By MARLIN SWOPE
Staff Writer
Communist China's refusal to "play second fiddle" to the Soviet Union in their struggle for world dominance has been a major cause of the emerging "multi-centric" nature of the Communist World.

David Baine, a member of the State Department on leave from Iowa; and Stephen G. Shank, A4, Iowa City, who moderated the discussion.

The conflict of national interests between Russia and Red China is partly ideological and partly psychological," said Van Dyke.

The element of intense pride and tradition which underlies much of Red China's movement for world recognition and power is common to Russia and the United States, according to Prof. Maryanov.

The conflict between Russia and Red China today, although outwardly appearing to be over the issues of peaceful coexistence and territorial rights in Asia, actually centers on an internal dispute within Communist China, Maryanov said.

Europe to keep pace with Communist gains in the "cold war."

Van Dyke added that "Communism has not taken over in the more advanced capitalist countries but only in the backward, feudalistic countries. Even in Italy, the support for the rise in Communism has come from the southern part of the country which, in contrast with the rest of Italy, is underdeveloped."

Dormitory Remodeling Deferred Until 1966

DES MOINES — Increased enrollments have forced the Board of Regents to postpone remodeling work on the Quad-range Dormitory until at least the fall of 1966.

Regents ratified a decision to defer renovating work for the second quarter of the dorm at its meeting Thursday because no assurance could be given that the work would be completed by next fall, when all available dorm space will be needed.

According to Elwin Joliffe, Vice President for Business, remodeling work on the first quarter of the Quad will be completed, but no further work will be undertaken until pressure for space in men's dorms is lessened.

The addition to the Quad will not be finished before the fall of 1966, and even then the remodeling may have to wait if enrollment grows fast enough, he said.

Figures submitted by Joliffe to the Regents show the designed capacity of the Quad with the section scheduled for remodeling, called "Unit B", is 1,668.

The expanded capacity of the Quad Unit B is 2,174. These figures refer to the dorm's capacity when rooms designed for two men are made to house three, and three men rooms are designed to house four.

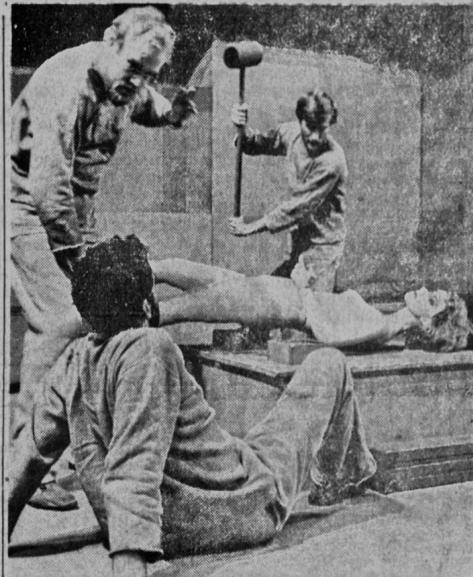

There are now 1,854 men living in Quad. The expanded capacity makes room for 98 more men.

Joliffe said 98 more beds could not possibly handle the numbers expected next fall, so the remodeling will have to wait.

In another university building matter considered by the Regents, awarding of a contract for a new classroom and office building was delayed in order to await information from University planners.

Bids have already been taken on the project, but board members wish to learn if the proposed site of the building on the bank of the Iowa River is in keeping with newly formed plans for designing the campus.

The Regents approved a contract between the University and Harrison and Abramovitz of New York for architectural services dealing with the proposed art gallery and art building addition, and auditorium planned for the fine arts campus.

'Mind of Man' Talk— Visiting Prof Analyzes Three Diverse Cultures

By BILL PIERROTT
Staff Writer
An examination of the world's three great civilizations and the main idea around which each was built was presented Thursday night by Dr. Huston C. Smith, professor of philosophy at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Speaking in the first of four addresses on "The Mind of Man" to be delivered here this week, Smith examined the civilizations of East Asia, especially China; South Asia, primarily India; and the West.

Culture in the West has concentrated on man's relation to nature, Smith said. That in China has been on man's relation to other men, while in India it has been on man's relation to himself.

Western civilization originated in the Nile Valley, he said. That nature treated this area very favorably may have drawn Western man out toward nature and science, according to Smith.

Eastern Asia has offered a different environment, Smith said. Because of mountain barriers and flooding rivers, these people did not look on nature with the same expectation to bring human fulfillment, the visiting speaker said.

They were pushed into a sociologically-centered civilization because they needed tremendous organization to fight the floods and they commonly lived together in great walled cities, Smith said. Also they were all of the same Mongol stock, he said.

Refuses To Hear Alleged Confession

MERIDIAN, Miss. (AP) — A U.S. Commissioner dismissed charges Thursday against 19 white men arrested last week in connection with the midsummer slaying of three civil rights workers in Neshoba County.

Surprised by an abrupt turn in a preliminary hearing for 19 of the 21 men, the Justice Department announced it would take its case directly to a Federal Grand Jury.

Miss Esther Carter, the federal commissioner, blocked Government efforts to give testimony about an alleged confession from one of the men the FBI charges with helping to conceive and carry out a plot to murder the trio.

"WE WILL simply not produce any more evidence," said Robert Owen, a Justice Department attorney, after Miss Carter's ruling.

