

—May Be A Move 'To Prepare For War'—

Chinese Army Seizes Control Of Airports

TOKYO — Red China's army has seized all domestic civil airports and aviation institutes in a move "to prepare for war" and "protect normal flights," a Japanese report from Peking said early today.

In the international conflict between the Communist giants, Peking accused the Soviet Union of unilaterally scrapping agreements to abolish visas between the two countries and announced that, starting Sunday, "all Soviet citizens must obtain Chinese visas in entering, leaving or passing through Chinese territory."

Worsens Relations

The Chinese Foreign Ministry said in a New China News Agency broadcast monitored in Tokyo that the end of visa agreement was "another serious step" by the Soviet Union to "worsen still further the relations between the two countries."

The report on the airport seizure, by the newspaper Mainichi's Peking correspondent, said order had been issued by the State Council and the Military Commission of the Communist party's Central Committee Jan. 26. The order said it had been issued "to prepare for war, to protect normal flights of both international and domestic aircraft, and to carry on smoothly the great cultural revolution."

The report did not indicate what might be meant by the phrase "to prepare for war."

Plane Delayed

Mainichi speculated the order had been made public at least partly because of troubles early this week at Peking Airport when Chinese demonstrators harassed Soviet citizens returning to Moscow. One Soviet airliner evacuating the families of Soviet Embassy staff members was delayed for six hours by anti-Soviet demonstrations.

Mainichi said the Chinese government and military authorities appeared to be trying to avoid such "unnecessary friction."

The Chinese action on visas was taken, the official news agency said, because the Soviet Foreign Ministry had informed the Chinese Embassy in Moscow that starting Sunday all Chinese citizens destined for the Soviet Union must carry visas.

The agency said China had agreed to abolish visas on the basis of several requests made by the Soviet Union starting in 1956. It said China was instituting visa requirements for Russians in response to Moscow's "unjustifiable decision" to "unilaterally scrap the agreements."

Embassy Besieged

Meanwhile, the Red Guard siege of the Soviet Embassy in Peking raged on Friday, the day after the Soviet government demanded its end. Tass reported.

And in Moscow, Soviet authorities halted demonstrations outside the Chinese Embassy in Moscow while waiting for China's reaction.

But the Soviet news agency reported Red Guards tossed big firecrackers into the Soviet Embassy compound in Peking and said loudspeakers continued blaring

"anti-Soviet drive."

A Soviet note Thursday threatened "necessary reply measures" if the Red Guards were not called off "in the shortest space of time."

Diplomats speculated on the next Soviet move, but there was no official indication.

Maximum Measures Doubtful

Possibilities for "reply measures" ranged from a minimum of restricting Chinese diplomats here to their embassy to a maximum of breaking the already moribund Soviet-Chinese alliance and severing diplomatic relations. Few diplomats expected the maximum action under present circumstances.

The note was the third strong Soviet demand within a week that Chinese authorities call off Red Guards who have been laying siege to the Soviet Embassy in Peking since Jan. 26.

The note was the angriest of the three. The reason was a Chinese order Monday that the Soviet staff should not leave the embassy in Peking. If they did, the Chinese said, their safety was not guaranteed by Chinese authorities.

'White Terror' Spreading

In China's "great cultural revolution," Peking wall posters said "white terror" was spreading through Inner Mongolia, where it said soldiers had beaten up large numbers of Mao Tse-tung's followers.

Chinese travelers reaching Hong Kong said Red Guards 12 to 13 years old in Canton were being replaced by older and better-trained revolutionary rebels. They speculated that Mao was about ready to seize control of Canton and Kwangtung Province.

They said the young Red Guards, by their rampages, had united the opposition to Mao and had been largely ineffective in fighting the chairman's enemies.

Kosygin Slams Mao

Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin declared Friday that the Soviet Union sympathized with "people who are struggling against the dictatorial regime of Mao Tse-tung."

"We sympathize with them and we do understand this struggle has been caused by their various actions in various policies," the visiting Soviet leader told a British television audience.

"It has been caused by setbacks they have suffered both within the country and in foreign affairs," he said.

His criticism of the ruler of his Communist neighbor was unprecedented for a Soviet statesman visiting a foreign capitalist state.

Peking radio told of more trouble in Shanghai, China's largest industrial city and port. It said Mao's foes had been engaged in speculation at Shanghai markets in order to scatter confusion in the city's economy.

Japanese dispatches said Premier Chou En-lai complained at a meeting with Maoist factions of the industries and transportation ministries Feb. 1 that he was "short of hands" because the purge had taken eight of his 15 deputy premiers.

Deadline Passes; Barnett Refuses To Submit Grades

The deadline for instructors to submit grades was 5 p.m. Friday. Donald L. Barnett, assistant professor of sociology and anthropology, said late Friday that he did not turn in grades for his students.

Dewey B. Stull, dean of the College of Liberal Arts, said Friday night that he had not received grades from Barnett. He declined to say anymore about the case.

University officials have warned Barnett that his salary would be stopped unless he submitted the grades by the Friday evening deadline.

Pres. Howard R. Bowen told the Board of Regents that the Barnett case was being handled "by all the canons of proper academic procedure" and said that the school did not like to discuss personnel matters in public.

