U.S. Officials See Hope In British Proposal For Peace

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials Thursday welcomed British Foreign Secretary George Brown's new six-point plan for peace in Viet Nam even though it goes beyond American policy on one vital point.

Most important in the calculations of Washington policymakers is that the plan gives a new boost to the big peace offensive building up alongside President Johnson's trip to the Far East.

Demands and maneuvers for peace seem to be growing on a wider scale than ever before.

Underneath the surface of official Washington, furthermore, is a hope, which no top official quite wishes to state publicly, that within the next few months the Vietnamese war can be brought to a decisive point and turned toward negotiations. One reason for this is the constant heavy military pressure now being applied against the Communist forces in South Viet Nam and the consequent defeats they are suffering.

No Communist Interest

But what is missing in all the oratory, diplomacy and secret hope is any publicly known evidence that the Communist leadership — the Viet Cong chieftains in South Viet Nam and the Red rulers in North Viet Nam — have any interest whatever in getting into negotiations at this time.

The evidence, in fact, runs the other way.

In Hanoi Thursday, the newspaper Mhan Dan, government mouthpiece, rejected a proposal recently made by U.N. Secretary-General U Thant for scaling down the fighting. In Washington, a few days ago French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville, with diplomatic contacts in Hanoi, is understood to have told President Johnson that the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong are prepared to fight on for years.

But a constant testing of the determination of both sides goes on. The North Vietnamese reportedly hope that political opponents will force Johnson to make peace. And it is a test of Hanoi's real position that the U.S. suspension of bombing over a tiny part of the Demilitarized Zone between North and South Viet Nam is most important. North Vietnamese willingness to let the International Control Commission begin operating in the zone again would be considered a significant step toward scaling down the war.

Political Setting

George Brown made his peace proposals in a political setting — a Labor party meeting. But they were aimed for a larger audience as well, in the view of American officials. Brown, due in New York Friday, will speak to the U.N. General Assembly next Tuesday and will confer here with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Johnson at the end of next week.

Brown led off his plan with a proposition that confounded some officials here. He proposed that the National Liberation Front, the political facade for the Viet Cong in South Viet Nam, be given a direct voice at the peace conference table. The most the United States has ever said is that the problem could be solved in some manner. But there is considerable opposition within the U.S. government to giving the negotiating rights of a government to the Communist rebel leadership in South Viet Nam.

Nevertheless, officials said Brown's bid for joint action with the Soviet Union to reconvene the Geneva Conference on Southeast Asia as a forum for peace talks, his propositions for ending the bombing and getting a cease-fire and his proposals for neutralizing the country in handling the thorny issues of reunification were welcomed as a contribution to the general peace offensive.

Johnson's theme in the forthcoming Manila conference of nations with troops in South Viet Nam and his visits to Allied capitals in the Far East is certain to be a combination of peace-seeking and firmness against aggression, with the emphasis on peace.

Secret Thant Effort

U Thant has been reported engaged in a new and largely secret effort to persuade the leaders of North Viet Nam to move toward the conference table.

Improving relations between the United States and the Soviet Union have also contributed to the sense of action on the peace front by renewing talk that the Soviet Union may yet be able to make some decisive step for an end to the conflict.

Informed U.S. officials are not particularly optimistic about peace progress in the short range. They welcomed the International Control Commission's proposal for trying to get at least a part of the Demilitarized Zone actually demilitarized. That is why they stopped the bombing in the eastern end of the zone.

Yet no one here would be surprised if the Communists turned the whole thing down, since they have been moving masses of troops and supplies through the zone for months. Yet in the longer range — looking toward March or April of next year — there is considerably more hope that the combination of heavy military damage and the readiness here to make a negotiated peace will lead to an end of the war.

Regents Discuss Parking, Tuition

By NIC GOERES
Editor

CEDAR FALLS — Discussion of student parking and tuition policy was postponed Thursday by the State Board of Regents at its monthly meeting here.

The regents had planned to hear reports from the presidents of the University, Iowa State University and the State College of Iowa, but decided to wait until more information and recommendations could be prepared by the three schools.

Parking recommendations were not yet ready said President Howard R. Bowen, because "we are only in the second week of school and really don't know what to recommend at this time."

President Robert W. Parks of ISU told the board that the final touches had yet to be placed in his traffic report before it could be submitted to the regents. He said it would be mailed to the regents within a week.

