Red China Civil Revolt Said Spread To Canton

TOKYO (AP) — Fighting between foes and supporters of Chinese Communist leader Mao Tse-tung was reported Tuesday to have spread to Canton, south China, after other similar upheavals in the cities of Shanghai, Peking and Nanking.

As Chinese reaching Hong Kong told of the spread of disorders to Canton, diplomats and China experts in key capitals studied confused fragmentary reports for an assessment of whether Red China was close to civil war.

There were these developments:

- In Peking, Red China's capital, a powerful general and secret police leaders were said to be arrayed against Mao, now 73. Red Guard posters appeared on walls saying 1967 would be the year of battle and "the proletarian forces representing Mao must score total victory."

- Propaganda Intensified
● In Taipei, Formosa, Mao Tse-tung capital of Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist China, the government intensified its psychological warfare against the mainland forces. Nationalist broadcasts urged the Communist armed forces to rise against Mao.

The Nationalists emphasized they were ready to welcome repentant Communists. Officials viewed the situation as a possible prelude to civil war.

- In Washington, the best informed opinion was that Red China might be nearing the road to civil war. Officials believed that disorders could in time slow down China's nuclear weapons program and reduce its influence in the Vietnamese war.

- In London, Western authorities saw Premier Chou En-lai as holding the key to Mao's political survival. They said the path that the shrewd, skillful Chou followed might point to the outcome of the struggle for power. Qualified informants in the British capital described as exaggerated some of the accounts of widespread fighting in Red China.

- In Moscow, the official Soviet news agency Tass reported some disorders but did not suggest that large-scale violence had started. It said chaos had hit the rail transportation service because Red Guards were flocking to Peking from the provinces.

Diplomats Departing

Evidence that matters might be coming to a head was seen in the departure for Peking of Red Chinese diplomats from capitals in Britain, Scandinavia, India and Tanzania.

The official Peking's People's Daily printed an urgent appeal for help from elements loyal to Mao in Shanghai, China's largest city. Anti-Mao elements attacked Shanghai's water, power and transportation network, and thousands of anti-Mao workers struck last Thursday.

Judging from the call for assistance, anti-Mao forces appeared to be in command of Shanghai, where Mao himself may be staying. He left Peking in December and was reported spending a winter holiday in Shanghai.

Also last reported with him was his heir apparent, Defense Minister Lin Biao.

Nanking's city officials were said to have called on the army and security forces to carry out house-to-house raids on pro-Mao forces after bloody rioting in which 54 persons were reported killed and 900 injured.

Clashes In Peking

Clashes between Mao's young Red Guards and workers were reported last week in Peking, Chungking, the old wartime capital and several other cities. And during the weekend, Chinese peasants stormed a pro-Mao rally in the Choushan Islands, at the gateway to Shanghai, injuring many.

A factor in the new violence may have been the Maoist denunciation of Tao Chu, the head of propaganda who had risen to No. 4 in the Chinese Communist party since the purge began. He was accused of siding with President Liu and Teng Hsiao-ping, the party secretary general, in following a capitalist, pro-Soviet line.

Jury Chosen To Try Baker On 3 Charges

WASHINGTON (AP) — A jury of six men and six women was chosen Monday to try Bobby Baker on three charges. Six alternates — four men and two women — also were picked.

Both the government and defense expressed satisfaction with the selection after a day of questioning a panel, and with federal Judge Oliver Gasch taking extraordinary precautions to get and maintain a fair and impartial jury.

The judge announced that the jury would be locked up each night during the trial, which he said is expected to run from two months to 10 weeks.

Baker, 33-year-old former secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority and confident to many of the senators, including Lyndon B. Johnson, watched attentively as the panel was questioned.

And as the jury and alternates were sworn, Baker arose and faced them.

The questioning began the trial which is expected to include the issue of electronic surveillance of hotel or office suites of Baker acquaintances. The government maintains the admitted bugging operations had no connection with the indictments charging Baker with income tax evasion, larceny and conspiracy.

He pleaded innocent at the time of his indictment a year ago.

Final Test For Powell Today Follows Rebuke

WASHINGTON (AP) — In an unprecedented move, House Democrats overrode their leader Monday and voted to remove Rep. Adam Clayton Powell as chairman of the Education and Labor Committee.

By an overwhelming voice vote, the Democrats replaced the controversial members are sworn in Tuesday morning.

He plans to offer a resolution to defer seating of Powell pending a study of his legal difficulties in connection with a $164,000 defamation judgment in New York.

The caucus action against Powell, who has been under fire for executive travel expenses and because his wife was on his payroll even though she lived in Puerto Rico, was described by some liberals as the only thing that could be done to save his seat.

Harlem Negro congressman with Rep. Carl D. Perkins (D-Ky.) for the 90th Congress which starts today. Although the House must approve committee assignments, the action is considered conclusive.

Powell, visibly shaken, called the move "a lynching, Northern style." He said that although the move is for one Congress only, "I'll never get it back."

