Cicero Asks Guard Mobilization

Subcommittee Gives OK For Antiwar Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House subcommittee on Un-American Activities approved unanimously Tuesday a bill that would provide stiff fines or imprisonment for anti-Viet Nam war activities.

The action was taken against the advice of the Administration. Deputy Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark said anti-Viet Nam war activities "can hardly be considered a threat to national security and, anyway, there is no need for new laws to deal with them."

The measure will be taken up today by the full committee and approval is expected.

The special subcommittee that acted Tuesday was the same group that had held recent public hearings on antiwar groups and activities. The hearings were enlivened by heckling, shouting and the physical ejection of one attorney and 50 spectators.

Members Disagree

Members of the House Committee by Pool that would punish sharply disagreed with Clark on the need for new laws.

"The fact there have been no prosecutions show this need," Rep. Joe R. Pool (D-Tex.) said as the committee ended its public hearings.

The subcommittee approved a measure by Pool that would punish those who attempt to interfere with the movement of U.S. troops and supplies and those who would solicit aid for the Viet Cong.

The subcommittee, to counter objections that the measure might be unconstitutional, deleted sections which prohibit advising, counseling or urging others to aid enemies of the United States and to block shipment of troops and materials.

The measure provides a $10,000 fine and five years in jail for obstructing troop movements, and a $20,000 fine and 20 years in prison for sending aid to the nation's enemies.

Clark testified at the closing hearing:

Legislation Not Needed

"There is no need for new legislation because a panoply of laws, state and federal, presently protects the national interest."

"However reprehensible, indeed irrational, much of the conduct of those who endeavor to interfere with our efforts to protect world freedom in Viet Nam may be, it can hardly be considered a threat," he added.

Clark said no troop trains have been stopped, and no American aid — money or otherwise — has actually reached the Viet Cong, the South Viet Nam guerrillas.

"Essentially, the Viet Nam obstructionist movement has been a propaganda effort," he declared. "That such a tiny handful of people could secure so much attention in so vast a nation by what has largely been eccentric behavior, is in itself a cause for concern."

This statement touched off some tart questioning by committee members.

"If you're inferring we're paying too much attention to this problem, I disagree," Rep. Richard Ichord (D-Mo.) snapped.

McNamara told the 67th convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars that in the next fiscal year and thereafter the number would be increased to 100,000.

Poor Given Chance

"The poor of America have not had the opportunity to earn their fair share of this nation's abundance, but they can be given the

Ozark Airlines Gets Safety Record Honor

Ozark Airlines, which operates flights in Iowa City, has received one of four Awards of Honor from the National Safety Council for an outstanding safety record in 1965.

To be eligible for the award, a carrier must have had no fatal accidents during 1965, and must also have had an injury rate lower than its group's average rate for the previous three years.

Ozark, a local service carrier which serves 58 cities in 11 states, has received a safety award every year since its beginning in 1950. The airline has not experienced a passenger or crew fatality in that time and has carried passengers over 113 million miles.

Other scheduled airlines receiving the Award of Honor are Alaska Coastal-Ellis Airlines, Delta Airlines and Lake Central Airlines.

Rocks, Bottles Fly At Demonstrators

CHICAGO (AP) — More than 1,500 shouting white persons waved swastikas and threw rocks and bottles into a line of 150 civil rights marchers who trudged through the streets of a tidy Southeast Side neighborhood late Tuesday.

The demonstrators, pushing their drive for open housing, moved on a crisp evening through the South Deering area for the second time in three days.

Police skirmished several times with white youths. They chased one group down an alley after firecrackers were tossed into the march.

Shortest March

It was the shortest march since the demonstrations began in late July. Police delayed the march up until nearly dusk because of an injunction that forbids the demonstrators to walk during rush hour periods.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. says the demonstrators will walk into Cicero Sunday and the worried town appealed Tuesday for the immediate mobilization of the National Guard to "prevent disaster."

One Cicero policeman told a newsman: "My belly has been tied in a knot for two weeks worrying about that march into Cicero."

Cicero — the stronghold of Al Capone during the prohibition era — is considered one of the most hostile white communities in the Chicago area.

Governor Notified

Christy S. Berkos, attorney for Cicero, said he telegraphed Gov. Otto Kerner today asking that the National Guard be mobilized immediately.

N. Viet Torpedo Boat Sunk By Navy Planes

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Navy planes attacked four North Vietnamese torpedo boats in the Gulf of Tonkin Tuesday, sinking one and heavily damaging two others, the U.S. command announced Wednesday.

