

Viet Policy Report Broadcast Today

PRESIDENT JOHNSON WILL REPORT at a news conference today on the secrecy-cloaked Viet Nam policy talks he has been holding for nearly a week.

Three networks said Tuesday in New York that they will carry President Johnson's news conference live on both radio and television. A radio network, Mutual, will also broadcast it from 12:30 p.m. (EDT) to its conclusion.

House Passes Medicare Bill

THE HOUSE GAVE FINAL approval Tuesday to the expansion of the Social Security system to provide hospital care and other health services for older Americans. The vote was 307 to 116.

Rep. Hale Boggs of Louisiana, the assistant Democratic leader told House members after the vote: "The people will rise up and say bless you for the work we will complete today."

N. Viet Nam Missile Sites Hit

AIR FORCE JETS STREAKED in at low level Tuesday and bombed two surface-to-air missile sites in North Viet Nam. Pilots reported one site destroyed and the other damaged.

Three F105 fighter bombers out of an attacking force of 46 planes were shot down by intense anti-aircraft gunfire, U.S. spokesmen said.

'Poor Man's Choice' Gets Top Spot

BRITISH CONSERVATIVES SMASHED tradition Tuesday and elected Edward Heath, the "poor man's choice," as party leader. A bachelor, Heath, 49, is now in line to become prime minister if and when the Conservatives regain control of the government.

The 298 eligible Tories in the House of Commons did the voting — which in itself was new.

The result elevated a politician who, unlike most of his predecessors in the top spot, never attended an elite private school.

House Passes Housing Measure

THE HOUSE PASSED TUESDAY and sent to President Johnson a $7.5-billion housing bill which will launch a new program of rent grants for low-income families, the elderly, the handicapped and disaster victims.

The bill, a compromise between Senate and House versions passed earlier, follows closely the administration's recommendations. It authorizes several new programs and continues such major existing programs as urban renewal and public housing over the next four years.

Cigarette Health Warning Now Law

PRESIDENT JOHNSON MADE it law Tuesday — starting next Jan. 1 each cigarette package must carry this warning:

"Caution. Cigarette smoking may be hazardous to your health." Signing of the controversial legislation without fanfare was announced by White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers.

Jackie's Birthday Today

FOR MOST WOMEN BIRTHDAYS evoke memories. For Mrs. John F. Kennedy, observing her 36th birthday today, it should be an especially bittersweet day, crowded with memories.

It will be the former First Lady's first birthday celebrated with the Kennedy clan at Hyannis Port, Mass., since the president's assassination.

Although official mourning for her husband ended last November, Mrs. Kennedy has not stepped up her social life appreciably.

"She is really carrying on in the same way she has been," says Pamela Turnure, formerly her White House press secretary.

Mrs. Kennedy

Lynda Bird To Return to Texas

LYNDA BIRD JOHNSON, President Johnson's older daughter, definitely will return to the University of Texas in Austin this fall, officials of her sorority say.

Lynda Bird joined Zeta Tau Alpha when she attended the university as a freshman and sophomore. Sorority officials say she will move into the southern colonial style sorority house near the campus this fall. There has been no White House announcement of Lynda's college plans.

House Debates 'Open Shop'

DEMOCRATS AND REPUBLICANS clashed in House debate Tuesday over whether repeal of state laws banning the union shop would violate the freedom of workers.

Democrats said it would force no one to join a union to keep a job.

Republicans said the repeal would jeopardize the individual liberty of many workers.

Woman's Strong Teeth Save Eight

A YOUNG HOUSEWIFE in Kariskrona, Sweden, saved eight persons from an exploding motor boat by swimming out towing an oarless lifeboat with her teeth, it was reported Tuesday.

Mrs. Birgitta Oesterman from her summer cottage at Alnoe Island saw a motorboat catch fire and explode. The four adults and four children aboard jumped into the water 300 yards offshore.

Mrs. Oesterman rushed down to a rowboat but its oars were gone. She took the tow line between her teeth and swam out to the motor boat. Mrs. Oesterman helped the eight into the rowboat, which was paddled ashore by hand.

Med Student Sounds Off

Soapboxers Agree Medicare Is Good

By MAGGIE FONES Staff Writer

Soapbox Soundoff ended its summer series Tuesday with a milestone — soundoffers agreed on something, that a compulsory health insurance plan would be beneficial for Americans.

