A ROYAL AIR FORCE TRANSPORT carrying British servicemen on a parachute training mission blew up in an orange ball of fire and plunged into the British countryside Tuesday. An RAF spokesman said all 41 men aboard died.

The plane was a four-engine Hastings, which, though regarded as obsolete, is a workhorse of the RAF Transport Command for medium-range missions.

Aboard were 24 men of the RAF, 11 British soldiers and 6 crewmen.

Red Missile Sites Reported

THE STATE DEPARTMENT REPORTED Tuesday two missile sites in North Viet Nam are now ready to take Soviet surface-to-air missiles and two other sites are rapidly nearing that state of readiness.

Heretofore the State Department had confirmed that one missile site had been observed in the Hanoi area and said there might be a second site in the same vicinity.

Luci Asked For Catholic Baptism

EIGHTEEN-YEAR-OLD LUCI JOHNSON requested rebaptism when she converted to the Roman Catholic Church, it was disclosed Tuesday.

The officiating priest, the Rev. James Montgomery, said the President's daughter asked to be baptized because she wished in conscience to be sure she was meeting the requirements of the Church.

"I did what she requested and fulfilled the laws of the Church," Father Montgomery said of the rebaptism, which has become the target of criticism from theologians.

Campus Image Cause of Concern

STUDENT UNREST ON THE NATION'S college campuses was the major topic Tuesday at the 1965 conference of the American College Public Relations Association and two speakers came up with much the same idea.

A. Westley Rowland, assistant to the president of the State University of New York at Buffalo, said:

"I submit that what has happened to students all over the nation is to a large extent due to the failure of effective communications on the campus."

H. Neil Berkson of Philadelphia, president of the United States Student Press Association, called the term "academic community" a "sheer myth."

L.A. Cop Charged

CHARGES WERE FILED TUESDAY against five men accused of raping a Los Angeles police lieutenant's daughter and, in another action, against the officer himself.

Lt. Thomas E. O'Neal was charged in a Police Department administrative action with having shot and wounded Carl E. Norman "without just and reasonable cause."

Norman was one of 16 men arrested in a roundup of a gang of motorcycle and car-club members after the rape June 29 of 19-year-old Shirley Diane O'Neal.

But, ironically, Norman is not now considered a suspect in the attack on O'Neal's daughter. He is recovering from three bullet wounds in the back.

$100 Fine Not Fine With Father

ALBERT P. SCOBIE JR., AN 18-YEAR-OLD high school dropout, began serving a 15-day jail term today in lieu of a $100 fine his father refused to pay. He was jailed in Southgate, Mich., following a noisy beer and rock 'n' roll party attended by about 80 teenagers.

Succession Amendment To States

THE SENATE APPROVED AND sent to the states for ratification Tuesday a proposed constitutional amendment spelling out procedure to deal with presidential incapacity and to keep the vice presidency filled.

The House had accepted the compromise version by voice vote last Wednesday. President Johnson's signature is not required.

Hearing Set for 1966 Budget of $3,183,052

A public hearing on the 1966 budget was set for August 3 at 7:30 p.m. at the Civic Center by the Iowa City Council at their meeting Tuesday night. The budget totals $3,183,052.

The Council also awarded contracts for the asphaltic concrete paving program and for the First Avenue sanitary sewer. The L. L. Pelling Co. of Iowa City bid $69,271.75 for the asphaltic paving program, and the Knowing Co. of Iowa City bid $6,136.58 for the First Avenue relief sewer.

Controversy arose over the First Avenue sewer when a petition signed by 131 residents of the area was presented to the Council. They objected to the sewer because it would overload the trunk sewer which it runs into and the overflow would back up into their basements.

The residents also objected because the new sewer would relieve the problems in Court Hill before it would relieve the area east of Court Hill.

The sewer would be only a temporary measure until a large southeast trunk sewer is built next year, according to Iowa City Engineer Barry Lundberg.

Speech and Drama Workshop—

Bard Scenes Open Tonight

Scenes from seven Shakespearean plays will be presented at 9 p.m. today and Thursday in the Studio Theatre. Actors and actresses for the scenes, called "Shakespeare in the Round," are high school students attending the 34th session of the High School Speech and Drama Workshop.

A Morris Dance reflecting the Elizabethan period will open the show. The selected scenes are from "Hamlet," "As You Like It," "A Midsummer Night's Dream," "Romeo and Juliet," "The Taming of the Shrew," "Macbeth" and "Twelfth Night."

THE SCENES WERE CHOSEN for their variety and lightness as well as for their adaptability for the 17 girls and 3 boys in the workshop.

Edward Pixley, G. Iowa City, is director for Puck's Epilogue from "A Midsummer Night's Dream" and choreographer of the Morris Dance. Blake Leach, G. Bloomington, Ill., is director for the "Hamlet," "Macbeth" and "Twelfth Night" scenes.

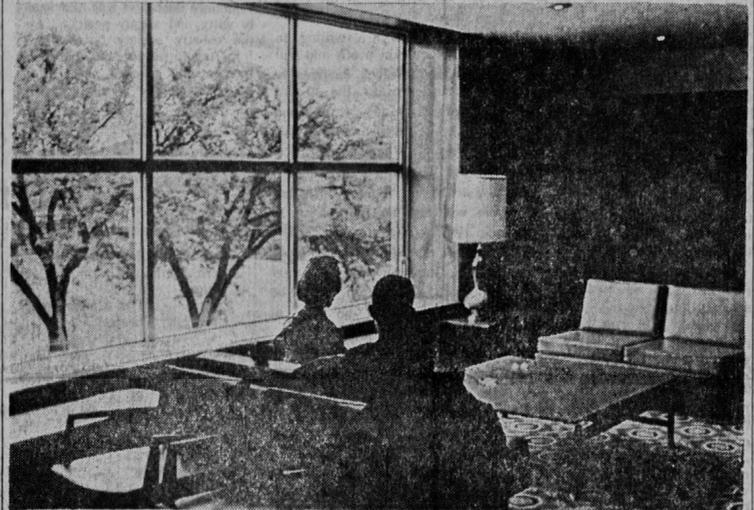

Ben Hodge, G. St. Louis, Mo., is director for the scenes from "As You Like It," "Romeo and Juliet" and "Taming of the Shrew."