The regents told the presidents the board wanted both statistics and recommendations. Bowen had asked the regents earlier whether they wanted statistics only or suggestions.

No Recommendations

The other two presidents had no recommendations.

Bowen said the University had already banned freshmen from using University parking lots during the day, raised parking fees, and subsidized the city bus line. He said the University was studying other recommendations.

Regents Back SCI On Suspension Of Poor Student

CEDAR FALLS (UPI) — The State Board of Regents voted Thursday to uphold State College of Iowa in its suspension of M. Ernest Seemann of Waterloo, who sued the board after he was dropped from school because of poor grades.

The youth's father, Ernest J. Seemann of Waterloo, brought suit in Polk County District Court contending the SCI action amounted to unconstitutional discrimination against his son. The court ruled the student had not exhausted his administrative remedies by appealing to the Board of Regents before going to court.

The board last month scheduled a hearing for the Seemanns for 4 p.m. Thursday, but they did not appear.

Arthur O. Leff of Iowa City, special counsel for the board in the case, said Seemann had written to him stating that he was appealing the school's decision but declined to appear before the board.

At Leff's recommendation the board adopted a resolution upholding the school's decision. Leff said he would report the action to the court.

SCI officials said that under terms of young Seemann's suspension, he has the right to apply for enrollment again next semester.

But Outlaws Racial 'Busing'

Congress Votes School Aid

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress voted more federal aid for the nation's schools Thursday night but the House added an ironclad prohibition against any federal requirement for busing school children to overcome racial imbalance.

The House also adopted an amendment that would slow down efforts by U.S. Education Commissioner Harold Howe II to speed up the pace of school desegregation in the South.

In quick succession the Senate passed a bill authorizing $6.4 billion and then the House passed one for $5.7 billion — both to continue for two more years the elementary and secondary school programs launched last year. A compromise will now be sought between the two versions.

The Senate version is about $2 billion over President Johnson's requests.

Just before passage, the House defeated 185-150 a Republican move to cut the bill by $1.3 billion.

The House roll-call vote on final passage was 237-97.

The Senate passed the measure 54-16 after rebuffing repeated efforts by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois to slash the totals back to the levels of President Johnson's budget and eliminate increases voted by the Senate Labor Committee.

The bill not only extends the aid formulas of the 1965 basic act but liberalizes and expands them so that individual school districts eligible for the grants would get considerably larger sums.

Sponsors of the measure said last year's act provided funds for at least 90 per cent of the nation's 26,000 school districts, and that the 1966 extension bill would mean aid for an even greater number.

The measure rejects completely Johnson's request for a sharp cutback in the impacted areas program and instead liberalizes the formula so that more money would go into it than at present.

This is the special program of aid to schools crowded because of nearby federal installations.

News In Brief

A 59-year-old West Liberty woman, Mrs. Marion Hollingsworth, was taken to Mercy Hospital Thursday afternoon with a fractured right arm after being struck by a car in Iowa City.

Police said Mrs. Hollingsworth was struck by a car driven by Mary B. Dulin, 307 Belden Ave., about 4:30 p.m. at the corner of Dubuque and College streets.

No charges were filed. Mercy Hospital would not release the condition of the patient.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Senate-House conference committee agreed Thursday on $2,936 billion for U.S. foreign aid this year — $443.4 million less than the administration asked. It is the lowest sum for the program in nine years.

DES MOINES (UPI) — Gov. Harold Hughes termed "false, inflammatory and naively mischievous" Thursday night statements by his Republican opponent, William G. Murray, about the Western Iowa Pork Co. strike at Harlan.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Lyndon B. Johnson confirmed officially Thursday that his first presidential trip overseas will be the most extensive visit to the Far East ever launched by an American chief executive.

It begins Oct. 17 and winds up Nov. 2 and in between Johnson will cover roughly 25,000 miles and visit the capitals of New Zealand, Australia, the Philippines, Thailand, Malaysia and Korea.

The over-riding objective of the trip is to help the cause of an honorable peace in Viet Nam. This will be a focal point of a conference in Manila, which in turn will be the focal point of the journey that will cover the distance around the earth.

But as for visiting Viet Nam itself, Johnson said that:

"No consideration has been given at this time to any such proposal or any such visit."

