

Mansfield Urges Unity In Viet Nam

U.S. Offices Should Follow JFK's Policies, He Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield warned Friday that the U.S. effort in South Viet Nam faces disaster unless all American agencies there respond promptly to policy changes ordered by President Kennedy.

The Montana Democrat's Senate speech was a thinly veiled rebuke to the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency operations in South Viet Nam, informed sources said, for giving the impression the United States speaks with two voices in dealing with the Saigon government.

Mansfield did not mention the CIA in saying there are more than 15,000 Americans in South Viet Nam helping in the effort to avert a Communist guerrilla victory.

"UNLESS they function — all of them, mentioned and unmentioned — as a unit, in prompt response to such modifications of policies as may be laid down by the President and secretary of state, and these two leaders alone, we will suffer the gravest consequences in Viet Nam," he said.

Mansfield added that the United States must first put its own bureaucratic house in order, and if that requires "certain individuals be removed, then the sooner they are removed the better."

"We cannot control the behavior of the Viet Nam government. But if we cannot control our own official behavior, if we cannot insure that the responsible man on the spot will have prompt and full support of all others involved, we are face to face with a disaster in Viet Nam."

Mansfield said he did not matter if "his ugly inadequacy" in American administrative behavior in foreign policy takes place in Washington or in Saigon, or anywhere else.

He called for prompt and full support of the new U.S. ambassador, Henry Cabot Lodge.

The State Department said Lodge already has full authority to control the policies of all of the U.S. agencies in South Viet Nam. But officials conceded that there has been a gap between this authority and the cooperation he has received in some cases.

THE LATEST storm over U.S. policy in South Viet Nam apparently boiled down to a sharp difference within the U.S. government over the amount of aid to be given to the Viet Nam government. The President has said military assistance should continue, lest there be a collapse of President Ngo Dinh Diem's regime, but he has not ruled out selective aid cuts.

There have been reports that the CIA is continuing payments of $3 million a month to special forces which were used by Diem's brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu, to raid Buddhist temples and arrest hundreds of monks and nuns on Aug. 21. The United States, which strongly disapproved of the raids, has made no secret of its displeasure with Nhu.

Stock Market Hits All-Time Record High

NEW YORK — Churning ahead despite massive profit taking, the stock market posted further new highs in popular averages today. Trading was the week's heaviest.

By the close, the Dow Jones industrial average was up .38 to 743.60 — bettering the previous high made Thursday. Early in the afternoon, however, the Dow industrials had reached 746.13.

The buying drive was over-matched by selling in the final hour to such an extent that when the final statistics were in it was seen that more stocks declined than advanced.

Enough of the pivotal blue chips had risen, however, to push the market technically to a new high. This was confirmed by the broad Standard & Poor's 500-stock index which gained .08 at 73.30, an all-time peak for this indicator.

Stocks with huge capitalizations — General Motors, up 1/4, Jersey Standard, up 3/8, Du Pont, up 1/4 — were decisive in the market's narrow squeak to a record.

VOLUME SWELLED to 5.31 million shares from 4.08 million Thursday. The fact that the market could muster such activity despite the dampening effect of the high Jewish holidays was said by brokers to reflect increasing participation.

The fact that a relatively few number of blue chips were responsible for the advance in the averages, however, was regarded by analysts as a weak technical sign.

Of 1,319 issues traded, 544 declined and 503 advanced. New highs for the year totaled 64 and new lows 19.

The Associated Press Average of 60 stocks closed unchanged at 281.5, the historic high it posted in the previous session. Industrials lost 2, rails rose 3 and utilities dipped 3.

Red China's Test Ban Stand Criticized by Soviet Officials

MOSCOW (AP) — The Kremlin accused Red China's leaders today of treachery, hypocrisy and "complete apostasy" from the Communist line in opposing the limited nuclear test ban treaty.

At the heart of China's opposition, the statement said, is Peking's own desire to become a nuclear power.

The Soviet government said that by coming out against the banning of nuclear tests the Chinese leaders "have suffered a serious moral and political defeat" because of the worldwide approval the treaty received.

The Soviet statement, published in Moscow papers and distributed by the Soviet news agency Tass, was in reply to a Peking statement of Sept. 1 on the Russian-British-American treaty which ended nuclear testing in the atmosphere, outer space and under water.

The Soviet statement accused the Chinese leaders of "striving to acquire for themselves the atomic bomb at any price, regardless of anything."

This, said the statement, "cannot but cause serious doubts concerning the aims of the foreign policy" of the Chinese leadership. "It is a fact that they are unable to prove that this is necessary in the interests of China and of the entire Socialist Communist camp."

The Soviet statement went into the issue of whether Russia should give nuclear weapons to other Communist countries, a burning question between the Kremlin and Peking.

JFK's Moon Trip Plan Hit By Goldwater

President Gets Nice Reception Before Speech

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — President Kennedy, in an address to the General Assembly Friday, called for new U.S.-Soviet co-operation, including a joint expedition to the moon.

He also urged new efforts to ban weapons of mass destruction from outer space.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko also addressed the General Assembly and Kennedy matched the moderate, conciliatory note set by Gromyko's declaration.

Gromyko said the Kennedy speech is "conciliatory and this is good. As to the concrete proposals made in the speech, I would not prefer to comment now because I would like to study them thoroughly."

In general it was a day of East-West cordiality with Gromyko relating to Kennedy "warm personal greetings" from Premier Khrushchev. Gromyko did so at a reception given by Kennedy for all heads of U.N. delegations after his speech.

THE ONLY jarring note came from Cuba, which boycotted the speech in the assembly. Carlos Lechuga, head of the Cuban delegation, said he did not want to hear "distortions of the truth" from Kennedy in regard to the Cuban revolution.

It was also a day in which the approximately 1,500 Americans who work for the United Nations got a warm pat on the back from the President. Most foreign dignitaries visiting the United Nations take time out to greet their nationals working for the organization, but this was the first time for a U.S. president to do so.

The American employees filed into the assembly hall to hear Kennedy praise their loyalty to the United States and "in a sense their higher loyalty" to the international organization.

In his 37-minute speech, Kennedy made no direct reference to Gromyko's proposal for an 18-nation summit conference on disarmament next year with Moscow as a possible site.

BARRY GOLDWATER
More to Come?

PRESIDENT KENNEDY
Another Soviet-U.S. Plan

President's U.N. Offer 'A Waste'

GOP Hopeful Wants Soviet Indications Of Honesty, Faith

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., Friday night termed President Kennedy's proposed Soviet-American moon expedition "a terrible waste of money."

Goldwater made the comment at a news conference prior to addressing a $100-a-plate fund raising dinner of the New Jersey Republican Finance Committee.

He said he would want more indications of honesty and faith from the Soviet Union before such a project were undertaken. The money could be better spent, he said, in a study of oceans to determine what food, water and other benefits they could provide.

THE PRESIDENT, in his address to the United Nations session earlier Friday, had suggested the Soviet-American space venture as a symbol of new cooperation.

Goldwater, in his speech here, lit into President Kennedy as "a president who lures votes by asking a tax cut while stubbornly courting economic disaster through refusal to cut spending."

Goldwater said also that "crumbling alliances and diminishing leadership in the world are the hallmarks of the present administration, as it fights with friends and fawns on enemies."

In a speech to the New Jersey Republican Finance Committee, Goldwater also appealed for GOP unity in support of party principles and candidates.

Goldwater said Republican fund raisers are encouraging "the best, the soundest investment any American can make in his future — an investment in sound government and its essential corollary, the election of Republican candidates to public office."

GOLDWATER, a potential GOP presidential candidate next year, described the Republican Party as now the most truly national party in the nation's history.

He contrasted it with what he termed "the declining vitality of that strangest creature in all politics, the mutation that has resulted from the marriage of big-city Democrat political bosses to ivory-tower Democrat social reformers."

