Hancher Wins Outstanding Iowan Award

A. H. Arneson 'Outstanding Iowan Citizen'

36 SUI Students, 2 Faculty Tapped Into Mortar Board

Virgil M. Hancher and A. H. "Arne" Arneson earned top honors at the Sixth Annual Leadership Banquet here Thursday night.

Dr. Hancher, SUI President, was named Outstanding Iowan. Arneson, manager of the local J.C. Penney Co. store, was honored as the Outstanding Community Leader.

Hancher, who was out of town and unable to accept the award in person, is the second person to receive the honor. The award is sponsored jointly by Mortar Board, Omicron Delta Kappa, and the Iowa City Chamber of Commerce, who also sponsor the annual dinner.

The SUI President has received at least 12 honorary degrees from numerous universities and colleges, served as a delegate to the United Nations in 1959, and has always been a strong supporter of good SUI-Iowa City relations.

HANCHER, who is retiring in June after nearly 24 years as SUI's chief administrator, has served as president here longer than any other man.

Arneson, a long-time community leader, has served as president of the Chamber of Commerce and the local Kiwanis Club. He has served on the Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors and several of its committees, has been director of the local Community Givers Drive, quarterback of the Iowa City Quarterback Club, and is now head of the Iowa City Citizen's Committee.

He received an engraved silver bowl. ARNESON said he hopes the award was not the end of his civic career. "I hope this doesn't mean I'm an old poop."

He was referring back to an earlier comment by Don Winner, chairman of the Retail Trade Division of the Chamber, who said that progress is not made by "old poops."

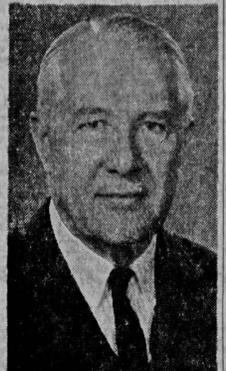

THIRTY-SIX SUI students and two faculty members were tapped into membership in Omicron Delta Kappa, leadership honor society for upperclassmen, and Mortar Board, senior women's honor society, at the close of the program.

SUI faculty members tapped for Omicron Delta Kappa were F. X. Cretzmer, track coach, and George Forell, professor of religion.

SUI women tapped for membership in Mortar Board were: Judith Skalsky, A3, Cedar Rapids; Linda Johnston, A3, Centerville; Sue Reynolds, A3, Charles City; Connie Hipwell, A3, Correctionville; Sue Mockridge, A3, DeWitt; Sheila Nolan, A3, Guthrie Center; Kathryn Anderson, A3, Kelllogg; Dottie Darling, A3, Iowa City; Ruth Turpin, A3, Manson; Darlene Brady, A3, Maquoketa; Jan Moore, A3, Marshalltown; Linda Beth Creed, N3, Newton; Tani Griffl, A3, Olin; Kitty Kushner, A3, Sheldon; Mary Ann Johnson, A3, Spencer; Janet Scott, A3, West Union; Ann Trimble, A3, Princeton, Ill.; Linda Weiner, A3, Minneapolis, Minn.; Lois Johnson, A3, ...

Hard work, leadership and service to the University were recognized Thursday night when members of Mortar Board chose their successors at the ODK-Mortar Board Leadership Banquet in the Main Lounge of the Union. ### Hickerson Warns—

'Iowa Is Stifled By Complacency'

By CELE FERNER
City Editor

Loren Hickerson warned Iowa Citizens and SUIowans Thursday night that they cannot sit back and gloat over past victories but must find vigorous leadership to lead them on to bigger accomplishments in the near future.

"Iowa City and SUI have shared a rich past. They face a future filled with mutual opportunities for great achievement," Hickerson, executive director of the SUI Alumni Association, told the Leadership Banquet in the Union.

To continue working together, he said, both the University and City must look for a fresher bolder brand of leadership. "We need decisive and inspired leadership. And we need it now."

"WITHOUT IT we shall lose whatever claims to fame we may think we own here," he said.

It is too easy to become complacent over past achievements and to not look forward, Hickerson continued. While we are sharing satisfactions, the institutions we cherish are losing stature and vigor. As progress continues, we at SUI and in Iowa City are no longer as good as we think we are.

But we have the potential to brighten the future. We can only use this potential if we can develop good leadership, Hickerson explained.

Iowans are on the threshold to the world, he said. We have a hidden wealth of opportunity — and Iowans are becoming more aware of their potential.

BUT IOWA is slow in many areas, Hickerson said. Despite talk about tourism and the jingling of more dollars in Iowans' pockets, the state decided it could not afford to exhibit its attractions at the Worlds Fair.

This was wrong, he said. "To sell tourists, I think you go where tourists are. Many of our neighbors are at the Fair. And where are we? Here at home, minding the store, talking tourism and economic growth and wondering why nobody pays any attention to us."

Iowa City and SUI are still talking about the problems of the past ten years — and the problems are worse than ever, he said. "We're still searching for someone to bail

Shop Manager Cited in Theft Of Costly Furs

Female Buying Habits Helped Hide 'Swindle' Estimated at $227,000

NEW YORK (AP) — The general manager of Mainbocher's expensive Fifth Avenue dress shop was arrested Thursday for stealing more than $166,000 from the firm to indulge his passion for boating. The financial peccadilloes of wealthy women customers helped him mask the swindle.

Arthur Keller, 42, pleaded guilty in State Supreme Court to the theft, which was outlined in the indictment as part of a $227,000 swindle. Justice Charles Marks freed him without bond for sentencing June 11.

Keller used some of the money to buy a $79,000 yacht. Asst. Dist. Atty. Leonard Newman told the court:

"THIS IS a case where the exact details of the defendant's manipulations to conceal the theft of approximately $166,000 from his employer may never be known.

"I could unravel it, but I leave it to your honor to tell me if, under all the circumstances, I should."

Newman explained that Mainbocher's customers constitute a who's who of the wealthy and refined and that the firm's prices for dresses start at $750.

Time payments are arranged, the prosecutor said, and some of the women pay part of the price themselves, then have the rest billed to their husbands, thus concealing the total price paid for their gowns. Newman went on:

"It is obvious that even at this level of society husbands are irritated at what they consider the extravagances of their wives in buying clothes. There are other machinations indulged in by the distaff side to conceal the true cost from the head of the household."

NEWMAN suggested and the judge agreed that it might not be wise to call in Mainbocher's customers and their husbands to expose the financial structure behind which Keller operated.

"It would of necessity create an unpleasant situation in some homes. In the interest of maintaining domestic tranquility, I have foregone a solemn obligation to my fellow man to unmask this chicanery."

Justice Marks, mentioning two of Manhattan's bargain shops, commented:

"I never knew ladies' dresses cost so much. I take my wife to Madame Klein's and Madame Ohrbach's."

The thefts Keller committed came to light after a banker casually remarked to a Mainbocher accountant that he had just received the firm's latest financial statement.

Carpenters Won't Strike Here Today

Reports that the Local Carpenters Union No. 1260 will strike today are false, John Johnston, business representative of the union said Thursday night.

"If anyone stays off his job, he'll do it on their own," he said. "The reports were started because the local union's contract with construction companies working here expires today. Johnston said, however, that work will continue as usual until a new contract is drawn up. "Although our contract has expired, we will just continue to work under the conditions of the old contract," he said.

Contractors and building construction concerned include: Jensen Construction Co., Physics Building, Burge Hall, Klinger Construction Co., Currier Hall, Union; Fene Vawter Co., Administrative Building, Zoology Building; and Tarlton Construction Co., the two water plants

Criticizes McNamara—

Mollenhoff Raps Lazy Reporters

By DALLAS MURPHY
Staff Writer

Honest law enforcement is vital to the survival of the Democratic system, and the future of American democracy is contingent upon the coverage newspapers give to law enforcement, Clark Mollenhoff, a Pulitzer Prize winning Washington correspondent, said Thursday night.

Mollenhoff, speaking in the Senate Chamber of Old Capitol, delivered the Donald R. Mellett Memorial Lecture on "Watchdogs or Lapdogs?"

MELLETT, a graduate of SUI and Pulitzer Prize winner in 1926, was assassinated in 1926 as a result of his campaign against liquor, prostitution, and narcotics in Canton, Ohio.

