Stock Market's Ups, Downs

Chart shows the wide fluctuation in the stock market in the last three days. On Monday, the AP average of 60 stocks closed at a low of 307.96 after reaching a high point of 314.05. On Tuesday, the fluctuation was even wider. After reaching a high of 313.63, the AP average sank to a low of 305.69 and finally closed at 311.91. Wednesday, the AP average had a low of 313.69, a high of 319.91 and closed at 318.42.

Fast Fluctuations Mark Stock Week

By JIM MONAHAN Staff Writer

A graph showing stock market conditions will fluctuate like the temperaments of people, mirroring moods of optimism, pessimism and occasional level-headed logic.

Wednesday the stock market closed with a mammoth gain. The volume was nearly 7 million shares. The large institutional buyers and the small investors are credited with stopping the six-week slide that preceded the rally which began Tuesday.

MORE THAN 10 million shares were sold Tuesday. About 2.6 million shares were sold in one hour Tuesday morning in "the greatest 60 minutes of trading since records have been kept for hourly transaction amounts," according to Mr. A. G. Hoelzen, resident manager of Lamson Bros. & Co., a Cedar Rapids stockbroking firm.

The upward trend followed a "blue Monday" earlier this week when stock sold on the New York Stock Exchange experienced the most severe slump in more than 19 months. The Dow-Jones industrial average fell 13.77 points, or 1.6 per cent, to 840.59, its biggest decline since Nov. 22, 1963, the day President Kennedy was assassinated.

"THE STOCK MARKET has been unusual lately but the stock market is always unusual," said Charles E. Marberry, professor of business administration, at the University during an interview Wednesday.

The stocks have reacted after a long rise, Marberry said, and are adjusting in a "market of uncertainty." The changes in market conditions are normal and are no cause for worry about a potential crisis, he said.

Marberry cited Federal Reserve Chairman William M. Martin's comparison of 1965 with the conditions present in pre-depression 1929 as a factor that shook the business community's investments. The "disquieting similarities" noted by Martin caused investors to hoard funds they might otherwise have invested.

"FEAR DEVELOPED in the stock market because of the unsettled atmosphere in the United Nations," Hoelzen said. "The Viet Nam conflict and other military and political problems caused a short-lived fear psychosis."

Marberry said, "The wide fluctuations the stock market takes are being over-analyzed. It's quite a bit like baseball. Just as baseball has record keepers for most triples hit by left-handed batters, the stock market also keeps its share of records."

"The daily changes can be interpreted or slanted to either thrill or scare investors. These 'most shares sold' or 'least shares sold' situations often are only transitory events."

Marberry, Hoelzen and most stockbrokers were optimistic concerning the immediate and long-range future of stock market investments.

There are more than 20 million investors in stocks and bonds in the United States. The greater amounts invested in the stock market, by far, come from institutions such as insurance companies, large banks and holding companies.

U.S. Ends Fiscal 1965 $3.8 Billion in the Red

WASHINGTON (AP) — At midnight, the United States entered its 53rd straight month of rising prosperity and its sixth straight year of deficit financing.

It closed the books on fiscal 1965, the crucial testing year of what President Johnson calls "expansionary fiscal policy," with a smaller than expected budget deficit — $3.8 billion or, quite possibly, less. The $3.8-billion estimate was reported by Johnson in mid-June. But encouraging reports have continued to come in, and some fiscal experts now expect a $3.6-billion or $3.7-billion red ink figure when the final accounting is done.

THE DEFICIT might be smaller if huge revenues had not been lost in last year's $14-billion tax reduction. The administration insists that just the opposite is true — that the deficit would have been greater.

Except for the tax cut, says Chairman Gardner Ackley of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, fiscal 1965 probably would have seen a recession instead of unparalleled prosperity. If so, tax revenues would have slumped drastically, as they did in each of the four postwar recessions, and the deficit would have ballooned, he says.

Instead the red ink is fading slowly. The deficit is at least $2.5 billion smaller than the $6.3 billion which Johnson predicted in his budget message last January.

The new fiscal year, 1966, is probably the last in which federal spending will stay below the $100-billion level.

WORK ALREADY IS well begun on the fiscal 1967 budget, for the year starting 12 months from now. Almost inevitably, the experts say, it will top $100 billion because of population growth, spending increases built into the budget by existing legislation, and the difficulty of finding further defense economies.

Some officials hope for a balance in fiscal 1967. Most feel, however, that the new $4.7-billion excise tax reduction — a deeper revenue cut than the January budget proposed — makes this an overoptimistic guess.

The next balanced budget probably won't come until 1968.

Johnson already is talking about more tax reduction. In signing the excise tax reduction last week he told the nation that, when taxes can be cut again, "we hope in particular to provide further tax relief to those who now live in the shadow of poverty. Tax revision is a job never finished."