Restaurant Area Still Unfinished

By JIM O'DONNELL

The Union's new $4.2 million addition officially opened Tuesday, and a quick glance around the lobby gives the viewer an indication of things to come.

The lobby of the Iowa House is done in a mixture of red and black carpeting and red and green flagstones. Huge yellow leather chairs, offset by black couches with wooden bases, complement the deep paneled walls and the antique glass-tinted columns.

Everything about this new lobby spells quality. The main desk is an S-shaped structure that resembles the eastern border of Iowa on the Mississippi.

THE MAIN DESK area is not completed yet. Behind the desk attendants you'll see the skeleton of the planks in the wall, electrical wiring snaking out of the outlets, and workmen tracking dust in and out. The objective, however, has been reached, and the Iowa House is open for business.

From the first floor to the fourth, the 112 guest rooms are ready for occupancy. Fifty rooms were occupied already Tuesday night. After being whisked by elevator to their designated floors, the guests walk down the corridors on hall carpeting of deep blue and green.

Guest rooms have a private bath, carpeting, television and air-conditioning. A multipurpose electronic panel permits the guest to select piped-in music or AM-FM radio. The panel also includes an electric alarm clock connected to the music system.

THE CORNER ROOMS on each floor, termed executive suites, each have three interconnecting rooms.

One drawback is that the Iowa House provides no room service or porter service. Lost and found or maid service, however, can be obtained by dialing 200 and asking for the housekeeper.

The "automatic butler" — that is, vending machines — are located on every floor. Soft drinks, ice and candy can be purchased from them.

A sheetmetal workers' strike put the food service installation a month behind schedule, but all problems should be solved by mid-August.

The New River Room overlooks the Iowa River, the Art Building and Westlawn. Now the Flintkote asbestos tile and the Georgia-Pacific lumber occupy the area where dining tables will be.

The addition is directly connected to the Union.

The house cost $4.2 million dollars, and is being financed entire-

Van Allen Reports Mariner Brainwork

The University's mechanical brain aboard Mariner IV already has sent back new data about the sun, James A. Van Allen, head of the Department of Physics and Astronomy, said Tuesday.

Van Allen was speaking to the annual meeting of the Lee Newspaper Editors, which lasts from Monday through today.

Earlier in the day the editors heard Donald K. Huth, chief of Southeast Asian services for the Associated Press, say that he thought the United States should either get out of the war in South Viet Nam or go all out to win it.

Van Allen, speaking at a luncheon session, said that Mariner IV's four-pound brain was designed to measure weak magnetic fields. The brain has already found that the sun emits electrons, he said.

When the satellite passes Mars, Van Allen said, the brain may tell whether Mars has a radiation belt. The Iowa physicist was the discoverer of the radiation belt which surrounds the earth.

Mariner IV is scheduled to pass Mars at 8:18 p.m. July 14. Van Allen said this would be the "big moment" in the Mariner program, which began in 1959. The current Mariner IV probe, which is expected to provide pictures of Mars, was shaped at a conference in Iowa City in the summer of 1962.

In a more earth-bound manner, Huth told the editors that the Viet Nam war was now a Korean-type conflict and he did not see how the United States could withdraw.

Tories Ask Ousting Of Labor Gov't

LONDON (AP) — Britain's Labor Government was staggered by three defeats in the House of Commons early Wednesday.

The opposition Conservatives registered majorities of more than a dozen votes.

Jubilant Tories shouted "Out" and "Resign."

First Group Registers Early

210 Frosh Enroll For Fall Semester

Approximately 210 prospective freshman University students registered for fall term classes Tuesday at the Union, according to Jack F. Demitroff, summer orientation and registration program coordinator and assistant director of admissions.

Participation in the activities will allow students to use their time in the fall for social orientation instead of going through the normal registration procedure at the Field House.

PROSPECTIVE students began the activities by picking up registration materials in the Union ballroom at 8:30 a.m. They then met with counselors to determine fall term class schedules prior to actual registration and testing.

Tuesday's session was one of 11. The next registration session will be on Friday. Sessions will then meet on Mondays, Thursdays and Fridays for the next three weeks.

All students were finished with the activities by 5:30 p.m., including one group who were required to take six hours of placement tests.

DEMITROFF said students registered prior to the test sessions. In some cases they registered for alternate courses during the same time period. Which course they will take will depend on their test performance.

First of Many Here

The first group of freshmen for the fall semester arrived Tuesday to participate in a day's activities of testing, pre-registration and conferences. These students, who took the first test of their college careers, little realized the long semesters of more tests that make up the future.

In August, the students will be sent two cards to fill out. The cards will indicate which courses they will be taking as a result of the placement examinations.

Students are required to sign and return one of the cards to complete their registration. If they do not return the card, all of their class cards will be removed from the file. They would have to re-register if they come to the campus in the fall.

Many parents accompanied their children to the campus, where they participated in a general orientation program.

U.S. B52s Hit Viet Cong Lair In Third Strike

Ground Forces Site, Shoot Only Dogs In Jungle Maneuvers

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Air Force B52 bombers early today again blasted the dense, Communist-infiltrated jungle northeast of Saigon with heavy explosives.

It was the third such strike by the big Strategic Air Command bombers, which are based at Guam, 2,200 miles away. The B52s pounded the so-called "D-

DA NANG, South Viet Nam

(AP) — About 8,000 more U.S. Marines began landing in South Viet Nam early Wednesday to beef up the force of Leathernecks already in the country, a U.S. spokesman announced.

