

White House Still Mum on Viet Nam Plans

U.S. 'Hopes To Avoid' Spreading Asian War

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States struck back Thursday at what it called murderous aggression and outrage by the Vietnamese Communists and then clamped silence on future plans.

A White House statement said this government maintains its desire to "avoid spreading the conflict" but felt compelled to attack military targets in North Viet Nam in response to "further direct provocation" by the Hanoi Red regime.

THE STATEMENT announcing the third reprisal air strike of this week cited the Viet Cong terrorist bombing in which Americans were killed in their billet as well as "assassinations and ambushes involving South Vietnamese civil and military officials."

Reports from Saigon said about 150 U.S. and South Vietnamese

U.S. Planes Again Blast N. Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Bombs, rockets and gunfire from about 150 warplanes ripped Communist North Vietnamese targets Thursday in the third and heaviest of the U.S. South Vietnamese reprisal strikes. It was a thunderous response to Viet Cong terrorist attacks.

Smoke columns surged up through broken clouds in the barracks areas of Chan Hoa and Cap Le, singled out for destruction after the bombing Wednesday night of a U.S. enlisted men's barracks in Qui Nhon which left 25 Americans dead or missing.

A U.S. spokesman said the raids were highly successful, but it was announced three U.S. Navy carrier-based planes were lost. The pilots of two were reported rescued. All 56 land-based planes involved returned safely.

One of the Navy planes lost was destroyed by an explosion after making an emergency landing at Da Nang, but the pilot escaped safely.

Radio Hanoi declared North Viet Nam's armed forces shot down seven U.S. planes and captured one American. The radio said the prisoner was Robert H. Shumaker, "bearing identity card No. 9.3.615."

The Defense Department in Washington identified the pilot as Lt. Cmdr. Robert J. Schumaker, Shumaker of New Wilmington, Pa.

This was the second casualty of the retaliatory action set off by a Viet Cong attack Sunday on American installations at Pleiku, where eight Americans were killed and 19 aircraft destroyed or damaged. Navy Lt. Edward S. Dickson of Wyoming, Pa., was lost in the first reprisal raid, on coast at Dong Hoi.

The new strike came while American relief workers were bringing debris of the four-story billet in Qui Nhon, 270 miles northeast of Saigon, for the living and the dead. The known American toll was two dead, 23 missing, 18 injured.

warplanes, striking from land and sea, smashed at targets in North Viet Nam. Four carrier-based U.S. Navy planes and one pilot were lost.

The White House described the targets as military facilities used for the training and infiltration of Viet Cong personnel into South Viet Nam.

PRESS SECRETARY George E. Reedy said President Johnson ordered the air strikes after an emergency meeting with the National Security Council on Wednesday afternoon.

The President went to bed around midnight, Reedy said, but was up several times during the night checking on latest developments in the situation.

Reedy said Johnson awoke at 3:30 a.m. and telephoned the "situation room," a command post in the White House basement, asking for the latest reports. Three more times during the night the President checked with the command post, Reedy said.

QUESTIONS ABOUT whether any further retaliatory action was planned were met with firm silence at both the White House and the Pentagon.

"I would have no comment on that," Reedy said.

A Pentagon spokesman added that, "Obviously, if we are, we shouldn't be tipping our hand—and we won't be."

Reedy said in response to another question that this country's allies "have been appropriately and promptly informed" about U.S. moves in Southeast Asia.

ASKED WHETHER Johnson has been using the direct "hot line" telecommunications link with the Kremlin, Reedy said the President had no direct contact with Soviet officials.

But he added that the United States "does maintain contacts with governments throughout the world."

At the State Department, press officer Robert J. McCloskey told newsmen that the White House statement announcing the reprisal attacks had been sent, along with additional explanatory material, to the U.S. ambassadors at the more than 100 American diplomatic missions around the world for relay to the governments with which they deal.

MCCLOSKEY SAID no indications had been received here of any Communist military movements in southern China that might be attributed to the events in Viet Nam.

In a brief Senate session, Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-N.Y.) said Johnson should make a speech to the nation promptly, outlining to the American people and the world this country's policy and objective in South Viet Nam.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Democratic leader, said Great Britain and the Soviet Union should resume "their responsibilities as co-chairmen of the 1954 Geneva conference."

HE SAID THIS accord had helped to bring "several years of relative order out of the then chaotic and unstable situation in Indochina."

"It shut off, for the time, what had become a bloody war in the Indochinese peninsula and what was tending in the direction of a massive war in Asia," he said.

U.S. Farmers Urged to Up Export Quota

Vice President Speaks By Phone to Institute Meeting in Des Moines

DES MOINES (AP) — Vice Presidential Hubert H. Humphrey urged American farmers Thursday to expand production for export and help close "the world's food gap."

He credited a record $6 billion of farm exports last year with helping to hold down the balance of payments deficit and aiding in world trade earnings.

HUMPHREY SAID that President Johnson is counting on agriculture to play a major role in the Great Society.

His remarks were in a speech by long distance telephone to the National Farm Institute. Fog forced the vice president to cancel a scheduled plane trip and use the telephone.

"Expanded export markets offer the greatest area of hope for growing American agricultural production and increasing farm income," he said.

Humphrey said that an effort to enter the beef and meat market in Western Europe now is under way through cooperation of government and private funds.

IN LONDON next month, some 30,000 pounds of American roast beef and hamburger will be served at the Ideal Homes Show in an effort to "generate interest in our American beef and variety meats," he said.

U.S. farm products have been used for the "Food for Peace" program now reaching 100 million people in 85 nations, the vice president said.

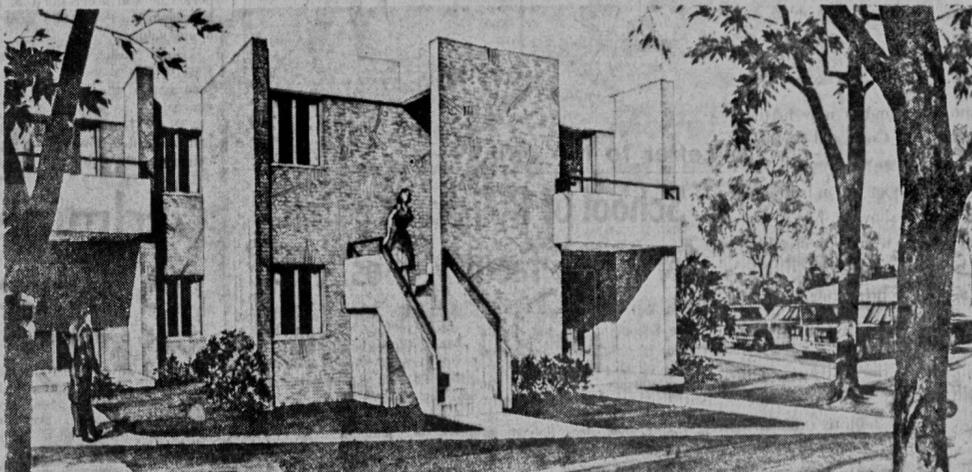

One of the future critical world problems is a lack of food for the exploding population, he said.

"There are 54 million more people in the world every year — nearly 148,000 new mouths to feed every day," he said, with the present population of 3 billion due to double in 40 years.

ANOTHER SPEAKER, Dr. Wallace E. Ogg, agricultural economist at Iowa State University, cautioned against surplus disposal programs which put farm goods into a country on a short-term basis.

He told the Institute such surplus dumping programs are not in the best long-term interest for developing friendly relations with foreign countries.

"Such measures," Ogg continued, "would get us into trouble and might tend to build resentments against the United States."

Proposed Hawkeye Apartments II

$6.4 Million New Housing Also Okayed

By JON VAN Staff Writer

DES MOINES — Married student rent rates were raised by the Board of Regents Thursday without a word of opposition, and a 512-unit, $6.4 million addition to Hawkeye Apartments was approved almost unanimously.

Higher rents, ranging from $4 to $16.50 a month, were requested by President Howard Bowen to finance a building program for married students which he termed "urgent." The rents are expected to go into effect next summer.

ACCOMPANYING the rent proposal were preliminary plans to expand Hawkeye apartments. Half of the new units should be ready by fall, 1966.

The proposed new Hawkeye Apartments, the largest project of its kind ever developed at the University, will be two-bedroom units of fire-proof masonry and brick construction. Each will have its own outside entrance and individual heat supply. Each building will have 12-20 apartments, arranged in a saw-tooth pattern to provide a triangle of private outdoor space for each family. The two-story buildings will be arranged in small clusters, each group enclosing a common green away from the streets and parking.

Comparable in interior design and space to existing Hawkeye Apartments, the additional units will have separate and sheltered entrances. Each proposed new unit will have two bedrooms, a kitchen, dining area, living room and bathrooms on one level. They will be built in varying number in a series of separate buildings as the present Hawkeye Apartments.

An architect was hired to draw up the plans last year, but only 250 units were originally scheduled for the addition. Bowen ordered that number doubled because of rising demands for married housing, he said. The new apartments cannot be financed with present revenue according to Paul Speer, financial consultant to the Regents, but it can be under the new rates.