Presidential Disability Amendment Vote Halt

WASHINGTON (AP) — A proposed constitutional amendment on presidential disability ran into a senate revolt Wednesday — built around charges it could create two presidents and two cabinets — and was held over until next Tuesday for a showdown vote.

Key Air Base Shelled By Viet Cong Raiders

1 American Killed, Several Wounded

DA NANG, Viet Nam (AP) — Viet Cong mortar fire slashed into strategic Da Nang Air Base in a sneak attack early Thursday and destroyed three U.S. planes on the ground. A U.S. Air Force policeman was killed.

Three other planes were damaged in the barrage of about thirty 81mm mortar rounds that hit this key launching point for U.S. air strikes against the Viet Cong and Communist North Viet Nam.

The Viet Cong pounded the southern end of the air strip with guns of 3,000-yard range for about five minutes and then fled.

At least 10 and probably more U.S. personnel were wounded in the attack, reliable sources said.

Two U.S. F102 pilots, camped where the mortars fell, were slightly wounded. U.S. MARINE perimeter areas extend around most of the base. A total of 9,500 Marines guard the Da Nang area, 380 miles northeast of Saigon and 80 miles from the North Vietnamese border.

Security forces fired a counter-barrage and the sky above the air base was red with explosions and flares from flare ships.

The attack began about 1:30 a.m.

LONDON (AP) — Communist North Viet Nam apparently is putting out feelers indicating it might receive the Commonwealth prime ministers' peace mission after all.

Informed sources said Wednesday the British consul general in Hanoi had been called in by the North Vietnamese government for a talk on the question.

A U.S. spokesman said two C130 transport planes and a F102 Delta Dagger interceptor were destroyed in the barrage. One C130 and two Delta Dagers were damaged.

The other Delta Dagger interceptors were dragged to the center of the airstrip by tractors.

"A LOT OF brave people went in there," a U.S. Air Force spokesman said.

The mortared area was immediately evacuated after the initial barrage.

The busy Da Nang Air Base has been one of three main centers in the country for mounting attacks against targets in North Viet Nam as well as for air strikes inside the country.

U.S. Marines began pouring into the area last March with their main objective described as providing security for the air base.

The Viet Cong attack here was one of a series of mortar assaults that Communist forces have launched this week in stepped-up offensives over wide areas in South Viet Nam.

On Monday military installations in Nha Trang were hit. Nha Trang is 200 miles northeast of Saigon on the South China Sea.

LATER MONDAY two targets in central highlands were attacked by Communist mortars. One attack was made on Dak Sut, about 290 miles north of Saigon and the other on Dak To, about 15 miles

Residents Object To Rezoning Plea

Residents of Cottage Reserve, located near Lake Macbride, are opposed to a request for rezoning submitted this week to the Johnson County Zoning Commission by a Cedar Rapids man.