Medical students joined the usual soapbox crew to debate Medicare, the Federal Government health plan for persons over 65 years old that Tuesday passed the House of Representatives.

Michael Fox, M3, Iowa City, said the main concern of doctors and medical students was that they did not want anyone but doctors to tell them how to treat their patients.

Michael Croxdale, M4, Villisca, said that people would be more apt to bother doctors with minor ailments if socialized medicine were passed.

"Let's not say that socialism and Medicare is the best thing since the can of beer," Croxdale added.

"Socialism is the trend, the doctors should try to bend this trend, not fight it," suggested Greg Delf, A4, Walcott.

Fox said that doctors should be able to help determine how the plan be set up, to keep the administration of such a plan from undermining treatment of patients.

Most of the medical students agreed with Jean Taylor, A2, Ridgefield, N.J., who felt that all persons, regardless of their financial status, should be given medical care if they needed it. The main disagreement was about the means to accomplish this goal.

A crowd of 100 persons heard the issue debated on the red soapbox, which was missing last week because it was to be put on sale at Thieves Market for $15. It was not sold, and was returned this week.

29 To Graduate Here With Special Honors

Twenty-nine students will graduate with special honors at the University's summer Commencement to be held at 7:30 in the Field House on Aug. 4.

The top two per cent of the undergraduates receiving degrees are graduated with "highest distinction," the next three per cent with "high distinction," and the next five per cent with "distinction."

Students graduating with honors are:

Highest Distinction—Wayne Linder, liberal arts, Centerville; Roger Grinstead, business, Danville; Michael Stitt, liberal arts, Fort Dodge; Mary Ciek, liberal arts, Iowa City; Bruce Collins, business, Mason City; Scottie Moore, liberal arts, Tipton. High Distinction — Clarence Lohff, liberal arts, Holstein; Leonard Kallio, liberal arts, Iowa City; Robert Morris, liberal arts, Iowa City; Ronald Hanson, liberal arts, Mason City; Maria Miller, liberal arts, Schleswig; Wilner Nelson, liberal arts, Des Moines. Distinction — Mark Sholes, liberal arts, Center Point; Lynn Barricks, liberal arts, Des Moines; Martin Schaefer, liberal arts, Eagle Grove; John Peterson, liberal arts, Hartley; Charles Edwards, liberal arts, Humboldt; Barbara Brinton, business, Iowa City; Joyce Engel, liberal arts, Iowa City; Esther McAdam, liberal arts, Iowa City; Ronald Whiting, business, Iowa City; Kathryn Anderson, liberal arts, Kellough; James Beckholt, liberal arts, Luzerne; Stephen Wolken, liberal arts, Monticello; Jerome Davidson, engineering, Ottumwa; Karen Wilson, liberal arts, Ottumwa; Mary Brown, liberal arts, Deerfield, Ill.; Lynn Benson, liberal arts, Rock Island, Ill.; Janet Turk, liberal arts, Minneapolis, Minn.

"If demonstrations were halted there, the segregationists would have more time to arrange more tricks. They'll fire waitresses and do anything they can to keep conditions the way they want them," said Miss Montgomery.

THE MOST IMPORTANT point in the controversy, Scott stated, is that the world has to recognize the race problems as the problems of the entire world before issues can be resolved fairly.

Miss Montgomery and Scott are two of 18 Rust College students taking six-week comprehensive courses in rhetoric, speech and mathematics at the university. They are being sponsored by the Mississippi Support Project, backed by faculty members and interested residents of the Iowa City area. Their stay will end July 31.

Getting to know the families they have been staying with has been one of the highlights of the project, said both Miss Montgomery and Scott.

IN THE CLASSROOM, Scott said, he particularly enjoyed the method of teaching rhetoric. "The individual instruction and private conferences have been a benefit," he said.

Scott shook his head in amusement at the continuing process of education. "We'll be home only a week and then register for the fall session. And then it starts all over for another year," he said.

Republican Selected For Johnson Cabinet Ex-College Professor To Replace Celebrezze

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has named John W. Gardner, a Republican he called "an explorer in search of excellence," to succeed resigning Secretary of Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze.

He nominated Celebrezze for a federal judgeship.

