

ON CAMPUS—

RECITALS. A group of Iowa City high school students will present one of three recitals Sunday in the North Rehearsal Hall of the Music Building.

At 2 p.m. Sally Nickerson and Nancy Mittman, students at University High and Caroline Means and Stephen Osburn, students at City High, will present nine piano selections.

At 4 p.m. Carol Van Nostrand, A4, St. Cloud, Minn., will present a piano recital. Her selections include Mozart's "Fantasia in C minor," Schubert's "Sonata in B-flat," and Franck's "Prelude, Chorale and Fugue."

At 8 p.m. James Irwin, G, Iowa City, will present a French horn recital. Assisted by his wife, Linda, at the piano, he will perform selections by Mozart, Heiden and Richard Strauss.

IN THE STATE—

BULL SHOOTER. A De Witt area farmer was arrested Friday for shooting the bull.

Gerald Griep was charged in a complaint with causing injuries to beasts, in this case a bull and several head of cattle owned by a neighbor, Robert Barker.

Barker told Sheriff Marvin Bruhn that allegedly Griep shot the bull and the other animals with a shotgun when they wandered through a hole in a fence onto Griep's property. The bull was badly wounded.

BOWLING ALLEY OUT. Plans for a proposed $42,000 two-lane bowling alley at the Iowa Braille and Sight-Saving School at Linton have been dropped.

The reason is that the 1963 legislature did not appropriate sufficient funds for capital improvements at the school.

Lee Iverson, superintendent, said bowling is one of the most popular sports among the 158 students at the school. He said a bar often is erected so the blind students can line up with the alley.

IN THE NATION—

SUGAR HEARINGS. In Washington, skyrocketing sugar prices touched off demands for a congressional investigation Friday and at least two sets of hearings are being organized.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said there are sugar surpluses on hand and most supplier countries are fulfilling their quotas. But he declared big producers may "put the squeeze on users including bottlers, bakers, candy makers and the like" unless something is done.

POLITICAL Huddle. President Kennedy wound up a two-day visit in New York Friday with a political huddle on strategy for a Democratic victory next year in Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's home state.

One of the chief tasks facing the Democrats is selection of a candidate to oppose Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, Rochester Republican, a frequent critic of Kennedy's Cuban policy.

VIET NAM INFORMATION. In Washington Rep. John E. Moss, head of a House subcommittee investigating government news policies, said Friday the American people are getting as much information "as is possible" about the battle against Communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam.

The California Democrat said secret testimony by Asst. Secretary of State Roger Hillsman left him "personally reassured" that information is flowing as freely as it can "considering the role of the United States government as advisers to the government of South Viet Nam."

IN THE WORLD—

TO VISIT CASTRO. Premier Khrushchev has accepted an invitation to visit Cuba, the "first socialist state in America," the Soviet government announced today. Khrushchev also warned that Russia would reply to any attack on Cuba "with all the means at its disposal."

PRETTY MAD. Premier Ahmed Ben Bella of Algeria issued a virtual declaration of war against Portugal and South Africa in the African summit conference Friday in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia. He called for immediate military action.

The fiery revolutionary won the greatest ovation yet given in the conference and immediate support from the moderate president of Tanganyika, Julius Nyerere.

ACCUSED. The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia Friday night in Moscow accused an American diplomat and his wife of invading a Moscow student hostel by climbing through its window.

The accusation was leveled against a first secretary identified only as "Kerst."

The U.S. Embassy has a first secretary in the political section named Kenneth A. Kerst. Falls Church, Va. He had no comment but the embassy said, "That's a lot of nonsense."

Iowa Battles Illinois for Big Ten Baseball Crown

The Weather

Cloudy Saturday with occasional rain over most of the state with rain possibly moderate to heavy at times in the northwest. Highs from the 50s in the northeast to 65 to 75 in the extreme southwest.

Iowa's baseball team defeated Purdue, 4-2, at the Hawk diamond Friday, but still remained one-half game out of first place as league-leading Illinois won over Minnesota, 5-3.

In other Big Ten action, Ohio State defeated Indiana, 4-0; Wisconsin beat Michigan State, 12-7; and Northwestern downed Michigan, 3-1.

Illinois, the team which Iowa meets in a showdown double-header at the diamond at 1 p.m. today, has a 9-4 record; Iowa is 8-4 in conference play. Ohio State is third in the standings, a game behind, and Wisconsin is fourth 1/2 games out. (For details, see page 4.)

Faculty Measure On ROTC Aired

By NORBERT TATRO Staff Writer

Dissatisfaction with the SUI ROTC program was not the reason the faculty of the College of Liberal Arts has recommended the compulsory program be reduced to a series of five lectures, Dean Dewey Stuit said Friday.

The faculty has been "very satisfied" with the one year compulsory program which has been in effect for two years, Stuit said. But the faculty feels the five-lecture orientation program will give students the opportunity to decide if they want to continue ROTC, Stuit explained. Two years ago when the faculty recommended the change to a one year program, the faculty thought a new ROTC program would now be in effect, but it is only now being considered by Congress, Stuit said.

THE NEW PROGRAM would eliminate compulsory ROTC and change the voluntary program from four years to two years — the junior and senior years.

Stuit said if this bill is passed the orientation lectures could be eliminated. The resolution calls for up to five lectures, he remarked, so the lectures could be reduced to zero. The dean doubted the act of Congress would become law until September 1964.

The faculty recommendation, passed with no dissenting votes, goes to President Virgil M. Hancher. Both Hancher and the Board of Regents must approve the recommendation before the program can be changed.

Hancher, who has been out of town, said Friday night, "I haven't seen the letter (of recommendation) yet."

No action can be taken before June 27 or 28 when the Board of Regents next meets, the president said. Hancher added he might withhold making a recommendation until just before the meeting.

IT IS "POSSIBLE" the program might be changed by this fall, he said, if both he and the Board endorse the recommendation.

Asked what effects the recommendation might have on the voluntary program, Col. Michael N. Mikulak, head of Air Force ROTC at SUI, said, "I haven't given it much thought."

