

Steve Smith Arraigned In Davenport Friday

Draft Card Burner Calls For Student Financial Help

by MARY ZIELINSKI
Staff Writer

For Stephen L. Smith, 20, A2, Marion, the waiting ended Friday.

Smith was arrested by two FBI agents at 5:40 p.m., charged with burning his draft card. He was taken to Davenport where he was arraigned before U.S. Commissioner A. Fred Berger for "knowingly destroying his draft card."

Smith is being held at Scott County Jail in lieu of $500 bond with the hearing continued to 1 p.m. CST Monday. At that time, Smith is to inform Berger if he can produce counsel. When asked if he had legal counsel, Smith said "I think so. I need time to contact him."

Smith was allowed to telephone Iowa City twice, once to try to locate an attorney, and once to see if his friends could provide bail for him.

SMITH SAID he did not find a lawyer, and he did not want a bondsman.

The agents arrested the University student at his friends' apartment in Iowa City. When the agents arrived at 4:15 p.m., Smith was not at the apartment. The pair waited, then left for a few minutes. In the meantime, Smith's friends found the student and when he returned to the apartment Smith called the Omaha, Neb. bureau to tell them of his whereabouts. Approximately 20 minutes later, the two agents who said they had a federal warrant, arrested Smith.

Smith was cooperative, shaking hands with one of the agents, and asked only that he be allowed to take some books with him. He also was carrying a letter addressed to his father, return address Davenport.

ACCORDING TO Iowa City Police, a third FBI agent was waiting in the car.

In the minutes before his arrest, Smith sat down and wrote the following statement:

"I have decided to stay in jail until such time as students feel they wish to contribute to my bail. I am doing this as a moral confrontation. I can't help but think there are students who feel as I do. Your help in raising funds will be a vote of moral backing. This is my request. The decision is yours." (Signed) Steve Smith.

Earlier, Smith said he had not been able to eat since Wednesday and had just "smoked cigars and drank coffee." He added he had been reading books, finding passages in them that gave him comfort. He expressed concern about his books that he had a "reverence for all of them," and hated to give them away.

IMMEDIATELY after Smith's arrest, members of Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) who voted support of Smith at their meeting Thursday night, began discussing plans for bail.

Smith is not a member of SDS, but the organization has given him help since his card burning Wednesday.

Smith burned his card during Soapbox Soundoff before an audience of 10 persons in the Union as a moral protest to the war in Viet Nam. At that time, he said "I feel immoral if I just stand by and keep my mouth shut."

SMITH LATER told The Daily Iowan that the decision to burn his card took more than a year and that his action finally was decided by David L. Miller of Syracuse, N.Y., who burned his card in New York City.

Smith was at the SDS meeting Thursday night, but refused to make any statement.

Smith now faces a possible five year prison term and $10,000 fine.

Second Card Said Burned By Student

By PAUL BUTLER
Copy Editor

A second University student said Friday that he had burned his draft card.

Stan Witkowski, a 23-year-old graduate student who is married and the father of two daughters, brought a written statement and the remnants of a draft card bearing his name to The Daily Iowan office Friday.

Witkowski, who said he was not a member of Students for a Democratic Society and was "not much of a joiner," said he burned his Selective Service card privately Friday afternoon. He said he had not wanted to face a public burning but strongly wanted to make a protest. The Iowan interview was the first announcement of his action, Witkowski said.

"This action has nothing to do with Viet Nam," the student said in his hand-written statement. "I prefer not to take a public stand on that issue."

Witkowski did admit being partially motivated by the "predicament" of Steve Smith, A2, who burned what he said was his draft card publicly at Wednesday's Soapbox Soundoff in the Union.

THE MAJOR motivation for his action, Witkowski said, was punitive legislation passed by Congress last August. The law prescribes a maximum of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine for any person who destroys his Selective Service card.

"I don't believe that a draft card has anything to do with patriotism or love of country," Witkowski's statement read. "I further don't believe a piece of paper is equivalent to five years of a man's life. The punishment is absurdly out of proportion to the offense."

"To sum up, I believe that Congress has a propensity for doing silly things. Making the burning of a piece of paper punishable by five years imprisonment is certainly one of the silliest. An appropriate punishment might be a $10 fine to cover the cost of replacing the card. Lastly, I feel that the punishment violates Amendment 8 of the United States Constitution which forbids "cruel and unusual punishment."

The draft card Witkowski showed The Daily Iowan was almost destroyed. Enough remained so that his name could be read. He said he had three draft cards — two of them out of date — and burned about three-fourths of each. Witkowski said he wanted the remains to be readily identifiable.

WITKOWSKI and his wife, who live at 218 Finkbine Park, have two daughters, aged three and one. He is a native of Rockford, Ill.

Official University opinion on Witkowski's action was scarce. Dewey B. Stuit, dean of the College of Liberal Arts, was not available for comment. Willard Boyd, vice president for instruction and dean of faculties, and Phil E. Connell, assistant to Pres. Howard Bowen, both said the incident would be handled by the Office of Student Affairs.

However, M. L. Huit, Dean of Student Affairs, was in Chicago. Robert N. Hubbell, counselor to men, could not be reached.

Wilkins Acquitted By Jury After Rights Murder Trial

2-Hour Deliberation For Jurors' Verdict

HAYNEVILLE, Ala. (AP) — A young Ku Klux Klansman was acquitted Friday night of the slaying of a white civil rights worker. The jury reported after deliberating one hour and 45 minutes.

The Klansman, Collie Leroy Wilkins Jr., 21, a Fairfield, Ala., auto mechanic, left the courtroom without commenting on the verdict. He smiled broadly.

Klan Threat On Chaplain Told HUAC

WASHINGTON (AP) — A former Ku Klux Klan chaplain told congressmen Friday he had received thinly disguised threats against his life after he had quit the Klan and appeared on a national television program.

