85 Dead in Crash—

Airliner Wreckage Found in California

TAHOE VALLEY, Calif. (AP) — A helicopter found the wreckage of a big airliner Monday strewn over a snowy peak where 81 passengers and four crew members crashed to their deaths.

City Native Is Praised By Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nicholas Johnson, 29, a native of Iowa City, Iowa, was sworn in Monday as Maritime administrator at a ceremony in which President Johnson described him as the type of young man who will infuse the Government with intelligence and energy.

Nicholas Johnson succeeds Donald W. Alexander, who resigned, as Maritime administrator. He is the son of Prof. and Mrs. Wendell Johnson of SU, who were among the large throng of spectators.

Before joining the Washington law firm of Covington & Burling last year, he had served as a law clerk to Supreme Court Justice Hugo L. Black and Judge John R. Brown of the 5th Circuit Court of Appeals, and had taught law at the University of Kansas.

Senate May Pass Remap On Tuesday

One Man Per County Plan Gains Support From House Caucus

DES MOINES (AP) — The Senate continued hacking away at a reapportionment bill Monday with a prediction that the measure will be passed before Tuesday's session ends.

Debate of the bill began Monday after the legislature spent the first week of a special session in getting the measure and some proposed amendments to the Senate floor.

SENATE Majority Leader Robert Rigler (R-New Hampton) said he expected the Senate to pass the measure Tuesday.

An amendment by Sen. Eugene Hill (D-Newton) was withdrawn, but the Senate bogged down in proposed changes to another before disposing of it Monday.

In the House, Rep. William Scherle (R-Henderson) called a caucus of legislators from small population counties and said the result encouraged him to press for the principle of one legislator per county in any new reapportionment plan.

The House Reapportionment committee also met to hear another plan explained.

A bill recommended by the Senate Reapportionment Committee didn't come to a vote. It calls for a 120-member House, with distribution of seats based strictly on population, and a 56-member Senate based on population and area.

THE BILL would keep Senate districts as they are, giving the six additional seats to the larger counties.

An amendment signed by 26 of the 50 senators would knock out the six extra seats.

Another, filed by Sen. John Walker (R-Williams) would give one additional seat to Polk County but leave the present Senate and the committee bill otherwise unchanged.

This measure also failed to reach the floor Monday.

CAUSE OF THE Monday afternoon snag was an amendment, offered by four Democrats, changing everything in the committee bill except the title.

It spelled out a formula for distributing legislative seats, and called on the secretary of state to use the same formula for another apportionment after the 1970 census if the bill remains in effect then.

Sen. D. C. Nolan (R-Iowa City) objected that the measure would let the secretary of state decide which senators would run for two-year terms and which could seek four-year terms when he calculated the new apportionment.

Emotions Break Open During Ruby's Trial

Dean Weaver Accepts Post At Ohio State

John C. Weaver, vice president for research and dean of the SUI Graduate College since 1961, has been named vice president for instruction and dean of faculties at Ohio State University, OSU President Novice G. Fawcett announced Monday afternoon.

Weaver will resign his position at SUI effective June 30 and assume his new duties at Ohio State shortly thereafter.

Commenting on Dr. Weaver's appointment, SUI President Virgil M. Hancher said Monday, "Ohio State is to be congratulated on the appointment of John C. Weaver to the position of Academic Vice President and Dean of the Faculties.

In his two-and-one-half years at SUI he, as Vice President for Research, has brought order and understanding on a University-wide basis to our handling of research grants and contracts.

"As graduate dean and a member of the Inter-Institutional Committee on Educational Coordination of the State Board of Regents, he has contributed greatly to the organization of new educational programs — present and prospective — and to a better climate of understanding among the Regents' institutions.

"I am happy to say he will remain with the University until June 30. The Weavers have contributed much to the University and to the University community. Their friends will wish them success and happiness in their new home — and not least my wife and I, who feel it a privilege to have known them in these closing years of my presidency," Hancher concluded.

Burns added he favors banning billboards on Inter-state 80, and expressed concern about University appropriations being kept at a level to allow for anticipated increases in the student population.

Burns stated he is particularly opposed to killing issues by committee action, such as capital punishment issues. He said he feels they should be brought to the floor of the Senate for open debate.

Barrett initially asked the court Monday night if it would extend the filing date, then added that even if the court did extend the date, he was not sure he would run for the presidential position.

However, before the court announced its decision, Barrett said he would not be a candidate for the presidential post.

"I WAS operating under no delusions that I would win, if I would run. I wasn't that cray," said Barrett. "I had no particular desire to run for President of Student Senate."

This sketch depicts the scene in Dallas Criminal Court Monday as tempers flared over distribution of literature by a National Epilepsy League official in the court house where Jack Ruby is on trial. Chief Defense Attorney Melvin Belli waves the literature as Joe Tonahill, another attorney for Ruby looks on in anger.

Muhly Drops Out; Snyder Alone—

Senate President Post Uncontested?

SUI's top student government post, Student Body President, might be uncontested in the March 18 All-Campus Elections.

Paul Muhly, A3, Iowa City, announced candidate for Student Body President, withdrew from the race Saturday, leaving Wally Snyder, A4, Belle Plaine, as the only candidate for the position.

IF THE filing deadline for the elections — last Thursday — is observed, there will be no opposition for Snyder and Gene Olson, A3, Jewell, who is running for vice president.

But the Student Senate will entertain a motion tonight requesting that the filing date for applications for all positions in All-Campus Elections be extended to Friday, March 6, at 5 p.m.

The motion will be introduced by Don Sulentic, A3, Cedar Falls, chairman of the Senate Elections Committee.

In the wake of Muhly's withdrawal, the Senate will elect a new president, and Barrett is a student senatorial candidate for Town Men.

MONDAY NIGHT Carver and Barrett asked the Student Court if extension of the date would be legal; the court agreed with the conditions that 1.) good cause be shown, 2.) Elections Committee approves, 3.) Student Senate agrees.

The first two conditions were satisfied Monday night and the Senate meets at 8 p.m. in Senate Chamber of Old Capitol to consider the remaining condition.

MacArthur In Hospital; Not Serious

WASHINGTON (AP) — General of the Army Douglas MacArthur, a hero of two world wars, is under examination at the Army's Walter Reed Hospital for "abdominal complaints."

The 84-year-old fighter flew to Washington early Monday afternoon from New York where, since 1961, he has been living at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

THERE WAS NO immediate word on the seriousness of his condition, but apparently it was not necessarily of an acute nature because MacArthur walked from the military plane that bore him to the capital, and later walked up a slight incline at the hospital entrance.

Informed sources said the general would be treated for jaundice.

Judge Brown turned down the motion, and told Belli: "None of the prospective jurors received any of these pamphlets."

The literature was distributed in the courthouse by an official from Chicago of the National Epilepsy League, Inc. It purported to be a defense of 1.8 million Americans who suffer epilepsy and who might be falsely depicted by trial testimony as menaces to society.