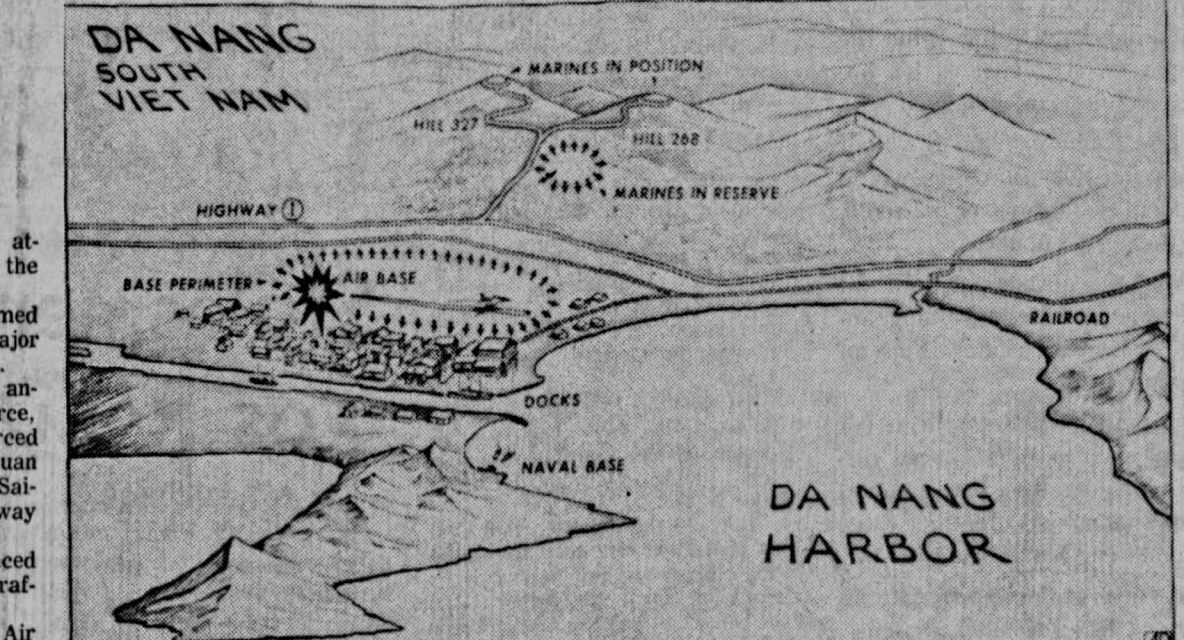

Terry R. Bjornsen, a Cedar Rapids developer, asked that 180 acres of land now zoned as resort and residential be rezoned to include multiple housing and high-way commercial areas.

Bjornsen plans to develop a 560-acre resort community with its own power, utilities, and police protection, just south of the Lake Macbride causeway.

Attorney Jay H. Honohan, representing the residents, asked the zoning commission to defer action on the request because the residents did not know of the plan until just before the meeting.

Honohan said the area was growing as a high-class residential area and what Bjornsen proposed seemed more of a middle or low cost commercial enterprise.

The Zoning Commission toured the area Wednesday and will submit recommendations on the request to the Board of Supervisors, said.

Communists Pelt U.S. Aircraft

Bomb blast symbol indicates place where Communist Viet Cong mortar fire destroyed three U.S. aircraft Wednesday at Da Nang air base in South Viet Nam and killed a U.S. Air Force policeman, a U.S. spokesman reported. During this attack, the Viet Cong landed about thirty 81mm mortar rounds on the southern end of the strip within five minutes and then fled. The base is heavily guarded by some 9,000 U.S. Marines and is the taking off point for jet strikes against Communist guerrillas. This drawing is by AP artist Peter Linnartz.

— In Dominican Rebellion —

Report To Implicate Reds

By WILLIAM L. RYAN AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Informed sources say the Administration is preparing a documentary report on Communist activity and the involvement of Castro Cuba in the Dominican Republic rebellion.

Confusions and contradictions still cloud the picture of what happened in late April when Santo Domingo exploded. How much control did the Communists have over the rebellion? How imminent was the threat of a Communist takeover and eventual establishment of a Cuba-like bastion? Was there time for the Administration to seek inter-American approval before landing U.S. troops?

The answers to these and other questions have an important bearing on the policy and the image of the United States in Latin America.

No one has yet accused the disgruntled junior Dominican officers who staged the "constitutional" revolt of April 24 of being Communists. But rebel officers admit that Communists were active.

Early in May, Washington issued what appeared to be a hastily compiled list of 54 persons identified as Communists and extremists in controlling positions in the rebellion.

U.S. intelligence now has come up with a new list, which is expected to be part of something in the nature of a White Paper laying down the Administration's case. The new list contains names of 77 persons identified as Communist leaders in Santo Domingo in the first week of the crisis.

Many of the Latin-American leaders I interviewed on a recent tour conceded that there was probably a real Castroist threat which was averted in the Dominican Republic by the U.S. military action. In most cases they emphatically did not agree that there was insufficient time for the administration to consult with the Organization of American States before landing troops.

The new U.S. documentation of its case goes back to 1963 and an abortive Cuban-supported uprising against the Dominican regime by the 14th of June Movement, an organization with Castroist leadership.

It says the Cuban DGI — General Directorate of Intelligence — an agency for promoting revolution, provided financial support for two of the three Communist groups in the Dominican Republic: the 14th of June and the Dominican Popular Movement, a violence-minded group. A third Communist organization is the Popular Socialist party, Moscow-line, with little mass following.

Investigation in Santo Domingo shows that all three Communist groups were active in the rebellion. Their combined strength might have been 8,000, though not all the 14th of June members could be called Communist.

U.S. intelligence implies the Red attempt in the Dominican Republic was a near thing. Communists, their reports indicate, had four days in which to make the try. After U.S. troops landed and the OAS came on the scene, the Communist leaders began fading into the background, these sources say.

Senate Unit Okays New USDA Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Appropriations Committee approved Wednesday a record $8 billion-plus to finance the Agriculture Department and related agencies, and okayed $5.19 billion to pay for space exploration.

It boosted by some $30 million amounts voted by the House for the future moon landing and other space projects as it completed action on a $14.2 billion bill providing operating funds for some 24 federal agencies.

Included in the $14.2 billion was $17 million to keep open six veterans hospitals and related facilities.

Local Phones Change Tone Starting Today

All Iowa City telephones have a new dial tone this morning. The tone is a combination of "musical" beats which sound quite different from the old "buzz" but have the same meaning to the user — that the switching equipment is ready for the call.

