

General MacArthur Worsens—Slips into 'Peaceful Coma'

WASHINGTON (AP) — General Douglas MacArthur took an apparent turn for the worst Friday in his stubborn fight for life, showing "signs of entering a peaceful coma."

The ominous word that the five-star general was approaching "coma" — the deepest kind of unconsciousness and frequently the last stage of an illness in aged persons — came late this afternoon from Lt. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, the Army's surgeon general.

Heaton, the chief surgeon in all three of MacArthur's major surgical operations since March 6, gave no amplification to the terse, one-sentence bulletin.

But it appeared obvious that a definite change — whether reversible or not — had occurred in the general's condition. And the bulletin marked the first time the word "coma" had been used in any bulletin concerning his condition.

MacArthur's condition worsened Saturday. He slipped into a coma, a condition which sometimes follows extensive surgery. Another cause is poisoning of the system by external or internal means.

In aged persons, coma is frequently the last stage of an illness. In efforts to overcome unconsciousness, doctors treat the underlying disease or injury which causes it.

But Heaton's bulletin offered no statement as to the underlying cause of MacArthur's unconsciousness. The use of the word "peaceful" in describing his condition would not necessarily detract from its seriousness.

Causes Little Damage—

Mild Earthquake Scares Alaskans

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — Anchorage, heavily damaged by an earthquake a week ago, was shaken sharply Friday by another tremor that sent jittery residents streaming into the streets.

Anchorage police said they had no reports of injuries and said a quick survey showed areas which had suffered heavily a week ago apparently escaped further damage.

editor of The Iowan for three semesters, and has worked as a reporter for three years.

OTHER EDITORIAL positions on The Iowan will be filled by applications to the editor. Applicants will be asked to state their qualifications and list the editorial positions in the order of preference.

The new Iowan staff will assume its duties May 18.

"The primary concern of the Iowan, as with any newspaper, is to provide accurate reports of news, and also meaningful analysis of news. As the editor, these will be the basic guidelines of my policy," Miss Weiner said.

SPI also initiated a major change in the organization of The Iowan staff. Applicants for City Editor will be required to have had some professional media experience. Professional experience was not previously required.

IT IS HOPED that this requirement will help raise the quality of the Iowan. Publisher Edward P. Bassett said.

"We want to make it clear that the City Editor will in no way be involved in policy decision. The editor-in-chief will have complete control in the newsroom," Bassett said.

Student Faces Theft Counts

Lawrence J. Driscoll, 41, Cedar Rapids, was arrested early Friday and charged with grand larceny, and petty larceny in the night-time.

Driscoll, 19, was arrested about 12:50 a.m. near the Clayton House Motel by Highway Patrolman Richard Reddick.

Driscoll was charged with two larceny counts by Police Judge Robert W. Jensen. Bond was set at $1,000 on the grand larceny charge and $500 on the petty larceny in the night-time charge. He was taken to the Johnson County jail in lieu of bond.

Driscoll's case was continued until Monday morning so that he might obtain an attorney.

MRS. PEABODY HOME—

BOSTON (AP) — Mrs. Malcolm Peabody, mother of the Massachusetts governor, returned to Boston on Friday with a vow to continue an active fight for racial equality "even if it means going to jail again."

Mrs. Peabody, 72, wife of a retired Episcopal bishop, flew in from Florida.

Soviets Expel 3 Old Stalinists

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Communist party has expelled three old hard-line Stalinists — Georgi M. Malenkov, V. M. Molotov and Lazar Kaganovich.

The long-awaited final disgrace of three — for years rated among the most powerful men in the world — came in a throwaway line in theoretician Mikhail Suslov's 10,000-word denunciation of the Chinese Communists.

Molotov, in particular has leaned to the Chinese side in the current battle between Soviet Premier Khrushchev and Peking. Molotov and Malenkov both have been Soviet premiers.

All three were accused over and over at the party congress of heinous crimes against the Soviet people during the Stalin era and of seeking to restore his reign of terror.

They were ousted from all government posts in June 1957 when Khrushchev beat them in a struggle for control of the party and government apparatus.

"Is it to restore such inhuman practices," Suslov asked, "that the Chinese leaders are so concerned about?"

"Is that why they show such sympathy for people who have been expelled from our party?" That was the single sentence that announced the expulsion.

Sulowans Help Liven GOP Meeting

Chamberlain and Stafford, along with Dr. Arthur C. Wise, 715-12th Ave., Coralville, offered from the floor resolutions to the convention.

Chamberlain, whose resolution took the form of an amendment to the one on foreign policy offered by the convention's resolutions committee, called for the addition of a strong cry for victory over communism to the convention's resolutions committee resolution on foreign policy. The delegates approved the amendment overwhelmingly.

Stafford offered a resolution to endorse the Becker Amendment of the Constitution of the United States. The Becker Amendment would among other things prohibit encroachment upon the right of "offering reading from, or listening to prayers or biblical references" on a voluntary basis "in any governmental or public school, institution, or place." The resolution was passed without discussion.

Dr. Wise presented two resolutions, both of which were passed. The first was a statement against Government medicare programs and the second resolution, called for opposition to the public accommodations section of the civil rights bill now before the Senate.

In the selection of delegates to the state Republican convention in Des Moines, April 21-22, the following persons associated with the Iowan were named delegates:

Mabel Edwards, resident associate instructor in gerontology; Kathryn Gay, Nurse II; Edna Pixley, cytologist; Max Wright, assistant professor of light and management; Wanda Pickering, secretary in the Institute of Gerontology; and Ralph Deadman, supervisor in Data Processing.

Six Killed, 69 Injured During Texas Twister

Max Morath Entertains At Macbride

When Max Morath presented "Ragtime Revisited" in Macbride Auditorium Friday night, the audience sang along, laughed enthusiastically and applauded vigorously.

Morath wore a derby, spats, a highly-starched detachable collar, sleeve garters and a chalk-striped suit styled from an authentic 1909 model.

A delightful combination of Morath's talking directly to the audience, showing slides from the era he sang about and playing piano kept the performer and the audience in complete contact with one another.

AN UNCLE of Morath's, Dick Ransell, graduated from the SUI College of Law in 1906. While at SUI, he wrote "Hawkeye March." Ransell, a ragtime piano player himself, played by ear.

