Court Martial Convicts GI Who Opposes War

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A general court martial Monday convicted Pfc. Ronald Lockman, 23, of refusing to obey orders to go to Vietnam.

The court deliberated only 11 minutes at the end of a trial that erupted in violent confrontation between civilian spectators and military police soon after Lockman had pleaded a loud and clear "not guilty."

House Refuses GOP-Backed Cut In Poverty Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House rallied to the support of the beleaguered anti-poverty program Monday, rejecting a Republican-backed effort to cut it by $660 million.

The 154-149 nonrecord vote left intact the $2.06-billion request of President Johnson for carrying on activities of the Office of Economic Opportunity through fiscal 1968.

Another GOP amendment, to knock out a second-year authorization for the program, was approved, 136 to 130.

The key vote on the money was a smashing victory for the House leadership over the bloc that had forced deep cuts in other programs this session. About 20 Republicans broke with their party leaders to help supply the winning margin.

Rep. Ogden L. Reid (R-N.Y.), speaking directly to his GOP colleagues just before the vote, said the party would be turning its back on the destitute if it supported the heavy cut.

The amendment to reduce the spending level to $1.4 billion was offered by Rep. Charles E. Goodell (R-N.Y.) as part of a substitute GOP bill that would redirect the entire anti-poverty program.

Speaker John W. McCormack (D-Mass.) said the proposed cut would force drastic reductions in Head Start, Job Corps, Neighborhood Youth Corps and the other anti-poverty programs.

Israel, Jordan Debate In U.N.

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — Israel and Jordan, meeting face-to-face in Security Council debate, stuck to their tough no-compromise positions on a Mideastern settlement Monday.

Israel Foreign Minister Abba Eban declared that what his government sought "and what the international community should promote is not a meaningless formula" but rather "the conclusion of peace treaties by direct negotiations between Israel and the Arab states."

He said a peace settlement negotiated directly between the two sides was "not only possible but inevitable."

Foreign Minister Abdul Monem Rifa'i of Jordan, showing none of the conciliatory tone evident in public statements of Jordan's King Hussein in the United States last week, reiterated Arab demands for the withdrawal of Israeli forces from the Arab territory seized in the six-day fighting last J. withdrawal, he said, is a prerequisite for peace. If the United Nations fails to act, he warned, "we will have to return to our people" and advise them to take the necessary action "to liquidate this Israeli aggression."

Eban's statement to the council echoed remarks by Prime Minister Levi Eshkol, who told the Israeli Parliament in Jerusalem on Monday that "without direct negotiations and in the absence of peace treaties, no way out of the Mideastern crisis is visible."

Reds Believed Ready To Seek Peace, Coalition

SAIGON (AP) — There are signs that hard-pressed Viet Cong leaders may be preparing to seek negotiations with the Saigon regime with the aim of setting up a coalition government.

Newly captured Communist documents indicate the Viet Cong are trying to seize strategic areas and thus put themselves in a stronger bargaining position.

Allied intelligence reports appear to bear out this strategy, a classic Communist maneuver.

South Vietnamese Maj. Gen. Nguyen Van Manh, talking with a reporter, predicted: "The Viet Cong will start negotiations soon."

Manh is commander of the 16 provinces below Saigon in the 4th Corps, which embraces the Mekong Delta, longtime stronghold of the Viet Cong.

Based On Documents
Manh said his prediction was based on documents recently seized by South Vietnamese troops.

One document disclosed Viet Cong planned to infiltrate and capture two provinces north of Saigon and on the border of Cambodia.

The document was a directive issued by the Viet Cong's high command, known as COSVN, Central Office of South Vietnam, based in Tay Ninh Province.

This directive disclosed plans to launch largescale attacks in Phuoc Long and Binh Long provinces by Communist troops infiltrating from Cambodia.

The provinces would be occupied, the directive said, for the purpose of entering into negotiations with South Vietnam. During the period of negotiations, according to the plan, the troop buildup would continue in both provinces.

Occupy Saigon, If Failed
If the negotiations failed, Viet Cong troops would be ordered to occupy Saigon, 60 to 80 miles to the south.

An allied intelligence officer, commenting on this document, said: "This corresponds with other reports about the Viet Cong preparing for negotiations on a coalition government."

As far as could be learned, there have been no approaches, either official or clandestine, for such talks.

Kennedy Charges U.S. Cast Away Peace Bid

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy said Monday that the United States cast away last winter what may have been "the last best chance" to go to the negotiating table in Vietnam.

But the New York Democrat added that, because the alternatives to negotiation are "so unacceptable," an effort to hold peace talks "should and must be made." His comments were in an article for Look magazine.

The chances for negotiation were present throughout 1966, Kennedy said, and reached their height during the winter of 1966-67 when North Vietnam dropped its earlier insistence on U.S. withdrawal as a precondition.

"At that point," he said, "with a false scent of victory leading us on, the United States cast away what may well have been the last best chance to go to the negotiating table, on terms we clearly would have accepted before."

Pacifist Prof Probed

DES MOINES (AP) — In the absence of any evidence that a University of Northern Iowa teacher violated the law in advocating civil disobedience toward the draft, the case should be handled by university officials, Gov. Harold Hughes said Monday.

