

Chi Chi: Why Penalize Pros?

DES MOINES (AP) — Juan (Chi Chi) Rodriguez, who won the West-Open golf tournament at Chicago Sunday, Tuesday criticized the toughness of the courses at the tournaments on the professional tour.

"They don't raise the walls in all parks for the World Series and they don't lengthen the fields for football games," said the tiny Puerto Rican.

"I don't think they should make it courses so much tougher just for the professionals.

"The people don't go out to see the pros have to chip out of the rough because it's so tall. They go out to see them hit the ball, just like I go out to see Mickey Mantle hit a home run."

Asked at a news conference why he was taking a week away from the tournament circuit, Rodriguez replied, "Money is not everything. You've got to look after your health."

Rodriguez said, however, that he probably will play golf on local courses everyday while he is here. "It's not work when you're playing golf for fun," he said.

Mets Obtain Phil Pitcher

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Mets obtained pitcher Gary Roll from the Philadelphia Phillies Tuesday as part payment for outfielder Frank Thomas, who went to the National League leaders in a river deal last week.

The Mets also received Wayne Graham, an outfielder-third baseman, from the Phils in the Thomas deal and will get a third player from the World Series.

This Is August?

Summer — fall — winter — spring? No one knew for sure Wednesday exactly what to expect from the weatherman as temperatures dipped into the low 50's in Iowa City. Shoppers shivered and shook as they braved one of the coldest mid-August days in Iowa history. Temperatures are expected to rise into the upper 60's today, however, and soon we will no doubt have to set about finding new ways to beat the heat. The sweet young colleen in the picture? She, along with thermometer and pill bottle, is recuperating from the ups and downs of this unpredictable August weather.

Turkey Agrees To Help U.N.

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Turkey cast oil on the troubled waters of Cyprus late Wednesday, suspending its reconnaissance flights "for the time being" and pledging to help the United Nations restore peace and order.

But these developments, announced in Ankara by Foreign Minister Feridun Cemal Erkin, came only after Turkish seaplanes again set off air raid alerts across much of the island and angry Greek Cypriots demonstrated against Americans and Britons in Nicosia.

Parliament's speaker, Glafcos Clerides, officially accused the United States and Britain of backing the Turkish aerial attacks on Greek Cypriot positions in the Kokkina area battle last weekend.

Addressing Greek Cypriot lawmakers in the 50-seat assembly long boycotted by the Turkish Cypriot minority, Clerides said:

"Nobody can believe that Turkey would dare launch such attacks with NATO planes, without the consent of these two countries — the United States and Britain."

A placard-carrying crowd demonstrated outside the U.S. Embassy.

A Marine guard padlocked the main entrance to the embassy before the approach of the crowd, about 100 persons. The staff re-

Court Bans Use Of Name Freedom Democratic Party

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A judge issued an order Wednesday banning the "Freedom Democratic Party" from using that name and its officers from functioning.

This was the group that planned to challenge the seating of the regular Democratic delegation from Mississippi at the Democratic National Convention in Atlantic City, N.J.

It was not known immediately whether civil rights groups, which formed the political faction, would appeal the court order against the organization.

Chancery Court Judge Stokes Robertson Jr. issued the order after the state asked an injunction against 10 persons connected with the party.

The state's suit asked that they be enjoined "from acting as representatives, delegates or officers of the Freedom Democratic party or the Mississippi Freedom Democratic party."

The state argued that the Democratic already appears as part of another party name and under state law a second group could not use it.

The state, in the suit filed by Atty. Gen. Joe Patterson, also said the group "did not lawfully organize, did not give proper notice of precinct meetings, county conventions and that in fact it was conceived in the minds of COFO workers."

"COFO" stands for the Council of Federated Organizations, which organized civil rights workers, "Mississippi Summer Project."

Those named defendants include civil rights workers and Negroes who have offered token opposition to white candidates in state elections, and the white president and chaplain of predominantly Negro Tougaloo College near Jackson, a center of civil rights activities.

Rusk, McNamara: Goldwater Charge 'Irresponsible'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Cabinet officers said Wednesday night Sen. Barry Goldwater made an "unjustified and irresponsible... interpretation" that President Johnson authorized use of nuclear weapons in the Gulf of Tonkin episode.

Goldwater, the Republican presidential nominee, told a news conference at Hershey, Pa., that Johnson's declaration on the Southeast Asia incidents seemed to give military commanders authority to use "the whole inventory" of U.S. weapons.

"Could you amplify the remark you made?" a reporter asked. "Do you mean that the President has given field commanders the right to use any weapons including atomic weapons?"

"I would suggest you read his admonition to the commander of the 7th Fleet in which he said to use any weapons," Goldwater said. "I think I know what he means."

A few hours later the State Department issued a statement in the name of Secretary Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara which said:

"The President gave no authorization for the use of any nuclear weapons in the course of the episode in the Gulf of Tonkin, and he made no statement which could reasonably be interpreted to suggest that any such authorization had been given.

"Sen. Goldwater's interpretation is both unjustified and irresponsible."

Mayor Increases Evening Protection

PATERSON, N.J. (AP) — Mayor Frank X. Graves doubled the number of policemen on night duty Wednesday and promised the public the streets would be kept safe following violent outbreaks Tuesday night by Negro teenagers.

Graves was to meet with the Paterson Negro Council, a civil rights organization, to discuss complaints by the Negro community that allegedly underlie the bitterness that turned to violence.

A crowd of 200 Negro youths, after leaving a city-sponsored dance, rampaged through a 10-block area in this northern New Jersey industrial city. They threw bottles and bricks at police, smashed store windows and stopped a bus after breaking its rear window and annoyed the passengers.

Meanwhile, in Elizabeth on Tuesday night, another industrial city 20 miles south, both Negroes and whites roamed through a racially mixed neighborhood throwing rocks and bottles.

Three fires were started by gasoline bombs, windows were smashed and a clothing store was looted. About 60 Negroes and a smaller number of white youths, most of the latter in cars, were involved in the outbreaks.

Earlier in his speech, Johnson expressed renewed determination to seek orderly settlements of the crises in Cyprus and Viet Nam.

"It is our duty to help settle any conflict which might erupt into a wider arena," the chief executive said. "It is our duty to help avoid large-scale loss of life among the people of Cyprus, whose true interests lie in peace."

"In Viet Nam, too, we work for world order. For 10 years through three administrations, we have had one consistent aim — observance of the 1954 agreements which guarantee the independence of South Viet Nam."

CUBA-CHINA PACT — TOKYO (AP) — Communist China and Cuba signed a protocol on economic cooperation. New China News Agency said Wednesday. The report from Peking said the protocol was drafted between the two nations in line with an agreement on economic cooperation signed Nov. 30, 1960.

Barry Predicts Unity; Rejects Extremist Aid

LBJ Warns U.S. Will Stop Violence At Home, Abroad, White or Negro; Tells Bar Assoc.

NEW YORK (AP) — President Johnson raised his voice above the nation's racial clamor Wednesday to warn that acts of white or Negro violence will be checked and punished "whether they occur in Mississippi or in New York."

The chief executive told the American Bar Association that the United States seeks world order abroad — in Cyprus and Viet Nam. And at home, he demanded racial justice and civil peace, declaring amid applause:

"No person, whatever his grievance, can be allowed to attack the right of every American to be secure in his home, his shop and in his streets. We will not permit any part of America to become a jungle where the weak are the prey of the strong and the many."

"Such acts must be stopped and punished — whether they occur in Mississippi or in New York. Under our Constitution, the local authorities have the central responsibility for civil peace."