A spokesman said the Navy A4 Skyhawks discovered the torpedo boats camouflaged in a chain of islands off the coast northeast of the key port of Haiphong.

The spokesman added that the PT boats were found in islands south of coastal city of Hon Gai.

Also east of Haiphong, U.S. Navy pilots sighted three MIG17s Tuesday, but a spokesman said there were no aerial clashes.

The carrier-based Navy Skyhawks first sighted two MIG17s east of Haiphong about noon. The spokesman said the MIGs followed the Skyhawks southeast of the port city and then broke away without an exchange of fire.

Later, he said, a third MIG17 started toward the Skyhawks but broke away without a fight. The Skyhawks were returning from a strike mission when they encountered the MIGs and were well out to sea over the Gulf of Tonkin when the encounter ended.

In other air action U.S. Air Force planes hit targets only five miles north of the demilitarized zone separating north and south Viet Nam.

The raiding planes, propeller-driven A1 Skyraiders and B57 Canberra bombers, attacked a complex of five storage structures near coastal north-south highway one and pilots reported destroying all five buildings and touching off a large secondary explosion.

Also near the demilitarized zone, on Route 101, Air Force planes attacked a truck park and pilots claimed destruction of at least three trucks and reported two secondary explosions.

Salvage crews worked under armed guard Tuesday night to save the supply-laden Baton Rouge Victory, an American freighter sunk to her main deck in the Saigon River complex 22 miles southeast of Saigon by a Communist mine.

AP Manager Will Speak On Sunday

Wes Gallagher, general manager of The Associated Press (AP), will speak on "The Battle for Credibility — Big Government vs. the Press" here Sunday at the convention of the Association for Education in Journalism (AEJ).

Gallagher's address will follow presentation of a citation of merit for science writing to AP by the American Society of Journalism School Administrators (ASJSA), which is holding its annual meeting in conjunction with the AEJ convention.

The speech will be given at the 8 p.m. ASJSA session in the Union Ballroom and will be open to the public and free of charge.

Gallagher, the author of "Back Door to Berlin," a book on World War II, directed coverage by AP correspondents during the invasion of France in 1944, after having served as a correspondent in 26 foreign countries.

He also led the AP staff covering the landings in North Africa, was chief of AP war correspondents covering the invasion of the European continent, and was chief of the AP bureau in Germany from 1945 to 1950, during which time he covered the Nuremberg war trials, the blockade of Berlin, and the gradual recovery of Western Germany to its present status.

Nearly 300 delegates have pre-registered with the Iowa School of Journalism, host for the Aug. 28 to Sept. 1 convention of AEJ.

Open Housing Drive Spurs Cicero Woes

CICERO, Ill. (AP) — Cicero, where gangland warfare made national headlines during prohibition, could become a new battleground if civil rights leaders make the Chicago suburb a major target of their open housing drive.

Apprehension mixed with bitterness and expressions of hatred from Cicero residents augur trouble should demonstration occur in this all-white town of 70,000. Fifteen years ago it was the site of one of this area's worst race riots.

Three youths, all under 20, were asked by a reporter how they might react to demonstrations.

"If they want trouble," said one clinching his fists, "they're coming to the right place to get it."

His companions nodded in assent.

Cicero Is Target

The Rev. Jesse Jackson, an aide to Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., announced Aug. 8 that Cicero had been selected as a target community.

"We will march in Cicero next Sunday, Aug. 28," King said Saturday. Aides have indicated several thousand Negroes and some white supporters may participate.

Cicero officials asked Gov. Otto Kerner to call out the National Guard for duty.

Cicero, a largely industrial area on Chicago's western rim — it once was headquarters for gang lord Al Capone — has only 90 full-time policemen. Officials say they would have difficulty in coping with a riot. Plans have been made to bring in sheriff's police and state troopers should they be needed. Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago has said city police are ready to help if requested.

A newsman sounding out sentiment among townspeople found few of them willing to allow use of their names but ready enough to voice their views on open housing.

Demonstrators Unwelcome

"This is an all-white community," said a salesman about 60. "The demonstrators are not wanted here and they won't be welcome."

"Who can say what may happen?"

Some older residents appeared to take a more placid view.

"Let 'em march," they have a right to; we'll just ignore them," two retired Western Electric workers said.

Speaking for Cicero real estate men, principal target of the open housing drive, Jack Narko, president of the West Towns Board of Realtors, said, "I hope the people will do the intelligent thing; stay off the streets."