Visiting 'Espresso Priest' Rejects Controversial Tag

By LINDA WEINER Staff Writer

The man who has been called an "espresso priest," a "disturber of the peace" and a member of the "breakthrough generation" does not consider himself particularly controversial.

"The Judeo-Christian ethic, the ethic of love, is controversial," said the Rev. Malcolm Boyd, national field representative of the Episcopal Society for Cultural and Racial Unity.

BOYD WILL present a program at 8 tonight in the Old Gold Room of the Union, "An Evening with Malcolm Boyd," which he described as a "non-structured evening."

"The love ethic on a broader basis is justice," said Boyd, "and to allow injustice is blasphemy."

He traveled throughout rural Mississippi in December, visiting civil rights workers and was impressed with their commitment.

Boyd, who is the author of five plays and four books, said that discussion of the motivation of the civil rights workers was not really relevant at this time.

"IT IS MORE a matter of 'by their fruits you shall know them,'" he said. "There really isn't time to be concerned about motivation now."

He added that he would be interested in the reaction of students here to his talk tonight.

"I'm going to say the same things I would say at Yale or Stanford," he said. "There is regionalism everywhere, of course, but particularly concerning the civil rights struggle, there seem to be well-meaning students who are

2 ISU Sororities Get Bias Warning

Regents Issue Threat of Action

DES MOINES (AP) — The Iowa Board of Regents served notice Thursday that it will withdraw recognition of two sororities at Iowa State University unless their national officers sign a non-discrimination pledge by next April 15.

The action was directed against Kappa Delta and Sigma Kappa sororities.

The university said it requires both local and national officials of fraternities and sororities to sign pledges that the constitutions or other regulations do not "deny membership on the basis of race, color, religion, or national origin."

ISU said all have complied except Sigma Kappa and Kappa Delta. It said local chapter officers have signed the pledge, but national officers have not.

The Board of Regents, which supervises ISU, the University of Iowa and State College of Iowa, adopted a resolution Thursday backing Iowa State in its non-discrimination drive.

It said the university's "proposed action to withdraw recognition and terminate all campus activities by sororities and fraternities that fail to comply with the university regulation is approved and Iowa State University and its officials are authorized to proceed therewith."

Dean of students Millard R. Kratochvil issued a statement shortly after the regents action. He said he was notifying national officers of the sororities "that our membership policy statement, already executed by both local chapter presidents, must be signed by a national officer by April 15, 1965. If the signatures are not obtained by then, recognition of the sororities will be withdrawn effective at the end of the academic year May 29, 1965."

No Bias Clauses Reported at U of I

All campus organizations here must have open membership policies by Oct. 1, 1965, according to a 1962 ruling by the Committee on Student Life (CSL).

The ruling, issued by CSL in conjunction with the Office of Student Affairs, is particularly aimed at racial discrimination.

Elridge J. Roark, fraternity affairs adviser, and Miss Helen Reich, assistant director of the Office of Student Affairs, said no organization on campus now has a discriminatory clause in its constitution.

Roark said the last organization on campus to have such a clause, a fraternity, this summer received permission from its national organization to comply with the CSL ruling.

The membership policy for student organizations states: "It is the policy of the University that local student organizations be able to exercise free choice of members on the basis of their merits as individuals without restrictions as to race, color, or national origin."

The ruling also says that any organization unable to exercise such choice as of Oct. 1, 1965, will have its Certificate of Recognition revoked by CSL. This would have the effect of banning the organization from campus.

Last April, Alpha Delta Pi sorority was condemned by its national organization for supporting the student exchange program with Tougaloo South Christian College in Tougaloo, Miss. The national organization had assumed that the exchange was not sponsored by the University.

"At that time, the local chapter of the sorority told its national organization that it would continue to support the exchange program.

Ballot Stuffing Charges Levelled In Steel Voting

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — Rumbles of alleged vote-counting irregularities erupted from both sides Thursday as the United Steelworkers Union election count dragged on.

A high-placed source in the camp of union President David J. McDonald told The Associated Press some vote counts were being held back so the totals could be doctored up.

It was pointed out to the spokesman that vote totals collected by news agencies were running well ahead of those being released by the two candidates' headquarters.

He was asked: "Are some votes being held back?"

The source replied, "Yes."

Asked why, he answered: "They have to find out how many votes are needed before they can stuff the ballot box. It that blunt enough?"

William Hart, a Pittsburgh area director of the union, told a news conference: "We are very interested in the fact that our partial breakdown of returns from District 7 (Philadelphia), compiled on a local-by-local basis shows I. W. Abel with 11,511 votes in 132 locals while alleged complete returns from 190 locals in this district show Abel with only 11,178 votes."

Grade Distribution Expedited

Students Enthused Over New System

Some smiled; some frowned. Some shrieked with joy; some mumbled in disgust. Others merely stared in disbelief.

These were typical reactions of the estimated 8,000 University students who had picked up their fall grade reports by Thursday.

But good grades or bad, the general feeling of these students was one of relief, according to Robert D. Leahy, assistant director of admissions.

"Most students seemed quite happy to get their grades so quickly," Leahy said. "We set up four tables at the Union to avoid delays in distribution."

Students today may pick up their grades at the Admissions Office, University Hall, window. After today, however, students wanting grade reports must go to the Registrar's Office.

Leahy said the University would probably use the same distribution system next year.

"This is the first year we have used this system," he said, "and it has worked quite well. It has eliminated a week's delay in mailing grades to students."

Students Get Grades

There was little waiting for the news — good or bad. Students picked up fall grades a week earlier than before with the new distribution system.

Snow Fouls Transportation

Weather Forces Highway Closing

By The Associated Press

Bus, rail and plane service ran behind schedule in Iowa or not at all as the snow, borne on high winds, piled up in drifts and visibility deteriorated.

Hotels and motels throughout the storm area provided haven for stranded travelers, salesmen and businessmen.

Highways closed in and around Council Bluffs included 92, 6, 375, 275 at Glenwood, 192 and 175.

The Highway Patrol closed Highway 92 between Treynor and Council Bluffs to all vehicles not equipped with chains.

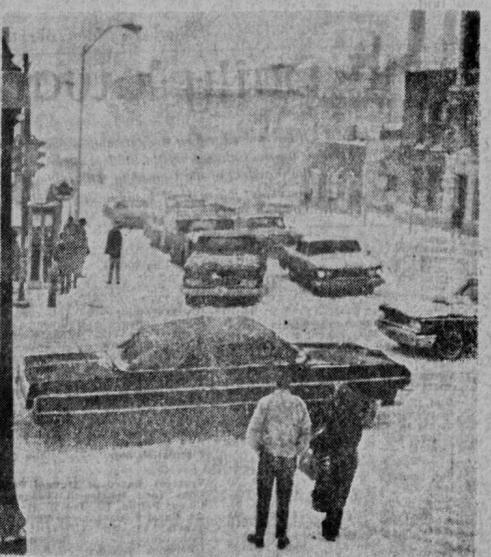

Winds of up to 30 miles per hour caused considerable drifting and quickly nullified the work of snow plows over a wide area.

The city of Council Bluffs planned to rent road graders from private contractors Friday to aid in clearing the snow.

The city hasn't done this since 1959.

A Clarinda couple, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Hale, were killed Thursday afternoon when their car collided with a truck at the junction of Highways 34 and 71 west of Corning.

It was snowing heavily at the time.

The most dangerous game: Viet Nam poker

THE PROBLEM with quiet little wars is that they don't stay quiet or little indefinitely.

Whether you want to describe the current situation in Viet Nam as escalation or not, the fact is that the booming of the guns has become louder and more frightening.

An analogy between the last few days and a poker game has been drawn: the adversaries have made exploratory moves to see how each other would react.

Considering the death and destruction involved in this type of bluffing, the game is already a rough one. But the ultimate stakes are even higher, and even the side-bets are seriously involved.

The Soviet Union has anteed-up and is now in the game, pledging its support to the Viet Cong and presumably gaining back some influence.

We have played poker with the Soviet Union before in the Cuban missile crisis. But in that show of hands, we were dealing with Khrushchev who, if not predictable, was at least familiar.

Now there are two new officials representing the Soviet Union and while they may not be novices to the game, we have never played with them before.

The administration is searching to find out just what the reaction to our reaction will be and to what extent the guns will be used before the conference table is utilized.

No one has to dwell too long on the outcome of a military confrontation between the United States and Russia to conclude that world destruction would not be the ideal solution to Viet Nam's problems.

As Requirements goes down, quality goes...

ELECTED OFFICERS of the Student Senate are required to have a 2.25 accumulative grade point, if undergraduates. Graduates must be certified by the dean of their college to be in good academic standing.

The requirement isn't too tough.

A resolution was introduced to the Senate Tuesday night which contends that GPA requirements for elected officers are too restricted and would lower the minimum to a 2.2. The resolution argues that the present requirement may prevent qualified candidates from running for office.

The matter has been sent to the academic affairs committee for study.