Earlier another Klansman, Joseph G. DuBois, of Goldsboro, N.C., resigned from the Klan while he sat in the witness chair before the House Committee on Un-American Activities. He said he places God and country above Klan vows.

The two dramatic scenes brought the committee's Klan hearing to life after three days of listening to monotonous refusals to answer questions by top Klan leaders, including Imperial Wizard Robert M. Shelton.

THE CHAPLAIN, the Rev. Roy Woodley, a onetime bricklayer from Lexington, N.C., gave his testimony in staccato fashion, using the colorful rural turns of speech with which he used to exhort Klan rallies in North Carolina.

The most dramatic moment came when he was asked if he had been threatened with bodily harm after he had quit the Klan five weeks ago.

"I don't know if it is bodily harm," Woodley said. "But he said he had the authority to do away with me." Nervous laughter swept the room, in which Chairman Edwin E. Willis (D-La.), joined.

Then the minister was asked who had done the threatening. He said it was Boyd Hamby and turning to the audience added, "He's the fella sitting back there with the mustache."

HAMBY WAS identified by committee investigators as the "grand nighthawk" of the North Carolina Realm of the Klan. They said it was his job to handle cross burnings and "other things" for the Klan.

Senate Votes Honor Day

THE SENATE ADOPTED Friday a resolution requesting President Johnson to proclaim Saturday, Nov. 27, as a national honor day to commemorate American men and women fighting in Viet Nam.

The date coincides with plans for a march on Washington by groups opposing U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

The resolution requests the President to invite state and local governments and the American people to observe the day "with appropriate ceremonies and activities to the end that our people may reaffirm their support of the role of this nation in securing the cause of peace and freedom."

Negro Protesters Attacked

ABOUT 30 CURSING, yelling white persons attacked a group of Negro protest marchers Friday, scattering them and beating some with their fists.

"Kill the niggers, kill them!" the whites shouted as they charged about 95 teen-age Negroes at a stop light on the town's main street. The Negroes were marching from a Negro church to the Lincoln County Courthouse, where they planned a demonstration against segregation. But they turned back when advised by state troopers to do so. More than 100 white spectators shouted at the Negroes and the troopers as the officers tried to restore order.

Forces Await VC Attack

SPORADIC FIRING resumed Friday night around the special forces camp at Plei Me and the American-advised troops braced for another attack by a Viet Cong assault force they have held off for three days.

In the second such reinforcement in 24 hours, a detachment of Vietnamese rangers flew in to bolster the ordinary garrison of 300 Montagnard tribal irregulars and 10 or 12 U.S. Special Forces men.

Official sources said losses within the camp remained light, but Communist gunners downed two of the fleet of U.S. planes striking at Red lines in support of the garrison. These were a Skyraider fighter-bomber and a Canberra jet bomber. The airmen were reported rescued. Two helicopter crashes there earlier in the week had killed eight Americans.

Committee To Aid Students

A committee to "defend the Iowa students" was formed Friday and its purpose announced late Friday night. The organization was prompted by a resolution of the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) but is reportedly independent of that organization.

Members of the committee will attempt to raise defense funds and provide moral support for any students arrested as the result of burning their draft cards. The committee resolution reads:

"This committee as specified by the SDS resolution was created and exists independent of the local chapter of SDS. Though now in its initial stages the committee is staffed largely by SDS members, it is not officially connected with SDS in any way. Individuals joining the committee or making contributions to the committee are in no way affiliating with or joining SDS."

Lawmakers Raise Pay; Will Adjourn

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress, about to leave the capital after 10½ months of work, left behind a welcome bonanza for 1.8 million federal civilian workers: a pay raise.

The House, with some grumbling, completed action Friday on the measure, a 3.6 per cent pay boost for Civil Service and postal workers. The dissatisfaction stemmed from Senate action in scaling down a hefty boost the House had voted.

There had been talk that President Johnson would veto the House bill. He is expected to sign the final version even though it is a bigger raise than he recommended. The raise would be retroactive to Oct. 1 at a cost of $641.47 million a year.

The only thing left in the path of final adjournment of the session was a bill to fix sugar quotas for domestic producers and foreign countries.

BEAUTY BILL: Members of Congress, conservationists and others gathered in the East Room of the White House to see President Johnson sign the bill designed to help make highways more beautiful.

Paul Tillich Dies At 79

Noted Protestant theologian Paul Johannes Tillich, 79, died Friday night in Billings Hospital, Chicago.

Tillich was taken to the hospital Oct. 15, after having suffered a mild heart attack.

Tillich joined the faculty of the University of Chicago in 1962 after having held posts at Harvard University and Union Theological Seminary in New York.

His beliefs stirred as much controversy as they did approval. He said that a theology should satisfy two basic needs: "The statement of the truth of the Christian message, and the interpretation of this view for every new generation."

Tillich gave several lectures at the University, the latest began in April, 1964. George Forell, acting director of the School of Religion, did his graduate work under Tillich at Union Theological Seminary from 1943 to 45.

James Spalding, associate director of religion, worked under Tillich in the summer of 1944 and also from 1946 to 47. Tillich was chairman of Spalding's dissertation committee while Spalding was working for his Ph.D. at Columbia University.

Senate Hearing For SDS Today

The hearing of the Standing Committee of the Student Senate on recognition of Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) will be held at 9 a.m. today in the Union Minnesota Room.

The hearing was called illegal by Thomas D. Hanson, A3, Jefferson, a member of the committee.

The application for recognition was referred to the committee after a parliamentary fight over recognition of SDS at the Oct. 5 meeting of the Student Senate.

Dan F. Nicol, A3, Milford, chairman of the committee, reported at the Student Senate meeting Tuesday that the constitution of SDS had been approved, but that before the matter would be referred to the Senate a hearing would be held.

Hanson said at a meeting of SDS Thursday night that the Student Senate constitution provided for either committee vote on the constitution of the group or a hearing.

"Since the committee has already approved the SDS constitution, I feel this hearing is illegal," he said.

