

YAWAN' PUNIMEG

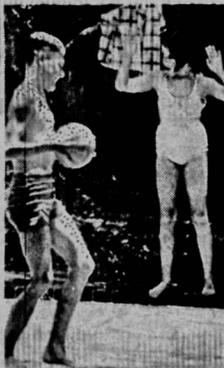

But Down on Earth...

Mrs. Edward H. White Sr., mother of astronaut White, was all smiles in the photo at left as word of the successful Gemini launch reached her at her home in St. Petersburg, Fla. Meanwhile, in Houston, Tex., while their dad was making history with a stroll through space, Edward White III and his sister, Bonnie Lynn, were enjoying themselves, as evidenced by the photo at right, by romping around a swimming pool at a neighbor's house.

And in Milwaukee, Wis., astronaut James McDivitt's first grade teacher, Sister Charleen, joined the present crop of first graders in watching the Gemini launch on television. Sister Charleen, who taught McDivitt in Chicago 30 years ago, is now principal of Our Lady Queen of Peace, a Roman Catholic elementary school in Milwaukee. All photographs are AP Wirephoto.

White Walks on ...

On Way to Launch

Command pilot James A. McDivitt leads the way for co-pilot Edward White as they walk up the ramp to the Titan II launch at Cape Kennedy Thursday morning. This was the beginning of their scheduled 62-orbital flight around the earth.

Fuel Lack Foils Rendezvous Plan

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Astronaut Edward H. White II eased himself out of a Gemini capsule 135 miles above the earth Thursday and floated for 20 eerie minutes in the chilling void of space, chatting nonchalantly and darting about with a space gun.

The dramatic excursion clearly was the high point of a bold celestial adventure scheduled to last four days.

Another cosmic feat, a proposed rendezvous with another orbiting satellite, had to be scratched from the flight plan because of a lack of sufficient maneuvering fuel in the two-man capsule.

WHITE's space twin, pilot James A. McDivitt, had hoped to be able to pull alongside the burned-out second stage of the mighty Titan 2 rocket which blasted the pair into orbit from Cape Kennedy, Fla., at 10:16 a.m. EST. President Johnson was among millions of Americans who watched the launch on television.

McDivitt followed the huge rocket booster to and fro in the heavens but soon used up too much fuel and had to give up the chase.

White's thrilling experience in the vastness of space, where even the stars refuse to twinkle, came during the third orbit, one later than planned, as he streaked at 17,500 miles an hour through the skies above his own homeland.

THE FEAT doubled the time in space of cosmonaut Alexei Leonov who drifted for 10 minutes outside the Soviet Voskhod 2 space ship March 18.

The Russian maneuver was televised; the American was not. But Americans could hear the three-way conversation between White, McDivitt and ground controllers which was broadcast publicly as it happened. The Russians did not broadcast.

White had planned to step outside during the second orbit but the space twins reported they were simply too pressed for time to get ready.

"We'll do it next time around," McDivitt reported casually.

"That's okay with us," replied the mission director Christopher C. Kraft Jr., from the Houston Control Center.

NEXT TIME around White methodically prepared his special gear — gold-colored face plate, thermal gloves, emergency oxygen chest pack, golden tether, maneuvering gun shaped like bicycle handlebars with a camera attached.

He closed his sun visor and unlocked the hatch.

Gingerly he stood upon his contoured couch and poked his head through the hatch. Then, without effort in the weightless other world, he glided outside.

Glancing down to earth, he said to McDivitt: "Looks like we're coming up on the coast of California."

As he began darting here and there, propelling himself with his space gun, McDivitt said into the microphone: "One thing about it, when Ed gets out there and starts wiggling around it sure makes the spacecraft tough to control." In space there is no resisting friction and a man can move a 7,600-pound spacecraft with a mere nudge.

FROM BELOW, spacecraft communicator Virgil I. Grissom gave an order: "Take some pictures."

Then McDivitt and White began chatting like a couple of tourists.

"Hey, Ed, can you see the camera here?" McDivitt asked.

"No, not now," replied White.

"Where are you?"

"I'm out front now."