Hughes told a press conference he thought Atty. Gen. Richard Turner was correct in investigating the matter for possible infractions of Iowa law.

But on the basis of available facts, the governor said, he agreed with the way the Board of Regents handled the case of English instructor Edward Hoffmans.

The regents refused last week to take action against Hoffmans, 29-year-old pacifist who urged UNI students to refuse the induction process.

Turner said he had asked the Black Hawk County attorney for facts in the case.

He said Sunday that the only information he had on the case was what he had read in the newspapers. He said he wanted to determine if there had been any violation of state statutes dealing with "treason and offenses against the government."

Turner Recommends Firing
"On the basis of the information I have, if I had anything to say about it, Mr. Hoffmans at least would be fired from his job," Turner commented.

Although he noted that such prosecutions ordinarily are handled by county attorneys, Turner said he would try to obtain a conviction against Hoffmans.

He noted, however, that there is some question as to whether the United States is at war in Vietnam.

"War has not been declared by Congress, but I think we are at war within the meaning of the law. I don't think a formal declaration of war is necessary for prosecution of this kind of a case," Turner said.

Hoffmans has said he turned in his draft card to a U.S. Marshal at Cedar Rapids in an antiwar demonstration last month.

When asked about the case Monday, acting U.S. Attorney Steve Turner, Sioux City, said only that appropriate authorities were investigating.

Meanwhile, one of six Black Hawk County lawmakers urging Hoffmans' dismissal, Sen. Chester O. Hougen (R-Cedar Falls), called for an investigation of the entire educational system.

Suggests Study
"Instead of merely passing legislation governing employment at our universities, the Legislative Research Committee should set up a study to thoroughly investigate our entire educational system," said Hougen.

He issued a statement critical of the regents' decision not to fire Hoffmans and demanded dismissal for those among "the forces supporting" protection for Hoffmans.

"We have become so educationally minded that we have been hypnotized by some of these tin gods with Ph.D.s into thinking they are omnipotent," said Hougen.

In a related matter, Turner said Sunday he was studying an antiwar advertisement which appeared in the Nov. 5 Sunday Des Moines Register. The ad was signed by "members of the faculty and staff of the University of Iowa."

Lawyer Objects To Ad
Turner said he had received an objection to the ad from "a good lawyer who declared that the ad amounts to sedition and treason."

"We decided that it would be difficult to prove intent to betray our country which is a necessary element in prosecuting such a case," the attorney general said of the ad.

Iowa law defines treason as levying war against the state, aiding or adhering to its enemies or giving them aid and comfort. Treason in Iowa is punishable by life imprisonment.

Another section of the Iowa code stipulates a maximum prison sentence of 20 years for "insurrection or sedition" and a fine of $1,000 to $10,000.

Those found guilty of "anarchy or treason or hostility to the government of the United States or the State of Iowa" may be fined up to $1,000 or sentenced to six months in prison.

Prof Says Turner Is 'Dead Wrong'

DES MOINES (AP) — Atty. Gen. Richard Turner is "dead wrong" if he thinks he can prosecute a controversial University of Northern Iowa instructor for sedition or treason because of his anti-draft statements, Drake University law professor Craig T. Sawyer said Monday.

If charges were brought against the instructor, Edward Hoffmans, the federal courts would rule unconstitutional Iowa laws on sedition and treason because they are so vague, Sawyer predicted.

"Turner obviously hasn't backgrounded himself on the law in the field of treason or sedition and, by his statements, Turner has probably made it impossible for Hoffmans, if he should ever come to trial, to get a fair trial in Iowa," said Sawyer.

Sawyer was defense lawyer for a University of Iowa student, Stephen Smith, who publicly destroyed his draft card in October, 1965.

Education Board Hears Possible Merger Plan

The County Board of Education of Area 10 heard a review of a study about a possible merger of county school districts into an intermediate unit at a meeting Monday night at the Union.

Area 10 includes Cedar, Johnson, Linn, Washington, Iowa, Benton and Jones counties and supervises the Community College at Cedar Rapids, a vocational-technical school.

The proposed intermediate unit would provide a larger tax base and schools would be able to offer more services to the communities, according to the study.

A four-volume final report of the study was distributed to the board members to study for the next meeting to discuss the Area 10 counties merger.

Freed Sergeants Returned To U.S.

NEW YORK (AP) — Three U.S. Army sergeants returned to their homeland Monday night after long months of captivity in Vietnam. One of them had been a prisoner of war for more than four years.

The Viet Cong released the trio over the weekend and they were flown to Beirut, Rome and Paris before arriving at Kennedy airport.

One of the three, M. Sgt. Edward R. Johnson of Seaside, Calif., was carried from the plane, strapped in a wheelchair. He has been suffering from dysentery and malnutrition.

The others are S. Sgt. James E. Jackson of Talcott, W. Va., and M. Sgt. Daniel Lee Pitzer of Spring Lake, N.C.

"It's been a long trip, but I'm glad to be home," said Jackson.

The sergeants arrived on Pan American flight 119 from Paris. They had switched from a Communist to an American airliner en route from Asia.