The hearing was called two days after Nicholas Katzenbach, United States Attorney General, announced that SDS is among the groups being investigated by the Government for encouraging draft evasion.

At the Thursday meeting, SDS passed a statement in support of Steve Smith, A2, Marion, who burned what he said was his draft card Wednesday.

Paul A. Clark, A3, Des Moines, spokesman for SDS, said he feels the federal investigation should not affect the committee's decision.

D. Gorton, a member of the SDS National Administrative Committee, said that the SDS policy is not to encourage people to evade the draft.

Another burning

ANOTHER DRAFT CARD has been burned in Iowa City. This time the student involved did not even burn the card as a protest to the Government's policies in Viet Nam.

The card was burned because Stan Witkowski believes Congress was wrong and foolish to pass a law against burning draft cards.

Witkowski is the father of two children, he has a big stake in life, but he burned his draft card in order to protest a law which he feels is unfair.

As we said after Steve Smith burned his draft card earlier this week, it is unfortunate Congress passed a law which specifically invites some of the most idealistic persons in this country to break it.

And it is a shame to see idealism drained into such useless activities as burning paper. —Jon Van

China next?

WHAT THE PRESIDENT should do in Viet Nam, and what he will do, are not likely to be the same thing. If the Pope's visit to the U.N. had come before the massive escalation of the war, the odds would likewise have been against peace, but for a different reason.

At that time we were losing. In effect there have been two wars, the one before February, 1965, which we lost, and the wider war which succeeded it and which, by sheer weight of air power, we are winning. To quit while we were behind would have been intolerable. To quit while we are ahead, while we are in a position to negotiate from strength, is almost as difficult.

We lose enthusiasm for negotiation in proportion as the balance of military strength shifts to our side. The goal then becomes total victory, with little regard for what may follow.

The recession of peace as American force in Viet Nam approaches the Korea level is accelerated by the fact that the Vietnamese, North and South alike, are only pawns in the game.

The real, the important enemy in the American military viewpoint is Red China. Secretary Rusk made this plain in his speech of Oct. 5 before a group of editors and publishers.

From the beginning to end, the address was a tirade against "Peiping" (as though he were a pre-World War II Japanese militarist, the Secretary cannot bring himself to say "Teking"), which was held solely to blame for all the trouble in Asia.

Mr. Rusk was supplying the diplomatic justification for a build-up of American strength in Viet Nam of enormous proportions.

U.S. News & World Report (Oct. 11) carries an article by staff correspondent K. M. Chrysler on the base at Cam Ranh Bay, 200 miles northeast of Saigon on the South China Sea, which is being converted into "the mightiest U.S. military complex in Asia."

Cam Ranh used to be a fishing village. It will be one of the world's largest military harbors and supply centers. Warehouses containing nearly 4 million square feet of dry storage space are under construction. A tank farm for gasoline and oil storage, connecting pipe lines to a tidewater ammunition depot, and other elaborate — and permanent — installations, are being built.

The base will be 5,000 U.S. military personnel, who will be housed, fed and entertained in the usual American fashion of making war pleasant except for the actual moment of combat; and across the bay 2,000 South Vietnamese civilians will be quartered.

More than 7,500 of our troops are there now, working around the clock, and a few miles to the north a private contractor is building what will be the biggest air base in the Far East.

If anyone thinks these gigantic operations, which are going on at a number of sites, are directed against the Viet Cong, he is underestimating the presence of Secretary McNamara, Gen. Maxwell Taylor and the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

"A guy's entitled to a jury of his peers, ain't he?"

New blood needed in editorials, reader says

To the Editorial Staff:

From day to day with increasing disgust I have been reading Mr. Van's excuses for editorials. I believe in time for someone to speak out has come.

Not only does Mr. Van produce more nonsense and sheer boredom here, than in any other section of the paper, including the credits directly below his daily wisdoms, but he feels some need to fill column 1 of page 2 even if he himself has nothing to say. The examples of this have become ever increasing over the past several weeks.

But, when Jon Van takes it upon himself to become judge and jury of the whole U.S.A. and its laws, then the time has come for a new editor. When a lawbreaking, attention-seeking individual such as Steve Smith, is set up as an idealist martyr for breaking a Congressionally enacted law, then we must all question our wise editor.

DOES HE ADVOCATE going through a red light because we don't approve of its location, drunken driving because we don't agree with the laws concerning the offense, or murdering to bring to the public attention our dissatisfaction concerning the laws governing capital punishment? He appears to pat these offenders on the backs and then, to boot, says they are idealists, and isn't it too bad that those mean people passed the original laws.

His statements in the Oct. 21 Daily Iowan would read: (fill in your own offense if you object to the law concerning it) "nothing can quite compare to — because that shows they (the idealists) are truly dedicated. Anything less makes them wonder."

Jon Van, have you ever heard of democratic processes for repealing unjust (if they are so) laws?

When Dan Nicol, from reports in The Iowan, appears to have delayed the bringing up of the SDS issue because he felt there might be some truth to charges made in Washington, necessitating an investigation, and wanted to look into the matter more thoroughly before possibly embarrassing the University and its student body by accepting a somewhat questionable organization, Van condemns him. He also sarcastically calls the Congressional investigators "great white fathers in Washington" investigating "banky-panky."

To finally add insult to injury he says Nicol is not fulfilling his obligation to the students. Look who isn't, Jon Van. It's time for new blood in the editorial column.

The computers call the signals

By DAVE POLLEN

The University of California reached the ultimate in computerization this year when it began to coordinate the stunts for its football game card section on an IBM computer. Use of the IBM machine is expected to cut the time necessary to coordinate the half-time card display in half.

The machine will write 4,125 sets of instructions for each stunt. Students in the card section at the game will just have to follow the numbers, instead of following instructions from a stunt caller. Organizers of the card section say the computer will allow more stunts to be performed more rapidly.

A unique form of complaint department has been organized at the University of Colorado. The University supported "Bitch-in on the Multiversity" provides students with an opportunity to publicly express any complaints they might have about the university, and offer possible solutions to the school's problems.

