Today's News in Brief

SCHWENDEL AWARDED. Congressman Fred Schwengel (R-Iowa) has been awarded the Algonon Sydney Sullivan Award by Lincoln Memorial University, Harrogate, Tenn. Schwengel delivered the commencement address at that university Monday.

The award is conferred jointly each year by the New York Southern Society in conjunction with Lincoln Memorial University to those who, "because of the quality of their lives, are judged to be appropriate recipients of that distinction."

PARENTS ALONE. The next meeting of "Parents Alone" will be held in the Council Chamber of the Iowa City Civic Center at 8 p.m. June 12.

The purpose of the association is to bring together persons who have been widowed, divorced or separated and are confronted with the problems that arise when one becomes the sole parent in a family situation.

The association is still in the organizational stage and all interested persons may attend.

SCHOOLS CLOSE. The Iowa City public schools will close today with the distribution of report cards at 10:30 a.m.

PLEADS GUILTY. Edward G. Gerdes, 32, pleaded guilty Friday to forging endorsements on checks taken in an $8,000 burglary at the Keith Wilson Hatchery May 20. Pronouncement of sentence has been delayed until next Friday at the request of Gerdes' attorney.

Gerdes was arrested by Iowa City police when he attempted to cash a check taken in the burglary. Gerdes was recently released from Ft. Madison Penitentiary after serving 12 years for forgery.

Another parolee, Donald G. Matthes, 20, was granted continuance of arraignment by Judge Clair E. Hamilton. Matthes is

Roads to Peace Are Emphasized

SUI's June graduates were told at Commencement exercises Friday morning that scientific and technological developments — atomic energy, automation, improved communication and control of disease — put an increasing premium on brain power. But, he warned, they can be used as instruments of terror and destruction.

The Commencement speaker, Rear Admiral Lewis L. Strauss (ret.), former chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, told SUI's 1963 class that all the gains and rewards, opportunities and blessings that are possible because of scientific and technological advances are based on the maintenance of peace.

Strauss said that there are two ways to secure peace, but he declared that one of them, "peace through appeasement," as proposed by British philosopher, Lord Bertrand Russell, would be the peace of the grave for many and peace of slavery for those who survive. "The men who founded the United States would have turned from such counsel with disdain and disbelief," he said.

"There is another road to peace. It is peace through strength," Strauss said. It is a long road requiring self-denial and vigilance, he continued.

"It necessitates a discriminating ear to recognize the well-cloaked propaganda of an implacable enemy. It also requires the stamina to outlast that enemy and to survive the debacle which will inevitably come to his system which has no roots in morals nor faith in a Divine Purpose," Strauss said.

Strauss warned that we must not be lulled into a supposition that some fundamental change is now occurring in the character of the world's tyrants. "They are impelled by an urge to expand the areas they control," he said.

He spoke before nearly 1,400 men and women who received degrees Friday morning in a sweltering Field House. He told the graduates, "On such a warm morning the best thing I could bring would be half my speech."

SUI President Virgil M. Hancher delivered the traditional charge to the graduates, in which he warned that unless they continue to learn they will become obsolete.

Strauss received an honorary doctor of laws degree, and a noted virologist, Dr. Richard E. Shope, native of Des Moines, received an honorary doctor of science degree.

Strauss, 67, speculated on conditions 30 years from now when, he said, science will have extended the normal life span of man to a full century, most diseases of man will have nearly disappeared, and there will be no shortage of food, clothing, shelter, minerals, or electrical energy.

"Only one possible shortage clouds the prospect," he said, "and that is the shortage of brain power. Educated men and women will be in growing demand to plan and design, to construct and operate this coming civilization."

Strauss said that we are compelled to lift the minds of everyone regardless of race or color.

Strauss described the coming years as exhilarating. "It is as if you were privileged not only to see but to participate in many centuries of human development telescoped into a few decades. I envy you the vantage point of your youth," he concluded.

New Office Hours For Summer Go Into Effect Monday

SUI begins special 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. hours for all departments and offices Monday.

The new schedule, which is intended to permit University staff members to take advantage of the cooler morning hours and "gain" an extra half hour of daylight in the afternoon, will be in force through Aug. 31.

The present noon to 1 p.m. lunch hour will remain in effect.

1st Service Awards Given To 3 Today

Meredith Willson, Earl Hall, Witte To Be Honored

A former Iowan of national renown and two Iowa community leaders today will be the first persons to receive Distinguished Service Awards from SUI under a new University program.

Meredith Willson, composer, conductor and author; W. Earl Hall, retired Mason City newspaperman; and John H. Witte Jr., Burlington businessman, will be honored at the All-Alumni Luncheon at 12:30 p.m. today in the Main Lounge of the Iowa Memorial Union.

Willson, who grew up in Mason City, has long been active in charitable work as well as the field of music. His fame has come through such accomplishments as the hit musical "Music Man," but he is also the founder and past president of the Big Brothers of Los Angeles.

Hall, who recently retired as editor and publisher of the Mason City Globe-Gazette, is well known for his work in public safety and education as well as other community service. He served 12 years on the Iowa State Board of Education.

A longtime Burlington druggist and paint manufacturer, Witte is also no stranger to community service. In 1937 and again in 1962 he was selected as Burlington's Man of the Year.

Profumo Asks No Visit With Queen Elizabeth II

LONDON (AP) — John Profumo, center of a party girl scandal, spared Queen Elizabeth II embarrassment by begging off Friday from the traditional address formally resigning as war minister.

His secret illicit affair with a pretty redhead, Christine Keeler, 22, described in Parliament as a call girl, has provoked a major scandal that has shaken the Conservative government.

Britain's opposition Labor party will launch its assault on Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and his government as soon as Parliament returns from a recess June 17, political sources said.

The Laborites plan a two-pronged attack — either that British security failed to warn Macmillan of his war minister's secret love life, or that Macmillan, once warned, failed to boot the 48-year-old Profumo from office.

Some Conservatives demanded that Macmillan get off the golf links and back to Whitehall. He has spent the past crisis-torn week on vacation and aides say he has no intention of returning to London before Monday.