The marines came ashore at beaches near the strategic Da Nang Air Base from U.S. Navy ships in the South China Sea.

Zone," 35 miles northeast of Saigon, on June 18 and again on Monday.

A 2,500-man Allied task force plodded through one section of the almost impenetrable Viet Cong lair Tuesday, blowing up tunnels and the abandoned huts of guerrillas in one section of the "D Zone." The soldiers were virtually unopposed, except for some hostile dogs. They shot every dog that barked.

A U.S. spokesman described the air attack as another "spoiling mission" designed to harass the Reds by hitting hard at their morale.

The bombers swept over the jungle between 8 a.m. and 8:40 a.m., the spokesman said. On Monday, the eight-engine jets came before dawn.

There was no immediate disclosure on the number of planes in the raid or any assessment of damage.

About two dozen B52s took part in the raid Monday.

In other action 2 miles north-northwest of Saigon Tuesday night, the Viet Cong ambushed a 28-boat Government river convoy, sending one large landing craft to the bottom of the Saigon River, U.S. spokesmen reported.

The number of Government casualties, if any, was not immediately known.

The Allied task force pushed into the "D Zone" in a "search and destroy" operation, but the elusive guerrillas had fled.

Three Killed In Accidents Over Fourth

Johnson County's Fourth of July weekend contributed one-sixth of the state's 18 fatalities during the three-day holiday.

Four-year-old Richard Pooler of Cedar Rapids became the county's fourth drowning victim of the year when he drowned while playing at the main beach at Lake Macbride about noon Monday.

The boy was dead on arrival at Mercy Hospital, sheriff's deputies said.

The sheriff's office said Tuesday that the incident was still being investigated.

A car-bicycle accident Saturday brought Johnson County's traffic fatality toll to a record high of 13 for the date.

Mrs. Barbara Jarrard, 29, and Mrs. Dianna Jarrard, 34, both of Lone Tree, were killed at 8 p.m. Saturday when an eastbound auto, driven by Dennis R. DeCosteau, 20, of West Liberty, struck them as they were bicycling east on Highway 22 near the Highway 405 junction.

Patrolmen said the accident occurred on a straight stretch of highway while it was still light. The two women were riding at the rear of a line of seven bicyclists.

DeCosteau was released on $500 bond after being charged with drunken driving.

Did You Find A Pot of Gold?

Iowa Citizens had their golden opportunity to strike it rich last night — twice — as two full-color rainbows spanned the storm-clouded eastern skies.

No pots of gold were discovered, so the Johnson Administration missed its golden opportunity to reverse the nation's recent outflow of hard currency.

Don't invoke the wrath of IBM

By ART BUCHWALD
WASHINGTON — Most bills are now sent on perforated business machine cards that say in large letters DO NOT FOLD, BEND OR MUTILATE. I have a friend who doesn't like to be told what to do with a bill, and one day, to his horror, I saw him fold, bend and mutilate a card right in front of my eyes.

"You shouldn't have done that," I said quivering. "There is a curse on anyone in the United States who folds, bends, or mutilates a bill."

He laughed at me. "That's an old wives tale. This is a free country, isn't it?"

"Only if you don't fold, bend or mutilate," he said. "You're chicken," he said. "No computer is going to tell me what to do."

I didn't see my friend for several months. Then I finally ran across him in a bar. He was unshaven, dirty and obviously had been on a bender.

"What happened?" I asked. "THE CURSE," he croaked. "The curse got me."

Then he told me his story. He had sent back the folded, bent and mutilated card to the company and received another card in a week, saying, "We told you not to F.B. or M. THIS IS YOUR LAST CHANCE."

"I crumpled up the card and sent it back," he said. "Still thinking I had the upper hand. Then it started."

"First my telephone went out on me. I could not send or receive any messages. I went down to the phone company and they were very nice until they looked up my name. Then the woman said, 'I see here that you mutilated your bill.'"

"I didn't mutilate my phone bill," he said. "It doesn't make any difference what bill you mutilated. Our computer is aware of what you did to another computer and it refuses to handle your account."

Want to make money? Try this advice

By STEVE DEWOLF
Staff Writer
Every investor, from the dowager to the wheeler-dealer professional, has a system for making money in the stock market. Some make a fortune with systems. Others get taken to the cleaners faster than a bag of dirty clothes.

Such are the fortunes of Wall Street and such are the fortunes of stock market systems. Although no system can guarantee market profits, there are a number of principles and guidelines which can, if applied correctly, lead to worthwhile profits in the market. For lack of a more erudite name, I call it the "Gambler's Gambit" system.

The system is based on the philosophy that a 10 or 15 per cent profit in the hand is better than a 50 per cent profit which suddenly vanishes and turns into a 10 per cent loss or more. The object of the system is to buy a stock, hold it until some predetermined amount of profit is attained and then sell it and rake in the profit, free and clear.

Sound easy? It is. If you know what stock to buy and when to buy it. If you sell at the right time. If the stock doesn't go down in price. If you have knowledge of the stock market itself.

THE PROBLEM now becomes minimizing the ifs. So first, what stock to buy? Unless you plan to sell short, there is no reason to buy a stock which is going down. Why put money on a loser? Most larger daily newspapers carry a list of the 10 or 15 Most Active Stocks for the previous day. This list combined with the Wall Street Journal's list of new highs and new lows gives an indication of where the bulk of the interest in the market is and where it isn't. It shows which horses are leading the pack. Why not put money on one of the front runners?

The second step should be to check the stock from a more technical standpoint. Brokerage offices have charts showing how it has been traded in the past. If the trend of the stock is upward it may be a money-maker. The trading volume (total sales) of the stock should also be examined. A stock going up on big volume is healthy.

