RECEIVING AN OBSCENE telephone call can be quite a shock—but just think how much worse it would be were you able to see the guy on the other end. Although it is known that some two million obscene calls are made in the nation each year, the number of callers so insecure as to hide behind a mask remains undetermined. —Photo by Martin Levison

Obscene Calls Now Traced

By SAMMY CHUMFONG
Staff Writer

There once was a time when a man could pick up the phone, dial a number, shout an obscene word or two into the mouthpiece, hang up, and go about his business without fear of being tracked down.

"Now," says Iowa City Bell Telephone Manager Ted Magnusson, "the fellow had better think twice before making that call. Our company can now track him down almost simultaneously with the placing of the call."

WHY PEOPLE CALL

Exactly what makes a person want to use the phone to make someone else uncomfortable? In a community such as Iowa City, there are three main reasons for obscene words on the phone, says Magnusson.

A jilted boy or girl wants to get back at his date. A student who receives a bad mark wants to get back at the professor. Divorcees get depressed and want to sound off. Magnusson says the most persistent obscene callers are adults.

Although the Bell Telephone Company does not monitor calls to trap obscene callers, by certain manipulations it is possible for the person at the receiving end to control an in-coming call so the caller cannot break the connection. By leaving his receiver off the hook, he can then use another phone to contact the phone company and have the call traced.

"When we determine who the caller is, we usually send someone to talk to him and persuade him to stop," Magnusson says. If he persists, his service may be disconnected. Sometimes, with the permission of the person receiving the obscene calls, the Telephone Company may call in the police and have the caller prosecuted.

HOW PEOPLE CALL

The manner of calls differs, says Magnusson. Sometimes, the caller simply breathes heavily into the phone, and then hangs up without saying a word. Occasionally, the caller says very incoherent things into the phone for a minute or two, and then without giving the receiver a chance to talk back, hangs up.

The worst type, says Magnusson, is when the caller phones at short intervals and issues gun or bomb threats. He says that such a call leaves the receiver wondering whether to take the call seriously or to regard it as a hoax.

"When I have visited the callers, I have found them quite willing to see reason," says Magnusson. He says there was a case not long ago of a man who made numerous calls, tied up telephones and spoke incoherently to the people at the other end.

"We disconnected his service," Magnusson said.

HOW MANY PEOPLE CALL

Magnusson believes that on a per capita basis Iowa City has as many obscene callers as Cedar Rapids or Des Moines. He adds however, that it has been possible in most cases to get the callers to stop the practice.

The company keeps no records of obscene callers in this city. "A large number never reach my desk," Magnusson says, nor is there a pattern in time the calls are made. Sometimes, Magnusson says, he deals with half a dozen or more cases in one week, and then, for months "there is nothing."

It is figured that nearly two million are made in the nation each year. In simple arithmetic, this means that either one in 90 persons in the United States makes an obscene phone call once a year, or "the few who do work real hard at times."

Des Moines Police Hold Pair In Lipsius Case Investigation

A man and woman were questioned by authorities in Des Moines Wednesday in connection with the death of an Iowa City grocer on Monday.

Des Moines police arrested the pair in a car reported stolen in Illinois. The woman fit the same general description as one who allegedly shot and killed Ronald F. Lipsius about 8:30 a.m. Monday, police said.

THE PAIR had a .25 caliber pistol in their possession, according to police. Lipsius was shot with a .22 caliber pistol.

Iowa City police were to take witnesses to Des Moines Wednesday to see if they could identify the suspects.

A rumor that the killer was not a woman has been dispelled by officials.

"As far as we're concerned, we're still looking for two suspects — a man and a woman," said Police Chief John J. Ruppert Wednesday.

Another official said the chances were slight that the couple picked up in Des Moines were the killers. "But we're not passing over anything — even the smallest chance," he added.

LIPSIUS WAS killed, police said, as he chased a woman who had just robbed his store of $35. Witnesses near the store, at 812 S. Summit St., said another man was also chasing the woman. Police are seeking him as a possible accomplice.

Funeral services for Lipsius, the father of three small children, were held Wednesday at St. Mary's Church. Burial was in St. Joseph's Cemetery.

No Problems Facing Study, Planners Told

William McLaughlin of the Iowa Development Commission told the Metropolitan Planning Commission (MPC) Wednesday night that there would be no problem getting approval and financing for its proposed $24,000 land use and zoning study.

The study, to be carried out under the Government's 701 program, would be financed on a two-to-one basis by the Federal government and local governmental units that belong to the MPC.

McLaughlin also raised a question about the legality of the University's membership on the MPC. Allan Vestal, professor of law and one of the University's representatives on the MPC, said he would raise the issue with Iowa Attorney-General Lawrence Scialize today.

The University has agreed to donate $2,000 of the $8,000 to be raised locally for the $24,000 study. This and future contributions might be affected if it could not have membership on the MPC.

'Calm' Reception Given To Film By YAF Group

The presentation of the film "Operation Abolition" to 30 Young Americans for Freedom (YAF) members at the Union had a "calm" reception compared to last year's heated discussion after the showing of the same film, according to Larry Fennema, A2, Dow City, president.

The film was a documentation of the 1960 House Un-American Activities Committee (HUAC) hearings in San Francisco when HUAC subpoenaed witnesses suspected of communistic activities and questioned them, Fennema said.

The hearings were harassed by Communist demonstrations and rallies led by Communist leaders to disrupt hearing procedures, according to the film.

The only reaction to the film by YAF members was laughter when student agitators sang "We shall not be moved," as they were dragged from the San Francisco City Hall by police.

The planned speaker Trav O'Hearne, a Davenport business man and State Chairman of YAF, was unable to attend.

Iowa String Quartet Reports Warm Receptions In Europe

The Iowa String Quartet, mid-way through a three-week European concert tour, reports warm and appreciative receptions from audiences in five countries.

The quartet, all faculty members of the School of Music, ends a three-day concert stay in Berlin, Germany, today after previous appearances in Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Ireland.

The Iowa String Quartet includes violinists Allen Ohmes, associate professor of music, and John Ferrell, associate professor of music, violist William Preucil, associate professor of music, and cellist Joel Krosnick, assistant professor of music.

AFTER A concert last week in Sarpsborg, Norway, the quartet members were presented silver spoons with the Sarpsborg crest by members of the Norwegian chamber music society for whom they played.

"Everybody had great books for us to sign," remarked Preucil, "even the stagehand!"

IN BERGEN, Norway's second largest city, the quartet members were guests of honor at a festive smorgasbord at which they met a number of local musicians and concert-goers.

"The Bergen concert was actually a very relaxed occasion," remarked Ferrell, "because of the friendliness of the people."

U.S. Seeks Allied Accord For NATO Revamp Plans

WASHINGTON — The United States was reported Wednesday seeking a solid lineup among 14 Atlantic allies on NATO revamping plans in advance of the foreign ministers meeting in Brussels three weeks hence.