Lord Poole, joint chairman of the Conservative party, hinted — as

Education Must Continue Says Hancher

President Virgil M. Hancher told graduates at SUI Commencement exercises Friday morning that unless they continue to learn, they will become obsolete.

In his traditional charge to the graduates, the SUI president said: "If this University has taught you to keep on learning, it has taught you well. It has given you the 'priceless ingredient'."

He added that universities have no monopoly of learning. "Their role is to foreshorten human experience so that learning may take place more quickly, more economically, more comprehensively within their walls than in the world outside."

President Hancher noted that libraries with their books, laboratories with their equipment, teachers with their insights, fellow students with their sharp and abrasive minds, logic with its discipline, and the arts with their imagination and vision have contributed to graduates' learning and to the beginning of wisdom.

He told the new graduates, "You have not yet learned what things are impossible — and so, to the astonishment of your elders and perhaps even to yourselves, will often do the impossible."

No National Rules For Coe Greeks

CEDAR RAPIDS (AP) — The Coe College Board of Trustees Friday told the school's sororities and fraternities they have complete freedom in choice of members, but that membership must not be subject to approval by the national organization or persons not students at Coe.

The statement of policy was aimed at preventing use by sororities and fraternities of rulings or clauses set up by a national organization to prevent pledging of ethnic or religious minorities.

The statement said the local organizations would not be restricted by conditions of race, color, creed or national origin as long as their members were selected on the basis of individual merit and not subject to national organization rulings.

Any organization which has not complied with the administration's policy by Jan. 1, 1965, will not be allowed to pledge members, the statement said.

Boys Act Quickly; Fire Extinguished At Hawkeye Apts.

Two 12 year old boys spotted a fire at 8:30 p.m. Friday and took prompt action so that firemen had the situation under control a few minutes later.

Bobby DiNello and Gary Simmons of Hawkeye Apts. saw a fire at 632 Hawkeye Apts. and informed neighbors who rushed to the scene, knocked down the door, and called city firemen who extinguished the small blaze before 9 p.m.

Bobby and Gary knocked on the door of the Robert Bowlsby residence at 633 Hawkeye Apts. and told the Bowlsbys and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. James Thorson about the fire.

Bowlsby and Thorsen knocked down the door and called firemen to the scene where a cardboard box was burning on top of an electric stove. The stove had been turned on.

The occupants of the apartment, who had been moving in, were not at home and neighbors did not know their names.

N.C. City Hit By Race Riot

LEXINGTON, N.C. (AP) — One hundred state troopers clamped a tight lid on this city of 18,000 Friday night in the wake of a race riot that left a white man shot to death and a newspaper photographer wounded.

Two companies of troopers rolled into the city, joining the 25-man local force which Thursday night battled an angry mob of 2,000 whites and a hundred or so Negroes for more than four hours.

City officials earlier had issued statements discouraging public gatherings. A number of scheduled public events were canceled.

The riot, accompanied by gunfire, struck the city 24 hours after a group of 15 Negroes, some of them children, sought service at segregated cafes, a theater and a bowling alley in the downtown area.

Before police succeeded in restoring order, the two sides had thrown hundreds of bottles — some filled with gasoline — rocks and sticks. Windows were shattered and several persons cut by flying glass.

Police signed warrants against 15 white persons charging them with participating in a riot. Ten of these were jailed and bonds set at $1,000.

Mayor C. V. Sink met with the City Council and law enforcement officers to study the situation while conditions appeared about normal in the downtown business section. Lexington is about 30 miles southwest of Greensboro, scene of a series of anti-segregation demonstrations in recent weeks.

After the meeting, Sink addressed a newspaper and radio appeal to the public, asking residents to stay at home and off the streets,

Wants Attorney General's Opinion On Appointments

DES MOINES (AP) — An attorney general's opinion on the legality of Gov. Harold Hughes' action granting interim appointments of two men to state jobs was requested Friday by Sen. R. O. Burrows (R-Belle Plaine).

Hughes named Robert Barry, Danbury auto dealer, to the State High Commission and Corbin Crawford of Ainsworth to the State Board of Control after the 1963 legislature closed. Their appointments to the same jobs had been rejected by the Senate during the session.

Burrows asked Atty. Gen. Evan Hultman for a decision on whether the governor's action was legal.

He said the law requires the governor to appoint members of the State Highway Commission and Board of Control within 60 days after a legislative session opens, and such appointments must be confirmed by a two-thirds vote of the Senate.

He added the law also gives the governor authority to grant interim appointments in the case of vacancies occurring while the legislature isn't in session. But he said that another chapter of the Iowa Code provides that "every officer elected or appointed for a fixed term shall hold office until his successor is elected and qualified."

Sealing Off Campus—

Security Moves at Alabama

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — Anxious authorities began sealing off the University of Alabama campus Friday in a security move for an impending integration showdown.

While Gov. George C. Wallace remained steadfast in his determination to resist the court-ordered enrollment of two Negroes, helmeted state troops poured into the city.

Wallace has promised to stand defiantly in the doorway Tuesday even in the face of a federal court injunction which could send him to jail. But, again and again, he has vowed to prevent mob violence and has publicly appealed to Alabama people to stay away from the campus.

The governor served blunt notice that he means to test the validity of the no-interference injunction issued two days ago by U.S. Dist. Judge Seybourn H. Lynne in Birmingham.

Wallace also accused two Negro students — Vivian J. Malone, 20, of Mobile, and James A. Hood, 20, East Gadsden — of becoming pawns of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and "those who would create chaos and are opposed to peace and tranquility."

The 43-year-old governor was given the prayers and good wishes of the legislature in a resolution which passed both houses. In an unusual gesture, the Senate stood one minute in silent prayer for Wallace.

Law enforcement officers, expected to number at 750 at full strength, kept a close watch on the movements of some militant segregation forces.

HONORARY MARSHAL GRINNELL

GRINNELL (AP) — Mrs. Hazel Harvey Quaid of Tempe, Ariz., served as honorary marshal at Grinnell College commencement exercises Friday.