He rejected contentions that "the Republican Party becomes a racist party" by recognizing its growing strength in the South.

"What utter and dangerous nonsense," Goldwater said. "It is not the racist South that has given the Republican Party new victories and new vigor in the South. That's the Democratic South. The Republican South is the growing industrial South, the bustling urban South, the studious, learning, and achieving South."

Knowland Backs Sen. Goldwater

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Former Sen. William F. Knowland Friday urged Sen. Barry Goldwater's entry into California's 1964 Republican primary.

He said Goldwater would defeat a slate pledged to New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller by upwards of 500,000 votes and any other delegation by a great deal more.

Knowland's statement, at a news conference, followed his selection by Goldwater as one of the leaders of a 23-man committee to advise the Arizona senator whether he should get into the California primary next June.

ONE ON THE MAYOR — SAN LEANDRO, Calif. (AP) — Mayor Jack Maltester waited 20 minutes for the WALK sign at a crossing, then asked the city staff to check the sign. The report said "the signal operates only when the pedestrian presses the button."

Ex-Pro Gridder Chuck Conerly Linked to Hood

NEW YORK (AP) — Commissioner Pete Rozelle's office is "assembling all the facts" on several checks written by Maurice L. Lewis, Memphis developer, and cashed by Charles Chuck Conerly, former star quarterback of the New York Giants, a member of the National Football League.

Conerly, contacted while on a dove hunting trip, said he was "almost sure" he still had two canceled checks made out to Lewis and a scribbled IOU note to prove that Lewis' checks made out to him were payments of loans.

The long-time Giant quarterback said he would "gladly release the papers" to prove his contentions.

Lewis was indicted Jan. 8 by the Shelby County Tennessee grand jury on football gambling charges and is awaiting trial.

The Memphis Press-Scimitar, in a copyright story written by James J. White, revealed Friday that five checks endorsed by Conerly and totaling $9,575, were produced at Lewis' recent bankruptcy hearing. It said one of the checks for $3,500 was dated Nov. 6, 1961, while Conerly still was with the Giants.

Conerly retired in February, 1962 after playing his last game for the Giants Dec. 31, 1961 in the title game at Green Bay.

GOP Tax Boss Blasts Kennedy Tax Cut Policy on Television

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress would be "playing Russian roulette with our destiny" if it cut taxes without requiring spending control, the chief Republican spokesman on tax matters said Friday night.

Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin led off the Republican reply to President Kennedy's plea on radio and television last Wednesday for quick enactment of his $11-billion tax cut program without limiting amendments.

Byrnes said the Kennedy administration "is taking an unprecedented gamble with the entire economic system of the United States" by betting that a tax cut while the budget is out of balance will produce economic growth "far beyond any we have ever before achieved."

"If this long shot does not come through," he said, "what surely lies ahead is an unending parade of huge deficits."

BYRNES' SPEECH was broadcast over the ABC and CBS television and radio networks and the Mutual radio network.

He argued that the limitations he would write into the measure "will not delay the bill a single day nor change the size or the nature of the tax cut."

Byrnes is senior Republican and the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee. He is proposing that the tax legislation contain a provision voiding the cut unless the President submits spending plans for not more than $97 billion during the fiscal year that started July 1 and $98 billion the next year.

This would mean a cut of about $1 billion this year under present spending levels and probably several billion under those expected next year. The limit would not produce a balanced budget, but Republicans say it would reduce the deficit.

Byrnes said these are "comfor-

Paladin's Face Cut After Auto Accident

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor Richard Boone — Paladin of television's "Have Gun, Will Travel" — suffered face cuts and a rib injury Friday when his sports roadster struck a parked car at 4 a.m., police reported.

Reports from the scene indicated the actor's head crashed through the windshield, bits of glass were embedded in his face. His crest broke the steering wheel, police said.

The actor was taken to St. John's Hospital in Santa Monica, where his condition was described as not serious. Police earlier had said it was.

After the crash, Boone, 46, walked a block to his home in coastal Pacific Palisades. His wife called a doctor. X-rays showed no broken bones. Boone suffered multiple but minor abrasions and lacerations of the face. Boone's spokesman said no plastic surgery will be necessary. Officers estimated damage to Boone's Maserati at $3,000.

And now the work begins

THE FIRST TWO DAYS of classes are finished and now the work begins.

At least that is the way things go in most of the classes in this University. The first day of class is usually devoted merely to the professor writing his name on the board, handing out assignments and reciting the names and authors of the books to be used in the course.

This process definitely makes the students happy and probably also the professors — both of which probably are not quite ready for the long strenuous term ahead.

However, this process is a foolish waste of time. With overcrowded classrooms, a minimum number of faculty members and the large amounts of money spent to secure a college degree, it seems that these two days of each semester could be used for a far better purpose than the clerical work that now takes place.

Although few students would admit it, these two days are actually bad for them. The student — not being ready for the academic year — probably tends to develop an apathetic attitude towards the course. Also, this process does not impress upon the incoming freshman the urgency of their academic pursuits.

Student Senate President Mike Carver has suggested a solution to this problem. He has suggested that students be given assignments for the first day of class at registration and thus the professor wouldn't feel bound to follow the normal procedure.

This suggestion shows sound thinking and an extreme interest in the academic pursuits by Carver. This is a suggestion that should not just die at this point. The colleges of the University should undertake to study this type of procedure to find the merits and disadvantages to such a system.

Final study would probably show that Carver's suggestion merits implementation. At least, it is the most sensible solution — to an extremely foolish problem — that has been offered so far.

The AMA's words against the weed

IF YOU'RE A SMOKER, you've no doubt already been deluged with reasons why you should give the nasty weed up. The American Medical Association now informs us of one more alarming piece of evidence against the habit.

Actually, the results of this latest bit of nicotine research shouldn't be a surprise to any athlete, past or present. The report of the AMA's Committee on Medical Aspects of Sports reveals that smokers don't breathe as well as non-smokers.

That is the same admonition that high school and college coaches give their athletic charges — although most athletes break training occasionally and light up, suspecting that their coach himself smokes some on the sly.

Statistically, the AMA's warning is more frightening than the coaches' advice. The committee discovered that ten inhalations of cigarette smoke can reduce airway conductance to the lungs as much as 50 per cent for as long as an hour.

"There is no longer any room for doubt," concludes the AMA, "that athletes should not smoke."

Of course there never really was any doubt — for athletes or non athletes. Trouble is, that knowledge doesn't seem to stop us.

Gotta match?

From other campuses Most colleges have problems in common

By JON VAN

As fall activity resumes at SUI, slowly at first through the long lines at registration, and then at the ever quickening pace of classes and examinations, football and frivolity, rules and regulations, we find we are not alone.

On campuses across the nation students stand in similar registration lines, administrators struggle with new IBM systems, construction is racing with record enrollments, and everyone prepares for another big year.

Every school faces certain problems typical only to its campus, but most schools have certain problems in common.

THE UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS, for example, has changed its policy regarding women's hours. According to The Daily Texan the southern belles will now be permitted to ring until 11:30 p.m. during the week and 1 a.m. on weekends.

This is a half-hour extension for week nights and 15 minutes for weekends. Strangely enough no student petition or request brought on the change. According to UT officials the change was made "to give the women more time to study."

A poll of freshman women taken last year showed they did not favor later hours.

EVEN NOW the coeds don't seem to be too excited about the change; one remarked, "It's okay if you have a date with someone you like, but if you don't — well."

Perhaps a poll of SUI coeds would be in order to see if they are satisfied with present regulations. Suppose it would depend on the quality of males with time to date.

SUI's sister school in Ames has canceled a football game between the men and the coeds, the Iowa State Daily announced earlier this week.

