BALTIMORE (AP) — A group of jailed clergymen planned Friday for another assault Sunday on the racial barriers at Gwynn Oak Amusement Park.

Seven imprisoned ministers, among 175 demonstrators who refused bail out of 275 arrested Thursday at the segregated park in suburban Baltimore, sent out word they had formed an "ad hoc committee to desegregate Gwynn Oak Park."

Walter Carter, former chairman of Baltimore's Congress of Racial Equality which organized the July 4th mass demonstration, said pastors of all churches will be asked to urge their congregations Sunday to join a march on the park that afternoon.

The overwhelming majority of those demonstrating Thursday, including 225 from New York and Philadelphia, were white.

Among them for the first time were distinguished clergymen.

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Charges of political fraud flew Friday in advance of a general election scheduled Sunday. Foes of President Jose Maria Guido's militarily guided regime are urging their followers to cast blank ballots.

Opposition centers on a presidential decree of May 17 banning supporters of ex-dictator Juan D. Peron, an exile in Spain, from running for the presidency or other executive offices. The Peronists are limited to seeking legislative posts.

Balloting is compulsory in Argentina.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department said Friday the United States plans to take steps which will "further isolate Cuba economically and politically."

The department's press officer, Richard I. Phillips, did not specify what particular actions are planned, but said they would be undertaken both by the United States on its own and by the hemisphere republics acting together.

It was understood that the proposed measures planned include such moves as tightening bans against travel to Cuba, restriction of movement of funds to Cuba and stronger measures against subversion emanating from Havana.

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People convention condemned the American Bar Association Friday and called for an economic boycott of Portugal and the Union of South Africa.

In an emergency resolution adopted by a shouting, standing vote of 1,192 official delegates, the NAACP scored the ABA for not appointing a Negro to its Committee on Civil Rights and Racial Unrest formed in response to a request by President Kennedy.

The committee organized to find a means of best contributing to the solution of the problem raised by the civil rights crisis will report to the ABA's House of Delegates August 12-16.

The resolution stated that Negro attorneys, including members of the American Bar Association, have been active leaders in the civil rights field but not one Negro was named to the ABA's group. Robert Carter, New York general counsel for the NAACP, said Negro members of the bar have been active in almost every state in the union.

DES MOINES (AP) — Two Iowa state agents arrived in New York by commercial airliner Friday with Wilbur C. Baker, 52, sought for nearly 10 years in the wounding of his divorced wife, Annabelle.

The agents, Robert Blair and Gifford Strand, were to charter a plane for a direct flight to the Fort Madison State Penitentiary, weather permitting.

Baker surrendered at the U.S. Embassy in Buenos Aires, Argentina, earlier this week and waived extradition.

Baker, a Spirit Lake gambler, was sentenced to up to 30 years in prison in 1953 on a charge of attempted murder in the shooting of his ex-wife the year before at the home of her father, W. G. Boardman, at Milford. She recovered and later remarried Baker.

He jumped bond and fled to Argentina in 1954 while his conviction was under appeal.

THE THIRD IN A series of concerts in the park will be presented Sunday at 4 p.m. in College Hill Park.

Guest conductor will be Mark Kelly, Centerville high school band director. In case of rain, the concert will be postponed until later.

THE UNIVERSITY HEIGHTS Town Council Thursday adopted a resolution asking a vote on consolidation with Iowa City. The referendum will be part of the regular November election.

THREE MEMBERS OF THE SUI faculty are among those receiving pay increases in the University's new budget.

Prof. James Van Allen, head of the Physics Department was raised from $19,000 to $21,000 a year; Athletic Director Forest Evashevski from $20,000 to $22,000; and Football Coach Jerry Burns from $15,000 to $17,000.

Retired Union Head

Harper Reminisces of Days Passed

By TIM CALLAN City Editor

"I've just finished cleaning out the files of 25 years," Union director Earl E. Harper said Friday, "but it was hard to keep going sometimes."

It was hard, he said, not to read each old letter, each old paper, and each old copy of The Daily Iowan. "I've sent a lot of things down to the archives," he said, "and I've sent a lot of them to the dump."

In an informal address to the Iowa City Rotary Club, the retired director of the Iowa Memorial Union recalled some of the incidents of his quarter-century at SUI. He described the problems of the administration in giving financial support to the art faculty in the '30's. Harper said that in 1939,

SUI got its first truly great exhibition of modern American art on loan from New York. The people of Iowa rallied behind the university but presently, he said, the administration realized that art couldn't be brought to campus unless it was purchased — art galleries wanted to know that some of the paintings on loan would be bought.

Harper said that he talked about the problem with President Hancher, who felt that no tax funds should be spent for the venture. However, President Hancher found some unassigned income from an endowment fund, and made it available.