Viet Nam Trip

Still, it would occasion no undue amount of surprise should Johnson show up suddenly and unannounced, under strictest security precautions, somewhere in Viet Nam sometime during the Pacific expedition.

As a courtesy to the nations he is visiting, the White House let them spread the word first that the President is coming. Mrs. Johnson will go along.

In sketching out some of the details of travel plans, Johnson told a news conference that the First Lady will join in most of his official schedule.

Johnson started off by announcing several diplomatic appointments, including a decision to send roving ambassador Llewellyn Thompson back to Moscow for another stint as U.S. ambassador. Thompson already had served there almost five years — the longest time ever served in the post.

Good Opportunity

He summed up by saying: "I think generally speaking it will give an opportunity for the leaders of the men who are committed to battle in Viet Nam to meet and explore ways of finding peace, for bringing an end to the conflict, for making that area of the world prosperous and peaceful in the years to come."

"The invitation, as you know, was extended by other countries. I am sure that they will have some specific plans to suggest."

"I want to be a good listener as well as an active participant."

All the countries contributing military help to the allied cause in Viet Nam are sending their chiefs of state to Manila. Malaysia is the one country on the trip which will not be represented, lacking a military commitment in Viet Nam.

Market Again Hits New Low

NEW YORK (UPI) — The battered stock market took another beating Thursday, and dropped to its lowest level since 1963.

There was no dramatic news to account for the decline. Analysts blamed continued concern over the war in Viet Nam and tight money.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks dropped 5.84 to 749.61.

Trading was active, with 8,110,000 shares traded, compared with 5,880,000 Wednesday.

Of 1,424 issues traded, 961 fell and 243 rose. In all, 433 traded at their lowest point this year.

Refusal To Bargain Causes Violence, Expert Contends

When the Western Iowa Pork Company refused to bargain for a strike settlement, the management took an attitude which only invites violence and lawlessness, according to Anthony V. Sinicropi, associate director of the Center for Labor and Management.

Sinicropi was interviewed Wednesday about the legality of the replacement workers who were called in to break the strike at the Western Iowa Pork Company in Harlan.

"What would you do if your economic livelihood was at stake and a company refused to negotiate an agreement to a strike?" said Sinicropi. "A man 40 years old with an eighth grade education isn't fortunate enough to choose the job he wants. His only means is bargaining through a union."

Sinicropi said that labor relations in the packing house industry were among the worst in the United States.

The primary reason is because the employers are taking an attitude similar to the one taken during the 1940s by employers in the basic industries," he said.

Overt Violation

He went on to say that overt violation of the law by employers and employees is probably greater than in any other industry at the present.

He said that by refusing to bargain, despite United Packing House workers certification as the legal bargaining agent by the National Labor Relations Board, the company appears to be in violation of the Taft-Hartley Act.

Also, he said it appeared that the company might be violating the anti-strike-breaking law passed by the last Iowa general assembly. The law prohibits the employment of people for the express purpose of breaking a strike.

Why go to California to get help?" Sinicropi said. "There are packing house workers unemployed in Sioux City and Omaha right now. It would appear that the workers were brought for the purpose of breaking the strike and this is in violation of the Iowa law."

Wages Too Low

Sinicropi said that the working conditions of packing houses were generally not too bad, but he said wages were often low.

He said it appeared laws were being broken by the Western Pork Company, and the workers were mad. Their economic livelihood is at stake, he said.

The magazine was phoned to death by a number of objectionable callers. According to Ellen Taylor, president of Panhellenic, the pledges were getting prank calls and date requests from strange fellows. Also, some of the coeds were opposed because they were dissatisfied with the pictures.

The pamphlet was apparently used by fraternities as a "Who's Cool" directory for the 1966 pledge class. It doubled as a doodle book, since pictures were often embellished with moustaches and goatees, Miss Taylor said.

For SDX, which sold 500 copies last year at 50 cents apiece, it was a money-making enterprise. The society had expected approval, had already contracted for much of the advertising, and was expecting to boost sales to 750 copies. Gary Olson, chairman of the photography committee, was working on improving picture quality.

Last year pictures were taken at a pledge dance held the first Saturday of the semester. Since there was no such dance this year, SDX had not yet taken the pictures when the publication was voted down.

He warned, however, that the aim of those who wanted to curb such operations was to destroy scientific laboratories that use animals in research.

