Governor Wallace Heckled

OSHKOSH, Wis. — Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace was challenged, heckled and jeered as he took his Democratic presidential primary campaign to church and to school Wednesday. The first unwelcome sign was hung on the Alabama governor's Wisconsin election bid by students at Oshkosh State College. About 300 young people were there when Wallace entered the school's Memorial Union. He needed the help of police to leave the grounds. The crowd appeared to be evenly divided in its sympathies as the governor arrived. But when he moved to leave after a 15-minute handshaking visit, a large majority of the group made its dislike known. A "Racist go home" sign was hoisted by a student and the sign prompted a loud round of heckling. "You knew the Memorial Union was integrated, didn't you?" one student yelled at Wallace, who has built his campaign on his philosophy of segregation and opposition to a federal civil rights bill.

Snyder, Olson Capture Top Senate Seats

By RALPH ZAHORIK and PETIE SARLETTE Staff Writers

Wally Snyder, A4, Belle Plaine, and Gene Olson, A3, Jewell, captured the Student Senate presidency and vice presidency by a wide margin Wednesday as less than 25 per cent of the SUI student body cast ballots in annual all-campus elections. Snyder and Olson garnered 1,808 votes — 59 per cent of the total cast and more than twice as many as their closest competitors, William Kutmus, L2, Chicago, and Irv Miller, L2, Des Moines.

Kutmus and Miller received 938 votes — about 30 per cent of the total cast. The third set of presidential candidates, Scott Bruntjen, A3, Bridgeville, Pa., and Tom Bowman, A3, Iowa City, received 337 votes.

At a victory party following announcement of the election returns Wednesday night, Olson said, "We're going to push our campaign objectives while enthusiasm is still high." He added that he and Snyder expected to consult as soon as possible with Dr. Howard R. Bowen, newly-appointed president of SUI.

Olson said any bitterness generated during the campaign was forgotten.

New senators-at-large are: Frank Punelli, Tom Stone, Arden Stokstad and Dan Nicol.

Chuck Pelton was elected to a one year term on SPI, and Jay Hamilton and Carol Carpenter were elected to two year terms.

Town men senators are: Lee Theisen, Steve Holm, James W. Hall and Merle Wood. Town women senators: Mary Lundquist and Judy Kinnamon. Married student senators: Richard A. Miller, Judy Ann Drechsler, Charles D. Stinard Jr. and Dan Beach.

Senior class officers: Connie Hipwell, president; Steve Shank, vice president; Richard Adler, secretary; Judi Skalsky, treasurer.

Union Board: Dottie Darling, Pat Van Heel, Carol Faulk, Rick Davis, William Sisler and Robin Eisele. (Eisele and Sisler tied.)

A.W.S.: Linda Beth Creed, president; Joan Countryman, secretary; Sue Lawrence, treasurer. W.R.A.: Sue Curtis, president; Nyle Killinger, secretary; Christine Cottle, treasurer; Joy Evans, intra-mural chairman. (Last two uncontested.)

The voting turnout — 3,144 — was less than last year's — 3,390.

William Kutmus commented: "I'm looking forward to nickel parking."

Tom Bowman, running mate of Scott Bruntjen, congratulated the winners and said, "I hope Wally and Gene will put through some of our suggestions this year. We were running an idealistic campaign and really didn't expect to win."

Other candidates received the following votes: Student Senate President-Vice President: William Kutmus-Irving Miller, 938; Scott Bruntjen-Tom Bowman, 337.

Student Publications, Inc.: One year term — Alan Foraker, 789; Raymond Machacek, 177; Willis Buell, 214; Pat Carlson, 599. Two year term — Jay Hamilton, 1,448; Kathy Turner, 1,022.

Senators-at-large: Inagrace Perry, 1,106; Dan Bunnell, 1,386; Ernst Shafer, 1,124.

Union Board Women: Helen Goodell, 1,015; Sally Stage, 957.

Union Board Men: Rick Davis, 1,407; John Hackett, 914.

Town Men Senators: Jack W. Linge, 340; Kirk Stephan, 348.

Associated Women Students: President, Sue Reynolds, 369; secretary, Nancy Matthias, 454; treasurer, Tucki Apel, 528.

Women's Recreation Association: President, Wendy Knowles, 69; secretary, Diane McMahon, 119.

Senior Class Officers: Sue Artz, 191; Darlene Brady, 210; Barb Karl, 127; Sue Mockridge, 192.

Legislature Approves Reapportionment Plan

Railroad Attempts To Stop Strike

Could Change Travel Plans Of Students

WASHINGTON — Railroad negotiators warned Wednesday night of a possible nationwide rail strike, but a union spokesman denied it and charged industry spokesmen with using "scare" tactics.

An Iowa City official of the Rock Island Railroad said they have received no notice of the threatened nationwide railroad strike at the local office.

The man, who asked not to be identified, said that personnel will have to have 24 hours notice before a strike could go into effect.

He estimated that 1500 to 1700 SUI students would travel by train over Easter vacation.

Government officials reportedly were viewing the exchange as the latest skirmish in a "war of nerves" in the long railroad labor dispute and apparently were not expecting any immediate strike over wages and other issues.

Chief railroad negotiator J. E. Wolfe said, "A national crisis is imminent" if attorneys for the Southern Pacific are unable to obtain an immediate injunction against a strike.

BUT H. E. GILBERT, president of one of the five operating unions, denied Wolfe's statement that there is a strike scheduled at one minute after midnight against the Southern Pacific and the Louisville & Nashville railroads.

"Wolfe is still trying to create a scare situation and scare the courts into hasty action when there is no cause for it," Gilbert said at Cleveland.

A similar situation arose earlier this week when Wolfe said the unions had planned a strike for Wednesday. The unions denied it then too.

The flurry of statements arose after the unions attempted to bypass stalled national negotiations with some 200 railroads and asked the Southern Pacific and the L&N to bargain separately.

Wolfe said Wednesday night the railroads had offered to agree to the separate negotiations but that the unions rejected it and threatened to strike.

"THERE IS NO strike against the two railroads and none has been called; nor has there been any request for such action," said Gilbert, president of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen.

While Wolfe said he had been informed that Southern Pacific lawyers had gone into court to seek an injunction, the railroad's San Francisco headquarters said it has no immediate plans for court action.

DeGaulle Gets Big Welcome From Students

MEXICO CITY — About 50,000 cheering, shouting students gave President Charles de Gaulle a riotous welcome Wednesday to National University. When alarmed police finally got him inside the auditorium he sat down exhausted.

It was the worst mob scene since the French President arrived Monday, and an aide said that in the furious milling "the situation became dangerous."

De Gaulle recovered quickly as 5,000 students and teachers jamming the auditorium shook the walls with a collegiate cheer.

"BEYOND THE distances that are shrinking," De Gaulle told them, "beyond the ideologies that are weakening, the political systems that are losing their breath — and unless humanity destroys itself some day in a monstrous self-destruction — the fact that will dominate the future is the unity of our universe."

This was the second of two speeches he made on his last full day in Mexico. Earlier, he proposed common economic action between Mexico and France in a speech to the Mexican Chamber of Commerce.

DE GAULLE's motorcade was surrounded by students as it reached University City, site of National University, largest in Latin America.

Clothes were torn, several students fainted and were given first aid, and glass doors and windows were shattered.

Government To Be Purged— Viet Nam To Drive For Mobilization

SAIGON, South Viet Nam — Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh said Wednesday he intends to purge the Government and pitch Saigon's wealthy leisure class into the anti-Communist war in a drive for total mobilization.

The Premier-strong man's declarations were bad news for thousands of influential Vietnamese draft dodgers who have carried on as usual here while other Vietnamese and Americans died in combat.

"It is difficult to admit that there are two Viet Nams — one fighting in the countryside, with Saigon feasting every night," Khanh told newsmen. "In the fight against communism, all must participate."

"AS YOU HAVE seen, my generals are getting out in the field. The morale of the army is higher than before Jan. 30" — when Khanh seized power in a bloodless coup. "The men will fight if they see their leaders with them. This is what I mean by total mobilization."

Officialdom of his Regime got this warning:

"We have decided to purge the Government machinery. We will not hesitate to shoot or give life imprisonment to those who have been harmful to the people and have not awakened" to the total mobilization plan.

ARRANGEMENTS to step up the U.S.-backed war effort were disclosed in a White House statement Tuesday in Washington. It was issued after Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor reported to Johnson.

10 by a Soviet fighter over East Germany.

The U.S. charge d'affaires, Walter J. Stoessel, delivered the warning to Mikhail Smirnovsky, chief of the Soviet Foreign Ministry's American section.

Stoessel made three points: • Further delay in releasing the prisoners will jeopardize good relations.

• American officials repeatedly have stated that the plane was not on an espionage mission and was unarmed.

• U.S. air control officers made every effort — even radar calls in plain language that Soviet monitors could understand — to prevent the plane from straying off course on a training flight from a French base and this is known to Soviet officials.

A U.S. EMBASSY spokesman said Smirnovsky was told: "Further delay in release and return of the crewmen clearly jeopardized possibilities for expanding areas of U.S.-Soviet cooperation and can affect present efforts in cooperation in various fields."