'Glad To Be Home'
First off was Pitzer, wearing only a thin raincoat over cotton dungarees in the New York chill.

He said: "I am very glad to be home. I'm looking forward to seeing my family."

It was Pitzer who spent the longest period in the hands of the Viet Cong — he was captured in October, 1963. Johnson had been a prisoner since 1964, and Jackson was seized on July 5, 1965.

Jackson, wearing a civilian coat over light cotton clothing, was asked by newsmen to discuss his treatment at the hands of the enemy. He replied, "Not at this time."

Then Pitzer tapped him on the elbow and the two walked away.

Talk To Pentagon First
Traveling on the transatlantic airliner with the trio was A.B. Beeton, a U.S. Embassy officer. He had indicated the sergeants wanted to talk to their superiors in the Defense Department before anyone else.

Released in Cambodia Saturday, the men arrived in Beirut aboard a Czechoslovak airliner Sunday and were promptly whisked off with U.S. officials.

Thomas Hayden, a peace committee member who brought them out of Cambodia, refused to disclose details of the transfer or his role in it.

Cable Asked Release
Hayden is a Newark, N.J., writer who is opposed to U.S. involvement in Vietnam. He has said he is a member of an American peace committee whose membership includes Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., singer Joan Baez and Dr. Benjamin Spock, author of the widely used book on child care.

At Newcastle University in England, King said 11 civil rights workers, including himself, Spock and Miss Baez, had cabled the North Vietnamese government asking for the men's release on humanitarian grounds.

An assistant to King said the release was negotiated through Americans in North Vietnam but he declined to identify them.

GIs Beat Back Charge By Reds In Furious Fight

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. troops beat back a furious North Vietnamese charge late Monday, firing 105mm howitzers at point-blank range in the jungled hills of the central highlands 14 miles south of Dak To.

After a two-hour battle, the North Vietnamese broke off the engagement, but their suspected major camp two miles farther south was plastered early today by U.S. B52 eight-engine Stratoforters.

For 10 hours before the North Vietnamese struck, the enemy had rained mortar and rocket shells on positions of the U.S. forces, elements of the 173rd Airborne Brigade.

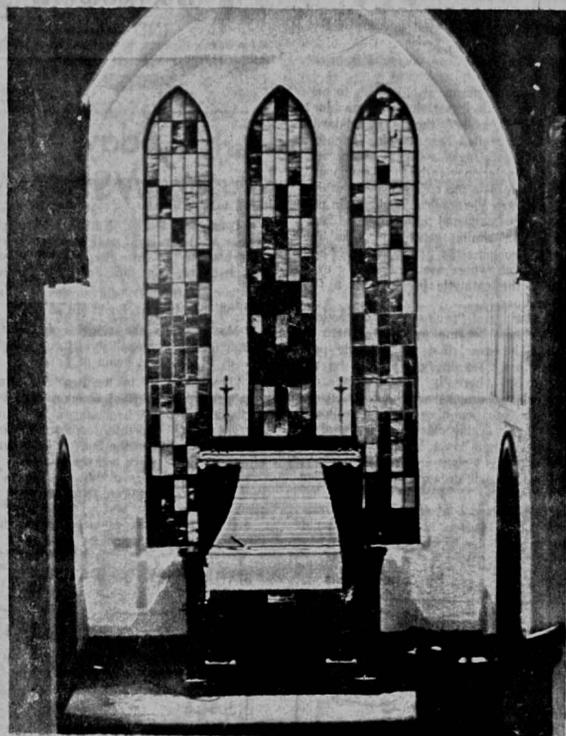

Then U.S. helicopter gunships attacked the Communists, hoping to find the reinforcements U.S. intelligence reports said were shifted to the Dak To front from the area of Pleiku, about 50 miles south.

The Americans lost 9 killed and 21 wounded in the renewed fighting, the U.S. Command reported. Its revised figures put U.S. casualties in 11 days of fighting around Dak To at 97 killed and 521 wounded.

The North Vietnamese casualties in Monday's battle were not known, but U.S. headquarters said 625 of the enemy were killed in the previous 10 days of fighting.

North Vietnamese troops launched a mortar attack Monday night on another battalion of the 173rd Airborne, dropping in 72 rounds. U.S. casualties were not immediately known.

No major ground fighting was reported elsewhere in South Vietnam, but the U.S. Command announced a new Marine Corps operation in the northern part of the country on the South China sea coast six miles above the coastal town of An Hoa.

CHURCH AND STATE might not seem very separated at St. Paul's University Lutheran Chapel, 404 E. Jefferson St., where a voting machine has been installed. But the pastor, the Rev. Paul Hoenk, explained Monday that the machine will be used to elect the church's directors this week. Polling hours are from 1 to 4:30 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday and from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Friday. Hoenk said that by using the voting machine his parishioners, many of whom are University students, will be encouraged to fulfill civic responsibilities. "As the altar is significant to Christians," he commented, "so should be the voting and what it represents."

9 Protesters Found Guilty To Get Trial

Nine persons, eight of them students, entered pleas of innocent, no defense, and were found guilty of disturbing the peace by Police Court Judge Marion Neely Monday morning.