The musical dial tone is required to introduce electronic pushbutton phone service here.

Also starting today a new number will be used by two-party customers to reach the other phone on the line. The current number is 4-9921. The new number will be 4-1201 and is being adopted throughout the United States.

Taped Interviews From Mississippi In Panel Tonight

The Rev. William Weir, minister of the Iowa City Unitarian Universalist Society, returned Wednesday from Jackson, Miss., with tape recordings and slides of the situation in that city.

The tape recordings will be played at a panel at 8:00 p.m. tonight, in the Union River Room. The panel is sponsored by the Friends of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee.

Mr. Weir said the recordings included reports of persons who had suffered police brutality in jail; a conversation with one of the attorneys of the Lawyers Constitutional Defense Committee, a group of lawyers who have volunteered to aid the demonstrators; a conversation with Mrs. Annie Devine, a congressional candidate for the Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party; and a Dial for Truth recording by the White Citizens Council.

"While in Jackson, I called on ministers to lead the people in non-violent civil rights demonstrations and on Negro families to aid in the fight," Mr. Weir said.

"Six of the ministers that I worked with were arrested at Tuesday's demonstration," he said.

He said that about 70 people were arrested Tuesday and 50 were arrested last Thursday.

"This means that over 1,000 people have been arrested in Jackson in the past few weeks," he said.

Cigaret Prices Increase Today

Other Price Hikes Also Hit Consumer

Starting today, cigaret prices will increase three cents a pack, approximately one-tenth of the cost of a package.

CIGARETTES in many area vending machines will begin selling for 40 cents a pack. Other cigaret vendors will increase prices 30 cents a carton or three cents a pack. The price increase brings cigaret taxes up from five to eight cents a package.

The price increase is due to a tax raise on Class "A" cigarettes passed by the Legislature as well as a seven cent a carton increase from the manufacturers.

THE PRICE hike comes at a time when the Department of Agriculture says smokers are smoking more cigarettes than they did before the surgeon general's smoking and health report came out in January, 1964.

Cigaret consumption for the 1965 fiscal year is an estimated 533 billion. This is approximately 24 billion more than were consumed during the short decline following the smoking report.

Prices are increasing on other consumer goods too. Gas taxes were increased from six to seven cents a gallon. Proceeds from the increased taxes will go to the primary road fund.

MOTEL RATES are going up. Starting Sunday room rates will go up an additional two per cent. Several motel operators said Wednesday they were awaiting orders from their chain headquarters but they indicated the customers, not the motel operators, will absorb the increase.

A check with Iowa City drug stores and gas stations Wednesday indicated that a mild surge of stockpiling of cigarettes and gasoline was underway. One drug store manager said however, the sales increase was slight.

Last Day for Bargain

Kacy Cameron, A4, Cedar Rapids, gave a shrug Wednesday. After all what's $51 for 20 cartons of cigarettes when she could save 3 cents a pack by buying them June 30. Wednesday was the last day before the higher cigaret tax went into effect.

Double Cops For Holiday

A record force of 760 highway patrolmen, more than double the normal force of 350, will be patrolling Iowa highways during the 4th of July weekend.

The 1965 Legislature gave State Safety Commissioner William Sueppel the power to use 275 National Guard, Air Police and Military Police personnel, 50 Highway Commission weight officers, 10 Commerce Commission officers, 60 officials of the Conservation Commission and 15 officers in the Department of Public Safety for road patrol over the holiday weekend.

The auxiliary officers will have power to enforce motor vehicle laws and city ordinances, Sueppel said.

According to Sueppel, during the last four-day July 4 holiday in 1963, 18 persons were killed in Iowa traffic accidents. Last year's toll was seven deaths in a three-day period.

Sueppel has urged all motorists to drive with their headlights on from Friday through dawn Tuesday. In addition, all traffic courts in the state have been asked to levy stiff penalties for violations.

Also to be enforced is the state law restricting the use of fireworks.

The Code of Iowa makes it illegal either to sell or use fireworks without the written permission of city officials. Violation of the law may be punished by a $100 fine, 90 days imprisonment or both.

3rd of July Fest Planned in Amana

Five local clubs will cooperate to sponsor the Amana Colonies Third of July celebration at the ball park in Middle Amana.

There will be a wide variety of carnival activities and prizes. Food, beer and soft drinks will be included. Additional entertainment will be provided by Amana High School, the Scarlet Angels Drill Team and by ball games.

An Amana air conditioner will be given as a door prize just before the fireworks display, which begins at 9:30 p.m.

Slight Gain Made On Steel Contract

PITTSBURGH — Subcommittees working on aspects of a new basic steel contract complete reports to top level bargainers today and are expected to say, "We've made a little progress. You take it from here."