As each student enters the auditorium where the bitch-in is held, he is given an IBM card numbering his place on the speaking order, which he is invited to bend, fold, spindle, or mutilate. Each speaker is allowed five minutes.

The first bitch-in was attended by 2,800 students, and lasted until 4 in the morning. The university group which sponsors it intended the bitch-ins not only to be an opportunity for students to get things off their chests, but to "provide a set of goals and priorities for action on the problems of students."

The University of Michigan has begun an experimental program to send graduate students to study in Viet Nam. The students will study at the University of Saigon, on fellowships from the State Department's Bureau of Cultural and Educational Affairs.

The University of Saigon requested the State Department to establish such a program when it learned of the large number of students in the United States who wanted to study in Viet Nam, but found it impossible.

Letters to the Editor—

Mass apathy condemned

To the Editor:

The students and faculty of this institution have just witnessed one pure act of self-sacrifice and devotion in the face of ruinous consequences.

This institution — where the majority is steeped in the social disease of apathy, where self-concern and private aspirations override active responsibility to one's fellow man, where a modicum of understanding and an immense amount of machine-recall learning prevails at a historic time when ultimate understanding is needed, where pleasure and entertainment is more necessary than discussion of the crucial issues of our time, where professors are merely a new breed of businessmen with diploma and robe (and rarely find the wherewithal to inspire their students), where one simple act of self-sacrifice to the insensible sanctions of a faceless society fighting for survival is even more rare than classroom interest — this same institution, by fate's hand, has been the birth place of a seed of idealism.

THE PURITY OF THE act lies in the fact that Steve Smith knew exactly what he was doing. The suffering began the moment he struck the flame. For some laughed, mocked, and Ron Zobel remarked, "Let him burn his fingers."

Steve's traitorism is in act alone, whereas the apathetic majority on this campus and in this nation are "traitors by their omission."

Specifically, their lack of action in exercising their Constitutional responsibilities, their lack of action in demanding complete and correct information about Viet Nam and its consequences, their lack of demanding their elected representatives to discuss Viet Nam behind open doors is cowardice on the battle field at home.

BUT THE LAWS that spell out Steve Smith's punishment are written laws, on the Federal books. The laws that will deal with the omissions of persons on this campus and citizens within these states are written in higher places. They are indeed burnt into the face of Time and History. I say, "Look to Rome. Look to Greece."

If now, we students are still able to dissociate ourselves from being educated about issues such as civil rights and Viet Nam, then heaven help us! If however any person reading here feels a sense of confusion, worry, anxiety, wonderment, or simply humility, I urge him to begin asking for solutions, demanding our Congress begin debate on Viet Nam, and look to our own campus professors for comments and possibly even answers. After all, our professors are supposed to be our wise leaders here on campus.

AS FOR STEVE SMITH... he is simply one of us. He is a fellow student. He is a fellow human being. And we are less than him in a way. The right or wrong of that act cannot make him any less courageous and true to his convictions when compared with the rest of us. He deserves more than our government will give him.

As for us, we must take his sacrifice and in feeling humble and sad attempt to better ourselves and our situation, locally and then nationally. Albert Schweitzer wrote in 1923, "Where

Reader charges Viet fallacies

To the Editor:

The article "The Unthinkable Target" by Professors Lasch and Spitzer may indeed serve a certain educative function on this campus insofar as it gives a certain patina of respectability to statements of American atrocities in Viet Nam. Such statements elsewhere are usually redubbed.

So, it is not the factual content of the piece which is questioned here. But there are, in my opinion, two basic fallacies built into the political framework of the article which undercuts its effectiveness.

These fallacies are: a serious misconception of the nature and point of American war aims in Viet Nam, and a tendency toward creating illusions concerning the responsiveness of the U.S. power structure to the interests and desires of the American people.

WHAT DOES THE United States hope to attain in Viet Nam? The author of The Nation article sees the American presence there essentially as a probe to discover "whether social revolution can be indefinitely contained" in anti-colonial situations.

The evidence seems conclusively to point to another explanation. In his description (Aug. 27) of the new U.S. base under construction at Cam Ranh bay, James Reston wrote that it is "being developed into another Okinawa, not merely for the purposes of this war, but as a major power complex from which American officials hope a wide alliance of Asian nations, with the help of the U.S., will eventually be able to contain the expansion of China."

VIET NAM IS of interest only insofar as it lies on the road to China. China is the 'target' they are shooting for in Washington.

The essential failure of the argument contained in the Lasch-Spitzer article is that it places the blame for the present American foreign policy decisions on the wrong people — the right wing. It is not the wild men of the far right who are the architects of those particular policies. They aren't in power and they don't have that much influence.

Draft card burning splits student opinion

To the Editor:

Steven Smith has given us another example of the hypocrisy for which government is justly notorious.

At the Nuremberg War Trials the Allies condemned Nazi war criminals for obeying orders of the legally constituted German government, and for not following the dictates of human conscience in defiance of the regime.

Here in the U.S.A. a man objects to his government's policy of bloodshed in Viet Nam; he not only satisfies his own conscience but tries to influence his country's policy by demonstration. What happens? His country, one of those Allies at Nuremberg, savagely prosecutes him.

What place is there in this society for the individual and his conscience?

Lory Rice, G
Janet Rice, G
122 Templin Park

To the Editor:

The burning of a draft card is a Federal offense. I regret the inaction of the University in allowing the disgraceful incident to take place on the University campus. There was enough advance warning, even the FBI in Omaha received prior notice, so University officials could have at least attempted to stop the incident.

One does not quietly sit by, I believe, while a crime is committed. I believe the University must now openly take disciplinary action against Mr. Steve Smith. The failure to do so will imply that the University sanctions the flagrant breaking of laws upon its campus.

Kirby Brouillard, A3

Why not convert chapel too?

