Look Into Future

A $4.2 million addition, slated for completion in June, will make the Iowa Memorial Union one of the most highly developed facilities of its type in the country. Union Addition—A Dream No More

By DALLAS MURPHY
Staff Writer

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a series of articles dealing with the multi-million dollar addition to the Iowa Memorial Union now under construction. The articles will appear twice a month until the opening of the new addition in late spring.

"The hearthstone of the University" is what former University of Iowa President Virgil Hancher called the Iowa Memorial Union. His dreams for the University, which began when he was president of the senior class of 1919, included a Union that would be the center of all campus activity. With the completion of the most recent addition to the building now under construction at an estimated cost of $4.2 million, this dream may well be realized.

"WHEN THE ADDITION finally opens, we anticipate a change in the atmosphere on campus," Loren Kottner, director of the Union, said.

"Students, faculty, and visitors will come regularly to the Union for meetings, social activities and services. The Union will be the headquarters for alumni, all student organizations and conference delegates.

"It will be only a few months before we will be saying to ourselves, 'How did we ever get along without it?'" Kottner said.

The addition roughly will double the square footage of the building and will permit remodeling of parts for the present building to make it more usable, according to Kottner. It will contain about 200,000 square feet of new space.

BARRING COMPLICATIONS, the completion date is tentatively set for June. The addition now is more than 75 per cent finished, Kottner said, with the exterior done and the interior still in the early stage of construction and decoration.

The total project consists of four floors above ground, one below ground and a sub-basement for the mechanical plant. It will house food services, a conference center, a ballroom and 112 guest rooms. The 7-story parking ramp across from the Union, built in 1964 at a cost of about $528,000, is part of the addition and is included in the total cost estimate of $4.2 million.

Tinsley, Higgins, Lighter and Lyon of Des Moines are the architects.

FUNDS FOR THE PROJECT are entirely from student fees, with each student paying $8.50 per semester toward Union expenses. The bonds which were floated to obtain the initial capital will be paid in approximately 20 years, Kottner said.

The basement floor of the addition will include a party room to be used by campus organizations, dormitory or Greek housing units. Another large area of the basement has been designated as the Scottish Highlander activity room.

Also in the basement are a craft shop, a photo darkroom and a game room. All facilities on this floor can be reached directly from the Gold Feather Room and the recreation area which are on the same level.

A large lobby, cafeteria and private dining room will take up most of the new space on the first floor. Kitchen service areas will separate the new section from the Terrace Lounge and the south entrance to the building. The cafeteria, overlooking the Iowa River, will seat 500 and will have two serving lines.

THE SECOND FLOOR WILL include guest rooms, five private dining rooms, several meeting and conference rooms and a paneled ballroom for all-school dances and parties. Major banquets and lectures will be held in the ballroom which will seat 800.

Guest rooms also will be located on third floor, directly above those on second. Additional meeting rooms, music rooms, a "little theater" and the upper portions of the ballroom and balcony will be on third floor.

The fourth floor will consist of the remainder of the guest rooms and service space.

"All these facilities will be available to persons and groups having a direct connection with the University," Kottner said.

Iowa String Quartet Cited After Concerts in Capital

The Iowa String Quartet "rates with the very best," said a Washington, D.C., critic after the quartet's performance in the nation's capital Sunday.

The quartet, all of whom are on the U of I School of Music faculty, played at the Phillips Collection, a Washington art gallery, in the first of four concerts scheduled there this year.

Charles Crowder of the Washington Post said: "Together they have created a remarkably cohesive sound that is first-rate and have started to delve into the finesse of quartet playing."

Of the group's performance of Haydn's "Quartet in B-flat Major," Crowder commented, "The Minuet to had style and warmth, the F-nale, that extra bit of artistry that threw it into an expose of Haydn's unquenchable wit. Through it all was a singular projection of musical ideas only achieved when four people think as one.

"On the basis of the Haydn alone," Crowder continued, "the Iowa String Quartet is head and shoulders above all but the very great."

Quartet members are Allen Ohmes and John Ferrell, violins; William Preucil, viola; and Joel Krossnick, cello.

Area Colleges Have Similar MSH Rates

Rent for married student housing (MSH) at the University now compares favorably with the rent paid by married students at other Midwestern schools.

In a housing cost report prepared last year by Student Senate, seven other schools were studied. The report covered a nine-month period.

Ohio State, which houses its married students in permanent dwellings similar to Hawkeye Apartments, rents its one-bedroom apartments for $75.50 a month and its two-bedroom ones for $89.50. Both include a range and refrigerator and the heat and water for the apartments.

At the University of Minnesota, married students pay $60 to $70 a month for furnished apartments. The rent does not include utilities.

FURNISHED ONE-BEDROOM apartments at Michigan State rent for $85 a month, and the furnished two-bedroom apartments cost $90 a month. Both costs include all utilities.

Purdue's married students live in two-story brick apartment buildings and pay from $73 to $104 a month for units, with gas and water included in the rent. The more expensive apartments are furnished.

At the University of Wisconsin, all married student housing is furnished and all utilities are included in the rent. There the apartments rent for $100 to $115 a month.

At the state-supported schools of Iowa, rents vary a great deal. In Cedar Falls, at the State College of Iowa, some barracks are furnished and rent for $25 a month. The mobile homes cost $45 a month furnished, and cement-block duplexes cost $57 and are furnished with range and refrigerator. No utilities are paid for any of the married student housing.

MARRIED STUDENTS at Iowa State pay $28 to $58.50 for barracks and pre-fabricated apartments.

Here, married students in the barracks pay $62.50 a month. The fee includes a range and refrigerator, plus water, heat and electricity.

Efficiency units here at Parklawn Apartments rent for $65 a month, including range and refrigerator and water. Larger Parklawn Apartments include the same items for $75 a month.

Residents of Hawkeye Apartments pay $83.50 a month. Their rent includes a range and refrigerator, as well as heat and water for the apartment.

However, T. M. Rehder, director of dormitories and dining service, said Monday a rent hike may be coming for married students. He did not disclose the amount of the increase or what dwellings would be affected and said the higher rents would not become effective until the fall of 1965.

AT THE same time, Rehder said requirements for those seeking married student housing will be tightened to meet the demands of increased enrollment.

On Dec. 16, he told the Student Senate Housing Investigation committee:

"In looking forward to next year, if we have an enrollment increase of approximately the same as this year — 1,500 students — we feel we will be able to house all single student applications.

"We will not be able to take care of all the married students who wish to live in University Married Student Housing; but there are indications that local private enterprises will be and are doing considerable building which will help in housing the married students.

"WE ARE NOW housing — single and married — approximately 35 per cent of our student body."

In the Proposed Building Program, 1962 to 1972, prepared in May of 1962, the Dormitory and Dining Services reported a capacity of 962 for married student housing. There has been no MSH construction since that time.

Rehder said MSH is always filled to capacity and there is a waiting list. This fall 450 married students were refused University housing for lack of space. Slightly more than 26 per cent of the married students do live in housing provided by the University, however.

IT IS projected that by fall of 1965 the 25 units of Parklawn Apartments now utilized by the Iowa Center for Continuation Study will be open for student occupancy.

By fall of 1966 an estimated 208 new married student apartments will be ready for occupancy. Each year thereafter until 1972 100 additional apartments will be readied, with a projected total of approximately 1,050 units to be included in the Hawkeye complex.

Although the project is not complete, the University plans to eliminate 10 "temporaries" (the barracks) every year, beginning in 1968.

During the academic year 1972 to 1973 the University plans to drop 270 temporaries, as the final 100 new apartments are readied.

Fall Freshmen to Register, Take Tests in Mid-Summer

Project Depends On Union Addition

By DENNIS BROWN
Staff Writer

Freshmen entering the University of Iowa in fall, 1965, will be able to register next July, if present plans are carried out, according to Donald Rhoades, Director of Admissions and Registrar.

Rhoades told The Daily Iowan Wednesday freshmen will be divided into two groups and given a choice of dates in July to come to the University to register. They will also take placement and exemption tests and try to resolve problems through general discussion with University personnel.

Parents also will be invited to tour the campus, see dormitory housing, and have any questions concerning the University answered through informal discussion with faculty and administrative officials.

It will not be mandatory for freshmen to register in July but it will be advantageous, Rhoades said. Early registration would give them more time during regular fall registration to devote to social orientation.