Three other persons scheduled for hearings on the same charge failed to appear and another pleaded innocent and requested a trial.

The students were arrested along with almost one hundred other people in the anti-Marine recruiting demonstration Nov. 1. Neely said that the court usually gave a person a day or two to appear before filing "failure to appear" charges. Over half of the 108 cases have been heard and the remainder are scheduled during the rest of the week.

Those found guilty are to be sentenced at the Iowa City Police Court at 8:30 a.m. Friday.

Those who did not appear for the hearing were: Paul B. Ingram, A3, Fairfax, Va.; James E. Harley, A1, East Cleveland, Ohio; and Philip A. Schultz, G, San Francisco.

Those found guilty Monday were: Randall R. Kleinhesselink, G, Hospers; Patricia M. Fishman, G, Iowa City; Nathaniel W. Ely, A1, Cedar Rapids; Eric Torgersen, G, Huntington Station, N.Y.; Thomas H. Wilson, G, Lexington, Mass.; Raymond M. Woller, G, Iowa City; Daniel T. Lechay, G, Iowa City; Nancy R. McCannon, L1, Bloomington, Ill.; and Marjorie Smith, address unknown.

Barbara Schmwelwitz, A3, Sioux City, pleaded not guilty and was granted a trial. No date for her trial was set.

Britain Requests Unity In Industry

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Wilson issued an urgent appeal Monday night to the six Common Market countries to join Britain in creating "a vast and powerful European technology" to halt a U.S. takeover of European industry.

The prime minister said the problem was too urgent, too vital to Europeans to be delayed while Britain negotiates its entry into the Common Market.

Wilson appealed to British industry and trade unions to back him in his sweeping proposals for "industrial partnership and industrial integration."

Warren and his supporters refused to leave the building. A Central State official said student black power advocates had interrupted a campus movie Sunday night to announce that Warren, a Negro, would return to classes.

The university said Monday that Warren had not sought readmission. Brig. Gen. Robert Canterbury, assistant adjutant general for the Army in Ohio, said he was calling in about 50 guardsmen who had been on standby at the Greene County Fairgrounds four miles from the campus.

Canterbury ordered up the troops after some 200 students failed to obey an order by Sheriff Russell Bradley to disperse and go to their dormitories.

Mrs. Black, Rival Battle To Wire

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP)—Heated charges and denials that former child film star Shirley Temple Black resorted to a "last-minute smear attempt" against a strong rival over his stand on the Vietnamese war marked the windup Monday of a 10-candidate race for Congress.

The 39-year-old Woodside housewife and most of her nine rivals literally shopped for votes at supermarkets in face-to-face meetings with grocery buyers while the controversy raged.

Mrs. Black, making her political debut, and her accuser, Paul McCloskey, 40, a Korean War veteran and attorney, were rated even atop four Republican aspirants for the 11th District seat vacated by the death of Rep. J. Arthur Younger, a Republican.

"I think it is neck and neck between myself and Shirley," said McCloskey, who filed a complaint with the Fair Campaign Practices Committee in Washington, D.C.

Forell's Talk In Wittenberg Praised Highly

The lecture on Martin Luther's thought delivered by George W. Forell, professor and director of the School of Religion, has been called the high-point of the study conference held in Wittenberg, East Germany, to celebrate the 450th anniversary of Luther's 95 Theses.

Forell criticized what he called the historical process as redemptive. The praise for his talk came from the Evangelical Press Service of West Berlin, an organ of Protestant churches in West Germany.

Forell said Monday that many in his audience realized he was condemning the Marxist theory of history, though his illustrations were taken from the American civil rights movement and "God is dead" theologians.

East German church leaders agreed "the problem was as much theirs as ours," he said. He said he hopes that European theologians will learn to respect American theologians for their thought as well as for their practical skills.

Republicans Submit Plan To End Draft

WASHINGTON (AP)—Five House Republicans proposed Monday a series of steps they say could eliminate draft calls and make possible all-volunteer armed forces within two to five years.

They estimate the cost at $3.96 billion a year. It all is contained in a new book by the House members which, they told a news conference, is "the first effort to define systematically a specific program of action which can lead to an all-volunteer service and the elimination of draft calls."

The principal authors are Reps. Robert T. Stafford of Vermont, Frank Horton of New York, Richard S. Schweiker of Pennsylvania, Garner E. Shriver of Kansas and Charles W. Whalen Jr., of Ohio.

Included in their proposal is a suggestion to raise the military pay scale so that it begins at the minimum wage level but would not exceed civilian rates.

Other features include a new program of retirement benefits, expanded educational programs, a higher and fixed recruitment advertising budget, requirements that standards of acceptability for voluntary enlistment should not be more difficult than they are for the draft, and expansion of a program to replace some noncombat uniformed personnel with civilians.

Opening Planned For Wheel Room

The new Union Wheel Room will have a grand opening with a night club setting at 7 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 2.

Entertainment will be provided. Members of Angel Flight and Arnold Air Society will be waiters and waitresses. The two groups will also decorate the room for the opening. There will be a cover charge of 25 cents.

