Test Tension

Chomp, chomp, chomp. Hey — wait a minute, fella. You're supposed to drink the coffee, not eat the cup. Yeah, so the coffee pot was dry, but that's still no excuse to eat the cup. You say you're under pressure from all those finals — why not try one of those cigarettes in your hand? Whadda you mean which hand?

Spy Charge Hurlled At U.S. Diplomat

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union accused an American diplomat of spying and demanded Tuesday that he leave the country.

He is Richard F. Stolz, 39, who held the rank of first secretary at the U.S. Embassy here.

The embassy denied the charge and said it appeared to have been made in retaliation for the expulsion from the

Bullet Wounds Prove Fatal For Iranian

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Prime Minister Hassan Ali Mansour, 41, died Tuesday night of bullet wounds inflicted last Thursday by a young assassin.

Within an hour after his death, the Shah named Mansour's close friend, Amir Abass Houvaïda, 50, as prime minister to carry on his reforms.

HOUVAIDA has been finance minister since last March, when Mansour formed his Cabinet. He has been active in negotiations for agreements with major oil companies on offshore explorations.

Mansour, who had battled Conservative Moslem elements in carrying out the shah's program to transform Iran into a modern state, was gunned down last Thursday as he stepped from his limousine to enter the Majlis, the lower house of Parliament.

Police immediately after the shooting seized a part-time student, Mohammed Bokharai, 20, as the gunman. They said he was carrying out a plot in behalf of a small group of Moslem fanatics he headed.

Mansour had served under a prime minister, Hussein Ala, who survived an assassination attempt by a Moslem fanatic in 1955. Four Iranian prime ministers have been shot at by religious fanatics in the last 16 years.

THE SHAH WAS wounded slightly by a Communist's bullets in 1948. In 1949, a young Communist assassin's bullets wounded the Shah slightly in the body and mouth.

U.S. Firm To Sell Soybeans To Russia for $11 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sale of about four million bushels of American soybeans to the Soviet Union for $11 million was approved Tuesday by the Government.

It was the biggest sale of U.S. farm products to an Iron Curtain country since a big sale of wheat to Russia about a year ago, but it amounts to only a fraction of the 715-million-bushel 1964 soybean crop.

Officials here described the transaction as strictly a commercial deal, with the government's only role being Commerce Department approval of an export license.

There is no soybean surplus in government stocks. But while trade sources described the situation as "tight" in the soybean market, Agriculture Department officials say the crop is in balance and no shortage is in prospect.

The Commerce Department does not give details of such transactions nor name the firms involved. But Continental Grain Co. said in New York it is selling 90,000 tons to Russia, which would be all or most of the four million bushels.

Girl Burns Self to Death To Protest Viet Government

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Drenched in gasoline she poured on herself, a 17-year-old girl committed suicide by fire at an anti-government demonstration Tuesday in Nha Trang. Her death was announced as a political protest against Premier Tran Van Huong.

In Saigon, two terrorist grenades exploded from the ceiling of the headquarters of Maj. Gen. Frank A. Osmanski, the U.S. logistic chief in South Viet Nam, and slightly injured several persons working in the reception room.

BUDDHIST demonstrations against Huong's administration erupted again on the outskirts of Saigon.

Paratroopers arrested about 70 monks and nearly 100 of their followers after an outbreak in suburban Gia Dinh.

Two hundred students tried to set fire to market stalls in another suburb. Police and soldiers arrested about half that group.

Afield, Vietnamese forces inflicted a heavy toll on the Communist guerrillas in the swampy paddyfield region of Ap Bac, 40 miles south of Saigon. U.S. authorities said at least 153 Viet Cong died in the battle. Government casualties were given as 11 killed and 50 wounded, including two U.S. helicopter crewmen.

Hoang Thi Yen Phu, a schoolgirl, was the victim of the flames at Nha Trang, 200 miles northeast of Saigon.

She quietly edged away from an assembly of about 4,000 persons before the waterfront home of the provincial chief, spilled the fuel on her clothing and was alight and dying before anyone could get to her side.

A SECOND schoolgirl tried to follow her in death by the same method, but was restrained by friends from striking a match after she had drenched herself with gasoline.

The grenade blasts at Osmanski's headquarters marked the second such thrust against U.S. military installations in Saigon in little more than a month.

Repairs still are under way on the Brink Hotel, a U.S. officers' billet where a Christmas Eve explosion killed two Americans and wounded 107 persons.

THE HEADQUARTERS compound is heavily guarded and police suspected the grenades were set while Viet electricians were repairing the ceiling. Two of the electricians were arrested for questioning.

Several persons working in the reception room suffered minor cuts when the first grenade went off. Osmanski escaped injury. Ten minutes later the second grenade exploded above the hallway outside the general's office.

He ordered the compound cleared for a thorough inspection of the entire area by bomb squad experts.

Registration Drive Continues in Selma In Wake of Arrests

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — Riot-trained state troopers moved into Selma as a safeguard against violence as Negroes continued their voter registration campaign in Selma Tuesday. Thirty-four more Negroes were arrested.

The Negroes, sent to jail on charges of unlawful assembly, had arrived at the county courthouse after the allotted number of 100 prospective voters had been assigned places in line. OTHER NEGROES also sought to join the line but left when told that no more than 100 were permitted. The 34 who refused to move — including John Lewis, chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee — were arrested by city police. It was Lewis' 37th arrest since he became active in the civil rights struggle and his third time to be sent to jail in Selma in the past week. He was out on bond on the other arrests here.

Russian Fallout Called Accidental

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top national security officials regard a recent underground Russian nuclear test as, at most, a technical violation of the Limited Nuclear Test Ban Treaty, one of them disclosed Tuesday.

William C. Foster, director of the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, told the House Foreign Affairs Committee the consensus of the top security group was that the radioactive material released into the atmosphere appeared to be accidental.

"IT MAY have been a technical violation," Foster said, "but it does not, standing by itself, represent a threat to the security of the United States or a violation of the intent of the treaty. Nor does it mean that Russia has resumed the kind of tests banned by the treaty."

Foster said this represented not only his judgment, but the judgment of members of the "committee of principals," a high level group that advises the President on such matters.

Besides himself, Foster said the committee includes the Secretary of State, Secretary of Defense, the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, the head of the Central Intelligence Agency, the head of the Atomic Energy Commission, White House aide McGeorge Bundy, and Donald Hornig, scientific adviser to the President.

The treaty prohibits any nuclear explosion which releases radioactivity into the atmosphere that can be detected in another country.

Today's News Briefly

SEVEN TEENAGE BOYS, who have been riding high for the last 15 months on stolen gasoline, were under arrest Tuesday, in Keokuk. Sheriff Harold Delahoyde said the boys admitted stealing more than 300 gallons of gas from over 50 farm homes and business establishments in the Donnellson area.

He said the boys used a special tool to open locked storage tanks.

THE KEOKUK CITY COUNCIL opened bids Tuesday on the Keokuk Shopping Plaza, an urban renewal project in downtown Keokuk.

