U.S. OKs License For Red Wheat

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States authorized first sales of surplus wheat to the Soviet Union Thursday.

Perhaps signaling a break from past policies, the Commerce Department approved license for two sales of less than 1 million bushels worth $20.32 million each — a total of 4 million bushels.

Nearly no other information was disclosed.

"This is a very important step," U.S. Agricultural Secretary Earl Butz said. "We have not gone this far before."

Butz said he was not sure whether the Germans would accept the wheat. He said the sales were made possible because the price was so low.

Goldwater Lashes Out At Johnson

WASHINGTON — Sen. Barry Goldwater told his Republican colleagues Friday he was not accepting the party nomination, adding that the only reason he is running is to defeat President Johnson in 1964.

In a speech to the House GOP Steering Committee, Goldwater said that the only reason he is running is to defeat President Johnson in 1964.

Goldwater, who has been a strong opponent of Johnson, said the decision to drop out of the race was made by his resignation. He rejected proposals by his colleagues for a third party.

Goldwater told Gordon Walker, a spokesman for the FBI, that he had signed a letter to the FBI informing them of his resignation from the race.

Goldwater said he was not expecting to win the nomination, but that he was not going to lose it either.

Good Yule — Americans at Christmas —

Mrs. Oswald

NEW YORK — Americans' reactions are as diverse as their birthday traditions when it comes to helping children in need during the Christmas season.

While the past few weeks have been busy with busy, many Americans are still thinking about how to help others.

They have donated new toys and clothes to children in need, as well as holiday meals and gifts.

Road Commission

Advisory Board

Johnson County's first commissioners' board, established by a special act of the legislature, has been operating since 1963. The board has the responsibility of planning and coordinating the construction and maintenance of roads and bridges within the county.

The board is composed of five members, one of whom is appointed by the governor, and the other four are elected by the county commissioners. The board meets regularly to review the county's road and bridge projects and to make recommendations to the commissioners for their approval.

The board's main function is to ensure that the county's roads and bridges are kept in good condition and that they serve the needs of the residents. The board also oversees the county's transportation system, including the operation of the county's public transportation system.

West is Favorited for Saturday's Grid Game

SAQUAN 0 N 0 — A meet of the best passers and receivers in the nation is expected Saturday at Wrigley Field when Northwestern and Georgia Tech meet in Evanston. West, ranked as the nation's fifth rated team, will have its work cut out against the passing attack of Georgia Tech.

The Northwestern offense is led by All-American quarterback Roger Kramer, the 180-pounder from Chicago. Kramer, who has thrown 14 touchdown passes this year, is a right-hander who has completed 22 of 39 attempts for 325 yards.

Kramer will have a good complement in halfbacks Bob Welling and Dave Rhoades. Welling, a 200-pounder, has 91 yards rushing and 93 yards receiving. Rhoades, the husky reserve halfback, has 127 yards rushing and 145 yards receiving.

Georgia Tech coach John Heisman has the nation's leading passer in quarterback Dave Sutherland, who has thrown 26 touchdown passes and is taking a 70-7-1 record into the game.

Sutherland will be counted on to carry the gridiron load against the West defense, which is led by All-American halfback Howard "Detmer" and fullback Bill George. Detmer has 105 yards rushing and 332 yards receiving.

George, a 215-pounder from Iowa City, Iowa, has 138 yards rushing and 167 yards receiving. The West defense has contributed to the Michigan State defense, which is ranked as the nation's third rated defense.

U.S.A., Australia split 1-1

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The United States' soccer team lost 1-1 to Australia on Saturday in an international friendly at RFK Stadium.

The U.S. scored in the first half through a goal by forward Alan Koch, who headed in a pass from midfielder John O'Brien. Australia tied the game in the second half through a goal by midfielder Mark Bosnich.

The U.S. had several chances to score in the second half, including a header by defender Tim Howard and a shot by midfielder Cobi Jones, but Australia's goalkeeper Bosnich made several saves to keep the U.S. from taking the lead.

The game was part of the U.S.'s preparation for the upcoming World Cup qualifying matches against Honduras and Jamaica. The U.S. will host both matches at RFK Stadium.