The official reason, as stated by the MRA intramurals chairman was "to protect the boys". He claims ISU girls are too big. How did those girls trick the men into agreeing to such a thing in the first place? Wonder if the men there would favor shortening women's hours?

AND FINALLY from the University of Wisconsin the Daily Cardinal reports that some changes in Wisconsin law mean new rules in dispensing beer on campus.

To be sure, beer will still be sold in the Union and in the residence halls, but now if students under 21 wish to take beer from the premises where it has been sold, they must be in the presence of an adult.

It is difficult for students at Iowa, no doubt, to understand how beer and liquor laws in Wisconsin can be so strict and so complicated, but not all states can have the clear and intelligent laws which ours enjoys.

'God only knows why'

By RALPH MCGILL

Scott Leonard Rush, aged 31, an army photographer who was captured in Korea in November 1950, has left Communist China for his home country. His Chinese wife and son accompany him. He was one of "21 Who Stayed" when, in January 1954, prisoners were exchanged as a part of the Korean armistice agreement.

Of these 21, five remain in China. One is dead. The others have returned, coming back out of what has been a sort of death to the world, to face American television and to answer the questions of reporters. Here and there protests have been made about the reception of these men. The spectacle of traitors, of men who chose Communism and then abandoned it, being so received has been criticized in the Congress, by organized groups and individuals.

THIS IS UNDERSTANDABLE, even though during the sick years of the period we now call McCarthyism any ex-Communist was glorified and became hero to some. But it is quite possible that these men, coming out of the vast mystery of Communist China, are the most valuable ex-followers of Communism we have.

Scott Rush was 17 years old when he enlisted. He was frail, small. His nickname was "Pee-wee." He was 22 when, in 1954, he climbed into the truck with the 20 others and began the long journey to Red China.

Today he is 31 years old. What does he say to the questions?

"I MADE A FOOLISH mistake. I was pretty young. God only knows why I chose to go. During the three years in prison camp I had it pumped into me that communism was this and that and that we would have a better chance to travel and work and see the country. . . I was young and curious — and foolish."

What did he see: "In all the bad times of the '50s years at home living conditions in the United States were never as bad as they are in China," he said. The food situation was very, very bad in 1958, 1959 and 1960. Grain was rationed and meat was not available. "That was hell," he remarked simply, "real hell." His first child died for want of proper medical care. He now has a 15-month-old daughter. His wife, he said, is a real asset. He plans to live on the West Coast, where an Oriental wife is not an oddity.

In China he worked as a lathe operator in a textile plant. He said industrial development came "almost to a standstill" with the departure of Russian technicians from China. In his own textile factory, he stated, production varied from day to day, and on some days no raw materials were available and work ceased.

The Chinese people, he said, now referred to Soviet citizens as "Russian Devils".

When Rush was 15 his parents moved away from their home city and left him and a younger brother behind. The brother was put in a Catholic school. The University claims an all-time high for enrollment. The all-time high enrollment claims a record low for parking spaces.

A University of Nebraska doctor says that watching an exciting football game can do things to the heart. According to the pollsters, any strain on SUIovans will be the result of the action in the stands . . . not on the field.

The SUI version of "She loves me, she loves me not" . . . Take both your student numbers, add them together, and divide by four. If the remainder is an even number, you belong together.

The status symbol at SUI used to be a new convertible . . . Now it's a parking permit for the new garage.

THOUGHT FOR THE MONTH: If you're tempted to buy a drink for that pretty unescorted blonde . . . don't!!! . . . She may be a state liquor enforcement agent.

Can't be fooled

NEW YORK — Unless Kenneth C. Royall has changed in recent years, those who will deal with him in his new role of presidential mediator of Alabama racial tensions will face a man who won't be "sold a bill of goods."

Such a description was given of him more than a decade ago by those who worked under his administration as secretary of the Army.

His colleagues then described the 6-foot-5, 240-pounder as a man who looked on everything with suspicion and rested the burden of proof on the shoulders of all who were trying to sell him on an idea.

Royall's appointment by President Kennedy to a two-man public committee to work with white and Negro leaders to ease racial tensions in Birmingham, Ala., will take the 58-year-old attorney from his law practice. It also will take him back to his native Southland.

A native of Goldsboro, N. C., he served a term in the North Carolina State Senate.

Intimates said that behind his brusque, even aggressive business manner lies the courtesy, warmth and humor of a Southern gentleman.

Council Ponders Fate Of Southwest By-Pass

No date has been set for the City Council to take action on the west by-pass of Interstate 80 while a city official has asked for a decision soon.

Progress was stalled Thursday after sharp disagreement among councilmen over the location of the route. The Council was meeting with the Planning and Zoning Commission at that time.

City Manager Carsten D. Leikvold said Friday night that the matter probably will not come up before the Council before the next regular meeting, Oct. 1.

Earlier Allan R. Vestal, chairman of the commission, said the issue must be decided soon. The route proposed by the Iowa Highway Commission was questioned by both councilmen Max Yocum and William K. Maas. They called for a more southerly location.

It was felt by the Planning and Zoning Commission and other members of the council that the routing advanced by the Highway Commission two weeks ago was as far south as the agency would be willing to go.

According to the current proposal, the by-pass would begin on Highway 1 west, about a quarter-mile west of Miller Avenue, at the point where the highway bends sharply to the southwest. It would continue southwesterly for a short distance and then curve northwesterly to cross the Rohret Road (Benton Street extended) west of Sunset Street and the Coralville cutoff just north of its intersection with the Rohret Road.

Then the by-pass would continue due west about a half-mile south of the Iowa-Williamsburg-Victor after sharp disagreement among

Road to the middle of Section 13, Union Township, where it would go due north to meet the present Highway 6-218 junction west of Coralville.

Highway Commission's plans would have located the by-pass about 700 feet north of the present proposals' location at the point of greatest variation. By this plan the by-pass would have gone due west from Highway 1 at about Miller Avenue, then northeasterly.

The planning and zoning commission endorses the proposed route and feels that a decision on it is "a matter of great urgency."

Vestal stated that the by-pass would serve traffic within Iowa City and would be an aid to the development of the area. He said, "We're going to have to have a by-pass. Should we go ahead with something we may get in the next five years or wait for 25?"

Maas did not agree that the by-pass would aid development in its present location. He did agree that the by-pass is needed and that the question is one of location. However, he urged a route a quarter-mile south of the highway commission proposal.

Vestal said it is probable that the Highway Commission will simply abandon any plan for a west by-pass here if the city does not go along with the proposed routing.

Mayor Fred H. Doderer and Councilman William C. Hubbard agreed with Vestal's conclusion.

In Indonesia, Sukarno Says—

Won't Seize British Firms

LONDON — Britain received with uneasy reserve Friday a pledge by President Sukarno's Government to avoid nationalizing any of the $450 million worth of British industries and enterprises in Indonesia.

In an atmosphere still clouded by the anti-Malaysian rioting in Jakarta on Wednesday, the British Government made known its dissatisfaction with this response to its demand for a clear-cut definition of Indonesian policy toward British investments.

Indonesian Ambassador Burhanudin Mohamad Diah presented Foreign Secretary Lord Home a note making these points:

• There is no intention on Indonesia's part of nationalizing the British enterprises operating in Indonesia, including the Shell Oil Co.

• Several British properties taken over by labor unions have been placed "under the protective supervision" of the Government to insure output goes on.

There were references in this decree, British officials said, to "the former management" of seized enterprises. And it included orders to prevent new seizures except on Sukarno's own say-so.

All this raised a question among British authorities as to whether the British stake might go the same way as Dutch plantations and factories went in Indonesia six years ago. They were all confiscated and no compensation was paid.

A senior British official commented that the Indonesian note and decree contain certain ambiguities which would foreshadow difficulties.