Not all items relating to streamlining the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, relocating its military headquarters probably in Belgium, and perhaps moving the political headquarters there too, are expected to be thrashed out by then.

Belgium's foreign minister, Pierre Harmel, arrives Wednesday for talks with President Johnson and other Washington leaders as the pre-Brussels diplomatic discussions quicken.

But to the extent possible, U.S. strategists are said to be aiming at unanimity among the 14 at Brussels in order to prevent the 15th ally-France from tossing in a monkey wrench or exploiting discord among the others.

A united stand by the 14 ministers would also weaken French President Charles de Gaulle's opportunity to make a deal with the Soviet Union in the last of June by pointing to NATO disarray, it is reasoned here.

Belgium's foreign minister, Pierre Harmel, arrives Wednesday for talks with President Johnson and other Washington leaders as the pre-Brussels diplomatic discussions quicken.

Week-Long Captive Unharmless

SHADE GAP, Pa. — A mad kidnap-killer was shot to death Wednesday in a running gun battle with state police and two teen-age farm boys. His kidnap victim of almost a week, 17-year-old Peggy Ann Bradnick, escaped safely.

William Diller Hollenbaugh, 44, came within yards of escaping the largest police cordon in recent Pennsylvania history. A closed gate on a farm just off the Pennsylvania Turnpike blocked his dash for freedom and led to his ultimate death.

THE MAN, described variously as the Phantom Sniper and Mountain Man, shot and killed an FBI agent Tuesday, and critically wounded a deputy sheriff whose car he commandeered in his attempt to break through the cordon.

Hollenbaugh, a former convict and for 13 years a patient in a mental hospital, left a trail of violence before he fell in a farm yard with a slug in his neck, apparently from the shotgun of a 15-year-old farm boy.

Jack Conmy, press secretary to Gov. William W. Scranton, said the fatal shot is believed to have been fired by Larry Rubek, a son of the owner of the farm where the gunfight took place.

"Young Larry fired his shotgun as another state trooper fired at Hollenbaugh," Conmy said. "It is believed Hollenbaugh was struck simultaneously by rounds from the trooper's gun and the shot by Larry."

AN EXAMINATION of the body, however, by Dr. Russell C. McCucas at the funeral home, showed only one slug struck Hollenbaugh, a large caliber bullet apparently from the type gun wielded by the youngster. It entered the rear of the left shoulder and exited in front where the shoulder and neck join.

The gunfight climaxed the massive manhunt started last Wednesday when Hollenbaugh walked out of the woods and snatched Peggy Ann as she walked home from school with her five brothers and sisters. This brought state police, FBI agents and volunteers by the hundreds to this community of 140 persons in the Tuscarora Mountains 70 miles southwest of the state capital of Harrisburg. Hollenbaugh hid safely in the wooded, rock-strewn mountainous region surrounding Shade Gap.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bradnick and their pretty daughter, described by friends as a quiet, nice girl who wasn't allowed to date and didn't, were reunited Wednesday at Fulton Medical Center in nearby McConnellsburg.

Law Would Include Voluntary Services

MONTREAL (AP) — U.S. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara proposed Wednesday that every young person in the United States be asked to give two years of service to his country, either in the armed services, Peace Corps or some other voluntary work.

McNamara said this would help remove what he called the inequity in the present Selective Service system.

"It seems to me," McNamara said, "that we could move towards remedying that inequity by asking every young person in the United States to give two years service to his country."

HE DID NOT SAY whether this referred to women as well as men.

Associates in Washington declined to say whether this was an official administration proposal and said they were uninformed on the suggestion.

However, poverty program director Sargent Shriver called McNamara's suggestion "an extremely significant proposal for all Americans."

McNamara spoke at a luncheon of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, attended by about 500 U.S. and Canadian editors. Earlier the society heard Sen. Abraham Ribicoff (D-Conn.) call for the establishment of federal safety standards for automobiles.

McNAMARA MENTIONED the war in Viet Nam only in a brief reference but he spoke at length on the question of U.S. security and its relationship to security in developing countries. He suggested a flexible approach toward Red China in an effort to bridge the gap now isolating Peking from most of the world.

McNamara said the idea of government service for all young people had been criticized as inappropriate "while we are engaged in a shooting war."

"BUT I BELIEVE precisely the opposite is the case," he declared. "It is more appropriate now than ever, for it would underscore what our whole purpose is in Viet Nam and indeed, anywhere in the world where coercion or injustice or lack of decent opportunity still hold sway."

"It would make meaningful the central concept of security: a world of decency and development, where every man can feel that his personal horizon is rimmed with hope."

Elsewhere in South Viet Nam, troubled by agitation between supporters and foes of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, ground fighting lapsed again into isolated, small-scale skirmishes.

MONSOON thunderstorms over North Viet Nam all but washed out for a fourth day the American air offensive above the 17th Parallel. The rains held down fighter-bomber attacks on North Vietnamese targets Tuesday to 23 missions.

However, American pilots flew 359 sorties over South Viet Nam in support of ground operations and the South Vietnamese air force reported 213 such flights.

The Defense Department in Washington disclosed that the Air Force has had to borrow more than 400,000 bombs from the Navy since Jan. 1, 1964, to help carry out its strikes.

Small Ship Saves Adrift Survivors

MANILA — A small trading ship picked up Wednesday 138 survivors of the 262 persons aboard the steamer Pioneer Cebu, which was sunk Monday by Typhoon Irma. Survivors told of panic, screaming mothers, and battles to the death with sharks in raging seas.

The search was continuing Wednesday night for others who were aboard the 740-ton vessel. The government launched an investigation into rescue operations to see why it took more than 40 hours to find the survivors.

'Nervous Nellies'

LBJ HAS DONE IT AGAIN! Last week President Johnson appealed to "intellectuals" who criticized his Viet Nam policies (or lack thereof) and his attempt flopped miserably. Then, Tuesday, he called his critics "Nervous Nellies."

This name calling by the President is not representative of his intellectual ability, nor do the names he tosses about indicate the real issues his critics are concerned over.

There are other Presidents who have erred. To cite a few examples: The Spanish-American war over Cuba when Spain had already conceded to our demands, and our imposition of power over the Philippines when the Filipinos wanted no part of us.

At present we are supporting a Fascist-type dictator who, because of his unpopularity, has become one of the top recruiters for the Viet Cong. Premier Ky has the support of some of the military and even fewer of the civilians.

The main element that is politically organized enough to topple almost every puppet regime since Diem. They are more powerful than the Ky regime.

One other statement President Johnson made was that Americans should "put our country first if we want to keep it first," and put away "childish divisive things" that inhibit unity.

When critics are hit with name calling and are asked to suppress criticism, this opens the way to totalitarianism. And that, LBJ, makes us very nervous. — Nic Goeres

Con artistry

ONE OF THE WORST of life's little frustrations is realizing that you've been taken by a sharp salesman.

This sort of thing is no longer limited to the unsuspecting little widow or the naive housewife. With the art of conning becoming more and more refined all the time, unscrupulous salesmen are able to gyp even the people who would swear an immunity to sales pressure.