Morath's mother was a school musician. She played for Ransell, and he improvised.

"The cradle of ragtime is in the Midwest," Morath said. "Ragtime was dead when I was born (1926), and I'm not trying to sell 'the good old days.'"

"It's the same thing that makes folk music popular. People like to look at the past. In fact, early ragtime was folk music in all ways but one — ragtime was folk music from the cities, and folk music was supposed to come from the hills.

"RAGTIME, LIKE the blues and jazz, was started by the American Negro. It started with banjo music in the 1870's, moved to the piano era in the 1890's and by the turn of the century, singing of syncopated ragtime began."

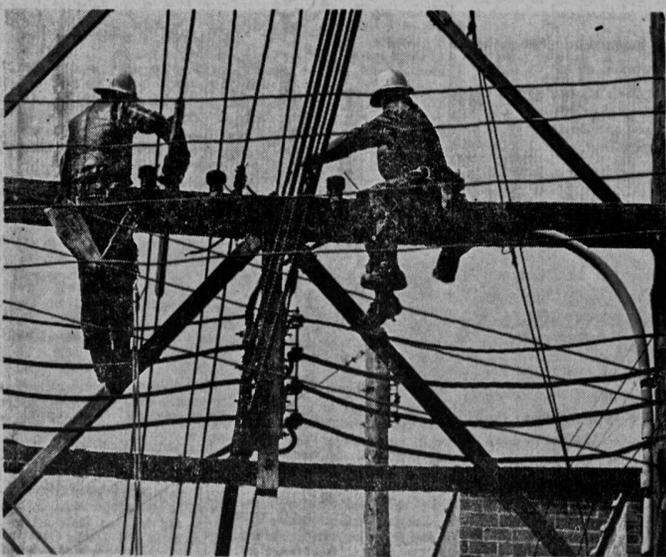

A "song illustrator," Morath relived the days of syncopated ragtime with the audience, as he flashed slides on the screen. Each slide was a typical turn of the century scene about his music.

MORATH LEASES the slides from a man in Topeka, Kan., who has the only collection of this kind in the United States.

"My favorite place to appear is a college campus," Morath said. "I want to entertain; the college circuit offers a large number of places to appear, and I'm idealistic about this music. I enjoy appealing to young people, three generations removed from the era I talk about."

"I'm especially pleased to be at SUI," he said. "and I have great respect for this school. Several of my good friends went to SUI, and studied in the theatre here. They have the highest respect for the instructors."

VICTORY FOR DEMOCRACY— WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk pictured the ouster of President Joao Goulart as a victory for constitutional democracy in Brazil. And he proclaimed "U.S. readiness 'to work very closely' with the new regime to help pull the country out of economic chaos.

Tornado Hits Wichita Falls, Sheppard Base

Gov. Connally Orders 100 Guardsmen To Patrol Area

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — A tornado, its funnel outlined against patches of blue sky, ripped through the northwestern suburbs of Wichita Falls and nearby Sheppard Air Force Base on Friday, killing six persons, injuring 69 others and causing enormous property damage.

Entire sections of home additions were demolished by the twister. Autos were tossed about like toys. Power and phone lines were knocked down.

WICHITA GENERAL Hospital said five of the dead were women and one was a man, identified as Alfred Miller, 75, a retired vice president of the former First National Bank. He lived on a small farm in the Sunset Terrace area.

Gov. John B. Connally ordered 100 National Guardsmen to help Wichita Falls police patrol the devastated area.

Although there was no official estimate of the property damage, unofficial surveys put the loss at near $2 million.

HARDEST HIT were the Sunset Terrace and Lincoln Heights residential sections. One resident said the damage was so great he could not recognize the area where he lived. Extra police were rushed to the scene to prevent looting.

The grayish-white funnel stood out in relief against a blue sky studded with clouds as it slowly approached on its path of destruction.

It first touched down about 3 p.m. Then, dipping and twisting, it cut a swath about 1/2-mile wide across the suburbs. It moved across heavily populated Sheppard Air Force Base, hitting the nurses' quarters, several barracks and the civil engineering base.

At the Wichita Falls Sheppard School, children huddled in halls. But just as it neared the school, the funnel lifted. The children could hear debris falling around the building.

Rights Bill Changes Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen indicated Friday he will aim his first efforts to revise the civil rights bill at the fair employment practices section.

The Illinois senator told reporters he has found more Republican and Democratic support for amending this section than for changing any other part.

He said he will withhold proposed changes in the highly controversial public accommodations section until he sees what headway can be made with the fair employment provisions.

Dirksen said last Tuesday he will offer about a dozen amendments to improve, not "emasculate or water down," the section aimed at discouraging racial discrimination in employment.

Proponents of the bill continued their point-by-point argument in the Senate as leaders sought to cope with absenteeism.

U.S., Panama End Breach of Relations

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Panama agreed Friday to end at once their 11-week breach of diplomatic relations and to discuss promptly differences which were climaxed in bloody January rioting.

A 150-word agreement to restore relations severed Jan. 17 and to seek a settlement of long-standing disputes was signed at the Pan American Union on Friday afternoon amid considerable fanfare.

President Johnson then talked by phone with Panama's President Roberto Chari.

A short time later, Johnson designated Robert B. Anderson, former secretary of the Treasury, as the special U.S. emissary to seek an end to differences which go all the way back to the 1903 treaty which gave the United States perpetual control of the Panama Canal Zone.

The agreement opening the way for talks was signed by the U.S. and Panamanian ambassadors to the OAS, Ellsworth Bunker and Miquel Moreno, who have previously in many weeks of particularly fruitless discussions trying to set up a parity.

Speaking to a White House gathering of Congressional leaders, Latin-American ambassadors to the Organization of American States and other dignitaries, Johnson had this to say after announcing Anderson's appointment: "This is truly a great day for the American people, for Panama, for all the Western Hemisphere and for all freedom-loving people everywhere."

Anderson is a Texas Democrat-turned-Republican who was secretary of the Treasury under President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The outbreak of violence in and along the borders of the 10-mile-wide Canal Zone came on Jan. 9 as an outgrowth of a schoolboy dispute over flying of U.S. and Panamanian flags at schools in the zone.