The West Towns Board of Realtors was instrumental in obtaining an injunction Aug. 3 that restrained enforcement of Gov. Kerner's executive order that would have required agents to list only housing open to persons of all races, nationalities and faiths. Violators would have been subject to revocation or suspension of licenses. A week later the injunction was expanded to cover all real estate brokers in the state. The court order is expected to be appealed to the Illinois Supreme Court.

The 1950 census showed 30 Negroes residing in Cicero.

The 1960 census showed four.

Today there are none.

Clark testified at the closing hearing:

40,000 Rejected To Be Drafted

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said Tuesday 40,000 men disqualified for the draft under current standards will be accepted for military training within the next 10 months as a link between the war on poverty and this nation's defense.

He said the men — rejected for education and health reasons often rooted in poverty — would be given special training at military posts to qualify them for regular service.

McNamara told the 67th convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars that in the next fiscal year and thereafter the number would be increased to 100,000.

Poor Given Chance

"The poor of America have not had the opportunity to earn their fair share of this nation's abundance, but they can be given the opportunity to serve in their country's defense and they can be given an opportunity to return to civilian life with skills and aptitudes which for them and their families will reverse the downward spiral of human decay," he said.

The defense secretary estimated that 85 per cent of the youths taken into the program could be brought up to draft standards for regular military service.

May Affect 1Ys

In Washington, a Pentagon spokesman said "it is a possibility" that some of the men affected would be those now classified 1Y — a pool of about two million men who do not meet standard mental or physical requirements except under war or emergency conditions. Those classified 4F, with serious defects, would not be affected.

The spokesman said the training program would make use of regular military facilities, requiring no additional funds and no specific congressional approval at this time.

Last year, Congress did not approve a Pentagon proposal for an experimental program known as STEP — Special Training for Enlisted Personnel — which would have trained 15,000 volunteers who had failed to qualify for service.

Poverty Hits Strength

McNamara told the VFW: "I want to emphasize that poverty in America makes our nation less secure. Poverty abroad leads to unrest, to internal upheaval, to violence, and to the escalation of extremism. It does the same within our own borders."

Partly due to "factors related directly to poverty," he said

9 Grad Students Get Awards

National Science Foundation (NSF) fellowships have been awarded to nine University graduate students for the 1966-67 academic year.

Three students will continue as NSF Cooperative Fellows and six will continue as NSF Graduate Fellows. All nine winners received renewals because of their academic progress last year.

Recommendations Given

The Cooperative Fellows were recommended by University faculty members and selected by a panel of scientists appointed by the National Academy of Sciences of the National Research Council. The Graduate Fellows applied directly to the National Science Foundation.

Recipients of both fellowships received a $2,400 stipend for the first year. Second-year fellows will receive $2,600, and third-year fellows, $2,800. In addition, $500 allowance will be given for each dependent and tuition and fees will be paid by a $2,500 cost-of-education allowance given by the NSF to the University.

Began In 1950

The NSF fellowship program was begun in 1950 to encourage research and education in mathematics and the physical and behavioral sciences. This year, five University students have been appointed first-year NSF Graduate Fellows and 28 Iowa students are participating in the NSF traineeship program.

Students receiving NSF fellowships, the type of fellowship, number of years held and field of study are:

Mrs. Roy Caldwell, G. Des Moines, National Science Foundation Graduate Fellowship (NSFG), second, zoology; Raymond L. Murray, G. Hull, NSF, second, economics; Richard A. Davis, G. Iowa City, NSF, second, geology; Roy Caldwell, G. Mt. Vernon, NSF, second, zoology; Lindsley Schutz, G. Baltimore, National Science Foundation Cooperative Fellowship (NSFC), second, psychology; Eleanor Birch, G. Lowell, Mass., NSF, third, economics; Robert Lohman, G. Joplin, Mo., NSFC, second, mathematics and astronomy; and David G. Myers, G. Seattle, NSFC, second, psychology.

Explosion Rips Building

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — One body was recovered and four others were presumed buried in rubble of a wire manufacturing company executive office building ripped by an explosion Tuesday which injured 19 other persons and destroyed a million-dollar computer.

"We have one body out," said Sheriff Custer Dunifon at the scene just outside Fort Wayne, "and the four employees unaccounted for are presumed dead beneath the rubble."

The body of one victim found in the shattered two-story brick structure was identified by Dr. Gordon Franke, coroner, as that of Margaret Slesman, 24, a company secretary from Fort Wayne. Her parents live in Edgerton, Ohio.