The ones who really have Iowa Citizens kicking themselves are the salesmen who give their pitch over the phone, thus remaining immune to local selling regulation. Licenses are required for salesmen going door-to-door, but no license is needed by a salesman who phones first and gets permission from the householder to call at the home.

The salesman also has a legal, or at least semi-legal, means of getting around laws which forbid misrepresentation in sales. The phone solicitor only presents the offer for the sale on a false pretext; the sale itself is made later. Present law regulates only the manner in which the deal itself is made; there is nothing governing the way the deal is presented.

Unethical sales practices are not limited to phone solicitors either. Home repairmen, health and beauty aids, and mail order bargains are gladly accepting money from Americans who at first think they are being thrifty or who are willing to believe that someone is giving them something for nothing.

It will be a long time before there is legislation effective enough to cover all the clever methods salesmen have devised to sell their product to someone who doesn't want or can't afford it.

Until then, it would be wise to use a little more caution with salesmen. When dealing with a strange firm, be especially careful, and make sure you understand what you're getting into. Don't take sincerity for granted; check into things before you buy.

And don't let the embarrassment of being taken by someone keep you from reporting the company to the local Chamber or Better Business Bureau. — Dave Pollen

Reader disturbed by draft test

To the Editor:
I was much disturbed after reading that nearly 400,000 students took the draft deferment test last weekend. Disturbed, because I did not think so many students would submit to any such measure, no matter how it had been justified, as long as it was connected with our present clumsy and unjust selective service system. Admittedly the tests are a means of offering another way out of the draft for those in the position to take them, but they change nothing in the draft laws as they apply to every citizen of draftable age, be he student, worker or would-be traveler. I believe the occasion of these tests affords students an excellent opportunity to change, or at least significantly alter, the present draft laws.

I submit that by simply refusing to take these tests, students can erect a barrier to the present policy of providing fodder for the cannons in Viet Nam. Whether one believes in the credibility of America's present role in Viet Nam or not, it is his responsibility, I feel, to reject a system that rests on an unequal basis of selection and bristles with whimsy.

Only our generation can properly do this, for it is we who have been asked to put down our books, if we are not deemed deferable, to pick up rifles and grenades; and it is we who have been given the choice of taking these tests. If we conform, as I'm sure General Hershey expects all who have felt anxiety over his system to do, the opportunity is lost.

Those who take the test, counting on slipping through the army's clutches unnoticed, not only put aside their responsibility, but condone a system that breeds on our fear of it and our blind conformity to it. And after noting General Hershey's eloquent appraisal of the present draft laws in his recent statements, I have some pretty rigid reservations as to his ability to decide on mine, or anybody's destiny, especially when he says that the present system is the best he can come up with.

Scooter problem still unsolved

To the Editor:
Since the Hillcrest-Quadrangle motorcycle and scooter parking lot was relocated south of the South Quadrangle Dormitory, because of the "excessive noise" these vehicles created for the study atmosphere of the Dormitory residents, a new problem has formed. The elimination of such parking facilities has by no means discouraged cyclists parking near the dormitory. The scooters seem to have migrated to the metered "visitors" parking area adjacent to Hillcrest. With only 8 metered spaces available to visitors and with sometimes 4 to 5 of these each occupied by a single scooter or cycle, where are our visitors supposed to go? As long as we still have the cycles in the area, why not return their lot, and let visitors have full advantage of the metered area?

Maturity needed

To the Editor:
The human impulse is a terrible thing — a primitive, uncontrollable "instinct" that shows up in many human situations, such as at the inter-dorm picnic. A dorm resident (Tuesday, May 17 — Daily Iowan) seems to think that the failure of the picnic was due to inadequate supervision — yes, fellows, more rules and regulations. . . . Well, I suppose they are necessary, since most of us can't seem to control our "sub-self." Or can we? I doubt if we will have a picnic next year, but if they are so kind, let's act more GROWN-UP.

And by the way, 500 hotdogs does seem inadequate for over a thousand of us. Better planning, from those concerned is in order!

Test for leaders

By ART BUCHWALD

The recent test given to college students by Selective Service officials to help decide whether they would be deferred or not has been up for some criticism. As one college student put it, "What they're going to wind up with is a dumb army."

I'm not against giving college students tests to see if they go to Viet Nam or not, but I think it's only fair that we give tests to people who are responsible for our Viet Nam policy, including all State Department, Defense, and White House officials.

Here are some of the questions that could be included in the tests:

- (1) Name one (just one) South Vietnamese official whom we could support to head up a South Viet Nam government.
 - (2) Explain in a short essay what the Buddhists want in South Viet Nam.
 - (3) Explain in a short essay what the Catholics want in South Viet Nam.
 - (4) Describe in detail how there can be free elections in South Viet Nam under the present government.
 - (5) If you can't get the South Vietnamese military to talk to the Buddhists and you can't get the Buddhists to talk to the Catholics and you can't get the Catholics to talk to Ambassador Lodge, how can you get the North Vietnamese to talk to the Americans?
 - (6) If the South Vietnamese troops in the south are used to protect Gen. Ky in Saigon and the South Vietnamese troops in the north are used to protect Gen. Dinh in Da Nang, what troops will be left to fight the Viet Cong in the countryside?
- Answer true or false:
- (a) The State Department has no idea of what is going on in South Viet Nam.
 - (b) Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara, by nature, is an optimist.

Bogart 'camp' in 'Casablanca'

By DON PASQUELLA
(For The Iowan)

Last week in "Breathless" Belmondo had Bogart for a hero; this week we have the hero himself. Humphrey Bogart and Ingrid Bergman star in this week's Cinema 16 presentation "Casablanca" along with Peter Lorre, Sydney Greenstreet, Claude Rains and Conrad Veidt.

Rick (Bogart) who up to now has had a run of bad luck in always supporting the losing side (running guns to Ethiopia, fighting on the Loyalist side in the Spanish civil war) finds himself in Vichy-controlled Casablanca at the end of 1941 as the prosperous owner of Rick's Cafe Americain where the elite meet to transact their dirty deeds of multiple intrigue.

Rick is coolly uninvolved with these many schemes until Ilsa (Ingrid Bergman), his old Paris love, suddenly turns up with her husband Victor Laslow, Czech patriot (Conrad Veidt) who is currently on the lam from the Gestapo.

The Laslows want to go to America but must first get exit visas from Casablanca. Naturally, no Vichy French police chief (Claude Rains) is going to allow such a famous catch as Laslow to get out of town, especially after a top Nazi officer arrives on the scene.

The rest of the plot revolves around the melodrama of the Laslows trying to get out of Casablanca and the Vichy authorities trying to prevent them from doing it. Do they ever make it? It would be unfair to tell you. (Tip: the picture was made in 1942.)

There is a flashback to the good old days when Rick and Ilsa are savoring the delights of being in love in Paris before the occupation. (Sample dialogue over the click of champagne glasses, Rick to Ilsa, "Here's looking at ya, kid.") When the Germans march into Paris, Rick marches out, stood up at the last minute by his true love.

