Action Follows House Passage 289-126

Makes It Law

President Johnson winds up signing the civil rights bill Thursday in the White House. Other signatures are John McCormack, Speaker of the House, and Carl Hayden, president pro tempore of the Senate.

City Councilmen Hear 1965 Budget Proposals

By MIRIAM TOMASEK
Staff Writer

Funds for street construction and operation of the water system will apparently take the largest shares of Iowa City's 1965 budget, according to initial proposals to the City Council made by City Manager Carsten D. Leikvold Tuesday night.

The proposed water system budget was $552,090 and the street construction budget $280,000 — representing 19.75 and 10.10 per cent of the total respectively.

Funds for maintenance of the water system, however, will not come from the general tax revenue, but from earnings of the system itself.

LEIKVOLD SUBMITTED the proposals for discussion by council members after he had received allocation requests from the city's department heads, bureaus and commissions.

His big problem in preparing the proposals, he told Council mem-

Park Board Asks Funds for Animals, New Equipment

Part of the City Council's discussion about initial budget proposals Thursday night dealt with six monkeys, a tractor, a power saw, road scarifier, two mating swans, and a prairie dog village.

The first four items are part of the necessary expenses listed by F. W. Seuppel, chairman of the park board, who protested the cut in his requests for capital outlay.

The two mating swans had been requested for the 1964 year. The request was turned down, but at Thursday night's meeting the council learned the swans were contributed from other sources.

Seuppel also hopes to add a prairie dog village to the park zoo. The council is taking the matters under advisement.

Ahh, That's Better

WASHINGTON — President Johnson signed the strongest civil rights law in nearly a century Thursday night, only three hours after Congress approved it amid cheers, and called on Americans to "eliminate the last vestiges of injustice in America."

In an historic ceremony in the East Room of the White House, Johnson pledged himself to "faithful execution" of the statute and announced immediate steps to insure its enforcement.

JOHNSON DELIVERED a conciliatory statement to the nation, by radio and television, and to more than 200 lawmakers, civil rights leaders and government officials on the spot who helped bring the sweeping legislation to enactment.

"We have come now to a kind of testing," Johnson said slowly and solemnly. "We must not fail. The bill had been delivered from the capitol with extraordinary speed after the 289-126 House vote which ended long and bitter congressional debate.

He appealed for voluntary compliance and predicted it will be given "because most Americans are law-abiding citizens who want to do what is right."

ALL PROVISIONS of the bill go into effect immediately except that barring discrimination in employment. That equal opportunity section takes effect in one year.

In what was clearly an effort to calm the indignation of many Southerners and refute the objections of those who have denounced the measure as an invasion of states' rights, Johnson told the country: "It provides for the national authority to step in only when others cannot and will not do the job."

His five-point program of implementation included:

1. ANNOUNCED that he is nominating Leroy Collins, former governor of Florida, to the key post as director of the Community Relations Service.
- Collins is stepping out as president of the National Association of Broadcasters to take the position.
2. DISCLOSED he is appointing an advisory committee of distinguished Americans to assist Collins.
3. ANNOUNCED he will send Congress a supplemental appropriation request to meet the added costs of administering the law.
4. DIRECTED federal agencies concerned to discharge their new responsibilities "without delay, and to keep me personally informed of their progress."
5. ANNOUNCED that administration officials will meet with citizens' groups to promote understanding of the law and "achieve a spirit of compliance."

ONLY AN HOUR'S debate preceded the House vote, and most speakers sounded the familiar themes that have been echoing through the House and Senate since last June.

But one member produced a major surprise — a Georgia Democrat who supported the bill.

Rep. Charles L. Weltner of Atlanta, who voted against a similar bill when it passed the House last February, drew cheers and applause from the bill's supporters when he announced he was changing his vote.

"I would urge that we at home now move on to the unfinished task of building a new South. We must not remain forever bound to another lost cause," he said.

THE SOUTHERN LEADERS of the opposition showed no weakening in their last fruitless opposition to the bill, however.

Rep. Howard W. Smith (D-Va.), said it would loose upon the South "a second invasion of carpetbaggers." He predicted violence, bitterness and bloodshed would inevitably follow enactment of the bill and ended his speech, "God save the United States of America."

The bill's supporters laid heavy stress on appeals for giving the bill a chance to work.