Smirnovsky promised to pass along Stoessel's representation. Presumably it will be referred to Premier Khrushchev, though he is on vacation on the Black Sea.

Stoessel noted that a U.S. Air Force doctor, Capt. John Monroe of West End, N.C., was permitted to visit Welch on Monday in the Soviet military hospital at Magdeburg, East Germany.

U.S.-Panama Canal Talks Break Down

WASHINGTON — The Organization of American States was notified Wednesday that efforts to settle the U.S.-Panamanian dispute have been abandoned.

No OAS officials or ambassadors could immediately predict where the dispute may now lead.

A SPECIAL OAS mediation commission, headed by Ambassador Juan Plate of Paraguay, reported its failure at a closed meeting of the OAS General Commission.

The OAS General Commission — composed of all OAS member nations with the United States and Panama excluded — did not announce any new course of action.

Plate reportedly told the General Commission his group had decided "its task was frustrated by the latest development."

MOST LATIN-AMERICAN diplomats feel President Johnson threw cold water on hopes for a quick settlement in his statement Monday before the OAS. Johnson said then that there has not been "any genuine meeting of the minds" between the United States and Panama.

Johnson's remarks came less than 24 hours after the AOS mediation commission had announced the United States and Panama had agreed to re-establish diplomatic relations to seek a prompt solution of their conflicts over the Panama Canal.

Senate Talks Of Meaning Of Rights Bill

WASHINGTON — The Senate's rambling debate over the civil rights bill brought arguments Wednesday over what its provisions mean and continuation of a hot dispute over the truth of an advertisement campaign by foes of the measure.

And as the debate moved through its ninth day, with three-hour interruption for another partisan row over whether to continue the Bobby Baker inquiry, Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa.) protested against the slow pace.

He noted that the debate still is on a motion to take up the bill and said there is no end in sight. Then Clark declared:

"In no other legislative body in the civilized world would such a travesty on orderly procedure be permitted."

"We are making a public show of ourselves before the whole civilized world. I plead with my colleagues to stop it and get on with our business."

Bill Provides 59 Senators, 124 in House

Work Begins Thursday On Permanent Formula For Iowa Constitution

DES MOINES — The Iowa Legislature completed a temporary plan of reapportionment Wednesday, calling for 59 senators and 124 representatives.

The Senate passed the bill 25-21 after the House approved it 72-35. The bill now goes to Democratic Gov. Harold Hughes, who had said he would sign it.

PASSAGE of the bill means that barring court intervention the 1965 Legislature will have nine more senators and 16 more House members than at present.

Additional strength is given the urban areas which a three-judge Federal Court panel said are under-represented in the present Legislature.

The measure, passed on the 23rd day of a special session of the Legislature, will be effective only until a permanent formula for distributing legislative seats can be put into the Iowa Constitution.

THE SENATE Reapportionment Committee begins work on that task Thursday.

The compromise plan, worked out in four days of labor by a Senate-House Conference Committee won House approval earlier Wednesday. The Senate spent three hours of sometimes bitter debate Wednesday afternoon before approving the measure. Then it voted to table a motion which would have brought the bill up for reconsideration.

The 17 largest counties, with half of Iowa's population, would elect 23 of the 59 senators, or 39 per cent. These same counties would elect 59 of the 124 representatives, or 47.3 per cent.

Currently, a majority of the Senate is elected by about 35 per cent of the population and a majority of the House by about 27 per cent.

UNDER THE approved plan about 45 per cent of the population would elect a House majority and 39 per cent would elect a Senate majority.

Senate Majority Leader Robert Rigger (R-New Hampton), chairman of the Conference Committee which unanimously recommended the measure, said "in the opinion of the committee it is the best that could be done" in view of a constitutional prohibition against crossing county lines when districts are drawn.

Opponents of the measure made much of the fact that the six Republican members of the committee were ready to approve a measure Tuesday calling for 59 senators and only 119 representatives.

The five more House seats for urban areas were added after Sen-

The barracks problem

SEVERAL CANDIDATES for Married Student Senator in the All-Campus elections, held Wednesday, expressed concern over the elimination of the barracks type of married housing. These candidates advocated that the barracks be replaced only by housing with comparable costs.

The feeling among University officials, however, is that this will be an impossibility. The cost of building modern apartments along with the self-liquidation plan of financing pushes the cost of the apartments into high cost ranges, which must be borne by the students in the form of rent.

The barracks, scheduled for elimination by at least 1972-73, rent for $62.50 per month with furniture costing $6 more each month. Parklawn apartments rent for $65 a month for a one-room efficiency apartment and $75 for a regular apartment. Hawkeye Apartments, the newest married housing units, rent for $83.50 per month. Both Parklawn and Hawkeye apartments are unfurnished.

Married students in future years will have to pay $21 more per month, $252 for 12 months. With increased tuition rates, which are likely to increase even more in the future, the cost of supporting a family while getting an education is likely to become prohibitive except for those students who have private family funds.

Married students presently work at full-time jobs or rely heavily on loan funds or both to pay for their education. As rental rates and tuition rates increase, these people are going to have to have access to more loan funds, work more hours, or the salary rate will have to increase.

This is a private economic problem, but the University must concern itself with the problem. About 25 per cent of the student body is married and there is no reason to believe that this figure will decrease substantially. We believe it is the University's responsibility to help this significant group of students by finding a method of reducing the rent costs for married housing or they must insure that married students have access to higher paying jobs.

In a great academic institution it is easy to lose sight of small problems such as housing rent. But to the married student the increase in rent because of the elimination of the barracks is a serious problem. In fact, $21 or more per month could mean the difference between getting and not getting an education. The University must find some route that will insure that married students are not priced out of an education by higher housing costs. —Gary Spurgeon

Inquisition revisited?

COMPLAINTS ABOUT the judicial system of Burge Hall are usually confined within the "protective" walls of the dormitory, but it is time that the outside world hears of Burge's peculiar style of "justice."

The case in point was heard last Monday night, before one of the four judicial boards of Burge (composed of students who either volunteered or were selected to police their peers.) A girl had signed-out to her home until Monday morning, because her transportation back to Iowa City was uncertain. The sign-out was authorized by an adviser.

The girl was able to get a ride back to Iowa City late Sunday, and she arrived at Burge Hall at 12:15 a.m., which is technically Monday morning. She was penalized for entering the dorm at this hour. The logic behind the penalty was that no one is to enter the dormitory between midnight and 7 a.m. and that 12:15 a.m. was not "Monday morning."

The irrationality of this decision is overwhelming; the dormitory rules that no one can enter the dorm between certain hours; the University rules state that no dorm could under 21 can be anywhere else in Iowa City during the same hours — not in a private residence or apartment, a hotel or motel, or a public area. You are damned if you do and damned if you don't.

Several examples like this are not needed to justify a complaint. Only one instance of injustice is required to question the effectiveness and fairness of the student judicial system.

The Burge judicial board insists on calling its proceeding justice, but it is a strange, strange breeding. —Linda Weiner

Regents concerned—

SUI studies how to provide for needy

By ERIC ZOECKLER
News Editor

Members of the State Board of Regents have expressed a growing concern on how the state's institutions of higher learning can best provide for their needy students.

The thought came up last week when the Board debated approving increases in tuition rates at SUI and Iowa State University.

At February's meeting, the Board delayed action on the proposals for a month to give them further study. At that time, they requested both institutions to compile reports on student aid programs and employment.

SUI's report was distributed to Board members before last week's meeting and may have had an important effect on the Regent's decision to approve the tuition increases, effective next fall.

In their report, SUI officials estimated 55 per cent of the entire student body works part time on campus or in Iowa City.

BUT IN THE near future, they admit, student part-time jobs will not be increasing in proportion to rising enrollment and many full-time jobs for students and their wives might be wiped out by automation.

Howard B. Moffitt, assistant director of the Office of Financial Aids, says there will be a slight increase in the number of part-time jobs in the next 10 years, but not in the proportion of enrollment because of the size of Iowa City.

"What we need is more industry and business activity here. New dormitories will open some jobs, but there will be a shortage."

Mrs. Joseph Rosenfield, Board of Regents member from Des Moines, has raised the question of whether automation will reduce the number of jobs available to students on campus.

"Automation probably will not affect our part-time job openings as much as it will full-time jobs usually occupied by student wives," Moffitt answers.

A PINCH OF STUDENT jobs already has hit at the Iowa State Employment Service, which admittedly does not handle as many students as the SUI Office of Financial Aids.

The ratio of students applying and the number of jobs available is about 10:1 at the state office, says manager Bernard Barber.

Barber says he doesn't discourage students from trying at his office, but admits the University can help the average student more than his office. "If a student is not too choosy, we can find him work," Moffitt says.

Regents members also expressed the fear that increasing academic responsibilities on students might preclude them working part-time.

"Students are finding it increasingly difficult to work as much as in the past," answered State College of Iowa President J. W. Maucker. But Moffitt disagrees.

"We recommend a full-time student work no more than 20 hours a week. If he maintains this standard, he'll probably do a better job in his school work, because he learns to budget his time more effectively."

In Easter Concert—

'Requiem' reactions mixed

By MICHAEL FLING
Iowan Reviewer

A receptive, though not overly enthusiastic, audience was present in the Union on Tuesday evening March 17 for the dress rehearsal of a work which has been widely acclaimed since its premier in England almost two years ago: Benjamin Britten's "War Requiem."