The heavy property loss at the Phelps-Dodge Copper Products Corp. included a Honeywell 200 computer valued at $1.38 million. The blast also destroyed computer parts valued at $400,000 by Jack Carmean, the firm's manager of systems and data processing.

Limit on marches

Chicago officials have succeeded in obtaining a temporary court injunction requiring civil rights marchers to conform to certain rules. The rules limit the number of marches to one a day and the number of participants to 500. March organizers are required to give police 24 hours notice of the route of a planned march and to hold marches only during daylight hours but not in rush-hour periods.

The court action follows a series of civil rights demonstrations in all-white neighborhoods in behalf of open housing for Negroes. The demonstrations have touched off a violent white reaction and necessitated extensive action by police to protect the marchers. During one recent day, three simultaneous marches required the presence of nearly 1,300 policemen. The Chicago police department says this is 259 more than are needed to provide effective protection for the city as a whole.

Court action blocking demonstrations could interfere with the right of protest and might be regarded as suppressing free speech. But the Chicago injunction does not prevent protest. Civil rights groups are still able to march into any neighborhood of their choice. The injunction barring simultaneous marches and limiting the size of demonstrating groups does not seem unreasonable in view of the situation in Chicago. It is regrettable that the Rev. Martin Luther King says he intends to defy the court order.

The restrictions in the court's order are made necessary by the actions of punks and hoodlums in attacking the civil rights protesters. It should be recognized that the court injunction represents a partial "giving in" to these irresponsible. But the city has done all it can be reasonably expected to do to provide protection. It is not the city's fault that the marches are provoking violence. After attempting good-faith efforts to fully protect the right for protest, the city cannot be faulted for seeking to hold down the number of marches in the interests of public safety.

But the granting of a court injunction in no way solves the underlying problem. Chicago will continue to have strife and turmoil unless effective steps are taken to deal with the legitimate grievances of Negroes over discrimination in housing.

The Des Moines Register

Fool Pool

Brig. Gen. William W. Berg, deputy assistant secretary of defense for military personnel policy, has told the House Committee on Un-American Activities that anti-war demonstrations are not now nor have been hurting the morale of U. S. troops.

This revelation takes quite a bit of the wind out of legislation proposed by Rep. Joe R. Pool (D-Tex.) that would prosecute those who aid the Viet Cong. Pool and his supporters say the bill's major purpose is to boost morale of U. S. troops.

Perhaps someone should put Pool before the committee on un-American activities and investigate the Texas representative's own motives.

There is no Trib Virginia, it's dead

By ART BUCHWALD

WASHINGTON — When the late President Kennedy cancelled his subscription to the New York Herald Tribune, I wrote a letter to my little friend, Virginia, assuring her that, although the paper wasn't read in the White House, it was still very much alive and would remain alive as long as there were Presidents in the White House to cancel their subscriptions to it.

The other day I received another letter from Virginia. It read:

"Dear Sir: I am seven years old and all my friends tell me there is no New York Tribune. I won't believe it's so until I read it in your column. Are they lying again?"

"Your friend, 'Virginia.'"

"Dear Virginia: Unfortunately, this time your friends are telling the truth. The reason there is no Trib is because it could exist no longer. No, Virginia, there is no Herald Tribune. You are too young to understand why it is no more and so am I.

"The publishers said they wanted to publish it but the unions wouldn't let them. The unions said they wouldn't print it but the publishers wouldn't let them. The advertisers all insisted New York City needed a Herald Tribune, but many of them wouldn't advertise in it. The readers said the New York Herald Tribune was a great newspaper, but apparently there just weren't enough of them.

"Everyone loved the Herald Tribune, even the competitors, but that did not prevent it from dying. Alas, Virginia, how dreary New York will be without the Trib, as dreary as many other cities where newspapers have died and none has come to take their place.

"A newspaper is not like Santa Claus. You don't have to see Santa Claus to know he exists, but you have to see a newspaper. You have to touch it and feel it and read it and, what's even more, believe in it.

"A newspaper cannot be published on faith alone. It needs editors, reporters, printers, technicians, advertisers, and distributors, and readers, and if you can't have all of these, you can't have a paper, at least not for very long.

"No Herald Tribune. It's true, Virginia. Those of us who worked for it thought it would live for a thousand, nay, ten thousand years, from now. We thought it would gladden the hearts of Virginians for generations to come. We didn't believe it would disappear until it happened, and some of us can't believe it still.

