

Humphrey Heads VP Race After 6 Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson announced Thursday night he has eliminated six men, including Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, as Vice Presidential possibilities, and will announce his choice in due time.

One of those not eliminated was Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, who may be the leading possibility at this point.

Johnson told a cluster of reporters summoned to a White House conference room that he had decided it would not do for him to recommend any member of the Cabinet, or anyone who meets regularly with the Cabinet, for second place on the Democratic ticket.

OTHERS ELIMINATED by name from the President's list of prospects are Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman, Adlai Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations and Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver.

The surprise political move was almost certain to stir up immediate speculation that it was aimed at halting Kennedy and perhaps boosting Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota.

An AP poll of Democratic convention delegates which was released, by coincidence, at the time of Johnson's disclosure, showed Humphrey a 3-to-2 choice for the second place on the ticket to be named next month. Kennedy finished behind Humphrey in the poll.

AN HOUR after Johnson divulged his action, Kennedy issued a statement from his Justice Department office, saying: "As I have always said, it is the President's responsibility to make known his choice for Vice President."

"It is in the interest of all of us who were associated with President Kennedy to continue the efforts to advance the programs and ideals to which he devoted his life and which President Johnson is carrying forward."

The Presidential eliminating process raised some questions. WHY DID JOHNSON consider it inadvisable to propose a Cabinet or sub-cabinet official for a running mate?

Informed sources explained it this way: The President has been working with these men day after day, watching them and the tensions they are under and had decided he did not want to ask any to resign their jobs now to plunge into a political campaign.

IN ADDITION to the 10 Cabinet members, Stevenson, Shriver, and White House Press Secretary George Reedy, Johnson's statement removed any dark horse possibilities for these men who regularly attend Cabinet sessions.

Central Intelligence Director John McCone, Presidential assistant McGeorge Bundy, Director Carl Rowan of U.S. Information Agency, Budget Director Kermit Gordon, Economics Consultant Walter Heller, Foreign Aid Administrator David Bell, and from the state department, Undersecretary George Ball and Undersecretary Averell Harriman.

The narrowed down list now apparently would include Humphrey, Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota, Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, and Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown of California.

HUMPHREY said he was honored by the results of the poll, but the choice is one "the President himself will make."

He had no immediate comment on Johnson's later statement eliminating various possibilities for the second spot on the ticket.

While he was at it, Johnson just about dispelled any pretense that he is not yet an actual candidate for the nomination for the Presidency — a nomination that is all but certain.

His declaration of elimination of six men from the Vice Presidential list followed a news conference in which the President sketched the qualifications he would like for a running mate to have, and repeated that he had reached no decision on the man.

affairs, and "a man that is well received in all the states of the Union, among all of our people."

The Johnson bill of particulars probably would fit Humphrey as well as anyone. But the President denied he had anyone in particular in mind in offering it in response to a request.

The civil rights issue also figured in the news conference. It was introduced by a questioner who noted Wednesday's appeal by six civil rights leaders for a broad curtailment, if not a total moratorium, on demonstrations until after the Nov. 3 election. Johnson was asked whether he thinks such a cooling-off period would be beneficial to the nation.

JOHNSON SAID it is understandable that those who are aggrieved will take to the streets, whether rightly or wrongly, when machinery does not exist to redress grievances.

But he added: "The Civil Rights Act was established to provide machinery to transfer the area of conflict from the streets and highways to the courts and the conciliation chambers, and the weapons of conflict from the club and the brick to the presentation of evidence and reasoned argument."

He commended all those who are willing to give all the laws a chance to work, and said that he "would not argue with anyone who chose to pursue a policy of registration in lieu of demonstration."

City Realtors Unanimous In Opposing Fair Housing

The Iowa City Board of Realtors Thursday went on record as opposed to the Fair Housing Ordinance being considered by the Iowa City Council.

The realtors' statement said they support the individual's right to sell, rent, lease and finance real estate in Iowa City according to his own principles.

THE PROPOSED ordinance would prohibit discrimination in housing on the basis of race, creed or national origin, and would apply to the lease, sale, rental and financing of property, residential or commercial.

Bud Means, the organization's president, said the statement definitely means the realtors oppose an ordinance in the form of the Fair Housing Ordinance sponsored by the Iowa City Human Relations Commission. All 54 members of the Board of Realtors voted to support the policy statement.

FATHER L. D. SOENS, chairman of the Human Relations Commission, said he is not surprised by the stand of the realtors, but was surprised at the confusing wording of their statement.

The statement reads: "The Iowa City Board of Realtors holds steadfastly to the principle that the right to own, rent, and dispose of real property, and the right to use it freely within the limits of necessary measures to protect the public health and safety are traditional, constitutional guarantees to each citizen, and indispensable to the maintenance of a free society of free men. Government should not deny, limit, or abridge these fundamental rights."

"WHILE WE WILL not defend racial or religious discrimination, it does not follow that every possible action taken to eliminate discrimination is either good or necessary."

"Indeed, legislative action attempting to eliminate discrimination and bias will ultimately lead to the destruction of individual liberty. We believe that the constitution of the United States is not a document limiting the rights of man, but is a document specifically designed to limit the power of society over man.

"We believe the real attainment of open occupancy lies in brotherhood, tolerance, education and understanding — and these are not achieved overnight, nor can they be legislated in the very personal relationships that exist in the home. It is the obligation of the churches, schools, the homes and men of good will everywhere — and particularly Realtors — to work toward this goal of social consent."

WHEN INFORMED of the realtors' stand, Father Soens issued the following statement: "We are pleased that the Realtors have now made known their position relative to this matter. They have given to the public a statement of principles which governs their action and thinking. The commission does not feel the principles as they are stated are a legitimate objection to the ordinance being considered."

The City Council heard the ordinance on first reading at its July 21 meeting; three readings are required by state law. The second reading is slated for the Council's Tuesday meeting, with the third reading expected Aug. 18.

At the July 21 meeting, the Council was severely criticized for deleting an enforcement provision from the ordinance. The Human Relations Commission had proposed taking violators to Johnson County District Court if local arbitration failed. At that time Father Soens said the Council had taken out the only tooth left in the ordinance.

The Council defended its action by saying it wanted to see if the city could handle the matter within its own jurisdiction.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Clair Engle (D-Calif.), died Thursday within a year after being stricken by a brain tumor that partly paralyzed him and finally forced him to abandon efforts to fight for reelection.

The 52-year-old Californian underwent brain surgery last Aug. 23 and again on April 24. He had been generally bedridden since the second operation. Death came to him early Thursday morning at his home with his wife, Lucretia, and a physician beside him.