White then told McDivitt he was preparing to do something, but the transmission was garbled.

"Do it slowly," said the pilot, "and I'll take your picture."

At one point White maneuvered around in front of McDivitt's porthole.

"You're smearing my windshield, you dirty dog," McDivitt said with a laugh. "See how it's all smeared up there."

FINALLY Grissom, from down below, told the floating astronaut it was time to get back in the capsule. McDivitt relayed the message.

"Come on back in," he said, "we've got three and a half days to go, buddy."

Without a hitch, White returned, closed the hatch and nestled back into his couch for the arduous mission ahead.

Local Merger Gains Ground

The Iowa City-University Heights Merger Commission heard a report from various Iowa City departments Thursday night answering questions that arose from the proposed Iowa City-University Heights merger.

At their last meeting, the Iowa City Planning and Zoning Commission made a motion that it would try to avoid any abrupt changes in zoning for areas surrounding University Heights. The commission also said it would treat each individual case on its own merits in line with the established procedure already in use in Iowa City.

A letter was read from the League of Women Voters giving their support of the proposed merger. The letter said that as Iowa City grows, it will surround University Heights. It would be simpler for citizens to deal with one governmental unit instead of two.

University Heights Mayor Russell Ross, chairman of the Commission, said, "We have to show the people of University Heights that they would be better off as a part of Iowa City. However we need specific figures to convince the people."

The commission scheduled a public hearing for 7:30 p.m. June 24 in Shambaugh Auditorium.

BOGALUSA, La. (AP) — A volley of shots from night-riders in a pickup truck ripped into a sheriff's patrol car outside Bogalusa late Wednesday night, killing this racially torn area's first Negro officer and wounding another.

Dr. Ward Predicts Century Of Medical Miracles

"Americans will see seemingly unbelievable medical miracles in the remainder of this century," the president of the American Medical Association predicted here Thursday night.

Dr. Donovan F. Ward noted that researchers are already working with organ transplants and artificial organs, synthetic skin, artificial muscles to power paralyzed arms and legs, plastic arteries and plastic bone parts.

Dr. Ward, a Dubuque surgeon and a 1930 graduate of the University's College of Medicine, spoke at the annual Medical Convocation in the Union. The topic of his speech was "Medicine Looks at the Future."

"I have strong faith in medical science and I am convinced that some day we may develop electronic devices so that the blind might read, the deaf might hear, and the mute might speak," Dr. Ward said.

"We share our profession; we share this hour and the memory of an earlier one," he told the senior medical students. "It may be here, however, that the likeness ceases, for the world of medicine that you are a part of is vastly different from the one we entered.

"It is a difference that sets you apart not only from my class, but from those classes which left here even a short five years ago. Medicine has made more progress in the last twenty years than in the previous 2,000 and there is no reason to believe that its forward movement will not continue," Dr. Ward said.

"For physicians entering the practice of medicine today the need to keep up will become more acute as new discoveries are made. Parts of today's body of medical knowledge will fade into obsolescence and new material will have to be adapted immediately."

He urged the students to be aware "that the man makes the profession; the profession does not make the man. The realization is the greatest asset any physician can have."

'50 Books of Year'—

Graphic Arts Show In Library Lobby

The "50 Books of the Year" exhibit from the American Institute of Graphic Arts is now on display in the lobby of the Main Library.

The exhibit is part of the 27th Annual Fine Arts Festival, which will open at the University June 7. Three other exhibits will open within the next ten days.

These are an exhibit of drawings by Rico Le Brun, to open in the Art Building Main Gallery Wednesday; 15 paintings from the Elliott Collection, to open in the Art Building West Foyer June 13; and paintings loaned by the Big 10 universities, opening in the Union Terrace Lounge Sunday.

The books in the library exhibit were chosen for their excellence of design and manufacture. In 1964 about 900 volumes were submitted to the institute for judging.

Included in the exhibit is "The Infinite Absence," a book of poems by Miguel Gonzalez-Gerth. The book was printed at the Stone Wall Press in Iowa City.