Dr. Rossi noted that the president of the British Association for the Advancement of Science had been quoted as saying that Great Britain's scientists, subject to strict antivivisection laws, depended heavily on vivisection work done in the United States to obtain research gains that would aid human patients.

Rozelle Makes Merger Plea

WASHINGTON (AP) — NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle said Thursday he would make a strong, but reluctant recommendation that the National and American football leagues call off their merger plans if Congress refused to sanction the agreement through legislation.

Rozelle, whose recommendation would carry considerable weight with the presidents of the 24 professional teams involved, said the threats of legal action against the consolidation "make the plan extremely hazardous in the absence of congressional approval."

Rozelle made his plea for approval of a Senate-passed bill exempting the merger from antitrust laws in a statement prepared for the House Antitrust subcommittee which met for hearings on the legislation.

Palmer, Errors Let Orioles Whip Dodgers Again, 6-0

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers' defense collapsed in a record-tying six-error farce Thursday while Baltimore's Jim Palmer became the youngest pitcher to throw a World Series shutout with a 6-0 victory over the mighty Sandy Koufax.

It was the second straight for the Orioles, who went into the Series as 8-5 underdogs.

The Dodgers outdid the New York Mets in their zaniest days when Willie Davis, usually a fine center fielder, made a record three misplays in the fifth inning, and his mates chipped in with three more before the end of the Dodgers' longest day.

Many of the 55,947 fans began walking out in the late innings.

Palmer Hurls 6-Hitter

Almost overlooked in this horrendous collapse of the defense-minded Dodgers was the four-hit job done by young Palmer, who is only 20 years old. He won't be 21 until Oct. 15.

The youngest pitcher to pitch a Series shutout was Waite Hoyt, who was 22 years and one month when he blanked the 1921 New York Giants for the New York Yankees.

In fact, the youngest ever to work a complete Series game was Bullet Joe Bush, who was 20 years, 11 months when he did it for the Philadelphia A's against the Giants in 1913.

While the Dodgers staggered around under fly balls in the bright sunshine or threw the ball against the sun or into the dugout, the base-walk writers were busy digging through the record books.

KOUFAX

The last team to make six errors in a game were the 1917 Chicago White Sox. The 1906 White Sox and the 1909 Pittsburgh Pirates share the same disgrace.

Koufax, the 27-game winner whose last game victory clinched the pennant for the Dodgers last Sunday, was an innocent victim of the embarrassing collapse.

He was working on a two-hitter and wrapped up in a 0-0 duel with young Palmer when Willie got the willies in the dazzling sun.

Koufax Exits

When Sandy left after six innings, he had allowed only one earned run among the four on the Baltimore side of the scoreboard.

That was more than enough for Palmer, a handsome young man in the sixth when he raced madly into right center for a ball hit by Frank Robinson. Ron Fairly appeared ready to make the catch, but the ball fell safely for a triple.

You had to see this fifth inning to believe it, and it still is hard to believe.

It started out calmly enough with a single to left by Boog Powell, only the second hit off Koufax. Brooks Robinson fouled out. Then it happened.

Willie Gets Willies

Paul Blair lofted a high fly to center which Davis seemed to lose in the sun. At the last minute, he grabbed for the ball around the knees, but it fell out of his glove for a two-base error.

Andy Etchebarren, the next batter, looked at a ball and missed two strikes before he hit, to his ball into short left center.

In came Willie, but once more he lost the ball for an error. Davis compounded the goof by throwing the wild ball over third base, and Blair followed Powell across the plate.

It's A Record

It was the first time in the long history of World Series play that any one player had made three errors in the same inning. In fact, the record for a game is three, a mark which several admit with hanging heads.

Luis Aparicio's double to left knocked in Etchebarren with the third run of the fifth and it was all over but the booing.

A storm of catcalls greeted Davis as he came into the dugout. When he went back out to center field and tossed the ball to his teammates warming up for the sixth, they cheered each time he caught the ball.

One of the biggest ovations of the day followed his routine catch of a fly ball in the seventh.

More Trouble

Willie had another shaky moment in the sixth when he raced madly into right center for a ball hit by Frank Robinson. Ron Fairly appeared ready to make the catch, but the ball fell safely for a triple.

Powell's single knocked in the run that made it 4-0 a few minutes later.

