

Student Senate Votes NSA Affiliation

6-Month Trial Membership Is Adopted, 18-2

The Student Senate voted 18 to 2 Tuesday night to reaffiliate with the National Student Association (NSA). The decision came after Pres. Wally Snyder, LI, Belle Plaine, recommended the move.

Snyder said, "I think that we have nothing to lose and a great deal to gain by joining the NSA."

He emphasized that the Senate would be taking out a six-month "trial membership" since the new Senate could decide in October whether to continue in NSA. NSA dues are payable again at that time.

"NSA is really going to have to prove its usefulness to the University in that six months period," Snyder said.

The chairman of the National Supervising Board of the NSA, Jim Johnson from the University of Minnesota, and an NSA opponent, Tom Huston, member of the National Stop-NSA Committee, both spoke to the Senate before the vote.

Snyder estimated the cost of joining the NSA at $450 a year. This includes national and regional dues, and expenses of sending two delegates to the NSA convention.

Johnson, answering questions raised at the last Student Senate meeting, admitted that the national NSA congress "has sometimes been overly political."

"At this coming congress," Johnson said, regarding the summer meeting, "the whole first week will be spent dealing directly with the problems that you as a student government are most concerned with."

Johnson said NSA services, such as counseling and information, are now available only to member schools. Previously nonmember schools could purchase such services. Other programs, such as student discount cards are cheaper for students at member schools, he said.

Huston, who was brought here by the Young Americans for Freedom, a national conservative organization, charged that the NSA was becoming a regional organization for East Coast schools, that its dues were too high, and that it was taking political stands "misrepresenting the American student opinion."

The University has previously been a member of NSA. It withdrew in 1961, and two attempts to reaffiliate since then have failed.

Telegram Protests Selma Brutality

A telegram asking for the protection of citizens of Selma, Alabama, was sent from Iowa City Tuesday. It also protested recent police brutality to Negroes there.

A copy of the telegram was sent to President Johnson, Gov. Wallace of Alabama, U.S. Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach, and the senators and representatives from Iowa.

It carried the names of more than 40 ministers and other citizens of Iowa City. The telegram asked that all the power and influence available be used to assure the safety and constitutional rights of the citizens of Selma.

The telegram was proposed by the Rev. Roger Simpson, campus minister for Westminster Foundation, at a meeting of the Iowa City Association of Religious Leaders Tuesday morning. The association asked concerned citizens of Iowa City to sign the telegram.

The Rev. James Davison, First Baptist Church, said that no further action was taken because the group had heard that an injunction was issued barring the planned march on Montgomery, Ala. He said there was not time to send ministers from here for the march.

The Rev. John Kress, campus minister for Canterbury Club, said, "It would be wise in the future to draw up a program as to what we would do if the situation ever came up again."

Kress said that a group from Iowa City should not go unless there was a direct request from a responsible group involved. Ministers who went unprepared, he said, would only clutter up the place.

The Rev. John Craig, Congregational Church, said, "I am heartily in favor of this action, but there are other things that we might be able to do to go beyond this."

Across the Nation

PRESIDENT JOHNSON SIGNED the $1.1-billion Appalachian aid bill Tuesday and said "this legislation marks the end of partisan cynicism toward wants and misery."

"The dole is dead," Johnson said. "The pork barrel is gone. Federal and state, liberal and conservative, Democratic and Republican, Americans of these times are concerned with the outcome of the next generation, not the next election. That is what the provisions of this legislation clearly reflect."

Johnson signed the legislation in a ceremony in the White House flower garden attended by several governors from Appalachian states and a large congressional delegation.

The bill does not actually appropriate the $1.1 billion to aid the mountainous, economically depressed 11-state area which extends from northern Pennsylvania to Alabama. It authorizes the program. A separate money bill will be submitted.

Selma Troopers Halt Rights Hike

JUDGE FRANK M. JOHNSON JR. Issues Order Against March

King Defies Court; LBJ Plans Vote Law

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — State troopers Tuesday quietly turned back a massive right-to-vote march led by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., who had begun the pilgrimage to Alabama's capital in defiance of a federal court ruling, and a plea by President Johnson.

In Washington Tuesday night, Johnson deplored brutality against Alabama Negroes which occurred during a similar march Sunday, and said the best legal talent in the Federal Government is engaged in preparing legislation which will secure the right to vote for every American.

Johnson said he expected to dispatch to Congress special legislation which will "make it possible for every citizen to vote."

A tension-filled meeting between King and his column of marchers — stretching for three-quarters of a mile — and the grim, helmeted troopers cut short the attempted renewal of the highway trek Tuesday afternoon.

KING HAD vowed: "I must march."

After Tuesday's attempt, plans were announced for a march today on the Dallas County Courthouse here, and King vowed "we still will march on Montgomery next week." He invited all the out-of-state participants to return next week.

The march he made Tuesday brought him face to face with a stern Maj. John Cloud, commanding a force of more than 100 blue-helmeted troopers, armed with billy clubs. Five hundred troopers had poured into Selma in advance of the march.

"This march is not conducive to the safety of those using the highways," said Cloud. He spoke as he stood at the head of a line of troopers massed across the pavement. He ordered the marchers to return to their church.

WHEN KING tried to discuss the matter, Cloud replied that he had nothing more to say "except that the march will not continue."

"Can we have a prayer?" asked King. "We would like to have a prayer. We have some of the greatest religious leaders of the nation here."

"You can have your prayer and then return to the church," said Cloud. His troopers fell back away from the marchers as they knelt in clusters stretching in a long, uneven line for nearly one mile.

Then King told the hundreds of Negroes and scores of white religious leaders, some from as far away as New York, Boston and Washington, D.C., to turn back. The procession swung around. King was at the head of the column.

The Rev. James Bevel, a Mississippi-born staff member of King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference pledged that the march to Montgomery would be attempted again. He did not say when.

FIRST HALTING the marchers at the approach to a river bridge was Chief Deputy U.S. Marshal H. Stanley Fountain of Mobile. Using a portable loudspeaker, Fountain read the order by U.S. Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. of Montgomery banning the demonstration.

"I was directed to read the order," Fountain told King. "We will not interfere with the movement."

King replied: "We are aware of the court order."

"I will do nothing to interfere with this march," said Fountain. He then stepped aside. King led the march slowly across the steel arch of the Edmund Pettus Bridge, spanning the muddy Alabama at the edge of the Selma business district.