Powell and his supporters insist the actions against him are racially motivated but his accusers deny this.

Later, speaking to a crowd of Negro supporters in the committee office, Powell used even harsher language against his colleagues and against the news media.

"Jesus had only one Judas," Powell said. "I had about 120. They ran like rats. You saw them running down the staircase while I was there."

A compromise supported by Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts which would have taken the chairmanship from Powell temporarily pending an investigation, was voted down 122 to 88, in the closed Democratic caucus.

Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin of California said the action does not change his plans to ask Powell to stand aside when mem-

'67 Iowa Senate And House Convene

DES MOINES (AP) — The 1967 Iowa legislature opened sessions Monday. The Senate had barely opened for business when its presiding officer, Lt. Gov. Robert Fulton, called for vast changes in the legislature.

Fulton said legislators should be paid an annual salary of perhaps $5,000 to $10,000 a year. He added they should have private offices where they could work or confer with visitors and should have more staff.

The lawmakers now get $40 per day while in session.

He recommended creation of a citizen's advisory committee to study legislative procedures and recommend improvements.

Fulton commented in a speech shortly after the 10:20 a.m. opening of the 62nd General Assembly in the upper chamber.

Sen. George O'Malley (D-Des Moines) unanimously was elected president pro tem of the Senate for the second consecutive session.

In the house, a brief hassle over assignments of seats enlivened an otherwise routine opening day.

Over his objections, Rep. John Mowry (R-Marshaltown) majority floor leader in the 1963 session, was ousted from the seat he occupied then. The seat was taken over by Rep. Vince Steffen (D-New Hampton) the 1965 House Speaker.

The day was given over to organizational matters, with the House formally electing Rep. Maurice Baringer (R-Oelwein) as speaker, Rep. Lester Kluever (R-Atlantic) as speaker pro tem and William Kendrick as chief clerk.

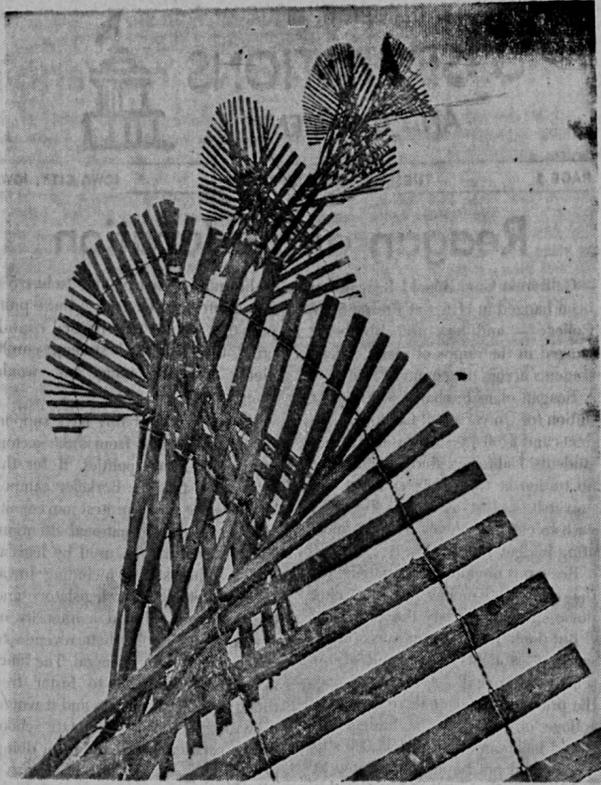

House members also got together briefly with the Senate to clear the way for the canvass of votes for governor and lieutenant governor and Democratic Gov. Harold Hughes' "State of the State" address Tuesday.

An amendment to temporary rules of the House was proposed which would bar lobbyists from the floor while the House is in session. This was similar to a rule adopted during the day in the Senate.

Sometimes there's just as much excitement in the stands as on the floor at a basketball game, especially for those seated next to Kathy Riddle. And she has good cause to be excited about basketball. Not only is she the wife of Fred Riddle, D1, Collinsville, Ill., a former Iowa basketball player, but she is the daughter of the late Bucky O'Connor who coached Iowa during the 50's. Mrs. Riddle was seated in the front row during the Iowa-Indiana game Saturday night.

$2.5 To 3 Million Monthly Loss In Viet Aid Reported To Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. aid administrator William S. Gaud informed President Johnson Monday night that thefts and other diversions of U.S. aid in Viet Nam amounted to about 5 to 6 per cent of all assistance delivered in "recent months."

Later, Gaud told newsmen that those percentages prevailed in the final two months of the year. He said estimates out of Saigon linking the percentages to all of 1966 were mistaken. These put the losses at between $22.7 million and $27.3 million, based on a total estimate of $455 million in aid provided in the year.

Gaud said the flow of aid was increasing in the last two months at the time the rate of losses appeared to be decreasing.

Rutherford Poats, assistant administrator of the Agency for International Development, estimated that the total commodity import program was flowing into Viet Nam at the rate of about $30 million monthly at the start of 1966, but had risen to about $50 million monthly for November and December.

