

Top Republicans To Assemble Here

Republican leaders from all over the nation are scheduled to gather in Iowa City Saturday to participate in a conference aimed at promoting interest in public service positions among college students.

The conference "Opportunities Unlimited" which is being sponsored by the Johnson County Republican Committee and the University's Young Republicans, will be keynoted by David F. Cargo, governor of New Mexico.

Other featured speakers will include Republican National Committee Chairman Ray C. Bliss, Rep. Robert V. Denney (R-Iowa), and Rep. John B. Anderson (R-Ill.).

A major feature of the conference, to be held in the Union, will be five open seminars whose members will discuss opportunities for the college graduate in the mass media, social services, international programs, government and the academic world. Leaders in business, government, and education from all over the state of Iowa will participate in the seminars.

Conference Open

The conference is open to campus leaders invited from all over the Midwest regardless of their political affiliations.

According to Carl Varner, A2, Centerville, chairman of Young Republicans "Opportunities Unlimited" is, "an effort to encourage outstanding American college students to play a part in shaping the course and direction of our national life by entering a field related to public affairs and by assuming an active role in the partisan political process."

Cargo won election for the first time in 1966. His election was especially significant to the Republicans since New Mexico is traditionally a Democratic stronghold.

Bliss, who has been chairman of the National Committee since 1965, will remark on opportunities for influential citizenship in politics.

Denney To Speak

Denney, who was elected to his first term in 1966, will speak on "The Making of a Congressman," with respect to his own candidacy.

Anderson, serving his fourth term in Congress, will lead an informal discussion on issues of the 90th Congress from the Republican perspective.

Rep. Fred Schwengel (R-Iowa), State Representative Maurice Baringer of Fayette County, State Senator Robert Rigler of Floyd County, and Cedar Rapids Mayor Robert Johnson will be among the participants in the seminar sessions.

Barnett Rejects Steps Of Dismissal Process

Donald Barnett refused Wednesday to participate in the steps outlined in the University Operational Manual in regard to dismissal.

"I hereby formally notify the administration of my adamant refusal to participate in their fraudulent and malicious dismissal proceedings," said Barnett in a letter to Dewey B. Stuit, dean of the College of Liberal Arts.

The action from Barnett, assistant professor of sociology and anthropology, was in response to a letter from Stuit encouraging Barnett to confer with him about his case. Such a conference is one step outlined in the manual.

The dismissal procedures against Barnett were started after Barnett turned in all "F" grades for his first semester students on March 10. The University said that such grades were "totally unacceptable," and moved for his dismissal on these grounds.

At the same time he turned in failing grades for his first semester students, Barnett also turned in his resignation to be effective in June 1, 1967.

In a letter from Stuit on March 15, Barnett's resignation was accepted. Barnett was also told that dismissal procedures would be instituted at the earliest practical date.

Commenting on Barnett's decision, Stuit said, "I regret that Dr. Barnett doesn't see fit to avail himself of procedures open to him."

Parley Begins Today On Dramatic Theory

Seven visiting faculty members from United States and European universities and three University professors will present papers at a conference on dramatic theory and criticism today and Friday in the Old Capitol House Chamber.

Sponsored by the Department of Speech and Dramatic Arts, the Graduate College and the Department of English, the conference will include four sessions, all open to the public.

The first of its kind at the University, the conference will feature a series of papers dealing with the development of historical and philosophical approaches to dramatic composition and production. The practical application of critical principles to drama will also be discussed.

David M. Knauf, assistant professor of dramatic arts, is the conference director. Visitors delivering papers will be Jan Kott, Slavic languages, University of Warsaw; L. A. Beaurline, English, University of Virginia; Bernard Beckerman, theater arts, Columbia University; Robert W. Corrigan, theater arts, New York University; Eliseo Vivas, philosophy, Northwestern University; and Bernard Weinberg, romance languages, University of Chicago.

Also participating will be University faculty members Roger Hornsby, chairman of the Department of Classics, and Carl Klaus, assistant professor, and Thomas R. Whitaker, professor of English.