Announcing his fourth Cabinet appointment in the sunny White House rose garden, Johnson Tuesday chose words that could have accompanied one of the 12 honorary degrees Gardner holds.

"HE IS REGARDED by his peers as one of the most knowledgeable men in the field of U.S. education," the President said.

"He has been all his adult life an explorer in search of excellence." Gardner has served for 10 years as president of the Carnegie Corp., a foundation which administers philanthropies set up by the late Andrew Carnegie.

As chairman of a presidential task force, he helped draft Johnson's proposals to Congress in the field of education. Taking note of that service, Johnson said Gardner "helped plant the seed-bed of the educational harvest produced by the 89th Congress."

Johnson named Celebrezze to the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, which is based in Cincinnati, Ohio. After three years at the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, the 54-year-old Celebrezze thus will return to the state where he began his political career. He will fill a vacancy created by the resignation of Judge Lester L. Cecil.

THE JUDGESHIP pays $33,000 a year, the Cabinet post $35,000.

When the late President John F. Kennedy named him to the Cabinet, Celebrezze, a native of Anzi, Italy, was serving his fifth term as mayor of Cleveland, Ohio.

"There is something powerful and remarkable in the American legend that directs a young immigrant of Italian birth, who as a baby came to this country with his parents and as a man widens the dimensions of his adopted land," Johnson said. "With tolerance, energy and single-minded purpose, he presided over the greatest thrust for the future American education and health have ever known."

While Celebrezze was born abroad, his parents were naturalized American citizens.

Celebrezze and Gardner stood side by side on the steps outside Johnson's office as the President announced the appointments.

GARDNER IS 52, and a native of Los Angeles.

Iowa Seeking 5 New Deans For Next Year

University officials are looking for five deans.

Replacements are being sought for Mason Ladd, dean of the College of Law; George Easton, dean of the College of Dentistry; and Dr. Arthur Mellor, formerly dean of the College of Engineering.

Both Ladd and Easton will retire in June, 1966. Mellor was dismissed as dean by President Howard R. Bowen effective July 1.

The other deanship vacancies are associate dean of the Graduate College and associate dean of the faculties. The latter vacancy is a new position created following the resignation of Ted H. McCarrel, dean of the Division of Student Services, last month.

DONALD E. RHOADES, who was named dean of admissions and records, assumed some of McCarrel's duties. McCarrel's other major duty, which involved the coordination of major student services, will be assigned to the new associate dean of faculties.

Student services that will be coordinated by the associate dean of faculties include University Counseling Service, Iowa Memorial Union, International Studies and activities of the Office of Student Affairs. These activities, which are directed by Dean M. L. Huit, include counselors for men and women, activities counselors, the International Center and fraternity business service.

The new associate dean will also assist the dean of faculties, Willard L. Boyd, in other matters.

DEAN BOYD, who also serves as Vice President for Academic Affairs, outlined the procedure used in selecting new deans.

When there is a pending vacancy, he said, the president of the University meets with the faculty of the college involved and asks how they wish to proceed. Faculty members may use an existing committee, elect a new committee, or in a small college the entire faculty may serve as a committee to select the dean. The latter procedure is currently being used by the College of Law.

The faculty committee then seeks names of candidates from within and outside the university. Working in consultation with the dean of faculties, the committee eventually narrows the list of candidates. A name or group of names is then submitted with recommendations to the president.

THE EVALUATION continues until the president, drawing on recommendations of the faculty committee, makes an appointment. The appointment must then be approved by the Board of Regents.

According to Dean Boyd, this procedure was adopted on recommendations made by the University Faculty Council. This procedure is used "to insure maximum faculty participation," Boyd said.

West Branch Post Office—

Memorial Stamp Demand Swells

By JUDY BRUHN City Editor

The deluge is just beginning at the West Branch Post Office, and already 80,000 requests for first-day issues of the new Herbert Hoover commemorative stamp have been received.

About 650,000 requests are expected before Aug. 10, the first day of issue, West Branch Postmaster Murray Gibson said Tuesday. According to Gibson, an average of 8,000 to 10,000 first-day covers are received daily, and the rate will increase during the next weeks.

FIRST-DAY COVERS are envelopes, either plain or with a cachet on them. Self-addressed covers are sent to the post office along with money for postage. They are then stamped, postmarked and returned.