The commissioner then dismissed the charges and ordered the bonds — which ranged from $3,500 to $5,000 — refunded. The 19 men walked out free men, six days after their arrests.

They included Neshoba County Sheriff Lawrence Rainey and his deputy, Cecil Price.

In a joint statement, the 14 defense attorneys claimed the commissioner's ruling showed in effect their clients were innocent.

THE STATEMENT charged that the Government is "playing politics with the lives of the people." The statement claimed Negro leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. had put "pressure" on President Johnson and FBI chief J. Edgar Hoover to get arrests.

Justice Department attorneys said they would put their evidence before a Federal Grand Jury "as promptly as possible." It will be up to U.S. Dist. Judge Harold Cox at Jackson to convene a grand jury.

The 21 white men — some of them members of the Ku Klux Klan — were arrested last Friday. The FBI charged 19 with conspiracy to interfere with the federal rights of the slain trio. The other two were accused of being accessories.

THE ARRESTS climaxed an intensive investigation begun on discovery of the bodies of Michael Schwerner, 24, and Andrew Goodman, 20, both white New Yorkers; and James Chaney, 21, Meridian Negro. The trio had gone to Philadelphia, Miss., June 21 to check on a burned Negro church. Their bodies were found beneath a red clay dam near there Aug. 4.

Purpose of the preliminary hearing was to find out if the Government had sufficient evidence to warrant holding the 19 men for grand jury action. The other two men — arrested at Gulfport, Miss., and near Shreveport, La. — were to appear before commissioners in those cities.

THE GOVERNMENT'S first witness was FBI agent Harry Rask, 39, of Atlanta, Ga. He testified he obtained in November a signed statement from Horace Doyle Barnett, 25, of Cullen, La.

Regents Decide— ISU Presidency Goes to Parks

By JON VAN
Staff Writer
DES MOINES — The Board of Regents solved its second personnel problem in two years by appointing William Robert Parks president of Iowa State University Thursday.

Parks, now Vice President for Academic Affairs at Iowa State, will replace James Hilton who will retire in July.

Parks joined the Iowa State faculty in 1948 as professor of government. He was Dean of Instruction for three years before becoming vice president in 1961.

The announcement of Parks' selection was reminiscent of a similar announcement regarding Pres. Bowen's appointment earlier this year.

The morning session was spent in preparing board budget requests for presentation to Gov. Harold Hughes today. When the Regents reconvened after lunch, Maurice Crabbe, chairman of the educational policy committee of the board, stood to move the appointment of Parks as president.

Regents and institution officials then paused to personally congratulate Parks, who was attending the meeting in his capacity as ISU vice president.

He said, "I am most grateful to the board for this expression of confidence. I have been a professor at Iowa State for eight years and an administrator for six years. I have come to realize the high character and quality of this institution."

Parks told the Iowan he wished to express good wishes to students and faculty of the University of Iowa.

Parks, 49, is a tall, lean Tennessean of humble beginnings. His father was a rural mail carrier and subsistence farmer. Parks was the youngest of seven children.

Most of his brothers and sisters went on to college. Parks said in an interview after his appointment. Two brothers received doctorate degrees.

"Going to college was the rule in our family," he said. "This was different from most farming families in our area, but my parents planted the idea in all their children. I was the youngest, so naturally I went."

Parks, Iowa State's representative on the Iowa Interinstitutional Committee on Educational Coordination, is perhaps one best known ISU administrators in the state.

The committee, consisting of Parks, Dean William Lang of SCI, and Dean Willard Boyd of Iowa, works in formulating several programs of cooperation between the state's three institutions of higher education.

Speaking about cooperation among state institutions, he said, "I will devote my best efforts to the closest friendship and most

Regents Approve New Press for DI
DES MOINES — A building remodeling project designed to provide a place for a new press on which to print The Daily Iowan, student-edited newspaper, was approved for The University of Iowa here Thursday.

The State Board of Regents okayed remodeling of the basement of a University-owned property known as the Sidwell building on West College Street. The preliminary budget is $26,000, to come from Student Publications, Inc., publisher of the newspaper.

Student Publications, Inc., will also buy a rebuilt tubular press at a cost of $72,500 to replace the eight-page, flatbed press used by The Daily Iowan since 1922. The price includes necessary stereotyping equipment. The old press is located in Close Hall.

The new press will print a maximum of 20 pages at a rate of up to 15,000 papers an hour compared with present maximum capacity of 3,500 papers an hour. In addition to greater printing capacity the new press will afford the use of two colors of ink besides the standard black. The new press is expected to be in use by next summer.

Editorial offices of the newspaper are in the Communications Center, home of the School of Journalism. Typesetting and composing room operations will remain in Close Hall. The remodeled basement area will house the press, paper supply, carrier room, and stereotyping equipment for casting plates. The Sidwell building is across the street from the Communications Center. The University Architect's office was named architect and inspection supervisor for the remodeling work.

In another matter, the University reported that it has no objection to a $580 paving assessment from Iowa City. The assessment will be paid by the State Executive Council in accordance with law. The city levied the assessment against three U of I lots in the vicinity of new paving on half a block of Harrison Street west of Madison Street.

To Be Replaced
The Daily Iowan flat-bed press will be replaced this spring by a rebuilt tubular press. The tubular press will enable publication of up to 20 pages in a single edition and will speed up the printing operations.

'Scopp' Buchwald reveals terrible dilemma

No, Virginia, there ain't no J. Edgar!

