

Bowen Begins Work As Fourteenth President of SUI

The Work Begins

Howard R. Bowen, SUI's 14th president, moved into his new office in the Old Capitol Building Wednesday. Bowen follows Virgil M. Hancher, who retired Tuesday after serving 25 years as president of the University.

First Statement as President

Twenty-five years ago when President Hancher arrived at Iowa, I was a young assistant professor of economics. Shortly thereafter, at the beginning of the war, I left for service in Washington and did not return to the University until today.

These past 24 years have been amazingly progressive and productive. The University, the state of Iowa, and the educational world owe a great debt to Mr. Hancher. He has set a standard. I hope that I may be able to discharge my responsibilities as effectively and faithfully as he did.

I have a great deal to learn and not much time because the rate of educational change is accelerating.

The overwhelming fact about the future of the University is the coming growth of enrollment. We shall be adding a new Grinnell every year at Iowa. The overriding objective will be to use the opportunity afforded by growth to achieve new gains in the educational quality and stature of the University. Growth permits and requires the hiring of new faculty, the strengthening of programs, the construction of buildings, the expansion of services. It also threatens to introduce mass impersonality into education, to introduce an assembly-line mentality, to create physical deterioration and even slums. The problem is to use the opportunity of growth for qualitative improvement and to avoid the dangers inherent in growth.

I believe that we have the chance at the University of Iowa for great accomplishment in the coming years. The dangers can be avoided. The conditions that have been thrust upon us by the need to grow have presented us with unparalleled opportunities.

School Districts Officially Merged; May Be Reversed

Iowa City, Coralville, Penn Township and Sharon Township No. 1 school districts were officially merged Wednesday.

The merger with Coralville, however, could be reversed if an attempt now under way to have the election nullified is successful.

The decision to merge the four districts was made by the voters in each district during the past year. The merger increases the taxable valuation in the Iowa City school district by $7,604,380, bringing the total valuation to $46,015,239, according to 1963 figures.

The possibility of the Coralville merger being reversed hinges on the results of an appeal to the District Court by a group of Coralville residents. They claim ineligible voters cast ballots in the election and that voters were influenced by an announcement of the State Superintendent of Schools that Coralville might be denied state aid and accreditation if it tried to start its own high school.

The State Supreme Court has ruled since the election that the State Superintendent does not have the power to set standards and deny state aid.

Malcom X Offers Men To Help Demonstrators

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Malcolm X, leader of a new civil rights group he calls Afro-American Unity, declared his people "are ready to give the Ku Klux Klan a taste of its own medicine in Mississippi and St. Augustine, Fla."

At a news conference in Omaha, where he was born in 1925, Malcolm X said his organization has telegraphed the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. that it is ready to send help to St. Augustine if the federal government does not provide aid.

The day of "turning the other cheek to these brute beasts is over," he said. "We can send enough help to get results."

He declared he does not advocate "initiating violence. But only a few days ago President Johnson warned others that America would strike back if our interests were jeopardized. We feel the Negro should be prepared to defend his life and his property."

CORE Plans Convention Appearances

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — The Congress of Racial Equality will stage demonstrations at both national political conventions and will attempt to unseat the Mississippi delegation to the Democratic convention, the head of CORE said Wednesday.

James Farmer, national director of the civil rights organization, outlined CORE's summer program in advance of the group's 22nd annual national convention that opens here Thursday.

He said it will include: — Crash voter registration drives in Mississippi, Louisiana and northern Florida, and a stepping up of CORE community centers in Mississippi — especially at Medford, near where three civil rights workers disappeared recently.

— Rent strikes in Chicago and organization of unemployed work squads. These squads will clean up vacant lots and other civic nuisances, then present a bill for their work at City Hall in an effort to prove "there is work to be done and there are jobs for the unemployed."

— Demonstrations at the Bank of America, the world's largest bank, by the 21 CORE chapters in California. They will demand that 300 to 800 Negroes be hired. The bank employs 30,000 people, Farmer said.

— Paying half the expense of transporting 68 Mississippians — mostly Negroes — to the Democratic National convention in Atlantic City in August to challenge the seating of the delegation.

— Urging of "CORE delegates returning from this convention to go to places of public accommodation to see whether the law is being enforced," Farmer said.

Hospitals Held Ready For De Gaulle Visit

BONN, Germany (AP) — Bonn's hospitals will be kept at the ready during French President de Gaulle's visit in case he should need emergency medical care. There will be extraordinary security precautions.

De Gaulle recently underwent a prostate operation, and on his annual visit to West Germany he still has the police classification of "especially endangered person."

By MIRIAM TOMASEK Staff Writer

"I believe that we have the chance at the University of Iowa for great accomplishment in the coming years. . . . The need to grow has presented us with unparalleled opportunities," Howard R. Bowen, fourteenth president of SUI, said on his first day in office.

President Bowen arrived from Grinnell Wednesday to officially begin his duties. Mrs. Bowen accompanied him, and went to the president's mansion at 102 E. Church Street.

In a prepared statement, Bowen said: "THE PAST 24 YEARS have been amazingly progressive and productive. . . . The overwhelming fact about the future of the University is the coming growth of enrollment. We shall be adding a new Grinnell every year at Iowa. The overriding objective will be to use the opportunity afforded by growth to achieve new gains in the educational quality and stature of the University."

President and Mrs. Bowen arrived in Iowa City at 9 a.m. He went immediately to his office in Old Capitol, wearing a dark suit and striped tie for his first day. The keys to the president's office and to the President's Mansion were on the desk. He talked to ex-President Hancher on the phone, while Mrs. Bowen and Mrs. Hancher talked at the President's Mansion.

HIS FIRST official duty was to sign papers for the acceptance of a federal grant of $31,000. The grant was for the Cuban Refugee Teacher Program, an organization within the university which qualifies to teach in Iowa Cubans who already have college degrees. The Bureau of Health, Education and Welfare authorized the loan.

Bowen, tall and slim and having lively eyes and an easy smile, posed for pictures in his office and outside Old Capitol. He smiled and talked with students on their way to classes.

A few moments later Bowen expressed his views to newsmen on the role of a liberal arts college, his change from Grinnell to SUI, and his future as head of SUI. He saw liberal arts as the "discipline and foundation for other studies, and a center from which they generate."

HE SAID GRINNELL and SUI are different in size, complexity, and range of action. Grinnell provides a liberal arts education for undergraduates, while SUI has professional and graduate education. "A college or university, however," Bowen said, "is basically a unit of people working together for a specific objective." He said he had probably encountered on a smaller scale at Grinnell the same problems he would find here.

"My objectives here will be the same as at Grinnell," he continued. "The roles of the two schools are similar, and they are trying to do similar things."

Bowen said he felt no sense of newness in coming to Iowa City. The environment is an important part of a university, he said. He feels there is a close partnership between the city and the University.

HE WOULD TRY to help this relationship by being a good citizen, encouraging his colleagues to do the same, and encouraging consultation between the city and the University, he said. Residents of Iowa City should realize the importance of their role at SUI, he thinks.

He gave as an example of his experiences in recruiting faculty members. Applicants invariably ask about the town, its schools, and its opportunities.

"I feel at home in Iowa City," Bowen said. "I don't have a sense of embarking on something new. I am going on, with something new added."

When he was asked about raising Iowa's admission standards, Bowen said:

"IT IS IMPORTANT in our society that higher education be openly available for students with the ability and the desire. Not everyone can go to college, but openness should be maintained."

Bowen says he feels the attitudes and reactions of students should play an important part in determining University policy. The University exists for its students, he said; their experiences in school are an important part of their future lives.

He said the president of a large school has great limitations in imposing his personality on the institution.

"AS INSTITUTIONS become more complex, basic governing is done by groups of people. The president is a chairman of meetings, but can't stamp his personality on all phases of the operation."

"One of the major purposes of a college," according to Bowen, "is to teach students to teach themselves. One of my goals is to free students in all subjects so they can educate themselves."

President and Mrs. Bowen are living in Grinnell at present. They expect to move into the President's Mansion in August after repairs and redecoration are complete. Mrs. Bowen talked with an architect today about plans for redecoration.

The Daily Iowan

Serving the State University of Iowa and the People of Iowa City

Established in 1868

10 Cents Per Copy

Associated Press Leased Wire and Wirephoto

Thursday, July 2, 1964 — Iowa City, Iowa

Congolese Seek To Form New Gov't

Tshombe Consults Leaders To Establish Provisional Rule

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Moise Tshombe, who for more than two years fought to divide the Congo, began consultations Wednesday with Congolese political leaders in an effort to find a united government of "national reconciliation."

The former secessionist president of Katanga Province was chosen by President Joseph Kasavubu to consult and report back on the possibility of forming a provisional government embracing the Congo's widely differing political groups.

Back from self-exile in Spain less than a week, Tshombe went to work immediately. He first saw Victor Nendaka, security police chief. Nendaka is a member of the powerful Binza group, which has been setting Congolese policy for the past three years.

Other members of the Binza group are the former minister of justice, Justin Bomboko, and Gen. Joseph Mobutu, commander of the Congolese Army.

The Army, however untrained and undisciplined as it may be, represents the only real power in the Congo at present.

Therefore Mobutu's views on the provisional government to take over until parliamentary elections are held early next year are very important.

The government that will be formed after Tshombe's consultations will rule only until the elections determine where the real political power lies.

As yet there is no real national party in the Congo, most of the political groups drawing their backing from tribal loyalties.

Tshombe's designation does not necessarily mean he will be chosen premier, but political quarters believe his chances are increased by the assignment.

Kasavubu's selection of Tshombe followed a meeting Tuesday night of Bomboko, Nendaka and Mobutu and probably indicates a drift by the Binza group away from Cyrille Adoula. Adoula resigned as premier Tuesday after heading the government through most of its four years of independence.

Scottish Highlanders Entertain Scots

EDINBURGH, Scotland (AP) — The University of Iowa girls' Scottish Highlanders band entertained hundreds of applauding Scots with a show of music, dancing and singing Wednesday night at Princess Street Gardens.

In the first concert of their Scottish tour the 76 oboes, clad in red and green Stuart tartans, presented pipe band music, highland dancing and choral numbers.

Band director William Adamson and drum major Caroline Rabe thanked officials and residents of the Scottish capital for their hospitality and warm reception.

The band is moving on for a weekend concert at Dunfermline, and will then proceed to Elgin and Dunbar.

Warmer

Partly cloudy, not much change in temperature tonight. Highs in the 80s. Partly cloudy and continued warm Friday with chance of scattered afternoon or evening showers or thunderstorms.

Police Guard Lets Nikita Meet Crowds

BERGEN, Norway (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev had his liveliest day so far in Norway on Wednesday. Relaxed police surveillance on his tour of this scenic west coast city gave him a chance to mix with the people.

Both he and the public seemed to like it. Khrushchev made a special point of thanking Bergen's police chief, Erling Brinchmann, for the opportunity of meeting people without being "surrounded by policemen."

The liveliest moment came when Khrushchev got out of his car and started walking about Bergen's famed fish market — a square at the inner end of the harbor where the fishermen sell their fresh products directly to the public.

The public, reporters and photographers milled about him as he walked among the tanks where live fish are kept for sale. The throng became so large that a stall was turned over and a photographer fell into a pile of fish.

Bill Sets Meat Import Limits At 1959-63 Levels

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee approved Wednesday a bill to limit foreign imports of beef, lamb, mutton and related products into the United States to about the annual average imports of 1959-63.

It approved a proposal by Sen. Mike Mansfield, (D-Mont.), Senate Democratic leader, after adopting amendments by Sen. Carl T. Curtis, (R-Neb.), to specifically set out quarterly allowable average quotas in pounds.

Cattle producers of the nation have been urging action to limit foreign meat imports, contending they were seriously affecting domestic producers and industries.

They say that a recent voluntary agreement limiting imports of beef from Australia and New Zealand was not sufficient.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has opposed the proposed limitation by law suggested by Mansfield.

The Mansfield-Curtis proposal was attached as an amendment to a House bill passed about a year ago to provide for duty free importation of wild birds and animals for exhibit or sale.

The measure now goes to the senate for action.

As the bill finally was approved with the Curtis amendments it provides these quarterly allowable imports: — Fresh chilled or frozen cattle meat, 168,500,000 pounds; prepared and preserved beef and veal, 28,700,000 pounds; sausages other than pork, 550,000 pounds; fresh chilled or frozen goat or sheep meat other than lambs, 12,850,000 pounds and lamb, 3,200,000 pounds.

Lightning Kills 2 Boys Under Tree

ROSENDALE, N.Y. (AP) — A group of 11 boys broke off a swimming party and took shelter under a tree Wednesday during a sudden thundershower.

Moment later a bolt of lightning killed two of them.

Three other youngsters were injured as the lightning struck the tree about 25 feet above their heads.

Negroes, Whites Work To Ease Tensions in Florida

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP) — A group of St. Augustine's top businessmen met Wednesday and pledged anew to abide by the civil rights bill if it becomes law.

It was another conciliation move aimed at reducing tensions built up by a month of huge, often violent demonstrations by Negroes and whites.

"We want to do everything we can to get our community back to normal with harmonious relations between the races," said James Brock, whose Monson Motel was a main target of integrationists for weeks. "We had no other course."

Gov. Bryant pulled out many of the 230 special state police for the three week period, although he didn't give a figure.

The four-man biracial committee started working behind the scenes. It will continue negotiations until a permanent committee is appointed by a county grand jury.

King told a news conference that after the civil rights bill is signed into law businessmen will be urged to comply. If they do not, then tests will be made and lawsuits begun, King said.

"We're not capitulating to anybody," said Brock, whose Monson Motel was a main target of integrationists for weeks. "We had no other course."

Gov. Bryant pulled out many of the 230 special state police for the three week period, although he didn't give a figure.

The four-man biracial committee started working behind the scenes. It will continue negotiations until a permanent committee is appointed by a county grand jury.

PHILADELPHIA, Miss. (AP) — The broadening hue for three missing civil rights workers centered in neighboring Newton County on Wednesday with officials still mystified as to what happened to the trio 10 days ago.

A force of 400 sailors, led by a dozen officers, pushed through dense, overgrown marshes and three helicopters checked clearings.

Dragging operations in this Neeshoba County area — where the trio vanished June 21 — were suspended. FBI and state agents resumed a door-to-door quest for information.