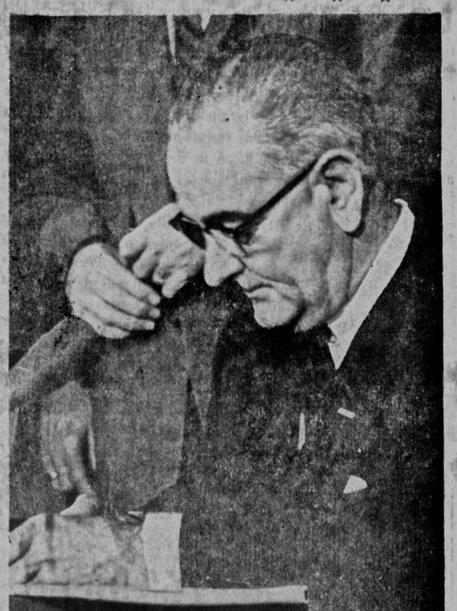

THE 289-126 roll call compared with the vote of 290 to 130 by which the House passed its version of the measure last February.

To end discrimination it arms the federal government with unprecedented new powers, but provides many safeguards intended to prevent their abuse. Also included are provisions calling for heavy reliance on local and state laws before invoking the new federal powers.

The provision that will probably be tested first is the one banning discrimination by places serving food, lodging, gasoline or entertainment to the public. It was the sit-ins by Negro students in Southern lunch counters that helped launch the Negro drive that contributed to passage of the bill.

Another major provision, but one that won't take effect for a year, bans discrimination by employers and unions in hiring, firing, job training and all other practices.

A PROVISION that Southern opponents fought hardest authorizes federal agencies to cut off funds for government programs or projects in which discrimination occurs.

Historic Occasion

President Johnson signed into law the civil rights bill in ceremonies Thursday night in the East Room of the White House. The President signed the bill several hours after final passage by the House. In a television and radio broadcast, Johnson said, "This is a proud time."

People To Help As Churches, SUI 'Let Freedom Ring'

The bells of four Iowa City churches and the Old Capitol will ring July 4.

The pastors of St. Mary's, St. Wenceslaus, Zion Lutheran, and the First Presbyterian churches, the only churches in the city which have bells, said they would ring their bells to commemorate Independence Day.

Phil E. Connell, assistant to the president, said the bell in Old Capitol will be rung.

The churches and the University were asked by Mayor Richard Burger to join with the people of Iowa City when they rang their bells on July 4 at 1 p.m. for four minutes.

Mayor Burger said he was reasonably sure that the people would ring their own hand bells along with the church bells as they did last year.

The Rev. Jack L. Zerwas, of the First Presbyterian Church, said the bell ringing was started last year when This Week Magazine requested the churches and people across the country to "let freedom ring." The request, the Rev. Zerwas said, was that the bells were to be rung at 12 noon for four minutes.

The time was changed this year because of daylight saving time.

Reuther Expects Chrysler To Repay Union Concessions

DETROIT — Walter Reuther said his United Auto Workers (UAW) union made contract concessions in 1961 to keep an ailing Chrysler Corporation alive and would expect Chrysler to repay the favor in 1964 contract talks which got under way Thursday.

The United Auto Workers president told newsmen his theme to Chrysler would be, "We helped you when you were in trouble and now that things are going well and your executives have made fantastic gains, we feel that Chrysler workers are entitled to share more fully in your prosperity."

John D. Leary, Chrysler vice president-administration, declined comment on the UAW proposal, saying only, "I'd like to know in more detail what Mr. Reuther has on his mind."

Reuther's appearance at Chrysler headquarters marked the conclusion of the first phase of the formal bargaining between the UAW and the auto industry.

Reuther recalled to newsmen that Chrysler was in a period of declining sales and profits when the UAW negotiated a three-year contract with it in 1961.

Nomination Divides Ike's Family, Party

By The Associated Press

The Eisenhower family finds itself in much the same position as the Republican party — divided over who should be nominated for president.

Within the blood family as within the political family, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower reportedly remains aloof from the fray, uncommitted to any candidate. His son was quoted last week as saying Eisenhower hadn't "revealed his real personal preference to me."

Eisenhower's older brother, Edgar, a 'acoma, Wash., attorney, is honorary chairman of the Washington State organization of Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater. A younger brother, Milton, president of Johns Hopkins University, is a Maryland delegate pledged to Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton and co-chairman of the "Scholars for Scranton" committee.