To the Editor:

I support Pres. Bowen's plan to convert the museum in Macbride Hall into classrooms.

I would suggest in addition, Mr. President, that Danforth Chapel could easily be partitioned into three or even four classrooms. (Danforth Chapel is the little building directly across from our new hotel.)

John M. Lewers, G

there is lost the consciousness that every man is an object of concern for us, just because he is a man, civilization and morals are shaken, and the advance to fully developed inhumanity is only a question of time."

Each student, each professor, each administrator, and each citizen with but a flick of concern for his fellow men will surely want to resolve the act of Steve Smith in his own mind. Let that urge to resolve bring us all together, each with his individually singular concern, so that we may all weed out the mess we live in. If we do not — I am afraid nobody will!

Students suggest plans to solve space shortage

To the Editor:

Concerning the Macbride Museum dispute, I'm surprised that the University has waited this long to take such a logical step in solving the growing classroom shortage.

But why should the Administration be so "conservative" in keeping up with the "shifting tides of change?" The museum is a good start, but let's not stop there.

Why not change Old Capitol into classrooms? It is well known that the only people who go to see this anachronism are little kids and old ladies. The old Senate and House Chambers will provide ample space for some of our more popular classes.

The winding staircase will inject a daily aesthetic charge into such courses as Southern Hospitality I, Civil War II, and Steps to Reconstruction. Pres. Bowen doesn't need an office there when he has all of those extra rooms in his house. You might even screen in those spacious columned porches and make half-way house beer gardens and save the Rathskeller (Old River Room) for lab.

Those heathen, unhygienic, un-American pickets might get confused in looking for a place to seek publicity, but that's in the American interest. We might even get a letter from Hubert.

Since the Union is nothing but a playground for lazy students, we could convert the bowling and pool room into a dandy lecture hall (or maybe two if they can find enough instructors) and sell the equipment to some other, less progressive, University.

The money could be used to convert those new guest rooms upstairs into offices for the Registrar, counselors, etc.

The lower floor of University Hall could in turn be remodeled as classrooms with the money obtained from the sale of the hotel furniture.

There is no end to the possibilities of "internal expansion," if we just set our progressive minds to it. We may even be able to completely do away with new building construction.

David M. Krotz, A4
423 Church St.

To the Editor:

The museum in Macbride is to bow to the need for "educational" space, but it should be remembered that the old armory has been remodeled to provide varied-sized classrooms, the addition to the Union contains many rooms available for class use, and the older classrooms are not in continuous use.

Not only do science and art students "use" the museum, but so do those of us who view it as a pleasurable oasis in a too-often "traumatic" existence.

To those who measure Progress only by the objective Statistic, I quote Oscar Wilde: "We are all in the gutter, but some of us are looking at the stars."

Iowa City To Take Part In UN Week Observance

Iowa City will look like an international trade center next week as it participates in United Nations Week activities. The Junior Panhellenic League will don their smocks today and converge on 13 downtown stores to paint windows in themes of international cooperation.

Sue Lawrence, A4, Galesburg, Ill., adviser to the Panhellenic Council, says the 13 participating sororities will furnish everything for the occasion — paint, ideas and woman power.

THE PLEDGE CLASSES participating have drawn up the designs for their individual windows. Anything goes for decor except political themes. The store owners may remove the paint anytime, but most will leave the designs up for the week.

Most of the University's liberal art students will pause during their classes Tuesday and Wednesday when 435 faculty members read the preamble to the United Nations Charter as a U.N. Week observance. The commemoration has been initiated by the University Colleague Council of the United Nations (CCUN). Supported financially by the Student Senate, CCUN is a non-profit organization created to publicize the U.N. and organize student participation in U.N. activities.

MRS. RICHARD LLOYD-JONES, president of the Iowa City Chapter of the United Nations Association, has been organizing the activities of the various groups and individuals participating in the community's U.N. observance.

Search Slated For Iowa Coed

Another attempt to locate Miss Patricia Madden, the 18-year-old University coed who has not been seen since the morning of Oct. 8, will be launched Sunday by the Iowa City Coast Guard Auxiliary.

According to the Johnson County sheriff's office, the Coast Guard will make an extensive search of the banks and other areas of the Iowa River where it is possible for a body to become snagged. "There will not be any dragging," sheriff Maynard Schneider said Friday. "Had she drowned, the body would have risen to the surface by now."

The normal time for a drowning victim to rise to the surface is four days. Miss Madden has been missing for 15 days.

City To File Complaint About Local Odor

The Johnson County Board of Health will meet at 2 p.m. Monday at the Court House to take action on a petition submitted by 250 Iowa City residents and business people last Tuesday. The petition asks that the county control the odor from the National By-Products Rendering Works just south of Iowa City on Highway 218.

The petition was submitted to the County Board of Supervisors. Members of the Board of Health are Ed L. Kessler, chairman of the Board of Supervisors; Mrs. Delores Rodgers, Johnson County auditor; and Marshall Fields, county superintendent of schools.

Negro Plight In Education Cited Here

The history of Rust College is typical of the development of Negro higher education in the South, according to William A. McMillan, dean of Rust College, Holly Springs, Miss. Rust spoke Friday before 70 persons in the senate chambers of Old Capitol.

Speaking on "Education in the South: History of its Past and Plan for the Future," McMillan said that the story of Rust "can be duplicated in the nearly 100 Negro colleges in the United States."

The picture McMillan painted of the college was one of a disintegrating academic environment, buildings falling down and a faculty that has at times worked without pay.

"BUT THE FACULTY stayed on," McMillan said, "with promised salaries that couldn't be met, getting extensions on their homes, credits from stores in order to eat, motivated by a ray of hope that somebody has to sacrifice in order to make education possible."

"Without this ray of hope," McMillan said, "where the light of America is burning so low, we'll be lost as far as the strength of a nation is concerned."

Because of the effort that the University of Iowa is making, according to McMillan, Rust College could regain its status which it once had as a university. The realization of the goal of accreditation, he said, is expected within the next 18 months.