Bowen assured the Regents that Barnett's students would receive grades and academic credit — even if it had to come from Lyle Shannon, chairman of the Department of Sociology and Anthropology.

The Regents supported the University Friday in its handling of Barnett, who refused to submit grades on grounds that they would be used by draft officials.

The Regents approved a letter by Board President Stanley Redeker of Boone to State Rep. Charles E. Grassley (R-New Hartford) concerning the case of Barnett.

Grassley had asked the Regents to order Barnett to "obey the rules of the University or get out."

Redeker's letter to Grassley said the Regents had been informed of the University actions in what he described as "a rather intricate problem" and said that the Regents "supported the actions and policies of the administrative officials of the University."

U.S. Says North Vietnam Takes Advantage Of Truce

SAIGON — North Vietnam is funneling supplies south during the Tet truce at a rate five times greater than normal wartime levels, U.S. officials said Friday. There was a hint this buildup may lead to a resumption of the bombing of Vietnam before the four-day cease-fire expires at 7 a.m. Sunday.

"The volume, scope and direction of Communist shipments create hazards for our military which we cannot afford to overlook," an American source said.

As the prospect for keeping allied offensive operations halted until Wednesday to match the seven-day cease-fire proposed by the Viet Cong, American quarters said it appeared unlikely.

Shooting Outbreaks Persist

While reports flowed in from reconnaissance pilots checking on Communist land and sea traffic north of the border, shooting outbreaks persisted in the proclaimed lunar new year pause in the warfare in South Vietnam.

The allies accused the Communists of initiating incidents at a rate of more than four an hour.

The accounting Friday night showed 268 cases. Of these 50 were termed significant, meaning one or both sides suffered casualties.

Dramatizing one clash was the American rescue of 51 emaciated, malaria-ridden Vietnamese from a Viet Cong prison camp. Communist guards escaped with about 50 others.

Prisoners Found Accidentally

Associated Press photographer Al Chang, who was on the scene, reported the camp was found by accident after two guerrillas fired on a company of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division on defensive patrol in a jungle 90 miles northeast of Saigon.

The paratroopers killed the guerrillas, drove out 20 or 30 enemy troops in an ensuing fire-fight, then burned the camp. They suffered no losses. Rescued civilian prisoners and militiamen cried with relief.

Surrounding the whole truce situation is a semantics jungle:

- The truce is the result of separate declarations by the Saigon government, in which the foreign allies concurred, and by the Viet Cong. North Vietnam did not officially subscribe to the cease-fire.
- No Agreement Signed
- Because there is no signed agreement, officials in Saigon call the pause a stand-down rather than a truce.
- For the same reason they classify none of the shooting incidents as truce violations. They are avoiding that term as they have through similar truces previously, regardless of the scope of the engagements.

Regents Approve New Regulations For Civil Service

DES MOINES — The State Board of Regents reversed a long-standing policy Friday and agreed to place its nonacademic employees under a statewide civil service system.

The board issued a statement saying it is willing to incorporate its present merit system with a new plan being considered by the legislature.

"This arrangement would provide for a decentralized administration under policies established by the Board of Regents and approved by a state civil service commission or personnel board which would be brought into being by the new law," said the statement.

Officials explained it means the regents would continue operating their own merit employment system but that policies would be subject to review by whatever civil service agency is established in the expected new law.

For several years the board has resisted efforts to include nonacademic employees of regents' institutions in a general statewide civil service system.

The board supervises the University of Iowa, State University, State College of Iowa, State School for the Deaf and Cripple and State Braille and Sight Saving School at Vinton.

Regents Award Building Contracts

DES MOINES — The State Board of Regents awarded contracts here Friday on two University projects for which bids were lower than the estimated construction costs.

The projects are a 523-bed residence hall for men, which has a total project budget of $2,740,000, and remodeling and furnishing of a student activity room in the Union at a total cost of $450,000. Construction bids on the dormitory, called Rienow II, were $175,184 less than anticipated, while the Union project construction figure was $17,328 below estimates.

Fane F. Vawter and Co., West Des Moines, won the dormitory construction contract on a low bid of $2,099,816, which includes water, steam and sewer connections as well as electrical connections. Other elements of the total budget are $21,000 for planning, $52,500 for architect's fee, $308,000 for equipment, $37,000 for landscaping and $97,000 for contingencies.

The dormitory is a twin of Rienow Hall, which was completed last summer along the south side of Quadrangle residence hall near the Field House. Rienow II will be located south of Rienow Hall and south of Grand Avenue, which will separate the 12-story buildings.

Provides More Space

The remodeling project will provide improved study, eating and lounge space for the several thousand students who utilize the Union each day, especially the increasing number of commuting students. Successful bidders for the $450,000 project and the amounts of their contracts are: Gartner Construction Co., Des Moines, $118,173, general; Larew Company, Iowa City, $29,743, plumbing and heating; Jackson Electric Co., Iowa City, $26,500, electrical; The Schebler Co., Davenport, $19,946, ventilating equipment.

The project involves new entrances,

Rienow II To Cost $2.7 Million

lowering of some floors, resurfacing of columns and walls, air conditioning, and new snack bar in the River Room. The remodeled facility will be called the Wheel Room.