On the four-laned bridge stood Sheriff James G. Clark. He wore sunglasses and a business suit. He warned that only newsmen with a press card from his office could go across the bridge. Several newsmen were turned back.

CROSSING THE bridge, King's procession moved about 200 yards and then faced the line of state troopers drawn across the highway.

The trooper major spoke through a loudspeaker and commanded: "You are ordered to stop. Stand where you are. This march will not continue."

"We have a right to walk," protested King. "There is also a right to march to Montgomery."

This took place at almost the same spot where state troopers beat back an attempted highway march Sunday with clubs and tear gas.

Negro leaders had decided in advance, King said, that there would be no attempt to penetrate the line of troopers Tuesday.

"That would be violence and this is a nonviolent movement," he said.

Judge Johnson had ordered a halt to the Tuesday Montgomery march "until the matter can be judicially determined." He set a Thursday hearing on the petition of three Negro leaders for an order barring state and local police from interfering with demonstrations.

BASIC STEEL LABOR NEGOTIATIONS resumed Tuesday in Pittsburgh after a two-month recess, with the companies still pressing for a contract extension and the union still refusing one.

David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers union, told newsmen that each company made a similar plea as the 11 separate meetings started.

"We gave them the same old 'premature' answer. It's the same general pitch. They've been talking about it for years," McDonald said.

The companies, citing the threat of foreign competition as long as there is uncertainty in the domestic industry, had three times before asked for an extension of the May 1 strike deadline. Each time the union has said such talk is premature.

Imports have risen sharply in recent months as domestic users, unable to get enough steel from overtaxed American mills, turned to foreign markets to build up their inventories.

A GROUP OF U.S. MARINES SLUNG RIFLES Tuesday night and joined a Vietnamese ranger unit on patrol west of this strategic airbase to guard against Viet Cong infiltration.

The first scouting mission by the newly landed Leathernecks was launched from Hill 327, a dominating feature three miles from the base, which was taken over today by I Company of the 3rd Marine Battalion.

The rangers, veterans of such night work, led the way.

A primary aim is to keep the Red guerrillas out of mortar range of the base, where two battalions of Marines are reinforcing defenses of the runways and squadrons of U.S. jet planes, Hawk antiaircraft missiles and Vietnamese Skyraiders.

110 Rights Demonstrators Suspension Lifted at K.U.

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Chancellor W. Clarke Wescoe lifted the suspension of 110 University of Kansas students Tuesday less than 24 hours after they were arrested for disturbing the peace in civil rights demonstrations.

He outlined four areas in which the university will try to meet the demands of a campus group called the Civil Rights Council.

The council presented seven demands to Dr. Wescoe Monday, charging discrimination by fraternities, sororities and off-campus housing.

Nate Sims, 22-year-old physical education major from Pasadena, Calif., and one of the council's leaders, said:

"Until further notice, we will disperse the protest demonstration."

About 350 students gathered in front of Strong Hall, the university's administration building, were addressed by Dr. Wescoe and broke up after Sims' announcement.

The chancellor said the campus housing list will be revised, and that he asked the dean of the School of Education to review its student teaching policies so "there is no discriminatory practice with whom we deal."

The demonstrators had asked that the school not assign any student teachers to school that practice racial discrimination.

Another complaint by the demonstrators was that the Daily Kansan, the university's daily newspaper, advertised housing that was not open to Negroes.

The chancellor said he will ask the board of the Kansas and the student council to work on this.

Earlier in the day, the chancellor and the student council approved a "human rights bill" satisfying another demand of the civil rights council.

Check Forgery Reported

Richard L. Nading, A1, Randallia, reported to Iowa City police Tuesday evening that someone had forged his signature on a check cashed at Whetstone's on March 6.

Nading said he did not yet know how large the check was. The check was written against the Iowa State Bank and Trust Company.

Nading said his student identification was used to cash the check. He lost his identification about a week ago, he said.

Nading became aware of the forged check when he attempted to cash a check at Whetstone's and was refused because of a returned check. He does not have an account at Iowa State Bank and Trust.

Carnival Will Provide Many Tension-Easers

If you are inhibited and wish to relieve those midterm tensions, Campus Carnival invites you to slug it out with an automobile.

Sledge hammers are provided for you; the car has to find its own weapons.

YOU CAN ALSO try your skill at dunking another student, have your date arrested and tried by a kangaroo court or throw pastry at a human target.

Just about anything a harried student could wish to do will be offered at the Campus Carnival from 7 to 12 p.m. April 23, in the Fieldhouse.

Applications for organizations to participate in the Carnival, which is sponsored by Spring Festival, are still available in the Office of Student Affairs, University Hall, but must be turned in before 4 p.m. Friday.

"Campus Carnival provides an opportunity for all organizations to use their originality to raise money for themselves," said Kathy Varney, A4, Kewanee, Ill., co-chairman of the event.

THE PROFITS from the 10 cent fee at each booth will go to the sponsoring group.

An All-Participation Trophy will be awarded to the group that has the most total points in a contest sponsored by Campus Carnival, Miss Varney said.

Each 25-cent general admission ticket sold in advance will be awarded two points, a bonus of 50 points will be given to the group selling the most advance tickets, the best publicity stunt will be awarded 50 points, and the entry with the most originality, quality, personal appearance and design will be awarded 500 points.

Trophies will also be given to the concessions, game and show group with the most points.

THE ALL-PAR trophy will be displayed in Bremer's Clothing Store until Sunday. The other trophies will be shown in the Union.

Judging will be done by faculty members.

The entrants will be provided with the basic materials to build their booths.

"We give them a framework and they decorate it however they want," Neill Luebke, A4, Omaha, Neb., co-chairman said.

If any duplication of entries arises, the first entry will be honored, said Luebke. No more than two groups may participate in one entry, and no group may participate in more than one entry.

U.S. Policy In Viet Nam To Be Viewed

A professor who was falsely implicated in a plot to overthrow the Diem regime will be the opening speaker at a weekend symposium on U.S. Policy in South Viet Nam.

The symposium will be held in Shambaugh Auditorium at 8 p.m. Friday and at 10 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. Saturday.

The professor, Stanley Millet of Briarcliffe College in New York, spent the 1961-62 academic year at the University of Saigon. He is critical of U.S. policy in southeast Asia.

Prof. Millet will speak Friday on "United States Policy in South Vietnam: A Critique."

George Ginsburgs, assistant professor of political science, and Al-an Spitzer, assistant professor of history, will also discuss the Viet Nam situation.