"There is no place in our federal system for a national police force. But where help is needed or federal law is violated, we shall be there. We will work together to punish all such lawbreakers, whether they be murderers in the countryside, or hooded night riders on the highways, or hoodlums in the city."

Johnson flew in from Washington for the afternoon, specifically to address the ABA. His wife came with him, but spent the afternoon shopping for dresses and other items brought to her in a Carlyle Hotel suite for her inspection.

The President, meanwhile, was some blocks away at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, where more than 3,000 lawyers and their guests gave him a standing ovation as he entered the grand ballroom for his speech.

Johnson's discussion of racial strife took place in a city where less than a month ago Negro rioting swept sections of Harlem and Brooklyn. Only a few hours before his arrival by jet plane at Kennedy Airport, racial violence flared unexpectedly across the Hudson River in the New Jersey industrial city of Elizabeth and Paterson.

Johnson told the lawyers: "Fulfillment of rights and prevention of disorders goes hand in hand. Resort to violence blocks the path toward racial justice. The denial of rights invites increased disorder and violence."

"Those who would hold back progress toward equality and, at the same time, promise racial peace, are deluding themselves and the people. Orderly progress, exact enforcement of law, are the only path toward an end of racial strife."

Referring to the recent enactment of a new civil rights law, the President declared: "The Congress has passed the law. The President has signed it — and will enforce it. Citizens must observe it. Neither demonstrations in the streets nor violence in the night can or will restrain us from seeing to it that laws rightly passed will be justly observed."

Earlier in his speech, Johnson expressed renewed determination to seek orderly settlements of the crises in Cyprus and Viet Nam.

"It is our duty to help settle any conflict which might erupt into a wider arena," the chief executive said. "It is our duty to help avoid large-scale loss of life among the people of Cyprus, whose true interests lie in peace."

"In Viet Nam, too, we work for world order. For 10 years through three administrations, we have had one consistent aim — observance of the 1954 agreements which guarantee the independence of South Viet Nam."

1965 City Budget Increases Millage

The recently approved 1965 Iowa City budget, largest in the city's history, will necessitate an increased millage rate of less than one-fourth of one mill next year, according to city administrative assistant Willard K. Laughlin.

The new millage figure, based on assessed property valuation is 27.473. Iowa's functional mill limit is 30.

As passed by the City Council Aug. 5, the total budget is estimated at $2,864,302. The 1965 figure is up approximately $350,000 from 1964.

The largest shares of the 1965 expenditures will be directed toward street maintenance and construction, along with operation of the city water department.

Funds earmarked for use in street maintenance will account for approximately $154,758 of the total budget. An additional $280,000 will be spent on street construction, Laughlin said.

Only the maintenance costs will be derived from property tax revenue. Construction will be financed through other revenue sources.

The estimated cost of street maintenance and construction for 1964 is $410,450, or $24,308 less than the projected figure for 1965.

Water department operating costs have been estimated at $552,325 in 1965 as compared to $501,545 in 1964.

Sanitation services have been budgeted at $229,598. The 1964 sanitation figure was $166,562.

Other areas which received an increased share of the budget are: Fire Department, $120,000; library maintenance, $93,493; playgrounds and recreation, $69,785; and utilities, $67,900.

The increase in the park and recreation appropriation is attributed mainly to the construction of the new recreation center, Laughlin said.

General funds, those pertaining primarily to administrative needs, are estimated at $230,750.

Budget cuts were made in the following areas: Police Department, $199,650; cemetery, $30,455; parking meter maintenance, $156,455; and sewage disposal, $142,330.

An additional expense will be an expected $273,606 for debt retirement.

Of the needed funds, $1,248,897 is slated to come from property tax revenue and the remainder from other revenue sources.

Non-tax revenue sources include cigarette license fees, building, electric, and plumbing permits, interest on loans, fines and fees, engineering services, liquor fees and liquor store profits, parking meters and sewer rental.

96 Helicopters Start Assault On Viet Cong

XA BO HAO, South Viet Nam (AP) — One thousand Vietnamese soldiers, ferried from Saigon in 96 helicopters, battled an estimated 2,000 to 3,000 Viet Cong guerrillas massed in a jungle area near here Wednesday.

Every available helicopter in lower South Viet Nam was called on for one of the largest helicopter assaults of the war. A battle of several days was expected.

A U.S. Army lieutenant was shot through the heart as he piloted his helicopter on a strafing pass over Communist positions which were pounding the incoming aircraft.

Two other American helicopter crewmen were reported wounded in the assault.

The operation had been delayed by ground fog. But when it lifted, the fleet of helicopters and some supporting propeller-driven fighter planes moved in on the jungle objective.

"Hit the northern tree line with everything you've got," ordered Map. Earl O. McConaha, commander of the 120th Helicopter Co.

The unarmed troop-carrying helicopters dropped smoke grenades wherever they drew groundfire, pinpointing targets for the armed helicopters.

Kennedy Bid For Senate Strengthens

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy appeared Wednesday to command sufficient strength to win the Democratic nomination for U.S. Senator from New York State.

His formal announcement of candidacy, expected soon, is the last bridge to be crossed.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York City set the stage for that announcement Wednesday when he called upon the Attorney General to make clear "whether he intends to be a candidate" to oppose the likely Republican candidate, incumbent Kenneth B. Keating.

Kennedy has said he would not run without Wagner's blessing. The mayor, the party's titular leader in the state, has not given this endorsement but told reporters that, "I'm not trying to stop him. All this talk that I don't want him is sheer nonsense."

Wagner urged a clarification after a Kennedy spokesman termed "premature" reports that the Attorney General had decided to run.

But Kennedy's announcement and Wagner's endorsement reportedly were forthcoming, possibly within a week.

Meanwhile, the Kennedy bandwagon gained speed.

As of Wednesday, the brother of the late President John F. Kennedy had the announced backing of county leaders whose delegations will cast more than 530 votes at the party's state convention Sept. 1 in New York City.

Several other county chairmen ready to endorse Kennedy head delegations with more than enough votes to push him over the 573 needed for a majority.

Kennedy will not have a clear field, however.

Rep. Samuel S. Stratton of upstate Amsterdam, the front-runner until Kennedy emerged, plans an all-out fight that showed a potential for becoming an extremely rough one.

George V. Palmer of Schenectady, Stratton's unofficial campaign manager, expanded his battle plan Wednesday and said he would challenge Kennedy's nomination on grounds of nonresidency, if the convention chose the Attorney General.

Lloyd Pins Defeat on Rights Vote

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Rep. Sherman P. Lloyd (R-Utah), Wednesday blamed his vote in favor of the civil rights bill for helping defeat his bid for the Republican nomination to the U.S. Senate.

The first-term Utah congressman also blamed a "personal attack" by Ernest L. Wilkinson and the fact he was unable to campaign extensively in person.

Lloyd, 50, lost by 1,659 ballots in a record primary election vote of 212,000 Tuesday to Wilkinson, 65, former president of Brigham Young University, making his first try to major public office.

Lloyd would not elaborate on his civil rights bill statement. He said only that "my vote in favor... hurt me in Utah."

Lloyd indicated he would support Wilkinson in the Nov. 3 general election against the incumbent, Sen. Frank E. Moss, a Democrat.

Wilkinson made an issue of Lloyd's vote for the civil rights bill in Congress, saying the new law could lead to "a police state."

Both men campaigned as conservatives, with Wilkinson questioning Lloyd's conservative credentials.

"So far as Bill Miller and I are concerned it will not be an issue," he asserted.