The subcommittees have been at work since an interim agreement was signed averting a May 1 strike. But there reportedly has been little agreement on anything except lesser issues.

"The feeling seems to be that everybody is still sitting on their hands, hoping the top-level group will settle it all," said one informed industry source.

Mountaineer Club Leaves for Month In Peru Heights

The rugged mountain peaks of Peru will be home for the next month for 43 members of the Iowa Mountaineers, who will leave on a Peruvian expedition today.

The 30 men and 13 women, ranging from college professors to ministers to housewives, will make camp in a primitive area 250 miles north of Lima, within sight of 15 mountain peaks up to four miles high.

"Next to the Himalayas, the mountains of Peru are the most impressive in the world," said John Ebert, chief engineer of University radio station WSUI and director of the Mountaineers. Ebert, who will leave with his wife for Peru today, said that among the climbs planned is an ascent of Huascarán, the second highest peak on the North and South American continents.

In addition to climbing and hiking, the group plans to do research on the area around the basecamp site, about which so little is known that a Mountaineers scouting party of four left the United States two weeks early to send back necessary basic information. The main party will explore the territory and map the area for reference by future expeditions.

The party, whose members come from all parts of the country, will leave in two groups this weekend — from Miami and from Mexico City — and will meet in Lima Saturday.

Student Nurses Alloted $23,000 in Loan Program

The University School of Nursing has been alloted $23,000.89 from the Public Health Service as part of the Nursing Student Loan Program for the fiscal year 1966.

The funds, made available under the Nurse Training Act of 1964, will be used for loans to full-time students studying for a baccalaureate or associate degree in nursing. Up to $1000 a year may be borrowed. The loans are to be repaid over a ten year period after the student completes his study.

Mercy Hospital School of Nursing in Iowa City has received $3,560.89 in loan funds as part of the same program.

Kidney Treatment Center Planned for V.A. Hospital

Plans for a Renal Dialysis Treatment Center for chronic kidney patients at Veteran's Administration Hospital were announced Wednesday by Dr. J. Gordon Spendlove, director of the hospital.

The center, financed by the V.A., will be one of seven locations throughout the United States where veterans can receive this treatment. It is designed to relieve the patient of his ailment rather than cure it.

Treatment of this kind, however, was started last August by Dr. Richard L. Lawton, assistant professor of surgery. It consists mainly of an artificial kidney through which the blood circulates, is cleared of impurities and then is returned to the blood vessel.

Spendlove said that seven cases had already been treated over the last year, and that six patients were undergoing treatments now. Some patients, he said, can go for a week before the next treatment is due.

Kidney treatment is presently located on the ninth floor of the hospital, but the Renal Dialysis Center will be located on the 10th floor.

Volunteer Call For Head Start

Local volunteers who have experience testing children are needed for a national testing program to determine the effectiveness of Project Head Start, an eight-week session designed to prepare preschool youngsters for kindergarten next fall.

About 60 youngsters from low-income or culturally-deprived families are included in the program in Iowa City. The project's morning classes started Monday.

Persons with primary teaching experience or college students going into teaching who would like to volunteer are asked to call Marshall Field, county superintendent of schools, 338-2721.

Graduate Student New Daily Iowan Circulation Head

A capable, quiet graduate student, Earl Nordbrock, was recently named circulation manager for The Daily Iowan.

He assumed the post on June 1, 1965, and plans to continue in it for his remaining year in graduate school.

"I really like the job and it's almost exactly as I expected it to be," he said. It consists of the distribution of all issues of the Iowan, receiving orders, hiring carriers, and changing addresses of subscribers.

The job is the busiest at the first of any class session. This is the time when all the addresses must be sorted out and the place of delivery determined.

He said the most interesting part of the job is the calls from people who aren't getting the paper.

After graduation Nordbrock plans to use his degree in math in some type of industry. "I'm

Wednesday Concert Features Stravinsky

A study in contrasts, with comparable works from the 16th and 20th centuries sung side by side, will characterize the University Summer Chorus concert Wednesday.

Daniel Moe, director of choral activities, will conduct the concert at 8 p.m. in the Union Main Lounge.

The featured work in the concert will be Igor Stravinsky's modern setting of the traditional mass. The Stravinsky mass, written in 1948, is a concise work lasting only 17 minutes. It is presented by an orchestra of 10 wind and brass instruments.

In addition to the mass, the Summer Chorus will present three Tudor motets (a vocal composition in harmony, set usually to words from scripture, and intended for church use): "O Sing Joyfully" by Adrian Batten, "Eheu! Sustulerunt Domine" by Thomas Morley and "In Manus Tuas Domine" by Thomas Tallis.