West Branch is the only place in the United States where the Hoover stamps will be sold or postmarked Aug. 10. Other post offices will begin distribution the next day.

The stamp issue coincides with the celebration of the birthdate of Hoover, the 31st President. Hoover was born in West Branch in 1874 and was buried there after his death last October.

ASSISTANT POSTMASTER General Richard J. Murphy will dedicate the Hoover stamp at ceremonies at the West Branch Presidential Library Aug. 10. Richard M. Nixon, former Vice President, will give the major address.

Drawings of the Hoover stamp and the rejected stamp designs will be displayed at the library that day.

Gibson said that more than 40 different types of covers would probably be received. The West Branch Heritage Foundation is issuing the official cover. Others are being issued by clubs like the Des Moines Philatelic Society and the Cedar Rapids Stamp Club.

Some of the covers are of limited issue. For example, Gibson said, William Penn College in Oskaloosa had submitted more than 9,000 covers of its own design for stamping.

ALTHOUGH THE Penn order was the largest so far, other orders of 1,800 and 4,000 have been received.

Gibson said that the first stamp requests began to come in the latter part of February. Since then five employes have been added to the staff to handle these requests.

According to Gibson, a total of 50 workers will be needed.

Two officials from the Post Office Department are expected in West Branch Saturday to take over the handling of the stamp requests. The sheets of Hoover stamps will arrive about the same time.

ALL THE REQUESTS will be stamped by hand, Gibson said that about 300,000 covers would be mailed out Aug. 10 and the others would follow shortly. Besides this mailing, the post office will be selling the Hoover stamps. About 1.5 million stamps are usually bought throughout the country right after the first day of issue, Gibson said.

Gibson has been swamped with stamps before in his post office career. When the Winston Churchill commemorative stamp was issued in Fulton, Mo., Gibson spent three days at the post office there. He also said he hoped to be on the scene when and where the forthcoming Adlai Stevenson stamp was issued.

Hoover Birthdate Observance Slated

The West Branch Heritage Foundation will commemorate the birthdate of Herbert Hoover, 31st president of the United States, with special festivities Aug. 10 in West Branch.

Agenda for the day will include a distinguished guests luncheon and a program on the Presidential Library grounds at which former Vice President Richard M. Nixon will give an address.

The Birthplace Cottage of Herbert Hoover will also be open to the public, as it has been since acquired and renovated by Allan Hoover in 1938.

Rust Pair Defend Deacons

BY JIM MONOHAN Staff Writer

The Deacons for Defense and Justice, an armed Negro vigilante group, is an inevitable consequence of poor police protection for Negroes in the South, said two students from Rust College, Holly Springs, Miss., in an interview Friday.

"As long as the Deacons remain a defensive group and avoid extreme behavior, they will be an asset. We need them for self-preservation," said Bill Scott, of Indianola, Miss.

Miss Minnie Montgomery, of Lexington, Miss., said there was deep resentment among Negroes involved in civil rights work because "going to the police for help when someone is bothering you is like turning yourself in."

SCOTT STRESSED the need for the continuance of non-violent tactics in demonstrations.

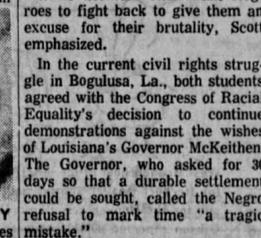

We've learned to take both clubs and water hoses," he said.

White hecklers often want Negroes to fight back to give them an excuse for their brutality, Scott emphasized.

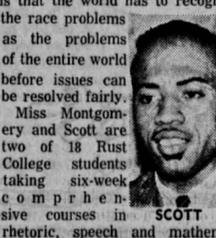

In the current civil rights struggle in Bogalusa, La., both students agreed with the Congress of Racial Equality's decision to continue demonstrations against the wishes of Louisiana's Governor McKeithen. The Governor, who asked for 30 days so that a durable settlement could be sought, called the Negro refusal to mark time "a tragic mistake."

Attendance Near Record Mark in Majors

NEW YORK (AP) — A record baseball attendance of more than 22 million will be set in the major leagues this season if the turnstiles continue to click at their present pace.