Funds for the dormitory will come from a bond issue sold recently by the Regents. The borrowing will be repaid from revenues of the dormitory. The Union project will be paid for from a combination of Union funds from income-producing activities and from a balance in the income-producing funds of the Division of Extension and University Services.

Two remodeling projects to permit improved and expanded operations of University facilities were also approved by the Regents.

Also Approves Purchase

In other actions the board approved purchase of an Iowa City property for campus expansion and named an Iowa City firm to provide preliminary architectural services on a hospital ambulatory unit.

One of the projects is for converting a portion of the hospital building at Oakdale State Sanatorium into the Evaluation and Rehabilitation Center staff offices, examining rooms, waiting rooms, and evaluation rooms for physical therapy and occupational therapy and, at a later date, a dental diagnostic and therapeutic unit.

This project will provide facilities necessary to begin development of a center for comprehensive evaluation and rehabilitation at Oakdale as approved by the Regents in 1962. Since last July the sanatorium has been under the administration of the University Hospitals system.

A number of new programs are developing on the Oakdale campus as space becomes available because of medical advances in the prevention and treatment of tuberculosis.

Disability Amendment Goes Into Constitution

WASHINGTON — The 25th Amendment, detailing what is to be done if the President becomes unable to perform his duties, went into the U.S. Constitution on Friday.

Nevada was the 38th state to ratify and thus won the distinction of being the commonwealth which completed adoption of the amendment.

Three-fourths of the states must accept an amendment after its passage by Congress before a constitutional change is valid.

The 25th's progress into the Constitution was smooth and fairly rapid.

It was passed by Congress and submitted to the states in July 1965. Wisconsin, by a technical whisker, became the first state to ratify it on July 13.

Tends Toward Center

What opposition there was tended to center on the provision that a vacancy in the vice presidency should be filled on nomination by the president, subject to confirmation by Congress.

Some critics argued that in effect the president would be hand-picking his potential successor.

The reply from supporters of the provision was that the presidential nominee of a political party commonly handpicks his vice-presidential running mate; that there was no essential difference.

By present law, the speaker of the House succeeds to the presidency if the president

Vanderbilt Dorms Get Wine, Women

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Wine, women and song will be a part of men's dormitory life at Vanderbilt University under a new policy aimed at giving dorm residents treatment equal to that of fraternities.

"The trouble is," one youth commented, "is that the wine will be too private and the women too public."

And the suspicion was voiced that fraternity men still would be a little more equal than their unaffiliated brethren.

The new policy, announced by officials at the traditionally staid university Friday, will permit dormitory students to drink liquor in their rooms — and invite women to dormitory lounges on Friday and Saturday nights.

At the same time, the officials said, juke boxes and record players will be installed in remodeled recreation facilities in the dormitories — Carmichael Towers and KISSAM Hall. Sometimes, there may be a combo, also.

Fraternity men have enjoyed these privileges for years under rules which said specifically that liquor would be permitted only in fraternity houses. Women, specifically, have been banned from both men's dormitories — but have long visited fraternity house lounges.

The new policy applies both to dormitories and fraternity houses — and forbids serving of liquor to persons who don't bring their own bottles. This conforms to Tennessee law.

It also bans liquor in public areas of the dormitories unless an organized, supervised party is in progress.

Vanderbilt has about 3,900 male students, of whom 2,100 belong to fraternities.

House Rejects License Slogan

DES MOINES — Iowa's motor vehicle license plates will remain uncluttered by a slogan such as "Beautiful Land" — at least for the time being.

After one of the longest debates of the session, the House voted 61-47 Friday in favor of a bill to put those words on license plates.

The measure failed, however, because it did not receive a constitutional majority of 63 votes.

Lawmakers wrangled through their second day over the bill, which had passed the Senate unanimously.

It voted down an amendment proposed by Rep. Bernard O'Malley (D-Des Moines) to make the slogan "Bountiful Land" instead of "Beautiful Land."

News in Brief

NEW YORK — The stock market Friday managed to extricate itself from a decline but the results were inconclusive at the end. More stocks were higher than lower. Market indicators conflicted. Trading was quite active. Volume totaled 8.86 billion shares compared with 10.97 billion Thursday.

NEW DELHI — Prime Minister Indira Gandhi canceled her remaining campaign appearances Friday and entered a hospital for treatment of a broken nose suffered when she was hit by a hurled stone at a political rally Wednesday. Doctors said she would be released from the hospital Saturday but on her advice has canceled further campaigning. India's general elections are Feb. 15-21.

BOGOTA — Devastation was widespread in southern Colombia in the worst earthquake to hit the country in this century, the Interior Ministry said Friday. It reported at least 78 dead and more than 300 injured. Interior Minister Misael Pastрана Borrero, returning from a trip to Neiva, capital of Huila in the center of Thursday's earthquake, said the government would begin reconstruction immediately.

GAINESVILLE — A University of Florida faculty committee deliberated Friday night on whether curvaceous Pam Brewer should be punished for displaying her nude 38-25-38 form in an off-campus magazine. The group denied a motion to dismiss the case.

Death by Dow

The role of the corporation is a lot different now than it was, say, 100 years ago. Then, the corporation did not need to concern itself with the welfare of society or with public opinion. To act morally, all it had to do was make as much money as it could — and that often meant at the expense of society.