The bids included $432,427 from General Management Corp., of Des Moines, and $200,000 from Arthur Rubinoff of Chicago.

General Management said its plans include three department stores and 50 smaller shops.

U.S. DIST. JUDGE W. HAROLD COX said Tuesday in Meridian, Miss., that one of the 18 white men indicted for conspiracy in the slaying of three civil rights workers may enter a plea of guilty.

Cox said he understands James Edward Jordan, 38, will plead either guilty or no contest to the charge.

The judge's statement was made from the bench during a day-long hearing on 45 motions filed on behalf of 16 of the defendants.

A SHARPLY DIVIDED U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals ruled against a federal district judge Tuesday in an unusual dispute with the Justice Department over handling of a grand jury indictment.

By a 4-3 vote, the appeals court reversed Judge W. Harold Cox's contempt ruling against U.S. Atty. Robert E. Hauberg of Jackson, Miss.

Stevenson Appeals For U.N. Support

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — United Nations made the statement in a policy speech to the 115-nation General Assembly in which he appealed for support of charter Article 19 which says any member two years in arrears in dues shall lose its assembly votes.

HE DID NOT mention by name the Soviet Union, France or 11 other nations that far behind, mainly for peacekeeping assessments. But he said that to ignore the charter would be "a step in the dark down an unfamiliar path."

Stevenson was the last speaker in the assembly's general policy debate that has taken place against a background of prolonged private negotiations aimed at resolving the crisis over peacekeeping assessments and voting rights.

Alex Quaison-Sackey of Ghana, the assembly president, has said he intends to call for election of committee chairmen and vice presidents on Monday so that the assembly can go ahead with normal operating procedures.

A RECORDED vote could bring a showdown over application of Article 19. Various proposals have been considered for permitting the Soviet Union and other debtor nations to make financial contributions without jeopardizing their position that peacekeeping dues are illegal because they were approved by the assembly instead of the Security Council.

The Soviet Union has said it will make a substantial contribution, but not until the assembly ends its no-vote truce in effect since it opened on Dec. 1 and resumes normal procedures.

THIS HAS NOT been acceptable to the United States, which wants to know in advance how much the Soviet Union will pay. U.N. officials say it would have to pay $21.7 million to escape being two years in arrears, but that figure was understood to be subject to negotiation.

CHIEF DEPUTY U.S. Marshal H. Stanley Fountain also was on hand to make certain that sheriff's officers and Negroes complied with a federal court injunction guaranteeing prospective voters the right to seek registration un molested.

The injunction, issued by Dist. Judge Daniel H. Thomas in the wake of mass arrests by sheriff's deputies last week was directed against Clark and his men but it also prohibited the Negroes from unlawful assembly.

Lingo declined to say how many troopers came to Selma with him, but newsmen counted about 30 patrol cars at the army.

Thomas' restraining order required county authorities to issue numbered places in line to the first 100 prospective voters arriving at the courthouse each day. It provided that those still in line at the end of the day must be given priority when the registration board meets again.

Britons Plan Rites Worthy of Royalty

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill returned to Westminster Hall Tuesday night to lie in state at the citadel of Britain's freedom and ancient traditions.

The Archbishop of Canterbury, with a large cross hanging at the front of his black cassock, received the body at the hall. He had spoken to the nation on television an hour earlier, calling on Britons to "thank God again, for a man like this is God's gift to the world."

Churchill's body was brought from the London home at Hyde Park Gate, where he died Sunday, in a procession of eight cars.

The coffin, draped in a Union Jack, was carried in a light black hearse.

It was bitterly cold at the hall. Men in the crowd of 2,000 outside immediately took off their hats. Some of the women were weeping.

A CATAFALQUE draped in black velvet with braided silver edges stood ready under the timbered roof to receive the body of the old warrior, who died Sunday after a stroke.

Hundreds of thousands of Britons are expected to move through the hall in the next three days for a final look at the man who embodied the spirit of freedom.

Little men who watched Churchill pace the gutted streets of London in World War II will join kings, presidents and prime ministers in paying final respects. The queue is expected to start forming early Wednesday morning.

BRITAIN KNOWS how to honor her heroes and all the wealth of royal ritual, the stirring military tradition of centuries, was being unfolded for Churchill.

An early morning rehearsal of the slow — 65 paces to the minute — funeral cortege was being studied to bring arrangements to perfection for the final rites Saturday.

The death of Sir Winston was formally registered. The cause, as set down by his private secretary Anthony Montague-Brown, was cerebral thrombosis, cerebral arteriosclerosis and congestion of the lungs.

All over the world, government leaders and high dignitaries prepared to leave for Saturday's solemn ceremonies in London. President Charles de Gaulle of France, Chancellor Ludwig Erhard of West Germany and former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, who commanded the wartime Allied forces in Europe, already have accepted invitations.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON is expected if he gets a final ok from his doctors, who have been treating him for a cold.

From Moscow and Seoul, from Brussels and Bangkok, there will be mourners for Churchill.

Although it is not usual for royalty to attend the funerals of commoners, the royal family headed by Queen Elizabeth II will be among the 3,000 mourners in St. Paul's Cathedral Saturday.

With her will be Prince Philip, Queen Mother Elizabeth, Princess Margaret and the Earl of Snowdon.

ONE FAMILIAR figure from Churchill's war days may be absent, Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, 77, is aboard a ship on a

The mice are back in the news

THE CAT AND MOUSE game which has been going on locally for the past few months has been gaining wider attention lately.

Earlier this week The Des Moines Register carried an article describing how a student in married student housing with mouse problems took his problem right to the top by calling Pres. Bowen. He asked permission to keep a cat in the apartment in order to counteract the mousing influences there.

The article gave the impression that the student took his problem to the president without first seeking a solution through other means. It went on to describe how Bowen often handles individual student problems.

The fact is that the issue of pets in University housing has been knocking around ever since this same student brought it up at a Student Senate housing investigation meeting.

Anyway, the Register article must have given some people the impression that Pres. Bowen spends most of his time running after mice and handling other minor problems.

State Rep. Conrad Ossian (R-Red Oak) was moved by the article to issue a statement regarding the incident.

"We cannot have mice interfering with the flow of intellectual attainment even if we have to use Pres. Bowen as a stand-in for a cat," the statement read sarcastically.

"Time was when self-reliant Iowans took care of their own mice problems. It appears to have become the fashion to refer such crises to a university president drawing $30,000 a year."

The statement went on to say that Ossian thinks most University students take care of their own mice problems.

We can assure the representative this is indeed true. As a matter of fact, many students do not even care about the mice. They are too busy worrying about the cockroaches and bats. Of course these students generally live in the "inner core" of Iowa City housing and have no recourse to Pres. Bowen or anyone in the University about their housing conditions.

The matter of mice in one University apartment is a minor matter. Calling Pres. Bowen to complain about it is like calling your congressman when the postman comes late.

