

Iowa Loses Lead

Iowa's stay on top of the Big 10 standings was a brief one as the Hawkeyes dropped a 86-73 decision to Purdue Tuesday night. Rick Mount scored 38 points to lead the Bollermakers. See story, Page 4.

Broderick said, depending on how many first grade students enroll. The seventh and eighth grade students will attend junior high schools in either the Iowa City, One Tree or Highland community school districts. The parish comprises parts of all three districts.

If the elementary grades had been discontinued, students could have attended either the Hills public school or Iowa City, One Tree or Highland schools. St. Joseph's school has been operating with grades one through eight since 1908, Broderick said.

Shortage Found in Keokuk Books

DES MOINES (AP) — A $104,000 shortage has been discovered by state Auditor Lloyd Smith in the books of the Lee County treasurer's office in Keokuk, whose supervisor has been indicted by a grand jury.

Smith submitted a report to county officials Monday listing $7,117 in missing cash for 1966, $8,866 for 1967 and $40,500 in redemption fees not accounted for during the period.

Deputy County Treasurer R. C. Laubersheimer, director of the Keokuk office, is under indictment in a charge of making false entries as a public officer. County Treasurer Loretta Prietang, whose office is in Fort Madison, is Laubersheimer's boss.

The Lee County Grand Jury, which began hearing evidence in Laubersheimer's case last week, had recessed pending receipt of the special state audit. It is scheduled to reconvene Tuesday. Additional charges against Laubersheimer or other personnel in the treasurer's office may be filed as a result of the grand jury investigation, said County Atty. Robert Dickey.

In his report, Smith said $13,000 of the missing cash was paid in taxes by the Hubinger Co. but were not registered or apportioned with other tax collections.

The report listed delinquent real estate taxes paid from Jan. 1, 1966, through Dec. 31, 1967, on which it said no penalties were assessed, and said $337 had been received in past payments on delinquent taxes but "we could not find these payments having been recorded as receipts."

The audit said the records of the Keokuk office were "in very poor condition" and some records were stored in a second-floor unheated room. The current tax books, Smith said, are poorly bound and in bad condition.

Viet Cong's 'Saigon Drive' Begins With 4-Hour Battle

SAIGON (AP) — American infantrymen caught up with a band of Viet Cong storming through Saigon's northeastern suburbs Tuesday and killed 123 in a blazing, four-hour battle. Northwest of the capital, government rangers said they killed 32 guerrillas in a gun battle near the Phu Tho cemetery.

The fighting, coupled with a light rocket Red attack on Tan Son Nhut air base, came amid reports that another Communist drive on Saigon was in the offing.

The Communist high command, thwarted in its initial efforts to seize Saigon at the lunar new year at the end of January, was said to have called for a leveling of Saigon in attacks before the month is out.

It was not immediately clear whether the guerrilla units in Saigon's suburbs were pulling out of the capital after the drive three weeks ago or were gathering for another attack.

Fight Starts After Block

The latest Saigon fight developed after U.S. 1st Infantry Division soldiers set up blocking forces in Thu Duc, six miles northeast of Saigon, to catch Viet Cong who had battled with Vietnamese marines two days earlier at Binh Loi Bridge.

The United States had called in helicopter gunships, fighter-bombers and artillery during the fight which took place in an area of small farms.

U.S. losses were 15 killed and 11 wounded.

Guerrillas Set Up Weapons

The South Vietnamese command said aerial observers had seen guerrillas setting up several anti-aircraft weapons two and a half miles southwest of busy Tan Son Nhut, which serves military aircraft and commercial jet liners.

Allied jets hit the gun placements with bombs and rockets.

Rumors of an impending Viet Cong assault in the early morning hours today raced through Saigon as artillery barrages and air strikes rumbled in outlying areas. Flares lighted the sky and explosions could be heard in the heart of the city.

Private sources said two battalions of Viet Cong, perhaps 800 men, were in action west of the city. But military authorities said they had no word of any significant incidents there or elsewhere in the immediate area of the capital.

Saigon police and allied troops were on full alert for developments in the second wave, which dwindled after its opening of rocket and mortar attacks on 47 centers and a few ground assaults across Vietnam Sunday.

Intelligence reports reaching the U.S.

troops said Viet Cong of Kien Hoa Province in the Mekong Delta had been told the Viet Cong offensive would last until the end of February and they were ordered to supply maximum reinforcements for a new battle for Saigon. The Viet Cong said that the aim was to destroy the city.