The author of the resolution may be correct in implying that a better-than-average grade point is not necessarily an indication of a better-than-average leader.

But officers of the Student Senate are not just leaders, but student leaders, which introduces other considerations.

Any student who becomes as involved in activities as a Student Senate officer can expect his class work to suffer, unless he is extraordinary. It would be unfair to both the student and the Senate to lower the grade point requirement to the point where the loss of a few percentage points during the term of office might mean academic probation. First things first.

The resolution presented to the Senate was not done on principle alone; there is a particular situation involved. But our evaluation of the proposal has not been on the basis of any individual, and hopefully the Senate committee will do likewise.

And while the committee is discussing the question, they would do well to consider raising the GPA requirement. It never hurt to raise the standards of a governing body.

School of Religion's criteria for hiring faculty questioned

To the Editor:

The School of Religion, in its pursuit of objectivity, has added to its staff an expert in the Eastern Orthodox branch of the Christian religion. Interestingly, this expert is also an adherent of that branch. This, though interesting, was nonetheless to be expected; it seems to be the policy of the School that the principles of faith X are taught by an adherent of faith X.

Thus, for example, "Introduction to Catholicism" is taught by a Catholic priest. Nor is such a policy confined to the School of Religion here at the University of Iowa. It pervades the religious academia: a chair in theology is never occupied by an atheist.

What is interesting about this policy is its extra-ordinary nature. Its singularity is seldom pointed out. Yet it ought to be. For its acceptance is an implicit acknowledgement that religion is not a subject in good intellectual standing.

The extraordinary nature of this policy can be seen by an examination of the policies followed in hiring of faculty in other subjects. Consider, for example, a man who is hired to teach history in the area of the French Revolution: it is not a condition of his employment that he believe to be true certain controversial propositions about (say) the role of Marat.

Or, again, consider a man who is hired to teach psychology in the area of learning theory: it is not a condition of his employment that he believe to be true certain controversial Freudian theses.

Now contrast these cases to that of religion. A man is not hired to teach in the area of Catholicism unless he believes to be true the controversial theses of Catholicism. More generally, a man is not hired to teach theology unless he believes that a god exists.

Nor may the following objection be raised. Some might point out that a teacher ought to be interested in his subject, and then go on to claim that a Protestant cannot be interested in (say) Papal Infallibility nor an atheist in theology.

However, a person who maintains that the Pope is fallible must take it to be a meaningful and interesting question to ask whether the Pope is in fact infallible. So also a person who maintains that there is no god must take it to be a meaningful and interesting question to ask whether there is a god.

And indeed we do in fact find many Protestants interested in Papal Infallibility and many atheists in theology.

Thus, in religion alone, before a man is hired to teach, on controversial proposition S, he must fulfill the condition that he believes S to be true. The adherence to such a policy is a self-admission by the School of Religion that religion is not in fact an open-minded and reasonable inquiry; it is a self-admission that a School of Religion has no place in the intellectual community of a university.

Administrative block seen to Senate hours proposal

By DAVE REID
Staff Writer

Administrative difficulties are the main stumbling blocks to the Student Senates' proposed revision of women's hours, according to two people involved in the judicial system.

The Senate proposal advocates the following privileges for women under 21 who have the written permission of their parents:

- Senior women and women over 21, regardless of classification, may have unrestricted hours.
- Junior women may be allowed two weekend nights a week on which they shall have unrestricted hours.
- Sophomore women may be allowed one weekend night a week on which they shall have unrestricted hours.
- Freshman women may be allowed 4 weekend nights each month on which they shall have 2-30 hours.

The proposal, however, prohibits these privileges to undergraduates under 21 who are on either social or academic probation.

The bill, passed Tuesday by the Senate, will be forwarded to the Committee on Student Life (CSL). Only CSL can effect new policies concerning hours.

Mrs. Jacquelyn Giese, G, Milan, Ill., head counselor of Currier Hall, and Sue Mockridge, A4, DeWitt, chairman of the AWS judiciary committee were the two who pointed out the administrative difficulties of the Senate proposal.

M. L. Huit, dean of students, Helen Reich, assistant director to Huit, Helen Focht, counselor to women, and Mrs. Carol Rickey, assistant to the counselor to women, said they were not sufficiently familiar with the Senate proposal to comment on it.

Dean Huit said he would rather not comment on the proposal until the Committee on Student Life had considered it.

Because the Senate proposal allows for different regulations for each classification of undergraduate women, this would necessitate extremely complicated book-keeping," said Miss Mockridge.

"There would have to be a separate book for freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors," she said.

The problem would be even more complicated in the Greek housing units, she said, where there is no night clerk to keep track of who could be out how many nights.

U.S. coins still perfect, getting more plentiful

PHILADELPHIA — Worry not, America's coins are just as perfect as ever — and getting more plentiful.

The time-honored annual ritual to test the weight and quality of the nation's silver coinage — dimes, quarters and halves — was held Wednesday behind the locked, barred doors of the U.S. Mint here.

A commission of four women and 20 men, headed by Dr. J. Hewitt Judd of Omaha, Neb., inspected, counted and weighed random samples of the coinage stamped out at the rate of 20 million a day in the nation's two mints at Philadelphia and Denver, Colo., in 1964.

Each dime, quarter and half dollar has 90 per cent silver, 10 per cent copper. Exactly so, said the testers.

"The commission, picking coins from 'pyxides' — small sealed boxes — found them of high quality, perfect in weight and fineness.

Eva Adams, current director of the mint which was established by Congress in 1792, said "we always try to make the best."

The commission doesn't check pennies and nickels, which the mints also make, but Miss Adams said these coins also are just as good as ever.

Coin shortage?

"We're liking it," she said. "We are working three shifts of workers and the 61 presses are stamping 24 hours a day, seven days a week. By August we'll have 123 presses."

Until the coin shortage is wiped out the mints are making coins only with "1964" dates.

Retaliation doubtful

By JOHN CANTWELL
AP News Analysis

HONG KONG — Analysts in Hong Kong doubt that Red China, despite its belligerent warnings, will retaliate against U.S. air strikes on North Viet Nam.

Two reasons are cited by American, Commonwealth and Nationalist Chinese sources in this British trading center and international listening post on China's south flank:

- Red China, despite its manpower and its recent explosion of an atomic device, does not have the resources to wage a major war with the United States.
- Peking believes such a war is unnecessary, as it considers that the Viet Cong are winning their fight to take over South Viet Nam.

A Chinese Nationalist expert said Wednesday the Mao Tse-tung regime cannot financially afford a confrontation with the United States.

"The Korean War put Chinese Communist plans for development of resources back at least 10 years."

"And Peking knows another major confrontation with the United States would do the same thing — or even worse — at a time when Communist China desperately needs resources to compete in the ideological field with the Russians."

Commonwealth experts said they believe Peking is playing a game of poker with the United States.

The reason that sororities now sign out keys to 21-year-olds for an entire semester is that the housemother found a day-to-day system too difficult to keep up with," Miss Mockridge said.

She went on to say that if dormitories were smaller units, as President Bowen has suggested, or if coeds lived in groups divided by classifications, experimentation with regulations would be much more possible.

"As long as there are so few administrators available," Miss Mockridge said, "there will be problems in trying out new programs."

According to her, the Senate program is almost paradoxical. The proposal would set up an elaborate system of privileges, setting aside a limited number of nights when women would be unrestricted.

"This implies that some nights the coeds need watching, whereas other limited nights, they can be responsible for themselves," she said.

"The Senate proposal would also necessitate a penalty system for enforcement of the privileges, which is a step away from our general trend," she said.

The penalty system has been modified this year so that each coed's case is considered individually and no rigid set of penalties is required. Miss Mockridge felt that this change, although not as talked-about as some others, was extremely important.

When the AWS judiciary committee was working out the 21-year-old plan, it also considered the senior privileges system included in the Senate proposal.

"Since the University feels that it could not take the entire responsibility for senior privileges and would require parental permission, we felt that this would limit the freedom of the 21-year-olds," said Miss Mockridge.

The CSL renewed the 21-year-old program last spring after a one year trial, but the renewal was only for one more year.

"We hope this spring that the

Viva la junkyards— How to create a V-8 economy

President Johnson is trying to beautify America. President de Gaulle is trying to make us go back on the gold standard. Fort Knox is in terrible shape. What does it all mean?

It means the United States has to find something besides gold to support its currency.

The answer has been staring all of us in the face for years. The biggest problem America faces today is what to do with its junked cars. An estimated seven million of them are clogging up every yard and highway in the U.S. If we could get rid of them we could beautify America and make a great leap forward into the Great Society.

Anyone who has seen the film "Goldfinger" knows that in a matter of minutes you can, with the aid of a giant press, take a used car and crush it down to a bar the size of a shoebox. Here lies the answer to the gold problem.

THE FIRST THING President Johnson must do is announce that instead of gold we are going on a junked-car standard. He will give everyone 30 days to bring in their junked cars. During that period he will order the U.S. Army to dump all the gold in Fort Knox into the Pedernales River to show we no longer consider gold of any value.