By ART BUCHWALD

MYTHICAL MAN

There has been a lot of discussion as to whether J. Edgar Hoover should be asked to resign from the FBI after his recent remarks about Martin Luther King and the Warren Report. I can now reveal for the first time why President Johnson can't ask J. Edgar Hoover to resign. The reason is J. Edgar Hoover doesn't exist.

A nom de plume. They got the word Hoover from the vacuum cleaner — to give the idea of a clean-up, Edgar was the name of one of the publisher's nephews, and the J. stood for jail. What they hadn't counted on was how successful the article would be. J. Edgar Hoover caught the imagination of the American public and became a household word. The FBI had no choice but to keep the legend going. Besides, a person who doesn't exist can't make mistakes.

How to be Christmasy without really trying

YOU PROBABLY WOULDN'T THINK of giving peanut butter or canned meats as Christmas presents, but that is exactly what the Mississippi Support Project is asking for.

Today and Saturday some 350 volunteers will be canvassing Iowa City, Coralville and University Heights, from door to door, asking for such foods, along with clothing and cash.

The "Christmas goodies" will be forwarded to Marshall County, Miss., where they will be distributed by the church leaders, with the assistance of the COFO workers in that area to needy Negroes.

Collection boxes for the drive will be set up at the Civic Center and Randall's Super Valu store, Hwy. 6, and will be emptied Dec. 15.

The sponsor of the drive is the MSP group, composed of faculty and students, high schoolers and other Iowa City residents, which has established a county to county exchange of people and ideas with Marshall County.

Food and clothing and toys would not only be Christmas presents for many of the Marshall County Negroes, they are also necessities.

Because the cotton season has ended, which provides the only employment for many of the people, income is scarce and needs, with the colder weather coming on, are greater.

There has been a tremendous response on the part of the volunteers for the door to door campaign this weekend. We hope there will be as great a response from the donors.

Where was it before?

IT WAS A MOVING SCENE. Mario Savio, the leader of the student protest against the administration's rulings on political activity at the University of California at Berkeley stood before a crowd of 2,500.

The academic senate had just adopted a resolution that recommended that the students be granted most of what they had been demanding during the 10 weeks of protest.

"We have arrived at a point where we have to be responsible," Savio said. "I am confident that the students and faculty will exercise their freedom with the same responsibility they've shown in winning their freedom."

Coeds in the audience sobbed, and President Clark Kerr refused to comment on the faculty recommendation, which must be approved by the Regents before it becomes final.

We can only wonder where this "responsibility" was when students surrounded a police car and prevented its removal for 32 hours, or when, during the sit-in in the administration building, offices were broken into and papers were strewn around the floor.

Savio is right. They have arrived at the point where they must be responsible.

Linda Weiner

An encouraging word

AN ENCOURAGING note on student housing was sounded earlier this week by a city planner appearing before the Student Senate housing investigation committee.

Earl Stewart told the committee he thinks private enterprise will build enough housing units in the next few years to accommodate the greater number of students seeking off campus housing.

"The numbers looking for such housing will be increased both by greater enrollment and by displacement downtown due to urban renewal work."

Stewart estimated that when the urban renewal program is completed, there may be twice as many apartments available downtown for students. This work will proceed on piece by piece basis, however, so only a few downtown apartment dwellers will be displaced at one time.

The confidence voiced by Stewart in the future of the city's urban renewal plans is heartening. If things go according to plan, Iowa City will be ready for 1975 when University enrollment is expected to be 25,000. The plans are progressing smoothly — all that remains is work itself.

'Innocuous non-editorials' hit by forthright DI reader

To the Editor: After reading page 2 of the Dec. 5 Daily Iowan, I was gratified to note that the column entitled by most newspapers "Editorials" was headed by the expression "OBSERVATION and comment." What gratified me was that the two compositions in this column were not prefaced by anything which might give readers the impression that personal opinions might be expressed there.

'Glimpses of India' Planned By U of I India Association

By RITA MITRA
Graduate student from India To contribute its share to the joy of the festive season the India Association will present a cultural program of dance, drama, and music at Macbride Auditorium Saturday, at 7:30 p.m. The object is twofold: the association, which now has a membership of about 80, feels that this is an appropriate manner of expressing gratitude to the community in Iowa City for its many acts of friendship on numerous occasions; and, secondly, of paying homage to the eternal flow of culture in the mother country. The program is, therefore, entitled: "Amar Pujā" (Salutation to the Immortal).

RITA MITRA

India is perhaps a classic example of unity amidst diversity. Indians share 7 religions, speak 18 languages, the women drape the sari in at least 13 different ways, the men have the most exotic and bizarre headgears imaginable. Customs vary widely from one state to another; there are fine shades of distinction in the traits of the northerner and the southerner. And yet there is something in their cultural life, in the rich traditions that are deeply rooted in religion and philosophy which like an invisible thread, binds together all the diverse elements and enables the people to live in peace and harmony.

"Amar Pujā" would attempt to depict a few of the most significant influences that have shaped Indian culture throughout the ages. There would be scenes from "Mahabharata," the great epic, where God Krishna advises the brave Arjuna on the eternal verities—justice, charity, righteousness. The Mogul emperor Akbar, patron of the arts, would sit in his Court, surrounded by erudite scholars, musicians and painters.