STEP THREE requires a long, hard look at the market itself. What is the market doing currently? If it is going up under heavy turnover of shares all the more reason to buy. Always trade with the trend of the market, not against it.

One final step is necessary before buying the stock. Decide at what price you will be willing to sell when the price goes up and at what point you will be willing to sell out at a loss if the stock goes down.

'Misanthrope' mispleases

By PAUL THORSON
Iowan Reviewer
Before launching into what may seem an ill-tempered tirade against the first play of the current summer repertory theater, let me recapitulate some of the mitigating circumstances usually presented as an argument for clemency when dealing with non-professional theater.

This is not Broadway, but a burgeoning midwestern hamlet; the actors are not professionals, but more or less talented amateurs; the audience is not the most sophisticated in the world; the choice of plays is limited by the quasi-educational role of the University Theater; the season must show a profit to support other less profitable, more adventurous ventures.

It would be tempting to go along with the gag, praising the more inept efforts with faint damns, except that at least one of the four plays in the repertory needs no excuses made for it, and thus condemns the others to comparison with a standard of excellence that can hold its own in any company.

So forgive me, to quote Alceste, for being so hard to please, and allow me to state the considered opinion that Aaron Frankel's production of "The Misanthrope" is a bit of a drag.

At least part of the fault, perhaps, lies not in the stars but in ourselves. We are at a long remove from the stage of the Palais-Royal in Paris and the audience, including Louis XIV. before whom this production is supposed to be taking place. The translation we are asked to accept is one of time, place and culture as well as language; something is bound to have been lost along the way.

Moliere doubtless was hilariously witty and sagely profound for the courtly society he was attempting to mirror, but the glass has become cracked and crazed with the change in climate; the reflection is more like the ones to be seen at a Coney Island fun fair.

Richard Wilbur's skillful verse translation, while it makes entertaining reading, somehow doesn't quite work on stage. The rhymed couplets more often than not merely clutter up the dialog, creating ornate obstructions that the actors must go galumphing around.

Finally, the play itself seems curiously disjointed, as if it had been cut by a Reader's Digest editor and only the discarded portions presented to us: the meaty, juicy, racy extracts being saved for a forthcoming condensation.

Under the circumstances, then, one can see why Mr. Frankel decided to play it broad and heavy, and to try and milk laughs from vaudeville routines rather than from the language. (The only really funny moment in the play is a bit of inspired pantomime by Alceste's valet, which was perhaps extraneous and certainly irrelevant to the rest of the proceedings.)

He used every device he could think of to convince the audience that they were being amused: ridiculous costumes, exaggerated gestures, overt mugging, falsetto voices, asides to the audience. The setting, by Max Wiese, didn't do much to help. An austere drawing room with the front wall missing brooded over the play like Madame De Farge over her knitting. A single chair, the only furnishing in the set, sat squatly and squarely in the center of the stage, providing the focal point for an endless round of musical chairs as each of the actors strove sporadically for a center-stage-fancy. The lighting, at least, was perfectly in keeping with the rest of the production — garish and superficial.

As for the actors, I suppose they did what they could to keep the play from drowning in a sea of simpers; some of them appeared to be making desperate attempts at mouth-to-mouth resuscitation of the floundering jokes.

IT MUST BE SAID that they generally managed to lead adequately with the troublesome couplets, only occasionally sounding as if they were chanting elegant nursery rhymes. Jerry Mayer's Alceste is the most convincingly rendered character, though strangely enough he achieves depth not through his comic portrayal but rather from a kind of forlorn dignity.

About those drunks...

PEOPLE ONCE CELEBRATED the Fourth of July with firecrackers. Now many of them get lit themselves and then blow off. At least that seems to have been the case at Arnolds Park over the weekend.

Although many of the "college age" youths involved in the fracas were not college students themselves, this sort of thing is usually tied pretty closely with John Q. Public's image of the college man.

Unfortunately, J. Q. often goes on to tie up this sort of disturbance with pickets and other demonstrations about civil rights and foreign policy questions. He sees all involved in any kind of uproar as "those bearded beatniks."

Nothing could be farther from the truth. Students who organize sit-ins and walk picket lines feel very strongly about the issue related to their demonstration. They are concerned about our country and the course it is taking.

The youths involved in the Arnolds Park fiasco — both students and nonstudents — were by and large a bunch of unruly drunks. It's doubtful that any of them have ever participated in any demonstration for a political or moral cause. These are the guys who just don't care.

Most of them have no conception of the meaning of responsibility. They're out for a good time, and no one's going to stop them — even if a good time means tearing a town apart.

For theatre-goers

TICKETS FOR THE remaining performances in the Summer Repertory Theatre are all gone, but those of you with determination may still attend the plays if you wish.

Tal Russell, the Theatre's business manager, informs us that over 15 people without tickets are allowed into the Theatre every night. All you need do is call University extension 2431 around 7 p.m. on the night you wish to attend and have your name put on the waiting list.

At 7:45 names are called out for those waiting at the Theatre to take seats of people with tickets who didn't show up.

All this calling and waiting doesn't absolutely assure you a seat, but it's a fighting chance. For those who enjoy having an adventure, this method of theatre-going can be an added pleasure. There's always the suspension of whether or not you'll be able to get a seat added to the other qualities of the play itself.

Next time remember to get your tickets far in advance, but if you're ticketless now and would like to watch an entertaining play, why not try a game of "repertory roulette"?

Feed her meter

PARKING TICKETS CAN BE a drag — almost enough to provoke a rebellion. Steve Mortimore, who often finds his windshield decorated upon returning to his car after class, has a suggestion which bordered on rebellion.

He tells us he thinks students should organize to have a volunteer follow Iowa City's metermaids with an ample supply of pennies. As soon as the lady cop spotted an expired meter, the student could feed the thing a penny and thus "unexpire" it.