The work was commissioned for the festival celebrating the consecration of St. Michael's Cathedral, Coventry, England, which was built to replace the old structure, destroyed by the infamous Coventry bombing raid of Nov. 14, 1940.

In addition to the usual liturgical text, sung by mixed chorus with soprano soloist and orchestral accompaniment, and by children's chorus with organ accompaniment, settings of poems by Wilfred Owen for tenor and baritone soloists with chamber orchestra are scattered throughout the composition.

The poetry of Owen, a conscientious objector who was killed in the last days of World War I, deals with the horrors of war and the senselessness of such mass murder, and provided a perfect complement to the lugubrious yet reassuring text from the Mass for the Dead.

Britten is generally recognized as England's outstanding living composer, but after hearing the "War Requiem" I am in no greater haste to jump on the Britten-is-the-greatest-English-composer-since-Purcell bandwagon than previously.

WE OFTEN tend to forget the many excellent compositions by other English composers, particularly Ralph Vaughan Williams. In many respects the "War Requiem" is a fine piece of music; in other respects it is eclipsed by Britten's earlier operatic success, "Peter Grimes."

In general the work appears well constructed as a whole, even though the "Requiem aeternam" lacks harmonic development, the "Lacrimosa" plods, and the solos in the "Libera me" seem interminable.

On the other hand it failed to add up to a complete musical experience for this auditor, although many of the sections were musically exciting in themselves.

THE ORCHESTRA and chorus met the task of interpreting the printed notes with reasonable success. The choir was well balanced, and, excepting a few isolated passages (notably in the "Benedictus" and "Lacrimosa"), they sang with expression and kept the music moving.

There were occasional discrepancies in the tempo set by conductor Daniel Moe and that taken by the chorus, but the result in no instance proved catastrophic.

The members of the orchestra, however, played with less precision than usual; there were numerous sloppy attacks and missed entrances, and the tutti sections were too loud.

The instruments completely buried the singers in the "Tuba mirum" and the "Sanctus," and the chamber group tended to cover the soloists in the "Dies irae." Hopefully, these imperfections were ameliorated for the final performance on Wednesday evening.

THE EPISODES sung by the fifth and sixth grade chorus of University Elementary School, conducted by Robert De Yarman, provided a brief respite from the frequently thick sound of chorus and orchestra. The score directs that the children's voices be heard "from a distance."

The group sang from the back of the hall, but a smaller chorus placed in the balcony would perhaps have been more effective considering those members of the audience who had to sit almost in the children's laps.

The soprano, baritone and tenor solos were sung by Deborah Treger, professor Harold Stark and James McDonald. All three singers gave laudable performances. Mrs. Treger was hampered by a heavy accompaniment, and her low notes were often lost to the chorus and orchestra.

The male soloists, accompanied by only a small ensemble, fared somewhat better. But it was Mr. McDonald who stole the show from his more experienced colleagues; the tone was bright, and his delivery was dramatic and always musical.

The "War Requiem" may be remembered as one of the outstanding compositions of the decade, or it may be forgotten in 30 years. Regardless, we thank Dr. Moe for the opportunity to hear the work and make our own judgment in our own time.

Sulentic is congratulated for fine job

To the Editor: Although this year's Student Senate election has been the source of disputes from the start, due credit and applause should go to Don Sulentic, chairman of the All-Campus Elections Committee, and his staff. Their fine work stood out amid the loud and somewhat annoying chatter from all sides.

This election was first complicated by not enough candidates entering some of the races, later some of the luckier contestants withdrew. Then, the Daily Iowan chose the Student Senate for its annual smear campaign and decided against giving fit and adequate coverage to the election candidates and the election process. All these events and factors further complicated the difficult task of Election's chairman — a job that, at best, is unheeded, time-consuming, nerve-wracking in its effort to secure enough poll watchers, sufficient ballots and stimulate interest in a somewhat dying affair.

Again congratulations to the On-Campus Election's Committee.

The world around him—

Adrian Mitchell comments

By KIRK STEPHAN
Guest Writer

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is from an interview of Adrian Mitchell, who recently came to SUI from London to teach poetry in the Writers' Workshop. He has written for such publications as the Daily Mail, The Spectator, The New Statesman and the London Evening Standard. Included in his works are "If You See Me Coming" (a novel), "Poems," libretto for opera; "The Ledge," libretto for radio; "The Island" and "Visiting Fireman," poems to be published this spring by Reger McCain of Iowa City.

Adrian Mitchell does not consider himself to be involved in American society since he does not "understand it yet." When asked about possible self-classification, Mitchell said, "Perhaps the least misleading moniker I might attach to myself is that of a socialist writer."

His replies to the selected questions were as follows:

Q. Do you believe in the Writer's Workshop's present program? Its efficiency? Its advantage to a comparatively undeveloped artist?

A. Yes. It may be that the workshop is too overcrowded. It has been said before but I still concur that students tend to learn from exposure to each other. Too often young writers are isolated. I think the main virtue of the workshop is that it brings developing writers together. They react to each other in and out of classroom environment. Of course, sometimes a class works and sometimes it does not.

Q. When you say that it works, do you mean that the results obtained are those desired by the administration?

A. I mean that from the opinions of the writers themselves, the students, their Workshop experience is beneficial. It may very well be that some conferences end in bloodshed and tears. I like the flexibility of the Workshop. It obviously won't work for all.

Q. Does the Negro revolution which is currently confronting American society astound or disgust you? I know many contemporary Englishmen have expressed sentiments such as these.

A. It does not astound or disgust me. I am pleased that there is such a revolution. I am not astounded because I became aware of it before leaving England. Obviously everyone must be disgusted with the treatment of the Negroes. I'd like to see more happening here in Iowa City. I think that The Daily Iowan has neglected its responsibility in this field. Many British may not admit it but we have had similar problems with discrimination in England, even officially but in a disguised sense. We also, of course, have class distinction to a far greater degree than you (Americans) have ever known. I think British students are more prone to political action than American students.

Q. What form do you believe action by students should take?

A. Those in the South who have been using economic boycott have, perhaps, the best weapon at the moment. I also think picketing is a worthwhile device. Observing picketing action is a stimulus in itself for people; there are reciprocal benefits for both observers and picketers.

Q. Contrasting the creative individual in English and American society, which has greater freedom?

A. Here in America it is easy for an artist to get financial aid, i.e., scholarships and grants, therefore there are more exciting poets and writers here. England has an atmosphere more conducive to better drama creation. The theater is much more extensive in Great Britain.

Q. Might you comment on Britain's contemporary rash of anger-philosophies as promulgated by such young artists as Colin Wilson, John Osborne and John Wain?

A. I don't like the term "anger-philosophies." I don't think Colin Wilson has much in common with John Osborne and John Wain has little to do with the others. Colin Wilson is out on a far right limb, fascinated by the psychology of murder. Osborne can be called a member of an extremely loosely constituted group which includes Arnold Wesker, Allan Sillitoe, David Mercer and Christopher Logue. These all are socialist writers. Their socialism is much more important to them than their anger which they may or may not even have. I think the fact that they are called angry young men is a sort of psychological black about using the word socialist.

Q. Why do you think the United States has not produced their own angry young men?

A. In England the working class' education has been improved since the war. Partly because labor government from 1945 to 1951 showed that a social revolution could be possible. The emphasis differs here because the class system is far less oppressive and partly because American radicals have tended to concentrate on the racial issue, quite rightly. Also we never have had those Englishmen have had a Joseph McCarthy — although some Englishmen have certainly tried their best. The angry young men have already begun to help make a social revolution possible in Britain. The first move will be a return of labor government later this year.

Q. Do you believe social revolution to be necessary in Britain?

A. Definitely. I should like to see the class system broken down. It stifles the country and wastes talent disgustingly. It is basically unjust and, indeed, anti-democratic. I'd also like to see Britain get out of the cold war.

Q. Do you think the United States could get out of the cold war?

A. I think Russia and the United States might resolve their differences peacefully. I think if the minor powers got out it would make negotiations by the major powers that much easier.

Law College To Host Nine Iowa Justices

By PAULA KAPLAN
Staff Writer

The SUI College of Law will be host to the nine Iowa Supreme Court Justices and to Arthur L. Goodhart, professor of law at Oxford University, on Supreme Court Day April 2.

An annual event, the Day has activities in the college for those both in the College of Law and for the public.

THE PUBLIC IS invited to hear the Murray Lecture, where Goodhart will speak on the topic, "The Judge, the Lawyer and the Jury." The lecture will be held at 8:30 p.m. in the Main Lounge of the Union. No tickets are being issued.

The justices will preside at the Supreme Court Day Argument at 2 p.m. in 210 Law Building. Senior law students who won their junior arguments will argue the case.

The four seniors who will be arguing an appeal from the District Court of SUI, are Boyd R. Critz III, Clinton, and Robert W. Drall, Mills, attorneys for the Appellant; Wallace B. Reed, Waterloo and Terry D. Loesch, Spencer, attorneys for the Appellee. Honorable Arthur O. Leff will be the judge.