It was last month that Engle made his final dramatic appearance in the Senate in a wheelchair. He voted with a wave and a nod — his speech being paralyzed — for cloture on the civil rights bill June 10 and for passage of the bill June 19.

SPECULATION in California was that Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown would appoint former White House press secretary Pierre Salinger to fill out Engle's unexpired term.

Salinger won the Democratic nomination for Engle's Senate seat in a heated June primary battle with California State Controller Alan Cranston. An interim appointment to the job could give Salinger added prestige in his campaign against the Republican candidate, former actor George Murphy.

Brown was confined to the executive mansion in Sacramento with a broken ankle and gave no hint of his plans.

The governor issued a statement praising Engle as a man who set "new high standards for public service" as a district attorney, a state senator, a congressman and then U.S. Senator.

Salinger heard of Engle's death while in Saigon, South Viet Nam. He immediately canceled the remainder of his 18-nation tour and said he would return for Engle's funeral in Red Bluff, Calif., Monday.

Ranger 7 Aimed For Close-Ups Of Moon Surface

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Ranger 7 coasted toward the moon Thursday with its cameras properly aimed for what could be history's first close-up pictures of the mysterious surface American astronauts hope to explore in a few years.

U.S. space marksmanship has been so accurate thus far that Jet Propulsion Laboratory scientists decided Thursday morning to cancel a final maneuver they thought might be needed to point the cameras straight at the moon before impact Friday at 8:25 a.m. CDT.

At 2 p.m. CDT, Thursday, the 806-pound spacecraft was only 51,512 miles from its target. Its speed has slowed from the original rocket-boasted 24,000 miles an hour to 2,157 m.p.h.

Mississippi Bail Fund Still $700 Short of Goal

The drive to get bail money for students participating in the Mississippi Summer Projects sponsored by the Congress of Federated Organizations reached $1,786.76 Thursday. That leaves the sponsors more than $700 short of their goal.

John Huntley, chairman of the drive, said a few departments are still contributing money, but most have completed their reports. Huntley said money will be accepted until Sept. 1. Contributions may be made to Huntley, 44 OAT or the First National Bank of Iowa City.

Suicide Attempt At Union Bridge Foiled by Police

Two policemen pulled a 23-year-old woman from a pillar of the Iowa Memorial Union bridge early Wednesday — foiling a second attempted suicide.

According to police, the woman, a former mental patient at University Hospitals left a note in her room, then tried to slash her wrists in a telephone booth.

She was found by a friend who took her to University Hospital where she was treated for minor wrist cuts. While being treated the woman ran from the hospital to the footbridge where she climbed up on one of the pillars.

Two policemen tried to talk her down for about a half hour before they climbed up, grabbed her and handed her to an Iowa Highway Patrolman.

She was taken back to University Hospitals to finish treatment and be released to her parents.

Schmidhauser Asks Erickson for Proof

Another rash of charges and countercharges among Eastern Iowa politicians has resulted from a charge Dale Erickson, Iowa City Republican candidate for the State House of Representatives, leveled earlier this week against two members of the SUI Athletic Department.

It marks the second time this year Erickson has accused Robert Flora, administrative assistant, and Forest Evashevski, athletic director, of mixing University business and politics.

Erickson said Flora and Evashevski were responsible for "1. Alienation of alumni and friends of the University of Iowa. 2. Loss of generous financial contributions to the University of Iowa scholarship funds."

ERICKSON FURTHER said, "Recently I have been advised of incidents involving friends and alumni of the University of Iowa. In one case, Mr. Flora called a friend of the University in another city and asked him for a financial contribution to the Hughes-for-Governor campaign."

"In another case, Mr. Flora called an alumnus in another city and asked him to come to Iowa City as he had something he would like to discuss with him. When this person arrived at Mr. Flora's office in the Fieldhouse in Iowa City he was asked for a donation to the Hughes-for-Governor campaign fund, of which Mr. Evashevski is statewide co-chairman."

"To say the least, this person was shocked and dismayed at this request. He left the Fieldhouse vowing not to contribute to scholarship funds, as he had been doing, until this situation is cleared up."

"The net results of this are the alienation of alumni and friends of SUI and loss of generous financial contributions to the SUI scholarship funds."

Mr. Flora is using University facilities and public funds for his personal ambitions, said Erickson, who hopes to keep "our education system free from partisan politics."

ERICKSON MADE the charges in a speech to the Johnson County Republican Women's Workshop Tuesday night. He said Wednesday that he learned of the developments in a state audit of telephone calls requested by Erickson personally.

State Attorney-General Evan Hultman told Erickson that he had received a complaint from a "friend of the University," concerning a telephone call from Erickson.

Dr. Hancher Will Receive High Award

The Air Force Exceptional Service Award, the highest that can be given by the Secretary of the Air Force, will be presented today to SUI's former president, Dr. Virgil M. Hancher.

The award will be presented by Brig. Gen. William Crumm, director of operations for the Strategic Air Command, at a luncheon in the Union.

The citation from the Department of Air Force commends Dr. Hancher for "exceptionally meritorious service to the United States Air Force" from Nov. 1, 1940, to May 1, 1964. "During this period," the citation says, "President Hancher generously devoted much of his valuable time, prestige and professional knowledge to the training of cadets in the Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Corps."

THE CITATION concludes: "President Hancher rendered invaluable service to the Air Force as educational adviser on the Air Force Academy Site Selection Committee and as a member of the Air Force Academy Board of Visitors from January, 1954, through December, 1958."

Coralville urged to join planning body

GREATER IOWA CITY'S Metropolitan Planning Commission has been officially organized, but with the conspicuous absence of representatives from neighboring Coralville.

Coralville's City Council unanimously decided not to join the Commission, and its mayor has stated that members of the council could see no advantage in their becoming part of the Commission. Leaders on the Commission regretted Coralville's action and have proposed to leave the door open so that Coralville can become a member if it later reverses its decision.

Iowa City is taking constructive steps toward an efficiently planned and purposeful future. It cannot carry out these plans in a vacuum. The future use of land not only within city limits, but in adjoining areas, must be the result of a coordinated effort. For that reason, delegates from Johnson County, University Heights, Iowa City's School Board, and the University are together laying the foundation for the future community, not simply the city. Smaller towns than Coralville, and further distant from Iowa City than Coralville, are also indicating their willingness to participate in planning.

They realize that their future growth and success will become more and more closely tied with that of the immediate Iowa City area.