Search leaders were baffled at the lack of clues to the disappearance of Michael Schwerner, 24, Andrew Goodman, 20, white New Yorkers, and James Chaney, 22, a Negro from nearby Meridian.

They were last seen when they posted a $20 bond here for speeding. They left town headed on Rt. 19 toward Meridian. Their chartered station wagon was found two days later at the edge of a swamp north of here.

The network presented the brief announcement in a news bulletin which said: "Sources close to General Eisenhower have told NBC News that the former president has agreed to nominate Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton for president at the Republican convention in San Francisco."

Later, however, John Eisenhower denied a report Wednesday night that his father, former President Dwight Eisenhower, had agreed to nominate Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton at the Republican National Convention in California this month.

The network presented the brief announcement in a news bulletin which said: "Sources close to General Eisenhower have told NBC News that the former president has agreed to nominate Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton for president at the Republican convention in San Francisco."

Delegates Not Pencils In a Box, Says Lodge

WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry Cabot Lodge said Wednesday he will continue combatting "cockeyed" doctrine to the end of the final Republican National Convention roll call in his campaign on behalf of Gov. William W. Scranton.

And he said, without being specific, and "I don't doubt for a second that a lot of things could be put together" to keep the GOP Presidential nomination from Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

Never once did Lodge link the word "cockeyed" or any other critical adjective directly to Goldwater, who is far out in front of Pennsylvania's Gov. Scranton in delegate strength for the GOP Presidential nomination.

Lodge told the National Press Club he resigned as U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam and came home when advised that his presence could make a difference in the effort to nominate Scranton. The time has not come for him to criticize any Republican, he said, "I may get to it but I haven't yet."

A WRITTEN question, handed up from the floor from a source unidentified, asked Lodge his opinion on the thesis that it would be a good idea for the Republican party to "nominate a Neanderthal-like Goldwater, to get the extreme right-wing virus out of its system."

"Well," Lodge replied, "in some relaxed moments I sort of think along that line."

But he quickly overcomes feelings, he continued, "because both parties ought really to act like they are going to win, and put up the very best men they have."

Lodge, while saying that Goldwater had "a rather good day yesterday," added that, "Scranton's strategy is to keep on going and he's got an excellent chance to win."

LODGE REFERRED to strategic gains by Goldwater in Illinois, New Jersey, Delaware. The senator now is listed in an AP survey with more than enough delegates to nominate — providing they continue to support him.

The latter proviso was stressed by Lodge. "Delegates are not like pencils in a box," he said. "Anybody who says, 'I think I've got this delegate; he's bought and paid and committed' is just deluding himself."

DELEGATES, he said, are human beings open to the force of argument.

A questioner reminded him that Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, Republican Senate leader, not only came out Tuesday for Goldwater but has agreed to make the nominating speech for him.

Amid laughter, Lodge replied: "I remember Sen. Dirksen made the speech for Sen. Taft in the 1952 convention. I think you'll all agree that was a very interesting speech."

Taft lost the nomination to Dwight D. Eisenhower, among whose principal backers was Lodge.

The word cockeyed got into the question-and-answer session when the subject of me-too-ism came up.

LODGE'S CONTENTION was this: Republicans should use the brains God gave us, develop position programs of their own, criticize the Democrats when they are wrong, agree with them when they are right.

"It is cockeyed," he said, "to contend that anybody who refrains from criticizing Democrats when they are right is guilty of me-too-ism."

Lodge earlier devoted his formal speech to an exposition of the situation in South Viet Nam. He said that if the United States and South Viet Nam persist in carrying out realistic policies "we will win."

Ex-Envoy Will Oppose 'Cockeyed' Doctrine to End

WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry Cabot Lodge said Wednesday he will continue combatting "cockeyed" doctrine to the end of the final Republican National Convention roll call in his campaign on behalf of Gov. William W. Scranton.

And he said, without being specific, and "I don't doubt for a second that a lot of things could be put together" to keep the GOP Presidential nomination from Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

Never once did Lodge link the word "cockeyed" or any other critical adjective directly to Goldwater, who is far out in front of Pennsylvania's Gov. Scranton in delegate strength for the GOP Presidential nomination.

Lodge told the National Press Club he resigned as U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam and came home when advised that his presence could make a difference in the effort to nominate Scranton. The time has not come for him to criticize any Republican, he said, "I may get to it but I haven't yet."

A WRITTEN question, handed up from the floor from a source unidentified, asked Lodge his opinion on the thesis that it would be a good idea for the Republican party to "nominate a Neanderthal-like Goldwater, to get the extreme right-wing virus out of its system."

"Well," Lodge replied, "in some relaxed moments I sort of think along that line."

But he quickly overcomes feelings, he continued, "because both parties ought really to act like they are going to win, and put up the very best men they have."

Lodge, while saying that Goldwater had "a rather good day yesterday," added that, "Scranton's strategy is to keep on going and he's got an excellent chance to win."

LODGE REFERRED to strategic gains by Goldwater in Illinois, New Jersey, Delaware. The senator now is listed in an AP survey with more than enough delegates to nominate — providing they continue to support him.

The latter proviso was stressed by Lodge. "Delegates are not like pencils in a box," he said. "Anybody who says, 'I think I've got this delegate; he's bought and paid and committed' is just deluding himself."

DELEGATES, he said, are human beings open to the force of argument.

A questioner reminded him that Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, Republican Senate leader, not only came out Tuesday for Goldwater but has agreed to make the nominating speech for him.

Amid laughter, Lodge replied: "I remember Sen. Dirksen made the speech for Sen. Taft in the 1952 convention. I think you'll all agree that was a very interesting speech."

Taft lost the nomination to Dwight D. Eisenhower, among whose principal backers was Lodge.

The word cockeyed got into the question-and-answer session when the subject of me-too-ism came up.

LODGE'S CONTENTION was this: Republicans should use the brains God gave us, develop position programs of their own, criticize the Democrats when they are wrong, agree with them when they are right.

"It is cockeyed," he said, "to contend that anybody who refrains from criticizing Democrats when they are right is guilty of me-too-ism."

Lodge earlier devoted his formal speech to an exposition of the situation in South Viet Nam. He said that if the United States and South Viet Nam persist in carrying out realistic policies "we will win."

Negroes, Whites Work To Ease Tensions in Florida

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP) — A group of St. Augustine's top businessmen met Wednesday and pledged anew to abide by the civil rights bill if it becomes law.

It was another conciliation move aimed at reducing tensions built up by a month of huge, often violent demonstrations by Negroes and whites.

"We want to do everything we can to get our community back to normal with harmonious relations between the races," said James Brock, whose Monson Motel was a main target of integrationists for weeks. "We had no other course."

Gov. Bryant pulled out many of the 230 special state police for the three week period, although he didn't give a figure.

The four-man biracial committee started working behind the scenes. It will continue negotiations until a permanent committee is appointed by a county grand jury.

King told a news conference that after the civil rights bill is signed into law businessmen will be urged to comply. If they do not, then tests will be made and lawsuits begun, King said.

"We're not capitulating to anybody," said Brock, whose Monson Motel was a main target of integrationists for weeks. "We had no other course."

Gov. Bryant pulled out many of the 230 special state police for the three week period, although he didn't give a figure.

The four-man biracial committee started working behind the scenes. It will continue negotiations until a permanent committee is appointed by a county grand jury.

PHILADELPHIA, Miss. (AP) — The broadening hue for three missing civil rights workers centered in neighboring Newton County on Wednesday with officials still mystified as to what happened to the trio 10 days ago.

A force of 400 sailors, led by a dozen officers, pushed through dense, overgrown marshes and three helicopters checked clearings.

Dragging operations in this Neeshoba County area — where the trio vanished June 21 — were suspended. FBI and state agents resumed a door-to-door quest for information.

Search leaders were baffled at the lack of clues to the disappearance of Michael Schwerner, 24, Andrew Goodman, 20, white New Yorkers, and James Chaney, 22, a Negro from nearby Meridian.

They were last seen when they posted a $20 bond here for speeding. They left town headed on Rt. 19 toward Meridian. Their chartered station wagon was found two days later at the edge of a swamp north of here.

The network presented the brief announcement in a news bulletin which said: "Sources close to General Eisenhower have told NBC News that the former president has agreed to nominate Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton for president at the Republican convention in San Francisco."

Later, however, John Eisenhower denied a report Wednesday night that his father, former President Dwight Eisenhower, had agreed to nominate Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton at the Republican National Convention in California this month.

The network presented the brief announcement in a news bulletin which said: "Sources close to General Eisenhower have told NBC News that the former president has agreed to nominate Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton for president at the Republican convention in San Francisco."

City Men Plead Guilty; Sentenced to 10 Years
Two Iowa City men were sentenced to 10 years in the Fort Madison State Penitentiary Tuesday after pleading guilty to a breaking and entering charge. The two men, David E. Ammerman, 21, Route 3, and Keith V. Feigenhauer, 30, of 323 S. Dubuque St., were sentenced in Johnson County District Court.

CHILD CARE
WILL baby sit. My home. Experienced and references. 338-1807. 5-11
LOST & FOUND
LOST — Charcoal black, long hair male cat. 338-7347. 7-8
WANTED
WANTED: Ironings. 338-9200 or 338-6267. 7-2
SPORTING GOODS
CANOE! Enjoy outstanding Old Town's or Grinnell's. Select from stock here. Headquarters for canoe. See us. Expert canoe service. Free color catalogue. Carlson, 1924 Albia Road, Ottumwa, Iowa. 7-14

MISC. FOR SALE
KIDNAP PACKS. Carry baby on your back. Doubles as car seat. 337-5349 after 5:00 p.m. 7-19
GAS RANGE. $30.00. Table, other household items. 338-3823. 7-7
1959 ZUNDAPP 250cc Motorcycle

Buchwald says—

'Clean movies' are the real threat

By ART BUCHWALD

The Supreme Court is having a terrible time defining obscenity. Everyone is agreed they're against it, but no one really knows what it is. In reversing a conviction on the French film "The Lovers" six opinions were filed on the case with six judges all expressing their own views on the subject.

The irony of it all is that since "The Lovers" was first shown in the United States several years ago, there have been far wilder pictures shown in America without any complaints at all.

Many people are worried about obscenity, but we're worried about something which we consider far more dangerous to America — and that is the flood of clean movies that are now being released on the market.

No matter where you look these days there is a clean movie playing in some theater in your neighborhood. Of course these movies are advertised as dirty movies and you wouldn't know from the posters outside that they are clean, but once you get inside you find yourself treated to the worst kind of wholesomeness imaginable.

Scene after scene is devoted to children and pets and sports and tranquility — all aimed not to advance the plot, but only inserted for its shock value.

The makers of these pictures led by the most notorious clean producer of them all, Walt Disney, defend these films as works of art. But then they add "We wouldn't make them if the public didn't want to see them."

One director said "If other companies would stop making clean movies, so would I. But this is a very competitive business."

Another director said he was forced into the clean pictures by the foreign films. "I tried to make obscene films but I lost my shirt, so I decided to go for the clean movie. My feeling is that if people don't want to see this type of movie they don't have to."

"But aren't you concerned about the effect clean movies will have on our young?"

"Kids know more about wholesomeness than we do," he said defensively. "We don't aim these pictures at kids, but we can't stop them from seeing them."

Attempts to set up some kind of code to eliminate wholesome scenes from films have failed.

A spokesman for the industry said, "The problem is no one can seem to agree on a national standard for cleanliness. Until the Supreme Court decides this question the motion picture industry can do nothing to stop the sudden rash of unsullied productions now being produced in Hollywood."

An American civil liberties lawyer told us "Trying to eliminate clean movies would be an abridgement of the first amendment. If we are going to put up with dirty pictures then we'll have to put up with clean ones as well."

Until the experts can decide what constitutes a really wholesome movie it will be up to each individual to decide for himself whether he wants his family to see a clean movie or not.

Do not be misled by the advertising. Many films which promise obscenity are really wholesome films. The best way to eliminate this type of picture is to protest to the local manager, and tell him if he ever shows a clean film again you're going to take your family business somewhere else.

(c) Newspaper Syndicate

Our new president, some old challenges

THE PRESIDENCY OF A MAJOR UNIVERSITY, such as SUI, is a complex undertaking, particularly when a university is growing such as this one.

Dr. Howard R. Bowen began his term of office yesterday as President of SUI, not unfamiliar with one of the major problems of a growing university.

President Bowen, in various speeches and his term as President of Grinnell College, has stated his concern about maintaining human values and interest in the individual characteristics of students of higher education.

Increasing enrollment and consequently larger classes, the perhaps economical trend toward large units of student housing and the necessary but impersonal computer treatment of students will intensify this situation on this campus.

The complaint by students that they are "just a number" is usually made humorously, but there is a very serious situation underlying the humor.

It is all too easy for a student to become lost in the crowd unless some meaningful association is available. The sense of being lost hinders greatly the acquisition of education, and is thus one of the University's main responsibilities.

As President Bowen has noted, the answer does not lie in a "babysitting" service. Coke parties in the dorms, open houses, mixers where 200 men are to meet 300 women are superficial attempts at solving the problem.

President Bowen has shown his concern in the problem and this in itself is a step toward the solution.

There are, of course, other problems on this campus that will be increasingly acute in the future. Maintaining the quality of education in the face of increasing quantity, establishing housing, both on and off campus, that will meet student needs and many others will make demands of our new president.

In whatever way President Bowen feels possible, The Daily Iowan is anxious to do what it can to aid him in creating the awareness of and solution for these problems:

— Linda Weiner

County GOP groups and Hickenlooper

THE FAILURE OF IOWA'S Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper to join a large majority of fellow senators in voting for the civil rights bill became a problem for the Polk County Republican convention.

A motion to commend members of the Iowa delegation in Congress who voted for the bill was defeated, 79-78. Two prominent Negro leaders walked out on the convention, but not on the party.

The same question came up before the Cerro Gordo County convention — but the position taken was quite different.

The Cerro Gordo Republicans rejected by a 3-to-1 margin a motion that would have commended Hickenlooper for voting against the bill "as an honest and sincere" piece of reasoning.

Instead, the convention cited the "high plateau of civil rights legislation in Iowa," through recognizing more needs to be done. It asked for an extension of the "ideals of justice and equality of opportunity."

A Negro delegate to the convention said it shows "there is a little bit of heaven in this part of Iowa."