ACTIVITIES WILL begin at 8:30 a.m., according to Robert Shearer, L.S. Osceola, student chairman of Supreme Court Day, with a coffee hour in the Main Lounge of the Law Building. This will be open to those at the law school and to special guests.

Nine persons will be named to the Order of the Coif, an order whose members are chosen from among those in the top 10 per cent of the senior class. The nine persons will be presented Order of the Coif Awards by Shirley A. Webster, Honorary Initiate, at 10:30 in 210 Law Building.

Webster is past president of the Iowa State Bar Association.

PROFESSOR SAMUEL M. FAHR, faculty adviser for Junior Arguments, will present awards to the 16 juniors who participate in the Junior Arguments and to the four judges who judge them.

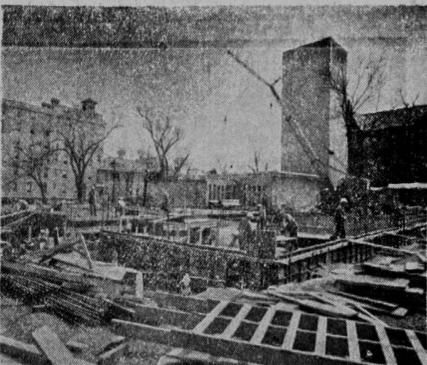

Law Review Certificates will be presented by Professor Willard L. Boyd, faculty adviser to the Law Review.

At noon, the Coif Luncheon will be held in the River room of the Union for those who were chosen to the Order of the Coif.

The Supreme Court Day Argument, with the nine Iowa Justices, will then be held at 2 p.m. Presiding Chief Justice Theodore G. Garfield, and Justices Norman R. Hays, G. K. Thompson, Robert L. Larson, Henry K. Peterson, T. Eugene Thornton, Bruce M. Spill, C. Edwin Moore, and William C. Stuart.

AFTER THE ARGUMENT, a tea for students, faculty and guests will be held in the Main Lounge of the Law Building until 5 p.m.

The Iowa Supreme Court Dinner for all law students and guest judges will be held in the Main Lounge of the Union at 6:30 p.m. Allan E. Olsen, President of the Iowa Student Bar Association, will preside. At this time, winners of the Supreme Court Day Argument Awards will be announced by Garfield.

Physics Building Goes Up

Daily workmen add to the new Physics Building going up at the corner of Jefferson and Dubuque Streets. The building is expected to be ready for use by the fall of 1965. SUI's new atom smasher is being installed in the tower visible in the background.

Savages Surround Engineering Party

LIMA, Peru (AP)—A battered party of road engineers, under attack for a week by savage, Stone Age Indians, radioed Wednesday, "They are closing in on us."

As the message crackled through the steamy air, torrential rains slowed down rescue troops hacking their way through jungle to the knoll where the engineers were making a last stand.

A Ministry of Education spokesman said if the weather cleared there was still a chance for the 50 to 75 soldiers to reach the beleaguered party in time, but otherwise Indians might wipe them out.

City Taverns Don't Have 'Great Day'

St. Patrick's Day may have been "a great day for the Irish," but for a number of the tavern owners in Iowa City who sold green beer, it was just another day.

Some taverns, however, did have the "Luck of the Irish with green beer." Joe's Place reported that beer sales were higher than usual due to the holiday and the green beer.

Doc's Annex likewise found that St. Patrick's Day was the day for "the drinking of the green."

Donnelly's had only normal sales despite the green beer. The Hawk Ballroom reported fewer people and a "pathetic" decrease in beer sales.

Summing up the failures of some taverns on St. Patrick's Day, one successful tavern owner said, "Maybe they just didn't believe in shamrocks and all that jazz."

Holiday Week Could Follow Easter Sunday

"This Easter vacation is set up to do the most good for the most people," Ted McCarrel, executive dean of the Division of Student Services and chairman of the University Calendar Committee, said Wednesday.

McCarrel said he realized that many students would have to start traveling back to school on Easter Sunday to arrive on time for Monday morning classes, March 30. He said that when the Calendar Committee planned the vacation period, this and many other factors were taken into consideration.

HOWEVER, McCarrel added that next year's Easter vacation could probably be changed to the week following Easter Sunday if the great majority of students were dissatisfied with this year's arrangement.

Easter vacation begins at 5 p.m. Friday. Classes resume at 7:30 a.m. March 30.

McCarrel said that the committee had three alternatives when it chose the vacation period.

He said it could have had vacation start on the Wednesday preceding Easter Sunday and end on the following Wednesday. This would eliminate one weekend and thus shorten the vacation by two days, he noted.

THE OTHER TWO alternatives were the week before Easter and the week following Easter, he said. McCarrel said that because the week preceding Easter is closer to the middle of the semester and because it offers the longest vacation, it was chosen.

The committee, he said, is obligated to keep the Easter vacation as close to the middle of the semester as possible.

McCarrel added that although SUI has students from all the 50 states, most of the students live within a 300 mile radius of Iowa City. He said that because of this fact most students will not be caused any undue hardship if they have to return to Iowa City on Easter Sunday.

Workshop Writer Featured in Life

Richard Kim, author of the best-selling novel of the Korean war, "The Martyred," and a graduate SUI, is the subject of a two-page feature article in the March 20 issue of Life magazine.

THE ARTICLE, "Best-Selling Korean," describes the success of Kim's book, written while he was a student in the SUI program in creative writing, "The Martyred," which Life calls "a remarkable novel" and "a modern Christian epic," is now in its fourth printing and selling at the rate of 1,000 copies a day.

Kim, a native of Seoul, Korea, attended the SUI writers workshop under an Iowa Fellowship in writing, provided by funds from Iowa business corporations, foundations, and individuals. He received the M.F.A. degree from SUI in 1962.

THE LIFE article says that Kim came to the United States in 1954 knowing only a smattering of schoolboy English; three years ago he decided to attempt a novel, drawing on his tortured memories of war in Korea. "The Martyred" was an immediate success, drawing unanimous praise from critics and reviewers.

Kim is now teaching English at Long Beach State College in California, where he lives with his wife, Penelope, and his two children, David and Melissa, who were born in Iowa City.

Campus Notes

Film on Greece

A film, "The Ancient World: Greece," will be shown at 8 tonight in Sambaugh Auditorium. The film is sponsored by the SUI Archaeological Society and is free to the public.

Lukerman Visit

Dr. Fred Lukerman, professor of geography from the University of Minnesota, will speak to a staff seminar of the Geography Department this afternoon at 3:30. The meeting will be open to the public and will be held in 200 Old Army.

Lukerman is a well-known author in the field of the philosophical aspects of geography. He has written many articles on geographical methodology and theory. In his talk, he will discuss the intellectual content of geography.

During his stay at SUI, he will appear before some classes and confer with both students and staff.

Camping Convention

Dr. Betty van der Smisen, associate professor of women's physical education, is one of six Iowans attending the 28th national convention of the American Camping Association in Pittsburgh, Pa., today through Saturday.

The highlight of the convention will be a speech by Stewart Udall, Secretary of the Interior, on outdoor recreation in America.

Murray Speech

The Political Science Discussion Club will meet tonight at 8 in the Senate Chamber of the Old Capitol.

James Murray, associate professor of political science, will speak on "Franco-American Relations." He will also lead a discussion on the model United Nations held at Iowa State University last weekend.

Air Force ROTC

The Air Force ROTC Drill Team will meet at 8:30 tonight in the Field house.

Hawkeye Band

The SUI Hawkeye Band under the direction of Frederick C. Ebbs, associate professor of music, will present a concert at 8 tonight in the Music Building.

Menzel Speech

Dr. Herbert Menzel, a member of the Directorial Committee of the Bureau of Applied Social Research, will speak on the topic "Some Aspects of Life in Communist Poland."

SUI Freshman Charged After Car Demolished

John Paul Gillespie, A1, San Francisco, was charged with failure to have his automobile under control following a one-car accident on Rocky Shore Drive at Park Road Tuesday night.

Gillespie's small foreign sports car was northbound on Rocky Shore Drive when it left the road on the sharp curve where the two streets meet, according to police.

The vehicle went over an embankment, struck a fence and came to rest against a tree, police said.

Gillespie, who was alone in the car, was not injured. The car was demolished.

White House Sees Lynda Bird Reach 20th Birthday

WASHINGTON (AP)—There's going to be one teen-ager less at the White House.

The President's older daughter, Lynda Bird Johnson, turned 20 today.

"I'm leaving my teens at last," she said, "and that's to be celebrated."

Actually, a spokesman for the First Family said the Johnsons will observe the occasion with a quiet family dinner party. They don't think Lynda wants a big party, and her fiancé, Lt. Bernard Rosenbach of Comfort, Tex., isn't expected to get leave from his ship, the destroyer Jonas Ingram, to be here for the occasion.

It happens to be a day Lynda doesn't have any school, so she'll be free to celebrate if she wants to.

One thing that remains a constant source of speculation in Washington circles is the prospect for a White House wedding for Lynda.

Councilman Max Yocum Involved in Accident

Two cars collided at the intersection of College and Capital Streets about noon Wednesday. Iowa City Police said that there were no injuries.

The drivers were City Councilman Max Yocum, 39, 520 Second Ave., and Edward J. McLaughlin, 56, 2019 G St. Police said no charges were filed.