Baltimore added two more in the eighth with the help of another error, this time a wild throw by relief pitcher Ron Peranosi.

Frank Robinson walked and Brooks Robinson singled before Dave Johnson singled off Perranoski's glove. Ron threw the ball into the dugout. It was ruled that Frank Robinson scored on the hit and Brooks on the error.

Palmer Fans Six

Palmer struck out six and walked three, including one intentionally.

The only time the Dodgers had more than one man on base in an inning was the second when a walk to Fairly, a double by Lou Johnson and an intentional pass to Wes Parker filled them up. Koufax ended it by popping out.

With a 2-0 lead in this best-of-7 series, Baltimore now takes a commanding position. Today is an off day for travel, but they will resume Saturday in Baltimore where the next three — if three are needed — will be played.

Wally Bunker, a 21-year-old right-hander with a 10-6 record, will face the Dodgers' left-handed Claude Osteen, 17-14, in Saturday's third game.

In addition to the three errors by Davis in the fifth, Dodger errors were charged to Fairly for a wild throw in the sixth, Gilliam for a ground ball he booted in the fourth and Perranoski for his bad throw in the eighth.

Orioles Predict 4 Game Win

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles confidently predicted a World Series victory Thursday after whipping the fumbling Los Angeles Dodgers 6-0 to take a 2-0 lead.

"No, we're not coming back here next week," coach Billy Hunter said. "I said before the Series started that we'd only make one trip to Los Angeles, and that we'd win in five games."

"But now, I don't know who's going to win one for them."

The Orioles got past Los Angeles pitching ace Sandy Koufax — who was expected to offer their toughest opposition — with the aid of six errors by the Dodgers.

Center fielder Willie Davis made three of the errors in the fifth inning, two on one play, as Baltimore scored three unearned runs to break the scoreless deadlock. Davis and right fielder Ron Fairly also let a fly ball drop between them for a sixth inning triple which led to another run.

"There's no way we'll have to come back here," pitcher Stu Miller said as the Orioles prepared for a flight to Baltimore, where the next three games are scheduled beginning Saturday.

"I hate to win a game that gets us back here," Miller said, "but we'll take them any way we can get them. I'd rather just go out and beat them ourselves."

Infielder Bob Johnson noted that Lou Johnson of Los Angeles walked with his head down after making an out and almost delayed the game getting off the field.

"That exemplifies their spirit," the Oriole reserve said. "I think we have them now."

Manager Hank Bauer, as usual, was making no predictions.

"It's gotta go four games," Bauer said, "and we play again Saturday. But, I must admit we're in pretty good shape."

Hendricks, McDowell Named Captains For Purdue Game

JOHN HENDRICKS
Defensive CaptainLARRY McDOWELL
Will Lead Offense

Captains and a 40-man traveling squad for Saturday's Big 10 game with Purdue were named Thursday night as the Iowa football squad ran through a spirited 45-minute workout in sweat clothes.

Coach Ray Nagel named defensive guard John Hendricks and tight end Larry McDowell captains for the game. Hendricks is a 6-3, 225-pound junior from Boone and McDowell is a 6-2, 197-pound senior from Cedar Rapids. Hendricks will captain the defense and McDowell the offense.

Missing from the traveling squad was Gary Larsen, the Hawks' best end, who is still recuperating from a dislocated thumb, suffered in the loss to Oregon State two weeks ago.

The spirit of the team was high Thursday as the Hawks ran through signal drills, running patterns and practiced pass defense.

"The loss to Wisconsin didn't hurt the team's spirit one bit," said Nagel after practice. "We expect a tough game from Purdue, but we'll be ready."

The team will leave the Cedar Rapids Airport early this afternoon and is expected to arrive in Lafayette, Ind., at 2 p.m. CDT. Headquarters will be the Purdue Union.

The following players are on the traveling squad:

Dodgers Explain Loss

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "I just lost both of them in the sun. There's nothing you can do about a case like that."

So said Willie Davis, the unfortunate goat of the second game of the World Series as the Baltimore Orioles blanked the Los Angeles Dodgers 6-0.

The Dodger center fielder set a Series record when he committed three errors on two successive plays as 55,947 fans in Dodger Stadium and a national television audience gasped in disbelief.