BELLI was enraged at a portion of the literature which said: "You don't have to worry too much about a patient in a psychomotor seizure. You will read in novels and see in the movies all kinds of dramatizations, spiced-up stories about what psychomotor epileptics do: murders, criminal activities, etc. That is nonsense."

Distributing what was called a "fact sheet" was Maurice A. Melford, Chicago, national director of the league.

THE EXCERPT which aroused Belli was from a book written by Dr. Frederic A. Gibbs, who studied the brain wave tests made on Ruby. Gibbs said the brain wave tests showed Ruby suffered psychomotor epilepsy.

Judge Brown told Melford: "You have a right to put out anything you want to. My only contention is that you should not do it in this courthouse."

Blarney Stone Clues Mount, The Hunt's On

"Robin Hood, Robin Hood, riding through the glen, Blarney Stone, Blarney Stone, for a band of men."

This clue led about 30 SUI undergraduate engineering students to the Sherwood Forest subdivision north of Iowa City where they found another clue on a sign.

The engineers, as part of their annual Mecca Week celebration, began hunting the traditional Blarney Stone at 1 p.m. Sunday after they were given the first clue by graduate students in Engineering.

THE HUNT CONTINUED until 5 a.m. Monday and began again about 8 a.m.

"Our object is to find the stone before the Smoker in the Union Thursday night," Bruce Bailey, E4, Washington, Iowa, said. "Otherwise, the grad students will have to bring it in and that would be very humiliating."

ACCORDING TO Bailey, when a clue is found all of the students spread out to investigate their own ideas as of to the meaning of the clue. When another clue is found, it is phoned into the Engineering Building to be available to all other students who check in periodically.

Thirteen clues had been found by 9 p.m. Monday. Bailey estimated that clues would total around 35, although he admitted his guess was based on just "scuttlebutt" as the grad students keep the number of clues a secret.

FRANKFURT, Germany — Nazi guards at Auschwitz concentration camp threw children to their deaths on bonfires because there was no room for them in the gas chambers, a former inmate of the camp testified Monday.

"I first couldn't believe the SS-Elite-guards would burn children alive," said Dr. Ella Lingens, 55, an inmate physician who was assigned to Auschwitz's women's section.

The 22 former camp officials, defendants in West Germany's biggest war crimes trial, listened attentively as she told of witnessing one such child killing.

Judge Denies Belli Motion For Mistrial

Lawyer Cited After He Throws Pencil During Verbal Fight

DALLAS (AP)—Jack Ruby's murder trial jury still was short two members Monday after a wild day of outbursts in and out of court. One defense lawyer was fined $25 for contempt and a mistrial motion was denied.

Two women and eight men have been sworn in to try Ruby for the Nov. 24 shooting of Lee Harvey Oswald, President Kennedy's accused assassin. The trial began Feb. 17.

By the end of the day, a total of 149 prospective jurors had been questioned. Most of them were disqualified for legal reasons by the court.

THE MISTRIAL motion, which would have forced a new beginning of the already lengthy trial, was made by the defense because of literature distributed outside the courtroom. The pamphlets denied that psychomotor epilepsy could be a factor in the 32-year-old Ruby's shooting of Oswald.

The heart of Ruby's defense is that he suffers from psychomotor epilepsy which was triggered into a blackout state of temporary insanity by Ruby's shock at President Kennedy's assassination.

Ruby's chief defense attorney, Melvin Belli, made a formal motion for a mistrial after a wild shouting scene in Judge Joe B. Brown's chambers during a recess.

THE LAWYER claimed that the pamphlets, intended as guide material for newsmen covering the trial, also were being distributed to prospective jurors.

Judge Brown turned down the motion, and told Belli: "None of the prospective jurors received any of these pamphlets."

The literature was distributed in the courthouse by an official from Chicago of the National Epilepsy League, Inc. It purported to be a defense of 1.8 million Americans who suffer epilepsy and who might be falsely depicted by trial testimony as menaces to society.

BELLI was enraged at a portion of the literature which said: "You don't have to worry too much about a patient in a psychomotor seizure. Judge Brown told Melford: "You have a right to put out anything you want to. My only contention is that you should not do it in this courthouse."

AS TEMPERS grew thin, one defense lawyer was fined $25 for contempt after he hurled his pencil to the courtroom floor in a rage.

Belli was seeking to elicit from a prospective juror, George E. Stator, that he held an opinion against Ruby, operator of a Dallas strip tease joint. Such an opinion would automatically disqualify Stator and save the defense from using the last of its preemptory challengers.

Bowie started to say something about Belli's "tricky and illegal questions."

That brought Belli's defense assistant, Joe Tonahill, roaring to his feet and he threw his pencil to the floor.

Write-in provision needed

UNLIKE MOST ELECTIONS, the University elections — sponsored by the Student Senate — have no provisions for write-in voting. This is a serious oversight that needs to be rectified.

The most troublesome problem, as we see it, in providing write-in space on University election ballots is caused by the way the votes are counted. The ballots are printed on IBM cards and counted by computer. It would be extremely difficult — if not impossible — to count votes for several write-in candidates by using this method.

Nevertheless, there is a definite need for a write-in provision. The elections are held to choose representatives for various groups including the Student Senate. The people who are elected supposedly represent student thinking.

A student or a group of students may, however, feel that there is a candidate who is more capable and qualified than the person running for the election. But these voters have no choice other than to vote for one of the candidates or not vote at all. They have, in effect, been disenfranchised.

The Student Senate should take immediate action to rectify this situation. It might just happen that a write-in candidate would be elected who might just be more capable and qualified than the persons who are announced candidates. This, in turn, could result in better student government.

Political introduction

POLITICS AT HILLCREST has been reaching new levels of absurdity. First the president of the Freshman Forum resigns and charges the Hillcrest Council with being more interested in entertaining each other than with serving the dorm residents. A short time later the Council responds by refusing to accept the resignation and by impeaching the freshman president.

The entire episode should serve to give dorm freshmen an educational introduction to campus politics. It is in keeping with the time-honored campus tradition of placing politics before all else.

'Economy' drive hurts students, Government

COLLEGE STUDENTS may well be the biggest losers in President Johnson's battle for "economy" in Government.

A few weeks ago, Administration forces — some of whom had originally favored the bill — beat down an attempt to give college students and their parents special income tax deductions. We assume the plan was sacrificed to placate Congressmen demanding a lower budget when the tax cut bill was passed.

Now, the Civil Service Commission has announced a cutback in the number of openings for summer internships for college students. The internship program had been pushed by the late President Kennedy in the hope of attracting more youth to Government work.

President Johnson changed that, presumably in another attempt to promote "economy" within the governmental bureaucracy. It was an ill-chosen way to cut costs. The need for more bright young people in the Government has long been recognized, and the Administration has curtailed a program which might have made it possible.

The Civil Service decision and the defeat of the tax reduction idea are evidence that this Administration is showing too little concern for youth — especially in contrast to the one preceding it, which devoted so much of its attention to them.

But Cassius, you're in the army now!