"When I graduated from college," McMillan said, "they told me I had 'honors' — that I was educated. What they didn't tell me was all I had gotten was a 12th grade education, to be used in a Negro educated market. No one told me I was just a Negro, living in America, and not an American."

4 To Begin Election Fight

The four candidates for the Iowa City council will be stepping up their campaign this week in preparation for the Nov. 2 election.

Two will be chosen for four-year terms beginning Jan. 1, 1966.

The candidates are: Loren L. Hickerson, 618 Brown St.; Robert H. Lind, 428 Lexington Ave.; Dee W. Norton, 920 Ginter Ave.; and Maynard Whitebook, 14 Glendale Ct.

The candidates' schedule includes:

Hickerson and Whitebook: Tuesday, 8 p.m. — coffee party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Mauer, 415 Whiting Ave. Wednesday, 8 p.m. — coffee party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Burger, 1500 Washington Pl. Thursday, 8 p.m. — coffee party at the home of Dr. and Mrs. George Anderson, 922 River St. Friday, 10:30 a.m. — coffee party at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Soper, 503 Melrose Ave. Saturday, 8 p.m. — coffee party at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. Wayne Tegler, 18 Norwood Circle.

The coffee parties are open to anyone interested.

Norton did not have his schedule ready at press time. Lind said he did not have any events planned.

'PRAYERFUL WISHES' TO U.N. UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Pope Paul VI sent U.N. Secretary-General U Thant "prayerful wishes" Friday in a cable of greetings for the U.N.'s 20th anniversary year and U.N. Day Sunday.

Trade Deals Need Order, Lawyer Says

An equal international trade agreement among nations is only possible when the language of the treaty is understood by the members, Soia Mentschikoff, noted commercial lawyer of the Chicago Law School, told delegates to the College of Law's fall legal institute here Friday night.

The agreement must not only be in semantics, but in the actual understanding of the principles, she said. She called treaties, as they now exist, "over-glorified sales contracts."

Miss Mentschikoff compared the efforts of the nations to form an equal trade agreement with the actions of the individual states of the United States in the adoption of the Uniform Commercial Code.

According to Miss Mentschikoff, in order for an equal trade agreement among nations to be secured, three requirements must be met: it must include the socialist countries; it must move on a basis midway between a formal code and the country's civil law; and it must take a close look at trade machinery.

The two-day institute concludes at noon today.

ACLU Director To Talk Here

Civil rights lawyer Lawrence Speiser will hold informal talks with law faculty and students and American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) members at 4 p.m. Monday in the Law Building student lounge.

Speiser is the director of the Washington, D.C., ACLU office, and recently was elected chairman of the National Civil Liberties Clearing House, an association of national civil rights groups.

Speiser heads the ACLU legislative program and has represented more than 100 persons subpoenaed by congressional and state legislative committees.

In 1968, he won a 7-1 Supreme Court ruling against a loyalty oath imposed by California as a condition for veterans' and church tax exemptions.

Speiser's other cases include a 1961 Supreme Court ruling that a belief in God could not be set as a condition for holding public office, and a 1963 ruling that confessions obtained from defendants held incommunicado could not be admitted in evidence.

The KLH Model Eleven.

One of our good customers, faced with the choice of taking his wife or KLH Model Eleven to Port Said—took his wife. Of course. We don't make silly claims about the Eleven. But we'll bet you see more KLH Model Elevens going places with people who go places than any other stereo portable on the market. The reason is simple. The Eleven is a portable that's really portable. Just 28 pounds of solid musical performance. It's got KLH quality throughout. There are specially designed KLH full range speakers; a distortion-free solid state amplifier; an automatic turntable custom-built for KLH by Garrard; magnetic cartridge and diamond stylus; inputs for tuner and tape recorder, and many other features.

Come down to the store. Listen to the big sound of a little Eleven. It's sure you'll run out of the store with one. And you won't need muscles or track shoes. It's that light. So is the price. Just $199.95.

Don't just stand there

learn something!

The competition for good jobs is a very fast track today. And you can't afford to just stall around, while others are learning how to move ahead faster.

Today, to get a good job, you need a good education. You really can't get ahead without one. A good education is the first thing most employers ask for. It proves you've got what it takes to handle a good job... a good paying job

... a job with a solid future. So, if you're in school now... stay there! Learn all you can for as long as you can. If you're out of school, you can still get plenty of valuable training outside the classroom. For the latest information, visit the Youth Counsellor at your State Employment Service. Remember, a good education isn't a luxury today. It's an absolute necessity.

Draft Blows On Husbands In Illinois

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Men between the ages of 19 and 25 who married before Aug. 26 and who are childless or not living with their families may be included in the December draft, the Illinois Selective Service announced Friday.

The new ruling from Washington means that men who got quickie marriages Aug. 26, when President Johnson ordered that those married after midnight of that day be eligible for the draft, now also face a call.

The new order accompanied notification from the national Selective Service headquarters that Illinois' December quota will be 3,301 men, 532 more than the November quota.

It will be the first time that childless married men have been subject to the draft since September 1963, said John Hammack, state Selective Service director. He emphasized that even those with children must be maintaining a bona fide relationship with them to be exempt.

"There is no question that we will have to take men from this new category in December," Hammack said. "Just how many we do not know."

The new ruling affects 24,000 men in Illinois, of whom 6,500 have been examined and found qualified. The others will be examined in the ensuing months, he said.

"All men are subject to reclassification," Hammack said. "We have 12,000 men deferred because of critical skills and 98,000 others with student deferments. The status of many of these could change."

He said all unmarried men classified 1-A in the 19-through-25 age bracket will be called up first. The new ruling affects the entire nation, Hammack said, but other states may not have to call married men, depending upon their manpower situation.

Group Talks On Welfare, Poverty War

Southeast Iowa social workers opened a series of lecture and discussion sessions Friday to examine the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964.