The Polk County position was not entirely negative as it did adopt a resolution asking establishment of a state human rights commission.

Loyalty to Hickenlooper's overall record undoubtedly played a part in the decision.

The Cerro Gordo resolution still represents right thinking. It re-states a principle that was included in the 1960 Republican national platform and must be included in the 1964 statement.

— Mason City Globe-Gazette

The Daily Iowan

The Daily Iowan is written and edited by students and is governed by a board of five student trustees elected by the student body and four trustees appointed by the president of the University. The Daily Iowan's editorial policy is not an expression of SUI administration policy or opinion, in any particular.

MEMBER AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

Published by Student Publications, Inc., Communications Center, Iowa City, Iowa, daily except Sunday and Monday, and legal holidays. Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Iowa City under the Act of Congress of March 2, 1879.

Dial 74191 from noon to midnight to report news items, women's page items and announcements to The Daily Iowan. Editorial offices are in the Communications Center.

Subscription Rates: By carrier in Iowa City, $10 per year in advance; six months, $5.50; three months, $3.50. By mail in Iowa, $9 per year; six months, $5.50; three months, $3.50. Other mail subscriptions, $10 per year; six months, $5.50; three months, $3.50.

The Associated Press is entitled exclusively to the use for republication of all local news printed in this newspaper as well as all AP news and dispatches.

Advertisers: Editorial, Prof. Arthur M. Anderson; Advertising, Prof. F. John...

Publisher: Edward P. Bassett
City Editor: Fred McCormack
Managing Editor: John Lawrence
News Editor: John Roberts
Sports Editor: Joe Gehring
Feature Editor: Doreen Hyde
Photographers: Biswanath Shaw, John Anderson, Herbert Tatro, Susan Ariz, Asst. Feature Editor Marilyn Holmes
Advertising Director: Irv Grossman
Advertising Manager: Allyn Neubauer
Class' Adv. Mgr.: Alan Kotov
Natl. Adv. Mgr.: David Kitzes
Adv. Consultants: Cathy Fischgrund
Adv. Photographer: Jim Kallmer
Circulation Mgr.: Jim Collier

Trustees: Nancy G. Shinn, 44; Marjorie B. Truett, 43; Lee S. Thomsen, 41; Alan J. Touch, 44; Larry D. Travis, 43; Prof. Dale M. Bentz, 42; Prof. Dale M. Bentz, 42; Prof. Leslie G. Moeller, School of Journalism; Prof. Lauren A. Van Dyke, College of Education.

Dial 74191 if you do not receive your Daily Iowan by 7:30 a.m. The Daily Iowan circulation office in the Communications Center is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 9 to 10 a.m. Saturday. Make good service on missed papers. It is not possible to return a paper to the printer to correct errors in the next issue.

BUCHWALD

"Hell, I thought he said DeSTALINization!"

Unique asset— Lodge influential as Ike's favorite

By DORIS FLEESON

WASHINGTON — Henry Cabot Lodge returned home from his South Viet Nam diplomatic assignment to a reception by press and public which is rarely accorded to any but prospering candidates for the Presidency. This Lodge is not. He supports Gov. William Scranton and hastened to say he could not draft himself to the White House.

The unique value of Lodge in the present struggle for the identity of the Republican party is that he is the supreme favorite of the only President who has elected in 30 years, General Eisenhower. The general has so far chosen not to take a positive part in the crisis over the Republican future.

NOBODY REALLY knows whether he simply does not believe it exists or pretends to ignore it. His intervention, however, could be decisive — as the conservative forces of Sen. Barry Goldwater and the progressive internationalists being rallied by Scranton alike acknowledge.

Lodge will shortly see his old chief. It remains to be seen how persuasive are the 1964 versions of the 1952 arguments with which Lodge persuaded the general to leave NATO and run for President because the leading Republican contender at the time, the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, was an isolationist.

AMONG THE LODGE assets are the experience and knowledge he gained as Eisenhower's 1952 campaign manager. The returned ambassador admitted he expected to make a great many telephone calls to politicians in the two weeks before the convention opens in San Francisco.

A professional politician to his well-manicured fingertips, Lodge has, besides his powers of persuasion, a certain power of irritation over politicians less self-confident and less sophisticated. He speaks so well, so crisply, the language of his trade, they are often made to feel that only a damn fool would dispute him.

SENATOR GOLDWATER, impulsive and sensitive, has of late been put under wraps by his managers who say he has it made and should occupy himself with family joys and relaxation. He has been docile, but the Lodge harpoons are not calculated to entertain him.

Within minutes of his return...

whole world knows we have the atomic bomb and therefore need a President who is prudent, not impulsive; a President able to think and to endure. Goldwater has mentioned defoliation of the trees in the South Vietnamese war. Lodge said this was like lighting a cigarette with the atomic bomb.

ONE OF THE revelations of the Presidential primaries was that Lodge had made a most favorable and enduring impression on Americans during the eight years he spent as American Ambassador to the United Nations during the Eisenhower regime.

He seems to feel now that his appeal should be directed primarily to the backstage powers in the party who did so much for Eisenhower and have so strangely failed to back anyone in the fight on Goldwater conservatism. These men never made a choice of their own and signally failed to help Gov. Nelson Rockefeller when he fought alone for their supposed views.

HAPPY IN THEIR prosperity, some of them are drifting to President Johnson. It is late to re-educate them to the virtues of the two-party system but Lodge at least knows them and can talk to them.

Our Federal system is based on a division of responsibility and power among Federal, state and local governments. Whenever state and local governments do not or cannot function effectively and flexibly to meet changing needs, governmental activity and power tends to flow toward the Federal level. As a result of concern about the increasing concentration of power in the Federal government, the Federal Ad-

Education has produced a vast population able to read but unable to distinguish what is worth reading. — George Trevelyan

Rigorous law is often rigorous injustice. — Terence

The world of justice is simply, in the majority of men, the fear of suffering injustice. — de la Rochefoucauld

The world is a comedy to those who think, a tragedy to those who feel. — Horace Walpole

No race can prosper till it learns that there is as much dignity in tilling a field as in writing a poem. — Booker T. Washington

Nothing is so firmly believed as what we least know. — Montaigne

Sharp separation of rural, urban areas increasingly fading: Bowen

(Editor's note: This article by Dr. Howard R. Bowen, new President of the University, was reprinted in Iowa Municipalities, from an address that President Bowen made before the Iowa Governor's Commission on State and Local Government, April 30. This is the first installment; others will follow in subsequent issues.)

I feel so strongly about the importance of local government to the welfare of people and the economic and social development of the state, that I think timid and small thinking in this area would be a disservice. In Iowa where we are as yet relatively free from the nagging problems of urban sprawl, congestion, crime, air pollution, etc., we have an opportunity, through improved local government, to contribute to the satisfactions of life in this great and beautiful state.

I AM EXTREMELY pleased that Governor Hughes has formed the Commission on State and Local Government. In Iowa, as in most other states, we urgently need improvement and modernization of government in our cities, towns, school districts, counties and other local subdivisions. And the state has an important role in this task — a positive role of providing leadership and assistance and a negative role of removing unnecessary restrictions.

These services of local government are also crucial in determining the economic development and growth of an area because they affect so directly the efficiency of the people and the attractiveness of the environment.

LOCAL governments should and can be the most democratic level of government. Its constituent citizens are close enough to it to understand it and to express their views and preferences as to how it should be conducted.

Local government permits diversity to meet the special problems and preferences of different groups and different areas. Because of this diversity, local government is a source of experimentation and of new ideas in our Federal system.

Our Federal system is based on a division of responsibility and power among Federal, state and local governments. Whenever state and local governments do not or cannot function effectively and flexibly to meet changing needs, governmental activity and power tends to flow toward the Federal level. As a result of concern about the increasing concentration of power in the Federal government, the Federal Ad-

Economically, the distinction between urban and rural life has been steadily fading for years. Increasing numbers of city people — i.e. people who work in the city and are urban in their outlook — are living on the land in the country.

SIMILARLY, increasing numbers of rural people are working, part time or full time, in the city. Similarly, an increasing amount of farm production or farm business occurs in the city.

Examples are the processing of seeds; the grinding and mixing of feeds; the sale and servicing of farm machinery and motor ve-

President Bowen

visory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations was created in 1959.

THE COMMISSION has a small appropriation and a capable staff. It conducts studies, formulates recommendations, and carries on educational work intended to assist in meeting problems involving relationships of the three levels of government.

The members of this Commission are drawn from all levels of government. They include three Senators, three Congressmen, three Cabinet members, three governors, three state legislators, three mayors, three county officials and three public members (of whom I happen to be one.)

IN IOWA, local government has been organized historically in a way that has sharply separated city from country. The municipality has been an urban unit, the county a rural unit and the school district has been either an urban or rural unit.

This separation between the urban and the rural has, of course, broken down in the case of the school districts. The modern consolidated school district typically represents a combination of city and country.

I WOULD ARGUE that the traditional separation of city and country, applicable to most of our local government, no longer conforms either to economic or to social reality.

The consolidation movement which has been so constructive with reference to schools should, I think, be extended to many other services of local government. I am pleased that notable beginnings have been made in Iowa toward breaking down the sharp separation of city and country.

Economically, the distinction between urban and rural life has been steadily fading for years. Increasing numbers of city people — i.e. people who work in the city and are urban in their outlook — are living on the land in the country.

SIMILARLY, increasing numbers of rural people are working, part time or full time, in the city. Similarly, an increasing amount of farm production or farm business occurs in the city.

Examples are the processing of seeds; the grinding and mixing of feeds; the sale and servicing of farm machinery and motor vehicles; the manufacture and sale of fertilizers, agricultural chemicals, and petroleum products; consultation with county agents; the sale and processing of agricultural products; banking, etc. The farmer himself is becoming increasingly a business man and capitalist whose activities are similar to those of a merchant or small manufacturer in the city.

SOCIALLY, the farm family is also becoming part of the city. The farm home is indistinguishable from the city home in the amenities such as running water, electricity, gas telephone, radio or TV, books, magazines and newspapers.

Also the way of life of the farm family is becoming increasingly urbanized. The farm family goes to church in town, the children attend city schools, the wife belongs to the woman's club, the family uses the city park, the city swimming pool and the city library, and the farmer and his wife may even be college graduates.

THE FAMILY even dresses in urban style so that it is difficult visually to distinguish farm families from city families. The physical distance from the farm to the city, in elapsed travel time, may be less than that from the suburban home to the city center. And the social distance is becoming infinitesimal.

Because rural and urban areas are becoming so rapidly integrated both economically and socially, the traditional sharp separation between urban local government (represented by the municipality) and rural local government (represented by the county) is becoming outmoded.

The effective local community, in which there is a commingling of interest, is becoming a combined rural and urban area. This is true of both large cities and small towns. In the reorganization of local government, therefore, a consolidation of urban and rural areas, along the line of school district consolidation, or at least cooperation between them is becoming both logical and necessary.

FOLLOWING UP THIS idea, I have tried to classify the services of local government into three groups: 1) those which are of mutual benefit to adjacent city and country people, 2) those which are primarily of urban benefit, and 3) those which are primarily of rural benefit.

My classification is as follows:

1) of mutual benefit — police protection, fire protection, parks and recreation, roads and streets, education, libraries, social welfare, water pollution, flood control, drainage and zoning.

2) benefit primarily to city people — air pollution, water supply, housing and urban renewal (although there are rural slums), urban transportation and refuse collection and disposal.

3) of benefit primarily to country people — weed control. I am sure that many would classify some of their items differently, yet there would be agreement, I think, that the items of mutual interest are predominant both in amount of expenditure and in social importance.

ANOTHER IMPORTANT consideration in determining the organization of local government is to establish units of sufficient size for efficiency. By efficiency, I refer not only to minimizing the money cost of a given level of services but also to achieving a high quality of service and a high level of citizen interest.

To achieve low money cost and a high level of service in a given local area, it is necessary to have a sufficient volume of local government business to use expensive equipment and trained specialists intensively and to be able to pay salaries necessary to attract qualified employees. It is generally conceded that many of our local units are too small to achieve these objectives. As a result, quality of service, if not money cost, is unsatisfactory.

To achieve citizen interest in local government, it is necessary that the units be large enough to be important and worthy of attention, but not so large as to seem remote or hopelessly complex.

In my judgement, it is not necessary for a local unit to achieve great size to be efficient. When the number of people being served is in the range of, say 10,000 to 25,000, a very efficient operation in terms of money cost and quality of service can be achieved and at the same time citizen interest can be high.

Size increases beyond that range of 10,000 to 25,000, it is not evident that great additional economies are possible or that citizen interest increases. This conclusion is based on a purely intuitive judgment, and I offer it only as an hypothesis that might be tested, not as a validly supported conclusion.

MEMBERS OF THE London Orchestra

It was joined by the 800 residents of this Maine coastal town, who knew him as "Pierre," as the community's honorary fire chief, and as a man who had adopted Hancock as his home with zest and affection.

Monteux, 89, was still permanent conductor of the London Symphony Orchestra when he died in his sleep at 2 a.m.

His sister, Mrs. David Michlin, said Monteux suffered a concussion in a fall in London several months ago. She said he returned to Hancock to recuperate, but suffered several brain hemorrhages.

MEMBERS OF THE London Orchestra

Roses G At Presi

When Mrs. Howard R. Bowen arrived at the presidential mansion in Iowa City Wednesday, she found a dozen long-stemmed yellow roses on a table in the front hall. They were from the Hanchers, "with best wishes."

In this way, Mrs. Bowen began her first day as SUI's first lady — a day filled with plans for the future.

Shortly after her arrival, Mrs. Bowen conferred with an architect about redecoration of the downstairs of the house. Her plans are not complete, but they include re-painting and replastering some of the rooms in the main part of the house.

"We have even thought of getting a canoe," Mrs. Bowen said. "Canoeing was our favorite sport when we were students here. We will bring our bikes for sure. I find that I spend much of my time at a desk, and so does Mr. Bowen. We enjoy exercise as a form of relaxation."

THE WHOLE FAMILY enjoys sports, according to Mrs. Bowen. Jeff, 24, the Bowen's oldest son, is in the real estate business in Denver. Tom, 22, a graduate student in anthropology at the Univer-

MEMBERS OF THE London Orchestra

University Bulletin Board

University Bulletin Board notices must be received at The Daily Iowan office, Room 201 Communications Center, by noon of the day before publication. They must be typed and signed by an advisor or officer of the organization being publicized. Purely social functions are not eligible for this section.