Harper said he bought one painting, "Rosalia" by Juan Miro, with the unanimous approval of the faculty. The burlap painting cost about $2,500 and the Des Moines Register ran a picture of the University's new acquisition. "Pretty soon all hell broke loose!" Harper laughed. "The Register was filled with letters blasting the University for spending money on the work." Today, he added, "Rosalia" is worth at least $15,000.

Another acquisition, a work by Jackson Pollock, was no better received. One Iowa farmer wrote that he had heard all the talk about the new Pollock painting and had come down to the Union to see what all the talking was about. "I went into the Union and saw it," he wrote, "and now I can tell you. It looks like something done by a manure spreader going north on a windy day."

Harper concluded by saying that the important thing about SUI is not that it should grow in buildings, students and budget — these are incidental. The University's real duty, he said, is to inspire, guide and counsel its students so that every potential is developed and students can truly be called cultured persons.

If cultured persons someday band together in the corporate culture that is true civilization, he said, every sacrifice by the University has been abundantly justified.

"I have every confidence," Harper concluded, "that SUI is marching in that direction and will attain that kind of a goal."

Cigaret Prices Up In Wake of Tax Rise

Get a full cigarette supply while you can! Cigaret prices in all Iowa vending machines have risen from 30 to 35 cents a pack, due to a new cigarette tax passed by the Iowa legislature.

An employee of Jeff's Music Company, which services cigarette vending machines in Iowa City, said that not all the machines have been changed yet, but they will be by next week.

'Rep' Theater Promising Despite Flaws

By WALTER R. KELLER Reviewed for The Daily Iowan

"He that is giddy Thinks the world goes round"

The 1963 Summer Repertory season opened last evening with a performance of William Shakespeare's comedy "The Taming of the Shrew", directed by Mr. Harold Shiffler.

Time and space limitations prevent my trying to summarize the plot, however, this not untypical Elizabethan comedy is replete with the familiar elements of disguise, mistaken identity, marriage bargains and bawdiness. The play centers around Petruchio's (Newell Tarrant) taming of Katharine (Rebecca Cox), and this action is surrounded by numerous vignettes for the hand of Bianca, her sister (Beverly Tresan).

The performances ranged from polished, precise and strong to weak, flat and inappropriate. Some of the finest performances were exhibited in supporting roles. Stephen Schultz, as the pedant, was anything but pedantic. He played with vigor and variety and provided a needed comic counterpoint to some of the major action in his impersonation of Lucentio's father.

Peter O'Sullivan and Kristen Hawkes, as the tailor and cook respectively, were hilariously funny. Miss Hawkes moved with comic grace and achieved a rarity in college acting — an unflinching hold on her accent — in this instance, an Elizabethan cockney. Mr. O'Sullivan was able to prance about in an equally comic manner without dissipating his energy through an excess of uncontrolled motion, a feat from which certain of the other supporting actors might well take a lesson.

Stephen Mass performed smoothly as Gremio, one of Bianca's many suitors. His consistency of energy was also lacking in some of the major performances. James Severns, in the role of Vincentio, Petruchio's father, proved quite convincing as the storming, blustering old man whom almost everyone mistreats when he comes to town a bit too soon.

The best of the leads was played by Charles Fallsbeck, as Hortensio. He handled himself deftly in a variety of acting situations during most of which he was found to be the beleaguered party. He was able to project subtle shades of bewilderment, craftiness and gullibility with a minimum of the extraneous.

Mr. Tarrant fared less fortunately. In all fairness I think this is the best performance he has given at Iowa. There were some moments when his Petruchio had dimension and grace, but most of his old problems were still apparent. His diction presented large problems for most people sitting behind the second row. He spoke too rapidly and slurred his phrases into endless strings. He depended upon bombastic delivery — alteration between loud and LOUDER; a

U.S. Protests to Kremlin And Returns K's Greeting

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States sent a protest to Moscow Friday, exchanged friendly greetings with Premier Khrushchev and consulted its Western allies about dealing with the Soviet offer of a limited test ban and a non-aggression pact.

There was a business-as-usual air about the latest communications between the United States and Russia — a Kennedy-Khrushchev Independence Day exchange and a protest against the new Communist security zone along the Berlin Wall.

Replying in equally cordial terms to a friendly Khrushchev July 4 greeting Kennedy said, "The world has long passed that time when armed conflict can be the solution to international problems."

The President told Khrushchev controlled variety of modulation is much to be preferred.

Miss Cox' performance showed great promise of growing during this repertory. She captured Katharine's spirit and vitality, but there were instances when she lacked conviction. A couple of more performances should add the extra bits of acid and witness.