2 Bombers Shot Down Over Laos

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two U.S. Air Force fighter-bombers were shot down Wednesday while striking at a key road in Laos over which supplies and men reached Communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam and central Laos.

This information became available from government sources Wednesday night after a terse Defense Department statement disclosed that an F100 Supersabre and an F105 Thunderchief had been downed by ground fire in central Laos.

The pilot of the F105, Capt. Albert C. Vollmer of Denton, Kan., and Rush, N.Y., was rescued. Listed as missing was the pilot of the F100, Capt. Charles L. Ferguson of Clovis, N.M., and Parma, Idaho. A Defense Department spokesman declined to shed any light on the nature of the mission.

But informants said the jets, capable of carrying thousands of pounds of bombs, were raiding along Route 7, a road extending northwestward from North Viet Nam toward the Communist-held Plaine de Jarres in Laos. Connecting with this road are other roads leading into the Laotian panhandle and thence by trail into South Viet Nam.

Two other American planes went down near the Viet Nam-Cambodian border. One was shot down and the other ran out of fuel and crashed.

Two crewmen in a small Army spotter plane suffered second-degree burns when their craft was shot down near the Cambodian border, a U.S. spokesman in Saigon said.

Transfer students will not be included in the program.

SUMMER REGISTRATION dates tentatively are scheduled on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays. Each student's summer preregistration will be completed in one day so he can include the visit to the University in summer vacation plans.

The first preregistration group, which includes freshmen in engineering, pre-engineering, pre-nursing, pre-medicine, pre-pharmacy, and the pre-dentistry are scheduled to come to the University July 9, 16, and 23.

Remaining freshmen tentatively are scheduled on July 6, 12, 15, 19, 22, 26, 29, and 30.

THE NUMBER of freshmen accepted to any preregistration period will not exceed 300. Reservations will be handled by the University on a first-come, first-serve basis. Students will be required to send in the completed application in the Registration Orientation Fact Book, which will be mailed to all freshmen about March 1. The student will be asked to list three date preferences.

Before the July preregistration period begins, all students participating will receive a freshman schedule of courses and a timetable for their day on campus.

A TYPICAL DAY for the student will include a mass meeting in the ballroom of the Union addition, a meeting with a general academic adviser to plan a schedule, and registration in the Union. Student ID pictures will be taken and they will be able to purchase the Hawkeye, register automobiles, and sign up for intramurals.

Activities as the Model United Nations, and the Iowa Mountaineers will not be offered, but freshmen will be able to sign up for them at the Union during fall orientation.

A typical schedule for parents will include a tour of the campus with visits to dormitories, a visit with dorm counselors, a meeting with an academic adviser, and a general question and answer session with University officials.

Since most of the activities center in the Union, success of the project depends partly on the completion of the new Union facilities.

THE PROGRAM originated in the University Orientation Committee of which Rhoades is the chairman, and through the efforts of Dr. Arthur W. Melloh, dean of the College of Engineering; Laura C. Dustan, dean of the College of Nursing; Dewey B. Stuit, dean of the College of Liberal Arts; Dr. Louis C. Zopf, dean of the College of Pharmacy; and Dr. Howard R. Jones, dean and director of the College of Education.

Local Man Dies After Fire

Fire Caused By Cigaret: Authorities

A 59-year-old Iowa City man died Wednesday night from burns suffered in a fire at his home about 4:30 p.m. Wednesday.

The man, John D. Beals, 217 E. Davenport St. was taken to University Hospitals by ambulance. He was found in his bed by firemen when they arrived at the scene.

The fire, which heavily damaged the rear of the house, was discovered by Iowa City Policeman Bob Vevera while on patrol.

Firemen quickly put out the blaze which apparently started in the bedroom and spread to an adjacent dining room.

There was heavy smoke and water damage to the rest of the house.

Beals' wife, Carol, was not at home at the time.

Firemen said the house was owned jointly by Mr. and Mrs. Beals and Miss Helen Williams who lives in an apartment upstairs. Miss Williams also was not at home when the fire broke out.

Authorities said the fire was thought to have been caused by a lighted cigarette which ignited bedding.

Beals, a house painter, was born in Iowa City and lived here all his life.

A veteran of World War II, Beals was captured in the Battle of the Bulge.

Following the war, he worked as a painter for Johnson County, Wesley Walter, 820 S. Van Buren, and the Owens Brush Co., Lower Muscatine Road.

Beals is survived by his wife, his sister, Mrs. J. V. Blackman, Corona del Mar, Calif.; and two brothers, C. C. Beals, 1816 E. College St.; and L. R. Beals, 714 Brown St.

Victim of Second Fire Listed in 'Fair' Condition

Another fire caused by a cigarette which occurred about 10 p.m. caused extensive burns to Grover Wynn, 68, of 926 S. Dubuque St. Firemen said Wynn was smoking in a chair and the chair ignited.

The interior of Wynn's home was damaged by smoke, and the chair was destroyed. Wynn was taken to University Hospitals where his condition was described as fair.

Hospital officials said Wynn suffered second and third degree burns on his hands, feet and face. Officials had some difficulty getting Wynn to leave the home, and he tried to re-enter the burning structure but was restrained by a police officer.

Bookstores Defend Position By Citing Standard Prices

By MIKE ELLIOTT
Staff Writer

The managers of two Iowa City bookstores cited "standard pricing procedures" Wednesday to defend their positions in the face of possible protest picketing by students who are unhappy over local book prices.

They maintained that new textbooks are sold on a standard 20 per cent markup, which is common for the entire U.S. text book market. Book publishers, they said, include a suggested list price for books which includes the 20 per cent markup.

"We follow the list prices in all cases," Bob Sutherland, department manager of Iowa Book & Supply Co., said.

"NEW TEXTBOOKS are a short profit margin item, the shortest we carry, as a matter of fact," said Dick Lindsay, manager of the Hawkeye Book Store. He said he did not believe these were excessive markups.

The University Book Store would not comment on the proposed boycott.

Lindsay and Sutherland said used book prices are based on a 25 to 33 per cent markup. "We buy the used book at half of the new book price and sell it at about two-thirds or three-fourths of its original value," Lindsay said.

"Of course, we are buying at a gamble when we take used books," Sutherland said.

He also said there is no standard procedure for determining used book prices but their method is in common use among most bookstores.

THE HIGHER markups in bookstores are on supplies, both men said. Business expenses do not allow lower textbook prices, they agreed.

Both said they would not protest or seek any means to stop pickets if they are used.

"They are justified to picket if they want to," Lindsay said. He added that no one ever came in to talk with him about the book pricing system before a boycott was suggested.

"I wish they would have given us an opportunity to present our side," he said.

Boycott on Bookstores Gains Support of TMTW

By SHARON BAKER and DAVE CRIPPEN
Staff Writers

Students planning to picket one of the downtown bookstores gained support Wednesday evening from Town Men-Town Women.

The boycott is scheduled for Feb. 1 through 5.

Merle Wood, A4, Cedar Rapids told TMTW members the purposes of the boycott and the methods which the students organizing it intend to use.

TMTW's vote of support, in effect, adopted the project and made club president John Cheeks, A4, Decatur, Ill., official spokesman for the picketers. Wood said that support of other groups or individuals would be welcomed.

Uniforms must be clean for coup d'etat

By ART BUCHWALD

As you probably remember, the country of South Nonomura has been fighting the Communist guerrillas for four years. Thanks to American military aid and American advisors, South Nonomura now has one of the best equipped armies in the world, and when it comes to hardware the South Nonomuran soldier lacks nothing.

Newsreels of the crack South Nonomuran army show them flying off into the jungle in American helicopters, armed to the teeth. You get a feeling of pride that a group of peasants like the South Nonomurans can be whipped into a first class fighting outfit.

Unfortunately, despite all the aid, the South Nonomurans haven't been doing very well against the North Nonomuran guerrillas who are armed with nothing more than fishing rods and World War II rifles. Why, everyone asks, can't the South Nonomuran army contain the guerrillas?

One of our correspondents just came back after an interview with a crack South Nonomuran officer and showed us his notes. The interview shed some light on the problem.

CORRESPONDENT: Captain, how is the war going?

CAPTAIN: War going great. Tell Americans we like K-rations very much, but Q-rations lousy. We need more cigarettes and beer. Morale very low without beer.