Half the Air Force ROTC schools now have voluntary programs, Mikulak said. In half of these schools the number of seniors commissioned as officers is just as great; in the others it has fallen off "a little bit."

The faculty resolution came as no surprise to the colonel. He said the lecture series is already being planned. Minnesota and Wisconsin universities have similar orientation programs, Mikulak said.

COL. WILLIAM N. HOLM, head of SUI's Army ROTC program, issued the following statement Friday night:

"As an Army officer I favor a required ROTC program, for it has been well established that the services are able to secure more quality junior officers . . . through a required program."

"However, I am well aware the decision is a university matter. We can and will adapt to a voluntary program, as has been done on a number of other campuses, if that is the desire of the University."

Alabama's Wallace Ordered to Court In Legal Showdown

Greensboro Demonstrators Taken from Mayor's Office

GREENSBORO, N.C. — Nine Negro demonstrators were carried bodily from the office of Mayor David Schenck Friday after they threatened to sit-in until he called a special meeting of the city council.

The incident came only two hours after a resolution urging integration of Greensboro businesses was endorsed unofficially by the city's governing body.

Mayor Schenck had said earlier he was hopeful — but not optimistic — that the council's action would stop racial demonstrations here.

THE NEGRO students, five male and four women, sat on the floor of the mayor's reception room and refused to leave. Police Capt. W. H. Jackson asked them to walk out to a paddy wagon. The nine sat on the floor, wrapped their arms around their knees and refused to budge. Jackson ordered them carried out.

They were booked on a charge of loitering and causing a nuisance in a public building.

Early reaction of merchants to the council's action was one of uncertainty. Many said they would wait further developments.

However, officials of two cafeterias which have been favorite targets of demonstrators said there would be no change in their policy of complete segregation.

City council, meeting informally, was asked to adopt a resolution calling on businessmen to provide equal treatment for all persons regardless of race, color or creed.

A special 16-member human relations committee proposed the resolution in a preliminary report to Schenck, who named the study group Wednesday at the height of racial disturbances in which more than 1,500 Negro college and public school students have been arrested.

Charles Wright, G. Kingsport, Tenn.; Marion Coad, A4, Le Mars; and David Fred, G, Sylvania, Ohio, have received the grants for graduate study abroad.

As provided by the Fulbright-Hays Act, all students are selected by the Board of Foreign Scholarships whose members are appointed by the U.S. President. Students are recommended by the campus Fulbright-Hays committee and by the Institute of International Education.

The international educational exchange program is designed to increase mutual understanding between the people of various countries. It provides opportunities for foreign nationals to study in American colleges, and for an exchange of teachers, lecturers, research scholars and specialists.

Students wishing to go abroad for the 1964-65 academic year should apply between May 1 and Nov. 1, 1963, to SUI's Campus Fulbright Adviser, Wallace Maner, 111 University Hall.

Professors To Be Aired On KWAD

Dormitory residents will be able to get answers about large lecture courses before final examinations by listening to dormitory radio station KWAD.

Starting Monday professors will be on the air answering questions phoned in by listeners. Between phone calls the professors will discuss their courses with students in the studio.

The following is KWAD's schedule of "professors on the air."

1. Sherwood Tuttle, Earth Science, 11:24, Monday, 8 p.m.; Final — Tuesday.

2. Robin Cundy, Life Science, 11:22, Monday, 9:15 p.m.; Final — Tuesday.

3. John McGalliard, Core Literature, 11:7, Tuesday, 7:30 p.m.; Final — Wednesday.

4. Archibald Cooldige, Core Literature, 11:5, Tuesday, 9 p.m.; Final — Wednesday.

5. Thomas Sanderson, Chemistry, Thursday, 7:30 p.m.; Final — Friday.

6. Paul Johnson, Geography, 4:1, Thursday, 9 p.m.; Final — Friday.

7. James Spalding, Religion, 11:36, Friday, 8 p.m.; Final — Saturday.

8. Fred Wilson and Kenneth Barber, History of Ideas, Monday, 7:30 p.m.; Final — Tuesday.

Students may phone the professors at KWAD studio (x4815). However, some professors prefer to have the questions handed to them in which case students will call at 2064.

Beginning Monday at midnight KWAD will provide study music 24 hours a day through final week.

'State Sovereignty' Seen As Key Issue

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — A Federal Judge Friday ordered defiant Gov. George Wallace into court next month for a legal showdown on the state sovereignty issue raised by the Governor in his pledge to keep two Negroes out of a state university.

Asserting Federal sovereignty, the Justice Department moved for an injunction against interference by Wallace with the enrollment of Negro students at the University of Alabama.

A governor "has no authority by 'interposition' or otherwise to obstruct or prevent the execution of the lawful orders of a court of the United States," the Justice Department said.

U.S. DISTRICT JUDGE Seybourn H. Lynne ordered Wallace to appear June 3 in Birmingham to show cause why he should not be barred by injunction from interfering with university integration.

The hearing will come a week before summer session registration in the studio.

3 SUIowans Win Fulbright Scholarships

Three SUI students have been awarded Fulbright grants for 1963 under the international educational exchange program of the Department of State.

Charles Wright, G. Kingsport, Tenn.; Marion Coad, A4, Le Mars; and David Fred, G, Sylvania, Ohio, have received the grants for graduate study abroad.

As provided by the Fulbright-Hays Act, all students are selected by the Board of Foreign Scholarships whose members are appointed by the U.S. President. Students are recommended by the campus Fulbright-Hays committee and by the Institute of International Education.

The international educational exchange program is designed to increase mutual understanding between the people of various countries. It provides opportunities for foreign nationals to study in American colleges, and for an exchange of teachers, lecturers, research scholars and specialists.

Students wishing to go abroad for the 1964-65 academic year should apply between May 1 and Nov. 1, 1963, to SUI's Campus Fulbright Adviser, Wallace Maner, 111 University Hall.

College Needed In Western Iowa, Say Senators

The Iowa Board of Regents may get a legislative recommendation about establishing branches of the state universities in western Iowa.

In the closing minutes of the 1963 session last week, the state Senate adopted a resolution setting up a committee to study the matter.