Richard Palan's costumes ranged about as widely as did the acting. The masterpieces were Mr. Tarrant's wedding apparel and Mr. O'Sullivan's assorted paraphernalia. I felt that too many of the colors tended toward the familiar Iowa Shakespeare pastels. The dark background and Mr. Gillette's simple functional backdrops could easily lend themselves to more colors of the vivid variety.

Mr. Shiffler has ably directed actors of widely varying experience and talents. Even with its several weaknesses, I think the cast is approaching an adequate ensemble feeling.

Martelli Tells Old Bailey He's No Spy

LONDON (AP) — Dr. Giuseppe Martelli, an Italian-born nuclear physicist, testified Friday the Russians tried for seven years to get him to spy for them or defect to Soviet Union, but resisted them throughout. He swore he is innocent.

Testifying in his own defense in Old Bailey, Martelli said the Russians used indirect threats involving his children and may even have tried to drug him.

Martelli is not charged with spying but with being ready to spy — in official language — "an act preparatory to the commission of an offense under the Official Secrets Act."

The prosecution has presented such paraphernalia as hollow-heeled shoes, secret codes and film found after his arrest April 27.

His lawyer, Jeremy Hutchinson, told the court Martelli accepted some of the material from Soviet agents to play for time.

Martelli said he turned down an offer from the United States two years ago to work in his special field of plasma physics — developing useful power from nuclear fusion — for fear it would make him more vulnerable to the Soviet pressure.

The 39-year-old scientist said Nikolai Karpekov was the Soviet agent who directed the recruiting campaign.

Communist Talks Begin In Moscow

MOSCOW (AP) — The great showdown battle for control of world communism opened Friday in a secret session of high Soviet and Chinese Communist delegations.

Main point of the struggle is the Chinese contention that the Russians are wrong in saying that communism can be spread without war. The Russians, following Premier Khrushchev, insist that can bury the west without violence.

Chinese Communist chief Mao Tze-tung sent a high-powered delegation headed by theorist Teng Hsiao-ping to argue for a tougher line. The outcome could determine the future of hundreds of millions of persons for years to come.

Western observers expected a draw, with both parties sticking to their own views.

The Chinese are expected to demand that a conference of all the world's Communist parties pick the winner in a free vote. The Russians have indicated they are in no mood for such a meeting now.

A crisis atmosphere surrounded the talks after a pre-meeting exchange of polemics between the two Communist giants. The Soviet Union fired a twin government-Communist party salvo Thursday accusing the Chinese of lying, meddling and aggravating relations. The Chinese angrily rejected the charges.

But the tempers were not in evidence when chief Soviet negotiator Mikhail Suslov met the Chinese at the airport. Everything was smiles and flowers.

STUDENT CHARGED Melvin Widner, E2, Richland, was charged by police with attempting to buy beer at the Annex tavern Thursday night.

He is free on $100 bond pending appearance in police court.

Enrollment Rises To Record High

Final enrollment in the current summer session at SUI is 5,339, a new record, University officials have announced. The figure represents an increase of 327 students over 1962.

Much of the increase was accounted for in a gradual "catching on" of the new 12-week session started last summer at SUI. This summer there are 334 students taking courses in the extended session which closes Aug. 23 compared with only 72 in 1962. Other students are enrolled in the traditional eight week session.

Final 1963 summer enrollment figures by college (with 1962 comparisons in parentheses) are: Business Administration, 123 (146), Dentistry, 13 (14), Engineering, 84 (102), Graduate, 2,893 (2,540), Law, 204 (186), Liberal Arts, 1,587 (1,489), Medicine, 149 (164), Nursing, 243 (328) and Pharmacy, 33 (43).

Soprano To Sing

Elizabeth L. Allen, G, North Caldwell, N.J., mezzo soprano, will present a recital Sunday at 7:30 p.m. in South Rehearsal Hall. She will be accompanied by Gerhard Krapp, associate professor of music, on the organ; and by James Magsig, G, Ovid, Mich., on the piano.

Her program will include works by Bach and selections from Mahler's "Kindertotenlieder."

Hoffey Resigns Detective Sgt. Paul C. Hoffey, 29, resigned from the Iowa City police force Friday to become a police adviser with the State Department in Lima, Peru.

The resignation is effective August 15, although Hoffey will end his duties in Iowa City on July 9, since he has to go to Washington for four to five weeks of orientation before going to Peru.

Hoffey has been on the police force since August 16, 1958. Police Chief Emmett Evans said patrolman Wayne Winter will assume Hoffey's duties temporarily.

16 Will, 23 Won't Make Applications

Six establishments in the Iowa City area are now serving liquor by the drink.

The University Athletic Club in University Heights was the first to receive its liquor permit. The club's application for a liquor license was approved by a special meeting of the University Heights town council Thursday morning, and was taken to Des Moines Friday morning by Attorney Scott Swisher.

The Athletic Club served its first drink at 4:43 p.m. Friday.