Red Troops Number Over 10,000

The Communists were estimated to have 10,000 to 15,000 men, including units of the 7th North Vietnamese Division and the 5th and 9th Viet Cong divisions, within a day's march of Saigon. There is a greater number of Allied troops close by.

Communist crews kept up widely spaced shelling of Saigon's Tan Son Nhut air base and lost four rounds of rocket and mortar fire Tuesday. U.S. military spokesmen said one round exploded between two runways, causing neither damage nor casualties, and the others fell just outside the perimeter.

Tan Son Nhut, one of the busiest airports in the world, handles both military and commercial traffic for Saigon. The base has become a prime target since the Viet Cong launched their lunar new year offensive at the end of January.

Saigon To Beef Up Armed Forces

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese government has accelerated its partial mobilization scheme in the face of intensified Communist attacks, and hopes to arm 65,000 more men by the middle of the year.

This seems doubtful unless the government can lower the desertion rate and decrease casualties.

The government has had difficulty keeping its armed forces up to 770,000 men counting all paramilitary and police forces.

The mobilization plan, decreed by President Nguyen Van Thieu last October and pushed ahead of schedule after the Communists began their offensive three weeks ago, will attempt to increase the military force to 825,000 men.

The plan lowers the draft age from 20 to 18, recalls some reservists, limits desertions and halts discharges.

The recall of reservists is limited to men of 18-33 years of age with less than five years' service. Reservists 34-38 are asked to volunteer. The draft can also call men up to 45 who have special skills.

Regular army deserters who were captured and put into labor battalions are being pardoned and returned to active duty.

Twenty-year-olds are being drafted and as soon as that age group is exhausted, 19-year-olds will be called, probably in late April. Youths of 18 will be called when the 19-year age group has been inducted.

The narrow deferment system will make it tougher for men to avoid the draft. Deferments for business or professional reasons are canceled. Deferments are restricted in the cases of education and religion. Students cannot study abroad unless they obtain scholarships in a field of study beneficial to the nation.

Renewal Suit Decision Not Expected Till March

By CHERYL ARVIDSON
Asst. City Editor

Final arguments in the urban renewal hearing in Johnson County District Court were concluded Tuesday afternoon.

A decision on whether all, none or some of the five city councilmen will be permanently halted from taking action on federal urban renewal projects for the city is not expected until after March 1.

Counsel for the plaintiff and counsel for the defense concluded their cases Tuesday morning. At that time, District Court Judge Clair E. Hamilton requested that the two counsels submit proposed findings of fact, conclusions and judgments of decree to him on or before March 1.

The court hearing is a result of a temporary injunction issued by Hamilton in early September. In issuing the injunction, Hamilton enjoined four of the then five councilmen, only two of whom are still council members, from further action on renewal issues.

Twenty Iowa City businessmen brought action against council members in September, alleging that the members had conflicts of interests in the proposed renewal area.

Lundberg Testifies
Tuesday morning's testimony was from Barry Lundberg, director of planning and urban renewal for the city. Lundberg's testimony dealt with details of preparations of urban renewal planning for the city's project.

William Meardon, attorney for the city, questioned Lundberg as the city's only defense witness.

In afternoon arguments, Joseph Thornton and William Bartley, attorneys for the businessmen, contended that all council members since 1964 have had conflicts of interest in urban renewal.

Any interest, direct or indirect, was a disqualifying interest, Thornton said.

Thornton stressed that the plaintiff was not questioning the integrity of any of the council members. Thornton said the decisive matter in the businessmen's case was the existence of an interest in the area under consideration, not the influence of such an interest.

City Atty. Jay Honohan and Meardon presented the defense summary.

Meardon contended that Mayor Loren Hickerson, who was temporarily enjoined in September, was not in conflict of interest simply because he was a University employee.

University Favors Renewal
Hamilton's September reasoning included Hickerson in the injunction because the University favored the urban renewal program and had property in the renewal area.

Hickerson is director of community relations for the University.

If Hickerson were enjoined because of his University employment, "no member of the City Council could vote at all because they're all employees of the city and the city owns property," Meardon said.

Meardon said that a city councilman having an interest in a certain phase or area of an entire renewal project should disclose his interest in writing and not participate in acts by the municipality affecting his property.

This interest would not affect the councilman's ability to vote on other areas in which he did not have property, Meardon said.