Another book, "The American Heritage Cookbook," includes a chapter by Paul Engle, head of the Writers' Workshop. The exhibit will be at the library until June 15.

The LeBrun drawings feature three themes — the crucifixion of Christ, Dante's "Inferno" and scenes from "The Three Penny Opera." Done in an expressionistic style, most of the drawings are of the human figure.

Also in the exhibit will be lithograph, a gouache and a collage by LeBrun, native of Italy who came to the United States in 1924.

LeBrun has taught at several universities and institutions and has had one-man exhibitions in major galleries. In 1960 he was named a member of the National Institute of Arts and Letters.

The paintings from the Elliott Collection are ones which are new to the collection of Owen and Leone Elliott, Cedar Rapids, or which have not been shown before at the University.

The LeBrun and Elliott exhibits will be shown until July 30. Gallery hours will be from 10 a.m. to noon and 2 to 5 p.m. Tuesdays through Saturdays and from 2 to 5 p.m. Sundays. The galleries will be closed Mondays.

Each of the Big 10 universities has loaned a painting for the Union exhibit. The exhibit, which will run through Aug. 4, is in conjunction with both the arts festival and this summer's opening of the Union addition.

Another upcoming feature of the fine arts festival is an operatic concert by Dorothea Brown, instructor in music, and Robert Eckert, assistant professor of music. The concert will be given at 8 p.m. Wednesday in Macbride Auditorium.

Guthrie Play By Chekhov

Anton Chekhov's "The Cherry Orchard" opens June 15 as the third in a series of five plays being presented in repertory this summer by the Minnesota Theatre Company. The plays will be at the Tyrone Guthrie Theatre in Minneapolis, Minn.

"The Cherry Orchard" tells the story of a family caught by indolence and inability to adjust to a changing era. The version being used for this production is a new translation by Tyrone Guthrie and Leonid Kipnis.

The Guthrie-Kipnis translation will also be used in a production of the play which will enter the repertory of the Stratford Festival Theatre at Stratford, Ontario, in late July. The new translation is being published by the University of Minnesota Press and will be available at bookstores.

"The Cherry Orchard" was written in the early 1900's in Russia, but it has its counterpart in today's society. The characters in the play are involved in the realistic crisis of debts and circumstances that are forcing them to sell their beloved cherry orchard.

Madame Ranevskaya, played by Jessica Tandy, is the kind-hearted, ineffectual head of the family who is incapable of facing reality. Lopakhin, the now wealthy son of peasants in the state, wants to turn the orchard to productive use, but the Ranevskaya family futilely insists that the orchard remain a romantic symbol. As the play ends, the sound of axes chopping down the orchard signifies the triumph of reality and the end of an era.

The play is directed by Guthrie.

Seniority System Not Right—Moss

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Frank E. Moss (D-Utah) Thursday urged that the seniority system of selecting congressional committee chairmen be modified.

In a statement to the Senate House committee studying the organization of Congress, Moss said the seniority system has much to recommend it but that it is too inflexible because it "awards power on the basis of a single qualification—length of service."

He suggested that committee chairmen be elected from among the four most senior majority members by secret ballot.

Coralville, City Square Off As Sewer Issue Looms

Coralville Mayor Clarence Wilson said Thursday that the Coralville Council feels it has a legal sewer contract which was signed in 1959 with Iowa City and that this authorizes a Coralville connection with the Iowa City sewer system.

Iowa City Manager Carsten D. Leikvold told the Iowa City Council Tuesday night there is no contract. He said Coralville sewerage is overflowing and going into the Iowa River from a point at the north end of the University Law Building parking lot.

The Council agreed with Leikvold that Iowa City must have a notification from Coralville within 30 days about what Coralville's future sewerage plans are. If not, the City Council said it will permit no new sewer connections by Coralville.

Coralville City Engineer Dennis Sauegling said Coralville sewerage is not causing the overflow which empties into the Iowa River at a point located above the University's water plant intake.

Sauegling said Coralville's sewerage contribution to the 18-inch trunk sewer on North Riverside Drive is about 4 million gallons daily. He said Iowa City engineering consultants estimate the trunk sewer's capacity at 2.3 million gallons daily.