Donald C. Bryant, professor of speech, will give a summary and analysis at the closing session.

Moderators for the sessions will be Samuel Becker, Douglas Ehninger, George Gunkle and Orville Hitchcock, all members of the Department of Speech and Dramatic Arts faculty.

Today's sessions will run from 2 to 5 p.m. and 8 to 11 p.m., and Friday's from 9 a.m. to noon and 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. Each session will close with a panel discussion and questions from the audience.

School Board Plans Move

By CHARLES NORTON Staff Writer

The Iowa City School Board approved a measure to relocate its offices this fall in a meeting Wednesday afternoon.

The offices will be moved from their present location at 194 S. Linn to a building which will be constructed in the Towncrest Development on South Williams just south of the Drug Fair Store.

Robert T. Davis, secretary and business manager of the board, said that office space was inadequate at the present location.

Davis said the move was necessary because of the expansion of the school system and because some departments in the system were using classrooms for offices.

The new building will be leased from TMP, Inc. and will have 9,600 square feet of floor space on three floors. The present building has 3,400 square feet.

Davis said that the building was scheduled to be finished Sept. 1 and that the school board's offices would be moved as soon as the building was completed.

The new office building will be leased to the board at a cost of $1.80 per square foot per year. The board is now paying $1.63 per square foot for its present facilities.

The new building would release at least three classrooms from service as offices and increase efficiency, Davis said.

The board also approved the appointment of teachers, physical plant employees and clerical workers for the 1967-68 school year at an average salary increase of 6 per cent.

SDS To View 'Perspective'

Ways to implement the table of activities drawn up at its conference in Iowa City last weekend will be discussed at a meeting of Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) at 7:30 tonight in the Union Minnesota Room.

Everyone is invited to attend. The items drawn up at the conference, entitled "A Perspective," and scheduled for discussion tonight, are: sending medical aid to the National Liberation Front Red Cross, organizing effective demonstrations against businesses in the Iowa City area which sell products made by companies producing materials used in the Vietnam War, working with labor unions and supporting their strike activities and efforts to unionize firms, publicizing of revolutionary activities in Latin American countries and contacting student groups in other nations. The purpose of the last two items, an SDS spokesman said, is to give the American public a proper perspective on happenings outside the United States which SDS feels the American news media are giving distorted accounts of.

Also to be discussed will be SDS participation in "Peace Week," April 10-15, during which meetings and at least one demonstration protesting the Vietnam war will be held. A parade and rally are set to begin at 6 p.m. April 14.

Panhel Ends Formal Rush

Women's Panhellenic Association has eliminated formal rush and replaced it with a new informal rushing period, according to Peggy Nordeen, A3, Davenport, president of Panhellenic.

"It will be more beneficial to both sorority members and the rushees to devote the time spent in spring rush to our studies during this busy time of the year. Also it will make University scheduling in the spring much easier," Miss Nordeen said.

She said that the informal rush, which would be similar to fall informal rush, should prove as effective as a formal rush.

The newly elected Panhellenic president outlined some other plans for the coming year. Executive officers from Panhellenic and the Interfraternity Council (IFC) will be attending the IFC-Panhellenic Big 10 Conference to be held April 13 to 15 in Columbus, Ohio. The theme of the conference is "Continuous Improvement of the Greek System." Local representatives hope to get new ideas to apply to the University.

Panhellenic and IFC will be working more closely together to facilitate similar programs in the coming year by holding joint meetings and forming joint committees, Miss Nordeen said.

RUSSIANS ACCUSE U.S.—

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union accused the United States on Wednesday of trying to destroy the U.N. Charter in order to use the U.N. flag to cover American military operations. A March 16 Soviet memorandum distributed to U.N. members, made public here Wednesday warned that any U.N. Charter change to allow the General Assembly to decide upon peace-keeping operations would be resisted by the Kremlin.

Mrs. Penhorwood Competes In Metropolitan Semi-Finals

A University student who started studying music five years ago is competing this week for awards worth $4,500 and a Metropolitan Opera contract.