The western Iowa viewpoint is this: $58 million is spent on higher education in Iowa, some of which comes from western Iowa, but all the institutions receiving the money are in the eastern half of the state. Sen. John Shoeman (R-Atlantic) said industry in western Iowa feel there should be a college or university close enough for their children to attend since so much money is being spent.

Loren Kottner Named Head Of Iowa Union

Loren Kottner, director of Kansas State University's Memorial Union, has been named to direct SUI's Union.

Announcement of the appointment was made Friday in Des Moines by SUI President Virgil M. Hancher, who presented the appointment to the State Board of Regents for approval.

Kottner will become director of the IMU July 15, succeeding Earl E. Harper, who is retiring after 25 years of directing the Union.

"The University is very pleased to gain the services of Mr. Kottner," said Ted McCarrel, executive dean of the Division of Student Services at SUI. "He is widely recognized in the field of union management as a result of many years of experience and leadership."

Kottner, 41, became director at Kansas State in 1955, and has supervised one major addition since the completion of the main Union there in 1956. From 1950 to 1955 he was assistant director of the Washington State University Union, where he was primarily responsible for the activity programs and for the food service.

From 1948 to 1950, Kottner was director of activities at the Case Institute of Technology in Cleveland, Ohio.

Kottner received a B.A. degree from Nebraska Wesleyan University in 1942, with a major in sociology and speech. He received a master of arts degree from New York University in 1958.

The new SUI Union director is married and has three children. A member of the Episcopal Church, he also holds memberships in Theta Chi and Blue Key fraternities.

A $4.2 million addition to Iowa Memorial Union is now well under way. The new area will contain student activity rooms, student organization offices, new kitchen and dining facilities, a ballroom, and a 111-room guest house for visitors attending University functions.

Local Youth Admits Theft In Grocery

Iowa City Police announced Friday that a 16-year-old Iowa City youth has admitted the Wednesday night burglary at Roseland's grocery, 322 E. Benton St., but has denied setting the fire which was discovered in the store early Thursday morning.

The youth's name has not been released. After an arraignment Friday on breaking and entering charges, he was turned over to juvenile authorities and is expected to undergo psychiatric examination at University Hospital.

The youth reportedly entered the grocery store about 8:30 p.m. Wednesday after owner Mrs. Alfred E. Roseland had closed the store.

Fire which caused extensive smoke and water damage, broke out in the store at 4:40 a.m. Thursday. Police said the youth cannot recall lighting a match while there. They added the youth does not smoke.

The youth was arrested about 12:30 a.m. Friday in his home by city detectives. An old .32 caliber pistol was found in the youth's school locker along with $41.75 of the stolen money, detectives said. They added the pistol apparently had not been loaded and belonged to one of the youth's relatives.

Iowa Minister Found Slain

ALBERT LEA, Minn. — The body of an Iowa minister, nude but with an overcoat thrown over him, was found Friday in a patch of weeds east of this southern Minnesota city.

Sheriff Everett Stovern said the Rev. Berner E. Nyjordet, 43, of Silver Lake had been shot six to eight times and possibly stabbed.

The sheriff said it was the first killing in Freeborn County in six years "and the most brutal slaying ever."

The sheriff's office said there were no clues, no arrests had been made and no one had been questioned.

The Rev. Mr. Nyjordet had been the object of an intensive search since his blood-spattered car was found in an Albert Lea parking lot Thursday and a farmer discovered considerable blood at a spot where the grass had been beaten down.

It was obvious, officers said, that the minister was dead before he was taken to the spot where the body was found.

Stovern said the Rev. Mr. Nyjordet apparently was killed in the back seat of his own car and then driven to where the body was discovered. Blood indicated, the sheriff said, that the killer took the body out of the car but that it slipped from his grasp and slid down a 10-foot embankment. Stovern said the body was dragged back up to the car and placed in the trunk.

Higher Than This Year's—

SUI Budget To Be $20.6 Million

To provide teachers for some 12,200 students, support research in a number of fields and underwrite a variety of public service activities, SUI will operate on a $20.6 million budget in 1963-64.

As approved Friday by the State Board of Regents, SUI's 1963-64 budget is $2,667,204 higher than that for the current year, with approximately three-fourths of the increase coming from funds appropriated last week by the 60th General Assembly and the remainder coming from fees paid by next fall's additional students and increases in the "reimbursed overhead" which SUI receives on research grants.

In all, SUI will budget nearly $5 million from student fees, overhead and other income sources next year, the remainder of the total $20.6 general University budget being provided by appropriated funds.

THE ADDITIONAL salary funds will enable SUI to pay faculty salaries at a level slightly above third place among comparable faculty ranks in comparable colleges in comparable universities in an 11-state midwestern area, based on current salary schedules.

When compared to their counterparts in the other 10 institutions, most SUI faculty members' salaries have ranked from fourth to tenth place, with professional salaries in six SUI colleges being found in sixth place, those in one college in fourth place, and those of one college in seventh place. Salary rankings of associate and assistant professors, and instructors, varied similarly when compared institution by institution, but were usually found at slightly higher levels.

In requesting approval of the proposed budget by the Regents,

SUI President Virgil M. Hancher explained that all faculty salary increases will be made on a merit basis and will vary according to college, department and rank. There will be no "across-the-board" faculty salary increases, he said.

THE UNIVERSITY'S 1963-64 budget will also include increases for several purposes other than salary: $384,500 to meet the costs of next fall's increased enrollment; $207,000 for growth and modernization of programs in various areas; $225,000 for general expense cost increases; $150,000 for book expense increases; $40,000 for new programs, and $27,100 for anticipated increases in the summer session program.

In addition to SUI's general operations budget, the sum of $350,000 was budgeted for repairs, replacements and alterations on the general University campus next year, and $4,400 was budgeted for operation of the Lakeside Laboratory at Lake Okoboji, administered by SUI for the State Board of Regents and serving students and faculty members from a number of Iowa colleges each summer.