THE GUITAR.... part II Elizabethan Times to 17th Century

In Shakespeare's day both the lute and the easily played 6-string Cittern had become so popular that barbershops often kept a Cittern hanging on the wall so that customers might amuse themselves while awaiting their turn! Although the Cittern was tuned CEGCEG, you can achieve an old English effect on your modern guitar by tuning to FACFAC. A few of the basic chords are illustrated here.

A 16th century Spanish author and musician, Vincente Espinel, added a fifth string to the Moorish Guitar and presented new techniques of playing which added greatly to the popularity of this instrument in Spain. The Spanish Guitar continued to change until it had evolved into a shape with a flat front and slightly arched back. By the next century, Fernando Sor, one of the "greats" in guitar history, and Ferdinando Carulli, a Neapolitan, developed the method and theory and wrote many compositions for the guitar.

New Finkbine Clubhouse To Be Completed June 1

By MIKE BOOS
Staff Writer

From a complex consisting of two greens early in the 1900's, golfing facilities at SUI have expanded to two golf courses now providing 32 greens for students, faculty and local enthusiasts.

And progress continues. With completion of the $160,000 clubhouse now under construction on the South Finkbine course, the Athletic Department will move one step closer (some believe it will be the final step) to realizing its hopes of developing "one of the best courses in the country."

Despite strong March cross winds which find the new construction, perched on a hill overlooking the 9th and 18th greens, a likely target, work is progressing on schedule and should be completed by June 1, according to Chuck Zwienier, golf coach and pro-manager of the present clubhouse.

He pointed out that funds for the new clubhouse come entirely from the Athletic Department and not from student fees.

"We've been planning the new clubhouse since the course was built in 1954," he stated, "and it was not until now that funds became available."

Shaped like a key hole or dumbbell, the new structure will replace a quonset in which a pro shop is presently quartered. Besides a pro shop, the new clubhouse will feature men and women lockers and showers, area for cleaning clubs, a lounge, and storage space for golf bags.

The circular-shaped lounge will be located on the second floor at the north end of the building. From the glassed-in room, one will be able to view the outlying areas of the course to the north and west.

Also circular in shape, the pro shop will be housed in the south end of the clubhouse. Women's showers and lockers and the storage room will comprise that part of the building connecting the lounge and pro shop. Below the lounge on the first floor will be located the men's showers and lockers.

When it is in operation, golfers finishing rounds on either the 9th or 18th greens will have less than 50 yards to walk to the new clubhouse. Distance from the clubhouse to the number 1 and 10 tees will not be much farther.

"With the clubhouse in its present location, one has to walk a 'par five' after completing a round," Zwienier remarked.

Designer for the new structure, George Horner of the University architects and engineering service, said he knew of no clubhouse or country club built similar to the South Finkbine structure. He said the clubhouse is now approximately 70 per cent completed.

The 18-hole South Finkbine course consists of 23 greens. This includes 4 practice greens and an alternate 13th green. The other University course is the 9-hole North Finkbine course.

Greens fees on the South Finkbine course will be increased this year to $4 for the general public except for weekends and holidays when fees will be $2.50 after 3 p.m. Rates for SUI faculty and staff will be $1.25 at all times. To encourage play on weekday mornings, students will be charged $.75 at that time and $1 for afternoons and weekends.

Since the new clubhouse will not be available at the beginning of the season, Zwienier reported that rental fees for lockers will have to be prorated. The exact amount has not yet been determined.

One of the main reasons for the increase in fees, according to golf course superintendent Harold Brown, is the hike in maintenance and equipment costs. For an example, Brown cited a putting green mower, which priced at $350 three years ago, now sells for $434. The cost of a tractor, he continued, has more than doubled over the past 14 years.

Brown said maintenance for each of the 32 greens costs over $2,000 a year. During the summer, an average of 19 men are employed by the Athletic Department to work on the courses. The number of employees is reduced to two during the off season.

Employed by the University since 1915, Brown remembers when there were but two greens operated by the University. They were located near the present site of the football stadium.

Facilities were then expanded when the North Finkbine course was built in the early 20s.

Brown, who retires next fall when he becomes 65, said his main complaint is students who "tear up the golf course and then talk back" when reprimanded.

"Kids going to school think this is a taxable golf course," he added, "but it is entirely maintained by the Athletic Department."

With the new clubhouse, Brown said the course would be "one of the better courses in the United States — if it isn't already."

General contractor for the South Finkbine structure is the Frantz Construction Company of Iowa City.

Clay's Army Status Still Indefinite

NEW YORK (AP) — Cassius Clay's merger with the U.S. Army still is in the indefinite stage, according to both the heavyweight champion and the nation's military establishment.

Reports that Clay had flunked a rematch with the mental portion of his draft examination were scotched Wednesday, here and at the Pentagon.

At his Harlem hotel, Clay said he had "not heard the results" of the tests taken last Friday in his hometown, Louisville. And in Washington, the Army announced that "the results have not been disclosed."

THE ARMY added that the champion's draft board in Louisville had not been notified of the outcome, and the board confirmed it had not received Clay's papers and did not know his status.

"They told me last week when I took the second exam that it would be four weeks before I heard and I've not heard," said Clay, who did not pass the mental exam the first time he took it, two months ago in Florida. "All I know about it is what I read in this morning's newspapers."

The Washington Post said it had learned Clay had flunked the re-exam, and had been notified.

THE YOUNG champion definitely is not keeping Army hours. Tired out after a flight from Chicago Tuesday night, he slept late and was not available to newsmen until after noon.

"Right now I'm thinking about business, and my next fight," said Clay, who won the heavyweight title from Sonny Liston in a monumental upset at Miami Beach Feb. 25. "If the commissions would let me I'd like to fight two out of three — Floyd Patterson, Doug Jones and Eddie Machen — on the same night."

"And maybe they'll let me. I'd have a better chance of losing my title and a lot of people want me to lose."

Cubs Bank on Banks, Pitching Staff in '64

MESA, Ariz. (AP) — The Chicago Cubs may logically expect Ernie Banks to do them a lot more good this year than last.

And they may have considerable confidence in their pitchers, who had the second best staff earned-run average in the National League a year ago.

BUT AFTER the personal and physical loss they suffered in mid-February, when second baseman Ken Hubbs died in a plane crash, the Cubs may have trouble doing as well as they did last year. They finished seventh in 1963 but, for the first time in 17 years, managed to win more games than they lost.

Now they need a replacement for a second baseman who set two major league fielding records and became league Rookie of the Year in 1962. And uncertainty over their defensive posture up the middle doesn't end at second base. They're still not sure who their center fielder will be.

BANKS, WHO caught the mumps last year and batted only .227, came to camp this spring weighing 192 pounds, about seven more than a year ago. Ernie usually plays basketball and handball during the off-season but, on doctor's orders, laid off last winter.

Banks, who has an 11-year major league batting average of .283, will start the season at first base.

Also assured of starting assignments are shortstop Andre Rodgers, third baseman Ron Santo, left fielder Billy Williams and right fielder Lou Brock.

Jim Stewart, who batted .264 for Salt Lake City in the Pacific Coast League last season, is getting first shot at the second basemen's job. Stewart, 24, is a switch hitter.

BILLY COWAN, a top minor league player last season, is the leading candidate for the center fielder's job. Cowan, 25, hit .315 and drove in 120 runs for Salt Lake City in 1963. His rivals for the position are Ellis Burton and Don Landrum.

Dick Bertell is expected to do much of the catching. Other receivers are Merrit Ranew, a fine pinch hitter last year, and Jim Schaffer, a good defensive man.

The regular starting pitchers will be 22-game winner Dick Ellsworth, Lary Jackson and Bob Buhl. Also available are Glen Hobbie, Paul Toth, Cal Koonce, Dick Scott and Fred Norman.

Detroit Sends Mossi to Sox

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — The Detroit Tigers sent Don Mossi, 34-year-old left-handed pitcher, to the Chicago White Sox for the $20,000 waiver price Wednesday.

Mossi, troubled with a sore arm for the past two seasons, has a lifetime record of 93 victories and 71 defeats. He has been with the Tigers for the past five seasons, his best year being 1959 when he won 17 and lost nine.

Prior to joining the Detroit club, he was an outstanding relief pitcher with the Cleveland Indians.

Dear Senior:

Did you know that you can own a new Volkswagen Sedan for as little as $180.00 down and defer the first small $58.00 payment until October 1964? Yes, if you can qualify under our Senior Plan, you can drive to your new position in a new Volkswagen or a new 1500 Station Wagen.

Qualifications? A position upon graduation, be it in Education, Industry, Medicine, Armed Forces, Scholarship Grant, or any gainful employment. Married Students end your moving problems with a VW Station Wagen, pack everything and the trip to your new location will be enjoyable. Small fry are our best boosters.

We made this plan available to last year's class and the response was gratifying, but unfortunately we could not fill all the orders and some people were disappointed. We have made arrangements this year for an increase in allocation of new cars to offset this disappointment. Come down and discuss this graduation offer at your convenience.

Very truly yours,

No. 1 UCLA Fights 4-Year Jinx In NCAA Semifinals

Wooden Claims All Teams Equal in Friday Playoff

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Coach John Wooden's swift UCLA Bruins will be fighting a four-year jinx when they take the floor Friday in the semifinals of the NCAA Basketball Championships.