Casey Requests Verdict by Jury

JAMES CASEY, 18, of 264 Black Spring Circle, accused by Robert Kreamer, of 202 Hillcrest, of assault and battery has requested the decision be put in the hands of a jury.

Jack C. White, Casey's attorney, is scheduled to select a jury of six prior to the trial scheduled for 10 a.m. today.

Casey is also facing charges of disorderly conduct and tampering with a motor vehicle.

MOSCOW VISIT

MOSCOW (AP) — Marshal Hakim Amer, defense minister of the United Arab Republic, arrived in Moscow for a two-week stay, Moscow Radio reported Friday.

Distinguished Awards To Distinguished Iowans

Three very special Iowans will receive the first Distinguished Service Awards today at 12:30 p.m. during the Alumni Luncheon at the Iowa Memorial Union. While the specially designed bronze medallions, which each of these men will receive as awards, is far more attractive and lasting than our modest newsprint, we would like to offer our sincere congratulations and our ever-mounting respect to these outstanding men.

A few months ago, when the Award was first being conceived, Loren Hickerson, Executive Director of the SUI Alumni Association, described the awards as being, "eminently worth giving, and worth receiving." These awards are no mere quiddity, stringent qualifications must be possessed by the award winners and the number of awards to be given each year will be extremely limited (probably three each year).

It is well that the University of Iowa has inaugurated this new award. This year's award winners are certainly a tribute to Iowa and we are proud that the University has led the way in providing a new manner in which to pay tribute to the state's outstanding people.

This Year's Award Winners

W. Earl Hall has been mentioned in Daily Iowan columns often before. The recently retired editor-publisher of the Mason City Globe-Gazette has done much to further the interests of the University and of the state. His paper is probably second only to the Daily Iowan in the amount of news space devoted to the University, its problems and its activities. He received his B.A. from the University in 1918. He was named "Iowa Master Editor" by the Iowa Daily Press Association; he founded the Iowa Safety Council; was vice-president of the National Safety Council twice and is still a member of that board. His picture hangs in the School of Journalism Hall of Fame — we are happy that the esteemed Mr. Hall has been selected for this award.

Meredith Willson never attended the University, but he sure is a well known Iowan. Mr. "Music Man" has brought great fame to the state of Iowa through the successful use of his diverse talents. Best known, perhaps, for his musical comedies, "The Music Man" and "The Unsinkable Molly Brown," he has distinguished himself as an author, lyricist, conductor and musician. He has written movie scores, symphonies and musical comedies and has served as first flutist for the New York Philharmonic Orchestra (he was also a flutist for John Phillip Sousa's band at a tender age). We could add much more. To the University Mr. Willson has given two original compositions, "The University Fight Song" and "The Band," both created especially for the University. Certainly a deserving Iowan to receive this award.

John H. Witte, Jr. received his B.A. degree from the University in 1910. He has since distinguished himself as a druggist, paint manufacturer and philanthropist. He was twice awarded the "Burlington Man of the Year" award — once in the 1930's for rounding up the capital base needed to start a new bank in Burlington to help stabilize its economy during the depression, and last year for his personally assuming the cost of remodeling and modernizing a condemned Burlington school building. This saved the city well over a million dollars in new building costs. He has endowed and donated to most of the major service organizations in Burlington and has established a most generous scholarship endowment fund at the University in the College of Medicine. Such unstinting generosity and humanitarianism is justly deserving of this award.

We are fortunate, indeed, to have such men on the campus this special graduation weekend — for they present a fine example of what we think Iowans are capable of becoming.

One decade or perhaps two decades from now, the very seniors who wore caps and gowns to the commencement exercises yesterday must accept the challenges that they are faced with and give of themselves generously — then they too may step forward for their awards.

"Picketing! Demonstrations! Government Meddling!
I Don't Know What This Country Is Coming To"

Thank the Dogs!

By JOSEPH ALSOP

It just may be that Gov. Ross Barnett of Mississippi and the police dogs of Commissioner Bull Connor of Birmingham, Ala. have cooperated to cause a hopeful turning point in the cruel civil rights crisis.

In Alabama, to begin with, there is a glimmer of hope that Gov. George C. Wallace will not "do a Ross Barnett" next Monday, when Miss Vivian Malone will present herself for admission to the University of Alabama. No doubt the Governor will "stand in the door," as he has promised to do, but he may not use violence to prevent Miss Malone from the door.

If this long-forged moment on Monday does not erupt into violence, it will be largely owing to the desire of influential and sensible people in Alabama to have no more scenes in their state like those enacted in Birmingham and at the University of Mississippi.

THE TRUSTEES of Alabama University have been the leaders, but all sorts of other Alabamians in key places have joined to beg the Governor not to "do a Ross Barnett." As these words are written, the latest reports from the scene of action are downright optimistic. And without the dogs and Ross Barnett, such a mobilization against violence and lawlessness would hardly have been possible. For precisely the same reason (illogical as this may seem) there has been an important shift in Congressional opinion. Quite suddenly, the passage of a civil rights bill this year has become a quite imaginable event. "It won't be easy, but it can happen," is the verdict of one of the most knowledgeable members of the Senate club.

The key to the problem is the dominant group of Republicans in the Senate, with Sen. Burke Hicklooper of Iowa coming next in importance after the Senate Minority Leader, Everett Dirksen of Illinois. Playing with the Southern conservatives has always been these Republicans' game.

If the Republican-Southern conservative coalition is maintained, there is not even a ghostly chance of civil rights action by Congress either now or in the next session. It may not be necessary to invoke cloture in order to pass a civil rights bill, but there will have to be enough votes behind the bill to pass a cloture motion if need be — which means two-thirds of the Senate. And such a bill cannot get the needed two-thirds vote without Republicans of the Dirksen-Hicklooper stripe.

THE DRAMATIZATION of the civil rights crisis, particularly by the horrifying photographs from Birmingham of Bull Connor's police measures, has brought much mail from the Midwestern Republican states. The clergy, particularly, are up in arms. Sen. Hicklooper, shocked himself like his fellow Iowans, has told some of his Southern friends that he may no longer be able to stand by.