By ART BUCHWALD

WASHINGTON — There is a rumor that Cassius Clay, the heavyweight champion of the world, will be drafted into the United States Army. If Mr. Clay holds to form, this may present certain problems to the Army and we can't help wonder if the Army is up to it. We take you now to a U.S. Army training base where a First Sergeant is talking to his commanding officer.

"I can't take it any more, Captain. You've got to relieve me."

"What's the trouble, Sergeant?"

"It's Pvt. Clay, sir. He's driving me nuts. Every morning he gets up and says to me, 'I am the greatest. I am beautiful. I am the most wonderful recruit you have.' You can't imagine what it's doing to the rest of the platoon."

"I know it's not pleasant, Sergeant," the Captain replies, "but you really can't expect me to relieve you because of that."

"You don't understand, Captain. There's more to it than that. Just the other day we were on the rifle range and I was trying to explain to him the importance of being a good marksman. He said, 'I don't need a rifle. I can beat anyone in the world with my hands. Just tell the Russians that Cassius Clay is in the Army and they will shiver and shake. I will slaughter the enemy. I will make mince-meat of them. Send me to Berlin. I am your secret weapon.'

"I don't see anything wrong with that."

"But he said this in front of the platoon and now no one wants to learn how to fire a rifle. In fact, they're all mad about being drafted. One recruit said to me, 'I don't see why the Army needs the rest of us when it has Cassius Clay. We could have all stayed at home.'"

The Captain says, "I can see where that could be embarrassing. What did you tell Clay?"

"I told him we didn't want him to fight the Russians. All we wanted him to do was to become a good soldier and be like everybody else."

"And what did he say?"

"He said: 'You can't waste me. I am too pretty. I am too great to be just a soldier. I think I should be a General. I would look great as a General.' So I told him he couldn't be a General, because he wasn't qualified. And he replied, 'That's what Sonny Liston said, that is what the sports writers said, and that is what the world said. But I have shown them. I put Sonny Liston in the hospital and he didn't mark me once. I will fight any General for his job.'"

The Captain starts to go white. "What else did he say?"

"It isn't just what he says. He's also been writing poetry. Listen to this, sir:

The Army has had his day
And now it has Cassius Clay.
Do not worry and do not weep,
I will put the Russkies to sleep.
I am a tank, I am a gun,
I'm not afraid of anyone.
O joy, O love, I am so great,
I got Liston in seven and I'll get Khrushchev in eight."

The Captain looks at the poem. "I guess I'd better talk to the Colonel about this. Where is Clay now?"

"The last I saw of him he was telling the reporters he wanted a match with the 82nd Airborne Division. The entire division."

"Well, thank you, Sergeant. I'll tell the Colonel about your request."

"I'd appreciate it, sir. Perhaps if he turns you down, you could tell him my left shoulder hurts."

A lesson from Ohio—

Goldwater's political obituary?

By RALPH MCGILL

Notes Made at Exeter, N.H.: Snow glistened white on the roofs, and along the roads and streets it was bulldozed into high barriers to leave the way clear. As one came into Exeter, the bandstand looked bleak and cold with snow drifted on its floor.

Memory asked: "Has it really been only 12 years?"

It seems longer but it was just 12 years ago when the caravan of Senator Robert A. Taft moved through snow-banked roads into Exeter. It was a clear day. The bandstand was decorated with red, white and blue bunting, and a band played.

It had been a long, hard week for all concerned. The senator's opponent was far away in offices outside Paris. Gen. Dwight Eisenhower had been chosen to set up the NATO defense plan. All that week, the senator had been campaigning against that distant hero. It had not been easy. The tall, somewhat austere senator from Ohio was battling another foe, an insidious, persistent claim that "Taft can't win."

"I've always won," he had been telling his crowds. "That has been the whole history of my political career — I've been a winner."

For a few days he had ignored the talk that he couldn't win. Then, overruling his advisers, he began to defend against it. It was a risky business. He did not like the campaign. It was difficult to attack a hero — especially one who was far away on the nation's business. The weather was cold and raw. He was tired.

That day, 12 years ago in Exeter, the writer went into the offices of the local government in an old two-story brick building to find a telephone. The local preliminaries were on.

Going into the police chief's office, the writer stopped short. The senator sat in one of the old-fashioned swivel chairs, his long legs thrust out before him. He had on his face a look of deep weariness. Something else was on it, too — a look of sadness that made him appear almost forlorn. It was enough to make the reporter tiptoe out and find a phone in another office.

On primary night, the senator

The NAACP and Moline

To the Editor:

Dean Mills draws the line mightily clearly: it seems that NAACP action in Mississippi is both "sensible" and "meaningful," but recent protests in Moline and Philadelphia are "judicious quibbles." Black "aunties" visiting Moline schoolchildren (under Kiwanis Club sponsorship), and blackface clowns in city-sanctioned parades obviously do not retard the "advancement" of colored people in this country, according to Mr. Mills.

Wake up, Mr. Mills. Black is a potent color in this land, and when smeared on the faces of gaudy mummies, it means more than "green, blue, white, and other assorted colors." Aunt Jemima, that grinning, hanky-bedecked antebellum figure, is just another Betty Crocker to Mr. Mills; just another outdated, historical figure, from a portion of American mythology. When the Negro is seen in that way, Mr. Mills, perhaps this country will have earned the right to laugh at his expense. But patronage coupled with oppression is funny to no one.

One doesn't "advance," Mr. Mills, winning a few votes in Mississippi, while being laughed at in Moline.

Mr. Preston—

To the Editor:

Recently you have published several letters which have attacked your film critic, Mr. Ray Preston. While thinly disguised as disagreements about Mr. Preston's film reviews, these letters have in fact been attempts to discredit Mr. Preston's integrity, personal life, and qualifications as a reviewer. The printing of such attacks in the Daily Iowan raises serious questions of journalistic responsibility.

Mr. Preston's integrity is so well established among those who know him that it hardly needs defense by me. Only those whose chief interest is character assassination could think otherwise. Since his qualifications as a reviewer have been questioned, permit me to bring a few of them to your attention.

Mr. Preston worked for many years as an actor and director in serious American film. He has directed three feature-length documentaries, as well as many shorter films. One of his recent films, "Waiting Room," won the Rose Binler Prize at the 1963 Midwest Film Festival in Chicago.

In addition, Mr. Preston has studied acting and directing with some of the best known artists of the American Theater, including Lee Strasberg at Actor's Studio, Jose Quintero of Circle-in-the-Square, Maria Ouspenskaia of the Moscow Art Theater, and the Taft, we have come to a time when a decent, honorable world is the property of the Birch Society extremists, and when Senator Goldwater, the antithesis of the scholarly and hard-working senator from Ohio, is "Mr. Conservative." Commonplaces, glib slogans and evasions take the place of conservative logic.

Some time ago, Mr. Eisenhower, who won over Senator Taft in the convention of 1952, was so annoyed by the more clamorous slogans that he said he did not believe the persons who most were using the word "conservative" knew the meaning of it.