Eisenhower's son, John, has written letters in Scranton's behalf. And Eisenhower's nephew, Earl Jr., is an aide in Goldwater's campaign headquarters.

The former president, however, has said he wants to remain in a position to "soothe the ruffled feelings" and establish Republican unity after the party infighting.

His third brother, Earl, pretty much follows this line.

"Me? I'm not for anybody," Earl said in Chicago on Thursday. "I'm for a Republican for president, that's all. I am willing to support anybody nominated by the party at San Francisco."

NEA Told of Extremist's Danger in Public Schools

SEATTLE — The former superintendent of schools at Pleasantville, Iowa, told the national convention of the National Education Association (NEA) Thursday educators must recognize the threat of extremism and lead the fight against it.

Fred C. Nus, who, with 18 teachers, resigned under pressure at Pleasantville, told the NEA delegates:

"The extremist groups, preaching hate and suspicion, are more dangerous than communism to our way of life. A sad part of their attack on our schools is that it is the children who suffer the most."

"A year ago," Nus told the teachers' organization, "if anyone had told me Pleasantville schools would be completely demoralized, I would have said they were crazy. . . ."

"Now I know that any school can be demoralized by the extremists, because in Pleasantville they were able to create an atmosphere of hate and discord so extreme that 18 teachers resigned."

Jones Predicts Changes For Education in Decade

Looking into his opaque crystal ball, Howard Jones, dean of the SUI College of Education, made five predictions for higher education in the coming decade before the Iowa City Rotary Club Tuesday.

Alakazam Alphazoom. (Dean Jones' point one), Enrollments for institutions of higher learning will continue to increase. SUI's enrollment should total 20,000 in another decade, he said. While about 40 per cent of students graduating from high school now go on to college, the percentage is being increased one per cent per year, he added.

Alakazam Betazoom. Diversification of higher education will be increased. More emphasis must be placed on the two-year post-secondary school training, Dean Jones said. Junior colleges should be converted to community colleges, he added. The most marked increase in enrollment, percentage-wise, will be in the community college, he predicted.

Alakazam Gammazoom. Facilitation of mechanical teaching aids will be increased.

Alakazam Deltazoom. Curricular instruction will change to emphasize the "how" of learning. The "cloister compound" for academicians is going to vanish.

Alakazam Epsilozoom. Financing of tone's education beyond secondary training will become easier. "We need a modern equivalent to the G.I. Bill," Dean Jones said.

E. J. Liechty, publisher of the Iowa City Press-Citizen, was installed as president of the Iowa City Rotary Thursday; he succeeds Ainsley Burks, SUI purchasing agent. Coleman J. Major, SUI professor of chemical engineering, is the new vice president. Lloyd Berger and the Rev. Robert E. Holzhammer are new board members.

Today's News Briefly

PHILADELPHIA, Miss. — The intensive hunt for the missing three civil rights workers moved for the first time Thursday to the east toward the Alabama line. Ground search parties began a foot-by-foot search in the piney woods area of rural Kemper County, adjoining Neshoba County to the east and abutting on the Alabama line.

Council To Study Commission Plan For Housing Code

The Iowa City Human Relations Commission has presented a model housing code to City Manager Carsten Leikvold and City Attorney Jay Honohan for consideration. The Commission will not explain the contents of the proposed code until the Council has the opportunity to study it.

In a letter to Honohan, read at Thursday night's meeting the Commission said, "Because of the existing need and the great demand for this ordinance, we are hoping that you can expedite this matter as quickly as possible and encourage the Council to place it on the agenda."

In other action the Commission urged the Council to adopt a non-discrimination clause in all contracts let by the City.

WASHINGTON — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee voted overwhelmingly Thursday for President Johnson's $3.5-billion foreign aid program after trimming it a mere $50 million.

This administration victory on the authorization bill came only a day after House passage of an appropriations bill to provide $3.3 billion in new funds for the program for fiscal 1965.

WASHINGTON — The Senate passed 58-21 Thursday a $64-million pay raise bill boosting salaries for federal executives and judges, members of Congress and 1.7 million rank-and-file government workers.

The legislation, strongly urged by President Johnson as essential to keep talented people in government, goes back to the House which passed a $535-million version last month.