ALSO APPROVED by the Regents were budgets for four state health service units on the SUI campus. University Hospitals will have a budget of $10,970,059 (up $1,087,945 from 1962-63), plus $170,000 for repairs, replacements and alterations ("R.R.&A."). Psychopathic Hospital will spend $1,549,700 in the next fiscal year (up $392,150 from 1962-63) plus $15,000 for R.R.&A. The State Bacteriological Laboratory will operate on a budget of $501,975 (up $93,122), and the Hospital School for Severely Handicapped Children has a new budget of $764,800 (up $132,200), plus R.R.&A. funds of $4,500.

Segregation: A Moral Lesion That May Erupt

SINCE THE SUPREME COURT decision of May 14, 1954, which called for the desegregation of schools, there has been a paucity of national legislation attempting to implement this nation's obligation to its minority races. Segregation is a moral lesion on this country's conscience and it may soon erupt.

Since Little Rock (and before) there has been vivid evidence pointing to an ever increasing pressure to finally put an end to segregation. This pressure has come from within this nation as well as from the international sphere.

It is fortunate that the pressure within this country, for the most part, has been a Ghandian kind of passive resistance. But the mobs are becoming larger and recurring civil riots become a very serious threat to the well being of this country. As the crowds swell, become more militant and choose sides on a national scale, words and reason lose their ability to impose a semblance of sanity on the population. At this juncture there must be national legislation passed that will ease the pressures.

At a press conference recently, President Kennedy hinted that his administration, at long last, is considering new civil rights legislation and "other legal remedies" to help solve the ever mounting racial crisis. Although the Kennedy Administration has twice sent federal marshals and troops into Southern hotspots, it must be said that they have been "considering" such legislation for a long time.

President Kennedy made civil rights legislation a strong plank in his 1960 campaign platform, but until now it has come to nothing. We hope that such legislation is soon forthcoming. Congress can not shut its eyes for long, hoping for international crises to divert mounting pressures into expedient nationalist channels and away from the immediate problems in the South.

It is pretty early to be trying political tricks on the public in preparation for the 1964 elections, so it sounds as though this may be a legitimate and, hopefully, an all-out administrative effort. Let us hope so, before it becomes necessary to have an army garrison in most of the cities in the South. That would spell the saddest commentary of our time.

Testing Conservative Strength in 1964

NOT ALL of Gov. George Romney's friends are advising him to seek the presidential nomination in 1964. One of them, John S. (Jack) Knight of the newspapers bearing his name (including the Detroit Free Press) is insisting that "Romney's best future lies in completing his present job."

In his weekly editorial comments, Knight presents his thinking on the subject. He starts with Nelson Rockefeller and the "large-sized egg" laid by him in his recent talk before the nation's newspaper publishers gathered in New York for their annual convention.

After making it clear that he's content to let the New York governor be frontrunner and target for the arrows which go with that role, he asks a question which could apply to Romney as well as to other aspirants:

"Could Goldwater win? Could any Republican beat Kennedy?"

"This I doubt," he observes, "providing the country is still prosperous in 1964 and Kennedy isn't taking the worst of it from Comrade Khrushchev."

"But," he adds, "until someone such as Goldwater heads the Republican ticket, the conservative strength in this country will never be tested."

"Why," Knight concludes, "should the Republicans, basically the conservative party, fear to try it?"

While he doesn't say, or even intimate it, some will suspect that Jack Knight would be willing to let the man from Arizona assume the Landon role in next year's election.

—Matter of Fact—

The End of The Trillium

By JOSEPH ALSOP
*A trillium by a river's brim
 Only a trillium is to him,
 And it is nothing more!*

This perversion of Wordsworth is inspired by the turtle that now lives in the side garden. Bloodroot and hepatica, star flower and wild ginger, dogtooth violets and maidenhair fern, Solomon's seal and jack-in-the-pulpit may well inspire him with appropriate Wordsworthian sentiments. At any rate, he leaves them alone. But he does not leave trilliums alone.

After a rain that brings earthworms to the surface, you can catch him at it, his dome of tortoise-shell gleaming wely, bulldozing through the trilliums in search of nourishment. Their stems are fragile, and when he marches across a trillium's prostrate form, that is the end of the trillium — which is particularly painful because they were pretty wonderful this year.

The turtle is proof that you cannot adopt the stern, high principles advocated by Rachel Carson without losing a little on the swings of your gain on the roundabouts. He was established in the side-garden, in fact, as a substitute for slug-poison.

The place is hardly more than an areaway, naturally damp, unavailably short of sunlight. Therefore moss and the wildflowers that grow in the woods and ferns in all their varieties were put there to avoid the only other alternative, which was dusty, funereal ivy. But moss and ferns need to be kept moist; and the daily mist-spraying to encourage the moss somehow encouraged slugs as well.

Slugs in such numbers have rarely been seen. Slug-poison was used for the first attack on them, like a light slug-buffet on nature's dining-room table, the poison was scattered about the garden in a haphazard manner. Few slugs expired, but every inch of moss turned brown that the poison touched.

The turtle was then suggested, as a better anti-slug measure; and this he has indeed turned out to be. No slug is to be seen anywhere. Bits of hamburger even have to be provided as an occasional diet-supplement, because of a lurking fear that the narrow little garden may not offer enough foraging-room. Otherwise all is well, except for those trilliums.

That raises the question, in turn, whether the Carson principles cannot be universally adopted. A few trilliums, after all, are a reasonable sacrifice, if the gain is a garden both slug-free and poison-free.

But the answer to the question, alas, is in the negative. The truth is that giving up poisons is as hard for a gardener as giving up booze is to an alcoholic.

The old general drenchings with DDT have been abandoned, to be sure. The Japanese beetles which the DDT was mainly aimed at have found natural enemies by now. Furthermore, the main effect of the DDT-drenchings was to destroy all the enemies of the red spiders, which are worse than Japanese beetles if permitted to multiply without limit.

But there are the cherry trees, only one year in the ground and so horribly vulnerable to borers. There is also the wisteria, which has an as-yet-undefined enemy that can only be defeated with DDT spray. Not without grim thought of the DDT already accumulated in our fat, like an alcoholic reaching for the drink which he fears will put the last, finally fatal knob on his liver, any serious gardener is bound to give those cherry trees and that wisteria the protection they need.