Mollenhoff, who won his Pulitzer Prize for investigations of labor racketeering in 1936, said the problem of men twisting government to serve their own ends will always be present.

The press, Mollenhoff said, has a duty to understand government and be able to cut through the "Madison Avenue snow-job most political figures try to use."

MOLLENHOFF sharply criticized Defense Secretary Robert McNamara for "giving factually false and smear evidence" in attempting to defend his decision in the awarding of the $6 billion TFX contract in 1962.

McNamara awarded the contract to Texas General Dynamics at an estimated added expense of $400 million, Mollenhoff said.

Army and Navy officials almost unanimously favored Boeing Aircraft over Texas General Dynamics.

The real job of the reporter is to act as a watchdog over government, according to Mollenhoff. Too often the reporter who is supposed to be a watchdog becomes the lapdog of politicians.

HE cited five graduates of the SUI School of Journalism who "believe in the watchdog role of the press and give the reporter support when they know he is right."

THESE MEN — Kenneth McDonald, editor of the Des Moines Register; Frank Eyerly, managing editor of the Register; Dick Wilson, chief of the Register's Washington Bureau; Ted Koop, vice president of CBS, and Kermit McFarland, an executive with Scripps-Howard — "show the spirit, courage, and independence which has come from the SUI School of Journalism in the past," Mollenhoff said.

MOLLENHOFF and McNAMARA

because, according to Mollenhoff, Boeing had submitted a lower bid for the construction of the TFX and could produce a superior product.

"THE PRESS generally failed to get to the heart of the matter," Mollenhoff said. He pointed out that two of McNamara's former top asstants, Roswell Gilpatric, former assistant secretary of defense and Fred Korth, former Navy secretary, had close connection with the General Dynamics company.

"Many reporters could not, or would not, see a conflict of interest between these two men and the awarding of the contract. In some cases, this failure was due to laziness, but in others it was no more than foul political partisanship," Mollenhoff said.

"Too many reporters covered the TFX case by writing from Pentagon hand-outs," the Des Moines Register and Tribune newsmen said.

"Many reporters will cover the easy stories well," Mollenhoff said. "But too few will work for several weeks on a story which has an uncertain future and may end up buried with the want ads. There is always room in the profession for new reporters who will stand up for what they believe in."

"THERE IS AN overabundance of Washington newsmen who are afraid of a frown from the President," Mollenhoff said, "and there are too few who are willing to be singled out as an unfriendly questioner."

"The real job of the reporter is to act as a watchdog over government, according to Mollenhoff. Too often the reporter who is supposed to be a watchdog becomes the lapdog of politicians."

HE SUGGESTED that the "perfect prayer" for use in school would be simply the words "In God We Trust," which appear on the official seal of the United States.

Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama, however urged enactment of a constitutional amendment that would undo the Supreme Court's decisions banning official prayers and require ratification by two-thirds of the states.

Bishop Fulton J. Sheen, auxiliary bishop of the New York Archdiocese, left to the House Judiciary Committee, before which he appeared Thursday, the means

FIDEL CASTRO

GOP Urges Tough Policy With Castro

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Republican council urged Thursday an end to U.S. curbs on anti-Castro raiders and establishment of a Cuban government-in-exile.

It said such a government should be set up in Latin America to rally 300,000 Cuban refugees "to work openly for the liberation of Cuba."

In backing actions against the Red Havana regime, the GOP Critical Issues Council said, the United States should serve notice to the world that it is prepared "as a last resort to use military force to remove international communism from Cuba."

The 24-member council of prominent Republicans is headed by Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, brother of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Declaring "Castro must go," the council said the situation has worsened because the Johnson administration "has no clear and firm policy toward Cuba" and "the time for action is long overdue."

The Republicans also proposed:

• A step-up in U.S. pressure to persuade free world countries to stop trading with the Fidel Castro regime.

If the other non-Communist countries continue to follow only "self-interest," the GOP statement said, the United States would be justified in withdrawing some of its aid and power now committed to free world protection elsewhere.

• U.S. initiative in the Organization of American States for collective Latin-American action against Cuba.

• Increased counterpropaganda against Castro to be conducted in Latin America, preferably with the cooperation of the United States and the proposed Cuban government-in-exile.

• Stepping up effectiveness of the Alliance for Progress program of aid to Latin America by withholding U.S. assistance from those countries which do not live up to their reform pledges, and liberally rewarding those which perform on their commitments.

• Calling a diplomatic conference of leading free nations for the purpose of reaching a common program of meeting each serious Communist probe.

The Republican group stated that "the presence of Soviet communism in this hemisphere is intolerable" and asserted the October 1962 missile crisis may have been a turning point against the United States, not a victory as proclaimed by some "pundits and politicians."

City Attorney J. E. Jacobsen said all 17 students had been charged with disturbing the peace following trouble which apparently started when men students from Iowa State University at Ames came to Cedar Falls to date State College coeds.

Charges were continued for a week against Dennis Wright of Cedar Falls, Jerry McColley of Osweleo and Osmundson.

Daryl Pendergraft, acting dean of students at SCI, has recommended that four students be placed on strict probation for the rest of this year, with loss of scholarship aid during the period. He would not identify the four. The dean said about a half dozen others were put on probation with a strong warning.

The city attorney said arrests were made when a group gathered at a women's dormitory and there were other disturbances at a motel.

Will Halt U.S. Recon Flights 'At Any Cost'

Ready for Peaceful Solution, But Says War Is Possibility

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro warned against more U.S. reconnaissance flights over Cuba, declaring: "We will defend our sovereignty, whatever it may cost and wherever it may happen."

He said he is ready to seek a peaceful solution to problems with his North American neighbor but if the Americans want war "there will be war."

CASTRO MADE the statement during the course of a four-hour talk Wednesday night with foreign newsmen and diplomats at a Japanese diplomatic reception that stretched into Thursday.

His remarks set the stage for an address he will deliver today at Havana's May Day celebration.

The United States has said the reconnaissance flights will continue despite Cuban protests. The Soviet Union has supported Cuba's protests.

"WE WILL prevent these flights to the limits of what our weapons can do," Castro asserted.

He did not specify if that meant Cuba would use Soviet rockets to try to bring down American planes.

Without mentioning any definite date, the Cuban leader said the ground-to-air rockets now controlled by Russians "will be handed over to Cuba."

THE SPY flight crisis arose from U.S. intelligence reports that departing Soviet troops are expected to turn over to Castro 24 anti-aircraft rocket installations.

A United States note was sent to Cuba March 27, via the Swiss, warning Castro against interfering with the American flights.

A Cuban note rejected the U.S. contention that the flights are necessary to guard against reintroduction of Soviet ballistic missiles.

Last Friday the Soviet government paper Izvestia denounced the U.S. flight and reiterated that the Soviet Union would side with Cuba if it were attacked.

Castro told those at the Japanese reception that the United States had known for a long time that Cubans were being trained to operate Soviet rockets.

He said this knowledge gave the United States "one and a half years to rectify its flight policy."

3 SCI Students May Be Charged After ISU Trouble

CEDAR FALLS (AP) — Charges against 14 State College of Iowa (SCI) students have been dismissed and charges against three other students, including David Osmundson of Iowa City, are still under investigation as the result of a disturbance here April 12, Cedar Falls authorities said Thursday.

City Attorney J. E. Jacobsen said all 17 students had been charged with disturbing the peace following trouble which apparently started when men students from Iowa State University at Ames came to Cedar Falls to date State College coeds.

Charges were continued for a week against Dennis Wright of Cedar Falls, Jerry McColley of Osweleo and Osmundson.

More greek concern for society needed

IT WAS MOST heartening to hear Chuck Dick's words of encouragement at the Freedom Rally last Saturday evening. He informed us that there was hope that the fraternity system would do something about the discrimination now present in this system. Unfortunately, Mr. Dick did not, or perhaps could not, tell precisely what the "something" was.

Mr. Dick told us that the liberal element within the fraternity system seemed to be taking over. His implication was that when and if this element took over, a change could be expected. At the moment, unfortunately, his brothers seemed to be more interested in picnics at Lake MacBride than in rallies in MacBride Hall.

To those attending the Freedom Rally, Mr. Dick's message was rather meaningless. It was noble of him to offer this "ray of hope." It is doubtful, however, that empty gestures and meaningless words will do anything to remove discrimination in the fraternity system.