CORRESPONDENT: Why hasn't your army been able to contain the guerrillas?

CAPTAIN: Our army trained by Americans to fight enemy in open. Lousy Communists hide in jungle.

CORRESPONDENT: Why don't you go into the jungle and get them?

CAPTAIN: You crazy or something? You can get bitten by snakes in the jungle. Besides, your uniform gets dirty. We have to keep uniforms nice and clean for coup d'etat.

CORRESPONDENT: That's true!

CAPTAIN: And don't forget, you have to walk in jungle. Since Americans come, my men won't go anywhere unless it's by truck or helicopter. Walking is for lousy Communists.

CORRESPONDENT: There have been many instances where you have had the Communists surrounded and they've disappeared. How do you explain this?

CAPTAIN: Very simple. As soon as we hear about lousy Communist attack, we send crack soldiers there to fight them. But crack soldiers must be supported by many men. We must have hot food, showers, officers' club, non-commissioned officers club, PX, chaplain, movies and comfortable living quarters. By the time my crack outfit is ready to fight, lousy Communists have escaped into jungle.

CORRESPONDENT: Wouldn't it be better if you fought the war without all these things?

CAPTAIN: We crack outfit. Thanks to American training and know-how we not going to fight dirty war like dirty Communists.

CORRESPONDENT: But you're not getting anywhere.

CAPTAIN: That's what you think. In another year I make colonel. Then I overthrow the government. You see me then, I give you good interview.

CORRESPONDENT: But, Captain, isn't there some way of turning the tide against the guerrillas?

CAPTAIN: It's too late. My crack troops have taste of American way of life. We are so busy keeping them supplied, we don't have much time to fight lousy Communists. All they talk about these days is G.I. Bill of Rights.

CORRESPONDENT: Is there anything you need that would help speed up the war?

CAPTAIN: Yes, send us more Japs.

CORRESPONDENT: Japs?

CAPTAIN: You know, Jap transistor radios.

Holier than thou

WHEN SOMEONE ELSE'S CHILD misbehaves in public, a parent is likely to use the situation for a little private back patting. Comparing his own child to the mischievous one, the parent feels rather smug at the result of the comparison.

Educational institutions occasionally have a chance to indulge in the same sort of back-patting. The past semester of turmoil at Berkeley, with its student demonstrations and general upheaval, allowed many universities, including the University of Iowa, to make comparisons and to feel a little bit smug, at least concerning university-student relations.

We have had demonstrations on this campus not too long ago, but they have been relatively small protests by a small group of students. ROTC balls, local barbershops and even Old Capitol have been picketed, but the protest, no matter how valid the point, has never stirred the campus to great controversy.

Perhaps the lack of "mass movements" on this campus is partially due to apathy or lack of interest on the part of the students. Viewing the overall scene, there is little besides a winning football team or toed hours that can excite the student body.

But the biggest reason we have avoided demonstrations such as those at Berkeley is that there are no horrendous regulations to demonstrate against.

Students may organize any type of organization they wish, providing they follow a few procedural rules of the University. The student organizations also have the privilege of inviting speakers to campus without censorship and may even use University facilities for their programs.

As for freedom of student speech, if there is a problem on this campus, it can only be the reverse of the Berkeley problem. We have a "Hyde Park" area — the soapbox sound-off, held weekly in the Union. But only the faithful few bother to take the microphone and, after the novelty wore off, even fewer stayed to listen.

Considering this situation, it can only be amusing to consider students gathering on the steps of Old Capitol to vent their spleen. The only events that draw students to the steps of Old Capitol in large numbers are the induction ceremony or the crowning of Miss SUI — and those are approved to the hilt by the University.

So here we are, sans mass protest, sans mass controversy and sans prohibitive regulations. For the most part, the U of I students are busy with classes and non-intellectual recreation.

Before we become too smug in our peaceful Midwestern situation, however, there is a lesson for us in the Berkeley incidents.

In an article in the Jan. 3 New York Times Magazine (summarized in The Daily Iowan Wednesday.) Sidney Hook, chairman of philosophy at New York University, discussed several implications of the Berkeley demonstrations.

The point that Hook makes which applies particularly on this campus is that the role and responsibility of the faculty is extremely important to free and open discussion.

Perhaps the point is best illustrated by the underlying assumptions that Hook's article in that he assumes the faculty has the responsibility in directing and negotiating with the students.

At least on this campus, the students deal more directly with the administration than with the faculty. There are faculty advisors to student organizations, by University regulation, but the role is very rarely an active one.

When speaking of students and faculty in his article, Hook says, "Both sides have a mutual interest in keeping the educational enterprise going. When problems and difficulties arise they must be routed through recognized channels of petition, complaint and protest. The officially elected representatives of the student body should meet periodically with representatives of the faculty."

Whether this should or could be corollary to the faculty role of educator perhaps will not be discussed on this campus until the day many students are excited by more than a football game.

But Hook's assumptions bear some thought. They may be old-fashioned in the coming time of mammoth campuses, or they may be a way to retain more concern for personal contact on campus.

Bet on cars, not horses—

I. C. new proving grounds

By JON VAN Managing Editor

One of the hottest issues facing the new Legislature is bound to deal with raising more money for state expenditures. Legalized gambling has been suggested as a means of realizing more income for the state, but this has brought opposition from many quarters. We interviewed I. M. Aginit, head of the Anti-Racing Union in the state, Monday to discuss his organization's stands on the question.

"Last time it was liquor-by-the-drink this year it's legalized gambling. There is always something racy that folks try to bring before the Iowa Legislature," he told us.

"As far as our group goes," he said, "we aren't just the type you might think. The basic issue involved here deals with the idea of parimutuel betting at horse tracks. For one thing it is bad for Iowa's image to perpetuate this kind of thing. After all, people already think of us as an agricultural state, and that's fine; but they also tend to think of us as backward horse and buggy types.

"Moral leaders are against the whole idea because of the obvious issue of cruelty to animals," he continued. "After all, how would you like to run a mile with a jockey on your back, two dollars on your nose and 10,000 screaming fans demanding you go faster?"

We asked Aginit if his group was opposed to horse racing bets alone, or if they also opposed other types of gambling.

"Oh we are not opposed to gambling in Iowa — if it is used as a source of revenue — but we think it should be instituted on an up-to-date, humane basis.

"What sort of gambling would you approve of?" we asked Aginit.

"Well, we'd favor something that would be both up to date and humane," he said. "And, as a matter of fact, we have a counter proposal we plan to present to the Legislature."

"What's that?"

"Well it's mechanized revenue — cashometers," he said. "These would revolutionize the entire business of gathering state funds.

"We propose to replace all parking meters now in Iowa with slot machines.

"You can see the values of this over parimutuel betting — the meters would be associated with autos, not horses. Drivers would have to put some money in the machines during the usual parking meter times, say a nickel an hour. But if they wished to put in a quarter, they could pull a lever and win up to $25 in a lot of appeal during the present coin shortage.

"The cities where the meters are installed get all the parking revenue and 10 per cent of the slot machine profits. The state would get the rest," he beamed.

"Do you really think this sort of thing would be practical?" we asked.

"Oh, indeed!" he replied. "We've got several of them planned in the state. It's not legal to have them pay money yet, but they pay off in time on the meter.

"The response has been very good — several people seek out the 'ginking' meters over the others, thinking them broken. Sometimes you don't get any time when you put money in them and sometimes you get 10 hours for a nickel."

We asked Aginit where he had his test meters placed.

"Why, they are all over the state," he replied, "but the greatest concentration is in Iowa City. We find students are especially addicted to them."

"Does your group have any other money making schemes?" we asked.

"Well," he said, "yes, if our first proposal doesn't gain acceptance, we have a compromise ready. This would call for parimutuel betting, but not on horses. We would favor having stock car races over obstacle courses — the spectators could bet on the winner, and the state could give odds on how many cars would finish the race.

"We've also been testing this one."

"Oh?"

"Yes, we've been converting several city streets into obstacle courses filled with mud holes and puddles."

"And, I suppose you've set most of these things up in..."

"That's right, Iowa City."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR —

Abolition of Army Reserve pleases reservee reader

To the Editor:

Seldom does the American taxpayer receive a Christmas present as nice as Defense Secretary Robert McNamara's recent order abolishing the Army Reserve.