David Morgan Bane, a U.S. foreign service officer, will respond to Millet, at the request of the State Department. His topic is "Washington's Position: White Paper." Bane will speak Saturday morning.

The white paper was recently released by the State Department to explain U.S. policy in Vietnam.

Bane is at the University to discuss foreign policy, to gain an understanding of citizens' attitudes toward foreign issues and for study.

Gerald Maryanov, professor of political science, and Dee W. Norton, associate professor of education and psychology, will join Bane for a discussion.

"Alternatives" will be the subject of Saturday afternoon's session. Bane, Millet and others will participate.

The symposium is sponsored by the Iowa City Consensus on International Affairs (CIA), the Political Science Department and the History Department.

CIA was organized three years ago to study international problems.

Guest Lecturer To Present Two Papers Friday

Dr. John Ross, senior lecturer in psychology at the University of Western Australia, will be in Iowa City Friday to discuss two of his papers with the Graduate Psychology Club.

The first lecture will be at 10:30 a.m. in E105 East Hall. Ross will speak on "The Use of Computers by Behavioral Scientists."

He will discuss "Proximity Analysis as a Tool in Studies of Complex Behavior" at 8 p.m. in E104 East Hall.

A coffee hour has been planned following Dr. Ross' evening address. The details of a party to follow the coffee hour will be posted on the Psychology Department bulletin board.

Any student in the Graduate College or in the Colleges of Medicine, Law, or Dentistry may apply. Application blanks may be picked up at any of the colleges or at the Union South Information Desk.

Completion Date Set for Crossings Over Reservoir

A project to raise two existing Johnson County roadway crossings at the Coralville Reservoir is expected to be completed by Sept. 30, according to the Rock Island District, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

Bids will open at 2 p.m. April 20. Small businesses only will be allowed to bid on the project as part of a government program to provide work for small firms.

Johnson County Road "O," the first county road crossing the Coralville Reservoir west of Highway 218, will be constructed to the floor elevation of the Iowa River bridge.

Sandy Creek roadway crossing, located east of the Sandy Beach Public Use Area on the north side of the reservoir, will be constructed to elevation 692 and widened to 30 feet to provide a safer and higher crossing of the reservoir.

BOTTOMS UP HAT—

LONDON (AP)—A British hat designer, celebrating her 25 years in the hat business, fashioned a lid for millady Tuesday out of the bottom of an old-fashioned wicker chair and a snip of ribbon. The bottoms up hat was a feature of Madame Vernier's spring collection.

The production is scheduled for April 28, 29, 30, and May 1. Scripts are available at the theatre.

Tickets for "Four New Playwrights," the Studio Theatre production opening March 17, are now available in the Union East Lobby. Cost is $1 or student ID.

Critics Laud Iowa Group

Music critics of two Washington, D.C., newspapers gave glowing praise last week to the Iowa String Quartet following the group's second concert of a series of four programs being presented this semester at the Phillips Collection in the nation's capital.

In the Washington Evening Star, Donald M. McCorkle described the Iowa musicians' performance as "very near perfection." Members of the quartet, all of whom are on the University School of Music faculty, are Allen Ohmes and John Ferrell, violins; William Preucil, viola, and Joel Krosnick, cello.

McCorkle continued: "These four players played a brilliant performance of an extremely formidable program of Mozart, Berg and Mendelssohn. Their playing was so secure and superb that one was able to concentrate entirely on the compositions themselves, rather than on the players' techniques, which often obscure the music."

Referring to the E Minor Quartet by Mendelssohn, McCorkle said, "As with the rest of the program, this was magnificently performed, with each part perfectly blended and full-bodied, and the broad contours and details excellently sculpted."

"The Iowa String Quartet played with superb precision, warmth and artistry, and leaves little doubt that it is among the very first rank of American University string quartets," Charles Crowder said in the Washington Post: "The impression that the Iowa String Quartet is coming close to being one of the best ensembles around today was reinforced yesterday afternoon at the Phillips Gallery."

"Their greatest potential at this moment is that they can be free agents in an over-all sound that is well balanced, blended and projected. Mozart's A Major K. 464 Quartet breathed with a delicate freshness held precisely in the nuances of phrase endings of the individual players. They are not afraid to let Mozart stray from a metronomic pulse, and it is a joy to hear."

"Mendelssohn's E Minor Quartet from Op. 44 was a fine showcase for the group. It sparkled and sang in the right places. The Andante was a high point in the afternoon."

The Quartet gave the same program at the University Feb. 17, in Muscatine Jan. 31 and in Des Moines Feb. 20. Their next concerts in these cities will be given Mar. 21 in Muscatine, March 26 in Des Moines, and Mar. 31 in Iowa City.

The series of concerts in Washington, D.C., by the Quartet has been made possible by a grant from the Old Gold Development Fund, the University alumni fund.

AWS Symposium—

Two Physicians To Discuss Challenge of Leisure Time

A three-day symposium on "The Challenge of Leisure Time," sponsored by the Associated Women Students (AWS) will feature as guest lecturers Dr. Thomas Green of Syracuse University and Dr. Peter Martin, chairman of the American Psychiatric Association Committee on Leisure Time and Its Uses.

MARTIN GREEN

The symposium of lectures, panel discussions and seminars will be held Thursday through Saturday.

Dr. Green, a native of Lincoln, Neb., received his Ph.D. in philosophy from Cornell University. He has taught English and social science at the School of Mines and Technology at Rapid City, S.D., and was an assistant professor of humanities at Michigan State University.

The educator has related his major interests, existentialism and theology, in a series of lectures titled "Work, Leisure and the Structure of Hope" which will soon be published in book form.

THE SYMPOSIUM will open at 8 p.m. Thursday with a lecture in Macbride Auditorium on "The Existential Theater and Leisure." A cast of students will present a cutting from the play "Death Watch" by Jean Genet.

Dr. Green will present the topic

THERE WILL BE small group seminars in various housing units beginning at 9:30 p.m. Friday. These seminars will be open to the public and will be held at Kate Daum and Clara Daley Houses, Burge Hall; Alpha Delta Pi sorority, 111 E. Bloomington St.; Sigma Nu fraternity, 630 N. Dubuque St.; and Sigma Pi fraternity, 707 N. Dubuque St.

The topic "Morality and Leisure" will be discussed at 2:30 p.m. Saturday in the lounge of the Wesley Foundation.

THE SYMPOSIUM will close with a lecture on "The Challenge of Leisure" at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in the Union Main Lounge.

