The Junkman Cameth

A strange piece of sculpture rose from the Fine Arts campus Thursday as students happened onto a "happening." As the pile of miscellaneous rose skywards, a tongue-in-cheek spectator titled it "1964" Alas, then it was burned.

A 'Happening' Happened at SU

By PAULA KAPLAN
Staff Writer

Strange things were "happening" at 4 p.m. Thursday in the area between the Art Department and the Iowa River.

A large crowd of spectators sat on the ground, stood and watched, and finally mingled among the people who were — among other things — painting a bathtub, building a raft and painting pictures.

CLASSICAL MUSIC played over a loudspeaker. Water skiers, boaters and canoers observed the happenings from the water.

"It's a happening," said several of the painters. "We're doing, not thinking," said one of the creators.

People from Art and Writer's Workshop were among those at work. Students from photo and design classes were taking photos for an assignment. At least one art class was assigned to watch what was "happening."

One painter explained that for a happening to be a success, the participants must feel as if they have created something together.

HAPPENINGS are usually private, and everyone who is invited is encouraged to participate. They are also usually disciplined, she said.

"But this one is neither disciplined nor private," said Dorothy Dorf, G. Chicago.

Upon completion of the works of art, all of them were burned on a float Thursday afternoon. To a girl building the float, it too was a work of art. "This is a piece of sculpture," she said.

WHY DID THIS strange happening take place? It seems that the idea happened simultaneously among a group of art students eating lunch a few weeks ago. The group spent about 20 dollars to buy lumber for the raft.

Actually, it seems that "it" took place to publicize an entirely different show from the one on the River.

An art show, sponsored by Union Board and the Art Department, opens in the Terrace Lounge of the Union tonight. "This is an advertisement for the Patio show," said one girl.

The best explanation of a "happening" is that it happens.

Council to Meet Today

The City Council will hold its third special session in four days at 4 p.m. today in the Civic Center to discuss the park program and the possibilities of merging the park board and recreation commission.

McNamara Says Maybe—

More Troops to Viet Nam?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said Thursday it may be necessary to send more U.S. troops to South Viet Nam on training missions because of stepped-up Communist guerrilla terror attacks.

And it may be necessary later to reconsider American plans to withdraw most of the 15,000-man U.S. force from South Viet Nam by the end of next year, McNamara told newsmen at the White House.

The defense chief was interviewed just after he reported to President Johnson following his return from his fifth visit to the embattled Southeast Asian nation.

McNAMARA SAID he is personally convinced that persistent execution of present political and military plans will lead to victory.

But he said it will be "a long, hard war."

He said U.S. economic aid as well as military aid must be increased in South Viet Nam. This is running now at about $400 million a year, about half economic and half military, not counting expenses for U.S. servicemen there.

More U.S. troops may be needed, McNamara said, because South Viet Nam must increase greatly its force of regular and paramilitary army troops and double the number of its pilots and provide them with additional aircraft. The American would be assigned to train them.

AS TO whether this would mean an increase in the 15,000-man U.S.

New Controls Set on Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has imposed new controls on food and medicine shipments to Cuba. These are the only goods exempted from an embargo on U.S.-Cuban trade.

This country also disclaimed any involvement in what Cuban exile forces in Florida described as the opening attack in their "war" against Fidel Castro's Communist regime.

In another development, Brazil's break-off of diplomatic relations with Castro spurred a move in the Organization of American States to isolate Cuba completely from the other Latin-American nations.

The Commerce Department announced Thursday that hereafter licenses will be required for the sale of food and medicine to Cuba. The items were exempted on humanitarian grounds when the United States banned exports to Cuba in October 1960.

The action followed the disclosure that Cuba has been making overtures for the purchase from American firms of about $10 million worth of medicines and drugs.

A department spokesman said the license requirement is not an embargo.

"We merely want to put these things under surveillance," he said.

Supervisors Order Cutting of Weeds

Noxious weeds must be destroyed by individual landowners of Johnson County before July 30 or they will be cut by the county and the cost assessed to the landowner.

The county board of supervisors passed the resolution Monday. It lists the following noxious weeds: leafy spurge, perennial peppergrass, sour dock, smooth dock, sheep sorrel, Canada thistle, napweed, buckhorn, wild mustard, bindweed, wild carrot, horse nettle, perennial sow thistle, butter print, puncture vine and cocklebur.

Bobby May Seek U.S. Senate Seat

NEW YORK (AP) — The possibility of U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy running for the U.S. Senate this fall from New York received favorable reaction Thursday from the state's Democratic chairman.

The late President John F. Kennedy's brother had no immediate comment on reports he might seek the nomination.

State Chairman William H. McKeon, without specifically endorsing Kennedy over other possibilities, said: "There is no question but that he would be a great candidate and, I am convinced, a winning candidate."

A NUMBER of other party leaders in the state were understood as favoring the idea of Kennedy making the race against Republican Sen. Kenneth B. Keating.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner, the state's actual Democratic leader, said without committing himself to choice that Kennedy is an "outstanding public official" who "should be given serious consideration if he's really interested."

Kennedy reportedly is sufficiently interested in the possibility to have assigned Stephen Smith, his brother-in-law, to sound out the feeling of party leaders here.

Kennedy, who has announced he will relinquish the attorney generalship after the fall election, has been weighing various possibilities for his future.

HE HAS RUN high in polls for the Democratic vice-presidential nomination without committing himself to any particular candidate.

'Deplorable Poverty' On Lady Bird's Land

Barry, Rocky Threaten—

Lodge is Favorite Today in Oregon

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Henry Cabot Lodge remained the favorite as about 265,000 Oregon Republicans prepared to name their choice for the presidential nomination in primary voting today.

Busy with the war in South Viet Nam, the absent Lodge was depicted in the polls as holding a firm edge over five opponents in a contest that would give the winner Oregon's 18 convention votes and a boost in prestige.

Election officials expected about 70 per cent of the state's 383,752 registered Republicans to vote. They figured about 60 per cent of the 456,568 registered Democrats would turn out to support President Johnson and possibly to write in a variety of vice-presidential choices.