Of course it will be to their advantage at some later date to devote time and energy now to the preparation for expansion. Undoubtedly it will be to Coralville's advantage. Whatever proposals concerning fiscal, physical, and social planning are enacted by the Commission will eventually affect the economy and citizenry of Coralville.

With time, and without active participation in the Commission's plans, Coralville could conceivably stand as a sad reminder of what Iowa City used to be.

Coralville residents need not lose their identity, nor the identity of their city, by joining with the Commission. The Commission is composed of individual units of government with working together for the betterment of themselves as a whole. Coralville would be wise to add its support to the body.

Civil rights will also give Demos problems

THE DEMOCRATS IN IOWA and the nation are having a whee of a time attacking the Republican failure to condemn extremism in the national platform.

Beneath the din, however, are some very real problems for the Democrats that will get an airing at their national convention in Atlantic City in August.

The most crucial involves civil rights.

For years, the Democrats have taken strong positions on human rights in national platforms and still managed to retain the allegiance of the South.

President Eisenhower made some inroads there and candidate Barry Goldwater looks for even more success in wooing the white South with a state's rights approach and mild civil rights declarations.

Former Gov. Ross Barnett of Mississippi summed up white sentiment in that state, as he sees it, by saying: "I'd 10 times rather have Goldwater than President Johnson."

This kind of statement poses a new challenge to the Democrats.

What will they do to counteract the influence of Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, who withdrew as a segregationist candidate for President with favorable references to Goldwater?

Will they modify their civil rights position in the national platform to mollify the South?

Will longtime Southern leaders in Congress go along with a strong civil rights plank in order to keep their positions of power and influence?

Will civil rights proponents like Sen. Hubert Humphrey and Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy be passed over for the Vice Presidency in favor of a man without such a strong label?

The answers will go a long way toward shaping the 1964 campaign.

State commission formed— Before you buy that beer— study alcoholism in Iowa

(Editor's note: Charles A. Churan, Executive Secretary of the Iowa State Commission on Alcoholism, whose precept is "Alcoholism is a disease. It can be arrested through treatment, prevented through education," wrote this article as part of a series on alcoholism.)

Compulsive drinking is now so widespread that the U.S. Public Health Service lists alcoholism as the nation's fourth major health problem. In Iowa surveys conducted by Harold Mulford, resident associate professor of psychology and sociology, director of Alcoholism Studies, SU1, reveal 45,000 alcoholics.

And because this disease occurs in every occupational and economic category in our State, a State Commission has been formed and is now actively engaged in finding a solution.

The medical concept of alcoholism passed an important milestone in 1956 when the American Medical Association declared alcoholism to be a treatable illness. Up to this time, our social and moral attitudes within the community urged us to view alcoholism as willful drunkenness.

Or, an alcoholic was a weak-willed person with no moral fiber, no self-respect, no sense of social responsibility. No matter how hard we punished him — or pampered him — he would return to excessive drinking and continue to drink until, for no apparent reason, he sobered up.

The disease-concept has changed our viewpoint. Today, we know that an alcoholic, far from being a weakling, is strongly self-willed. His moral fiber is extra-sensitive, his self-respect immaculate, his conscience cruelly tortured whenever he violates the social code of the community.

In short, we now know that the alcoholic is a compulsive drinker. That he is an alcohol addict, has become addicted to the sedative affect of alcohol through long and repeated use of alcoholic beverages swallowed for the sole purpose of alleviating emotional pressures. He drinks because he needs a sedative.

Medicine also took a new look at the physical aspects of alcoholism. Doctors asked themselves what chemical deficiency in human body might contribute to a physical craving for alcohol? What organic damage did long and excessive use of alcoholic beverages do to the human body? How much liver damage? How much brain damage?

Questions such as these led to a 2000-case study of alcoholism at Yale University. This study is still being carried forward at the Rutgers School of Alcohol Studies, New Jersey, and at numerous other study centers in the nation. Certain conclusions have been reached.

Some of these conclusions are: Alcoholism is an incurable disease. It is progressive. It leads to death or insanity. Alcohol hardens the tissues of the body, particularly the liver (cirrhosis). Alcohol addiction can develop within five to seven years. The compulsion is progressive and dependence on beverages containing alcohol increases. Morning-after revulsion is replaced by morning-after compulsion to drink. This compulsion is both physical and psychological. No alcoholic can safely take one drink.

After one drink, the alcoholic sooner or later reverts to his progressive drinking; a curve now carefully plotted and known to doctors and psychiatrists across Iowa. (In March of this year, The JOURNAL of the Iowa Medical Society published "The Chart of Alcohol Addiction and Recovery.")

This chart is obtainable by doctors and nurses from the Iowa State Commission of Alcoholism, State Office Building, Des Moines.

Finally, of the five to six million alcoholics in the United States, more than 300,000 have arrested their alcoholism and now lead happy and normal lives without any desire for beverages containing alcohol.

Some of these are men and women who were considered helpless and hopeless. They will tell you that they had "tried everything" in an effort to stop drinking. They will tell you that the future held only misery and degradation until the final release of death, itself. Now, these men and women are living proof that alcoholism can be arrested through treatment.

But not the cure— Poverty avoids politics

(The Christian Science Monitor)

Poverty is nonpartisan. Its cure should not be considered a purely Democratic concern though a 2-1 majority of Republicans in the Senate voted against the Administration's antipoverty bill. Sentimental Republicans are against poverty as much as anybody else. Their doubts about the efficacy of the present bill cannot be wholly explained as mere election-year obstructionism.

A GROUP of Republicans problem with an alternate antipoverty proposal some months ago. If the Administration bill passes the House, as it may later in the week, one of the Republican tenets will remain especially important. It urged "developing each program, including those concerned with regional development, to ensure that benefits will accrue directly to families and individuals living in poverty."

In other words, passage of a bill to wage war on poverty will mean little unless the forces on the front line are wise and efficient.

ANY WASTE WILL seem flagrant, because the price tag on the bill, about $950,000,000, is so much smaller than many students of poverty consider necessary. The National Policy Committee on Pockets of Poverty, for example, is reported to suggest an expenditure of $10,000,000,000 a year for five years.

This is not to diminish President Johnson's achievement in getting his bill this far. He realize that, as he said at the beginning, the program will not eradicate poverty but "show the way." He intended not "a struggle simply to support people, to make them dependent on the generosity of others," but a "struggle to give people a chance."

POVERTY TODAY is not simply a matter of too few jobs to go around — if it ever was. Many jobs go begging, and the poor do beg, too, because they do not have even the basic skills to prepare them to be trained for the jobs that exist.