That is not the end of the grim story, either. The systemic poisons, which are poured upon the soil for plants to drink up, are far worse than DDT or parathion or malathion or any of the other noxious substances Rachel Carson has warned us against. To handle them at all, in fact, a mask and gloves are needed. "Never again!" is the oath invariably taken, when the mask and gloves are put away again.

But there is the rare and handsome Buxus Rotundifolia, a bigleafed box which grows almost to the height of a small tree and does not object to being espaliered on a wall. And there is one of Henry Hohman's astonishing hybrids, a dwarf box with a curiously lacy habit of growth. It suffers from box-leaf miner, and so does its larger, wall-growing cousin.

The leaves are yellowing hideously. The miners encysted cannot be reached, except by a systemic. So the mask and gloves are shamefacedly routed out again; and the often-repeated oath is once more broken.

The moral is rather simple. If Rachel Carson is right — and the chances are that she is largely right — something ought to be done about it. Furthermore, the something done needs to be considerably sterner than the report of the President's scientific advisors, which had the approximate power of an old lady's moral lecture to a confirmed drunk.

Or So They Say

Wonder when we'll hear the end of comments about the failure of a diesel engine in the Gordon Cooper space launch? We predict some Kennedyland blasters will wonder why Caroline wasn't sent to fix it.

Despite denials all around, including one from the White House, many observers are convinced that the sidetracking of Adm. George Anderson, chief of naval operations, was due to his criticism of Defense Secretary McNamara's theories about the TFX contracts.

SARE Actions Clarified

To the Editor:

Our intentions in writing this letter are to clarify any possible misunderstandings concerning the activities of the Student Association of Racial Equity (SARE). During the year we have engaged in a variety of activities, many of which we feel the public may not be aware.

Paramount among these was the collection of food, clothing and finances to be used in impacted areas in Mississippi, specifically Clarksdale, which is the distribution center. The prime purpose in choosing this course of action was the tenuous economic situation of the Negro, compounded by what is believed to be the result of protests by Southern whites against Negro voter registration drives. Our group was not alone in its efforts; this action was merely a joining of forces with other collegiate and associated groups throughout the country. This action was superceded by means of sending eleven-hundred letters to SUI faculty members for contributions to be immediately and directly sent to Clarksdale.

Additional efforts included the circulation of a petition protesting discrimination in approved off-campus housing, and numerous letters written to our state legislature urging the passage of the Fair Employment Practices Act.

More recently, the group has participated in a picket of Woolworth's in connection with those being carried out in a nation-wide program, as a result of Woolworth's discriminatory policies in the South, specifically Birmingham, Alabama, and Jackson, Mississippi.

The continuation of our program this summer will be the publication and distribution of a newsletter to individuals and organizations throughout the country.

An information center will be available in the fall to all interested persons. We cordially invite and welcome new members to help us plan and enlarge our program in the coming year.

Hot Summer Needed In North

To the Editor:

Mr. William Higgs, the only white lawyer to handle civil rights cases in Mississippi, said at the Human Relations Conference at Ames that this summer would really be hot with activities for civil rights. Perhaps he was thinking of the South, but it would be unfortunate if we don't have a hot summer in the North too.

Let us recognize the double nature of the problem: political and social. Political action must open the road for social progress. Consequently, make yourself heard in the party of your choice, write your state and national representatives and work for anti-discrimination ordinances in your community. Contact church and other neighborhood groups to arouse interest and awareness of the civil rights issue and encourage and participate in integrated activities.

—Big Ten Title at Stake—

Hawkeyes Must Beat Illini

By HARRIETT HINDMAN
Sports Editor

Iowa's baseball team moved into a showdown battle with Illinois for the Big Ten crown by defeating Purdue, 4-2, Friday. The Illini, still holding a one-half game lead after beating Minnesota, 5-3, invade Iowa diamond at 1 p.m. today for the double-header that will decide the title.

Iowa goes into today's games with an 8-4 season record while the Illini are 9-4. The Hawks must win both games to capture their first conference championship since 1949.

In Friday's game, Iowa took a 2-0 lead at the end of the first inning. Leadoff hitter Paul Krause singled and scored on Joe Reddington's single. Reddington then scored on an error by the Boilermaker third baseman.

Purdue tied the score in the top of the second with the only extra base hits of the game. Shortstop Joe Chess tripled and scored when the next batter, Roy Hern, doubled. Hern scored on Michael Mathis' single.

After both teams had gone scoreless in the next four innings, Iowa scored the two winning runs in the bottom of the sixth, both runs scoring on errors.

Matt Szykowny singled and was followed by Jim Freese and Bob Sherman who reached base. Iowa third baseman Jay Peterson hit a line drive to the short stop who threw to second trying to get Freese, but the ball went wild and hit Freese in the back allowing Szykowny to score the leading run. Freese scored the final run for the Hawks on an error on the Purdue catcher.

Jack Wiland went the route for the Hawkeyes and boosted his record to seven wins against no losses. Allan Rezak, who was relieved by Creighton Burns in the seventh, was the loser.

Steve Green is Iowa's probable pitcher in the first game today with Bob Gebhard, Dale Miner or Jim McAndrew pitching the second game, the decision depending upon what pitchers might work in relief in the first game.

Illinois will be led by first baseman Jerry Renner, who returned to action last weekend after being sidelined two weeks with a wrist injury. Renner slammed a single, double, triple and home run during the Illini's sweep of the triple-header from the Boilermakers.

Hawk Mile Relay Team Clocked at 3:09.6

Seven New Records Set; Iowa Beats Gophers, 79-52

By JIM PIPER
Assistant Sports Editor

Iowa's mile relay team streaked to a 3:09.6 clocking, the fastest ever run by a Big Ten team, to lead the Hawks to a 79-52 dual meet win over Minnesota here Friday.

Over-all, the newly-crowned Big Ten champions established four track and seven meet records in avenging an earlier indoor loss to the Gophers.

Unofficial watches caught Bill Frazier in :47.2 for his leg on the mile relay. Other runners and their times were Gary Hollingsworth, :47.4; Gary Richards, with a :47.7; and Roger Kerr, with a :47.3 anchor leg.