But, on the other hand, Pres. Bowen is interested in students and their problems. When a single incident such as this is called to his attention, it helps to keep the married housing authorities on their toes. Just as when a congressman gets that complaint about the mail, the postal authorities will probably hear of it.

Whatever the merits of the whole mouse case, however, we are glad to note that the article in the Register gained such immediate attention from an interested legislator. We hope Mr. Ossian and other lawmakers will give other more important needs of the University as close a look as the mouse problem has received.

Interested legislators are an asset any state university is happy to have.

The main issue

THE MEETING OF President de Gaulle and Chancellor Erhard at Rembouillet was apparently a much friendlier and easier affair than had seemed likely. That, presumably, was due to the avoidance by both parties of any substantial discussion on West Germany's eventual access to nuclear weapons.

Yet the issue which Gen. de Gaulle and Dr. Erhard did not force - whether and how West Germany should have access to nuclear weapons - is at the heart of the malaise which besets the whole Western alliance. Until it is satisfactorily settled, there can be no effective refurbishing of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to bring it abreast of the times.

Teachers conspire

By ART BUCHWALD

WASHINGTON — There is a ruthless conspiracy going on in the United States among our grade and high school teachers and someone must put a stop to it.

Apparently, one of the major homework assignments these days is to have pupils write to someone in a profession and ask him a few hundred questions, such as how he got started, why he chose his work, how much he makes, and what course of study would he recommend to someone wanting to pursue the same work.

I receive on the average 10 letters a week from students who have been assigned to interview me by mail. I would probably ignore the letters altogether, except that each student usually points out at the bottom of the letter that if I don't answer his letter he'll flunk the course. Most students give me until Thursday to reply, but some are more pressed and need it on Wednesday.

One time an entire class (40 students) wrote to tell me they had been assigned to find out how I remain fair in my columns. I wrote back that I don't try to remain fair in my columns. The answer was too brief and the teacher gave the class another theme, which was, "Could you please let me know in about 500 words where you get the ideas for your columns?"

THE POLITICAL science teacher had his students ask, "Would you explain the difference between the Federal and state court systems?" And a civics teacher suggested this class write to me and find out what I thought about recognition of Red China.

It takes an average of 15 minutes to answer one of these letters, and since I don't have time to do my own kids' homework, I don't see why I should do the homework of complete strangers.

Therefore, I'm announcing as of today that any teacher who assigns her pupils to write to me as a research project will receive a questionnaire in return.

These are the questions the teacher will be required to answer:

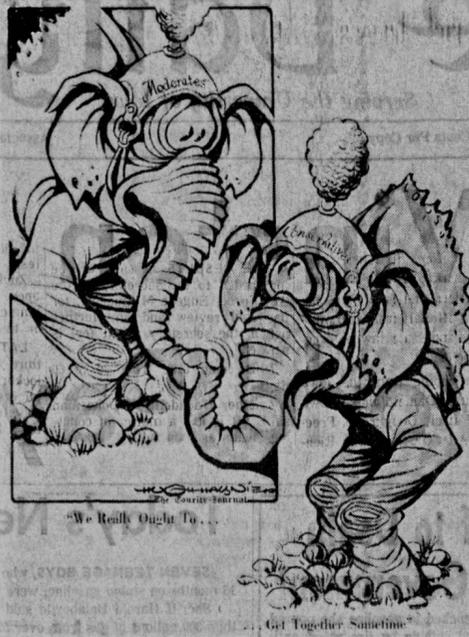

1. How did you decide to go into the teaching profession?
2. Do you like to teach boys or girls better? Why?
3. Could you send me some anecdotes about your favorite pupil?
4. Please tell me the titles and authors of the books that have influenced you as a teacher.
5. Do you try to be fair in your classes? How?
6. Does anyone get mad at anything you say? Please give an illustration.
7. How do you come up with new ideas for your homework assignments every day?
8. What do you think about the new phases of education?
9. What do you think of our position in Viet Nam? The Congo? Cuba?
10. What subjects should someone take if he wants to become a teacher?
11. How much money do you make?
12. Please let me have this questionnaire in the only way to make teachers stop assigning their students this type of homework.

FROM NOW on, whenever I get one of those pleading letters from a student - out goes the questionnaire.

If the teacher refuses to answer the questions or flunks the student, I'll list her in my column as a link teacher - which, as every student knows, is the worst kind.

I know these are harsh measures. After all, the teachers started it, and they have no one to blame but themselves.

Medicare proposal: its pros and cons

By SHARON BAKER
Staff Writer

President Johnson has outlined his "great society" in glowing terms. During his first few months in office he worked getting through Congress his predecessor's program for the new frontier. He succeeded in most respects, but one major aspect of J. F. Kennedy's plan was defeated. That aspect is called the King-Anderson Bill by Congress and Medicare by almost everyone else.

Now Medicare has been included in the design of the "great society." A predominantly Democratic Congress is expected to pass it in one form or another with a minimum amount of static.

Opponents of Medicare have said that the present Kerr-Mills Act will provide enough aid for those who cannot afford medical insurance. President Johnson countered this argument in a recent speech. He said that the Kerr-Mills Act has a needs test to which older citizens who have led useful and productive lives should not be subjected.

OTHER OPPONENTS contend that Medicare will cost at least three times as much as the Administration's official estimate. They cite England's bill for her first year of socialized medicine - a bill which was a great deal larger than it was supposed to be.

The Johnson Administration still insists that Social Security taxes will go up only one fourth of one per cent on the first $5,200, and that this will finance most of Medicare.

Opponents of the King-Anderson Bill seem to be fighting a losing battle. Medicare, according to most observers is on the way in.

What is coming, is another matter. The bill expected to pass this year will probably greatly resemble the 1964 model.

Last year's plan was designed to provide hospital care for those 65 and over. It would not cover doctor's or surgeon's bills, or pay for any drugs not dispensed by the hospital during the patient's stay.

A patient, under this plan, would be allowed a maximum of 180 days in a semi-private hospital room if he paid $10 a day for the first 90 days - the minimum payment was to be $20. After hospitalization, he could go to a nursing home affiliated with the hospital and spend another 90 days there. He could also have a nurse or intern come to his home to give treatment there 240 times a year.

THE NEW bill is expected to be the same song, second verse, and this version is slated to be a hit.

The Kerr-Mills Act, which is in operation in Iowa, is not going to be outmoded, however. It is expected to take over where the Medicare program leaves off, possibly paying doctor's or surgeon's bills. It still requires proof of need.

It must be embarrassing for a once self-supporting citizen to admit that he must depend upon public charity - taxpayers' money - to pay his hospital bills. We can't help but wish, though, that there were some way to save both face and money, still helping only those who need help.

Letters to the Editor—

MSH opinions expressed

To the Editor:

For sometime I have been tempted to join the ranks of the letter writers, but for lack of time have neglected to do so. I would like to express my opinions on some of the recent issues.

The University is justified in raising the rent. The cost of maintaining the apartment's and surrounding grounds, utilities, future building, tuition for children attending Iowa City's public schools, etc., surely warrant an increase.