Constance Penhorwood, G. Fremont, O. H. I. O., whose stage name is Constanza Cucaro, is singing with 20 other vocalists this week at the Lincoln Center in PENHORWOOD, N. Y.

The week will be climaxed Friday when Mrs. Penhorwood competes in the national semi-finals at the Metropolitan Opera House.

Winners from 16 regions in the United States, Canada and Australia will be auditioning. Eight of the 21 vocalists will be allowed to come back to the Metropolitan Opera for a month of free coaching before competing Nov. 5 for the final prize of $2,500 and the possibility of a contract with the Met. About 12 finalists will be awarded study grants of $2,000.

The vocalists will perform before Rudolf Bing, general manager, his artistic staff and an invited audience.

In New York Mrs. Penhorwood will sing the two arias for which she won the regional competition and a Mozart aria from "The Marriage of Figaro."

Five years ago Mrs. Penhorwood was majoring in English and was planning to teach literature. However, her future husband, whom she met while a student at Bowling Green State University, in Ohio, encouraged her to take voice lessons.

Began Lessons Here

After the Penhorwoods were married in September, 1964, her husband came to the University to study piano. Constance enrolled here as a junior in music and began taking voice lessons under Herald Stark, professor of music.

Stark described Mrs. Penhorwood as a "lyric-coloratura, very sensitive, very teachable, and extremely musical." He expressed high hopes for her future success.

She chose Constanza Cucaro as her stage name because it was the Italian form of her maiden name.

During Easter vacation, the Penhorwoods prepared recitals for the Toledo Museum of Art and Kent State University.

She will appear in the University Opera Workshop's April 29 production of Delibes' "Le Roi L'Air" and will give a recital here May 20. She will also appear at Minneapolis Schubert Club in the near future.

—Writer Wins Guggenheim— Vonnegut Honored

Kurt Vonnegut Jr., a lecturer in the Writer's Workshop, has been awarded a Guggenheim Fellowship for a full year beginning in September. The fellowship is to be used in connection with creative writing.

Vonnegut said he would use the fellowship to work on two novels he has already started, "Goodbye Blue Monday," and "Slaughterhouse Five."

He said he would not return to the University after he leaves in June. The current academic year is Vonnegut's second at the University. When the term of his fellowship is over, he intends to return to free lance writing, which he did before coming to the University.

"Slaughterhouse Five" will deal with the World War II bombing of Dresden, Germany. Vonnegut was a prisoner-of-war at a work camp at Dresden, and the prospective book's title was the return address for mail which the prisoners were allowed to send. Vonnegut kept up his writing while a prisoner.

Bombing Research

Vonnegut said more damage was done to Dresden than to any other city in the history of the world, and this was kept secret for some time. He plans to travel to Dresden this summer and do research on the bombing and the fire storm it caused.

"Goodbye Blue Monday" was the motto for the first fully automatic washing machine for use in the home. The novel will tell of a Midwestern factory which converted from civilian production to production of arms in the Second World War and remained that way after the War.

Although the factory in the story is fictional, Vonnegut said that many factories in the United States followed this pattern.

$2.2 Million Awarded

Work on the two novels will be done at the home Vonnegut has owned since 1956 at Barnstable, Mass.

Published novels by Vonnegut include "Player Piano," "The Sirens of Titan," "Mother Night," "Canary in the Cat House," "Cat's Cradle" and "God Bless You Mr. Rosewater." The last will probably be made into a film this summer. "Cat's Cradle" is being made into a musical with Vonnegut writing the script.

University Team To Appear In 2 Debates On Television

The University debate team will meet with two other universities in live and unrehearsed televised debates this month.

The first will be with State College of Iowa at 3 p.m. Saturday.

HAMER ELLIOT

in law enforcement should be further regulated.

Representing the negative position for Iowa will be Norm Elliot, A3, Knoxville, and Mark Hamer, A2, Cedar Falls.

At 4 p.m. April 15 Iowa's team will meet Iowa State University to debate whether the United States should reduce its foreign policy commitment in Vietnam.