The unbeaten Bruins, winner of 28 straight, finished the regular season as the nation's No. 1 college basketball team, a distinction that has been a kiss of death in the last four years.

IN EACH of those years, the No. 1 team reached the round of four only to be beaten.

Top-ranked Cincinnati was knocked out in the 1960 semifinals. In 1961 and 1962 No. 1 Ohio State lost to Cincinnati, 70-65 in overtime and 71-59, and last year Chicago Loyola beat top-ranked Cincinnati 60-58 in overtime in the title game.

Wooden, however, pooh-poohs the ratings jinx and the pressures that may afflict the Bruins because of their standing as the nation's only major undefeated team.

THE RATINGS really don't mean much," Wooden said by telephone from Los Angeles where he is putting the final touches on tourney preparations.

"We were gratified by the high rating, of course," he said. "But it really doesn't mean that much."

"At each higher level of competition the caliber of the teams competing gets closer and closer. When you reach this level, there isn't much separating them."

"WITH THE field entered for the semifinals, any one of the four teams could win it. Nothing could be considered an upset."

UCLA is matched with Kansas State, 22-5, the Big Eight champion, in the second Friday night semifinal at 10:35 p.m. EST. Big Ten co-champion Michigan, 22-4 and nation's second ranked team, plays Atlantic Coast Conference champion Duke, 25-4, the No. 3 team, in the opener at 8:35 p.m.

None has ever won the title before.

"COACHES in other parts of the country probably don't realize the pressure of playing each conference team three times, as we do in the Big Six," he said.

"Our kids were pressing to finish out the regular season with an unbeaten record. It was a rough wind-up, but they did it. Now it's over. We feel we're starting a new season. The pressure is off."

"If we get beat, it won't be because of that kind of pressure. It'll just be because we played a better basketball team."

UCLA, the tourney favorite, scored regular season triumphs over two of the semifinalists, 78-75 over Kansas State and Michigan, 98-80, but Wooden said those results could be discounted.

"When we played Kansas State we were a little more advanced than they were," he said. "It's obvious they've come a long way since then." The same, he added, could be said of Michigan.

Boys' Tourney Starts Today

DES MOINES (AP) — The opening battle in the state high school boys basketball tournament Thursday afternoon could be one of the meet's best.

Unbeaten Atlantic and defending champion Newton collide in the first game, with Dubuque Wahlert challenging tournament favorite Waterloo West in the other afternoon clash.

CEDAR RAPIDS Jefferson plays Sioux City Central and Fort Dodge tangles with Algona in evening contests.

Atlantic outscored foes by a 31-point margin while racing to a 21-0 record against southwest Iowa teams. But the Trojans lack height and have only one senior starter.

Newton, the only team back from the 1963 championship field, has veteran playmaker Larry Lust and three other starters who are 6-foot-2 or taller.

THE CARDINALS, beaten only three times this season, are playing in their seventh state tournament and bidding for their third championship. They won their first title in 1926.

Atlantic has never won the big prize, although the Trojans have qualified for the state meet six times.

Waterloo West, picked by sports writers and sportscasters in an Associated Press poll to win the title, will be out to get it for retiring Coach Glen Strobridge.

DURING HIS 35 years as coach of the Wahawks, Strobridge has sent nine teams into the state tournament but has never won the title.

To keep their bid alive, the Wahawks will have to outrun a big Dubuque Wahlert team which has three starters who weigh more than 200 pounds. All five starters are at least 6 feet tall.

Although beaten six times, including a 10-point loss to Waterloo West at the start of the season, Wahlert knocked off highly regarded Muscatine in a sub-state final to qualify for the state meet.

Sioux City Central will take a 19-4 mark into its game with Cedar Rapids Jefferson, surprise contender which won only 14 of 23 games during the season.

Jauch: Must Put Out 100 Per Cent To Win

Ray Jauch, new frosh football coach, Wednesday told Iowa City Optimists the 1964 version of the Hawkeye football team is going to be an exciting one to watch, considering the personnel available for action.

"We are not going to pull out any stops in shaping this squad into a bunch of tough competitors," he said.

"I won't guarantee we will win every ball game, since this is a tough thing to do in the Big Ten, but I will say Jerry Burns has one of the best offense and defensive minds among major football coaches in the country."

"Just after I got into town from Canada, I watched everyone of the 1963 Iowa game films," said Jauch.

"There were some games where our so-called best players really played well, and other games where they really loafed, especially on defense," he said.

To have a consistently winning ball club, your number one and number two units have to put out 100 per cent effort every minute they are on the field, said Jauch.

"After viewing the films, I can say Jerry Burns and his staff did a fine coaching job last year," he said.

Remembering the days when he was recruited by 'Bump' Elliot for the Iowa frosh team in 1956 and then coached by Jerry Burns, then only the backfield specialist, Jauch said "Nothing was ever good enough to please Jerry."

"He made every one of the backs work extra hard to maintain their positions on the team, and wasn't satisfied with less than 100 per cent effort from each man."

"Today I am grateful for this type of prodding from Jerry. If he had not been a regular hard-nosed type of coach, I would never have been able to play Canadian football," he said.

While playing for the Winnepeg Blue Bombers during the 1960 and 1961 seasons, Jauch said he enjoyed himself extensively.

Sun Times: ChiSox Allyn To Buy AFL Broncos

CHICAGO (AP) — Arthur C. Allyn, owner of the Chicago baseball White Sox, will buy the Denver American Football League franchise and shift the club to Chicago in the 1964 season, the Chicago Sun-Times said Wednesday.

An article by Dick Hackenberg, Sun-Times sports editor, said the White Sox front office will operate the pro football team and that the new club will play in the White Sox' Comiskey Park.

In Denver, Jack Faulkner, coach and general manager of the Denver Broncos said, "This is all news to me."

He added "My understanding is that this AFL franchise is staying right here in Denver. I certainly hope it will."

"The Broncos have a great future here and I don't anticipate any move."

Cal Kunz, president of the Broncos, said, "The club is not for sale. We'll play in Denver this coming season and for many years to come."

"I've had no conversation, whatsoever with Allyn."

Present White Sox officers will perform the same duties for the AFL club, the article said.

With this arrangement, both teams would have Allyn as president, Ed Short as general manager and vice president and Ed Froelich as trainer.

Two Arrested—

Letters Threaten Texas Governor

DALLAS (AP) — Gov. John Connally said Wednesday his life has been threatened by telephone calls and some "very vile" letters since Jack Ruby was sentenced to death Saturday.

The FBI almost simultaneously charged two Nashville, Tenn., women with making a threat on the governor's life on the day of the Ruby verdict. They were arrested and released under $2,500 bond.

Connally was riding with President John F. Kennedy in an open-top car through downtown Dallas Nov. 22 when rifle bullets killed the President and seriously wounded the governor.

Lee Harvey Oswald was charged with the murder of Kennedy and attempted murder of Connally. He was shot to death Nov. 24 by Ruby, who was condemned to death Saturday by a Dallas jury.

Connally was in Dallas Wednesday to have a cast removed from his wrist.

Arrested in Nashville were Christine Burke, 34, and Norma June McGriff, 33, both of Nashville.

The women are charged with violating a federal extortion statute. If convicted, they could receive five years in prison and $1,000 fine.

Counsel Claims—

F.T.C. Proposal Is Threat to Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arthur B. Hanson, general counsel for the American Newspaper Publishers Association, told the Federal Trade Commission Wednesday that its proposal to force a health danger warning on cigarette packs and in advertisements is outside its authority and violates free speech and free press.

Hanson, a lawyer representing more than 800 U.S. and Canadian newspapers, cited the U.S. Supreme Court decision in 1936 striking down as contrary to freedom of the press a 2 per cent Louisiana tax on newspaper advertising revenue.

EARLIER, the governors of North Carolina, Virginia and Kentucky offered statements on this final of three days of hearings into the FTC's proposed new regulations.

Gov. Edward T. Breathitt of Kentucky, unable to attend personally because of flood conditions in his state, sent a statement which said:

"Income from tobacco fed me, clothed me and educated me as I grew up. I feel I know firsthand the serious economic consequences from any action to alter restrictively the present practices and methods of distributing any tobacco product."

HE QUOTED the court as saying that the tax would "curtail the amount of revenue derived from advertising" and therefore hamper the ability of newspapers to create "informed public opinion."

Hanson drew a parallel between that case and the FTC proposals to govern the content of advertisements for cigarettes.

"If the commission can deal with the advertising of an entire industry on assumptions it makes," he said, "it is difficult to perceive where the commission would stop or what would prevent comparable actions against other industries."

Gov. Albertis Harrison Jr. of Virginia urged "utmost caution" by the FTC. A tobacco farmer himself, he too pointed out the economic effects on his state and on the nation as a whole.

Gov. Terry Sanford of North Carolina said he too opposes the FTC regulations. They could have serious implications for the interests of 21 million Americans who have a role in the tobacco industry, he said.

While Sanford said he was not minimizing the health hazard "the fact remains the report to the surgeon general on smoking and health makes it absolutely obvious that we are dealing with unknowns."