Goldwater was asked whether he would have followed the same course as President Johnson in ordering the FBI into the case of three civil rights workers who were murdered in Mississippi.

"I don't see how Johnson could have done anything else," Goldwater replied.

Ike Pledges Full Support To Campaign

Barry Explains Views To 36 Party Leaders At Summit Meeting

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — Cheered by the backing of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, GOP presidential nominee Barry Goldwater wrapped up a new measure of Republican harmony Wednesday after saying he will "seek the support of no extremists — of the left or right."

Goldwater told a news conference that he looked forward to "greatly increased unity" in the campaign as a result of having outlined his views on extremism, civil rights, foreign policy, and other issues to 36 party leaders at a three-hour summit meeting.

Eisenhower, sitting with Goldwater; William E. Miller, the vice-presidential nominee; former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, and Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, said the "uncertainties" he had felt about the nominee had been resolved.

"I fully support the Republican ticket in the coming campaign," the former president said. In response to questions he said he will do all he can for the nominees but reminded reporters he soon will be 74 years old.

In a wide-ranging speech aimed at answering criticism of him by both Republicans and Democrats, Goldwater said he will "seek the support of no extremists — of the left or of the right" in his presidential campaign. The speech was to a closed session but was made available to newsmen.

"We repudiate character assassins, vigilantes, Communists and any other group such as the Ku Klux Klan that seeks to impose its views through terror or threat of violence," said Goldwater in the speech.

At his news conference Goldwater refused to repudiate the right-wing John Birch Society because, he said, it was not on any subversive list.

However, Goldwater condemned Robert Welch, head of the society, saying he had been among the first to read a book by Welch and has returned it to him with the assertion that it should be burned because Welch could not prove statements in it.

"I told him that he had made damaging, ridiculous and very stupid statements," Goldwater said.

Goldwater made these other points in his speech:

—Suggested that President Johnson, rather than he, is "impulsive" and "imprudent" in foreign affairs because the Democratic President "has no policy at all."

—Pledged to "support unconditionally the purposes of the United Nations was originally intended to serve."

—Said he wanted to "repeat for perhaps the millionth time, lest there be any doubt in anyone's mind — that I support the Social Security system and I want to see it strengthened."

While most of the governors, party officials and candidates attending the summit meeting applauded Goldwater's statement of views, there remained some dissent.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York told news conference he still has reservations about some of Goldwater's views. He said particularly he would like further clarification of the nominee's position on presidential authority over the use of nuclear weapons.

Goldwater said in response to news conference questions that everybody at the conference agreed that the "so-called backlash" of white voters as a result of racial violence would not be an issue in the campaign.

"So far as Bill Miller and I are concerned it will not be an issue," he asserted.

Goldwater was asked whether he would have followed the same course as President Johnson in ordering the FBI into the case of three civil rights workers who were murdered in Mississippi.

"I don't see how Johnson could have done anything else," Goldwater replied.

In-state telephone rates to be reduced

SIGNS OF SPENDING relief resulting from recent changes in federal tax laws are showing themselves not only in personal tax savings — but also in public service companies such as Northwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Reduced rates for long distance calls within Iowa were filed Wednesday with the Iowa State Commerce Commission by the Northwestern company. The changes are scheduled to take effect September 13.

Lower rates, with estimated savings of $1,130,000 annually for Iowa phone users, reflect both the change in the tax law and economies from the company's new equipment and techniques that help lower the cost of inter-city calls over longer distance calls.

Depending on course on the type of call, distance and the time of day, proposed reductions in long distance rates range from 5 cents to 40 cents. Changes for lower rates include all calls over 87 miles and a substantially lower schedule of rates will be established for "after 9 p.m." station-to-station calls. Lower "after 9 p.m." rates begin at 47 miles and provide a maximum charge of 60 cents for a three-minute call over the longest distance in Iowa — a 40 cent reduction.

The reduced rates are part of a plan to spur both the company's and Iowa's economy while conforming to the objectives of the federal tax reduction legislation.

Northwestern Bell should be commended for its action and should be an example for other public service companies within the state.

Relief from boredom

PROCEEDING, as did Republicans at San Francisco, on the questionable theory that a presidential nominating convention is pre-eminently a TV spectacular, planners of the Democratic Convention at Atlantic City are working with TV's prime ingredient—movies.

There will be one 20-minute film interlude on each night of the four-day convention, which begins Aug. 24. One will be a memorial to the late President Kennedy, another two on domestic and foreign policy, and the other on "the man who . . . Lyndon Johnson.

Thus, the living-room dial twisters will have things as usual. At dull points, in which this unsuspenseful spectacular promises to abound, one may switch to a movie. In this case, however, the program planners propose to do it themselves rather than leave it to members of the audience.

Iowa — 3 parts honesty, 1 part stubbornness

IOWA HAS CHARM; it is a place of color and fragrance, a place of peaceful change in a turbulent world, a place where old life explodes with renewed vigor each spring and where new life prances with gusto on spindly legs.

An Iowan is gregarious. He is a sucker for a coffee break with friends and an easy mark for a stranger needing directions. The Yankee grin, that unique symbol of Americana, might have been born in Iowa. It is not hoarded by her people. An Iowan is three parts sincerity, three parts honesty (agreements can still be sealed with a simple handshake), one part stubbornness, and a dash of gullibility (but you'll never fool him twice).

There is harmony in Iowa — a balanced melody. A rhythm of life that lies somewhere between Tchaikovsky and Chubby Checker. Although there is neon and chrome, liquor by the drink and the twist and the various pleasantries of Twentieth Century America, morality still makes sense in life here.

Iowa is the scent of new-mown clover. Crickets. A factory whistle signaling the noon, a rooster crowing in the dawn. Atlas missile silos resting silently in the lee of their less formidable agricultural brothers. A horse and buggy parked unashamedly beside a Cadillac. And Iowa is towering Halls of Ivy where people build satellites to probe space, create great works of art and leave lasting monuments of poetry and prose to the generations who shall follow.

The Democrats are starting to firm up their show in Atlantic City and so far it sounds like quite a convention. They're going to show movies every night, making it the first political film festival in American history. There will be fireworks to celebrate Lyndon Johnson's 56th birthday, Perle Mesta will give five parties, and Carol Channing is going to sing "Hello, Lyndon." The rest of the program will just be icing on the cake.

This is not to say that the Democrats won't have problems. The most pressing one seems to be the question of housing. Some hotels in Atlantic City are lacking in modern plumbing facilities and there is a good chance that many delegates will wind up in rooms without baths.

How these rooms will be allotted is up to the Democratic National Committee, but the chances are good that those delegates who haven't shown too much enthusiasm for President Johnson's programs will be given the bathless rooms. To placate them, the National Committee is thinking of issuing salt water soap, at its own expense, in case these delegates would like to bathe in the ocean.

The second most pressing problem is how to keep 3,000 delegates in their chairs during the convention when there isn't much going on. It would look bad for the television audience if there weren't many people in the hall while the speeches were being made.

Plans will be made to the delegates to remain seated during the evening, and lounge facilities off the floor will be kept to a minimum.

The real problem here seems to be: if you have 25 per cent of the delegates without baths, how do you keep the other 75 per cent from walking out during the long hot sessions.

Another problem the Democrats have raised is the question of co-nominating speeches. President Johnson has decided he wants Gov. Pat Brown of California and Gov. John Connally of Texas to nominate him. The purpose of a nominator is to set off the spontaneous demonstration for the candidate. When he says the magic words, bedlam is supposed to take place in the hall.