In the face of reports that Lodge might be slipping, teams of volunteers put on last-minute steam for him in phone and personal contacts.

NEW YORK Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, only candidate in the state, put on a final burst of campaigning before taking off for Washington for a top-level briefing there on foreign affairs by Johnson administration officials.

Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater represented in Oregon by his campaigning son Michael, got some good news that might have a bearing on the outcome of his vital head-on clash with Rockefeller in the June 2 California primary.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower seemed to have gone a long way in a Harrisburg, Pa., news conference toward torpedoing the hopes of the Arizona senator's opponents of putting together an effective stop-Goldwater movement.

Eisenhower said he will not try to dictate the choice of a nominee or to attempt to block any of the most prominently mentioned candidates. He added that "I am going to support anyone the nominating convention selects."

THOSE WHO want to stop Goldwater thus seemed unlikely to have the powerful public support of Eisenhower on which they had counted heavily. Goldwater contends he will have about 600 votes toward the 655 needed for nomination, if he wins California's 88.

Rockefeller's supporters said they think the governor will run a close second to Lodge, if he doesn't himself top the Oregon results. "They believe such a showing would help consolidate anti-Goldwater sentiment behind the governor in the California balloting."

Strengthens Laws —

Gov. Hughes Orders 'No Discrimination'

DES MOINES (AP) — An executive order designed to strengthen the enforcement of state laws banning racial, religious and ethnic discrimination was issued Thursday by Gov. Harold Hughes.

The order says "fair and equal treatment of all persons . . . is the public policy of the State of Iowa."

The order, first such proclamation issued by Hughes, was requested by the Governor's Commission on Human Relations to support Iowa's Public Accommodations Law and Fair Employment Practices Law.

HUGHES SAID he believes the order will have both a "moral effect and a physical effect" in the enforcement of the laws.

The order says "no state official who is responsible to the governor shall, therefore, in policy or practice, discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin or ancestry."

Among the state officials responsible to the governor who were specifically ordered to avoid discrimination were those that license

Warn Students Of 'Salesmen'

Students were warned by Campus Police Thursday to be aware of a group of magazine salesmen stopping them on the campus or downtown area.

The "salesmen" were reported Thursday stopping students and asking them if they were interested in certain magazines. Students were then asked to sign a blank check which looked like a coupon.

In order to solicit on campus, permission must be granted by the President's office and Campus Police. The salesmen did not have permission from either, according to Campus Police.

One student reported a salesman hit him when the student became suspicious of the solicitor and started following him.

Campus Police said they assume the salesman have left the campus.

Senate considers transportation

"YA CAN'T get there from here," as the old song goes, and it is especially applicable to transportation conditions in many parts of Iowa City. Not only can't you get there half the time, but when you do manage, you just can't find a place to park.

The Student Senate considered this problem at its last meeting and will vote on two proposals regarding transportation next Tuesday.

One resolution puts the Senate on record as favoring establishment of transit service to areas in western sections of Iowa City. It also would create a committee to study the transportation problem in this area of the city and present a detailed report to the Senate and the local transit company.

Iowa City had transit service between these outlying districts and the central city-campus area in the past. This service was discontinued due to a lack of customers. Recent building in this area and more congested traffic conditions downtown could make the resumption of this service profitable.

The other resolution to be voted upon would create a committee to study the parking problem and present a report early next fall.

Although the parking problem has been around for some time and there have been various committees making studies, this question grows larger each year. Perhaps the students themselves would be able to bring some new ideas to the situation.

Transportation and parking are two complex problems which plague any large institution. Some say that the way to eliminate this problem is simple enough: just prohibit students from driving automobiles. This is a drastic solution and, unhappily, it only leads to other troubles.

Senate President Wally Snyder, just back from a Big Ten student government conference, reports that some schools which have done away with cars on campus find themselves faced with a bicycle parking problem.

It is doubtful that a Senate committee could arrive at any cure-all solution to the complex transportation problems, but it might be able to bring a few new thoughts and some more facts to the problem.

That false feeling of prosperity

PAYING LESS now and feeling more prosperous? You should, at least most Iowans should. They paid $1.7 million less in taxes in the first quarter of 1964 than during the same period last year.

Of course most students have little or no source of income so the amount of the average tax bill does not mean a great deal to them. This summer, however, many of us will be leaving the University to spend three months on some money-making endeavor.

The tax reduction will be felt at this time in the form of a few extra dollars in the pay envelope each week.

Unfortunately this seeming prosperity, both for working students and working Iowans, will not last. The reason for the reduced tax bill is not so much reduced taxes as a reduction in Federal income tax withholding.

This will mean that the tax refund, which most working students look forward to after the first of the year, will be significantly reduced. Perhaps some students who have never had to pay Federal income tax before, in addition to that which was already withheld, will find they actually owe the Government money next March 15.

The feeling of prosperity can be misleading, and no doubt this was at least one reason why the Government is withholding less money than before — the feeling should still be present next November.

Conscience money fund

'Fathers Anonymous' for wayward GI's

By ART BUCHWALD

One of the results of sending American troops all over the world is the rise in the birthrate of little half-Americans fathered by the American GI's. No one wishes to take any responsibility for these children, just as very few people will even admit they exist. Miss Pearl Buck, one of our greatest living authors, has been concerned about the problem for some time, and has started a foundation to take care of some of these children, particularly in Korea, where our troops have contributed so generously to the population explosion.

BUCHWALD

Miss Buck was in Washington whipping up some interest for her foundation.

"I have discovered my cause is not a popular one," she told us. "The American mother won't believe her son would have an affair. The veterans' organizations are shocked that I would even raise the question, and the American military are completely defensive about it. How could our boys do such a thing," the military say, "when they were playing volley ball all the time?"

"I HAVE tried to point out that the only other possible way for the children to arrive would be by stork, but unfortunately there are no storks in the Far East."

Miss Buck said she has a solution to the problem that wouldn't embarrass anyone. She has started "Fathers Anonymous," which will make it possible for a father of a half-American to contribute some money without anyone knowing about it.