"I'm sorry to break the news to you in this way, but, although your friends were right, tell them not to gloat when a newspaper dies. A little of the truth, beauty, romance, love, faith, and fancy that the world is so short of dies with it.

"Sincerely, 'A.B.'"

Did Egyptians fool science?

Have the ancient pharaohs pulled the archeological wool over the eyes of some modern Egyptologists?

To find out whether or not the real burial chambers of the pharaohs have indeed remained successfully hidden in the Pyramids for some 4,500 years — as some archeologists believe — scientists will "X-ray" the second Pyramid of Chephren in El Giza, Egypt, near Cairo, says a Commerce Clearing House report.

Basis for the experiment — a joint venture of the United States and the United Arab Republic — is the "Deception Theory" which holds that the Egyptian monarchs, wary of grave robbers and anxious to preserve their bodies for immortality, ingeniously planned their burial places so as to mislead future generations into thinking the chambers had already been pillaged.

Viet Cong Sabotage Sinks U. S. Freighter

SAIGON — Salvage crews worked under armed guard Tuesday night to save the supply-laden Baton Rouge Victory, an American freighter sunk to her main deck in the Saigon River complex 22 miles southeast of this city by a Communist mine.

The electrically detonated blast ripped a gaping hole in the port side of the 21-year-old, 7,601-ton vessel and killed seven of her 45 American crewmen near the end of a 26-day voyage from San Francisco with trucks, post exchange merchandise and war cargo.

The Viet Cong followed up with heavy fire Tuesday night on a U.S. patrol boat cruising on the My Tho River 25 miles southwest of Saigon, drawing return fire from the boat. A U.S. spokesman, who announced the incident, had no word on casualties.

Grounded On South Bank
The Baton Rouge Victory grounded at the south bank of a canal that is part of one of the two main channels for shipping between Saigon and the South China Sea. The vessel was out of the way of traffic but the Vietnamese navy, as a security precaution, temporarily closed that channel.

The explosion capped a week of intensified Viet Cong terrorism and sabotage that officials consider to be aimed at impeding the election of a Constituent Assembly Sept. 11, as well as at military goals. Officials said the mine, fired by wiring from the bank, might have been intended originally for an ammunition ship due in the channel about the same time.

U.S. patrol boats, helicopter gun crews and South Vietnamese troops kept watch for guerrillas in adjacent mangrove swamps as a salvage ship and four tugs wrestled with the problems of transshipping the war supplies and refloating the freighter.

Operations Scattered
Elsewhere, thousands of allied troops hunted with relatively slim results for Communist forces in widely scattered ground operations.

Among field reports:
• A U.S. Marine amphibious force of 1,500 men that landed Monday in a jungled swampland 50 miles southeast of Saigon plodded ahead with no significant contact.

• Several battalions of Vietnamese troops who set out last weekend were still operating on the outskirts of Saigon, trying to clean out Viet Cong terrorists who might interfere with the Constituent Assembly election.

• Guerrillas Monday night shot at a pontoon bridge over the river bisecting Da Nang. U.S. and Vietnamese sentries spotted six Viet Cong in the river and captured four of them.

• The U.S. Command announced the windup of Operation Colorado, launched by U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese troops Aug. 6 between Marine coastal bases at Chu Lai and Da Nang. A spokesman said 514 Communist troops were killed or captured. Allied casualties were termed light.

Ky Talks To Rabbi

While U.S. air squadrons struck again at North Viet Nam, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky told a New York rabbi he would be willing to exchange North Vietnamese prisoners for American pilots held in Hanoi. Several hundred Hanoi regulars are held in the south. The North Vietnamese are known to have captured about 40 American pilots.

Rabbi Schuler Rubin, spiritual leader of the Young Israel Synagogue, reported after an hour's talk with the premier that Ky told him:

"I would even make an uneven exchange. I know the prisoner issue is an emotional one and could bring on World War III. And I know the prisoners are suffering terrible humiliation and hardship. I would do everything in my power to get them back."

Folk Writes Book About Reactions

A book describing reactions to extreme environments, such as the bodily mechanisms that keep Arctic sled dogs and seals warm and the physiology of hibernating ground squirrels and grizzly bears has been written by a University physiologist.

Dr. Edgar Folk Jr., professor of physiology and biophysics, and his wife, Mary, have compiled many of the results of their extensive research in the Arctic Aeromedical Laboratory in Fairbanks and the Arctic Research Laboratory at Point Barrow, Alaska.