But if you have two nominators, the question arises — when do you have the spontaneous demonstration? Is it after the first nominating speech or after the second?

Great brains have been working on the problem for weeks. One

President leads Congress well but Democrats worried about party

By DORIS FLEESON

WASHINGTON — President Johnson has made a remarkable record as leader of the Democratic majorities in Congress. Democrats are starting to complain that he is not turning in a similar performance as leader of his party.

With the convention less than two weeks away, they are still without a clear channel to the President who can make political decisions and make them stick. The routine is being carried on by a mixed bag of subordinates who admit that somebody is always second-guessing them and what is worse, that it is rarely the same somebody.

Even in Washington, where the political road map is the object of incessant study, party officials are afraid of stumbling. Outcries from the states get louder as pre-convention tensions increase. Part of the trouble is the much-touted organizational skill of the Goldwater forces. Democrats with the good sense to notice it naturally look at their own party and perceive faults in organization they might otherwise overlook.

THEY UNDERSTAND that the President is a "can do" man and was eager to prove it after he inherited White House power. But they regard it as an extension of Johnson in his successful role as Senate majority leader, and they argue that he has a different problem as he turns to face the voters.

They do not at all want him to suggestion is that since you are going to have two nominators you might as well have two spontaneous demonstrations, one after each speech. But the television audience might think this is a bit much.

If you have the demonstration after the first speech, then all the other nominator would be doing was to second the nomination, which is not the same as nominating the candidate. If you wait until both nominators make their speeches before your demonstration, you have to refrain from using the words "Lyndon B. Johnson" in the first speech, or you might set off a spontaneous demonstration accidentally.

We've come up with a solution which we've passed on to convention planners. Why not have Gov. Brown and Gov. Connally give their nominating speeches simultaneously at either end of the platform? Their speeches would be timed so they would finish at the same moment and they would both say the magic words "Lyndon Baines Johnson" together.

The planners were so grateful for our suggestion, which still has to have White House approval, that they've given us something money can't buy at the Democratic Convention — and that is a double room with a bath.

The 'Hoot that Sways' has piety rather than outrage

By GARRISON KEILLOR (from the Minnesota Daily)

Last spring I went to a hootenanny put on by the Committee to Save the Elms, I think, or the Bloomington Students. (The Students of Bloomington have since been saved, I understand, but the Elms need your continued support.) A saving group, anyway.

At the end of the hoot, as Jack Linkletter spoke briefly on freedom from inside a bass fiddle, a young man with guitar mounted the stage and began softly, so softly, strumming "We Shall Overcome" (the theme song of the Civil Rights Movement according to those who are trying to sell the whole 36-program series to General Motors) and all but three or four stood up and swayed side-to-side, holding hands with their brethren, and waiting for the converts to come moistly down the aisle.

As recently as last winter, I thought the time had passed when a sinner-in thought it necessary to strike a prayerful pose as the posse approached. But these incidents, as well as the Clean-Cut Picket Line at the Unamerican Activities Committee's hearings here this summer, indicate that pickets, young rebels and the sit, stand, wade, dive, lie-and-walk-in groups have only developed more poses.

By and large, the poses indicate that protesters are coming out of the swamps, off the streets and into the shopping center. The poses are not necessarily designed to appeal to the suburban middle-class backlashers and side-winders, but they certainly appeal to anyone who likes his piety homogenized and his social concern served with a smile.

The man who will not stand up and sway for brotherhood's sake, who will not cheer for freedom, is the man who refuses to buy Girl Scout cookies and who will not mow the six-inch strip of his neighbor's grass between his lawn and his neighbor's driveway.

He votes against school bonds, will not let neighborhood children gather his windfalls and haggles over his bill with the paperboy. Rest assured, my freedom fighting friends, the Hoot That Sways and the Freedom Cheer indicated only that, even if a man beats his wife and children and keeps slaves, he will not admit it in public. The Happy Rebel who cheers for freedom does so in the same spirit as he waves at girls on floats and smiles at himself in the mirror after his morning shave.

It is time now, my friends, to make my own position on civil rights absolutely clear. At the same time, the Hoot That Sways teaches me, I can make it absolutely acceptable to everyone.

To the socialists, I say that I am not only an advocate of civil rights, but an advocate of black nationalism as well. To conservatives, I say that these things certainly cannot be accomplished immediately and require further study.

Privately, of course, I protest. I do not think it necessary to make pageants of rallies, or turn a movement into a melodrama. I think outrage more appropriate for Negroes than staged piety. But I realize we are standing at the edge of the Photogenic Negro, and I don't think we've seen everything yet.

Hollywood has yet to produce a civil rights superstudious, a fact which has not escaped my notice and which I'm working on right now.

The script I've begun is titled, naturally, "The Freedom Fighters," and I'm looking for Anthony Perkins to play the SNCC organizer with Spencer Tracy as the Birmingham police chief and Sandra Dee as his daughter. The script calls for Sandra and Anthony to be married at midnight in the Green Pastures Holiness Baptist Church as it is under seige by the Ku Klux Klan, but I am certainly open to other suggestions.

Eastern Europe, West plan exchange, aided by Ford

Two major programs for the exchange of scholars and specialists between Western countries and Eastern Europe will be carried forward by actions totaling nearly $2.3 million announced today by the Ford Foundation.

The Inter-University Committee on Travel Grants received $1.5 million for further exchange over the next five years between American and Soviet institutions of higher education. The chief aim of the committee's program is to help advance American knowledge of the Soviet Union.

UNDER A SEPARATE program launched by the Foundation in 1957 to enable East European scholars to study in the United States and Western Europe, the Foundation announced support totaling $675,000 to finance visits by Yugoslav and Hungarian teachers and experts. Also, $100,000 was granted to the American Council of Learned Societies (A.C.L.S.) to continue for two years an exchange with the Soviet Academy of Sciences. The Foundation's East European program, now in its eighth year, has also included scholars from Poland.

"THE OBJECTIVES of both exchange efforts with Eastern Europe being aided by the Foundation are primarily scholarly and educational," said Henry T. Heald, president of the Foundation.

The opportunity for American scholars to spend extended periods in the Soviet Union is adding new vigor and depth to Russian studies in the United States. Reciprocally, the residence of East European and Soviet scholars and specialists in Western universities has broadened their intellectual horizons.

"Finally, the establishment of sustained contact among highly educated persons from both areas has yielded important dividends in the continuing task of improving international understanding."

The program conducted by the Inter-University Committee on Travel Grants is a main component of the United States U.S.S.R. cultural agreement signed in 1953 and renewed last February. Representing forty colleges and universities in twenty-three states, the committee's exchange is also financed by the U.S. Department of State and the participating institutions. Previous Ford Foundation grants total $12 million.

UNDER THE PROGRAM, 208 American graduate students and 208 American graduate students and 208 American graduate students will spend six months to two years at Moscow State and Leningrad State Universities and other Soviet institutions. Nine-tenths have done their work in the humanities and social sciences, including, for example, Slavic language and literature, art history, music, economics, history, law and political science.

Soviet participants number 244 and have attended about twenty American universities. Nearly seven-tenths have worked in such fields as chemistry, physics, and mechanical and electrical engineering.

The Inter-University Committee negotiates the program annually with the Soviet Ministry of Higher and Specialized Secondary Education, each side pays the international travel costs of the foreign participants.

RECENTLY, the exchange has been broadened to include summer study at Moscow State for American secondary-school and college teachers of Russian, and a similar program at Cornell for Russian teachers of English. Two other new aspects are short-term lecture and research visits by professors from both sides, and a U.S. exchange of young scholars with Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, and Hungary.