Meardon argued that the injunction issued on the four councilmen in September was not valid because the council had not acted on any property included in the renewal project.

Meardon said a city had urban renewal areas and plans until a public hearing was held on the issue. After the public hearing

Autonomy Referendum Set

By KAPPY BRISTOL

The Student Senate gave its second approval Tuesday night to its controversial autonomy amendment to the still unapproved new student body constitution.

The amendment, which now goes before the student body as a referendum question in the March 13 all-campus election, would serve to free student government from University control and, in effect, put the new constitution into operation without the signature of Pres. Howard R. Bowen.

Associate Dean of Students Roger Augustine who is adviser to the senate, told The Daily Iowan that he would not stand in the way of putting the amendment question on the ballot. Augustine, whose signature is necessary on all senate checks, said he would approve financing of the up-coming election.

In a separate vote, the senate passed by acclamation a resolution calling for an active information campaign directed against the new draft policy to graduate students. The measure was introduced by representatives of the campus chapter of Students for a Democratic Society (SDS). The amendment passed by a vote of 18 1/2 to 7 1/2, less than one full vote more than necessary for the two-thirds majority.

The resolution now needs only the approval of the student body in referendum for ratification.

The senate also accepted the election rules proposed by the newly-appointed Elections Board.

The autonomy amendment was passed after Augustine spoke to the senators. Augustine said he supported any action which initiated with the students and allowed them to do what they wished. He said that a body of 18,000 students could form any organization with any name and that it would be a legitimate, viable association of those students.

He added, however, that he envisioned difficulties stemming from the amendment and he then proceeded to question the power and authority of a student senate functioning outside the University administration. He questioned whether or no the senate could fulfill the functions it now performs, such as dispersing student fees to campus groups, chartering student organizations, and recommending students to student-faculty committees.

"How can an organization not recognized by the Board of Regents function on behalf of the students and other recognized groups?" he asked.

He said that an essential step would be to ask the regents to recognize the new student association as the voice of the students and then to work from there.

Student Body Pres. John Pelton said, in referring to the upcoming elections, that the amendment should not be used as a political lever.

The draft policy resolution calls for a mass meeting to be held to question University officials about the new draft ruling concerning graduate students.

It also calls for a meeting of community leaders, faculty members, and leaders of recognized student organizations to discuss the ruling and its implications for all students.

Democrats See McCarthy Gains In N.H. Primary

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic party officials expect Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy to poll a substantial vote in New Hampshire's March 12 primary. But they are already looking beyond that as they gear up the party machinery for President Johnson's re-election campaign.

"It will not surprise me if he (McCarthy) gets 30 to 35 per cent of the vote," one party source said Tuesday. "He is there, he is on the grounds."

The source said there were no plans for either the President or Vice President to visit New Hampshire.

But the source went on to say that even if the New Hampshire vote results in a victory for McCarthy over forces organizing a write-in campaign for the President, this will not alter Johnson's plans to stay out of the party's pre-convention battles.

There is still a possibility Johnson's name will be entered against McCarthy in the April 30 Massachusetts primary, but the source called this unlikely and said one of the state's leading Democrats would undoubtedly be given the assignment.

Council To Discontinue Bus Company Subsidy

By RON GEORGEFF

The City Council voted unanimously Tuesday night to suspend the city's $5,000 monthly subsidy to the Iowa City Coach Co. and to continue negotiations with the company for an acceptable contract.

The resolution cutting off the funds to the bus company, which the city had been paying since the fall of 1966, was passed at a combined council meeting and public hearing.

The University has contributed $2,000 of the monthly subsidy since the subsidy began. The University will discontinue payment, according to Merril C. Ludwig, vice president in charge of planning and development.

The subsidy cancellation resulted from a temporary breakdown in contract negotiations between the city and the bus firm at a closed meeting Thursday.

Negus Gives Deadline

At that meeting Lewis H. Negus, president of the bus company, told the city that he would discontinue bus service on June 10 if the city did not accept his company's proposed contract by March 1.

City Manager Frank R. Smiley and City Atty. Jay H. Honohan found the contract unacceptable and recommended that the council pass the resolution suspending the subsidy in an informal session Tuesday.

The bus company's proposed contract called for either a continuation of the $5,000 monthly subsidy and dime fare or of a $3,000 monthly subsidy and a 15-cent fare.