First Willie dropped a fly ball hit into center field by Paul Blair. Then he muffed another fly ball to the same area hit by Andy Etchebarren, recovered the ball and threw wildly past third for the third error.

Before it was over, the Orioles had three runs in and Sandy Koufax was soon to go to the showers.

After the horror, Koufax put his arm around Davis' shoulder as the two headed to the club house runway between innings. "I told him not to let it get him down. Those things happen," Sandy disclosed later.

Manager Walt Alston was asked if he said anything on the bench to Davis.

"I didn't have to. I saw what happened. He lost them — at least the first one, I'm sure — in the sun."

Alston said he took Koufax out after six innings "because I thought he was laboring a little, his arm maybe hurting so I just decided to get him out of there."

Will be ready to pitch in Baltimore Sunday, following Claude Osteen Saturday?

"I'll be ready whenever the man asks me," said Sandy, referring to Alston.

Cyclones Recruit Student Kicker

AMES, Iowa (AP) — Coach Clay Stapleton of the Iowa State University football team dug into ranks of the student body Thursday and came up with a pint-sized kicker who had never boot-kicked a football until a week ago.

Stapleton, whose Cyclones have lost all three games this season, announced Dave Spealer, 5-5, 130-pound sophomore from Philadelphia, Pa., will pin kickoffs Saturday against Kansas.

Spealer, who kicks with the side of his foot soccer-style, will wear a regular football uniform except for shorts replacing the usual knee-length pants.

Palmer Was Prepared

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jim Palmer, Baltimore's young right-hander, came to Dodger Stadium Thursday with four pancakes, three pieces of bubble gum and two pitches.

"I had four pancakes for breakfast, the bubble gum for superstition, the pitches for the Dodgers and a shutout for his efforts."

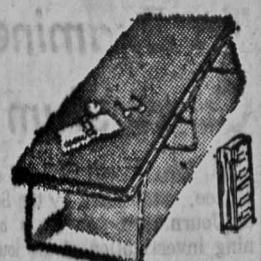

For Palmer followed the ad-

Drabowsky Burnt By Hot Coffee

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Moe Drabowsky, pitching hero of Wednesday's first World Series game, was accidentally doused with a pot of hot coffee Thursday morning at a Los Angeles hotel.

The 31-year-old Baltimore pitcher suffered only superficial burns of his left arm. He was treated by trainer Eddie Weidner and pronounced fit for further bullpen duty.

This new hopsack
from Whitebook's is like 2 Suits in 1 . . .

Like 2 suits in 1 because it is capable of giving you both the conservative, well groomed look of a business suit and a livelier, more casual look for social dress. Its simple secrets are found in the colors we show and the texture of the fabric. Colors are subtle, dark and conservative. Wear with conservative, neater ties and you're well dressed for the work-a-day world. But, with a livelier tie, a colorful silk pocket square, and a colored shirt the hopsack's textured finish takes on a livelier, more casual look. Because the fabric is a fine grade wool worsted it wears well; looks nice with little care. So, you have many occasions to wear it and it's made to give lots of wear. Stop and try one on. We've regulars 38-44 and longs 39-42 in a selection of olive, blue, blue-grey heather, and either light, or medium brown heather. $80.00

Try the 7-button comfort of a Sero shirt . . .

Even more expensive shirts have only 6-buttons, but Sero has 7. And that means a neatly tapered shirt—longer to stay in place and feel great even on tall mature men. Try one in white, blue, or yellow in necks to 17—sleeves to 36. $7.00

For Wrinkle-Free Tie . . .

Try a silk-lined, silk in stripe, paisley, and neat club patterns. Wool challies too. Widths 2 7/8 to 3". All at $3.50 and $4.00.

AID Director Says Yankees Are Liked In Latin America

"The idea that Americans are not liked in Latin America is a myth," said Newall Williams, AID director for Central America. Williams, who spoke Thursday on "The Alliance for Progress—Does It Really Work?" explained that most of the "Yankee-Go-Home" cries are made by juveniles.

AID, the Agency for International Development, went into effect in November, 1961. It is a program which consolidates all the government efforts in underdeveloped countries into one agency. The Alliance for Progress is the Latin American part of the organization.

Argentine Pirates Brought Ashore By Authorities

USUAHIA, Argentina (UPI) — Three Argentine nationalists who hijacked a plane Sept. 28 for a "raid" on the British-held Falkland Islands were formally charged with piracy and five other crimes today. They face maximum sentences of 15 years in jail.