Over the five years of today's grant, the Inter-University Committee program with the U.S.S.R. will arrange exchanges from each side for about 245 graduate students and young scholars, 177 language teachers, and twenty researchers and fifty lecturers. In addition, fifty Americans will be exchanged with sixty Bulgarians, Czechs, and Hungarians.

THE AMERICAN participants are selected by a committee of six senior scholars from six universities. Headquarters of the Inter-University Committee are at Indiana University, which — as fiscal agent for the program — received the Foundations grant. Its chairman is Robert F. Byrnes, head of Indiana's history department.

THE ACTIONS announced today for the exchanges with Yugoslavia and Hungary and the A.C.L.S.-Soviet Academy of Sciences program brought to approximately $4 million the amount the Foundation has provided since 1957 to enable East European scholars, experts, and leaders to travel and study in the United States and Western Europe. The funds cover study programs for some 615 persons, including visits to Eastern Europe by eighty Americans. The participants represent such fields as education, economics, law, political science, sociology, psychology, the fine arts, literature, journalism, and also the physical sciences.

HUNGARY IS participating in the program for the first time. A $50,000 appropriation will enable about thirty Hungarian scholars to spend an academic year in the United States and Western Europe, and will finance about a dozen short-term exchanges of American and Hungarian cultural leaders.

From 1957 to 1961, the Foundation financed study in the United States and Western Europe, 330 Poles. Also, about thirty American scholars were enabled to visit Poland. The exchange of Polish scholars has been inactive since 1961 because of differences regarding selection procedures.

SELECTION of East Europeans in the Foundation's program is made with aid of interviews in the countries concerned by teams of American academic and other experts appointed by the Foundation.

Administration of the East European scholars' visits to the United States is conducted by the Institute of International Education; and in Western Europe, by the British Council and similar organizations on the Continent. The Foundation's program also provides funds for books and educational equipment to universities in Poland, Yugoslavia, and Hungary.

The organization set out last fall to gain control of 200 million bushels of soybeans, or about 28 per cent of the 1963 crop. The goal was a price of $2.75 a bushel, but the price ceiling reached late in the fall was $2.69 a bushel.

Staley said that after farmers were released from their sales contracts, the NFO obtained a 5- to 7-cent-a-bushel price advantage for some members through group sales.

Philip Hubbard, SUI pro, represents a desire of minority and is not a threat to the community.

In a speech Wednesday, Hubbard, also a member of the board, predicted the Iowa City City Council would prove effective.

The Council is expected to vote on passage of the ordinance at its meeting Tuesday. The ordinance would prohibit discrimination in the sale, rental and showing of property — residential or business.

Hubbard called the opposition to the ordinance a part of the general unrest which has gripped the nation in the area of civil rights.

The professor said his own study of the attitudes of Iowa City residents indicates most of the people do not seem "to have a well-defined objection to specific features of the ordinance as much as a general feeling that an ordinance should be avoided if at all possible."

"... WE IN THIS community are confronted with a manifestation of what has come to be known by various names throughout the country, such as 'resentment to the demands of minority groups,' or 'general feeling that we are going too fast in this civil rights business.'"

Hubbard then offered an explanation to some of the problems bothering Americans in the civil rights area.

He said his, the Negro race, wants "to join you in developing this great and wonderful country to help make the dreams of Jefferson, Lincoln and other great Americans come true."

Hubbard said the Negroes contribute more than their share to the nation's social problems, but not because of their race. He said Negroes want to show Americans they have been confusing cause and effect on the matter.

House OK's Congressional Salary Hike

WASHINGTON — The House approved Wednesday a $210.3-million appropriation to pay congressional salaries and housekeeping expenses. The bill carries language described as aimed at making records on expenditures available to the public.

But the new language superseded previous measures covering public disclosure of such things as Senate payrolls, House and Senate expenditure vouchers, and committee expenses.

The measure now goes back to the Senate.

Rep. Oliver P. Bolton (R-Ohio) said he was satisfied that the new language was broad enough to accomplish the purpose of making congressional financial transactions open to public scrutiny.

NFO Abandons Plan To Corner Soybean Market

CORNING — The National Farmers Organization (NFO) is abandoning for the time being its effort to corner the soybean market, NFO President Oren Lee Staley said Wednesday.

Reached at the NFO headquarters here, Staley said the NFO now is suggesting that farmers store their crops.

"We are going to let farmers take the price they can get and compare it to the price last fall when we were trying to boost prices," he said.

Staley said the NFO has released farmers from sales contracts signed.

The organization set out last fall to gain control of 200 million bushels of soybeans, or about 28 per cent of the 1963 crop. The goal was a price of $2.75 a bushel, but the price ceiling reached late in the fall was $2.69 a bushel.

SUI Sophomore, Adviser To Attend National Conclave

An SUI sophomore and her faculty adviser will attend the national conclave of Phi Upsilon Omicron at Ohio State University, Columbus, Aug. 18-21.

Phi Upsilon Omicron is a national honorary professional home economics organization with chapters in fifty colleges and universities. There are also 17 alumnae chapters.

Hope Seen in Housing Law

Philip Hubbard, SUI professor of mechanics and hydraulics, says the proposed Iowa City Fair Housing Ordinance represents a desire of minorities to share the nation's problems, and is not a threat to the community.

In a speech Wednesday before the Optimists Club, Hubbard, also a member of the SUI Committee on Human Rights, predicted the Iowa City Council would pass the ordinance, and it would prove effective.

The Council is expected to vote on passage of the ordinance at its meeting Tuesday. The ordinance would prohibit discrimination in the sale, rental and showing of property—residential or business.

possible to meet the needs of many more people.

"THE NEGRO, he concluded, 'should not be a threat to anyone, and is not intended to be, and will not be if he is permitted to contribute according to his ability.'"

"Help," Hubbard said, "is needed to overcome the depression which has resulted from oppression, but beyond that we ask only for a fair break at the starting line for this journey."

Hubbard predicted the number of complaints under the ordinance, if it is passed, will be exceptionally small. "The very existence of the ordinance will be sufficient for the great majority of citizens who want to do what is lawful, and will not knowingly violate what they understand the law to be."

"The controversial enforcement clause should be included, not because it will be resorted to frequently, but rather because its presence is concrete evidence that the acts prohibited in this ordinance are genuinely considered to be against the public interest."

"LATER HUBBARD asked, 'Can minority groups achieve their goals only at the expense of the majority?'"

In considering this, Hubbard drew an analogy to traffic laws. These, he said, are restrictions on freedom, but they are necessary. Like the traffic laws, the professor said, restrictions like the fair housing ordinance are in the public interest.

In another area, Hubbard said the Negro does not stand as a threat to white employment. By becoming free he will become a part of new markets that will lead to greater opportunities for all. But, he continued, these "disadvantaged" groups will have to make a bigger effort.

He compared life in America to life in a garden largely untended in which expanded production is a threat to white employment. By becoming free he will become a part of new markets that will lead to greater opportunities for all.

Restaurant Must Reveal Rights Stand

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Segregationist Lester Maddox was ordered Wednesday to show cause why he should not be held in civil contempt of a Federal court order requiring him to serve Negroes at his Pickrick Restaurant.

A hearing was set for Aug. 19. Maddox was served with the order at the restaurant late Wednesday.

The action was taken shortly after U.S. Dist. Judge Frank A. Hooper signed the order at his home on a motion by Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Maddox's restaurant was ordered to cease segregation in one of the first two actions to be decided by a federal court under the 1964 Civil Rights Act. Tuesday was the deadline to comply.