The removal of discrimination clauses from charter is only one small step toward ending discrimination. It is not nearly enough. As Andy Hankins pointed out, Negroes are not socially accepted on this campus. And there is no reason why they should not be.

Legally, fraternities and sororities can no longer discriminate. Actually they do. This can only be changed from within by individual members. It is time that the fraternity system concern itself more with society and less with socials.

Ya pays yer money and takes yer choice

BUSINESS AS USUAL was endorsed by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce Wednesday in a resolution urging the Government to permit increased trade with the Soviet Union and other European Communist countries.

The Chamber did not urge a change in the outright embargo on exports to Communist China, North Korea, North Viet Nam or Cuba.

These businessmen would probably be the first to advocate a "strong stand on Cuba" by the Administration. They would be the first to downgrade the English and French for trading with Cuba and with Red China. Yet they see no inconsistencies in supporting increased trade with Russia; they even see the possibilities of some profits.

But how can our country ask our allies to withhold trade from Cuba and China while we expand our trade with Russia itself?

Trade with Russia will help our economy, build our gold supply and please American businessmen. Trade with China and Cuba will also have a similar effect.

If our foreign policy requires an embargo against Cuba, we shall have to forego the benefits of trade with Russia in order to implement this policy. We cannot have our cake and eat it too.

American foreign policy should be determined by our total interests both at home and abroad. It should not vacillate between domestic and international demands.

It is all too easy to come out stoutly in favor of a "strong stand" and to become rabid because the Administration is "letting those pipsqueak Cubans push us around."

If we are going to "do something about it," as everyone keeps saying we must, it will take more than talk and threats to "get tough" with Castro, or with anyone else.

It might mean taking a financial loss occasionally, or even allowing our allies to make some trade profit at our expense.

We must make a choice between economic interests at home and political interests abroad. There is nothing bad about trading with the Russians, but such trade cannot logically be divorced from other areas of the world market, such as trade between Britain and Cuba, and Canada and China.

Few extreme cases—

SUIlowans subject to compulsive behavior

BY SUSAN ARTZ
Staff Writer

(Editor's Note: This is the second story in a two-part series on tension among SUI students. The first half appeared in The Daily Iowan on April 23.)

Tension in SUI students can be attributed to the "identity crisis," sex, the strain of competitive college work, and an awareness of the modern changing world, according to three SUI staff members who have worked with students for many years.

Dr. Charles H. Hubbell, assistant professor of sociology, Dr. Leonard D. Goodstein, director of University Counseling Service, and Dr. Robert A. Wilcox, physician at Student Health, answered public charges that today's college students are a tormented generation and subject to suicides, mental breakdowns and misery.

It was their consensus that these forms of tension were not as frequent here at SUI as in some other schools. However, they said the average student often does undergo a certain amount of emotional stress at some time during his or her college career.

HOW DOES this tension manifest itself? How can the student recognize his anxiety?

This is the story they tell: Students are often subject to compulsive behavior in an effort to handle their anxiety. Compulsive nail-biting, smoking and eating are habits, which the individual has learned will reduce his tension.

Headaches, physical tension, fatigue, cramping, insomnia or a tendency to sleep too much, chronic tension and impotence were also wide spread manifestations of anxiety reported by students.

"We refer the cases with definite physical symptoms to Student Health and upon careful medical evaluation they may refer them back to us if the symptoms have no medical basis," Dr. Goodstein at University Counseling Service said.

"INABILITY TO concentrate or do a good job academically is the complaint of many students who go to Student Health, Dr. Wilcox said.

He listed other common symptoms of tension: Some feel they are having problems getting along in the dorm or their sorority house. Others feel they are doing satisfactorily academically, but are not making the grade socially.

Even students who have been under a minimum amount of pressure know of the nightmares and shaky stomach before examination time, their forgetfulness and their nervous energy. However, only very rarely, does any one of these symptoms become the victims of a riot or a suicide as a result of emotional stress, according to these men.

COLLEGE HAS been accused of producing a tormented generation, but just how serious is this rising emotional distress, and how prevalent is the tendency at SUI? They say:

"We believe tension is increasing, because we see a larger increase in requests for counseling services than can be attributed entirely to the increase in the student population," Dr. Goodstein said.

University Counseling Service sees approximately 10 per cent of the SUI student population and Student Health doctors treat about half of these students at one time or another. (This 10 per cent figure is in line with national statistics which quote that an average of 10 per cent of all U.S. college students receive counseling in one form or another from University services.)

Of this percentage a greater number of the SUI students want help with anxiety, tension and other personal adjustment problems than ever before.

UNIVERSITY COUNSELING

Service handles the problems of students of all ages from freshmen to graduate students with about the same frequency. There is a small tendency for Counseling Service to see more freshmen and more seniors.

Concerning educational-vocational problems the doctors see more fellows than girls, but concerning personal adjustment — about an even number of both.

A growing trend has been the great increase over the past 10 years in the number of married students seeking aid from Counseling Service.

Every year there is an increase in requests for assistance from the married students, especially at the undergraduate level. Their problems of tension and anxiety often stem from ill-conceived marriages, Dr. Goodstein said.

FINANCIAL problems and educational differences seem to be the sources of most discontent among the young marrieds. Typically they see the wife first, and eventually try to talk with both partners together.

Dr. Wilcox, at Student Health, said that the increase in the number of students seeking personal advice might be due to the fact that "if we give good advice, students will visit us with increasing frequency."

This reflects the fact that we are providing good counseling services and students come to see us earlier in the game. More problems come to the surface sooner, he said.

This increase does not necessarily reflect the tension of the times. If we are good, our clientele may increase out of proportion to the student population increase, because it becomes "all right" to go to the Counseling Service or Student Health, he said.

"SUI has very few extreme problem cases," Dr. Wilcox said, "and the average student does not hear about them."

"Ninety per cent of the students on the campus never go to see anyone with a problem they could not have solved at home or in the dorm if they had had someone to talk to. It is the remaining small per cent of the students which have most of the problems," he said.

DR. WILCOX sees over 200 new patients each year and makes no conclusive diagnosis on about one fourth of them.

"Most students are struggling with the problems of growing up and they come in to talk. Many are looking for someone who will make them study," he said.

ALTHOUGH the majority of the problems Student Health handles are not severe ones, Dr. Wilcox said, "We don't miss very many of the serious ones — the students who create severe problems."

In a year's time I may talk with 10 or 12 students who eventually must be hospitalized for serious mental illness.

The University doctors and professors agree that tension is mildly increasing among SUI students, but that the percentage (10 per cent) of students seeking counseling in various forms is not out of line with national averages, and not an especially alarming figure, in view of the problems and decisions which modern college students face.

Despite this increase, the men maintained that the need for advice and counseling now can be satisfied by existing University facilities, i.e., University Counseling Service, Student Health, and advisers.

However, Dr. Hubbell suggested that to lessen the continuing problems of tension experienced by students in general, the existing social arrangements in the University may need to be modified so that the needs of students can be more adequately met.

"Most students are struggling with the problems of growing up..."

Quad sponsors activities for their cockroaches

To the Editor:

In Tuesday's paper, a young lady from Currier complains about a cockroach problem. We would like to remind her that no medical evidence or scientific endorsement has shown any other cockroaches to be superior to those of Quadrangle. And our roaches have thirty-eight per cent fewer cavities. In fact, we have so many roaches that we have started to name them. We called one "Charlie." We have yet to have found Charlie's Aunt. As a matter of fact Charlie and Mabel were going quite well together until she let bad breath and tooth decay let romance fade away. But Charlie has never had to worry about being close.

In fact, we have started roach races. Fortunately, we have not yet been able to start rat races.

Our team was so good that we almost had it entered in the Drake Relays. Unfortunately, it looks as if the roaches are here to stay. Therefore, we think we will tell them how they can save ten per cent, twenty per cent, thirty or more on car insurance. And, for faster, closer, longer lasting roaches, we welcome interested parties to the Quadrangle-Hilton.

Meanwhile, our advice is to take the roaches with a grain of salt. After all, that's the way the Dining Service does it.

'They shall not overcome'

To the Editor:

Mike Kenney has given the call to debate and he should not be denied.