Another highlight of the meet was Gary Hollingsworth's :47.1 effort in the 440 yard dash, establishing a new track and meet record. Cloyd Webb's 166 feet toss in the discus also established new track and meet standards.

The other track record was Don Gardner's :38.1 clocking in the 330-yard intermediate hurdles, which was the first time the event had been run on the Iowa track.

Meet records were established by Gary Fischer, with a 4:14.1 time in the mile, and Bill Frazier's 1:51.0 effort in the 880-yard run. Wes Sidney, nursing a bad foot, cleared 6-4 in the high jump to also establish a new meet record.

Gary Richards swept the 100 and 220-yard dashes to lead the Hawk-eye point effort.

Ralph Trimble and George Clarke crossed the finish line together to give Iowa a one-two finish in the two mile run.

Again it was Iowa's distance strength that proved to be the winning margin as the Gophers won three of the five field events.

It was a fitting climax for Coach Cretzmeyer's thincalcs, finishing the finest season ever by an Iowa track team. It was the final home appearance for Capt. Roger Kerr, Ralph Trimble, Gary Fischer, Don Gardner, and Cloyd Webb, all major point contributors in last week's conference championship.

Several members of the team will compete in the Central Collegiate Meet at South Bend, Ind., June 1 as well as the NCAA Championships slated for Albuquerque, N.M. on June 13-15.

NCAA, Majors Plan League For Collegians

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Major league baseball and the National Collegiate Athletic Association announced Friday completion of plans allowing college players to participate in a 50-game Midwest summer league.

Bob Stewart, athletic director of St. Louis University and an originator of the league, met with Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick Thursday in New York. The major league executive council, headed by Frick, recently voted to contribute up to $50,000 for the program.

Stewart has said the first summer league — which would serve as a pattern for expansion of the foundation to other parts of the country — would have clubs in five Illinois cities. They are Peoria, Springfield, Galesburg, Champaign-Urbana, and Lincoln.

State Prep Track Finals Here Today

Several prep Class AA and A track records are in danger when the Iowa track hosts the state high school outdoor championships today.

Preliminaries will start at 9 a.m. followed by the finals beginning at 1 p.m.

Ames is favored to win the Class AA title with North Des Moines, West Des Moines, Des Moines Roosevelt and defending champion Cedar Rapids Jefferson the top contenders. Ames' bid is headed by its corps of distance runners and two fine pole vaulters.

Clyde Duncan, the state's leader in the 100-yard dash and open mile will lead Des Moines North's bid. Duncan has run the 100 in :09.7 and the 440 in :48.9.

The Handoff . . . Then Victory

Iowa's Gary Hollingsworth, who ran a :47.4 lead-off quarter, hands off to Gary Richards, who ran the second leg of the mile relay in :47.7 Friday, as the Hawks ran the fastest mile relay ever run in the Big Ten. Anchorman Roger Kerr crosses the finish line after running a :47.3 quarter. Bill Frazier, who ran the third leg of the relay, had the fastest quarter, :47.2.

Student Firemen? Still a Possibility

By NORBERT TATRO
Staff Writer

Employing students as part-time firemen may be the answer to the Iowa City Fire Department's need for more men, but the practice has failed in two other Iowa cities.

A law passed by the Iowa Legislature recently reduced the work week for firemen gradually from 68 to 56 hours, effective January 1966. Fire Chief Vernal Shimon said the law is going to mean hiring more men.

The department will begin using 9-man shifts in 1964, the chief said, which will mean employing at least three new men. According to fire experts, who recommend one fireman per 1,000 population, the department is about 10 men understaffed, Shimon said. The department now has 24 men.

WHEN A WEST-SIDE station is built, the present staff will have to be almost doubled, Shimon estimated.

The Iowa City City Council recently considered different ways of meeting the manpower shortage. Hiring University students was suggested.

City Manager Carsten Leikvold said the student-fireman plan might work. But Insurance Fire Underwriters "look favorably" on such a plan, the manager said.

Shimon said "the plan would make the big difference." He would like to see a program outlined before endorsing it, he said. The type of student would also make a big difference, according to the chief. Engineering students interested in fire safety might get good practical experience from working with the department, he said.

A WEST-SIDE STATION might have better chance of success, Shimon said, because it would be closer to three boys dormitories than the present station.

Our 24-hour operation is a hindrance, the chief said, explaining, "If we closed at 9 p.m." it would be easier to get students.

Dale Holmes, chief of the Cedar Falls Fire Department, when asked about the plan, wrote that the Cedar Falls plan started out "fairly good" but only lasted three years because problems developed. A similar plan was tried and failed at Ames.

THE FIRE STATION became a dormitory for good athletes who were frequently having conflicts with practice sessions and out-of-town games, Holmes said. "Sometimes we were without college students over weekends."

"The only time a student could be on duty was from about 4 p.m. to 7 a.m.," the Cedar Falls chief said. "Other college activities seemed to conflict with the rest of the day."

Holmes doubts a student-firemen program would work in Iowa City because "the city will put out more money to the student than it receives in return."

LEIKVOLD OUTLINED FOUR other alternatives for filling the manpower gap:

- Hiring more men under the present system.
- Using volunteers to supplement the staff.
- Uniting the police and fire staffs; but, Leikvold said, this would meet with opposition from both policemen and firemen.
- Encouraging cooperative agreements with surrounding departments.

Shimon said cooperative agreements have helped in the past — the Bremer fire, for example, when the Coralville Fire Department supplied men and standby equipment. Most volunteer departments in Johnson County have at least two trucks and from 17 to 30 men, Shimon estimated.

'50 Books of the Year' On Display in Library

Colorful and decorative books from various areas of study describes the 1962 exhibit of Fifty Books of the Year on display in the SUI Main Library.

Each year the American Institute of Graphic Arts (AIGA) selects 50 books and presents the winners in a display that travels to various universities and colleges. The SUI Library is displaying the selections May 15-30 in cases near the main entrance.

The books selected are supposed to represent the highest standards of American design and manufacture, thus stressing presentation more than content. Books are eligible if published between Dec. 1,

Pope John Works Briefly; Begins Nine-Day Retreat

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII, steadily regaining strength, worked briefly Friday morning and then went into a nine-day spiritual retreat.