Negroes who attempted to integrate the restaurant Tuesday did not appear Wednesday, apparently leaving it in the hands of federal officials.

Maddox told newsmen that if he were ordered to show cause in contempt, action he would leave it up to his attorneys.

"I haven't refused to serve anyone yet," Maddox said. Six Negroes went to the segregated restaurant Tuesday. Three Negro youths were dissuaded from entering by a Negro baker, Ozell Rogers, who told the youths that they would cause all Pickrick employees to lose their jobs if they entered.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Four U.S. transport planes with 50 paratroopers headed for Leopoldville Wednesday as the United States again began to step up its aid to the Congo.

Coincident with this Pentagon announcement, word reached the State Department that victorious Communist-backed rebels have ordered the American consular staff out of Stanleyville, a major city in the eastern Congo.

Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman reported to a closed House Foreign Affairs subcommittee session on a U.S.-Belgian agreement to help the Congolese national government. The agreement calls for more U.S. economic help and military assistance including trucks, jeeps and transport planes.

G. Mennen Williams, assistant secretary of state for African affairs, hurried off to Leopoldville Tuesday night to work out arrangements.

In the view of U.S. officials, a crisis is brewing in the Congo once again and the large strategic land in the heart of Africa could fall to anarchy or to the Reds unless fast countermeasures are taken.

With substantial U.S. backing, the United Nations went into the newborn country was torn by revolution. U.N. troops pulled out last July 1, and once again turbulence set in. Red-backed rebels have seized large chunks of the eastern Congo.

The four U.S. Air Force C130 planes now on their way to Leopoldville are an installment in the increased aid to keep the central government from falling apart. Officials declined to say just how big a military-economic aid program is being shaped up.

The Defense Department said the four planes are "on temporary assignment for transport functions"—the sprawling Congo has poor transportation—and are "carrying their own maintenance and guard personnel."

Aboard the craft which took off from Pope Air Force Base, N.C., Tuesday night were 50 paratroopers from the 82nd Airborne Division at Ft. Bragg, N.C., and 56 Air Force personnel including plane crews and maintenance men.

U.S. sources stressed that the American troops would be used only to protect U.S. property, not for combat.

'Prophetess' Alice Caught

Alice Lenshina, a "prophetess" who said she went to "heaven" and returned to lead the Lumpa religious sect in a bloody rampage in Northern Rhodesia, was reported to be in government custody today. Prime Minister Kenneth Kaunda, who had ordered her taken "dead or alive," announced this and implied Alice had surrendered.

Great Train Robber Stages Great Escape

LONDON (AP)—A small gang broke into a British prison Wednesday and sprung a former bookmaker convicted of taking part in Britain's great train robbery. Police believe the bookie knows where $6 million of the train loot is hidden.

A global police network swung into action in search of James Frederick Wilson, 32, husband and father of three daughters, who escaped from Winslow Green Prison in Birmingham.

Wilson was sentenced to 30 years for taking part with 11 others in the Aug. 8, 1963, robbery of the Glasgow-London mail train. They stole a staggering $7,025,000 in cash. Only $840,000 has been recovered.

The tall, imposing Wilson was the silent man of the 38-day robbery trial, never speaking except to deny his guilt. Fingerprints convicted him. He was sent to Birmingham, placed in a solitary cell, given prison work and paid 42 cents a week for his efforts.

STILL MISSING since the robbery are three men Scotland Yard has named as the masterminds: James White, 43; Ronald Edwards, 32; and Bruce Reynolds, 41. The trio is believed to be somewhere in Europe.

As soon as Wilson vanished from prison, Scotland Yard and Interpol went to work on his possible contacts. Police set up roadblocks in England and screened travelers going to the continent.

Wilson clambered over the 20-foot wall in darkness, helped by several conspirators who broke into the prison and brought him a rope ladder.

PRISON OFFICERS said Wilson's escape was engineered by breaking through a gate guarding a building construction site. The jail is in process of modernization.

Wilson's friends apparently brought him fresh clothing. They slugged a prison guard officer and knocked him out. Wilson left the prison uniform in his cell.

The effort worked so well that Wilson, quitting prison around 3 a.m. must have had at least a four-hour start.

Barry May Put Iowa On Campaign

DES MOINES (AP)—Atty. Gen. Evan Hultman, Republican candidate for governor, said Wednesday he was assured that Sen. Barry Goldwater and former Vice President Richard Nixon will make campaign trips to Iowa this fall.

Hultman attended a unity meeting called by Goldwater in Hershey, Pa., and then discussed the meeting with Iowa newsmen by telephone.

"The national chairman assured me that Sen. Goldwater would be in Iowa during the campaign," Hultman said. "And Dick Nixon and Gov. William Scranton told me personally that they were willing to campaign in Iowa."

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House approved Wednesday a $210.3-million appropriation to pay congressional salaries and housekeeping expenses. The bill carries language described as aimed at making records on expenditures available to the public.

But the new language supersedes previous measures covering public disclosure of such things as Senate payrolls, House and Senate expenditure vouchers, and committee employees.

The measure now goes back to the Senate. Rep. Oliver P. Bolton (R-Ohio) said he was satisfied that the new language was broad enough to accomplish the purpose of making congressional financial transactions open to public scrutiny.

NFO Abandons Plan To Corner Soybean Market

CORNING (AP)—The National Farmers Organization (NFO) is abandoning for the time being its effort to corner the soybean market, NFO President Oren Lee Staley said Wednesday.

Reached at the NFO headquarters here, Staley said the NFO now is suggesting that farmers store their crops.

"We are going to let farmers take the price they can get and compare it to the price last fall when we were trying to boost prices," he said.

Staley said the NFO has released farmers from sales contracts signed. The organization set out last fall to gain control of 200 million bushels of soybeans, or about 28 per cent of the 1963 crop. The goal was a price of $2.75 a bushel, but the price ceiling reached late in the fall was $2.69 a bushel.

Staley said that after farmers were released from their sales contracts, the NFO obtained a 5- to 7-cent-a-bushel price advantage for some members through group sales.

396 Students Receive SUI Scholarships

More than 390 students at SUI have been awarded scholarships for the 1964-65 academic year.

Charles Mason, director of the Office of Student Financial Aid, announced that the 396 scholarships awarded this year were more than double those awarded last fall. The largest number of scholarships, 195 were from the Student Aid Fund, established in 1945 by the State Board of Regents for students who are residents of Iowa.

Also awarded were 71 Drew Memorial Fund Scholarships, 47 Old Gold Development Fund Scholarships, 29 LaVerne Noyes Scholarships, 19 I. W. Bender Scholarships, seven Carr Scholarships, five Scott German Scholarships, five National Merit Fund Scholarships, three Rutledge Scholarships, two Pritchett Scholarships, two Dental Student Aid Fund Scholarships, and a Dr. Robert F. Becks Dental Scholarship.

All of the scholarships are awarded on the basis of above-average academic achievement and financial need.

The Drew Scholarships are provided by income earned from citrus groves in Florida which were bequeathed to SUI by the late Gilman A. and Lena S. Drew. Mr. Drew received a B.A. degree from SUI in 1890.

Old Gold Development Fund Scholarships are provided from contributions to the Old Gold Development Fund from SUI alumni and friends.

Only descendants of World War I veterans are eligible for the LaVerne Noyes Scholarships which are provided by income of the Noyes estate.

The Bender Scholarship was established in 1959 in the name of Isaac Walter Bender, a native of Corning. Bender was graduated from SUI in 1889 and taught in the SUI high school for a number of years.