Remembering the Taft career and comparing it with what conservatism says it is today, one can say, "Amen," to the conclusion of the Squire of Gettysburg. There are definitions of conservatism and conservatism in Webster's Dictionary for those who might like to have even a brief explanation of the words.

We still love you!

To the Editor:

It was my pleasure to be informed Tuesday morning that my roommate and I were to have the honor of receiving a third roommate. Our thirteen by sixteen by sixteen, $220 a month cube of World War I barracks is already cramped. It now contains three, three by six feet beds, three desks which are two by four feet, a three foot bookcase, an easy chair and a four by six foot closet, all the room needs now is another inhabitant. A liberal estimate of the existing floor space shows that each of us would have sixty-one square feet of space to call his own. Sixty-one square feet is, however, quite a large space for one person to live and study in. This space, of course, will have celebrated actress, Uta Hagen. He has directed over a dozen plays off-Broadway in New York, has been an acting coach, and was stage manager for the New York companies of West Side Story and Gypsy. His accomplishments as an actor are well known to those in Iowa City who have seen him as Azdak in Caucasian Chalk Circle and as Bolshintsov in A Month in the Country performances which have been almost universally admired.

Obviously, all this does not mean that one must agree with Mr. Preston's opinion of a film — certainly, I frequently disagree with him. It does mean, however, that he is a serious student and practitioner of dramatic art, and should be treated with courtesy. In particular, one can argue with Mr. Preston on the merits of a particular film; one cannot direct personal attacks, replete with cheap wisecracks and innuendo, at Mr. Preston himself.

Finally, it seems to me that the editor of The Daily Iowan is failing to exercise his responsibility by printing vituperative personal letters. I do not understand how the editors can find anyone to write for them, unless they insist that disagreement in matters of opinion must be confined to comments on the substance of the matter, and may not descend to mudslinging.

Letters—

Congratulations to Quad

To the Editor:

It was my pleasure to be informed Tuesday morning that my roommate and I were to have the honor of receiving a third roommate. Our thirteen by sixteen by sixteen, $220 a month cube of World War I barracks is already cramped. It now contains three, three by six feet beds, three desks which are two by four feet, a three foot bookcase, an easy chair and a four by six foot closet, all the room needs now is another inhabitant. A liberal estimate of the existing floor space shows that each of us would have sixty-one square feet of space to call his own. Sixty-one square feet is, however, quite a large space for one person to live and study in. This space, of course, will have to be divided between each person's bed, desk and closet section, considering that the area in front of the sink is neutral. I also neglected to state that the air space over each person's floor space would be his thereby allowing each man to smoke, play records, and recite lessons without bothering the other two roommates.

All in all, my gratitude shall never be measured for the amazing room planning ability of the Quadrangle Association. I sincerely hope my instructors will take this situation into consideration when they mark my lowering grade point. After all, happiness is three in a dormitory room.

Hughes' School Program Seen

By GENE KREKEL
President Young Republicans

As a S.U.I. student looks at political affairs on the state level, there appears to be one matter of over-riding importance — financial support for the three state schools. Such readily apparent problems as outmoded buildings, "temporaries" which seem permanent, professors leaving for higher salaries elsewhere, and rising tuition, all seem to point to one solution — more money. Politicians support for higher education in the past would seem to indicate how they will act in the future. For this reason, this support should be taken into consideration when a student is determining his choice for state office.

Local legend has it that the financial difficulties of the State University of Iowa can all be attributed to the Republican controlled Iowa legislature.

Let us examine this legend. When Governor Hughes completes his term in January, the Iowa Governorship will have been held by Democrats for six out of the past eight years. The Governor has strong influence on state spending because he submits the budget and has a veto power over any bill passed by the legislature. Both of these powers have been used by Iowa's Democratic governors in ways which have directly hindered the future of higher education in Iowa.

Examine the support Governor Loveless gave the three state schools. Mr. Loveless has the dubious distinction of being the only governor in the history of the state of Iowa to veto a bill for capital construction at the state schools.

Governor Hughes seems to have almost completely disregarded the minimal needs of S.U.I. The budget that Governor Hughes submitted for the current biennium called for a 15% increase in spending with a 35% decrease in spending for capital improvements at state educational institutions.

The Republican controlled legislature appropriated amounts for both capital improvements and operating expenses which were considerably higher than those requested by the governor. A total of $4.3 million more than had been requested by Hughes was appropriated.

S.U.I. students are almost unanimously unhappy that higher tuition rates seem necessary for the next academic year. If the legislature had not appropriated $1.3 million per year more for S.U.I. operating expenses than Governor Hughes considered necessary, tuition would almost certainly have increased for this school year, as well as for next year.

The Hughes concern for higher education in Iowa is just not very sincere. Iowans who have a genuine concern for their state schools should work for a gubernatorial candidate whose concern will obviously have to be someone other than Harold Hughes.

New record

To the Editor:

I would like to congratulate the Business Office on having tied an all time record for the most consecutive months they got my bill correct — one.

Baker Case Witness Calls A 'Misdeal'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Edward Levinson of Las Vegas, Nev., cried misdeal when he appeared voluntarily at the Senate's Bobby Baker investigation Monday and was handed a tax collector's subpoena.

The short, stocky president of the Fremont Hotel and gambling casino, refused to answer any questions on the Fifth Amendment ground that any answer he gave may be used to incriminate him.

ALTOGETHER HE invoked the Fifth amendment about 75 times, refusing, among other things, to say whether he knows Baker.

Levinson was accompanied by two Washington lawyers who protested angrily when their client was served with an Internal Revenue Service summons in the hearing room.

Edward L. Carey, one of the attorneys, showed the summons to the Senate Rules Committee and said it is an example of "the type of harassment" he said Levinson has been experiencing.

SEN. HOWARD W. Cannon, D-Nev., presiding at an inquiry into Baker's activities while Baker was working for the Senate Democratic majority, said he agreed that a Senate hearing room is no place to serve subpoenas on witnesses sought in other investigations.

The summons directs Levinson to appear before special agent Donald B. Iverson at a hearing in Las Vegas on March 16 "in the matter of the tax liability of Robert G. Bobby Baker" for the years 1958-62.

Wild Auto Chase Ends in Charges Against Sulowan

Emile Kiene, A2, Dubuque, is free on $250 bond after he was arrested Saturday night.

The arrest followed a chase involving all Iowa City police cars, the Coralville police car and two University police cars.

Police Judge Robert Jansen said a date for a hearing on the 15 charges had not yet been set.

Kiene, 20, 407 S. Capitol St., was charged with reckless driving, four counts of running red lights, running a stop sign, two counts of making improper turns, two counts of driving on the wrong side of the street, stopping in an alley, speeding, disrespect to police officers, and other violations.

During the chase the rear of a police cruiser driven by Patrolman Melvin Vevera slid into a parked car owned by Terry Lynn Thies, A4, Ashton, causing $75 damage to the Thies car and $50 damage to the police car.