Twentieth century compositions will include "Thou Hast Loved Righteousness" by Daniel Pinkham, "Behold! I Build an House" by Lukas Foss and "Sing Aloud to God," an original work by Moe. Helen Tiernan, June graduate from Winterset, will be accompanist for the six motets.

About 50 students registered for the Summer Chorus. They receive one credit for the course.

The concert is a feature of the University's 27th annual Fine Arts Festival. No tickets are required.

Frosh Win Fast Draw In Registration Race

Pre-registration activities for more than 2,300 fall semester freshmen students will begin at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday in the Union. Eleyen such summer registrations will be held, with a maximum of 300 students participating each day. This is the first year the early registrations have been tried.

The students at registration will be divided into four groups according to their tentative majors. After the distribution of registration materials in the Union ballroom in the morning, students will meet with advisers to plan schedules for the first term.

Throughout the day students will be given counseling, registration advice and placement examinations in rhetoric and foreign languages. Officials say most students will finish the activities by 4:30 p.m.

Program Coordinator Jack F. Demitroff, assistant director of admissions, said Tuesday that parents have been asked to accompany the students to the session and slightly more than half of them will do so. While the students are registering, the parents will meet with academic and administrative personnel, visit housing facilities and receives a general campus orientation. The parents may stay overnight at the Iowa House, the new guest motel in the Union, while the students may use one of the dormitories.

According to Roger Munn, assistant Union director, Union facilities will remain open to regular students during the registrations.

The students attending the sessions this summer will not be required to go through registration at the Field House in September. The other pre-registrations will be held July 9, 12, 15, 16, 19, 22, 23, 26, 29, and 30.

Nagle To Head Campaign

George Nagle Sr. has been appointed chairman of the 1966 Community Givers campaign. He will head the combined fund-raising drive which will be conducted this fall in Iowa City, Coralville and University Heights.

Mr. Nagle is president of the Nagle Lumber Co. and chairman of the board of the First National Bank. The appointment was made by the Community Givers Board of Directors.

Co-chairman for the campaign will be George R. Dane, trust officer of the Iowa State Bank & Trust Co.

Seventeen agencies which perform health, welfare and recreational services in the local communities are now receiving operating funds from the 1965 campaign. More than $104,000 was raised during the drive last fall. The budget which will determine the goal of the solicitations this fall is now being prepared by a committee of the Community Givers board.

"Mr. Dane and I are pleased and honored to serve as chairmen of the campaign," Mr. Nagle said in accepting the appointment. "Community Givers is one of our most important local institutions; the organizations it supports are necessary and valuable components of our community life."

Archaeologists Unravel Mystery

For five hazardous years, from 1808 until sometime in 1813, old Ft. Madison stood as a lonely sentinel on the west bank of the Mississippi — the first military outpost in the whole unsettled region west of the river and north of St. Louis. Until mid-June its exact location had been unknown and the last pages of its history almost blank.

With the excavation of the foundation of one of the blockhouses and part of the stockade of the old fort on the present site of the W. A. Shaeffer Pen Company in today's busy town of 15,000, part of the story may be unraveled.

From the rubble of some 14 tons of crude limestone rock and charred logs uncovered under the Shaeffer parking lot, state archaeologist Marshall McKusick, associate professor of anthropology, and his crew have sifted what are considered some of the richest archeological findings in Iowa history. For the first time, some of the cloudy details of military life of the early frontier and the actual structure of the fort may be clarified.

"It was a thousand-to-one shot. I figured it was impossible," McKusick said, in speaking of the discovery of the fort. "Records of the exact placement of the post are lost somewhere in the National Archives in Washington. The fort could have been anywhere within five miles of the spot."

McKusick went to the scene June 17, six days after a bulldozer struck the first stone of the foundation, during excavation for an underground reservoir at the Shaeffer plant. The probable identification of the ruins had been established a few days earlier by an assistant, Robert Alex, G. Bettendorf, who had been sent to Fort Madison following a call from the president of Old Fort Madison, Inc., a civic group interested in locating and preserving the remains of the fort.

While the company held up its construction work, McKusick, assisted by John Vincent, director of the Sanford Museum in Cherokee, and a crew of five began a cautious excavation of the crumbling foundation, which was ascertained to be the cellar of a two-story blockhouse, one of four on the old fort grounds. Their findings even at this early stage are prolific enough to enable the eventual reconstruction of the old fort on another site, in part using original building materials.

An important immediate conclusion resulting from the discovery is that the fort was situated much farther from the river than early sketches indicate. The layout of the stockade, from an aerial viewpoint, was roughly in the shape of an outline of a bell, with its base paralleling the river some 150 feet from the bank instead of the 50 feet suggested by the sketches.