"Casablanca" is vintage Bogart. Unfortunately, this particular print looks like it has been around since 1942, a partial survivor of air raids and blitzkriegs. But perhaps this won't deter the true Bogiephiles. In fact, the rotten condition of the print may make it ever more camp. (Note: the Cinema 16 director is attempting to get another print.)

Ashamed of war

To the Editor:

Atrocities pictures — and I mean by this atrocities committed by United States soldiers & their "allies" — from Viet Nam occur almost daily in our newspapers. But the ones in the Register seemed particularly bad. And I thought that somebody should say something—even if it is only that they saw them — saw them and were ashamed. The pictures: women and their children (some of them not more than five years old) being herded from a shack at gunpoint. In their eyes, terror.

I see them and I think of Brecht poem, "Deutschland" — written to his native Germany after the Second World War; and whose epigraph reads "Let others speak of her shame, I must speak of my own." Some of its lines read:

In your house
Lies roar aloud.
But the truth
Must be silent.
Is it so?
Why do the oppressors praise you everywhere,
The oppressed accuse you?
The plundered
Point to you with their fingers, but
The plunderer praises the system
That was invented in your house!

Dorm Contract Changes Asked

Senate Plan Modifies Unbreakable Leases

By LEE DICKER
Staff Writer

The Student Senate resolution asking a change in dormitory contract policy for fraternity pledges will be discussed in a meeting of interested parties scheduled for Tuesday, Philip Hubbard, dean of academic affairs, said Wednesday.

"This will pose a difficult problem because we must be fair to all students," said Hubbard.

Hubbard said the following persons would attend the meeting: John Rupp, A3, Cherokee, student body vice president; Stephen Wherry, A3, Des Moines, Interfraternity Council (IFC) president; David McKinney, fraternity adviser; M. L. Huit, dean of students; Willard Boyd Jr., vice president for academic affairs and dean of faculties; and Hubbard.

Others may be presented. Frequently mentioned as possible participants were David Kehe, A2, Waverly, IFC senator, and Roger Servison, B3, Sioux City, Sigma Phi Epsilon president.

Tuesday night the Senate passed a resolution endorsing Dean Huit's proposal on the "Management of Dormitory Contracts Held by Fraternity Pledges."

Rules were suspended to allow passage of the bill in one meeting. Senate resolutions require tabling for two weeks in most instances.

Approvals Given
Rupp proposed the resolution that was passed by a 20-7 vote following a controversial discussion.

The Senate-endorsed proposal was originally drawn up by McKinney, the fraternity adviser. He forwarded it to Huit and Robert Hubbell, counselor to men. With approval of these three men in the Office of Student Affairs, Huit sent the proposal to Boyd.

Following Senate endorsement, the meeting was arranged.

The proposed resolution requests dormitory contract policy be changed to allow a fixed number of fraternity pledges to break their dorm contracts and move into fraternity houses.

Three Factors
The proposal considered three factors: 1) the problems of the dormitory management with regard to financial commitments; 2) the problems of the dormitories' annual planning and programming; and 3) the consideration of the fraternity system's need for change of emphasis in its rush program.

It assumes that fraternity housing is an integral part of University housing, according to the stated policy of the University in the Code of Student Life.

Huit's proposal asked for a two-year trial period — academic years 1966-68 — that would allow a fixed percentage of fraternity pledges to break dorm contracts and move into fraternity housing.

A 40 per cent quota system was suggested.

Under this provision, the capacity of each fraternity house would be determined and 40 per cent of this capacity could break contracts and move into the house. This would apply for new students only at the beginning of each semester.

Transfers Proposed
One-for-one transfers of acceptable fraternity freshmen and dormitory residents would also be allowed if Huit's proposal was accepted. This was provided to contracts: graduate students, upperclassmen and students with financial difficulty.

As examples, he mentioned graduate students who applied for double rooms and ended up in triple rooms, and graduate students who applied to the University for the first time signed a binding contract before they could look for other housing.

Upperclassmen are no longer afforded the summer to search out better housing, Anderson said, and their chances of getting out of the dorm if fraternity pledges were so allowed would be hampered.

Rider Proposed
Anderson said Wednesday, "I think the proposal of the Senate was okay with the exception that people who are better qualified will have a considerably lesser chance to get out of their dorm contract because preference will be given to the freshman fraternity pledges."

Anderson favored the Senate proposal with a rider including the groups of upperclassmen mentioned above.

The Senate-endorsed proposal will be discussed with all its implications at the meeting tentatively scheduled for Tuesday.

Painting, Sculpture Exhibit To Open At Art Gallery Friday

"A Decade of New Talent" is the title of a major exhibition of contemporary American painting and sculpture that will open Friday in Art Building Main Gallery.

The exhibition will be open Mondays through Saturdays from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sundays from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. through June 10.

Circulated under the auspices of the American Federation of Art, the works in the show were chosen from winners of the annual New Talent Awards made by the magazine Art in America during the past ten years. They were selected by Edward Bryant, former associate curator of the Whitney Museum of American Art, and Daniel Robbins, director of the Museum of Art of the Rhode Island School of Design.

ART IN AMERICA has devoted one issue a year in the last decade to new talent in the United States. The 13 painters and 7 sculptors whose works make up the exhibition are the artists who Bryant and Robbins believe have made "the most positive and original contribution to contemporary painting and sculpture."

Many of the painters are represented by two canvases in the show, with works having been chosen from different parts of the decade to demonstrate the continuing vitality of their painting.

GRACE HARTIGAN'S "Grand Street Brides," a 72 by 102-inch oil on canvas painted in the year she was chosen as a "New Talent" for the Art in America Series in 1954, is shown beside her "Barbi," an 80 by 69-inch oil done ten years later.

14 Students Get Awards For Research

Research and training awards totaling $62,045 have been awarded to 14 students in the graduate program in Hospital and Health Administration at the University.

The fourteen are: Dennis Q. Ophelm, Bode; David M. Holcomb, Iowa City; Ronald E. Pechan, Pocahontas; Duane R. Vorseth, Waterville; Richard W. Thompson, Orange, Conn.; Richard M. Iowa Hosts Big 10 Golf Tournament

Iowa will host its first Big 10 golf meet since 1957 when 60 golfers tee off at South Finkbine golf course at 8 a.m. Friday.

The two-day tournament will cover 72 holes of medal play with six golfers from each school competing. The top five scores from each team will be counted.

Some fine collegiate golfers will be here as 14 of the top finishers from the 1965 meet will compete. Among those who have a chance for individual honors are the defending Big 10 champion Bill Newton of Michigan and Ohio State's Alex Antonio, 5th place finisher in the NCAA meet a year ago.

Other golfers who are back this year who placed in the first 10 in the conference meet in 1965 are Jim Jewell of Indiana, John Hogden of Wisconsin, Iowa's Tom Chapman, and Dave Schumaker, Mike Gery, Rick Radder, and Jim Duffy, all of Purdue.