"I am sure," she said, "that there are quite a few men in this country who are conscience-stricken and would like to do something about it, if it wouldn't get them in trouble. Fathers Anonymous is the perfect answer."

"IF ANY GI or ex-GI can remember a wonderful occasion during his service years that could have resulted in a baby's being born nine months later, then he is eligible to join Fathers Anonymous."

"All I am asking is that in grateful memory of that evening he send a cash contribution to my foundation. The beauty of my organization is that there will be no questions asked, no names required, and no follow-up on the contribution. The money sent can be considered conscience money. I am certain there are many veterans who would like to ease the burden of their guilt if they could. As Sophie Tucker said recently, "Okay, everyone had a wonderful time. Now let's clean up the mess."

We asked Miss Buck why she felt the American GI had fathered so many Oriental babies.

"I THINK it was a language problem. A GI couldn't speak the young lady's language and the lady couldn't speak the GI's language, so they had nothing much else to do."

"How much conscience money do you think someone should send in?"

"Perhaps enlisted men could send in $5 — junior officers $10 and senior officers $20. If they sent in cash to me at Perkaskie, Pennsylvania, without a return address, there is no possible way of their being found out. I can't think of a nicer way of making it up to the girls they left behind."

"Miss Buck," we said, "how would someone be sure he should join Fathers Anonymous?"

"I can think of one test," she replied. "If the person's hands are shaking while he reads your article, you can be sure he has a reason to be a member of the club."

During Appalachian tour

President finds faith, belief in country

By RALPH MCGILL

President Johnson was asked what most impressed him, aside from stark need, in his tour of the Southern Appalachians. "The faith of the people in poverty," the President said. "They believe their country will do something about their problem. This faith and this belief is at once reassuring and humbling," he said.

MCGILL

The President gave a few illustrations. He told of visiting a man who was farming "on halves," raising tobacco and cotton, on about 10 acres of land. He had to feed and clothe 11 persons, most of them children. At the time of the visit, the farmer, once he was over his astonishment, talked of his dilemma.

He was not without hope. There was in him the belief that if he could just get a small piece of land of his own from which he could take all the income, instead of half, he could make it. Neither dreams nor ambition were dead.

THE PRESIDENT told of visiting one home where a mother sat rocking a very young sick child. There was a large boil-like infection the size of a golf ball on the infant's head. The President asked about a doctor.

The mother said they had tried "two or three times" to get an appointment but had not been able to do so. The woman was not resentful.

This inability to get immediate medical help when there was no money to pay for it was accepted as a routine part of life . . . as it is for all those who are in a poverty condition. (There is, one must keep in mind, a great difference between being poor and being impoverished.)

The President remembered a home where there were seven children. The oldest, 17, had volunteered to take his military service. The boy had graduated from high school. He was a bright, intelligent looking youngster. The school he attended was a small, dilapidated one in a desperately poor rural area. It did not include enough pupils to be rated as a high school. The boy failed the army educational tests. His parents had placed great hopes in their son getting into the army and learning a trade or vocation at one of the training schools offered in military service. There were no job opportunities where they lived.

THESE WERE some of the memories the President had.

When he found in all these individuals and communities a faith in their country and a belief that something would be done, he was deeply moved and inspired to push ahead for the assault on poverty.

A beginning will be made. There will be some training schools — not duplicates of the Civilian Conservation Corps which met a need of the 1930s — but something like them. They will meet the needs of this decade and, we trust, the next. There will be retraining programs and, hopefully, an increase in jobs.

THE FACT that there currently is a rise in employment cheers the President. One of the nation's largest corporations has told him to plan to add perhaps 3,000 new jobs. He believes others will do so. Automation and the new technologies will continue.

The President insists the nation's response to this cannot be a wringing of the hands and a defeatist attitude. The same genius that invents technology has the capacity to discover ways and techniques to create employment. Computers that can be fed data to reduce wage costs can also be fed data to enable planners to replace those lost with new opportunity.

There are in the nation many pockets of poverty. These are the slums of cities large and small; the towns and the Appalachians where coal mining is shut down or mechanized; rural areas where no industry will come, where the schools are desperately inadequate in instruction, and where apathy and despair are the rule. All these pockets grow — slowly, but steadily.

We should have moved against them years ago. That they have not already made the nation sick is due, almost certainly, to the residue of faith and belief in their country that so impressed the President. There is a lot of endurance in man — but it can be leached out if neglected for a generation.

Letters to the editor

Sensationalism, inaccuracy charged in housing story

To the Editor:

The recent series of articles on student-housing have in general been informative and, I hope, eye-opening. The sixth article, however, was so grossly slanted, filled with sensationalism and misleading that I feel some comments are necessary.

Aside from the obviously paradoxical reference to the number of councilmen renting to students, there are many misleading inferences included. For example: "Zajick shares his house with six students . . . The four boys living on the second floor are sharing one bath. Two of them are living in a room no larger than 12 by 15 feet."

Most housing codes require one set of bathroom fixtures for every EIGHT occupants, whereas the condition cited is no different from many family homes and well within any dictates of law, code or common sense. The room size recommended by these same codes is a minimum of 70 square feet per occupant. These two student per occupant. These two student per occupant. These two student per occupant.

not in calling the house unapproved, but in not checking the establishment before classifying it with substandard housing. A five minute tour of the house and a few questions would have revealed that one year ago the house had been completely renovated, rewired, replumbed and refurbished.

It can be, and is, upheld as a good example of favorable student housing. Those who know the calibre of this housing will wonder about the purpose of the articles when Burger's is listed with establishments described as substandard. This reference is viciously insulting to owners who have gone beyond the requirements to provide pleasant living quarters.

ALTHOUGH Mayor Burger surely will not hold the University responsible for a poorly organized and written article in The Daily Iowan, the damage to his prestige can never completely be undone.

Recreation area open 8 a.m.-11 p.m. Monday-Thursday; 8 a.m.-midnight Friday and Saturday; 8:11 a.m. Sunday.