Contemporary French Poet To Speak on U of I Campus

Yves Bonnefoy, recognized as the figurehead of the New Poetry Movement in France, will give two lectures on the University of Iowa campus this week and next.

He will read his own poetry in French at 3:30 p.m. Friday and will lecture on contemporary French poetry at 8 p.m. Monday. Both presentations will be held in the Senate Chamber of Old Capitol and are open to the public.

His visit to the U of I campus is sponsored by the program in creative writing. It is expected that Bonnefoy will also lecture to students in the poetry workshop Monday afternoon. His lectures are co-sponsored by the Department of Romance Languages.

Bonnefoy has published several collections of poems, and a book "Improbable." These works have received wide critical acclaim. Most of his poetry has been translated into English.

A 1962 edition of the American magazine, Poetry, devoted its entire issue to the work of Bonnefoy. Eight of his poems will be included in a new anthology of French poetry to be published by the University of Michigan press this year. The poems were translated by Alexandre Aspel of the U of I Department of Romance Languages.

Born in Tours, France, in 1923, Bonnefoy studied such diverse fields as higher mathematics, philosophy and art history in both French and German. Persons attending his lectures at the University will be given copies of his poetry in English. It is expected that a summary of his lecture Monday night will be translated into English and provided to the audience.

The message was sent from a ground station at Camp Roberts.

Some of the finest lyrics of Poet Rabindranath Tagore provide the musical accompaniment for "Barsha-Mangal"—a series of dances describing the beauties of the rainy season. Some of these dances, however, are not Indian at all but American teenagers who have been recruited from University High School. They have picked up difficult hand movements and intricate steps remarkably well within a short period of time and are practicing hard for their first stage performance.

Patrons will be greeted at the door by American hostesses clad in colorful silk saris and wearing the traditional "Kumkum"—the red dot on the forehead.

In February, the association wishes to present to the University a set of books on different aspects of life in India, in memory of the late Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru.

There is no admission charge for "Amar Pujā" on Saturday and members of the public are cordially invited to attend.

Meet with LBJ A Success: Wilson

MANCHESTER, England (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Wilson flew home Thursday from conferences in Washington and Ottawa and told a British television audience he believed he had won the confidence of President Johnson.

He called his trip "tremendously successful."

Wilson spent two days with the President and then two with Canadian Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson. His plane was diverted here because of fog in London.

Asked what concrete accomplishments he brought back from Washington, Wilson said: "A first aim must be to stop the spread of nuclear weapons."

productive relationships with the University of Iowa and State College of Iowa.

The future of these three and of the private institutions and junior colleges of Iowa are all bound together.

"I am looking forward with eager anticipation to working with Presidents Bowen and Maucker. Both men have my deepest personal friendship and admiration."

Although Parks encourages co-operations, he does not at present endorse former Pres. Virgil Hancher's plan for one university in Iowa.

"I think the universities and the state college have grown up well to the present system of working together under a common Board of Regents. I am happy with this situation," he said.

"There is much to be said for institutional autonomy. This is what we have under the present scheme and I am thankful this is so."

Plans for Iowa State's future, according to Parks, will be much like its past and its present. He said he favors providing a broad based education oriented toward science and technology.

Parks is the first president of ISU to come from a humanities field instead of a science-technology or agricultural background, according to his knowledge.

He said however, that his interest in political science and economics has always been oriented toward agriculture.

"One of the courses I used to teach was called 'Government and Agriculture,'" he said. "Social and economic problems of adjustment are as important to modern farming as technical problems."

James Hilton, retiring president, said, "In my opinion the board could not have made a better choice. Dr. Parks is one of the most able men with whom I have been privileged to work in my 42 years in education."

'Old-Timey' Folklore Music Reappears for U of I Concert

Three Students Paroled; Plead Guilty to Theft

Three University students pleaded guilty Thursday afternoon in police court to charges of petty larceny.

Thomas Lee Mills, A1, Montezuma; Robert Charles Thompson, A1, Sioux City; and Scott E. Ramsey, A2, Clinton; were charged with breaking into coin operated vending machines in the recreation room at Quadrangle last weekend, police said.

All three were paroled to Detective Sgt. Wayne Winter until next Thursday. They are to make full restitution for damages by then.

Investigations are being continued into other thefts

"Old-timey" folk music by a U of I art student and an Illinois art professor will be featured at a concert at 8 p.m. Saturday in the New Chemistry Auditorium.

Tickets for the concert are $1.25 and may be purchased at Things & Things, Paper Place, or at the door. The concert is being sponsored by the Folklore Club.

Jim Hockenhull, a graduate art student here, and Doyle Moore, professor of art at the University of Illinois, will play a number of instruments, including the dulcimer, autoharp, fiddle, guitar and banjo, in addition to singing.

Hockenhull's interest in folk music developed in high school at Wheaton, Ill., where he went from jazz to folk guitar. At the University of Illinois he learned to play the five-string banjo after he had heard a record by Obray Ramsey.

Hockenhull has been a figure in the campus folk music revival. He plays more than half a dozen instruments.

He also sings lead voice on most numbers.

Moore will play the autoharp for the concert. His early musical training was in voice and resulted in a music scholarship to Friends University in Wichita, Kan.

His musical training drew him to a comparison of the fugal patterns in baroque music and Dixieland, and then to the discovery of similar patterns in some old-time string band music. He is a member of the American Folklore Society.