Purdue will try to win its third team title in a row and its tenth in the last 17 tournaments. However, Ohio State poses a strong threat to the Boilermakers. The Buckeyes won the twelve-team Northern Intercollegiate Invitational Meet two weeks ago and last week they beat six Big 10 opponents in a meet in Iowa City. Purdue was one of the teams in that meet.

Michigan has won the most Big 10 golf meets, 12. Purdue has garnered 9 titles since the first meet in 1920.

Iowa Golf Coach Charles Zweiner will manage the meet which is open to the public at no charge. Scoring sheets are also free.

ECKERT TO VISIT JAPAN— NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. William D. Eckert, the commissioner of baseball, accepted an invitation Wednesday to visit Japan this fall. He said he would be in the country about a month.

The commissioner's visit will coincide with the 17-game exhibition series of the Los Angeles Dodgers, who plan to leave for Japan about 10 days after the close of the World Series.

Schultz Named To Succeed Vogel As Baseball Coach

Richard (Dick) Schultz, Hawk-eye sports staff member since 1960, has been appointed as the University of Iowa's new head baseball coach to succeed the retiring Otto Vogel.

Director Forest Evashevski Wednesday said that the board in control of athletics unanimously had made the appointment, effective July 1.

"The board expressed satisfaction with the work of Schultz in serving as active field coach of baseball since 1963 after Coach Vogel was prevented by illness from handling the job," said Evashevski.

Schultz, a graduate of Central College, came to the University as freshman coach of basketball and baseball and since 1962 has been varsity basketball assistant.

The 1963 team finished second in the conference and had a chance for the title until Illinois scored the winning run in the ninth inning of the deciding game. Iowa was fourth in 1965.

Now 36 years old, Schultz was a three-sport man at Central College, played minor league professional baseball and came to the university after ten years as coach and athletic director at Humboldt High School.

Schultz, in addition to his duties as head baseball coach, will continue as varsity assistant to basketball coach Ralph Miller, Evashevski said.

Vogel, who retires this spring after 38 years as head coach, last week was honored by former players and other friends at a recognition dinner. He had developed five Big Ten title teams and several which finished as runners-up.

Seven Cities Make Closing Bids For 16th NFL Franchise

WASHINGTON (AP)—Seven cities flattered the National Football League Wednesday with attractive bids for a 16th franchise in 1967 as assorted governors, senators, congressmen, mayors and businessmen paraded into the league meeting.

When it was all over, Commissioner Pete Rozelle refused to single out any leader among Houston, New Orleans, Cincinnati, Seattle, Boston, Phoenix and Portland, Ore.

He would not say when a decision will be made.

"The most significant thing was the amazing enthusiasm, the caliber of the people and the polish of the presentations," said Rozelle. "We were most flattered."

"Our next move will be to begin to evaluate all the developments. We probably will coordinate the material at the league office and send a summary to the owners for a subsequent meeting, or meetings."

"It is possible we may call back various groups or visit the cities."

The presentations ranged from a proposed $97.5-million sports complex in Boston to a $2.5-million stadium in Phoenix.

Houston, of course, already has its Astro dome whose owner, Judge Roy Hofheinz, appeared at the meeting as a potential landlord. The Astro dome has a 52,000 seating capacity for football with an additional 12,000 standing room.

Gov. James Rhodes of Ohio offered a unique proposal on behalf of Cincinnati. He that the new franchise owner would agree to pay the visiting team on the basis of a sellout of a 55,000-seat stadium to be ready in August 1968, while playing in an interim park with capacity of less than 35,000.

Seattle, represented by Sens. Henry Jackson, D-Wash., and Warren Magnuson, D-Wash., among its four-man group, said it had planned to build a 55,000-seat domed stadium at a cost of $38 million pending a vote on a bond issue Sept. 20.

Gov. John McKeithen of Louisiana spoke for the huge New Orleans delegation. He pointed out that New Orleans had the use of Tulane Stadium, home of the Sugar Bowl, with its 82,000 seats, until the proposed $25-million domed stadium could be built.

Boston was the first group to make a pitch, in alphabetical order. Mayor John Collins said the city planned a $97.5 million sports complex, including a 55,000-seat stadium with a dome, and could play in Fenway Park, home of the baseball Red Sox, until the Stadium is finished.

Braves 4, Pirates 2
PITTSBURGH (AP)—Hank Aaron's two-run homer and a pair of run-scoring doubles by Bill Woodward led the Atlanta Braves to a 4-2 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates Wednesday night.

Woodward's first two-bagger knocked in the winning run in the seventh after Lee Thomas and Frank Bolling had singled.

The blow beat Vernon Law, who came off the disabled list Wednesday after nursing a pulled right muscle for three weeks. The loss also snapped Law's personal winning streak of 10 games, including nine victories at the end of the 1965 season.

In the ninth, Woodward doubled Ed Mathews home with Atlanta's final run.

Aaron put the Braves ahead in the sixth with his 13th home run after Felipe Alou had singled.

Hawk Baseball Team Travels To Ohio State And Indiana

Iowa's baseball team completes its play for this spring with a game with Indiana at Bloomington Friday and a doubleheader with defending champion and league-leading Ohio State at Columbus Saturday.

Coach Dick Schultz's squad is 14-14 for the season, and 4-6 in conference play.

Last Friday the Hawks dumped the conference leader, unbeaten Michigan, at home, 4-1. The Wolverines had been rated third in the nation by the latest Collegiate Baseball poll. Southern California and Florida State had been ranked first and second.

INDIANA currently stands fourth in the Big 10 with a 5-3 mark. For the season the Hoosiers have won 15, lost 13, and tied 1. Last Saturday Indiana blasted Illinois 16-3 and 9-1 on 23 hits.

Ohio State is 5-0 in the Big 10, but the Buckeyes have been rained out of seven conference games, including one with Illinois and two with Purdue last weekend.

Ohio State is 14-6 for the season and is rated seventh in the Collegiate Baseball poll.

THIS HAS been one of the wettest championship campaigns on record for Big 10 baseball. Thus far, 12 of the 60 scheduled games have been cancelled because of rain or damp grounds.

The conference has said there is no minimum number of games that have to be played to figure in championship consideration.

Ohio State could rest upon its limited chances of playing more games and win the title. Big 10 team championships are determined by percentage.

THE LEAGUE'S first division is involved in key games this weekend. Ohio State hosts second place Minnesota in a single game Friday before winding up its season on Saturday with Iowa.

Michigan and Michigan State, third and fourth, meet three times this weekend—in East Lansing on Friday and Ann Arbor for two on Saturday.

Indiana first baseman Jack Campbell climbed into the batting leadership last week with a .419 mark. Michigan has seven men in the top 18 hitters.

MINNESOTA PITCHER Mike McNair continues to pace the league with a 0.00 earned run average for 28 innings of work. He has a 3-0 record, plus he was involved in a 1-1 tie game with Purdue.