As the corporate structures in this country became more complex, big business finally realized the powers it possessed over the direction of the society as a whole, and slowly began to accept the social responsibilities that such powers implied.

In light of this general acceptance of responsibility, it is difficult to understand how Dow Chemical Corporation can afford to ignore the terrible implications of one of its products — napalm.

Fighting with napalm is fighting dirty. Napalm doesn't destroy military bases or bridges, it destroys people. And when the enemy is blended in with civilians, napalm has a hard time distinguishing who to kill.

Its military value is by no means clear. To be sure, if enough of it is used, enemy numbers will be reduced, but we are not ready to believe that depopulation of a country is a desirable goal for a war that this country is fighting.

In the Union Gold Feather Lobby is a display of pictures of Vietnamese children crippled and killed by Americans, by Dow chemicals — not by pagan, inhuman Viet Cong. For those who pass by it and say it's too bad but that's the way it has to be in war, we would like them to consider whether the war really has to be.

Dow Chemical shares with the United States the responsibility for deciding that the Vietnamese are better off dead than Red. After the war, after Dow can no longer sell its napalm, after the United States has "won" and the Vietnamese have lost, really lost, the rationalizations the Dow people have been using will be worn thin by the reality of what was done, and maybe then the Dow people will have trouble sleeping at night.

But what about until then?

Man and the Challenge

The Iowan has learned recently that the University is about to embark on one of the greatest research enterprises of all times. Under a grant from a large science foundation, physicists and engineers from all over the world will be brought to Iowa City and, operating with an unlimited budget, will attempt to do what so far no one has ever been able to do — fix the east doors on the English-Philosophy Building.

The incredible enormity of the task will undoubtedly intrigue and challenge the top minds of the Western world. It will, by a moderate estimate, take millions of dollars and many years before the doors could conceivably be fixed.

Until that time, we ask that students just grin and bear it — and use the other doors.

On other campuses—

Tuition rises noted on most campuses

By ELAINE SCHROEDER
Staff Columnist

The high cost of higher education has been rising even higher, according to the results of a nationwide survey released by the Associated Press.

Educators have expressed fear that mounting student charges will deprive children of low income families of a chance to attend college.

Don Stevens, a member of the Michigan State University Board of Trustees, said, "Tuition is wrong in public education. It discriminates against low-income families and against girls."

Stevens went on to explain that in the case in which parents must decide whether a son or a daughter goes to college, they inevitably give the boy the education.

A pending proposal to raise tuition fees in 22 state-supported colleges in Texas by a total of $44 million the next two years was denounced by U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough as a "tax on students" and an "anti-education measure."

And yet the fees grow larger and larger for almost every college.

At the University of Minnesota, tuition is now $375 a year for residents and $921 for non-residents. Five years ago it was $275.45 and $662.55.

State residents at the University of Wisconsin paid $220 for the 1965-66 academic year, non-residents $600. The figures are $325 and $1,050 for this year.

At Purdue University in Indiana the tuition for residents have gone from $240 to $330 for residents and from $750 to $950 for non-residents in the last five years.

The University of Illinois charges resident students $270 a year, and non-residents $870, compared with $230 and $580 in 1961.

Ronald Reagan, California's newly-elected governor, has proposed state educational budget cuts of about 10 per cent, with an offsetting tuition charge on resident students. At present California charges no fees to residents. Reagan suggested $400 a year at the University of California's nine campuses and $200 at California State's 18 campuses.

Non-resident students in California now pay $1,199 compared with $620 five years ago.

In 1963, New York State adopted a uniform tuition schedule which requires payment from almost all who attend state institutions of higher learning. Prior to that time 24 undergraduate schools in New York had been tuition free for residents.

Tuition fees here at the University have also followed the trend. Resident students pay $340 a year compared with $290 in 1962. For non-residents tuition fees are now $930, compared to $620 in 1962.

Every university student is well aware of the high cost of college.

With the ever-increasing need for higher education in our world, increasing tuition fees add only a greater obstacle.

Silly movie poses as art

colors and pretends to be something other than what it is. (Art with a capital "A," for instance), then I start to see technical, and "The Quiller Memorandum" drove me quite wild.

I went to it all optimism. After all, the screenplay was by the noted playwright Harold Pinter. It was based on the very well received spy thriller by Adam Hall. Michael Anderson directed it and Alec Guinness, Max von Sydow, Senta Berger, George Sanders and George Segal were the stars.

So what happens? Nothing happens, that's what happens — and it doesn't happen so portentously, too. We open on a deserted street late at night with a lighted lonely-looking phone booth at one end. Walking nervously down the center of the street is a sole figure, his footsteps echoing ominously off the cobblestones.

Ha, thought I, he will be shot in the lighted phone booth trying to make a call. So he was. Ha, thought I, now we will switch to London or someplace wholesome and comfy-looking, where Alec Guinness will be saying: "Quiller, we want you to go and find out what happened to our man in—" (wherever that deserted street was). "Sorry to take you off your holiday, Quiller, but—" and so on and so forth. And that is precisely what transpired. To be able to predict a thriller is not good.