This is the background, in turn, of the sudden delay of the President's civil rights message and the accompanying Administration bill, which were expected to go to Congress this week. With his customary legislative flair, Vice-President Lyndon B. Johnson scented the change of atmosphere, and advised the President to wait.

The delay is in fact designed to give the President time to touch all of the legislative bases, and to do everything he can, first of all to mobilize advance national support, but above all to rally Republican support in Congress. They key event will come next week, when the President will meet quietly with the Republican as well as the Democratic Congressional leaders — both parties being included on the sound ground that this is a national emergency.

The kind of legislation being discussed is also encouraging. The Administration already has a bill on the Hill to increase the safeguards for Negro voting rights. To this would be added another bill outlawing segregation in all public accommodations coming under the commerce clause of the Constitution, and allowing the Justice Department to intervene more effectively in school desegregation cases.

If this kind of legislative package really can be passed — and one must keep all fingers crossed — the advance will be greater than anyone could possibly have dared to hope for, even a few weeks ago. Yet there is a bitter flavor in this cup of hope.

Eternal Small Town

By JOHN CROSBY

Rome is a small town. Two million people live here, it's true, but that means only that it's a big small town, the biggest. Still, it has all the aspects that give a small town its special qualities.

Everyone, as they say, knows everyone. In a town of two million this can't be true, but then it isn't true in small towns either. What is true is that there is only one big circle here instead of a lot of little ones as there are in New York and London and Paris.

IN NEW YORK or London or Paris, it's quite possible for one man to belong to five or six circles, but the circles remain separate, spinning in their own orbits. Here there's one big circle that spills out from the cafes on the Via Veneto to the villas on the Appia Antica and the beaches at Fragele. Everyone knows pretty well who's got who by the hair and who's yelling out.

Another thing — as in all small towns the world over — there isn't much to do. There's no theater to speak of, the opera is lousy, the movies — well, every small town's got movies.

There are only three night clubs: the Caba-la, which may be the most beautiful night club in the world, the Eighty-Four and Capriccio's, which are much too noisy. Here again there's a great resemblance to small town juke joints where the same crowd gathers night after night, telling variants of the same joke and dancing to the same old records. I don't mean it's dull. It's very warm and agreeable, but nevertheless very small town.

In the small town they used to gather at the railway station and watch the trains come in. (Now there aren't any railway stations and no trains, so they gather at the airport.) Here they gather at the Via Veneto cafes — for the same purpose — to cast an appraising look over the new arrivals. To chaw a bit with the old residents. Same thing.

The fewness of things to do, places to go, the ease with which one slips into the stream and drifts along with it, gives Rome its special flavor and is both a blessing and a curse. Indolence is a way of life here and the very ease of it gets on American nerves after a while. The other night I was having dinner with an American girl in a lovely piazza that is a miraculous harmony of geometry. The fountain splashed. The air was balmy. The moon lit the scene like candlelight. In fact, the whole bit was just plain heaven, and in spite of it, or rather, I suspect, because of it, the girl, who has been living here a year, burst out:

"I've just got to go home. I can't stand any more of these crumbling buildings and those damned fountains making that splashing racket." (Reminds me of the guy with a hangover snarling at his cat: "Why'n't you stop stamping your bloody feet!")

ASK AN AMERICAN who's been here awhile how he likes it, and you are likely to get what I call the Rome pause. "Well . . ." he says and hesitates, not knowing quite how to continue. It's a complaining type "well" and what he's complaining about is the absence of things to complain about.

Life should have a little more friction than that. Recently someone wrote of the islands of the South Pacific that the first day the cerulean sky, the sapphire sea, the blazing colors, the smells so captivated the new visitor that he never wanted to leave. But after a month the same visitor couldn't wait to go. The assault on the senses was too blatant, the sky too blue, the weather too, too . . .

Here the discontent is subtler, a sort of discontent with contentment. The living's too easy. At least too easy for some Americans, not all of them. There are many Americans who have lived here for 15 or 20 years, wouldn't live anywhere else in the world, and are, in fact, unfitted to live anywhere else. In that respect, Rome at this particular epoch reminds me of Negley Parson's description of St. Petersburg before World War I. He said, as I recall, that he found members of the international set roaming the world looking for another pre-World War I St. Petersburg and not finding it. Post-War World War II Rome may acquire a reputation like that.

ONE OF THE many things that fascinated me about "La Dolce Vita" was a great motionless party scene. The camera provided all the movement, slithering from guest to guest, men, women, sitting motionless, silent, frozen, drained of all energy, speech, and even volition. The very motionless of the actors gave the scene a fierce impact. A great many Roman parties are like that. People stare at one another, without discomfort, feeling no compulsion to say anything. In this Eternal Small Town everything's long since been said.

One last, small, parenthetical, historical note on Fellini's sex orgies in "La Dolce Vita." If you ask about them, you get one of two responses. Response No. 1: "Fellini's nuts. There are no sex orgies. I've lived here 15 years, never heard of a sex orgy, and never met anyone who's heard of one. Fellini made it all up." Response No. 2: "Fellini's nuts. The sex orgies here are much more interesting than his sex orgies. I don't think he's ever been to one. Fellini made it all up."

TAKE YOUR PICK.

Is the BunaB Coming?

DENNIS W. BINNING
Editorial Page Editor

Reports have reached us from sources close to Snav Tower officialdom in Mason City, Iowa, that SUI is next on the list of campuses to be visited during a nation-wide campaign designed to initiate the uninitiated into the BunaB Brotherhood and to bring BunaB "aids to nicer living" to various college campuses.

On May 20, Luther College in Decorah was honored by having the first campaign conducted on their campus. A light plane heavily laden with a cargo of BunaB #3 Between Shave Lotion (comes in barrels only) and Al Crowder, Assistant to the President of Orville K. Snav & Associates, landed in Decorah for the festivities. A zany time was had by all.