The book is a result of more than 20 years of research by Dr. Folk in laboratory environmental chambers as well as the natural environment. The book compares his work with that of other researchers engaged in similar studies.

In his analyses, Dr. Folk has tried to consider the animals as a whole and not as a group of separate cells, tissues, organs, or systems, since it is the entire animal which responds to environmental impacts.

Titled "Introduction to Environmental Physiology," the book contains many examples of recorded research which demonstrate the limits of tolerance and adjustment that various animals and man have made to extreme conditions such as cold, the constant light and darkness of the Arctic, desert heat, mountain altitude, and deep sea pressures.

The book, which contains more than 100 illustrations, was published by Lea & Febiger, Philadelphia, Pa.

Unemployment Hike Hits Britain's Unions

LONDON — The specter of growing unemployment haunted Britain's trade union movement Tuesday as the Labor government's economic squeeze began tightening.

Imperial Chemical Industries, the nation's biggest private employer, aroused the fears by firing 1,050 workers at three plants producing nylon fiber.

It was the largest cutback by any company since the government five weeks ago imposed drastic credit restrictions and froze wages and prices. The measures were designed to stabilize the economy and restore confidence in the pound sterling.

The chemical layoff spelled more trouble for Prime Minister Harold Wilson in his battle to win a majority of Britain's 7.5 million unionists over to the government's economic measures.

Steam Age Comes Alive At Festival

The Steam Age is not dead. It will be in action at the Midwest Old Settlers and Threshers Association Reunion in Mount Pleasant for five days beginning Sept. 1 through 5.

More than 100 steamers will parade in a Giant Cavalcade of Power. They will work as they did when they were the newest thing in agriculture — sawing logs into lumber and threshing grain. Other engines will be grinding grist and powering the merry-go-round.

An 1891 Baldwin locomotive with cabbage stack will be steamed up and circling the grounds carrying visitors in four passenger cars.

Other special entertainment will include square dancing from 9 to 12 p.m. Sept. 1 and 3, and the Fiddlers contest at 8 p.m. Sept. 3.

Jimmy Davis will again star in the legendary "Toby and Susie" plays. He presents America's Only Folk Theater and plans to include a reunion for all those who ever put on grease paint under the "Big Top."

The chemical company blamed high taxation and the credit squeeze for slowing the growth of its nylon division. It employs 126,000 workers.

Leaders of the Transport and General Workers Union described the dismissals as callous. They called on the company to withdraw them but the company replied it had no choice.

Since the squeeze began last month about 5,000 workers — mostly in automobile plants and other consumer industries — have been either fired or put under notice of dismissal. Another 6,000 have been told they may go on a short work day.

Union leaders have been assured by Wilson's administration that it will never foster unemployment as a deliberate instrument of policy.

The total of unemployed in Britain and Northern Ireland was 345,500 at the last count. Government officials have said they do not expect the number to pass 450,000 as a result of the economic measures.

Money Bill For Industries Is Agreed On

WASHINGTON — Senate House conferees agreed Tuesday on a bill to pump $4.76 billion of mortgage money into a homebuilding industry slowed down drastically by a scarcity of funds for would-be buyers.

They also agreed on another bill to continue the mass transit subsidy program at the current $150-million-a-year pace for the two fiscal years starting next July. It is aimed primarily at ailing transit systems.

The conferees, meeting for the first time on the housing bill, picked the highest possible figure by accepting all devices voted separately by the House and Senate to bolster the mortgage market.

Sponsors convinced the conferees that the nation's homebuilding industry is in serious trouble because of rising interest rates, with some firms about to go out of business and many potential homebuyers shut off from money.

The measure probably will be called up for a Senate vote Wednesday, sponsors said, and it may be ready for President Johnson's signature by the end of this week.

The new funds would be channeled through the Federal National Mortgage Association — known generally as "Fannie Mae." Most of the money would go through the agency's secondary market in which it buys from banks and other lenders FHA-insured and VA-guaranteed mortgages.

This would in turn give the lenders fresh money for new mortgages — FHA and VA-backed or conventional — and might help brake the rising interest spiral.

Wills Shakes Knee Trouble, Prepares To Shake A Leg

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Maury Wills hasn't stolen a base since June 23, but watch out: The go-go shortstop and captain of the Los Angeles Dodgers said Tuesday that he's ready to run again.

MAURY WILLS
Dodger Shortstop

"My knee feels good," he said. "So good I feel I can help run the team right into the pennant."