Later in the day, licenses were approved in Des Moines for four Coralville establishments: Babo's Inc., Curt Yocum's, The Carousel, and the Walter Johnson Post No. 721 of the American Legion.

The Coralville city council had approved the four applications at a special meeting Friday morning.

All four establishments said Friday night that they were already serving mixed drinks or would definitely begin serving them this morning.

The Lark in Tiffin received its liquor permit Friday afternoon at 5:30, and said it would be serving drinks "as soon as possible," and anticipated serving mixed drinks by this morning.

Most of the establishments said they hadn't had time to establish prices for drinks yet, although one said that it was charging "80 or 90 cents." Another owner noted that the price of drinks would have to include the 10 per cent state sales tax, and said that this would necessitate a somewhat higher basic price to begin with.

Although the Iowa City city council will not meet before July 16 to act on applications, a number of Iowa City taverns and restaurants have indicated that they had already made or planned to make applications.

A Daily Iowan poll of Iowa City establishments Friday revealed that the following had taken out applications for liquor licenses:

Big Ten Inn, Depot Lunch, Kennedy's Inn, Bernie's Fox Head Tavern, the Colonial Inn, and the Eagle Lodge.

The following establishments said they planned to take out applications at a later date: The Airliner, Kenney's, Hotel Jefferson, Joe's Place, the Elk's club, Kessler's Restaurant, The Hawk Ballroom, and The Congress Inn. The Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 2561 said it planned to take out an application today.

These establishments told The Daily Iowan that they were undecided about making applications for a license:

George's Buffet, Hill Top Pizza, The Annex, Donnelly's, The Hawk's Nest, Short's, Silver Spur, Marv's, and L'I Bells.

The following establishments said that at the present time they have no plans to take out applications:

Bamboo Inn, Bob and Vi's, Campus Grill, Carvutto's, Drag's Diner, George's Gourmet, Jamburg Inn, Joe Rossie Cafe, Little Pine Cafe, Lassie's Red Barn, Maid-Rite Cafe, Mars Cafe, Michael's Tavern, Mid-Town Tap and Grill, Paul and Jo's Grill, Pizza Palace, Pizza Villa, Richard's Restaurant, Smith's, Speed's Tavern, White Front Lunch, Knights of Columbus, and the IOOF.

The Iowan was unable to reach the following for a statement:

Airport Inn, Blue Raider Steak Shop, Coffee Mill, The Mayflower, Knights of Pythias, and the Loyal Order of Moose.

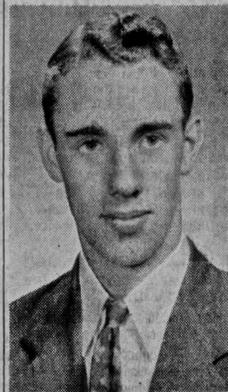

Elsewhere in the area, North Liberty Mayor Marvin Sass said that there had been no city council meeting yet to decide on applications. He said that the two applicants in North Liberty — Shannon's and the Lighthouse — "aren't seem to be in a hurry."

The Ranch Supper Club in Swisher said it hoped to get liquor by the drink, but had not yet made an application.

Hoffey Resigns Detective Sgt. Paul C. Hoffey, 29, resigned from the Iowa City police force Friday to become a police adviser with the State Department in Lima, Peru.

The resignation is effective August 15, although Hoffey will end his duties in Iowa City on July 9, since he has to go to Washington for four to five weeks of orientation before going to Peru.

Hoffey has been on the police force since August 16, 1958. Police Chief Emmett Evans said patrolman Wayne Winter will assume Hoffey's duties temporarily.

JOHN TALBOTT An SUI graduate student in psychology, John Hudson Talbott, San Francisco, was killed early Thursday after a plane from which he planned to skydive crashed after takeoff from the Quad Cities airport.

Talbott had been a graduate student here since the fall of 1960; he was not registered for summer school.

Three other passengers in the plane, all members of the Hawk-eye State Skydivers Club, were hospitalized.

Talbott's parents are in Japan as is a sister, Suzie. He was studying at SUI under a National Defense Education Act fellowship.

A Student And A Log Aren't Enough

THAT PERFECT teaching situation once conjured up by President Garfield — a student on one end of a log and Mark Hopkins on the other — wouldn't have much meaning today. There's even some doubt whether it ever had.

President Hancher of the University of Iowa has dealt impressively with this matter in a recent report to the Iowa Board of Regents about the superb dormitory system developed for Iowa without a cent of tax money.

The report was prompted by some questions raised by that governing body as to whether the comforts provided for residents of the dormitories (at their own expense, it should be noted) were really necessary.

"If all that students need in the way of housing facilities," the SUI head pointed out, "is a place to hang their hats and some shelter from the elements, the problem of dormitories would be relatively simple. Barracks or military-type housing could easily fulfill these needs.