The late A. Whitney Carr of Jordan, N.Y., left SUI an endowment of $50,000 in 1900 for the Carr Scholarships.

The Scott German Scholarships are provided through funds willed to SUI in 1959 by Scott German, a former Maquoketa resident. The scholarships are granted only to Maquoketa students.

National Merit Fund Scholarships are provided through contributions from the National Merit Foundation. For each Merit Scholar who attends SUI, the University is presented money for scholarships. This year five students at SUI will receive scholarship through his program.

The Rutledge Scholarships were established by Jeannette W. Rutledge in memory of her cousin, Burtch I. Rutledge.

LBJ Raises Military Pay

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson signed a bill Wednesday raising the pay of most military men from privates to generals, and said, "We need and want our most able men at all grades to make the military a profession."

The pay increase—2.5 per cent of present levels for most men—will show up in military pay lists the first of next month.

Johnson said in a White House ceremony that the nation wants military men to know that "their service to America's defense will not be a disservice to their families' dignity."

The pay raises range from $3.50 a month for privates first class and seamen to $49 for the chief of staff.

The raises go to all military personnel except draftees and lowest-ranking enlisted men with less than two years service, who are expected to get more money from Congress next year.

Officers with less than two years service get an 8.5 per cent raise because there has been no increase in their pay grades since 1952.

For most other servicemen, it was the second pay raise in 11 months. The first boost was 14 per cent.

Kyle Pleads Not Guilty To Charge

WATERLOO (AP)—John Thomas Kyle, 16, of Waterloo pleaded innocent to a county attorney's information charging him with murder when arraigned in District Court Wednesday.

He is accused in the slaying of Diane Gable, 19, of Waterloo. Judge Blair Wood said the trial would begin Oct. 5, and ordered Kyle held without bond.

Kyle showed sharp interest in the proceedings of the brief arraignment, but displayed no emotion.

The youth was arrested June 1 about two hours after the body of Miss Gable was found in the living room of her parents home.

Death was caused by two stab wounds in the heart and she had been sexually molested, an autopsy revealed.

Giant Tree Fights Death

PORTERVILLE, Calif. (AP)—Moses, the giant redwood, got a new lease on life Wednesday.

The 2,000-year-old tree took a setback Tuesday in its seven-day fight against a lightning-caused fire burning deep within its mammoth trunk. As the fire flared up again it was feared the redwood, located in Sequoia National Forest, would have to be destroyed.

All day Wednesday, rangers bombarded the 250-foot-high tree with 1,500 gallons of chemically-treated water dropped from a helicopter.

Dispatcher Harry Harp said, "It looks good. Those water drops really are effective."

Man Convicted

CHICAGO (AP)—Abraham Bolden, first Negro Secret Service man assigned to guard the president, was sentenced Wednesday to six years in prison for trying to sell a secret file for $50,000.

Judge Joseph Sam Perry of U.S. District Court rejected Bolden's tearful plea for clemency after a jury reported a conviction of Bolden on three counts—attempted sale of Secret Service documents, obstruction of justice and conspiracy.

The court delayed Bolden's commitment until Sept. 4 when it will hear motions for a new trial. This was the second trial of Bolden, formerly of East St. Louis, Ill. His first ended July 11 with the jury unable to agree on a verdict.

'How Lucky Can You Get,' Hutch Asks

CINCINNATI (AP) — "How lucky can you get?" Manager Fred Hutchinson of the Cincinnati Reds was grinning when he said that Wednesday night after receiving a big kiss from a lovely blonde soloist during his emotion-packed 45th birthday party, preceding the Reds' game with the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The soloist was Cindy Grogg, who sings the Star Spangled Banner before most Cincinnati games. Wednesday night she led a choral group in singing "Happy Birthday" to Hutchinson.

Hutchinson is fighting a cancer condition in his chest but except for one full week and a couple of extra days he had directed the Reds and Dodgers players formed a "V" from the pitcher's mound for the birthday ceremonies.

There was a huge cake, 40 inches square, and with a basketball-sized confection baseball atop it.

Pitcher Bob Purkey, player representative for the Reds, unveiled a color television set, given to their manager by the players. Outfielder Wally Moon, player representative for Los Angeles, presented a clock-barometer on behalf of the Dodgers.

"Words are a little inadequate to express my gratitude," said Hutchinson. "I thank all of you very much."

Killebrew's 40th; Twins Lose, 6-2

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — Bill Freehan's three-run homer lifted the Detroit Tigers to a 6-2 victory over Minnesota Wednesday night despite Harmon Killebrew's 40th home run for the Twins.

All three runs on Freehan's homer in the fourth were unearned as Bernie Allen batted a two-out grounder by Gates Brown. Norm Cash then doubled to set the stage for Freehan's 13th homer off loser Jim Grant (9-9).

Killebrew's 40th homer came in the sixth with Tony Oliva, who had walked, on base. Killebrew now is only five homers off his major league-leading total of 45 last year. Detroit . . . 000 300 003 — 6 9 0 Minnesota . . . 000 002 000 — 2 4 1

Lynch's Belt Over Stands Tops Mets

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Jerry Lynch smashed a three-run homer over the double-deck stands in right field at Forbes Field Wednesday night, driving in the winning runs as the Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the New York Mets 5-4.

Lynch's blow was only the ninth ever hit over the right field roof. It came in the fifth off rookie right-hander Dennis Ribant, recently obtained in a trade with Milwaukee and making his first start in the majors.

Ribant struck out the first two Pirates he faced in the fifth then was tagged for singles by Manny Mota and Roberto Clemente before Lynch connected.

The Pirates' starter, southpaw Joe Gibbon, was removed in the sixth after singles by Ed Kranepool and Joe Christopher and a triple by Jim Hickman knocked in two Met runs.

Mathews Leads Braves Past Colts With 4 Safeties

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Eddie Mathews drilled a homer, double and two singles, leading the Milwaukee Braves to a 5-1 victory over the Houston Colts Wednesday night.

Tony Cloninger had a five-hit shutout until Dave Roberts homered with two out in the ninth. Cloninger also was tagged for a triple by Bob Lillis before balancing his record at 11-1.

Mathews had two of the five hits the Braves used to knock out Hal Brown in a little more than three innings.

His first single led to a run in the first and his homer, No. 16 for the season, started a two-run third.

The defeat was Brown's 11th against only two victories and his fourth in a row at the hands of the Braves.

N.Y. Rookie Goes Distance In First Start

NEW YORK (AP) — Mickey Mantle had two homers, one a tape measure blast to dead center, Roger Maris belted one and rookie right-hander Mel Stottlemyre went the distance in his first major league start Wednesday as the New York Yankees trimmed the Chicago White Sox, 7-3.

Stottlemyre, 22, called from Richmond Tuesday, pitched a seven-hitter and snapped the Yankee losing streak at three.

The Yanks had also lost five of six to the Orioles and White Sox on their current critical home stand.

The White Sox got a run in the third on a walk, stolen base and an error, but Cleve Boyer tied it up with a homer off Chicago starter Ray Herbert.

In the fourth, Pete Ward tripled and scored on a single by Ron Hansen, pushing the White Sox back in front, 2-1.

Mantle retaliated with an enormous blast off Herbert over the screen on top of the high fence in center field above the 461-foot mark. It was believed the longest ball ever hit to that part of Yankee Stadium.

Maris hit a two-run homer off reliever Don Mossi in the sixth for the clinching blow, then the Yankees got an unearned run the same inning.