The demise of this military white elephant is anguishing only to the reserve officers who naively believe that their units are effective. These angry men promise that congress will reverse McNamara's decision and perhaps reverse it.

Meanwhile the Reserve Officers' Association is frantically (and unsuccessfully we hope) trying to put pressure on McNamara to reconsider his decision. Consider the following scene.

"Mr. Secretary, there's a General Happily Thier calling."

"Thank you, I'll talk to him." (picks up receiver)

"Hello, Hap, I was expecting you to call."

"Dammit Hap, what are you doing up there?"

"We're abolishing the Army Reserve, Hap."

"On what grounds may I ask? We are essential to the strength of the country. If an aggressor attacks we will leap into the breach."

"Now Hap, that'd be like Fred Astaire leaping into a pair of Jackie Gleason's jockey shorts."

"Very funny Bob. What exactly do you mean?"

"I mean most of your vehicles aren't operational and the weapons you have are either obsolete or broken."

"Now look here Bob. . ."

"You have quartermaster officers commanding artillery units and radar specialists serving as tank gunners."

"Bob. . ."

"Your infantry companies get captured by aggressor rifle squads during maneuvers."

"Yes but. . ."

"And many of your officers falsify their weapons qualification scores. Some of them can't even pass physical requirements."

"Not all. . ."

"And remember that fat master sergeant you were telling me about? The one that ran into a rock in broad daylight? There are too many like that Hap."

"Look Bob, we have problems."

"On what grounds may I ask? We are essential to the strength of the country. If an aggressor attacks we will leap into the breach."

U.S., Japan Differ On Trade Policy With Red Chinese

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson and Prime Minister Eisaku Sato of Japan on Wednesday dug into the problem towering over the peace of Asia — a nuclear-armed China — and agreed Communist expansion must be resisted.

American officials, reporting this, said the great bulk of the two days of talks between Sato and Johnson zeroed in on policy toward Red China and Southeast Asia.

The officials noted that while there is no difference in United States and Japanese positions on Red Chinese expansion and power, there are different views on trade with the Peking regime.

The communists restated Japan's intention of continuing to expand trade with Red China, but without political strings or recognition.

Sato said it is basic Japanese policy to firmly maintain its security treaty arrangements with the United States, and Johnson reaffirmed the U.S. treaty commitments to defend Japan from outside attack.

Clarinetist To Conduct Clinic on Stage Bands

One of the country's best-known jazz clarinetists, Buddy DeFranco, will conduct a clinic on stage bands—the modern equivalent of the big dance bands of the Forties — Saturday.

DeFranco will rehearse the University of Iowa and the LeMars High School stage bands at 1:15 p.m. in Iowa Memorial Union, and will play several numbers with the Iowa band.

First-place winner in Down Beat and Metronome magazine polls for 11 consecutive years, DeFranco has set a record never equalled by any performer in popular music.

Frederick Ebbs, conductor of University Bands, said the program will be open to the public, and noted that the Saturday clinic would be DeFranco's only public appearance on campus.

The newly formed Iowa Stage Band, with which DeFranco will perform, has 18 members, mostly graduate students in music, with some undergraduate and faculty members. Its conductor is Thomas L. Davis. The LeMars High School Stage Band, conducted by Joe Brice, is "one of the outstanding stage bands in the state," according to Davis.

Bliss Says GOP Future Optimistic

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ray C. Bliss, the choice of top Republicans for national chairman, asserted Wednesday the party is strong enough to stage a comeback from last November's Democratic election landslide.

"We have a base that is strong enough in my judgment," he told a news conference, "that we can win in the future."

The Ohio GOP chairman slated to succeed Dean Burch as national chairman April 1, gave his views on Republican party prospects at a session with more than 30 newsmen and broadcasters in the Columbus Plaza.

The conference followed his return Tuesday night from Phoenix, Ariz., where he received support for national chairmanship from Burch, Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater, and Goldwater's running mate, William E. Miller.

British Nuclear Container Fails To Pass Heat Test

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — A British-designed container for nuclear materials failed a fire test Wednesday.

The insulated container was subjected to temperatures up to about 2,000 degrees Fahrenheit in one of a series of tests to determine if the container was safe for transporting nuclear materials.

The tests simulate what scientists term the worst accident conditions the equipment could encounter.

The non-nuclear material in the container ignited when external temperatures reached 1,900 degrees.

The tests were made at Sandia laboratory during an international symposium for packaging and transportation of radioactive materials.

There was no official comment on the test.

Two other containers, a Sandia laboratory-designed cask and a reactor fuel-element cask, were withstanding the intense heat.

Other tests, sponsored by the Atomic Energy Commission and Sandia Corp., were to include drops from a 30-foot tower to determine ability to absorb shock.

In a third test, the containers were to be fastened to the bed of a railroad flat car which would be impacted against a string of loaded gondola cars to study the effects of the impact on tie-down techniques.

Symposium scientists noted the tests were open to newsmen even though they were engineering studies subject to failure and not just demonstrations.

Ames Man Named Iowa's Top Male Cook

DES MOINES (AP) — Phil Cargill of Ames has been named Iowa's top male cook at the Men's National Cooking Championship.

Cargill, a clerk at Iowa State University, won the title with his recipe for "Tater Tastation." The contest is sponsored by the Potato Chip Institute International.

Joe Gregor of Schaller and C. Arthur Reseland of Des Moines were named runners-up.

Sukarno Silent on Closing U.N. Aid Groups in Indonesia

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Informed sources said Wednesday that Indonesia has left up in the air the question of closing U.N. specialized agencies. They implied some would remain.

The informant said the government apparently wants to close those agencies mentioned by President Sukarno last Thursday in announcing that Indonesia was withdrawing from the U.N.

Sukarno named the children's fund, the educational, scientific and cultural organization, and the food and agricultural organizations.

There are 15 U.N. agencies operating in Indonesia. Some of those not mentioned by Sukarno are the World Health Organization, the expanded program of technical assistance, and the world food program.

In all, the 15 agencies have earmarked about $50 million to be spent in Indonesia over the next few years.

At the U.N. in New York, a spokesman said Indonesia has not told its U.N. representative there, Vojko P. Pavicic of Yugoslavia, its plans for withdrawing from the United Nations and the various agencies.

He said Pavicic had informed Secretary-General U Thant that "all activities in Indonesia will continue until the situation was officially clarified."

AS FOR THE CHILDREN'S fund, Hurustiati Subandrio, assistant minister for health affairs and wife of Foreign Minister Subandrio, said Indonesia would be self-sufficient in powdered milk in a year or two. The fund contributed powdered milk.

Sukarno was asked in an interview with CBS correspondent Bernard Kalb what steps Indonesia intends to take after its withdrawal from the United Nations.

As reported by the official news agency Antara, Sukarno replied: "Yes, Indonesia withdrew from the United Nations. That is a fact and there will be no followup."

SUKARNO ALSO declared that Indonesia "is not going to make war, but if Indonesia is attacked it will fight and strike back."

These words were hardly reassuring in Malaysia, the federation of Malaya, Singapore, Sarawak and Sabah which Sukarno wants to crush as a British "neocolonialist plot."

Britain's army chief of staff designate, Gen. Sir James Casseles, met in the Malaysian capital of Kuala Lumpur with Defense Minister Abdul Razak and the chief of the armed forces staff, Lt. Gen. Osman Jawa.

NO BEARS, BUT SOCKS — CAMPINAS, Brazil (AP) — Msgr. Emilie Jose (Salim), rector of Catholic University here has ruled that long hair, in the Beetle style and beards in any style are out for male students. Msgr. Salim also said no boy would be allowed to register or attend classes if he follows another teen-age fad of wearing shoes without socks.

Seniors Advised To Register Now For Job Placement

Students who want interviews with potential employers are asked to register at the Business and Industrial Placement Office, 102 Old Dental Building, by Feb. 8.

More than 175 companies and government agencies will send representatives to the campus in February, March and April to discuss job opportunities with students.

Men going directly into the military service should register for placement before leaving campus.

They are also advised to take some interviews in the spring to gain familiarity with interviewing for jobs.

WANTED

Infants who will be six months old between now and April needed for University Research Project conducted by Institute of Child Behavior professors.