Blockhouses stood at each corner of the base, one at the top of the "bell" and one at the end of a long "tail" of the stockade extending from the top westward to a position on the ridge behind the fort. It is the foundation of the blockhouse at the top of the "bell" of the stockade, about a block from the river, that is being excavated. Its walls were constructed of 18-inch masonry cemented with clay in place of the usual cement, approximately 20 feet long on a side according to specifications prescribed by the Secretary of War in 1803.

From the alignment of charred logs that had fallen into the foundation, the positioning of the first and second stories of the blockhouse could also be determined. The first story had been set squarely on the foundation, while the second story — of slightly larger dimensions — had been turned at a 45-degree angle to the first, so that its corners overhung the ground floor.

Much remains to be uncovered in this important archeological find, where a garrison of 60 soldiers and only two or three women withstood incessant harassment by hostile Indians for five precarious years. Yet to be uncovered within the fort proper are the officers' and enlisted quarters, the regimental buildings and the three remaining blockhouses, which should reveal different aspects of frontier life than suggested by findings thus far, now being cleaned and catalogued by the Sanford Museum. For the present, the archeological crew is excavating only those parts of the fort in imminent danger of destruction.

Seabury has been in charge of the workshop for 16 years. In conjunction with the high school workshop there is a workshop for teachers of speech and dramatic arts, of which he is also in charge.

The teachers have projects of their own, but spend time observing the students in their activities. Seabury said Wednesday teachers often get so involved with the students' program that it was difficult to get them back to their own sessions.

His main job, said Seabury, is to select students for the program and to consult with them about any problems which may arise while the workshop is in session. Workshop classes are taught by University instructors and some graduate students. Seabury says the workshop is also an opportunity for graduate students who plan to teach drama to get valuable experience.

Contributions Praised

TEANECK, N.J. — The generosity of residents of three New Jersey and New York counties has won praise from Jennelle Moorhead, president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. Surveying some 60,000 books collected for Appalachia from Bergen and Passaic, N.J., counties and Rockland County, N.Y., Mrs. Moorhead said:

"This is the greatest response of any counties in the United States." She said the national goal is a million books and about 100,000 have been delivered to the Kentucky distribution point.

The drive here is sponsored by the PTA, and two newspapers, the Record of Hackensack, N.J., and the Paterson N.J. Morning Call.

Cubs, Dodgers Split

CHICAGO (AP) — Del LeJohn, a 31-year-old rookie, rapped two key hits in his first two major league at-bats and scored the deciding run as the Los Angeles Dodgers edged the Chicago Cubs 4-3 for a split of their doubleheader Wednesday.

The Cubs took the opener 4-1 with four runs in the seventh inning, two scoring on Joe Amalfitano's pinch single and the other two on Ron Fairly's two-base error.

The split assured the Dodgers of retaining the National League lead ahead of the Cincinnati Reds.

Dick Ellsworth posted his sixth straight victory and brought his record to 9-3 in the opener, pitching a five-hitter.

Cards 7, Pirates 1
PITTSBURGH (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals scored two fifth-inning runs and rallied for five more in the ninth in a 7-1 victory over Pittsburgh Wednesday night.

Curt Flood's double drove in the first St. Louis run, coming in the fifth after singles by Bill White and Ken Boyer.

Law, now 8-6, allowed only four hits in his eight innings. But the Cards rallied for insurance in the ninth against Al McBean and Frank Carpin, scoring five times as they posted their 13th straight victory at Forbes Field.

Yankees 5, Orioles 4
BALTIMORE (AP) — Jim Bouton won his first game since May 8 as the New York Yankees nipped Baltimore 5-4 Wednesday night on Tom Tresh's three-run homer.

Bouton needed relief help from Steve Hamilton in the eighth inning after Curt Blefary hit a two-out, two-run homer.

The Yankees trailed 2-1 until Clete Boyer led off the seventh with a homer. Phil Linz then singled, and Bouton sacrificed him to second where he remained as Dave McNally walked Bobby Richardson intentionally.

CHICAGO (AP) — 000 000 001—1 8 1

Phillies 3, Braves 2
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Tony Taylor's seventh-inning single drove in Bobby Wine with the tie-breaking run as Philadelphia edged Milwaukee 3-2 Wednesday night.

Gary Wagner, who relieved starter Jim Bunning at the start of the sixth when the big right-hander complained of an ankle injury, got credit for his third victory in five decisions.

Wade Blasingame, now 8-6, blasted his first homer of the season into the left field stands, tying the game 2-2 in the top of the seventh.

But Wine led off the Phillies' seventh with a single off Blasingame and was sacrificed to second. Taylor then singled to center for the run.