SPECIAL LIBRARY HOURS: Friday, July 3, 7:30 a.m. to midnight, no desk service; Saturday, July 4, CLOSED; Sunday, July 5, 1:30 p.m. to midnight, desk service 2 p.m. to 5 p.m., reference desk closed.

PH.D. GERMAN: The special Ph.D. German examination will be given on Thursday, July 9, from 1:00-4:00 p.m. in Room 105 Schaeffer Hall. This exam is for those students who have made prior arrangements to prepare the work privately. Bring books and articles to the exam. All those students planning to take the exam must register prior to 9 July, Room 105 Schaeffer Hall.

VETERANS: Each student under PLS50 or PLS44 must sign a form to cover his attendance June 10 to 30. The form will be available at room 201, University Hall on and after July 1.

TO CANDIDATES FOR DEGREES IN AUGUST: Orders for official graduation announcements of the August 1964 Commencement are now being taken. Place your order before noon 12:30 A.M. Tuesday, July 7, at the Alumni House, 130 S. Madison St., across from the Union. Price per announcement is 15 cents, payable when ordered. — Alumni Office

MAIN LIBRARY, SUMMER HOURS: June 10-August 4 — Monday-Friday, 7:30 a.m.-midnight; Saturday, 7:30 a.m.-5 p.m.; Sunday, 1:30 p.m.-midnight; Desk Hours: Monday-Thursday, 8 a.m.-10 p.m. (Reference and Reserve closed 5 to 6 p.m.); Friday and Saturday, 8 a.m.-5 p.m.

PARENTS COOPERATIVE BABY-SITTING LEAGUE: Those interested in membership, or desiring sitters call Mrs. Irl Carter at 848-50.

THE DEPARTMENTS of Music and Drama in conjunction with the Fine Arts Festival present La Boheme, an opera in four acts, complete with full orchestra, scenery, and costumes, July 28, 29, 31, 1964. All tickets are $5.00 and ticket sales start July 23 through

OFFICIAL DAILY BULLETIN

University Calendar

Thursday, July 2
Quadrifennial lecture — Robert Kingdon, SUI professor of history, "Religion and Subversion in Elizabethan England," Shambaugh Auditorium, 8 p.m.
Friday, July 3
University Holiday — offices closed.
Tuesday, July 7
Lecture — Dr. Peter Comanduras, "Doctors of Humanity," Macbride Auditorium, 8 p.m.
Wednesday, July 8
Faculty Chamber Music Ensemble, Main Lounge of Union, 8 p.m.
Thursday, July 9
Quadrifennial lecture — Rosalie Colie, SUI professor of English and history, "Marlowe and Bacon: Dream and Nightmare of Learning," Shambaugh Auditorium, 8 p.m.
Through July 28
"The Portrait and the President" — Terrace Lounge — Union.
Through July 28
"Drawings and the Figure, 1400-1964" — Ari Building.

REDD

CITY CLUB WEATHER BIRD

University Bulletin Board

Baltimore Increases Lead with 4-2 Victory

McKinley Upset at Wimbledon, Two Aussies Meet in Final

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Defending champion Chuck McKinley of San Antonio, Tex., America's last hope, was knocked out of the Wimbledon tennis tournament Wednesday by Fred Stolle, turning Friday's men's singles final into an all-Australian affair.

The 25-year-old Stolle, beaten in the final last year by McKinley, upset the second-seeded American 4-6, 10-8, 9-7, 6-4 in a grueling 2½-hour match. Top-seeded Roy Emerson of Australia defeated unseeded Wilhelm Bungert of Germany 6-3, 15-13, 6-0 in the other semifinal.

Both Emerson and Stolle are Aussie rebels. They're both here on their own and are not sponsored by the Australian Lawn Tennis Association. At the moment neither is on the Australian Davis Cup squad. They fell with the Australian LTA over how many weeks a year they were allowed to play abroad on expenses.

Billie Jean Moffitt of Long Beach, Alston Names NL All-Star Hurlers

CINCINNATI (AP)—Sandy Koufax and Jim Bunning, the National League's no-hit pitchers, were named Wednesday by Manager Walt Alston of the Los Angeles Dodgers to the 1964 All-Star Game.

Koufax, ace left-hander for the Dodgers, pitched the third no-hitter of his career this season, against the Philadelphia Phils and Philadelphia right-hander Bunning fired a perfect game against the New York Mets June 21.

Others named to the seven-man staff were right-handers Dick Farrell of the Houston Colts, Don Drysdale of the Dodgers and Juan Marchal of the San Francisco Giants, and southpaws Dick Ellsworth of the Chicago Cubs and Chris Short of the Phils.

Drysdale is the senior member of the NL staff with five selections to All-Star squads.

Bunning, however, is a six-terminer in the All-Star competition. He was named to the American League team five times while with the Detroit Tigers. The right-hander was the AL starter in 1957, in the second game of 1961 and in the first game of 1962, and was the winning pitcher in 1957.

This will be Koufax's fourth time on the All-Star squad while Marchal and Farrell each were selected for a third time. It will be the first All-Star appearance for both Ellsworth and Short.

The game will be at Shea Stadium.

One Doubleheader Set for Saturday

NEW YORK (AP)—The traditional July 4 doubleheader will be scarce Saturday with only one at New York—on the major league schedule.

The National League will have three single night games and two double afternoon games. The American League will play the one double at Yankee Stadium, a twilight game at Baltimore and three single day games.

The Saturday schedule:

AMERICAN LEAGUE
Minnesota at New York, 2 day
Washington at Detroit, 2 day
Cleveland at Chicago, day
Los Angeles at Boston, day
Kansas City at Baltimore, twilight

NATIONAL LEAGUE
New York at Los Angeles, night
St. Louis at Cincinnati, night
Pittsburgh at Houston, night
Philadelphia at San Francisco, day
Chicago at Milwaukee, day

AFL All-Star Game Set for Sugar Bowl

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Football League will play its annual All-Star Game in January in the 72,000-seat Sugar Bowl at New Orleans.

Commissioner Joe Foss of the AFL announced the signing Wednesday of a one-year contract with the sponsoring group.

The game probably will be played in mid-January. No definite date was set because of the possibility of a playoff in the regular league season.

The AFL regular season ends Dec. 19 and the championship game between the East and West champions is scheduled for Dec. 20. However, a divisional tie would necessitate a playoff and push back the entire schedule deeper into January.

Majors Scoreboard

AMERICAN LEAGUE

W.	L.	Pct.	G.S.
Baltimore	42	26	644
New York	42	30	587
Chicago	41	29	586
Minnesota	40	35	533
Boston	38	39	480
Cleveland	33	38	465
Detroit	33	38	465
Los Angeles	35	42	455
Kansas City	31	45	408
Washington	31	47	397

Wednesday's Results

Minnesota 14, Boston 3
Chicago 87, Washington 21
Kansas City 5, New York 4
Detroit 3, Cleveland 1
Baltimore 4, Los Angeles 2

Today's Probable Pitchers

Los Angeles (Meyer 1-3) at Baltimore (Pappas 7-4) (N)
Kansas City (Segui 7-6) at New York (Sheehan 1-3) (N)
Cleveland (Ramos 4-5) at Detroit (Lolich 7-6) (N)
Minnesota (Kaat 8-3) at Boston (Lambert 6-6)

NATIONAL LEAGUE

W.	L.	Pct.	G.S.
San Francisco	47	26	627
Philadelphia	43	27	614
Cincinnati	39	34	534
Pittsburgh	38	34	528
Chicago	35	35	500
St. Louis	37	38	493
Milwaukee	36	38	486
Los Angeles	34	38	478
Houston	35	41	461
New York	33	54	298

Wednesday's Results

Cincinnati 6, Chicago 5 (10 innings)
St. Louis 6, Milwaukee 1
New York 5, Houston 6
San Francisco 2, Pittsburgh 1
Philadelphia at Los Angeles—night

Today's Probable Pitchers

Pittsburgh (Blass 3-4) at San Francisco (Hendley 7-6) (N)
St. Louis (Sadecki 8-6) at Milwaukee (Spain 5-7)
Philadelphia (Short 6-4) at Los Angeles (Drysdale 10-7) (N)
Chicago (Broglie 3-7) at Cincinnati (Maloney 6-8) (N)
New York (Jackson 4-10) at Houston (Nottebart 3-7) (N)

Little Hawks Win, 2 Hitter by Haugen

Donn Haugen continued his brilliant pitching here Wednesday night as the Iowa City Little Hawks defeated Bettendorf 6-0. Haugen allowed two hits, giving singles to C. Schultz in the second and Rich Musal in the third while striking out sixteen and walking only two. In addition to last night's two hit, his second, Haugen has a pitcher and a one-hitter to his credit this year. His record stands at 7-2.

The Little Hawks, 8-5 for the season, scored in the second, third, and sixth innings. Steve Herko collected two singles, but the big blow of the game was a two-run homer in the third by John Stults.

The Little Hawks host Marengo at 6:00 this evening.

July 16 at Columbus—Pros Warned: Leave Hooks At Home for PGA Tourney

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Anyone who figures on winning the PGA Championship here (July 16-19) had better leave his hook at home.

The Columbus Country Club Course, revamped to 6,843 yards and par 70, may forgive a faded tee shot here and there—and down the middle drives should pay off well.

Vada Pinson's infield hit loaded the bases before Frank Robinson lofted a sacrifice fly. Deron Johnson then tied the game with a two-run triple.

Chicago 87, Washington 21

Roberts' Condition 'Very Critical'

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—Stock car driver Glenn (Fireball) Roberts battled for his life Wednesday with pneumonia and other complications of critical burns he received during a three-car wreck in the May 24 World 600-mile race here.

Doctors at Memorial Hospital performed a tracheotomy on the 33-year-old Daytona Beach, Fla., driver early Wednesday to aid his breathing. A hospital spokesman said his condition was "very critical."

Roberts developed pneumonia and a possible bloodstream infection Tuesday and was listed in fair condition. When his condition worsened during the night, he was placed on the critical list.

IOWA WINS— CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Steve Wilkinson of Sioux City, and his teammate won a second round victory in the doubles of the Tri-State Tennis tournament Wednesday.

Giants Edge Bucs, 11th Win In 13 Games

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Willie Mays smashed his 23rd home run and Juan Marichal pitched his 11th victory as National League leading San Francisco edged Pittsburgh 2-1 Wednesday.

Marichal became the first pitcher in the majors to win 11 games this season. He has three defeats. He appeared wobbly at the start but settled down after the Pirates scored in the fifth inning on a walk, an error and singles by Bill Virdon and Roberto Clemente.

Mays' solo homer in the first and back to back doubles by Del Crandall and Jose Pagan in the second accounted for the Giants' runs against Bob Veale who beat them twice earlier in the season. The victory was the 11th in their last 13 starts.

The loss left Veale with a 7-6 record. The Pittsburgh southpaw gave up the runs before being forced from action by a blister on his pitching hand after four innings.

Tigers Beat Cleveland, 3-1

DETROIT (AP)—Bubba Phillips' tie-breaking home run in the fifth inning boosted the Detroit Tigers to a 3-1 victory over Cleveland Wednesday night and brought Hank Aguirre his first victory since May 17.

Aguirre, the tall left-hander who won 14 games for the Tigers last year, brought his record to 2-3 with a three-hitter. He was making his 12th start of the season. His last victory also came at the expense of the Indians.

Al Smith homered for Cleveland in the second inning to tie the score 1-1 after the Tigers scored in the first on Dick Howser's error and a double by George Thomas. Phillips' bases-empty homer snapped the tie.

Cleveland 010 000-1 0 0
Detroit 100 010-3 3 1

John, McMahon (8) and Romano; Aguirre and Freshen. W—Aguirre, (2-3). L—John, (2-4).

Home runs — Cleveland, Smith (4), Detroit, Phillips (2).

Positive Thinking Helps in Vaulting, John Pennel Says

CORAL GABLES, Fla. (AP)—"I can do it... I'm gonna do it... I know I'm gonna do it..."

And the first thing anyone knew John Pennel was sending his 168-pound body over the magical 17-foot pole vault bar. That's how it was when the 20-year-old Coral Gables, Fla., athlete vaulted 17 feet ¾ inch in his home town last fall.

"You gotta talk yourself over," Pennel said. "You must think positive."

Pennel admitted fiberglass is the material which enabled him to set the world record.

"I remember well the first time I used a fiberglass pole," Pennel said. "I went up four feet, and fell flat on my face. The thing scared me. I had been doing 15 feet with an aluminum pole."

"It took me two almost to really get the hang of fiberglass, and I wouldn't say I've completely mastered it."

"Somewhere I had seen pole vaulting in a newsreel. Then my dad changed an aluminum TV antenna on the house. The old one was about ten feet long and an inch in diameter. I took some garbage cans, some chairs and put a stick across them at about six feet. Using the antenna for a pole I said to myself 'this feels natural'—and I cleared the six feet. I was about 12 or 13 then."

"A couple of years later as a sophomore at Coral Gables High my older brother Bill was fooling around with Henry Wadsworth (who also reached 15-feet plus) at the high jumping pit. My brother, wanting to get rid of me, said 'why don't you go over and do some vaulting.'"

"I was in school clothes, but I took off my shoes and socks and they let me try it 8-6. I'd never seen a pole vaulting box before and the first time I tried to put the pole in it, I missed the box entirely. I was embarrassed, but I got over it the next time."

"The coach loaned me a pole for the summer and I dug a hole for a box in the yard, rigged up a cross bar between a tree and a clothes-line pole and fixed up a 30-foot runway."

"I got up to 11-6 but all summer I was falling on my back, right on the hard ground. I don't think my sacroiliac will ever be right."

"Somebody will do 18 feet before too long. I can do it—at least that's what I keep telling myself," he said.

Homer in 11th Lets Athletics Beat Yankees

NEW YORK (AP)—Bill Bryan, who previously had struck out as a pinch hitter, walloped an 11th-inning home run off relief pitcher Ralph Terry that gave the Kansas City Athletics an uphill 5-4 triumph over the New York Yankees Wednesday.

Bryan's homer, his ninth of the season, made a winner of John Wyatt, fourth Kansas City pitcher, who took over in the ninth inning.