At the 5 to 6 per cent loss rate this would mean $2.5 million to $3 million monthly was being stolen or otherwise diverted.

Gaud's 23-page annual report on aid to Viet Nam was timed to open the Johnson administration's defense of aid policies when the new 90th Congress convenes Tuesday. The report here followed a similar presentation in a statement and speech in Saigon by Donald G. Macdonald, director of U.S. aid there.

The aid administrator told Johnson that "though these rates of loss are comparable to or lower than losses in other war zones under less difficult conditions, they are by no means acceptable and we are doing our best to reduce them further."

Gaud said he expects to reduce aid losses substantially over the coming year as a result of improvements now being made.

A two months' study of Associated Press reporters Fred S. Hoffman and Hugh A.

Mulligan brought estimates last November of much higher losses from thefts and profiteering — at least half a million daily.

Their report said knowledgeable people in Viet Nam cited percentages ranging up to 40 per cent. On just economic imports and military post exchange supplies, the figure most often cited to the investigators was 20 per cent.

After the articles were published officials here and in Saigon announced investigations and moves to reduce the losses.

The Agency for International Development's 5 per cent figure appeared to be the probable loss in straight military aid items, the AP investigators reported.

103 Students Sign Petition Asking Reason For Dismissal

A petition has been signed by 103 University students demanding specific reasons for Donald Barnett's contract not being renewed.

The petition was brought to The Daily Iowan Monday for publication. It appears on Page 2 of today's edition.

Faith Carney, A3, Iowa City, a member of the Ad Hoc Committee to Defend Academic Freedom and Donald Barnett, said the petition was circulated to bring students into the controversy.

The issue involves the decision on Nov. 4 by the Department of Sociology and Anthropology to not renew Barnett's contract.

Miss Carney said that nothing specifically had been said about why Barnett was dismissed. She said students were suspicious about the loss of his contract and wanted to know exactly why he had lost it.

Dewey Stuit, dean of the College of Liberal Arts, said, "What the petition asks for has been complied with. Professor Shannon has made the decision not to renew the contract clear to Barnett and me."

Howard Ehrlich, associate professor of sociology and anthropology, said the petition was "a little behind the time." He said he had given a statement about the proceeding to the Faculty Council. This council is conducting a public inquiry into the Barnett case.

Miss Carney said the Ad Hoc Committee was informal, with no defined membership. There are about 10 active members. She said they have no plans to talk with Stuit or Ehrlich about the petition.

Negro Democrat Is Quietly Seated

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Georgia's embattled legislature, its actions dominated by court decrees, quietly seated a twice-banned Negro member Monday and moved toward election of a governor today to resolve a popular-vote stalemate.

"The eyes and ears of the world will be focused on this chamber when a joint session is convened to untangle one of the greatest governmental snarls of our day and time," Speaker George L. Smith told the House.

"I know you are ready," he said. Democrat Lester G. Maddox, who hit public view in 1964 with his cafeteria segregation stand, was favored heavily in the 259-member legislature that has 229 Democrats.

Maddox and Republican Howard H. (Bo) Callaway, a conservative who shifted to moderate views in the campaign, were thrown into a no-majority deadlock in the November election by write-ins for a third candidate.

Senate Will Get Plan To Ban Freshman Cars

A proposal to ban freshman cars from campus entirely will be introduced at the Student Senate meeting at 7:30 tonight in the Union Michigan Room, according to Ann Chmura, A4, Des Moines, Student Senate secretary.

Freshmen presently are not permitted to park their cars on University parking lots during the day.

The proposal, which is being submitted by the External Affairs Committee of the Senate, also asks that sophomores be barred from using University lots during the day.

A request for extended bus service and a ban on parking permits for anyone living within two blocks of a bus stop is also included in the proposal.

Forecast

Generally fair and colder today. Highs in mid- to lower 30s. Chance of brief snow flurries extreme northeast early Tuesday. Generally fair, little temperature change tonight and Wednesday.

Reagan and education

California Gov. Ronald Reagan has been hanged in effigy at Fresno State College — and he's probably being hanged in the minds of many college students across the country.

Reagan plans to charge $400 a year tuition for University of California students and $200 a year for state college students. California students now pay no tuition at the state's colleges and universities. Just as bad is Reagan's wish to cut the schools' 1967-68 operating budget 10 per cent.

Reagan is obviously infatuated with the conservative line in tightening purse strings to satisfy the taxpayers.

But look what this means. Thousands of students who could afford school before will be unable to pay the price for a college degree. A state college official said the budget cut would mean an additional 17,000 students could not be accommodated at California schools. The impact of this on the educational opportunities of California's youth cannot be overemphasized. When California and the nation are faced with a dire need for college educated people, the government should encourage higher college enrollments, not discourage them.

Reagan's budget reduction of $35 million also means the University of California will not be able to hire 350 new professors. Of course these profs probably wouldn't be needed considering the decreased student enrollment Reagan's budget cut would bring about.