Various campus groups will act as waiters and waitresses and will be responsible for decorations every Saturday night, according to Jeanne Kirkwood, A2, Des Moines, chairman of the Union Board's Talent Repertoire Committee. The committee will help select entertainment each week.

There will be a cover charge only on Saturday nights when live entertainment is provided, Miss Kirkwood said Monday. The rest of the week, a jukebox will be available.

The Union's new food service unit, located downstairs and south of the Wheel Room, will open Nov. 26. The new unit will replace the grill in the Gold Feather Room.

The Wheel Room, which also opens Nov. 26, will provide seating for 300 people. It will contain a stage and a 400 square-foot dance floor. The name comes from four large wheels hanging on a wall.

Expelled Student Alarms Guardsmen

WILBERFORCE, Ohio (AP)—Five hundred National Guardsmen were alerted Monday after an expelled Central State University student returned to campus and barricaded himself inside a classroom building, while supporters demonstrated outside.

By early afternoon, about 50 students were reported inside the building with Michael Warren, who was expelled last week for allegedly threatening bodily harm to Rember Stokes, president of neighboring Wilberforce University.

State patrolmen and sheriff's deputies were called to the campus after a crowd of 150 to 200 students gathered outside the building at the predominantly Negro school.

No violence was reported, but

Cinderella Hoosiers Need 2 More Wins

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. — Indiana's Cinderella football team, specializing in victories just before the clock strikes midnight, could go to the Rose Bowl with a tie and a loss in its last two games.

The Hoosiers are unbeaten in eight games and share a 5-0 Big 10 lead with Purdue.

They take on Minnesota on the Gophers' home ground Saturday and follow up with an Old Oaken Bucket clash at Bloomington against Purdue.

Victory over Minnesota and a loss to Purdue would still send Indiana to the Rose Bowl, since Purdue went last year.

A tie with Minnesota and defeat by the Boilermakers would throw the Pasadena invitation decision to the Rose Bowl committee, but Indiana probably would get the nod since it has never been to the Rose Bowl and Minnesota went in 1961 and 1962.

But the road has been rough so far. Indiana came from behind with less than five minutes on the clock to beat Kansas, Iowa, Michigan, Wisconsin and Michigan State. It was Michigan State by one point, Kentucky by four and Michigan by seven.

"Most of them have been cliff-hangers right down to the wire," says Coach John Pont, who led the Hoosiers to ninth place in the Big 10 in his first two seasons and now seems to be riding a winner.

"I had thought our season record would be 5-3 and quite possible go 6-4," he said.

Pont credits at least part of Indiana's growing reputation as an endurance team, especially in the closing minutes of a game, to the fact that the team dropped almost 600 pounds of fat during the summer.

Hoosiers Are Young
"That in itself gave the coaching staff an indication of how serious the boys were," he said.

But the young team, with six to nine sophomores on the starting lineup, also has developed a winning spirit without being crippled by overconfidence.

"I don't worry about overcon-

Big 10 Meet Next Hurdle For Runners

The Hawkeye runners should be up to full strength for the Big 10 cross country championship meet Saturday at Evanston, Ill., according to Coach Francis X. Cretzmeier.

The team, which has five runners from last year's Big 10 title team, tied Indiana with 34 points in a quadrangular meet at Evanston, Ill., Saturday.

Hawkeye Larry Wiczorek was the individual winner. He ran the five mile course in 24:6.4 to break the court record by more than 28 seconds.

Curt LaBond, who has been out of action for four weeks with a foot injury, was the next Hawk finisher in fifth place.

Sports— Facts and Facets

Iowa lost to a football team Saturday that performed more tricks with a ball than the Harlem Globetrotters would in a week. The only thing Northwestern didn't pull out of the magic bag during their 39-24 win was the old Statue of Liberty play. When Iowa fans staggered out of the antique Dyche Stadium they were thoroughly convinced that those cats were wild.

ALEX AGASE

Northwestern was a team of limited resources; the keys to their defensive unit were a pair of guys called (Dennis) White and (Harvey) Blue, who by the end of the day had Hawkeye quarterback Mike Ciek and punter Dean Schuessler seeing red. White, a defensive back, spent so much time in the Iowa backfield you thought he was wearing the wrong colored uniform.

Iowa's defenders, meanwhile, had their fun trying to catch up with triple threat Chico Kurzawski; Steve Wilson and Tony Williams are probably still chasing him.

It would be convenient to blame the loss to the weak Wildcat team on, say, the Hawks' porous defense in the second period when Northwestern tacked 27 points onto the scoreboard. But the Iowa defense was on the field for nearly nine straight minutes due to the two on-side kicks by Northwestern. Until that time the Hawk defense held Northwestern in check, yielding only a 30-yard first quarter field goal. It was the running and receiving of Kurzawski — two long runners of over 25 yards — that set up what had to be one of the worst Hawkeye quarters in years.

It has been the bombs, or long gainers, that have hurt the otherwise consistent Hawk defense all year. Northwestern Coach Alex Agase probably did the best job of describing Iowa's defensive plight in his post-game press conference.