The Athletics, trailing 3-2, rallied for two runs in the top of the ninth for a 4-3 lead. Singles by Wayne Causey and George Williams drove in the tying and lead runs.

The Yankees tied the score at 4-4 in their half of the ninth on a single by Joe Pepitone, a double by pinch hitter Johnny Blanchard and Tony Kubek's sacrifice fly.

Kansas City... 200 000 002 01-5 15 0
New York... 300 000 001 00-4 9 0
O'Donoghue, Santiago (1), Pena (7), Wyatt (9) and Edwards; Bryan (9); Feltz, Stafford (8), Hamilton (9), Mikkelsen (9), Terry (10) and Howard (9) — Wyatt (5-4). L—Terry (2-7).

Venturi Set For Whitmarsh Open

WHITMARSH, Pa. (AP)—Ken Venturi hinted Wednesday that if you are handicapping the $125,000 Whitmarsh Open Golf Tournament it would be best to forget his last start.

The 33-year-old Venturi won the 1964 U.S. Open two weeks ago at Washington's Congressional Country Club. Less than a week later he failed to make the cut for the final 36 holes of the Cleveland Open.

Venturi said he has done nothing but rest since bowing out at Cleveland and didn't touch a club until arriving at Whitmarsh Monday. The four-day 72-hole test opens Thursday over the narrow, tree-lined 6,670-yard course just outside Philadelphia.

Does he feel well enough now to battle Arnold Palmer, Tony Lema, Tommy Jacobs, Jack Nicklaus, Bill Casper Jr., et al.?

"I feel fine," Venturi said, proving it as he shot a three under par practice round 69 over the par 36-72 course.

Palmer, who also spent the last few days away from the golf course, said he has been resting at his Latrobe, Pa. home since losing a sudden death payoff to Lema at Cleveland.

Chicago Sweeps In Doubleheader With Senators

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago White Sox nipped Washington 8-7 and 2-1 Wednesday with Joel Horlen pitching a five-hitter in the second game of the two-night doubleheader.

Three of the hits off Horlen were infield singles. He had a three-hit shutout until the eighth when Fred Valentine beat out on infield hit, went to second on a walk to Chuck Hinton and scored on Don Blasingame's second single.

Hinton was trapped between second and third and was tagged for the final out of the inning.

The White Sox didn't score until the sixth when Jim Landis doubled and came home on Pete Ward's single. Tom McGraw tripled in the seventh and scored as Gerry McNetney flied out.

Singles by Joe Cunningham and Ron Hansen drove in two runs in the seventh inning of the first game and helped the White Sox from a 7-6 deficit.

Washington... 020 000 500-7 13 4
Chicago... 006 000 20x-8 11 1

Narum, Koch (3), Boudin (7), Kline (8) and Brumley; Suzard, Mossi (7), Wilhelm (7) and Martin, W—Wilhelm, (2-5). L—Boudin, (0-3).

Home runs — Washington, King (13), Lock (11).

Twins Smother Red Sox, 14-3

BOSTON (AP)—Bob Allison drove in three runs with two doubles in a seven-run fourth inning and smacked a two-run homer in the ninth inning, leading the heavy-hitting Minnesota Twins to a 14-3 thumping of Boston Wednesday night.

The Twins sent 12 men to the plate in the fourth in their biggest inning of the season, collecting six hits, a walk and a hit batsman.

In addition to Allison's two doubles, Rich Rollins contributed a two-run single and Zolito Versalles and Jim Snyder accounted for the other two runs with singles.

The Twins collected a total of 14 hits off a parade of Boston left-handers, starting with Ed Connolly, who suffered his seventh loss in eight decisions.

Minnesota... 000 700 025-14 14 0
Boston... 000 010 002-3 10 1

Grant and Batteny, Zimmerman (9); Connolly, Spanawick (4), Barley (5), Charton (6) and Nicot, W—Grant, (4-5). L—Connolly, (1-7).

Home run — Minnesota, Allison (21).

3 Runs in 8th Spark Win Over Angels

BALTIMORE (AP)—The American League leading Baltimore Orioles took advantage of three breaks, scored three runs in the eighth inning and d defeated the Los Angeles Angels 4-2 Wednesday night.

The victory, Baltimore's 11th in 13 games, increased the Orioles' lead over second place New York to four games.

Held to four hits through seven innings by All-Star choice Dean Chance, the Orioles opened the rally when slugger Willie Kirkland swung mightily and beat out a slow roller. Jerry Adair then failed to sacrifice, but he smacked a single to advance Kirkland to second.

Both runners moved along on a sacrifice and scored when Jack Brandt singled to left. Luis Aparicio then beat out an infield hit, and Brandt scored on an error by Bobby Knoop on Boog Powell's grounder.

Los Angeles... 010 000 010-2 9 1
Baltimore... 000 100 03x-4 8 2

Chance, Duliba (8) and Rodgers; McNally, Miller (9) and Lutz, Brown (9). W—L. McNally, (6-5). L—Chance, (5-5).

Home run — Los Angeles, Rodgers (1).

Cards Blast Braves, 6-1

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Julian Javier drove in four runs with a homer and a single as the St. Louis Cardinals trounced Milwaukee 6-1 Wednesday night. The loss snapped the Braves' victory string at five.

The Braves spoiled Curt Simmons' shutout bid in the ninth by scoring on Hank Aaron's double, a fly ball and Gene Oliver's infield out. Simmons scattered seven hits, winning his ninth game in 15 decisions.

Javier singled in the first run of a three-run second inning after Bob Skinner and Dick Groat singled. The Cardinals, second baseman homered into the left field bleachers in the next inning following a walk to Skinner and Groat's single.

St. Louis... 033 000 000-6 11 2
Milwaukee... 000 000 001-1 7 1

Simmons and McCarver; Fischer, Hart (2), Olivo (4), Sadowski (6), Lemaister (6) and Torre, W—Simmons, (9-4). L—Fischer, (6-5).

Home run — St. Louis, Javier (9).

Astronaut Clifton Williams Jr., flanked by his new bride, the former Mrs. New Bern, N.C. The ceremony was held in a church in New Bern. A reception followed.

Scranton Needs To Stop Barry's

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Sources close to Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton claimed Wednesday that he is about 80 delegates away from stopping a first-ballot nomination of Sen. Barry Goldwater.

However, there has been no indication of a move away from the Arizona senator, the front-runner in the battle for the Republican presidential nomination.

The sources said Scranton aims at capturing the 80 delegates from among a group of 344 described as "movable." Of that group an estimated 180 were described as leaning toward Goldwater or loosely committed to him.

The 344 delegates are in 23 states, the sources said. But the greatest portion are in Colorado, Florida, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, South Dakota, Texas, Utah, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Wyoming.

Astronaut Glen Discussing Return To Space Work

WASHINGTON (AP)—A spokesman for the space agency said Wednesday that Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr. has talked with the agency's chief about returning to the space program, but that nothing has been decided.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration spokesman said a report that Glenn would return as an adviser on the Apollo moon shot program was not true, and he has not asked for a job, and he has not asked for a job," the spokesman said.

He said Glenn and NASA Administrator James Webb had, however, discussed the possibility of Glenn's having a future role in the space program.

Glenn, the first American to orbit the earth, quit the space program early this year in order to seek the Democratic nomination for the Senate in his home state of Ohio.

But before he could retire from the Marine Corps he suffered a fall in a bathroom, causing an inner-ear ailment that eventually forced him to withdraw from the political race.

FOR SHOW, NOT GO— WASHINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Volunteer firemen in Walton want it known they're up to date even if they bought a 1918 fire truck.

The old vehicle was overhauled and dolled up for parades and the like.

STAR-SPANGLED SHOPPING GUIDE

★ BRAND NEW—$75 SAVINGS BOND ★
Sells for just $56.25

Like every other U. S. Savings Bond, this new denomination is an investment in America's security and your own. On sale now where you bank or on Payroll Savings where you work.

- ★ Starter size for steady savers. Small enough to be habit-forming, big enough to count up fast. Ideal gift. Worth $25 at maturity; sells for only $18.75.
- ★ If you're in a hurry to build up savings, this one's tailor-made. Buy one a month for 5 years and you'll have $4,856. Each is worth $100 at maturity; sells for only $75.
- ★ Perfect for bonuses, tax refunds and other windfalls. Grows into a tidy nest egg of $200 at maturity for you; costs only $150.
- ★ For big-time savers... and small investors. You get guaranteed interest, and your money's available when you need it. Worth $500 at maturity; sells for only $375.
- ★ Quick facts about Series E Savings Bonds
  - You get back $4 for every $1 at maturity
  - You pay no state or local tax and can defer federal tax until the Bonds are cashed
  - Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed, or stolen
  - You can get your money when you need it
  - Buy E Bonds for growth—H Bonds for current income

Keep freedom in your future with U.S. SAVINGS BONDS

The U.S. Government does not pay for this advertising. The Treasury Dept. thanks The Advertising Council and this newspaper for their patriotic support.

JACK NICKLAUS Defending Champion

could make or break a lot of hopes.

The first tee is 40 feet above the fairway and the green is hidden among trees on another hillside 410 yards away. It's a dog-leg to the left, the green is visible from the tee, and any attempt to cut the corner could be costly.

The second, 422 yards, finds both the tee and green only a few yards from an out-of-bounds fence guarding a four-lane highway. A shot straight at the green winds up in trees along the fence, so a round route is best.

Real trouble looms at No. 3, a 340-yarder. The tee is nestled against an out-of-bounds woods which extends all the way to the green, a huge tree menaces woods shots stray to the right and the well-trapped green is high on a hillside. Chances are most players will use an iron off the tee for accuracy, for any long wood shot not straight down the middle means trouble.

The fourth, 425 yards, also has trees running over the tee and running along the left side of the hilly fairway. A hook here is fatal.

The course turns "inland" starting at No. 5, getting away from the menacing out-of-bounds stakes which it picks up again on the closing three holes.

Every shot in the bag will be called for and shifting winds can change the course from day to day.

Wash & Dry Cleaning SPECIALS

SHIRTS . . . 20c EA.
SLACKS, SHORTS, BLOUSES, SKIRTS, SWEATERS 3 FOR $1
SUITS, DRESSES, COATS $1 EACH

SAVE-WAY CLEANERS, INC.
Hwy. 6 Between 7-Up Bottling Co. & Alamo Motel

The coin you flip may be worth money!

Consult the new 1965 Redbook and find out.

Come in and see our coin and stamp collections at Hobby & Gift Shop

219 South Capitol Street

Now! 'Ends Friday'

TONY CURTIS
40 POUNDS OF TROUBLE
AND A TON OF JOVI!

SUZANNE PLESCHETTE-CLARE WILCOX
PHIL SILVERS
CO-FEATURE

SANDRA BOBBY DEE DARWIN
IF A MAN ANSWERS
DON'T HANG UP!

ENDS TONITE
THE INCREDIBLE
MR. LIMPET!

Starts FRIDAY!

Tony Curtis Christine Kaufmann
MONSIEUR COGNAC
Wild and Wonderful

ctory

3 Runs in 8th Spark Win Over Angels

BALTIMORE (AP) — The American League leading Baltimore Orioles took advantage of three breaks, scored three runs in the eighth inning and defeated the Los Angeles Angels 4-2 Wednesday night.

The victory, Baltimore's 11th in 13 games, increased the Orioles' lead over second-place New York to four games.

Held to four hits through seven innings by All-Star choice Dean Chance, the Orioles opened the rally when slugger Willie Kirkland swung mightily and beat out a slow roller. Jerry Adair then failed to sacrifice, but he smacked a single to advance Kirkland to second.

Both runners moved along on a sacrifice and scored when Jack Brandt singled to left. Luis Aparicio then beat out an infield hit, and Brandt scored on an error by Bobby Knop on Boog Powell's grounder.

Los Angeles ..... 010 000 010-2 9 1
Baltimore ..... 000 100 030-4 8 2

Chance, Duliba (8) and Rodgers; McNally, Miller (9) and Lau, Brown (9). W — McNally, (6-5). L — Chance, (5-5).

Home run — Los Angeles, Rodgers (1).

Cards Blast Braves, 6-1

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Julian Javier drove in four runs with a homer and a single as the St. Louis Cardinals trounced Milwaukee 6-1 Wednesday night. The loss snapped the Braves, victory string at five.

The Braves spoiled Curt Simmons' shutout bid in the ninth by scoring on Hank Aaron's double, a fly ball and Gene Oliver's infield hit. Simmons scattered seven hits, winning his ninth game in 15 decisions.

Javier singled in the first run of a three-run second inning after Bob Skinner and Dick Groat singled. The Cardinals, second baseman homered into the left field bleachers in the next inning following a walk to Skinner and Groat's single.

St. Louis ..... 033 000 000-4 11 1
Milwaukee ..... 000 000 001-7 2

Simmons and McCarver; Fischer, Hoeff (2), Olivo (4), Sadowski (6), LeMaster (8) and Torre, W — Simmons, (4-6). L — Fischer, (4-5).

Home run — St. Louis, Javier (9).

GUIDE

Increasingly popular size and very big with Payroll Savers. About $9 weekly buys one a month comfortably. Worth $50 at maturity; sells for only $37.50.

For big-time savers... and small investors. You get guaranteed interest, and your money's available when you need it. Worth $500 at maturity; sells for only $375.

Quick facts about Series E Savings Bonds:
• You get back $4 for every $3 at maturity
• You pay no state or local tax and can defer federal tax until the Bonds are cashed
• Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed, or stolen
• You can get your money when you need it
Buy E Bonds for growth—H Bonds for current income

For big-time savers... and small investors. You get guaranteed interest, and your money's available when you need it. Worth $500 at maturity; sells for only $375.