Michigan pitcher Bob Reed, whose bid for setting a conference victory record last weekend was ruined by the Hawks, has pitched the most innings, 44, and posted the top strike out mark, 41.

Official league statistics Wednesday disclosed Ohio State leads in team batting with a .335 average. The Buckeyes also lead in team slugging at a .473 pace with 79 total bases on 56 hits and lead in fielding by a shade over Michigan State, .969 to .968.

IOWA RANKS eighth in team batting with a .222 average, and eighth in fielding with a .935 percentage. The Hawks are also eighth in slugging with a .278 mark, and fifth in pitching with a 2.71 earned run average.

Minnesota leads the Big 10 in team pitching with a 0.57 ERA, while Ohio State is second at 0.84.

Iowa's Marc Michel is tied for seventh in the conference batting race with a .333 average. He is the only Hawk ranked in the top 20 batters in the league.

Steve Hirko, a third baseman, leads Iowa for the season in batting with a .421 average on 8 hits in 19 at bats. Frank Renner tops the pitching staff with a 2-1 record and a 2.21 ERA.

Iowa Netmen Set For Big 10 Meet

Six Iowa tennis players have been selected by Coach Don Klotz to play in the Big 10 tournament today through Saturday at East Lansing, Mich.

On the Michigan State courts, the Hawkeyes will be: No. 1 Arden Stokstad; No. 2, Richard Strauss; No. 3, Dale LePrevost; No. 4, John Svarups; No. 5, Tom Benson; and No. 6, Nick Anton.

The Hawkeye squad is weakened by the loss of No. 4 player, Dave Collison, who suffered a chipped ankle bone in a meet with Michigan State last week end. Svarups was moved up to No. 4; Benson to No. 3 and the new man, Anton, was placed at No. 6.

Iowa has a 2-6 record against Big 10 foes in dual contests, with victories scored over Minnesota and Ohio State. Iowa lost by 5-4 scores to Northwestern and Purdue, 4-3.

Prep Grid Stars Choose Iowa

Two big tackles from the Chicago area are the most recent student-athletes to sign Iowa tenders, Coach Ray Nagel has announced.

They are Bob Marcelain of North Chicago, Ill., and Tony Stoik of Wheeling, Ill.

Marcelain is 6'3" and 225 pounds. He was an all-conference choice and an outstanding student.

Stoik, 6'5" and 245 pounds, also was all-conference, excelled in the shot put and discus throw on the track team and ranked second in his senior class.

Ted Lawrence, assistant football coach, announced Wednesday the Hawkeyes have signed two of his former Cedar Rapids Jefferson all-stars to the national letter of intent.

Jon Meskimen, 225 pound half-back, and Bill Bevil, 210 pound All-American, prep tack on the J-Hawks unbeaten state champs, returned their signed tenders Tuesday.

Bevil had previously signed a Big Eight tender with Iowa State, and was still courted by schools from other conferences until he signed with the Hawks.

Wills Cited For Going Too Slow

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Base-stealing shortstop Maury Wills of the Los Angeles Dodgers, one of the fastest men in baseball, was cited by police early Wednesday for going too slow.

Officers said Wills, slow driving on the Harbor Freeway was causing other cars to brake quickly and pass on either side.

Twins 7, White Sox 1

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Harmon Killebrew slugged a two-run home run, the 296th of his career, and Don Mincher walked a three-run homer, powering the Minnesota Twins to a 7-1 victory over the Chicago White Sox Wednesday night.

The two homers staked Jim Muddat Grant to more than enough runs, as he subdued the White Sox on four hits.

The victory was the Twins' fourth in a row and sixth in seven games.

Killebrew, who had hit only one homer in 25 games, drove a pitch from loser Gary Peters 425 feet to right-center in the first inning. It came with Tony Oliva aboard on a fielder's choice after Cesar Tovar had singled.

Mincher's 375-foot homer in the seventh followed Tovar's double and an intentional walk to Killebrew.

Red Sox 2, Orioles 1

BALTIMORE (AP)—Earl Wilson scattered seven hits and won his own game with a lead-off 10th-inning homer off Jim Palmer as the Boston Red Sox edged Baltimore 2-1 Wednesday night.

The loss was Baltimore's sixth in the last eight games while the Red Sox recorded only their second victory in their last nine.

Astros Win Twice

CHICAGO (AP)—Houston's streaking Astros swept a double header from the Chicago Cubs Wednesday, with Dave Giusti's seven hitter winning the opener 5-1 and three unearned runs leading to a 4-2 triumph in the nightcap.

The sweep gave the second-place Astros 15 victories in the last 19 games and extended last-place Chicago's losing streak to six.

Lee Maye and Rusty Staub smashed home runs that backed Giusti's pitching in the opener, Chicago led 1-0 until the sixth when Jim Wynn's two-run double sent the Astros in front to stay.

Robin Roberts chalked up his 284th career victory in the nightcap, working six innings before Claude Raymond came on to finish up.

A double by Dave Nicholson and Felix Mantilla's single led to two Houston runs in the first inning after Joe Morgan reached base on an error by Ernie Banks.

Chicago tied it at 2-2 before another error by Banks led to Houston's go-ahead run in the fifth inning. John Bateman completed the Astros' scoring with a home run in the sixth.

Library Displays 50 Books

By ROBERT MURPHY
Staff Writer

The "Fifty Books of the Year," a collection of books judged by the American Institute of Graphic Arts as the finest produced in the United States during 1965, are on display in the lobby of the University Library.

Francis Paluka, head of the University Library's Special Collections Department, said the books were selected by the institute on the basis of their design, illustration, construction and quality of materials and printing work.

The collection is on loan from the institute, which was founded in 1941. The institute is the largest and oldest organization in the United States that fosters interest and recognition of books of unique and quality design.

Besides selecting the "Fifty Books of the Year," the institute also judges the typographical designs of advertisements, promotional materials, packages, wrappers, labels, magazine and record album covers.

The display includes paperback books, school textbooks, children's books, novels, cookbooks and illustrated medical reference volumes. Paluka said that this year's display contained more children's books than in previous years.

"The exhibit should be of great interest to students who are interested in book production," Paluka said. "Others will be interested because of the very wide variety of books in this year's display."

Although most of the 50 volumes were published by commercial publishing houses, some were produced by university presses or private printers. Paluka said that although it was not true of this year's collection, books printed by private printers in Iowa City had been included on the institute's list in previous years.

Each of the books is accompanied by a card listing the title, author, publisher, designer, illustrator, number of pages, size of pages and retail price.

The cards also list the name of type used to print the book, the name of the paper used, the method of printing used and the materials used in binding.

The editorial content of the books is not evaluated for its merit alone but it is important to the judges how the designer suited the book's overall design to the subject matter, said Paluka. Many of the books are well known and respected for reasons other than their design, he said.

Paluka said the current display would be on display until May 31. The special Collections Department is in charge of the monthly displays in the library lobby. Although most of the exhibits are displayed for a full month, often two different ones will be displayed during a month. More than 16 different exhibits were featured last year.