Lord Home intends to take up these issues with Indonesian Foreign Minister Dr. Subandrio in New York next week. Both will be attending the U.N. General Assembly.

The crisis in Britain's relations with Indonesia burst Monday when the federation of Malaysia was created of four former British colonies.

Sukarno denounced Malaysia as British imperialism in a new guise threatening Indonesian security.

British investments in Indonesia are wide-ranging.

The biggest single outfit is Shell, which has two refineries. The company payroll includes 20,000 Indonesians.

Other assets include rubber, coffee, tea and palm plantations, several medium-sized factories and banking and insurance houses.

Homecoming Monument Takes Form

Work on the traditional Homecoming monument is now in progress at SUJ as engineering students ready the prefabricated parts for assembly Oct. 6, five days before Homecoming weekend.

When the monument is completed on the west approach to Old Capitol, an estimated 750 hours donated by the students will have gone into its construction.

This year's winning design idea, submitted by Darrel Roegler, West Branch, a laboratory technician in the SUJ Department of Zoology, calls for a 30-foot ear of corn, built in the shape of a rocket. As entered at the annual competition held last spring, Roegler's design idea along with the theme, "Iowa — Top of the Big Ten in Research and Education."

From this sketch, engineering students made blueprints and working drawings of the monument, spending some 150 hours of their own time during the summer months on details of construction. A model of Herky the Hawk ten feet across and seven to eight feet high, will be perched atop the rocket. Numerals from one to ten will be painted on the side of the rocket to signify a "countdown," and a series of lights operated in sequence to illuminate the "countdown." Jerry E. Burns, A4, Mount Pleasant is co-chairman of the Homecoming monument subcommittee.

This year's monument will be the fiftieth in the history of the Homecoming event.

Debate Team Meets Tuesday

A meeting for SUJ students interested in debate and forensic activities will be held Tuesday, October 1 at 7:30 p.m. in Room 7, Schaeffer Hall.

Michael Osborn, instructor in speech and forensic director, has announced that the program is open to all SUJ students, regardless of previous speaking experience. The program's interest is to develop debating ability among students and to provide a forensics outlet and advanced training for students with experience.

This year's national debating proposition is: "Resolved, That the Federal Government Should Guarantee an Opportunity for Higher Education to All Qualified High School Graduates."

Among activities planned for this year are the International Debate with Cambridge University on Oct. 28 and the annual SUJ Intercollegiate Forensic Conference on Dec. 13-14. SUJ debaters and speakers also will attend a speaking conference in early November, and additional conferences in February and April.

Use Two Satellites To Beam JFK Talk

WASHINGTON — Two communications satellites were used Friday to carry to Europe and Africa President Kennedy's address to the U.N. General Assembly.

The speech was beamed to European television viewers by Telstar while the U.S. Information Agency used the satellite Syncom to carry the President's speech to Nigeria.

LONDON — Britain and the United States will cooperate on a meteorological research satellite, officials announced. No date has been set for the launching.

Group To Halt Merger Of Rock Island, UP

CHICAGO — The Chicago & North Western Railway said Friday it has agreed to help finance a group of stockholders of the Rock Island Lines who oppose the Rock Island's proposed merger with the Union Pacific Railroad.

The eight dissident stockholders support the Northwestern's offer to buy control of the Rock Island.

The Rock Island railroad tracks run through Iowa City.

Chairman Ben Heineman of the North Western said the carrier will share in the expenses incurred by the dissidents. Another spokesman for the North Western said the line has a "community of interest" with the group.

The North Western would not say to what extent it would limit its financial help for the group.

Navy Needs 400 Officers To Aid Force

WASHINGTON — Wanted: 400 more seasoned officers for the growing nuclear Navy.

The Navy said Friday it has embarked on a program to get that many more sea-experienced officers for its nuclear power training program during the next two years.

Most would see service in submarines, but some would be aboard atomic-powered surface warships.

The Navy announcement came at a time when the Defense Department is considering whether to change plans and build a new supercarrier with an atomic power plant rather than conventional fuel under the plan approved earlier.

The Navy has taken a new look at the possibility of more surface ships run by atomic power. It has developed what it claims is a cheaper atomic power plant.

The current U.S. atomic submarine fleet totals 30 boats. The United States will have nearly 80 atomic subs within a few years.

The small navy atomic surface force includes the mammoth carrier Enterprise, the cruiser Long Beach and the frigate Bainbridge. A fourth vessel, the frigate Truxtun, is under construction.

The Navy said a selection board recently sifted the records of all experienced line officers except naval aviators in search of qualified candidate for nuclear power training.

The search was confined to men in ranks from lieutenant junior grade through lieutenant commander.

FRENCH SIGNS— QUEBEC — Tourist signs at Quebec border points will be in French hereafter to enhance the French atmosphere in the province, a government spokesman said.

Patrolmen Foil Robbery At Dubuque

DUBUQUE — A South Carolina teen-ager was arrested after a high-speed chase northwest of here Friday and is being held for an armed robbery at a Dubuque motel.

Captured was Douglas Mardis, 17, of Greenville, S. C., who reportedly is wanted in South Carolina in connection with the shooting of a teen-age girl.

Deputy Sheriff Joe Olinger said Mardis escaped with $93 from the Sista Motel about 1 p.m. and fled in his car. He was captured about 25 miles northwest of here on Highway 52 after State Highway Patrolmen Virgil Stammeyer and E. H. Schaeffer forced him off the highway with their cars.

Olinger said the stocky youth is being held in the county jail and probably would be charged with armed robbery Saturday. Local authorities also plan to contact South Carolina officers to find out what charges are pending against the youth there.

Madis got the money at the motel by pulling a .32 caliber pistol on the motel operator, Mrs. Maurice Germain, when she opened the cash drawer to make change for the youth, Olinger said.

He pushed Mrs. Germain into a basement stairway and then fled with the money, Olinger said. Mrs. Germain called the sheriff's office and officers in the area were alerted. The two patrolmen quickly spotted Mardis' car.

Mardis surrendered quietly after his car was forced off the road, Olinger said.

Revise Critical Report on Enovid, Oral Contraceptive

WASHINGTON — An advisory committee has revised its critical findings concerning the use of the oral contraceptive drug Enovid.

This eliminates a statement that there was a statistically significant increase in risk of certain circulatory disorders in women 35 years of age or over who were taking Enovid.

The Food and Drug Administration made the new report public Friday terming it "final report on Enovid." There had been no indication previously that a report made public Aug. 4 was not a final and conclusive one.

The advisory committee of medical experts was appointed to study the relationship between consumption of Enovid and the occurrence of circulatory disorders such as thrombophlebitis and pulmonary embolism.

The FDA said further statistical evaluation by the committee has indicated that a higher rate of fatalities due to thromboembolism observed in Enovid users 35 years of age or over is not "statistically significant."

Informed sources said a mathematical error was responsible for exaggerating the drug's apparent hazards in the first report.

7 SUJowans To Attend National 'Rec' Congress

Three faculty members and four students at SUJ will attend the National Recreation Congress Sept. 29-Oct. 3 in St. Louis.

Betty VanderSmissem, professor Jean Loveland, instructor in women's physical education, and Elmer A. Scholer, associate professor of men's physical education, will represent the SUJ faculty.

Students to attend the St. Louis meetings are Kay Clifton, G, Dallas City, Ill.; Mrs. Freda Shannon, G, Chicago, Ill.; Jane Hawkins, A4, Mount Pleasant, and Jerry Olson, A4, Pocatontos.

Professor VanderSmissem will present a talk during a session on "Evaluation of Recreation Programs," and will be one of two speakers during the program on "Legal Liability." She also will be a panel member on the topic, "Directions of Research in Recreation."

Proceeding the Congress, which is a combined meeting of the American Recreation Society and the National Recreation Association, she will attend the ARS Administrative Council meeting in St. Louis.