An Associated Press survey showed Tuesday that attendance is up 602,179 or 4.4 per cent, over last season when the majors reached a high of 21,280,341 customers. The combined 1965 total through Sunday's games was 13,767,476.

The National League, led by the Houston Astros, seems on its way toward a fourth straight record year. NL teams have attracted 8,175,916, a gain of 512,328 over 1964. The American League shows an increase of 69,851.

The Astros, in their new enclosed stadium, have drawn 1,444,133 customers to 533,419 in as many 1964 dates last year, an increase of $10,714.

The Los Angeles Dodgers pace both leagues—in attendance with 1,574,667, but they are 81,771 under last season.

The Cleveland Indians show the second largest gain, 172,951.

Casey Has Surgery, Should Walk Soon

NEW YORK (AP) — Doctors patched up Casey Stengel's fractured left hip in a 45-minute operation Tuesday and predicted the Mets' manager would be able to walk within five days with the help of a cane.

The Of Peresser, who will be 75 this Friday, probably will remain in Roosevelt Hospital for three weeks.

Whether he will be able to re-join the club this season is in doubt. Meanwhile, Wes Westrum, his 42-year-old pitching coach, will manage the cellar team.

Dr. Peter LaMotte, the Mets' physician, headed a team of orthopedic surgeons who inserted a metal ball in the joint of the hip.

Dr. LaMotte said the operation was not complex but because of Stengel's age it had to be considered serious.

Roberts Placed on Waivers

BALTIMORE (AP) — Veteran pitcher Robin Roberts, No. 16 among all-time major league baseball winners, was placed on waivers by the Baltimore Orioles Tuesday at his own request.

The move, designed to give Roberts his unconditional release, was taken after the 38-year-old right-hander expressed dissatisfaction at being used as a spot starter and long reliever.

"I have no quarrel at not being used as a starter," Roberts said at a Memorial Stadium news conference prior to Tuesday night's game against the Los Angeles Angels. "I just don't want to participate otherwise."

"I thought it best to sever my status here now, so I could get a real opportunity to pitch elsewhere next year," Roberts said. "If I continued in my current role, I would assume by the end of the season I would have put in my last year of baseball."

Roberts won his first four decisions of 1965 on complete game efforts, but then went into a seven-game losing streak over a period of nine starts.

Wahoo Goes On Warpath For Wampum

PEEKSKILL, N.Y. (AP) — Wahoo McDaniel, the self-styled Indian chief who wrestled professionally six nights a week during the off season, now is grappling with another problem: How to get more wampum from the New York Jets.

An able linebacker who parlayed his Indian heritage and flare for publicity into a large fan following last season, McDaniel is working out with the American Football League club but has not signed his contract.

"We're close actually," said McDaniel. "But I want to get what I get on my merits."

"They say I'm poor in pass defense. Last year they only completed one touchdown against me. And I was the leading linebacker in tackles and blocked five kicks and intercepted three passes."

He also was the team leader in grabbing headlines. Acquired in a trade with Denver, the 240 pound McDaniel rode into town on his press clippings, took note that the New York Giants had traded their all-league linebacker, Sam Huff, to Washington, and proclaimed:

"It's a good thing for Sam. This town isn't big enough for both of us."

He received permission to put his nickname on his uniform jersey instead of his last name and said he did it because "the name Wahoo makes me more money than McDaniel."

When the season ended he had a big name and an offer to wrestle professionally.

"I think wrestling and football go together well," he said.

"When you go home after the season people tend to forget you. But from wrestling on television people remember me. Kids recognize me and stop me on the street. I think that's worth something."

Namath Gets First AFL Test Tonight

LOWELL, Mass. (AP) — All-America Joe Namath, the New York Jets' $400,000 rookie quarterback, gets his first test in the American Football League Wednesday night when the Boston Patriots and Jets meet in a rookie exhibition.

Namath was signed by the Jets last fall for a bonus reportedly around $400,000, despite a big question about his knee.

Pats Coach Mike Holovak said Namath won't have to worry about being blitzed in the exhibition.

"We haven't blitz in a game like this," Holovak said. "We haven't had time in one week of practice to insert it in our defense."

The Boston coach added, however, "Don't think Namath won't get touched. His linemen are bound to break down once in a while and our defense will break through."