Anyone who has ever parked much in this Forest of Parking Meters called Iowa City has had at least some experience with meters, maids and money. An anti-meter ticket campaign such as the one proposed by Mortimore would certainly be welcomed in many quarters (with contributions of nickles and dimes and pennies).

Perhaps this sort of thing would be a good project for the Student Senate next fall. Or maybe it's just the sort of issue to revitalize Townmen-Townwomen (which never really had much vitality to begin with).

If course we should consider the possible consequences. If this city had to function for over even a few months without its parking fine revenue, it would be in serious financial trouble.

Maybe we ought just leave well enough alone; but it is a devilish thought.

What happens when trouble starts? . . . Look for a solution. A simple, enough procedure but sometimes it can lead to things unimaginable. This is how the Committee on Institutional Cooperation (CIC), which deals with educational troubles, got started. Seven years ago the Council of the Big Ten schools made a concerted effort to solve the problems created by increasing enrollments, a revolution in technology, the need for costly new facilities and the growing inadequacy of traditional sources of income. The result was CIC. ITS PURPOSE, then and now, was to pool the resources of member institutions, so they could share knowledge in specific areas. Each school would not have to drain its funds trying to specialize in all phases of the technological revolution. This was to be done by an interchange of graduate students. If a graduate student wished to specialize in an area his Big Ten institution did not carry, he could attend another CIC school without paying extra fees. TO NURSE this dream to reality, CIC gained support from the Carnegie Corporation of New York. The committee decided each member institution would handle its own administrative operations. The new four-year grant from Carnegie is used exclusively for student grants. The committee consists of Big Ten schools plus the University of Chicago. Willard L. Boyd, vice president for instruction and dean of faculties, is the University's representative.

Noted Astronomer To Speak
On 'Galaxies and Mankind'

Dr. Harlow Shapley, internationally known astronomer and former director of the Harvard Observatory, will be the last speaker of the University Summer Lecture Series. He will discuss "Galaxies and Mankind" at 8 p.m. July 15 in the Union Main Lounge.

Shapley has published six books and more than 200 articles, chiefly about astronomy. His most recent book, "Of Stars and Men," discusses the prospect of life on other planets and advances the idea that mankind is not alone. Shapley believes there may be a hundred million planets in the universe able to support life.

He has a Ph.D. from Princeton and holds honorary degrees from 16 universities. He has been president of eight national scientific organizations. These include the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, the Society of Sigma Xi, the American Astronomical Society, and the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

An honorary foreign member of the National Academies, he has been awarded medals and prizes from the Vatican, India, Mexico, England, France, and many other countries.

Formerly a member of the Department of Religion faculty at Lehigh University, Bethlehem, Pa., McCue will assume his new position in September.

Most gasolines are clean when they leave the refinery. But on the way to your car—in transit and in storage—they pick up impurities that could choke off power, reduce engine efficiency... could even stop you cold. Automotive engineers asked for an answer to this problem—American Oil Research developed the American FINAL/FILTER: It halts harmful particles (present in all gasolines), right at the pump nozzle. If you depend on your car for your livelihood (and even if you don't) it pays to "fill 'er up filtered" with American Regular or American Super-Premium.

MICKY MANTLE

BOSTON — The American League invited the National League to go heavy on right-handed pitching in the July 13 All-Star game at Minnesota when it announced Tuesday a 17-man squad with only four left-handed batters and switcher Mickey Mantle.

Carl Yastrzemski of Boston and Jimmy Hall of Minnesota were the only lefties among the reserves named by Manager Al Lopez of Chicago.

Center fielder Vic Davalillo of Cleveland and shortstop Dick McAuliffe of Detroit were the two left-handed hitters in the starting line-up picked by the players, coaches and managers.

The New York Yankees, shut out of the starting line-up for the first time, had three men among the nine extra added by Lopez.

Mantle, still sidelined by a pulled muscle in his right thigh, was picked for the 14th time. Second baseman Bobby Richardson and catcher Elston Howard were the others.

Of the nine named by Lopez, eight finished second in the voting. The other, Mantle, was third in left field behind Willie Horton of Detroit and Yastrzemski, who also is injured.

The addition of center fielder Jimmy Hall, first baseman Harmon Killebrew and shortstop Zoilo Versalles to starting catcher Earl Battey gave the host Minnesota Twins four men in the first All-Star game to be played at Metropolitan Stadium.

Detroit had two starters, Horton in left and McAuliffe, and added a third player in Al Kaline, the center fielder who was picked for the 11th time.

Max Alvis, runner-up at third base to Baltimore's Brooks Robinson, joined starting right fielder Davalillo as Cleveland's three-man contingent.

Boston already had Felix Mantilla as the second-base starter but added a second man in Yastrzemski. Chicago's lone representative remained Moose Skowron, the first-base starter.

The National League reserves, picked by Manager Gene Mauch of Philadelphia, will be announced Wednesday, and the pitching staffs for both leagues will be made public Friday.

The starting line-ups, selected by the players, must play at least the first three innings. The respective managers name the reserves and pitchers, including the starters. A pitcher cannot work more than three innings but, of course, can be removed at any time.

Jack Nicklaus Is Favorite In British Open

By JOHN FARROW
 SOUTHPOKT, England (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, the reigning Masters champion, fired an eight-under-par 65 Tuesday in a final practice for the Wednesday opening of the British Open Golf Championship and then remarked:

"I'm still not completely satisfied."

The husky blond bomber from Columbus, Ohio, is the 3-1 favorite to be a star-studded international field and capture the only major championship to elude his grasp so far.

ARNOLD PALMER of Latrobe, Pa., a two-time winner of the British Open, is the second favorite at 5-1 odds.

The field of 130 will start off with single 18-hole rounds over the par-73, 7,035-yard Royal Birkdale course on Wednesday and Thursday. Then the survivors of the cutoff will play the final 36 holes on Friday.