Following the lecture, there will be seminars beginning at 9:30 p.m. at the Gamma Phi Beta sorority, 328 N. Clinton St.; Beth Wellman House, Burge Hall; Phi Delta Theta fraternity, 729 N. Dubuque St.; Delta Zeta sorority, 322 N. Clinton St.; and Currier Hall.

Dr. Martin has published numerous articles on the problems of identity in psychiatric journals and has written several pamphlets on mental health for the World Health Organization (WHO).

He is now the clinical professor of psychiatry at Wayne State University College of Medicine and is also serving as chairman of the State of Michigan Advisory Council on Mental Health Services.

IN OUR WINDOWS — FRIDAY

House Ad

The kind of house it is, what goes on inside . . . and why you might want to move in with us

Our company may have something in common with the house you see here—roomy, very American, sort of folksy looking from the outside—but comfortable and a good place to grow in, with all the modern conveniences.

If you've been thinking about advertising, either in a hell-bent sort of way or an "I wonder if I shouldn't" sort of way, here are a few things you should know about advertising and, we think, about us.

What advertising is not:

It's not a cushy job. It's not all glamor, beautiful receptionists, and gibsons for breakfast, lunch and dinner. It's not a dreamer's paradise. So much for the big myth.

What Burnett Advertising is:

It's hard work. It's an opportunity in business adventure—not comfortable, desk-bound security.

Famed Violinist At SCI Meet

JOSEF GINGOLD
Violin Professor

200 Iowa Students To Hear Gingold

Josef Gingold, a nationally recognized violinist, will make his fourth appearance at the State College of Iowa Saturday during the 10th annual Tallcorn Conference in Cedar Falls.

Gingold, a former concert master of the Detroit, Cleveland, and National Broadcasting Corporation Symphony Orchestras, and currently a professor of violin at Indiana University, will work with the expected 200 Iowa high school students.

The conference is sponsored by the SCI music department and will feature students from 11 Iowa high schools, including Iowa City. The Iowa City High School Orchestra, directed by Arthur Hill, will present a concert at 1:30 p.m. Saturday in the Music Hall on the SCI campus.

James Welch, orchestra director at the Price Laboratory School and president of the Iowa American String Teachers Association, will conduct the massed string orchestra.

The evening concert, open to the public, will be at 7 p.m. in the Music Hall. It will include numbers by the SCI Symphony Orchestra conducted by Dr. Myron E. Russell, head of the Department of Music, a recital by Gingold, and numbers by the massed high school string orchestra.

Solo and ensemble auditions, string orchestra rehearsals, and teacher discussion sessions will be held during the day.

Frank W. Hill, associate professor of music at SCI, is director of the conference, the fourth in a series. Previous clinics were on stage bands, concert bands, and choral music and piano.

Woodrow W. Morris, associate dean of the College of Medicine and director of the Institute of Gerontology, will be chairman of the two-day conference.

Guest participants include Dr. Jacob H. Friedman, chief of the neuropsychiatric service of the Misericordia-Fordham Affiliation (Fordham Hospital), Bronx, N.Y.; Ethel Shanas, research associate professor in sociology and member of the Committee on Human Development at the University of Chicago; Wendell M. Swanson, assistant professor of clinical psychology in the Graduate School of Medicine at the University of Minnesota, Rochester; and Dr. Jack Weinberg, clinical director of the Illinois State Psychiatric Institute, Chicago.

Another guest participant will be Samuel Levey, administrator of the Division of Adult Health, Nursing Home Section of the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, Boston. Dr. Levey received a Ph.D. in Hospital and Health Administration from the University of Iowa in 1961.

Bowen Relates U.S. Economy To Education

DES MOINES — "Education provides the motive power for a dynamic economy," Dr. Howard Bowen Tuesday told members of the Midwest Gas Association.

The University of Iowa president said the number of professional and technical jobs in the American work force will increase by 40 per cent this decade.

He noted that the number of unskilled jobs will diminish, while those requiring a high degree of vocational skill and general education will increase.

While emphasizing that education makes economic growth possible, Bowen pointed out that in the United States the total expenditures for both public and private education amount only to about 1.3 per cent of the gross national product — the value of all goods and services produced in the country.

The expenditures represent less than 5 per cent of all public expenditures, he said. "As a people, we spend more for tobacco than for higher education, about twice as much for liquor as for higher education and about three times as much for recreation," Bowen said.

Citing 1960 data, which he said are approximately valid for the past year too, Bowen said expenditures for higher education were $6.6 billion while Americans bought $9.8 billion worth of alcoholic beverages (not counting liquor by the drink), paid out $7.3 billion for tobacco, and spent $19.5 billion for recreation — all in a year in which the gross national product reached $502.6 billion.

"I am not here arguing against sin," he said, "I am only pointing out that we allow ourselves many trivial expenditures while denying ourselves an enormously productive investment in our young people in the form of the needed development and enrichment of colleges and universities."

Bowen said higher education is expected to provide the foundation of economic growth and national power, the training of technical and professional personnel, the source of future leaders and citizens, the cradle of philosophers, and a patron of the arts, and a promoter of sports. He asserted that to get these jobs done takes more than 1.3 per cent of the gross national product.

The U of I president stressed that economic growth involves the full development of the human personality. It requires not only vocational skills but also enrichment of values, aspirations, imagination, investiveness, foresight, and the capacity to function in groups, he said.

Education, he said, should be concerned primarily with personal character and citizenship.

Cadets Given Rifle Awards

Iowa Intercollegiate Rifle Awards were presented to seven Army ROTC cadets Monday.

The awards honor cadets who placed high in the standings for teams from Iowa State University and Iowa.

Those who placed in the first match, held Dec. 5, are William L. Kehe, E4, Iowa City, first place kneeling position, and Norman P. Briggs, A2, Los Angeles, second place standing position.

Cadets honored for placing in the second match, held Jan. 9, are: Bruce J. Kienappel, A3, Carroll, first place prone position, second place standing position, and fourth place in aggregate points; Robert E. Sheriff, A3, Chicago, third place kneeling position; and Donald R. McCabe, A1, Mount Pleasant, fourth place prone position.

Those who placed in the third match, held Feb. 6, are: William J. Hierstein, A2, Burlington, first place prone position; Norman P. Briggs, A2, Los Angeles, third place standing position; and James E. Park, E3, Cedar Rapids, fourth place kneeling position and third place in aggregate points.

Politicians Give Platforms

Wide Range Of Programs Get Backing

The candidates for Student Senate president and vice president have released their platforms, both slates promising new programs to meet the needs of U of I students.