Sens. Bourke Hickenlooper and Jack Miller, Iowa Republicans, voted against the pay increase bill.

Labor Union Ruled Guilty Of Race Bias

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government agency ruled a labor union guilty of racial discrimination, and a civil rights spokesman Thursday hailed the decision as a major effective weapon for Negro employment rights than the new civil rights bill.

The ruling of the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) stripped the independent Metal Workers Union of its government certification at the Hughes Tool Co. in Houston, Tex., opening the door for another union to displace it.

"THIS DECISION I think is of almost revolutionary proportions," said Robert L. Carter, general counsel for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Carter said the ruling would have more immediate practical effect than the fair employment section of the civil rights bill, and would pave the way for acceptance of the new law.

The five-member NLRB was unanimous in de-certifying the union, but two members gave more restricted grounds for their decision.

The majority said "Whenever a union in its capacity as bargaining representative of all employes causes discrimination against some of them based on racial lines, it has committed an unfair labor practice."

The majority said "Whenever a union in its capacity as bargaining representative of all employes causes discrimination against some of them based on racial lines, it has committed an unfair labor practice."

THE MAJORITY based its decision on the unions maintaining segregated white and Negro locals and a contract with the employer under which there was job segregation and greater employment opportunities for white workers.

Hultman Says Fairfield Is Economically Stable

FAIRFIELD — Atty. Gen. Ewan Hultman, Republican candidate for governor, said Thursday night that Fairfield has grown into an economically stable community since it was founded 125 years ago.

Hultman addressed an audience attending Republican Day, which was part of the city's celebration of its founding.

In the fields of agriculture, business and higher education Fairfield, home of Parsons College, has shown the way to economic stability, Hultman said.

"By 125 years of this kind of growth," he said, "Fairfield has proven the fact that the economically stable community is one based upon diversification with the effort initiated at the level of the individual."

Young 'Co-ed' Gives View Of Institute

Editor's Note — Rita Shaffer, 12, from Dayton, Ohio, is spending the summer with her grandparents who live in Tiffin. She is attending the Spanish Demonstration classes taught by Mrs. Ringo. The following story records her impressions of the class.

By RITA SHAFER
Guest Writer

The Cubans in our class are very friendly. Whenever I talk to them I learn something new. For instance, my sister Cleo and I were chatting with three of the Cubans. When I told them my name was Rita, they told me all about St. Rita (a Saint in the Catholic Church). When I didn't understand exactly what they were saying they were very patient and repeated what they had said.

We have had 10 Cubans teach our class so far under the supervision of Mrs. Ringo, and I am anxious to see how the others will teach us.

We have fifteen minutes at the beginning of class in which we are in the phonetic language laboratory listening to tapes that help us to learn how to pronounce the words. Each day, a different Cuban "takes the controls" and listens to the students pronounce the conversations and corrects those who make a mistake. He has control over the whole room. He can speak to the whole room, one row or one individual person, as he wishes.

From where I sit, I can see that they will be very good teachers.

MULTI LINGUISTIC — Linguists estimate that at least 3,000 languages and major dialects are spoken in the world today.

Refugees Prepare To Teach in Iowa

DOREEN RYDE
Feature Editor

Cuban Refugees attending special classes at SUI to become Spanish teachers in Iowa high schools are trying their hand at teaching volunteer Spanish students from Iowa City and surrounding areas. The methods and observation class, taught by Mrs. Elbert Ringo, has 20 to 30 volunteer beginning Spanish students.

The demonstration class, which is held Monday through Thursday in Schaeffer Hall, uses the conversational approach to teaching Spanish. Institute director Florindo Cerreta, associate professor of romance languages, explained that the refugees are most suited to this type of teaching.

MRS. RINGO uses audio-lingual techniques, and the latest available teaching aids. After the language class is over, the students spend 20 minutes in the SUI language laboratory.

The students from the monitor lab which is equipped with amplification for all monitored positions in the laboratory. Mrs. Ringo explains the laboratory's activity to the refugees and demonstrates various techniques for student monitoring and grading laboratory work.

IT IS THE JOB of the Institute for the Orientation of Cuban Refugee Teachers to prepare the refugees to teach in the fall. They receive a temporary teacher's certificate to teach for one year in Iowa public schools but are required to complete further work in successive summer sessions at either SUI, State College of Iowa, Drake, or Iowa State University.