So we follow George Segal to Berlin where he is supposed to be finding out about a neo-Nazi movement there. He is kidnapped by the leader of the movement, a menacing figure named October, played with sinister relish by Max von Sydow. There is a grueling torture scene. There are people following people. There are truth serum, Senta Berger, and a Mercedes here and there.

What do these men want from Quiller? What does Quiller want of these men? These are good questions, but you will never learn the answers in this perfectly asinine movie. What is it that they are doing which is illegal (unless you count living a peculiar existence in a deserted house)? Why doesn't somebody just telephone the Berlin police, and while we're at it, just what does the British secret service have to do with Germany's resurgent Nazi problem, anyhow?

And it's all so serious, so significant.

Each line is followed by a weighty thirty second pause before the next one is delivered and the lines grow successively worse as the picture goes on. There are lovelies like, Senta Berger: "Quiller — I worry about you," followed by an interminable silence and then Quiller's well-thought-out reply: "Don't."

Nothing is logical. The characters are stereotypes, and dull stereotypes, to boot. The movie insults the intelligence of a twelve-year-old and has the nerve to pose as "art" in the process. There is no comic relief.

"The Quiller Memorandum" is the stupidest would-be serious spy movie ever made. It is all the more obnoxious because of its posturing. "Texas Across the River" had more integrity.

Who needs Jackie Vernon?

To The Editor:

The daily reports emanating from our enterprising state legislature are starting to sound like an old issue of Mad Magazine.

The raging controversy over license signs was good for a few chuckles. Another bit of comedy was the "Sale of Hootch to the Injuns Affair." That monumental decision to grant firewater to our Indian brethren was a definite omen that Iowa is on the move.

But not to be outdone, the lobby protesting the adoption of Daylight Time came up with my nomination for the "You Gotta be Kiddin' Me" award for 1967. These patriotic citizens really shocked the solons with their warning that DST would make our children putty in the hands of the Commies, who are among us everywhere, you know. Employing faultless logic that would have astounded Aristotle, these courageous people claimed that our poor kiddies, weary and nerve wracked from having to get up an hour earlier, would soon fall victim to drugs, which in turn would render them pushovers for the Reds. I'll wager the Iowa District Commisar in charge of Seducing Young Comrades is being given a tongue-lashing in Moscow at this moment for not thinking of that one first.

With the majority of our newspapers reeking with tales of battle and Adam Powell, it's refreshing to find such stories to aid us in maintaining a humorous outlook. With all that, who needs Jackie Vernon?

Hawks Face Crucial Test At Ohio State In TV Game

By JIM MARTZ
Sports Editor

That old Iowa basketball nemesis — the road game — is back. And it has come at a time when the Hawkeyes need a victory badly if they expect to stay in contention for the Big 10 title.

The Hawks play a strong Ohio State team at Columbus today. The game is set for 3 p.m. and will be regionally televised in color via the Sports Network.

Iowa is 0-2 on the road in the Big 10 this season, but 3-0 at home. The Hawkeyes haven't won a conference road game since Feb. 19 of last year when they won 86-80 at Ohio State.

The 3-2 record places Iowa in a tie for third with Michigan State. The Spartans play at Purdue today. The conference co-leaders, Northwestern and Indiana, play at home today against second division ball clubs — Northwestern meets Michigan and Indiana meets Wisconsin.

Iowa Coach Ralph Miller said

IOWA	POS.	OHIO STATE
Jones (6-4)	F	Sepic (6-4)
Williams (6-3)	F	Miller (6-4)
Bredlove (6-3 1/2)	C	Hosker (6-7)
Chapman (6-3 1/2)	G	Rowley (6-1)
Phillips (6-3)	G	Swain (6-4)

Time and place: Today, 3:05 p.m., St. John Arena, Columbus, Ohio.
Broadcasts: WISN, KXIC-FM, Iowa City; WMT, KCRG, Cedar Rapids; WHO, Des Moines.

Telecast: Sports Network, Inc., including WMT-TV, Channel 3 Cedar Rapids; WHBF, Channel 4, Rock Island, Ill.

Friday so far as he knows all of his players are scholastically eligible to continue playing.

Rumors that one or more of the Hawkeye players was flunking out have been circulating for several days.

But University officials said first semester grades were not due until 5:30 p.m. Friday, and it probably would be next week before final results were known.

"Ohio State is a much-improved ball club and the game will be tough for us," Miller said. "But I believe it will be tough for the Buckeyes, too." Ohio State's 3-3 conference record includes wins over Minnesota, 78-65; Purdue, 82-72; and Wisconsin, 90-84, in overtime; and losses to Indiana, 81-80; Minnesota, 67-60; and Northwestern, 100-77. The losses to Indiana and Minnesota were at home.

For the first time since early in the season, when they won four straight, the Buckeyes have put two victories back-to-back against Wisconsin (in overtime) and Northern Michigan.

Cagers' Games To Be Televised

Cedar Rapids station WMT-TV, channel 2, will televise three Iowa Hawkeye basketball games in the next two weeks, including today's game at Ohio State.

The station will also televise Tuesday night's game at the Field House against Northwestern, and will televise the afternoon game at Indiana on Feb. 25.

Today's game will be telecast in color beginning at 3 p.m.