If that rule had been in effect, we would have been ineligible for University housing and unable to afford the cost of securing an education.

I believe the barracks have many advantages over Hawkeye Apartments, a few of which include location, cost, and privacy. This type of housing provides an environment for raising our children which is more like that of non-student families.

In future building, housing similar to the barracks with enlarged kitchens and the opportunity to choose units having one, two, or three bedrooms should be included.

The mouse problem is no excuse for having pets in MSH. We caught six mice in one day this fall with the aid of two mouse traps (far cheaper and easier than feeding and cleaning up after a cat or snake).

Admittedly that is a lot of mice to catch in one day, but I must point out that these six are the only ones we have encountered in our two and one-half years here and many of Iowa City's finest homes are invaded by the little pests.

Lastly, three cheers for Marie Sorenson whose letter appeared Jan. 22. I agree wholeheartedly with her and congratulate her for taking the time to "give credit where credit is due."

Book on Stalin purge

"His disclosures of the tortures inflicted on him during interrogations and in prison camps, and of the disorganized panic of the first months of the war, rank high in the literature of Stalinist atrocities."

"An extraordinary glimpse into the purge machinery. . . This is an outstanding book." Thus the British press greeted Gen. A. V. Gorbatov's autobiography, "Years Off My Life" (Norton, $3.95 - Feb. 26).

When part of the book was published in Russia the previous year, however, it had a far more sensational reception; for here, for the first time, at least part of the real story of the Stalin purge carried out among thousands of officers in the Red Army is told in detail.

In 1929, Aleksandr Vasilevich Gorbatov was born into a poor peasant family in a village not far from Moscow. In his autobiography, General Gorbatov describes his early years as a peasant boy, who braved the hobbomblins of Midsummer's Night to watch a fern flower and so find a crack of gold, and who, as a youth, worked for four years with no pay to learn the trade of shoe dealer and become an independent city man.

He later rose to be an officer in the Red Army, was considered to be a potential threat to the Communist party, and was tortured, imprisoned and condemned to 15 years hard labor in Siberia for a crime he had not committed.

But Gen. Gorbatov is remembered in Russia as the man who was freed from prison camp in 1943 and given command of the Soviet Third Army in the advance on Berlin, where he ruled as Soviet Commandant.

Peter Fleming, reviewing "Years Off My Life" for the London Sunday Times, said "Gen. Gorbatov emerges as a brave, honest, enduring man, and the story of his life, simply told and admirably translated, is well worth reading."

Or so they say

When the office efficiency expert died, six of his employees were asked to serve as pallbearers. That night, one dreamed that as they carried the casket down the aisle, the deceased suddenly sat up. When the man related his dream to the others, one asked: "Did he say anything?"

"He sure did!" exclaimed the dreamer. "He said that if we'd put rollers on the casket, he could have fired five men."

Foreigner praises barracks

To the Editor:

Living in the barracks of married student housing is an unusual experience for many foreigners. Since all are students (with few exceptions), the barracks inhabitants make a community within itself with great understanding for each other and freedom from "xenophobia."

The children enjoy the open play ground, free mixing; and in no time they get adjusted to the new conditions. For the parents, the strange customs, unfamiliar environment, and numerous unfamiliar appliances become easy to deal with when the neighbors help you out.

The services of the married student housing office are prompt, courteous, and excellent. With the money paid, what more can be expected? It is a wonderful community which leaves a deep impression in the mind of students who bear it as a happy memory of the "campus."

Taxes and churches . . .

By STAN ROWE
Staff Writer

Not long ago a Catholic priest wrote that, "The Catholic Church must be the biggest corporation in the United States," with a branch office in nearly every neighborhood. "Our assets and real estate holdings must exceed those of Standard Oil, A.T.&T., and U.S. Steel combined."

As most people realize, non-profit religious organizations receive special tax exemptions. However, the full scope of the tax exemptions and the effects they have often fail to come to public attention.

Several years ago Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, former president of the National Council of Churches, made the following statement: "In view of their favored tax positions, with reasonably prudent management America's churches ought to be able to control the whole economy of the nation within the predictable future."

Church tax exemption presents certain problems that we should try to solve in the near future.

THE CHURCH gets different types of tax exemptions. There is some diversity in the tax exemption of religious organizations because of the differences of tax laws and of administrative rulings.

However some points are clear. They pay no federal income taxes. This includes any profits they derive from unrelated business enterprises. The 52 per cent corporate income tax is not paid by churches.

Churches pay no taxes on real property used for church purposes (which in some states are generously construed).

Estate and gift taxes are not levied on churches. Churches pay no inheritance tax (churches do not die). Churches are definitely in a favored tax position.

TO THINK that the churches don't make use of their favored tax position is a mistake. Churches have gone into many commercial areas which seem far removed from the type of activity that a religious body is associated with.

For example: A Claremont, N.H., Congregational church operates a laundry. A Methodist church in Chicago owns a $6 million building which not only houses religious agencies but also rents commercial office space.

The Roman Catholic Jesuit order, through Loyola University in New Orleans, owns and operates radio and television stations which sell advertising time in competition with other local stations.

THE PROBLEMS raised are many. Politically, there is the problem of separation of church and state. Religious leaders have the problem of what these practices do for the church's image.

A discussion on the tax exempt policy for churches often ends up with an argument on the pros and

Johnson Leaves Hospital — London Trip Still Indefinite

WASHINGTON (AP) — Still suffering from a slight cough, President Johnson left his hospital sickbed a day early Tuesday and returned to the White House living quarters. He will not decide until today whether to fly to London to join other world leaders at Saturday's funeral services for Sir Winston Churchill.

The President's decision may depend on the outcome of an examination by Dr. W. J. Gould, New York throat specialist.

GOULD FLEW to Johnson's bedside Saturday after the President was taken to Bethesda Naval Hospital suffering from a feverish cold, with chest pains and sore throat.

It cost President Johnson $1.09 a day for his stay in Bethesda Naval Hospital. That is the going rate for hospital officials said. He checked in as commander-in-chief.

For Mrs. Johnson it was more expensive — $1.75 a day. Presidential press secretary George Reedy told newsmen that Johnson left the hospital with the full consent of his physicians, although he had said earlier they wanted him to remain there for another day of rest.

Discussion Classes Offered for UAW Members, Officers

A series of sessions for members and officers of the United Auto Workers (UAW) is being held in Cedar Rapids until Feb. 24.

The course, "Union Leader and Grievance Handling" is being sponsored by the Cedar Rapids area UAW locals and the U of I Bureau of Labor and Management. All classes are held at 7 p.m. Wednesdays in the YMCA. The lecturers are from the University.

Topics for the remaining discussions are: How to Process a Grievance (Jan. 27), Grievance Handling at the Arbitration Step (Feb. 3), Qualities of Leadership (Feb. 10), Leadership in Action (Feb. 17), and Grievance Handling and Leadership (Feb. 24).