Such poverty needs special approaches such as those fought for by the President. Time will tell whether his program will "show the way" in the right direction. Already Senator Goldwater is said to have called it "a hodgepodge of programs treating only the results, not the causes, of poverty."

Meanwhile, two Republicans who decided to vote for the bill were quoted on the reasons emphasizing the nonpartisan importance of the bill's passage. "Sure, it's political," said Senator Aiken, "but it's infinitesimal compared with what's been done for big business." And Senator Javits said the program would "direct national attention on poverty and that's why I'm for it."

Studio for $10— Art student beats rent gouge

BY WALTER KELLER

"Evil rumors have been spread about this city suggesting that apartment rentals are too expensive," says Munio Makuchi, G. Twin Falls, Idaho, an art student who will be receiving an MFA degree this summer.

Munio, whose thesis prints are now on display in the south hall of the Art Building, speaks happily of his $10 per month 45 x 25 studio pad at 314 N. Gilbert St. "The place is ideal ... north (and south) light, the kindest, sweetest lady in Iowa City, free breakfast daily and free utilities."

THE LANDLADY he refers to is Mrs. Margaret Richter, who takes just pride in her nearly 100 year-old house and pretty garden. When I asked her about the low rental fee and mentioned the rumors of price-gouging by other landlords, Mrs. Richter expressed surprise that other homeowners did not use the simple formula which she employs.

"I often take what the student can afford rather than charge a fixed high rate," she said with a characteristic twinkling smile. "If those rumors are true, there should be rent control imposed in this town."

Munio says he does not believe the rumors. "Aren't all the landlords like Mrs. Richter?" he asks. "If by some chance the rumors hold some truth, he adds, "I think there should be a massive rent strike and a tent city should be set up in City Park (with appropriate curfew hours to show the strikers' good faith to the City Fathers.)"

MRS. RICHTER NODDED in agreement. At this point in our conversation Munio began to yawn, and as I left his palace the last words he spoke were: "Remember to tell them I have only one object in my art — to peep through the eyes of God for just a second."

Letter to the editor— Government control criticized; bail fund leader replies

To the Editor:

Don't laugh at this letter which the Student Bail Fund received from Cedar Rapids. It should be taken seriously and considered with great sincerity.

THE ARGUMENTS against civil rights are easily answered. But the imminent prospect of practical equality stimulates fears which are difficult to penetrate, let alone deal with.

One way or another Mr. Kee's letter expresses most of the shapes which these fears take — the sexual, religious, economic, and social shapes are all here. That's why I consider it a significant letter.

It's no great strain on the intellect to answer the arguments against civil rights. But only resolute, non-aggressive, firm, and friendly action can show a fearful man that there is nothing really to fear.

SO IN INVITE your readers' comments on Mr. Kee's letter, and I also thank every member of the Iowa City and University community who contributed to the Student Bail Fund. By their friendly action they have helped to show their neighbor, and Mr. Kee that there is nothing to fear and all to gain in supporting the concept of equal opportunity for all regardless of creed, color, or birthplace.

our government the control and power that it possesses today? We have created our own tyranny! The government has no money; it is our money which is being confiscated and wasted, and the rights with which we were endowed by our Creator are slowly but surely being taken from us.

WITNESS the mystic maze of government control in almost every area of our lives under the fallacy of "the good of the people." The spending of the taxpayer's money has enabled the government to continue its ever-increasing power and control and deficit spending.

"Can-you-top-this?" department: After Atlantic City promised to pay $600,000 to the Democratic party so the 1964 Democratic convention would be held there, the city decided to plead near-bankruptcy. Now it has told the government it is a "distressed area," and wants $1.5 million to air-condition the convention hall to house the Democrats! (Human Events — Aug. 31, 1963).

ROBIN HOOD'S plundering was restricted to Nottingham and Sherwood Forest; our plundering exists in the whole United States!

When do we halt the gallop and make an about-face toward liberty and freedom? Now, more than ever before, since the birth of our nation, do we need more men of integrity and stature.

U.S. Captain, 9 Vietnamese Die in Battle

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A U.S. Army captain and nine Vietnamese rangers were killed Thursday when Communist gun fire raked forward elements of a ranger battalion advancing cautiously through guerrilla-infested jungle.

The battalion had moved about eight miles in eight hours during the night, headed toward embattled Ben Cat, 30 miles north of Saigon.

Just before dawn, Viet Cong automatic weapons opened up from a jungle range across open rice paddy fields.

The rangers dove into defensive positions and battled the entrenched Communist forces for several hours.

An airborne battalion that had moved up Wednesday to strengthen Ben Cat headed west to relieve the ambushed battalion but was held up by scattered Viet Cong fire.

Twenty-five were wounded in the ranger battalion. Casualties in the Viet Cong force, which was estimated at from 500 to 700 men, were not learned.

The American's death was the fifth in South Viet Nam in three days and the 164th in action since December 1961.

Vietnamese forces a p p a r e n tly hoped to rout Communist guerrillas in the area, the scene of scattered action for three days.

But the guerrillas' counterattack came first.

The ambush was a disheartening reversal of an engagement Wednesday at Ben Cat, when Vietnamese reported killing or wounding as many as 300 Viet Cong.

51 Children Told Not To Play On Parking Ramp

SUI Campus Police Chief John Hanna said Thursday that 51 youngsters have been caught riding their bicycles in the SU1 parking ramp south of the Dental Building since July 1. Police have warned these children.

Hanna said he has received several complaints from persons who park their cars in the ramp. He said that one man reported that his new car had been scratched when a boy parked his bicycle next to it.

According to Hanna, the children like to take their bikes to the top of the ramp in the elevator and then ride them down. He said several complaints have been made about children obstructing use of the elevator by holding the door open.

"The parking ramp is not a playground," Hanna said.

He also said that play in the ramp could be dangerous to the children. An 11-year-old boy was found at the top of a ladder on the side of the "penthouse" on the top floor of the ramp, he said.

Des Moines Policeman, Woman Killed in Wreck

DES MOINES (AP) — A Des Moines police captain and a woman were fatally injured Thursday when their cars collided at a southeast Des Moines intersection.

The accident occurred as the police car was going to the scene of a drowning.

Dreaded as Capt. Charles Andreano of Des Moines and Mrs. Norma A. Fleming of Des Moines.

Police Lt. William Purdy and Mrs. Nellie Farr of Des Moines were critically injured.