Professor VanderSmissem is national chairman on professional development for the council which is the national legislative body for professional recreation people.

Professor Scholer, also a member of the council and of the National Advisory Council of the National Recreation Association, will chair a program on "Communication with International Visitors."

Before the St. Louis meeting, he will attend the National Conference on Problems of Rural Youth in a Changing Environment at Oklahoma State University, Stillwater, Okla., Sept. 22-25.

Quints Weigh 2-4 Pounds

ABERDEEN, S.D. — The lively, noisy Fischer quintuplets got their first weigh-in Friday. The heaviest weighed 3 pounds, 13 ounces and the smallest 2 1/2 pounds.

The babies, born to Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Fischer, will be one week old Saturday.

As expected, the lone boy, James Andrew, weighed the most. The smallest was the first-born Mary Ann.

Mary Magdalene and Mary Catherine, second- and third-born, weighed 3 pounds even. Mary Margaret, the last born weighed 3 pounds, 5 ounces.

They total up to 15 pounds, 10 ounces.

Dr. James Berbos, the family physician who delivered the quintuplets, said they are getting stronger.

The four daughters and son, born to the 30-year-old Mrs. Fischer each now get a heavier dose of milk formula and water, although they appear not to have gained back their original birth weight. Premature infants as well as full-term babies generally lose a little weight shortly after birth and gain it back later.

The quintuplets are still fed through tubes.

Dr. Berbos said Mrs. Fischer will leave the hospital Monday.

She will be able to do some housework, he said, although will require assistance in her home.

Meanwhile, Fischer's attorneys announced arrangements on behalf of the Fischers for the First National Bank of Aberdeen to act as guardian of the estates of all 10 Fischer children. The couple already had four girls and a boy.

Airlines Probe Cut In Atlantic Fares

SALZBURG, Austria — The world's major airlines have been unable to agree on whether to slash air fares across the North Atlantic. They decided Friday to meet again in Salzburg, Austria, Oct. 22, for a last-ditch attempt at agreement.

Pan American World Airways has led the fight for cuts up to 40 per cent in tourist-class fares. Pan American was backed by TransCanada, Italy's Alitalia and Pakistan International Airlines.

These airlines believe the cut would fill empty seats across the North Atlantic.

However, the other major American overseas air carriers, Trans World Airlines, joined the majority of European carriers in opposing sharp reductions, favoring instead seasonal and other promotional cuts.

Black Team Wins Scrimmage—

Burns: Running, Timing, Blocking Good at Times

By HARRIETT HINDMAN
Sports Editor

Iowa Coach Jerry Burns had "mixed feelings" Saturday after the Hawkeyes' final game-type scrimmage before the opener, in which the Black Team (No. 1 and No. 2 units) defeated the White Team, 38-6.

"I was pleased at times with the running and thought the timing was better and the blocking pretty good," the Iowa coach said. "I was disappointed in the pass rush and the way the third team moved the ball against the first unit."

Craig Nourse, 175-pound sophomore halfback from Flint, Mich., stole the show for both teams. Nourse, who is currently listed as the No. 3 left half, started for the White team and ran in a fashion reminiscent of the days of 1960 All-America halfback Larry Ferguson. By the time the game had progressed to midway in the third quarter, Nourse had intercepted one of the Black's passes on his own goal line, ran it back 85 yards, scored a touchdown for the whites, and earned a Black jersey.

That still didn't satisfy Nourse as he also scored a touchdown for the Blacks going 15 yards after taking a pass from Gary Snook.

Burns commented, "I'm impressed with Nourse. He's not as stocky as Fergy, but he has quick feet. However, his inexperience still makes for mistakes."

Nourse will alternate with Gary Simpson at the No. 2 left halfback spot, as Burns and his coaching staff concentrate on the top two teams in the final week of practice before meeting Washington State.

JAY ROBERTS opened the scoring in Friday's scrimmage with a 29-yard field goal in the first quarter. Nourse's interception followed by his six yard run into the end zone gave the Whites a 6-3 margin at the end of the first quarter.

As the second period began, the Blacks staged an 80-yard drive to pay dirt, with the longest gain in the series a 38-yard run by fullback Bobby Grier, who concluded the effort with a six-yard run for the touchdown.

Gary Snook, No. 2 quarterback, led the Hawks on a drive starting from the White's 46-yard line, and scored on a quarterback sneak from the two with 25 seconds remaining in the half, giving the Blacks a 17-6 lead at intermission.

COMING BACK in the third quarter, the Whites took the kickoff, and after Nourse returned the kick to the 30, embarked upon a 55-yard drive which the Blacks stopped on their own 15-yard line. Two passes from Rick Hendryx to Dave Long, one for 23 yards and the other for 16, sparked the White effort.

Taking over on their own 15, the Black marched 85 yards in eleven plays to score on No. 1 left halfback Bob Sherman's six-yard run as the third quarter ended with the scoreboard reading 24-6.

IN THE FINAL period, Nourse scored a touchdown for the Black at the end of a 35-yard drive and Gary Snook went in for his second score of the day on a quarterback sneak from the one with 26 seconds remaining in the contest.

Roberts again had a perfect day, kicking all of the Black teams conversions.

The Hawkeyes will have a light workout in sweat clothes this morning and view the Washington Air Force game on television this afternoon. Iowa plays Washington at Seattle Oct. 5.

Braves' Shift Almost Certain

Milwaukee's Hope—New TV Contract

CINCINNATI (AP) — Unless Milwaukee civic and government officials guarantee a new radio and television contract that would at least double the current $600,000 annual revenue to the club, the once-fabulous Braves franchise is a virtual certainty to be transferred to Atlanta before the start of the 1964 baseball season.

A source close to the Braves' inner sanctum said this to The Associated Press Friday.

"While no definite commitment has been made to the Atlanta delegation, only a complete change of heart, which is very unlikely at from moving to Atlanta for next season."

In addition to the fact that the Braves officials have been sold on the idea that Atlanta is the fastest growing metropolis in the country, the big lure is a radio and television network deal involving 32 states that would provide the club with a revenue of $1.5 million annually for the first five years.

"I don't see how the Braves can turn down that offer," the source said. "I don't see how Milwaukee can match that."

"IT IS IMPOSSIBLE for the city of Milwaukee to better the present TV deal," the source said. "Because of territorial rights, the Braves cannot operate a network that would extend further south than Chicago or further north than Minneapolis. That means their only avenues are east and west, and the people on the other side of Lake Michigan are not interested in the Braves."

While the identity of the would-be Braves sponsors in Atlanta has not yet been definitely established there have been reports that Coca Cola, American Tobacco and Phillips Oil are interested.

College Grid Season Opens

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Roger Staubach and his ninth-ranked Navy teammates apparently are in for the roughest going in the full list of pre-season favorites who launch their college football schedules today.

Although rated a single touchdown pick on the strength of their lightning speed and the presence of the talented Mr. Staubach, the Midshipmen face a bull of a team at Morgantown, W. Va., in the Mountaineers.

Washington plays the Air Force at Colorado Springs, Colo., in the game which will be offered on national TV screens.

The kickoff is 2:30 p.m. CST (CBS-TV).

Southern California, unbeaten last year and a solid choice to repeat as national college champion, plays at Colorado, Mississippi, No. 2, is at Memphis State; Alabama, No. 3, at Georgia; Oklahoma, No. 4, host to Clemson; Northwestern, No. 6, at Missouri; Wisconsin, No. 7, host to Western Michigan, and Arkansas, No. 8, host in a night game to Oklahoma State.

Outside of Navy, Oklahoma and Northwestern seem to face the greatest danger of an upset, although both are favored.

In Clemson, Bud Wilkinson's Sooners are meeting one of the best teams on the eastern seaboard, a club that could go on to the Atlantic Coast title. Missouri is no set-up for Northwestern, although the Wildcats' quarterback Tom Myers is expected to bring them through.