A Negro, or a white for that matter, do not deserve their freedom. They undeniably love that freedom the moment they enter this world. The free exercise of that freedom is the issue which confronts us all.

The question which lies before us is whether the Negro should be given that freedom or should be extract it by force. Mr. Kenney seems to prefer the latter and the inevitable civil strife and confusion that must accompany it the "ugly" way. Not all of us would be sympathetic to this extremist viewpoint which seems to be shared by Mr. Kenney and many of his compatriots.

There are nine white people for every Negro in the United States. The Negro cannot afford to be irresponsible to the sensitivities of that overwhelming majority. If freedom is to be taken, defended, and maintained, as Mr. Kenney suggests, the results will be two warring factions only falling into disrepute and bloodshed, as we have already seen.

Freedom Now! Wherein does the answer lie? I cannot offer a solution and if anyone can, preferably not a SARE member, I should like to hear it? Legislation? Possibly, but this will be not half the struggle. As long as hate, fear, and bigotry exist, as it does here, there, and everywhere, they shall not overcome.

The Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Stanislaw Skrowaczewski, presented an interesting program of 20th century music on Wednesday night, April 29. This was not the avant-garde music of our day, but rather the music from 1909-1936.

First on the program was the Symphony No. 3 in G minor, Opus 42, by Albert Roussel (1869-1937). This was not performed, but a reading of Gustav Mahler's incomplete Tenth Symphony (1909) was substituted. This change was announced by James Clute, an alumnus of SUI, who now plays string bass with the Minneapolis Symphony. Only two movements of Mahler's Tenth Symphony are complete enough to be performed.

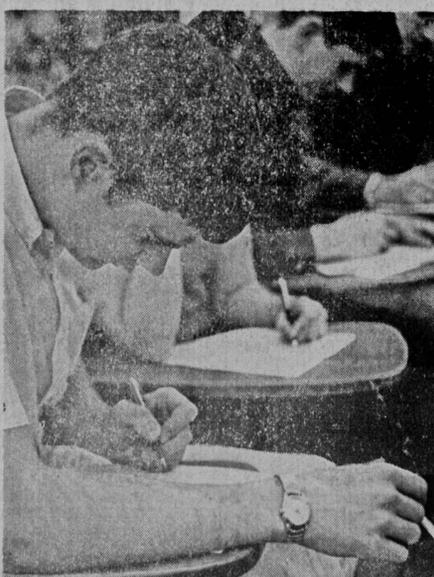

These are entitled "Adagio" and "Purgatorio." The title of the second, together with some marginal annotations in the manuscript, indicates Mahler's concern, in the latter part of his life, with death and annihilation. Several moments of the "Adagio" seemed to be reminiscent of the harmonic style of Richard Strauss, in his tone poem "Till Eulenspiegel," or a few others which he composed between the years 1888-1898.

SKROWACZEWSKI led the orchestra with the appropriate romantic fervor and diversity for which he is rapidly becoming famous. The performance was slightly marred by a lack of precision in entrances and releases, and also by a few notable lapses of intonation.

These may have resulted from the fact that the piece was a substitute item in the program, in answer to a request for a Mahler work.

The second composition performed was "Music for Strings, Percussion, and Celesta" (1936), by Bela Bartok. The work is in four movements, with the orchestra divided into two groups — one to the left of the conductor and one to the right. The percussion instruments include timpani, snare drums, piano, bass drum, cymbals, xylophone and harp. This performance used the full complement of the string section. I have heard the work performed more accurately with a chamber string ensemble, thereby increasing the possibility of cleaner lines in the contrapuntal passages and more precision in the pizzicato sections.

Nevertheless, the first and third movements of the Bartok were quite well-performed, and the pizzicato section with the piano

Several moments of the "Adagio" seemed to be reminiscent of the harmonic style of Richard Strauss, in his tone poem "Till Eulenspiegel," or a few others which he composed between the years 1888-1898.

SKROWACZEWSKI led the orchestra with the appropriate romantic fervor and diversity for which he is rapidly becoming famous. The performance was slightly marred by a lack of precision in entrances and releases, and also by a few notable lapses of intonation.

These may have resulted from the fact that the piece was a substitute item in the program, in answer to a request for a Mahler work.

The second composition performed was "Music for Strings, Percussion, and Celesta" (1936), by Bela Bartok. The work is in four movements, with the orchestra divided into two groups — one to the left of the conductor and one to the right. The percussion instruments include timpani, snare drums, piano, bass drum, cymbals, xylophone and harp. This performance used the full complement of the string section. I have heard the work performed more accurately with a chamber string ensemble, thereby increasing the possibility of cleaner lines in the contrapuntal passages and more precision in the pizzicato sections.

Nevertheless, the first and third movements of the Bartok were quite well-performed, and the pizzicato section with the piano synopsis in the second movement was accurately played. Other passages of the second movement lacked the polish and smoothness usually expected from a professional orchestra.

SKROWACZEWSKI and the orchestra were most at home with the selection performed after intermission: Ottorino Respighi's symphonic poem, "Roman Festivals." This is the third piece in a cycle of three symphonic poems of which the "Fountains of Rome," 1916, and the "Pines of Rome," 1924, are the first two.

The "Roman Festivals" is a programmatic composition depicting the ancient Roman persecution of the Christians, the early Christian chants, the festivals of October, and finally, the eve of Epiphany.

The orchestra gave an excellent performance — dynamic, well-balanced, and exciting. Skrowaczewski conducted with impeccable skill, assurance, and authority.

Both are to be commended for a really first-rate job. I see by my program notes that the Minneapolis Symphony has recorded this piece on Mercury Records. While definitely not the most interesting music on the program, it did show the talents and capabilities of the orchestra and the conductor to fine advantage.

WITHOUT DOUBT, the Minneapolis Symphony has one of the finest brass sections in the country.

There were two encores after the program was finished. The first, J. S. Bach's "Air" from the Third Orchestral Suite in D major, was welcomed as a comforting contrast to the wild, unbridled final portion of Respighi's work. The second was Mikhail Ivanovitch Glinka's overture to the opera "Ruslan and Ludmila."

The orchestra and its conductor are to be congratulated for presenting an interesting and challenging program — enjoyable, but in some respects, lacking preparation. The time and money of those who attended were well-spent.

The Union was filled to capacity with an audience that was receptive and eager to express its approval.

It is hoped that the University Concert Course Series will continue to provide, in the future, such outstanding musical groups as the Minneapolis Symphony.

Design To Op

An unusual kind of exhibition open Sunday afternoon at SUI is a show devoted to flights of imagination in experimental design. Work in the 1964 Spring Design Exhibition has been done by students in the SUI art department, who will exhibit their own subjects ranging from a type of all-metal sofa to new methods for package design.

THE EXHIBITION will be in the Art Building Gallery from May 16. It will be open to the public from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily through Friday and from 10 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday.

The show can be divided roughly into three parts. John Schaeffer, professor of art, said, "One set will feature work by 23 students now taking Professor Schaeffer's course in Creative Photography. The aim of the exhibit is to show the individual photographer's personal response to visual elements."

A brochure containing examples of the photographs in the show will be on sale to the public for $1.00 in the Art Building Gallery. The brochure, containing 20 pages of loose-leaf photographs and pages of notes, is being sent to museums and art galleries in various parts of the country.

THE COST OF printing the brochure was covered by contributions from students, gifts from a number of Iowa City businessmen, an allocation from the SUI Old Development Fund.

The second major part of the Design Exhibition is devoted to graphic design — the potential of communication using simple elements. Part of the exhibit in this area will show how students responded to a class assignment to make a portrait of a face, personality which will not show the face, but which will tell something about the person.

Show Student Work—

Design Exhibition To Open Sunday

An unusual kind of exhibition will open Sunday afternoon at SUI — a show devoted to flights of imagination in experimental design.

Work in the 1964 Spring Design Exhibition has been done entirely by students in the SUI art department, who will exhibit their ideas on subjects ranging from a new type of all-metal sofa to new methods for package design.

The exhibition will be shown in the Art Building Gallery through May 16. It will be open to the public from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 2-5 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday.

The show can be divided roughly into three parts, John Schulze, professor of art, said. One section will feature work by 23 students now taking Professor Schulze's course in Creative Photography.