Quick facts about Series E Savings Bonds:
• You get back $4 for every $3 at maturity
• You pay no state or local tax and can defer federal tax until the Bonds are cashed
• Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed, or stolen
• You can get your money when you need it
Buy E Bonds for growth—H Bonds for current income

Quick facts about Series E Savings Bonds:
• You get back $4 for every $3 at maturity
• You pay no state or local tax and can defer federal tax until the Bonds are cashed
• Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed, or stolen
• You can get your money when you need it
Buy E Bonds for growth—H Bonds for current income

Quick facts about Series E Savings Bonds:
• You get back $4 for every $3 at maturity
• You pay no state or local tax and can defer federal tax until the Bonds are cashed
• Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed, or stolen
• You can get your money when you need it
Buy E Bonds for growth—H Bonds for current income

Quick facts about Series E Savings Bonds:
• You get back $4 for every $3 at maturity
• You pay no state or local tax and can defer federal tax until the Bonds are cashed
• Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed, or stolen
• You can get your money when you need it
Buy E Bonds for growth—H Bonds for current income

Quick facts about Series E Savings Bonds:
• You get back $4 for every $3 at maturity
• You pay no state or local tax and can defer federal tax until the Bonds are cashed
• Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed, or stolen
• You can get your money when you need it
Buy E Bonds for growth—H Bonds for current income

Quick facts about Series E Savings Bonds:
• You get back $4 for every $3 at maturity
• You pay no state or local tax and can defer federal tax until the Bonds are cashed
• Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed, or stolen
• You can get your money when you need it
Buy E Bonds for growth—H Bonds for current income

Quick facts about Series E Savings Bonds:
• You get back $4 for every $3 at maturity
• You pay no state or local tax and can defer federal tax until the Bonds are cashed
• Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed, or stolen
• You can get your money when you need it
Buy E Bonds for growth—H Bonds for current income

Quick facts about Series E Savings Bonds:
• You get back $4 for every $3 at maturity
• You pay no state or local tax and can defer federal tax until the Bonds are cashed
• Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed, or stolen
• You can get your money when you need it
Buy E Bonds for growth—H Bonds for current income

Astronaut Weds

Astronaut Cliff Williams Jr., flies from the church Wednesday with his new bride, the former Miss Jane Elizabeth Lamsche of New Bern, N.C. The ceremony was performed at St. Paul's Catholic Church in New Bern. A reception was held shortly after the ceremony.

Scranton Needs 80 Delegates To Stop Barry's Nomination

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Sources close to Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton claimed Wednesday that he is about 80 delegates away from stopping a first-ballot nomination of Sen. Barry Goldwater.

However, there has been no indication of a move away from the Arizona senator, the front-runner in the battle for the Republican presidential nomination.

The sources said Scranton aims at capturing the 80 delegates from among a group of 34 described as "movable." Of that group an estimated 180 were described as leaning toward Goldwater or loosely committed to him.

The 344 delegates are in 23 states, the sources said. But the greatest portion are in Colorado, Florida, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas,

Astronaut Glen Discussing Return To Space Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — A spokesman for the space agency said Wednesday that Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr. has talked with the agency's chief about returning to the space program, but that nothing has been decided.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration spokesman said a report that Glenn would return as an adviser on the Apollo moon shot program was not true, but he has not asked for a job, and he has no task for a job, the spokesman said.

He said Glenn and NASA Administrator James Webb had, however, discussed the possibility of Glenn's having a future role in the space program.

Glenn, the first American to orbit the earth, quit the space program early this year in order to seek the Democratic nomination for the Senate in his home state of Ohio.

But before he could retire from the Marine Corps he suffered a fall in a bathroom, causing an inner-ear ailment that eventually forced him to withdraw from the political race.

FOR SHOW, NOT GO — WASHINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Volunteer firemen in Walton want it known they're up to date even if they bought a 1918 fire truck.

The old vehicle was overhauled and dolled up for parades and the like.

Now! 'Ends Friday' TONY CURTIS HAS 40 POUNDS OF TROUBLE AND A TON OF JOY!

DRIVE-IN Theatre TONITE ONLY

Thursday, July 2 Free Wine & Roast At 7:30 P.M. Live Music Outdoor Dancing Twist Contest — Prizes —

— 4 BIG FEATURES — TONITE & FRIDAY!

SUBMARINE SEAHAWK

PARATROOP COMMAND

SUICIDE BATTALION

TANK BATTALION

DRIVE-IN — SATURDAY JULY 4th FIREWORKS

Swan Says Newspapers Doing Well

The newspaper business in the United States is expanding according to Joyce Swan, publisher of the "Minneapolis Star-Tribune."

Swan said that although the total number of dailies in the United States dropped from 2,500 in 1910 to 1,754 in 1963, the greatest losses occurred during the Depression. Since World War II there actually has been a small increase in the number of dailies, he told.

Eachers here for the annual "Newspapers in the Classroom" of a Free Society workshop.

Circulation has climbed steadily since World War II with the exception of last year, Swan said, when the long New York newspaper strike and the re-classification of large circulation publications such as magazines were factors in the circulation drop.

Swan said this growth in circulation has been faster than the growth of adult population, with 86 of every 100 families in the United States now subscribing to one or more daily newspapers.

In addition advertising volume from 1948 to 1963 has equalled the growth in television advertising for that period, Swan reported. The 1963 advertising total for newspapers of $3.75 billion was nearly equal to the combined total of all other advertising in the mass media.

10 Social Workers To Attend 2 Week Short Course Here

Ten social workers, who serve six Iowa counties, will begin a two-week training program Monday at SUI School of Social Work.

The short course is designed to give participants supplemental training in social welfare methods in dealing with human behavior, so that they may better aid individuals and families in solving their problems.

Professor Katherine Kruse, who directs the program, said the short course will also include instruction in basic concepts and principles of helping through knowledge of social and personal problems.

Social workers participating in the SUI program, planned in cooperation with Iowa welfare agencies, will attend the short course two consecutive summers. Those completing the program will be awarded a certificate of recognition by the SUI School of Social Work.

Attending from Iowa City is Susan Israel, Forest View Trailer Ct.

Hickenlooper, Miller Support Pay Raise

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican Sens. Bourke Hickenlooper and Jack Miller of Iowa helped beat down an amendment Wednesday which would have eliminated $7,500-a-year salary increases for senators and representatives.

The amendment, offered by Sen. Winston Prouty, R-Vt., would have removed the salary increases from the $64 million federal pay raise bill.

It was defeated 60-25.

Hunter New Patrolman

Daniel R. Hunter, 26, 1921 Western Rd., began duties as an Iowa City patrolman Wednesday.

Hunter, a native of Albion, attended the San Diego, Calif., junior college, where he studied business management and accounting.

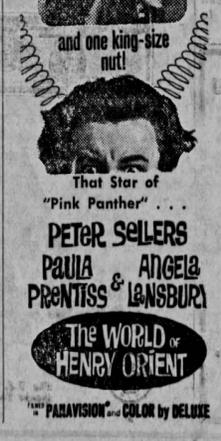

During four years spent in the Navy, Hunter received experience in shore patrol duty.

Hunter has been employed at the Keith Wilson Hatchery here.

He is the third man added to the force recently.

"DOORS OPEN 1:15 P.M." SECLERY THEATRE

— STAK IS — TO-DAY — meet two junior-size misses 2 New Stars... TIPPY WALKER MERRIE SPAETH

Local, National, World News Roundup

DeGaulle's Help Asked

PARIS (AP) — Turkish Premier Ismet Inonu said Wednesday he asked President Charles de Gaulle of France to look into all aspects of the Cyprus problem in a search for a possible solution.

Inonu, after talking with De Gaulle for nearly two hours, told a news conference that his request was not for De Gaulle to intervene, however.

The 80-year-old premier said De Gaulle did not offer to mediate the island conflict between the Greek and Turkish communities, nor was he asked to do so.

Harvard Law Dean Dies

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Roscoe Pound, former dean of the Harvard Law School and world-renowned legal authority, died Wednesday night in the Harvard infirmary after a long illness. He was 93.

Pound had been ill for many months. A memorial service will be conducted Tuesday in Memorial Church in the Harvard Yard.

Topless Suits Illegal

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — The bottom fell out of the topless bathing suit market in White Lake Township Tuesday.

The five-member Township Board unanimously approved a measure saying swimmers must be attired in a garment made of opaque fabric or material which covers all private parts of the body.

Violation of the ordinance is punishable by a fine of up to $100 or up to 90 days in jail. The measure applies to all public beaches, and private beaches and pools to which admission is charged.

Arms to Indonesia

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Shipment of Russian arms to Indonesia, engaged in a bitter struggle with British-backed Malaysia, is part of an over-all agreement announced Thursday by Indonesia and the Soviet Union.

The Foreign Ministry announced "complete agreement" had been reached in talks on political and economic issues during a 10-day visit by Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan.

Cloudburst in Missouri

MARYVILLE, Mo. (AP) — A cloudburst Wednesday knocked out all local telephone communications in this town of 8,200, cut traffic on two U.S. highways, put several streets under water and dropped more than two inches of rain.

The weather bureau measurement of rainfall was 2.10 in 90 minutes, but on the west edge of the city home rain gauges measured more than four inches.

Traffic was stalled for two miles on U.S. 71 by water left standing in an underpass on the north edge of the city. On the east edge traffic was tied on U.S. 136 by water in another underpass.

Senate Okays Taylor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor's nomination to succeed Henry Cabot Lodge as ambassador to South Viet Nam won Senate confirmation Wednesday by voice vote.

Also confirmed was the nomination as Taylor's deputy of U. Alexis Johnson. His status was raised from career minister to the top-ranking position of career ambassador.

Taylor stepped out as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff to take the new assignment.

Johnson is already on duty in Saigon. Taylor plans to leave for there Saturday night.

Service Gets Personal

NORWICH, Conn. (AP) — Attendants at a Main Street gas station just couldn't do enough for the driver of a sedan that pulled in around noon Wednesday.

The oil was checked, the battery serviced, the tires inflated, the windows — especially the windshield — were polished with great care.

The driver was a young lady clad in a topless bathing suit.

Does Cuba Hold Reins?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk told a news conference Wednesday that the Soviet Union has not told the United States about passing control over anti-aircraft missile installations in Cuba to Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government.

Rusk acknowledged that the withdrawal of Soviet troops from the island is continuing, but he declined to go into what he called the "numbers game."

According to reports last month only a Soviet training mission of about 1,000 men is believed to have been left behind in Cuba.

U.S. Aids Peace Force

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United Nations announced Wednesday that the United States had pledged up to $2.3 million for support of the U.N. peace force in Cyprus from now to Sept. 26.

The United States pledged up to $2 million for the force's first three months in operation there.

A U.N. spokesman said Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. chief delegate, so informed Secretary-General U. Thant in a note Monday that said the amount ultimately contributed will depend on contributions of other governments and confirmation of cost estimates.

Ike Out of Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President and Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower left Walter Reed Army Medical Center Wednesday afternoon following an overnight stay.

Eisenhower checked in for one of his periodic examinations. He and Mrs. Eisenhower were guests at a private dinner Tuesday night given by Lt. Gen. and Mrs. Leonard Heaton.

Borodin Reinstated

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Communist party has posthumously rehabilitated Mikhail M. Borodin, Stalin's agent in China during the 1920's who was later imprisoned by Stalin in 1949.

The newspaper Moskovskaya Pravda said in Moscow on Wednesday that Borodin "was imprisoned without any basis. Now the party has restored his good name." Borodin died in 1951.

Anti-Mafia Campaign

PALERMO, Sicily (AP) — The biggest anti-Mafia operation since the time of Mussolini entered its second year in Sicily Wednesday.

The operation began almost immediately after seven carabinieri — national policemen — were killed on the outskirts of Palermo on June 30, 1963, when they touched a bomb-rigged automobile.

The policemen's deaths shocked the Italian nation and resulted in a massive drive aimed at stamping out completely the ancient Mafia.

U.S. Pilot Killed

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A Communist sniper killed the U.S. pilot of a medical evacuation helicopter Wednesday as he landed to pick up a wounded American serviceman.

The Red sniper's shot raised the U.S. death toll in combat to 149. Three other Americans aboard the helicopter were injured when the craft veered out of control and overturned after the pilot was hit.

Imagination Needed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Defense Department research chief cited Wednesday the need for more imaginative weapons to fight limited and antiguerrilla wars.

"The events of today are clear proof of the fact that research and development has not yet fully met the needs for these wars," said Eugene G. Fubini, assistant secretary of defense and deputy director of research and engineering.

Fubini told a meeting of the

Far-Out Fashions For Women Sports

NEW YORK (AP) — Knickers and leggings, space suits and skate suits, dugout jackets and camp fireside coats were just a few of the items suggested Tuesday for the wardrobe of the American woman who figures herself to be a chic good sport.

This was a bit of lend lease in reverse. The avant garde style ideas originating with Spanish nobleman Antonio del Castillo, now well-established in Paris as a couturier, were imported by the Yankee sportswear house, Zacari.

The eye openers began another day's program of fall and winter fashion previews by newsmen here for the American designers series arranged by Eleanor Lambert.

Above all, the American sport must figure well, the style emphasized, and especially from the ankle to the waist. The female population has the long leggy trend to anticipate this fall.

Knee-bucking knickers with matching hosiery is one plan Castillo has for women to accomplish this. But the boot kick is out. Matching zipped leggings, sometimes cuffed with fur, are in. So are snowy white side button space suits.

The long-stemmed beauties who take to the ice will wear cozy, ankle-length wool coats over their high-high skate cutties, and matching cotton stockings.

The Paris-imported idea for stretch pants are skinny, creased slacks, not as glued-on as before. Over these, gaudy young misses modeled wrapped shirt tail jackets, fringed wool-plaid ponchos, quilted lace-wool jackets with night shirt tails, or busy parkas.

But the real fashion touchdown, as far as the audience was concerned, was a dug-out coat, a full circle, bordered with leather, and lined with lamb.

SOVIETS WANT TO BUY MORE — LONDON (AP) — A new technical and purchasing mission will come to Britain soon to buy more goods for the Soviet Union, the president of the U.S.S.R. Chamber of Commerce said Wednesday in London.

GEORGE'S
Roasted Chicken
a la carte

Just wonderful for picnics, parties and backyard cook-outs.

4 pieces (1/2 chicken) $1.00
8 pieces (whole chicken) 1.95
12 pieces 2.95
16 pieces 3.95
20 pieces (Lots of chicken) 4.95
24 pieces 5.75

GEORGE'S
GOURMET FOODS
114 S. DUBUQUE
Open 4 p.m. to 1 a.m. Daily
Fri. and Sat. till 2:30 a.m.

W.S.U.
At 810 Kilocycle

Thursday, July 2, 1964

A.M.
8:00 Morning Show
8:30 News
9:30 Bookshelf
9:55 News
10:00 Comparative Foreign Press
10:45 App. Music
10:58 Calendar of Events
11:59 News Headlines

P.M.
12:00 Rhythm Rumbles
12:30 News
12:45 News Background
1:00 Music
4:25 News
4:30 Ten Time
5:15 Sports Time
5:30 News
5:45 News Background
6:00 Evening Concert
7:00 Emancipation Centennial Lec.
8:00 Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra
9:45 News Final
10:00 SIGN OFF

OPENING! MONDAY, JULY 6!

