said he did not feel the Laotian settlement was "a test of the intentions of the Soviet Union."
He said he expects to meet Khrushchev to present a personal letter he carries from the President, and to have a talk with Soviet Foreign Minister Gromyko.
The Russians have been accusing the United States of stirring up the trouble in Laos.

Senate Votes For Private Satellites

WASHINGTON (AP) — The threat of a long drawn-out constitutional battle over setting up the new Communications Satellite Corp. fizzled out Thursday.
The Senate bowed over opponents, 76-15, and went on to confirm President Kennedy's selection of the 14 incorporators of the privately owned space venture.
This formally launches the new continent-leaping communications firm on its way.
Opposition to confirming the incorporators was led by a group of senators who fought last year against legislation authorizing the private setup. They argued for government ownership and lost only after the Senate invoked its seldom-used debate limitation rule to end the filibuster.
Chief officers of the new corporation are Leo D. Welsh, chairman, and Joseph V. Charyk, president and principal operating director. Welsh, who retired this month as chairman of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, will be paid $125,000 a year and Charyk, a former undersecretary of the Air Force, will receive $80,000.

SUI Brass Band, Concert Band To Give Concert

A band that plays only music written for English and Salvation Army brass bands is one of two groups that will present a concert Monday at 8 p.m. in North Music Hall.
The SUI Brass Band, under the direction of Frederick C. Ebbs, director of University Bands, and Robert Bruner, graduate assistant in music, will play "Fugue II" by Bach-Leiden, "Gallions Reach — Fantasia" by Yorke and "Polonaise from Three Brass Band Studies" by Catalinet.
The second group, the SUI Hawkeye Concert Band, is under the direction of Thomas L. Davis, assistant professor of music. The Hawkeye Band includes members of the pep bands that perform at home basketball games and the ROTC Band which plays at the military reviews each spring.
The Hawkeye Band will open the program with a march, "On the Square" by Panella, followed by the overture "Richard the Third" by German-St. Clair. Other selections include "Jungle Drums" by Lecuona-Morrisey, "Two Etudes" by Scriabin-Davis and Paul Yoder's arrangement of the "Vincent Youmans Fantasy." The concert will conclude with Fillmore's march "Americans We."
This is the only concert the two groups will present this year. There is no admission charge.

Truce Commission Set-Up for Laos

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — A truce team of a three-nation commission established observation of the Plaine des Jarres on a day to day basis Thursday.
Barred from territory of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao, Canadian, Polish and Indian representatives of the commission flew by two helicopters to defense lines of Gen. Kong Le's outnumbered neutral troops to launch the field survey.
Informed sources said the foreign experts will be shuttled to and from Vientiane daily to oversee a local cease-fire agreement that has kept the strategic northern plateau relatively quiet since Sunday.
Neutralist Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma promoted the planning of the truce team, saying it could at least determine who was doing the shooting. The neutralist troops, heavily battered in the fighting that broke out March 31, were his followers in the Laotian civil war of 1960-62.
It was disclosed that Kong Le, a U.S. trained paratrooper, has re-established a command post on the Plaine. He had moved his headquarters last week to Muong Phan, eight miles to the west.
There is a question as to how long the commission's observation will continue.
A Peking broadcast reported Deputy Premier Prince Souphanouvong, Souvanna's pro-Communist half-brother, indicated in an interview Wednesday that he opposed even occasional truce team flights to the region.
Souphanouvong, whose Pathet Lao headquarters are in the Plaine area at Khang Khay, was quoted as saying a cease-fire agreement must be reached among all three factions represented in the government, conservative, neutral, and leftist, before the commission would have the right to supervise the peace.
Informed sources here, however, said Souvanna emphasized that Souphanouvong agreed with his arrangement for observation to be set up temporarily near Kong Le's headquarters.

175 Leaders Hear Hancher, Alumni Speak

Some 175 campus leaders and SUI alumni gathered in the Main Lounge of the Union Thursday evening for the 46th annual Finkbine Dinner.
The guests heard President Hancher, main speaker at the event, trace SUI's growth from the late 1880s of William Finkbine's day when tuition was $8.50 a term to the University's present day stature.
"If the University is to survive," the President said, "it will do so because of the loyalty, ability and intelligence as well as the excellence of its graduates."
"Great universities are rated by the intelligence of their best graduates and the character of the rest," he said.
Speaking on behalf of the student body, former Student Senate President Robert N. Downer, L3, Newton, assailed alumni participation and interest in the University. He suggested that stronger participation in student government might provide a remedy for the situation.
C. Maxwell Stanley, a Muscatine engineer, spoke for the alumni. He challenged present day Finkbine men to top the leadership of his generation in order to lead the world out of a perilous future.
And he quipped: "A successful man is one who makes more money than his wife can spend."

More Commotion Than Fire
More commotion than damage was caused by a fire at the home of Mrs. Frieda Shannon, G. Eldora, at 416 Finkbine Park Thursday afternoon as shown by this crowd of spectators. Only minor damage was done to a bookcase and one room of the residence. When firemen arrived at 5:22 p.m., the fire had been partly put out by a neighbor's hand extinguisher. Firemen said a boy apparently started the fire while playing with matches.

2 Suspected In Ala. Killing Firm on Opposite Sides

GADSDEN, Ala. (AP) — Two white men have been taken into custody in the rifle slaying of a Maryland postman who was on an integration pilgrimage through the South, DeKalb County Sheriff Harold Richards said Thursday.
Richards said a second man was arrested in Fort Payne, Ala., late Thursday and was being taken to Gadsden, Ala., where another man is held in the Etowah County jail on an open charge.
Neither Richards nor Sheriff Dewey Colvard of Etowah County would identify the men, but both said they were suspects in the Tuesday night slaying of William E. Moore, 35.
Moore was on a one-man desegregation demonstration. He planned to hike from Chattanooga, Tenn., to Jackson, Miss., where he said he wanted to discuss racial segregation with Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett.
The postman got less than 100 miles toward his destination when someone shot him with a rifle at close range.
His body was found sprawled on U.S. 11 near a roadside rest area about 30 miles northeast of Gadsden in northeast Alabama.
Two Iowa Citizens suffered minor injuries late Thursday night resulting from a two-car accident in which one auto severed a telephone pole on Highway 6 west, Coralville.
Admitted to University Hospitals were Robert Wheeler, 38, RR2 and Ronald Lindaman, 21, 426 S. Johnson St.
Investigating Highway Patrolman Howard Shapcott said the car driven by Lindaman struck the Wheeler auto in the rear, sending it into the pole. The mishap occurred about 11 p.m. across from the Coral Fruit Market.
Shapcott filed a charge of improper lane change against Lindaman.