Reagan will probably have support for his budget cut from some sectors of the California politics, if for the sole reason that the Berkeley campus has been the site of protest movements that have attracted national attention. That excuse may be used by legislators in other states, including Iowa. It is regrettable that legislators and the taxpayers point at a minority of students and apply their revenge to college campuses in general. The function of a college is to foster free thought and free speech, and it would be wrong to censure any state school through state appropriations for doing just that.

California's schools have achieved much greater stature than many other state schools. If Reagan thinks it is possible to continue the greatness of California's schools with a budget cut and tuition increase he is wrong.

We hope that his opinion is a minority one among state governors.

A born loser

By VONA CUSTER
Staff Writer

The next time I sit down to watch a TV movie and it turns out to be another bogus Bond, I'm going to drill a hole through the screen with my No. 2 Laser Beam Lead Pencil.

My hostility toward this overpopular theme reached a new peak Saturday night when NBC plunged my hopes for a bright, new genre to the depths of disgust.

The genre for which I had had such high hopes was the filmed-for-television-first movie. The first of these, "Fame is the Name of the Game," shown over Thanksgiving vacation, was of little value dramatically but of great promise ideally.

Saturday night's contribution, "How I Spent My Summer Vacation," was a puerile as its title. "Vacation" starred Peter Lawford as a little big time operator in an undisclosed racket, Jill St. John as his wide-eyed, gape-mouthed divorcee daughter and Robert Wagner as a college dropout who, rebuffed by Lawford in his attentions to Miss St. John, decides to figure out exactly what Lawford's racket is and report him to the good guys.

Throughout the movie, Lawford tries to convince Wagner that his evidence is all a figment of his psychotic imagination. Wagner perseveres and, through sheer perseverance rather than much intelligence, manages for once to win.

For, as Miss St. John tells Wagner, in her own marsh-mallow manner, "You're not a born loser, you're just a loser."

So was the movie.

African U.N. Delegate Denounces Members In University Speech

By STU TRUELSEN Staff Writer

An African delegate to the U.N. criticized member nations for not using economic sanctions to stop apartheid policies in the Republic of South Africa at Saturday's Model UN general assembly held in the Union Main Lounge.

Frank P. Karefa-Smart, press attache from Sierra Leone, gave the keynote address. "Africa: Third World, The United Nations Role."

He said, "Money and arms are being sent to South Africa by nations paying lip service to the U.N. charter." The U.N. has consistently condemned apartheid as a violation of human rights and the U.N. charter.

The big powers are reluctant to push for racial equality because they want to protect heavy foreign investments made in natural resources in Africa, he said.

The envoy said, "There must be sincerity and sacrifice on the part of big powers. It's about time for action to be in keeping with words. U.N. member nations should use economic sanctions against South Africa."

He proposed a strictly enforced boycott to stop the flow of goods and raw materials to South Africa.

South Africa has already prepared for such a move on the part of the U.N. New storage areas have been opened, especially in port areas for oil.

The situation in South Africa is expected to be worse in the future, Karefa-Smart said. Any strong action taken by the U.N. would be met by force from the South African government if necessary, he said.

"This conflict would be a small price to pay for racial equality in South Africa. Sooner or later, racial conflict will explode unless South Africa is made to conform to principles of human rights," he said.

The delegate said the importance of the African group in the U.N. was growing.

In assessing the value of the U.N., he said, "We need more bold endeavors. The weaknesses of the U.N. are the weaknesses of mankind. These weaknesses are contradictions, double standards and inconsistencies."

Karefa-Smart said the U.N. was helpless to intervene in Viet Nam as long as Red China was blocked from entering the U.N.

"The United States has done its utmost to keep Red China out despite the U.N. ideal of universal membership," he said.

The Model U.N. had all the disputes, accusations and arguments of the parent organization in New York.

The general assembly was the scene for loud demonstrations of hand clapping and table pounding by delegates who managed to agree on several proposals.

THE STRING QUARTET of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, which includes a former Iowa City resident, will present a concert at 8 p.m. in Macbride Hall. Edgar Muenzer, second violinist with the quartet, lived in Iowa City when his father was a member of the faculty in the University School of Music. Members of the quartet are, from left, Victory Aitay and Muenzer, violinists; Frank Miller, cellist; and Milton Praves, violinist. Single admission tickets will be sold at the door.

Opinions On Renewal Sought

The opinions of Iowa City university federal urban renewal funds for use only in improvement of public utilities, parking, bridges, traffic control, etc?

Chamber of Commerce members on a proposed central business district urban renewal program will be surveyed through a questionnaire distributed by the Chamber Monday.

A total of 599 questionnaires were mailed to members who were asked to respond by no later than 5 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 17. All questionnaires must be in the Chamber office at the Civic Center by this deadline.

The findings that result from the questionnaire will be forwarded to the Iowa City Council.