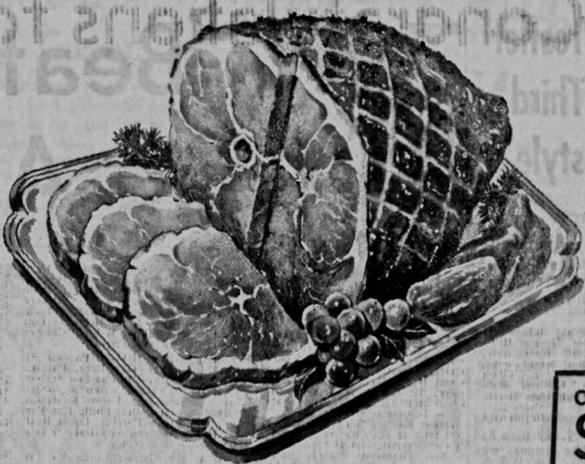

Sauegling said in a letter to Iowa City: "Our investigation showed the trunk sewer on North Riverside Drive is surcharged, which would indicate excessive flow or blockage in the line..."

Spray Picks Up B.A., Then Takes Buick Lead

GRAND BLANC, Mich. (AP) — Twenty-four-year-old Steve Spray, Indianola, Iowa native, who received his college degree Thursday night, gave himself a graduation present earlier in the day by grabbing the first round lead in the $100,000 Buick Open Golf Tournament.

The six-foot Spray, former Iowa Amateur and Western Junior champion, parlayed his long irons and a hot putter for a four under par 68 over the 7,280-yard Warwick Hills Country Club course, longest of the PGA tour.

Spray had not earned a nickel in six tournaments since he joined the pro circuit last March but he put in an early bid for a share of the prize money in the 72-hole tournament.

He received the business administration degree in absentia from Eastern New Mexico University.

With his wife, Carol, by his side, Spray told newsmen he hated to miss the graduation but felt that this might be his week to pick up some money on the golf tour.

Former Buck Open champion Julius Boros of Mid Pines, N.C., held down the runner-up spot with a 69.

Jack Nicklaus, Johnny Pott, Bert Weaver, Gene Littler, Doug Sanders and Wright Garrett were in a six-way tie for third with 70s.

PGA Manager Blasts Palmer's Tour Proposals

NEW YORK (AP) — Arnold Palmer to others as it is to me," Jim Gaquin said in the latest issue of Golf Magazine.

Gaquin teed off on golf's all-time leading money winner and popular favorite for complaining against to many pool table courses and suggesting that the tour schedule be reduced from around 45 to 30 tournaments a year.

"Arnold's chronic unhappiness with the PGA tour, on which he has won more than $600,000 in official money since 1955, must be a source of puzzlement

U.S. Wrestler Places Third In Freestyle

MANCHESTER, England (AP) — Heavyweight Larry Kristoff, a former AAU and NCAA champion from Carbondale, Ill., took third place in the World Amateur Freestyle Wrestling championships Thursday, nailing down America's only medal.

Kristoff, 22-year-old, 6-foot, 235-pounder, clinched his bronze medal with a draw against Russia's previously unbeaten Olympic champion, Alexander Ivanitsky.

His standoff marked the first time in the tourney any man had been able to go the distance with the powerful Russian, who took the heavyweight gold medal.

Ivanitsky, the 1964 Olympic champion, also drew later in the day with Lutri Ahmedov of Bulgaria, who took the heavyweight silver medal.

Against U.S. Olympian Kristoff, Ivanitsky appeared content to try for a win on decision, but Kristoff repeatedly skipped out of danger and forged the draw.

Kristoff had outpointed Gijasetin Yilmaz of Turkey in his first bout Thursday.

Two other United States hopes were eliminated.

Wayne Baughman, middleweight from Midwest City, Okla., scored one of the upsets of the tournament by outpointing Prodan Gardiev, Bulgaria's Olympic champion. But Baughman needed to win by a fall to stay in contention and the one penalty he collected from this bout eliminated him.

Russ Camelleri from Pacifica, Calif., wrestled a draw with Miroslav Zywczyk of Poland. He collected two penalty points and was eliminated.