Kiene's car struck a car driven by Nathan Allan Dillingham, A2, Perry, near the Union, ending the chase.

No one was injured.

White House Conference

Britain's Labor Party leader Harold Wilson confers with President Johnson at the White House Wednesday in what was termed a "very good, very frank talk."

Four New Volumes—

SUI Professors' Books Cover Many Subjects

New books by four SUI authors, have been published during the past month.

Books by Professors Clark Griffith, Harvey C. Bunke, Gustav Bergman, and Frederick P. Bargebuh range from a study of the American poet Emily Dickinson to a collection of poems by a medieval philosopher.

Prof. Griffith's book, "The Long Shadow: Emily Dickinson's Tragic Poetry," seeks to demonstrate that through virtually all of Emily Dickinson's poetry there runs a consistent pattern of themes and values that establishes her as a tragic poet.

GRIFITH, A member of the English Department, is currently working on a study of the American short story, "The Long Shadow" was published by Princeton University Press.

In "The Liberal Dilemma" Prof. Bunke shows that economic thought and social values are not two separate realms, but are combined in the ideology of capitalism.

He considers that economics must be ranked, along with Christianity, among the great inspirational forces that have shaped the western world.

PROFESSOR BUNKE, of the SUI College of Business Administration, is currently working on a new book, "The Routes of Ascent," which will describe the appeal to underdeveloped nations of the two great opposing ideologies of liberalism and communism.

"Logic and Reality" by Prof. Bergman continues the line of investigation begun by the author in his previous works, "The Metaphysics of Logical Positivism" and "Meaning and Existence." A new development in Bergman's work is the consideration of the relation of predication and his reasons for believing that it occurs in the world and is not merely a linguistic convention.

PROF. BARGBUHR'S BOOK, "The Poet and Philosopher: Ibn Gabirol," is a study of a medieval neoplatonist who was attacked by Thomas Aquinas. The book contains more than 80 of Gabirol's poems.

After resuming on an optimistic note in January, the talks stalled last Thursday. U.S. negotiator William C. Foster left for home after the Soviets rejected his appeal to help end a stalemate.

Foster had urged the Soviets to accept President Johnson's proposals to freeze missile production and development and to halt the production of fissionable material for nuclear warheads. The United States and its allies suggested technical talks on the proposals.

In an interview which took up half a page in the government paper Izvestia, Gromyko said "To refer problems of disarmament, including the question of control over disarmament, to technical groups, means to hide the discussion of disarmament problems still further away from public opinion. It means to help the enemies of disarmament."

He said the Johnson plan was part of a scheme by which the United States sought to "establish international control over all vehicles of delivery and also over the manufacture of these vehicles."

McGaffey joined the Coralville police force in 1956 and was named chief in the same year. He was assistant chief of police in Washington, Iowa, before coming to Coralville.

McGaffey, 711 Eleventh Ave., is married and has nine children.

Other Democratic candidates are Gordon Russell, Carl Menel, Maryland Schneider and Harold Smith. Deputy Sheriff Donald Wilson is the only Republican candidate.

Labor Bureau Will Sponsor Wage Institute

The third annual Institute on Wage Problems will be held at SUI March 9 to 14 for Iowa trade union leaders.

Anthony V. Sinicropi, head of labor services at the SUI Bureau of Labor and Management, announced that this year's program will consist of a series of laboratory and study sessions on wage incentives, time studies and work measurement techniques.

Commenting that labor leaders are continually facing changing demands on jobs and occupations, Sinicropi said: "This program is designed to give the union leader the necessary skills to deal with these changes and problems of job displacement and unemployment that have resulted partly because of the technical revolution."

Among the instructors for the five-day Institute will be Bertrand Gottlieb, head of the Industrial Engineering Department, AFL-CIO, Washington, D.C.; Kermit Mead, director of Time Study and Engineering Division, Research and Engineering Department, United Auto Workers, Detroit, Mich.; and Prof. W. R. Hudson, of the SUI Department of Industrial Engineering.

Some 30 Iowa trade union leaders are expected to attend the program, sponsored by the Bureau of Labor and Management in cooperation with the Iowa Federation of Labor.

Red Charges West Stalls Disarmament

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko charged the Western powers do not want agreements on Soviet disarmament proposals and assailed President Johnson's proposals as propaganda maneuvers.

After resuming on an optimistic note in January, the talks stalled last Thursday. U.S. negotiator William C. Foster left for home after the Soviets rejected his appeal to help end a stalemate.

Foster had urged the Soviets to accept President Johnson's proposals to freeze missile production and development and to halt the production of fissionable material for nuclear warheads. The United States and its allies suggested technical talks on the proposals.

BRAZZAVILLE, Congo Republic (AP) — A street riot Monday shook the Government of neighboring Gabon for the second time in two weeks.

A radio broadcast from Gabon heard here said fighting in the capital of Libreville was put down by police and gendarmes who had orders to "fire on sight" on pillagers. No injuries were mentioned.

President Leon Mba, who was deposed briefly in a military coup d'etat on Feb. 18, appealed for calm. He was joined in the appeal by the Archbishop of Libreville and an opposition leader who took part in the provisional government set up by the February coup.

The broadcast said about 1,000 progovernment demonstrators were shouting "Long live Mba!" around the presidential palace when bands of agitators attacked with fists and clubs. Most were dispersed although a few bands of anti-Mba demonstrators shouted through the streets for several hours.

Hawkeyes Beat Boilermakers, 81-74

Iowa Breaks 5-Game Big Ten Losing Streak

By HARRIETT HINDMAN
Sports Editor

Iowa defeated Purdue, 81-74, Monday night breaking a five-game losing streak and avoiding the worst Hawkeye Big Ten finish in 25 years.

The win was the third for Iowa in conference play and was the result of a determined team effort, balanced scoring and aggressive rebounding.

The Hawkeyes had only a 39-38 edge on the boards, but it was the first time in five games that they have out-rebounded their opponents, or even come close.

FROM THE FIELD, the Boilermakers hit a hot 50 per cent compared to the Hawks' 44 per cent, but 17 more field goal attempts by the Hawkeyes accounted for their margin of victory.

Sophomore George Peeples, in his best performance of the year at the center spot, scored 22 points, 15 in the first half before he was forced to the bench early in the second half with three personal fouls. He captured 15 of Iowa's rebounds.

LEADING SCORER, senior Dave Roach, joined Peeples as he contributed 22 points and eight rebounds. Junior guard Jimmy Rodgers added 15 more to the Hawkeye total.

Both teams started slow with Purdue stretching out to a 9-2 lead in the first five minutes before Peeples scored Iowa's first field goal with 14:48 remaining in the half.

ROACH AND CAPTAIN Andy Hankins took over for the Hawks and tied the score at 13-13 midway in the half. The lead changed hands four times and was tied three times during the remainder of the half with Iowa taking a 40-35 advantage with two minutes to go, and holding a 42-39 lead at half-time.