Before things quieted down two days later, 27 persons had been killed, including three U.S. soldiers, and more than 200 injured, including more than 80 Americans. Heavy damage was inflicted on American property, mostly outside the zone.

The agreement opening the way for talks was signed by the U.S. and Panamanian ambassadors to the OAS, Ellsworth Bunker and Miquel Moreno, who have previously in many weeks of particularly fruitless discussions trying to set up a parity.

He declined to be more specific. It was recalled that several years ago, while he was conducting a one-man campaign against tax collection graft, Williams charged the Internal Revenue Service used lie detectors in an effort to find out which of its employees was leaking information to him.

Leakey Finds Early 'Homo'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A British anthropologist announced Friday discovery of a new primitive species of human, nearly two million years old, that may be man's oldest known direct ancestor.

Dr. Louis S. B. Leakey and two other scientists who have studied fossil remains of the species found in East Africa have named it "Homo Habilis" from the Latin meaning roughly "man having ability." Leakey said the species was from 3 1/2 to 4 feet tall and may have been able to speak.

Leakey announced the discovery at a news conference at National Geographic Society headquarters. He said it "may rank some day as the most important in our knowledge of human evolution."

He later told a National Press Club luncheon that Homo Habilis is "unquestionably shattering to our whole concept of man." He said evidence from the find may have rewritten the story of early man.

Leakey reported he and his wife found fossil parts of seven individuals of the Homo Habilis species, including a young woman he and his wife nicknamed "Cinderella."

Leakey said that according to the evidence, "There is no doubt that Africa — East Central Africa — is where man really comes from."

Mail Carrier Dies; Apparent Suicide

Roy R. Vesely, 60, post office employee, apparently committed suicide about 8 a.m. Friday on the stairway outside his apartment at 714 East Burlington St., according to Iowa City police.

Vesely shot himself in the head with a .22 caliber pistol, police said. Dr. George Callahan, Johnson county medical examiner, ruled the death a suicide.

Police said they received a call at 7:45 a.m. Friday that a man had fallen down the stairs in the East Burlington Street apartment house, investigated the call and found the apparent suicide.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Oathout Funeral Home.

Brazil Tackles Economics

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — With a promise of U.S. cooperation, Provisional President Paschoal Ranieri Mazzilli flew here from Brasilia on Friday night to tackle Brazil's perilous economic problems and the aftermath of revolutionary upheaval.

The wife and two children of deposed President Joao Goulart arrived meanwhile by plane at a small airfield near Montevideo, Uruguay, and went into hiding.

Their pilot said Goulart remained in Brazil — presumably at his Brazilian ranch estate on the Argentine border. It was believed in Uruguay that Goulart would follow his family into exile.

Army generals — who overthrew Goulart in a three-day revolution undertaken, they said, to prevent a Cuban-style Brazilian slide into the Communist camp — said they believed Goulart had crossed the Uruguay River into Argentina or perhaps had gone elsewhere.

It was vaguely agreed that Goulart was washed up politically, for the present at least. The generals in power with Mazzilli began releasing Communist labor leaders and other Goulart backers from jails.

Even before Mazzilli reached Rio de Janeiro, U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk said in Washington the United States will work closely with the new regime on Brazil's urgent problems.

Mazzilli, who was president of the Chamber of Deputies, began forming his government after his arrival from Brasilia, the inland capital. He must have a full staff of ministers to begin the job of tackling a host of economic problems.

All will be in office no more than 30 days unless the Congress chooses Mazzilli, 54, a conservative to finish out Goulart's unexpired term, ending next year. Mazzilli was named by Congress to fill the vacancy left by Goulart's ouster after a two-day rebellion led by anti-Communist generals. Congress under the constitution, is supposed to elect a president within 30 days.

Brazil's mounting economic problems were multiplied by the revolution, which rebel leaders said was intended to prevent Latin America's largest nation from becoming another Cuba. Supplies of food and fuel are short because of disruption caused by the revolution.

Words are fine; how about action?

THERE IS every reason to believe that Adlai Stevenson's Dag Hammarskjold Memorial Lecture at Princeton represents Administration policy, at least verbally. Ambassador Stevenson suggested that, except perhaps in relation to Communist China, the policy of "containment" is outdated.

There are no longer two colossi confronting each other with their thermonuclear weapons at the ready; there are numerous nationalisms contending for advantage. The big and the little alike fear the universal ruin that would follow a third world war; and they are all aware that such a catastrophe could be the sequel of any of the brushfire wars that break out from time to time.

Hence, according to the Stevenson thesis, we have entered an era of violence without war. Disputes occur and fighting follows, but it is not permitted to spread.

The peacemaking machinery is frail and primitive, like the early steam engine, but it has worked on no less than 20 occasions in the past few decades, and, however precariously, it seems to be working in Cyprus now.

There is corroboration for this view from several quarters. The day after Mr. Stevenson spoke, President Johnson argued that general war has become "impossible" and that nations must develop techniques of "reasoned agreement" instead of "ready aggression."

Still more recently, Sen. Fulbright has assailed our ludicrous standpatism on Panama, Cuba and China and urged us to think "unthinkable thoughts." (Incidentally, if proof were needed of the soundness of the senator's thesis, it was immediately supplied by his colleagues. Republicans and Democrats alike were quick to disassociate themselves from Fulbright's "heresies"; a few praised the speech as "courageous," but none stepped forward to voice concurrence.)

Diplomacy, however, always lags behind change, and while some lag is inevitable, the greater it is the greater the danger of a debacle. President Johnson inveighs against war, but in the same speech he repeats the same old hogwash about standing ready to keep the Vietnamese from being engulfed by communism.

He has been President for four months, and is Vice President for two years before that, and he still has not learned, or in any case fears to say, that in South Viet Nam we are dealing with a civil war in which we are financing, arming and fighting on the wrong side as far as the Vietnamese peasants themselves are concerned.

What would happen if the diplomats decided to come down to earth? The United States would enter on negotiations with the Chinese Reds and North Viet Nam with a view to ending hostilities in Southeast Asia, ending the danger of the war's escalating in that area, and giving the Asians peace for a change.