The pre-Pentecost retreat, or novena, provided the 81-year-old Roman Catholic ruler a chance to rest before facing the hot Italian summer and a mounting pile of Ecumenical Council business.

It was not the first time he has gone into spiritual retreat, but this year the prayer period had added significance, for his health.

Tuesday night he suffered a relapse in his illness, a stomach disorder believed to be an ulcer or cancer with hemorrhaging. He has received blood transfusions and is taking blood clotting agents.

Wednesday, the pontiff agreed to his doctor's suggestion that he not hold his regular weekly general audience. Instead, the Pope blessed crowds in St. Peter's square from his apartment window. He appeared at his window again Thursday, looking pale and weak. He was still pale Thursday, but more vigorous.

Vatican officials called his condition satisfactory and said he is making progress in his fight to regain energy.

Hurliman Puffs, Puffs, Puffs, Collects $25

Dale Hurliman, G. Iowa City, maintained his championship in the ninth annual pipe-smoking contest sponsored by Comer's Pipe Shop Thursday night.

Competing against 31 other contestants, all SUI students, Hurliman kept his pipe continually lit for one hour, 23 minutes and 32 seconds.

Hurliman was presented a $25 dunhill pipe from Comer's. Second place winner, Fred Hall, M2, Iowa City, received a GBD pipe, and third place winner, Bob White, A4, Keswick, won a Royal Dalton Humidor.

Contest rules are based on the National Pipe and Tobacco Council standards. A total of 15 prizes were awarded.

Regents Improve Employee Benefits

Retirement benefits will be improved for SUI faculty and staff members and insurance benefits will be improved or potentially improved for many of them as a result of action taken Friday by the State Board of Regents during the Board's determination of SUI's 1963-64 budget.

For faculty and staff members who are building retirement benefits through contributions to the Teachers Insurance and Annuity Association, the University will contribute an additional sum equivalent to 2 per cent of their salaries in excess of $4,800 per year and an additional 1 per cent will be deducted from each individual's salary for this purpose.

This will bring the total annual TIAA contribution for retirement benefits to 15 per cent of the individual's salary in excess of $4,800, with the University providing 10 per cent and the individual providing 5 per cent through payroll deduction, or $2 from the University for each $1 from the individual.

SUI participants in TIAA presently pay 4 per cent of their salaries into the program, with the University contributing an amount equal to 8 per cent, for a total of 12 per cent, on salary amounts over $4,800.

The change will improve SUI's position among universities in competing for faculty and staff members in the national market. President Virgil M. Hancher explained to the Regents. Several other Big Ten universities have been at the 15 per cent annual level for TIAA for some years, as are perhaps some 100 other major institutions he said. In general, he explained a good faculty retirement program should provide annual income equivalent to half the individual's salary when annuity (such as TIAA) benefits and social security benefits are combined. At its present 12 per cent contribution level, the SUI program does not quite meet this standard. The new 15 per cent level of contributions will more closely approach the goal, President Hancher said.

Cost of increasing the general University's annual contribution by 2 per cent on salaries above $4,800 will be $75,000, he said. A similar increase for University Hospital employees will cost $3,500 annually; for Psychopathic Hospital, $4,500; for State Bacteriological Laboratory, $1,500; and for the Hospital School for Severely Handicapped Children, $1,400.

The Regents also increased the minimum salary level required for participation in the TIAA program, from the present $3,000 minimum to $4,800. Legislation recently passed by the 60th General Assembly improved potential benefits under the Iowa Public Employee Retirement System, which covers SUI employees not enrolled in TIAA, President Hancher noted.

30 Dentists Are Expected At Conference

Thirty dentists from four Midwestern states are expected to attend a Conference on Preventive and Interceptive Orthodontics at SUI Tuesday and Wednesday.

Subject of the conference will be the specialty borderline area between general practitioners and specialists in pedodontics and orthodontics. Pedodontics is the treatment of children's teeth, and orthodontics is the branch of dentistry that is concerned with correcting and preventing irregularities of the teeth.

Classes, case presentations and case discussions will be aimed at such questions as "What are the 'overlap areas' where treatment might be provided by either a general practitioner, a pedodontist, or an orthodontist?"

Other questions to be explored include how general practitioners and orthodontists can best work together for their mutual benefit and for the welfare of their patients, and the appropriate procedure for making referrals to an orthodontist.

Staff members of the conference, which is sponsored by the SUI College of Dentistry, include: Dr. William G. Goodale, head of the Department of Pedodontics; Dr. Charles Sleichter, acting head of the Department of Orthodontics; Dr. William H. Olin, Department of Otolaryngology and Maxillofacial Surgery; Drs. William O'Meara and Dale F. Redig of the Department of Pedodontics; and Drs. Jagdish Chadha and Charles Krenak of the Department of Orthodontics.

Cheers!!!

The men who will cheer the Hawkeye teams to victory next year have been announced by the Hawk-Pep Club. Yell leaders are (from left): Bob White, A2, Centerville; Bill Parks, A2, Centerville; Arnie Manvitz, A2, Omaha, Neb.; Jerry Davidson, E2, Ottumwa.

2 Everest Conquerors Suffer Frostbitten Toes

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — The American Everest expedition called Friday for an emergency helicopter flight into the Himalayas to pick up two conquerors of the world's highest mountain who suffered frost-bitten toes during their descent.

Expedition chief Norman R. Dyhrenfurth radioed from base camp that Barry C. Bishop, Washington, D.C., and William F. Unsoeld Corvallis, Ore., suffered frost-bitten toes during a night of bitter cold which they spent unprotected at 28,000 feet on the way down after their triumphant climb.

He asked that the helicopter pick them up Sunday at Pheriche, a Sherpa village between the 17,000-foot high base camp and the main Sherpa center of Namche Bazar. It would fly them to a hospital in Katmandu.

Unsoeld, 36, was one of the two-man squad which reached the 29,028-foot peak by the previously unclimbed west ridge. Bishop, a 5-foot-7 photographer called "Barrel," went up the more usual south route.