SUMMER REPERTORY

In the Air-Conditioned University Theatre
Four Plays in Nightly Rotation
JULY 6-28 CURTAIN 8:00 P.M.

- ★ DINNY AND THE WITCHES by WILLIAM GIBSON
- ★ THE BIRTHDAY PARTY by HAROLD PINTER
- ★ CALL ME BY MY RIGHTFUL NAME by MICHAEL SHURTLEFF
- ★ THE SNOB by KARL STERNHEIM

SUN	MON	TUE	WED	THU	FRI	SAT
			1	2	3	4
5	6 DINNY	7 PARTY	8 SNOB	9 NAME	10 DINNY	11 PARTY
12	13 SNOB	14 NAME	15 DINNY	16 PARTY	17 SNOB	18 NAME
19	20 DINNY	21 PARTY	22 SNOB	23 NAME	24 DINNY	25 PARTY
26	27 SNOB	28 NAME	29	30	31

MAKE YOUR RESERVATIONS TODAY!

PRICE: $1.50 or Student I.D.
(with summer registration)

Tickets Available East Lobby, IMU, Univ. Ext. 4432

9:00 a.m. — 4:30 p.m., Mon. - Fri.
9:00 a.m. — Noon, Saturday

Save This Calendar for Reference

Food Buys

- |  |   |
|--|---|
| OSCAR MAYER WIENERS . . . . . Lb. Pkg. 49c                | OSCAR MAYER LINK SAUSAGE . . . . . 8 Oz. Pkg. 29c            |
| MORRELL PRIDE BACON . . . . . Lb. Pkg. 49c                | OSCAR MAYER SANDWICH SPREAD or BRAUNSCHWEIGER 8 Oz. Chub 29c |
| OSCAR MAYER PULLMAN CANNED HAM . . . . . 3 Lb. Can $2.49 | HY-VEE SLICED AMERICAN CHEESE 8 Oz. Pkg. 29c                 |
| OSCAR MAYER SMOKIES . . . . . 12 Oz. Pkg. 59c             | KRAFT COLBY BRICK LONGHORN CHEESE . . . . . Lb. 49c          |

25c WHOLE Lb. 39c Lb. 29c Lb. CUT UP

FRESH CHICKEN PARTS Legs Thighs Breasts

PEPSI-COLA
6 Bottle Carton 29c
Plus Deposit

Half Gallon 49c
PRESTO CHARCOAL BRIQUETS 20 Lb. Bag 89c

HY-VEE FANCY CATSUP Bottle 14 Oz. 12c

HY-VEE POTATO CHIPS Pound Twin-Pak Box 49c

FRESH SWEET CORN . . . . . 5 Ears 29c
HOME GROWN BLACK RASPBERRIES Pint 39c

LUSCIOUS RED RIPE WATERMELON 18 Lb. Avg. 49c Each

Fresh from Hy-Vee's In-Store Bakery

Angel Food Cakes

49c Each

BANANA NUT BREAD . . . . . LOAF 29c
GARLIC-BUTTERED BARBEQUE BREAD . . . . . LOAF 25c

HORMEL'S SPAM . . . . . 12 Oz. Can 39c

- |  |               |
|--|---------------|
| HY-VEE FRUIT COCKTAIL . . . . . 4 TALL CANS        | $1.00 |
| HAWAIIAN PUNCH . . . . . 3 16 OZ. CANS             | $1.00 |
| KAISER ALUMINUM FOIL . . . . . REG. ROLL           | 29c    |
| GRANDEE STUFFED OLIVES . . . . . REF. JAR          | 39c    |
| BOND'S SWEET PICKLES . . . . . QUART JAR           | 45c    |
| BOND'S HAMBURGER SLICED DILLS . . . . . QUART JAR  | 35c    |
| CHARMIN PAPER NAPKINS . . . . . PKG. OF 60         | 10c    |
| LIBBY'S FROZEN ORANGE JUICE . . . . . 4 6 OZ. CANS | $1.00 |
| CAL-IDA FROZEN FRENCH FRIES . . . . . 9-OZ. PKG.   | 10c    |
| GULF LITE CHARCOAL LIGHTER . . . . . QUART CAN     | 29c    |
| INSTANT NESTEA . . . . . 2-OZ. JAR                 | 69c    |
| HY-VEE PORK & BEANS . . . . . 5 No. 2 1/2 CANS     | $1.00 |

Tax Revenue Record High

DES MOINES — Iowa's tax revenue in the fiscal year ended June 30 was the highest ever before, State Treasurer M. L. Abrahamson said Wednesday.

Receipts from the state's special taxes and liquor profits reached a record $324,891,120, a 5.67 per cent jump from the previous fiscal year's total of $307,445,796.

Figures from the state treasurer's office show Iowans paid 6.57 per cent more personal income tax, 2.82 per cent more sales tax and 8.88 per cent more in corporation income taxes this fiscal year.

"This reflects what I have been

Bobby Baker Case Closed By Committee

WASHINGTON — The Senate Rules Committee formally closed out its politically-charged Bobby Baker investigation Wednesday and agreed to file its report to the Senate next Wednesday.

The report of the Democratic majority was given a final okay, but Chairman B. Everett Jordan of North Carolina said he would withhold filing it for a week to give the Republican members a chance to complete a minority report.

The Republicans are expected to renew their charge of "whitewash" in the inquiry into the money-making dealings of Baker while he was secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority.

Baker resigned under fire last Oct. 7 from his $19,600-a-year post. When called for questioning by the committee, he invoked his Fifth Amendment protection against possible self incrimination and refused to answer questions.

Jordan told newsmen only "a few minor changes" had been made in the draft report which was prepared by special counsel L. P. McLendon and which leaked to the press in mid-May.

It held that Baker, while a Senate employe, was guilty of gross improprieties and fraudulent practices but was not legally guilty of conflict of interest.

Sen. John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky said the main conclusion in the minority report will be that the investigation was never completed.

Weary Parents Bid Fond Adieus To Offspring

NEW YORK — "Don't forget to write" — "Stand still, will you!" — "Stop crying, you'll love it" — all are phrases from perspiring parents knee-deep in tennis rackets, fishing rods, toys, knapsacks, and kids — thousands of them — milling about Wednesday in Grand Central Terminal.

It was part of "C-Day," on which 4,500 youngsters take off on the annual summer exodus, boarding trains for camps in upstate New York and New England. The campers were part of the 15,000 who make the trips from here each year.

There were weeping parents and weeping children. Excitement ran high, the shouting ran even higher, and the temperature had hit a broiling 92 degrees by the time all the specials left the station.

The main drama revolved around first-time campers and their anxious parents, epitomized by one mother who cried softly as she hugged her 7-year-old son.

As the boy's coach pulled away, she said: "He left so bravely. I guess I was sort of upset by it. I'm glad for him, but it leaves an empty feeling."

One father was a bit more practical. As he saw his two young sons off, he commented: "I think it's wonderful. It's good for the kids and good for the parents."

UAW Not Looking To LBJ for Aid In Contract Talks

DETROIT — Walter P. Reuther said twice Wednesday that his United Auto Workers Union is not looking to the Johnson Administration for any help in auto contract talks which are just getting under way.

The UAW president led a union delegation to Ford Motor Co. headquarters Wednesday at the opening of the 1964 contract talks. He did the same at General Motors on Tuesday.

At the first of two news conferences which he held at Ford, Reuther was asked whether he thought the fact that both he and Henry Ford II, chairman of the board of Ford, had come out in support of President Lyndon Johnson would make any differences in the negotiations.

"Any settlement will be based strictly on economic factors and it will be worked out in Detroit where we build cars, not in Washington," he said. Later Reuther said he had not been in communication with the President in recent weeks insofar as the auto contracts were concerned.

Tax Revenue Soars To Record High in Iowa

DES MOINES (AP) — Iowa's tax revenue in the fiscal year ended June 30 was $1.7 billion, more than ever before, State Treasurer M. L. Abrahamson said Wednesday.

Receipts from the state's special taxes and liquor profits reached a record $324,891,120, a 5.67 per cent jump from the previous fiscal year's total of $307,445,796.

Figures from the state treasurer's office show Iowans paid 6.57 per cent more personal income tax, 2.82 per cent more sales tax and 8.88 per cent more in corporation income taxes this fiscal year.

Bobby Baker Case Closed By Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Rules Committee formally closed its politically-charged Bobby Baker investigation Wednesday and agreed to file its report to the Senate next Wednesday.

The report of the Democratic majority was given a final okay, but Chairman B. Everett Jordan of North Carolina said he would withhold filing it for a week to give the Republican members a chance to complete a minority report.

The Republicans are expected to renew their charge of "whitewash" in the inquiry into the money-making dealings of Baker while he was secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority.

Baker resigned under fire last Oct. 7 from his $19,600-a-year post. When called for questioning by the committee, he invoked his Fifth Amendment protection against possible self-incrimination and refused to answer questions.

Jordan told newsmen only "a few minor changes" had been made in the draft report which was prepared by special counsel L. P. McLendon and which leaked to the press in mid-May.

It held that Baker, while a Senate employee, was guilty of gross improprieties and fraudulent practices but was not legally guilty of conflict of interest.

Sen. John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky said the main conclusion in the minority report will be that the investigation was never completed.

Deputy Tells Of Gebhardt Comments

MUSCATINE (AP) — A deputy sheriff testified Wednesday that William Gebhardt, 89, of Moscow referred to his wife and sister-in-law as "Christian crooks" a short time after the two women were shot to death.

Deputy Charles Whisler spent most of the day testifying in Gebhardt's murder trial.

Gebhardt is accused of slaying his wife, Sarah, 76, and her sister, Mrs. Anna Yarbrough, 80, in the Gebhardt home last March 26. He is being tried in connection with Mrs. Yarbrough's death.

Former Senator Says High Court Usurping Power

WASHINGTON (AP) — Forty years ago a salty senator from Montana broke with his party and ran for Vice President on a third party ticket that included among its tenets subordination of the Supreme Court to the will of Congress.

He didn't know about the platform plank when he accepted the nomination and he didn't agree with it when he found out about it.

Now, "When I see what the court is doing today," Burton K. Wheeler isn't so sure there wasn't merit in the proposal.

Warning to his task, the veteran of 35 years of political warfare recalled that he successfully led the fight against President Franklin D. Roosevelt's plan to enlarge — or "pack" — the Supreme Court.

"I THOUGHT Roosevelt was trying to usurp the powers of the court but I'm just as much opposed to the Supreme Court trying to usurp the powers of Congress," Wheeler said in an interview.

"This court is trying to put into effect the philosophy of its members in all the moral issues of the day."

In 1924, Wheeler, a Democrat, ran for Vice President in the Progressive party ticket headed by the late Sen. Robert (Old Bob) La Follette of Wisconsin.

Characteristically, he had turned down running until he heard a threat that he might be indicted by the Republican-controlled Department of Justice if he did so.

He waged a slashing but losing campaign. When it was over, he returned to the Democratic fold.

STORMY YEARS followed — early support of Roosevelt and much of the New Deal legislation, the court fight, bitter and sometimes lonesome opposition to U.S. intervention in the early part of World War II.

In 1946, Montana Democrats rejected his bid for a fifth term. He never ran for office again.

Now 82, Wheeler sits at his Washington law office desk under the steady gaze of a giant buffalo head — the gift of an Indian family he defended when he was U.S. district attorney in Montana — and watches the world go by. Little escapes his attention.

MUCH TOO OBVIOUS — MOUNT VERNON, Ky. (AP) — Fire Chief John Cox estimated damage at $2,000 to $3,000 when he was trying to start the fire engine, it backfired and gas was ignited under it.

The city then found it had no fire insurance on the fire truck.

Legislative Office Sought By Teenager

BOSTON (AP) — The Massachusetts Legislature hurried to act on a measure aimed at preventing youngsters from running for big-time political office.

State officials admit frankly the bill was written because of the legal candidacy of a boy still five years from voting age.

Leonard Tagg, 16, is running as an independent candidate for a seat in the House of Representatives from his home town of Weymouth, some 10 miles south of Boston.

ELECTION officials said Tagg's candidacy is legal under existing laws even though the voting age in Massachusetts is 21.

With the legislature on Wednesday, only hours away from adjournment for the year, Secretary of State Kevin H. White quickly drafted a proposal to make it illegal for anyone under 21 to hold public office.

Because of the late date of its submission, the bill will need a fourth approval just to have it come up for consideration.

THE LEGISLATURE will probably end its business, on Thursday. The emergency preamble will make the law — if passed — effective immediately and thus serve to wipe out Tagg's candidacy.

The youngster has filed his nomination papers with the Weymouth town clerk. They contain an estimated 400 more signatures than the 712 required.

Tagg said the law prohibits his candidacy as either Republican or Democrat because he would have to be a registered voter and thus 21 years of age.

AS AN independent candidate in the November election, he need not be a registered voter, Tagg said after obtaining the advice of a Weymouth lawyer, James J. Fasino.

Tagg will be a senior at Weymouth High School in September.

"It all began with a history project at school. We were studying ways to reform the state government. While checking the state constitution, I discovered there is no age requirement for an independent candidate," Tagg said.

"I DECIDED to be a candidate. The idea was to show the need for legislation or a constitutional amendment so somebody couldn't do this."

"Well," Tagg continued, "there's been a lot more publicity and discussion than I thought there would be. Now I'll just go ahead and see what happens."

Two Divers Spend Night At 425 Feet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two divers who spent the night 425 feet down in the ocean were reported Wednesday to be "having a picnic" but finding things a little damp. There was trouble with their underwater dwelling's dehumidifier.

The National Geographic Society relayed the report from the research ship, Sea Diver, which put divers Jon Lindbergh and Robert Stenuit down Tuesday for an experimental stay in an inflated, sausage-shaped home complete with bunks, food, its own air supply and a dehumidifier.

Lindbergh, son of famed aviator Charles A. Lindbergh, and Stenuit, a Belgian, began their descent shortly after 11 a.m. Tuesday and reached the bottom about 1 p.m.

They lowered themselves — wearing only swimming trunks — in a metal diving chamber that gradually built up pressure to that of the 425-foot level.