Giant crushers and presses will be set up next to all Federal Reserve banks and the junked cars will be pressed into bars and then sent to the Fort Knox where they will be valued at $30 an ounce.

IN NO TIME at all Fort Knox will be overflowing with car-bars and the United States can back the dollar with junked cars to kingdom come. No one could ever catch up with us.

BUCHWALD

At first there may be cries of dismay from our allies. The French will complain that since their cars are so much smaller than ours they will suffer financially from a junked car standard.

The Swiss, on the other hand, would complain because everyone would be sending their junked cars to Switzerland to be deposited in their numbered accounts.

The British and Germans would have to go along with us, particularly if we hinted that the junked car standard was aimed at wrecking the French economy.

THE ITALIANS never junk their cars. We would have to give them the long term junked car credits.

But the ones who would be hurt most would be the Russians and Chinese, who have no junked cars at all to speak of.

They would be in terrible shape and would probably be forced to sell the British buses that were recently sold to Cuba.

The jewelry industry might gripe at the beginning, but arrangements could be made to sell them junked car bars for the manufacture of watches, bracelets, and necklaces.

ECONOMISTS whom I discussed the idea with can't see any flaw in the plan. Their only regret is that they hadn't thought of it themselves.

While this is being written, a messenger is delivering the full plan to the White House, and unless there is some resistance from the gold-producing states the country will probably be on the junked car standard by 1966.

Even if it doesn't solve our monetary problems, it will take care of our junked car problems and, as far as President Johnson is concerned, half the battle will be won.

Best of all, it will give President de Gaulle something more to think about.

M. L. Huit, dean of students, Helen Reich, assistant director to Huit, Helen Focht, counselor to women, and Mrs. Carol Rickey, assistant to the counselor to women, said they were not sufficiently familiar with the Senate proposal to comment on it.

Dean Huit said he would rather not comment on the proposal until the Committee on Student Life had considered it.

Because the Senate proposal allows for different regulations for each classification of undergraduate women, this would necessitate extremely complicated book-keeping," said Miss Mockridge.

"There would have to be a separate book for freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors," she said.

The problem would be even more complicated in the Greek housing units, she said, where there is no night clerk to keep track of who could be out how many nights.

U.S. coins still perfect, getting more plentiful

PHILADELPHIA — Worry not, America's coins are just as perfect as ever — and getting more plentiful.

The time-honored annual ritual to test the weight and quality of the nation's silver coinage — dimes, quarters and halves — was held Wednesday behind the locked, barred doors of the U.S. Mint here.

A commission of four women and 20 men, headed by Dr. J. Hewitt Judd of Omaha, Neb., inspected, counted and weighed random samples of the coinage stamped out at the rate of 20 million a day in the nation's two mints at Philadelphia and Denver, Colo., in 1964.

Each dime, quarter and half dollar has 90 per cent silver, 10 per cent copper. Exactly so, said the testers.

"The commission, picking coins from 'pyxides' — small sealed boxes — found them of high quality, perfect in weight and fineness.

Eva Adams, current director of the mint which was established by Congress in 1792, said "we always try to make the best."

The commission doesn't check pennies and nickels, which the mints also make, but Miss Adams said these coins also are just as good as ever.

Coin shortage?

"We're liking it," she said. "We are working three shifts of workers and the 61 presses are stamping 24 hours a day, seven days a week. By August we'll have 123 presses."

Until the coin shortage is wiped out the mints are making coins only with "1964" dates.

Retaliation doubtful

By JOHN CANTWELL
AP News Analysis

HONG KONG — Analysts in Hong Kong doubt that Red China, despite its belligerent warnings, will retaliate against U.S. air strikes on North Viet Nam.

Two reasons are cited by American, Commonwealth and Nationalist Chinese sources in this British trading center and international listening post on China's south flank:

- Red China, despite its manpower and its recent explosion of an atomic device, does not have the resources to wage a major war with the United States.
- Peking believes such a war is unnecessary, as it considers that the Viet Cong are winning their fight to take over South Viet Nam.

A Chinese Nationalist expert said Wednesday the Mao Tse-tung regime cannot financially afford a confrontation with the United States.

"The Korean War put Chinese Communist plans for development of resources back at least 10 years."

"And Peking knows another major confrontation with the United States would do the same thing — or even worse — at a time when Communist China desperately needs resources to compete in the ideological field with the Russians."

Commonwealth experts said they believe Peking is playing a game of poker with the United States.

Administrative block seen to Senate hours proposal

By DAVE REID

The reason that sororities now sign out keys to 21-year-olds for an entire semester is that the housemother found a day-to-day system too difficult to keep up with," Miss Mockridge said.

She went on to say that if dormitories were smaller units, as President Bowen has suggested, or if coeds lived in groups divided by classifications, experimentation with regulations would be much more possible.

"As long as there are so few administrators available," Miss Mockridge said, "there will be problems in trying out new programs."

According to her, the Senate program is almost paradoxical. The proposal would set up an elaborate system of privileges, setting aside a limited number of nights when women would be unrestricted.

"This implies that some nights the coeds need watching, whereas other limited nights, they can be responsible for themselves," she said.

"The Senate proposal would also necessitate a penalty system for enforcement of the privileges, which is a step away from our general trend," she said.

The penalty system has been modified this year so that each coed's case is considered individually and no rigid set of penalties is required. Miss Mockridge felt that this change, although not as talked-about as some others, was extremely important.

When the AWS judiciary committee was working out the 21-year-old plan, it also considered the senior privileges system included in the Senate proposal.

"Since the University feels that it could not take the entire responsibility for senior privileges and would require parental permission, we felt that this would limit the freedom of the 21-year-olds," said Miss Mockridge.

The CSL renewed the 21-year-old program last spring after a one year trial, but the renewal was only for one more year.

"We hope this spring that the

Science Teachers Award Nominations Being Solicited

Nominations for the annual award recognizing excellence in science teaching on the junior and senior high school level are being solicited through Monday by the Iowa Section of the American Chemical Society. The winner will be announced in March.

Donated by several Iowa corporations and organizations, the prize money — totalling over $200 — will be presented at the April 23-24 meeting of the Iowa Academy of Science to a teacher selected by the Science Teachers Award Committee.

Selection will be made on the basis of recommendations from administrators and former students. Some of the criteria include the influence of the teacher on his former pupils in continuing in science and the teacher's special activities, memberships and research in the science field.

The purpose of the award, which has been granted to junior and senior high school science teachers in Iowa since 1957, is to encourage excellence in all areas of science teaching.

Before World War II, he was the spiritual leader of the "New Synagogue" in Berlin and was a member of the executive committee of the Union of Prussian Hebrew Congregations.

He also was a lecturer in Jewish History and Thought at the School for Jewish Social Work in Berlin.

Dr. Jospe began his work with B'nai B'rith in 1939.

STOCKS LOWER

NEW YORK (AP)—Amid increased concern about the hostilities in Viet Nam the stock market took another sharp loss Thursday.

Trading was fairly active but far below Wednesday's pace. Volume was 5.83 million shares compared with 7.23 million Wednesday. It was the third time this week that stocks sank sharply in the midst of news about stepped-up fighting in Viet Nam.

Mock U.N. Now Underway

Disarmament Tops Agenda

Resolutions centering on the fundamental problems facing the United Nations have been drawn up by the delegations participating in the mock U.N. meet here this week.

They will be submitted to major committees and later to the General Assembly for discussion today and Saturday as the concluding events in the mock U.N. meet here, sponsored by the Collegiate Council for the United Nations.

Each delegation was allowed to submit as many as 15 resolutions to the steering committee which will total number of resolutions to 30. The three major committees, secretariat, economic and social, and political, then each received 10 of the selected 30 resolutions for further study. Each committee will discuss its 10 resolutions and rank them in order of importance.

When the General Assembly meets at 9:30 tonight in the Senate Chamber of Old Capitol, every "member" nation will have an opportunity to speak on the resolutions. The General Assembly will also meet Saturday morning at 9 and Saturday afternoon at 1.

Major resolutions in the secretariat committee concern disarmament, charter revisions, and voting rights. One resolution proposes a World Commission for Disarmament to be established which would be composed of every member of the General Assembly. The commission would set up machinery for a complete world disarmament through a system of international inspection and simultaneous worldwide destruction of armaments.

Another resolution proposes that peace-keeping proposals which are vetoed by the Security Council should be referred to the General Assembly where a two-thirds majority vote would override the veto.

Other resolutions before the secretariat committee deal with:

- A proposal to remove the membership of three U.S.S.R. republics because they are not nation-states.
- A plan to enlarge the Security Council to 13 members, none of which will be permanent members.
- A move to discipline any member who engages in unbecoming conduct in the Assembly by suspending the member from one session of the General Assembly.

RESOLUTIONS before the economic and social committee include:

- An attempt to construct an interoceanic canal in Central America to be constructed and operated by the U.N.
- A move to eliminate all tariff rates on agricultural products in order to promote the economic prosperity of underdeveloped countries.