UNIVERSITY LIBRARY HOURS: Monday-Friday: 7:30 a.m.-5 p.m.; Saturday: 10 a.m.-4 p.m.; Sunday: 1:30 p.m.-4 p.m. Service Desk: Monday-Thursday: 8 a.m.-5 p.m.; Friday: 8 a.m.-5 p.m.; Saturday: 10 a.m.-4 p.m.; Sunday: 1:30 p.m.-4 p.m.

in closing, I would like to say that this series of articles could lead to improvement in the housing situation if well written and documented; but to make blind insinuations and to use sensationalistic methods of reporting will only weaken the argument for improved housing.

In short, if you don't know what you're writing about, don't write!

Jerry E. Burns, E4

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The reference in the article to the Mayor's apartments as "not approved" by the University was the result of a mistake by University officials in checking their records for the Iowan reporter. A correction of this unfortunate error appeared May 13 in The Iowan.)

IF, IN FACT, The Daily Iowan is attempting to precipitate interest and action on the housing problem, the mistaken reference to Mayor Burger's establishment as "not approved" did nothing to further that end.

The most serious mistake was

Numerous County GOPs May Bolt Party In Primary

A number of Iowa City and Johnson County Republicans are thinking about switching party affiliation to vote for Democratic candidates in the June 1 primary election.

County Auditor Dolores A. Rogers reported that a "large" number of inquiries have been received from Republican voters in her office concerning how to change their registered party affiliation for the primary.

Changing party affiliation is an easy process. Those living outside Iowa City must sign an affidavit in the county auditor's office in the courthouse at least 10 days before the election. Residents of Iowa City must sign an affidavit 10 days before election with the city clerk. At the polls on June 1, all voters simply tell poll workers that they want the opposite party ballot.

However, voting for the opposite party may bring a challenge from judges or clerks at the polls, or from appointed party "challengers." If the person seeking an opposite party ballot is challenged, he may vote for the opposite party after taking an oath and signing an affidavit at the polls.

Art Praised
A traveling exhibition of art work by the SUI Iowa Print Group, was recently praised by a newspaper in Trieste, Italy.

The Iowa Print Group consists of people who have studied or are studying printmaking under Maurico Lasansky, SUI professor of printmaking, whom the review called "one of the major living American artists."

Music Symposium
Professor Himie Voxman, head of the Music Department will take part in the first National Symposium on Music in Adult and Extension Education during the coming weekend at the University of Wisconsin, Madison.

The SUI professor will be on a panel which will discuss "New Directions in Music Offerings for Youth."

Seminar Held
Willard Lane, professor of education, and nearly 60 other school superintendents, city managers and university professors, are attending a seminar on "Realities of Intergovernmental Relations" at the University of Kansas today and Saturday.

The seminar was called by the American Association of School Administrators and the International City Managers' Association.

Scholarship Won
Gail E. Longenecker, a senior at Davenport West High School, has been named winner of the $500 Quill and Scroll Scholarship for study of Journalism this fall at SUI. Quill and Scroll is the international society for high school journalists.

Grant Awarded
SUI has received a $10,000 grant from the National Science Foundation to purchase basic electronic instrumentation equipment for use in the structural laboratory of the Materials Testing Laboratory.

Wind Ensemble
A recital of wind ensemble music will be held today at 3:30 p.m. in North Music Hall.

Fifty-three students will participate in the program, which will include two brass choirs; trombone, flute, and saxophone quartets; and a double woodwind quintet.

Conductors in the recital will be John Beer and John Hill, assistant professors of music, and Frank Fishman, G, Wheat Ridge, Colo.

Eight SUI Women Attend National P.E. Meetings
Eight members of the Women's Physical Education Department recently returned from a five-day trip to Washington, D.C., where they attended meetings of the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation May 7 to 12.

Participating in the meetings were Mildred Barnes, assistant professor; Betty van der Smissen, associate professor; Margaret Fox and Dorothy Mohr, professors; Mary Lou Thornburg and Marcia Thayer, instructors; Dorothy Harris, graduate assistant and Gladys Scott, chairman of the department.

Iowa City High Students To Have Post-Prom Party
Dancing to the Escorts and folk singing by Dick Levine will entertain junior and senior Iowa City High School students at the after-the-prom party from 12:30 to 3:30 a.m. Saturday at the Hawk Ballroom.

The prom banquet will be held from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. in the Main Lounge, and the dance will be from 8:30 to 11:30 in the River Room of the Union.

The after-the-prom party is sponsored by parents through contributions. Those wishing to contribute should mail their donations to Ansel Chapman, 100 S. Linn St.

Violin Broadcast
Charles Treger, SUI violinist, will be the host on "The Glory of Cremona," a program of recorded violin compositions to be broadcast by WMT-FM (104.5 mc.) Sunday at 2 p.m.

The broadcast will be repeated on May 24 at 8:30 p.m. The compositions on the program, played by Ruggiero Ricci, were recorded using 15 world-famous violins, including instruments by Stradivari and Amati.

'The Mt. Vernon of Iowa City'

The George Nagle home, 342 Lexington Ave., recreates the atmosphere of the Old South as it sits in the shade of the surrounding trees. The house is a Southern Colonial design and is approached by a circular drive. There is a smaller house in the back that is reminiscent of the "servants' quarters" of yesteryear. This is one of the homes to be featured in the Tour of Homes annually sponsored by the Iowa City chapter of the American Association for the United Nations (AAUN).

Decorating Ideas Highlight AAUN Tour of Homes

Houses incorporating the newest in materials and ideas, as well as a house sometimes called the "Mt. Vernon of Iowa City" will be included on this year's tour sponsored May 24 by the Iowa City chapter of the American Association for the United Nations (AAUN).

The J. Bradley Rusts have experimented with new fabrics, tiles and wall coverings in their home at 910 River St.

A DESIGNER, Mr. Rust has used such varied wall coverings as a nylon textured fabric resembling a fine off-white burlap, a blue plastic grass cloth, plastic with a floral print fabric which matches the room's draperies.

A golden sand color in the entry hall sounds the color note for the entire house. The hallway also inroduces the oriental motif followed in the adjoining rooms.

