Humphrey: Barry Is "Out of Step"

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, with praise for President Johnson and taunting barbs for Barry Goldwater, thanked the Democratic National Convention Thursday night for acclaiming him its 1964 vice-presidential nominee.

on the Republican party in forty-term terms. "The temporary Republican spokesman," Humphrey called him, and he said Goldwater "is not only out of tune with the great majority of his countrymen, he is even out of step with his own party."

Soon To Be Replaced

The SUI College of Medicine has been using inter-departmental television facilities like that pictured above for a number of years. But the new medical education network being planned will allow state-wide broadcasting of both live and taped programs, some of which will be operation scenes. The new facilities will include two-way voice transmission so that viewers may comment and ask questions.

SUI Plans Educational TV From College of Medicine

By DALLAS MURPHY
City Editor

Educational television — repeatedly demonstrated to be a useful learning tool for both students and instructors — will take a giant step at SUI in early 1965.

Plans have been made by the College of Medicine, in conjunction with the Television Center and the Extension Division, for the establishment of a medical education television network between the College of Medicine and four Des Moines and two Cedar Rapids hospitals.

"The proposed programming calls for continuing medical education which will assure that practicing physicians have access to the latest scientific developments and knowledge," Dr. Robert Carter, assistant dean of the College of Medicine, said.

Although programming is still in the planning stage, Carter said both live and taped programs will be televised over the medical network. Presentations will vary from lectures, demonstrations, and panel discussions to possible broadcasting of actual operations performed in the University Hospital.

Greeks Set Schedule for Rush Week

Formal Rush Week for some 850 college students will begin Sept. 4 at SUI.

Rushing activities for sororities will begin the evening of Sept. 4 and will continue through Sept. 11. Fraternity events are scheduled for Sept. 6-Sept. 10.

The rush week, mainly freshmen and transfer students, will begin the week with a series of visits to fraternity or sorority open houses, scheduled for Sept. 5-6 for sororities and Sept. 6-7 for fraternities.

On Monday through Thursday of Rush Week, the 15 social sorority chapters at SUI will entertain nearly 500 women rushees at invitation parties. Pledging in these groups will take place Sept. 11.

About 350 prospective pledges for the 19 social fraternities will be entertained through Sept. 9, which has been designated "preference" night, when each rushee may go to any house which he wishes. Bids to pledge the men will be extended by the fraternities Sept. 10.

A Pledge Prom honoring the new sorority and fraternity pledges will close Rush Week the evening of Sept. 11 in the Main Lounge of Iowa Memorial Union.

Sorority Rush Week activity will be directed by Panhellenic rush chairman Barbara Karl, D. ex., and by Carol Ann Trimble, A4, Princeton, Ill., president of Panhellenic Council.

Fraternity rush activities will be directed by Eric Lundquist, Interfraternity Council Rush Week chairman, E3, Iowa City and Robert Baron, A4, Smithville, Tex., president of Interfraternity Council.

The majority of the courses will be offered by the Department of Art and the College of Education. Courses not requiring a prerequisite in art will include Art Appreciation, Media of Drawing, Color and Design, Sculpture, and Metalwork and Jewelry.

Many Demos Feel Southern Unity Achieved at Convention

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The big worry of the Democrats — that their convention might deepen the split between the Southerners and the rest of the party — has given way to a feeling that a high degree of unity has been achieved.

The healing hand of President Johnson, shrewd and tireless work by party leaders, and the stubborn loyalty of many Southerners helped replace the fears with optimism.

Among the results of all their efforts were:
• A PLATFORM called "tolerable and tolerant" by a Florida senator.
• A plea for party unity by the governor of Georgia.
• Praise for Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey as the vice-presidential candidate from a South Carolina senator.

SUI To Offer 50 Courses On Saturday

More than 50 Saturday courses will be offered this fall at SUI. The Saturday class program, sponsored by SUI's Bureau of Instructional Services, is designed for teachers and others who wish to study at SUI but are unable to attend its regular sessions.

Courses will be conducted usually in the morning by regular SUI faculty and will give both graduate and undergraduate degree credit.

The classes will meet for a total of 14 Saturdays from Sept. 19-30. Registration will be at 8:30 a.m. Sept. 19 in Macbride Hall.

Fourteen departments in the College of Liberal Arts will offer a total of 29 courses, ranging from life drawing to the geography of Asia. The School of Religion will offer one course on living religions of mankind.

The majority of the courses will be offered by the Department of Art and the College of Education. Courses not requiring a prerequisite in art will include Art Appreciation, Media of Drawing, Color and Design, Sculpture, and Metalwork and Jewelry.