Wills has been plagued by injuries and the battering his legs take in stealing bases for nearly two months. The worst trouble was an injury to his right knee July 15 at Shea Stadium in New York.

The Mets pitcher, Jack Fisher, was caught in a rundown between second and third base. Wills dove at him and got him but came down hard on his right knee.

Wills was flown here for treatment and fluid draining by Dr. Robert Kerlan, team physician. The knee improved somewhat but there were frequent flareups and the speed of the 33-year-old Wills simply vanished.

Recently Wills told a reporter: "I figure I've lost 10 or 15 hits on balls I've hit that I would have beaten out before. It's probably cost me a few games, too."

Trainer Bill Buhler now packs the gimpy knee in ice after a game and Wills has it bound tightly from thigh to shin during a game.

Warriors Get Dukers
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Warriors have acquired Walter Duker, a 7-foot veteran of eight National Basketball Association seasons.

Duker and 6-foot-10 Bill McGill, recently purchased from Los Angeles, could serve as substitute centers if Nate Thurmond reinjures his back this year.

Clay Appeals Draft Status, Asks Religious Deferment

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Heavyweight Champion Cassius Clay, a copy of the Koran under one arm, appeared at a special hearing Tuesday to ask for a draft deferment on religious grounds.

Clay said the hearing, which ran nearly four hours, was "run just like I was in a courtroom, but there was no decision. When there is one, I'll be the first to hear it."

The champion's attorney, Hayden Covington, already has asked his draft board to reopen the whole case "so Clay can be considered for an exemption as a Muslim minister."

This point was brought out at Tuesday's hearing before special Judge Lawrence Grauman, who was appointed by the Justice Department.

His recommendation will be forwarded to the department which will review it and then make a recommendation to Clay's appeal board here.

FBI Report
Clay, who was accompanied by his parents, said some testimony Tuesday revolved around an FBI report "which was critical in some respects. I can't say more than that."

Clay said he has been a Muslim minister for two years and has been traveling around the country "preaching and converting people."

"You see this," he said, holding up the Koran. "These are the writings which we Muslims believe are revelations made to Muhammad by Allah."

Life Work
He contended that 90 per cent of his time is taken up now with religious work. "It's becoming my whole life. I only devote a little time each day to my fighting."

The champion also asserted that his ministerial work "never was publicized before. Mr. Covington noticed that and decided we had grounds for an exemption from service."

Clay, now 24, also disclosed that the draft board has given him permission to leave the country for his September fight with Karl Mildenberger in Frankfurt, Germany.

Giants' Perry Top Candidate For 1966 Cy Young Award

NEW YORK (AP) — Who would have thought that Gaylord Perry would be leading Sandy Koufax and Juan Marichal as a candidate for the Cy Young award?

Yet, with less than six weeks left in the baseball season, San Francisco's Perry, an eight-game winner in 1965, heads the list of candidates for the trophy given annually to the major leagues' outstanding pitcher.

Koufax, the Young Award winner last season and in 1963, is making another strong run this year. Despite an arthritic left arm that pains him intermittently, he has won 30 games and lost seven. He is also the majors' leader in strikeouts with 254 and earned run average, 1.67.

However, Perry, with a 20-2 mark, has lost five fewer games than the Los Angeles Dodgers' southpaw. His ERA is a good one, 2.52, and he has yielded only 26 bases on balls and struck out 153 batsmen.

Koufax has pitched 20 complete games and three shutouts while Perry also has three shutouts among 12 complete games.

The Giants' Marichal, who appeared to be a certain 25-game winner earlier this season, has a 17-5 mark. He has not won as a starter, though, in almost a month. The big righthander posted his 18th victory July 25 in beating Pittsburgh 2-1 and won No. 17 on Aug. 2 as a reliever against the New York Mets.

Jim Kaat of Minnesota, with an 18-9 record, is the only other sure shot to win 20. Five others have an outside chance. They are Bob Gibson of St. Louis and Earl Wilson of Detroit, who've won 15 each, plus 4-game winners Chris Short of Philadelphia, Jim Palmer of Baltimore and Dennis McLain of Detroit.

Koufax, Marichal and Gibson were in the 20-game victory group last season.

McDowell's 6-Hitter Tops Baltimore, 1-0

BALTIMORE (AP) — Sudden Sam McDowell, apparently recovered from his long siege of arm trouble, pitched a brilliant six-hitter and Rocky Colavito walloped his 28th home run as Cleveland edged American League leading Baltimore 2-1 Tuesday night.