2 Trapped in SUI Ramp Elevator

By DALLAS MURPHY Staff Writer

IT WAS NOT until the arrival of Tiffin repairman Tommy Tramel (who had the key) that the doors opened, releasing the relieved occupants.

"Next time we'll take the hill." This was the conclusion reached by Michele Adams, A1, Davenport, after she and her companion, Terry Hause, A3, Bettendorf, spent nearly half an hour trapped in the elevator of the new SUI parking ramp late Wednesday afternoon.

Campus Police struggled in vain with the stubborn doors of the elevator, which was stuck just above level 3-E of the ramp. People on the ground floor of the ramp impatiently pushed the buttons, waiting for the elevator that never came. The elevator responded with only spasmodic jerks and shudders.

Miss Adams, who was seated on the floor of the elevator, giggled when the doors were opened. "It wasn't really very frightening," she said. "Mostly we just laughed and talked."

"WE WERE JUST getting settled — I was going to do some homework and Terry was going to smoke his pipe — when the doors were opened," she said.

"We were more frightened than they were," Campus Policemen on the scene added.

Hause said he was a little embarrassed by the whole thing. "I feel like somewhat of a fool being stuck in an elevator."

The couple was traveling from the Union to Burge Hall via the parking ramp elevator when the event occurred.

Miss Adams said that at first she was pushing all the buttons in the elevator except the emergency button. "Terry wouldn't let me push that one," she said.

"It's no wonder," joked one Campus Policeman. "He knows about you women drivers."

ACCORDING TO LT. Oscar Gramham of the Campus Police, there is no danger of anyone being stuck in the elevator for a long period. "The elevator is well ventilated and anyone inside can be easily heard from the stairway," he said.

Hause and Miss Adams, in fact, attracted the attention of someone walking down the stairs outside the elevator who notified the authorities.

"It sure was fun," Hause said with a grimace when the ordeal was over. "I only wish I had packed a sack lunch."

Let's Face It!

Most gas and electric bills are higher than they were in the past. And for a good reason, too. More wonderful new appliances are available today than ever before. Older ones are being used to a far greater extent than formerly. People are enjoying a greater degree of comfort, convenience, health protection and enjoyment provided by gas and electric service.

As a result, the typical home requires more than half again as much electricity as it did ten years ago . . . and more gas too.

Naturally, during the winter, gas furnaces and furnace motors run overtime . . . water heaters work harder because water coming into the house is colder than normal . . . TV sets and lights do double duty because you spend more evenings at home . . . and ranges are used more in preparing hot foods and beverages . . . all of which means added use of gas and electricity.

Yes, the chances are your total bill has increased. Yet, when you compare the per unit cost to other living costs the price is still surprisingly low.

Check for yourself! How many of the appliances listed below do you enjoy today? How many did you have in your home ten years ago?

Idle Bases May Be Used By Corps

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara suggested Wednesday that idle military bases be used as training centers for the proposed 100,000-man job corps — key plank in the Administration's $982.5-million plan to combat poverty.

McNamara, testifying before the House Education and Labor Committee, said the inactive defense installations could house most of the youths, aged 16 to 21, the plan would remove from unfavorable environments and provide with basic education and job skills.

The armed services' high rejection rate of draftees and recruits for failure to meet physical and mental requirements demonstrates the need for the program, McNamara said.

The poverty program, outlined by President Johnson in a message to Congress Monday, is aimed at eliminating hard-core poverty by hitting at its basic roots, providing the skills and educational background otherwise untrained youths and other workers need to find work.

It would be entirely under civilian control.

Secretary of Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze, also appearing before the committee, said:

"The eradication of poverty would increase our Gross National Product by between $10 billion and $15 billion annually and would also decrease the cost to the general taxpayer for welfare payments."

Council Requests Study of Traffic

The Iowa City P.T.A. Council has requested that the city provide a comprehensive study of school traffic safety problems.

City Manager, Carsten D. Leikvold, said the request is "an excellent opportunity to do something with the full backing of the schools and the P.T.A." He plans to meet with the council and various city officials to discuss the problems.

Mrs. C. H. Parsons, president of the P.T.A., recommended that immediate attention be given to city school traffic lights. She said there are three different types of school lights and this creates confusion for both motorists and pedestrians.

ACNE TREATMENT TALK—

C. E. Radcliffe, M.D., of the University Hospitals Dermatology Department, will discuss "Surgical Treatment of Acne" Wednesday on "House Call," a series of broadcasts conducted by radio station WOI in Ames.

The setting March sun outlines the old and the new on the Iowa City skyline. In the foreground is the tower atop the Business Administration building under construction. In the background is Old Capitol's dome, dwarfed by the tower lift used to hoist tools and materials to the top of the new structure going up on Clinton Street.

U.S. Denies Cuban Growth, SDC Told

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Government policy is directed toward insuring that the Cuban Communist Regime show no sign of economic development in the Western Hemisphere," John Coatsworth, University of Wisconsin graduate student, told the Socialist Discussion Club Wednesday night.

"Communist dictatorship," he said, "represents a threat to American economic interests in Latin America." In the decade from 1951 to 1961, U.S. investments in Cuba totaled $5.5 million. Between 80 and 90 per cent of Cuban trade over the last several decades has been with the United States.

Coatsworth added that Cubans have to gain some control over the amount of capital that flows out of their country.

Two of the approaches to this problem that he mentioned include forced investment — in which capital goods are substituted for luxury goods — and agrarian reform — in which the control of agriculture is transferred into the hands of people who are interested in developing land and using it.

Some of the improvements in Cuba brought about by the Communist Regime, according to Coatsworth, include higher wages, reduced unemployment, increased hospital capacity and decreased illiteracy. Coatsworth said that food rationing has made improved diets possible for those Cubans who had previously been unable to eat regularly.

Coatsworth and several other students went to Cuba last summer in defiance of the State Department.

Davenport Woman Held; Charged with OMVI

A 37-year-old Davenport woman, arrested Wednesday morning on a charge of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated, is being held in Iowa City jail in lieu of $300 bond.

Mrs. Genevieve Carol Sergent was apprehended on Highway 6 in Coralville about 6:50 a.m., according to Coralville police.

Mrs. Sergent pleaded innocent to the charge.

U.S. Turns Other Cheek

By MALCOM W. BROWNE AP News Analysis SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — After a series of political blows from the little kingdom of Cambodia, the United States has decided to turn the other cheek to its volatile ruler, Prince Norodom Sihanouk.

There are two reasons for Washington's forbearance. First, the United States wanted to defeat Red China's policy of divide and conquer in Asia. Second, Washington hopes to close the Cambodian valve through which Viet Cong agents and supplies flow to South Viet Nam's Red guerrillas from Communist North Viet Nam.

SUI Prof Speaks on Geodes Stone

A theory describing the origin of geodes was discussed by Dr. John B. Hayes, professor of geology, in a talk before the Geological Society of Iowa at Tama Wednesday.

Geodes, "hollow stones lined with beautiful mineral crystals," are found in abundance around Keokuk; specimens are in museums the world over, Hayes said.

Hayes demonstrated that marine animals decaying on the ancient sea floor of Iowa 250 million years ago created certain chemical conditions which caused mineral matter to be deposited around the dead creature.

The resulting concreted masses were later dissolved away by subsurface water. Cavities, the sites of crystal growth, resulted. The minerals were moved rapidly from subsurface water.

Quartz, calcite, dolomite, kaolinite, sphalerite, pyrite, muscovite, gypsum, and barite, are the most abundant minerals found in the Keokuk geodes, Hayes said.

government employes among them — sacked the U.S. and British embassies in Phnom Penh, Cambodia's capital. Sihanouk denied complicity in the raids, but said he understood why the people were angry.

HE CALLED OFF a proposed conference with South Viet Nam on frontier problems, which he had proposed himself, and said he was sending a delegation to North Viet Nam to deal with the same problems.

Sihanouk denounced the non-Communist world, and sent a delegation to Peking to negotiate an arms deal, Cambodia used to get arms from the United States.

Suddenly this week, Sihanouk reversed himself, as has happened before. He said the delegation to North Viet Nam had been called off, and he was ready once again to deal with South Viet Nam. He complained North Viet Nam was evasive about questions of guaranteeing Cambodia's frontiers.

THE UNITED STATES welcomed Sihanouk's turnabout. South Viet Nam's Premier Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, said Cambodia — Vietnamese talks would begin in the next few days, and he hoped for personal talks with Sihanouk soon.

The U.S. attitude underscores the importance Washington attaches to one of its policies in Southeast Asia — to keep peace among the non-Communist nations and defeat Red China's decisive policy.

WASHINGTON LOST hope long ago of persuading Cambodia to join any kind of alliance against the Communist bloc. But the United States still hopes to persuade Cambodia to remain genuinely neutral and to close Cambodian soil to North Vietnamese men and arms bound for South Viet Nam.

This can be achieved only at conference tables, and accounts for U.S. willingness to maintain ties with Cambodia despite continuous provocations.

Khanh and President Chiang Kai-shek of Nationalist China are reported interested in an idea advanced by South Korea last week — that these three nations outside the Southeast Treaty Organization form an anti-Communist alliance.

N.Y. Stock Exchange Has Moderate Gain

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market staged another moderate advance Wednesday, mainly on strength in the steels and airlines.