FORD WOULDN'T FLY—

Although his Ford Tri-motor proved to be one of the safest airplanes developed for commercial aviation and contributed greatly to public confidence in air travel, Henry Ford refused to go aloft in it.

Reedy said the President "still has a slight cough, but it's very slight." He said Johnson's temperature has been normal since Monday morning, his chest is clear, and in general he is "in very good shape."

THE PRESIDENT is still receiving medication in the form of antibiotic, cough medicine and a decongestant drug.

Reedy said that from the doctors' viewpoint "there is still the question of whether his recovery and convalescence has progressed to the point where they can advise him properly" on whether to fly to the Churchill rites.

The press aide said Johnson kept to the White House living quarters on his return from the hospital, had no visitors except members of his staff, and plans no appointments for Wednesday.

Johnson smiled and winked when Reedy asked how he felt, but said nothing as he entered the White House.

Nixon Predicts Gloomy Future For Americans in Viet Nam

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon said Tuesday, "We're losing the war in Viet Nam and we will be thrown out of the country in a matter of months, certainly within a year."

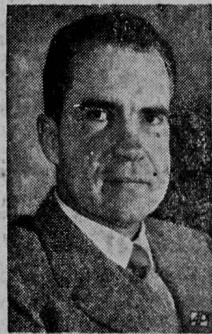

He said a decision concerning Viet Nam is the most important question facing President Johnson and the people of the United States. Nixon proposed that the United States "quarantine the war in war is far less than the risk of losing it," he said, adding that all of Southeast Asia is at stake.

Nixon said that, with the Soviet Union and Red China having their differences, this is "the best time to call the hand of China."

China, he said, would be "a fourth-rate military power without the support of the Soviet Union, which could make it very formidable."

Nixon told the audience that Communist supplies entering South Viet Nam from North Viet Nam and Laos would be subject to a quarantine such as he advocated.

South Viet Nam and use American air power and sea power to cut off supply lines."

The 1960 Republican Presidential candidate, addressing 1,200 persons at a luncheon of the Sales Executive Club, described his proposal as "a very risky one," but said he did not believe Red China would enter the conflict.

Nixon said it would not be necessary to use atomic weapons or American troops except those on air and sea duty.

Old Agent Guards VIPs

LONDON (AP) — A Welshman with the appearance and mannerisms of a schoolmaster takes the task of guarding crowned heads and world statesmen at the state funeral Saturday of Sir Winston Churchill.

He is Commander Evan Jones, 60, chief of Scotland Yard's special branch. A quiet man, he went confidently about his work. He knows how to guard VIPs — he's done it before.

But never has Jones had such a conglomeration of world leaders to look after.

HIS TASK is massive — protecting the lives of French President Charles de Gaulle, German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard, possibly President Johnson, some kings, prime ministers and assorted VIPs who will attend Churchill's funeral.

One of his big headaches is coordinating plans with American, French, German and Soviet security men who already have begun arriving.

But Jones' 300 special branch men — the only British policemen regularly armed — will be the spearhead of the security setup.

THEY ALREADY have been alerted to watch out for foreign political agitators who might try to get into the country and cause trouble. Extra watch will be kept at all air and sea ports for suspects.

He first joined London's metropolitan police force in 1926 and pounded the beat with other Bobbies.

JONES TOOK over as head of the special branch in 1958. The job gives him direct contact with the prime minister, foreign secretary, home secretary and service chiefs.

Bills Passed By Committees In Legislature

DES MOINES (AP) — A bill to add 100 patrolmen to the State Highway Patrol was recommended for passage by the House Governmental Affairs Committee Tuesday.

The committee sent the bill to the House calendar on a 28-1 vote. The committee also recommended for passage a bill which would make the secretary of agriculture appointive by the governor after 1970, instead of elective.

THE COMMITTEE recommended that the bill be amended to make it effective immediately upon publication so that the Safety Department will not have to wait until July to start recruiting the new patrolmen.

The vote on making the secretary of agriculture appointive instead of elective was 19-8.

The Governmental Affairs Committee voted 13-1 to recommend passage of a proposed constitutional amendment changing terms of county attorneys from two years to four years.

The Senate Judiciary Committee recommended passage of a massive bill to thoroughly revise the law on nonprofit corporations.

SENATE

Received a proposed constitutional amendment for legislative reapportionment calling for 35 senators, instead of the present 59, and 70 House members, instead of the present 124, with reapportionment to be accomplished every 10 years essentially on a population basis.

HOUSE

Received 24 bills, including a series of measures to extend the closing hours of liquor establishments to 2 a.m. on weekdays, and 1 a.m. on Sunday, permit cities and towns to authorize sale of liquor between 1 p.m. and midnight on Sunday.

Law Officers Attend Iowa Police School

More than 80 Iowa law enforcement officers are attending the annual five-day Police Traffic School this week at U of I.

Sponsored by the University Bureau of Police Science, the Traffic School will offer the latest information on traffic problems, enforcement practices and safety procedures to law officials from community, county and state law enforcement agencies.

Those attending from the Iowa City area are: Daniel Jahnke, Iowa Highway Patrol; Douglas W. Freeman, Craig D. O'Connor and Richard R. Weber, patrolmen; Harold Breneman and Billie S. Mitchell, Campus Police.

Correction

The Daily Iowan incorrectly stated in the Tuesday edition that Bill Parisi, A3, Chicago Heights, Ill., is chairman of the Central Party Committee (CPC). Gerry Meester, A3, Mason City, is president of the organization. Parisi is vice president.

Silence Maintained By Dismissed Cadets

AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (AP) — A tight gag, with threat of a court martial or more severe penalty, has been clamped on resigning cadets in the U.S. Air Force Academy cheating scandal, which may not be cleaned up for weeks.

The academy superintendent, Maj. Gen. Robert H. Warren, in announcing six more withdrawals of the more than 100 cadets involved, said the investigation by a special officers' panel may extend to Feb. 10.

THE RESULTS, he said, will be forwarded to the secretary of the Air Force, Eugene M. Zuckert, for personal review and any further action the secretary might feel is needed.

This could take from 30 to 60 days.

Another academy spokesman said, "It is just a matter of counting heads as they fall."

During a 30-to-60-day period the cadet under investigation, although he may have quit the academy, remains a member of the Air Force.

HE HAS BEEN warned that if he discusses the case, even with his parents, he is subject to having his discharge reviewed and downgraded, with a court martial and prison sentence possible.

THIRTY FOOTBALL players, the cream of the Falcon squad which had a 4-5-1 record last fall, are reported in the large group implicated in an "exams-for-sale" racket that operated on the base before the pre-Christmas semester final tests.

Great Quarterback Of Famed Notre Dame Horsemen Dies at 63

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Harry Stuhldreher, immortalized in football annals as one of the Four Horsemen of Notre Dame, died Tuesday at the age of 63.

Death came in Pittsburgh's West Penn Hospital, where Stuhldreher was admitted Dec. 29 and underwent surgery Jan. 14. The nature of the illness was not disclosed.