Details of the underground plot to bring the campaign to SUI have not yet been uncovered by The Daily Iowan's persistent investigative reporters.

(If you don't know what a BunaB is, don't worry, there are many of us who own one or more and still aren't quite sure.) Watch for a feature later.

Picasso Prints, Others Now On Exhibit Here

A selection of 150 prints from Iowa's two largest print collections, ranging from works by 16th century artists to Picasso and other foremost contemporaries, is currently on exhibit at the Art Building.

The works are prints collected by Mr. and Mrs. Owen N. Elliott of Cedar Rapids, and from the permanent collection of the Des Moines Art Center.

The Elliott collection from which these prints were selected also includes paintings and other works by great contemporary European artists. The entire Elliott collection has been presented to SUI with the stipulation that suitable gallery facilities be provided for it.

Following the close of the Summer Fine Arts Festival, the exhibition of 150 prints will be shown at the Des Moines Art Center.

The print exhibition is the first such exchange with the Des Moines Art Center.

The current SUI exhibition, which is open to the public, will be shown through Aug. 4. It will be one of the features of the Summer Fine Arts Festival, to be held in conjunction with the summer session June 10 to Aug. 4.

Campus Notes

Dance Scholarships

Mary Lynne McRae, A3, Des Moines, has been awarded the first dance scholarship given to an SUI student for summer study at the Connecticut School of the Dance, New London, Conn. Of the 200 provided for the scholarship, $100 is from the Old Gold Development Fund (OGDF) and the rest from the Connecticut School of the Dance.

Marcia Thayer, head of modern dance instruction at SUI, and two other SUI students—David Krohn, A2, Joliet, Ill., and Chari Bunn, A3, Ft. Madison, will also attend the school this summer. Krohn, Miss Bunn and Miss McRae are members of the Contemporary Dance Club at SUI, of which Miss McRae is currently president.

Chi Epsilon Elects

Frederick Moore, G, Iowa City, has been elected president of the SUI chapter of Chi Epsilon for the 1963-64 academic year. Chi Epsilon is a national honorary civil engineering fraternity. Other newly elected officers of the SUI chapter are:

Danvers Tubbs, E4, Iowa City, vice-president; Dannis Foderberg, E3, Council Bluffs, secretary-treasurer; James Crossbeck, E3, Solon, associate editor and Bruce Bailey, E4, Washington, marshal.

Medical Seminar

More than 100 specialists in internal medicine from the United States and Canada will arrive here next week for a five day postgraduate seminar at the University Hospital Medical Amphitheatre.

The seminar is part of a nationwide program designed to bring current medical information to practicing physicians.

Director of the seminar, which will run from June 10 to June 14, is Dr. William B. Bean, professor and head of the department of internal medicine of the SUI College of Medicine.

Eight Pharmacy Seniors Receive Honors Thursday

Eight pharmacy seniors were honored Thursday evening at the annual Pharmacy Senior Banquet held in the Union. Dean Louis C. Zopf presented awards to the students.

Dennis Killion, Red Oak, received the Bristol Prize, which is given annually to the pharmacy senior who has made the greatest contribution through extracurricular activities. The award consists of a copy of Blakiston's "New Gould Medical Dictionary," and is presented by Bristol Laboratories, Inc.

John True, Buffalo, Mo., received the $25 Chehak Prize as the most deserving pharmacy student in biochemistry. The Geigy Award of a

3 Men Indicted Friday for Rape

FORT DODGE — A Webster County grand jury indicted three men Friday for allegedly raping a 20-year-old Fort Dodge woman last May 21.

District Court Judge John M. Schupp set bonds of $15,000 each. No date was set for arraignment.

Indicted were George Allen Fox, 29, of Fort Dodge and David Conklin Sexauer, 19, and Ronald Gene Torrence, 18, both of Ankeny.

Thirteen witnesses subpoenaed for the grand jury included the alleged victim, her companion at the time, Robert Christensen, 21, of Humboldt, the physician who examined her, and Fort Dodge police and Webster County sheriff's officers.

Christensen told officers earlier he was beaten by the three men. Fox has been in jail since his arrest. Terrence and Sexauer have been free under $5,000 bonds posted in Municipal Court on a rape charge and $2,000 bonds on a grand larceny charge.

All three are charged with grand larceny in the theft of material from a home under construction near Fort Dodge.

brass mortar and pestle to the senior having the esteem of his classmates and potential for leadership was presented to Lloyd Bare, Pleasantville.

The Johnson and Johnson Award went to Russell Kroepel, Ireton. This award of a mortar and pestle is presented as a dean's award to the senior who is excellent in scholarship, has an outstanding and progressive attitude, and has the potential to apply good principles of pharmaceutical administration to retail pharmacy.

Donald Rehak, Cedar Rapids, was the recipient of two awards — the Lehn and Fink Plaque and the Zopf Prize. The Lehn and Fink gold medal plaque is given to the senior with the highest scholastic average in pharmacy. The Zopf Prize, a set of prescription weights, goes to the senior ranking highest in administrative pharmacy.

High scholastic standing in subjects dealing with dispensing won for John Susich, Fort Madison, the Merck Prize, consisting of the "Merck Manual of Therapeutics and Materia Medica" and the "Merck Index."

Kenneth Berry, Onawa, received the Rexall Trophy for leadership, extracurricular activities and outstanding achievement.

Carol Jean Duff, Sioux City, won the American Pharmaceutical Association Certificate of Commendation for outstanding service to the student branch of the American Pharmaceutical Association.

Gets Degree
Among the 1,390 graduates receiving degrees in Friday's Commencement exercises at SUI was Duane E. Moon, president-elect of William Penn College, Oskaloosa.

Dr. Moon, who will begin duties at William Penn on July 1, did his graduate work here in school administration and wrote his doctor's dissertation on "The Office of the President in a Quaker College."

Reformed Church Fails To Take Stand on Smoking

PELLA — The General Synod of the Reformed Church of America Friday withheld taking a stand on the question of smoking and dancing.

After a discussion at the denomination's 157th annual convention the commissioners voted to set up a Christian Action Commission to study the matter.