This is the second concert to be sponsored by the Folklore Club. On Nov. 17 the club presented Eddie (Son) House, a Negro folk singer from the Mississippi Delta region.

Congo Head Asks Prayer Of Pontiff

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Premier Moise Tshombe of the Congo, shielded by a heavy police guard unprecedented for Vatican visits, called on Pope Paul VI Thursday.

Truckloads of Italian police accompanied his motorcade into St. Peter's Square, inside Vatican territory, as Italy's Communist party threatened mass demonstrations against the Congo leader.

But the only sign of anti-Tshombe activity was a lone automobile that skirted St. Peter's Square during his 20-minute audience with the Pope.

Keeping carefully inside Italian territory, the occupants of the car scattered pamphlets denouncing Tshombe as "a tool of imperialists."

Tshombe asked Pope Paul to pray for the Congo, and the pontiff gave him a message addressed to all the Congo people. The Roman Catholic leader spoke of "all unfortunate victims of recent events, without distinction."

"The bloody disorders which plague the Congo have a painful echo in our heart, and our pastoral responsibilities lead us to address a single appeal to all responsible people so that they understand that nothing is being built through fighting among brothers. It is time to put up a dike against passion," he added.

U of I Composer's Music To Be Premiered in Boston

William Hibbard, G. Newton, Mass., has been commissioned to write a composition for organ, trumpet, trombone and percussion instruments which is to be premiered Mar. 28 in Symphony Hall, Boston, at a concert of the American Guild of Organists (AGO).

The U of I composer received the $500 commission from the Boston Symphony Orchestra and the Boston Chapter of AGO, with co-sponsorship of radio station WCRB, Boston. Four musicians of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, will present the composition.

A composition by Hibbard entitled "Portraits for Flute and Piano" will be published soon by Lone Press, Inc., Boston. The work is a revision which Hibbard was commissioned to write in August, 1963, by the Boston Museum of Fine Arts for a 15-minute film titled "Portraits for Eternity," a study of Old Kingdom Egyptian portrait sculpture, for which the museum is internationally known.

The work was written in three major sections. During October and November, Hibbard composed extensive revisions and additions to the original work, making it suitable for concert performance.

Hibbard came to Iowa in September as the holder of the Sutherland Dows graduate scholarship in music composition. An honor graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music, Hibbard spent a year in Europe under a free-study grant from the Frank Huntington Beebe Fund.

The $3,000 Dows scholarship was established at the U of I in 1961 by Sutherland Dows Sr. of Cedar Rapids.

Johnson Appoints Ex-Kennedy Aide Two Others Leave

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson appointed a former aide to President John F. Kennedy to the White House staff Thursday, even as two charter members of Kennedy's "Irish Mafia" prepared to resign.

George E. Reedy, White House press secretary, said Johnson has named Richard M. Goodwin as a special assistant. Goodwin, loaned to Johnson by the State Department for speechwriting during the election campaign, was Kennedy's assistant special counsel for 11 months in 1961.

Earlier in the day, it was learned that Kenneth O'Donnell and David F. Powers who were among Kennedy's closest friends, plan to quit their White House jobs in the near future.

Reedy said in response to questions that neither had submitted a resignation.

Correctional Meet Brings 75 Here For Discussion

More than 75 industry foremen and superintendents from Iowa's correctional institutions are meeting at the U of I today to discuss management techniques and objectives.

It is the sixth annual conference for management representatives from the correctional institutions. This year's program will focus upon "Management by Objectives" with participants learning how to set and achieve goals through short- and long-run methods.

Members of the U of I Bureau of Labor and Management are conducting the program. Jude West, head of government services, will open the program with a talk on "Human Relations Climate." Don Sheriff, head of management services, will discuss "Management by Objectives." Don Goodnow, management coordinator, will conduct Saturday's program on "Communication Skills."

King Accepts Nobel Prize; Speaks For Nonviolence

DR. MARTIN LUTHER KING Accepts Nobel Peace Prize

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. accepted the 1964 Nobel Peace Prize Thursday in "behalf of a civil rights movement which is moving with determination and majestic scorn for risk and danger to establish a reign of freedom and a rule of justice."

The American Negro civil rights leader was given a standing ovation led by King Olav and Crown Prince Harald.

In Stockholm, Sweden, at the same time, Nobel awards in physics, chemistry and medicine were presented to two American scientists, two Russians, an Englishwoman and a German.

In a cutaway with a gray and white striped cravat, King stepped up to flower-decorated podium to receive the gold medal and diploma from Gunnar Jahn, chairman of the Nobel Committee of the Norwegian Parliament.

King had received the cash award of 273,000 Swedish kroner ($53,123) and said it would be spent on the civil rights movement. "I accept the Nobel Prize for Peace at a moment when 22 million Negroes of the United States of America are engaged in a creative battle to end the long night of racial injustice," King said.

King said he was mindful that the Negroes in Birmingham, Ala., "crying out for brotherhood were answered with fire hoses, snarling dogs and even death. I am mindful that only yesterday in Philadelphia, Miss., young people seeking to secure the right to vote were brutalized and murdered."

"After contemplation," he continued, "I conclude that this award which I receive on behalf of that movement is profound recognition that nonviolence is the answer to the crucial political and moral question of our time — the need for man to overcome oppression and violence without resorting to violence and oppression."