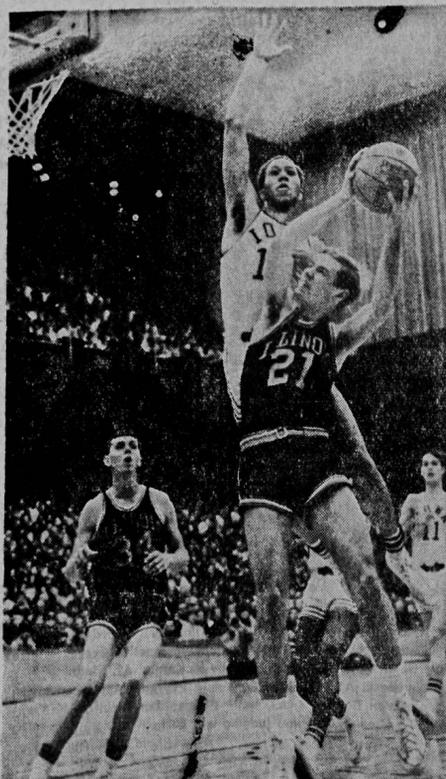

With the squad riddled by injuries, particularly at the guard positions, Coach Fred Taylor has started 10 different lineups in the 16 games, including six guards, four of them sophomores.

The game is the 62nd of a series which could scarcely be closer — 31 to 30 in favor of Ohio State. Iowa won both games last year against the Buckeyes and won two years ago at Columbus, 82-81.

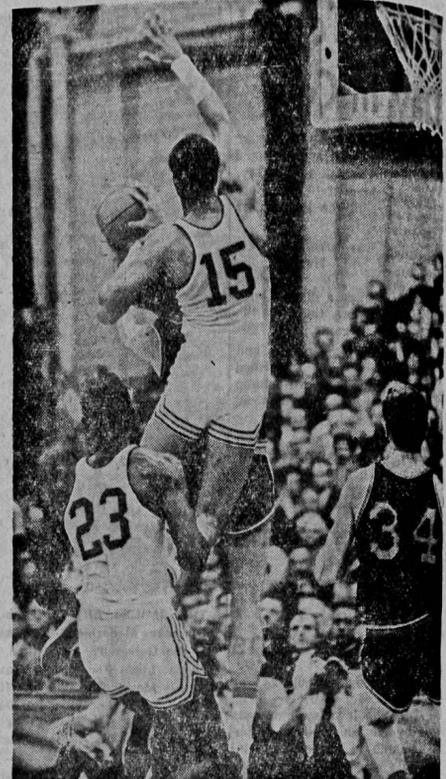

Latest Big 10 statistics show the Hawkeyes lead in field goal average (.478) and freethrow average (.774). Hawkeye forward Sam Williams remains the leading scorer in the conference, averaging 29 points per game. Forward Gerry Jones is 12th in the conference and guard Tom Chapman is 18th.

Ohio State's 6-7 center Bill Hosket is averaging 23.3 points per game in the conference, good for fourth place. Buckeye Ron Sepic, a 6-4 forward, is 20th, averaging 15.2.

Although the Hawkeyes' tallest starter is only 6-5 1/2, they rank as second only to Michigan State as the most effective rebounding team in the conference. The Hawks have grabbed off 51.9 per cent of the stray shots in the games they've played.

move, while the sidcourt view would have Breedlove fouling Johansen with his body. Breedlove was not charged with a foul. Many basketball authorities, including Iowa coach Ralph Miller, contend there is a need for a third official to take a mediating position on the court to aid in calling such easily disputed calls as this one.

Shorthanded Track Team Meets Grinnell, N.E. Missouri

By JOEL FABRIKANT
Staff Writer

Iowa's track team will take on Grinnell and Northeast Missouri State in their home opener today.

The field events will begin at 1 p.m. and the track events at 1:30 p.m. Students will be admitted with presentation of ID cards. Adult admission will be $1 and students of high school age or under will be admitted for 50 cents.

Hawkeye coach Francis Cretzmeyer was satisfied with the results of last week's road opener at Chicago — Iowa 86, Chicago track club 59, DePaul track club 16. But a series of injuries and illnesses the past few days will leave the Hawks shorthanded for today's meet.

Began Last Week

It all began last week in Chicago, right after the triangular meet. Shot putter Tom Knutson became sick with an undetermined ailment and is now in the infirmary and definitely out of today's meet.

And this week, three other Hawkeyes — John Kelley (300), Dale Teberg (300) and Bill Burnette (pole vault) — have come up with sore throats. Kelley will be absent today, while Teberg and Burnette are questionable.

Another Iowa casualty is distance runner Steve Szabo, nursing an infected toe. "I'll get him out of his deathbed to run Saturday," Cretzmeyer mused, starting at his depleted list of available athletes.

Earlier this year, two promising sophomores from Colorado, Jerry Stevens and Steve Dertinger, were sidelined because of leg injuries. It is unlikely either will see action today.

Troubles Don't End

But Cretzmeyer's troubles do not end there. For several days this week, registration and basketball games prevented workouts on the dirt oval surrounding the basketball court in the Field House.

To cap things off, star miler Larry Wiczorek will only compete in one event today, instead of his usual two. For once, however, the excuse is not of illness or injury. "Whiz" competed last night in a special United States Track and Field Federation meet in New York.