STUHLDRER was quarterback of the fabled backfield that led the Notre Dame teams of 1922-24 to a 26-2-1 over-all record that included the 1924 national championship and a 27-10 Rose Bowl victory over Stanford Jan. 1, 1925.

Playing behind short, stocky Stuhldreher, equally effective as a signal caller and blocker, were Elmer Layden, Don Miller and Jim Crowley. He was the first of the Four Horsemen.

Layden, 61, an executive of a Chicago railway equipment firm, broke into tears when informed of Stuhldreher's death.

"We lost a great one," he said. "The little guy went out blocking, doing his job as he always did."

FUNERAL SERVICES will be held Saturday in Pittsburgh, where Stuhldreher lived. He is survived by his widow, Mary; four sons, Harry Jr. of Detroit, Michael of Pittsburgh, John of Washington and Peter of New York; and four grandchildren.

Stuhldreher retired from football in 1960 after spending 33 years in the sport as player, coach and executive. He joined U.S. Steel Corp. shortly after and was assistant to a vice president at the time of death.

He was born in Massillon, Ohio, and played high school football there in 1917-19, graduating in 1920. He was described as a good, not outstanding player.

He then moved to Kiski Preparatory School in Saltsburg, Pa., and on to Notre Dame, where he played on the varsity in 1922-23-24.

IT WAS SPORTS writer Grantland Rice who dubbed Knute Rockne's great backfield the Four Horsemen.

Stuhldreher was its only member named to Walter Camp's All-American team.

Following graduation, Stuhldreher went to Villanova and was head football coach for 11 years. He took over as athletic director and head coach at the University of Wisconsin in 1936, piloting the Badgers for 13 years.

Just two weeks ago in Chicago the American Football Coaches Association awarded Stuhldreher the Stagg Award for 1965 in recognition of his contributions to football. He was a member of the National Football Hall of Fame and served as president of the American Football Coaches Association.

BY MODERN standards the Four Horsemen — a biblical allusion to the Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse, war, famine, pestilence and death, were magicians. They weighed only 160 pounds or so but averaged 10.4 seconds in running 100 yards in full uniform.

Three linemen of the Four Horsemen teams preceded Stuhldreher in death. Guards Noble Kizer and Dr. John Weible died in the 1920's. End Ed Hunsinger died several years ago.

Surviving from those teams besides Layden are tackles Rip Miller, now assistant athletic director at Navy, and Joe Bach, a Pennsylvania state road commissioner; end Chuck Collins, a New Jersey attorney; center Adam Walsh, a U.S. marshal in Portland, Maine; and halfbacks Crowley and Miller.

Pro Football Receipts Disclosed

NEW YORK (AP) — Each member of the winning Cleveland Browns will receive $8,052.82 and each of the losing Baltimore Colts will get a check for $5,571.40, both all-time records, from the receipts of the Dec. 27 championship game of the National Football League.

Pete Rozelle, NFL commissioner, mailed the checks Monday after announcing financial details of the game played before 79,544 fans at Cleveland Stadium, Cleveland upset Baltimore 27-0.

With the huge stadium on the lakefront it had been a foregone conclusion that the shares would set records. The old marks had been set in Chicago's Wrigley Field where 45,801 saw the 1963 game. Each winning Chicago Bear received $5,899.77 and each losing New York Giant $4,218.15.

Rozelle announced the Browns had sliced up 50 full shares and the Colts 48 shares.

The St. Louis Cardinals, who finished second to Cleveland in the Eastern Conference, got $1,020.40 each.

Philadelphia and Washington tied for third in the East and divided the $37,500 third-place money. Each of 44 Eagles got $426.13 and each of 51 Redskins $367.64.

In the American Football League, each member of the winning Buffalo Bills got $2,668 and each of the losing San Diego Chargers $1,738.

Michigan Stops MSU To Remain Unbeaten in Big 10

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan staved off an inspired Michigan State and scored a 103-98 overtime Big Ten basketball victory Tuesday night to remain unbeaten in league play.

The score was tied 88-88 at the end of regulation play when John Schick scored for Michigan State with 14 seconds remaining.

Michigan's Cazzie Russell and Michigan State's Bill Curtis hooked up in a scoring duel while pacing their teams. Russell scored 40 points, Curtis 36.

The Wolverines were never behind in the overtime, but MSU tied the score twice.

A jump shot by George Pomey with 3:52 put the second-ranked Wolverines ahead to stay.

Michigan State, playing control ball in the first half and hitting 15 of 16 from the free throw line, took a 43-33 halftime lead.

Blackburn Accepts Job As Virginia Head Coach

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) — George Blackburn, who quit football five years ago for a fling at the business world, was appointed Tuesday as the new head coach at the University of Virginia.

"I was happy in the business world," said Blackburn, a former head coach at Miami of Ohio and Cincinnati, "but I had coached for 23 years and I found it was still my first love. I discovered there was no use fooling myself — I like to work with young men in football."

THE 51-YEAR-OLD Blackburn actually came back to his "first love" last fall as offensive backfield coach at Virginia under Bill Elias. Elias was named Jan. 18 to the Navy coaching job.

Blackburn told a morning news conference that Ned McLeod, a former Virginia head coach who also joined the Cavaliers' staff a year ago as an assistant, would remain. He said word on any further staff members would have to await a conference with them.

"Our prime objective will be to improve our position in the Atlantic Coast Conference," Blackburn said.

His personal goal, he said, is to win the ACC championship "one of these days."

BLACKBURN inherits a promising young team that ranked second in the conference in total offense last fall with an average of more than 350 yards per game, but posted only a 5-5 record because of a so-so defense.

NOTTINGHAM, England (AP) — Jimmy Gauld, one of 10 professional soccer players charged with throwing games in order to win bets, was sentenced to four years in jail Tuesday and ordered to pay $14,000 legal costs in Britain's biggest trial involving soccer fixes.

Nine other players also were given jail terms. Jack Fountain and Brian Phillips were sent to jail for 15 months. Richard Beattie for nine months and Kenneth Thomson, Ron Howells and Samuel Chapman for six months.

Tony Kay and Peter Swan, both English international players, and David Bronco Layne drew four-month jail terms.

Kay, Swan and Howells were ordered to pay $280 each toward the trial costs, and Fountain $146.

The trial of the players came after revelations in a London Sunday newspaper, The People. Arthur James, the prosecutive attorney, said that Gauld was the central

ONCE MORE UNTO THE BREACH

Today I begin my eleventh year of writing this column in your campus newspaper.

I wasn't sure I'd be coming back this year. After a decade of doing this column, I had retreated to my country seat, tired but happy, to enjoy a nice long rest. But last night as I sat on my verandah, peaceful and serene, humming the largo from A Long Day's Night and worming my dog, a stranger suddenly appeared before me.

He was a tall, clean-limbed man, crinkly-eyed and crooked-grinned, stalwart and virile. "How do you do," he said. "My name is Stalwart Virile and I am with the Personna Stainless Steel Razor Blade people."