Other fancied players breathing down the favorites' necks are Gary Player, South African winner of the U.S. Open this year; defending champion Tony Lema of San Leandro, Calif.; Bob Charles, left-handed New Zealander who won in 1963.

And Kel Nagle, Australian runner-up to Player in the U.S. Open and winner of the Centenary British Open by one stroke from Palmer in 1960; Peter Thomson, four-time winner from Australia; Bruce Devlin of Australia, and Doug Sanders from Ojai, Calif.

THE UNITED STATES has seven pros in the glittering field.

In addition to Nicklaus, Palmer, Lema and Sanders, there's Phil Rodgers of LaJolla, Calif., Terry Dill, a 26-year-old bomber from Muleshoe, Tex., and Sam Snead, the World Seniors champion and winner of the British Open in 1946, from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

It all adds up to one of the most fascinating championships in 105 years—and most experts agree that any from a dozen could take the title.

The winner qualifies automatically for the $100,000 World Series, which matches the British Open champion and the winners of the U.S. Open, Masters and PGA.

Lema won the British title at St. Andrews in Scotland last year and then went on to pick up $50,000 for victory in the World Series.

Baseball Roundup

Twins 9, Boston 0

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL — Jimmie Hall crashed a pair of two-run homers and Jim Grant checked Boston on eight hits, leading Minnesota to a 9-0 victory Tuesday night. It was the sixth straight triumph for the American League-leading Twins.

Hall cracked his first homer in the first inning after Zoilo Versalles had doubled. His second blast, in the second inning, came with Versalles aboard on a fielder's choice.

Don Mincher hit a solo homer for Minnesota in the first inning and the Twins added four more runs in the seventh. Bernie Allen's single scoring two of them.

Grant, now 9-2, registered his third shutout of the season straight over the Red Sox. It was Grant's seventh complete game.

 Home runs — Minnesota, Hall (2,16), Mincher (7).

Tigers 8, Yanks 0

DETROIT — Denny McLain scattered seven hits for his sixth straight victory as the Detroit Tigers pounded the New York Yankees 8-0 Tuesday night.

Bill Freehan and Norm Cash led the Tigers' 12-hit attack with two-run homers, and each drove in three runs.

Freehan homered off loser Mel Stottlemyre after a walk to Don Wert in the second inning and Cash connected off reliever Gil Blanco in the eighth with Willie Horton, who had doubled, on base.

Cards 3, Giants 2

ST. LOUIS — Lou Brock collected three hits, drove in two and scored the other two as the St. Louis Cardinals edged San Francisco 3-2 Tuesday night for their seventh straight triumph.

Brock's hitting and running helped stop Juan Marichal's scoreless inning string at 20 and hand the Giant ace his seventh defeat against 13 victories.

With the score tied 2-2 in the sixth inning, Brock beat out a bunt for his third straight hit, then stole his 25th base of the season. Curt Flood singled Brock home.

Brock had tied the score in the fourth inning after his hustle turned an ordinary single into a double. He went to third on an infield out and scored on Ken Boyer's single.

Pirates 8, Phils 4

PHILADELPHIA — Don Cardwell pitched a six-hitter for his seventh straight victory and singled in two runs as Pittsburgh defeated Philadelphia 8-4 Tuesday night.

Cardwell, now 8-2, allowed only four hits, three in the fourth, until the eighth inning. Then Johnny Callison unloaded a three-run homer following Donn Clendenon's two-out error on Johnny Briggs' grounder and a single by Cookie Rojas.

The Pirates took advantage of two Philadelphia errors for five unearned runs. Bill Virdon reached first base in the third on Rojas' boot and later scored on Bill Mazeroski's double.

 Home runs — Philadelphia, Callison (16).

Orioles 4, A's 1

KANSAS CITY — Steve Barber drove in two runs with a homer and a sacrifice fly and stopped Kansas City on three hits before needing Dick Hall's relief help in the ninth inning as Baltimore defeated the Athletics 4-1 Tuesday night.

Barber had retired 15 consecutive batters before walking Jim Landis and Ed Charles with two out in the ninth. Hall came on and ended the threat by retiring Ken Harrelson on a fly ball.

Barber, now 7-6, hit his first homer of the season in the third inning and drove in Sam Bovens with a sacrifice fly in the fourth.

Baltimore ... 101 100 010—4 9 0

 Home runs — Baltimore, Barber (11), Kansas City, Lachemann (9).

Dodgers 11, Reds 7

CINCINNATI — Lou Johnson rapped three hits, driving in two runs on two hits as the Los Angeles Dodgers outslugged Cincinnati 11-7 Tuesday night and climbed back into first place in the National League.

The Reds, who led the Dodgers by two percentage points before the game, dropped into second place, one game back.

Don Drysdale snapped a five-game losing streak and gained his 12th victory against eight defeats although he was knocked from the mound in the seventh inning on successive home runs by Frank Robinson and Gordy Coleman. Drysdale also hit the fourth homer of the season in the second.

Johnson doubled across a run in the three-run first inning and drove in another with his second double in the three-run fifth. He added a bunt single in the ninth. Tracewski singled across runs in the fifth and seventh innings.

Los Angeles ... 320 329 201—11 13 3
 Cincinnati ... 200 100 301—7 14 3
 Drysdale, Miller (7), Perranoski (7) and Roseboro; O'Toole, Duffalo (2), Arrigo and Edwards, W-Drysdale (4), Cincinnati, Robinson (17), Coleman (7).

Clemente Getting Revenge, Bats .386

NEW YORK — Bypassed on the National League All-Star team, Roberto Clemente of the Pittsburgh Pirates is going about getting his own kind of revenge. He is taking his wrath out on enemy pitchers.

The larrupin Latin enjoyed a batting feast this past week, banging away at a .386 clip. This enabled him to climb from seventh to third among the leading hitters, just one point away from the league lead.

Clement led the National League hitters in 1964 with a .339 average.

