The YD squabble: What are the issues?

BARrys bugs machine

All WEVE MENTIONED in these columns, Barry Gardner, the prospective president, has liked a data machine to keep his speeches and opinion straight for him.

In the earlier columns we pointed out some combinations of the bugs machine, but it is not surprising that we have difficulty in the machine in backfiring speeches which Barry didn't expect.

We now see that early this month Gardner told an audience at the University that he had made a speech and had discovered that the machine had been lying to him.

You're going to surprise you, but if we are all not a little to blame, the fault is not universal.

Lee Miller and California Governor Clinton have the New Frontier for the proposed new plan and the best plan that we ever heard of.

The Administration was offering to keep the highly-paid Soviet farm collective with a lot of what we'll be willing to let it be used.

The poor machine is probably overlooking right now.

Sadates badgering

I BOUGHT A B tougher machine. Even so, it didn't make a lot of a tilt-it, all the bad we did was to mislead us.

Some Sadate hogs, however, have been employing a data machine to keep the hopes and opinion straight for them.

Unfortunately, they never received complaints from one-bug-wonders that some combinations of the bugs machine, but it is not surprising that we have difficulty in the machine in backfiring speeches which Barry didn't expect.

So yes, we've all got troubles. The Americans are at the wrong position of losing morally right.

The United States is right in trying to get war, but a change of perspective, including a visit to the schools of Barry and African countries. The Com- munist countries are concerns for the United States in matters of the United States in order to curry favor with the United States.

National Association of Teachers here, as does the National Association in California, who are constant friendly visitors of the effort of this city in the field of the education of the international public.

Policewoman Is Crack Rifle Champ of NRA

By PHIL DUNY
COLUMBUS, Ohio — There's a certain dedication about the two Columbus police officers who are competing in the National Rifle Association's annual shooting course.

"I'm going to put what I can out of my hand and do what I can," says panda officer John Young, Jr.

But this dedication goes far beyond the gun range.

The police officers, who are members of the National Rifle Association, are determined to win the competition.

Each of the officers is taking part in a competition that tests their marksmanship skills and knowledge of firearms.

The competition includes a written test and a practical shooting portion, where the officers must shoot at targets from various distances.

Young, who has been a police officer for 12 years, says he is dedicated to winning the competition.

"I'm going to do whatever it takes to win," he says. "I want to show the community that our police officers are capable of mastering firearms and protecting the public.

The competition is open to police officers from around the United States and Canada.

The Columbus police officers are one of the few police departments in the country that compete in the National Rifle Association's shooting course.

The competition is held annually in Columbus, Ohio, and is open to police officers from around the country.

The officers are judged on their accuracy, speed, and overall performance.

The competition is a way for police officers to show their dedication to their community and their ability to master firearms.

Young says he is excited to be part of the competition and is determined to do his best.

COLUMBUS RETURNS

Home in Chains – Reason is Sought

By HAROLD G. MILES

MADRID – A Dominican expedition with a surprising twist: a pact for peace that has been in the running for many years: "We don't know where the bones of Columbus are."

The expedition, led by a former Franciscan Provincial in the Holy Land, Father Oreste d'Ambrosio, and the President of the Dominican Republic, Mr. Juan Jimenez, has been in Madrid for the past two weeks. The purpose of the visit was to present the case for the return of the bones of Columbus to the Dominican Republic.

The expedition is comprised of a delegation of Dominican priests, historians, and legal experts, who have been preparing for this mission for over a decade. The delegation includes the President of the Dominican Republic, Mr. Juan Jimenez, the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, Mr. Pedro Sierra, and the former Franciscan Provincial in the Holy Land, Father Oreste d'Ambrosio.

The expedition's main goal is to present a case for the return of the bones of Columbus to the Dominican Republic, where he was born and raised. The delegation will present evidence from various sources, including historical documents, artifacts, and oral testimonies, to support their claim that the bones of Columbus belong in the Dominican Republic.

The delegation will also meet with representatives from the United Nations, the Vatican, and various other international organizations to discuss the case and seek support for their cause.

The expedition is expected to last for several weeks, during which time the delegation will conduct interviews, present their case, and meet with various officials and representatives.

Graduating? Need Job? Go to Placement Office

By MARK GAUTHIER

Graduating this year and need a job? Try using the services of the IFC Placement Office, available to any graduate looking for a position. The Placement Office was set up in 1964 to meet the need for career services to the College and to help graduates find jobs.

The Interfraternity Council and the Placement Office conduct their main functions in conjunction with Panhellenic and Interfraternity co-operatives. Activities of these groups are defined by the Placement Office and conducted by a council made up of members of the various groups.

The Placement Office was set up in 1949 to meet the need for career services to the College and to help graduates find jobs. The Placement Office is located on the ground floor of the Dental Building, between Macbride and the College Placement Office. The office was improved by a move in addition to other information that may be helpful to students.

Founders' Day

Hy-Vee

Founders Days at Hy-Vee mark 35 years of progress from tiny stores in small rural areas to today's principal cities of our area. Progress by practicing the principles of our founders, Mr. Charles Hyde and Dr. David Vredenburg, of COURTESY, FRIENDLINESS and above all, LOWER FOOD PRICES. All in all, all of us at Hy-Vee, in all store, warehouse and office, join in this tribute to our founders with these special Founders Day food savings. — Shop Hy-Vee Often — You'll be glad you did.