The two policemen were in the patrol car going to a water-filled gravel pit southeast of Des Moines where Willis J. Schut, 25 of Des Moines, drowned early in the day. The two women were in the other car. It was not immediately known which woman was driving.

Four Rightists Cool To Proposed Truce

NEW YORK (AP) — "Summit conference" appeal by four Negro leaders for curtailment of mass demonstrations until after the presidential election drew a cool response from some civil rights proponents.

The reaction came from various parts of the nation as Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. emerged from a meeting with New York's Mayor Robert F. Wagner and criticized the policies of the city's police commissioner.

DR. KING, a leading Negro advocate of nonviolence, said Police Commissioner Michael J. Murphy "is utterly unresponsive to either the demands or the aspirations of the Negro people."

He made the statement after his third meeting in a week with Wagner to discuss ways of eliminating conditions which contributed to recent racial violence.

AMONG NEGRO DEMANDS has been the creation of a civilian board to handle charges of police brutality, and the immediate suspension of a white police lieutenant whose fatal shooting of a 15-year-old Negro boy touched off the New York City violence.

Dr. King was among those who attended the "summit conference" Wednesday night.

A statement issued from the summit conference criticized Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, Republican presidential nominee, and said the national election "is a more imperative reason for a moratorium on demonstrations than any state or local condition."

TWO OF THE SIX leaders who attended the conference Wednesday declined Thursday to approve a demonstration moratorium, although they agreed with the analysis concerning Goldwater.

They were James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, and John Lewis, director of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee.

Both Farmer and Lewis disassociated themselves Thursday from endorsement of the moratorium.

VAL COLEMAN, a spokesman for Farmer, who was out of the city, said Farmer agreed with the analysis of Goldwater but had not said he would back curtailment of demonstrations.

Lewis, concerning the moratorium, said: "Demonstrations must continue. The pressure must be kept on, and not only in the South. Demonstrations must be played by ear."

Events in Final Week To Fete Senior Nurses

Seniors graduating Wednesday from the SUI College of Nursing will be honored at several events during their final week.

The class banquet will be held Monday at 6:30 p.m. at the Carusel Restaurant. Eileen Hof, Downey, Ill., senior class president, will greet her classmates and College of Nursing faculty members. Marjorie Lyford, acting dean of the college, will speak informally to the graduates. Lucy M. Colbert, instructor in the college, and Prof. Lyford will present the graduates with class pins and will award them black velvet stripes for their nursing caps.

The new graduate nurses will be guests at a brunch Tuesday at 9:45 a.m. in the University Hospital dining room, sponsored by the SUI Hospitals Nursing Service.

The faculty in the College of Nursing will sponsor a tea for the graduating seniors from 3 until 5 p.m. on Commencement Day in Westlawn Lounge.

Ol' Case Has A Birthday; Which One? ?

NEW YORK (AP) — Casey Stengel had a birthday Thursday, somewhere in the '70's, and a party was thrown for him in Shea Stadium before the New York Mets-Los Angeles Dodgers game.

Case was showered with presents, the Dodger Sextet sang a song, the Stadium throng chimed in with "Happy Birthday to You" and the Mets presented him with two seats from the Polo Grounds.

ONE OF THEM is the seat a young lady named Edna occupied more than 40 years ago when she first met a left-handed outfielder for the Giants, who was even then referred to as Ol' Case.

"I remember it well," said Mrs. Edna Stengel. "It was in August of 1923. I was a guest of Irish Meusel and his wife."

Meusel was another outfielder on the 'Giants' pennant-winner that year "and it was through his wife that Edna was introduced to Casey. Casey, incidentally, hit two game-winning homers for the Giants in the World Series against the New York Yankees that year, won by the 'Yankees' four games to two.

MRS. STENDEL said the two seats would be put on the front porch of their home in Glendale, Calif.

The old manager also received a cigarette box from the Mets players, a color television set from the Mets front office, the broadcasting team presented him with a portable TV set, the coaches gave him a traveling bag and six of the Dodgers sang a parody on Casey Would Walk With the Strawberry Blonde.

Stengel's age is either 73, 74 or 75 — depending upon which record book you read and which day you talk to Stengel. One thing is certain — or is it? He was born in Kansas City, Mo., on July 30.

IN PRE-GAME ceremonies Don Drysdale, Maury Wills, Nate Olivier, Willie Davis, Lee Walls and Wally Moon sang "Casey would walk with a strawberry blonde, and the band played on." The song:

Happy birthday, Case.
Seventy-four and a gent we adore
Even in last place.
When Casey is seventy-five.

Orioles Swat 5 Home Runs, Beat Twins

MINNEAPOLIS — ST. PAUL — Baltimore tied a club record with five homers and rookie Dave Vinery got his second straight victory as the Orioles defeated the Minnesota Twins 7-4 Thursday.

The five homers, two by Jackie Brandt, tied the Baltimore record set against Los Angeles in 1961.

Earl Robinson, Dick Brown and Brooks Robinson hit the other homers for the Orioles.

Vinery got his second victory since being called up from Rochester two weeks ago, but the Twins belted him out in the ninth.

A triple by Tony Oliva and Harman Killebrew's single drove in two runs in the eighth, and then Ron Henry hit a pinch two-run homer in the ninth for the Twins.

Stu Miller came on and saved the victory.

Palmer 4 Behind In Canadian Open

MONTREAL (AP) — Gibby Gilbert, an unheralded pro from Hollywood, Fla., shot a four-under-par 67 in the gathering darkness at the Pinegrove Course Thursday and took the first round lead in the Canadian Open Golf Championships.

Gilbert, only 23 and a relative newcomer to the pro circuit, was among the last finishers in the huge field, completing his round on the par 71 course as dusk began to settle.

He grabbed a one-stroke lead over Bob Shave Jr., Willoughby, Ohio, who had finished much earlier with a 68, two strokes up on a large group — including Jack Nicklaus — at 70.

Grouped with Big Jack at 70 were Bob Verwey, South Africa; Rex Baxter, Amarillo, Tex.; Bill Collins, Grossingers, N.Y.; Bob Rosburg, Portland, Ore., and Al Geibarger, Carlton Oaks, Calif.

Arnold Palmer was four strokes back and even par at 71.

Gilbert, who said he has yet to earn a cent on the pro tour, is on notice from the PGA that his approved-tournament player status will be revoked. He said he will apply for revision of his status.

The PGA reviews the status of all approved tournament players twice a year. Gilbert was told by letter that as of Aug. 31 he will be dropped but that he could reapply.