One of the most interesting spots in the house is a replica of an old English tack room. The room is complete with walls of paving bricks, old captains chairs, high hearth and stall-type bar front with horse bells.

THE OUT-OF-DOORS almost comes inside at the William Bartley home, 505 Whiting Ave.

Set above a wooden ravine, the house is built to take full advantage of the view. The windowless hallway running the length of the house is on the "street-side," allowing each of the rooms to look out over the ravine.

An outdoor balcony, built at an angle, is an unusual addition to the master bedroom.

In the living room, a fireplace is set into a wall of old Chicago brick and incorporates a bit of Iowa City's history. The hand-hewn beam forming the mantel came from the first schoolhouse in Johnson County. The structure was razed when the Bartley's built a law office on its side of South Duquesne St.

THE GEORGE NAGLE home at 342 Lexington Ave., is sometimes referred to as "Iowa City's Mt. Vernon." The Nagles built the home more than 30 years ago.

The house has been adapted through the years to meet the family's needs.

Three Nagle children were reared in the home, and now it easily accommodates visiting grandchildren (there are five of them).

Among items visitors will see will be souvenirs of the Nagle's recent world tour: a candelabra from Italy, a large silver tray which was hand-pounded in Germany, and a Japanese screen.

In the den are political mementos, including autographed photographs of former Presidents Herbert Hoover and Dwight D. Eisenhower. Mr. Nagle has served as state finance chairman for the Republican party and most recently as Republican state chairman.

Mrs. Nagle's "only real antique" is a gold love seat which her grandmother brought in a covered wagon from Pennsylvania when she was a bride.

OTHER HOUSES to be on the tour May 24 are those of the John Buchanan, 6 Highview Knoll; the Gerald Solomons, 319 Mullin Ave.; the Fred Doderers, 2008 Dunlap Ct. and the W. O. Aydelottes, 330 South Summit St.

Hours will be from 1 to 5 p.m. Tickets are available for $2 at Pearsons, Whetstones and Things and Things and Things.

REPORTER CRITICIZED — CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Lynn Heinzerling of The Associated Press, who won a Pulitzer Prize for his reporting from Africa in 1960, was criticized sharply in Parliament here Wednesday for his reporting from this country that same year.

The criticism was voiced in debate on a report by a press commission which said Monday that it found a "preponderance of bad and very bad reporting of political and racial matters in cables sent abroad."

It was part of a continuing campaign of faultfinding with reporters working in this country.

Yemen Desert Yields Bodies Of 2 Britons

LONDON (AP) — The Defense Ministry said Thursday the headless bodies of two British soldiers have been found in the South Arabian desert, but did not repeat a previous claim that the heads had been displayed on poles in the capital of Yemen.

The announcement came shortly after Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home told the House of Commons the whole Middle East was ready to erupt in flames. Commonwealth Secretary Duncan Sandys said 800 more troops were being flown to the Aden region.

The Defense Ministry said clothing and documents on the bodies forced the reluctant conclusion that they were those of Capt. Robin Edwards and sapper John Warburton reported missing after a desert encounter April 30.

The British Middle East commander told a news conference in Aden May 3 that he had "reliable information" the two British soldiers had been beheaded and their heads paraded on pikes in the streets of Taiz, one of the two Yemen capital cities.

THE REPORT shocked the nation and the next day Douglas-Home told an angry House of Commons he had asked the U.S. government to investigate the reports. He said reinforcements were being sent immediately to Britain's beleaguered forces in the federation.

That same Monday the State Department said a cable from the American Embassy in Taiz denied the heads had been paraded there.

This brought the government under opposition fire in the Commons for putting out unverified reports.

IN THURSDAY'S heated debate in Commons on the Middle East, Douglas-Home assured the legislators the government had no intention of intervening in the Yemeni struggle between republicans and royalists, but was simply striving to protect Britain's treaty partner, the neighboring Federation of South Arabia and Britain's big military base at Aden.

Sandys told the House of Commons the battalion normally garrisoning Aden is now battling Yemeni insurgents in the Radfan Mountains.

Sandys said British and federation forces on the Yemeni frontier have achieved their main military objective — reopening the road to Dhala. Dhala is the Amiri tribal area capital near the frontier 65 miles northwest of Aden. Sandys said the troops now control a substantial area east of the road to protect it from new attacks.

Tannery Explosion Kills 5 Workers

PEABODY, Mass. (AP) — An explosion and fire tore through a tannery Thursday, killing five men and injuring a half-dozen.

Three of the dead were tannery workers; the other two were employed by a contractor doing some repair work in the plant.

The explosion came at mid-morning as some 50 tannery employees and more than a dozen of the contractor's crew were at work in the Gnecco and Griik Tanning Corp. plant, near the center of the city, some 20 miles north of Boston.

A number of employees escaped through windows and other exits.

A half-dozen were rescued over a ladder brought from a plant across the street.

Plant workers said "a tremendous explosion" followed by a lesser blast rocked the tannery.

One employee, Carmeno Pasquarello, said he was at work in a first-floor room where hides are degreased in solvents.

Only 60 feet away from him, he said, "There was a sudden explosion which rocked the building."

Workers said there were containers of flammable solvents in the room.

Two Democratic Candidates Discuss Politics at Coffee

Robert Burns, candidate for the Democratic nomination for State Senate, and John R. Schmidhauser, candidate for Democratic nomination to the U.S. House of Representatives, spoke at a coffee Wednesday, at the home of Eric Bergsten, assistant professor of law.

Burns said Iowa needs to enact several stronger civil rights bills. He said the 1884 Public Accommodation Law specifically outlaws discrimination in a few places, restaurants, barbershops and theaters.

"This law is outdated and needs revision," Burns said. "We need to extend it to cover hospitals, retail stores, and countless other places, as well as enact strong provisions for enforcement."

Burns said the 1963 Fair Employment Law gives broad coverage but lacks enforcement. He said an FEPC commission is needed to enforce fair employment. He also said Iowa has no legislation barring discrimination in the sale or rental of housing.