PURDUE LED ONCE in the second half, 54-53, with 13:31 remaining in the game and tied the score at 55 before two jump shots by Joel Jensen and one each by Rodgers and Peeples gave the Hawks a 65-66 margin.

The Hawkeyes held their biggest lead of the night, 74-62, with 5:20 left in the game. Purdue, employing a full-court press cut this to 74-70 before Peeples took over again and paced the Hawks out of reach at 79-72.

The small crowd of 3,200 was treated to an added attraction, the performance of Purdue Coach Ray Eddy, who was off the bench all most the entire second half protesting the calls of the officials.

Iowa will meet Big Ten leader Michigan in the Field House Saturday in the last home game of the season.

Former Iowa Star Kerr Wins USTFF 600, 1:10.1

Roger Kerr, former Iowa star and captain of the 1963 Big Ten championship team, won the 600-yard run at the U.S. Track and Field Federation District Meet in Champaign, Ill., Saturday.

Kerr was timed in 1:10.1, one-tenth of a second off the Illinois Army record. The Illinois varsity track team won 10 of the 15 events.

Scheuerman Praises Peeples, Gophers Edge Roach for Pacing Victory

By JOHN BORNHOLDT
Assistant Sports Editor

"We showed Iowa basketball fans tonight something we have been capable of doing all season," said victorious Coach Sharm Scheuerman Monday night.

Balanced scoring from Dave Roach, George Peeples and Jimmy Rodgers did the trick as Iowa whipped Purdue, 81-74. The three contributed 67 points.

It has been 15 years since Purdue has won a basketball game at the Iowa Field House and the invading Boilermakers couldn't break this winless string against a determined Iowa ball club.

CAPTAIN ANDY HANKINS and Roach agreed that this was a game the team had to win for Sharm. "We feel the team owes Sharm a 100 per cent effort by every man in these last few games of his last season as head coach," Hankins said.

"No coach can really afford a losing season, and we feel it is up to everyone on the team to try as hard as he can to help bring a few bright spots to Iowa's record this season," said Roach.

Roach, a veteran senior forward, exploited his full potential Monday night by scoring 22 points and grabbing eight rebounds.

"ALONG WITH ROACH, George Peeples played a real fine game," Scheuerman said.

Peeples also scored 22 points and helped our defense out a great deal. Both men are quick enough, when they want to be, to give us the defensive strength we need to win ball games," Scheuerman said.

DISCOURAGED PURDUE coach Ray Eddy felt the officiating "just wasn't up to par. This is something that has to be corrected in the Big Ten," he said.

He gave Sharm his regards and said "Have a lot of luck selling real estate. Think of us poor old boys who are troubled with Big Ten officials."

Commenting on Iowa's last home game next Saturday night against league-leading Michigan, Sharm said, "We won't be favored, but as I told the squad tonight before the game, we sure don't have anything to lose."

Wrestler Norm Parker Wins Tony Cordaro Award

Norm Parker, Iowa's unbeaten wrestler, is the first winner of the Tony Cordaro Memorial Award presented Monday evening.

The award, from the memorial fund, is made on the basis of leadership, sportsmanship, academic record and total contribution to team success.

Parker, a senior from Deerfield, Ill., won 23 straight dual meet bouts at 130 and 137 pounds and was unbeaten in dual meets in 1963 and 1964. He scored 73 points to opponents' 12 and had four shut-outs in 1964.

The award fund, named in honor of the late Tony Cordaro, Des Moines Register and Tribune sports writer and photographer who died in 1962, is administered by the SUJ Foundation. Selection is made annually by Iowa football, basketball, wrestling and track coaches.

Mike Kinsinger, stretching his year's mark to 30-6, won eight foil bouts and lost only one in Saturday's competition.

Dear Senior:

Did you know that you can own a new Volkswagen Sedan for as little as $180.00 down and defer the first small $58.00 payment until October 1964? Yes, if you can qualify under our Senior Plan, you can drive to your new position in a new Volkswagen or a new 1500 Station Wagon.

Qualifications? A position upon graduation, be it in Education, Industry, Medicine, Armed Forces, Scholarship Grant, or any gainful employment. Married Students end your moving problems with a VW Station Wagon, pack everything and the trip to your new location will be enjoyable. Small fry are our best boosters.

We made this plan available to last year's class and the response was gratifying, but unfortunately we could not fill all the orders and some people were disappointed. We have made arrangements this year for an increase in allocation of new cars to offset this disappointment. Come down and discuss this graduation offer at your convenience.

Very truly yours,
Gene Greb

Iowa's trackmen led Minnesota, 59-58, with two events remaining, but the Gophers' one-two finish in the two-mile run edged the Hawkeyes, 72-69, in the Field House Saturday.

Two sophomores paced the Hawks, who lost their second dual meet of the season. Al Randolph won the 70-yard low and high hurdles. Steve Goldston was also a double winner claiming first place in the 60 and 300 yard dashes.

Iowa won 8 of the 15 events, but all field events were won by the Gophers.

Gentile Succeeds Reilly As Security Assistant

WASHINGTON — G. Marvin Gentile, 42, an official of the Central Intelligence Agency, has been appointed deputy assistant secretary of state for security.

Gentile succeeds John Reilly, who resigned last November.

Reilly, Gentile's predecessor, resigned when he was censured on Capitol Hill for his role in the investigation of the case of Otto F. Otepka, a former veteran State Department security officer.

Reilly first denied then later admitted that a listening device was installed in Otepka's office.

At SUI Friday, Saturday— Pauline Koner To Perform

A dance concert by Pauline Koner, who has been a featured soloist in the capitals of Europe as well as cities of the United States and Mexico, will highlight the third annual Midwestern Dance Symposium to be held at SUI Friday and Saturday.

The concert by Miss Koner, world-famous as a choreographer and teacher as well as a dancer, will be presented at 8 p.m. Saturday in Macbride Auditorium. Tickets are $1.75 each, and are available at Whetstone Drug or at the main office of the Women's Gymnasium.

Miss Koner was named winner of the Modern Dance Award for 1964 just last week. Sponsored by Dance magazine, the award will be presented to Miss Koner at a banquet in New York City in April.

MISS KONER WILL present a section of her own work, "The Farewell," hailed as a new masterpiece in the modern dance world. Danced to Mahler's "Song of the Earth," "The Farewell" is divided into four sections: "To Earth," "To Youth," "To Love," and "The Last Farewell."

In addition to this public concert, Miss Koner, who danced as Jose Limon's guest artist until 1960, will present a master class for symposium participants from 10:30 a.m. to noon Saturday. Students from 34 institutions in 10 states have registered in advance for the SUI symposium.

In addition to the Koner concert, another special feature of the symposium will be a "Dialogue on the New Dance in Relation to Other Contemporary Arts" by Carroll Russell and Shirley Genter. They will examine the new dance theatre in relation to abstract paintings and sculpture, jazz, musique concrete (electronic music), architectural structures, and the Theatre of the Absurd. In their examination they will use music, movement demonstrations, and 150 projected photographs.