House 'Drys' File Bill Amending 'Home Rule'

DES MOINES (AP) — A "dry" liquor by the drink bill was filed in the Iowa House Thursday and the Senate set to the governor a bill authorizing local governments to invest idle funds.
The liquor measure was filed as an amendment to the Senate-passed bill by a group of "drys" headed by Raymond Fisher (R-Grand Junction). The House is expected to take up liquor by the drink next week.
The "dry" amendment would define beer as an intoxicating beverage as well as stronger liquors. Grocery stores could not sell beer under the present licensing system and "carry out" beer could be sold only by an establishment licensed to sell liquor by the drink under the amendment.
It also would set up an enforcement division under the Iowa Liquor Control Commission. Liquor law enforcement now is under the State Department of Public Safety.
The Senate bill makes local governing bodies the licensing agencies with the option of issuing liquor permits or refusing to do so.
The senate voted 35-14 for the bill to authorize investment of idle funds which the House passed 94-8 Monday. It authorizes municipalities, counties and school districts to invest temporarily idle money up to 3 per cent interest. The bill was one of Gov. Harold Hughes' top campaign planks.
The funds would have to remain on deposit at least 90 days. The interest rate would be set by the state banking superintendent, the state insurance commissioner and

The Political Cloud Over Rockefeller's Head

Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York, running hard for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination is currently sitting on a political bomb in his home state that - if it explodes - could scuttle his high aspirations.

His trouble is brewing in the State Liquor Authority, a branch of the state government that holds life or death power over the lucrative liquor trade in New York's bars, restaurants and package stores.

The SLA has power to issue liquor licenses and to police infractions of the complicated laws. Since there is a ceiling on the number of licenses allowed by law, spirited competition for the privilege has resulted in a number of questionable business transactions. Graft, some would say.

A grand jury investigation of some of the shenanigans was commenced last fall by State District Attorney Frank S. Hogan of New York County. It has produced indications that in some instances graft has indeed been involved.

A Grand Jury called in Martin C. Epstein, Governor Rockefeller's appointee for the chairman of the S.L.A. In as much as the five seats on the SLA are political plums, the Governor's good name has been tarnished: Epstein refused to waive immunity from prosecution; the Governor thereupon fired him under a provision in the state Constitution that requires the ousting of any public official who refuses such a waiver.

Later, one of the Governor's closest political allies, State Republican Chairman Judson Morhouse, also refused to waive immunity. His resignation was accepted.

The Governor has worked strenuously to disassociate himself with this sad experience in public administration. It will be quite a test of his political genius if he can keep his name clean.

A Tribute To Dr. Earl Harper

SUI's Dr. Earl E. Harper, director of the SUI School of Fine Arts and Iowa Memorial Union, was highly honored on campus Tuesday evening by the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra.

Stanislav Skrowaczewski, the symphony's music director, dedicated the evening concert to Dr. Harper in tribute to his 25 years as chairman of the SUI Concert Course Committee.

Skrowaczewski called on Dr. Harper to stand and receive the applause of a capacity audience. The conductor noted that Dr. Harper deserves much of the credit for the long and pleasant association the orchestra and SUI have enjoyed.

Dr. Harper retires this year after a quarter-century as director of the University School of Fine Arts and the Union.

That Dr. Harper deserves such praise is indisputable. But before he retires it should be pointed out that he deserves not only citation for his work on the Concert Course Committee but also his tireless work with the Union.

"The Union," Dr. Harper explained in a speech a while back, "is the community center of the college, for all the members of the college family... it is not just a building, it is also an organization and a program."

He added: "Every man and every woman is in some degree responsive to the appeal of the fine arts, and it needs only education and experience to bring this normal endowment to its fullest fruition."

The realization of these ideals at SUI will long remain a monument to Dr. Harper's success here. We owe him our thanks.

He Sees New Trend In Young GOPs

There Were Many Blue, Gold Buttons

To the Editor:

Since the national elections back in 1960, the Young Republicans have been searching for a new road to take the party from the brink of defeat and lift it to political victory in the future. This searching for a new road is still going on, but there does seem to be a new trend within the Young GOP which is conservative, highly articulate, and extremely energetic. The Young Republican today identifies himself with the bright new faces of the Republican party such as congressman Robert Taft Jr. (age 46), Don Rumsfeld (30), Gene Snyder (34) and Ed Foreman (29). These new faces reflect the fresh, dynamic image which the Young Republicans of today seek. To the youth of the party these young congressmen present the new image of the party which is in stark contrast to the drab stands of the Javits-Case Old Guard. The Midwest College Young Republican convention, which was held in St. Louis from the 5th to the 7th of April, showed this present trend to a new, determined GOP.

Liberal Republican voices were few and far between. The liberal Young Republican stronghold of Michigan, for instance, toppled to a slate of conservative candidates in this year's Michigan state convention. There were however some liberal voices raised. These voices came from the delegates of Grinnell, Ball State and a few other schools. The leadership of both opposing sides was conservative, but the Republican First Committee did contain many moderates as well as some "Who Else but Nelse" people.

The platform which was adopted at this convention had a strong right-ward leaning and a forceful program which would shock many liberal Republican Javitses. The new Republican passport seems to be determination, and a strong feeling that there must be more than the name Republican behind a candidate before he will get the full support of the Midwest Young GOP. In quite frank language it was asked that the new Republicanism of the future be something which is a little bit more imaginative than "Me To" Republicanism. At this convention not too many people were wearing Rockefeller buttons, in stark contrast to the many blue and gold Goldwater buttons. This quite dramatically summed up the general feeling of the Midwest Federation of College Young Republicans.

On Policing Visits

To the Editor:

Recently as I was leaving Currier at 11 p.m. two amazons stationed at the door accosted me. They grabbed my rain coat off my back and pinned my arms behind me. They demanded to know where I thought I was going. When I replied I wanted to go to my home they informed me that I couldn't. I thought they mistook me for a dorm resident or employe going for an unscheduled coffee break so I told them I lived off campus. However, this didn't appease them and they still insisted I wasn't going to leave the dorm.

I do realize that the girls in the dorm aren't old enough to take care of themselves but didn't realize that their girl friends' visits were policed. If bouncers are necessary to maintain a well run institution I would suggest they be rushed to the nearest class on courtesy and "How to be a Lady."

Even He Isn't In Top Shape

To the Editor:

After reading the article about the three girls who walked 33 miles in 14 hours I decided that I had had more than I could take. During Easter vacation I ran and walked from the east end of Lower Finkbine golf course to the south entrance of Hawkeye Downs in Cedar Rapids and back to Lower Finkbine (about 45 miles), all in the short time of 9 hours and 50 minutes.

Unlike the girls and most others who have tried walking a long distance, I am looking forward to doing it again in even shorter time.

Last fall I was only the sixth best cross-country runner on the SUI team, and have been able to make only one trip with the team so far this year. At that meet I finished last in the half-mile. So, what I would like to know is what makes so many people think that they are in good physical shape? Even I don't consider myself in top shape.

And Still Another College Coloring Book

THE ALL-STAR COLLEGE PRIMER, by William R. Young and Richard S. Oden (The Grooves of Academe Press, $1.50)

By DENNIS BINNING Written for The Daily Iowan

You will shake the leaves from Academe (USA-style) with intellectual belly-laffs when you read "The All-Star College Primer," the latest and most original coloring book to come off the presses.

