Memorial in the park for two little girls

The Parents of Lisa Reissmann and Arika Beurlink, who were killed in a tragic fire, will hold a memorial service for their children this Sunday. The event will be held at the Little Kids Memorial Park, located at 123 Main Street. The service begins at 10 a.m., followed by a brief ceremony.

Contributions to the fund have come from friends, families of the girls and various organizations. We have received more than $100,000 in donations. In addition, the funeral expenses will be covered by the city. We are grateful for the outpouring of support from the community.

At the ceremony, speakers will include Rabbi Dr. David Greenberg, who will give a eulogy, and Mayor John S. Martin, who will address the crowd. Following the ceremony, there will be a procession to the cemetery, where the girls will be buried with full military honors.

The families of the girls have requested that no flowers be sent, but they have encouraged contributions to the memorial fund. For more information, please contact the city's Department of Community Affairs at (555) 123-4567.

General Taylor plays dual role in Viet Nam

RED CROSS ARMS second meeting Tuesday against Viet Nam's racial policies, "As Nato tries to save her nation, General Taylor has shown the world that the Viet Nam problem is not just a military one. It is a problem of human rights and social justice."

This statement was made by Ms. Elizabeth Jones, a representative of the Red Cross.

Ms. Jones has been in Viet Nam for the past two months, and has been working with the local Red Cross chapter. She said that the Viet Nam government has not been doing enough to protect the rights of its citizens.

"The Viet Nam government is not only committing atrocities, but also suppressing the freedom of speech and press," Ms. Jones said. "The Red Cross is doing everything we can to help the people of Viet Nam, but the government is not cooperating."

Ms. Jones also expressed concern about the lack of medical supplies and equipment in the Viet Nam hospitals.

She said that the Red Cross is working to improve the conditions in the hospitals, but that it is difficult to make progress without the cooperation of the government.

Ms. Jones appealed to the Viet Nam government to open up its prisons and detention centers to international observers. She also called for the release of all political prisoners and offenders.

Ms. Jones ended her statement by saying, "We will continue to work with the people of Viet Nam until their basic human rights are protected and respected."

Lodge Queried on Viet Nam

By ROBERT A. CLAYTON

The Lodge, a controversial group of women, has been queried by the Congressional Investigating Committee on Viet Nam.

The Lodge is a group of women who have been actively involved in the anti-Viet Nam movement. They believe that the Viet Nam war is a crime against humanity.

The Lodge has been queried by the Congression

on Viet Nam. The committee is investigating the Lodge's activities and its relation to the Viet Nam war.

The Lodge denies that it has any connections to the Viet Nam war. It claims that it is simply a group of women who are concerned about the war.

Cast In Repertory Theatre
Spends Long Hours On Stage

Must Rehearse Each Day To Perfection

By MARILYN HOLMES
Assistant Press Editor

"This is how the world was made — in a crisis!"
That is how the Repertory Theatre, for three months nightly with "Dinny and the Witches," a literary version of William Shakespeare's "The Comedy of Errors," developed its magic.

A southern gentlewoman, with housing and a part in the play, and not a voice could say it.

How the World Was Made

These three witches, played by Kathryn A. Shurtief, Anna Luther, and Holly A. Mickels, make a formidable trio. Dinny's faults include greed, vanity, hate, ignorance and conceit.

The Radiation Control Program Renewed

United States Chamber Opposes Poverty Bill

The U.S. Chamber of Commerce, in a letter to the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, has expressed a strong opposition to the Poverty Bill, which has been introduced in Congress. The Chamber argues that the bill would impose an unnecessary and expensive bureaucracy on the nation's economy, and that the funds it would allocate to poverty alleviation programs are better spent on other areas. The letter cites a recent study by the Chamber's Research and Education Foundation, which found that a more effective approach to poverty control would be through increased job training and education. The Chamber is also concerned about the potential for federal interference in state and local programs, which it believes would undermine the autonomy of those agencies. The Chamber's position is supported by a majority of American businesses and has been endorsed by the National Association of Manufacturers and the National Association of Manufacturers and the National Republican Committee.

The College of Education is committed to preparing educators and leaders for the 21st century, and to advancing knowledge and understanding of education and educational administration.
Top Sports Car Drivers To Test Greenwood Course

A $25,000 purse will be at stake when the nation’s fastest sports car drivers compete in a multimile road race over the famed Greenwood Roadway course, just south of Des Moines, July 29.

The big event is the seventh in a series of United States Road Racing Championships (USCCU) events as ready tracks around the nation.

Greenwood is expected to give the pros one of their toughest bouts. The track, which combines long straightaways with its curving, sinuous nature, has produced exciting racing events in the United States.

Sculpting the early 80’s for the five drivers in the field is fellow Air Force pilot and former United States Air Force Academy cadet, Capt. David C. Eddy, who finished first in the race here last year.

Liga Trails Pace Setters By 2 Strokes

In the popular lightweight 125cc class, Bob Howard, 17-year-old farm boy from Valdosta, Georgia, and 55-year-old Hall Johnson, an Iowa farmer, won their races by two strokes.

Howard, riding a Suzuki 125cc, went around to the inside of Matt Beal of Des Moines, Iowa, on the last circuit to win by two strokes.

Johnson, competing on a Honda 125cc, did the same, also leading for two strokes.

Eagles Trade With Steelers For 2 Backs

Philadelphia — Philadelphia Eagles Coach Don Shula confirmed his “operation successful blackout” Wednesday with a news release that sent veteran fullback John Holiday to Pittsburgh.

“Holiday’s request to be traded may have been his last chance because he showed up for the Eagles’ opening game at the Los Angeles Rams,” Shula said.

Holiday, whose contract was expiring at the end of the season, had asked to be traded to another team.

Holiday was shown last week in a video that also showed Eagles center Roger Staubach of Dallas.

Holiday traded won, Calhoun-Sadler and Harold Jackson.

The Eagles opened the season with Holiday’s return from the Green Bay Packers. His name has been resubmitted to the Eagles' line because of a key role in the team’s victory over the San Francisco 49ers.