For the sake of peace and a seat in the United Nations, the Chinese would dampen their ardor for world revolution and raise the standard of living within their own borders.

Mao can be confident that the hundreds of millions of ordinary Chinese, each with only one life to live, would appreciate full bellies, decent sanitation, and a prolonged life expectancy.

The Russians? Their greatest contribution would be to pay up their arrears in the United Nations, a peace-keeping body as precious to them as it is to the United States and all the other powers, large and small. They could do this with as ill a grace as they pleased — as long as they did it.

Adds to urban renewal problem — Student eviction case may effect city code

By DALLAS MURPHY
Staff Writer
Iowa City's need for an adequate housing code, already underlined by Federal Urban Renewal requirements, was brought into sharper focus this week by the Marlas-Ellwein eviction case. The Johnson County District Court hearing of the case is expected to produce a court test not only of the state housing code, but also of local enforcement of the code. The basic issue in this case is the claim by four SUI students that they are not required by law to pay rent because the apartment in which they live, owned by Mrs. Georgia T. Marlas, is sub-standard according to the minimum set forth in the Iowa state housing code. Mrs. Marlas contends that her apartment building had already been built when the law went into effect and that the law is not retroactive. She is seeking to evict the students from the apartment. SHOULD PRESIDING District Judge James P. Gaffney, who is expected to reach a decision later this month, rule in favor of the students, it is feasible that a great flux of SUI students living in sub-standard housing will rise en masse against their landlords, declaring they are not required to pay their rent.

Landlords will then be in a position of either updating their dwellings to meet the standards set by the state housing code or losing all their tenants. Once these minimum improvements have been made, however, the landlord may find it necessary to make further improvements because of a unique problem posed by the Federal Urban Renewal Program. According to urban renewal requirements, an area desiring Federal aid for urban renewal must have a modern municipal housing code which meets with Federal approval. The Iowa state housing code is not deemed adequate by Federal authorities for this purpose.

AS A RESULT, Iowa City would not only have to devise a new municipal housing code, but also ensure that it would be enforced. "Iowa City's present municipal housing code is non-existent for all practical purposes," City Manager Carsten D. Leikvold said Wednesday. "It's a short, one-page document, which many of the city officials have never even read."

The city cannot presently enforce the state housing code because of a lack of machinery and personnel, Leikvold said. He added that he feels property owners should be given advance notice before the code, which has been overlooked for years, is enforced. Because the Federal Government will not accept the state housing code as adequate fulfillment of its urban renewal requirements, Leikvold said he believes the best plan for the city is to develop a new housing code and then see that it is enforced.

The non-enforcement of the state code is not an unusual occurrence, according to Jerry Lovelace, attorney for Mrs. Marlas in the eviction case. Many "It does not seem feasible or necessary to appoint any new committee to examine the admissions office," he wrote. And he's undoubtedly quite right. "That should be the function of the University Examination Service."

No matter who does the investigation, it appears as though Wild and Rose should get together and pool their resources in solving this thorny problem.

States irrational in pursuing 'rights'

By RALPH MCGILL
Historians of the Civil War view the period of Feb. 15 to Aug. 1, 1864, as that in which the madness of states rights reached such a peak of irrational action and word that the Confederacy was thereby deprived of any last hope of effectively continuing either the war or a functioning Government. A beleaguered Congress at Richmond suspended the writ of habeas corpus for the months above indicated. The reason was embarrassing. There were so many deserters, malingerers and evaders of the conscription law that it was not possible to maintain the armies. Yet the flood of rage and invective against President Davis and the Government was unbelievable in pettiness and blindness.

In 1864 it was obvious that under Generals Grant and Sherman the spring offensive would be heavier and more decisive. So witless and reckless was the passion for states rights that the Confederacy, already hopelessly weakened by those "rights," was doomed to final dissension and destruction of morale.

It was useless to argue that loyal citizens would feel no danger from suspension of the writ — that only the disloyal would fear it. The states-rights would not have it so.

The vice president of the Confederacy, Alexander Stephens, appeared before his state legislature to demand that they reject it. Jefferson Davis was attacked as "tyrant," "rascal" and a "dictator."

Georgia's fiery Robert Toombs denounced Davis as "that scoundrel." District judges continued to issue the writ of habeas corpus to any person asking it.

NORTH CAROLINA passed a law nullifying the act of the Government at Richmond on the 2nd. Most newspapers condemned this "loss of liberty." Here and there an editor was honest enough to know better.

The Richmond Enquirer, defending suspension of the writ, said, "As soon as the inestimable privilege of deserters and traitors, skulkers and stragglers is treasured upon by seizing them for punishment the wail of expiring liberty is heard from every press inimical to the (central) Government, and from some men whose official position was prostituted in the same service."

The folly, however, continued. Gov. Brown of Georgia declared that "even the Lincoln Government, despotic as it was, had not dared any such encroachment upon the liberties of the people as the Confederacy." Even old Sam Houston joined the many damning Jefferson Davis.

Anti-Semitism entered it. Individuals and editors said that President Davis had been persued by Judah P. Benjamin, who held three cabinet positions during the years of war, not to mention the name of Christ in his proclamations for supplication and prayer.

THE FEROCITY of states rights emotions led the states to oppose not merely the central Government of the Confederacy, but each other. Both North Carolina and South Carolina embargoed food supplies. Virginia was damned by spokesmen from other states as the "pet" of the Government. The "Athens Southern Watchman," irritated by Virginia's frequent reference to her glorious past and her superior citizenship, said, "Their claim to this bastard heraldry will appear supremely ridiculous when it is recollect that their great-grandmothers were the refuse girls of Britain, gathered up, shipped over here and sold, each for one hundred and fifty pounds of tobacco."

A University budget officer said, "Our resident tuition will be exceeded by only one state institution west of the Mississippi River. We will have the second highest non-resident tuition in the country."

It sounds almost like he's calling the educational facilities there second rate. And while Gov. Love raises fees and loses friends (but those out-of-state students can't vote anyway), another interesting name is in the news at Northwestern.

A DEAN Wild there has rejected a Student Senate proposal to establish a committee to investigate the admissions office. There have been charges that the admissions office has been discriminating in admission of new students. Upon extensive questioning the officials were quiet — they wouldn't admit to anything.