Chamber members were given five basic questions to be answered in either a "yes" or "no" manner. The questions are:

- Do you feel it is necessary to improve and redevelop the downtown area?
- Do you favor the City-University federal urban renewal program as presented to the public on Oct. 19 at the Iowa City High School auditorium?
- Do you favor a modified federal urban renewal program similar to the one presented by the Council in the Iowa City Press-Citizen of Nov. 18.
- Do you favor a local voluntary downtown urban renewal project with application for federal funds for use only in improvement of public utilities, parking, bridges, traffic control, etc?
- Do you favor any federal urban renewal plan?

Members of the Chamber executive committee who made up the questionnaires were Ben. E. Summerwill, Clark Houghton, David Hartwig, Robert Marsden and Roy Williams.

Grads To Get Big Number Of Job Offers

Job-seeking seniors may find the record number of job offers more impressive than the increased salary offers.

A report issued Monday by Miss Helen M. Barnes, director of the Business and Industrial Placement Office, showed that there was a 2 per cent increase over last year in the number of job offers from business and industry for bachelor's degree candidates.

The report showed that salary offers had increased, but not as much as anticipated.

The report was based upon a survey conducted by the College Placement Council. The council is the coordinating agency of eight regional college placement associations in the United States and Canada.

The University was one of 116 colleges and universities which collected data for the Council.

Fall Job Offers

The data, limited to male students, cover actual salary and job offers from Sept. 1 to Dec. 13.

The Placement Office has not yet compiled its own figures of salary and job offers made to University students.

Although it is still early in the recruiting year, the Council's report, based on seven year's research, has proven to be an accurate predictor for the remaining recruiting season.

Of the 16 employer groups studied, the report showed the aerospace industry, as in the past, made the most offers. Public utilities moved into second place in the number of job offers.

The average salary offer to bachelor's-degree candidates with a technical background has risen 5.2 per cent to $706 per month, the report showed.

$596 Per Month

The average offer to non-technical degree candidates rose 4.6 per cent to $596 per month.

Chemical engineers are receiving the largest offers, an average of $717 per month. Electrical engineers are next, followed by aeronautical and mechanical engineers.

Public accounting firms made the largest salary increase, a 9.6 per cent increase in average offers.

Public utilities and glass-paper-packaging groups are next with a 6.8 per cent rise.

YRs To Hear Legion Head On Thursday

Donald Johnson, the 1965 national commander of the American Legion, will speak to the University Young Republicans at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Union Yale Room.

Johnson, who has been mentioned as a possible GOP gubernatorial or senatorial candidate for 1968, has a wide background in state and civic affairs. He has been chairman of the Iowa Civil Rights Commission and has held several positions in the American Legion before becoming its commander.

A year ago Johnson was in Viet Nam studying U.S. involvement.

The Young Republicans will discuss plans for the state convention at the meeting.

Washington Week Internships Offered

Sixteen Iowa college students will receive one-week, expense-paid internships to study politics and government in Washington, D.C., again this spring under the sponsorship of the Iowa Center for Education in Politics.

The Week-in-Washington program is being sponsored for the 13th year by the center, which has its headquarters at the University of Iowa, in cooperation with the Democratic and Republican parties of Iowa.

As guests of the Iowa congressional delegation, the interns will observe activities in congressional offices, attend committee meetings and sessions of the House and Senate, meet leaders of Congress and the executive branch, and visit the national headquarters of the political party of their choice.

Students attending four-year Iowa colleges and universities are eligible for the internships. Application forms, which are available from the political science department on each campus, must be submitted by Feb. 10.

The internships are awarded on the basis of scholarship, interest and participation in politics, and leadership potential. Each applicant must be endorsed by a professor of political science and the president of his institution.

Tough Big 10 Road Tests Next For Hawkeye Cagers

By RON BLISS
Asst. Sports Editor

Knowing that things are going to get worse before they get better isn't a pleasant thought for anybody, but that is exactly what faces Iowa's basketball team in the next two weeks when it plays its two toughest games of the season back-to-back.

Those games will be against Michigan State and Northwestern and both will be on the road, the place where the Hawks could do no right last season.

Michigan State will present the first challenge Saturday night at East Lansing and Northwestern will provide the competition the following Saturday in a televised game from Evanston.

1-4 On Road In '68

The Hawks, now 8-2, will have to be at their best for both games, especially considering the trouble they had on the road in the Big 10 last season, winning only one of seven games.

Michigan State and Northwestern were rated No. 1 and 2, respectively, in the pre-season Big 10 poll and both opened their Big 10 campaigns successfully Saturday. Northwestern whipped defending champion Michigan 93-73, at Ann Arbor, Mich., and Michigan State edged Illinois 76-74 at Champaign, Ill.

Burns Leads Scorers

In other games Saturday, Wisconsin surprised Purdue, 79-76, and Ohio State whipped Minnesota, 78-65. All victories except Iowa's were scored on the road.

High point man in Big 10 games Saturday was Northwestern's Jim Burns who scored 27 against Michigan. Iowa's Sam Williams had 25 along with Tom Kondla of Minnesota, while two Michigan State players, Lee Lafayette and Matt Aitch, scored 24 each.