The "Fifty Books of the Year" are: "Somewhere in Time," "The Story of America," "Student Handbook of Color," "John Fitzgerald Kennedy: As We Remember Him," "Churchill," "Alberic the Wise and Other Journeys," "Alfred Stieglitz: Photographer," "The Animal Family," "At Play in the Fields of the Lord," "Aura," "The Autocrat of the Breakfast Table," "The Bad Child's Book of Beasts," "The Camp Follower's Guide," "The Cantelver Rainbow," "Cats and Bats and Things with Wings," "Cinderella," "The Collected Poems of James T. Farrell," "The Color Wheel Book," "The Completed Works of the Gawain-Poet," "The Daily Office," "Death in Venice," "Die Physiker," "Embryology of the Ovary and Testis," "Everest: The West Ridge," "Fifty Years," "Flush Decks and Four Pipes," "Freedom and Discipline in English," "Fundamental Mathematical Structures," "Growth," "The Had," "Hector Protector and As I Went Over the Water," "Hogarth's Graphic Works," "The Horizon Book of Ancient Greece," "Images of the Dance," "The Israelis," "The Jaguar's Children," "Joseph Wood Krutch Herbal," "The Journey of Bangwell Putt," "La Batarde," "Labyrinth of Love," "The Making of Urban America," "Mime: the Art of Etienne Decroux," "Music in Prints," "The Old Glory," "Paintings in the White House," "Paris Journal 1944-1965," "Pratonia '65," "Rock Crystal," "Today's Basic Science," and "The Twelve Days of Christmas Cookbook."

Rights Work Is Discussed By Students

Plans for sending civil rights workers to the south this summer were discussed at Tuesday's meeting of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) in the Union Miller Room.

No definite plans were made, but it was decided to discuss the matter again at next week's meeting. A proposed financial campaign to aid civil right workers who plan to go to the south will be discussed also.

A proposal to hold an election for officers before the end of this semester was also discussed. It was pointed out that new officers could then work this summer to promote SNCC to summer school students.

Soundoff Views Unsafe Car Issue

The public execution of criminals, consumer responsibility for unsafe automobiles and a charge that the Iowa Socialist League (ISL) was really anti-socialist were the topics Wednesday at Soapbox Soundoff.

Paul Dysart, A2, Marshalltown, insisted the reason so many murders and other crimes are committed today is that the laws are not strong enough. He openly advocated the merits of a "good, old-fashioned public hanging" as a deterrent to potential criminals. Dysart also called the abolition of capital punishment in Iowa "the stupidest thing ever done."

Samuel L. Kramer, E1, Elma, stirred another mild wave of controversy when he charged that auto critic Ralph Nader, author of the best-seller "Unsafe At Any Speed," was an instrument of the government to nationalize the auto industry.

KRAMER said Nader was not a competent engineer and was not qualified to criticize the auto industry. "If he were qualified," Kramer said, "he would be employed by Detroit."

Arnold W. Samuel, A2, Coralville, said the auto industry refused to respond to market stimulus, and as long as the auto makers remained unwilling to compete with each other, the public would have no choice regarding safe automobiles.

He said the industry also maintained lobbyists in Washington to influence the tariff on foreign automobiles, currently 12 and one-half per cent, to further limit buying choices.

MARC Firstenberg, A1, Bronx, N.Y., said the auto manufacturers could not really be blamed for their lack of scruples, since the public wouldn't buy a safe automobile anyway.

In another critical vein, Barry Stone, G, Rochester, N.Y., assailed the "fundamentally technocratic" outlook of ISL and charged the organization with revising the classical theory of imperialism.

Quoting the ISL Newsletter, Stone said concern with industrialism had led the League to consider imperialism as a net exportation of capital from the backward colonial countries to their exploiters. He said this was contrary to the Marx viewpoint, which showed the position of the masses deteriorating with the accumulation, not loss, of capital.

Bank Reports Fund Losses; Cashier Dead

WHAT CHEER UP — A fund shortage was reported in the First State Bank here and the cashier, Martin Wood Jr., 27, was found dead Wednesday in his car. A hose was found leading from the exhaust pipe into the car through a window.

Wood was a son-in-law of bank president John T. Baylor Jr. Baylor said a fund shortage of $7,100 had developed between May 1 and Tuesday, but he said he did not know how the shortage occurred.

He said the matter was reported to the FBI, the State Banking Department and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. (FDIC).

FDIC examiners were at the bank Wednesday, Baylor said. The bank president said Wood "was custodian of the cash. He was responsible for it."

Baylor said no note was found and his daughter, Wood's wife, had seen no indication that Wood had taken the money. Wood's body was found Wednesday morning in Geode State Park, about 20 miles southeast of Mount Pleasant, by Gene Ruberg of Burlington, who was fishing in the park. The car's motor was still running.

Sanity Hearing Ordered For Jack Ruby By Court

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—The Texas Court of Appeals on Wednesday ordered a quick sanity hearing for Jack Ruby to clear the way for consideration of the main appeal from a death sentence. Today's ruling, a denial of a writ of habeas corpus, had the effect of denying or at least postponing arguments by Ruby's attorneys that the trial judge should be disqualified because he wrote a book on the sensational trial.

Mountaineers Plan Outings

Two outings to the mountain ranges in the northwestern United States and Canada, a week-long hiking outing at Devils Lake, Wis., and local weekend canoeing and horseback riding trips are the events being planned by the Iowa Mountaineers for the summer months.

According to the club President John Ebert, 30 Prospect Place, the first major outing will be the longest. During the month-long trip July 8 to August 7, they will visit most of the mountain ranges and other climbing areas in the northern and western states and the Canadian Rockies.

AREAS They plan to visit include the Black Hills Needles of South Dakota, Devils Tower in Wyoming, Grand Teton Park in Wyoming, the Sawtooth Range in Idaho, Mount Rainier National Park in Washington and the Northern Cascades in Washington.

If the weather in the Canadian Rockies is unfavorable, the expedition will head south to California, Ebert said. If this route is taken they will visit the Mount Shasta region, the Mount Whitney region, the Northern Palisades, the Grand Canyon and Rainbow Mountain in Arizona and the Rocky Mountain National Park in Colorado.

Only we have enough facilities to take 15 members on this outing," said Ebert. Meals will be prepared on a rotating basis by the participants and all expenses will be shared as they occur on the outing.

THE SECOND outing will visit the Beartooth Range near Cooke City, Mont. Ebert expects about 80 members to make the 10-day trip.

According to the club president, the Beartooth complex contains 300 lakes, 10 lofty plateaus with elevations averaging around 11,000 feet above sea level and more than 5,000 waterfalls.

"Few mountaineers and hikers are acquainted with the mountains, the routes and the history of this region and no major club has held an outing in this area," said Ebert.

OUTING participants will meet in Cooke City on August 7 and travel eight miles to the base camp near Star Lake, Mont. Five of these miles will have to be walked because roads have not been built.