Former Golf King Undergoes Surgery

NEW YORK (AP) — Walter Hagen, the pro golfing king of the Golden Twenties, underwent a throat operation Tuesday.

The flamboyant 72-year-old former U.S. and British Open golf champion, has been suffering from cancer for some time. He retired from golf in the mid-30s because of heart trouble.

Before he had the operation, Hagen said he had no complaints. "I guess I've seen and done everything," said the high-living son of a Rochester, N.Y., blacksmith.

He won the U.S. Open title first as a 21-year-old in 1914 and repeated in 1919. He captured the British Open crown four times.

Sorenson Opens Title Defense

DUBUQUE (AP) — Carol Sorenson, complaining of playing "real sloppy golf" with an eight-over-par, successfully opened defense of her Women's Trans-Mississippi Amateur title Tuesday.

But veterans Judy Bell, Jean Ashley and Mrs. Nancy Roth Syms were upset in the opening round of match play.

Miss Sorenson, 22, Arizona State student from Janesville, Wis., whipped Sue Thompson of Magna, Utah, 5 and 3, despite being eight over par for the 15 holes.

Miss Bell, 28, Colorado Springs, Colo., businesswoman and a former Curtis Cup player who won the 1963 Trans-Miss crown, was ousted by young Ann Breunier of Waterloo, Iowa, 1 up.

Other first round winners in match play, which continues through Saturday, included Mrs. Lew Gilliam of Whittier, Calif., runner-up in last week's Women's Western; Roberta Albers of Tampa, Fla., the 1965 National Collegiate champion; Carol J. Sorenson of Racine, Wis., the Wisconsin state champion; and Jan Ferraris of San Francisco, national junior champion two years ago.

Miss Sorenson, who advances into a second round match against Jacqueline Fladoos of Dubuque, won easily, although she played what she called "real sloppy golf. I was hitting the ball all over the place. But I won, and I guess that is what I was supposed to do."

International Center Flourishes

The University's International Center provides a forum for the exchange of information, culture and human values for students from all parts of the world.

Founded in 1952, the center has been the focal point for international activities on campus and in Iowa City.

The center, located at 219 N. Clinton St., is open to students from all countries, including interested American students attending the University.

Providing the home-like atmosphere of the center is a family project for Prof. and Mrs. W. Wallace Maner. Maner meets the foreign students in several capacities as the University's foreign student adviser.

MRS. MANER, explaining her role as hostess of the International Center, said recently, "It's easier to understand the United Nations after 13 years here. There is always something new to learn. Fifty different cultures, all of which are fascinating, form our lives here. Perhaps I understand a little better than before the difficulties of a world where we must all learn to live together."

Discussion groups, dances, dinners and like events for campus-wide entertainment form the range of activities sponsored by International Center groups.

"Activities at the center vary from year to year," said Mrs. Maner. "There are traditional events, such as the dinners prepared by natives of a certain country. Everyone enjoys them."

CHICKEN TANDOORI with pilau, an exotic Indian dish, might treat a guest one week and be followed at the next dinner by a Danish smorgasbord. Dinners, served intermittently during the fall and spring semesters, are open to anyone at a small fee.

The International Center Board, composed of center members, plans the entire program of activities. Both foreign and American students at the University are board members.

The International Center, as its name implies, knows no boundaries of race, creed or religion. The game room's walls attest to this fact, with names of former University students written in gay colors in every major language.

Graduate Program Formed For City Planners Degree

A graduate program in Urban and Regional Planning has been formed by the University. The program, an interdisciplinary one, is administered by faculty representatives from the College of Engineering, Political Science, and Economics Departments, and the Institute of Public Affairs.

Earl Stewart, associate professor of planning, is the first faculty member hired to teach professional courses in the core curriculum.

THE TWO-YEAR graduate program leads to an M.S. or M.A. in Urban and Regional Planning.

A total of 60 hours is required for a degree. Twenty-four hours are professional courses in the core curriculum and twenty hours are required existing courses. The remaining hours are electives in the areas of specialization chosen by the student.

Dr. Harold McCarty, recently retired chairman of the Geography Department, is acting chairman of the Graduate Planning Program.

Students can enter the program from various fields, such as economics, sociology, political science,

Danish Prof Visits Campus

Nils Spjeldnaes, professor of chronological geology at Aarhus University, Aarhus, Denmark, is currently on the University campus for three days of lectures and informal visits with faculty members.