SUI Symphony To Present Final Concert

In the spring of 1898, a fashionable audience at the Paris Grand Opera experienced an unusual musical premiere — a set of sacred pieces by the greatest operatic master of his day, Giuseppe Verdi.

At SUI Wednesday, 66 years later, audiences will hear two of these four sacred works, Verdi's "Te Deum" and "Stabat Mater," as the SUI Symphony Orchestra presents its final concert of the season.

The orchestra will be joined in this performance by the University Oratorio Chorus and the Choir, directed by Daniel Moe, associate professor of music. James Dixon, conductor of the SUI Symphony Orchestra, will lead the combined groups in the performance.

The second half of the program will be Beethoven's Violin Concerto, with SUI's Charles Treger as soloist.

Free tickets for the Wednesday concert, at 8 p.m. in the Union, will be available beginning Friday at the Information Desk of the Union.

The concert will also be broadcast live by radio station WSUI, 910 kilocycles.

SUI Journalists To Get $7,000 In Awards Sunday

Fifty achievement awards valued at more than $7,000, for SUI journalism students, will be presented at the annual Fourth Estate Banquet 6:30 p.m. Sunday at the Mayflower.

Among the new awards this year are the James Fox, Inc. Award in Public Relations; the Ruth Baty Jones Memorial Award to an outstanding senior woman in journalism; the Jacob Reizenstein Prize for news gathering; the Howard A. Schumacher Award to the winner of the Brewer Key for scholarship, leadership and promise; and Alumni and Faculty Merit Awards.

Other awards include the $1,500 WMT Stations News Scholarship to the radio and television journalism major showing promise in broadcast news; the Ramsey Internship Award sponsored by the Ramsey Advertising Agency of Davenport, and the Cedar Rapids Gazette News Photography Award.

Additional awards will be the Leon Barnes Community Journalism Award to a student showing promise in community journalism; the J. Hamilton Johnson Memorial Award for excellence in newswriting; and the Conger Reynolds Achievement Award to an outstanding student in public relations.

Tickets for the banquet will be available until 5 p.m. today in 201 or 205 Communications Center.

Rev. Constable Named To Seminary Faculty

The Rev. John Constable, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, 404 E. Jefferson St., has been named assistant professor of historical theology at Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, Mo.

Rev. Constable received his M.A. in history at SUI in 1960. He was awarded a Danforth Grant for advanced study in 1961 and attended Ohio State University, Columbus, to continue work for his doctorate.

Before Rev. Constable came to SUI in 1956, he was university pastor to Lutheran students at Ohio State.

Hawk 'Nine' at Ohio State Today

Freese, Petersen Lead Iowa Hitters into Crucial Games

The Iowa Hawkeyes will face Ohio State in a single game at Columbus today and will travel to Bloomington, Ind., for a double-header Saturday as the Big Ten race moves into a crucial weekend of activity.

The Hawkeyes, buried in eighth place in the title race with a 3-6 mark, are better prepared physically than they have been all year as they move into the easier part of their schedule. Except for pitcher Jim McAndrew and outfielder Bill Niedbala, who hurt his heel this week, all of the Hawks have recovered from injuries and will be available for duty.

BOB GEBHARD, the workhorse of the staff who has pitched in nine of the Hawks' 24 games, will start against Ohio State today. Gebhard started two games last weekend against Michigan State and Michigan and was knocked out in both games but still is carrying a respectable 3.16 earned run average, with a 4-2 record.

Coach Dick Schultz said Thursday that Bob Schauenberg will start the first game against Indiana Saturday and Steve Green will start the second if he isn't needed for relief duty before that time. If Green is used for relief, Schultz had not decided who would get the second game starting assignment.

CATCHER JIM FREESE is still leading the Hawks in hitting with a .333 mark. He leads in the runs batted in department and in total hits, with 15 and 28 respectively. Jay Petersen, hampered recently by an ankle injury is the only other Hawk hitting over .300. He is hitting .306.

Jim Koehn, the Hawk second baseman, has been raising his average since Big Ten season opened and is the third leading hitter at .267. Duke Lee has the most total bases, 36, and Dick Perkins has scored the most runs, 19.

WITH ONLY ONE weekend of activity remaining after today and Saturday, this weekend will probably go far in deciding the outcome of the Big Ten race. Minnesota and Michigan are currently tied for the top spot in the conference with 7-1 marks. Michigan State, Indiana, Ohio State, Purdue and Wisconsin are all tied for the third through seventh spots with 5-4 records.

Victims of the explosion were Chicago starter Gary Peters and reliever Eddie Fisher. Peters, now 3-2, was roughed for three homers and seven runs in three innings. Fisher gave up two homers and five runs in one frame.

Twins Hit Six Homers; Beat Chisox

ST. PAUL, MINN.—Slugging Minnesota shelled Chicago for 12 runs on five homers in the first four innings in a coasting to a 15-7 victory over the White Sox Thursday.

Harmon Killebrew, Don Mincher and Rich Rollins each belted a three-run homer, while Bob Allison hit a two-run shot and Zoilo Versalles a solo blow. Rollins also doubled in two runs.

Killebrew added another homer in the eighth, giving him six for the year. Allison's blast was his ninth, tying him with teammate Jimmie Hall and Kansas City's Rocky Colavito for the American League lead.

L.A. Sweeps Double-header From Chicago

CHICAGO—The Los Angeles Dodgers swept a double-header from the Chicago Cubs Thursday, capturing a 10-inning opener 6-4 on Frank Howard's two-run homer and winning the nightcap 5-0 behind Don Drysdale's four-hitter.

The Dodgers gave Drysdale a 3-0 lead in the first two innings of the second game without a hit, cashing in on four stolen bases and five walks off starter Fred Norman.

Howard's homer following Tommy Davis' single in the 10th gave the opening victory to relief ace Ron Perranoski, third Dodger pitcher. Starter Sandy Koufax left after the Cubs took a 4-0 lead in four innings.

Mets' 12 Runs In Win over Braves Highest of Season

NEW YORK—Dick Smith slammed three key doubles and the last-place New York Mets hit like champions Thursday as they routed the Milwaukee Braves 12-4.