"Enchanted," I said. "Take off your homburg and sit down."

"I clasped my hands sharply. "Norman!" I called. "Another chair for Mr. Virile!"

Obediently my dog trotted away and returned directly with a fanback chair of Malayan rattan. He is the smartest dog in our block.

"I suppose you're wondering why I am here," said Mr. Virile, seating himself.

"Well, sir," I replied, my old eyes twinkling roguishly, "I'll wager you didn't come to read my nieter."

You can imagine how we howled at that one!

"That's a doozy!" cried Mr. Virile, finally catching his breath. "I must remember to tell it to Alice when I get home."

"Your wife?" I said.

"My father," he said.

"Oh," I said.

"But enough of wit and humor," he said. "Let us get down to business. How would you like to write a campus column for Personna Stainless Steel Razor Blades?"

"For money?" I said.

"Yes," he said.

"My hand, sir," I said and clasped his. Warmly he returned the pressure, and soft smiles played upon our lips, and our eyes were moist with the hint of tears, and we were silent, not trusting ourselves to speak.

"What will you write about in your campus column?" asked Mr. Virile when he was able to talk again.

"I will take up the burning issues that vex the American undergraduate!" I cried, bounding to my feet. "I will explore, without fear or favor, such explosive questions as 'Are roommates sanitary?' and 'Should proctors be given a saliva test?' and 'Should capital punishment for pledges be abolished?' and 'Can a student of 19 find happiness with an economics professor of 80?'"

"And will you also say a pleasant word from time to time about Personna Stainless Steel Razor Blades?" asked Mr. Virile.

"Sir," I said simply, "what other kind of word except pleasant could I possibly say about Personna Blades, which give me more luxury shaves than Beep-Beep or any other blade I might name?"

"Another of my products is Burma Shave," said Mr. Virile. "Can you find it in your heart to mention Burma Shave occasionally?"

"But of course!" I declared. "For is not Burma Shave the whisker-wiltinging lather in the land?"

"Yes," he admitted.

And then he shook my hand again and smiled bravely and was gone—a tall silhouette moving erectly into the setting sun.

"Farewell, good tonsoralist!" I cried after him. "Aloha!"

And turned with a will to my typewriter.

64 Locations to Receive Heavyweight TV Bout

NEW YORK (AP) — The heavyweight fight between former world champion Floyd Patterson and Canada's George Chuvalo will be carried by theater television at 64 locations in 44 cities in the United States and 10 in Canada, it was announced Tuesday.

In addition, the Feb. 1 bout will be carried on subscription television in Toronto and Hartford, Conn.

The fight will be seen at three locations each in Chicago, Los Angeles and Washington, D.C., and two each in Boston, Detroit and San Francisco. In all, about 300,000 seats will be available for theater-TV.

Soccer Player Receives 4-Year Jail Sentence

NOTTINGHAM, England (AP) — Jimmy Gauld, one of 10 professional soccer players charged with throwing games in order to win bets, was sentenced to four years in jail Tuesday and ordered to pay $14,000 legal costs in Britain's biggest trial involving soccer fixes.

Nine other players also were given jail terms. Jack Fountain and Brian Phillips were sent to jail for 15 months. Richard Beattie for nine months and Kenneth Thomson, Ron Howells and Samuel Chapman for six months.

Tony Kay and Peter Swan, both English international players, and David Bronco Layne drew four-month jail terms.

Kay, Swan and Howells were ordered to pay $280 each toward the trial costs, and Fountain $146.

The trial of the players came after revelations in a London Sunday newspaper, The People. Arthur James, the prosecutive attorney, said that Gauld was the central

Texas Sign 1-Year Pact with Giants

HOUSTON (AP) — Ernie Koy Jr., one of the stars as Texas upset undefeated Alabama in the Orange Bowl, signed a one-year football contract Tuesday with the New York Giants.

The 220-pound offensive halfback would not discuss terms of the contract but said similar terms had been offered by the Houston Oilers of the rival American Football League.

"It was a choice between two leagues instead of a choice between two teams," Koy told a news conference.

Ford Motor Company is:

variety

It's been written that "variety is the spice of life." But at many companies it's difficult to obtain a wide range of work experiences. A college graduate can join a company, get locked into one type of activity and stay there and stay there and stay there. That's not the way we do it at Ford Motor Company where our young men may work in several areas to develop their full capabilities. We believe that a thorough grounding in many phases of our business is one of the best ways to cultivate management talent. An example: Bob Anderson of our finance staff.

Since Bob came to us in July, 1963, he's been actively involved in five important areas of the Company. As a member of our finance staff, he has reviewed budget and cost programs of a division marketing cars, another manufacturing tractors and subsidiaries engaged in automobile financing and insurance. In addition, Bob was selected to assist in the 1964 national labor-management negotiations. His present assignment is as a staff budget analyst for product engineering and styling. Because of experiences like these, Bob will be able to channel his career toward the activity that interests him most.

As a large automobile concern, Ford Motor Company needs people who can handle a wide variety of assignments. Our college graduates come to us with all types of educational backgrounds. And many of them move into management positions unrelated to their degrees. If a fast-moving career appeals to you, see our representative when he visits your campus. He may have the spice for your future.

Bill Curtails Surplus Food For the UAR

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson Administration lost its first test of the year in Congress Tuesday when the House added an anti-Nasser amendment to an emergency farm appropriation bill.

The vote was 204 to 177. The amendment, which would curtail surplus food sales to the United Arab Republic headed by President Gamal Abdel Nasser, was solidly backed by Republicans and opposed by the Democratic leadership.

Just before the vote, speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts pleaded with the House to reject the amendment.

"The people had confidence in Lyndon Johnson last November and we should have confidence in him today," he said. "This would tie his hands."

The amendment was proposed by Rep. Robert H. Michel (R-Ill.). On the vote, it received support from many Southern Democrats and from a number of Democrats from Northern urban areas having large Jewish populations.

The party division on the vote was 76 Democrats and 128 Republicans for the amendment; 177 Democrats opposed.

Nasser has opposed U.S. foreign policy although his nation has been receiving American aid, including surplus food.

Michel said Nasser has been diverting U.S. aid funds, and using them to interfere in the affairs of other nations contrary to U.S. foreign policy.

Stratton Denies Improper Receipts

CHICAGO (AP) — Former Gov. William G. Stratton said in a statement read to a jury Tuesday he never received "under the table" profits from any special interest groups.

"I think this should be on the record," the former governor, on trial on income tax evasion charges, told agents who interviewed him in 1961.

"I receive no special interest contributions or anything of that kind in any large sum between elections," he added. He said there were small contributions but no large ones.

Asked whether he had bought any costly furs or jewels for his wife, he said he could not recall, then said that Paul Serrano, whom Stratton had named state racing commissioner, had given Mrs. Stratton a mink stole.