The aim of the exhibit is to show the individual photographer's personal response to visual elements. A brochure containing examples of the photographs in the show will be on sale to the public for $1 in the Art Building Gallery.

The brochure, containing 20 pages of loose-leaf photographs and six pages of notes, is being sent to museums and art galleries in all parts of the country.

The cost of printing the brochure was covered by contributions from students, gifts from a number of Iowa City businessmen, and an allocation from the SUI Old Gold Development Fund.

The second major part of the Design Exhibition is devoted to graphic design — the potentialities of communication using simple visual elements. Part of the exhibit in this area will show how students responded to a class assignment: to make a portrait of a famous personality which will not only show the face, but which will also tell something about the person.

Silent film star Theda Bara is represented as a face framed by film strips. Other works in this part of the show demonstrate the development of complex patterns from simple shapes — squares, circles and rectangles. THE THIRD major part of the show features structural design — experimentation in creating new forms and structures. Among the works to be shown are an all-metal sofa designed and built by Warren Paris, A2, Newton, and a new kind of clock, incorporating a raised sphere so that the time can be seen from any part of the room. The clock was built by Larry Yoder, A4, Kalona.

Professor Schulze also described a pedestal table, created by David Allison, G, Clinton, which appears to have been carved from solid ebony. The table has a walnut top with a gold-leaf sunburst design.

In addition to the displays of student work, the Design Exhibition will feature several color slide shows of current SUI work in design, which can be seen daily.

AT 3 P.M. every day in the Main Gallery, a seven-minute color film will be shown, depicting the work done this year by students in the SUI industrial design class. The film was produced by the SUI Bureau of Audio-Visual Instruction.

A free guide to the show will be available to the public.

Dr. WILCOX sees over 260 w patients each year and makes no conclusive diagnosis on out one fourth of them.

Most students are struggling with the problems of growing up and they come in to talk.

Many are looking for someone to will make them study," he said.

ALTHOUGH the majority of the students Student Health handles do not sever ones, Dr Wilcox id, "We don't miss very many the serious ones — the students o create severe problems.

In a year's time I may talk h 10 or 12 students who eventu- ally will be hospitalized for seri- ous mental illness.

The University doctors and professors agree that tension is mild- increasing among SUI stu- dents, but that the percentage (9 per cent) of students seeking un- settling in various forms is not at all of line with national aver- ages, and not an especially ar- ming figure, in view of the ob- dems and decisions which con- cern college students face.

Despite this increase, the men- maintained that the need for ad- d and counseling now can be as- ficed by existing University ilities, i.e., University Coun- seling Service, Student Health, d advisers.

However, Dr. Hubbel suggested at to lessen the continuing prob- ms of tension experienced by ad- ents in general, the existing ar- rangements in the Univer- sity may need to be modified that the needs of students can more adequately met.

Eggbeater for Mothers

Another display which mothers of SUI students can see this weekend in conjunction with the Spring Festival and Mother's Day Weekend is this Army H-23 observation helicopter. The 'copter will be on display today and Saturday in the

Tours, Exhibits Planned—

Mothers To See SUI Highlights

A closer look at SUI can be had Saturday by taking one of five campus tours, or by visiting any of the many exhibits planned for Mother's Day Weekend.

Students and their parents will assemble about 1:30 p.m. on the East Terrace of the Union immediately after the Mother's Day Luncheon.

The tours, which will last one and one-half hours, are free. Also, free bus transportation will be provided to all buildings not on the central campus.

STUDENTS conducting the tours are Nancy Walker, A3, Anita; Susan Sondrol, A1, Clear Lake; Joyce Stoker, A3, Des Moines; John Benda, A2, and Katherine Porter, A1, both of Iowa City; Kathryn Anderson, A3, Kellogg; Leon Horn, B3, and Janet Hotger, A1, both of Marshalltown; Paul Miller, A1, Nevada; Nancy Weaver, A1, Wapello; Lawrence Bailey, A2, Peoria, Ill.; Martha Heldbreder, A2, Quincy, Ill.; Trudy Bradford, A2, Detroit; Carolyn Smith, A2, Sioux Falls, S.D.; and John Herrmann, A3, North Springfield, Va.

The first tour will visit the Hospital School for Severely Handicapped Children, including the physical education, homemaking, and industrial arts rooms, playrooms, classrooms and living areas for the children.

A second tour will feature the electronic scoring equipment at the Measurement Research Center which has corrected this year more than six million test answer sheets from schools all over the country. A visit to the Division of Extension and University Services will show material on correspondence courses and extension classes.

A THIRD TOUR will begin at the Home Economics Department, where visitors will see SUI's laboratories for nutrition research, textile testing and food study.

The tour will then move to Old Capitol, where visitors will view the building and learn about its architecture.

A fourth tour will show visitors around SUI's new Pharmacy Building, including the auditorium, classrooms, laboratories and general manufacturing areas where aerosols and ointments are produced.

The fifth tour will travel through the SUI Art Building, beginning with the ceramics laboratory and moving on to the design workshops, classrooms and studios.

Visitors will then proceed to the University Theatre, where they will see the workings of an actual theater from the front and backstage. Theater staff members will also explain the mechanics of preparing, rehearsing and presenting a play.

A NUMBER of exhibits will be displayed for the public. Old Capitol will contain a pictorial history of development under each of SUI's presidents, as well as the history and contributions of men for whom various campus buildings have been named.

The University Library will exhibit mats, pictures and photographs showing SUI presidents and highlights of their terms.

Student art work will be on display at the Art Building, and the Union will feature "The Changing Face of SUI," a presentation of campus construction projects, including a scale model of the campus. In addition, the exhibit will feature a pictorial look at student life through photographs and captions from the 1963 Hawkeye.

SUI's Psychiatry Institute Proceedings Are Published

Recent research involving creative methods of dealing with environmental stress or bringing it under control is summarized in the proceedings of the Fourth Institute on Preventive Psychiatry, just published here.

Held at SUI in April, 1963, the institute was planned by the SUI Committee on Preventive Psychiatry, with assistance from the Grant Foundation, Inc.; the Maytag Company Foundation, Inc.; the Iowa Mental Health Authority, and the SUI Graduate College. Publication of the proceedings of the institute was also made possible through the support of these agencies.

Professor Ralph Ojemann, chairman of the Preventive Psychiatry Research Program at SUI and coordinator of the institute, explains in the opening chapter of the proceedings that while stressful factors are an integral part of man's existence, with some stresses helping the individual develop as he masters problems, stresses can become so powerful that the individual is overwhelmed.

The proceedings report the findings of research on stresses stemming from biological factors in the prenatal period and early childhood, from pressures on the adolescent to achieve, and from authoritarian patterns of behavior in the individual's peers, his parents, teachers and others in positions of authority.

The SUI publication also summarizes institute reports on research involving creative approaches to insecurities arising from technological change. In pointing out the need for constant education to meet changing employment demands arising from technological growth, this section of the proceedings notes: "The 'mentally healthy' person of tomorrow may very well be the one who takes change in stride, accepts the fact that he has no roots, little or no identity with a job, and sees uncertainty as a way of life."

Iowa Meets Gophers in Crucial Series

Four Hawks Still Out with Injuries

By CURT SYLVESTER
Staff Writer

With several top players still considered doubtful starters due to injuries, the Iowa Hawkeyes will face the rugged Minnesota Gophers today in the first game of a crucial three game series in Minneapolis.

Coach Dick Schultz has named his ace righthander, Bob Gebhard, to open the series. Gebhard, owner of a 4-1 record and a 1.27 earned run average, will be out to bag one of the two victories which Schultz says the Hawks need to stay in contention for the Big Ten title.

THE HAWKS' winning outlook had brightened early this week with the prospect of Jim McAndrew's return to action. The lean righthander who was expected to carry the top pitching role for the Hawk nine seemed to have recovered from the elbow trouble which had plagued him all year. However, the elbow muscles tightened again in practice Wednesday, Schultz said, and McAndrew is now a "very doubtful starter" for the Minnesota series. Schultz said Wednesday afternoon that he might go with junkballer Ron Stroup in the first game Saturday. Although he didn't name the starter for the second game, he will probably choose between Bob Schauenberg and Steve Green if McAndrew is still out. Carl Brunst, out of his cast earlier than anticipated, may see relief duty over the weekend.