MRS. RUSSELL IS co-author of "Modern Dance Forms and Their Relation to Other Arts," and Miss Genter co-directed, at the University of Wisconsin, one of the first scientific studies in movement psychotherapy.

The dialogue, to be held from 3:40 p.m. Friday in Macbride Auditorium, will be free to SUI students and faculty. For non-SUIowans, a fee of $3.75 will include admission to this New Dance Dialogue, the Koner concert, and all the other events of the two-day symposium.

In Macbride Wednesday— Unusual Compositions In Music Show Here

Music lovers in the Iowa City area will have an opportunity to hear two outstanding and unusual modern compositions in a concert to be given at 8 p.m. Wednesday in Macbride Auditorium. Groups presenting the works will be directed by Prof. James Dixon, conductor of the SUI Symphony Orchestra.

THE PROGRAM WILL OPEN with the first performance in Iowa City of Gunther Schuller's "Symphony for Brass and Percussion." A brass ensemble of 18 musicians will present this brilliant work, composed in 1950.

Schuller, who played the French horn in the Metropolitan Opera Orchestra for 15 years, spent a week at SUI a year ago as the University's guest composer of 1963.

Following an intermission, six members of the SUI music faculty will present Arnold Schoenberg's "Pierrot Lunaire, Op. 21" under Prof. Dixon's direction, with Janet Steele, Davenport senior and a soprano, in the role of narrator. FACULTY MEMBERS appearing will be Betty Bang, flute; Thomas Ayres, clarinet; John Ferrell, violin; William Preucil, viola; Joel Krosnick, cello, and William Doppmann, piano.

Schoenberg composed "Pierrot Lunaire" in 1912 as music for 21 poems written by Albert Giraud, a French poet, and translated into German by Otto Hartleben. The work, which will be sung in German, employs Schoenberg's device known as Sprechstimme (speech-song).

Case Goes to Jury—

Hoffa Defense Hits Witness Credibility

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — Teamsters union President James R. Hoffa was accused by the government Monday of taking part in "one of the greatest attacks on the jury system ever known in America."

His defense, terming Hoffa a clean-living family man, declared him the victim of "a foul, filthy plot" conceived in jail by a convicted felon — the government's chief witness at Hoffa's trial on charges of attempted jury tampering.

The jury of eight men and four women listened intently to the sharply contrasting closing arguments by James Neal, chief prosecutor, and James Haggerty, Hoffa's chief defense lawyer.

THE JURORS WILL begin sometime Tuesday to weigh them along with five weeks of supporting evidence. The trial, which began Jan. 20, entered its seventh week today. The first week was spent in selecting the jury, which has been locked up each night in a Chattanooga hotel.

Hoffa and five other men are on trial on charges of attempting to fix the 1962 Nashville jury which heard a conspiracy charge against Hoffa. That jury could not agree and a mistrial resulted.

NEAL AND HAGGERTY devoted a major portion of their closing arguments before the jury to Edward Grady Partin, a Baton Rouge, La., Teamster official who became the principal government witness at the trial.

In six days of testimony, Partin was the only government witness to link Hoffa with alleged efforts to fix the 1962 jury. He claimed he got his information during the Nashville trial, when, he said, he had Hoffa's confidence while making almost daily reports to the Justice Department.

Oil Shipments To Havana Irk Scranton

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Gov. William W. Scranton proposes clamping a strict quarantine on Cuba, including, if necessary, the use of force to cut off Soviet oil shipments to Fidel Castro.

The Pennsylvania governor, widely regarded as a potent presidential nomination, said in an interview with The Associated Press he doesn't want to become a presidential candidate and doesn't think that is necessary.

FOR THE FIRST TIME he said without qualification that he would reject any offer of the vice-presidential nomination, a goal for which Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, an avowed presidential candidate, said Scranton should be aiming.

Despite this disclaimer of any national ambitions, Scranton was willing to air his views on pressing foreign and domestic policy issues. Scranton was asked how far he would go in meeting the Panamanian demands for revision of the canal treaty.

"I would like to know what the treaty says and then work out whatever arrangements seem right under the treaty itself," he said. "It is my understanding that the actual makeup of the treaty is such that there is some basis of concern as to what legally it means. Precisely what this is, I don't know."

IN ANSWERS to questions on domestic issues, Scranton said he opposes weakening the House-passed civil rights bill to gain Senate approval of the measure. If he faced the same conditions which confronted former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and the late President John F. Kennedy, he said he would have used troops to enforce federal court orders.

He proposed financing health care for the elderly out of general tax revenues instead of through the Social Security taxes.

16 Iowa Students Win Politics Trip

Sixteen Iowa college students, five of them from SUI, have been awarded free one-week trips to Washington, D.C., this spring to observe politics and government in action.

The five selected from SUI are: Judith A. Skalsky, A3, Cedar Rapids; Jerry R. Lawler, A3, Clare; M. Neal Rains, A3, Fairfield; Eugene E. Olson, A3, Jewell; and Judy Steelman, A3, Zearing.

The 16 students chosen are from 11 colleges and universities. While in Washington, they will be the guests of Rep. Neal Smith (D-Iowa) and Rep. Fred Schwengel (R-Davenport).

The program is conducted by the Iowa Center for Education in Politics in cooperation with the Democratic and Republican parties in Iowa.

During their stays, the students will meet with Congressional and other governmental leaders and attend committee hearings and sessions of Congress.

Planner Gives City Renewal Time Schedule

A five year plan for urban renewal has been forwarded to the City Council for approval by Earl E. Stewart, municipal-university planner who begins his term officially this fall.

In a letter to City Manager Carsten D. Leikvold, Stewart gave a 26-part timetable which reaches until 1969 when "all new building development in the project area is either completed or under construction."

One of the first points on the program is the preparation of a report to be given to the City Planning and Zoning Commission and the city council for consideration and approval. This report should be completed by May.

BY JUNE, the city should decide whether or not Federal aid would be sought and used for renewal. Stewart said he assumes the city "will decide to proceed with Federal aid."

In September, the city should be ready to send an application to the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency for funds to plan the proposed urban renewal activity. A contract with the agency should be signed by December.

AFTER PART I of the plan has been approved by the Housing and Home Finance Agency, public hearings on Part II of the plan would be started, with completion of hearings due by December, 1965.

Homes and businesses affected by the plan would be purchased beginning in 1966. Families, individuals and businesses would be relocated if necessary.

DEMOLITION of the buildings purchased would begin in March, 1966.

During 1967, public bids would be taken for the sale of the cleared project land for new redevelopment purposes, and construction would begin on the project site improvements.

All the cleared project property would be sold by December, 1968, and all new buildings would be begun or completed by December, 1969.

COOPERATION from the citizen's organizations, the Chamber of Commerce and the City Council is absolutely necessary for the success of the plan, Stewart said.

If the groups all agree on the plan, a considerable amount of rehabilitation and conservation work could "undoubtedly be started as a part of the overall program during the summer of 1965."