"Iowa has a good sound defense 85-90 per cent of the time, but in that other 10 per cent, they've been giving up the bombs like they did against Purdue and Leroy Keyes."

It's during such short lapses, however, that runners like Kurzawski and Keyes become the great players they are and Iowa becomes a losing football team.

But there's not many things a defense can do when it is presented with the type offense Northwestern employed, especially its kicking game, which was lousy, lethal, funny and effective. Moreover, it beat the Hawks. The Wildcats didn't kick the ball, they slapped it. Agase heralded his on-side ace, Tom Garretson, after the game as the best on-side kicker around, which puts him in a distinct class since he's probably the only on-side kicker around.

When Northwestern actually kicked off, the ball would sail down the middle of the field like an errant tin can and land near the 15 yard line where Pat Dunnigan or Williams would have a harder time fielding it than Dick Stuart would a ground ball at first base.

While most football teams polish their draw play or pass in the flat, Agase's man apparently work on a fake quick kick play which they've used all of twice this year. But after seeing the Wildcats, one wonders if they could beat anybody playing it "straight."

Iowa played its usual ultra-conservative ball game Saturday, deviating from the norm only once. It turned to be a fatal move. After seeing Northwestern's razzle dazzle tactics work so effectively in the second quarter, the Hawks decided to give it a try with an on-side kick of their own, but it failed miserably. Northwestern recovered the kick near mid-field with only 45 seconds left in the half and scored five plays later. The touchdown put Northwestern ahead by an unbelievable 32-10 halftime margin, and Iowa Coach Ray Nagel admitted that the futile kick was probably the turning point in the game.

Despite the outcome of the game, much credit has to be given to Ciek, who had about as much protection during the game as the man whose wife stole the Ban roll-on. Ciek was able to up the offensive production 24 points over last week's shutout by Minnesota and he had only one pass intercepted, despite continual pressure from the red-dogging Wildcats. Ciek threw so many passes with Northwestern line men draped around his shoulders that it became passe after a while. It was probably a miracle that only one of his passes landed in Wildcat arms. Ciek labored under an added handicap for nearly a quarter when elusive wingback Barry Crees was sent to the sidelines by a head injury, his first significant injury of the year.

If there was one consolation Saturday it was that Iowa's cotenant in the Big 10 cellar, Wisconsin, also lost. But the Badgers were beaten by a hungry Ohio State team which the Hawks will have to face next week. Iowa, however, probably has a good chance to pick up its first conference win of the year against the Buckeyes, or against Illinois the next week in the season finale, if the Bucks and Illini play football instead of soccer.

Podolak Drills For 1st Time Since Injury

Iowa's football team drilled for nearly two hours Monday with sophomore quarterback Mike Ciek guiding the No. 1 offense and injured quarterback Ed Podolak working briefly in a specially made corset to protect the rib he broke in the Wisconsin game Oct. 28.

It was Podolak's first practice in nearly two weeks.

Coach Ray Nagel said official word on Podolak's availability for the Ohio State game will be made Thursday. He indicated, however, that he would use both Ciek and Podolak should the injured signal caller be available.

Nagel said the Hawkeyes did not sustain any major injuries in their loss to Northwestern and should be near full strength for Saturday's game at Columbus.

FOOTBALL FOR SHUT-INS

At next Saturday's football game while you are sitting in your choice student's seat behind the end zone, won't you pause and give a thought to football's greatest and, alas, most neglected name? I refer, of course, to Champert Sigafos.

Champert Sigafos (1714-1928) started life humbly on a farm near Thud, Kansas. His mother and father, both named Walter, were bean-gleaners, and Champert became a bean-gleaner too. But he tired of the work and went to Montana where he got a job with a logging firm. Here the erstwhile bean-gleaner worked as a stump-thumper. After a month he went to North Dakota where he tended the furnace in a granary (wheat-heater). Then he drifted to Texas where he tidied up old fields (pipe-wiper). Then to Arizona where he strung dried fruit (fig-rigger). Then to Kentucky where he fed horses at a breeding farm (out-toter). Then to Long Island where he dressed poultry (duck-plucker). Then to Alaska where he drove a delivery van for a bakery (bread-sledder). Then to Minnesota where he cut up frozen lakes (ice-slicer). Then to Nevada where he determined the odds in a gambling house (dice-pricer). Then to Milwaukee where he pasted camera lenses together (Zeiss-splicer).

Finally he went to Omaha where he got a job in a tannery, beating pig hides until they were soft and supple (hog-flogger). Here occurred the event that changed not only Champert's life, but all of ours.

Next door to Champert's hog-floggery was a mooring mast for dirigibles. In flew a dirigible one day, piloted by a girl named Graffa von Zeppelin. Champert watched Graffa descend from the dirigible, and his heart turned over, and he knew love. Though Graffa's beauty was not quite perfect—one of her legs was shorter than the other (blimp-gimper)—she was nonetheless ravishing, what with her tawny hair and her eyes of Lake Louise blue and her marvelously articulated haunches. Champert, smitten, ran quickly back to the hog-floggery to plan the wooing.