The group was brought ashore at this southernmost Argentine town in frozen Tierra del Fuego Wednesday.

Dressed in the uniforms, the 17 young men and the woman leader were paraded to the local jail.

The hijacking took place as Britain's Prince Philip was in Buenos Aires on a three-week visit.

4 Government Foreign Affairs Experts To Speak Here

Iowa as part of a program inaugurated by the State Department three years ago.

This program, "Community Meetings on Foreign Policy," is a means of increasing public interest by reviewing and explaining U.S. foreign policy.

Christine Camp, Community Meetings Officer for the Office of Public Service of the State Department, visited the cities last week to determine which foreign affairs topics were of main interest. The cities are Ames, Waterloo-Cedar Falls, Cedar Rapids, Burlington and Iowa City.

Red China was the most requested subject, with others including Viet Nam, NATO and its problems and the emerging nation of Africa.

The visiting foreign policy experts will appear on a panel, led by Vernon Vandyke, professor and director of the Department of Political Science, during their Nov. 17 campus stop at 8 p.m. in Shambaugh Auditorium.

During the day the four men will appear separately speaking to various city service clubs and campus groups.

Now It's A Welshman!

LONDON (UPI) — Not Christopher Columbus nor the Vikings discovered America — The Welsh did.

That's the claim put forward Thursday by Welsh author Richard Deacon.

He says Madoc, son of Owain king of Gwynedd, founded a colony in America in 1170, more than 300 years before Columbus discovered the place.

Deacon has put 20 years of research into a book "Madoc and the Discovery of America" to be published early next year. He claims to have found Madoc's actual departure point, a long-buried quay in North Wales.

Grad Study Discussion Set Wednesday In Union

Robert F. Ray, dean of extension and University services, will be the main speaker at Graduate Study Night Wednesday in the Union.

Study Night is sponsored by Mortar Board, senior women's honorary society, for juniors and seniors considering graduate study.

In a general meeting beginning at 7 p.m. in the Union Illinois Room, Ray will discuss the advantages of graduate school and some of the factors to be considered when choosing a school.

Other speakers at the general session will be Alvin H. Scarff, associate dean of the Graduate College, who will speak about the graduate program at the University, and Robert P. Boynton, associate professor of political science, who will speak on the Woodrow Wilson Fellowships for graduate study.

After the general session, University professors will meet with students in small groups to explain and answer questions about graduate schools in their particular field.

The fields represented will be mathematics, business, political science, history, English, foreign languages, journalism, education, psychology, sociology, biological sciences, physical sciences, music, art and possibly nursing.

Group meetings will be held in the Union Big 10 and Iowa rooms.

University Will Host Model UN Convention

Students from 12 colleges and junior colleges in eastern Iowa will convene on the University campus in January to participate in the Eastern Iowa Model United Nations.

This will mark the first time that schools other than the University have participated in the program, according to Rickey J. Long, A2, Iowa City.

Long, president of the Iowa Student Association for the United Nations, said participating institutions in addition to the University will be Grinnell, Coe, Cornell, Mount Mercy of Cedar Rapids, Muscatine Community College, Iowa Wesleyan, Marycrest, St. Ambrose, Parsons, Palmer Junior College, and Burlington Community College.

Outlining the association's plans for the coming year, Long said the group's first project will be the sponsorship of speakers throughout Iowa on United Nations Day, Oct. 24. The date marks the 21st anniversary of the signing of the U.N. Charter.

Accompanying Miss Bang will be harpsichordist Linda Kay Jones. Eckert will be accompanied by John MacKay, piano; Thomas Ayres, clarinet; Paul Anderson, horn, and Walter Schneidler, percussion.

While Eckert's selections will be taken exclusively from 20th century composers, Miss Bang will present a mixed program of early 18th century and contemporary music.

Opening the program, Miss Bang will present "Prelude" by Hotteterre-le-Romain and "Sonata in B Minor" by J. S. Bach on an instrument of the baroque period, the one-keyed flute Hotterre, a French composer, was the first to play and compose for the one-keyed flute in the first decade of the 1700's.

Miss Bang will play the Bach "Sonata" with harpsichord accompaniment. Last summer she played this composition at the Saratoga Baroque Music Festival,