King declared he refused to accept "the cynical notion that nation after nation must spiral down a militarist stairway into the hell of thermonuclear destruction."

"I believe," he said, "that unarmed truth and unconditional love will have the final word in reality. This is why right temporarily defeated is stronger than evil triumphant."

Jahn extolled King's work for racial equality as King followed the speech through an English translation.

"Today, when mankind is in possession of the atomic bomb, the time has come to lay our weapons and armaments aside and listen to the message Martin Luther King has given us through the unarmed struggle he has waged on behalf of this race," Jahn said.

King's wife, Coretta, was in the front row. Also in the audience were his parents. His mother recorded the event on her movie camera.

King Olav and the crown prince were the first to congratulate King after the ceremony.

Thursday night King and his wife were dinner guests of the Nobel Committee. Friday he delivers the traditional peace prize lecture in the university.

Meteorites May Threaten Mariner 4 Mars Attempt

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Mariner 4 should fly within excellent picture-taking distance of Mars, scientists said Thursday, but it still faces two major obstacles on its seven-month journey.

The "miss distance" of 5,400 miles is only 1,000 miles off dead center of the target area aimed at in a direction-changing maneuver Dec. 5. They had hoped to come within 4,400 miles.

Project official Dan Schneiderman likened the feat of Jet Propulsion Laboratory scientists to "shooting from Los Angeles to New York and hitting second base in Yankee Stadium instead of the home plate."

The two major obstacles yet to be overcome:

1. Streams of meteorites, ranging from specks of dust to mountainous asteroids, which Mariner 4 may encounter on its curving 325-million-mile flight.

2. It still must regain a fix on its guiding star Canopus but scientists will not attempt this until they see how it fares through a stream of meteorites this weekend.

The odds of Mariner 4 being destroyed or disabled by meteorites are extremely slim.

But scientists told a news conference Thursday, dust specks brightly illuminated by the sun have already confused the light sensor that seeks out Canopus and may do so again.

On its new trajectory the 575-pound, windmill-shaped spacecraft will fly past Mars from above that planet's equator on the leading edge as seen from earth to below the equator on the trailing edge.

Without the change in course, Mariner 4 would have flown in front of Mars, missing it by 151,000 miles. Now it will fly behind the planet, which means radio signals from the spacecraft will travel through the Martian atmosphere.

Slight changes in these signals are expected to indicate the density or thinness of Mars' atmosphere — an important clue to whether any form of life could exist on earth's nearest neighbor.

Hearing Set For Building Development

A hearing has been set for Dec. 17 to review a petition filed Thursday in Johnson County District Court by the Muscatine Development Company, St. Louis. The petition requests the court to require County Engineer R. H. Justen to issue a building permit for a 216-unit apartment complex just west of University Heights.

The land involved is presently zoned for multiple dwellings, according to the petition. University Heights residents have strongly opposed the proposed apartment construction.

According to the petition, County Atty. Ralph Neuzil has advised Justen that no building permit should be issued until the annexation has been cleared through the courts.

The building permit request had been informally rejected Oct. 30, 1964, and Neuzil issued his informal opinion Nov. 18, 1964, the petition says.

Neuzil said recently that it would take at least six months for the annexation issue to be decided once it was filed with the courts. There is presently no court action on file on the annexation, according to the petition.

Senate Decides Not To Investigate Baker Sex Charge

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Rules Committee has voted 5 to 1 against embarking on an investigation of sex charges in the Bobby Baker case.

Chairman B. Everett Jordan, (D-N.C.), announced Thursday the committee decided it has "no legal right to probe into the private conduct of individuals," and therefore it is not going to pry into the Capitol Hill adventures of a West German kiss-and-tell beauty.

The committee has suspended public hearings until after the new Congress meets Jan. 4.

Stephen Garrett, ROTC Cadet, Has Successful Flight

Cadet Lt. Col. Stephen Garrett, 44, Perry, became the first Air Force ROTC cadet to accomplish a solo flight in their Flight Instruction Program this year.

At Iowa City's Municipal Airport Monday, he repeated a normal flight pattern three times, landing between each.

To be eligible to solo in the program, a cadet must have logged a minimum of eight hours flight time in dual flight, must be competent in instrument flying, and must display proficiency for solo flight.

Cadet Garrett reported that he was "quite surprised" when his instructor stepped out of the plane and waved goodbye, indicating that Garrett was to be the program's first soloist.

Frosh Cage Team Sprouts Top Prospects

Iowa Freshman Basketball Team

Lanny Van Eman, Iowa freshman cage coach, sang praises for his charges Thursday afternoon on the varsity court. The mentor believes that he has "four or five real solid varsity prospects" in the freshman camp this year.

VAN EMAN, former Wichita star and coach, came to Iowa in July with head basketball coach, Ralph Miller.

His task with the yearlings is to review the fundamentals that they probably haven't been coached on in the past three or four years. "It amounts to teaching outstanding individual high school stars to work together as a team," and orient them in the "philosophy of the Iowa coaching staff," he said.

Van Eman said he is encouraged with the progress the freshman team has shown so far this season. "I am confident," the coach continued, "that some of these boys are going to be playing a lot of ball next year."

"Generally speaking," Van Eman observed, "we seem to be stronger than the present varsity team is weak." He pointed to his trio of forwards who range in the 6-6 to 6-7 category as the three prime varsity prospects, that he will be preparing for competition. He continued, "Each candidate has a specific talent."