Billy Joe Patton Leads North-South Golf Tournament

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Billy Joe Patton alternated erratic and spectacular shots Thursday to lead the way through the quarter-finals of the North and South Amateur Golf Championship.

The 42-year-old Morganton, N.C., Walker Cup veteran eliminated Frank Strafaci of Miami, Fla., 1938-39 winner, 3 and 2, to pace Bob Allen, runner-up last spring, and two former professionals, Wayne Jackson and Dale Morey, into the semifinals.

Jackson, 29-year-old from Hampton, Va., took the last two holes from Dave Boyd of Atlanta to win 2 up and move to an 18-hole match against Patton today.

Allen, 39-year-old West Hartford, Conn., sales representative of a company that manufactures precision springs, won four straight holes on the front side and went on to out Dick Siderowf of Westport, Conn., 3 and 2.

Morey, 43-year-old furniture hardware salesman from High Point, N.C., grabbed the first two holes from Pat Foy Brady of Reidsville, N.C., and, with the help of Brady's errant putter, went on to a 7 and 6 victory.

Allen lost to Patton 7 and 6 in last year's finals as Patton won the title for a third time and second year in a row.

Charles Patten Named SCI Wrestling Coach

CEDAR FALLS (AP) — Charles Patten, 26, Thursday was named head wrestling coach at State College of Iowa, where he was a wrestling standout for three years. Patten now is wrestling coach at Reedsport High School in Oregon.

The young bachelor had a record of 28 victories, 5 losses and 2 ties during his three years of competition at State College, and was graduated in 1961.

He received a master's degree in 1962 from the University of Oregon, where he was freshman wrestling coach, and coached Exeter High School to its class championship in the California state tournament before going to Reedsport, which won this year's Oregon title.

Hawkeye Tennis Team Meets Northern Illinois

The Hawkeye tennis team will have three chances to improve its 4-4 mark this weekend when the Hawks play at Northern Illinois Friday and meet Southern Illinois and Wisconsin at Madison Saturday.

Coach Don Klotz said Iowa's lineup will be Arden Stokstad, Dick Riley, Marc Mears, Tom Benson, Kent Arnold and either John Ebert or Elliott Abrons.

Dave Strauss, the Hawks' No. 1 man who has been inactive with a back injury, may participate in Saturday's matches.

The toughest competitor for the weekend trip will probably be unbeaten Southern Illinois, which has won 10 straight. The Salukis blanked Iowa State, 9-0, last weekend and have won 59 of a possible 67 match points this season in their effort to better last year's 16-2 season's mark.

Included among Southern's victims is Northwestern defending Big Ten champion. A return match with the Wildcats May 18 appears to be the major obstacle remaining for the Salukis.

Iowa will not play at home until May 15 when they host Northwestern in the last home meet-

ALEX KARRAS
Signs 2-Year Contract

During Suspension—

Alex Karras: 'Didn't Lose Strength or Desire To Play'

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Lions star defensive tackle Alex Karras said Thursday that all he lost in the one year he was suspended from the National Football League was "some money, not any of my strength or desire to play."

Karras, reinstated in the NFL along with Green Bay Packers half-back Paul Hornung last month after being suspended for gambling, signed his first two-year contract with the Lions Thursday.

"I wouldn't say I got all the money back that I lost last year," Karras said, "but I'm happy with the new contract and ready to go."

Karras missed the entire 1963 season which saw the Lions drop from second to a tie for fourth place in the Western Division.

"That year's layoff makes me particularly anxious to get started," Karras admitted. "It's bad enough between seasons. But when you are away from the game as much as I have been, it's really rough."

Karras did not allow himself to get out of shape while he was out of action. Continuous work with weights and a lot of handball brought him down to a trim 240 pounds — 10 pounds under his former playing weight. He returned to Detroit last week from his Clinton home.

Karras and Hornung were suspended by NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle for gambling on NFL games. Their reinstatements last month came after Rozelle reviewed the records of each individually.

Hill Rise Heads Field Of 12 in Kentucky Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Hill Rise officially tossed down the gauntlet Thursday and dared Northern Dancer and 10 other of the nation's finest 3-year-old thoroughbreds to beat him in the 90th running of the Kentucky Derby.

As the names of the 12 horses, survivors of an original list of 138 nominees, were dropped into the entry box, Hill Rise was made the 6-5 choice for Saturday's 1 1/4-mile race at Churchill Downs before some 100,000 fans and a national television audience.

If all 12 are in line for the start at 4:30 p.m., (CTD), the gross value of America's most glamorous horse race will be $156,800 with $114,300 and a garland of red roses going to the winner.

THE WINNING OWNER also will have a $5,000 gold cup to display proudly. The race will be carried on television and radio, CBS, from 4 to 5 p.m., (CDT).

Hill Rise, a rangy California-owned son of Hillary from George A. Pope Jr.'s El Peco Ranch, finished his Derby preparations with an eye-catching performance in last Tuesday's Derby Trial. It was his eighth straight victory after finishing third in his first two races as a 2-year-old.

THE FAVORITE WILL be ridden by premier jockey Willie Shoemaker, who is no stranger to the Kentucky Derby. He won with Swaps in 1955 and with Tomy Lee in 1959 and just missed with Gallant Man in 1959 when he misjudged the finish line.

Many say Hill Rise will be beaten by Northern Dancer, a mite of a colt owned by E. O. Taylor of Toronto, Canada, and trained by Horatio Luro, suave Argentine. No Canadian horse ever won the Derby.

BILL HARTACK, boasting the enviable record of three Derby victories (Iron Liege, 1957; Venetian Way, 1960 and Decidedly) in five rides; will be abroad Northern Dancer in what could shape up as a duel between two of the country's foremost riders.

Northern Dancer, winner of 12 races in 15 starts and never out of the money, was made the 5-2 second choice.

But because the Kentucky Derby is a horse race and a horse race is not decided until they hit the finish line, 10 other sharply-tuned horses will attempt to break up the ex-

Phillies Edge Reds, 3-1

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies scored two quick runs in the first inning Thursday night, then hung on for a 3-1 victory over the Cincinnati Reds behind the pitching of Dennis Bennett.

Rookie Richie Allen drove in his 12th run of the season with a double after Tony Taylor led off with a single and John Callison walked. Callison scored when Joe Nuxhall hit Tony Gonzalez with a pitched ball in a bases-loaded situation.

The Reds scored in the third on Pete Rose's double, a wild pitch and an infield out.

Mets Claim First Record of 1964—'Worst April Ever'

NEW YORK (AP) — The "Let's Go Mets" already have set a record. Worst April ever. In the Mets' case "ever" is only three years but that is little solace to Manager Casey Stengel. They have had some horrible Aprils.

With five long months ahead, just jammed with doubleheaders, the future is wide open. By the time closing day — Oct. 4 — rolls around, a new record book may be needed.

It is hard to believe that this is the worst April for the Mets. In their first year they lost the first nine games. By the end of the month, they had rallied for a 3-13 record and .188 percentage.

Last year they dropped their first eight but went on a streak and finished April with 7-12. This year they lost the first four and then beat Pittsburgh with a shutout before they slid back to 2-10 and .167, their lowest May Day percentage.

Indians' Rally Beats Twins

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Cleveland, stymied by Dick Stigman on one hit through five innings, erupted in the next two innings behind the hitting of Leon Wagner and Vic Davallillo for an 8-4 victory over Minnesota Thursday.

The victory gave the Indians a one game lead in the American League race.

Wagner ripped a three-run homer, capping a four-run Indian rally in the sixth which wiped out a 1-0 Twins' lead. Davallillo's double drove in two runs in a three-run seventh.

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Rookie Tom Reynolds hit a three-run homer in the first inning Thursday as the Kansas City Athletics jolted Mickey Lolich for five runs and defeated the Detroit Tigers 10-3.

Jim Gentile and Rocky Colavito also hit home runs for the A's, who handed Orlando Pena his second victory.

USSR TEAM LARGEST—

TOKYO (AP) — The Soviet Union will have the largest team in the 1964 Olympic Games — its 392 athletes surpassing the United States by seven. The Americans have announced they'll send 385.

The Tokyo Olympic Games Committee, making the announcement Tuesday, said Britain would have 300 athletes.