The book is billed as "A survey of the tribal culture of the college community and its all-stars... with descriptions of their curious rituals and customs..."

It delineates the characters of academic life from a Magoo-like (different?) vantage point. There is a base of truth (albeit distorted) underlying each of the character sketches from which the humor is derived.

The authors inform us in the foreword that "The publication of this book was not made possible by a grant from a foundation. We therefore thank all foundation officials for their role in making this an exceptional scholarly endeavor." So with reverse emphasis predominating, they do a rubber hatch job on several distinct academic-type people.

Here is a sample: "You see the ALUMNUS at football games and reunions. Welcome him back to the campus with his favorite word - Hiya-therefellah."

The fifth freedom... enjoy it!

A Review Of a Studio Theatre Play

'La Fiesta Brava': Shows Little Promise

By LLOYD FRERER Written for The Daily Iowan

American playwrights seem to find great symbolism in the traditional Spanish bullfight. Perhaps the picture of a man asserting his manhood by voluntarily facing death in an arena just naturally strikes at the age-old question of whether physical courage is the true sign of manhood.

At any rate, the audience at the Studio Theatre watched them unloading the bulls this past Wednesday evening in the opening performance of David Larson's "La Fiesta Brava." The play, unfortunately, showed as little promise as did the directing. Lines such as "I will never be an artichoke," which the characters were to deliver in all seriousness resulted in a less than serious reaction on the part of the audience.

Another major problem throughout the performance was the use of Spanish accents which limited the actors vocal range and believability and which were obviously inconsistent, particularly in moments of heated discussion.

THE PLAY CAN EASILY be divided into two sections: one containing the action of the piece, and the other containing its philosophical discussion. The latter section is the great weakness of the script. In almost every scene, the action of the play was halted so that two of the characters might discuss their philosophy of life in relation to that moment of truth in the arena.

The direction only aided in making these breaks seem more abrupt by having the characters invariably cease all movement on the stage for these periods.

But the production should not be entirely condemned. Jerry Roberts made a valiant effort to brighten up the earlier scenes, and most of the author's comedy was nicely executed. Instead of the hoaked-up death scenes which the audience came to expect, both Mr. Roberts and Ronald Duffy (playing the elder brother) passed from the scene with great strength and dignity.

And the long silence around the dying matador's bedside said far more than the succeeding dialogue.

THE PERFORMERS who did not take part in the philosophical argument generally fared better than those who did. Lawrence Gordon, as the sword bearer, and Daniel Alkofer, as the doctor, gave the most thoroughly professional performances.

Mr. Roberts, Mr. Duffy, and Mrs. Rosalind John were less interesting as characters. Each of them had trouble with the Spanish accent in one way or another, as did most of the minor characters.

Both Stanley Longman, as the Italian priest, and Lawrence Sorenson, as the American "Medler," turned in good performances though the total effect was somewhat less than exciting.

Margaret Hall's costumes were of their usual high quality.

A Review of the Iowa String Group

Casella Piece Was Worth The Evening

By DAVE CUNNINGHAM Written for The Daily Iowan

Wednesday night in the Auditorium in Macbride Hall the Iowa String Quartet played its fourth concert in the 1962-63 season. This has been a quite successful season for them, both as a group and as individuals. They have received a good amount of deserved praise and publicity, and as a consequence their concerts throughout the year - and especially this one, the last of the season's series - have been played before exceptionally large audiences. I would suspect that, by and large, there is a good deal of musical sophistication and understanding among the audiences that attend their performances, and that the prestige of the String Quartet has been due predominantly to the solidity and high calibre of its performances.

CERTAINLY THEY do not go for the spectacular. They are, if anything, rather too spare in their movements and in their stage presences. Probably this is due partially to their internal difficulty of projecting adequately in a large auditorium an art form not made for auditoriums.

Anyway: the music Wednesday night was quite good, although I don't think it was nearly on the level attained at the quartet recital immediately preceding this one. This wasn't due, I don't think, to the calibre of the selections played. The members of the quartet simply didn't play so well together this time.

The first piece the Quartet played was Haydn's Quartet in A major (Opus 20, No. 6). The piece seemed typically Haydn-ish: good, conservative, workmanlike - and dull.

THE SURPRISE WAS in the Casella work. So far as I was able to find out, this piece has never been recorded - at least I was unable to find anyone who'd ever heard it before. Title, reasonably enough, written for String Quartet, and in a contemporary manner, this piece is a masterful joining of lyrical and atonal elements, and while the overall structure seemed peculiar - the first movement had no particular direction or meaning, and the very short third section served no discernible function in terms of introduction, development, of resolution of theme, and appears to have been put in only to formally complete the structure - the two remaining movements (the second and fourth) were magnificent.

The Beethoven piece was a disappointment. It was quartet Opus 74, an excellent piece, but the Quartet's rendition of it seemed unrehearsed and clumsy.

This was quite unfortunate, as the quartet, up to now, has been masterful in its handling of Beethoven. But it seems likely that they have had little enough time together to work, and so far as I was concerned the Casella piece was well worth the evening.

Phi Delta Theta Donates Day of Labor to Community

Phi Delta Theta fraternity will observe its annual "Community Service Day" Saturday with a project to clear brush and paint some of the physical facilities at Iowa City's public park.

The traditional service enterprise will be observed by 120 other chapters in the United States and Canada. A large segment of its alumni and all of the 7500 collegiate members will give a full day's work of manual effort on behalf of community and juvenile projects.

As many as 50,000 men hours have been contributed yearly by the Phi Deltas to such activities as redecorating old people's homes, painting churches, and conducting drives.

Ras Skare, president of Iowa Beta chapter here, says 55 young men at SU will participate in the project Friday and Saturday.

Co-chairmen of the group arranging for the day of community work are Bob Stewart, B3, Leon and Jim Kallmer, B4, Storm Lake.

Sewing Contest Open to Coeds; Prizes Offered

Jet trips to Paris, Singer typewriters and Singer Slant-Needle Sewing machines are the top prizes to be awarded in a contest now being held by the Singer Sewing Machine Company.

To enter the contest each girl enrolls in an eight-lesson sewing course, where she will create the garment which becomes her entry in the contest.

The Teen Division is for those 14 through 17 years and the Miss and Mrs. Division for girls 18 through 21 years.

Winners will be selected in each local judging and will compete in the area contest. Winners of area contests will receive a trip to New York and a chance to compete for the trip to Paris.

Enrollments in the local sewing course will be accepted until August 10. Entry blanks may be obtained at the local Singer Sewing Center.

SDT Has Highest Sorority G.P.A.

First semester grade averages of SUI sororities revealed Sigma Delta Tau first in chapter ratings with 2.81. Delta Delta Delta was second with 2.75, and Kappa Kappa Gamma, third with 2.71.

In the pledge class tally, Delta Delta Delta was first with an average of 2.84, Pi Beta Phi second with 2.83, and Kappa Alpha Theta, third with 2.64.

The all-sorority average was 2.62, compared to the all-women's average of 2.49 and the all-university average of 2.38.