Viking Player Responds Well After Surgery

BEMIDJI, Minn. (AP) — Defensive back Tommy Franckhauser talked with his wife in his hospital room Thursday after doctors said he was responding in every sense to surgery following a brain hemorrhage in Minnesota Vikings practice Wednesday.

"I've never seen a kid who looked so good following that type of operation," said Dr. Kent Olson, the Minneapolis neurosurgeon who flew here as a consultant Wednesday night.

Dr. Donald Hoganson, who with Dr. William J. Dewese performed a craniotomy, said Franckhauser was responding in every sense, was awake most of the time, had good motions and could speak coherently to his wife, who flew to his bedside from Dallas.

The 27-year-old former Purdue player apparently burst a blood vessel in his brain when he tackled fullback Bill McWaters in scrimmage.

He was rushed to a Bemidji hospital, where the craniotomy — the boring of a small hole in the skull — was performed to relieve dangerous pressure.

Franckhauser rested Wednesday night and was removed from the critical list Thursday morning.

Hoganson said the third-season back would be hospitalized for several weeks as a result of the accident, which in all likelihood ended his playing career.

Two Share Lead After First Round At Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Blonde Ruth Jensen, the second leading money winner on the ladies' golf tour, and veteran Jo Ann Prentice, still seeking her first tournament victory in eight years as a pro, fired one-under-par 71s Thursday to share the first round lead in the 72-hole, $12,500 Milwaukee Open.

Miss Jensen, who stopped golf Queen Mickey Wright's victory string at three tournaments by winning the $10,000 women's open at Grand Blanc, Mich., July 19, put together steady nines of 36 and 35, while Miss Prentice was one-over-par with a 38 going out before rallying for a fine 33 coming back.

Only two others, Sherry Wheeler and Marlene Hage, managed to equal par during intermittent sprinkles from overcast skies on the 6,508-yard North Shore Country Club course. Miss Wheeler and Mrs. Hage, regular members of the pro tour, each had 36-36-72.

Trailing with 73s were Mary Mills and Barbara Romack.

Another stroke back were Miss Wright, who has won seven of 14 tournaments played this year, Kathy Cornelius, Clifford Creed, Sandra McClintock and amateur Carla Glasgow, a junior college student from Whittier, Calif., who will be 21 Friday.

Water Sprite

Patty Caretto, 13-year-old eighth grader from Commerce, Calif., makes the turn on her way to breaking two world swim records Thursday. The blonde youngster won the 1,500-meter race in record time of 18:30.5 in the National AAU championships at Los Altos Hills, Calif. Girl, 13, Shatters 2 World Records In AAU Swimming

LOS ALTOS HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Thirteen year old Patty Caretto, a tiny California water sprite, shattered two women's world records in one race Thursday at the National AAU championships.

The blonde youngster, who stands 5-1 and weighs 102, won the 1,500 meter race in a record time of 18 minutes 30.5 seconds and en route also smashed the 800 meter record with 9:47.3.

Miss Caretto, an eighth grader, from the City of Commerce in Los Angeles County, knocked an amazing 13 1/2 seconds off the metric mile mark set in 1962 by Carolyn House of Los Angeles and also bettered the 800 mark of 9:51.6 by Miss House that same year when she was swimming only the shorter race.

Veteran Sharon Finneran of the Santa Clara, Calif., Swim Club took second in 18:52.2, defending champion Ginnie Duempel of Fair Lawn, N.J. was third in 18:57.0, and Miss House finished fourth at 18:59.3.

The race was close only for the first eight laps of the 30-lap race in the 50-meter Foothill College pool. Then the tiny Miss Caretto, urged on by cries of "Go, Patty, go," began opening the distance of her lead.

The metric mile was the only race on the opening program of the four day championships for both men and women.

Miss Caretto's previous best for the 1,500 meters, a non-Olympic event, was 18:45.6, recently in Los Angeles when she just missed the 18:44.0 world record set by Miss House in the AAU championships two years ago.

The Southern California youngster will race her elders twice more during the AAU championships, in the 200 meter and 400 meter freestyles, the latter an Olympic event.

She has been swimming competitively only three years.

Ralston Upset

SOUTH ORANGE, N.J. (AP) — Arthur Ashe, Richmond, Va., pulled off a major upset Thursday, surprising top-seeded Dennis Ralston 18-15, 6-1, 6-4 in the quarter-finals of the Eastern Grass Court Tennis Championships.

Ralston, Bakersfield, Calif., is ranked No. 2 in the nation while Ashe is No. 6.

Take 2 of 3 In Big Series, Up Lead to 1 1/2

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Rookie Johnny Briggs slashed a two-run double with the bases loaded in the 10th inning Thursday night, boosting National League-leading Philadelphia to a 4-3 victory over San Francisco.

The victory, the Phillies' second in the three-game series, increased Philadelphia's lead to 1 1/2 games over the second-place Giants.

The Giants took a 3-2 lead in the top of the 10th on Willie Mays' run-scoring single.

BUT JOHNNY Briggs led off the Phillies' half of the inning with a double into the right field corner. Gaylord Perry hit Tony Taylor with a pitch, and Richie Allen beat out an infield hit, loading the bases.

Manager Al Dark then brought in Billy Pierce, Briggs promptly doubled off the right field wall, sending Callison and Taylor home with the tying and winning runs.

Willie McCovey, whose run-scoring double and two-run single sparked the Giants to their Wednesday night victory, tied the game in the ninth inning, slamming his 14th homer over the right field wall with one out.

Until then Philadelphia starter Ray Culp had scattered eight hits, one a homer by Jesus Alou in the fifth.

THE Giants went ahead in the 10th when Harvey Keenan singled, went to second on a wild pitch, took third on a sacrifice and scored on Mays' single to left.

The Phillies scored their first two runs in the third off starter Bob Hendley. Gus Triandos led off with his second homer in three nights. After one out, Culp walked, went to second on a single by Cookie Rojas and scored, after the second out, as Taylor ripped a single to right field.

Mend You Broadcasters

WASHINGTON (AP) — So delinquency showed samples of violence in television programs. Then broadcasters were told to mend their ways.

Red China Bluntly Defies Soviet Union

TOKYO (AP) — Red China tauntingly defied the Soviet Union to call its proposed rift-healing international Communist conference and said, "The day your so-called meeting takes place will be the day you step into your grave."

"You are determined to prepare and call such a meeting arbitrarily, unilaterally and illegally with the aim of effecting an open split in the international Communist movement," Peking declared Thursday.