Pay is $10 for half-hour visit to East Hall laboratory. No unpleasant stimulation. If interested call 338-0511, Ext. 2581.

Secretary will take name and number. Call will then be returned, all questions about project answered and appointment made if parent agrees to cooperate.

Poland Expels U.S. Attache On Photographing Charge

WASHINGTON (AP) — Communist Poland has ordered the expulsion of the U.S. air attache in Warsaw, charging he photographed an air base, the State Department confirmed Wednesday.

The Polish Foreign Ministry told U.S. Ambassador John M. Cabot Monday that Col. George F. Carey Jr. was persona non grata and must leave within two weeks, press officer Robert J. McCloskey said.

Carey, 44, was quoted as having said in Warsaw that the charges against him were "lies, with no proof whatsoever."

McCloskey, declining comment, said a full report has not been received from Cabot.

Accordingly, officials were reluctant to say whether the United States would retaliate by expelling a Polish military attache from Washington. A decision will be made, when the administration knows the specific charges against Carey.

In virtually all similar cases, retaliation is more or less automatic. The Communist countries follow the same practice.

According to Cabot's preliminary report, Carey was charged with photographing a military installation at Bydgoszcz, in central Poland.

Polish authorities also alleged that he refused to show his documents, and attempted to disguise himself.

The congregation of Gloria Dei Lutheran Church will conduct a new worship service, The Contemporary Liturgy, at its 9 a.m. and 11 a.m. services Jan. 24.

The new service was written by the Rev. John Arthur, of the National Lutheran Council, Division of College and University Work, and CAREY HAS been air attache in Warsaw since July 1962. He said in Warsaw he did not violate any rules.

"They asked us if we had cameras, and we said we had none," he told reporters in the Polish capital.

Group Capt. James Borden, the Canadian air attache, was with Carey when the incident occurred. Borden was not expelled.

Longshore Leaders Campaign To End Shipping Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Embattled longshore leaders launched a campaign Wednesday to sell their rebellious rank and file a repudiated labor contract that could end a strike of 60,000 East and Gulf Coast dockers. They called it "Operation Facts."

It probably won't be until Thursday afternoon when an evaluation of this campaign can be made, said a spokesman for the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association. A new vote on the contract is scheduled, but no date has been set pending completion of the sales campaign.

Letters were sent out to 24,000 New York longshoremen, whose rejection of the proposed contract last Friday was followed Sunday midnight by the Maine to Texas pier walkout. The strike has idled some 200 vessels and is costing an estimated more than $20 million a day.

Chief stumbling block to the ILA's sales pitch was an automation clause in the new contract.

Applications Now Available For VISTA Volunteers

Volunteers in Service to America (VISTA) is now taking applications for qualified volunteers to assist in a program designed to eliminate poverty in the United States.

VISTA is part of the Office of Economic Opportunity, created by President Johnson last year to wage the war on poverty.

Any person over 18 may apply. The service lasts one year, including a four- to six-week training program. Training will be directed to the needs of the job to which the volunteer will be assigned. It will stress supervised field experience.

Volunteer assignments will call for many skills, trades and professions. Volunteers will work in rural and urban community action programs, migrant worker communities, Indian reservations, hospitals, schools and institutions for the mentally ill or mentally retarded.

They will receive a monthly living allowance and a $50 a month stipend to be paid at the completion of their service.

Each applicant should obtain a preliminary application form from the local post office, or write VISTA, Office of Economic Opportunity, Washington, D.C. Upon receipt of the preliminary application VISTA will send each qualified applicant a questionnaire.

Church Plans New Service

Dr. Daniel Moe, professor of Music at the University of Iowa.

There will be an abbreviated worship service at 9 a.m. and 11 a.m. on Sunday in order to introduce the new liturgy to the congregation.

The traditional liturgical service will be conducted each of these Sundays at the 8 p.m. services.

Segregation as Concept Inadequate, Says Prof

Segregation is too narrow a concept to serve as the basis for understanding race relations in the South, according to Christopher Lasch, associate professor of history.

Lasch made the comment Wednesday during a lecture sponsored by the Iowa Authors Committee of the Union Board.

"Segregation has to be looked at as an aspect of a more general question," Lasch said. This question has to do with the cultural contact between the Southern whites and the Negroes, he went on.

An important part of this cultural contact, according to Lasch, was the system of slavery that existed in the South before the Civil War.

He said the pattern of conduct that existed in this system was similar to the pattern of conduct which exists in army life; that is, the determination to do as little as possible in carrying out orders, he said.

"A slave was considered to belong to his master. The master's discretion was the only thing which stood in the way of a Negro's complete degradation," Lasch said.

He said studies about slavery in the United States must compare with slavery systems in other parts of this hemisphere or "they won't get anywhere."

Turning to the race relations in the South today, he said, there was no evidence that strong repugnance exists between the Southern whites and Negroes.

Professor Cites Leisure As Problem

John S. Harlow, professor of business law, said Wednesday that science and leisure are the two greatest problems to be solved by 20th century society. Harlow offered these as unanswered questions in a speech titled, "I Have Not Learned Very Much," the second in the Union Board's "Last Lecture" series.

Harlow charged that science and specialization don't allow the opportunity for responsible individuality.

"Non-specializing aspects of education are becoming increasingly important in this age of leisure," said Harlow.

The university, however, could help society adapt to the changing times and thus improve the 20th century's chances of turning out well, said Harlow. He said the university offers an example of how leisure can be used in non-material productivity in the arts.

Harlow lauded some advances during the 20th century, especially advances in the relationship of man to man. He said this could be known as the century of reconciliation and cited progress in race relations, ecumenical movements, and lessening of tension between capitalism and communism as examples.

Harlow said he and society have much to learn before the ideal of the responsible individual is attained.

Ohio Boxer Comes Back to Life After Heart Stops

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — No-nice boxer Jerry Como Jr., who was brought back to life after his heart stopped Tuesday night, remained in critical condition Wednesday at South Side Hospital.

Como, 17, did not regain consciousness after a left hook to the temple felled him in a Golden Gloves bout.

In a matter of seconds, after he plunged head first to the canvas, doctors were in the ring working on the East High School senior.

Dr. Ernest Perry, an intern at South Side Hospital who happened to be at ringside, gave mouth-to-mouth resuscitation while Dr. M. M. Szus, attending physician at the hospital, used external heart massage.

Dr. Perry said there was a faint heartbeat when Como was put in an ambulance, but the heart stopped later.

Doctors at the hospital restored the heart beat and a mechanical aid was used to help the boy's breathing.

Como, who weighs 135 pounds, had been in only seven or eight fights previously, and this was his second Golden Gloves tournament.

3 Iowans Listed As High School All-Americans

NEW YORK (AP) — Players from 42 states, topped by Pennsylvania and California, make up the 95-man All-America high school football team selected Wednesday by Scholastic Magazines, the national educational publications.

Pennsylvania and California each have seven representatives on the big squad, followed by Texas and Ohio with five each and Illinois, Massachusetts and New York with four each.

The quarterback list includes four whose passes gained more than a mile during the 1964 season and one, Neil Waddington of Belmond, Iowa, who had a fantastic completion record of 67 per cent.

Other Iowans on the list were Bill Long, guard for Cedar Rapids Jefferson; Craig Cooley, center for West Des Moines, and Waddington.

Players Blasted For Lining-Up Against Rozelle

CLEVELAND (AP) — Owner Art Modell of the Cleveland Browns said Wednesday night it was "outrageous and disgraceful" for defensive halfback Bernie Parrish to line up player support to oust Pete Rozelle as commissioner of the National Football League.

Parrish said in a telephone interview Tuesday that he felt Rozelle didn't represent the players "as we feel we should be represented."

The Browns' back added that he was "going to work to line up support" among players to replace Rozelle with Paul Brown, former Cleveland coach.

"I am going to have to assume that Parrish is speaking only as an individual and not for the NFL Players Association of which he is vice president," Modell said in a statement.

"If Parrish is unhappy with conditions that prevail in the NFL, then I suggest he seriously consider retirement," Modell's statement continued.

The Browns' owner said that since Rozelle was hired in 1960 to be commissioner at $50,000 a year, trading card rights revenue to the pension fund increased tenfold from $15,000 to $150,000 a year and television income from the championship game was up from $200,000 in 1960 to $1.8 million in 1964.

