A-Ban Pact Receives Sen. Dirksen's 'Vote'

WASHINGTON — Senator Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., said he would vote for the proposed embargo against China if the Senate clerks appeared before the Senate subcommittee on foreign relations to present its findings.

The bill, which was introduced by Senator Dirksen, would prohibit the sale of goods to China until the United States recognizes the Chinese government.

Dirksen said he would support the bill because it would prevent the United States from giving aid to the Chinese government.

Dirksen added that he would not vote for the bill if it were passed without the advice of the Senate subcommittee.

The subcommittee is expected to meet in the next few weeks to consider the bill.

Kennedy leads Goldwater for '64

IF THERE is 1964 Presidential election was today, it appears that the farm report of Iowa's population would vote for President Kennedy.

A poll by Wallace Farmer magazine indicates that the President would win by 32 per cent. Harry Goldwater would be next with 8 per cent. A third candidate, Grady Edmondson, would get 18 per cent.

Goldwater was given first choice of cooperating with Kennedy for the farmers. A total of 36 per cent voted Goldwater while 23 per cent said they would vote for Kennedy. This compares with a 9-per cent margin over Goldwater and a 33-per-cent margin over Kennedy.

The thing that seemed to hurt Goldwater was his own campaign management. Many of the farmers, courted by the magazine in that they dashed his ability to win the same seat which one held long time ago in politics.

Kennedy's biggest disadvantage in Iowa was that he is relatively unknown among the farm population. Although he garnered strong support from the farmers, they did not know anything about Kennedy.

Purposely made to be defeated to their respective parties. The poll indicated that Republican who voted for Nixon in 1960 were predicted to favor a Republican for the 1964 election while Democrats would vote for Kennedy. However, the same factors would shift to Kennedy and the per cent of the Kennedy voters indicated that they might not vote for Kennedy.

The biggest single opposition to the President was the Iowa Farm Bureau, a group whose most powerful member is the state. The majority of the Farm Bureau members, who told the magazine that they would vote for Goldwater while only 42 per cent would support Goldwater.

Finally, a female pickle is developed

NOT HAVING GIVEN the same status to women, we are often reminded of the fact that women are just being discovered as the 20th century draws to its close. Even in their own homes, women have had to drink from the same cup, to wash and to serve their own meals in the same manner as their male counterparts. It seems like a sad thing to consider, but it is only a matter of time before they all serve the same meals as their male counterparts.

To the editor-

I will make only one editorial exception in an editorial review of today's Daily Iowan. That editorial review is not an editorial review of the Daily Iowan, but an editorial review of the Iowa Farm Bureau. It is a fact that the Iowa Farm Bureau has been a leader in the fight for women's rights. It is a fact that the Iowa Farm Bureau has been a leader in the fight for equal pay for women. It is a fact that the Iowa Farm Bureau has been a leader in the fight for equal opportunity for women.

The truth, assuming you may be interested in it, is that the government of the United States has never supported the cause of women's rights. It is a fact that the government of the United States has never supported the cause of equal pay for women. It is a fact that the government of the United States has never supported the cause of equal opportunity for women.

To Policies: the dilemma of the ideal

The dilemma of the ideal is one that is not uncommon in society. It is a problem that is not only faced by individuals, but by entire societies. It is a problem that is faced by all people, no matter their race, gender, or social status.

The dilemma of the ideal can be defined as the difficulty of finding a balance between the ideal and the practical. This is because the ideal is often unattainable, while the practical is often undesirable.

The dilemma of the ideal is a problem that is faced by all people, no matter their race, gender, or social status. It is a problem that is faced by individuals, but also by entire societies. It is a problem that is faced by all people, no matter their race, gender, or social status.