350 Coaches Expected At Grid Clinic

About 350 high school and collegiate coaches from a five-state area will attend sessions of the annual Iowa Football Coaching Clinic at the Field House today.

Registration begins at 8 a.m. followed by a welcome by Athletic Director Forest Evashevski.

Morning sessions include a talk by Gary Grouwink, former Iowa guard now coaching at Ottumwa, on "Offensive Guard Play and Techniques" and featured speaker Dave Nelson of Delaware, who will talk on "Delaware Defense."

This afternoon, Nelson, co-author with Evashevski of "Scoring Power with the Winged-T Offense," will speak on "Up-Dating the Winged-T" and "Delaware's Passing Game." Lloyd Kilzman, coach at Des Moines Lincoln, will talk on "Offensive and Defensive Drills" followed by a practice field session on team demonstration and explanation by Iowa's Head Football Coach Jerry Burns.

The clinic will continue Saturday morning and conclude with the intrasquad game at 1:30 Saturday in the stadium.

Big Ten No Longer Western Conference

The long-time reference to the Big Ten as the Western Conference no longer is correct. In the 1962-63 season, the Western Athletic Conference was born (Arizona State, Brigham Young, Arizona, New Mexico, Utah and Wyoming under its commissioner Paul W. Brechler, former Iowa Athletic Director).

The Big Ten is formally known as the Intercollegiate Conference.

Law School Site of Two ICC Appeals

The U.S. District Court Southern District of Iowa took two cases in the SUI Col Law's courtroom Thursday.

The College of Law has judges to use the courtroom every they wish. The procedure is open to the public.

Harry Melman Co. vs. the state Commerce Commission was heard in the morning at Truck Lines, Inc. vs. the Interstate Commerce Commission was in the afternoon. Both cases appeals from ICC rulings.

THE CASES were heard three-judge court. Presiding Judge Martin Van Oosterlinck, Orange City, judge of the Court of Appeals of the Circuit; Judge Roy L. Stephens of Des Moines; and Judge C. Hanson, both judges of District Court of the Southern District of Iowa.

In the first case, the Hamman Co., a trucking company, Marshalltown, protested a ruling denying the company's application to operate a common carrier to transport bananas New Orleans to midwestern.

The company previously had a permit, but lost it when business did not operate months. Melman contends this was not sufficient ground to suspend the permit.

ACE Trucking Lines, Inc. quartered in Des Moines, filed an ICC ruling that they right to transport binder and twine under their present permit. The contention involved an interpretation of the corporation permit.

The permit allows Ace Trucking Lines, Inc., to transport machinery and parts thereof counsel for the ICC contend "thereof" was interpreted as the twine must be hauled by the machinery with which it is used. The counsel for Ace Trucking twine could be transported separately.

Both cases are under advisement pending decisions.

Speech Therapy Talk

Shirley Salmon, G. Rapid City, S.D., spoke on the "typical" laryngectomee, his characteristics and the problems which face him after the surgical removal of his larynx. Miss Salmon spoke at the monthly meeting of Sigma Alpha Eta, professional sorority for speech therapists, Wednesday.

Miss Salmon also demonstrated the tongue-lock method by which most laryngectomees learn to talk without a voice box, and described the steps in therapy. She then introduced a laryngectomee who had successfully learned to talk using esophageal speech. He displayed his ability to talk by answering questions put to him.

Citation of Merit

Wendell Johnson, research professor in speech pathology, will receive a Citation of Merit from McPherson College, Kans., at the College's commencement exercises May 31.

The McPherson Board of Trustees said that the award is being made in recognition of Johnson's distinguished service in the field of speech pathology. Johnson attended McPherson College in 1924-26, before coming to SUI, where he received the B.A., M.A., and Ph.D. Degrees.

Professor Johnson will also be the guest speaker at the College's alumni banquet, to be held on May 30.

Studio Theatre

Studio Matinee will present "The Critic" by Richard Brinsley Sheridan at 3:30 p.m. in the Studio Theatre.

The play, written in the 17th century, is a satire on the conventions and pretensions of the "heroic tragedy" of the period. A cast of 17 will present the play under the direction of Hazel Hall, G. Iowa City.

History Lecture

Roland Mousnier, noted French historian from the University of Paris, will speak on popular uprisings in 17th century France at 8 tonight in the Senate Chamber of Old Capital. The lecture is being sponsored by the Department of History.

Eye Meeting

The second annual Iowa Eye Association Meeting, sponsored by the Department of Ophthalmology of the University Hospitals will end Saturday.

The meeting, which began Wednesday, is being attended by 126 post graduates from all over the United States.

All members of the staff and 11 guest speakers are participating in

Journalism Meeting

Joe Lippincott, A4, Iowa City, is one of three college students across the nation selected to participate in the Sigma Delta Chi (SDC), professional journalistic society, annual board of directors meeting today and Saturday in Phoenix. Lippincott is president of the SUI chapter of SDX.

Kappa Tau Alpha

Nancy Bergsten, A4, Moline, Ill., has been awarded the 1964 Kappa Tau Alpha scholarship prize, a $25 U.S. Savings Bond.

Miss Bergsten received the award at the annual breakfast of the Journalism honorary society Sunday.

Paul Engle, professor of English and director of the Writers Workshop, addressed the society.

Five Recitals

Willa Starkey Holmes, G. Iowa City, will present a music recital at 8 tonight in the North Music Hall.

Nancy Alden, A4, Linden, will present a recital at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in the North Music Hall.

Three students in the Department of Music will present recitals Sunday. Janice Nelson, G. Wahoo, Neb., will present an organ recital at 2 p.m. in the First Methodist Church.

Stephen Basson, G. Great Neck, N.Y., will present a bassoon recital at 4 p.m. in the North Rehearsal Hall.

Deborah Holtz, A4, Des Moines, will present a viola recital at 8 p.m. in the North Rehearsal Hall.

80 Attorneys Meet To Discuss Taxes

Four Iowa City men are among 80 attorneys attending the 10th annual Spring Tax Institute today and Saturday on the SUI campus.

They are Charles A. Barker, 354 Ferson Ave.; Everett Meeker, 2451 Mayfield Road; Jay C. Oehler, 922 E. College St.; and Dennis Roberson, Coralville.

The program this year centers on tax problems related to life insurance as they rise in estate, business and retirement planning. The Iowa State Bar Association and the SUI College of Law are sponsoring the two-day conference for continuing education.

Nude Killing Suspect Held

LONDON (AP) — A 54-year-old janitor was charged Thursday night with the murder of one of London's four strangled nudes. Police announced they had filed the charges against Kenneth Archibald after more than 24 hours of questioning.

Archibald was accused of killing Irene Lockwood, a red-haired prostitute found on the bank of the River Thames April 8. She was the third prostitute in six months found strangled and strangled. A fourth was found last week.

Although police have declared it a possibility that all four were victims of the same maniac killer, there was no hint of whether they believe Archibald is involved in any of the other murders. He is to appear in Magistrate's Court Friday.

The four women were found in or near the Thames.

Several Minor Car Accidents Here Thursday

A rash of minor car accidents occurred in Iowa City Thursday.

Richard Curry, 16, of the Dennis Trailer Court, was charged with failure to have his car under control and leaving the scene of a personal injury accident. Iowa City Police said Thursday.

Curry was the driver of a car which struck a power pole on Court Street about 5 a.m., snapping the pole in two. A passenger in the car, William Benham, 24, also of Dennis Trailer Court, suffered head injuries in the accident.

Police said Curry did not report the accident. They said they received a report from a resident of Court Street that a car had struck the pole, backed out, and driven away.

Officials checked Iowa City hospitals Thursday for possible accident injuries and found Benham. Police said Benham told them he sustained his injuries while riding in the Curry car. Curry was arrested at his home and later released to the custody of his parents.

Three other accidents were reported to police about 5:30 p.m. Thursday. A truck driven by John Clifton Moyer, 49, of 907 E. Davenport St., collided with a city bus at the intersection of Riverside Drive and Highway 6.

Officials said the bus, driven by Owen L. Jaynes, 42, 816 First Ave., Coralville, was turning left when the vehicles collided. Total damages were estimated at $600.

At about the same time in another part of the city, cars driven Plum St., and Haskell M. Piltuck, A4, Laurens, collided at the intersection of Washington and Gilbert Streets. She was charged with failure to yield the right of way at a stop intersection.