Batik Will Be Displayed In Capital's Art Center

A demonstration of the traditional eastern art of Batik, in its modern use, has been rescheduled for presentation to the public in the Des Moines Art Center auditorium Saturday, at 3 p.m. Conducting the batik demonstration will be an expert in the technique, Bihari Lal Barbhaya of Baroda, India, who is presently at Iowa State University in Ames.

A faculty member of Baroda University, Barbhaya is in Iowa this year under a Ford Foundation grant. The demonstration was originally set for Jan. 23, but was postponed because of severe ice conditions.

The demonstration is free to the public.

Gen. McConnell OK'd As AF Chief of Staff

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Tuesday confirmed President Johnson's nomination of Gen. John F. McConnell to be Air Force chief of staff for a two-year term beginning Feb. 1.

The Senate also approved placing Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, whom McConnell will succeed, on the retirement list with the rank of full general.

PROFESSOR SPEAKS
AURORA, Ill. — Education of youth on aging — beginning perhaps as early as the first year of school — was encouraged here Monday evening by H. Lee Jacobs, assistant professor of gerontology.

Speaking at the 49th annual meeting of the Family Service Association of Aurora, Dr. Jacobs said that "a brave new climate of opinion about growing old is desperately needed in this country."

"This is why I advocate that education for aging should be initiated as early as possible, and certainly no later than adolescence. Only in this way will the hurdle of the generations be most completely surmounted," Jacobs said.

Barbershop Quartets To Perform

The second annual Parade of Barbershop Quartets is scheduled to take place at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at City High Auditorium.

The program will be sponsored by the Old Capitol Chorus, the local chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Enjoyment of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America, Inc. (SPEBSQSA).

Among the groups scheduled to perform are: the Hawkeye Four of Des Moines; the Vigorones, Buttons and Beans and the Sweet Adeline Quartet, all from Cedar Rapids; the Vi-Counts of Rock Island, Ill.; and the Herky Tones, the Knights Owls and the River Kings, all of Iowa City.

Businessman Finds What's in a Name

New business establishments are faced with a variety of problems, not the least of which is selecting a distinctive operating title.

Iowa Citian Thomas Haynes, 24, recently met the problem head on when he purchased the old Empire Oil Station on West Burlington Street. Reasoning that the island station house, easily the smallest in the area, made him the owner of Iowa City's smallest service station, he decided to name it "T. K. Service" after Iowa City's littlest Haynes, Thomas Karns Haynes, his two-month old son.

The elder Haynes, a native of New York City, arrived in Iowa City last October with his wife, Karen. He began operation of the station last week.

The Haynes's are settled at 621 N. Dubuque St.

Fourteen Iowans To Receive Practical Nurse Certificates

Fourteen Iowa students who are completing the practical nurse training program at The U of I will receive graduation certificates and school pins at commencement exercises at 7:30 p.m. Friday in Shambaugh Auditorium.

Bernice Kroeger, 1103 Finkbine Park, will be among those graduating.

Etta T. Rasmussen, professor of nursing, will give the address. Laura C. Dustan, dean of the College of Nursing, will greet the graduates.

Presenting the class their certificates of graduation will be Gloria S. Bulechek, acting chairman of the Practical Nurse Education Program in the College of Nursing. Dean Dustan will present the certificates, and Kay Tener, instructor in practical nursing, will present school pins.

Both the invocation and benediction will be given by David Belgum, professor of religion.

Civil Engineering Illinois Professor Joins Staff Here

Assistant Prof. Harrison Kane has recently joined the University's Department of Civil Engineering. Kane, who came here from the University of Illinois, will be elevated to associate professor and will teach and do research in the field of soil mechanics and foundation engineering.

Kane received his B.S. degree, with honors, from City College of New York in 1947 and his M.S. degree from Columbia University in 1948. In 1959 he was awarded a U. of Illinois Fellowship and in 1960 he received a National Science Foundation Cooperative Fellowship. While in the Department of Civil Engineering faculty at Illinois he earned his Ph.D. degree in 1961.

He has written several papers in the soil mechanics and foundation engineering area. As co-author he just completed a paper called "A Study of the Behavior of Soil and Rock Subjected to High Stress Levels."

The Kanes have three children. This week they are to move in at 130 Grand Ave. Ct.

BELGRADE (AP)—The capital of Yugoslavia now has 950,000 population. That is almost three times the city's population in 1940.

Iowa Writing Program Film Set for East Coast Showings

"Poetry: The World's Voice," a motion picture depicting The University of Iowa's translation workshop in the Program in Creative Writing, will have major showings this month and next in the nation's capital and in New York City.

The color film, conceived by Paul Engle, Iowa poet and writing program director, represents poetry from 17 foreign countries, most of which was translated by students or faculty here.

The University Motion Picture Unit lenses also focused on the Iowa pastoral scene as well as on views of Iowa industry, space technology, and U of I printmaker Mauricio Lasansky at work in his studio.

Engle will show the film throughout the United States this year, and is scheduled to introduce it in capital cities of both Western and Eastern Europe during the coming year.

The half-hour motion picture was shown for the first time on campus last Wednesday, and was favorably received as a sight and sound documentary of Iowa as a leading cultural center.

Washington, D.C., and area viewings are scheduled as follows:

Jan. 24 — 1 p.m. at the home of Donald Ranard, Vienna, Va., to representatives from the Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs and the War College.

Jan. 25 — 1 p.m. in the Office of the Motion Picture Service, U.S. Information Agency.

Jan. 26 — Noon in East Auditorium, U.S. Department of State to directors and officers of all areas of the world in the Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs, representatives from the Office of Private Cooperation, and invited guests including former Attorney General and Mrs. Francis Biddle.

Jan. 27 — Noon, Voice of America representatives in the Health, Education and Welfare Building.

New York City showings of the film include:

Jan. 28 — 4:30 p.m., Time & Life Building auditorium to an audience of leading editors and staff from Time-Life, New York Times, New York Herald-Tribune, general press and wire services, magazine editors and columnists. The audience will include representatives from the Institute of International Education, cultural attaches from foreign embassies, foundation representatives, members of the African-American Institute, and well known writers from the New York area.

Jan. 29-30 — Tentative showings in private homes.

Jan. 31 — 5 p.m. at the apartment of Mrs. Marshall Field for a special group of friends of Mrs. Field and Engle.

Feb. 1 — 11 a.m., Cowles Publications auditorium for Gardner Cowles and magazine staff members.

VA Medical Librarian To Attend Meeting

Miss Jean M. Paige, chief librarian at the Iowa City Veterans Administration Hospital, will attend the American Library Association midwinter meeting in Washington, D.C., on Jan. 26-29. Miss Paige is secretary of the hospital and institutional library division. She will also attend the Medical Library Association meeting at the Medical Library of Medicine, while in Washington.

OPERA 'ENTHUSIASTS'— OSIJEK, Yugoslavia (AP)—The Dramatic and Opera Theater here has worked out a plan to increase its audiences. It pays the railway fares of spectators coming from nearby cities.