To begin with, naturally, he would give Graffa a present. This presented problems, for hog-flogging, as we all know, is a signally underpaid profession. Still, thought Champert, if he had no money, there were two things he did have: ingenuity and pigskin.

So he selected several high grade pelts and stitched them together and blew air into them and made for Graffa a perfectly darling little replica of a dirigible. "She will love this," said he confidently to himself and proceeded to make ready to call on Graffa.

First, of course, he shaved with Personna Super Stainless Steel Blades. And wouldn't you? If you were looking to impress a girl, if you wanted jaws as smooth as ivory, dewlaps like damask, a chin strokable, cheeks fondlesome, upper lip kissable, would you not use the blade that whisks away whiskers quickly and slickly, tuglessly and nicklessly, scratchlessly and matchlessly? Would you not, in short, choose Personna, available both in Injector style and double-edge style? Of course you would.

So Champert, his face a study in epidermal elegance, rushed next door with his little pigskin dirigible. But Graffa, alas, had run off, alas, with a bush pilot who specialized in dropping limes to scurvy-ridden Eskimo villages (fruit-chuter).

Champert, enraged, started kicking his little pigskin blimp all over the place. And who should walk by just then but Jim Thorpe, Knute Rockne, Walter Camp, and Pete Rozelle!

They walked silently, heads down, four discouraged men. For weeks they had been trying to invent football, but they couldn't seem to find the right kind of ball. They tried everything—hockey pucks, badminton birds, bowling balls, quoits—but nothing worked. Now seeing Champert kicking his pigskin spheroid, their faces lit up and as one man they hollered "Eureka!" The rest is history.

Speaking of kicks, if you've got any about your present shave cream, try Burma-Shave, regular or menthol.

Haggard Wins Friends With 30-Yard Boots

CORVALLIS, Ore. — Ever since Dee Andros saw Mike Haggard kicking 30-yard field goals three years ago, the two have been the best of friends.

Haggard, a 23-year-old senior engineering major, booted a 30-yard field goal Saturday as Oregon State defeated top-ranked Southern California 3-0.

And it was Haggard's foot that enabled Oregon State to tie UCLA 16-16 when the Bruins were No. 2. He kicked three field goals in a 22-14 win over Purdue when the Boilermakers were No. 2.

Haggard, who specialized in kicking for Parkrose High School of Portland, Ore., went to coach Andros as a sophomore and told him he wanted to go out for football.

"What position do you play?" asked Andros.

"I'm a placekicker," replied Haggard.

"Yeah," said Andros, "but what position do you play?"

"Nothing," said Haggard, "I just kick."

"Okay, show me," said Andros.

"When he started hitting from 20 and 30 yards," Andros recalled Monday, "we became good friends awfully fast."

As a sophomore, the 5-11, 187-pound Haggard connected on two of six field goal attempts and nine of 13 conversion tries.

Last season, he made 16 of 21 extra point tries and five of seven field goal attempts.

This season he has kicked 17 out of 20 extra points and eight of 15 field goals.

High Court Acts To Aid Poor

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court took another step toward a system of criminal justice that treats the poor like the rich alike.

The equalizer is the right to a lawyer's help, and the court agreed to hear arguments on that point at which a convicted man may be taken off probation and sent to jail.

"Appointment of counsel for an indigent is required at every stage of a criminal proceeding where substantial rights of a criminal accused may be affected," Justice Thurgood Marshall wrote in his first opinion for the high court.

The court also turned down a plea by Capt. Howard B. Levy that a federal court be empaneled to hear his challenge to the military code of justice.

Polls Show LBJ Down

WASHINGTON — The Louis Harris Poll indicated Monday that public confidence in President Johnson is at a record low, while the Gallup Poll showed voters have more faith in the Republican than in the Democratic party.

The Harris Poll said public confidence in Johnson personally and in his handling of the Vietnamese war had dropped to 23 per cent of those responding late last month.

The Gallup Poll, on the other hand, said its nationwide survey indicated 30 per cent of those responding had more faith in the GOP than in the Democratic party to handle the war, racial strife and the high cost of living.

Molten Steel Erupts, Kills 1

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Tons of white hot molten steel spewed over 21 men at a foundry Monday claiming one life and setting off screams of anguish in what a survivor called a scene of hell.

The Jefferson County coroner's office said Jerry Copeland, 30, of Pleasant Grove, died of burns after he and eight others were critically injured. Two others were seriously injured. Ten received first-aid treatment after the unexplained blast sent 17,000 pounds of liquid steel flying out the end of a large centrifugal molding machine.

Officials at American Cast Iron Pipe Co. said they do not know what caused a metal plate to be blown from the end of the cylinder holding the hot metal.

"It was hell," said John Whaley, a worker who escaped injury.

New Folk To Hold Concert At Union

By SUSAN HOOVEN
The New Folk, a group of nine singers connected with the Campus Crusade for Christ International, will present a concert at 8 tonight in the Union Main Lounge. Admission will be $1. A concert also was presented Monday night.

The group originated at the University of Minnesota three years ago, and was composed of members active in the Campus Crusade for Christ movement. Last year they traveled around the country on a full-time basis, playing to over 100,000 students.