"By the same token," he added, "if all that the process of education requires is the meeting of two minds, universities could dispense with extensive laboratory and classroom facilities."

At this point he recalled the Garfield metaphor and applied to it some of the educational logic born of nearly a quarter of a century as a university administrator.

"It is doubtful," he led off, "whether the Garfield concept was adequate, even in his own day, and it is certain that in today's complex world, it would bear little relation to reality.

"We know, for instance, that a log could hardly replace a well-equipped laboratory for the teaching of biochemistry in the modern age. Nor could a log cabin replace a dormitory without materially affecting the educational process.

"Psychologists, social scientists and far-sighted industrialists have become increasingly aware of the fact that the total environment plays a vital role in all phases of human life and activity.

It is no accident that many of our best industrial firms have been most concerned with providing pleasant surroundings for their employees.

From the central thesis there has developed a dormitory policy expressed in these words by President Hancher: "In formulating its residence hall policies, the University of Iowa begins with the premise that the dormitory system should contribute to the learning situation.

"Dormitories should provide ample space for the student to study in relatively quiet and undisturbed surroundings. They should make some provisions for a student's social life which in itself is frequently an important part of the educational process, and for his recreational needs.

"And dormitories should provide accommodations which are pleasant to look at and to live in — not luxurious, not elegant but certainly comfortable, clean and not too dissimilar from what the average student has been accustomed to in his own home."

Finally A Breath Of Fresh Air For Tennis

AN AMERICAN has finally gained the winners circle at Wimbledon.

Charles (Chuck) McKinley, a native of St. Louis, ended the United States' eight year drought Friday by copping the men's singles crown from Fred Stolle of Australia.

The victory by McKinley is a welcome sign for the sport of tennis in this country. It has seemed that tennis has been a dying sport during recent years. The United States has failed miserably in international tournaments, and especially in the Davis Cup.

Possibly the victory signals a return to prominence by the U.S. amateur tennis players. Hopefully, the U.S. Davis Cup team will be able to do as well in the playoffs as McKinley did at Wimbledon. And McKinley will be in the thick of the Davis Cup playoffs.

Every American tennis player and fan should heap praise upon McKinley. He accomplished an almost impossible mission. And his victory gave U.S. amateur tennis a welcome breath of fresh air.

"Remember The Good Old Days When They Were Inscrutable?"

—The Ralph McGill Column—

We Can Only Explore

By RALPH MCGILL

WASHINGTON, D.C. — It cannot be said that Moscow "leaked" the information that she knows approximately when the Chinese will explode their first nuclear "device". But by a process of diplomatic osmosis the consensus here and in London is that the Soviets are so informed. It seems likely that the United States also has perhaps the identical information. Peking's entry into the nightmare land of nuclear neurosis is expected almost any time between now and spring.

It will be a crude affair, much like France's initial blast in the Sahara, February 13, 1960. (It is difficult to have a sense of humor about such tests, but the jesters referred to this one as "De Gaulle's first nuclear belch.") The French weapon is not yet far advanced, but it is nonetheless formidable — perhaps near the stage of the U.S. bomb dropped on Hiroshima in 1945. (Cost of that first test was $1.2 billion.)

China's new belligerency against Russia stems, according to those whose job it is to think in this era, from their nearness to becoming the possessor of the means to explode the atom.

This is the background as the United States looks toward the U.S.-British-Russian conference of high level ministers set for Moscow shortly after the Chinese have had their July talks with the Kremlin.

Admittedly, the outlook for any agreement on halting the tests is not good. The Soviets have suggested to foreign diplomats that if their one-time wards in Communism, the Chinese, do detonate a primitive device, neither the United States nor Russia would wish to desist. The Russians feel they must counter. Their orbiting of two cosmonauts, including their gallant young woman, was timed to distract Russian public opinion from the Chinese tirade. A "spin-off" secondary effect also was anticipated. . . . a reminder for the members of the Communist bloc group that Moscow already has the big weapons.

There still is no clear picture of what the situation really is in Russia. U.S. specialists begin with an undiscouraged fact — the Russian people do not want war. This is not unique — no other people do. Only the Red Chinese leadership urges combat, and they do not bother about public opinion. Mr. Khrushchev has seen the effect of nuclear explosions. So have most of his associates. They likely are sincere when they insist they do not wish to engage in nuclear death. Their irritation with the Chinese grows.

But it is surprising the Rumanians were allowed to publish the Chinese attack on Mr. Khrushchev's policy. The fact that the World Council of Women, called to Moscow in the wake of the successful orbit of the charming Valentina Tereshkova, had to be adjourned on the day it began because an angry young Chinese insisted on denouncing a feminine comrade from India who had criticized Chinese aggression against her country, also caused heads to wag in wonder. The old disciplines of the Communist world, having been aired with a modest bit of freedom and national initiative, no longer produce the terror-disciplined robots of the time of Stalin.