The score was the Mets' highest of the season. Everyone except Jesse Gonder got at least one hit against four Milwaukee pitchers, starting with the redoubtable Warren Spahn. Smith and Ron Hunt made three each.

Smith's first double opened a three-run first inning for the Mets against Spahn. His second, in the fourth, set up a pair of runs that broke a 3-3 tie. And his third opened the sixth inning, when the Mets sent 10 men to the plate and scored six runs against relievers Phil Niekro and Jack Smith.

Bob Miller, replacing Koufax at the start of the fifth, allowed one hit in two innings. The only hits off Perranoski in four innings were 10th inning singles by pinch hitter Leo Burke and Billy Williams.

Seconds Before Preakness Deadline — Northern Dancer Enters Race

BALTIMORE — Kentucky Derby winner Northern Dancer just beat the deadline Thursday when six finely honed 3-year-old horses were entered for Saturday's 88th running of the Preakness at Pimlico.

The clock in the racing secretary's office showed only three minutes remained for the 9 a.m. (CDT) entry deadline when trainer Horatio Luro casually strolled into the room.

Racing Secretary Charles MacLennan twice reminded the senior that the deadline was near and finally, with only seconds remaining, Luro stepped into the booth and wrote the name of E. P. Taylor's Canadian-owned colt on the entry blank.

With the entry of Northern Dancer official, the small but classy field was complete.

There were no surprises among the other entries — Hill Rise, Derby runner-up from George A. Pope Jr.'s El Peco Ranch of California; Rex Ellsworth's California-owned The Scoundrel; Roman Brother from Louis E. Wolfson's Harbor View Farm of Florida; Quadrangle of Paul Mellon's Rokeby Stable; and Harriet N. Ball's Big Pete of Virginia. They'll join Northern Dancer for the 1 3/16-mile jaunt around the ancient race track on the Baltimore outskirts.

It cost each owner $1,000 to enter and they'll be asked for another $1,000 by 4 p.m. Saturday if they want to be in the gate for the start at 4:45 p.m. CDT.

If all do to the mark when starter Eddie Blind gives the word go, the gross value of this second leg of the Triple Crown will be $176,000. The winner gets $124,200, with $30,000 for second, $15,000 for third and $7,500 for fourth.

They will line up with Big Pete on the inside and Hill Rise on the outside. In between will be Roman Brother, Quadrangle, Northern Dancer and The Scoundrel.

Second Before Preakness Deadline — Northern Dancer Enters Race

INDIANAPOLIS — Parnelli Jones got back in business at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway Thursday and repeatedly turned laps at more than 154 miles an hour with a new engine.

His front-mounted Offenhauser blew up Wednesday but a new engine was installed overnight. It appeared it would make him a contender again for the pole position in the 500-mile race May 30.

JONES' NO. 1 starter and winner of last year's 500, had this year's second-best practice time of 156.223 m.p.h. with the original engine. Bobby Marshman set the one-lap practice record at 157.178 in a rear-engine Lotus-Ford Tuesday.

Chief Steward Harlan Fenger announced a registration system will be used again to determine the order of qualifying runs in Saturday's opening session of time trials.

THE REGISTRATIONS will begin a half-hour after the track closes Friday, probably about 6:30 p.m. CDT.

Before last year, getting in line for the qualifying runs was a catch-as-can proposition.

The pole, or No. 1 starting position, goes with the best speed on opening day of the 10-mile trials, regardless of speeds on three later qualifying days. Several of the 11 three car rows normally are filled on the first day. The winner has started back of the third row only twice since 1957.

Chief Steward Harlan Fenger announced a registration system will be used again to determine the order of qualifying runs in Saturday's opening session of time trials.

The quintet of runnersup, with 5-4 records, includes Michigan State, Ohio State, Indiana, Purdue and Wisconsin.

Indiana gets a shot at Minnesota at Bloomington, Ind., in today's round of four single games.

Due to a conference schedule variation, Michigan will entertain Michigan State in a Saturday twin bill and then the two will meet Monday at Michigan State in a single contest.

Today's single game slate also includes Illinois (0-9) at Northwestern (2-7); Iowa (3-6) at Ohio State; and Purdue at Wisconsin.

The annual I-Club picnic will be held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at City Park.

Heated accusations and promises were exchanged day night when a six-panel of state legislators, science professors and S dents discussed the issues of 1964 state elections in the Chamber of Old Capitol.

Sponsored by the SUI Young Republicans and Young Democrats, the meeting featured Davie, state representative for son County, and Mrs. M. Doderer, state representative for Johnson County.

MRS. DODERER opened the debate with a discussion of the state issues and elections. She agreed that reapportionment, legislative apportionment, vocational and higher education will be key issues.

He pressed the wish that the next reapportionment plan passed by the Iowa General Assembly be rewritten.

"The big problem facing us is how we are going to get up to the potential in Iowa," Harold Hughes' big bite, come tax boost proposed Democrats, will certainly develop this potential," State Republican candidate for senator.

THE FUTURE of higher education was also a point of discussion. Student panel member, Gekel, Li, Burlington, past president of the SUI Young Republic said, "I suggest Gov. stand on higher education be in the light of his record than by the speech he made the Governor's Day L Wednesday in the Union."

He recommended to the General Assembly a $13-million cut in State Board of Regents' budget for 1962.

Answering Kregel's statement, Mrs. Doderer said, "This is the Republicans always do look to the past. The De

Detroit Rallies To Defeat Yanks

DETROIT — The Detroit Tigers scored five runs after two outs in the seventh inning and defeated the New York Yankees 7-3 Thursday.

A bases-loaded wild pitch by relief pitcher Steve Hamilton scored the go-ahead run for the Tigers, then an infield single by Dick McAuliffe and a pinch-hit single by George Thomas brought in three more runs.

Don Wart's game-tying single had chased Yankee starter Jim Bouton, who had yielded 11 hits.

Norm Cash picked up three singles and McAuliffe batted in three runs to spearhead the Detroit attack.

The Yankees moved to a 3-2 lead in the sixth inning on a triple by Tom Tresh and a double by Joe Pepitone.