Sororities Celebrate Founding

Chi Omega

Members of Chi Omega sorority will commemorate the founding of their organization Saturday at the annual Eleusinian.

Iowa State's Eta Beta chapter of Chi Omega will host the day's festivities. Women of Chi O chapters at Coe College, Drake University, and SU will attend. 35 local Chi O's will go to Ames by bus.

The fraternity was founded on April 5, 1895, at the University of Arkansas.

Sigma Delta Tau

Sigma Delta Tau sorority celebrated its 30th birthday last Sunday with a banquet and entertainment of special guests.

The banquet, held in honor of the founding in 1933, was highlighted by talks from some of the original founders and a reading of the minutes from the first three meetings. Some of the charter members recalled personal experiences connected with the early days of Pi chapter.

Mrs. Dora Chapman of Iowa City, a national officer and honored guest because of her dedication to the chapter, gave a brief resume of trips taken and experiences shared in financing and furnishing the first house. Mrs. Chapman annually attends the chapter's founding celebration.

As is the tradition each member contributes the number of pennies as is her age to the Sigma Delta Tau Development Fund.

Miss Helen Reich, Panhellenic adviser, attended as a special guest.

Some are like beetles.

Some are like boxes.

VWs are designed from the inside out. The Volkswagen Sedan looks like a beetle because it couldn't look like anything else.

Not with the engine in back, luggage compartment in front, and room for 4 comfortable people in between.

The engine is in the rear for a reason: it gives the rear wheels better traction on steep hills, in mud and snow.

With the engine in back, the luggage compartment moves up front.

That leaves plenty of room for the people in the middle. Gives them stretchout room. Room for extra baggage, too. The VW Station Wagon looks like a box. Because no other shape holds so much in so compact a space.

It can carry 8 adults, plus luggage. With the center seats removed, it will take a full-sized baby carriage. Or, with the sun-roof open, an 8-foot cabinet.

Interestingly, the VW Station Wagon is only 9" longer than the VW Sedan. Almost as easy to park.

Which could you use? A beetle? Or a box? They both have this in common. Every inch counts.

Netmen Face Illinois In First Big Ten Meet

BY PAT KIRBY
Staff Writer

Iowa's tennis team will open its Big Ten season today when the Hawks meet Illinois in a four-team meet in Evanston, Ill.

Saturday the Hawks face Chicago U. in a non-conference dual and in the afternoon tangle with the host of the meet, another Big Ten team, Northwestern.

Northwestern is heavily favored to capture the Big Ten tennis crown this season and a definite favorite in the NCAA tourney to be held in June. The Wildcats had several bad breaks last year in the Big Ten meet which cost them the title won by Michigan.

Iowa Coach Don Klotz mentioned his Hawks were edged out of fourth place in the Big Ten meet last year by Illinois, and thus would like to even the score by winning their opening encounter today.

Making the trip for the Hawks are Steve Wilkinson, Dave Strauss, Dick Riley, Denny Ellertson, Mike Schiavoni, Marc Mears and Gary Fletcher.

Klotz feels the Hawks should win matches from Illinois and Chicago but said defeating Northwestern was next to impossible. In an indoor meet early in March the Wildcats soundly defeated the Hawks.

Klotz added, "Northwestern is loaded with talent this year. The No. 1 man on last year's squad, Marty Riessen, who won the Big Ten singles title and placed second in the nationals, is currently No. 2."

Klotz continued, "Riessen, a junior, has been replaced by a sophomore, Clark Graebner. Graebner defeated Riessen two different times to play the N. 1 singles in Northwestern's meets with Ohio State and Purdue last weekend. The Wildcats won both meets by identical scores, 9-0."

Riessen is still not in top shape because he joined the tennis team later than the other players because of basketball. He teamed with Rich Falk to give the Wildcats one of the best sets of guards in the Big Ten this past season.

Hospital Drops Case Against Lavorante

LOS ANGELES (AP) Californian Luther Hospital withdrew Thursday its Superior Court petition to collect a $1,916.92 hospital bill from Argentine heavyweight boxer Alejandro Lavorante.

Lavorante has been in a coma since Sept. 21, 1962, when he was knocked out by Johnny Riggins.

Prior to Feb. 28, the California Athletic Commission's boxers and wrestlers fund paid the bill. On that date Lavorante's father was appointed conservator of the son's estate.

The fund then stopped payment of the hospital bill.

The hospital petitioned to clarify financial liability in the case. A hearing was scheduled for later today.

Samuel J. Tibbits, hospital administrator, said:

"In this matter, the hospital is prepared to make a substantial contribution to the care of the boxer should Mr. Lavorante Sr., as conservator of the estate, be held liable."

The boxer's counsel argued that this commission fund should pay the bill. The hospital said it would try to collect from the fund.

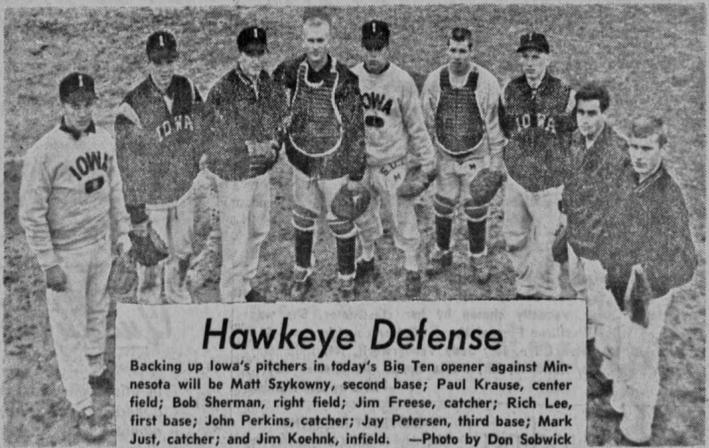

Lavorante's parents plan to take him back to Argentina on May 2.

NFL Title Game Broadcast Rights Sold to NBC

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Football League has sold the radio-television rights to its 1963 championship game to the National Broadcasting Co. for $926,000. Commissioner Pete Rozelle said Thursday. He added it was the highest price ever paid for broadcast rights to a one-day sports event.

The game will be played in the home park of the Western Division champion on Sunday, Dec. 29.

The Columbia Broadcasting System again will carry the regular season games, both on radio and television, this season. CBS paid the NFL $9.3 million for the rights for the two-year period of 1961 and 1962.

Colts Defeat Milwaukee; End Losing Streak

HOUSTON (AP) — A trio of former Braves, Don Nottebart, Al Spangler and Don McMahon, helped the Houston Colts end a five-game losing streak Thursday with a 7-5 victory over Milwaukee.

Spangler singled in the run that broke a 2-2 tie in the seventh, and touched off a five-run Houston uprising — their biggest winning of the year — against relievers Hank Fischer and Ron Piche.

Twins Down Senators

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jack Kralick limited Washington to three singles as the Minnesota Twins whipped the Senators, 3-0, Thursday night, putting together a two-game winning streak for the first time this season.