Attending Friday afternoon's session in the Union were members of the Southeast Iowa chapter of the National Association of Social Workers, all of whom had 35 to 40 years experience of active social work.

Max Stern, assistant professor of social work, lectured for an hour. The meeting then discussed the following aspects of the War on Poverty:

1. Charges that the Economic Opportunity Act is leading to a socialist or welfare state by bypassing state and local government.

2. The possibility that the middle class has changed into a rich class in the last 10 to 15 years, leaving a large part of the people impoverished, instead of the middle class growing larger.

3. The importance of creating "Community Action Agencies" to coordinate all welfare services.

Richard P. Vormbrock, chief of social service in the Psychopathic Hospital, stressed the first meeting's conclusions.

"Welfare programs must be based on accurate surveys of community needs," he said. "We need to know not only how many are unemployed, but also how many are underemployed."

Another point emphasized by Vormbrock was the inclusion of the poor in the program's administrative board. Training and rehabilitation, the chapter felt, were more likely to be received favorably by the poor if administered by persons on their own economic level.

The institute will meet Dec. 3 in Cedar Rapids to discuss the procedures of the Economic Opportunity Act's administration, and Jan. 14 in Iowa City to evaluate its impact on professional social workers.

Drop Columbus For Ericsson, 2 Students Say

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—If Columbus didn't discover America, this country could be in for a lot of name-switching.

Already a couple of Ohio State University students want to put Ericsson on the map by rechristening the Ohio capital named for the Italian discoverer who, it's now discovered, may not have discovered much.

"Think of all the employment it will be for map makers," said Gary S. Horowitz, a graduate student in history who has joined with R. Vladimir Steffel to circulate petitions proposing to rename Columbus for Leif Ericsson, a Norseman who is reported to have landed in America a long time before the Italian got adventurous.

THE STUDENTS say their campaign is catching on. But not at City Hall.

"I think those students would be a lot better off if they would spend a little more time on their studies," said Columbus Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner. "You bet, I'll fight to keep the name of Columbus."

William Hellerman, president of the Columbus Day U.S.A. Association, was less riled but no less determined.

"Let them have a little fun," he said of the students.

But, he added: "I'm for keeping the name of Columbus. After all we have all that stationary printed."

What stirred the students, was word that Yale University had map proving conclusively that Ericsson discovered America about 600 years before Columbus.

CHANGING signs, printing new letterheads and revising telephone listings, though, might start a bigger economic boom than the largest shot ever fired in the war on poverty.

Boatloads Of Cubans Land In Florida Keys

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Refugees from Communist Cuba arrived Friday in wholesale lots. One group of 89, in a converted patrol boat, was the largest so far.

Five more boatloads with 188 aboard docked in the Florida Keys. The 38-foot La Vaviota carried 89 refugees and 21 crewmen, the largest single group yet.

Seven others were brought in by the Coast Guard after their 30-footer sank as the do-it-yourself exodus picked up steam again.

More than 1,200 have sailed to freedom since Fidel Castro opened the doors two weeks ago, though the United States is still negotiating with the Cuban government for an orderly movement of 50,000 or more waiting to leave.

"Weeds that grew in a capitalistic society," Castro called the refugees at a Havana rally Thursday night.

Vandals Damage Cemetery Stone

CEDAR RAPIDS (AP) — Vandals caused several thousand dollars damage to a monument in Cedar Memorial Cemetery, it was discovered Friday.

David Linde, cemetery president, said the vandals spread plaster of paris over faces on a monument known as "The Lord's Last Supper" in a remote section of the cemetery

William Coen Recommended As Postmaster

A recommendation that William J. Coen, 51, 1712 East St., be appointed Iowa City postmaster has been sent to Rep. John R. Schmidhauser (D-Iowa) by the Johnson County Democratic Central Committee.

According to Gertrude MacQueen, treasurer of the Democratic central committee, Coen was selected from a list of five local post office workers by the committee Wednesday night.

If Coen's recommendation is confirmed he would succeed Walter J. Barrow, postmaster here since 1936, who will retire Oct. 30.

Schmidhauser is expected to submit the recommendation to the Senate as soon as possible.

If it confirmed by the Senate it would then be forwarded to President Johnson for his approval.

"All this takes time," Mrs. MacQueen said, adding that she doubted that Schmidhauser could get confirmation of the recommendation by the time of Barrow's retirement.

Iowa Still Wants First Big 10 Win

The Iowa Hawkeyes tackle the Northwestern Wildcats today and hope to come out of the game with their first Big Ten victory.

Northwestern has a 2-3 record this season, 1-1 in the Big Ten. They have beaten Oregon State and Wisconsin, while losing to Wisconsin, Florida and Notre Dame.

The Hawkeyes have a 1-4 record this season. They have beaten only Oregon State and have lost to Washington State, Wisconsin, Purdue and Minnesota.

Game time today is 12:30 p.m. THE HAWKEYES are favored against the Wildcats, although the Iowa offense has scored only six touchdowns in five games. The leading scorer is kicker Bob Anderson, who has five field goals and six extra points for a total of 21 points. Quarterback Gary Snook has two touchdowns for 12 points. Snook has also thrown two TD passes.

Iowa coach Jerry Burns has made several changes in his offensive unit in an effort to get something started. The biggest switch has been Phil Major, a 200-pound sophomore in the starting left guard spot ahead of John Niland. Tight end Rich O'Hara, who has been hanging on to many passes this year, has been dropped to the second squad. Starting in his place will be Paul Usinowicz, who played the first two games at the other end in place of Cliff Wilder.

TOM KNUTSON is expected to start at fullback, even though he came out of the Minnesota game last week well battered. Knutson had played linebacker the first four games this year. Gary Simpson will back up Knutson. Silas McKinney got the OK to play after testing an injured shoulder in the junior varsity game Friday.

The only change on the defensive unit will have Gary Swain starting at a linebacker spot ahead of Terry Huff. The other linebacker will be Dan Hilsabeck who leads the Hawks in pass interceptions with four.