NICKLAUS TO CANADA—MONTREAL — Jack Nicklaus, golf's No. 1 money winner this year, has agreed to play in the Canadian Open here July 30-Aug. 2.

Phillies Edge Cards, 3-2

PHILADELPHIA — Richie Allen's seventh inning home run and clutch relief pitching by Ed Roebuck carried the Philadelphia Phillies to a 3-2 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals Thursday night.

The Phillies, defeating the Cardinals for the first time in five meetings this season, rallied to tie the game with a pair of runs in the sixth off loser Ernie Broglio, then scored the clincher on Allen's seventh homer of the season.

Broglio had allowed only two hits until Tony Taylor opened the sixth with a single. Allen's single, a forceout and Wes Covington's grounder scored one run before John Herrnstein drove home the other with a single.

Jim Bunning earned his fourth victory in five decisions but needed the big assist from Roebuck, who relieved in the eighth with two on, none out and a 3-1 count on pinch hitter Charley James. Roebuck struck out James and Ken Boyer was thrown out at third on the front end of an attempted double steal. Then Roebuck struck out Julian Javier to end the inning.

St. Louis had taken a 2-0 lead in the fifth when Curt Flood was hit by a pitch and Doug Clemens scored on Bill White's single.

Jean Beliveau Named NHL's Most Valuable
MONTREAL — Jean Beliveau, the Montreal Canadiens' big center, took the Hart Trophy as the National Hockey League's most valuable player Thursday despite a slump that left him far behind in the second half balloting.

In the voting of sports writers and broadcasters from the six NHL cities, Beliveau received 100 of a possible 180 points. He led in the first half with 82 points but received only 20 in the second half voting, trailing Montreal goalie Charlie Hodge, Gordie Howe of Detroit and Bobby Hull of Chicago.

State Election Issues Aired

By JUDI SKALSKY Staff Writer

Heated accusations and party promises were exchanged Wednesday night when a six-member panel of state legislators, political science professors and SUI students discussed the issues of the 1964 state elections in the Senate Chamber of Old Capitol.

Sponsored by the SUI Young Republicans and Young Democrats, the meeting featured David Stanley, state representative for Johnson County, and Mrs. Minnette Doderer, state representative for Johnson County.

MRS. DODERER and Stanley opened the debate with a discussion of the state issues in the 1964 elections. They agreed that taxes, reapportionment, legislative secrecy, and vocational and higher education will be key issues.

"The big problem facing Iowa," Stanley said, "is how we can live up to the potential in Iowa. And Harold Hughes' big bite, the income tax boost proposed by the Democrats, will certainly not help develop this potential."

THE FUTURE of higher education was also a point of conflict. Student panel member, Gene Kregel, L.I. Burlington, past president of the SUI Young Republicans, said, "I suggest Gov. Hughes' stand on higher education be examined in the light of his record rather than by the speech he made at the Governor's Day Luncheon Wednesday in the Union."

Answering Kregel's statement, Mrs. Doderer said, "This is what the Republicans always do—they look to the past. The Democrats look to the future. The Republicans have been in control for 100 years. Maybe it's time for the Democrats to solve the problems in this state."

John R. Schmidhauser, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress, was also optimistic about the Democratic party's future in Iowa.

"THERE is a real test for change in this state in 1964," he predicted. "Iowans have a tremendous opportunity to establish a workable two-party system. It's a question of wiping out the cobwebs and shaping the structure so that in the future, we will have a realistic choice between two parties."

Mrs. Doderer, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress, was also optimistic about the Democratic party's future in Iowa.

Answering Kregel's statement, Mrs. Doderer said, "This is what the Republicans always do—they look to the past. The Democrats

Democratic nomination for state representative, criticized Iowa's two-year governor's term. "The system we have in Iowa gives the governor no power except the power of the press," she said.

Russell H. Ross, associate professor of political science, added to the list of issues which would be important in the 1964 elections.

"Highways should get into the act," he said, "asphalt versus concrete."

HE ALSO LISTED issues connected with governmental reform—annual sessions of the legislature, a four-year term for elective officeholders, and a shortened ballot—as other points which should be considered.

ROTC Cadets Become Pilots

Three Air Force ROTC cadets completed final qualifying flights Thursday and received private pilot licenses.
The cadets, Heikki Joonsar, E4, Waterloo; Kirk Brimmer, A3, Marshalltown; and John G. Hull, A2, Des Moines, received flight training in the Air Force ROTC Flight Instruction Program.
The program is open to qualified pilot candidates and consists of one semester of ground school and two semesters of flight school. Each cadet puts in 30 1/2 hours of flying time under the supervision of the Iowa City Flying Service.
The program leads to a private pilot's license and an appointment to an Air Force Flight School upon graduation.

Watermelon Steal Is Larcenous Deal

Watermelon became too much of a temptation for three Hillcrest residents early Wednesday morning.
The students were arrested and charged with petty larceny in connection with the theft of four watermelons from the Hy-Vee Food Store, 227 Kirkwood Ave.
Police said John W. Versteeg, A2, Russell, Charles T. Scheithing, E3, Mediapolis, and Joseph C. Paulsen, A1, Montezuma, were arrested about 1:08 a.m. at the store.
The three were released on $25 bond each with a hearing in Police Court set for a later date.

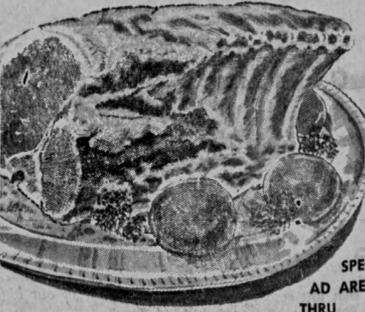

KEELER RENEGES

LONDON — Christine Keeler's former business manager, Robin Drury, appeared in bankruptcy court Thursday — broke and jobless.
He attributed his troubles to Miss Keeler's failure to pay $21,000 in commissions she owed him.
Miss Keeler, 21, who figured in the Profumo scandal, is serving a prison sentence for perjury.