Richie Allen of the Philadelphia Phillies and Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants were tied for the league lead, through Monday's games, each at .336. Clemente boosted his average 10 points during the week to .335.

Rain Halts Game

CHICAGO — The game between the Cleveland Indians and Chicago White Sox was called because of rain in the fourth inning Tuesday night. It was rescheduled as part of a two-night doubleheader today.

Rain delayed the start of the contest by 14 minutes and then came a 30-minute delay in the first inning with the Sox at bat and the score tied 1-1.

Two Old Pros Punch Boxing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two famous rivals from boxing's golden age, Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney, teamed Tuesday to throw a one-two punch at the fight game in its electronic age.

Both former heavyweight champions from the 1920s came out strongly for a national boxing commission at the opening of hearings before the House Interstate Commerce Committee.

Former champion Rocky Marciano also was a witness.

Hanging over the proceedings like a bad memory was the Cassius Clay-Sonny Liston fight in Lewiston, Maine, last May. But with a standing-room-only crowd in the big hearing room one wit remarked, "This is drawing a bigger crowd than the fight."

LOOKING muscular and fit at 70, Dempsey told the committee how he started out in the old days in Colorado when he was a teenager. "I used to go into the back room of these saloons and say, 'I'll fight any man in the house.' Then they'd pass a hat."

The way a fighter got a crack at the champion then, recalled Dempsey, was to whip everyone in his path. And that, he said, is the way it should be today.

Although Dempsey had a return-bout contract with Tunney after "Gentleman Gene" lifted his title, Dempsey said this was one of the things killing boxing.

THE PRACTICE of guaranteeing the champion a return bout if the challenger licks him has resulted, Dempsey said, in "one-round knock-outs in return bouts between Sonny Liston and Floyd Patterson and Cassius Clay and Liston."

Dempsey, who has a fair list of one-round knockouts in his record, acknowledged under questioning that a one-round knockout didn't mean that anything was wrong with a fight.

As for Clay's one-round knockout of Liston, Dempsey said the punch that decked Liston didn't look like much "but the punch before that could have affected him." He suggested Liston may have lost "his will or desire to fight."

TUNNEY was not on hand personally but sent a statement with his son, freshman Congressman John V. Tunney (D-Calif.).

Tunney said he was "strongly in favor" of the bill to set up a national boxing commission which could bar a description of any suspicious fight from being carried in interstate commerce by television, radio or wire services.

Had such authorization been in existence through a law passed by Congress earlier, we would not have had the sorry spectacles produced in the last four so-called heavyweight championship matches, Tunney said.

Another, more recent heavyweight champion, Marciano arrived a little late at the hearing. He echoed Dempsey's sentiments that boxing is "getting worse every day."

Marciano, a lot heavier since he retired as champion, called for a boxing little league to develop talent.

He said it is necessary for the federal government to step in to control boxing because he said state boxing commissions are making a mockery of the sport.

Polito Pleads Innocent To Game Fixing Charge

SEATTLE — Joseph F. Polito of Chicago pleaded innocent Tuesday to charges he conspired to fix the outcome of the Jan. 22 basketball game between Seattle University and the University of Idaho.

Polito, 32, was represented in U.S. District Court by Jack Regan, court-appointed attorney.

Regan told Judge William J. Lindberg he probably would seek separate trials for Polito and Leo Casale, 24, also of Chicago.

Polito and Casale were indicted here April 7 by a federal grand jury. Casale also has pleaded in innocent.

Holiday Death Toll Reaches Record 552

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The lethal combination of heavier travel and inferior safety performance on the part of drivers sent traffic deaths during the Fourth of July weekend soaring to a record 552 for a three-day observance of the holiday.

The final figure exceeded by a wide margin last year's previous record toll of 504 for a three-day Independence Day holiday. It came close to the record for a four-day Independence Day observance, 551 established in 1963.

This year's toll brought a plea from Howard Pyle, president of the National Safety Council, for driver improvement.

"The attitudes and skills of too many drivers are failing to meet the exacting demands of billions of miles of high-pressure driving," he said.

"Every driver should begin at once to sharpen old skills and develop new ones through available driver improvement programs."

A council spokesman said preliminary estimates indicate the number of fatalities per 100 million vehicle miles traveled during this year's Independence Day observance was close to 8.1. This compares with 7.4 during this year's three-day Memorial Day observance when 490 were killed in traffic accidents. However, the rate was 8.1 during last year's Fourth of July holiday.

The tally of holiday traffic deaths began at 6 p.m. local time Friday and continued to midnight Monday night.

Nearly one-third of the deaths occurred in five states — California 53, Ohio 36, New York 35, Missouri 31 and Texas 27.

Alaska and Delaware were the only states with no such deaths.

The worst holiday traffic toll on record was recorded nine years ago when 706 persons were killed during a four-day Christmas observance.

Boating accidents took 36 lives during the Independence Day holiday this year and 124 drowned in accidents unrelated to boats.

Strike Won't Slow Currier Remodeling

The recent Sheetmetal Workers' strike has been settled and has had no effect on the remodeling of the Currier Dining Services, according to T. M. Rehder, director of Dormitories and Dining Service.

The strike was national and hit the major cities in the country, but not Iowa City itself.

The University is purchasing the equipment for the dining areas in Currier from a St. Louis factory that was on strike until last week. This equipment includes stoves, work tables, and cafeteria counters.

These and other items for the kitchen are scheduled to arrive in Iowa City today. There has been no notification of delay.

Rehder said Tuesday, "The strike hasn't delayed us a moment and we're pleased with the way the construction is progressing at the present time."

U of I To Add Portuguese

Portuguese will be added to the Department of Romance Languages this September, rounding out the number of languages offered in the department to four.

The other languages offered are French, Italian and Spanish.