The Beartooth Camp will be located in a scenic area which should be of interest to fishermen, hikers, mountaineers and photographers, said Ebert.

An outing fee of about $70 will be charged most members. The fee varies in relation to the duties performed by the member. This fee and the membership fee of $3 cover the following expenses and services: all general camp equipment and community tentage, including a large kitchen, dining and camping tents; round-trip jeep hire of 45 pounds of personal duffel from the pack-in point to base camp; prepared meals in base camp and all necessary food for scheduled activities and for the high camps; the services of climbing and hiking leaders; transportation of all camp equipment from Iowa City to base camp; and all essential operation and promotional costs.

THE FEES do not include meals or personal expenses from the registrant's home or starting point to base camp or after leaving base camp; the use of saddle horses; of personal jeep transportation.

The 10-day outing will officially come to an end August 19, however. The average stay is only three or four days, Ebert said.

For the members that stay behind, local outings have been planned. According to Ebert, two weekend canoe excursions DOORS OPEN 1:15

Five University students have been awarded undergraduate scholarships for the study of Chinese this summer under the National Defense Education Act.

Diana Davolt, A2, Fort Madison; Sharon Baker, A2, Northboro; George Rompot, A1, Mount Vernon; and Raymond Lum, A2, Dubuque have been awarded scholarships to study at the University of Minnesota.

Larry D. Bridge, A1, Cedar Rapids will study at the University of Kansas.

Reports from the Adjustment Committee and the Executive Committee were read at the meeting.

ONE POINT of the Educational Policy Committee report was approval for a two-year use of College Entrance Examination Boards to grant exemptions from core courses in the Liberal Arts College.

Leslie G. Moeller, director of the School of Journalism, reported on the progress of the Interim Committee on its study of the present situation in the College of Liberal Arts and the administrative structure.

MOELLER said 525 questionnaires were sent to the faculty of the College of Liberal Arts.

These questionnaires concerned graduate and undergraduate instruction, advisory functions, faculty committees, faculty-student contact and organization of the College of Liberal Arts.

Moeller said 195 questionnaires were returned to the committee, and a written report would be issued soon.

Liberal Arts College Grows

The projected enrollment for next fall for the College of Liberal Arts is 10,400, Dewey B. Stuit, dean of the college, said Wednesday afternoon at the annual meeting of faculty of the College of Liberal Arts.

Along with this increased enrollment, Stuit said, there must be a balance between teaching and research, and the University must have a faculty that is known for its contribution to scholarship.

REFERRING to questions on the grading system, Stuit said the University had not yet come up with a good substitute for the present system.

Law Week Debated

Plans for a legislative education program for the 1967 Iowa legislature, including a "Student Week in the Legislature," were discussed at an Iowa College Council (ICC) meeting with University officials Wednesday afternoon in the Old Capitol conference room.

The ICC, founded in March, is an association of the University, Iowa State University, State College of Iowa and Drake University to obtain legislative education, College Bowl competition, and block booking of speakers, lecturers, and entertainers for the member schools.

THE "WEEK in the Legislature" program would send 12 students to the statehouse as guests of the majority and minority party leaders there, Jay Eaton, A2, Waukon, Iowa-ICC Coordinator said after the meeting.

The students will probably be chosen from the three state-supported schools on the basis of ICC interviews, Eaton said. Last year under a similar program, eight University students went to the legislature.

Ideas for more effectively presenting student needs to the legislators were also discussed at the meeting, Eaton said.

"This is the first time that the state-supported schools will be in a unified action to get the message of student needs across to the legislators," Eaton said.

FORMERLY, he said the student governments of the three schools had made individual contacts with the legislature, "with not too much effectiveness."

"This year," Eaton said, "we'll have more pooled resources, more people to make the contacts, and a greater sharing of ideas for what we feel confident will make a more effective program."

Krosnick, Cellist, Is Honored At New York City Reception

Joel Krosnick, assistant professor of music, was honored Wednesday at a reception sponsored by the Institute of International Education's Music Committee.

The reception, held in New York, was for the 18 young American musical performers selected by the institute to participate in the Third International Tchaikovsky Competition in Moscow this summer.

Krosnick, who has been a member of the Iowa String Quartet, will enter the cello competition with three other American cellists. Pianists, vocalists and violinists will also represent the institute in the competition.

The institute's international music competitions project helps young American musical performers to participate in international competition with funds provided by the Office of Cultural Presentations of the U.S. State Department.

Friday Rendition Planned For Gilbert, Sullivan Opera

A Gilbert and Sullivan opera, "Trial by Jury," will be presented by the Studio Theatre at 3:30 p.m. Friday in the Old Armory.

The opera, directed by Shirlee Dicker, A4, Iowa City, is entirely sung.

Members of the cast are Nicholas Meyer, A2, New York, N.Y., the judge; Phyllis Heckman, A2, Oakland, plaintiff; Allen Just, G, Hicksville, N.Y., defendant; Jerry Atchison, A1, Cedar Rapids, council for the plaintiff; John Petrick, A1, Mount Vernon, usher; and Marvin Kipp, A3, Ogden, foreman. The accompanist is Paul Borg, A1, Des Moines.

It has been four years since a Gilbert and Sullivan opera has been performed at the University.

Homecoming Being Planned

Preparation for 1966 Homecoming has begun.

The theme, "Dreams to be Daring For" has been chosen; and this week all fraternities, sororities, and dormitory sections will be contacted by the 1966 Homecoming Badge Committee to plan fall badge sales.

The committee, under the direction of Norman Berven, A3, Des Moines, has already begun production of the badges, which will provide the only income for all Homecoming activities. Pictured on the badges is Ray Nagle, new head football coach.

The housing unit selling the most badges during the sales period, Oct. 13 to 22, Homecoming weekend, will have its choice of three prizes: a full-size, regulation pool table; a 25-inch color television set; or a console stereo record player with multiband AM-FM radio. The second-place winner will choose from the two remaining prizes, and the third-place winner will receive the prize left over.

GOP Candidates To 'Meet'

The Young Republican League will sponsor a quest period for the gubernatorial candidates Tuesday in the Old Capitol conference room.

The three candidates are K. Beck, Center; G. Murray, Ames; and G. Des Moines.

In a "Meet the candidates" session, the candidates will be interviewed by representatives.

Power May Favor LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Administration Committee's working majority of Representatives kept Republican year's elections year's average of past years.

The party in power since 1953 has a 29-seat majority in the House for a quarter century.

Thus, unless they keep their losses to a minimum, the Democrats will have a majority in the House for a quarter century.

WEDNESDAY was an example of the Administration's success compared to its own. The Democrats pushed through a bill for pooling and selling loans and mortgages, 206 to 190.

Earlier in the session, the Administration won funds for its supplemental program of six and four cents over phone calls, and a mansion by 20 and 10.

ON EACH OF the few Republican party tracks to join the main body of the measure was supported by Democrats. But Wednesday Republicans voted against it.

Once again, Democrats from normal districts gave their victory by a slim margin.