The Dow Jones industrial average posted its ninth consecutive daily gain, pushing deeper into 60 high ground.

Changes of key issues ranged from fractions to a point or so with a few wider movers dotting the list.

On reports of booming operations in the steel industry, U.S. Steel, Republic and Jones & Laughlin were up around a point.

Motors lost some of their early luster as the session wore on. General Motors, announcing a two-year, $3-billion spending program on plant, equipment and tooling, fell 1/2 to 83 1/2.

Airlines remained generally strong. They had been buoyed by reports that the first quarter is expected to be a profitable period in contrast to usual losses for that time of year. American Airlines picked up more than 2 points and United Air Lines about a point.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials gained 2.09 to 820.25. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 3 to 303.0, also a new high, with industrials up 1.1, rails up 1.1 and utilities unchanged.

G.M. To Spend $2 Billion On Expansion

FREMONT, Calif. (AP) — General Motors Corp., expecting an economic boom, says it will spend a record $2 billion on equipment and hire up to 50,000 new workers to boost production by 20 per cent in two years.

The record investment in 1964 and 1965 will prepare GM for an auto market expected to reach an average yearly sales pace of 10 million units by 1970, said Frederic G. Donner, GM board chairman.

In a speech prepared for the dedication Wednesday of GM's new car and truck assembly plant here, Donner outlined plans to build new plants and expand or improve facilities in nearly 30 U.S. cities.

GM, the nation's No. 1 automaker, earned profits of $1,591,823,000 last year — setting a one-year record for any U.S. corporation. The firm employs about 300,000 hourly rated employes in the United States. It paid them $2,654,778,000 in 1963.

Donner said more than $900 million will be spent this year — compared with $647 million last year — and about a billion will be spent in 1965.

Of the $2 billion for 1964 and 1965, Donner said, $1.5 billion will be spent in the United States and nearly $400 million overseas.

TO VISIT BRITAIN

ROME (AP) — Premier Aldo Moro will go to Britain April 27 on an official visit, the Italian government announced Wednesday night.

Lily Sales Raise Funds For Camp Sunnyside

The Rainbow Girls will be selling artificial lilies in downtown Iowa City Saturday to raise funds for Camp Sunnyside, the residential summer camp for crippled children and adults near Des Moines. The money helps send Johnson County residents to the camp.

About 45 girls will take part in the project, which is part of the local Easter Seal campaign. The girls will be under the direction of Miss Sally Cross. Miss Cross said the girls hope to solicit enough money to send about 12 people to camp this summer.

Burge Opens Rec Rooms for Dates

By PAM PETERSON
Staff Writer

Responsible behavior in Burge lounges has resulted in the successful opening of a Burge recreation room to residents and their dates.

Opposite behavior at Indiana University in Bloomington caused the closing of dormitory lounges and passage of a no-kissing rule.

AT INDIANA, what head counselor Arden Mueller called the "disgusting exhibition" in lounges caused her to close the Sycamore Dormitory lounges. The dormitory's officers also passed a ban on kissing in the lounges.

Carol Ronemus, the assistant to the counselor of women at SU1, who worked in a residence hall at Indiana last year, said that about 1800 men and women live in the dormitory complex where the lounges were closed. They share dining areas and lounges.

Miss Ronemus observed that the behavior in the more public lounges at Indiana was better than in the recreation rooms.

IN CONTRAST, at SU1, Burge residents can now take their dates into one of the downstairs recreation rooms from 7:30 until 12:30 p.m. on Friday without an adviser present.

Jan Moore, A3, Marshalltown, the president of Clara Daley House of Burge, believes that the conduct is better in the recreation room than in the main lounge. She says that "the girls know that they are on their own, and they police each other."

She added that if the girls continue to conduct themselves as well as they have been, the opening of recreation rooms will continue indefinitely, and it might be possible

Remap—

ate Minority Leader Andrew Frommelt (D-Dubuque), a committee member, conferred with Hughes.

Sen. A. V. Doran (R-Boone) said, the measure "is a Hughes plan. It called for 119 representatives and 59 senators, and then they had to go back and tack on a few more for the executive department."

RIGLER declared, "I can assure you that the five representatives were not added at the demand of the minority party or the governor." He said members of both parties recommended the addition "and I think it improves the bill."

Another committee member, Sen. Leo Elthon (R-Fertile) defended

ed the right of the governor and the Federal Court to act in the matter. "We can make snide remarks" about them, he said, "but we belittle ourselves when we do. They are part of our form of government."

Ten of the 12 Democrats and 18 of the 38 Republicans in the Senate voted for the measure. Sen. Irving Long (R-Manchester) was absent because of illness.

"I BELIEVE it will not meet the test of the guideline of the court. I believe it is invidiously discriminatory because of its area basis," said Sen. Richard Turner (R-Council Bluffs).

Sen. J. T. Dykhouse (R-Rock Rapids) said, "It will cost us another $1,000 a day at least for the additional senators and representatives we are going to add to this body."

Sen. John J. Brown (D-Emmetsburg) said an impression held by some that the issue has been a battle between rural and urban areas is false. He said the fight has been between "special interests versus the people of Iowa."

Frommelt, declaring there has been what he called "shameful pressure" and "disgraceful conduct" by special interests, said one conference committee member was visited by a Farm Bureau Federation delegation. He said the delegation told the committee member that any more senators "than 51 would produce socialism."

HERE IS the Senate vote on final passage:

Republicans for (18) — Kenneth Benda, Hartwick; Donald Beneke, Laurens; R. O. Burrows, Belle Plaine; John Campbell, Oskaloosa; Leigh Curran, Mason City; Leo Elthon, Fertile; Joe Flatt, Winter-set; Jacob Grimstead, Lake Mills; Vernon Kuhl, Parkersburg; Vern Lisle, Clarinda; Seeley Lodwick, Wever; Robert Rigler, New Hampton; Jack Schroeder, Bettendorf; David Shaff, Clinton; Clifford Vance, Mount Pleasant; Charles Van Eaton, Sioux City; John Walker, Williams; and Martin Wiley, Cedar Rapids.

Democrats for (10) — John J. Brown, Emmetsburg; Joseph Coleman, Clare; Robert Dods, Danville; Adolph Elvers, Elkader; Andrew Frommelt, Dubuque; Robert Fulton, Waterloo; Peter Hansen, Manning; Eugene Hill, Newton; Jacob Mincks, Ottumwa, and George O'Malley, Des Moines.

REPUBLICANS against (19) — Howard Buck, Melbourne; Harry Cowden, Guthrie Center; A. Van Doran, Boone; J. T. Dykhouse, Rock Rapids; Earl Eljah, Clarence; Louis Fisher, Osceola; LeRoy Getting, Sanborn; Charles Griffin, Mapleton; Henry Lucken, LeMars; D. C. Nolan, Iowa City; Dewey Phelps, Hillsboro; George Scott, West Union; Vera Shivvers, Knoxville; John Shoeman, Atlantic; Richard Stephens, Ainsworth; Richard Turner, Council Bluffs; Howard Vincent, Russell; Edward Wearin, Red Oak, and Joe Wilson, Unionville.

Democrats against (2) — Franklin Main, Lamoni, and Orval Walter, Lenox.

Absent — Irving Long, R-Manchester.

WHERE DOES THE HAPPY DIFFERENCE BEGIN?

Perhaps, for you, the Happy Difference in shopping at Eagle begins with that after dinner cup of coffee and the Eagle newspaper ad. Many Iowa City people have found they can plan their entire week's menu around the many specials offered by Eagle. Or it could begin when you enter the store. It's the cleanest, brightest, friendliest, most appetizing Food Center in Iowa City.

But wherever the Happy Difference begins for you, the result, like the proof of the pudding, is good eating! And at Eagle, the good eating is guaranteed. Eagle believes that no sale is complete until the meal is eaten and enjoyed!

Enjoy the Happy Difference soon... shop Eagle!

The happy store... for happy people!

S. Quad Names Fennelly President

Tom Fennelly, A1, Davenport, won a nine-vote victory in the race for president of South Quadrangle in Wednesday's elections.

Fennelly received 32 votes in the dormitory election to edge past Norm Dunlap, A3, Milan, Ill., who finished with 23 votes.

The two other major races were walk-a-ways for Jack Pringle, A2, Garner, who received 61 votes for vice-president, and Bob Shadle, G, Davenport, who picked up 57 tallies for the student senate representative post. Both candidates were unopposed.

Five representatives to the South Quad Council were also elected. They were Larry Lowenberg, AX, Mason City, section one; Larry Erb, E1, Cedar Rapids, section two; Alan Weggermann, A1, Cedar Rapids, section three; Dick Blomker, A2, Hardy, section four; and Joe Thompson, P1, Jefferson, section five.

Brendan Behan Still In Critical Condition

DUBLIN (AP) — Brendan Behan continued in a critical state Wednesday night.

"His condition is very grave," said doctors at Meath Hospital.

Stricken with jaundice and diabetes, the playwright sank into a coma Tuesday night. All visitors were barred except his wife, Beatrice, constantly at his bedside.

The series of doleful hospital bulletins threw a cloud of gloom over the pubs where Behan loved to carouse.