Wild, who is Dean of Faculties, wrote a letter to the Senate president.

Love causes hike in Colorado tuition

BY JON VAN

The governor of Colorado is named Love, but he'll never be known as Free Love — at least not by students in that state. The University Board of Regents there approved a tuition increase of $78 a year for residents and $202 for non-residents at his request.

A University budget officer said, "Our resident tuition will be exceeded by only one state institution west of the Mississippi River. We will have the second highest non-resident tuition in the country."

Howell Cites Differences In Language

"The rhetorical utterance should never be confused with the poetical utterance," Wilbur Samuel Howell, professor of Rhetoric and Oratory at Princeton University, told a meeting of the Humanities Society last night.

"Rhetoric" is the use of language in such a way as to produce a desired impression upon the reader or hearer," said Howell. Therefore any effective piece of literature is rhetoric.

In his lecture, Howell cited statements made by Kenneth Burke, a 20th Century literary critic, who has said that poetical and rhetorical utterances are alike because their effect utilizes their identity in utterance and form. But according to Howell, the form and style of these utterances differ from each other.

Howell said that Aristotle was among the early writers who recognized the difference between the two literatures. This is evidenced by his awareness of the difference between imitative and non-imitative art.

"A poetic statement suggests the parallel situation of the poet and his public; a rhetorical one deals with reality by means of direct assertions. A poetic statement converts reality into a symbolic action; while a rhetorical one leaves reality intact and seeks to reproduce it in context," he said.

Howell concluded that although Burke's theory of the place of rhetoric in literature has its positive advantages, it represents a retreat rather than an advance in critical literary theory.

Congressman Fred Schwengel in a keynote address to the Johnson County Republican Convention here Friday, said that in order for the Republican party to win the 1964 Presidential campaign it must "expose Lyndon Johnson for what he is — a wheeler-dealer who is long on expediency and short on principle."

The Davenport Republican stated that it is necessary to expose Johnson as being on both sides of the civil rights issue and for being the "preceptor of Bobby Baker."

SCHWENGL TOLD the convention there would not have been a civil rights bill without Republican leadership.

Congressman Schwengel attacked President Johnson's foreign policy by saying that we have 120 different foreign policies. He asked for one basic foreign policy with 120 applications as situations warrant.

Miller Names Schultz As Assistant Coach

Dick Schultz was named to continue as Iowa's assistant basketball coach Friday by new Head Coach Ralph Miller.

"Coach Miller has declared that he is very happy that Schultz has agreed to remain as assistant," Athletic Director Forest Evashevski said in making the announcement. "He respects Dick's coaching ability and feels sure that he will fit into the plans and style of future Hawkeye basketball."

SCHULTZ JOINED THE athletic staff in 1960 as freshman basketball and baseball coach. He was made varsity basketball assistant in 1962.

"I am very pleased to continue to be associated with Iowa basketball," Schultz said. "After visiting with Ralph Miller Tuesday, we both feel there will be no problems. He certainly has proved to be a fine coach and I am looking forward to working with him."

Schultz told The Daily Iowan that he expected some "noticeable differences in play patterns and style" when Iowa's basketball team opens the season next year.

"HE IS AN ADVOCATE of the full court press and changing defenses," Schultz commented. "We will probably be running basically a single post offense as compared to the double post under Sharm (Schuerman). Ralph also likes to fast break."

Turning to recruiting, Schultz said, "We're in pretty good shape. I have tried to stay on top of this thing and we compared notes on prospects when we met Tuesday."

"There are two or three boys that he has been talking to, but they were not interested in Wichita because of no medical and dental schools," Schultz said. "With the broader offerings at Iowa, they may enroll here."

SCHULTZ SAID THAT Miller was basically looking for boys with quickness and size to fit in with the faster style and the full court press.

"We hope to recruit a balanced freshman team," he noted. "For example, one of our very good prospects is a 5-10 boy. He can't dunk the ball, but he would fit into Miller's style nicely."

Schultz, who is the active field coach of the baseball team while Head Coach Otto Vogel is recovering from an illness, is a graduate of Central College at Pella. He was athletic director and coach at Humboldt for ten years.

Practice Starts Monday

Burns Begins Shaping Team

Head Coach Jerry Burns will start molding the 1964 Iowa football team Monday with the opening of spring practice.

The 20-practice sessions will be climaxed by a major intrasquad game — to be played before several hundred coaching clinic visitors — Saturday, May 2. There will be no Varsity-Alumni game for the second year.

BURNS, beginning his fourth season as Hawkeye coach, will emphasize the switch-over of two-plateau football. He will also be evaluating his squad to fill positions vacated by graduating seniors. Juniors will not be excused from drills as in 1963.

The prospective spring roster totals 99 players, 43 of whom are freshmen. Nineteen lettermen are available, including five regular starters from the 1963 team which had a 3-3-2 record.

Burns again will use basically the winged-T formation, with emphasis being placed on a quarterback who can work the option series and a power-running fullback.

Passing will be stressed and the development of capable receivers who can catch the "long bomb" is high on the list of Burns' pre-practice plans.

THE TWO BIGGEST holes in the lineup to fill are the guard-line-backer positions vacated by all-Americans Mike Reilly and Wally Hilgenberg.

It also is necessary to find a strong running fullback. Junior Karl Ryan returns as the only letterman candidate but there are at least two freshmen, Larry Schreiber and Ralph Thomsen, who could help.

In making the switch to two-plateau football, Burns says it will enable more men to play, thereby developing determination and desire, keeping fresh personnel available and cutting down on chances of injuries. He also said that the player's confidence in his unit will help and that squad morale and spirit could be boosted.

SEVERAL PLAYERS will be given trials at positions new to them: such as junior tackle John Niland to guard, senior Bob LeZotte from running to flanker back, and junior Al Randolph from end to halfback.

The 19 lettermen are Capt. Tony Giacobazzi, Lou Williams, Bill Briggs, Dave Long, Ivory McDowell and Cliff Wilder at ends; Tackles Leo Miller, Phil Deutsch, John Niland, and Bob Ziolkowski; Guards Bernie Budzik and Joe DeAntona; center Dave Recher; Quarterbacks Fred Riddle and Gary Snook; Halfbacks Gary Simpson, Bob LeZotte and Karl Noonan and Fullback Karin Ryan.