Two sections of beginning Portuguese, under the direction of Mary Lou Daniel, will be offered. Miss Daniel is completing requirements for her Ph.D. degree in Portuguese language and literature at the University of Wisconsin.

Miss Daniel, who will begin her appointment as assistant professor in September, has been a foreign language fellow in Portuguese at the University of Wisconsin since 1961. She is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and earned the M.A. at Wisconsin in 1959.

Her dissertation is a linguistic study of the fiction of the contemporary Brazilian writer, Joao Guimaraes Rosa.

Stravinsky Mass Will Be Featured—

Summer Chorus Concert at 8

The 50-voice Iowa Summer Chorus, under the direction of Daniel Moe, will present its first concert in many years at 8 tonight in the air-conditioned Union Main Lounge.

29 Make J-School Director's List

Twenty-nine students have been named to the School of Journalism's Director's List for spring semester.

The Director's List is made up of journalism students who have earned at least a 3.2 grade point average and have completed a minimum of 13 semester hours.

Those named are: Jean Porter, A1, Bloomfield; John Cloyd, A3, Burlington; Sharon Rosenberry, A2, Center Point; Susan Boudinot, A1, Davenport; Tamara Duggleby, A1, Davenport.

Sue Hoover, A1, Davenport; Gail Longanecker, A1, Davenport; Carla Schumann, A4, Davenport; Marilee Teegen, A4, Davenport; Pamela Emerson, A3, Decorah; Lynn Barricks, A3, Des Moines.

William Newbrough, A2, Des Moines; Jon Van, A3, Des Moines; Linda Winberg, A4, Des Moines; Judith Bruhn, A2, Durant; Donald Devine, A1, Dyersville; Nicholas Goeres, A2, Dyersville; Deanne Neuman, A2, Ellsworth.

James Thomas, A1, Emmetsburg; Michael Toner, A3, Humboldt; Barbara Thomson, A1, Iowa City; Dennis Kiesey, A1, Keota; Phillip McCabe, A1, Lime Springs; Frances Puhl, A1, Mason City.

Dean Mills, A4, Mount Pleasant; Rogert Smith, A1, Redfield; Linda Wilson, A1, Chicago, Ill.; Stewart Truelsen, A1, Park Ridge, Ill.; Shelley Peterson, A4, Leawood, Kan.

ern setting of the traditional Mass has been said to "find him at the summit of his powers. Its workmanship is consummate; it is deeply expressive and communicative; and it has the stir of life in it."

Featured soloists in the Mass will be mezzo-soprano Leona Folkers, G. Scotch Grove; alto Ann Howard, G. Cresco; baritone Larry Menson, G. Grand Island Neb.; and tenors Joe Noble, G. Riceville; Rolie Blondeau, G. Uvalde, Tex.; and Jerrold Easler, G. Rockwell City.

Helen Tiernan, G. Winterset, will accompany the chorus in the performance of the motets.

Three Tudor motets, "O Sing Joyfully" by Adrian Batten, "Eheu! Sustulerunt Domine" by Thomas Marley and "In Manus Tuas Domine" by Thomas Tallis, will be contrasted with 20th century compositions "Thou Hast Loved Righteousness" by Daniel Pinkham, "Behold, I Build An House" by Lukas Foss, and Moe's own work, "Sing Aloud to God."

No tickets are required for the concert.

'New Radicalism in America'

Lasch Book Receives High Praise

A University history professor who has written a new book on the history of social reform is receiving increasing acclaim for his work. It is titled "The New Radicalism in America."

Christopher Lasch's book has been revealed in some of the nation's leading magazines and newspapers since its release early this spring by Alfred A. Knopf of New York.

Critical examinations have appeared in such magazines as the Saturday Review of Literature, Newsweek, Reporter and The Nation, and in newspapers including

New York Review of Books, New York Times, New York Herald Tribune, Chicago Daily News, and St. Louis Post Dispatch.

DANIEL AARON in New York Times Book Review said: "What is most striking about this intelligent and sophisticated book... are the insights, casually dropped and often brilliantly phrased, that illuminate a person or a period, and the almost novelistic way in which Mr. Lasch makes use of published and unpublished material."

As a history of social reform in America, Lasch's book encompasses the period from 1889 to 1963. He distinguishes the "new radicals" as those liberals who were not so much interested in political movements as they were in the reform of education, cultural and social mores; in the advancement of social reform and women's rights, and in the avoidance of war and the exposure of corruption.

He portrays the new radicals by a series of biographical essays of such notable American figures as Jane Addams, Randolph Bourne, Mabel Dodge Luhan, Walter Lippman, Lincoln Steffens, Reinhold Niebuhr, Norman Mailer, Sidney Hook and Dwight MacDonald.

The sub-title of the book is "The Intellectual as a Social Type." In his introduction, Lasch says "The main argument of this book is that modern radicalism or liberalism can best be understood as a phase of the social history of the intellectuals..."

"THE INTELLECTUAL may be defined," says Lasch, "broadly, as a person for whom thinking fulfills at once the function of work and play; more specifically, as a person whose relationship to society is defined, both in his eyes and in the eyes of the society, principally by his presumed capacity to comment upon it with greater detachment than those more directly caught up in the practical business of production and power."

Born in Omaha, Neb., he is a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Harvard University and earned the M.A. and Ph.D. degrees at Columbia University. In 1962 he published a first book, "The American Liberals and the Russian Revolution," and has written articles for periodicals and scholarly journals.

flexibility...

We believe it's the key to a working life insurance program.

Changing conditions in a man's life call for protection that's adaptable to a variety of situations in the future. Some policies are more so than others and it's well to examine the differences.

Our Personal Planning Service was developed with an eye to flexibility and the future, too. It offers a comprehensive and permanent record of your financial affairs; we think it deserves more than a casual look.

You're invited to stop by to see how this service could be of real benefit to you in your financial planning. We'll be glad to show you what we mean by flexible life insurance plans, too.