Running for president and vice president respectively are Gary Marshall, A3, Mt. Pleasant, Ill., and Dan Cheeks, A4, Decatur, Ill., and Bill Parisi, A3, Chicago Heights, Ill., and John Platt, A3, Algona.

They will be voted on at the all-campus elections March 17.

THE MARSHALL-CHEEK platform is as follows:

● NEEDED SERVICES:
1. A permanent full-time book co-op offering YOU 10 per cent to 35 per cent discounts on all books.

2. Establishment of a grievance commission (Ombudsman) to give YOU a voice when the increasing bureaucratization and impersonalization of the University conflicts with YOUR rights as an individual.

3. Re-establishment of the now defunct U of I. Tougaloo exchange program.

4. Re-establishment of the Student Senate Flight to Europe and establishment of an Easter trip to the Bahamas.

● NEW VOICES:
1. A permanent student representative to the Board of Regents.

2. Establishment of a City-Administration-Student Committee to mediate the short-range goals of the students and the long-range plans of the city and the University.

3. Establishment of an Academic Senate composed of all faculty members to give them a greater voice in the administration of the University, with student representatives advising this Senate.

4. Student representation on all administration considerations regarding student cost increases.

● NEW ANSWERS:
1. The two zone plan to solve the parking problem. Limit parking in a designated campus zone during class hours without restricting ownership of cars by students.

2. Support of a housing plan that will improve living conditions without decreasing available rental units.

3. Regular open house in the dormitories if approved by a student referendum.

4. Two o'clock sign outs for freshman and sophomore girls and no hours for juniors and seniors.

5. Abolition of approved off-campus housing for men.

6. Regular reports to the student body through The Daily Iowan concerning the activities of Student Senate to combat the disfunctions and inactivities of the Senate.

● NEW INTEREST:
1. Increase in the Greek-Independent dialogue to discuss and mediate discrimination toward both groups.

2. Regular meetings of leaders of all campus organizations to correlate student activities and increase the power of students.

3. Re-establishment of the faculty evaluation poll presented to the administration and the Academic Senate.

● PARISI ANNOUNCED the following platform:
My vice-presidential candidate, John Platt, and I, Bill Parisi, feel that the student government needs new, realistic approaches to the problems of student life at U of I. Therefore, we submit the following executable ideas as our platform.

● NEW APPROACH:
Parking — Organize a research board representing the University administration, the Student Senate and Iowa City to formulate both immediate and long-range projects aimed at alleviating the traffic problem.

Bookstores — We will support any realistic proposal that will reduce the cost of books.

Women's Hours — In the debate over women's hours we feel that women have not received proper representation. We therefore propose a referendum conducted in all women's housing units in order to ascertain their actual desires.

● NEW IDEAS:
Candidates — Make a student representative available to the Board of Regents for consultation on University policy.

Seniors — Give graduating seniors the option of not taking final examinations in courses in which they have a "B" or above.

Judicial System — Appraise the University judicial system by September, 1965. Distribute at that time a clarification of the student's procedure for appeal.

● KWAD — Encourage the enlargement and improvement of the facilities of Radio KWAD.

● NEW LIFE:
Student Services — Revive charged low-cost transportation for the benefit of students traveling to and from the University as well as abroad.

● Political Affairs Conference — Revive and enlarge the conference on politics featuring national party leaders.

● Communication — Establish new channels of communication between student organizations and the University administration. Also set up a clearing board as a division of the Committee on Student Life to handle authorization of all charitable fundraising projects on campus.

● As I believe in strong and capable leadership for the Student Senate, I fully support both the platform and the candidacy of Gary Marshall and Dan Cheeks for Student Senate president and vice-president.

● Further, I urge the election of Gary Lane to the presidency of Town Men-Town Women, for only through his election can the organization become a vital, forceful part of student activities and government.

● Because effective, united student government is a necessity, I pledge my wholehearted cooperation and support to whomever is elected to be our next student body president and vice president and to whomever is elected to be the next TMTW president. It is obvious, however, that the team of Gary Marshall and Dan Cheeks is better qualified, and I pledge myself to their proposals and platform.

● To actively support the candidacy of Gary Marshall and Dan Cheeks for president and vice president, respectively.

● To encourage Married Student Housing authorities to allow house pets which meet specified health requirements.

● To encourage greater participation of married students in campus politics.

● To encourage mass meetings of married students with University officials concerning housing problems.

● To encourage an increase of part-time student wages to meet the $1.25 per hour minimum Federal requirement.

● To support actively the candidacy of Gary Lane for president of Town Men - Town Women.

● Candidates for the five Town Men senatorships and their platforms follow.

● ROGER K. BAUER, L2, Keokuk:
The Student Senate should formulate a practical solution to the U of I parking problem. A possible feature would be better utilization of mass transportation facilities from densely populated areas such as apartment house complexes.

● The Student Senate should cooperate with the city of Iowa City in their plan for an extensive urban renewal program which must include a strict yet enforceable housing code.

● The Student Senate should aid the University in encouraging private developers to expand their off-campus housing facilities, by making large out-of-state developing corporations aware of the University's expansion potential.

● The Student Senate should get in step with the community and the rest of the University in the Fine Arts Center Program.

● A reapportionment of the Student Senate should have a geographical consideration. This would help solve the different interests of those living in the inner areas of Iowa City and those living in outer areas of Iowa City and Coralville.

● TOM HANSON, A2, Jefferson, and GEORGE SOUKUP, A2, Sioux City (running on a double platform):
Recognizing the responsibility which being a Student Senator entails, we would like to present our views on various issues to our constituency.

● As to our views concerning Student Senate directly, we would like to see the Student Senate realize its potential as a more viable force on campus. We would like to see an improvement in the reputation of the Student Senate with more publicity on issues, debates and decisions of the Student Senate.

● We do not favor joining any national association of student governments; however, we do favor close contact and communication with other Big Ten and Midwestern schools in the area of student government. A periodic meeting of the officers of various campus organizations would promote bet- ter cooperation in all campus activities.

● We support the efforts of TMTW to make the off-campus student a more constructive force in campus life. We wish now to state our position on two crucial issues that affect the off-campus student. In the area of parking, we would like to see the Student Senate and the University take a more positive position. Previous resolutions have been in our opinion unrealistic and impractical.

● The second issue, housing; we would like to see the student in a better bargaining position for his housing. This would require revision of the University's regulations which we consider unrealistic and unenforceable. A suggestion is the ending of approval procedures or at least the liberalization of the 21 rule.