Our country believes a test ban which would freeze developments where they are, insofar as the two major powers are concerned, would be beneficial to both. The costs are terrific. Russia needs to use capital in behalf of her people. So do we. The American public does not yet understand that we must not fall behind in nuclear technology. Costs will mount. Taxes will grow — because survival requires it. Our defense budget is small compared with what it will be in 1973 if the nuclear race continues, as it likely will.

Perhaps the Soviets would be willing to halt for a while, and to try and muster deterrent opinion against six other nations that are moving toward entering the nuclear nightmare.

We can only explore.

On Other Campuses

By DOREEN PADILLA
 Exchange Editor

AN EDITORIAL in the Iowa State Daily has proposed a novel way to eliminate intra-state squabbles between ISU, SUI and SCI.

Declaring that the universities have not kept pace with the move toward specialization, the editorial suggests that the athletic and academic programs be integrated and specialized.

With this contention in mind, all football would be taught at Iowa State because it is the school most responsible for teaching science.

Naturally, it would follow that since wrestling, swimming, and fencing are considered to be arts, these sports would be performed at SUI, the liberal arts school of the state.

The academic curriculum would have to be altered to conform to the new standards of specialization, but the editorial contends that this would not be a problem.

Instead it would be a positive boon to the state of Iowa. All liberal arts would be taught at SUI, all sciences would be taught at ISU, and SCI would soon die at a great savings to the taxpayer.

A Look At The Record

(Ottumwa Courier)

As appropriation bills are battered around in Washington, as taxpayers cry for less spending and tax reduction, the question of defense versus non-defense spending often arises.

George Mahon (D-Texas), chairman of the appropriations subcommittee in charge of defense appropriations, has cleared the air a bit on this subject with some facts.

July 1, 1953 — the beginning of fiscal 1954 — is taken as a starting point. From fiscal 1954 through fiscal 1961, defense spending rose 1 per cent. During the same period non-defense spending increased by 65 per cent!

Following the Berlin crisis in 1961, defense spending began to move up rather sharply. It is estimated to rise during the current fiscal year to a level of 12 per cent above fiscal 1954. And through the coming year, the fiscal year ending June 30, 1964, it will increase to a level of 18 per cent above 1954.

The comparable percentage increase for non-defense spending during the fiscal years 1963 and 1964 are 101 and 111 per cent, respectively!

In making these comparisons, the Congressman used spending figures rather than appropriation figures. And he included in defense spending not only those figures resulting from regular military functions, but expenditures for foreign military assistance, atomic energy, stockpiling, selective service, civil defense and emergency preparedness, and expansion of defense production.

All of which would seem to support the position of many in Congress that budget cuts should come with tax reduction, and that budget cuts are possible without hurting the defense effort.

Athletic Integration Asked By ISU Paper

It would not be the first time that academic policy was determined at the gymnasium, continues the editorial.

In fact, a new era can be envisioned for college athletics and academics as "coaches and professors forget their old antagonisms and march together arm in arm down the paths to those halls of ivy in the knowledge that they are taking part in the shaping of the minds and the arms and the legs of tomorrow's leaders."

STUDENTS at the University of Illinois are irate after discovering that the Champaign-Urbana taxicabs are deliberately overcharging them. A dispatcher for Yellow and Checker cab operation has stated that the taxicabs charge students a flat rate because of an informal agreement between the cab companies and the Champaign City Council.

Taxicab companies have been operating under the agreement for several years, stated the Yellow-Checker spokesman.

However, Champaign's city manager and three city councilmen denied knowledge of any such agreement.

The charging of a flat rate is contrary to the Champaign City Code, and under the Code, drivers refusing to charge the metered rate can be arrested if a complaint is signed.

The taxicab situation came to light after investigative reporting by several members of The Daily Illini staff.

THE LOS ANGELES COLLEGE reports that the City of Los Angeles recently voted down a junior college construction proposition which will put the seven junior colleges in the area in serious trouble.

The Collegian charged the citizens of not having the foresight to see the overcrowded college conditions that will plague their children very shortly.

In California, the state colleges accept only the top 12 per cent of high school graduates, which leaves the burden on junior colleges within the state.

Or So They Say

According to the Red Army newspaper, Russia is no longer spyproof! They contend we have an electronic device that can overhear conversations over 500 feet away, but are warning us that they have found a way to detect it. If these threats continue, we will sink in our heavier artillery. We have girls here who can hear conversations at twice the distance while carrying on a conversation of their own at the same time.