Sponsored by the American Association for the Advancement of Science, Professor Spjeldnaes' tour will include lectures to three science institutes and talks with faculty members.

He will lecture to the Institute for Secondary Science Students, the Institute for Exceptional Students, the Institute for Exceptional Students of Science, and the Institute in Earth Science, according to Prof. Robert Yager, director of the programs.

Professor Spjeldnaes is one of 15 European scientists and science teachers who were selected to spend six weeks in the United States to exchange information with U.S. science teachers.

Professor Spjeldnaes received his doctorate degree in 1958 from the University of Oslo. Before joining Aarhus University this year, he was visiting lecturer at the University of Stockholm. He is presently doing research on brachyzoans and brachiopods, their evolution and biogeography.

He will leave Iowa City today.

geography or engineering. IN THE FALL, two courses will be offered — Introduction to Planning and Urban Design.

Nelson Algren, noted American novelist, has signed his contract and will be an instructor in the Writer's Workshop starting in the fall. Algren has also written several volumes of short stories.

In addition to Algren, Jose Donoso, an important Chilean novelist, will be joining the Workshop.

U of I Gets $1.2 Million Med Research Endowment

Endowment funds totaling $1,226,388 to be used in medical research and treatment have been accepted for the University by the Finance Committee of the State Board of Regents.

The endowments, from which investment earnings only will be applied to medical research, were included in a total of $2,522,151 in gifts, grants and contracts approved by the Regents' committee in June. The endowment funds are made up of $1,046,999 from the estate of Mrs. Edith King Pearson, Des Moines, $140,389 from the estate of Marie G. Longshore, Ames, and $39,000 from the estate of Barbara E. Paschen, Mason City.

Earnings from the Pearson trust will be used for research on heart disease. Research and treatment related to diseases that disable and cripple children will be conducted at the University's medical center with earnings from the Longshore fund, and eye research in the Department of Ophthalmology will be carried on with earnings from the Paschen memorial fund.

Fifty of the gifts and grants accepted were from Iowa individuals or organizations.

Advanced Institute For Geographers; Only One in U.S.

40 teachers, supervisors and curriculum directors are attending a six-week Institute for Advanced Study in Geography at the University.

The institute, held in cooperation with the U.S. Office of Education, is the only institute in the United States for persons with B.A. or M.A. degrees in geography.

The purpose of the institute is to prepare persons to serve as specialists and supervisors of geography in state departments of education and large school systems.

Participants are being briefed on the nature of geography and geographic methods of inquiry, and on recent research in the discipline.

Extensions On Way Out—

Centrex Telephone System Will Go Into Effect Sunday

The new University Centrex telephone system will go into operation next Sunday.

Until that time, the seven-digit telephone numbers now affixed to University telephone extensions cannot be used. The familiar four digit numbers will remain in effect through July 31.

TO PLACE a call within the University using the Centrex system, one will dial the last five digits of the listed seven-digit figure. To call Iowa City area numbers, first dial "9," then the complete seven-digit listed number. Calls from Iowa City area telephones will be dialed direct, using the listed seven-digit number.

If one is within the University Centrex system and does not know the telephone number of the individual he wishes to call, he may dial "0" and ask the operator for the number. To reach the operator from Iowa City area telephones outside the University Centrex system, he should dial 353-2121.

Direct Distance Dialing will also go into effect in the Iowa City area Sunday.

To dial station-to-station calls direct, one should dial "9," then dial "1." The next step is to dial the proper area code if it is different from the eastern Iowa code, 319. The final step is to dial the complete seven-digit number.

IF ONE REACHES an incorrect number by Direct Distance Dialing, he should ask the person who answers the phone what city he has called, then immediately dial "9," then "0" and tell the Operator what happened.

Person-to-person and collect calls must still be handled through the operator.

For long-distance information, one must dial "9" to get out of the University Centrex system, then "1," and the universal information number, 555-1212. For information in another part of the country, one need just dial the area code for that part of the country before dialing the universal information number.

The University Business Office has published in limited supply a Centrex Telephone Directory which contains a complete list of all departmental, office, and staff numbers. A copy of the directory will be provided for each telephone in every University department and office.