● To support TMTW activities and increase off-campus student participation.

● To increase coed membership in TMTW, giving Town Women a stronger voice.

● To support plans for a co-op book store on campus.

● To support exchange programs with Southern universities.

● To work with the city to solve the parking problem.

● To liberalize age requirements for off-campus students under 21.

● Seven men are running for the four positions as senators-at-large. All students are eligible to vote in this contest March 17.

● The candidates' platforms follow.

● LARRY BAILEY, A3, Peoria, Ill.:
I am in favor of a working Student Senate — one which will not be hampered by haggling or excessive parliamentary procedure.

● I will strive for a revitalization of these student activities: Political Affairs Conference, flight to Europe and Freshman Intern Program.

● I will actively seek Student Senate follow-up in the following areas: revision of women's hours, improved transportation facilities for outlying campus areas, garbage collection for fraternities and sororities, investigation of rent hike for Married Students' Housing, Spring Festival and a student book store.

● I believe the Student Senate should press for: increased student representation on University policy committees, revision in the dormitory adviser system, coeducational visiting hours in dormitory rooms, investigation of merits of the quarter system, extension of Union hours on Friday and Saturday nights and price discounts for students at local stores.

● I will work for improved communication between the student body and Student Senate by: writing Student Senate progress reports in The Daily Iowan and seeking the appointment of a Student Senate liaison to hear and act on complaints.

● GARY GOLDSTEIN, A1, Highland Park, Ill.:
The scope of the Student Senate activities is very broad. I believe that with the suggestions I am about to present and as a student senator, Senate can be more useful and effective in communicating with the students, working with the problems of the University community and expressing the views of the students.

● 1. A weekly Senate column in The Daily Iowan would enable students to keep up on Senate activities.

● 2. Twice a semester a press conference — one student body president should be held and open to the student body.

● 3. The booklet "What Is Student

Government" should be written, sent to new students and distributed to other students this fall. This could be combined in a general comprehensive booklet including all University activities and committees.

● 4. The Freshman Intern Program, which has proven successful, should definitely be expanded.

● 5. Also, I would like to see a regular yearly student flight to Europe organized by the Senate.

● 6. The Project Aid program again has done a fine job, and with additional activities more money could be collected.

● 7. The Political Affairs Conference should be continued in the fall. This program and the Week in Des Moines both offer excellent opportunities for students to increase their perception of the political world.

● 8. There should be an adequate but reasonable extension of women's hours, and this extension should be somewhat less than the present Senate proposal.

● 9. A committee with members from the city, the University administration, and the students should be organized. This would be a definite benefit to the students. They could be represented and clearly have a greater say in actions which affect the students.

● In the area of problems related more to the general student body:

● 10. I am anxious to work on the parking committee to find a feasible solution to the car situation.

● 11. I support the new housing code which calls for a more thorough examination by University health officials of off-campus housing. I am further in favor of periodic meetings between President Bowen and representatives of the married students to discuss their housing problems.

● 12. Physical Education courses should be mandatory but on an optional credit or non-credit basis.

● 13. Men under 21 should be permitted to live in unapproved housing with parents' permission.

● 14. I am very much in favor of and enthusiastic about a student-run, nonprofit co-op book store. The book store would be run by a full-time manager and student volunteers. The store would provide new books to students at a discount from the price uptown. This store could be of great assistance to all students and faculty.

● 15. Also I am enthusiastic about the possibility of merchants uptown cooperating and giving the students a reduction in prices. A competent committee should further talk to merchants and obtain more definite answers from the merchants and varying views on the matter.

● I am anxious to see Senate communicating more with the student body and working toward further concrete cooperation with the administration and the Board of Regents. It is important that the Senate should become a powerful sounding board of the students and an organization that will work diligently to see that the students' rights are not abused and left unnoticed.

Gerontology Conference Opens Today

Advances in mental health treatment for the aged and programs in preventive psychiatry are among the subjects to be discussed at The University of Iowa's 11th Conference on Gerontology to be held today and Thursday.

Medical leaders and prominent researchers in several fields will participate in the conference, which is one of the numerous projects of the Comprehensive Mental Health Plan for Iowa.

Woodrow W. Morris, associate dean of the College of Medicine and director of the Institute of Gerontology, will be chairman of the two-day conference.

Guest participants include Dr. Jacob H. Friedman, chief of the neuropsychiatric service of the Misericordia-Fordham Affiliation (Fordham Hospital), Bronx, N.Y.; Ethel Shanas, research associate professor in sociology and member of the Committee on Human Development at the University of Chicago; Wendell M. Swanson, assistant professor of clinical psychology in the Graduate School of Medicine at the University of Minnesota, Rochester; and Dr. Jack Weinberg, clinical director of the Illinois State Psychiatric Institute, Chicago.

Another guest participant will be Samuel Levey, administrator of the Division of Adult Health, Nursing Home Section of the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, Boston. Dr. Levey received a Ph.D. in Hospital and Health Administration from the University of Iowa in 1961.

U of I Sociologist To Talk In Des Moines

Dr. Marshall McKusick, associate professor of sociology and anthropology, will speak Friday at the annual meeting of the Iowa Conservation Education Council, Inc., in the Club Rooms of the Colonial Terrace Restaurant in Des Moines.

McKusick, state archeologist, is scheduled to speak about public apathy in the conservation and preservation of Iowa's prehistoric past.

Delegates from nearly 30 federal, state and private organizations concerned with conservation in Iowa will attend the meeting.

ns Hawks Fall to Gophers in Overtime, 85-84

Lou Hudson Scores 2 Goals in Final Minute

MINNEAPOLIS — Lou Hudson snatched Minnesota from the brink of defeat with a pair of clutch goals in the minute of an overtime period, giving the Gophers an 85-84 victory over Iowa in the season windup for both basketball teams Tuesday night.

The victory, something less than artistic, gave Minnesota undisputed second place in the final Big Ten standings with an 11-3 record. Iowa finished 8-6.

Iowa seemingly had a chance to win with a free throw after regulation time had ended with the score tied 79-79.

Hudson was called for charging as he drove the baseline at the final buzzer. With Fred Riddle standing at the free throw line, the officials conferred with the timer, who ruled the foul was committed after time had run out.

Iowa went ahead 81-79 on Jim Rodgers' two free throws. Mel Northway tied for Minnesota on a basket from underneath, but the Hawkeyes' Gerry Jones drove for a layup that put Iowa ahead by two again.