Some of the resolutions before the political committee are:

- A move to censor the Egyptian, Algerian, Chinese and Kenyan nations of aggression against the Congolese people.
- A plan to force the evacuation of the U.S. naval base in Guantanamo and restore the land to the Cuban people.
- An establishment of a peace keeping force to be situated along the Laotian border to South Vietnam and the 17th parallel between North and South Vietnam in order to maintain peace.

Greek Leadership Banquet Features Alumni Director

Outstanding fraternity and sorority leaders will be honored at the annual Greek Week Leadership Banquet at 6 p.m. Monday in the Union Main Lounge.

Each house will be represented at the banquet by a member of each of the four undergraduate classes. Senior representatives will be candidates for Greek Man or Women of the Year.

Featured speaker of the event will be Loren B. Hickerson, director of the Alumni Association.

Hickerson's topic is "The Greek's Dilemma."

This year Greek Week committee chairman, invited civic leaders and Iowa City public officials to the banquet. Heading the list of civic guests is Iowa City Mayor Richard Burger.

Other city officials invited are: Clark Houghton, president of the Iowa City Chamber of Commerce; William Brown, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce; Ed Collins, chairman of the Retail Merchants Bureau; Earl Stewart, city planner and associate professor of civil engineering; and John Ruppert, police chief.

University administrative officials and faculty members also will be guests. Names of these guests have not yet been announced.

On Tuesday, the Greek Week Cultural Event will feature talks to sororities and fraternities by University staff members and administrators. Houses have been paired with other fraternities or sororities to hear the talks.

Speakers have been invited to dinner by the houses at which they will give their talks.

Lutherans Start Weekend Retreat

About 20 members of Gamma Delta of St. Paul's Lutheran University Chapel, 404 E. Jefferson St., will leave today for the Triota Region Winter Retreat at Long Lake, Ill.

Gamma Delta members from Iowa and Indiana will discuss and study some of the most important questions facing Christians today in relation to jobs or vocations.

Ed Donovan, A4, Spirit Lake, president of the local chapter, and George Roberts, G. San Diego, Calif., will help lead discussion on "The Quality of Life in a Cybernetic Age."

The Rev. Wayne Saffen, University of Chicago campus pastor, will speak. Gamma Epsilon chapter of the University of Chicago is hosting the retreat.

Claims Pilot Captured—

Hanoi Labels U.S. Assaults Actions of 'Utmost Gravity'

TOKYO (AP)—North Viet Nam claimed a U.S. pilot was shot down and captured in Thursday's big American-South Vietnamese air strike in the North. It called the raids "war acts of utmost gravity."

A Hanoi broadcast, saying seven U.S. planes were shot down and many damaged, identified the pilot as "Robert H. Shumaker, bearing identity card No. 9.131.615."

"Your ground fire greatly frightened me," the pilot was quoted as saying. "I don't know why I felt reassured after I landed by parachute and was captured."

IN WASHINGTON, the Pentagon identified the pilot as Lt. Cmdr. Robert H. Shumaker of New Wilmington, Pa.

The Pentagon said three planes were shot down, three pilots were safe and one was missing.

"On the afternoon of Feb. 11, 1965, the U.S. pirates again brazenly and adventurously sent many groups of bombers and F100 jet fighters to encroach upon North Viet Nam," Col. Ha Van Lau of the North Vietnamese army high command told a news conference in Hanoi.

He indicated that the main effort was in the vicinity of Dong Hoi, capital of Quang Binh Province, 46 miles north of the border with South Viet Nam.

U.S. REPORTS said the target was Chan Hoa, four miles northwest of Dong Hoi, and it was hit by 100 Navy jets from the carriers Hancock, Ranger and Coral Sea.

He said that for 35 minutes beginning at 1:20 p.m., U.S. planes "bombed and strafed the vicinity of Dong Hoi town and the Gianh River in Quang Binh Province."

"Meanwhile, at about 13:50 hours—1:50 p.m.—U.S. aircraft encroached upon the Democratic Republic of Viet Nam's air space over Vinh Linh and Cua Lao in Nghe-An provinces," Ha reported. "At 15:08 hours, U.S. aircraft strafed the Vinh Linh area.

"As in previous times, the U.S. pirates could not escape violent return blows from our army and people. According to first reports, seven enemy planes were shot down and many others damaged."

HA SAID five planes were shot down in the Dong Hoi area, one in Nghe-An and one in Vinh Linh.

The Hanoi broadcast also quoted a Communist Viet Nam news agency correspondent report from Quan Binh Province.

The correspondent said: "At noon today, U.S. jet planes coming in several waves wantonly bombed and strafed Dong Hoi, capital of Quang Binh Province, and many surrounding localities, burning a number of houses of the civilian population.

"Meanwhile, American warships cruising off Dong Hoi town fiercely shelled nearby Ngu Thuy village.

"As soon as they arrived the enemy planes came under intense fire from the Vietnamese people's army units and armed forces for the local people."

400 Negro Pupils Protest in Selma

SELMA, Ala. (AP)—Four hundred Negro pupils lined up outside the Dallas County Courthouse on Thursday in one of the biggest protests of the Selma civil rights campaign but no arrests were made.

It was another abrupt change in the tactics of Sheriff James G. Clark, who marched a group of young Negroes three miles into the countryside Wednesday when they appeared at the courthouse in a right-to-vote protest.

Clark has arrested hundreds of other Negroes in similar demonstrations, but for the most part this week has made no effort to interfere.

Viet Nam Evacuees Arrive

TRAVIS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—The dead, the wounded and the dependents were flown home from Viet Nam on Thursday in a stream of jet transports as the United States prepared for any eventuality in Southeast Asia.

Three planeloads landed at the Travis AFB evacuation center. Some 1,400 more evacuees were due to pass through Honolulu within the coming week.

The first jet in Thursday brought the flag-draped coffins of eight U.S. soldiers killed in the predawn guerrilla assault last Sunday at Pleiku, where 108 were wounded.

Next to touch down was a chartered Pan American jet transport carrying 160 dependents of military and civilian personnel — hurriedly ordered out of their Far East homes as the United States cleared the decks for the increasingly critical situation.

Then, coming in on three engines at reduced speed, was a jet transport with 31 wounded, most of them casualties from the Pleiku attack.

The big C135B jet lost oil pressure, shut down one engine 650 miles out of Travis and was escorted in but had no trouble making it on three engines.

While the evacuation planes were arriving at this huge Air Force base 60 miles northeast of San Francisco, residents of the San Francisco Bay area watched more than 35 intercontinental B52 bombers and accompanying jet tankers flying in a northwesterly direction.

Their contrails were above 30,000 feet.

Travis AFB called the B52 flights a "classified Strategic Air Command operational exercise."

Hamilton AFB, north of San Francisco, said there would be "increased air activity over California and other Western states starting Thursday night."

SAC headquarters at Omaha, Neb., confirmed that its units were taking part. Those arriving home were taking it philosophically. Freddie Hunt, 9, whose mother died last year and whose father, Fred, is with the State Department in Viet Nam, made the trip unscathed.

Another lad, Danny McGraw, 11, wore a steel helmet and a field jacket. He observed: "We didn't really want to leave but I guess if the President wants us to come home, we have to."

He was with his mother, Neva McGraw, his brother Albert, 15, and sisters Linda, 13, and Carol, 12, all en route to stay with Mrs. McGraw's father, Gib Hamblin, of Ceres, Calif. Her husband, a Navy lithographer, stayed behind.

Legislature Acts on School Bills

SENATE

Passed and sent to the House bills to:

Set the date by which time Iowa Supreme Court justices must maintain offices in Des Moines at Jan. 1, 1970, instead of Jan. 1, 1968. The vote 52-1.

Allow school districts to require schools to pay half the cost of uniforms for school band and vocal groups, and to allow school boards to require teaching of instrumental as well as vocal music. The 37-17.

Allow school districts to pay all or part of the cost of group health and life insurance for their employees. The vote 35-20.

Raise the ceiling on mileage pay for public employees who use their cars for official business from seven cents to 10 cents a mile. The vote 30-22.

Allow the state superintendent of public instruction to issue certificates of high school equivalency to adults who did not graduate from high school but who pass a prescribed test. The vote 53-6.

Scheduled for 10 a.m. Tuesday debate on a bill to require that all school districts not supporting 12 grades of school by April 1, 1966, be attached to districts which do support 12 grades by July 1, 1966.

Received a bill to raise the maximum homestead tax credit from $62.50 to $72.50 a year.

HOUSE

Passed and sent to the governor a bill to legalize a Linn County contract with Loomis Bros., Inc., for remodeling two courtrooms in the courthouse.

Amended and passed a Senate bill to lower the mandatory retirement age for policemen and firemen under civil service from 70 to 65 years.

Passed and sent to the Senate bills to:

Provide that a conviction for a felony does not disqualify a person for a liquor by the drink license if the conviction occurred three years or more before the license was applied for.

Regulate the sale of firearms by delivery by mail, freight or delivery service.