Commenting on his shorthandedness for today's meet, coach Cretzmeyer threw up his hands. "What's a guy to do," he said.

Wiczorek 3rd At New York

NEW YORK — Iowa's Larry Wiczorek finished third in the mile race at the United States Track and Field Federation meet here Friday night.

The race was won by Villanova's Dave Patrick in a time of 4:00.6. Second was Sam Bair of Kent State in 4:04.5.

Wiczorek's time was 4:08. Last week in Chicago, he set a Big 10 mark for the indoor mile with a time of 4:06.7.

Wiczorek will return to Iowa City today and is expected to compete in the triangular meet against Northeast Missouri State and Grinnell.

SPORTS

Swim Team Here; Fencers, Wrestlers, Gymnasts Travel

Iowa's swimmers entertain Illinois at 2 p.m. in the Field House pool today, while the Hawkeye gymnasts travel to Madison, Wis., and the fencers and wrestlers travel to East Lansing, Mich.

The swimmers hope to record their first Big 10 dual meet win, after losses to Michigan State, Minnesota and Ohio State. Illinois is 4-1.

This will be the final home swimming meet of the season. Students will be admitted to the meet upon presentation of ID card and current certificate of registration. Admission for adults is $1. Children of high school age or under will be admitted for 50 cents.

Iowa's gymnasts take a 40 Big 10 record and a tie for first in the conference in their meet at Wisconsin. The fencers take on Michigan State and Wisconsin, hoping to improve their 41 record. The wrestlers, now 37 for the season and 2-4 in the conference, grapple Michigan State, the team favored to win the Big 10 title.

Top Student-Athletes Are Guests Of University

Four student-athletes who are star high school football players are visiting the campus this weekend as guests of the University.

Two are from Harrisburg, Pa., one is from Saginaw, Mich., and one is from Highland Park, Ill.

Visiting from Harrisburg, Pa., are Jan White and Dennis Green. Both attended John Harris High School, the undefeated, number one team in Pennsylvania.

White is a 6-2, 214-pound end. He was on the All-Pennsylvania football squad and should be a Big 33 selection that will play a Texas all-star squad this summer in Hershey. White holds the Pennsylvania state low hurdle record. He is interested in studying law.

Green is a 5-11, 190-pound halfback. He is rated one of the finest running backs in the East and is said to have the class and stamina to be a top Big 10 running back. He has been vice president of the John Harris student body, president of the junior class, school senator, and a youth form delegate.

White and Green were coached by George Chaump, one of Pennsylvania's finest coaches.

Visiting from Saginaw, Mich., is Dan McDonald, a 6-2, 220-pound defensive end and offensive tackle. He was coached by Mel Skillman at McArthur High School, the Saginaw Valley league champions. He is a heavyweight wrestler on a team that has won 21 straight meets. He has compiled a 9-3 wrestling record against opponents who have weighed 20-40 pounds heavier than himself. He hopes to study medicine in college.

Visiting from Highland Park, Ill., is Bob Sedik, a 6-1 180-pound quarterback. He was an all-state performer at Highland Park High School. He is an all-around athlete who also excels as a catcher in baseball. He is a fine student and rates in the upper 30 per cent of his graduating class. He wants to major in physical education.

Saints Pick Hornung, 41 Others In Pro Draft

NEW YORK (AP) — Paul Hornung, the former Golden Boy of the Green Bay Packers, became a New Orleans Saint Friday when the newest National Football League team picked 42 players from the stockpile of available veterans.

Gary Wood, the New York Giants' No. 1 quarterback after Earl Morrall was injured, and Bill Kilter, the No. 3 passer at San Francisco, were among the veterans picked by Coach Tom Fears for his Saints.

Although no figure ever was announced as the cost of the club to John W. Mecom Jr., majority owner of the Saints, it was generally believed that the price would be $8.5 million.

Upset Bid Short By Little Hawks

Iowa City took a 20-16 first quarter lead over Cedar Rapids Jefferson, but the shooting fell off in the second period as the Little Hawks were able to make just one basket and the state's No. 1 team took their 15th win against only 1 loss, 69-59, here Friday night.

After trailing by seven at the end of the half and six at the end of the third quarter, the Little Hawks narrowed the gap to only two, 53-51.

'A Well-Respected Man' Set To Open Feb. 22 At Studio

"A Well-Respected Man," the second original play of the 1966-67 season, will be presented at 8 p.m. Feb. 22 through 25 at the Studio Theatre. Written by Barry Kaplan, G. New York, the play has been submitted as his master's thesis in speech and dramatic art.

Tickets will be available at the box office in the South Lobby of the Union beginning Wednesday. Students may pick up free tickets upon presentation of identification cards Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. and on Saturday from 9 a.m. to noon. Public tickets will be on sale for $1 at the same time.

The play tells of a middle-aged man plagued by irrevocable guilt for past mistakes, according to Kaplan. Through a series of flashbacks, the audience comes to know the main character and to see him crumble with the return of an old "friend."