Two groups of the New Folk—one on the east coast and the other on the west—tour the country. The groups have identical programs. Michael Omartian, who sings with the group performing here, does the arranging for both groups.

The members of the group do not make money from the tour personally. They must raise their own financial support before going on tour.

Ti Buckman, one of the original members, said that several members of the group have masters degrees and could be making much more money, "but they feel that this is where God wants to use them—this is where they can have the most impact on the world."

The New Folk puts on a two-hour concert. For the first hour and a half, the basic purpose is to entertain with songs such as "Up, Up and Away" and "Feelin' Groovy." During the last part of the concert, the group sings songs that ask questions without answers, Miss Buckman said.

London Co-Op Robbed By 'Experts'

LONDON (AP)—A gang of cool and expert burglars using an up-to-date thermal lance flame cutter broke into the London strong room of a giant chain store cooperative over the weekend and got away with a fortune in gems and cash.

Detectives who rushed to the headquarters Monday first estimated the haul at $2.5 million. But Scotland Yard said later it will take some time to question all the owners.

Quick Answers To Difficult Questions Advantage Of Improved Library Setup

By JO ANN BOLTON

A 51-year-old housewife walked into the public library in Marshalltown with a question concerning Spanish literature in the 16th Century. She couldn't find the answer to her question in the available resources.

The librarian placed a call to the Iowa City Public Library, asked the question, and the woman received her information.

"This sounds simple enough, but how does it work and why?"

The Seven Rivers Library System provides the answer.

"One of 10 such regional systems in Iowa, the Seven Rivers system was established to improve library service through public library cooperation, according to Mrs. Nellie Neafie, area consultant.

The system was established two years ago by the Iowa State Traveling Library with some federal aid. It serves 14 counties which have 59 libraries. Of the 59, 27 belong to the system.

The service provided for the Marshalltown housewife, as well as all other adult non-students in the area, is available through a cooperative reference service.

The Seven Rivers System is unique in that the five largest libraries in the area, which are in Iowa City, Davenport, Cedar Rapids, Clinton and Marshalltown, chose two fields of specialization for which they received federal funds. The funds are intended to aid in strengthening these specialized fields exclusively, Mrs. Neafie said.

Any member library may contact the appropriate reference center for information and have the call billed to a credit card paid for by federal funds, she said.

The reply may be given immediately or sent by mail the same day.

"This reference service is our answer to the computer. Human beings are our computers," Mrs. Neafie said.

The service is a pilot project for the state, and if it is successful, the network of reference centers will be expanded throughout the state, she said.

"The system has a solid simplicity," Mrs. Neafie said. "It works."

The Seven Rivers system also provides for a system of book rotation. Each participating library contracts to pay 15 per cent of its total budget, or $200, whichever is more, for books selected by each library. The orders for these books are then sent to the Iowa City Public Library, headquarters for the system, where the books are purchased, processed and catalogued.

Collections Rotate
These books are put into a rotating collection for a year and are replaced every three months by a different collection from other cooperating libraries. Thus each library's collection is multiplied four times during the year.

After rotation, the books are returned to the purchasing library's permanent collection.

In addition, several books purchased with federal funds are circulated indefinitely.

The libraries agreed to remain open a certain number of hours and determined to work toward improving their book collections and the physical appearance of their buildings when they joined the system.

Mrs. Neafie summarized the system as an educational and informational "happening" which offers "the best books to the most people at the lowest cost."

JOHN KOBES' BACKYARD STONE CHURCH
The Chapel Has Been Visited By Thousands

Iowa City's Stone Chapel Perfect For Small Wedding

Planning a small wedding? Then Iowa City's Stone Chapel is the place for the ceremony.

The church, which was built in 1963 by John Kobes, 520 S. Governor St., seats four people at a time.

Kobes said recently he decided to build the church when he found a pair of stained-glass windows in a junk pile.

Four months, 50 bags of cement and 20,000 rocks later Kobes had a church in his backyard measuring four feet eight inches wide by eight feet four inches long.

The church is always open to the public, according to Kobes. He said that if he was not home, one of his neighbors always had the key.

About 10,000 people from both the United States and several foreign countries have visited the church. Two weddings have been held in it, Kobes said.

Kobes said that he had been building decorative ponds, fences, windmills and wishing wells most of his life.

He also built a wishing well this summer from rocks, pearl buttons, shells, chunks of crockery and broken mirrors.

Harclerod is also president-elect of the Association of State Colleges and Universities.

Social Workers To Hear Of Gault

The Gault case's implications for social work will be the subject of an institute for members of the southeast Iowa chapter of the National Association of Social workers on Friday at the Union.

In May the U.S. Supreme Court ruled in the case of Gerald Gault vs. the State of Arizona that juvenile court hearings are adversary in nature, and that the Bill of Rights entitles children to the same procedural safeguards as adults.

The program includes talks on "Legal Significance of the Gault Case" by Samuel M. Fahr, professor of law, and on "The Impact of the Gault Decision Upon Probation and Social Work" by Carl P. Parks of Des Moines, chief probation officer in Polk County.

Coordinator of the program is Richard P. Vornbrock, social service chief at Psychopathic Hospital.