Northwestern, which has been averaging more than 96 points a game, ran up the largest offensive total Saturday -- 93 points -- while Ohio State held hapless Minnesota to 65 points to lead the defensive statistics.

2 Games Tonight

Seven conference games have been scheduled for this week. Minnesota was at Indiana for a game Monday night and Illinois is at Northwestern and Michigan at Wisconsin for games tonight.

Four games are set for Saturday. In addition to the Iowa-Michigan State game, Indiana is at Ohio State, Michigan is at Illinois for a TV game and Purdue is at Minnesota.

Wieczorek In Mile Event At New York

Iowa distance runner Larry Wieczorek will compete in the one mile run in the U.S. Track and Field Federation invitational meet in New York City Feb. 10.

Track and cross country Coach Francis Cretzmeyer said Monday that Wieczorek, a junior from Maywood, Ill., was picked for the meet on the basis of his outstanding 1966 record.

Wieczorek is the defending indoor mile champion of the Big 10 and had an outdoor best time of 4:06.9. He won the Big 10 cross country title in record time last fall and placed third in the NCAA cross country championships.

Wieczorek will run in Madison Square Garden's track which is eleven laps for a mile. His first 1967 competition is Feb. 4 in a dual meet with the Chicago Track Club in Chicago.

Over The Sports Desk

By JIM MARTZ
Sports Editor

IOWA'S BASKETBALL TEAM had just whipped Indiana Saturday night, 84-73, for its seventh win in a row this season (and the 18th straight win at home), when Hawk Coach Ralph Miller said: "We won the game, I'm not sure how or why. We're either getting good, or we're the luckiest ball club ever."

Typically, the Hawks needed a second half surge. Down 39-45 at halftime, they out-rebounded the taller Hoosiers 28-17 and out-scored them 49-34 in the second half.

"I still say if we're within six at the half, we'll win the game," Miller said. He pointed out that in his three years at Iowa, only once had the Hawks failed to beat a team they were within eight points of at halftime.

A key to victory Saturday was reserve guard Ron Norman's 16 point effort. Subbing for Junior Dave White, he hit 6 of 11 field goals, four of five freethrows, grabbed four rebounds and committed no fouls.

"It was his best game," Miller said. "He was good on defense and had no turnovers. And his points were very important at crucial times. He's had some good games when he's come off the bench. We'll probably keep playing him that way."

Sharpshooting Tom Chapman continued to hit over 50 per cent of his field goals (8 of 15). Loquacious Sam Williams scored 25 points (11 of 12 freethrows) and grabbed 15 rebounds to lead in both categories. Steady Gerry Jones had 13 points and 10 rebounds. And Huston Breedlove, the world's fastest center, grabbed 10 rebounds and scored five points. We'll forgive the cross-court pass he threw in the vicinity of the fifth row.

"In the first half we gave them 14 points off the offensive boards," Miller said. "We thought we could outjump them, but didn't do it. In the second half we cut their output off the boards considerably."

Miller acknowledged that Indiana's zone defense bothered the Hawks and added, "They're a fast, high-geared offensive team. They taxed our defense and the kids did a good job keeping up with them." Indiana forward Harry Joyner had 19 points and pesky guard Vernon Payne 18.

The Hawkeyes are 8-2 for the season, 1-0 in the Big 10. They were the only conference team to win at home Saturday.

"I'm greatly surprised at our overall record," Miller said. "I expected a 5-4 December record. 7-2 was much more than anyone could have expected."

Miller's optimism is cautious. "The boys haven't played as well as I think they can. But they are hustlers and want to win. We must become a more solid ball club. We've got a long way to go." He adds, "Maybe we'll be very good before the year is over."

IOWA'S FRESHMAN basketball team dumped an alumni squad, 67-59. Freshman Chad Calabria, a 6-2 guard from Alquippa, Pa., scored 26 points, leading all scorers. Also for the frosh, Glenn Vidovic, a 6-5, 155-pound forward from McKeesport, Pa., scored 21 and Tom Schulze, a 6-5 forward from Des Moines had 10.

Former varsity star George Peebles' 22 points led the Alumni. Leon Schimmel scored 16 and Denny Pauling 8.

CHAPMAN REMAINS the leading scorer for the season -- 236 points. He has hit .587 per cent of his field goals and .857 per cent of his free throws. Sam Williams has 192 points and Gerry Jones 165 points.

VOLKSWAGEN Gym Team Edges Illini

Iowa's gymnastics team used an outstanding performance in the still rings competition Saturday to defeat Illinois 185.0-182.3 in the first Big 10 gymnastics meet of the season for both squads.

Iowa led by only eight-tenths of a point going into the still rings, but outstanding performances by sophomores Terry Siorek, Don Hatch and Bob Dickson let the Hawks sweep the event and win the meet going away.

Siorek won the event with a near-perfect score of 9.45, while Hatch was close behind with a 9.4. Dickson was third with a 8.9. A score of 10 is perfect.

The lead changed hands several times in the meet and at one point Iowa held a microscopic 104.57-104.55 lead over the Illini.