This debate will be televised in color.

Jim Nelson, A4, Cedar Rapids, and Dennis White, A3, Muscatine, will defend Iowa's affirmative position.

The schedule was announced Tuesday by Iowa's debate coach Robert L. Kemp.

The week will be climaxed Friday when Mrs. Penhorwood competes in the national semi-finals at the Metropolitan Opera House.

Winners from 16 regions in the United States, Canada and Australia will be auditioning. Eight of the 21 vocalists will be allowed to come back to the Metropolitan Opera for a month of free coaching before competing Nov. 5 for the final prize of $2,500 and the possibility of a contract with the Met. About 12 finalists will be awarded study grants of $2,000.

The vocalists will perform before Rudolf Bing, general manager, his artistic staff and an invited audience.

Help Sought As Guides Of Freshmen

The Orientation Council is seeking 300 University students to serve as leaders of freshman orientation groups next fall.

"Orientation is a welcome and get-acquainted period," said Elizabeth M. Gilbert, co-chairman of the Orientation Council. "It is at this time that the new students discover what the University is, what it stands for, and what it expects from them."

She said the orientation leader was the first official student representative with whom the new student came in contact.

"Every student is a potential orientation leader. He functions in that role every time he assists another student in his transition to college life. But there is need also for designated leaders who will assume special responsibility in the formal orientation program," said Pres. Howard R. Bowen.

Miss Gilbert said that the leaders should have some knowledge of University life and a desire for the activities, but the most important qualifications were enthusiasm, interest, and imagination.

She said the leaders were not required to return to the University early in the fall. They will be trained this spring.

Applications are available at the Union Activities Center. The applications are due there by Friday afternoon. Applicants will be interviewed next week.

Details Arranged For War Protest

Frank R. Smiley, city manager, said Wednesday that the details of the parade and rally by the April 15th Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam had been worked out.

Smiley said that he and Eugene F. Peters, G. San Francisco, agreed that the parade should start from the College Street Park, located between Johnson and Dodge Streets at 6 p.m. April 14. The marchers will go down Washington Street to Clinton Street where they will turn north to Old Capitol.

The rally will be held on the steps of Old Capitol. Peters said that the committee preferred Old Capitol for the rally because it was a symbol of the University and the state of Iowa.

Youth, 19, Inherits $45 Million Estate

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A. B. (Bucky) Wharton III, 19, a Texan who inherited a $45 million ranch and oil estate last week, says he expects no big change in his life.

"I've known a long time the money would be mine," the student at the University of the Americas said. "It was not a surprise."

District Judge Tom Davis in Vernon, Tex., declared Bucky to be the only legal heir of Electra Waggoner, his grandmother.

The handsome young man received the news in his modest apartment in Mexico City. Friends were more excited by the news than he was.

Wharton said he has no girlfriends here or in Texas. He plans to finish his studies at the university.

University School Students Display Art Works At Union

Art works made during the current school year by students in University Schools at the University from pre-school age through the 12th grade are being shown in the Terrace Lounge of the Union under sponsorship of the Local Shows Committee of Union Board.

The exhibition, which opened Wednesday will be shown through April 30.

Organized by Brent Wilson, associate professor of art and director of the art program in the University Schools, the exhibition shows the development of children's artistic concepts as they mature and also demonstrates their increase in skill in use of various media as they advance in school.

Children's interest in the fantastic in the early grades is evident in such work as pen and ink drawings of huge monsters by fourth graders. Similarities to the work of abstract expressionists can be seen in the use of sensuous colors and freely done shapes in the art work of pre-school students.

Eye-catching works in the show include two paintings of clowns by second graders.

Student Housing Being Examined

The University Housing Committee, at the request of Pres. Howard R. Bowen, is conducting an extensive study of the many facets of student housing.

The committee, under the direction of Royce E. Beckett, professor of mechanics and hydraulics, is investigating rules and regulations, provision of services, the value of University housing and the reasons why some students prefer off-campus housing.