The Hawks then had the ball and the lead with barely over a minute remaining and again victory apparently in their grasp.

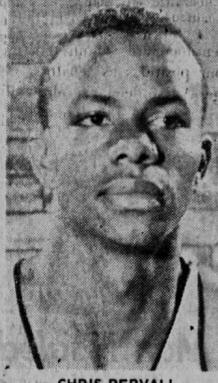

But Minnesota stole the ball, fed Hudson and he dumped a basket to tie once more. Iowa got a one-point lead on Chris Pervall's free throw with 50 seconds left.

Minnesota worked the ball until it shook Hudson loose underneath, and he hit a swing shot with 30 seconds to go for the clincher.

Hudson led all scorers with 27 points, while Archie Clark added 23 for Minnesota. Pervall had 23, Jones 22 and George Peoples 20 for Iowa.

This was the second victory in three games over Iowa for Minnesota this year. The Hawks won, 78-74 in the Los Angeles Classic during Christmas vacation, but lost a week ago, 78-70.

Pervall ended the season with 507 points, becoming only the third Hawkeye in history to score 500 or more points in a single season. Chuck Darling had 561 points in 22 games during the 1951-52 season.

CHRIS PERVALL

and Don Nelson had 570 points in the 1960-61 season.

Iowa ended the season in fifth place in the Big Ten with an 8-6 record. The Hawks' season record was 14-10.

First Round Girls' Tourney Results

DES MOINES (AP) — Unbeaten Maynard West Central rolled to an easy 69-53 victory over Perry to wrap up Tuesday's action in the first round of the 1965 girls state basketball championships.

Earlier, Allison-Bristow whipped previously unbeaten Exira 57-48, tournament favorite South Hamilton rallied behind the shooting of Sharon Tyle for an 87-82 conquest of Everly, and West Marshall ousted Wellsburg 94-86.

FIRST-ROUND play continues Wednesday, with Holstein matched against Lewis Central, West Liberty against Fremont-Mills, Mediapolis against Lake City and Bode Twin Rivers against West Des Moines.

Mary Parsons, 5-foot-10 junior, flipped in 37 points to power Maynard's triumph and move the former champions into a second round game Thursday against Allison-Bristow.

Allison-Bristow, the state's eighth ranked team, spurred to an 18-6 first quarter margin and never trailed as it snapped Exira's 23-game winning streak.

Top scorer for the girls from northeast Iowa was Ellen Mosher with 26 points. Linda McCready scored 23.

Sue Petersen, who brought a 38-point average into the tournament, was held to 16 points for Exira. Karen Anderson also contributed 16.

TRAILING BY 11 points at the half, and with defensive ace Karma Hill in foul trouble South Hamilton battled back and went ahead to stay when Tyler hit a jump shot for an 81-80 lead with three minutes to play.

Sharon scored 45 points, with 30 of them coming in the second half. Karla contributed 31 points.

WEST MARSHALL was paced to its 23rd victory against one loss by Maureen McDowell, who scored 40 points.

Linda Goecke scored 37 points in West Marshall's victory, and Terry Riemenschneider added 17.

Wellsburg was led by the 44-point shooting of Joyce Hoodier.

There were no changes among the top five teams in the last 1964-65 poll. UCLA held second place after beating Southern California twice, 77-71 and 52-50, for a 24-2 mark.

Davidson and Minnesota switched positions. The Wildcats, idle last week, advanced to sixth place while the Gophers, losers to Michigan, fell back a notch to seventh.

The final Top Ten, including games played Monday, and total points:

1. Michigan 409
2. UCLA 378
3. St. Joseph's, Pa. 349
4. Providence 329
5. Vanderbilt 201
6. Davidson 185
7. Minnesota 141
8. Villanova 128
9. Brigham Young 98
10. Duke 78

Kinsinger 2nd in Foil at Big 10 Meet

Iowa's Mike Kinsinger captured second place in the foil division at the Big Ten fencing championships held in Columbus, Ohio, Saturday.

Kinsinger was the defending foil champion, but failed in his bid to hold the crown.

He had an 8-2 record in the meet and a season record of 32-9 in dual meet competition. The foil title was won by Steve Stall of Illinois, who posted a 9-1 record at the meet. Iowan Dick Adams placed fourth in the sabre division. His season record was 24-5.

The Iowa team placed fourth in the six team meet.

Illinois Wins

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Illinois scored 75 points in the second half and closed its Big Ten basketball season with a 121-89 victory over Michigan State Tuesday night. Don Freeman paced the Illini with 27 points and Tai Brody whipped in 24.

Singing Selma Sympathizers Tossed Out

Police Drag Demonstrators

Police dragged girl demonstrators across the floor bodily from a corridor near Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach's office. About 170 young persons were removed.

Justice Office Guards Nip Washington Sit-In

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government police waded into a crowd of singing, chanting demonstrators and hauled them away bodily Tuesday night from the office of Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach.

The government guards, using only their bare hands, separated the demonstrators — white and Negro — who had locked arms as they swayed and chanted civil rights songs.

The demonstrators had handed out a statement on the letterhead of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee saying "we are here to renew our demand that federal marshals be sent to Alabama immediately."

A guard official addressed the demonstrators at 6 p.m. when the Justice Department officially closed.

"You may now leave voluntarily by this elevator," he said. His reply was a shout from a Negro, which was picked up and became a chorus of "Ain't Gonna Let Nobody Turn Me 'Round."

As the guards hauled the young men and women into two waiting elevators, the rest of the group continued their chanting and singing and clapping.

In the melee, white guards were hauling away Negroes and whites. Negro guards were doing the same.

About 30 policemen cleared the corridor of what guards estimated at 170 young persons, herded them into the elevators and pushed them out onto the street where other policemen dispersed them.

There appeared to be no serious injuries in the 20 minutes of intense physical exertion.

The demonstrators generally put up little resistance to being dragged out. Some kicked, one guard was bitten in the ankle, another got pushed to the floor.

Bearded Man Hauled Out

Government guards Tuesday night seized a bearded man as they hauled demonstrators bodily away from the office of Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach in the Justice Department building at Washington.

Salesmen? Don't Sell Them Short

by Virgil E. Boyd
Group Vice President,
Domestic Automotive
Chrysler Corporation

A recent survey by the Wall Street Journal reported that a career in selling was rated far down the list of choices by college students.

It is apparent that salesmanship — one of the vital elements of the difference between our democratic free market ideology and opposing systems — suffers from the misconception that it neither demands nor utilizes the esthetic and intellectual attainments of a higher education.