Kralick struck out five and worked only one as he won his first game of the season after losing three straight.

Drake Relays Open Today — Texas Southern, Stanford Favored

DES MOINES (AP) — Texas Southern has dominated the Drake Relays for the past two years but Stanford will offer a strong challenge for team honors in the track and field meet here today and Saturday.

The fleet Texas Southern runners won four races and set two records in a year ago. They are favored in at least four relays this year.

Stanford Coach Payton Jordan also has his sights set on several Drake titles, and the Indians already have marks better than records in three Drake events.

Harry McCalla, who has run an open mile in 4:01.5 this year, heads Stanford's four-mile and university distance medley relay teams.

Jordan says his four-mile team of McCalla, Bob Miltz, Harlan Andrews, and Bill Pratt should be able to run the distance in 16:30, which would cut 20 seconds off the Drake standard.

In the distance medley, McCalla and Miltz teamed with Bob Schlicke and Rich Chesarek earlier in the year in fashioning a clocking of 9:48.2 which is more than two seconds under the Drake record.

Stanford also is a leading contender in the mile and two-mile relays, and the Indians' Dave Weill is expected to erase the Drake discus mark.

Weill has tossed the discus 194.6 this spring, bettering his own national mark. The Drake record is 185-7½.

In addition to Weill, other individual standouts in the meet include Dyrrol Burleson, former Oregon runner who will be aiming at a four-minute mile; pole vaulter Gerald Pratt of Texas Southern and defending champion Fred Hansen of Rice, both of whom have vaulted more than 16 feet; Ed Red of Rice, defending champion in the javelin; Bill Miller of McMurry, the 1962 broad jump champion, and half a dozen top sprinters headed by Rogers Savers of Omaha, favorite in the 100-yard dash. A total of 881 college and university athletes have entered the 54th annual meet, with high school, grade school and junior college entries swelling the total to 2,631.

Iowa Half-Miler Roger Kerr Aiming at 1964 Olympics

BY JIM PIPER
Staff Writer

Roger Kerr, Iowa's crack quarter-miler, has fulfilled one of his boyhood dreams by running on the Iowa track team. If desire and determination have anything to do with it, and all coaches agree it does, there is a good chance the Wapello senior could see action on the U.S. 1964 Olympic team, which would be the fulfillment of his second boyhood dream.

Kerr, the Big Ten indoor 600-meter record-holder and anchor-man on Iowa's record-breaking mile relay team, credits good coaching and competition from teammates for his success. "Most high school coaches don't work you hard enough," the outspoken quarter-miler said. "But Crez gives us workouts that push us and produce our full potential."

"The secret to the success of this year's mile relay team is the intense competition between Gary Hollingsworth, Bill Frazier, Gary Richards, Scott Rucker, and myself," he related. "If one of us doesn't do well, he always knows there is someone else to replace him."

His immediate sights are on this weekend's Drake Relays as well as the upcoming Big Ten Outdoor Championships at Minneapolis May 17-18. The mile relay team will be hampered this weekend by the possible loss of Bill Frazier, who re-injured a tendon in his foot at last week's Kansas Relays. Frazier's availability will be a question mark until race time Saturday.

Kerr lists Iowa's sharing of the Big Ten Indoor title with Michigan and his record-breaking 600-meter run in the same meet as his greatest sports thrill.

The fun-loving trackman lists anchoring Iowa's 440-yard relay team at last year's Quantic Relays as his greatest sports laugh. "I guess I'm not too well-known for my fast start," he mused.

Majoring in physical education with hopes of being a coach, Kerr plans to work for his M.A. Degree here next year. He plans to continue working out with the Iowa track team so that he can compete in several of the big indoor meets in Chicago, Milwaukee, New York, and Los Angeles next winter. "I'll concentrate on the 600 and 800-meter runs and hope for a shot at the 1964 Olympic team," he said.

Kerr's best time in the open quarter was a 47.3 clocking at the Oklahoma Relays, while his best anchor-leg on the mile relay was a 46.1 at the Kansas Relays. He has run a 1:53.7 half-mile this year, also at the Kansas Relays.

His favorite hobbies include good music, especially piano music, and travel. Besides working on his father's 650-acre farm near Wapello last summer, Kerr traveled to New York, New Jersey, and visited the World's Fair in Seattle.

Sports in Brief

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — The United States team reaped its greatest one-day gold medal harvest of the Pan-American Games Thursday, grabbing 14 to boost its total to 33.

The U.S. also ran its silver medal total to 12 and its bronze collection to 10. No other nation has won more than two gold medals.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — After an outstanding basketball career, Bob Cousy quit a winner.

The former Holy Cross star scored 18 points in his final game Wednesday night as the Boston Celtics won their fifth consecutive National Basketball Association crown by defeating the Los Angeles Lakers, 112-109, in the sixth game of the playoffs.

NEW YORK (AP) — Peter Snell and Murray Halberg, New Zealand's great distance runners, will compete in a series of American track meets this spring. The Amateur Athletic Union said Thursday.

Snell, the world record holder for the mile at 3:54.4, has entered the AAU championships in St. Louis June 21-22.

Halberg, the Olympic 5,000-meter champion, together with Snell will run in the Coliseum Relays in Los Angeles May 17, the California Relays at Modesto May 25, and the Compton Invitational meet June 7, Amateur Golf Tournament.

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Darby Dan Farm's Chateaugay earned a berth in the Kentucky Derby by taking a neck decision over Maine Chance Farm's Get Around in the $30,300 Blue Grass Stakes at Keeneland Thursday.

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Defending champion Billy Joe Patton took the short route home Thursday, shooting one under par golf to trim Cobby Ware of Augusta, Ga., 5 and 3 and lead Ray Terry, Bob Allen and John Guenther into the semifinals of the North and South

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Tall Australian Bruce Crampton shot a 7-under-par 64 with smoking irons Thursday to take the first round lead in the $30,000 Texas Open Golf Tournament. Favorite Arnold Palmer was off on his irons and putting and wound up with 71.

National Value System Is Needed, Says Dodd

By SHARYL SORDEN
Staff Writer

If the United States does not decide exactly what we want, we will lose the cold war, according to Prof. Stuart C. Dodd.

Dodd spoke on the topic "Careers in Public Opinion Research" at the annual meeting of the Iowa Sociological Association Thursday.

The Communist countries know exactly what they want, and what goals they are working toward, he said. While the U.S. flounders, neutral countries will align themselves with Communist countries, he warned.

"The appeal to force is an irrational and intelligent means of resolving the cold war," Dodd said. We should first agree on distant, broad goals, then agree on the intermediate goals, reversing our normal process," he continued.

Everyone can agree on some goals, such as survival of the species, he said. When working toward more inclusive, long-range objectives, he said, present issues will be subsumed in the attainment of the further goal.

The first step in establishing common goals is formulating a personal value system, Dodd explained. "A national system of values can, through polls, establish national goals and objectives," Dodd said.

When a value system is established, we can determine by science which system will work best toward the common goal, Dodd explained.