Rudolph Leads At Halfway Point Of Portland Open

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Steady Mason Rudolph, who has been out of the money in only one tournament this year, took the lead at the halfway point of the Portland Open Golf Tournament Friday.

He cut eight strokes off par in Friday's round for a two-day total of 69-64-133, which put him 11 strokes under par and three under his nearest competitor.

He had nines of 33-31-64 on the par 36-36-72 Columbia-Edgewater Country Club course.

Three players were deadlocked at 136, three strokes behind Rudolph. They were George Knudson of Toronto, Tom Jacobs of Bermuda Dunes, Calif. and Dave Hill of Evergreen, Colo.

There were three more at 137, five at 138 and four at 139, including the defending champion Jack Nicklaus, who got his big game going for a 67.

son is over," said Bartholomay.

CIVIC OFFICIALS, alarmed by the prospect of losing the Braves, are attempting to start a campaign to keep the club in Milwaukee.

They have assigned themselves a task that would include the advance sale of at least 9,000 season tickets and the closing of a radio-television rights package that would be worth $1.25 million to the Braves.

The Braves, whose attendance spiraled to 2,215,404 when they won their first pennant in 1957, drew only 766,027 in the fifth-place finish last year. This season, with an advance sale of only 3,000 tickets, they are not expected to top last year's attendance figure significantly although they have had a much more interesting team.

The biggest obstacle in the way of franchise shift, said a member of the Braves' official family, is the condition and inadequacy of the Atlanta playing site.

If the Braves moved into Atlanta next year, they would have to play in Ponce de Leon Park, current home of the Atlanta International League club. A new stadium which first met with Milwaukee club officials in Cleveland during the All-Star game in July and again in Milwaukee several weeks later.

"The club's owners will sit down to discuss the future when the sea-

Schaaf to Gough Passes Give Hawklets 14-0 Win

A pair of touchdown strikes from quarterback Bob Schaaf to John Gough gave City High a 14-0 win over the Clinton River Kings here Friday night.

After a scoreless first quarter, Clinton gambled on a 4-1 on their own 26-yard line and failed. A personal foul against the Kings gave City High the ball on the Clinton 14, and Schaaf hit Gough with 2:05 Captain Rod Kodros made the first of two extra points.

The Little Hawks scored again in the third quarter moving the ball 67 yards in 11 plays. Dan Shapira led the way with 29 yards on two carries while Schaaf hit Fough for a 21-yarded and Dale Shaffer carried three times for 13 yards. The Schaaf to Gough combination hit pay dirt again with 3:19 remaining in the third quarter.

The fourth quarter was all City High and the game ended on a pass from Tom Cilek to Shapira covering 19 yards to the Clinton eight as the horn sounded.

City High had a total of 199 yards rushing to Clinton's 52, and struck for 101 yards through the air to the River Kings' 55.

The Hawklets collected 20 first downs to four for Clinton, with the River Kings getting only one first down in the first half.

Shrader Paces Regina Past Prairie, 13-0

Regina scored a 13-0 victory over Prairie of Cedar Rapids Friday night for its first win of the 1963 season under new coach Bernie Wyatt, former defensive back of the Iowa Hawkeyes.

Fullback Bernie Shrader scored both of the Regals' touchdowns, as he took a pass from John Wombacher and went 40 yards for one tally, and then bolted in from the one for the second touchdown with the extra point kicked by Joe Loria.

Wyatt cited Mike Hurley as doing a fine job of offensive running for Regina, and Dan Delaney, John Miller and Mike Milder for "playing outstanding defense."

Johnson, Ellis Standouts in U-High Victory

U-High defeated Solon, 13-0, Friday night for their second victory of the season after defeating Mid-Prairie in the opener last week.

Skip Johnson, quarterback for the Blues, scored the first touchdown on a two-yard plunge. The second score was made by sophomore star Ron Ellis who scored from three yards out. Don Dever kicked the extra point.

Coach Gary Hansen said Johnson played an outstanding game at the signal-calling position, and Joel Michaelson played a good defensive game.

Here's How SUI's New Pharmacy Building Will Operate

(The College of Pharmacy has a new building. Services of the college are being consolidated in the headquarters. In this, the final part of a series, the services and equipment of the College are explained.)

All except two of the Pharmaceutical Services of the College of Pharmacy now are housed on the ground floor of the new five-story SUI Pharmacy Building, where classes of the regular academic year are meeting for the first time this month.

Services now in the new building include the Pharmaceutical Manufacturing, Sterile Products, Aerosol, and Allergy Extracts Laboratories and the administrative section of the services. The Hospital Pharmacy still is located in University General Hospital, and the Compressed Gases Service is in an underground, volatile storage area connected by tunnel to the new building.

The Pharmaceutical Services provide pharmaceuticals and allied products for the entire University. They also constitute a major teaching and research facility for the college. Here undergraduates learn the techniques of large-scale production of pharmaceutical products and the basic principles and processes of manufacturing on a pilot-plant scale all of the dosage forms, including tablets, capsules, syrups, ointments, creams and tinctures. They also become familiar with the types of equipment needed to process these preparations and are of tile so that they can be washed down easily. Conveyor belts which carry fluid containers from the bottle-washing area through filling operations are of stainless steel. Air in the room where bottles are filled is cleaned by an electronic dust precipitator.

WINDOWS IN WALLS separating sections of the Sterile Products Laboratory are positioned to make it possible for those directing operations to watch from a centrally located office as work proceeds in manufacturing such preparations as sterile dressings, sterile powders, sterile ophthalmic solutions, as well as intravenous fluids of various types.

Before going into laboratory work areas, employees don sterile gowns, caps, face masks and gloves in a dressing room and "scrub down" in an adjoining room.

After preparations from the Sterile Products Laboratory have gone through the autoclave for final sterilization, they are placed in "quarantine" until three tests have been made of a sampling of each batch — chemical, sterility and pyrogen tests. The first two tests are made in the Quality Control Room, located on the ground floor underneath the auditorium foyer.

Completely equipped for making chemical analyses, this room is part of the analytical pharmacy area of the college.

The pyrogen tests now are being conducted in a commercial laboratory in St. Louis, but it is hoped that in the near future these tests can be conducted in the animal laboratory on the third floor of the new building. Dean Louis C. Zopf of the college says. (Pyrogens cause fever in the human body.)

Products manufactured in the Pharmaceutical Services vary from aspirin made in the tableting room, along with dozens of other medications in tablet form; to ointments and salves for use on the skin; medicines in the form of capsules, syrups and elixirs; aerosols, and such bulk liquids as soaps and window cleaners.

The ground floor also houses offices for the administrative section of Pharmaceutical Services, a packaging room, a formula-file and conference room, a product development room, and storage space.

The administrative section of the Pharmaceutical Services is responsible for the procurement, storage and issuing of pharmaceuticals and chemicals to all the other sections of the services and to all other areas of the College of Pharmacy and all departments in the University using these materials.

THE BASEMENT of the new building includes a "hot lab," especially constructed to permit safe handling of radioisotopes used in research and therapy in University Hospitals.

Also housed in the basement are an administrative pharmacy workshop, a mechanic's workshop, an old apothecary shop, storage rooms and utilities installations. The administrative pharmacy workshop will provide a laboratory in which students can prepare window and interior displays for pharmacies. During the last three years, SUI pharmacy students have won top awards for such displays in the college divisions of national contests conducted as a part of National Pharmacy Week.