BEN MCGILMER, 6-7, from Detroit, was cited for his ability at handling the ball and shooting. Dick Agnew, 6-6 freshman from Omaha, is categorized as a "heady" player, "who seems to get on the right place at the right time." The coach continued, "Agnew is our best defensive forward and is a good shooter in close to the basket."

Huston Breedlove, 6-6, from Akron, was cited as "probably the finest rebounder" and a "fine shooter within 12 feet of the basket."

"Our regular guards make an ideal combination," the coach suggested. "We have a small, fast man and a big, strong one." The small guard is Rolly McGrath, 6-0 candidate from Topeka, Kansas. "He is the best player on the squad, fundamentally," said Van Eman.

The other guard, Bob Schneider, 6-3, from Alton, Iowa, is "a fine shooter from the outside, good one on one offensive man, and handles the ball well."

"CONCERNING our philosophy," Van Eman said, "pressure is the key word." He plans to coach the frosh to use "pressure" on the opposition as both an offensive and defensive weapon.

On offense, the mentor noted that the club is being taught to utilize the fast-break, secondary break, and a quick hitting set pattern which will move the ball within 15 feet of the basket for the shot. "We should work to hit 90 per cent of our shots at that range," he noted.

The team's defensive strategy is a full-court or half-court press in

Unitas Is Named N.F.L.'s 'Most Valuable' Player

NEW YORK (AP) — John Unitas, player of 1964 in the National Football League by an Associated Press panel, has been voted the Most Valuable Player of the year.

Colts' Coach Shula Is Honored

BALTIMORE (AP) — "It is amazing what these players have put into it; without them nothing would have been possible," Don Shula said Thursday after being voted Coach of the Year in the National Football League by an Associated Press panel.

"Above everything else is the feeling on the club," he said of the Baltimore Colts. "No one put himself above another. They were a bunch of guys working for one thing — win it."

WIN IT THEY DID, the title in the Western Conference with three games remaining on the schedule. It appeared anything but that bright for Shula at the start of his second season as Colt coach.

They lost the opener 34-24 at Minnesota. Then came what Shula feels was the key game of the season at Green Bay. The Colts won it 21-20.

"If we had lost, we would have been 0-2," Shula recalls. "We would have won some games after that, but I don't think as many as we did."

"After that, we picked up momentum each week. The offense carried us the first part and when it fell off, the defense picked it up."

THE COLTS reeled off 11 straight victories, including another over Green Bay by three points and two over defending champion Chicago. The streak won Shula the votes of 33 members of the AP panel as Coach of the Year. Three voted for Blanton Collier of Cleveland in the Eastern Conference, and one member did not vote. There were three panelists in each league city.

back who was rescued from the semipro by the Colts, won by a landslide vote of the 42-man committee, including three from each league city.

Two members did not vote in that category, but 32 named Unitas. Jim Brown, Cleveland's all-league fullback, drew five votes. Lenny Moore of Baltimore got two, and Johnny Morris of the Chicago Bears got one.

In the middle of the 1963 season when the Colts were struggling through a dull game with the Chicago Bears, the disgruntled fans at Memorial Stadium were howling for Unitas' scalp.

BUT THE BOOS changed to cheers when he led the Colts to victory in five of their last six games and a third place finish.

Unitas climbed back up where he was in the golden years of Baltimore championships as he led the Colts to 11 straight victories this season after an opening defeat by Minnesota. With Baltimore already assured of a title game against either Cleveland or St. Louis Dec. 27, Unitas can do no wrong.

Strange as it may seem, Unitas has been throwing less this season. In fact, his total of 285 passes with one game to go is his lowest since the 263 in 1958.

U.S. TEAM CLICKS—SEBRING, Ore. (AP) — Julius Boros and Betsy Rawls, clicking beautifully as a team, fired a four-under-par 68 in 25-mile winds Thursday to grab the first round lead in the $40,000 Scotch Mixed Foursome Golf Tournament.

Cards Have A Chance To Win Division Crown

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals' 28-19 National Football League victory over the Cleveland Browns Sunday put the Eastern Conference title on the line this weekend.

It also left coaches, players and fans nervous.

"Now all we can do is wait and hope," said Cardinal Coach Wally Lemm.

"I SAID before the season that the Eastern champion could lose three games — and now we've done it," mumbled Cleveland Coach Blanton Collier.

The Browns met the Giants in New York in a nationally televised game Saturday (CBS-TV).

"You can be sure the TV set will get a good working over then," grinned Cardinal quarterback Charley Johnson, who personally riddled the Browns by scoring two touchdowns and passing for two others.

By defeating the Giants, the Browns can gain the division title and the right to meet the Baltimore Colts in the NFL championship game Dec. 27. The Colts already have captured the Western Conference title.

CLEVELAND, on top by a half game in the east, is 9-3-1. St. Louis is second with 8-3-2.

If the Browns lose to New York and the Cardinals defeat Philadelphia in St. Louis Sunday, the Cards would win the eastern championship. But if Cleveland and New York tie and St. Louis wins, each contender would have 9-3-2 records, thus forcing a playoff game — probably the following Sunday.

Varsity Tankers To Meet Powerful Frosh Squad

Iowa's varsity swimming team may find itself cast in the underdog role when they tackle a strong freshman squad in a practice meet here today at 4 p.m.