Space Acrobatics Staged Thursday By Titan Rocket

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—A Titan 3A rocket Thursday hurled its third stage into orbit as a flying launch platform and, in a space-age first, executed a series of "aerial circus" maneuvers involving four orbit changes and three satellites.

These tricky acrobatics, which included the first triple ignition of a rocket motor in space, must be perfected for future manned and unmanned military space operations.

The moves would be necessary for rocketing military payloads swiftly to any desired spot in space. Potential assignments include reconnaissance, inspection and perhaps destruction of enemy satellites and transfer of men and supplies between space outposts. Major goal of Thursday's test launching was the triple ignition of the third stage—a unique start-restart rocket called a transtage and nicknamed a "space switch engine."

Cast Tryouts Scheduled For Students' New Plays

Tryouts for three original one-act plays written by students will be held Monday through Wednesday in the Studio Theatre rehearsal room 2.

The three plays will be selected from those written by eight students in the advanced playwriting class taught by Aaron Frankel, visiting lecturer.

Students wishing parts in the productions may tryout Monday and Tuesday from 3 to 5 p.m. and 7 to 10 p.m. Those who qualify for parts will be called back for an additional session at 5 p.m. Wednesday.

The eight students submitting plays for possible presentation are: Marya Bednerick, G. Winston-Salem N.C.; Richard Cobb, G. Sacramento, Calif.; Don Davis, G. Sapulpa, Okla.; Sid Friedman, G. Iowa City; Stephan Harris, G. Sacramento, Calif.; Barry Kaplan, G. New York; Jack Ragsdale, G. Lexington, Ky.; and Ron Van Lieu, G. Wooster, Ohio.

Student play directors Charles Myers, G. Iowa City, and Edward Pixley, G. Iowa City. The plays will be presented March 17-20.

Pope Paul VI Offers Appeal For Peace

VATICAN CITY (AP)—With crisis flaring in Southeast Asia, Pope Paul VI urgently appealed Thursday to leaders on both sides to save the world from the holocaust of a war with atomic arms.

"The hour is grave," he told thousands at his weekly general audience.

"We appeal to all men involved, whoever and wherever they might be, to spare innocent populations from new trials and new tears."

He did not mention the fighting in Viet Nam by name, but the timing of his words "the hour is grave" left no doubt what he meant. Indeed, he said he had planned to discuss other matters at the audience but was impelled to talk of the danger to peace.

Without specifically mentioning the United Nations, he asked that "international institutions capable of preventing attacks be reinforced."

U Orchestra Gives Concert

The University Symphony Orchestra conducted by James Dixon, associate professor of music, presented its fourth concert of the year Thursday night to more than 1,000 people in the Union.

The program included "The Unanswered Question" by Charles Ives, "Concerto in A Minor for Violoncello" by Robert Schumann, and "Symphony No. 4" by Gustav Mahler.

Joel Krosnick, assistant professor of music, was to be the soloist for the "Concerto for Violoncello," and Miss Dorothea Brown, an instructor on the music faculty, was to be the soprano soloist for "Symphony No. 4."

Iowans' Interest In Asia Surprises Ex-U.S. Consul

DAVID BANE Labels Program a 'Success'

Bringing the work of the U.S. Foreign Service closer to the American people is the job of David Bane, a visiting lecturer at the University this year.

Bane, a senior officer in the Foreign Service, came to the University as part of an experimental exchange program between the Service and universities.

The University will send a professor to Washington, D.C., as part of the exchange.

Bane, 49, has served as Director of Northeast Asian Affairs and as Consul General in Lahore, Pakistan.

In an interview with the Daily Iowan, Bane said he thought that the program had been a success.

"It is not," he said, "that Foreign Service officers lose touch. The great increase and speed in communications make isolation almost impossible."

"The real value," he said, "is the personal contact with people throughout the United States. I think it helps the Foreign Service officer discover for himself what really concerns the people at the grass roots of American politics."

Bane, living in the Midwest for the first time, said the interest shown here in world politics surprised him at first.

"Because of my personal experience in Asian affairs," Bane said, "I have found students, faculty and local civics groups especially eager to ask me about U.S. policy and actions in Viet Nam."

Bane said he welcomed the chance to meet with these groups because he could discover the attitudes and concerns of the people "at home."

At the same time, he said, he also had the chance to explain the operation of the Foreign Service.

"Although I found a much greater interest shown in discussions of the problems confronting the United States in Asia," he said, "at least 16 students asked me about a career in the Foreign Service."

Vernon B. Van Dyke, professor of political science, said the university has not yet sent a professor to Washington, D.C., because expense money had not yet been raised.

The State Department does not think it should provide the money because the professors are not public servants, Van Dyke said. This means, he said, that professors must get funds from the University or some foundation.

CRASH KILLS TWO—

CORNING (AP)—Two persons were killed Thursday in a truck crash during a heavy snow storm at the junction of Highways 34 and 71 west of here.

John D. Hale of Clarinda was killed outright in the accident. His wife died about an hour and a half later in a Corning hospital.

Viet Crisis Enters Into Dock Strike

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson appealed Thursday for an immediate end to the long, costly dock strike, indirectly citing the Viet Nam crisis as an urgent reason to get ships moving again.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz relayed the President's message at an emergency hearing requested by Johnson to seek an end to the month-long walkout of 60,000 longshoremen at Atlantic and Gulf of Mexico ports.

WHILE THE HEARING was in progress, a U.S. District judge in New York City ordered longshoremen in the port of New York to return to work promptly for a five-day period.

Judge Sidney Sugarman signed the order, which expires at midnight Tuesday. That is the day set for a hearing on a National Labor Relations Board petition for a temporary injunction against the longshoremen's union.

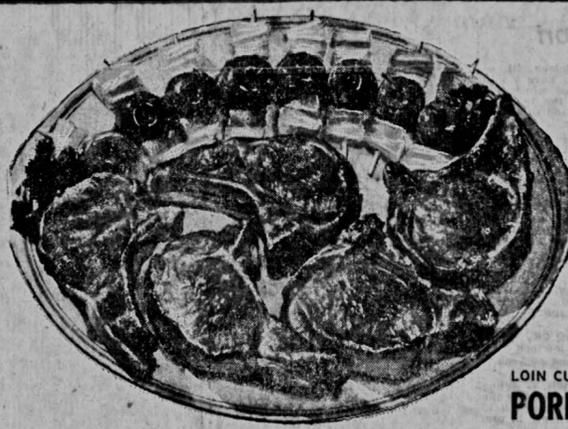

While he did not mention Viet Nam by name, Wirtz said, after his telephone conversation with Johnson, that overnight developments "in another part of the world" required a prompt settlement of the strike in the nation's interest.

HOWEVER, Thomas W. Gleason, president of the striking AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association, told newsmen he would not call off the strike unless disputes at Miami, Fla., and Galveston, Tex., are settled.

Gleason told the presidential committee: "If our country was in difficulty tomorrow, I would say the hell with the contract and the men would be back to work immediately."

Johnson, in calling for the hearing, said earlier that a continuation of the strike at other ports that have reached agreement is unjustified.

The strike has cost the nation's economy an estimated $6 billion.

Ringo Starr Gets Married; Yeah! Yeah! Yeah!

LONDON (AP)—Beatle drummer Ringo Starr married Thursday his home-town girl friend of three years — petite, quiet, black-haired Maureen Cox, 18.

They were wed in a civil ceremony at London's Caxton Hall by the superintendent registrar, Barry Digwood. Ringo, who is called that because of four rings he wears, gave his right name as Richard Starkey, and his age as 24. The ceremony took five minutes. He was the second of the four Beatles to marry.

Ringo and his bride, a hairdresser, whose real name is Mary Cox, left for a honeymoon at the seaside.

They went to the Brighton home of David Jacobs, a lawyer, about 50 miles south of London.

The Beatles' manager, Brian Epstein, also Ringo's best man, said the bridegroom had to be back in London on Monday for a recording session with the mop-haired quartet from Liverpool.

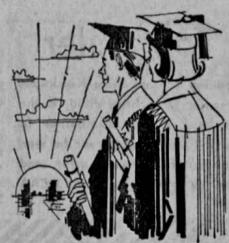

Two other Beatles, John Lennon and George Harrison, were at the wedding, as were the parents of both couples. Paul McCartney, the fourth Beatle, is on vacation.

U.S. Boxer Faces Lifetime Expulsion

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Willie Richardson faces lifetime banishment from boxing for attacking Roger Rischer with feet and fists just before they were to fight for the California heavyweight title.

Richardson of San Jose went berserk shortly after he and state champion Rischer were introduced to the Wednesday night crowd at the Oakland Auditorium.

The challenger's handlers claim Rischer provoked Richardson by calling him a punk as they climbed into the ring for their 12-round rematch. Rischer won a knockout verdict in the 11th round last year and Richardson has maintained he was kicked when he went down.

As referee Vern Bybee summoned the fighters for instructions, the challenger rushed out and kicked Rischer in the groin and followed up with more kicks and a looping overhand punch.