Bill Happel, the 1963 freshman coach now moved up to varsity assistant, believes that the following freshmen have shown the most promise: Ends Rich O'Hara, Terry Mulligan; Tackle Bob Stunton; Guards Don Hilsabeck and Gordon Monroe. Center Bob Krga; Quarterback Dave Dirx; Halfbacks Larry McDowell and Dalton Kimble; and Fullbacks Larry Schreiber, Ralph Thomsen and Tom Knutson.

PRINCETON WINS — MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Princeton tennis team beat Miami 5-4 Friday and cut off the longest winning streak in college tennis, 137 straight team victories extending back to 1957.

RAWLS TAKES ONE Stroke Lead — ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Betsy Ann Rawls pulled her game together on the second nine Friday and took a one-stroke lead at the halfway point in the $10,000 St. Petersburg Women's Open Golf Tournament.

Rawls, who plays out of Spartanburg, S.C., sank a 25-foot putt on the 18th hole for a one-over-par 72 and a 36-hole total of 143.

The veteran Patty Berg was one stroke back at 144 after a second round of 73. Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., fired one of the best rounds of the day, a par 71, for third place with 145.

Kathy Whitworth, first-round leader, was fourth with 146 after falling off to 76. Four were bunched at 147.

Yastrzemski Is Spiked, Returns — SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) — American League batting champion Carl Yastrzemski of the Boston Red Sox was spiked on the left foot in an exhibition game with the Los Angeles Angels Friday and was forced to leave the game.

After singling in the third inning, Yastrzemski rounded third on a single by Frank Malzone and was trapped in a rundown. Billy Moran, Los Angeles third baseman, stepped on Yastrzemski while making the putout.

Following first aid in the Red Sox dressing room, Yastrzemski returned to the field.

Hawks Open Today After Cancellation

BY CURT SYLVESTER
Staff Writer

The Iowa baseball team will make its home debut today in a double header scheduled against Luther College of Decorah at 1 p.m.

Friday's game, also scheduled with Luther, was cancelled when prospects for playing looked doubtful. Coaches Dick Schultz and Otto Vogel had to call the Luther coach by 8:30 a.m. so that his team would have time to make the trip if the game was to be played. At the time the Iowa coaches made the call the Iowa City skies were overcast and the forecast called for rain so the game was cancelled.

Coach Schultz announced that he would use the same pitchers he had planned to use, but Bob Gehard and Carl Brunst will split the

Diamond Is Ready

Groundskeepers covered the infield of the Iowa Baseball Diamond Friday night and said the field would be in playing condition for today's doubleheader with Luther if there is no more rain.

Groundskeepers worked throughout the day Friday to get the field into shape. The forecast for today is for partly cloudy skies with temperatures in the 40's.

chores in the opener and Jim McAndrew will hurl the seven inning nightcap.

Other men scheduled to start tomorrow's games are catcher Jim Freese, first baseman Duke Lee, second baseman Jim Koehn, third baseman Jay Petersen, and right fielder Bob Sherman.

Ken Banaszek will probably start the first game in left field but may be switched with Bill Niedbala or Dick Perkins, two experienced outfielders in the second game. Niedbala or Perkins will start in center field in the opener.

Ron Shudes and Mickey Moses are still battling for the shortstop position and both will probably see action in the twinbill.

Golf Lessons To Be Offered

Golf lessons will be offered again for the fifth consecutive year by the Iowa City Playground and Recreation Commission in cooperation with the SUI Athletic Department.

The lessons, to be given at the SUI driving range, will be offered for men, women and children — both beginners and advanced golfers. The classes will begin Monday, April 27 and will meet once a week for eight weeks.

Adult classes will be held on weekdays while children's classes will be conducted on Saturday mornings. Adult classes are scheduled for 9:30 a.m.; 10:30 a.m.; 1:30 p.m.; 2:30 p.m.; 6:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.

The class sessions will be limited to eight persons per class. Each person will receive a bucket of balls, eliminating the necessity of ball shagging.

Iowa City residents will be charged $4.50 for the lessons with non-residents being charged $5. Registration is being held at the commission office at 130 Lafayette Street.

Schedules, Plans Set for Gym Meet

Time schedule, official personnel and plans for deciding individual places have been formulated for the second annual U.S. Gymnastics Federation National championships at SUI April 17 and 18.

Dick Holzappel, Hawkeye gymnastics coach, has been named meet director, with Glenn Wilson, University of Colorado gymnastic coach, as meet manager.

The technical committee for men will be headed by Coach George Szypala of Michigan State and the women's committee is led by Mrs. Ernestine Russell Carter of Lansing, Mich. Everett high school.

Preliminaries in all events for men and women, both in the elite division and the Class A section, are scheduled for Friday, April 17 and Saturday, April 18 at 10 a.m. Men will compete in the field house gymnasium and women in the women's gymnasium.

Saturday at 10 a.m. the elite athletes will display their optional routines and the Class A contestants will have finals, with six places to be awarded.

Last session will occur Saturday at 7:30 p.m. when the top six men and women elite division athletes compete in the field house. Awards of first through sixth will be determined by routines performed during the two daytime sessions and the final optional that evening.

Four Birdies Help Snead Hold Lead

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Sam Snead survived a shaky start Friday to come up with four birdies for a par 71 second round and hold the halfway lead in the $35,000 Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament by three strokes with a 135 total.

Australian Bill Dunk, who started the round in a second place tie, three shots off the lead, matched Snead's 71 to hold second place in a tie with U.S. Open champion Julius Boros, who shot 70 for a 138 total.

Jack Nicklaus, getting ready to defend his Masters championship next week, fired an eagle that helped him to a 69 round, good for fourth place at 139, four shots off the pace.

Arnold Palmer dropped 10 shots back of Snead with a 75 that gave him a 145 total.

Did you know that you can own a new Volkswagen Sedan for as little as $180.00 down and defer the first small $58.00 payment until October 1964? Yes, if you can qualify under our Senior Plan, you can drive to your new position in a new Volkswagen or a new 1500 Station Wagon.