Various members of the synod spoke against smoking on the claim that it has harmful effects on the body and is suspected of being linked with lung cancer.

Some delegates argued that ministers should set an example by being non-smokers.

A proposal that dancing be condemned as a moral hazard brought on a debate in which some delegates declared it was a matter of personal freedom.

The smoking issue had been listed as one for discussion when the Rev. Bernard Brunsting of Holland, Mich., president of the denomination, made the keynote address earlier in the day to 450 delegates and visitors.

Zasu Pitts Dies Of Cancer at 63

HOLLYWOOD — Cancer claimed another Hollywood notable Friday — Zasu Pitts, whose thin, wavy voice and innocently bumbling manner amused two generations of Americans. She was 63.

Death came at Good Samaritan Hospital, where she was admitted Thursday night. She lived in Pasadena with her second husband, John E. Woodall, onetime tennis champion and a real estate broker in recent years.

Miss Pitts found success in all phases of entertainment.

New Details Emerge On Pope John's Death

VATICAN CITY — Fresh aspects of the philosophy and final illness of Pope John XXIII emerged Friday as newcomers swelled the ranks of cardinals setting up machinery for the election of his successor.

As the Church opened nine days of official mourning, publication of a letter Pope John wrote to his brother, Zaverio Roncalli, Dec. 3, 1961, and an interview with his personal physician contributed to the picture of a man left humble and unchanged by great power.

The Vatican paper L'Osservatore Romano printed the letter, which it called "a spiritual testament."

Typing it himself, the Pope warned his family against being seduced by fame. He urged his relatives — simple farmers in north Italy — to maintain their humility.

A Pope has a duty, he said, "not to enrich his relatives, but only to assist them in charity according to their needs and conditions."

"The world only interests itself in making money," he said.

It was a warm letter in which the Pope included a remark that he was disturbed by "some small ailment."

A stomach tumor, anemia and peritonitis contributed to the death of the Pope last Monday. It was not clear whether the ailment he mentioned was the first sign of the tumor. Doctors have said they detected the illness about a year ago, but that it did not become serious until last November.

The Milan newspaper Il Giorno quoted the Pope's personal physician, Dr. Antonio Gasharrini, as saying, "We tried to lie to him mercifully" about the gravity of his illness, but the Pope knew death was approaching. The doctor said: "It is a gastric inflammation, we would tell him."

"My bags are ready. I commit myself to the will of the Lord," he would answer. The Pope already understood.

The Vatican said almost all the 82 princes of the Roman Catholic Church will be in Rome by Monday. Three cardinals from the United States took part for the first time Friday in one of the business meetings preparatory to the conclave to select a Pope opening June 19.

Joining 35 others in deliberations here were James Francis Cardinal McIntyre of Los Angeles, Joseph Elmer Cardinal Ritter of St. Louis and Albert Gregory Cardinal Meyer of Chicago.

Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York and Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston were among those due later.

Lines of mourners moved past the simple marble tomb of John XXIII in the dimly lit grotto of St. Peter's. Some paused to pray.

Candy Spots Rated Favorite In Today's Belmont Stakes

NEW YORK (AP) — Candy Spots was rated the odds-on favorite at 1-4 to capture the 95th Belmont Stakes, transplanted to Aqueduct, today as seven 3-year-old colts were officially entered for the last of the big Triple Crown events.

Agreement is unanimous, even among rival trainers, that Rex C. Ellsworth and trainer Mesh Tenny from California have the solid horse for the tough 1 1/2-mile classic. On the other hand, they point out, none of the starters' age ever has been asked to travel that distance.

There is only one way to find out, and that is to try on Candy Spots for size. The lanky chestnut was 3-2 favorite for the 1 1/4-mile Kentucky Derby May 4 and finished third. He was 3-2 favorite for the 1 3/16-mile Preakness May 18, and won.

Since New York legalized pari-mutuels in 1940, 10 of 16 odds-on favorites in the Belmont have been beaten.

All will pack 126 pounds, same as for Derby and Preakness.

The race was shifted this spring from Belmont Park, where it had been run since 1905. The stands there are unsafe.

After he routed his Preakness foes, Candy Spots stopped off at Garden State Park and grabbed the Jersey Derby — his fourth $100,000 haul of the season. Earlier he won the Santa Anita and Florida Derbies.

With seven going the Belmont will gross $145,450, the winner taking $101,700. Candy Spots already has earned $555,527.

Candy Spots has the nation's top money rider in Willie Shoemaker, who has won the race with Gallant Man (1957), Sword Dancer (1959), and Jaipur, for Widener in 1962. Shoemaker has a job, for Candy Spots drew the No. 1 post position.

Showers wet the track Friday, but clearing weather is forecast for a crowd of about 60,000. Post time is 2:48 p.m. (CST).

Nationwide radio and television (CBS) is set for 2:30 to 3 p.m. (CST).

Cleveland Snaps Winning Streak By Senators, 8-1

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Cleveland Indians scored three runs on a sacrifice bunt in an eight-run eighth inning Friday night and defeated Washington 8-1, ending the Senators' longest winning streak of the season at four games.

Rookie Jim Duckworth had a two-hit shutout for seven innings.

Woody Held walked to start things and pinch hitter Willie Kirkland singled. Dick Howser then dropped a sacrifice bunt down the third base line and Duckworth threw wild into right field. Right fielder Jim King threw the ball into the Cleveland dugout and all three runs scored on the double error.

Vic Davalillo followed with a double and Ron Kline relieved Duckworth. Al Luplow sacrificed and was safe on Kline's error, and Max Alvis and Joe Azcue singled and Held hit a two-run homer before Pete Burnside finally retired the side.

Cleveland 000 000 080 — 8 8 0
Washington 000 000 100 — 1 7 3
Donovan, Abernathy (8) and Azcue; Duckworth, Kline (8), Burnside (8), Bromstad (9) and Landrith, W — Donovan (3-4), L — Duckworth (2-3).
Home run — Cleveland, Held (7).