Public opinion research plays an important part in this process, according to Dodd. We must first find out what people want, and act accordingly.

"This requires a mechanism such as polls to guide wisely the myriads of decision in a complex society," Dodd said. By determining what people want, we can learn how to budget national effort more effectively, he said.

"The more accurate and predictive the information obtained from polls, the more intelligently we can direct human affairs," Dodd claimed. Through the use of public opinion polls, we can apply scientific methods to the guidance of behavior, he said.

Dodd is director of the Washington Public Opinion Laboratory at the University of Washington in Seattle. He will present the sixth lecture in the Probable Acts of Man series of eight at SUI on May 14.

Leikvold To Speak

City Manager Carsten D. Leikvold will speak to the Council-Manager Association's biennial meeting Tuesday in the council chamber of the Civic Center at 8 p.m. The meeting is open to the public.

NEW DEGREES

Beginning in the 1962-63 school year SUI offered two new degrees — a bachelor of science in Industrial Engineering and a master of science in Nuclear Science and Technology.

Prof. Dodd Discusses Diffusion

The diffusion of a message can be predicted even when factors resisting diffusion are present, according to Professor Stuart C. Dodd, University of Washington sociologist. Dodd spoke Thursday night on "Counter-Acts," the sixth in a series of eight lectures here.

Dodd conducted studies on message diffusion in conjunction with Project Revere, an attempt to determine the usefulness of leaflets dropped for propaganda purposes in wartime.

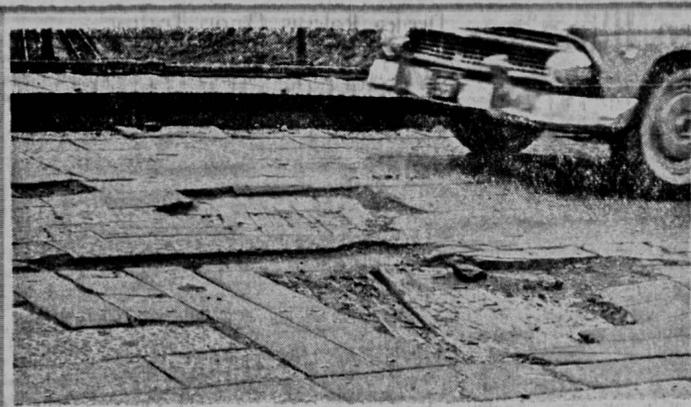

It was found that the diffusion of a message can be predicted by mathematical formulas, if people have equal opportunity to receive the message. Dodd said it was possible to start a rumor and know how many people would know it in a specified time.

Project Revere was first concerned with the best method of starting rumors. "The most effective appeal was a patriotic appeal," he said. Leaflets were dropped urging people to "be a modern Paul Revere" and pass the message on in the national interest.

Distance is a resisting variable, or a counter act, Dodd explained. As the variable increases, the occurrence of the act will decrease, he said.

Dropping an increasing number of leaflets per capita showed that the diffusion will continue to grow, but at a diminishing rate, Dodd said. The effect of each leaflet decreases, he explained.

Dodd will continue his lecture series, "The Probable Acts of Man," on May 14 with "Cosmic Acts."

Today's Hole

Today's hole doesn't have much potential. After all, what kind of a chance for expansion does a hole have on the South Summit Street Bridge. You can only go so deep you know. But anyway, if a hole can't go down, it can spread out. And that's just what happened on South Summit Street — there isn't one hole, there are ten. Another hole will appear in tomorrow's Iowan.

Symposium To Feature Avant Garde Dancer

Erick Hawkins, one of the leading avant-grade modern dancers, will be the special guest at the Second Annual Midwestern Dance Symposium today and Saturday.

Hawkins will present a dance concert Saturday at 8 p.m. in Macbride Auditorium in connection with the symposium sponsored by the Women's Physical Education Department.

Hawkins will present his new dance entitled "Here and Now with Watchers," which uses a series of duets and solos in eight parts to "rediscover sources of immediacy in pure movement."

Masami Kuni, Japan's leading modern dancer, appearing for the first time in the Midwest, will teach two master sessions at the symposium.

The Midwestern Dance Symposium was started last year to bring students and dancers together throughout the Midwest. The symposium covers many phases of dance both as a professional performing art and as an educational activity.

The sessions are open to all SUI students and faculty free of charge. Non-SUI participants will be charged $2. Participants are expected from Illinois, Kansas, Minnesota, Nebraska, Wisconsin, Missouri and South Dakota.

Editor, Director To Attend Plays In SUI Theater

Hobie Morrison, editor of Variety Magazine and Dan Retrie, director of the film, "Raison in the Sun," will attend two plays written by SUI graduate students this afternoon at 3:30 in Studio Theater.

They are in town attending the current playwrighting seminar at the University.

The first play, "A Ring Around Harlequin," was written by Grady Smith, G. St. Louis, and will be directed by Paul Mathey, A4, Cedar Rapids.

Featured in the cast will be Lynn Gillette, G. Iowa City; Jim Mulac, A3, Bettendorf and Tom Ackerman, A2, Cedar Rapids.

The second play, "Recidivist," was written by Lavonne Mueller, G. St. Louis, Mo., whose play "Isolates" was presented earlier this year in the Studio Theater.

Linda Zaring, A4, Chicago, will direct the play. Featured in the cast will be Phil Fisher, G. Ames; Jordan Schaps, A2, Chicago and Virginia Smith, Iowa City.

7 To Discuss Environmental Problem Here

Seven speakers will concentrate on recent research aimed at removing environmental stress or bringing it under control in the fourth Institute on Preventive Psychiatry here Friday and Saturday in the Union.

Dr. Sterling D. Garrard of the College of Medicine at the State University of New York will discuss "Factors Influencing the Biological Substrate and Early Psychological Development" at the opening session at 9 a.m. Friday and Dr. Albert S. Norris, associate professor at the Psychopathic Hospital here, will report on "New Evidence on Month of Birth and Schizophrenia" at 10 a.m.

A lecture on "Recent Studies of the Adolescent's Search for Significance" by Prof. Richard Alpert of Harvard University will be given Friday afternoon and a panel discussion will follow.

Ronald Lippitt of the University of Michigan Research Center for Group Dynamics will talk on "The Effects of Authoritarian and External Controls on the Development of Mental Health" at 7:30 p.m. Friday. The panel discussion to follow his talk will be moderated by Dr. Reynold A. Jensen of the University of Minnesota Medical School.

Speaking Saturday at 9 a.m. will be John McCullum, assistant to the under secretary of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, whose topic will be "Creative Approaches to Insecurities Arising from Technological Change." Dr. Robert Tannenbaum of the University of California, Los Angeles, will speak at 9:55 a.m. on "New Approaches to Stresses on the Job."

Richard L. Kluckhohn of the Boston University Department of Sociology and Anthropology will give the closing lecture following a luncheon Saturday on "Creative Approaches to Family Conflicts." Ira Reiss, SUI associate professor of sociology, will lead the panel discussion.