Smiley said that the $5,000 subsidy was too high according to a study by Joe R. Fritzmeyer, associate professor of accounting, and Louis F. Biagioni, associate professor and chairman of accounting.

City Sets Conditions

The city's contract proposed that the city own the buses, lease them to the bus company, continue the 10-cent fare, decide routes and schedules, give the company a 10-cent-a-mile subsidy and after six years increase that subsidy 3 per cent.

Negus, however, objected to paying overhead costs, the contract being retroactive to Aug. 1, 1967, and the city's ownership of the buses.

Negus said that he would increase the bus fare to 15 cents beginning March 1 to see whether he could operate the bus line with that increase.

At both the informal and formal council meetings Tuesday Mayor Loren Hickerson said that the city would definitely continue to negotiate with the bus company.

Council Wants Agreement

"The City Council is interested in reaching an agreement with the bus company that would be advantageous to both sides," Hickerson said.

"The city's purpose in the whole matter is to provide good bus service and not to operate at a profit. But we want the company to have the profit," Hickerson said.

The University's position in the contract talks had always been the maintenance of the dime fare, Ludwig said. He expressed disappointment Tuesday night that the fare would be increased.

The public hearing on the proposed bus contract failed to bring any public comment.

Vets To Give Tithes To Protest War

Three veterans who are students at the University stated today in a letter to the editor of The Daily Iowan that they would donate one-tenth of the money they received through the GI Bill of Rights to U.S. organizations legally protesting the Vietnam war or doing relief work in Vietnam.

The three signers are: Milton G. Reigelman, G. Baltimore; David C. Paradis, G. Oakland, Calif.; and Edmund A. Tilley, G. Paducah, Ky.

Reigelman said that this action had been prompted in part by the decision last Thursday of nine National Defense Education Act (NDEA) fellows to contribute a portion of their grants to Vietnamese relief agencies or legal protest organizations.

At present the GI Bill provides veterans a monthly allowance of $130 for full-time students with no dependents, $155 with one dependent and $175 with two dependents; $10 is added for each dependent over this number.

The three invited fellow veterans in agreement with them to sign a petition posted by Reigelman's office in the English-Philosophy Building.

Tilley said they hoped to get as many as 500 signatures on the petition. If enough signatures are obtained, a letter similar to the one in today's DI will be sent to all Iowa congressmen.

Reigelman said the veterans hoped to rally the "strong undercurrent" of opposition to the war which they think exists among veterans here.

Dick Fickejs, contact representative for the Veterans Administration in Des Moines told the DI recently that veterans would not jeopardize their benefits by such an act and could only forfeit their benefits if they withdrew from school.

The signers said they thought it was necessary to voice dissent and show that veterans who had served in the armed forces were also opposed to the war.

Tilley and Paradis were in the Navy and Reigelman served in the Army. The veterans said that they represented no organization or committee and had no plans to form an organization at this time.

Partly cloudy and continued cold with a high of 22 today. Clearing and cold Thursday.

Goddard To Testify On LSD

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson Administration reluctantly agreed Tuesday to let James L. Goddard, food and drug administrator, testify before Congress on penalties for possession of LSD, an issue on which he and the President differ.

Sources said the reason the administration kept Goddard, who opposes penalties for LSD possession, from testifying as leadoff witness at a Senate hearing Monday was hope that congressional officials could be talked out of having him testify at all.

SDS Confronts Careers Speaker

By GORDON YOUNG

One of the highlights of Tuesday's Business Careers Conference was an unscheduled confrontation between four members of the campus chapter of Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) and the main speakers at the conference's kickoff luncheon.

The confrontation, witnessed by about 30 students who were attending the conference, was non-violent and took the form of a debate on the value of demonstrations to end social problems between the SDS group and the speaker, Leonard Spacek of Chicago, chairman of Arthur Andersen & Co., an international public accounting firm.

The SDS members insisted it was sometimes necessary to take to the streets in order to impress upon civic and business leaders the need for open housing and equal employment opportunity.

Spacek contended that demonstrations which interfered with orderly, step-by-step negotiations did little good. More is accomplished, he said, by working within the establishment.

To no one's surprise, the debate ended in a draw.

Luncheon Adjourned

The SDS members had planned to question Spacek after he addressed a Business Careers Conference luncheon Tuesday noon at the Union Ballroom.

But the 250 luncheon guests — who heard a rather rambling defense of the profit motive as a panacea for civilization's woes — were adjourned before the SDS members could question the speaker.