Communist China turned thumbs down on a world Communist meeting in a letter dated July 28 from the Central Committee of the Chinese Communist party to the Soviet Communist party. Its contents were read Thursday by the New China News Agency in a broadcast monitored in Tokyo.

Moscow is understood to be preparing to send invitations next week to 26 Communist parties for a meeting to lay the groundwork for a world conference on issues involved in the Chinese-Soviet split.

Red China was believed among those to be invited. The same 26 parties served on the drafting committee that drew up the Moscow declaration — supposedly a charter for action for the world Communist movement — is a key point in the rift. Both Peking and Moscow claim to have been faithful to it and accuse each other of violating it.

Premier Khrushchev's policy of peaceful coexistence to provide the Soviet Union with time to develop economically as a prelude to spreading communism around the world is opposed by the militaristic Red Chinese. They demand more aggressive policies.

J-School Holding Annual Evaluation Of Communication

The SUI School of Journalism is evaluating entries from the communications programs of more than 125 Chambers of Commerce this summer.

This is the 15th annual evaluation and is sponsored by the American Chamber of Commerce Executives (ACCE) to encourage excellence in Chamber of Commerce communications.

Awards in the eight classifications will be presented at the ACCE annual meeting in October. The classifications are program of work, bulletin or newsletter, annual report, newspaper program, radio program, television program, letters and miscellaneous.

7 Army ROTC Cadets Will Be Commissioned Before Commencement

Seven Army Reserve Officer Training Corps cadets at SUI will be commissioned as second lieutenants in a ceremony preceding Commencement exercises Wednesday night.

The ceremony will be held at 6:15 p.m. in 16 SUI Field House. Cadets to be commissioned are Dennis L. Edwards, Vinton; Gary W. Fischer, Dubuque; Charles A. Jenkins, Cedar Rapids; Warren L. King, Egan, Ill.; Loyd R. Stroup, Hampton; Steven A. Stude, Iowa City; and Mervyn R. Thede, Eldridge.

Col. William N. Holm, head of military science, will present the commissions to the cadets and Capt. L. N. Cosby will administer the oath of office. Prof. Hugh Kelso, assistant dean of the College of Liberal Arts, will address the group. Prof. David Belgium, School of Religion, will give the invocation.

Charges—

bert Flora, Democratic Johnson County chairman.

FLORA ANSWERED the charges with a formal statement: "I am not surprised at Erickson's personal attack against me. His campaign has lacked any positive program, and it is obvious that he is at a loss for anything to say."

"People like Erickson are desperately trying to find some issue, no matter how unfounded. I am really curious as to why Erickson lacks the courage to run against his Democratic opponents."

When asked if the charges against him were true, Flora said, "I have already answered that in my formal statement by saying that the charges are unfounded."

Flora said he was not running for office, and he would rather have Democratic candidates answer to Erickson's attack.

FOREST EVASHEVSKI, when told of the charges, said "Why does Mr. Erickson hide behind anonymity? Why doesn't he give names and places?" Evashovski said the charge was not true and was absurd.

"My phone bills are a matter of record, and so are Mr. Flora's. This is just a cheap plan for publicity at the expense of University personnel."

Erickson prepared another statement Thursday night to substantiate his charges. In it, he said:

"Apparently, Mr. Flora does not have the guts to come forth with a straightforward answer about his activities with the Hughes-for-Governor financial fund campaign. On the contrary, he has become a master of deceit."

"A STATE AUDIT of toll charge telephone calls, that I referenced yesterday, with regards to requests for contributions to Hughes-for-Governor campaign funds, reveals these phone calls were charged to Mr. Evashovski's telephone, EX-2316, and paid for out of public funds," Erickson said.

"Partisan politics must be kept out of our educational system. Nothing could be more obnoxious than to see partisan politics in the field of athletics, in the classroom, or in the general area of administration," he said.

Thursday night Erickson told The Daily Iowan that there will be more charges to come.

Democrat John Schmidhauser, professor of political science at SUI and First District candidate for Congress, replied to the charges Wednesday at a meeting of the Democratic county central committee.

"IN A PERSONAL sense, Erickson is trying to destroy a man's career. It is quite clear that he has no positive suggestions to make, so because of the loss of an issue to run on, he is running against the Democratic county chairman."

"This attack is typical of Republicans across the state. Erickson has chosen an extremely false issue totally unconnected with the campaign. It was a dirty and vicious attack, and shows that Republicans will go to any lengths to discredit the Democrats. If you want extremism, this is it."

"It is an undocumented attack, and is a shameful thing. I think we should make him substantiate his charges or retract them in a public apology."

SCHMIDHAUSER concluded, "I know personally the caliber of Bob Flora. He has done a tremendous job, and it was on his own time. We of the Democratic party stand behind him all the way."

Erickson retorted, "I'm not going to answer any ridiculous charge by Mr. Schmidhauser tonight."

U.S. URANIUM TO ISRAEL—HAIFA, Israel (AP) — The nuclear science department of the Israel Institute of Technology reports the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission has agreed to supply it with two and one-half tons of natural uranium. This is in addition to heavy water supplies used in experimental desalting of sea water for irrigation.

In Mississippi—

Iowa City Minister Pleased By Stand of Negro People

By DENISE O'BRIEN Staff Writer

The Rev. Sally Smith, minister of education and campus life at the First Christian Church in Iowa City, is encouraged by the stand Negroes are now taking in Mississippi.

The Rev. Miss Smith recently returned from a week in Hattiesburg, Miss., at the National Council of Churches Project. In Hattiesburg, the ministers canvassed to encourage Negroes to register so they may vote.

"We ENCOUNTERED all kinds of feelings while trying to persuade the Negroes to register," the Rev. Miss Smith said. "A lot of it is that they are just afraid of the court house where they have to register."

The Rev. Miss Smith said a few of the Negroes also fear loss of jobs and acts of violence if they try to register to vote.

The registration procedure in Mississippi is difficult, the Rev. Miss Smith said. She explained that after the registration test, which is an interpretation of a section of the Mississippi state constitution, a person must wait 33 days to find out if he passed.

"One intelligent Negro woman has been back five times trying to pass the test," the Rev. Miss Smith said. "Once the Negroes get going with their registration, they get the courage to continue. And when they do become registered voters, it gives them so much confidence."

The Rev. Miss Smith said an 80-year-old Negro man in Hattiesburg wants to learn to read and write so he may register.

The ministers were also trying to get people to sign forms for a new political party being formed in Mississippi, the Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party, the Rev. Miss Smith said.