STEWART said many facts about the areas under consideration for renewal should be obtained and analyzed.

Figures should be collected, he said, on such points as age of buildings in the business area, the characteristics of families in the area, the market values of land in and around the business district and the possible markets for the land if purchased.

"There is a great potential for extensive redevelopment throughout the downtown area as well as for some adjoining areas," he concluded.

HOT FISHING — Movie star Marlon Brando and an Episcopalian minister were arrested on charges of illegal fishing during an Indian demonstration Monday near Tacoma, Wash. The charges were quickly dropped by a prosecutor who said, "I don't see any purpose of allowing Brando to sit in jail and make a martyr out of himself."

MURDER SUSPECT WANTED — The ax-mutilated bodies of Everett Gambrell, 49; his wife, Eileen, 46, and Anna Belle, 13 were found Monday in their home in Decatur, Ill. Police investigations revealed that a son Michael Lee Gambrell, an AWOL Marine, was in the Decatur area Thursday afternoon, one day before the family was hacked to death with an ax. Police issued a triple murder warrant for him.

ACCESS TO INFORMATION BILL — A Senate judiciary subcommittee endorsed Monday a freedom-of-movement bill with a provision for court enforcement. The bill is designed to provide full disclosure of information by government agencies unless the information is exempted by law. It would provide a court procedure by which citizens and the press may obtain information deemed wrongfully withheld.

TEARFUL KIDNAPPER — A handsome young shellfish diver pictured himself Monday as an unwilling, panicked participant who was at various stages "shaken up . . . in a state of shock . . . in tears," after getting involved in the kidnaping of Frank Sinatra Jr. The pleas came from Joseph Amsler, first of three defendants to take the stand in the case.

SPIES UNCOVERED — Information provided by a Polish defector has led to the arrest in some cases of important Soviet bloc agents operating against the western world outside the United States, it was learned Monday.

The defector is Michal Goleniewski, 41, a Polish-born agent, who came to the United States in 1961. He had been in contact with U.S. intelligence agents in Poland since 1958.

The New York Journal-American reported that a defector by the name of Michal Goleniewski from the Soviet secret police has informed U.S. officials that Moscow has placed active "cells" in the Central Intelligence Agency and the State Department.

Accused Nazi Killed Nabbed In Argentina

Buenos Aires, Argentina (AP) — A fugitive Nazi accused of organizing mass killings to rid Hitler's Germany of mental and physical cripples has been arrested in Argentina, the government said Monday.

Dr. Gerhard Bohne, 61, fled West Germany last summer a few months before he was to go on trial as one of four major defendants in the Nazi euthanasia program which took 200,000 lives from 1939 to 1942.

The trial opened at Limburg, Germany, Feb. 18 without him, but even then authorities knew he had taken refuge in Argentina.

A spokesman for the West German Embassy said Argentina had been requested four weeks ago to extradite the man accused of heading the so-called mercy killing program.

An Argentine government spokesman said extradition proceedings now are in progress. But he declined to say when or where Bohne was arrested.

Confirmation from Argentine authorities that Bohne was held came only after the arrest was announced at Frankfurt.

The charge against Bohne says he was the original planner and organizer of the euthanasia program. The program was stopped in 1942. Bohne is accused of 15,000 killings.

Snyder sued Bohne in the date who was "in date who was under beds."

"I want to of this," he said.

Johnston Ruled Insane; Sent to Anamosa

By CELE FERNER City Editor

Thomas Gene Johnston, 19, was declared insane in Johnson County District Court late Monday afternoon and sentenced to an indefinite term in the Department for Criminally Insane at Anamosa.

Johnston, charged with the rape of an 18-year-old Coralville girl in December cannot be tried for rape unless he is declared sane and released from Anamosa.

THE JURY, eight women and four men, took 41 minutes to make the decision and at 3:10 p.m. Monday declared "We, the jury, find the defendant to be insane at this time."

Presiding Judge J. P. Gaffney instructed the jury before they went out to decide the verdict that the only issue for it to decide is, "Is the defendant Thomas Gene Johnston at this time sane or insane." The jury was informed it was not deliberating the rape case or the issue of whether Johnston was insane at the time of the alleged rape, Dec. 10.

Court, scheduled to convene at 10 a.m. Monday, did not open until shortly after 11. At 11:40 the jury was sworn in and the court recessed for lunch. It re-convened at 2 p.m.

DEFENSE ATTORNEY Jay H. Honohan presented two exhibits to the court. Both were statements and letters from Lloyd Spencer, medical doctor at the State Psychopathic Hospital where Johnston was examined in January.

The exhibits said that Johnston had been in Psychopathic Hospital several times and at one time (March 1963) had been sent to Mt. Pleasant.

Spencer said Johnston, in the past, had been depressed and withdrawn and had many "bizarre thoughts." In January 1964 he diagnosed Johnston as a schizophrenic to a "severe" degree. At first, Spencer said, Johnston didn't appear acutely ill, but "he began to evidence suspiciousness, belligerent and assaultive behavior and general impairment of judgment and poor control of his emotions."

Judge Gaffney, after hearing the verdict, commented "the facts warranted such a verdict."

Koop To Talk At SDX Meet

Preceding the banquet, the SUI chapter will initiate student and professional candidates into the society. Koop will take part in the ritual.

Chou En-lai Wants Unity Against West

LONDON (AP) — Premier Chou En-lai of Red China called Monday night for unity among "all the peace-loving forces of the world" in a struggle for peace against what he termed imperialist policies of war and aggression.

By implication, in a recorded television interview, Chou seemed to be asking the Soviet Union to close ranks with Communist China. The Communist parties of the two Red Giants have been engaged in a dispute over ideology. Chou said the West is trying to divide them even further.

He said that China and the Soviet Union would fight together in any war against imperialism.

At the same time, Chou criticized Soviet leaders without naming them, saying it was slander to call China belligerent or to say that China is willing to lose half her population in a war. Soviet Premier Khrushchev made such a remark last fall.

"China will never provoke a war," Chou said. "But should imperialism impose war on us, we would have no alternative but to resist firmly, and, whatever the cost, we would never surrender."

Chou was interviewed by Felix Greene, a British journalist who visited China. The interview was filmed in three parts and presented on the commercial network entitled, "China now." This was the last of the three parts.

"We love peace and we firmly oppose wars of aggression," Chou said.

"China wants peaceful coexistence with every country in the world, including the United States of America."

City Attorney To Read Parking Ramp Report

A report on the city's proposed parking ramp will be given at tonight's City Council meeting by City Atty. Jay H. Honohan.

Other items on the agenda are the third and final reading of the sidewalk snow removal ordinance and action on a resolution for paving assessments.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the Council Chambers of the Civic Center.

Delays have dangerous ends—

HEPATITIS DECLINES — In the first eight weeks of this year 7,464 cases of infectious hepatitis were reported to the U.S. Public Health Service, compared to 8,902 for the first eight weeks of 1963. The 1964 total includes 1,035 cases for the week ending Feb. 22.