N.C.A.A. Paves Way For Indoor Track Meet Participation

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association cleared the way Wednesday for college athletes to participate in most of the indoor track season this year and issued an invitation to the AAU to participate in cooperative sanctioning.

EARLIER IN THE DAY the NCAA slapped a one-year probation on West Texas State, lifted the probationary status of Iowa and Centenary and put some teeth in its stand on its relations with the professional football leagues.

The NCAA, in its annual convention, adopted a bylaw which sets an effective date of March 1 on prohibitions against collegiate competition in indoor meets sanctioned by the Amateur Athletic Union.

Moments later the group adopted a resolution, proposed by Ross Smith of MIT, asking that:

"The NCAA by direct communication invite the AAU to participate in the negotiations to form a plan for cooperative certification and sanctioning of indoor meets at the domestic level."

The resolution carried, 99-33.

THE KEY BYLAW actually calls for a halt to collegiate participation in indoor meets which do not have NCAA membership on their administrative committees and which do not have NCAA certification.

But an amendment to that proposal was passed setting an effective date of March 1. Further, it was declared that with the passage of the amendment the policy opposing such participation would be wiped out.

This means that until March 1 the NCAA has no policy and no stand on prohibiting college runners from participating in the indoor meets sanctioned by the AAU.

The West Texas State probation amounts to a slap on the wrist and does not prohibit the school from competing for NCAA championships or participating in post-season bowl games.

THE PROBATION was levied by the NCAA council, the group's policy making body, which found West Texas in violation of provisions governing financial assistance to student athletes.

Iowa and Centenary had been placed on probation a year ago for recruiting violations. Wednesday they were restored to full membership rights.

In other actions at its 59th convention the NCAA approved a report taking a strong stand on its relationship with the professional football leagues.

The report by Jim Corbett, Louisiana State athletic director and chairman of the NCAA pro relations committee, was approved by a voice vote and will be submitted to the membership for a mail vote.

AMONG OTHER THINGS, the Corbett report would prohibit the widespread practice of assistant coaches accepting money for preparing scouting reports for the pros.

It also calls on the major professional leagues to end the practice of premature signings of college athletes.

Deutsch Reflects on North-South Game Experiences

By BILL PIERROT, Assistant Sports Editor

The stakes were personal pride, rather than a victory for Iowa, and the rewards weren't all tangible, when Tony Giacobazzi and Phil Deutsch played in the North-South Shrine game on Christmas Day.

GIACOBAZZI started at offensive end and Deutsch at defensive tackle for the North team in the game at Miami.

After the North-South game Giacobazzi went to Honolulu where he played in the Hula Bowl on Jan. 8. Consequently he was not available for an interview when Deutsch made the following comments.

"A game like this means a lot," Deutsch said. "We were chosen for ability and we tried to live up to our reputations. Each guy playing wanted to do a good job."

"Tony was drafted by the St. Louis Cardinals, but I wasn't drafted by any professional team. I tried my hardest in this game, now I can only sit and wait as to a pro offer," he said.

"MANY OF THE PLAYERS there had signed already. However, other players hadn't even been drafted, but played well because they hoped to be noticed by the pros," he said.

"While in Miami the players visited a children's hospital operated by the Shriners.

"It was a great experience to visit these children and distribute gifts the Shriners had prepared," he said.

"I think the little children really enjoyed it, especially when they saw they were going to have their pictures taken."

"THE SHRINERS were wonderful, they treated us well the entire time. They sponsored a dinner for us on Christmas Eve and presented us with watches and blazers for playing in the game. We received no money, as all proceeds go to the children's hospitals."

The players were in the Miami area for approximately six days according to Deutsch.

"We practiced for an hour or an hour and a half a day to set up an offense and a defense," he said. "The coaches tried to keep things simple to keep the game interesting and not put a lot of pressure on us to learn new plays. They did a fine job of setting things up."

Deutsch said he had a chance to orally replay two of the regular season games with players from Indiana, including Rich Badar, and John Huarte and Jack Snow of Notre Dame.

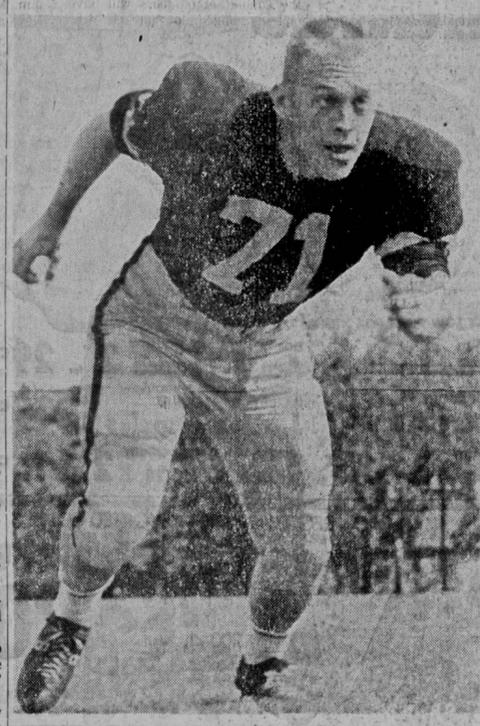

HE COMMENTED that this meeting was much more friendly than were the previous encounters. (Iowa barely slipped by Indiana, 21-20 in the third game of the season, and fell to Notre Dame, then ranked No. 1 in the nation, 28-0, in the last game of the season.)

Deutsch said he couldn't make a fair comparison between the players in this game and the two Hawkeyes who received much national attention this season, Gary Snook and Karl Noonan.

"After playing with the guys in this game and Snook and Noonan, I can say that they all have a specific job to do, and they all get it done. And the ability to get this

The Shriners slogan, "Strong Legs Run so that Weak Legs May Walk," inspired a lot of players," he said.

Barnes Replaces Ray As N.C.A.A. President

CHICAGO (AP) — Everett D. Barnes, Colgate athletic director, was elected to a two-year term as president of the National Collegiate Athletic Association Wednesday.

Barnes, the first athletic director ever to be president of the organization, succeeds Dr. Robert F. Ray of Iowa. Barnes moved up to the post from that of secretary-treasurer.

Abe Martin of Texas Christian was elected president of the Football Coaches' Association, succeeding Len Casanova of Oregon.

Big Ten Holds Recruiting Caucus

CHICAGO (AP) — The Big Ten, holding a caucus at the NCAA convention, enacted several revisions Wednesday in eligibility and recruiting rules.

The policy-making faculty representatives changed the initial date for issuing tenders of financial assistance from April 1 to May 1 for all sports except football. It is intended to give basketball, track and other coaches more time to recruit high school players.

The date for issuing football tenders remains April 1.

Another change will permit coaches in sports other than football to make home visits on prospective student athletes until May 1 instead of April 1.

job done is what makes a good player."

"It's especially not fair to compare Snook with the quarterbacks who played down there. (The group included Huarte, Navy's Roger Stauback, and Tulsa's Jerry Rhome) because they had all had an extra year of experience," he continued.

Huarte came out of practically nowhere and won the Heisman trophy. With one more year to play, Snook may surpass many of these guys, and even become another Huarte."

DEUTSCH said that one of the South's backs was the "fastest man I've ever seen." That was Bob Hayes, a halfback from Florida A and M and winner of two gold medals in the Tokyo Olympics.

"The first touchdown he ran was a reverse. I took three or four steps chasing him but it was futile," Deutsch said. "Even our defensive backs couldn't get near him."

"It was a very, very rewarding experience to be able to play ball with these fine players," Deutsch said in a general observation of the game.

"And to be able to help those little children makes you feel good. After seeing them in the hospital, you feel you have to go out and do something. I think all the guys thought this."

Africans Gather To Honor Schweitzer on 90th Birthday

By ANDREW BOROWIEC
LAMBARENE, Gabon (AP) — By plane, river boat and on foot, black and white men are reaching this jungle outpost to honor Dr. Albert Schweitzer on his 90th birthday Thursday.

His hospital, where since 1925 the French-born doctor has helped more than 60,000 persons, was in a festive mood. Gifts were being wrapped.

Officials of the new Gabon Republic, where Schweitzer has lived and worked most of his long life, have joined in honoring him.

THE OLD DOCTOR was at his post in the central pharmacy. He wore a white shirt with his usual black bow tie and appeared more stooped and more burdened with age than when I last saw him 10 months ago.