The question-and-answer session was held, instead, in Phillips Hall and lasted only a bout half an hour — to the obvious relief of the business students and faculty members.

Spacek, however, seemed to enjoy the impromptu debate and revealed himself as a long-time worker for better race relations in Chicago.

He said he had been a leader in open housing and equal employment opportunity efforts in Chicago long before the Rev.

Florida Takes Steps To Combat Walkout

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — The Florida Board of Education gave School Supt. Floyd Christian emergency powers Tuesday to combat a statewide teacher walkout that Christian called a "violation of everything we stand for in America."

Christian's office was unable Tuesday to say how many of the state's 67 county school systems were closed or how many teachers were off the job. An early Associated Press survey showed school systems in 21 counties entirely closed with others operating some schools.

More than a half million of the state's 1.3 million pupils were shut out of classes and 26,005 teachers of 60,844 were known to be off the job Monday. Some returned on Tuesday, but others left.

Memphis Trash Keeps Piling Up

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A strike of 1,300 garbage collectors moved through its ninth day Tuesday with city and union officials still deadlocked over main issues in the bitter dispute.

Mayor Henry Loeb has insisted that no fruitful sessions can be held until the strikers return to their jobs. He called the walkout illegal.

The stoppage equaled in duration the recent strike of sanitation men in New York City.

LAFAYETTE — Purdue, and sophomore gunner Rick Mount, ended Iowa's short-lived reign on top of the Big 10 standings with a runaway 86-73 victory here Tuesday night.

The loss dropped the Hawks into a second-place tie with the Boilermakers, both posting 6-3 records in conference play. Ohio State assumed the league's lead by whipping Northwestern, 87-67, at Columbus.

Iowa thus faces a must game Saturday when it meets Indiana, a 75-70 loser to Michigan State Tuesday night.

Mount, who gunned in 31 points in Purdue's seven point loss to the Hawks two weeks ago, set a career record of 18 field goals against Iowa Tuesday night and finished with 38 points.

The lead changed hands five times in the first half which ended with Purdue on top of a 36-33 score. But then the Boilermakers made a defensive switch that made a difference in the second period.

Purdue clamped a 2-1-2 zone defense on the Hawkeys which effectively sealed off Sam Williams and prevented Iowa from exerting its normal scoring game underneath.

Purdue scored 17 quick points in the first seven minutes of the second half, 10 of them from the deft touch of Mount. Also adding to the Boilermakers' outbreak were three offensive tip-ins.

Chad Calabria, Iowa's top scorer with 19 points, began a Hawkey scoring thrust with 13 minutes left to play. He sank three long buckets, but these were countered by Purdue's crowd-pleasing Jerry Johnson, a sophomore center.

After Calabria hit another long shot with 2:30 left, the bell tolled for the Hawks when Purdue threw in 11 straight points in taking advantage of Iowa turnovers.

Purdue fans received a jolt near the end of the game when Mount was floored on a blocked shot and had to be helped from the court. However, word from the Boilermaker dressing room after the game noted the injury as only a leg cramp — an ailment he has suffered before.

Miller Is Disappointed

Iowa basketball Coach Ralph Miller summed up the Hawks' futile efforts to retain their No. 1 spot in the Big 10 Tuesday night as "fantastically poor."

"It wasn't the hot shooting of Rick Mount that beat us," said Miller. "We beat ourselves."

"We had no teamwork on offense. Sam (Williams) and Huston (Breedlove) missed a couple of points right under the basket."

Miller said he was surprised that the Hawks played so poorly in a game for which he thought everyone would be up.

"Dick Jensen was our only bright spot," said Miller. "Calabria did look good in certain spots. He is improving steadily, but he still has too many turnovers."

Miller said that two major reasons for the loss were Iowa's failure to rebound and its inadequacy at the free throw line.

"We probably lost 20 points on the offensive boards," said Miller. "And we were also unsuccessful on the defensive boards. About five or six of Mount's baskets were the result of Purdue's offensive rebounds."

"All things considered, I don't see how the score could have been as close as it was."

No. 1 UI Gymnasts To Host S. Illinois

Sam Baillie's Iowa gymnasts, ranked No. 1 by the two top gymnastics magazines in the nation, will host No. 2 ranked Southern Illinois at 7:30 tonight in the Field House in a rematch between the two teams. Baillie, however, is not overly enthused about the contest.