The curriculum each must complete for a temporary certificate includes an American civilization component co-ordinated with the course on American Government and politics.

Participants in the institute are selected from refugees registered at the Cuban Refuge Center in Miami, Fla., a part of the U.S. Office of Employment.

PARTICIPANTS MUST have earned degrees in Cuba equivalent to bachelor degrees awarded by accredited U.S. colleges and universities. They must be able to produce documentary evidence of their degrees to qualify for interviews for the institute.

Other requirements for the refugees include proficiency in English usage and one year of teaching experience in Cuba.

The long range goal of the institute is to facilitate the extension of foreign language instruction in Iowa public schools. It also seeks to increase the understanding among the Cubans of the responsibility of freedom citizens of the United States enjoy.

GOP Leaders Criticize Lodge

WASHINGTON — Top Republican congressional leaders made clear Thursday that they will rely heavily in the coming presidential campaign on charges that President Johnson is soft on Communism — with special emphasis placed on Viet Nam.

But Johnson was only one target in the weekly joint news conference by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) and Rep. Charles A. Halleck (R-Ind.) — the other was fellow Republican Henry Cabot Lodge.

The Senate and House minority leaders both struck indirectly at Lodge through their attack on Administration policy in South Viet Nam.

Dirksen voiced the harshest on-the-record criticism yet made by a top Republican leader of Lodge's 1960 role when he was the party's vice-presidential nominee. Dirksen said:

"If he hadn't kept banker's hours, we might have fared a little better," Dirksen said.

PLEADS GUILTY TO FRAUD — PITTSBURGH — Earl Belle, one-time Pittsburgh boy financial wizard, pleaded guilty to several counts of fraud and record falsification Tuesday and was sentenced to 2½ years in prison and fined $10,000.

Belle, 31, made a surprise appearance in U.S. District Court and was sentenced by Judge Rabe F. Marsh.

Belle pleaded guilty to 26 counts and pleaded no defense to 18 other counts. The charges generally covered fraud and falsification of financial records.

AT Geneva — Hope for an international agreement to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons received a severe setback Thursday as the United States and the Soviet Union clashed head-on over the proposed multinational force for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

In a strongly worded speech at a conference, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin demanded that the West cancel plans for the multinational nuclear force.

Otherwise, he said, the West must face the consequences if nuclear weapons get into the hands of other nations.

CHIEF U.S. delegate William C. Foster, in a sharply worded reply, accused the Soviet Union of using groundless political arguments against the force in the "pursuit of its long-standing aim to disrupt NATO defensive arrangements."

Foster said the Soviet allegations against the mixed-manned force were based on "false reasoning and unfounded fears."

Zorin repeated Soviet charges that the proposed force — ships armed with nuclear weapons and manned by men of different nationalities — is just an excuse to give West Germany access to nuclear weapons.

ZORIN CHALLENGED the American claim that the force is the best way of preventing other nations from getting their hands on the nuclear trigger.

"If they really mean this, it can only signify one thing: The government of the United States itself considers the creation of the NATO multinational force to be at least as effective a means of quenching the nuclear thirst of West German revenge-seekers as the creation of their own nuclear weapons," Zorin said.

Poster said the force is designed to protect Western Europe against the Soviet nuclear threat and is the only alternative to the spread of nuclear weapons in Europe and throughout the world.

He called for an international agreement to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons and warned of the dangers of these weapons falling into the hands of powers which at present have no nuclear armaments.

Viet Convoy Escapes Trap With U.S. Aid

SAIGON, South Viet Nam — Communist guerrillas ambushed a big Vietnamese army convoy in the central highlands but the convoy was saved from annihilation by the guns of two U.S. helicopters, officials reported Thursday.

The Red ambush was sprung Wednesday and before the fighting ended 29 government troops were killed, 24 were wounded and five are missing, U.S. and Vietnamese officers reported. At least three guerrillas were killed.

While the dazed men of the 36-truck convoy fell back and the guerrillas seized the convoy's arms, an unarmed U.S. helicopter appeared. Two U.S. soldiers opened up with their carbines.

Then an armed U.S. helicopter roared up from a valley and let go with machine guns and rockets, scattering the black clad guerrillas into the jungles. By that time the Viet Cong had seized a Vietnamese machine gun and 30 individual weapons.