Stretch Run On Tap For Belmont Stakes

NEW YORK (AP) Early zip was added to Saturday's renewal of the $125,000-added Belmont Stakes Thursday, setting up the prospect of another thrilling stretch duel between Tom Rolfe and Dapper Dan with Hail to All ready to cash in on his stretch running charge if either falter.

With the remark "I want to keep them honest," trainer Bill Winfrey announced he would enter the Wheatley Stable's Bold Bidder, a fleet son of Bold Ruler, as a running mate for Ogden Phipps' fast closing Dapper Dan.

Until Winfrey decided to start Bold Bidder, the 1 1/2 miles of the third leg of the Triple Crown for 3-year-olds at Aqueduct threatened to be not much more than a mere gallop for one mile with all the action coming in the last half mile.

Bold Bidder, who'll be ridden by Braulio Baeza, didn't race as a 2-year-old but in his six starts this year, all at sprint distances, he has been first three times. He'll have only one purpose — to carry the small field through a rapid first mile. Then it'll be up to Dapper Dan to carry on. In the Preakness the son of Ribot came from far off the early pace to drop a neck decision to Tom Rolfe, from Raymond Guest's Powhatan Stable. Bold Bidder gave evidence of his speed by working seven furlongs in 1:26 Thursday with the first six furlongs in 1:13.

Hail to All, who won last Monday's Jersey Derby for Mrs. Ben Cohen, also likes to come from behind. But the style didn't net him anything more than numerous seconds and thirds until the Jersey Derby. In that 1 1/4-mile race he wore blinkers for the first time and in the opinion of jockey Johnny Sellers they made the difference. The son of Hail to Reason will wear blinkers again Saturday.

Rozelle, Foss Air Expansion Plans

NEW YORK (AP) — National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle announced Thursday he had recommended the addition of two teams to expand the league to 16 teams by 1967. Moments later Commissioner Joe Foss of the rival American Football League said his circuit could name and field two more teams by 1966 if it wants to.

Each circuit, bolstered by millions of dollars in television money, named some cities now in the rival league as possible expansion targets.

Among the cities listed by Rozelle as possibilities for the old, established NFL were Boston and Houston, now holding franchises in the AFL.

Foss, informed of Rozelle's announcement by The Associated Press, came right back by nominating Chicago, Washington, Philadelphia, Los Angeles and Milwaukee as possible targets for expansion of the 5-year-old, eight-club AFL.

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Ron Fairly's two-run homer off reliever Barney Schultz in the eighth inning gave the Los Angeles Dodgers an 11-10 victory over the slumping St. Louis Cardinals Thursday night in a game that featured 29 hits, including 11 for extra bases.

Allison Homer Helps Pascual Win Seventh

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Unbeaten Camilo Pascual, supported by Bob Allison's two-run homer, registered his seventh straight victory Thursday as the Minnesota Twins defeated the Boston Red Sox 4-3.

Pascual needed relief help in the eighth inning from Johnny Klippstein who, in turn, had to have bullpen help from southpaw Mel Nelson in the ninth.

Pascual had a two-hitter and a 3-1 lead when Boston rallied for a run in the eighth on singles by Lennie Green, Dalton Jones and Felix Mantilla. Billy Pleis came on to retire a man on a sacrifice before Klippstein took over. The veteran right-hander struck out Tony Conigliaro and got Mike Ryan to ground out.

The Twins took a 4-2 lead into the bottom of the eighth scoring an unearned run in the top of the inning.

The Red Sox threatened in the top of the ninth when Green singled on top of a one-out walk to Eddie Bresoud. Nelson replaced Klippstein and retired the side, although Bresoud scored the Red Sox' third run on an error by third baseman Rich Rollins.

Braves 10, Giants 3

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves exploded for nine runs in a wild third inning capped by Eddie Mathews' 11th homer and belted the San Francisco Giants 10-3 Thursday night behind the pitching of trade acquisition Ken Johnson.