Qualifications? A position upon graduation, be it in Education, Industry, Medicine, Armed Forces, Scholarship Grant, or any gainful employment. Married Students end your moving problems with a VW Station Wagon, pack everything and the trip to your new location will be enjoyable. Small fry are our best boosters.

We made this plan available to last year's class and the response was gratifying, but unfortunately we could not fill all the orders and some people were disappointed. Bragan Thinks Braves Can Win N.L. Pennant

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Milwaukee Manager Bobby Bragan has a bad case of pennantitis. Loathe to admit it publicly, he firmly believes his Braves can win the National League championships provided his young pitchers come through.

"We'll go as far as our pitching will take us," Bragan says. "We've got the sock we need in our lineup and if your young pitchers come through, we should be in contention all the way."

HOWEVER, Bragan knows he needs more than punch and pitching to defeat such strong contenders as Los Angeles, San Francisco, St. Louis, Philadelphia and Cincinnati. He is looking for more speed, a skill to which he is devoted.

"Our outfield stole 66 bases in 75 attempts last year," he boasts openly. Privately he deprecates the lack of speed in his infield.

To put more speed in the infield, Bragan is almost certain to do one of two things. He may replace Roy McMillan with Dennis Menke at shortstop. Or he may put Menke at third and move Eddie Mathews to left field. Frank Bolling is a fixture at second base.

With Mathews in left, the Braves will have the hardest-hitting outfield in baseball. Right fielder Henry Aaron hit 44 home runs last year. Mathews had 23 and Felipe Alou, acquired in a trade with the Giants, hit 20.

BRAGAN THINKS the swap with the Giants improved the Braves by 20 per cent. Besides Alou, Milwaukee got catcher Ed Bailey and pitcher Billy Hoelt. The Braves gave up catcher Del Crandall and pitchers Bob Shaw and Bob Hendley.

"We lost 31 games by one run last year, largely because we didn't hit in the clutch," said Bragan. "Now we ought to look a lot better with a bat in our hands."

It is Bragan's plan to use Joe Torre at first and Bailey, who hit 21 homers in 1963, behind the plate against star right-handers. Torre will catch and Gene Oliver will play first base against leading left-handers.

Warren Spahn, the indestructible southpaw who will be 43 April 23, leads the pitching Big Three, which also has left-hander Dennis Lemaster, 25, and right-hander Bob Sadowski, 26.

5 Prep Stars Show Interest in Iowa

Four all-state football players and an all-state basketball player are reportedly going to enroll at SUI next fall.

Larry Lust, Newton quarterback and all-state basketball selection, is the only one of the five to sign a tender to SUI. However, Hawkeye coaches expect the four all-state footballers to return tenders soon. They are Chuck Roland, quarterback, Des Moines Lincoln; John Diehl, tackle, Cedar Rapids Washington; Tony Williams, halfback, Davenport West and Terry Huff, guard, Davenport Central.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — It will be Northern Dancer against seven of this nation's speediest 3-year-olds in Saturday's 13th running of the $116,500 Florida Derby at Gulfstream Park.

Northern Dancer, born at E. P. Taylor's windfields farm near Toronto, Canada, likely will be 1 to 2 or 2 to 5 favorite with the expected crowd of 25,000 in the 1 1/4-mile run — the final major test for Derby-age colts in Florida.

Willie Shoemaker will make up most of the 122 pounds on Northern Dancer, breaking from the No. 1 post position. His chief competition is expected to come from Roman Brother, under Mantel Ycaza; Dandy K., with Mickey Solomon, and The Scoundrel, Henry Moreno riding.

Also drawing support will be Ky. Pioneer, with John L. Rotz, and Schville, under Braulio Baeza.

Outsiders are Ishkoodah, with Larry Gilligan, and Greek Episode, under Steve Brooks.

The Florida Derby and track record time of 1:46 4/5, set by Gen. Duke in 1957, is in danger if the track is fast as expected. Northern Dancer is certain to go for the early lead from his inside post position, with Greek Episode likely to charge after him.

His only birdie came on the sixth hole, which yielded many eagles as well as a double eagle by Frank Stranahan, who used a drive and a No. 5 iron second on the 501-yard hole to record the third double eagle of the PGA tour this year.

Hostility Between Red Camps Apparently Mounting

Rally Seen By Moscow Against Mao

MOSCOW (AP) — Evidence continued to mount Friday that the world Communist movement has split into two mutually hostile camps and that Moscow is trying to rally all other Red parties against the Chinese.

Although some Eastern European diplomats insisted the Moscow-Peking breach could be healed, few if any of their Western colleagues believed them.

In Budapest, Premier Khrushchev predicted that the world's Communist parties will close ranks against the Chinese and emerge from the battle "stronger and more hardened than before."

HE DENOUNCED the Chinese as "splitters," the same term used in a 10,000-word Soviet Communist party statement published Friday.

That violent diatribe against the Chinese was combined with a call for a showdown conference of the world's Communist parties and persuaded diplomats in Moscow that the quarrel was virtually beyond solution.

It also disclosed that former premiers V. M. Molotov and Georgi Malenkov as well as former first deputy premier Lazar Kaganovich have been expelled from the Communist party.

All three are known as hardline Stalinists and Molotov, at least, has supported Peking in its battle with the Khrushchev-led Soviet party.

The 22nd Congress of the Communist party demanded their ouster, but this was the first word that it had come.

MIKHAIL SUSLOV, the party's chief theoretician, said in the statement the Chinese leader showed "sympathy for people who have been expelled from our party."

1st Republican Files Papers For Sheriff

Donald L. Wilson, 47, deputy sheriff to Albert J. Murphy, is the first Republican to file for the office of Johnson County Sheriff.

Wilson has served 16 years in the sheriff's office. "Through my 16 years of association with the sheriff's department and 10 years with the Soldier's Relief Commission," Wilson said, "I feel I have developed a deep insight into the problems, wants, likes and dislikes of the people of Johnson County and have the experience to take over the complicated and intricate duties of the sheriff's department."

Wilson is a member of the State Sheriff's Association, International Association for Arson Investigators, National Rifleman's Association, American Legion, Forty & Eight, Elks, Moose and member of the Iowa City High School Booster Athletic Club.

The deputy sheriff is married and has two children.

During his time with the department, Wilson has attended many police and investigation classes at the Iowa State Penitentiary.