The arrival of the helicopters kept the 200 or so guerrillas from getting away with what they wanted most — the high explosive shells carried in some of the trucks.

Local Man Bombs Bee Swarm; Sets Tree Fire

George Kondora, 330 N. Lucas St., was troubled by a swarm of bees who took up residence in a tree in his yard Wednesday night. Kondora put a sulphur bomb in the tree to drive the bees away.

Shortly after 5 a.m. Thursday Iowa City firemen were called to the scene to extinguish a blaze in a tree, apparently caused by the sulphur.

Kondora's idea worked. The bees abandoned the tree.

Giants Continue To Set Pace With 6-5 Win over Pirates

2-Run Homer By Cepeda In 6th Inning

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Orlando Cepeda's two-run homer launched the San Francisco Giants to a five-run sixth inning, a 6-5 victory over Pittsburgh and the National League leaders' 12th triumph in their last 14 games Thursday.

Cepeda's smash over the right field fence scored Willie McCovey who had singled. Before the inning was over the Giants collected singles from Jim Hart, Jose Pagan, Jesus Alou and Hal Lanier, a walk and a wild pitch.

The uprising came primarily at the expense of starter Steve Blass, who lost his fifth game against three victories.

Southpaw Bob Hendley won the game, putting his record at 8-4, despite needing relief from Bob Shaw in the seventh after Gene Alley hit a solo homer.

Alley's hit made the score 6-3, and the Pirates came even closer with two runs in the eighth. Roberto Clemente walked and scored on Donn Clendenon's fourth hit, a double. Clendenon went to third on a wild pitch and scored on Willie Stargell's sacrifice fly.

Twins Blast BoSox, 15-9

BOSTON (AP) — Rookie Tony Oliva fused Minnesota's pre-holiday fireworks with a three-run homer and tightened the American League batting race in the Twins' 15-9 victory over Boston Thursday.

Oliva rocketed loser Jack Lamabe's 1-0 pitch into the right center field bullpen, launching a five-run first inning. He also singled twice and made a leaping backhand grab of Carl Yastrzemski's smash, preventing a Red Sox home run.

Minnesota, following its 14-3 rout of Boston Wednesday night, bunched another six runs in the sixth inning. The Twins now have won three straight and five out of six.

Oliva's 3-for-5 performance hiked his average five points to .339 and enabled him to close in on teammate Bob Allison, the League's leading batsman. Allison, with two singles in four trips, is at .342.

Cardinals Edge Milwaukee, 4-3

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Pinch hits by Charlie James and Carl Warwick finished Warren Spahn in the seventh inning Thursday and sparked a two-run rally which gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 4-3 victory over the Milwaukee Braves.

The defeat marked Spahn's ninth consecutive failure to finish and left the 43-year-old left-hander with a 5-8 record.

James and Warwick landed their one-two punch with Julian Javier on first base with a single and one out. James doubled Javier home with the tying run, then Warwick hit a single on which James stopped at third. Hank Fischer then replaced Spahn and Lou Brock broke the tie with a sacrifice fly.

Javier hit a home run earlier, his fourth of the year against the Braves, more than any other player in the National League.

Yanks Win First Of 2 in 15 Innings

NEW YORK (AP) — Hector Lopez singled with the bases loaded in the 15th inning, giving the New York Yankees a 4-3 victory over Kansas City Thursday night.

Former Eagle Star Named As Hilgenberg's Successor

Wayne Robinson, 35, former star player at Minnesota and with the Philadelphia Eagles, has been named coach of the SUI football team.

Jerry Burns, head coach, announced Thursday night that Robinson, a veteran of professional coaching in Canada, will replace Jerry Hilgenberg on the Iowa staff.

Hilgenberg, an All-America center at Iowa and a member of the coaching staff since 1956 was named last week to a position with the SUI Foundation, which receives and administers private gifts and bequests of the University.

Robinson, a University of Minnesota center and linebacker, was the 1950 "Most Valuable Player" and the 1951 Gopher captain. After he was graduated, he played for five years in the National Football League as a linebacker for the Eagles. Robinson and Chuck Bed-narik spearheaded a defensive unit which opponents called the "Suicide Seven."

Since 1961, Robinson has been enrollment director of the Western Canadian Scholarship Trust Foundation, a non-profit organization the purpose of which is to provide scholarships and assistance to deserving Canadian students and universities.