Ralston Ousted By Emerson

WIMBLEDON, England, (AP) — Roy Emerson and Fred Stolle, Australian power specialists, served and volleyed their way into the Wimbledon Tennis final Thursday for the second straight year.

Emerson, 28-year-old reigning champion, swept aside the challenge of the United States and defeated Dennis Ralston 6-1, 6-2, 7-9, 6-1.

Stolle, defeated finalist for the last two years, crushed South Africa's Cliff Drysdale 6-3, 6-4, 7-5.

Friday's final will be a repeat of last year's — a match Emerson won in four sets.

Ralston's defeat left Billie Jean Moffitt the only America hope for a single title.

The second-ranking American girl from Long Beach, Calif., faces a monumental task today when she takes on defending queen Maria Bueno of Brazil in a semifinal.

Clark Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio, and Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., upset the Mexican Davis Cup pair of Rafael Osuna and Antonio Palafox 6-0, 6-1, 3-6, 4-6, 6-0 to reach the semifinals of the men's doubles.

AL All-Stars Are Powerful
NEW YORK (AP) — The American League obviously hopes to club the National League into submission in the annual All-Star baseball game in Minnesota, July 13.

Tired of taking it on the chin in recent mid-summer meetings, the Americans chose to sacrifice speed and defense for power in their selection of a starting line-up.

The league players, coaches and managers, who did the voting, selected power hitters Bill Skowron of Chicago for first base, Felix Mantilla of Boston for second, Dick McAuliffe of Detroit for shortstop, Willie Horton of Detroit for left field and Rocky Colavito of Cleveland for right field.

Third baseman Brooks Robinson of Baltimore, center fielder Vic Davallillo of Cleveland and catcher Earl Battey of Minnesota rounded out the starting team, exclusive of the pitcher.

For the first time in the 33-year history of the All-Star event, not a single member of the New York Yankees was selected. Los Angeles, Washington and Kansas City also were shut out.

Boston Has Plans for New Stadium
BOSTON (AP) — Plans for an $80 million stadium with a retractable roof — said to be the first of its kind in a large structure — were announced Wednesday by the Greater Boston Stadium Authority.

The all-weather stadium would seat 53,000 for football and 45,000 for baseball. A temperature control system would maintain a 70-degree level in the winter and 75 degrees in the summer.

The authority said the stadium roof would open or close in 20 minutes.

The announcement did not say when construction would start. Financing would be by sale of revenue bonds. State legislative approval is required.

According To Statistics — Iowa Is Experienced

Iowa should be the most experienced team in the Big Ten when the football season starts next fall, if the statistics released by the Big Ten are to be believed.

The Hawkeyes will have more familiar faces at fall practice than any other team. There will be 25 lettermen and 30 members from last fall's traveling squad back.

The Hawks lost as few starters as anyone — 6, and lost only 17 lettermen — tying with Michigan and Minnesota and two behind Michigan State in that department.

In listing Iowa's prospects for next year, the conference gives the team's strengths as "the nation's premier passing tandem of Gary Snook and Carl Noonan, who are protected by a top flight offensive guard John Niland and tackle Bob Ziolkowski."

Rich O'Hara and Cliff Wilder are mentioned as key receivers and Dalton Kimble and Gary Simpson as the top running backs. A strong defense is forecast with a fine nucleus in the secondary. Experience and an above average freshman team for depth are also listed.

Snook, Noonan and Niland are all listed as possible All-America selections. Defensive end Dave Long, middle guard Leo Miller, O'Hara, Ziolkowski and Kimble are

Cassius' Wife Gets $350 Alimony
MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Cassius Clay's pretty, 25-year-old wife was awarded $350 a week temporary alimony Wednesday and $2,500 temporary attorney fees pending outcome of divorce proceedings.

In a 100-minute hearing before Dade County Circuit Court Judge Harold Spaet, stylishly dressed Sonji Clay was denied her petition for $1,000 a week or more.

She said later she still hopes for reconciliation with her husband, the heavyweight boxing champion. Clay was not at the hearing.

Forddy Anderson Takes New Post
EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Forddy Anderson, replaced as Michigan State basketball coach after piloting his team to a 1-13 Big Ten record last season, got a new job Wednesday as athletic director and basketball coach at a new private college in Nebraska.

Chamberlain Wants To Box

NEW YORK (AP) — Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain, professional basketball's highest paid player, told the New York Post Wednesday he was seriously considering leaving the National Basketball Association to initiate a boxing career.

The 7-foot-1 center of the Philadelphia 76ers, who weighs 250 pounds, added, however, that he had not yet made up his mind.

"I'll make up my mind when I decide to make up my mind," he told the Post.

Frank Gifford, the CBS commentator, reported Tuesday that Chamberlain would fight under the tutelage of Cus D'Amato, with whom he would soon sign a seven-year contract.