DES MOINES (AP) — A Legislative conference committee wrestled with reapportionment all day Friday with no decision. The eight lawmakers will take a day off and go back to work Sunday afternoon, trying to have a report by Monday.

Sen. Clifford Vance (R-Mount Pleasant) said the stickiest issue is one that has plagued the Legislature since the current special session opened: How much more strength should rural areas be given in the Senate above what they would have on a purely population basis?

About 35 per cent of the population elects a majority of the current rurally dominated Senate.

VANCE SAID THE committee is looking for a way to make this population factor somewhere between 34 and 39 per cent, but is having a problem doing this without making the Senate too large or chopping up counties to form districts.

There was no objection in the committee to basing the House strictly on population, so that half the voters would elect half the representatives, Vance said.

The committee was working on a House plan calling for 112 to 115 members. There now are 108, with a majority elected by about 27 per cent of the people.

VANCE SAID HE expected any compromise plan to contain a provision against crossing county lines when Legislative districts are drawn.

The committee also was expected to call for restricting every 10 years by the Legislature instead of by a special commission, with the Iowa Supreme Court to do the job if the Legislature failed.

The measure went to the conference committee Thursday after the two houses failed to agree on a proposed constitutional amendment for reapportionment.

In Mississippi—Sulowans Sought For SARE Work

By SUSAN ARTZ Staff Writer

A massive attack on the poverty, deprivation and disenfranchisement among Negroes in Mississippi will be waged beginning this June, and the Student Association on Racial Equality (SARE) is looking for SUIowans to man the project.

The students recruited by SARE will work with a Mississippi statewide organization called the Council of Federated Organizations (COFO) on their 1964 Mississippi Summer Project, Ed Spannaus, A3, Elmhurst, Ill., chairman of SARE's part in the project, said Thursday.

"This promises to be an extremely rewarding experience and an opportunity for SUIowans to participate first hand in the significant social revolution of our time," Spannaus said.

SPANNAUS SAID THE Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) began the first Mississippi voter registration project in August, 1961. Now these activities are coordinated by COFO which includes SNCC, CORE (Congress of Racial Equality), NAACP, SCLC (Southern Christian Leadership Conference), voting leagues and civic groups.

"The summer project, a peace corps type operation, has grown out of a realization that programs of social welfare and political education are needed to supplement the voter registration work. This comprehensive program will attack the poverty and deprivation to which the Negro communities are subject," he said.

The freedom schools will be an expansion of the citizenship classes conducted concurrent with voter registration. On a larger scale, the schools will do remedial work in reading, math, and grammar and hold seminars in government and the humanities.

"THE PROGRAM will provide the politically emergent communities with qualified youthful leadership and will supplement the present educational system," he said.

Community centers throughout Mississippi will be set up by the National Council of Churches and staffed by COFO volunteers. Qualified social workers and nurses are needed to provide the social services.

On Interstate—Asphalt Ban Could Stop Federal Aid

DES MOINES (AP) — A ban by the Legislature on the use of asphalt in interstate highway construction probably would shut off to Iowa the Federal funds that pay for 90 per cent of the superhighways, U.S. Bureau of Public Roads officials said Friday.

Robert E. Simpson, the bureau's district engineer at Ames, said the Federal agency's regulations say it isn't possible for a state to either specify or prohibit the use of any products, articles or materials and still be eligible for Federal aid.

Rex M. Whitton, Federal highway administrator, sent a telegram to Gov. Harold Hughes from Washington expressing the same view.

A resolution ruling out the use of asphalt in interstate highway construction in Iowa has been introduced in the Legislature by Sens. George Scott (R-West Union) and Irving Long (R-Manchester). It hasn't been acted upon by their house.

Simpson said passage of the resolution would "create a very embarrassing situation for the Iowa Highway Commission and the interstate program in Iowa, in general."

He said such a ban would conflict with Federal regulations, and added: "If the state wants Federal aid it must comply with the Bureau of Public Roads regulations."

The resolution introduced by Scott and Long contends asphalt is inferior to portland cement for highway paving purposes.

NEW YORK (AP) — The guns paid homage Monday to the Army Douglas MacArthur, whose long life, the U.S. Military his last home.

At both places, 19-gun salutes were fired at noon.

Across the nation, on the high seas, and at all American installations around the world, flags were lowered to half-staff. They will remain so, by order of President Johnson, until after the funeral services for MacArthur in Norfolk, Va., next Saturday.

During the week of mourning, his body will lie in repose in New York, the Capitol rotunda in Washington, and in the MacArthur Memorial rotunda in Norfolk.

HE CHOSE NORFOLK as his last resting place because his mother, the former Mary Pickney Hardy, was born, reared and married there.

MacArthur's body was brought to New York from Washington by motorcade Sunday night. He died in Walter Reed Army Hospital at the age of 84.

At 8 a.m. Monday an honor guard of Army, Navy, Marines, Coast Guards, and Air Force men took station around the casket containing MacArthur's body in a New York funeral home.

The body was clad in simple sun tans — the tropical uniform he wore in the Pacific War and during the summer in the Korean War.

Arkansas High Three Children

MENA, Ark. (AP) — Sheriff Bruce a farm couple Monday after the couple could not deny the child grounds.

Archie Cude, the farmer, told Scoggins that he would not take the children back if the state had them vaccinated against smallpox so they could attend school.

Cude said his religious convictions are against medical treatment and if the children are vaccinated, he would consider them unclear. Mrs. Cude said she agrees with her husband.

THE CHILDREN, Wayne, 12; Delia, 11, and Linda May, 8, sat quietly in the sheriff's office for most of the afternoon. Scoggins said he would take them to his home for the night.

Chancery Judge Wesley Howard, whose lower court ruling was upheld by the Supreme Court, said the children would be put under the care of the State Welfare Department pending further litigation.

Cude said he would ask the Supreme Court for a rehearing as the first step in an appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Scoggins first went to the Cude farm several miles north of Mena in extreme western Arkansas an hour after the Supreme Court decision was handed down. The two girls ran into a wooded area and would not come out, Scoggins said.

WAYNE WAS helping his father build a house on the farm of Cude's attorney, Nabors Shaw of Mena.