SUI Hosts UAW Men At Affairs Meeting Today

Members of the United Auto Workers (UAW), in cooperation with the SUI Bureau of Labor and Management, will hold a foreign affairs conference here today through Sunday.

About 200 UAW members from Iowa and Illinois are expected to attend, according to John Flagler, program director for the SUI Bureau of Labor and Management.

Registration will begin at 5 p.m. today in the Main Lounge of the Union. Orientation will follow at 7 p.m.

Conference workshops will begin at 9 a.m. Saturday in the Union and continue concurrently throughout the day.

Topics of the three workshops will be: "Understanding the United Nations," "Labor's Stake in World Trade" and "International Labor Movements."

Victor Reuther, UAW national vice president, will speak at a Democratic dinner and rally to be held at 6 p.m. Sunday at the Carousel.

In other campus appearances, Reuther will speak at a luncheon meeting at 12:15 p.m. in the Union Cafeteria, North Alcoves.

Following the public discussion, sponsored by Young Democrats, Reuther will speak in the East Lobby Conference Room at 1 p.m.

Oh No!!!

Not Dancing, Grad Laments

Tom Holbein, G. Iowa City had difficulty deciding whether to go home to Finkbine Park and wife, Mary, Thursday night.

Thursday Holbein planned to talk over his progress toward the M.A. degree he anticipates in June. Thursday afternoon Tom received a summary record for a graduate degree candidate from the Office of the Registrar. The summary stated Tom is currently enrolled for six courses.

Tom says he attends only five. "The sixth? Its a course in dancing which meets twice a week in the Women's Gym."

Tom says he called the Registrar's Office and was told such things occur infrequently. Wife Mary couldn't be reached for comment.

CAMPUS INTERVIEWS

UPJOHN CO.

(Pharmaceutical Sales)

WILL INTERVIEW ON CAMPUS

MONDAY, APRIL 29

Business majors with some science background and sales experience and Biological science majors with an interest in sales should contact Placement Office for information or interview appointment.

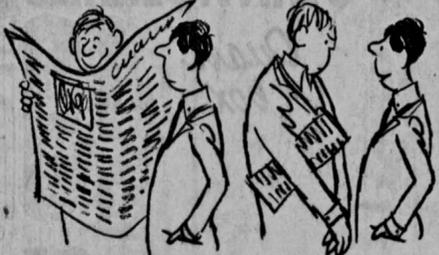

1. My theory on looking for a job is—Play it big! Shoot for the top! Go straight to the press for your interview.

I don't know any presidents.

2. Use your head, man. Have your dad set up appointments with some of the big shots he knows.

He's a veterinarian.

3. Beautiful! All you have to do is find a president who likes dogs. You'll have him eating out of your hand in no time.

I don't know an Elkhound from an Elk.

4. Frankly, I don't know what else to tell you. You've got a problem.

It's not as bad as it seems. My idea is to find out the name of the employment manager at the company I'm interested in. Write him a letter telling him my qualifications. Spell out my interests, marks. Simple as that.

5. A letter to the employment manager! Ho ho ho! You've a lot to learn.

Then how come I landed a great job at Equitable—an executive training spot that's interesting, pays a good salary and has a lot of promise for the future.

6. Say, could you set something up for me at Equitable?

I'm not the president, but I'll try.

Murray Lecture To Focus On Japan's Changing Face

Kiyoshi Togasaki will speak on "Significant Changes in Present Day Japan" at the School of Journalism Murray Lecture, April 30 at 8 p.m. in Macbride Auditorium.

Togasaki is adviser to the Japan Times (Tokyo) and chairman of the Board of Trustees of the International Christian University in Tokyo. He was born in San Francisco in 1895, but now lives in Japan.

Togasaki graduated from the University of California Berkeley in 1920, and received the honorary degree of Doctor of Humane Letters at Cornell College in Mount Vernon.

Togasaki has been a member of the Rotary Club of Tokyo since 1946 and is a past president of that organization. He helped with Japan's participation in the New York World's Fair 1939-40, and was awarded an honorary medal by New York Mayor LaGuardia.

Togasaki is a former director of the Japanese Editors and Publishers Association and a former trustee of Gakushin University in Tokyo.

NOTES FROM THE CAMPUS

Car Wash Set

Angel Flight, women's auxiliary to the Arnold Air Society, will hold a car wash Sunday from 1 to 4:30 p.m. at the Goodyear Service Store, 314 S. Clinton. Price per car is $1.

Ware Leaving

Robert Ware, manager of food service at Iowa Memorial Union since 1959, has accepted the position of foods director at the Louisiana State University Memorial Union and Hatcher Hall in Baton Rouge, La.

Louisiana State recently completed a $6.5 million Memorial Union complex with extensive dining facilities.

Two To Speak May 9

Dr. John W. Eckstein, associate professor of internal medicine, and Loren Hickerson, executive director of the SUI Alumni Association, will present talks before the annual meeting of the Iowa Heart Association during the afternoon of May 9 in the Hotel Savory, Des Moines.

UCCF Shows Movie

The United Campus Christian Fellowship will show a movie at 5:45 p.m. Sunday at the Congregational Church.

The film, "La Strada," is a story of the loneliness of three souls who travel an Italian highway.

There will be no admission but all students must have tickets. Tickets can be obtained at the Christian, Congregational, and Presbyterian Churches.

There will be no supper Sunday.

At Audiovisual Meeting

Lee W. Cochran, director of the Bureau of Audio-Visual Instruction of the Extension Division, and Lida Cochran, instructor in the SUI College of Education, are attending the 40th anniversary convention of the Department of Audiovisual Instruction in Denver, Colo.

The convention, attended by about 3,000 U.S. educators and foreign visitors, ends today.

Reporting Typing Test

The required typing test for prospective beginning reporting students will be given at 10:30 a.m. Saturday. Students wishing to take the test, which must be passed before enrollment in the course is permitted, must leave their names in Room 205 Communications Center before Saturday.

Discuss Mississippi

Charles Dick, A3, Hampton, who traveled to Mississippi last winter to observe the giving of aid to distressed Negroes there, will discuss topics concerning his trip Sunday in Christus House, 122 E. Church St., after supper at 5:30 p.m.

Dance Show May 2

The Contemporary Dance Club will present its annual show May 2 to 3 at 8 p.m. in the Studio Theatre. Tickets are on sale for 75 cents at the Women's Gym, Whetstone's and the Paper Place. Tickets will also be sold at the door.

Included in the performance will be a dance drama adapted from the "House of Bernard Alba" by Garcia Lorca. It will be directed by Nancy Cole, G. Iowa City. David Krohn, A2, Joliet, is choreographer. Marcia Thayer is choreographer for "Dionysia: Dance for Our Time," also in the program.

Eighteen dances representing the work of 15 choreographers, will be presented.

Wesley Program

"Sex and Human Relations" will be the topic of a film and discussion at Wesley House this Sunday, 5:30 p.m. The film is from the TV series "Look Up and Live." The discussion is the first of five on the theme "Sex, Love and Marriage: A Christian Approach."