THE WILDCATS have had a few problems of their own this season. Their starting right halfback and leading ground gainer until injured last week, Ron

Purdue, MSU Clash Today; Big 10 Lead Is At Stake

CHICAGO (AP) — The one for the money is Michigan State at Purdue and the two for the show are Michigan at Minnesota and Ohio State at Wisconsin in Saturday's important Big Ten football round.

These three of six games on tap for conference teams will separate the men from the boys in a league battle which currently has four unbeaten contenders.

The day's only other loop contest finds Iowa 0-3 trying to snap an eight-game Big Ten losing streak at Northwestern 1-1.

In a pair of intersectional frays, Duke is at Illinois and Washington State at Indiana. Both could further smudge one of the Big Ten's poorest non-conference records of all time, 11-13.

Michigan State's Spartans, although rated No. 2 behind Arkansas in the Associated Press national poll, are tabbed only three points better than No. 6 Purdue, also undefeated, but once tied.

VICTORY IS a must for Purdue's Bob Griese-led Bolleers seeking their first Rose Bowl trip in history. Win or lose, Michigan State has a favoring schedule the rest of the way, facing conference tail-enders Northwestern, Iowa and Indiana.

Purdue, on the other hand, has two of the current unbeaten contenders — Minnesota and Wisconsin — among its final four foes who also include Illinois and Indiana.

MSU's defensive-minded Spartans have a 3-0 league record, impressively trampling Illinois, Michigan and Ohio State. Purdue's two previous league starts produced victories over Iowa and Michigan, each by the margin of a Griese field goal.

Minnesota's resurging Gophers 2-0 are picked by one touchdown over Michigan's ostensibly dethroned Wolverines 0-2.

Although Wisconsin surprisingly has forged a 2-0 Big Ten mark by upsetting both Iowa and Northwestern, the Badgers are regarded as a one-touchdown underdog against Ohio State 1-1.

OSU'S BUCKEYES are still stinging from last Saturday's 32-7 clubbing by Michigan State, worst defeat in Woody Hayes' 14-season coaching regime.

Illinois, whose fullback Jim Grabowski already has shattered

Red Grange's career school rushing record, is tabbed seven points better than formidable Duke with a 4-1 record.

Iowa gets a three-point call over Northwestern, while the Washington State-Indiana game is regarded as a tossup although the West Coast Cougars already have claimed victories over two Big Ten schools, Iowa and Minnesota.

Outside the Big Ten, the top Midwest game is the nationally televised clash between fourth-ranked Southern California and seventh-ranked Notre Dame at South Bend, Ind.

City High Tops Dubuque, 26-25

City High's Little Hawks aided by a blocked point after touchdown, and a wide PAT defeated Dubuque's Rams in the Little Hawk homecoming Friday night.

Dubuque scored first when Mike Mauss took a 32-yard pass from John Townsend with 8:08 remaining in the first period. The point after failed.

City High came back tying the score on a 20-yard screen pass from Mike Cilek to Terry Davis. Dubuque scored again late in the opening period on a 30-yard toss from Townsend to Paul Barnes. A 215 pound senior fullback Dennis Bandy made the extra point.

The Little Hawks scored early in the second quarter from the 18 yard line when Cilek fired an eight yarder to Dale Hill who in turn handed off to Jim Harvey at the ten who went in for the six-points.

Tom Taylor tied the score again with the conversion. With only four minutes left in the half Cilek connected on a 6-yarder to Jerry Frantz with Taylor once again making the extra point.

Dubuque failed on their last attempt when a 40 yard field goal attempt by Bandy fell short.

Casper Leads In Sahara Golf

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Bill Casper Jr. continued to completely dominate the $100,000 Sahara Invitational Golf Tournament Friday, firing his third straight sub-par round, a three-under 68, for a 54-hole total of 200.

The 34-year-old Casper, who opened the tournament with straight 68s, rallied on the last nine when Randy Glover, 23, from Florence, S.C., drew within one stroke of the Californian after the 11th hole.

Northwestern also has another star in tight end Cas Banaszek, brother of Ken Banaszek, Iowa basketball and baseball player last season.

The Northwestern-Iowa series is an old one, starting in 1897. However, only nine games have been played in the past 30 years. Today is the first meeting of the two teams since 1960 when Iowa stunned the Wildcats, 42-0, as it started its drive toward a Big Ten co-championship.

BONE CHIP — KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Mike Hershberger, outfielder for the Kansas City Athletics, will enter St. Luke's Hospital here next Tuesday for removal of a bone chip from his right elbow.

Soccer Club Opens Today At Grinnell

The Iowa Soccer Club will open its season this afternoon at Grinnell College. This is to be the first of a 5 or 6 game schedule with games to be played every weekend. Practices will be held every Wednesday evening at 7:30 in the Field House.

Iowa State Fresh Beat Missouri, 14-

AMES (AP) — Iowa State's freshman football team won its second game in two starts Friday, beating Missouri's yearlings 14-7 with the aid of a defense that held the Tigers to a net of eight yards rushing.

All of the scoring was crammed into the second quarter, with Cyclones taking a 7-0 lead on seven-yard run by halfback Larry Holton, 185-pound all-star from Keokuk.

Missouri drew even two minutes later on a 56-yard pass from quarterback Steve Sharp to halfback Bill Armstrong.

Wildcat J.V. Beats Iowa, 12-0

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Northwestern scored a 12-0 junior varsity football victory over Iowa Friday in a full-length game here.

The Wildcats capitalized on a Hawkeye fumble in the first quarter when guard Tim Iowa 17. A play later quarterback Bill Melzer hit halfback Larry Olyphant with a 15-yard touchdown pass.

Northwestern scored again in the final period on a 72-yard run by halfback Dave Craig.

Iowa's deepest penetration was to the Northwestern 29-yard line in the second quarter with the big play being a 30-yard pass from Mickey Moses to end Curt Vandewalle.