The Braves sent 13 batters to the plate, collecting four doubles, one single and a pair of walks (in addition to Mathews' two-run homer as they put together the biggest inning in the majors this season.

Given that kind of support, Johnson, recently acquired from the Houston Astros, breezed to his first Milwaukee triumph, boosting his record to 4-2. He allowed only six hits, one a bun.

Lynda Bird Will Dabble In Archaeology, Canoes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lynda Bird Johnson is going to spend half the summer digging in an Arizona ruin, traveling the West by trailer and seeing Minnesota by dugout canoe.

This varied program for the 21-year-old daughter of President and Mrs. Johnson will combine an interest in history with visits to historic areas and beauty spots and provide a chance to learn more about what the country offers the traveler. Lynda's experiences will be the basis for two magazine articles.

The experiences begin June 11 and wind up July 26.

Start of this personal expedition will be at Ft. Apache, near Globe, Ariz., at the site of what a White House announcement Wednesday night calls one of the country's greatest archaeological digs. This is a pre-Spanish pueblo that goes back beyond 1400 A.D. It has at least 200 rooms and will be excavated by students working under the head of the University of Arizona's anthropology department.

Industry's Choice Of City Location Explained to Club

The Iowa City environment, including the University, has attracted at least one industry to the community.

Robert D. Schaeffer, general manager of the Sheller Manufacturing Co., said in a talk at the Rotary Club luncheon Thursday that his company decided to locate a new plant in Iowa City rather than such cities as Cedar Rapids or Macomb, Ill., because of its numerous desirable attributes.

The company, located at 2500 Highway 6 East, manufactures polyurethane foam for use in car seats and furniture. This operation moved from the Keokuk division after it was decided in 1962 that the company needed more room for expansion.

Locations within 100 miles of Keokuk in Iowa, Illinois, and Missouri were considered, Schaeffer said. Iowa City was chosen for such attributes as the University, an attractive community for technical and managerial personnel, top schools, transportation, recreation, retail and medical facilities, plus a variety of churches.

Technician Courts, Wins Marina -- Dodge Scribes

DALLAS (AP) — Marina Oswald, whose husband assassinated President John Kennedy, was at a honeymoon hide-away today with an electronics technician.

Her first husband, Lee Harvey Oswald, was killed by Jack Ruby, a strip club operator, two days after Kennedy's assassination.

A justice of the peace officiated Tuesday when Marina, 23, married Kenneth J. Porter, 27, after a one-month courtship.

Porter rode up on horseback to a patio where Marina was having coffee with neighbors for their first meeting. He is a Navy veteran and a drag racer with trophies to his credit.

He also likes fishing, and their courtship blossomed on fishing and boating expeditions.

Their friendship was not generally known, although Marina for some time had visited night clubs and attended concerts.

Marina's first husband killed

President Kennedy in Dallas less than 18 months ago.

Oswald died from a bullet fired by Jack Ruby, who is appealing his death sentence.

Marina and Porter led reporters on a two-state chase early in the week.

They obtained their blood tests in Durant, Okla., and headed for Sherman, Tex., for a marriage license.

Fearing reporters would find them, they raced for Rockwall, a place noted for quickie marriages, but could not find a justice of the peace. They traveled unpaved rural roads to reach Fate, Tex., where Justice of the Peace Carl Leonard

Jr. called from his plowing, married them.

The Porters returned briefly to her Richardson home and left again, telling no one where they were going.

TAX BILL PASSES—
DES MOINES (AP) — A bill to increase the Iowa inheritance tax by reducing the brackets on which it is computed was passed 32-21 by the Senate Thursday and sent to the governor.

The tax now brings in about $9 million a year. Backers of the change, which doubles the tax in some brackets, said it would bring in $5 million a year more.

Sitting Duck

Gertrude, a wild duck, nests against the wall of Mission Control center building at the Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston. When a human approaches she hisses menacingly protecting the two eggs she is hatching. Groundkeepers at the center make an orbit of their own as they mow the grass around Gertrude.

Baptists Talk Race, Flicks

DALLAS (AP) — Brief fireworks erupted at the Southern Baptist convention today in moves to abolish programs supporting racial integration and to restrain Hollywood movies.