Iowa won the team title in four of the seven events and had four individual winners.

Iowa winners in addition to Siorek, were sophomore Keith McCannless, who led a 1-2-3 sweep in the sidehorse; Dickson, who tied with Illinois' Hal Shaw for first in the floor exercise; and junior Arnie Lazar, who took first place in the parallel bars.

The Hawks, now 2-1, will continue their quest for the Big 10 title next Saturday when they host Minnesota in a dual meet in the Field House at 3:00 p.m.

"DADDY, IS MR. ATOM RUNNING YOUR ELECTRIC SHAVER?"

Not yet, Susie, but it won't be long before he will in the area served by Iowa-Illinois. Susie may have read about "Mr. Atom" in school -- how he has made his way out of the laboratory and is now serving people in a variety of ways.

The atom is among the newest of the fuels used to produce electricity. And 130 business-managed, investor-owned electric light and power companies are spending about 3 billion dollars on 49 projects designed to bring the benefits of nuclear electric power to more and more people.

One such project is the Quad-Cities nuclear generating station to be constructed jointly by Iowa-Illinois and Commonwealth Edison Company of Chicago -- near Cordova, Illinois, 19 miles north of the Quad-Cities -- at a cost of approximately $160,000,000.

The first generating unit, which is to have an ultimate capacity of 800,000 kilowatts, will be ready by 1970, and a second, of the same size, by 1971.

Such projects are the result of continuing research and development programs by the investor-owned gas and electric companies aimed at keeping you and all America supplied, now and in the future, with plentiful, low-priced gas and electric service.

Chalmers Quits Iowa State

AMES (AP)—Gordon (Slim) Chalmers gave up his job as athletic director of Iowa State University Monday, three weeks after gloomily predicting the Cyclones' football fortunes probably would never improve because of a poorly financed athletic program.

"You can't expect to run a champagne program on a beer pocketbook," Chalmers said last month.

"Football is supposed to be the sport that pays the bills for all the rest, but football never has made any money at Iowa State."

Chalmers relinquished the athletic directorship of the Big Eight Conference school effective July 1 but will remain as director of the physical education department and the intramural athletic program.

Search Has Begun
The search for a successor already has begun. Members of Iowa State's Athletic Council, Chalmers and football coach Clay Stapleton are in Houston, Texas, attending the NCAA meetings. This would indicate the Cyclones' new athletic director could be someone not now connected with the school.

ISU President W. Robert Parks, when asked if there was pressure on Chalmers to quit, said: "He wrote the letter of resignation, and he signed it."

Parks said he did not know if Stapleton would be a candidate for athletic director and added, "This is not a palace revolution. This is not a move to make him (Stapleton) athletic director."

No Conspiracy
"We think he's a fine football coach . . . We hope he will be head coach for many years to come. This is not a conspiracy to make Mr. Stapleton athletic director."

In a letter to Parks, Chalmers said he had become increasingly aware that "the combined responsibilities of my position have become too large to be performed by any one man."

Alumni groups expressed dissatisfaction with Chalmers and Stapleton after the Cyclones limped in with a 2-6-2 football record last fall. Iowa State has never won a Big Eight football title.

They suggested that Stapleton be made athletic director and a new football coach be hired. They made no direct reference to Chalmers.

Stapleton subsequently was given a new three-year contract as football coach.

Stapleton Defended
When the heat was on, Chalmers, 55, defended Stapleton saying, "I think Clay has done an outstanding job. His only problem is that he isn't competing on the same level as the rest of the Big Eight coaches."

Chalmers said Big Eight schools were permitted 45 football scholarships a year, or a four-year total of 180. But the school's Athletic Council permits only 110 at Iowa State, an average of about 27 per year.

The reason, Chalmers said, is because there isn't enough money for more athletic grants.

Chalmers, a native of Cranford, N.J., coached at Lafayette, Lehigh and West Point before being named athletic director at Iowa State late in 1959.

A 1935 graduate of Franklin-Marshall, he was a member of the 1932 U.S. Olympic swimming team and was national collegiate backstroke champion the following year.

DUKE PLAYERS ELIGIBLE—DURHAM, N.C. (AP)—Coach Vic Bubas said Monday all members of Duke University's basketball squad would be eligible to participate in the Blue Devils home game tonight against Clemson's Tigers.

This means the nine players, including four regulars, who were suspended last Wednesday night will be eligible to play.

Hawk Wrestlers 'Educated' In Dual Meet Losses In East

A young Iowa wrestling squad composed of seven sophomores and two juniors received an "education" in three dual meets over the weekend. The Hawks lost all three contests, but Coach Dave McCuskey feels they benefited greatly from the defeats.

The touring nine-man Iowa squad faced three East Coast wrestling powers in a span of three days, beginning Thursday night.