But the twinkle was in his eye as usual and he smiled at visitors. He appeared hard of hearing and he leaned against the wall as he received visitors.

"I assure you I feel wonderful," he repeated cheerfully. "I am grateful that you could come."

It is not a happy Africa on the 90th birthday of the Nobel Peace Prize-winner.

CRITICS ACCUSE him of having a colonialist, patronizing attitude toward the African, of defying Africa's desire to adopt the ways of the white man.

Schweitzer has refused to reply to the criticism or to alter the methods he has used since he first came to Africa in 1913.

He has not adopted modern treatment methods or hygienic installations. He has refused to identify his African patients by name, preferring to give them numbers for more efficient handling.

But the black man from the surrounding rain forest continues his confidence in the doctor.

THE HOSPITAL has been expanding steadily and some of the world's best specialists have practiced here.

The doctor's theory is simple and — to many — logical: he is here to help the African and not to impose the Western ways on him.

$20 Million Asked to Build Iowa College

DES MOINES (AP) — Iowa legislators went to school Wednesday to learn how they should operate during the 1965 session of the legislature.

Freshman legislators and many of the veterans spent the day in the House chamber listening to speakers describe legislative methods.

Lt. Gov. William Mooty, Grundy Center Republican who failed to win re-election and leaves office Thursday, suggested that freshman lawmakers "don't talk too much on the floor."

He also urged them to "do your homework and study bills carefully in committee."

In the Senate, four Republicans filed a resolution asking for an appropriation of $20 million to set up a new four-year institution of higher learning in southwest Iowa.

The school would be under control of the State Board of Regents, which supervises the University of Iowa, Iowa State University, and State College of Iowa.

The measure was filed by Sens. Joe Platt of Winterset, John Shoeman of Atlantic, Charles Griffin of Mapleton and James E. Briles of Corning.

Dentists To Study Jaw Fractures

A successful procedure used at the U of I for stabilizing jaw fractures will be studied in a new project now under way.

The project and a study of facial growth will be financed by two contracts totaling $55,921 awarded to the Department of Oral Surgery by the U.S. Army Medical Research and Development Command.

Dr. Merle L. Hale, professor and head of oral surgery at the College of Dentistry and University Hospitals, is principal investigator for the projects.

The surgical procedure, called the Iowa Skeletal Fracture Technique, was not originated at Iowa, but the University's oral surgery staff has improved the equipment and refined its use.

Dr. Hale's group believes the Iowa Technique is better than some current procedures used in jaw injuries where fragment relationships are difficult to maintain or the stabilization of bone grafts is complicated.

Advantages of the Iowa procedure, they say, include more stabilization, simple procedure, and faster patient rehabilitation.

Participating with Dr. Hale in the studies are Drs. James H. Mc Leran and John C. Montgomery, assistant professors of oral surgery; Drs. Robert Thompson, Walter Bolin, John Coover, Harrie Shearer, David Shapiro, and Thomas Stenger, residents in oral surgery; and Drs. Gary Quast, James Spires, and Robert Fontanesi, all interns in oral surgery.

Escapée Hears Charges

MARSHALLTOWN (AP) — John Henry Pelham, 33, was charged with jail escape, burglary with aggravation, and receiving stolen goods in District Court Wednesday.

Pelham, who was returned from Dallas, Tex., Tuesday, pleaded innocent to all three charges. He was held in lieu of $20,000 bond, and was to be transferred to the Linn County jail at Cedar Rapids.

Pelham broke out of the Marshall County jail Dec. 22 with two other men. He originally was charged in the robbery of an elderly Marshalltown man last November.

Couple Asks Back Taxes

DES MOINES (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Herbert F. Lessmann of Des Moines asked the U.S. District Court Wednesday to overrule a tax court decision and release dividends due to them from stocks.

The Lessmanns filed their own petition, without aid of an attorney.

They contend that the money is being held illegally by the United States, and ask "due and fair consideration before any levy be affected on dividends due" them.

The U.S. Internal Revenue Service has demanded a judgment of $37,497 against the Lessmanns for alleged nonpayment of certain income taxes.

Lessmann, now retired, formerly operated the Lessmann Manufacturing Co., a Des Moines firm which made material-handling and excavating equipment.

Britain Lowers Defense Spending, Workers Protest

LONDON (AP) — Britain's Labor government faces a rebellion in the aircraft industry over plans to cut spending on military aircraft.

A major industrial crisis confronted Prime Minister Harold Wilson's new administration Wednesday as industry leaders and trade unionists joined in alliance.

Angry demonstrations and protest meetings by thousands of workers — who are afraid they will lose their jobs if the cuts go through — gathered all over the country.

Ten thousand workers scheduled a mammoth march Thursday through London.

The revolt stemmed from proposed cuts in military spending aimed at pegging the defense budget at $5.6 billion.

Center of the storm is the TSR2 — a low-level nuclear bomber which the government has threatened to scrap as too expensive.

The government is said to prefer buying American planes instead — namely the TFX, also known as the F111.

Men's Reformatory Security Control Will Be Tightened

DES MOINES (AP) — Installation of additional security facilities at the Men's Reformatory at Anamosa at a cost of about $49,000 was approved Wednesday by the Legislative Interim Committee.

Members of the Board of Control, which supervises the institution, said the facilities were recommended by Warden Charles Haugh, who took over after riots rocked the institution late in 1963 and in 1964.

The board will spend about $27,500 to beef up controls at the public entrance to the reformatory. The guard at this area will be given a protected enclosure, and the double set of doors will have locks arranged so that one door will remain locked while the other is open.

The locks will have electrical controls operated from the guard's enclosure.

Another $21,500 will go for electrical controls, operated from a guard tower, for the double set of gates used by trucks to go into and out of the prison. Board members said the gates now are manually operated at ground level.

The committee originally approved spending $125,000 to replace a canteen plant building damaged by fire during one of the riots.

Wednesday it authorized a change of plans calling for remodeling and adding to the damaged building, cutting the cost to $92,000.

Auditions Being Held For Oratorio Chorus

University Oratorio Chorus auditions are being held this week in 109 Eastlawn. Students interested in singing with the group should contact Daniel Moe, associate professor of music at Ext. 2377, or come to Room 109 between 3:30 and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Next performance of the Chorus is scheduled for April 6 and 7. Requiem in C Minor, by Luigi Cherubini, and Stabat Mater, by Francis Poulenc, will be presented by the University Symphony Orchestra.

FEF Awards Scholarship

A grant of $1,000 has been awarded to the Department of Industrial and Management Engineering by the Foundry Educational Foundation (FEF) for two undergraduate scholarships.

The award, presented by E. J. Walsh, Cleveland, Ohio, executive director of the foundation, was accepted by Professor J. Wayne Deegan, department head. It was made on the basis of an evaluation of the University program and facilities in metal casting, said Associate Prof. Edward M. Mielnik, program director.

The program in metal casting at Iowa is part of a new engineering approach in materials processing in the College of Engineering. The program also includes training and research in metal cutting, welding engineering and other methods of metal processing.

The FEF aids colleges, universities and institutes in providing training for engineering students to help meet the demand for engineers in the foundry industry.

the store to lower its prices, then use this as a lever on the others.

According to Wood, City Attorney Jay H. Honohan has said the picket will be legal if it is orderly and doesn't try to prevent people from entering the store.

One of the purposes of the boycott, according to Wood, is to get merchants to lower their prices and to begin repurchasing used paperback books from students.

The other purpose is to boost support of the Student Senate book exchange.

The book exchange will start Jan. 30, and the boycott is scheduled for Feb. 1 through 5.

Wood emphasized that the object of the boycott had not been chosen and wouldn't be until Feb. 1, but indicated that it would probably be either Hawkeye Bookstore or Iowa Book and Supply. University Bookstore and Iowa Book and Supply are under the same management, Wood said, and if one of the two other stores were picketed, it would be the larger.

In a speech at Tuesday's Soapbox Soundoff, Wood said that Iowa students are paying extremely high prices for books. As a basis for the charge he cited a Student Senate survey of last year comparing book prices here and at six other schools.

However, the report, which dealt mainly with prices for used books, showed that here as elsewhere the books were resold for from 60 to 75 per cent of their original cost.

Prices charged for new texts at all stores, including those here, according to the report, "are determined by the publishers and compiled in the Trade Publishers Annual."