THE NATIONAL Geographic Society's report, which came from Mrs. Link via marine telephone, said Lindbergh and Stenuit spent several hours swimming back and forth from their diving chamber to transfer gear and to set up housekeeping in the undersea dwelling that had been submerged and anchored three days earlier.

The dwelling is called SPID, for "submersible, portable, inflatable dwelling. Its rubberized fabric walls are held up by internal air pressure, which also keeps the water out, since SPID is open at the bottom.

Mrs. Link said the experiment has been "simply wonderful" through closed-circuit television, crewmen on Sea Diver have been able to observe a spectacular show of fish swimming about SPID, she said.

THOUGH Lindbergh and Stenuit have radio communication with Sea Diver, they find it easier to write their messages on paper and put them on camera. In this manner, Lindbergh sent a telegram Wednesday morning to his wife in Santa Barbara, Calif.

Mrs. Link said the only problem had been with the dehumidifier in SPID. Repairing the dehumidifier to reduce dampness was a good test, she said, of the divers' ability to live and work at 425 feet. The temperature in SPID is about 80 degrees.

MRS. LINK said the two divers probably will come up at the end of 48 hours. When they have reached the deck of Sea Diver, they will have to stay in a decompression chamber for three days to overcome the possible harmful effects of the saturation of their bodies with nitrogen at the depth of 425 feet.

Russia to China: Be Careful

An AP News Analysis By HARRY S. BRADSHAW MOSCOW (AP) — The Kremlin is trying to get a message across to Mao Tse-tung:

Be careful about getting into war with the United States over Southeast Asia, because we might not come to help you.

The message is an important third voice in the dialogue between Washington and Peking, who have been warning each other that a major conflict could develop out of Viet Nam or Laos.

There are indications that the Soviet Union has not made up its mind just what it would do if a war developed. It wants to avoid being forced to make up its mind.

But the Kremlin sees the possibility that the Chinese will force it to spike itself on one of the horns of a dilemma long implicit in Soviet policy.

Premier Khrushchev has warned against nuclear war with the United States as a realistic way to expand Communist control. Khrushchev has been advocating economic competition instead. The Chinese have gone ahead pressing policies that carry the potential of war.

The dilemma would be whether to let down another Communist country and thus help the Western antagonist, or to get involved in a war that Khrushchev says would be disastrous to everyone.

So the Kremlin has been issuing warnings to try to restrain Red China. It has not said publicly that the Soviet Union definitely would leave China on its own to face American military power. What the warnings have said is that this could happen.

This is a change from the old situation of automatic support to the death — my ally, right or wrong.

The warnings have been conveyed in the rather obscure way that Communists talk to each other through cryptic articles in the press.

The treaty of friendship, alliance and mutual assistance that Stalin and Mao negotiated in 1950 says: "If one country is engaged in a state of war with Japan 'or states allied with it, the other will immediately render military and other assistance with all the means at its disposal.'"

Western observers have assumed that allied states meant the United States primarily.

The treaty also provides for consultation on all important matters. In one article the Kremlin laid

1 Killed, 2 Injured In Wreck on Hiway 20

FORT DODGE (AP) — Mrs. Lillian McGowan, 66, of Fort Dodge was killed and two men were injured Wednesday in a two-car collision 10 miles east of here on Highway 20.

Authorities said the car in which Mrs. McGowan and her husband, Robert, 72, were returning from a vacation collided during a heavy rain with a car driven by Bradley Mason Osmundson, 42, of Webster City.

Osmundson suffered severe head injuries. His condition was described as fair at Hamilton County Hospital in Webster City.

McGowan was hospitalized with a broken hip. His condition was also listed as fair.

Authorities said the accident occurred on a curve where visibility was poor because of the rain.

$11 PER KISS — OTTAWA (AP) — Douglas Rowe, 16, grabbed a 15-year-old girl he didn't know, kissed her twice, and ran away. He was caught, and in court Magistrate Joachim Sasse fined him $11 for each kiss, disregarding Rowe's plea that he didn't know there was anything illegal about what he did.

Loaf 29c
Loaf 25c

39c
Oz. Can

4 TALL CANS $1.00
3 16 OZ. CANS $1.00

REG. ROLL 29c
REF. JAR 39c

QUART JAR 45c
QUART JAR 35c

PKG. OF 60 10c
4 OZ. CANS $1.00

9-OZ. PKG. 10c
QUART CAN 29c

2-OZ. JAR 69c
5 CANS $1.00

APPROVED ROOMS
MEN, Summer. Cooking privileges, 337-5652. 7-9
APPROVED ROOMS — Men. Close in, 337-2573. 7-13AR
APPROVED ROOMS — nice, Summer and fall, 338-2518. 7-9AR
AIR-CONDITIONED approved single room. Man. 338-6341. 7-2
UNIVERSITY APPROVED single room. Summer. Boys. Summer rates. Cooking privileges. 337-3205. 7-9

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY ADS
One Insertion a Month ... $1.35*
Five Insertions a Month ... $1.15*
Ten Insertions a Month ... $1.05*
Rates for Each Column Inch

APARTMENTS FOR RENT
APARTMENTS for summer, 338-5637, 7-9
MARRIED student couples to live in and share attendant work in lieu of rent. Outhouse. Funeral Home, 337-2935. 7-9

ROOMS FOR RENT
SINGLE AND DOUBLE. Summer and fall. Over 21. 338-5637 after 4:00. 7-2
3 LARGE above average rooms. Men. 1 double, twin beds, 2 single. Linens furnished. 338-5653. 7-2
MEN over 21. Close to campus. Clean, quiet. Cooking privileges. 11 E. Burlington. Phone 337-3288 or 337-5349. 7-2AR

CHILD CARE
WILL baby sit. My home. Experienced and references. 338-1807. 9-11

LOST & FOUND
LOST — Charcoal black, long hair male cat. 338-7347. 7-8
WOULD THE PERSON who found my pair of prescription circular sun glasses in the Airliner bar Saturday evening, June 27, please return to: David Hockney, Art Department. 7-3

WANTED
WANTED: Ironings. 338-9200 or 338-6287. 7-2

HELP WANTED
WANTED — part time secretary to start in Sept. Office experience necessary. Please write Box 111, Daily Iowan. 9-11

U.S. AIR FORCE
See your local Air Force Recruiter

ONE WAY TRAILERS
FOR RENT
Student Rates
Myer's Texaco
337-9801 Across from Hy-Vee

GOING TO EUROPE?
We are specialists in arranging overseas deliveries. Choose from Mercedes, Triumph, MG, Renault & other fine cars.
Brand new cars delivered in Europe as low as $966.

ALLEN IMPORTS
1024 1st Ave. NE EM 3-2611
CEDAR RAPIDS

WANT TO BUY PLANE?
DES MOINES (AP) — The Iowa Executive Council cleared the way Wednesday afternoon for the start of regilling work on the Statehouse dome.

STORMY YEARS followed — early support of Roosevelt and much of the New Deal legislation, the court fight, bitter and sometimes lonesome opposition to U.S. intervention in the early part of World War II.

MUCH TOO OBVIOUS — MOUNT VERNON, Ky. (AP) — Fire Chief John Cox estimated damage at $2,000 to $3,000 when he was trying to start the fire engine, it backfired and gas was ignited under it.

MISSED HEALTH MONTH — SALEM, Kan. (AP) Attendance was the lowest in the months when the Salem 4-H Club celebrated "Health Month" at its May meeting.

You'll find it in the WANT ADS

APPROVED ROOMS
MEN, Summer. Cooking privileges, 337-5652. 7-9
APPROVED ROOMS — Men. Close in, 337-2573. 7-13AR
APPROVED ROOMS — nice, Summer and fall, 338-2518. 7-9AR
AIR-CONDITIONED approved single room. Man. 338-6341. 7-2
UNIVERSITY APPROVED single room. Summer. Boys. Summer rates. Cooking privileges. 337-3205. 7-9

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY ADS
One Insertion a Month ... $1.35*
Five Insertions a Month ... $1.15*
Ten Insertions a Month ... $1.05*
Rates for Each Column Inch

APARTMENTS FOR RENT
APARTMENTS for summer, 338-5637, 7-9
MARRIED student couples to live in and share attendant work in lieu of rent. Outhouse. Funeral Home, 337-2935. 7-9

ROOMS FOR RENT
SINGLE AND DOUBLE. Summer and fall. Over 21. 338-5637 after 4:00. 7-2
3 LARGE above average rooms. Men. 1 double, twin beds, 2 single. Linens furnished. 338-5653. 7-2
MEN over 21. Close to campus. Clean, quiet. Cooking privileges. 11 E. Burlington. Phone 337-3288 or 337-5349. 7-2AR

CHILD CARE
WILL baby sit. My home. Experienced and references. 338-1807. 9-11

LOST & FOUND
LOST — Charcoal black, long hair male cat. 338-7347. 7-8
WOULD THE PERSON who found my pair of prescription circular sun glasses in the Airliner bar Saturday evening, June 27, please return to: David Hockney, Art Department. 7-3

WANTED
WANTED: Ironings. 338-9200 or 338-6287. 7-2

HELP WANTED
WANTED — part time secretary to start in Sept. Office experience necessary. Please write Box 111, Daily Iowan. 9-11

U.S. AIR FORCE
See your local Air Force Recruiter

ONE WAY TRAILERS
FOR RENT
Student Rates
Myer's Texaco
337-9801 Across from Hy-Vee

GOING TO EUROPE?
We are specialists in arranging overseas deliveries. Choose from Mercedes, Triumph, MG, Renault & other fine cars.
Brand new cars delivered in Europe as low as $966.

ALLEN IMPORTS
1024 1st Ave. NE EM 3-2611
CEDAR RAPIDS

WANT TO BUY PLANE?
DES MOINES (AP) — The Iowa Executive Council cleared the way Wednesday afternoon for the start of regilling work on the Statehouse dome.

Loaf 29c
Loaf 25c
39c
Oz. Can
4 TALL CANS $1.00
3 16 OZ. CANS $1.00
REG. ROLL 29c
REF. JAR 39c
QUART JAR 45c
QUART JAR 35c
PKG. OF 60 10c
4 OZ. CANS $1.00
9-OZ. PKG. 10c
QUART CAN 29c
2-OZ. JAR 69c
5 CANS $1.00

By Johnny Hart

By Mort Walker

RANDALL'S ARE 1ST

WITH FOODS FOR THE 4th

MORE BIG FOOD BARGAINS THAT SAVE YOU 10% AND MORE ON YOUR FAMILY FOOD BUDGET

GUS GLASER'S
ALL MEAT, SKINLESS
WIENERS

LB. PKG. 47¢

FRESH BAKED—SLICED
HAMBURGER or CONEY
BUNS

PKG. OF 8 19¢

FLAVORITE POTATO CHIPS
TWIN PAK BOX

47¢

FRESH GRADE A WHOLE
FRYERS 25¢ LB.

SPLIT FRYERS LB. 27¢ CUT-UP FRYERS LB. 29¢

BUY JUST THE PART YOU LIKE BEST—FRESH
CHICKEN PARTS BREAsts THIGHS LEGS LB. 39¢

Hot, Golden Brown Ready-To-Eat BARBECUED CHICKENS LARGE FAMILY SIZE $1.39

FREE! 50
Gold Bond Stamps
With Purchase
Of 3 Pkgs. of
COLD CUTS

OPEN SUNDAYS
8 A.M. -
6 P.M.

VAN CAMP'S
PORK & BEANS
4 $1
Big 2½ Size Cans

FREE! 50
Gold Bond Stamps
With Purchase
Of 2 Lbs. Of FRESH LEAN
GROUND BEEF

OPEN
NIGHTS
TIL 9 P.M.

CANADIAN ACE
BEER

6 Pack 79¢

MA BROWN HAMBURGER SLICED
PICKLES 2 Pint Jars 49¢

SANITARY
CHIP DIP 29¢
8 Oz. Ctn.

STUFFED NO. 12 JAR
OLIVES 39¢

PAGE
NAPKINS 27¢
200 Ct.

KRAFT'S SALAD
MUSTARD 10¢
6 OZ. JAR

FREE
GOLD BOND
STAMPS with every purchase

Big
14 Oz.
Bottle

13¢

RANDALL'S WILL BE OPEN JULY 4th
8 A.M. to 6 P.M.

ONE-DAY
FILM DEVELOPING

GONNA' HAVE FUN IN THE SUN?

Then Be Prepared! Shop Randall's for Your Favorite Sun Tan Lotion and
Other Health and Beauty Aids
For Your Protection!

FREE
Gold
Bond
Stamps with Every Purchase

Randall's Will Cut
THICK STEAKS
To Any Thickness You Desire For Your Barbecue!

PEPSI-COLA

6 Pack 25¢
Ctn.

ANSCO
FILM
3 ROLLS
$1

SWEET JUICY GUARANTEED RIPE

WATERMELON

VINE RIPENED 5 FOR

JUMBO FRESH CANTALOUPE 99¢

Cuban Refuge
See Story, Page

Established in 1868

John

Makes

President Johnson winds up signing in the White House. Other signatories of the House, and Carl Hayden, are also present.

City Council 1965 Budget

By MIRIAM Staff

Funds for street construction system will apparently take the 1965 budget, according to initial made by City Manager Carsten.

The proposed water system street construction budget $280,000—representing 19.75 and 10.10 per cent of the total respectively.

Funds for maintenance of the water system, however, will not come from the general tax revenue, but from earnings of the system itself.

LEIKVOLD SUBMITTED the proposals for discussion by council members after he had received allocation requests from the city's department heads, bureaus and commissions.

His big problem in preparing the proposals, he told Council mem-

Park Board Asks Funds for Animals, New Equipment

Part of the City Council's discussion about initial budget proposals Thursday night dealt with six monkeys, a tractor, a power saw, road scarifier, two maling swans, and a prairie dog village.

The first four items are part of the necessary expenses listed by F. W. Seuppel, chairman of the park board, who protested the cut in his requests for capital outlay.

The two mating swans had been requested for the 1964 year. The request was turned down, but at Thursday night's meeting the council learned the swans were contributed from other sources.

Seuppel also hopes to add a prairie dog village to the park zoo. The council is taking the matters under advisement.

Ahh, The

Seven-year-old Joan Schwenke, 7 day's 90 degree, high humidity with a nice, cool, wading pool.