BEFORE SETTING OUT, Bishop had written his wife Lila that "I have deteriorated, so don't be disappointed." He had climbed above 25,000 feet three times on this expedition. Unsoeld's wife Jolene and four children also waited anxiously here for word. Unsoeld is deputy director of the Peace Corps here.

There was no indication here that the other two men who made the spectacular two-pronged assault on Everest suffered any injury. They were Thomas F. Hornbein, 32, San Diego, Calif., who made the hand-over-hand ascent up the west ridge with Unsoeld, and Luther G. Jerstad, 26, Eugene, Ore., who was

New Off-Campus Housing Policy To Be Announced

The Committee on Human Rights at SUI will hold a public meeting at 4 p.m. Monday in Shambaugh Auditorium of the University Library.

Prof. Willard Boyd, committee chairman, said the purpose of the meeting is to announce a new University policy on discrimination in off-campus housing.

The Committee on Human Rights has been working in formulating a new policy, Boyd said.

Titan-2 Runs 6,500 Miles In Test Go

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A powerful Titan 2 missile rumbled more than 6,500 miles Friday on a flight monitored closely for clues to problems which have hindered the rocket's development as a military weapon and as the booster for the two-man Gemini spacecraft.

The 103-foot-tall projectile, largest in the U.S. missile arsenal, propelled a heavy warhead into a target area in the South Atlantic Ocean in a test termed completely successful by the Air Force.

The range matched the previous longest distance mark for Titan 2, which is being developed to strike enemy installations up to 10,000 miles from protected underground launching pads.

With engine thrust of more than half a million pounds, Titan 2 can deliver a nuclear payload twice the size of that packed by the Atlas, presently this nation's most potent military rocket.

The success was the ninth in 15 Titan 2 test firings here.

The failures all resulted from premature shutdown of the second-stage engine, and engineers made changes in a suspected area on Friday's missile. To determine how the "fix" worked, the area was heavily instrumented with detection devices which radioed information to the ground.

"The corrective measures worked fine," a project official reported.

Alum Activities Planned For Graduation Weekend

The spotlight will be on some 1,300 new graduates during June Commencement events at SUI, but alumni returning to Iowa City for the weekend will find many events planned especially for them. Alumni events June 7-8 will include an Emeritus Club Dinner for all graduates of 1912 and earlier, a Golden Jubilee Dinner for all graduates of 1913, and an All-Alumni Luncheon.

Bucknell Student Wins Best Private Library Contest

Bucknell University student Thomas M. Whitehead has been named winner of the nationwide contest to select the best private library of a college senior.

He will receive the $1,000 Amy Loveman National Award. Philip Truckenbrod, A4, Winterset, represented SUI in the national competition. His collection of 60 books on Christianity was selected last month as the best personal library of an SUI senior. Truckenbrod received $50 in books from Iowa Book and Supply Co.

Seniors representing 100 colleges and universities were entered in the contest, sponsored by the Book-of-the-Month Club, Saturday Review and the Women's National Book Association.

The Bucknell student's library is devoted to the subject of "Ancient and Primitive Man."

The national contest was established in 1962 in memory of the late Amy Loveman, who was active in all three sponsoring organiza-

2 Students Win J-School Grants

Two Iowa high school seniors were named Friday as winners of freshman journalism scholarships at SUI's School of Journalism. Robert T. Anderson of Marshalltown, a senior at the LDF Community School in LeGrande, was named recipient of the $500 Quill and Scroll Foundation Scholarship, and William Newbrough of Des Moines, a senior at Valley High School, West Des Moines, was awarded the $200 Press Columnists of Iowa Scholarship.

AUTO PLUNGE

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — An automobile plunged four floors from a downtown parking garage to the street Friday with attendant, George P. Wilson, 21, inside. He crawled out of the upside down vehicle that had fallen about 60 feet, was treated at a hospital for cuts on his head.

French Horn Recital

James S. Irwin, G. Eldora a student in the Department of Music at SUI, will present a French horn recital Sunday at 8 p.m. in North Music Hall.

His program is being presented as a qualifying recital for the doctor of philosophy degree in music literature and performance. Irwin will be accompanied on the piano by his wife, Linda.

Albers Speaks

Henry H. Albers, professor of labor and management at SUI, spoke on the subject of coordination and communication at an Advanced Highway Management Institute attended by management personnel of the Iowa Highway Commission, Wednesday at Iowa State University, Ames.

Also participating in the program were executives from the Northwestern Bell Telephone Company, Clinton Corn Processing Company, and the Federal Bureau of Public Roads.

Mathematics Society

Two SUI faculty members were elected to offices in the newly created Iowa section of the Society of Industrial and Applied Mathematics at an organizational meeting held at Coe College, Cedar Rapids.

William T. Reid, professor and head of mathematics, was elected chairman, and Royce E. Beckett, professor of mechanics and hydraulics, was elected to the board of governors of the group.

Students Honored

Eight State University of Iowa engineering students were honored at an Engineering Faculty luncheon Wednesday for their participation in extra-curricular affairs at SUI.

These awards are given by the SUI College of Engineering to encourage engineers to participate in civic and cultural affairs of their community as well as to work toward professional competence.

The students are: John Pulver, E4, Belmont; Fredric Radloff, E4, Cedar Rapids; Dennis Elliott, E3, Knoxville; Harry Marker, E4, Lewis; Scott Clark, E4, Manchester; Robert Rudman, E3, Nichols; Glenn Shoemaker Jr., E4, West Des Moines, and Franklin Parker, E4, Winterset.

High School Recital

Five Iowa City high school students will present a joint piano recital at SUI Sunday at 2 p.m. in North Music Hall.

Sally Hickerson and Nancy Mittman, both juniors at University High, will open with a piano duet. Piano solos by both of these students will follow. Others to present piano solos are Harriet Nelson, sophomore at University High; Caroline Means, junior at City High, and Stephen Osburn, senior at University High.

Attend Conference

Two members of SUI College of Pharmacy faculty will attend an international conference on plant tissue culture Sunday through June 2 at Pennsylvania State University.

They are David P. Carew, associate professor of pharmacognosy, and Alan L. Harris, research assistant.