Minutes later, Richardson tried to renew the attack outside the ring. Ranking heavyweight Eddie Machen wrapped Rischer in a bear hug while Richardson was pinned to the floor by officers. Machen had been sitting near ringside.

Bybee said he planned to recommend the 25-year-old Richardson be suspended for life.

"He has been mixed up in too many disqualifications and is a detriment to boxing," the referee declared.

Coed Bowls Again To Defend Crown

by CARLA SCHUMANN
Staff Writer

The verbal Cassius Clay of the Iowa bowling and pocket billiards set is quick-witted, babbling Fran Feuer, a senior from Winnetka, Ill.

Winner of the Women's Intercollegiate Bowling Tournament in 1964, Fran describes herself as a loud bowler who never stops talking as she practices for tournaments. "I just start babbling and never give in until I lose my voice or win the tournament," Fran explained.

Fran's specialty is throwing verbal sarcasm while wielding her pool cue. She's had plenty of practice lately while preparing for this weekend's bowling, pocket billiards and table tennis tournament in Mankato, Minn.

Representing the U of I in bowling and pocket billiards, Fran enters the regional tournament with a 183 pin bowling average and a pocket billiards average that wouldn't do Minnesota Fats any harm.

The regional tournaments are sponsored by the Association of College Unions (ACU) of which the University is a member. There are 15 ACU regions, which include Hawaii, Japan, Canada and the U.S. mainland.

TEN U OF I students will compete in three sports offered at the regional tournaments. Fran is one of five coeds bowling for a position on the national tournament squad. The five females and five males with the highest bowling averages will qualify for the national tournaments and will represent the region composed of North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota and Iowa.

Fran must qualify at the regionals to be able to defend her national bowling title at the end of April in Portland, Ore. The only female competing in pocket billiards for the U of I, she must win the event to enter the national competition.

This is the first year at the regional tournaments Fran won't be facing another well-known name in intercollegiate bowling — B. J. Lawrence. Iowa switched regions this year, and no longer faces Kansas in ACU regional contests.

B.J. and Fran figured in the number one and two positions nationally since their freshman year in 1962. That year B.J. won the national bowling championship and Fran placed second. In 1963, B.J. placed second and Fran failed to qualify. "I had just finished beating mono and celebrated a little too much," she said.

LAST YEAR found Fran the titleholder with B.J. second. "I still can't believe it. I entered the tournament with a 172 pin average and averaged 197 pins per game at the tournament." Fran bowled six of her nine tournament matches with a 200 or better score.

In pocket billiards, B.J. beat Fran the last two years at the regional tournament to win the bid for the national contest. With B.J. in another conference this year, Fran hopes to represent the region in pocket billiards also. However, Fran said, "Since we're bowling in a new region, anything can happen!"

Fran's style may be cramped at the regional tournaments, since her brother Max, a graduate student, is on the men's bowling team and acts as unofficial chaperone for Fran.

She probably would have never picked up a bowling ball if it wasn't "the thing to do" at Skokie Junior High School, Skokie, Ill. "We had more substitutes than regulars in our league," she said.

WHILE A freshman at New Trier Community High School, Fran entered the Illinois State Junior Tournament and finished seventh in the girls division. "I bowled like my thumb was stuck. I felt out of place, since I was bowling with the boys league at New Trier," she said.

Hawkeyes To Face 3 Big Ten Foes in 6 Home Sports Tilts

Big Ten dual contests in track, fencing and wrestling are booked for the University of Iowa field house, beginning this afternoon and running through Saturday evening.

Hawkeye teams will compete in six events. As if this were not enough action, the finals of the state high school swimming meet are set for the pool Saturday at 1:30 p.m.

The busy fencers will start their swordsmanship today at 1 p.m. when they face Wisconsin and Michigan State. They will continue Saturday at 1 p.m. facing the Air Force Academy and at 3 p.m. against Kansas.

Wrestlers get into action Saturday at 3:30 p.m. opposing Northwestern and the track team from the same university faces the Hawkeyes at 7:30 p.m.

In addition, today's fencing has Wisconsin vs. Michigan State and Saturday the other meets are Michigan State vs. Air Force, Kansas vs. Wisconsin and Kansas vs. Michigan State.

TRACK (Saturday, 7:30 p.m.) — Iowa's sophomore-studded team disposed of Bradley with ease last week but Northwestern is another story. The Wildcats have beaten Chicago and DePaul Track club, but lost to Minnesota.

Coach Francis Cretzmeyer believes that Northwestern has its strongest team in several seasons and he predicts a meet which will be close all the way and that the winner will have a very slim point margin.

As many as five meet records might fall, including the mile relay to Iowa. Iowa's Steve Goldston could equal the 60-yard mark and Al Randolph could tie one or both of the hurdles records.

This meet program contains the additional indoor events: the 300, 600 and 1,000 yard runs which never have been contested in an Iowa-Northwestern dual affair, so the winning marks will establish meet records.

Among the tight personal duels may be the 440, with Iowa's Fred Ferree against Tom Thomas, the 880 with Iowa's Charles Thie facing Boydston; and the broad jump with Dick Gibbs of Iowa and Jim Proffitt.

WRESTLING (Saturday, 3:30 p.m.) Back in Big Ten competition with a 3-2 record, Iowa wrestlers will meet a heavy challenge from a good Northwestern team which has 2-1 in the league. The Wildcats have beaten Wisconsin and Purdue and lost to unbeaten Michigan.

Northwestern probably has better balance. Best of the Wildcats include Pete Beavers, 9-0-1 at 137 pounds; Rich Ruben, 4-2 at 157; Stu Marshall, 8-2-1 at 167; and Don Evans, 3-0 at 177.

Coach Dave McCuskey will have this lineup: Tom Bowman, 3-4-1, 123; Bill Fuller, 3-4-1, 130; Bob Rausenberger, 5-2, 137; Ray Davis, 0-3-1, 147; Wilbur Devine, 3-2-1, 157; Dennis Wegner, 1-4-2, 167; Tom Fennelly, 1-4-2, 177; and Roger Schilling, 4-3-1, heavyweight.

FENCING (Today, 1 p.m., Saturday 1 p.m. and 3 p.m.) Iowa takes a 3-1 record into its big weekend competition when the Hawkeyes will face Wisconsin and Michigan State as today's opponents and Kansas and Air Force Academy Saturday.

Hawkeyes have beaten Indiana, Indiana Tech and University of Illinois at Chicago but lost to Notre Dame. Wisconsin has a 7-6 mark and Michigan State, 3-1.

Among the better Hawkeyes are Mike Kinsinger and Orville Townsend, foil; Bernhardt Hermann and Bill Tucker, epee; and Karlin Ryan and Dick Adams, sabre.

Schellhase Closes In On Cazzie's Scoring Lead

CHICAGO (AP) — Michigan's top-ranked Wolverines are more than holding their own in the Big Ten basketball race, but their sharp-shooting Cazzie Russell is being overhauled in the individual scoring scrap.

Once holding a wide margin, Russell now stands only 1.1 points ahead of Dave Schellhase of Purdue, official league statistics showed Thursday.

Russell's six-game conference average is 28.3, compared with Schellhase's six-game pace of 25.7.

Also closing in on Cazzie is Illinois' Skip Thoren with a six-game average of 24. Thoren is well in front as best Big Ten rebounder with 17.2 retrieves per game. Closest is Minnesota's Mel Northway with 13.7.

The important Illinois at Minnesota game Saturday afternoon matches the top conference defensive team — Minnesota with a 72.5-point average yield — against the second best offensive club — the Illini with an 88.8 per game production.

Illinois and Minnesota are tied for second, each with 5-1 league record.

Pacesetter Michigan, 6-0, leads offensively with an 94 points per game average.

Iowa's Chris Pervall ranks sixth in individual scoring with a 21.4 average for seven games.

Fight Plans Changed Because Of Upset Stomach

PANAMA CITY (AP) — Carlos Ortiz' defense of his world lightweight boxing title, scheduled for Saturday, was postponed Thursday until the champion recovers from an upset stomach.

Four doctors reserved their diagnosis of the 28-year-old champion's ailment until after further tests. Ortiz's manager, Bill Daly, said the boxer definitely would not fight Ismael Laguna of Panama as scheduled.

Tulsa Upsets Drake

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Tulsa rolled to a 67-48 victory over Drake here Thursday night and moved up to fifth place in the Missouri Valley Conference basketball race.

Tulsa vaulted to a 21-7 lead early in the first half and Drake never recovered. Bob Fedorko led a Tulsa scoring spurt in the second half which put the Hurricane out front 51-32.

John Lauritzen wanted further knowledge

He's finding it at Western Electric

When the University of Nevada awarded John Lauritzen his B.S.E.E. in 1961, it was only the first big step in the learning program he envisions for himself. This led him to Western Electric. For WE agrees that ever-increasing knowledge is essential to the development of its engineers—and is helping John in furthering his education.

John attended one of Western Electric's three Graduate Engineering Training Centers and graduated with honors. Now, through the Company-paid Tuition Refund Plan, John is working toward his Master's in Industrial Management at Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute. He is currently a planning engineer developing test equipment for the Bell System's revolutionary electronic telephone switching system.