The Hawks opening opponent, East Stroudsburg State College, located at East Stroudsburg, Pa., captured a 20-15 victory over the visitors. East Stroudsburg, ranked seventh in national wrestling polls, earlier had taken first place in the rugged Coast Guard tournament. Ray Pastorino at 123 pounds, Phil Henning at 152 and Russell Hill at 160 all recorded victories for the Hawkeys. Heavyweight Dale Stearns and 145-pounder Joe Wells came up with draws in their respective divisions.

The second leg of the Hawks journey was to West Point, N.Y., for a meet with the U.S. Military Academy Friday afternoon.

The Cadets squeezed out a 14-13 decision over the Hawkeys, despite Iowa victories by Pastorino, Douglas Duss, Wells and Stearns. Wells, a St. Paul, Minn., sophomore, recorded the only pin for the losers.

Friday night, the Hawkeys faced the New York Athletic Club, which is partially composed of former Eastern Intercollegiate champs and also included

Swimmers Last In Relays; Allen Cites Big 10 Strength

Even though Iowa placed last in the Big 10 swimming relays held at Minneapolis Saturday, Swimming Coach Bob Allen said that Iowa has one of its best swimming teams in year.

"This meet shows the overall strength of the Big 10 in swimming," Allen said. "We're going to have to fight hard for anything we get this year."

Allen said that parts of the relays were encouraging for his Hawkeys.

In the 200- and 400-yard free style relays the Hawks finished better than any other Iowa team has ever done in these events.

Iowa's next swimming meet will be at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Iowa Field House. The Hawks will face Michigan State and Minnesota.

In the 11 events at last week's meet, Iowa finished in the following places: diving - fifth; 400 free style relay - fourth; 300 backstroke relay - fourth; 300 butterfly relay - fifth; 300 breaststroke relay - fifth; 200 free style relay - third; 200 medley relay - seventh; 300 individual medley relay - third and 400 medley relay - seventh.

New Ph.D. Offered

A new program is being developed for the Ph.D. candidate in English. The program will involve concentrated study in Modern Letters.

The program, which began operation in September 1966, is designed to appeal to students with an active commitment to productive work in modern letters — critical, creative, or scholarly, according to the brochure printed by the English Department.

The Iowa Center for Modern Letters is administering the program. The program is recommended especially for students planning careers in both writing and teaching.

"The University's English department is strong in the modern area," said Frederick P. W. McDowell, director of the Iowa Center for Modern Letters.

A concentration in Modern Letters would involve study of a combination of all of five areas. These include modern British and American literature, creative writing, translation of foreign literary works, comparative literature and literary criticism.

Muhly's Replacement As Chairman Pending

The selection of a new mathematics department chairman to replace Harry T. Muhly who died Dec. 22 is still pending. The selection will be made by Dewey B. Stuit, dean of the College of Liberal Arts.

Muhly, a University faculty member for 15 years, and a member of Phi Beta Kappa, was graduated from John Hopkins University in 1940. He spent a year at Harvard as a Naval Research Fellow.

MUHLY

In 1942 he was an instructor at the United States Naval Academy.

Muhly came to the University in 1950. He spent four of his summers participating in the National Science Foundation (NSF) Institute, held at Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo, Mich.

In 1964, Muhly was appointed head of the University's Mathematics Department. At the time of his death he was working on a $50,000 research project sponsored by the NSF.

Muhly was a member of Sigma Psi Scientific Society, the Mathematics Association of America, the American Mathematics Association, the London Mathematics Society, and the Mathematics Society of France. He has been a member of the Rhoades Scholarship Selection Committee, the Liberal Arts Administrative Structure Committee, and since 1958, had been an advisor to students in the honors program.

Until his death, Muhly was a member of the Graduate Council. He wrote two books and published about 15 articles in journals.

Rifle Society To Celebrate Anniversary

The Iowa Society of Pershing Rifles, the third oldest Pershing Rifle unit in the United States, celebrates its 38th anniversary today.

Officially entitled Company B-2 of the National Society of Pershing Rifles, the honorary service fraternity was founded Jan. 10, 1929 by Boyd N. Liddle, then an Army ROTC cadet at the University.

Only the University of Nebraska, where Pershing Rifles was founded by Lt. John J. Pershing in 1894, and Ohio State University have older Pershing Rifle chapters. Ohio State's chapter was formed in 1925.

Originally, Pershing Rifles was a basic cadet fraternity, but has since been divided into two separate teams — the crack drill team and infantry drill regulation. Both compete in drill meets during the year.

Thomas D. Skillicorn, A4, Daventry, is Company Commander of the group this year and is the 33rd successor to Liddle.

The group will celebrate its anniversary by meeting for their regular weekly drill session at 7:30 p.m.

Hospitalized Vets Will Get A Treat

Over 400 patients at the Iowa City Veterans Administration Hospital will be treated to a pheasant dinner Jan. 18.

Pheasants for the Vets was started in 1946 by Reis Tuttle, outdoor editor for the Des Moines Register, and has continued each year. This year, 250 pheasants, dressed and ready for the oven, were provided by the Sportsmen of Iowa.

The dietetic service has promised that, in addition to the pheasant, all the other trimmings will be added to provide a real treat for the patients.