The book markup averages 20 per cent on these new books, according to the survey.

The report also said that most of the bookstores questioned would not buy used paperbacks with a retail price under $2, because of problems involved in handling and sorting the books.

The conclusion made by the report was that the best prices are offered to students at Iowa State's university book store. It recommended that the University consider the feasibility of establishing a university-operated bookstore such as the one at Iowa State.

U.S. and Russia Still at Odds Over U.N. Dues

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Secretary-General U Thant conferred separately Wednesday with the chief delegates of the United States and the Soviet Union but apparently failed to make any progress in resolving the crisis over U.N. peacekeeping debts.

Meanwhile, U.N. officials disclosed that the Soviet Union had paid $3,528,339 into the U.N. treasury Wednesday on its regular assessment for 1964. The Soviet Union made a similar $1.3 million payment during the last week of December.

The Soviet payment was not anywhere near enough to avoid a challenge of its voting rights in the assembly. This would require payment of around $21.7 million.

Dance Concert Opens Friday at 8

'Discovery IV' To Include Professors' Compositions

An exciting potpourri of dances ranging from "The Mad Tea Party" based on characters from Alice in Wonderland to a dance cutting of the morality play "Everyman" will be featured in the first campus concert this year of the Dance Theatre.

The fourth annual winter concert — "Discovery IV" — will be presented at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday in the Studio Theatre as benefit performances for the Art Gallery Fund.

A dance set to an original music score by three University professors will be one of the highlights of the program.

THE PERCUSSION piece was written by Jay Melrose, assistant professor of speech pathology; Theodore Tweed, instructor in otolaryngology; and James Hardy, supervisor of speech at the University Hospital School. The dance, "1 plus 5," was choreographed by Sally Garfield, A3, Iowa City.

Characters from the "Mad Tea Party" will perform in a dance for which Linda Tague, A4, Algona, composed music. Miss Tague also choreographed the dance.

Karen Pederson, instructor in women's physical education, will introduce a dance first choreographed by Daniel Nagria — a professional dancer. Entitled "Focus," the dance had been performed at the University of Oregon where Miss Pederson formerly was a student. It will be the first time the Dance Theatre has performed a dance choreographed by someone outside of the student group.

TWO UNUSUAL dances have been choreographed by students. "Academia" by Mary Lynne McRae, N4, Des Moines, is in the avant garde vein of modern dance and consists of two parts. The first part of the dance is set to music, while the second part is set to a lecture. Deborah Nelson, A3, Iowa City, has choreographed and will solo in "Les Souffles," a satiric comment on ballet.

THE STUDENTS in the Dance Theatre not only choreograph the dances, but also design and make their costumes and handle all aspects of staging their dances.

Tickets for the production are $1, and are available at Whetstone Drug Co., the Campus Record Shop, or at the door before the concert.

STUDENTS in the production include:

Kathryn Anderson, A4, Kelllogg; Jane Ashtalter, A4, Muscatine; Kathryn Bauman, A3, Mason City; Fern Belling, A1, Davenport; Juanita Betz, G, New Orleans, La.; Linda Cox, A3, Iowa City; Mary Damerel, A1, Cambridge, Mass.; Barbara-Kay Deam, A1, Mediapolis; and Diana Dinsmore, A2, McClean, Va.

OTHER STUDENTS in the program are:

Christy Fisher, A1, Iowa City; Anne Flora, A3, Iowa City; Victoria Folk, A3, Iowa City; Sally Garfield, A3, Iowa City; Jeannette Gaumont, A1, Cedar Rapids; Layna Hartman, A2, Davenport; Beth Hawkins, A4, Iowa City; and Cheryl Hemphill, A3, Ft. Dodge.

Jane Hogan, A2, Cedar Rapids; Sharon Hoheisel, A1, Morton Grove, Ill.; Wade Kneess, A1, Des Moines; Nancy Kummer, A1, Ottawa, Ill.; Nancy Lefgren, A2, Council Bluffs; Ellen Lineors, A1, University City, Mo.; Carol Lasse, A1, St. Louis, Mo.; and Sue McEvelev, N4, Park Ridge, Ill.

Mary Lynne McRae, A4, Des Moines; Betty Murray, A2, Atlanta, Ga.; Linda Marie Musgrove, A1, Wichita, Kan.; Deborah Nelson, A3, Iowa City; Norma Novy, A4, LaGrange Park, Ill.; Vicki Parson, A1, Des Moines; Michael Sokoloff, A3, North Brunswick, N.J.; Judy Strahl, A2, Colorado Springs, Colo.; Linda Tague, A4, Algona; and Barbara Warden, A3, Boulder, Colo.

Kay Cheney, G, Atlanta, Ga.; Nancy Johnson, G, Duluth, Minn.; Diana McKelvey, G, Wellington, New Zealand; Jean McWilliams, A4, Ottumwa; and Nelly DeWhearty.

'A Mad Tea Party'

"A Mad Tea Party" will be one of the features of the Dance Theatre concert "Discovery IV", which opens in the Studio Theatre Friday. Pictured are the Cheshire Cat, Susie McEvelev, N4, Park Ridge, Ill.; the caterpillar, Christy Fisher, A1, Iowa City; Alice (kneeling), Victoria Folk, A3, Iowa City; the Mad Hatter, Wade Kneess, A1, Des Moines; the doormouse, Sharon Hoheisel, A1, Morton Grove, Ill.; and the March Hare, Cheryl Hemphill, A3, Fort Dodge. Turkey Won't Back NATO Nuclear Fleet

WASHINGTON (AP)—Turkey pulled out of the proposed NATO nuclear fleet Wednesday and there were ominous rumblings of a possible move by French President Charles de Gaulle that could further weaken the U.S.-sponsored project.

This left the North Atlantic Treaty Organization fleet with only one enthusiastic European backer — West Germany — at a time when the United States has stopped pressuring for activating the nuclear armed surface sea force for the protection of Europe.

British officials reported the involved French maneuvering.

They said Foreign Secretary Patrick Gordon Walker has had repeated rebuffs in efforts to arrange talks with French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville.

London sources viewed this as an attempt by De Gaulle to induce Britain and West Germany to drop the nuclear fleet project — which France strongly opposes — once and for all.

Regents Might Change ROTC

The Board of Regents is scheduled to consider revamping the University's ROTC programs when it convenes in Des Moines today and Friday.

Action by the Board is required because of the recently passed ROTC Vitalization Act of 1964. The University will ask that the military training programs be maintained on a voluntary basis.

It also is asking permission to set up both the two-year and the four-year programs provided for in the 1964 Federal legislation.

The two-year program is designed especially for students transferring to the University and for other students who may decide to begin the officer training program after their sophomore year.

University officials wish to retain the four-year programs because students may get scholarships covering tuition, fees, costs and books along with $50 a month as a retainer under this program. The two-year program provides only $40 a month. The new programs would begin next fall.

The Regents also are expected to do groundwork on a study of the future role of Regent institutions.

THOUGH THE COMPLETION of the Union addition is a dream come true for Kottner, Hancher and their predecessors, the project has not always had smooth sailing.

One of the roughest spots in the history of the most recent addition came in 1959 when a lawsuit was filed by the Iowa Hotel, Motel and Restaurant Association together with some local restaurants and motels, a taxpayer and a student to enjoin the Board of Regents from building the proposed units claimed as competition with private enterprise.

The District Court ruled in favor of the University, but the plaintiffs appealed the decision to the Iowa Supreme Court.

In 1962, the Supreme Court upheld the decision of the lower court, stating that the housing and dining functions of the Union were not made available primarily for profit from public sales.

ANY SUCH PROFIT or competition with private enterprise, the Court said, was incidental to the primary function of serving the University.

With the legal problems resolved, ground for the new addition was broken July 30, 1962.

Things have changed since the first "Iowa Union" was organized as a men's club in a local Unitarian church in 1908, for the Iowa Memorial Union of tomorrow will be one of the most highly developed in the country.

Kottner said that as far as he knows, Iowa will have more meeting and dining facilities than any other school and will be among the top five in the country in the number of guest rooms.

"The manner in which the old and the new of the Iowa Memorial Union fit together will make it one of the best planned Unions in the country," Kottner said, "and because of its excellent facilities, it could very well be the finest in the United States."