"We're not really concerned with Southern until after the Big 10 championships," said Baillie. "Only the Big 10 champion will go to the NCAA finals and that's where we'll have to beat Southern."

Baillie expects to face a much stronger Southern team than the one they defeated earlier this month.

Recoverers From Injuries

Paul Mayer, Southern's all-around competitor, has apparently recovered from an ear infection that limited his competition to three events in the first meet against Iowa.

The Saluki trampoliner and long horse specialist, Dale Hardt, has also recovered from a minor injury that kept him from a top performance against the Hawks.

"I'll be happy with a couple points lead going into the last event," said Baillie.

High Bar The Key

Baillie said that the meet will be won or lost in the high bar event. Iowa's high bar team is one of the best in the nation featuring Neil Schmitt (defending Big 10 high bar champion), Rich Scorza and Bob Dickson.

"If Keith McCannless and Marc Slotten hit on the side horse, we should pick up two or three points in this event," said Baillie.

Baillie said he was hoping for the best team effort of the season in the long horse event.

"If Scorza and Dickson hit, we'll stay within a half-point in this event," said Baillie. "We could lose a point on the trampoline, but we should make that up on the still rings."

Don Hatch, defending Big 10 co-champion in the still rings, is undetected in the event this season.

2 Events 'Closest'

The closest competition, according to Baillie, should come in the floor exercise and parallel bars.

Southern's Gene Kelber and Mayer and Iowa's Paul Omi are the top floor performers. In the parallel bars, Pete Hemmerling will challenge the Hawks' Schmitt and Arnie Lazar.

Baillie said tonight's meet, the Hawks' last home meet, should be a warm-up for this Saturday's meet against Michigan State at East Lansing.

If the Hawks should lose to Michigan State, it would result in a three-way tie for first place in the Big 10 between Michigan, Michigan State and Iowa. The champion would be decided in the Big 10 finals on March 1 and 2 at East Lansing.

Everybody should collect something.

We collect dust.

We also collect graduates—with technical and semi-technical degrees—to insure our position as the world's largest manufacturer of air filters and a leading producer of air pollution control equipment.

Today, some 300 engineers are busy selling, designing, developing, researching and producing AAF's products. They are designed for environmental control in a complete range of installations—from office buildings, restaurants, hospitals, schools, auditoriums and stores to manufacturing plants, steel and textile mills, food processing and pharmaceutical plants.

In addition to the collected dust mentioned above, we also collect smoke and fumes and mists—all the airborne contaminants that cause troublesome pollution problems. We also heat, ventilate and cool thousands of the nation's schools, as well as offices, motels, hotels, hospitals and factories.

Your future in "Better Air" is bright. We would like to talk to you about it. Contact your placement office and arrange for an interview Feb. 29.

That's what General Electric is made of.

General Electric is made up of a lot more than just engineers—because it takes a lot more than engineers to tackle the problems we deal with. Like helping to unsmog traffic jams in our cities, fighting air pollution or finding new ways to provide power for underdeveloped nations. It takes sociologists, meteorologists, astronomers, writers—in fact, it takes people with just about every kind of training. But, more than any of this, it takes people with nerve, gumption, intellectual curiosity—people who care about what happens to the world. So it's not only your major we're interested in. It's you. Why not see our interviewer when he comes to campus and find out whether you're the kind of person General Electric is made of.

Replacement Announced For Sports Information Post

George Wine, sports information director at Memphis State University since 1963, Tuesday was named to a similar post at the University.

His appointment was announced jointly by Gordon B. Strayer, director of public information and university relations, and Forest Vlashevski, director of intercollegiate athletics.

Wine, a native of North English and a 1956 journalism graduate of the University, was sports information officer at the University of Northern Iowa, Cedar Falls, for seven years before going to Memphis.

He will succeed one of the nation's longest-time sports information editors, Eric Wilson, who will retire June 30 from the position he has held at the University since 1923. Wilson was a Big 10 and NCAA champion sprinter at Iowa, and ran for the United States in the 1924 Olympics at Paris.

Wine, 36, has been cited by the Football Writers of America, the American College Public Relations Association, and the Basketball Writers of America for various publications and for pressbox operations.

He will join the Iowa staff in May during spring football practice.

Montreal Zooms To NHL Lead

MONTREAL — The Montreal Canadiens have zoomed into a solid lead in the East Division of the National Hockey League by winning 18 of their last 19 games.

The Black Hawks are in second place, six points behind the leaders. The third-place Rangers are eight points back, one point in front of fourth-place Boston.