McKinley Stops Domination By Australians at Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Charles (Chuck) McKinley, a compact tennis missile, brought the Wimbledon men's singles crown back to the United States after a eight-year absence Friday with a 7-6, 6-1, 6-4 victory in the finals over Fred Stolle, a tall, blond bank clerk from Sydney, Australia.

McKinley, a St. Louis boy who calls Texas his home now, also broke a three-year Australian stranglehold on the title, most glittering prize in amateur tennis. And before he swept to victory he had to endure 35 minutes of battering from the power-stroking Stolle that would have willed a lesser tennis player.

Tony Trabert, the Cincinnati sailor, was the last American-born star to capture the title, although Peruvian Alex Olmedo—who played for the U.S. in the Davis Cup—won in 1959.

Trabert, now the chief spokesman for the touring pro tennis

BALTIMORE (AP)—Run-scoring singles by Rich Rollins and John Goryl with two outs in the ninth inning gave Minnesota a 7-5 victory over Baltimore in the second game of a two-night double-header Friday after the Orioles won the opener 4-3.

In the opener the Orioles rushed across all four of their runs against Ray Moore before a man was out in the first inning.

Wilson Aids Own Cause With Triple

BOSTON (AP)—Boston right-hander Earl Wilson smashed a two-run triple during a six-run outburst, then coasted to an 8-3 victory over the Chicago White Sox Friday night.

Rebounding from a doubleheader loss at Cleveland Thursday, the Red Sox duplicated their biggest inning of the year by chasing Chicago starter Dave DeBusschere with six runs in the opening frame.

Wilson caromed a tremendous drive off the top of the wall in left center, climaxing the spree in which Gary Geiger's triple and Frank Malzone's single accounted for single runs and Bob Tillman singled for two more.

Wilson, who wound up with a nine-hitter, saw his shutout bid sail out of Fenway Park on Pete Ward's 11th homer in the fourth inning. Wilson wobbled in the seventh when the White Sox scored twice but a great stab by All-Star third baseman Malzone proved a vital aid.

Ed Bressoud hit a solo homer for Boston.

Tigers 4, Athletics 3

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit added to the woes of mistake-plagued John Wyatt Friday night, pushing around the deciding run when he made two wild throws in the Tigers' 4-3 victory over the Kansas City Athletics.

Wyatt, who balked and walked across winning runs in a doubleheader defeat by Washington Thursday, let the Tigers break a 3-3 tie in the seventh on an unearned run produced without a hit.

Donovan Stops AL Leaders With 6-Hitter

CLEVELAND (AP)—Veteran right-hander Dick Donovan fired a six-hitter and chipped in with two key hits as the Cleveland Indians beat the American League-leading New York Yankees, 4-1, Friday night.

Hector Lopez' homer in the seventh inning ruined Donovan's shut-out bid.

Donovan, in gaining his sixth victory against five losses, bested all-star hurler Jim Bouton, Boston, who was relieved by Marshall Bridges after six innings, suffered his fourth loss. He has won 10.

The Tribe scored a run in the third inning on a walk, Donovan's double and Tito Francona's sacrifice fly. Cleveland added a pair of runs in the fifth. Al Luplow beat out a slow roller, Donovan singled and Luplow romped home on Mike de La Hoz' double. Donovan scored when Cleve Boyer fumbled Willie Kirkland's grounder to third.

Palmer, World Pros Defeat British in Tuneup for Open

BLACKPOOL, England (AP)—Arnold Palmer led a "rest of the world" squad to a 6-3 victory over the British Isles Friday in competition for the Prince Philip Trophy serving as a tune-up for the top players in next week's British Open golf championship.

Palmer, 33-year-old Latrobe, Pa. pro who has won the Open the last two years, was captain of a team of Americans, South Africans, Australians and New Zealanders, plus a Spaniard and a Frenchman, against the home product.

Prince Philip, husband of Queen Elizabeth II, arrived at the Blackpool North Shore course in a bright red helicopter to sponsor that one-day tournament.

The 20 players, all of them exempt from Friday's qualifying rounds for the Open, gave their services free.

The object was the raise money for Prince Philip's scheme to encourage young people in sports and the arts.

While the top players were competing here, the final 18 holes of the 36-hole qualifying rounds were played at Royal Lytham and St. Annes, where the Open will be held next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

There were 76 spots to be filled. Forty-four players were exempt. Three Americans made it. They were Herman Barron, 53-year-old senior champion from Palm Beach, Fla., Bob Marshall of Huntington Beach, Calif., and Jack Isaacs of Langley Air Force Base, Va.

The match at Blackpool was played over a nine-hole course which on two tours added up to 6,652 yards with a par of 72. It was played on a dual basis as match play, plus individual medal play.

Weetman won the individual trophy with his six-under-par 66.