The new party is going to challenge the Democratic delegation from Mississippi that is going to the Democratic National Convention in Atlantic City. The challenge will be based on the grounds that the delegation doesn't represent all the people of the state, the Rev. Miss Smith said.

"The new party hopes to unseat the delegation, or at least divide it," she said. "It is doubtful that either will happen."

MICHIGAN AND several other states are supporting the move planned by the Mississippi Freedom Democrats, the Rev. Miss Smith said. "The new party is not intended to be specifically Negro," according to the Rev. Miss Smith.

"But it will probably do well if it has a dozen white people sign up," she said. "The new party is running candidates in the Mississippi state elections. The people are really learning about government through their precinct, district and state meetings," the Rev. Miss Smith said.

"They are getting the confidence and abilities to participate in political activity."

The minister attended one of the meetings of the new party, she said. She especially remembered one point made by a young Negro woman running for the U.S. Senate. The woman said, "This is our moment of truth, and it must be a moment of truth for the white people, too."

"The REV. MISS SMITH said the young woman encouraged the Negroes to tell their white employers about what they are trying to do politically."

"I DIDN'T FEEL afraid when I was in Hattiesburg," she said, "but I felt a tension." She noted that in the South she felt uneasy at seeing a policeman.

"I ran into a few white people who were fairly liberal in their thinking," the Rev. Miss Smith said. "I talked with one man about the situation, and he told me that 'maybe you have to have a wound before there can be real healing.'"

SUI Extension Division Helps People of Iowa

The SUI Division of Extension and University Services is designed to help bridge the gulf between men of action and men of thought, to render service to the state and its people.

Robert F. Ray, dean of the division, listed for the Iowa City Rotary Club Thursday the various areas served by the Division of Extension and University Services.

Representative of the many activities of the division is the Audiovisual Center which has logged more than 97,000 bookings for educational films to be shown in Iowa schools. Conferences & Institutes, during the 1952-63 period, assisted in arrangements for 1,733 conferences which were attended by nearly 150,000 persons. In the Bureau of Instructional Studies some 7,500 persons are enrolled in correspondence courses during a normal period. Extension classes attract more than 1,000 students and over 800 students attend Saturday classes.

The Institute of Public Affairs, Bureau of Police Science, the Iowa Center for Education in Politics, the Macbride Field Campus and aids in journalism and community theater are all integral parts of the Division of Extension and University Activities.

Dean Ray also pointed out the many other public service units of the University including the University Hospitals, state service for crippled children, Speech and Hearing Clinic and the Institute of Gerontology.

Swensson To Lecture At Seminar

Paul Swensson executive director of the Newspaper Fund, Inc., of New York City, will be in Iowa City Monday and Tuesday to deliver a lecture at the Seminar for High School Journalism Teachers and to consult with seminar participants.

The Newspaper Fund, an organization devoted to attracting talented young men and women to journalism careers, co-sponsors the seminar with the School of Journalism. This is the fifth consecutive year the seminar has been held at SUI, one of three schools to host the program during the first year of the Fund's operations.

Swensson will lecture Monday on "You and the Newspaper Fund Program." The individual interviews with all seminar participants will be held Tuesday.

Twenty-two high school teachers from nine states are now attending the seminar, which runs through August 7. It is financed by grants from the Wall Street Journal, which sponsors the Newspaper Fund.

The program includes lectures and laboratories conducted by School of Journalism faculty members and guest lecturers.

Dior's Invention of Wide Bulky Skirt Hits Paris Fashion

PARIS (AP) — Dior's wide, bulky "peasant skirt" silhouette, shown in Paris, is the newest thing to hit fashion since the sack. Beside it, all else is evolution, derivation, or reminiscence.

There's been a lot of longing for the cool grace of the '30s in fashion lately — Dior's Marc Bohan did it himself last season — but the "new new look," as some experts called it Thursday, looks far better. It's fresh, midcentury, not a rehash.

Long, widening jackets float on the bulky skirts. Raglan shoulders are soft and supple, not wide, not narrow. Sleeves are long, loose, and tubular, without cuffs.

The skirts are shirred onto a narrow fitted yoke. Loose, sweatery tops can be tucked in, or worn over. There's always a ribbony belt.

Small women can wear the swiny skirts with a little basque jacket. Or they can take to the tube, Dior's handy alternate silhouette.

The bulky silhouette only seemed to work out with a two-piece look: long, loose jacket, or short coat, with wide skirt.

Iowa Air Fighter Unit To Join Competition

DES MOINES (AP) — The 132nd Fighter Group of the Iowa Air National Guard will send three F-89 jet aircraft and crews to Tyndall Air Force Base in Florida next month, to compete with guard units in the annual Ricks Trophy competition.

The competition is based on flying the 500-mile-an-hour jets against pilotless, remote-controlled target planes at various altitudes. Both firing and non-firing courses will be used.

The competition, sponsored by the Air Force Association, will be held Aug. 23 to 28.

For Exceptional

SUI's retired President Virgil Hancher has been honored with the Air Force Exceptional Service award of the U.S. Air Force. Major Gold Room of the Union were Brigadier and Col. Brooks, head of the SUI.

Air Force Honor—

Hancher Gets Heads for I

Former SUI President Virgil Hancher has been honored with the U.S. Air Force's Exceptional Service award for a two-year trip to Iowa City.

The award is one of the highest civilian honors and requires the approval of the Secretary of the Air Force for presentation.

Col. Brooks Booker, SUI professor of Air Science, read a record of Hancher's achievements and the citation accompanying the award before it was presented by Maj. Gen. William J. Crumm, USAF, Director of Operations Plans for the Joint Strategic Target Planning Staff, Offut Air Force Base, Omaha.

HANCHER WAS honored for his work as an educational advisor on the Air Force Academy Site Selection Committee in 1954 and his appointment to the Board of Visitors to the Academy for 1956-58.

In addition, several educational programs were conducted by SUI through Hancher's efforts and support, "involving thousands of young men and women, for the Military Services during World War II."

"The vision, dedication, enlightened leadership and selfless devotion of President Hancher has been and will continue to be of inestimable value to the Air Force in furthering its objective to achieve strength through knowledge."

HANCHER SAID he was happy to get the award here where it was more meaningful. Had the award not been made here, it would have been presented to him in India.

While in New Delhi, the former president will serve as a program specialist for the South and Southeast Asia program sponsored by the Ford Foundation.

The absence will be his first extended leave from SUI. In 1959 he spent three months as a member of the American delegation to the United Nations General Assembly.