The Canadiens themselves were in last place in the sixteen division a little more than a month ago. They put together an unbeaten string of 16 games, including 12 straight victories, though, and moved up quickly. The skein ended when they were beaten by the Rangers, 3-0 on Feb. 4.

Houston, Chicago Loyola To Meet In NCAA Tourney

KANSAS CITY — Boston College was picked to replace Duquesne and unbeaten, top-ranked Houston drew Chicago Loyola as its first opponent in the first round pairings announced Tuesday by the NCAA for its 30th University Basketball Championships starting March 9.

Duquesne rejected a bid from the NCAA to await an NIT bid. Houston (13-7) in the 7 p.m. game at Utah March 9 with New Mexico State (18-4) meeting the Big Sky Conference champion at 9.

In the first round at Rhode Island, it's a single game, Boston College (13-7) vs. 4th-ranked St. Bonaventure (19-0) at 7:30 p.m. EST.

The Ivy League champ meets the Middle Atlantic champ at 1:15 and the Southern Conference champion meets St. John's of New York (15-6) at 3:15 in an afternoon first round double-header at Maryland.

Kent State of Ohio will host two first round games, with the Ohio Valley Conference winner first facing Florida State.

Fencer Sets Victory Mark

Karl Lunecas, a stand-out on this year's fencing team, has broken a University record for total dual meet wins in the sabre competition.

Lunecas, a senior, broke the record after his 3-0 performance Saturday in a meet against Illinois at Detroit. His perfect record in the sabre helped the Hawks beat Illinois, 14-13, for the first time ever.

Lunecas' three victories against the Illini, added to one against Detroit, Iowa's other victim in the triangular meet Saturday, brought his overall total to 71 wins.

The previous record was held by Wayne Whitmore, who had a 68-35 record from 1965-67.

Lunecas, now in his third year as a varsity fencer, has a 25-15 record this year in the sabre.

SAILING CLUB TO MEET — The Sailing Club will hold a meeting at 7 tonight in the Senate Chamber of Old Capitol. The purpose of the meeting is to introduce and explain the functions of Sailing Club. The Sailing Club encourages all interested students and faculty to attend.

A movie, "America's Cup Racing," will be shown.

Heart Attack Kills Brown, Ruby's Judge

DALLAS (AP) — Dist. Judge Joe Brown, who presided over the tempestuous trial of Jack Ruby in 1964, died Tuesday following a heart attack.

Brown, 60, was stricken at his home earlier in the day.

He was elected a district judge in 1957. He became a justice of peace in 1954.

The judge, a colorful man in Dallas legal circles, was married last year to Joy Carles, a widow. He and his first wife were divorced.

Brown's son, Joe B. Brown Jr., is a lawyer and a justice of the peace in Dallas.

Ruby received the death sentence in Brown's court after his trial for the murder of Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy. Ruby died of cancer Jan. 3, 1967.

Poverty Merger Advances

The Hawkeye Area Community Action Program (HACAP) and the Linn Economic Action Program (LEAP) have taken the final step toward merger into one corporation. Merger committees of both antipoverty agencies agreed upon the basis for a merger Monday night at a meeting in Cedar Rapids.

Jones County's Community Action Program (CAP) also will be included in the merger. Jones County is currently part of the joint Community Action Program of Clayton, Buchanan and Delaware counties.

Formal approval of the plan must be given by the governing board of each local CAP before the merger becomes final.

Approval by the General Governing Board of HACAP is expected at a special meeting on Feb. 29, according to Dwaine Schaffner, executive director of HACAP.

The corporation resulting from the merger would retain the name Hawkeye Area Community Action Program and would have its offices in Cedar Rapids.

Representation on the joint governing board would be based on each county's population. Each county will have three representatives for every 50,000 residents. Linn County will have nine representatives; Johnson, six; and Jones, three.

The merger plan calls for an active advisory board to be formed in each merging county. The advisory boards would represent the interests of the local CAP's. No program of a merging CAP would be abolished except for lack of funds, without the approval of the active advisory board.

The active advisory board would be able to petition the joint governing board for a hearing.

The articles of incorporation and the by-laws of the new corporation must be approved by the governing boards of the merging CAPs.

The articles and by-laws are expected to be approved and the new corporation is expected to be in existence by the end of March, according to Schaffner.