Cast members, under the direction of Mark Snegoff, visiting professor of film from Los Angeles, include five students — Robert Ernst, A4, Humboldt, as the husband and father who has failed; Rochelle Richelleu, A3, Wheaton, Ill., as the domineering wife and mother; Mary Beth Supinger, A3, Marshalltown, as the weak-willed daughter; Donald Muench, A2, St. Louis, Mo., as the son who defends his father, and David Gross, G1, Orono, Maine, as the old "friend" who returns to haunt the main character.

Kaplan, a native of New York, and a 1964 graduate of Hunter College, New York, has written four one-act plays, two of which have been produced at the University. He hopes to earn a master's degree in June from the University of Wisconsin as well as a master's degree in dramatic art and has submitted a novel as his thesis to the Workshop.

26 Profs Get 'Fund' Grants

Grants from the Old Gold Development Fund have been awarded to 26 University professors for summer research. The Old Gold Fund consists of contributions by alumni and friends of the University. The Fund is used in areas which generally do not receive available funds.

Each fellowship provides for three months of research. Recipients of the 1967 Old Gold Summer Faculty Research Fellowships are:

- Marvin Bell, O. M. Brack, John McLaughlin, Harry Oster, Robert Sayre and Robert Scholes, English; Robert Alexander, art; George R. Boynton, Samuel Patterson and Peter Snow, political science; Robert Buckles, C. N. Frank and T. A. Rettig, chemistry; Arthur Compton, speech pathology; Robin Cuany, botany; Stavros Delligiorgis, comparative literature; Jonathan Goldstein, Harry Horwitz and Jerome Sternstein, history; Robert Howren, linguistics; Irving Kovarsky, business administration; Daniel Moe, music; James L. Price, sociology; Galen Rowe, classics; Holmes Semken, geology; and Robert Terry, sociology.

A variety of projects will be carried forward under the grants. One professor will study Near Eastern art materials in museums in London, Paris and Berlin, while another will devote the summer to completing a second volume of poems.

In the physical sciences, projects range from a study of catalysts to research on Iowa's vertebrate fossils.

Art Show To Open

More than 80 works of art completed recently by members of School of Art faculty will be shown in an exhibition which will open Sunday in the Main Gallery of the Art Building. The show will close March 5.

New Department In Dentistry Grant

DES MOINES — Establishment of a new Department of Oral Biology in the College of Dentistry was approved by the State Board of Regents Thursday.

President Howard R. Bowen told the board that the new department would represent no proliferation of work, but deepening and intensification, and that it would be financed as part of the planned expansion of the College.

Donald Galagan, dean of dentistry, in a letter of request for the new department, said there was a need for meaningful correlation between basic sciences and clinical instruction, which could be accomplished through the new department.

Galagan also said the department would provide freshman students with an early exposure to basic science concepts that are particularly relevant to clinical dentistry; would supplement basic science instruction which dental students now receive at the College of Medicine; would allow early identification of gifted and research-oriented students; and would strengthen the research capability and research interest of dental students and dental faculty.

College officials hope to get the department operating by fall.

Few Know About Nuclear Lab Here

One of the most complex and interesting installations on the University campus is unknown to many students. It is the nuclear laboratory, which is located just south of the physics building. It includes a tower, resembling a chime tower, that houses nuclear particle accelerator.

The accelerator and the rest of the $1,240,000 laboratory have been in use since November, 1963.

Grads Use Lab

The laboratory is used mostly by graduate students in physics who are working on Ph.D. theses. They use the lab to study the behavior of sub-atomic particles and to learn the basis of atomic structures.

There is no goal, other than the discovery of knowledge, connected with the research done at the laboratory. Dr. Robert Carlson, design engineer in physics at the nuclear laboratory, said recently that pure research, without plans for application, was the function of the University.

Particles Accelerated

Geoffrey W. Hartnell, machine engineer in physics in charge of operating the laboratory, discussed the use of the accelerator and the lab. Atomic particles, protons and neutrons, are accelerated in the tower and sent into the laboratory at speeds comparable to the speed of light, he said. The beams of particles then hit targets.

The targets are extremely thin, about 100 atoms in width, he said. When struck by the beam of particles, changes in the targets' nuclear structures occur. As the altered structures of the target materials break down, high energy gamma rays are given off.

These rays are recorded and studied in order to determine what changes took place in the atomic structure of the target, Hartnell said.

No Radiation Cases

The nuclear accelerator and the laboratory should not be confused with a nuclear reactor. In fact, there is little radiation hazard in the laboratory. When there is a chance of radiation danger, precautions are taken to protect the people in the lab. In more than three years of the lab's operation, there have been no cases of radiation poisoning. The laboratory itself is a complex maze of wiring and equipment. There are six different parts of the lab which can be used for experiments.

Bank Makes Plea

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Bank, victim of a $5,250 armed robbery Thursday, ran this advertisement in today's Dallas Times Herald:

"There's no need of a gun to get a loan from Texas Bank. We're anxious, even eager to serve our customers."

The robber had given the teller a note ordering her to hand over the money, and the advertisement took note of this.

"Please, please, leave your gun at home and please, don't forget to sign the note."

Ever wonder why you see so many students carrying books and supplies in bright yellow bags like this at the beginning of each semester? There are many reasons why. If you stop by the finest one-stop book and supply store, those reasons will become obvious. And we will see to it that you get to carry around one of those yellow bags, too!