A subcommittee, directed by Miss Eva H. Erickson, associate professor of nursing, has sent 4,000 questionnaires to students, faculty, parents of students, and alumni of the past five years.

Seek Opinions
The questionnaire contains 60 questions designed to gather opinions about what the values of living in dormitories should be. The questions include, "What is the ideal housing for married students?" "Should the University build high-rising apartments with cooking privileges for four students?" "If the University provided room contracts with room and one meal daily for $845, would students be interested?"

Erickson said Wednesday, "We met with the Committee on Student Life and several small dormitory groups before preparing the questionnaire in order to find out what they considered the most pertinent questions. We are concerned with both the current problems and those of the future."

In addition to studying the information gathered from the questionnaire, the committee will visit the University of Indiana, the University of Michigan, and Michigan State University to study housing policies on those campuses.

The questionnaires are to be returned by April 17. They will then be tabulated electronically by the University Examinations Service.

The findings of the questionnaire, as well as recommendations on immediate and long-range housing policies, will be presented to Bowen at a seminar on student housing to be held May 4 at the Union.

Communism Seen As Moral Danger

By FRANK MYERS, Staff Writer

The Communist threat to the free world is not a military one. Rather, the danger comes from weakening of spiritual and moral values among the people of the free world, according to Russell V. DeLong.

Unless there is a spiritual and moral renewal in the free world, communism could conquer the world without military action, DeLong said in an interview Wednesday.

RUSSELL V. DELONG
Calls For 'Moral Renewal'

DeLong, a world traveler and lecturer, is speaking at a series of meetings being held through Sunday at First Nazarine Church, 1053 Wade St.

U.S., Russia Similar
The United States and the U.S.S.R. are becoming "almost identical in scientific achievement, education, military technology, and industry, according to DeLong.

The difference between the two powers and their allies is in the spiritual and moral values retained in the free world and discarded in the Communist countries, he said.

According to DeLong there has been a weakening of these values in the west. Without moral and spiritual values in the free world there is the danger that two apparently identical materialistic powers will emerge in the world.

If this should happen, said DeLong, Communist powers could launch an all out propaganda and infiltration campaign, and conquer the world without military action. People, without moral and spiritual values, would see no need to actively oppose a Communist regime identical to their own, he said.

Not Permanent Split
The ideological split between Red China and the Soviet Union does not mean a permanent weakening of communism, said DeLong.

In less than five years a younger generation will have taken over in Red China. These will be men educated in Russia and will be interested in pre-serving communism, he said.

When this occurs, a compromise will be worked out with the Soviet Union and communism will emerge stronger than before the split, he said.

Chess Contest To Be Held At University

The Iowa state chess championship will be held this Saturday and Sunday in the Union Hawkeye Room. The contests will begin at 8:30 a.m. Saturday, and 7:30 a.m. Sunday.

To open the contests, Fred Cramer, former president of the U.S. Chess Federation, will speak at 8:30 p.m. Friday in the Union Northwestern Room.

Cramer will show slides of his recent trip as the official U.S. representative to the International Chess Federation meetings and World Chess Olympiad in Havana, Cuba.

A five-minute speed tournament will precede Cramer's talk at 7:30 p.m. in the Union Northwestern Room.

The state tournament will comprise five rounds. The championship division is open to all Iowa residents including students who have been here for six months or more.

Another feature of this year's championship is a chess display in Corner's Pipe Shop, 13 S. Dubuque St. Since the beginning of March, Glenn Proechel, G. Iowa City, last year's University chess champion, and Dr. James Stallings, Coralville, last year's state champion, have been playing a game of chess there at a rate of one move a day.

Police Investigate Theft From Auto

The theft of about $140 worth of clothing and other items from a University student's car is being investigated by the police.

Roger E. Christians, A3, Kanawha, reported Wednesday the theft of items from his car while the vehicle was parked in the 700 block of North Dubuque Street.

Items missing include five pairs of slacks, two dress shirts, one sweater and a sports coat. Christians also reported a watch and two text books were missing.