Dorms Urge All Residents To Stay Put

All current residents of University dormitories received a copy of the "I Hate to House Keep" book recently. The pamphlet encouraged them to renew their dormitory contracts for the 1968-69 academic year.

T.M. Rehder, director of dormitories and dining services, said the pamphlet, new this year, had been distributed to the residents to make them aware of the benefits of living in a dormitory. Rehder said another pamphlet would be distributed this week.

Both were designed to explain to the residents that they could reserve their present rooms or get consideration for different rooms by renewing their contracts before March 1, Rehder said.

The dormitories as a whole experience a 40 per cent turnover each year, according to Rehder. Basic room and board rates yearly for a double room are $914. Last year they were $880. According to the "I Hate to House Keep" pamphlet, the rate will rise to $984 for a double or triple room for the 1968-1969 academic year. An optional two-meal board plan will also be offered for students who miss certain meals consistently.

Rehder said the University had no definite plans for future dormitories beyond Riewow Hall II because of the leveling off of undergraduate enrollment figures. He said that junior colleges were taking over some of the undergraduate load.

The University has 5,650 beds in its dormitories, including 523 beds in Riewow Hall II, the new men's residence hall under construction.

Maintenance At UNI Hit By Walkout

CEDAR FALLS (AP) — About 100 maintenance personnel at the University of Northern Iowa walked off their jobs Tuesday afternoon.

The strike involved requests for better wages, elimination of a campus parking fee for the workers and recognition of the union as a collective bargaining agent, a union spokesman said.

The striking employees are members of Packinghouse Workers of America Local 1258.

The university has about 150 maintenance personnel, Mel Manion, head of the physical plant department said. He said essential services such as heat and power would not be interrupted by the walkout.

Auto Hits Pole; Driver Charged

A man and woman were reported in good condition at University Hospitals Tuesday night after their car ran into a telephone pole at the intersection of South Linn Street and Highland Avenue early Tuesday morning.

Anna J. Arnold, 34, of 610 5th St., Coralville, driver of the car, has been charged by police with operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated. She received chest injuries, police reported.

Her passenger, Harold L. Cook, Britt, received facial cuts, police said.

Conflict Of Interest Argued Not Barring Vote On Project

was held and after the council voted on the plan, then the city had an urban renewal project, Meardon argued.

Iowa City has not held a public hearing on the renewal question. A public hearing was scheduled for September but was canceled after the issuance of the injunction.

Honohan said the conflict of interests section in the Iowa Code did not prohibit a councilman with property in an area under consideration for urban renewal from voting on the project. The councilman was only prohibited from voting on action affecting his property.

Tuesday afternoon, the defense submitted copies of all resolutions adopted by city councils since 1964 on urban renewal matters. These resolutions included roll call votes of council members.

Attorneys for the businessmen have the right to reopen the hearing if they question parts of the resolutions submitted.

Current members of the city council are Hickerson, LeRoy C. Butherus, Clement L. Brandt, Robert J. Connell and Robert Lind.

Lind operates a business included in the second phase of the city's urban renewal plans. He was enjoined from action in September with Hickerson.

Butherus, Brandt and Connell took office Jan. 2.

Connell operates a tavern which is in the first phase of the city's planned project.

Brandt and Butherus have no property interests in any areas designated by the city planning department as slum or blighted areas needing renewal.

Iowa City received an $8 million capital grant reservation for the first phase of its project. If the injunction were lifted, the city would need only a public hearing and a council vote on the renewal plan before initiating steps to begin the program.

Silent Comedies To Flicker Free At City Library Shows

Four great comedians of the silent film era will be featured at 8 p.m. Thursday when the Iowa City Public Library presents "An Evening of Silent Comedy" in the Library Auditorium.

Admission is free, and seating will be on a first come, first served basis. The showing is the fourth in the Library's American Film Classics Series.

Featured will be W. C. Fields, Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy, and Charlie Chaplin.

Fields' film, "The Pharmacist," is the most recent. It was made in 1933. The library is showing a silent version of this early sound film in which Fields plays a long-suffering family man and unexpected hero.

The other films were all made before the invention of sound films.

Laurel and Hardy will be seen in "Two Tars," a 1928 movie about two sailors on shore leave who rent a model-T and get caught in a traffic jam.

Chaplin will appear in two pictures — "The Masquerader," and "The Pawnshop." These shorts, dated 1914 and 1916, are among the early one- and two-reel comedies that some critics consider Chaplin's greatest film achievements.