A 100-foot tunnel leads from the basement to a 40- by 60-foot volatile storage area, which is divided into three sections for storage of oils and volatile solvents, acids, and alcohol. Carbon dioxide stored under pressure in cylinders with valves which open automatically when subjected to intense heat provide fire protection here. The cylinders are connected to a system of vented pipes just below the ceiling throughout the volatile storage area, so that carbon dioxide can be released throughout the rooms to another flames. A steel safety door is installed at the entrance to the tunnel from the storage area. Baffles on the side of the underground room facing away from the Pharmacy Building and toward a ravine will direct the force of any explosion into the ravine instead of upward or toward the new building. Special exhaust fans pull vapors out of the storage areas, minimizing danger of explosions and fire. All lights fixtures in the volatile storage area are explosion-proof.

Low, British Humorist, Dies

LONDON — Sir David Low, whose penetrating editorial cartoons never spared a public figure, is dead at 72.

The creator of "Colonel Blimp" died in a hospital Thursday night after a long illness with asthma and kidney trouble. He has been unable to work for the last four months.

Sir Winston Churchill, often depicted by the cartoonist as the Charles Dickens character Micawber, once described Low as "the greatest of the modern cartoonists."

His work was known the world over. Queen Elizabeth II knighted him in 1962. Fleet Street heaped columns of praise on Low, the onetime New Zealand farm boy who attained world fame working 33 years for another rugged individualist who deplored many of Low's ideas but gave him full freedom of action — Lord Beaverbrook.

His wartime "Colonel Blimp" — a fat, mustached type mouthing pompous nonsense dating back to the Victorian era — put a new phrase in the English language.

Development Of Child on Radio WSUI

The University credit course, "Social Development of the School Age Child," to be broadcast this fall over WSUI, will begin at 10 a. m., Tuesday, October 1.

Lecturer on the twice-weekly program will be Lowell Schoer, assistant professor of education. Included in his discussions will be the factors that influence social development of the school-age child, pre-school influences and effects of social class.

The course will be broadcast on WSUI (910 kilocycles) Tuesdays and Thursdays at 10 a. m. and 7 p. m. The evening broadcast each day will be a repeat of the morning lecture.

Listeners enrolled in the course will be required to listen to 33 broadcast lectures, study reading assignments in a specified text, and attend three Saturday morning seminars on campus. Three hours of college credits will be given upon completion.

The seminars will permit the student to ask Schoer questions and to view instructional films. Quarterly examinations also will be given at the seminars.

Fees for the radio course are $33, or $11 each semester hour. The course is open to all listeners, regardless of educational background. Enrollment forms and further information may be obtained from the Bureau of Instructional Services, Extension Division at SUI.

Indian-Pakistan Fighting Reported To Have Ended

NEW DELHI, India — Week-long firing by Pakistan, and Indian forces in the disputed Lathilla area on the Assam-East Pakistan border ended Friday with observance of a cease-fire on both sides, official sources said here.

They said the dispute now will be considered at a "higher level."

First official announcement of the border firing was made here Tuesday, when Prime Minister Nehru told Parliament Pakistan 3,000 rounds Sunday, wounding two. He said the firing apparently was intended to create tension on the frontier.

In other business, Loren Hickerson, chairman of the Chamber's community improvements committee, announced his group will meet during the last three months of the year.

Iowa Boy, 13, Admits Arson

MONONA — A 13-year-old boy has admitted an official said, starting three fires, one that caused $15,000 damage to the high school building here.

Deputy State Fire Marshal Reynold Hentges, who said the boy admitted the fires, added that the lad was emotionally upset because of the death of his father earlier this year.

The school fire Tuesday destroyed band uniforms valued at $7,000 and caused another $8,000 damage to a band room.

The other two fires were in Monona dwellings this summer.

SERIOUS CONDITION—NEW YORK — Adm. Alan Kirk, 73, former ambassador to Russia and Nationalist China, was reported in serious condition Friday from a heart ailment.

25 City Firms To Back Floats At Homecoming

Approximately 25 Iowa City businesses will again sponsor floats in SUI's Homecoming Parade, according to Robert Bott, Chamber of Commerce Homecoming chairman.

Bott said at a Chamber news conference Thursday that the businesses have already been approached about the sponsorship. This is about the same number of floats that were sponsored by businesses in last year's Homecoming Parade.

It is the Chamber's job to contact the businesses which sponsor the floats entered by various organizations. The minimum cost of sponsoring a float in the parade is $75 which is underwritten by the businesses.

In other business, Loren Hickerson, chairman of the Chamber's community improvements committee, announced his group will meet during the last three months of the year.

Birmingham Police Hunt Church Bomber

Sheriff Has High Hopes Of Finding Good Lead

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Sheriff Melvin Bailey said Friday he is optimistic about solving last Sunday's church bombing that killed four Negro girls and rekindled fires of racial tension and fear in Birmingham.

"Somebody is going to come up with a lead," said Bailey. Digging for that lead are scores of FBI agents, and state, city and county officers.

U.S. Dist. Atty. Macon L. Weaver said investigators had concluded the bomb was a high-order explosive placed under a 14-step rear entrance to Sixteenth Street Baptist Church.

Weaver said there was nothing else he could report. A huge force of state and local police keeps the uneasy city under tight patrol, day and night. Eight hundred national guardsmen are on standby.

The archbishop of the Mobile-Birmingham Diocese spoke out strongly in a pastoral letter against violence and racial hatred. The letter, sent by the Most

Legion Leader Booped for Liquor Stand in Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — American Legion post commander James T. Karam is trying to drive liquor and gambling out of his legion hall, but apparently the legionnaires would rather drive out Karam.

The commander was booped and jeered by 150 legionnaires at a post meeting Thursday night when he tried to make a speech on how the M. M. Eberts Post No. 1 should clean up its operation.

Some members shouted for impeachment and finally the crowd adjourned the meeting from the floor and walked out.

But Karam is sticking by his guns. He said Friday he will continue with plans to close the legion club room which adjoins the post. He said he had received personal support from evangelist Billy Graham and other religious leaders and groups.

He called for a nationwide legion house-cleaning.

33 Future Pharmacists Get Awards

Thirty-three pharmacy students at SUI received scholarships or awards at the fall Pharmacy Mixer Thursday evening.

Martin Boeke, Wellsburg pharmacist and president of Iowa Pharmaceutical Association, was guest speaker.

Ask Release of American Woman

HAVANA (AP) — Swiss Embassy officials said Friday they have asked the Castro government to release the American-born wife of a Costa Rican pilot whose plane was forced down by anti-aircraft fire in southeast Cuba Sept. 11.

They said they are trying to locate Mrs. Theodore Picado Jr., the former Susan Moir of Glendale, Calif., but have received no reply from the government and "have no idea where she is."

The embassy, which handles U.S. interests in Cuba, denied rumors that Mrs. Picado was in the embassy building.

Givers Drive Division Heads Announced

Division chairmen for this fall's Community Givers campaign in Iowa City, Coralville and University Heights were announced Friday by the general co-chairmen Lawrence T. Wade and Robert D. Marsden.

The divisional chairmen will work with some 500 other volunteers in the annual fund-raising campaign to begin October 1 and continue through October 17.

Goal of the drive will be $93,565 for 17 health, welfare and recreational agencies which are active in the local community.

The chairmen and the areas they will work are:

Jay Honohan and Fred Fluegel, business; Robert Bennett, industrial; A. H. Arneson, national firms; William Olson, finance, utilities and transportation; Mrs. Louise Larew and Mrs. Jean Hubbard, residential;

Mrs. Jane O'Connor, University Heights, residential; Arthur Cutler, Coralville; Dr. Ernest Sabs, SUI; Dr. W. T. Tegler and Dr. R. D. Whinery, physicians; Dr. Charles Sleichter, dentists;

Robert Downer, lawyers; L. E. H. H. n, Veterans Administration Hospital; Robert Weaver, Post Office carriers; George Kampling, Post Office clerks; Emil Novy, Johnson County Court House; Lane Mashaw, City of Iowa City employees; Donald Tvedt, public school employees and L. L. Nissley, Highway Commission.