Cleo's High Winds Cause Damage, Parties, Thrills

While many confident Miami residents enjoyed "hurricane parties" in strongly-built homes which easily took Cleo's most vicious punches, tourists on Miami Beach's famed "Hotel Row" suffered some uneasy moments.

Several fires broke out in Miami and firemen were unable to cope with them in the high winds of the storm. One warehouse was destroyed at a cost of $500,000.

At Dania, the old frame railroad station was nudged to the edge of the tracks and a runaway freight car, pushed eight miles by the wind from Hollywood to Fort Lauderdale, sheared off one side of the station.

Two persons trapped at the height of the storm when their trailer home crumpled at Pompano Beach were taken out safely by rescuers.

Some newspapers were unable to publish because of power failures. The National Hurricane Center was knocked out of operation by cable failure and the Washington Weather Bureau handled the filing of advisories until the Miami operation could be re-established at International Airport.

Windows were blown out of many hotels at Miami Beach. At the Fontainebleau, 700 guests fled their rooms into the lobby. Five persons were treated for cuts.

"I always wanted to see what a hurricane was like," said Earl Gordon of the Bronx, N.Y., "but I didn't feel so good when the building started to shake."

Except for broken windows, and consequent water damage to furniture, rugs and draperies, the hotels stood up well against the storm. Police reported 43 persons treated for cuts from flying glass.

A $200,000-houseboat modelled after Cleopatra's barge and complete with four luxurious apartments surrounding a swimming pool, broke loose from its moorings at the Doral Beach Hotel, crashed into a bridge and ran aground.

The 85-foot yacht "Electromatic" also tore loose from her dock and crashed into "Surfside Six," the houseboat of television fame moored across the street from the Fontainebleau.

Windows in two airport concourses were battered out and wind and rain whistled through the exposed areas.

Heated Demo Campaign Is Seen for Iowa

ATLANTIC CITY (AP) — Iowa delegates to the Democratic National Convention are preparing to head home to what is expected to be a heated political campaign.

Some of the delegates left Thursday. But the majority, including Gov. Harold Hughes, planned to depart Friday. Hughes is motoring back to Iowa.

Just prior to the final convention session Thursday night, state Chairman Lex Hawkins served notice no special committee would be appointed to handle the Iowa campaign for the party's national ticket.

"The entire campaign will be run through the State Central Committee," Hawkins said.

He said E. B. Smith of Ames would be in charge of the Johnson-Humphrey campaign. Smith is the so-called Johnson "coordinator" in Iowa.

Hawkins said he felt the 1964 convention "did more than any previous convention to put Iowa on the map."

"And the Johnson-Humphrey ticket is the best party could have come up with from Iowa's standpoint because of Sen. Humphrey's popularity there."

Hawkins was elated that Hughes was selected to make one of the seconding speeches for President Johnson's nomination. He saw this as a boost to the ticket's chances in the state.

Hawkins said the first order of business for the state party will be a voter registration drive.

Mason City Man Dies After Murder, Suicide Attempt

MASON CITY (AP) — A man was dead and his former wife was being treated at a hospital for gunshot wounds Thursday after what police described as an attempted murder and suicide.

Dead was Don Klunder, 57, who was on leave from the Iowa Soldiers Home at Marshalltown. His former wife, Mrs. Florence Klunder, 53, was hospitalized with two bullet wounds in the mouth from a .22 caliber pistol.

Police said Mrs. Klunder had stopped at her husband's home to and he asked her to sit down and talk with him.

A few minutes later, police said, a roofer in the house heard a shot. He ran to the home of neighbor and shortly Mrs. Klunder staggered in, saying she had been shot by her husband.

"It should be obvious from these figures that there is an ever-increasing demand for continuing education," he said. "We are hopeful that the new vehicle of television will enable us to arrange appropriate courses and other offerings in Des Moines and Cedar Rapids."

"The scope of the project, both in the medical and non-medical courses, could feasibly be expanded over a wider area of the state in time, according to Ray.

ALL PROGRAMS from the University will be broadcast from the Hospital, the Television Center, or other points on campus having the necessary connections. Presentations will be transmitted to the "Television Center," which will, in turn, send them across the state.

The University Hospital will finance the distribution of the medical programming, and the cost of production itself will be borne by the College of Medicine.

"The College of Medicine will absorb these costs since much of the material stemming from the two-way communication will be as valuable to us as to the hospital receiving the telecast," Carter said.

ACCORDING TO RAY, the Extension Division is hopeful that costs of televising non-medical offerings will be at least partially borne by the fees the division collects.

"The remainder of the cost will be borne by the Extension Division as part of its service function," he said.

More specific information about the details and nature of programming is expected to be available in March or April.