If you set the highest standards for yourself, both educationally and professionally, we should talk. Western Electric's vast communications job as manufacturing unit of the Bell System provides many opportunities for fast-moving careers for electrical, mechanical and industrial engineers, as well as for physical science, liberal arts and business majors. Get your copy of the Western Electric Career Opportunities booklet from your Placement Officer. And be sure to arrange for an interview when the Bell System recruiting team visits your campus.

Radio Courses To Be Offered

The University of Iowa will extend one of its two radio credit courses to include the Des Moines area for the first time this semester.

The course, "Comparative Education," will be heard twice a week beginning Feb. 23 over KDPS-FM, Des Moines, and WSUI, the University's radio station. The lectures will be heard twice on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 10 a.m. and 7 p.m. on both stations.

A SECOND COURSE, "History of Latin America," will be heard only over WSUI, beginning Monday. This course, a continuation of a course taught last fall by Charles Gibson, head of the University's History Department, will be broadcast Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings at 10 o'clock.

Gordon Wasinger, assistant director of the Bureau of Instructional Services, pointed out that this is the first time that a Des Moines radio station has carried a University credit course. The new program will now make it possible for radio listeners in both central and eastern Iowa to earn college credit.

"Comparative Education" is a new radio course to be taught by Robert Belding, associate professor of education. The lectures will present an overview of contemporary educational systems, pointing out the similarities and contrasts between educational policies and plans in the United States and other countries. Particular attention will be focused on education in England, Germany, Russia, Japan, France, and selected Latin American countries.

Belding traveled and studied throughout Europe. He holds the Diplôme d'Etudes from the University of Paris and, in 1956, was a member of a school study team visiting European schools under the sponsorship of the Comparative Education Society.

Gibson's course will consist of a series of his class lectures on Latin American history. The course will examine the political, economic and social history of Latin American republics in the 19th and 20th centuries. Gibson is the author of "The Aztecs Under Spanish Rule."

LISTENERS enrolled in both courses will be required to listen to approximately 38 classroom lectures and attend three seminars. Des Moines area residents enrolled in the "Comparative Education" course on KDPS-FM will attend seminars in North High School, Des Moines. Those enrolled in courses offered over WSUI will attend seminars at the University. The fee for each course is $51, or $17 per semester hour. Enrollment forms and further information may be obtained from the Bureau of Instructional Services, Division of Extension and University Services, University of Iowa, Iowa City.

Cedar Rapids Talk Set By Rhena Schweitzer

Rhena Schweitzer Eckert, daughter of Nobel Prize-winner Dr. Albert Schweitzer, will speak in Cedar Rapids Monday evening at 7:30 in the Peoples Unitarian Church, 600 Third Ave., S.E.

Mrs. Eckert will present a new documentary film, "The Living Work of Albert Schweitzer," which she collaborated in making with Viennese-American photographer Erica Anderson. Mrs. Anderson won the 1957 Academy Award for documentaries for her film biography, "Albert Schweitzer."

Mrs. Eckert, who has four children and two grandchildren, makes her home in Zurich, Switzerland, and spends six months each year directing her father's hospital laboratory in Lambarene, Africa. An accomplished linguist and a technician, she has lectured in Europe, the United States, South America and Japan.

Two physicians of the University of Iowa who have studied under her world-renowned father are Hans Zellweger, professor of pediatrics, and Dr. Dale H. Weber, a June '64 graduate of the University and presently an intern at Broadhams Co. Hospital in Des Moines.

Following the film and lecture, there will be a reception in the social room of the church. Tickets are 90 cents and will be sold at the door. Proceeds are to go to the Lambarene hospital.

Civil Engineer To Speak Here On Water Studies

Enos J. Carlson, a civil engineer who pioneered in the field of sediment hydraulics, will deliver two talks here, Feb. 24.

He will address the American Society of Civil Engineers' student chapter at 1:30 p.m. in 202 Engineering Building on "The Bureau of Reclamation — Engineering in the West."

At 4 p.m. Carlson will speak on "Sediment and Ground Water Studies, Hydraulic Laboratory, Bureau of Reclamation" in the Hydraulics Laboratory.

The speaker is head of Sediment Investigations in the Bureau of Reclamation's Hydraulics Branch. He compiled the Bureau's first printing of the "Manual for Measurement of Irrigation Water."

Langley Remains On Increased Alert

LANGLEY AIR FORCE BASE, Va. — The Tactical Air Command has been on an increased alert since Sunday as a result of actions in Viet Nam.

A TAC spokesman said Thursday that because of security considerations, he could not "provide the actual status of the alert or identify specific units involved."

But in answer to a query he said: "In view of the recent developments in Southeast Asia, units of the Tactical Air Command were placed on an increased alert."

Schools' Purchase of Uniforms Okay by Senate
 DES MOINES — The Iowa Senate voted Thursday to allow schools to help buy band uniforms, raise the mileage pay of public employees and delay the date that Supreme Court judges must move to Des Moines.
 All measures passed in an abbreviated session now go to the House.
 The Senate adjourned at mid-afternoon, about two hours earlier than usual as snow piled up outside. However, it was scheduled to reconvene at 9 a.m. Friday.

Regents —

dent housing (MSH) rent is as follows (with the present rates):

Hawkeye Apartments, including heating and water — $100 ($83.50); Parklawn, including water only — $70 ($65) for efficiency units; $85 ($75) for one-bedroom; barracks and quonset apartments including heat, electricity and water — $66.50 ($62.50). The rent proposed for the future Hawkeye Apartments approved Thursday will be $95 a month, with water furnished.

Mrs. Robert Lubetkin, Regent from Des Moines, did not question the rent hike, but she opposed doubling Hawkeye addition plans.

Mrs. Lubetkin suggested the University build only some 200 units and encourage private enterprise to build the rest of the need. She said she fears building 500 apartment units will "shut private enterprise out."

Bowen estimated over 700 new apartment units for married couples, both students and new faculty, will be required each year by the University. He said he has been trying for some time to interest private enterprise in building more apartments in Iowa City, but they are not building fast enough to fill present needs. Bowen said raising rents should put them in line with rent charged in Iowa City; and this should encourage more private developers to build.

BOWEN stressed that building the new Hawkeye Apartments would not complete University action on housing. No barracks will be torn down, he said, until some other type of low cost housing is built to replace them.

"Although they don't look very good, barracks are useful and inexpensive," Bowen said. Several universities have attempted to build this type of low cost housing and failed, the president said, calling $75 a month the maximum for "cheap" housing.

"There are 656 families now living in barracks," Bowen said. "Many couldn't afford anything more expensive."

The president estimated there will be 600 more professional and advanced students on campus next fall and pointed out the crowded conditions already existing.

"I want Iowa to be a great university," Bowen said. "This just can't be done unless you can house the people who will make it great."

In other University business, the Regents approved the sale of $2.4 million in bonds to finance the Quadrangle dormitory addition. Contracts for the dorm are scheduled to be awarded today.

Boyd—

naive — out of the mainstream of the struggle."

AS A SIDENOTE to his comment about the commitment of the civil rights workers, Boyd said he found university faculty members one of the sickest groups today.

"Faculty members are almost in a condition of utter despair," he said. "There are too many students, the tenure problem is tremendous and the universities are essentially working for government and big business today."

Boyd said he was in Mississippi when many Northern groups were sending food and clothing to Negro families for the Christmas season.

"IN SOME instances there was almost anger at the whites over the goods," he said. "The whites cleaned out their attics and had an orgasm of good will, but why didn't they send a dollar so that a man could feel like a man?"

Boyd took the church — the clergy and the laity — to task on the civil rights struggle.

"The Negro Christian is almost going out of his mind," he said. "The paternalism oozes out of white Christians but the internal body of the church remains a totally segregated."

BOYD SAID he avoids "moralizing." He prefers either the straight factual approach in his writing and speaking, or else at the other extreme, satire.

"Nobody's interested in hearing someone moralize," he said. "I'm not."

City Zoning Unit

Will Stand Firm

On High-Rise Plan

The Iowa City Planning and Zoning Commission met in the Civic Center Thursday and decided to stick with its original recommendations for high-rise buildings in Iowa City.

The commission considered several City Council suggestions dealing with the proposed high-rise ordinance. The council preferred that the "buffer" zone between high-rise buildings and single-family dwellings be reduced from the recommended 200 feet to 150 feet.

The council also wanted to eliminate the requirement for a front, rear and side yard around high-rise buildings.

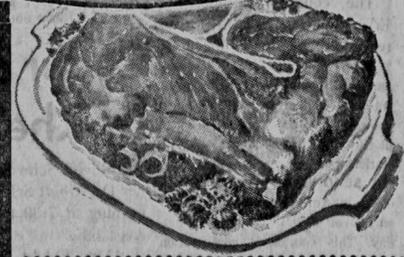

Planning and Zoning Committee members suggested that if their recommendations were not satisfactory to the council, a joint meeting of the two bodies should be held to discuss the problem.