White Sox Trail By Half Game, Batter A's, 7-1

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Juan Pizarro pitched and batted the Chicago White Sox to a 7-1 victory over Kansas City Friday night, hitting a 2-run home run and scattering 8 hits.

The triumph moved the White Sox to within one-half game of American League-leading Baltimore. The Orioles were rained out.

Pizarro, now 5-2, had a shutout until the ninth when Norm Siebern doubled and Jerry Lumpe stroked a two-out single.

The Sox smashed 12 hits against Dave Wickersham and two successors. Ron Hansen drove in the first Chicago run with a sacrifice fly in the second. In the sixth, Floyd Robinson tripled and scored on a single by rookie Tom McCraw.

The White Sox removed all doubts about the outcome with a five-run outburst in the eighth.

Chicago 010 001 050 — 7 12 1
Kansas City 000 000 001 — 1 8 1
Pizarro and Carreon; Wickersham, Thies (8), Lovrich (9) and Edwards, W — Pizarro (5-2), L — Wickersham (4-4).
Home run — Chicago, Pizarro (2).

NEW YORK (AP) — Welterweight champion Luis Rodriguez, winner of his last 12 fights, was a 13-10 underdog Friday for his return title bout with ex-champion Emile Griffith of New York tonight.

The bout will be telecast by ABC-TV, starting at 8 p.m. (CST). Griffith hopes to become the first boxer ever to win the welterweight title three times. Sugar Ray Robinson bossed the middleweight division five times.

L.A. Grabs League 'Lead'; Cubs, Cards, Giants Lose

Defeats Cubs on 2 Homers, Drysdale's 7-Hit Pitching

CHICAGO (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers used back-to-back homers by Frank Howard and John Roseboro and the strong pitching of Don Drysdale to defeat the torrid Chicago Cubs 4-1 Friday and took over the National League lead by .002 points.

The victory, cutting off the Cubs' five-game winning streak, pulled the Dodgers to the head of the pack while leaving Chicago, St. Louis and San Francisco tied for second place.

The Cubs had won 11 of their previous 13 starts. Drysdale, fanning nine to boost his league-leading strikeout total to 99, scattered seven Cub hits, yielded only an unearned run in the fifth and did not issue a walk. It was Drysdale's seventh victory against six defeats.

The loser was Paul Toth, making his first Cub start of the season.

Willie Davis opened the Dodger fifth with the second of his three singles, stole second, took third on Drysdale's single off Toth's glove and scored on a force play. Drysdale eventually also scored on an infield out.

Los Angeles 000 020 020 — 4 12 2
Chicago 000 010 000 — 1 7 0
Drysdale and Roseboro; Toth, Schultz (8), Elston (8), Brewer (9) and Bertell, Schaffner (9), W — Drysdale (7-4), L — Toth (1-3).
Home runs — Los Angeles, Howard (1), Roseboro (4).

High Jumper

Boosting himself up on the wall in front of the box seats, Los Angeles Dodgers' third baseman Maury Wills makes a valiant try for a pop foul hit by Ron Santo of the Chicago Cubs in the ninth inning of Friday's game at Chicago. Wills missed the ball and then Santo struck out. The Dodgers won to snap the Cubs' 5-game winning streak.

Sports News in Brief —

Chicago's Ellsworth Named N.L.'s Player of the Month

CINCINNATI (AP) — Dick Ellsworth, the left-handed pitcher who played a key role in the Chicago Cubs' move to the top of the National League, was named Friday the league's player of the month for May.

Ellsworth beat out Sandy Koufax of Los Angeles for the honor by 14 votes to 12. Cal McLish of the Phillies was third with 10 and catcher Ed Bailey of San Francisco received 6 votes by the writers and broadcasters on the panel.

Ellsworth won four of five decisions during the month and turned in a 1.29 earned run average for 42 innings of work. He yielded only 28 hits and six earned runs for the month.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — Sandra McClinton, a rodeo rider in Texas before she took up golf, and amateur Judy Street of Chattanooga shot 4-under-par 67s to take the first-round lead in the $10,000 Rock City Women's Open Golf Tournament Friday.

Miss McClinton shot her lowest competitive round since turning pro two years ago by birdieing the last three holes on the 6,050-yard

Valleybrook Golf and Country Club course. She was on the 18th green in two and just missed an eagle when her 30-foot putt was eight inches short.

Iowan Menke Leads Braves Past Bucs, 9-5

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Dennis Menke's single in the eighth inning drove in Joe Torre with the deciding run in Milwaukee's 9-5 victory over Pittsburgh Friday night in a see-saw battle.

The Braves had tied it up in the same inning on Tommie Aaron's sacrifice fly, scoring Eddie Mathews from third.

Milwaukee put the game out of reach in the ninth with three runs, two on Hank Aaron's 17th homer.

Frank Funk, who relieved Claude Raymond in the sixth, picked up his first victory as a National League pitcher. He has two losses. The loser was Harvey Haddix now 1-1.
Milwaukee 120 001 023 — 9 15 9
Pittsburgh 000 005 000 — 5 12 1
Shaw, Raymond (6), Funk (6), Hendley (8) and Torre; McBean, Francis (3), Gibbon (4), Haddix (7), Face (8), Sisk (9), Veale (9) and Burgess, W — Funk (1-2), L — Haddix (1-1).
Home runs — Milwaukee, H. Aaron (17), Pittsburgh, Bailey (6).

Snyder Homers To Let New York Nip Cards, 3-2

NEW YORK (AP) — Duke Snider belted a three-run homer with one out in the last of the ninth inning, carrying a New York Mets to a 3-2 triumph over St. Louis and dropping the Cardinals out of the National League lead Friday night.

The Mets, turned back on only two singles by rookie Ron Taylor through eight innings, chased the 25-year-old right-hander in the ninth when Frank Thomas singled and Ron Hunt walked.

Southpaw Diomedes Olivo came in to face the left-handed hitting Snider and the veteran slugger rapped his game-winner against the 43-year-old reliever on a 2-2 pitch. The winless Olivo lost his fifth.