Orioles Blank Red Sox, 7-0

BALTIMORE (AP) — Rookie Sam Bowens smacked two homers in support of Milt Pappas' five-hit pitching as the Baltimore Orioles whipped the Boston Red Sox 7-0 Wednesday night and increased their American League lead to two games.

The runner-up Chicago White Sox dropped two games behind by losing to the third-place New York Yankees, who remained 3 1/2 games behind the Orioles.

Pappas, who upped his record to 11-5, retired the first 11 batters before Carl Yastrzemski singled with two out in the fourth.

The Orioles scored two runs off loser Ed Connolly in the second when Bowens was hit by a pitch. Norm Siebern doubled and Dick Brown singled.

Bowens his 15th homer to finish Connolly in the third, and whacked No. 16 in the first pitch from reliever Pete Charton in the sixth.

Hurler To Leave Mound for Pulpit

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Russ Kemmerer is dividing his time these days — between the pulpit and the mound.

The 32-year-old relief pitcher for the Oklahoma City 89ers also is doing a job from the pulpit of the Chapel Hill Methodist Church.

That's where Kemmerer is devoting his time these days when he isn't on the road on a Pacific Coast League tour or practicing for a home game.

Kemmerer's love of baseball dates back to his childhood in Pittsburgh. But his relatively new desire for the ministry is no less strong because it started later in his life.

In fact, Kemmerer says this will probably be his last season with the Houston Colts farm team.

The right-hander's decision to work for the ministry came in 1959 while he was with the Chicago White Sox.

"There is a minister in Illinois named Dr. Charles Smith," Kemmerer said. "I guess it was he who helped me see that I could use what talents I have to help others through the church."

Kemmerer, who is married, couldn't just drop out of baseball to enter a seminary. So he has devoted off-seasons and nights to a series of correspondence study courses to prepare him for a new career.

Kemmerer has completed his years of correspondence work, and now needs to complete his work on a bachelor's degree in order to be ordained in the Methodist ministry.

Giants Fall To Cardinals; Trail by 4

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Dick Groat stalled a tie-breaking single in the seventh inning, triggering St. Louis to a 6-4 victory over San Francisco Wednesday night that dropped the second-place Giants four games off the National League lead.

The first-place Philadelphia Phillies, who edged Chicago 6-5, enjoy the biggest lead of the season in the NL pennant race.

The Giants had tied the score in their half of the inning when Willie Mays hit a three-run homer that capped a four-run uprising against Cardinal starter Roger Craig.

Bill White started things for the Cardinals in the bottom of the seventh and singles by Ken Boyer and Groat brought him home. Boyer scored on a wild pitch by Billy O'Dell.

Mays' homer, his 34th of the season, followed key two-out hits by Harvey Kuenn and Hal Lanier, who drove in the run.

White's first inning double stretched his consecutive game hitting record to 20, tying the major league high for the year.

Worthington Finds Home With Twins

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — At the age of 35, it looks as if big Al Worthington finally has a steady job.

The right-handed reliever of the Minnesota Twins has been bouncing from the minors to the majors and back again for 14 years. But since June 28 he has strung together a remarkable string of relief successes with the Twins, and they won't part with him.

Worthington has appeared in 20 games, pitching 37 1/2 innings, and has yet to allow an earned run.

Phillies Take 5th Straight, Beat Cubs, 6-5

CHICAGO (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies rallied for five runs in the last two innings Wednesday and held on for a 6-5 squeaker over the Chicago Cubs.

It was the fifth straight victory for the National League leaders and their 11th in their last 14 games. But the Cubs made a real battle of it, scoring three times in the last of the ninth and putting the potential tying run on second base.

Wes Covington powered the Phillies ahead 4-2 in the eighth with a three-run homer off Larry Jackson that followed a pinch single by John Briggs and a walk to Richie Allen. The Phils put together the decisive cluster off reliever Don Elston in the ninth when Bobby Wine singled across two after another single by Briggs, a walk to John Herrnstein and a wild pitch.

The Cubs counter-rallied in the bottom of the ninth against Jack Baldschun, pitching in relief of winner Chris Short. Lou Burke capped it with a three-run double after two were out but was stranded on second when Billy Williams flied out.

Ron Santo's 22nd homer broke a 1-1 tie in the sixth inning, putting the Cubs ahead for the first time. Philadelphia . . . 010 000 022 — 4 10 6

Optumwa Team Opens Play Today In Ruth Tourney

BOONVILLE, Mo. (AP) — Six teams from as many states will kick off the Midwest Regional Babe Ruth Baseball Tournament here today.

The tournament is one of nine which will send their winners to the 13th annual Babe Ruth World Series at Woodland, Calif., Aug. 22-29.

Mulvane, Kan. and Ottumwa will open the double-elimination meet today at 4 p.m.

Eads, Colo., and the North Dakota team will take the field at 4 p.m. and East Tonka, Minn., and the Boonville All-Stars, the host team, at 9 p.m.

The tournament manager said he had not been advised of the home town of North Dakota's team, but had been informed it was on its way here.

Cape Girardeau, Mo., the Missouri state champion, drew a first-round bye. The tournament will continue through Sunday.

Backlands Laborer Carries Venezuela's Olympic Hopes

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — The ebony legs of a temperamental, insecure, semiliterate athlete carry Venezuela's gold medal hopes in the Tokyo Olympics.

A backlands laborer from the shore of Lake Maracaibo in western Venezuela, 27-year-old Armandes Herrera is ranked as one of the fastest sprinters in the world.

In the Pan-American Games at Sao Paulo last year he matched the Olympic record time of 10.2 seconds in a preliminary heat of the 100-meter dash.

He has been training ever since in a pre-Olympic drill recently he ran the 100 meters in 10.1 in the morning. In the afternoon, he equaled the Olympic record time of 20.5 for 200 meters.

With that performance, and a published apology, Herrera regained his place on the Olympic squad from which he had been ousted a week before for dropping out of a practice session "because I didn't feel like training."

Hawks Will Have Aggressive Team, Miller Predicts

SPIRIT LAKE (AP) — Ralph Miller, SU's new head basketball coach, said Wednesday the Hawkeyes will be an aggressive team next winter.

"The team that is controlling the style of the game has the best chance of winning," Miller told about 280 coaches at the annual Iowa High School Athletic Association coaching school.

"For that reason we will keep the pressure on for 40 minutes of every game," Miller said. "We will be aggressive. We will attack all the time."

"This means that sooner or later the opposition has to crack, and when it does we will win."

Drake football Coach Bus Mertes also spoke. He stressed the importance of well-organized practice sessions with daily work on fundamentals.

"More football games are lost because of poorly executed fundamentals than because of a lack of manpower," he said.

The clinic continues through Saturday.

FOUR full-color pictures highlighting the 1964 University Edition of The Daily Iowan which will go on sale Saturday. A copy of the edition will also be sent to all students entering the University this fall.

Edited by W. Gordon Surette, Denver, Colo., the 72-page University Edition was printed on the tary press of the Davenport Times Democrat. Use of the Davenport facilities permitted the full-color photography for the first time.

Previously, the University Edition has been printed on The Daily Iowan's press in the Printing Service Building. The Iowan press, however, can produce sections no larger than eight pages at a time, making the production of a large special edition difficult.

Color photographs introduce each of the four main sections — orientation and orientation, academic activities, and sports. Pictures show the Old Capitol at night, spiral footbridge and SU's basketball coach, Ralph Miller.

All color pictures were taken by Bob Nandell, former Daily Iowan staff photographer.

Special features include a pro Berlin Wall scene and an anniversary of angry riots.