McDowell, who shut out Chicago in his last start, had the Orioles blanked until Frank Robinson's two-out single produced Baltimore's run in the eighth inning.

The Indians' ace left-hander struck out 10 and won his eighth game in a duel with Jim Palmer. Colavito led off the seventh with his homer.

McDowell hurled his sixth complete game. His other five complete games were shutouts, including his last two victories on July first and last Friday.

Ron Swoboda also starred for the Mets, collecting three singles and a run batted in.

New York scored its first two runs in the sixth inning on a single by Jim Hickman, a double by Larry Elliot and Swoboda's third sacrifice.

Jones slammed his seventh home run in the seventh, also scoring Jerry Grote who had opened the inning with a single.

Angels Edge Yanks, 1-0 On Chance's 3-Hitter

NEW YORK (AP) — Dean Chance pitched a three-hitter for his first shutout of the season as the California Angels nipped the New York Yankees 1-0 Tuesday night.

Paul Schaal, who had three of the Angels' seven hits off loser Fritz Peterson, drove in the game's only run with a fourth-inning single.

Chance gave up a lead-off double to Jake Gibbs in the third inning and was touched for singles by Horace Clarke, in the fifth, and rookie Steve Whitaker, in the eighth, while gaining his ninth victory against 15 defeats. He struck out seven and walked four.

Bob Rodgers singled with one out in the fourth, advanced to second on a ground out and scored on Schaal's single to left.

Kaat Gets 19th Win As Twins Split Pair

WASHINGTON (AP) — Willie Kirkland's pinch home run in the eighth inning gave the Washington Senators a 4-3 victory over Minnesota Tuesday night and a split of their two-night doubleheader.

The Twins won the opener 7-0 with Jim Kaat pitching a five-hitter for the 19th victory and Rich Rollins hitting a grand slam homer.

Kirkland batted for reliever Bob Humphrey's leading off the eighth and broke a 3-3 tie with his fifth home run of the year.

The Twins tied the game in the seventh against Humphreys with two singles, a walk and an error. Singles by Harmon Killebrew and Earl Battey produced the runs.

White Leads Phillies Past Pittsburgh, 5-4

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Bill White drove in four runs with a pair of bases-loaded singles leading the Philadelphia Phillies past the Pittsburgh Pirates 5-4 Tuesday night behind the seven-hit pitching of Chris Short.

White's two-out single in the seventh inning broke a 3-3 tie and gave the Phillies the victory.

Philadelphia knocked out Pittsburgh starter Vern Law in the first inning before a man was retired, grabbing a 3-0 lead.

Roberto Clemente's 22nd homer of the year with two out, tied it for the Pirates in the fifth.

The Coralville City Council voted Tuesday night to re-let bids for the 1966 Street Improvement Program Sept. 13.

All bids for street construction in the program — which includes work on Fourth, Fifth, and Ninth avenues — were rejected from the Aug. 9 bidding.

The council also voted to change starting salary for street and sanitation workers from the present $350 to a figure between that and $450 depending on qualifications of the employe.

Sports Illustrated Claims Talent Raid Forced Merger

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Football League was forced to merge with the rival American League to prevent a whole-sale raid on its top talent, Sports Illustrated said Tuesday.

The magazine, in a copy-righted article, said the then AFL Commissioner Al Davis, master plan for elevating his league to the No. 1 position was to buy up all the NFL's quarterbacks.

Sports Illustrated quotes General Manager Scotty Stirling of Oakland as saying: "If this merger had been put off two days, we would have had 10 NFL players under contract at Oakland and four of them were quarterbacks."

Stirling already had signed Roman Gabriel, the Los Angeles quarterback, SI reports, and was ready to grab off Rudy Bukich of Chicago, Jim Ninowsky of Cleveland, Sonny Jurgenson of Washington, Milt Plum of Detroit, Fran Tarkenton of Minnesota and John Brodie of San Francisco, the magazine said.

Paul Hornung, Willie Wood and Herb Adderly were ready to go to the New York Jets, SI added. Green Bay also was slated to lose Henry Jordan and Jim Taylor.

Patterson Gets Divorce, Won't Give Up Career
NEW YORK (AP) — Former heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson has divorced his wife of 10 years, the former Sandra Elizabeth Hicks, Patterson's attorney, Julius November, said Tuesday.

November said Mrs. Patterson obtained the decree last month in Juarez, Mexico.

The reason for the split, the attorney added, was that Patterson insisted on continuing his ring career over the objections of his wife who wanted him to retire.