A fourth accident occurred on the Burlington Street Bridge. Police charged David A. Ipsen, G. Bettendorf with failure to stop in a safe distance after his car collided with an auto driven by Evelyn W. Ophell, 1 Triangle Place.

Mrs. Ophell had slowed her car to avoid a mud puddle and the Ipsen auto struck her car from the rear. Police said. Total damages were estimated at $550.

Property Owners Get Appraisals

A total of $452,800 damages for owners and tenants of the half-block of downtown properties condemned by the city for construction of a parking lot was appraised Wednesday by a six-member condemnation jury who inspected the eight separate properties.

The properties are located on the north half of the block on the south side of College Street, between Dubuque and Linn Streets.

Some of the damage awards are expected to be appealed to Johnson county district court by property owners. But the city has the power to take possession and begin clearance and construction of the parking lot now that the condemnation jury has set damages.

AGRICULTURAL EXCHANGE—MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexico and France will exchange agricultural technicians, reports the minister for agriculture, Julian Rodriguez Adame. He said initially France would send experts in tropical agriculture, while Mexico will send abroad cereals specialists.

Opera Tickets Still Available

The Spring Semester Opera Workshop will present "The Abduction from the Seraglio" by Mozart at 8 tonight and Saturday in Macbride Auditorium.

Some tickets are still available for tonight's and Saturday's performances.

Free tickets are available at Eble Music Co., the Music Department Office, and the Union Information Desk. If any tickets remain at the times of performances, they will be available at the door.

The three-act comic opera takes place in the summer palace courtyard of the Pasha of Turkey during the middle of the 18th century. The plot contains two love stories which revolve around the kidnapping of the girls by their lovers and the discovery of the plot by the Pasha.

Students in the featured roles are Margie Boston, A4, Rockford, Ill., as Constanza, a Spanish lady imprisoned in a Seraglio; Maryveller Hammer, A4, Lemars, as Blonda Constanza's maid; James McDonald as Belmonte, a Spanish noble man in love with Constanza, and Eric Giere, G. Minneapolis, as Pedrillo, Belmonte's servant.

James Paffin, G. LaCrosse, will play Osmin, overseer of the Seraglio, and George Spelvin plays Selim the Turkish Pasha. Other workshop members will be Janisaries, slaves and guards.

The production was conceived and supervised by A. Kent Gravett, G. Lexington, Ky., the musical director is John L. Quinn, A4, Iowa City, and the orchestra will be conducted by James Dixon, associate professor of music. Herald Stark, professor of music, directs the workshop.

Preparation for the opera began in February when workshop members auditioned and were chosen for the roles. All work from making costumes and scenery, to lighting, is done by the workshop members with assistance from the Department of Dramatic Arts.

Cypriot Skirmish Endangers Truce

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Reacting swiftly Thursday after a truce-breaking skirmish between Greek and Turkish Cypriots, the U.N. peace keeping force planted 10 observation posts in the Kyrenia Mountains in an effort to discourage further fighting.

Roving U.N. patrols had failed to stem hostilities in that hottest sector of a war which U.N. Secretary-General U Thant is trying now to end through a new nine-point peace plan.

Canadian infantry units ranging from four to 35 men manned the mountain posts. They were linked by scout cars and radio. A spokesman said the arrangement meant a more active approach by the U.N. force.

The soldiers told newsmen they have warned both sides that if any shots are fired in their direction, the fire will be returned immediately.

Bowen Cites Need For Consolidation Of Local Units

DES MOINES (AP) — Separate governing units for urban and rural residents in the same community were called outmoded Thursday by Dr. Howard R. Bowen, president-elect of SUI.

He urged reorganization and consolidation of local governments into "units large enough to be efficient."

Bowen, president of Grinnell College who becomes president of SUI July 1, spoke at a meeting of the Governor's Commission on State and Local Government.

"The basic objective," he said "is to get one government for one community."

"Traditionally, local government has been divided so that the city represents urban residents and the county represents rural residents."

"But the sharp separation of city and country no longer conforms to economic and social reality," he said. There is very little difference in the interests of rural and urban people now, Bowen told about 50 members of the commission.

City Discharges Third Policeman For 'Misconduct'

For the third time in two months, action has been taken against an Iowa City policeman.

Patrolman Herman J. Parrott was discharged Thursday from the department for "misconduct of a serious nature," although that nature was not specified. He was followed by Police Chief John J. Ruppert after an investigation.

The action was approved by City Manager Carsten D. Leikvold who said, "I am extremely sorry to have to take action like this, but I had no choice. I realize it reflects on the Police Department and on the city, but I have the fullest confidence in Chief Ruppert and in the rest of the department."

Parrott, 40, was hired as a policeman Feb. 1, 1948. He served several years in the parking meter department, and was a patrolman at the time of his discharge. He is married and has four children.

In the previous cases, Patrolman Terrance A. Berridge was discharged but later reinstated by the Civil Service Commission, and Patrolman Robert A. Vevera was suspended for 30 days.

Trials of Lie-Ins Protested by 200

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Civil rights demonstrators, their ranks thinned despite a parade past Negro schools in an effort to swell their numbers, protested Thursday at the trials of those arrested in a traffic-stopping street lie-ins.

An estimated 200 singing, sign-carrying youths, including a few whites, were met at the courthouse by Patrol Chief Donald Barton who invited them inside for the trials of those arrested earlier.

They reached the courthouse after a two-hour march through a predominantly Negro section and, later, through the business district. They tried briefly to enter four sandwich shops which are segregated.

The crowd, mostly of high school age, met first at a Negro church at the edge of the business district, the rallying point for the marches. Lester McKinnie, chairman of the Nashville Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee, who has been arrested twice this week, led the crowd on a march past Fisk University and a Negro high school.

Only a few students were seen leaving the schools to join the demonstrators and the group which returned to the business district was little larger than the one which left the church.

Bishop Sheen, but he said: "I wouldn't want to say the bishop agrees with me on all matters. I don't want to get the bishop in any trouble."

THE COMMITTEE has before it 146 resolutions proposing 35 different forms of constitutional amendments. More than 40 members of Congress have already testified, only one of them is opposed to any amendment.

Although Bishop Sheen, in his written statement, said the Supreme Court's decisions must be "constitutionally amended," he expressed the opinion under committee questioning that the present guarantees of religious liberty in the First and Ninth amendments to the Constitution are adequate.

Wallace, who has bitterly attacked the court for its ruling against segregation of the races, said its prayer decisions were "part of the philosophy of socialism elevated to the dignity of law."

"We are being manipulated by the courts as cogs in a gigantic Socialistic pattern," he said.

44th U-Sing Ends Mother's Day Weekend

SUI students will compete day in a tradition which is years old. The University which began in 1920 on the bank of the Iowa River, is the final of Mother's Day Weekend. It begins at 2:30 p.m. in the Lounge of the Union.

Linda Lee Stock, A3, Waukegan, mistress of ceremonies, will tie the program's theme, "Harmonizing through History," to the music.

The musical groups and student conductors are: Phi Phi and Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Ethel Stock, A4, Early, and B Pieper, A3, West Union; Delta and Phi Beta Pi, Ann Howard, A4, Cresco; Alpha Delta Pi Sigma Nu, Howard Hensel, Auburn.

Also, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Delta Tau Delta, David Hvid, A3, Des Moines; Chi Omega, Delta Chi, Stanley Kluever, Waterloo; Beth Wellman House, Burge, Janice Jones, A3, Marquette.

The 1964 SUI Mother of the Year will present trophies to the winners. Judges are: Joe Noble Riceville; Ken Smith, G, Missoula; Larry Schenk, West Liberty, vocal music director.

The traditional SUI event first presented on the steps of Art Building near the river. While the judges were making their decision, a river show was formed.

SAIGON (AP) — Communist forces sank a U.S. aircraft carrier in Saigon harbor Saturday. All 73 men of the civilian crew were reported safe.

The red guerrillas blew a hole into the 9,800-ton U.S.S. Card, low the waterline. The ship arrived here with a cargo of copters and fighterbombers.

It was the first time a U.S. vessel had been sunk in battle against Viet Cong guerrillas. THE CARD had taken on a cargo of old helicopters for return to