The homer was Snider's 10th of the season and the 39th of his career. Ken Boyer, Cardinal third baseman, belted his sixth home run of the season for the losers.

St. Louis 100 100 000 — 2 8 1
New York 000 000 003 — 3 4 1
Taylor, Olivo (9) and Oliver; Jackson and Coleman, W — Jackson (5-5), L — Olivo (8-5).
Home runs — St. Louis, Boyer (6), New York, Snider (10).

Houston Goes 10 To Edge Giants, 2-1

HOUSTON (AP) — Carl Warwick's run-scoring single with two out in the bottom of the 10th inning Friday night gave the Houston Colts a 2-1 victory over San Francisco and dropped the Giants out of a share of the National League lead.

The Giants are in a second-place with Chicago and St. Louis while the Los Angeles Dodgers took over first place by .002 points with a 4-1 victory over the Cubs.

Warwick's hit dealt the Giants their fifth straight loss. It came after rookie Ernie Fazio's leadoff single, a sacrifice and a ground out. The winning rally came against reliever Gaylor Perry, who took over for Bob Bolin in the 10th.

Bolin, making his first start of the season after 15 relief appearances, shut out the Colts on three singles through eight innings.

The Giants scored their only run of the ball game in the top of the second inning on Rusty Stabb's home run and held off until the Colts struck for one to tie in the bottom of the ninth and then went on to win.

San Francisco 010 000 000 — 1 6 0
Houston 000 000 001 — 2 7 1
Bolin, Perry (1) and Haller; Nottebart, Woodeshick (8) and Campbell, W — Woodeshick (5-1), L — Perry (1-2).
Home run — Houston, Staub (2).

Mays Fined $25 For Pickoff Play

HOUSTON (AP) — Willie Mays' nap off second base Thursday cost the San Francisco Giants' star center fielder $25, the first fine under a new system initiated by the defending National League champions.

Mays, ironically, was a member of the three-player panel assessing the fine.

Sanctioning for Open Meets To Remain Unchanged: Mac

NEW YORK (AP) — An obviously piqued Gen. Douglas MacArthur bluntly told a dissident college group Friday that there will be no change in sanctioning procedures for open track and field meets.

Then, as if slamming the door on the issue, he added: "This decision is final."

He rendered the latest in his series of decisions in a telegram to William W. Russell, president of the U.S. Track and Field Federation (USTFF).

Russell, whose college-supported organization is locked in an acrimonious struggle with the Amateur Athletic Union (AAU), had balked at a directive by the general ordering colleges to rescind their ban on the National AAU Track and Field Championships at St. Louis June 21-22.

The meet will select U.S. athletes for the dual competition with the Soviet Union in Moscow later this summer.

In a wire to MacArthur from Houston, where he is conducting the USTFF track and field meet, Russell asked the general to clarify two points:

1. Are we, the USTFF, privileged to approve, authorize or sanction participation of our athletes in competition?

2. Does the AAU meet in St. Louis compel USTFF athletes to register with and join the AAU against their will as a requisite to participation?

MacArthur sent the following reply to Russell: "The decision as to sanctions for open meets is set forth in my statement of June 6 as clearly as I can make use of the English language. This decision is final."

Last Yanks Out of British Amateur Meet

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP) — The last four Americans were knocked out of the British Amateur Golf Championship Friday, leaving today's 36-hole final to two Englishmen.

The Yankee challenge disappeared in the semifinals with the defeats of Dr. Ed Updegraff of Tucson and Dr. Ron Lucetti of San Francisco.

Michael Lunt, 28-year-old British Walker Cup player, defeated Updegraff, one of the American Walker Cup squad, 1 up, and John Blackwell, 48-year-old member of a food packing firm, and a member of the Royal and Ancient Club of St. Andrews, knocked out Lucetti 3 and 2.

Two other American survivors out of the original entry of 39 were knocked out in the morning's quarter-finals.

Lunt edged out defending champion Richard Davies of Pasadena, Calif., 1 up in a dramatic morning match and Updegraff defeated Walker Cup colleague Dick Sikes of Springdale, Ark., 2 and 1.

So an American run of successes in Walker Cup years in Britain has been broken.

Ever since 1926 — the year Jesse Sweetster won — an American has taken this title in a Walker Cup year. The team match is played in Britain every four years.

Updegraff, a 41-year-old doctor, started badly against Lunt and was 3 down after 4 holes — the first time he had been down in the early part of his matches.

He still was 3 down with 3 to go. Then he came back fighting — and had Lunt worried.

Updegraff sank a 14-footer at the 16th to win that hole. Then he took the 17th in a regulation par after Lunt was over to the left with his second and through the green with his third.

They came to the home hole with Lunt still 1 up. They were both on the green in 2. Lunt putted up to five feet from the hole. Updegraff was only a foot away with his roll-up. Lunt's putt slithered into the hole for a half and the match.

Detroit Erupts For 2 Big Innings, Beats Yanks, 8-4

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers erupted for two four-run rallies and handed the crippled New York Yankees their fifth loss in six games Friday night, 8-4.

Hank Aguirre, ahead 8-0 after four innings, posted his fifth victory as the Tigers beat the Yanks for the fifth time in six games.

The Yankees, playing without the injured Mickey Mantle and Tony Kubek, crumbled defensively in the first inning and the Tigers scored four times off Bill Stafford.

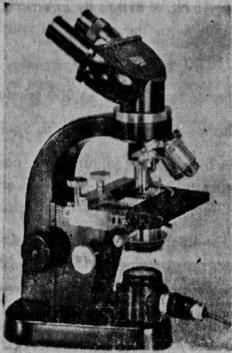

Al Kaline cracked a three-run homer in the first after the Yankees failed to cover first base on two successive plays, leaving Jake Wood and Billy Bruton reeling on infield hits.

New York 000 011 002 — 4 9 1
Detroit 400 400 000 — 8 9 0
Stafford, Kunkel (4), Downing (8) and Aguirre (5-5), L — Stafford (3-6).
Home runs — New York, Lopez (3), Richardson (1), Detroit, Kaline (10), Triandos (6).