It is wrong, and I believe tragically, believed that such a business career will not offer the same degree of self-fulfillment and contribution as other professions.

Yet the fact is that selling, whether it be considered an art, a science, a profession or just a job, calls upon every facet of human experience, and most particularly upon the broad scope of learned abilities.

Selling requires a most complex blend of human understanding, applied psychology, intelligence, imagination, creative genius, self confidence and intestinal fortitude. It unfolds as an intricate and complicated endeavor embracing the many elements of market research, advertising, retailing, economics and sociology — infinitely more encompassing than the commonly attributed elements of enthusiasm and optimism.

Offers Challenge
In return for this investment of talent and learning, selling offers a challenging, rewarding pursuit, and an opportunity for a significant contribution to our society.

The really proficient salesman is unquestionably the most valuable member of any business organization. It is axiomatic that business activity revolves around the salesman, and with justification. The challenge — the responsibility — before today's professional salesman is great. Effective selling brings the added margin of business activity that makes the difference between a static economy and a dynamic, growing economy. It is the salesman who holds the prime responsibility for keeping the country on the move.

Selling Vital
Our civilization has always found its mechanism for economic growth in free enterprise and in a vital competitive system of marketing that responds to the needs of people, allowing them to choose from a great variety of goods and services. It is a system of economic abundance, but it does much more than give customers what they need and want. It is an ever-widening system that creates the foundation for ever-greater national strength.

It encourages the kind of competition that increases the efficiency of our industries and leads them to develop and market new products and services. These in turn mean new investment opportunities, more jobs and more purchasing power for the individual. And the end result is a broad economic base which not only supplies our people with what they need and want, but also enables the government to collect the revenue it needs for strong defense, for aid to underdeveloped countries, for good schools, for scientific research, for highways, and for other fiscal services that benefit all Americans. In this light, building those markets is nothing less than building a greater and stronger or — nothing less than helping the country fulfill its destiny.

This is the job of every salesman, and it's a job he can take pride and satisfaction in doing well.

CIC Awarded Federal Funds

The Committee on Institutional Cooperation (CIC), an organization of 11 Midwestern universities, has announced that it has received a developmental research contract of $58,931 from the Agency for International Development (AID).

The members of CIC are all the Big Ten schools and the University of Chicago.

The money is to be used to initiate a study and analysis of agricultural education and research programs abroad which are under contract to American universities.

The study will analyze current programs to find ways to improve future university-assisted educational programs, according to CIC director Dr. Stanley F. Salwak.

AID officials said they selected the CIC to carry out most of the agricultural education and research programs abroad because of the substantial contribution its members have made to the advancement of American agriculture. AID now has contracts with American universities to promote agricultural education, research and extension in many foreign countries as part of the long-term AID program of foreign assistance.

The committee includes: University of Wisconsin, Madison; University of Michigan, Ann Arbor; University of Illinois, Urbana; University of Minnesota, Minneapolis; University of Iowa, Iowa City; University of Wisconsin, Stevens Point; University of Wisconsin, Oshkosh; University of Wisconsin, Platteville; University of Wisconsin, Whitewater; University of Wisconsin, Stevens Point; University of Wisconsin, Oshkosh; University of Wisconsin, Platteville; University of Wisconsin, Whitewater.

City Council Accepts Bids On Project

The Iowa City Council Tuesday night disclosed the low bidders on the contracts for the building of the southwest interceptor sewer and for the sewage treatment plant improvements.

Hennessey Bros., Inc., of Marion, made the low bid of $188,042 for the building of the second phase southwest interceptor sewer.

The C&C Construction Company of Fort Wayne, Ind., placed the low bid of $880,666 for the sewage treatment plant improvements. However, the contract for the plant improvement is subject to approval by the U.S. Public Health Service and the Iowa State Department of Health.

The council also heard a statement by Irene Rosenbaum, chairman of the commission on recreation of the League of Women Voters, urging that the city use Rose Hill as a recreation area.

$350 Stolen From Bus Depot —

3 Charged in Iowa City Thefts

Three men were charged with larceny and held in Johnson County jail in lieu of $2,500 bond Tuesday night after Iowa City police solved a series of bus depot thefts.

The men were identified by police as John H. Klepke, 26, and Aubrey W. Daves, 25, both of Burkley Hotel, and Delmar D. Wells, 25, 1116 E. Davenport St.

Detective Charles H. Snider said the three allegedly used citizens' band radios and a special claw device during thefts at Union Bus Depot, 9 E. Washington St.

About $350 was stolen from the depot during a series of thefts, police said.

The men were arrested by Iowa Highway Patrol and marked bills placed in the bus depot ticket office by Iowa City police were found in their possession, police said.

During the thefts at the bus depot, two men watched from outside while a third rifled the cash drawer. The two men watching could alert the man inside if anyone approached, Snider said.

A claw device on a flexible tube was used to reach inside the cash drawer, and take the money, Snider said.

Board OKs Pay Schedule

The Board of Education of the Iowa City Community School District voted Tuesday night to adopt its current salary schedule for teachers for the 1965-66 school year.

Arthur Campbell, an instructor at City High, pointed out that in the current schedule instructors with an M.A. and thirty hours experience will receive no salary increases.

Campbell said, "It is my consensus that they deserve some consideration. Their morale is very low."

M.B.A., Harvard Univ.

Critical importance and vigor are fused into this one meaningful word, vitality. What does this mean to you?—a graduate about to make the major decision of career selection. By selecting a company with vitality, you'll find more challenging and rewarding work. Ford Motor Company is such a firm.

At our Company, you'll have the advantages and resources of a large corporation, along with the high degree of personal responsibility you'd expect in a small one. For our Company is composed of many small management teams, each with responsibility for a specific activity. Activities so vital, they can affect hundreds of jobs and involve millions of dollars. You play in the big leagues—early—at Ford Motor Company. An example: Bob Bowen's experiences in marketing.

Early in Bob's career, he helped prepare comprehensive reviews of our current and planned marketing activities. He also studied special problems in market representation. Later, he was assigned to one of our Product Planning Offices. Here, future vehicle concepts are explored with accompanying financial, marketing and production factors. Market research is conducted to determine trends in customer preferences. Critical data like this led to the design and development of the highly successful Mustang.

Maybe vitality is what you've been seeking in a position—and in an employer, too. We also offer the opportunity for early responsibility and the pay that goes with it. See our representative for the complete story when he visits your campus.