As the 10.6-million-member denomination's 108th annual convention went into its third day, actor Gregory Walcott of Canoga Park, Calif., proposed that it set up a Hollywood "diplomatic unit" to influence movie producers in favor of wholesome films.

But O.K. Armstrong, Springfield, Mo., questioned such mild tactics.

Calling for more militant pressure, he charged that motion picture producers were widely violating the code of decency by presenting "adultery and illicit love in an attractive manner."

A Lexington, Ky., clergyman, the Rev. W. M. Nevins, pressed an effort to abolish the convention's Christian Life Commission which works in behalf of racial reconciliation.

His resolution charged that the program would lead to "amalgamation of the races contrary to the Bible."

The convention Wednesday night resoundingly defeated a move to send a delegate observer to Roman Catholicism's Second Vatican Council.

SENATE
Reconsidered and defeated a House-passed bill also defeated earlier by the Senate which would have allowed counties to set up their own health departments and levy a property tax of up to two mills to support them.

Passed and sent to the governor a bill to appropriate $106,550 a year to the State Board of Regents for central office operation and to raise the daily pay of members for the days the board meets from $20 to $30.

Passed and sent to the House a bill to raise pay of State Conservation Commission members from $10 to $25 for each day the board meets.

Amended, passed and returned to the House a bill to extend the two percent sales tax to room rentals.

Passed a bill to increase the state inheritance tax by lowering the brackets on which the tax is computed. The bill returns to the House, which first passed it, for action on a Senate amendment.

Passed and sent to the House a bill to appropriate $1.2 million a year to the State Department of Public Instruction for driver training aid.

Passed and sent to the House a bill to appropriate $1,026,930 a year to the State Department of Public Instruction for general office operations in the biennium starting July 1.

Voted 30-17 to force out of committee but put at the bottom of the calendar a bill to require governing bodies to hold public meetings unless two-thirds of the members of the board involved vote for a closed session.

Passed and sent to the governor a bill to raise the Iowa cigarette tax from five cents to eight cents a package effective July 1.

HOUSE
Passed and sent to the governor bills to:

Authorize school districts to pay for group life and health insurance for employees.

Declare the Iowa Soybean Association to be the official organization of soybean producers and give the organization a seat on the Iowa Agricultural Marketing Board.

Amended and returned to the Senate a measure to give a defendant an opportunity to cross-examine witnesses subpoenaed to appear before the county attorney prior to trial.

Tabled and thus killed a measure to bring farm to market truckers under the same requirement of showing public convenience and necessity before he is granted a state permit as is now required of regular route truckers.

Concurred in a Senate amendment and sent to the governor a bill to provide that pensions payable to retired members of police, fire and public safety departments or their beneficiaries be adjusted according to salaries paid to active members of these departments.

Passed and sent to the Senate a bill to extend the sales tax to admissions of athletic events and plays sponsored by religious charitable and educational institutions, and to repeal the use tax exemption on goods now readily available in Iowa.

Passed and sent to the governor bills to appropriate $4 million a year for transportation aid to public schools, and $180,000 a year for programs of the State Department of Public Instruction under the National Defense Education Act.

Concurred in a Senate amendment and sent to the governor a resolution appropriating $50,000 to a committee to study Iowa's tax structure. The committee would be instructed to report its recommendations by July 1, 1966.

Kerner Says
Brainpower
In Midwest

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Midwest has been pictured as the nation's brain factory which is short-changed on government research and development contracts.

Gov. Otto Kerner of Illinois, lead-off witness at a Senate Labor subcommittee hearing into the geographical distribution of government contracts, said:

"The brains are in the Middle West. I think a substantial proportion of the discrepancy in the amount of awards given to the Middle West as opposed to states on the East and West coasts is due to a lack of understanding on the part of the federal administrators of the capabilities of the area."

Speaking of Illinois, Kerner said: "We are a brains-development center for the country as a whole. Other states produce automobiles, or vegetables, or vegetables, or scenery; in Illinois we develop minds. And we ship our finished products to all states of the nation to help them develop their intellectual and economic potential."