The new Hawkeye defensive coach has all-professional selection in 1954-55 and represented the Eagles in the All-Pro Bowl Game in Los Angeles.

Robinson retired from the Eagles in 1957 to join his former Minnesota teammate, Harry (Bud) Grant in Winnipeg as defensive coach of the Winnipeg Blue Bombers, Canadian professional champions. He was head coach of the British Columbia Lions from 1959 to 1961.

Grand Slam In 9th Inning Sinks Orioles

BALTIMORE (AP) — Willie Smith smacked a grand slam homer in the ninth inning — his fourth hit of the game — and powered the Los Angeles Angels to a 10-6 victory over the American League leading Baltimore Orioles Thursday night.

The loss trimmed the Orioles' edge over second-place New York to three games.

Smith, a so-so pitcher turned slugging outfielder, capped his one-man show with his bases-loaded homer in the ninth off ace Oriole reliever Stu Miller. Smith, who earlier had collected two doubles and a single, wound up the night with six runs batted in.

Four Card 66 In Whitmarsh Golf Tourney

WHITEMARSH, Pa. (AP) — Juan Chi-Chi Rodriguez, Tony Lema, Tom Shaw, and Al Bading tied with six-under-par 66s Thursday for the first round lead in the $125,000 Whitmarsh Open Golf Tournament.

The four leaders led a charge over Whitmarsh Country Club's 6,807-yard course on a sultry, 90-degree day that saw almost half the field shoot par or better. The birdies and at least half a dozen eagles came thick and fast.

Just a stroke off the pace in the field of 150 came Larry Mowry of Portland, Ore.; Dave Marr of New Rochelle, N.Y., and California Tommy Jacobs, each with 67.

Arnold Palmer, helped by an eagle 3 on the 17th, turned in a 68, along with Al Bessieck, another late finisher and six others.

Shaw was the first to post the score that commanded his first day of the four-day, 72-hole competition for the first prize of $24,000 and other loot. The Portland, Ore., golfer birdied five of the last six holes in his scorching finish.

Then, along came Rodriguez, 10th leading money winner on the pro trail, with a sizzling 32-34 over the sun baked 36-36-72 layout just outside Philadelphia.

Two Americans Killed Special Force Against V

By PETER ARNETT
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Fighting with their backs to flaming barracks, 300 Government troops beat off waves of Communist Viet Cong guerrillas making a savage assault Monday on a U.S. Special Forces camp in the central highlands. Casualties on both sides ran high, with two Americans killed and four wounded among them.

U.S. officers called the defense of the camp at Nam Dong a magnificent show of courage by the Government defenders and a platoon of women nurses who treated the wounded under fire and crawled along the ground to strip the dead of needed first-aid kits. Sev-

Senate Votes Tight Controls Of Foreigners

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate passed by voice vote Monday a bill tightening controls over the activities of agents serving foreign interests in this country.

Among other things, it would prohibit lobbyists for foreign powers or foreign commercial interests from using funds of the foreign principal to make political contributions to American candidate for office. It also would require such an agent to file a report of any campaign contributions he makes to American candidates from his own funds.

The legislation, sponsored by Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, stemmed from a prolonged investigation last year into alleged attempts by foreign-paid lobbyists to influence U.S. sugar quotas and other American policies for the benefit of their foreign clients.

The bill also would: 1. Empower the attorney general to enjoin an agent from acting for his foreign principal if the agent's filings with the Justice Department under the Foreign Agents Registration Act are found to be inadequate. 2. Require the agent to disclose the foreign principal he represents in all communications with the Government as well as in appearances before congressional committees and supply proof of his registration whenever he testifies. 3. Prohibit an agent from making a contract with a foreign client on a contingency fee basis under which his compensation would be determined by his ability to deliver the U.S. favor or help desired by the client.

Groups of friends and relatives visited the Archie Chapman home in Tiffin Monday night after they learned of the death of the Chapmans' son, Carl, 27.

Archie Chapman, 73, and his wife, Allie, 69, heard of the death of their youngest son, whose body was found stuffed in a closet in his Iowa City home, from another son, John, 46, John, with a police officer, discovered the body about 12:30 p.m. Monday.

The elder Chapman, whom relatives said is not in good health, took the news hard, according to his family. Another son, Harold, 42, Earlville, and a daughter, Mrs. Louise Brown, Tiffin, joined their parents Monday night.