The tournament proved that Palmer is worthy of his 2-1 favorite spot to win the British Open for the third straight time.

Chicago Defeats Phils, 3-2, in 11th

CHICAGO (AP)—Ernie Banks, for the second time in the past three games, scored the winning run as the Chicago Cubs captured their fifth straight, a 3-2 11-inning thriller Friday from the Philadelphia Phillies.

Banks doubled with one out in the 11th, took third on a wild pitch by loser Johnny Klippstein, and scored on Andre Rodgers' sacrifice fly to Johnny Callison.

Lindy McDaniel was credited with the victory and now is 5-2. The Phillies took a 1-0 lead in the second when Frank Torre stroked a leadoff double, took third on Clay Dalrymple's fly and scored on Dick Bertell's throwing error trying to pick him off third.

The Cubs matched this in the third on Don Landrum's double and Billy Williams' single. Ruben Amaro, a .170 hitter at the game's start, hit the second homer of his major league career and his first since 1961 leading off the fifth.

The two starting pitchers, Ray Culp and Larry Jackson, both were out of action after the Cubs pulled into a 2-2 tie with an unearned run in the eighth.

Ron Santo singled home the tying run in the eighth after Landrum reached base on an error and took second on a sacrifice.

Clemente Ruins New York, 3-1 With Home Run

NEW YORK (AP)—Roberto Clemente poked an opposite field home run into the upper right field stands with a teammate aboard in the eighth inning to snap a tie and give the Pittsburgh Pirates a 3-1 victory over the New York Mets Friday.

The victim was Tracy Stallard, who had a two-hitter until Clemente's two-out blow. The defeat, New York's eighth in succession, was the sixth for Stallard, who has won three.

Don Cardwell, the Pirates' starter and winner, registered his fifth triumph against nine losses but he needed relief help from Al McBean in the eighth.

DeGaulle Firm On Euromart Policies

BONN, Germany (AP) — French President Charles de Gaulle Friday refused to modify his policies on the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the Common Market in the interests of the new French-West German treaty of cooperation.

De Gaulle and his ministers returned by special plane to Paris after two days of consultations in Bonn, the first held under the provisions of the treaty. The next round will take place in six months.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and his government used the occasion to try to lessen the differences separating France from the United States and other Western nations. This was in line with West German support for President Kennedy's policies. No progress was made, according to available indications.

De Gaulle turned down a compromise that would have renewed contacts between the Common Market and Britain. The problem, played up here before hand as likely to be solved, was not mentioned in the final communique. It was shunted over to the Common Market Council of Ministers meeting in Brussels, Belgium July 11.

The West German hope that France would reconsider withdrawing its fleet from NATO was ignored. French spokesman Claude Lebel said at a concluding joint news conference that he had not even heard about it.

The two countries could make no progress on grain prices, a dispute blocking a unified agricultural price policy for the Common Market.

Education College 50th Anniversary To Be Celebrated

The 50th anniversary of the founding of the College of Education will be observed at SUI with a series of programs and special events, including a conference for Iowa school superintendents, beginning July 15.

The school of education was established as a college on July 15, 1914.

Wirtz Proposes Rail Truce

—Bargaining System at Stake—

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, warning that failure to reach agreement would damage free collective bargaining, proposed Friday a 2-year truce in the railroad work rules dispute.

He called on both the railroads and five operating unions to give him an answer Sunday afternoon. Both sides declined to comment pending further study of the proposal.

If they refuse, President Kennedy is expected to send legislation to Congress Monday, probably calling for compulsory arbitration of the dispute.

The railroads have given notice that they will put new work rules into effect when the present bargaining deadline is reached at midnight Wednesday. The unions repeated Friday they will go on strike when the new rules are put into effect.

"Unless this situation changes, it leaves only two possibilities: either a nationwide shutdown of the railroads or legislation," Wirtz told the negotiators during a 30-minute meeting. He added:

"You appear to accept the inevitability of these possibilities. I don't. Legislation would result inevitably in weakening free collective bargaining."

Wirtz said repeatedly that the principle of free collective bargaining in major labor disputes is on trial in the railroad work rules controversy.

At a news conference, Wirtz outlined his proposed truce. He said it embodies the human relations approach which has been successful in the steel industry and is being tried in the auto industry.

He called for both sides to accept a Presidential emergency board's recommendations on two key issues, the question of removing some 40,000 firemen from freight yard trains and the composition of non-engine crews. The presidential board proposed that only those firemen who had worked part time or who had been hired recently would be subject to dismissal. The rest would fade out by attrition, but in each case the railroad must declare the job unnecessary in refusing to hire a replacement. The union could protest, and if no agreement was reached within a specified time a neutral referee would be called in.

The board also proposed that "key" jobs representing job groupings should be designated by an arbitrator, whose decisions would set patterns for the category.