The Rev. Robert Engel is chairman of the Sabbath Day committee and Fred Moore is in charge of distribution of supplies. Office coordinator for the campaign is Mrs. Richard Feddersen.

To Mourn 6 Negro Youths In Iowa

DES MOINES (AP) — A memorial program honoring the six Negro children killed in Birmingham bombings and shootings recently will be held at 4 p.m. Sunday at the west side of the State Capitol.

About 50 Iowa State University students and other persons plan to walk from Ames to Des Moines for the program. They will be joined in Des Moines by representatives of various business, labor and civil rights groups to complete the march to the Capitol.

Gov. Harold Hughes is in Wyoming on a hunting trip expected to last through Wednesday.

However, in a statement issued from his office Friday the governor said:

"It is appropriate that there should be a . . . mourning observance on the west steps of the Iowa State Capitol Sunday in memory of the six Negro children killed in the recent bombing and shooting at Birmingham, Ala."

The governor said he regretted he will be out of the state at the time the service is conducted.

Hughes added: "I am fully in accord with the goals of those who will take part. I join them in deploring the Birmingham incident and the racial injustices these incidents symbolize."

"I fervently hope that we in Iowa may continue to work together to achieve a level of human dignity whereby men may take their rightful place among each other without regard to race, creed or color."

Organizers of the service said those participating will include John Howard Griffen, who wrote the book "Black Like Me."

$1,000 Book Fine

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — After 40 years someone has returned the overdue two-volume work "Biographical Sketches of Royalists in the American Revolution" to the Harrisburg Public Library, but without the $1,478.25 in fines due.

Through an error in bookkeeping, it doesn't know who borrowed the books.

The books were mailed to the library from Greenwich, Conn.

Name New Assistant For Union

Roger Munn, director of Auxiliary Enterprises at Central Washington State College, Ellensburg, Wash., has been named assistant director of the Iowa Memorial Union at SUI.

Munn will begin his duties at SUI Monday succeeding George Stevens, who has become director of the student union at Oregon State University.

As assistant director, Munn will coordinate building operation, and assist in planning the operation of the $4.2 million additions to the IMU now under construction.

Director of Auxiliary Enterprises at Central Washington State College since May, 1962, Munn previously was assistant director of the Wilson Compton Union at Washington State University.

He was graduated from Washington State University in 1953 with a bachelor of arts degree in hotel administration. Following his graduation, he became a member of the WSU student union staff, working with Loren Kottner, present director of the IMU. Kottner was assistant director of the WSU student union.

Munn is married and has three children.

Plan Newman Club Picnic

A Newman Club picnic is planned for Sunday at 5 p.m. in City Park. All interested students are invited to attend.

Executive council will meet at 4 p.m. Sunday.

Each Sunday this year rides, sponsored by the club, will be provided from the front of Currier and Burge Halls for 10 o'clock mass at St. Thomas More Chapel. Cars will pick up riders at about 9:45 a.m.

SUI Young Democrats Plan Sunday Picnic

The Young Democrats will hold a picnic Sunday afternoon at 4 p.m. at the lower section of City Park. The picnic is open to the public at a cost of 50 cents a person. Games, supper, and a community sing will be featured.

List Two Iowa Citizens In Women's Who's Who

Mrs. Julia Bartling, 514 N. Dubuque Street, head of the reference service at University Library, is listed in the latest edition of "Who's Who of American Women."

Also listed was another Iowa City woman, Mrs. Geraldine Merryman Smith, 224 Fairview Ave.

Two women formerly associated with SUI were also recorded in the new volume, Mary K. Mullane, dean of the University of Illinois College of Nursing, formerly of SUI's Nursing College, and Mrs. Ralph B. Shriner of Dallas, Tex., whose husband is on leave from the SUI Chemistry Department for a year.

Besides her library post, Mrs. Bartling is past secretary of the Iowa Library Association and a committee member of the reference services division of the American Library Association.

Mrs. Smith has been president of the Iowa Association of Medical Assistants, organizing president of the Iowa City chapter, and has served on the national board of the American Association of Medical Assistants.

The women were among 8,800 new names in the new volume, which lists a total of 20,500 names. It is issued by the editors of "Who's Who in America."

Two More Senators Make Decision on A-Ban Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate talked its way through the final day of free-wheeling debate on the limited nuclear test ban treaty Friday and set the stage for showdown voting on Monday and Tuesday.

Sens. Olin D. Johnston (D-S.C.) and Len B. Jordan (D-Idaho) thinned the ranks of undecided senators — Johnston declared he will vote for the pact, Jordan joining the small band of foes.

That made the lineup 32 senators indicating they favor the pact, with 15 against it. The only ones who have not made public their stand are Sens. Howard W. Cannon (D-Nev.) John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) and Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine).

Jordan said he would gladly vote for the treaty "if it provided for full inspection to insure compliance with the agreement to ban testing in the atmosphere, under-water and outer space." On the other side, Johnston said that if the Senate rejects the treaty, "we are saying that we have given up all hope for peace and we are telling the world it must look forward only to an endless dark age of cold war and ever-threatening nuclear attack."

The debate has been running for 10 days at an average of 40,000 words a day.

Debate will be limited to one hour on each proposed reservation or amendment to the resolution of ratification on Monday. The time will be divided equally between backers and opponents. Six hours are set aside for closing debate on the treaty itself.

A vote on ratification is scheduled for 10:30 a.m. Tuesday, with the big question being how large the margin will be over the required two-thirds majority — 67 senators if all 100 vote.

New Speedy Mail Service To Start Here Next Tuesday

A rapid four-hour mail service will be inaugurated in Iowa City Tuesday at a 9:45 a.m. ceremony at the Washington Street entrance to the Elks Club. William M. Nicholls, assistant to the regional director of the Post Office Department, St. Louis region, will be guest of honor and speaker.

The mail program, Accelerated Business Collection and Delivery (ABCD), is intended to provide same-day delivery of mail collected by 11 a.m. from 12 collection boxes in the downtown business area. It will be delivered to addresses receiving more than one delivery daily or to the post office lock boxes at the General Post Office and the Coralville branch. This mail will be delivered by 3 p.m.

ABCD collection boundaries are Iowa Avenue on the north, College Street on the south, Clinton Street on the west, and Linn Street on the east.

Each collection point involved in the program will be identified by a special ABCD decal.

Iowa City is among 275 major cities in the United States which will use the ABCD program during 1963.

Disorderly House Appeal Probable

OTTUMWA (AP) — A District Court jury Friday found Mrs. Betty Francis of Ottumwa guilty of frequenting a disorderly house.

Mrs. Francis' attorney said the case will be appealed. Mrs. Francis was charged in connection with a raid on Woody's Boat and Dinner Club here last Dec. 16.

She first was tried and convicted in Ottumwa City Court, but after an appeal battle she won the right to a new trial in District Court.

DO-IT-YOURSELF MACHINE? — MIAMI (AP) — Cigarette smokers, hit by a nickel-a-pack price increase, have started rolling their own here. Tobacco stores reported they can't stock enough of the do-it-yourself cigarette rolling machines to supply the demand.

We Appreciate the Fine Business You Have Given Us This Week

Thanks also for your courteous behavior in our store

As in the past years, you SUI students have been just great. We have tried very hard to serve you in the best possible way and hope that most of you were satisfied with our service.

Every year we plan long and hard to make your initial stop at Iowa Book and Supply as pleasant as possible. However, we know that some book shortages did occur as usual. We are making every effort to cover these shortages as fast as possible and we assure you that when the books can be found, Iowa Book and Supply will have them first in Iowa City.

Please stop in often during the coming school year and let us show you why most students at SUI call Iowa Book and Supply "their school supply store."