The frosh boast six former state champions on their roster. They include Iowans Skip Jensen, backstroke; Maurice LeVois, 400-yard freestyle; Ron David, 50; Bud Kearney, 200, Bob Synhorst, breaststroke; and Massachusetts YMCA distance champ, Dan Maciak.

Big Ten Officials Extend Eligibility of 28 Players

CHICAGO (AP) — Big Ten Athletic leaders, opening their winter meeting, extended eligibility of 28 athletes — 21 of them football players — and also approved football officiating crews by units starting next season.

The conference athletic directors rejected a coaches' recommendation to increase traveling squads from 38 to 42 and took under advisement a coaches' proposal for a uniform Sept. 15 start of freshman football practice.

THE DIRECTORS received a report from the grid coaches, who met here Dec. 3, that football officiating was improved last fall.

With conference blessing, the coaches will put together a film on officiating in game action, aimed at aiding in training of new officials.

In assigning complete whistle crews, the conference will follow the pattern of pro football and baseball.

"This will allow more uniformity in officiating team-work and should be an improvement over 45 or so different officials working on separate assignments," explained Commissioner Bill Reed.

THE FOOTBALL COACHES had asked larger traveling squads because of two-platooning and need of specialists developed with the liberalized substitution rule this year.

The directors, at the request of the football coaches, eased the problem of unrecruited players of sickening with the varsity squad. Such athletes, as juniors and seniors, will not be counted among the 30 grants allowed for each school class.

The coaches sought a general Sept. 15 date for starting freshman football because of variances in class openings around the conference.

More prominent among the athletes given extended eligibility, mainly because of injury cases, such as Michigan's quarterback Richard Vidmer and halfbacks John Clancy and John Renser; Illinois defensive halfback Phil Knell; and Indiana quarterback Frank Stavroff.

A.A.U. Nebraska Meet Draws Iowa Grapplers

Iowa's wrestling team will make the Great Plains A.A.U. Tournament its last stop this weekend before entering into Big Ten dual meet competition against Illinois Dec. 18.

Coach Dave McCuskey will send a 12-man squad to the two-day Lincoln, Neb., carnival where over 250 entries have been received, including a full team from NCAA champion Oklahoma State.

McCuskey is concerned about injuries to key men and the Hawks will not be at full strength for the meet.

BIG TEN champion Mel Wieland is a doubtful starter at 177 pounds because of a shoulder injury, veteran Joe Greenlee is still out with a leg injury, and top sophomore Bob Rausenberger has also been sidelined with knee trouble.

Bill Fuller, who finished third in the 123-lb. class in the NCAA finals in 1964 and won the 130-lb. title at the SCI tourney last week, rates as Iowa's best hope if Wieland is unable to compete.

THE IOWA lineup will also include Tom Bowman at 123, Fuller and John McCarthy at 130, Roy Prange at 137, Wilbur Devine and Ray Davis at 147, Steve Trecker at 157, Dennis Wegner and Tom Fennelly at 167, Steve Moss at 191 and Roger Schilling, heavyweight.

WILKINSON RUMOR—WASHINGTON (AP) — C. Leo DeOrsey, vice president of the Washington Redskins, said Thursday he doesn't know anything about the possibility of Bud Wilkinson becoming coach of the National Football League team.

Evansville Is Rated No. 1 In Small College Ranks

Evansville, which has started its season with victories over Iowa and Northwestern, is No. 1 in the first weekly small college basketball poll of The Associated Press.

The Indiana team received nine of the first place votes of a special panel of 16 sports writers and broadcasters.

The second-place team was Grambling of Louisiana, with a 1-0 record.

Big 10 Football Coaches Praise League Officials

CHICAGO (AP) — Big Ten athletic directors and faculty representatives, beginning their winter business meeting Thursday, were expected to get a surprising report from conference football coaches.

THE COACHES, who met here last week, went on record as agreeing that football officiating generally was excellent last fall.

"The report was that officiating was better than ever," said a conference spokesman.

"There were some mistakes, but no major complaints."

In past years the coaches backed up their beefs against officiating miscues with film clips.

THE DIRECTORS and faculty group met separately Thursday and have a joint session today when spring sports coaches also will meet to draft schedules and discuss rules.

Final approval of firm Big Ten support of the NCAA-backed federation movement is expected today. Such a policy was recommended at the Big Ten spring meeting, but it required approval by individual schools.

The policy calls for ruling ineligible any conference athlete who participates in competition which is disputing full control by the Amateur Athletic Union in track, gymnastics, basketball and baseball.

Bargebuhr To Discuss Medieval Renaissance

Frederick Bargebuhr, professor of religion, will speak on "The Medieval Renaissance in Arab Spain," at 4 p.m. Monday on the Union Sun Porch.

He will read poetry typical of 8th to 15th century Spain and speak about the fusion of Jewish and Moorish cultures during this period. Bargebuhr will also discuss his discovery of some Jewish architecture of this time.

Bargebuhr received his Ph.D. from the University of Munich with his secondary interest in the culture of 11th century Moorish Spain, where the revival of the secular culture preceded the Italian Renaissance.

He has published many articles on the achievements of the Spanish, Arab and Jewish culture of Spain and has written a book, "The Alhambra — A Renaissance in Arab Spain," which will be published in May.

The speech is sponsored by the Union Board Iowa Authors Committee.