Pom Pom Girls

Tryouts for the 1963-64 SUI Pom Pom Girls squad will be held Tuesday through Thursday next week from 7 to 9 p.m. on the basketball court at the Field house. Girls wishing to try out are requested to attend the Tuesday night practice and to bring a picture of themselves and 100-word essay on what they think the role of a Pom Pom Girl should be.

Eliminations will be made on the basis of skill, poise, pep, appearance and ability to learn the dances. Six regulars and two alternates will be selected.

Repayment Schedule

Students graduating or terminating their education at SUI in June who have received National Defense Education Act loans are asked to stop in the Office of Student Financial Aid to arrange repayment schedules.

Piano Recital

Kathleen Garber, G, Indianapolis, Ind., will present a piano recital Saturday at 8 p.m. in North Music Hall.

Miss Garber is presenting the recital in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the master of arts degree.

Paper Presented

Lyle Shannon, chairman of the Sociology and Anthropology Department at SUI, Thursday presented a paper to the Pacific Sociological Society in Portland, Ore. Shannon's topic was "Value Assimilation and Occupational Mobility Among Mexican-Americans, Negroes, and Anglos in a Northern Industrial Community."

Elected President

Carl Rouse, P3, Albia has been elected president of the SUI student branch of the American Pharmaceutical Association. Other new 1963-64 officers are Bob Claxton, P3, Cedar Rapids, vice president; Janice Clifton, P2, Glenshaw, Pa., secretary and Jack Vallandingham, P3, Maxwell, treasurer.

Attend Conference

Two members of the Department of Economics faculty are attending the 27th annual meeting of the Midwest Economic Association in St. Louis, Mo., Thursday through Saturday.

Professor Paul R. Olson is chairman of the session on "Foreign Capital and Economic Development." Professor Gerald L. Nordquist will present a paper on "Managerial Economics As Seen By a Price Theorist."

Authors Chemistry Text

R. T. Sanderson, professor of chemistry, is the author of a new textbook of general chemistry titled "Principles of Chemistry," published by John Wiley and Sons, New York.

The book employs a new type of question by which the student can test his understanding through independent reasoning and then comparing his answers with thoroughly detailed explanations contained in the book.

Scholarship Application

Applications are now being accepted for the George Lauman and Jane Richardson Pollock Scholarship to encourage Chinese studies among SUI undergraduate students. The scholarship carries a stipend of $100 and is offered every year.

All freshmen and sophomore honors students who intend to major in Chinese language and civilization are eligible to apply for the scholarship.

Application blanks may be obtained from and filed with the Chinese and Oriental Studies office, 319 Schaeffer Hall. The deadline is Thursday.

The scholarship has been made available by Mrs. Whitfield Cobb of Roanoke, Va., in memory of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Pollock who were life-time friends of China and the Chinese people.

Newman Club

The executive council of Newman Club will meet Sunday at the Catholic Student Center at 11:30 a.m. A picnic supper for all members will be held at 5:45 p.m. in City Park. In case of rain, the supper will be held in the Catholic Student Center, 108 McClean St.

The new Methodist hymnal is just about wrapped up. Some old numbers have been thrown out. Some new ones have been added. But just which ones got the ax, and which ones the accolade, still is a secret. It has been a burning question lately among the country's 10 million hymn-loving Methodists. Right from the first, the sparkle of song has animated their Church. "We've been under terrific pressure to disclose the new hymnal's contents," said Bishop Edwin Edgar Voight of Illinois, chairman of the denomination's 28-member Hymnal Revision Committee. But he added: "We are under mandate to release this book first to delegates to the general conference." That won't be until January 1964. Delegates are being chosen at regional conferences this spring. But meanwhile, Bishop Voight discloses this much: The new hymnal has 20 to 30 fewer hymns than the present one, which has 564 of them. Since many new hymns have been included, that adds to the total of discards.

20,000 Iowans Will Invade Old Finkbine

The record 20,000 attendance at last year's Family Camp Show at SUI is expected to be exceeded when Iowans come to the 1963 show May 18-19, Elmer Scholer, associate professor of physical education, said in announcing plans for the show.

It will be held on the Old Finkbine golf course.

Dr. Scholer said the 1963 Family Camp Show will be geared to the family unit — where Iowa families can go to camp for a weekend, the new camping equipment available, and tips on how to get more enjoyment from camping.

Some 50 camp equipment manufacturers have already reserved space in the show. Over 100 different tents, new types of trailers including one which floats and can be towed in water, boats and "camping gadgets" will be on display.

Several companies will have exhibits showing the manufacturer of new synthetic materials used in camping equipment. A food processing firm will display new packaged foods for campers.

Scholer explained that all the exhibits are designed to inform potential buyers of camping equipment so they will be able to select the best equipment for their camping needs.

The Family Camp Show is sponsored by the SUI Men's Physical Education Department. Assisting Dr. Scholer in planning the show are three SUI students majoring in recreation skills. They are Glen Thompson, A3, Blairtown; Bartley Johnston, A4, Albia, and Jim Grove, A4, Mt. Carroll, Ill.

KWAD Radio Network Plan Worked Out

The KWAD radio station, now under the management of Quadrangle Dormitory, soon will be changed to the KWAD radio network and will then be managed by all dormitories agreeing to a contract which was drawn up Sunday.

The contract was written by Larry Crain, A3, Roseburg, Ore., Kerry Alberti, A3, Lake Forest, Ill., and representatives of Mc-Broom House of Burge.

Crain is the president of Quadrangle, and Alberti is the current station manager of KWAD.

Crain said it is hoped the change will release some of the financial burden the station is imposing on the Quadrangle by making KWAD a cooperative enterprise among the dormitories at SUI.

Thus far, the Quadrangle and Mc-Broom, Daley, and Wardell Houses of Burge have approved the contract.

The radio network will be governed by an advisory board consisting of representatives from each dormitory agreeing to the contract. Each representative will either be appointed by the president of the dormitory represented, or elected by that dormitory's council.

The board will elect a station manager, prepare a budget, and "generally determine the operating policies of the station," said Crain.

Its decisions will be subject to the review of the Inter-dormitory President's Council.

Freedman Speaks At Hillel Seminar

Dr. Ralph Freedman, associate professor of English, will speak Sunday during a noon brunch at Hillel Foundation as a part of the regular Sunday seminar series.

His topic will be "The Jewish Experience As Depicted in Recent Novels." Charge for the brunch is 50 cents.

HOOT, MON!

The all-girl SUI Scottish Highlanders, the world's largest bagpipe band, celebrated their 25th year under the direction of Pipe-master William Adamson in 1962. The band now has 75 marching members.

PORK ROAST

Season pork roast and brown. Combine 1/2 cup grapefruit juice, 1/2 cup brown sugar and pour over roast. Cover and roast 45 to 50 minutes per pound in a 350° oven. Sprinkle brown sugar over eight grapefruit halves. Uncover roast 45 minutes before it is done, baste grapefruit with it until roast is done. Serve this flavorful combination this week!
