Clifford Predicts Leveling, Lessening Of U.S. In War

NEW YORK (AP) — Defense Secretary Clark M. Clifford said Monday increased effectiveness of South Vietnamese forces will now enable the United States to level off its war effort "and in due time to begin the gradual process of reduction."

Clifford offered no timetable as he appeared before the annual membership meeting of The Associated Press, for his first public address since he became

"They disclosed that Hanoi could not bend South Vietnam to its will by military force. "We concluded that Americans will not need always to do more and more, but rather that the increased effectiveness of the South Vietnamese government and its fighting forces will now permit us to level off our effort — and in due time to begin the gradual process of reduction."

At present, there are 522,000 U.S. troops in Vietnam, and the administration has fixed a ceiling for this year of about 550,000. Reports from Saigon have indicated plans already are under way to station more South Vietnamese troops along the demilitarized zone, now defended primarily by U.S. Marine and Army units.

Clifford noted that South Vietnam is beefing up its army with the call-up of an additional 135,000 men.

Hanoi Response Cited
The 61-year-old Cabinet member, who succeeded Robert S. McNamara Feb. 29, said Hanoi has given a minimal response to President Johnson's bombing limitation and request for preliminary talks.

Clifford said this country still is hopeful of a peaceful settlement, adding: "But if Hanoi would rather fight than talk, or elects both to talk and fight, the record of success we have already achieved shows that military victory is beyond Hanoi's reach."

Clifford told the AP meeting that all South Vietnamese regular ground forces will have the M16 rifle by July, and that 100,000 more M16s are scheduled to be in the hands of regional and popular South Vietnamese forces by November.

Turning to other subjects, Clifford spoke of lessons learned about riot control by National Guardsmen and federal troops. He declared: "We have learned that manpower, not firepower, deals best with mass lawlessness. We have learned, too, that a curfew can help greatly in preventing clashes and conflict and possible bloodshed."

May Draft Increased; Call For June Is Low

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department called Monday for the drafting of 29,500 men in June and at the same time increased its May manpower summons to 45,900.

The Pentagon originally had asked the Selective Service system to order up 44,000 men next month, all for the Army. The added 1,900 are to go to the Marine Corps.

Men inducted in June will all go into the Army.

The June request was the second lowest this year and reflected a seasonal dip in draft requirements.

Voluntary military enlistments go up during the summer when many young men leave high school, diminishing the need to draft as many men.

Monthly draft calls this year have included January 34,000, February 23,300, March 41,000 and April 46,000.

secretary of defense seven weeks ago. Army officials have raised the possibility of a withdrawal of American troops beginning in 1969.

His speech follows his outline of policy at his first new conference April 11, when he said the administration's goal is to gradually turn over the bulk of the fighting to the South Vietnamese.

After the setbacks occasioned by the Communist Tet offensive, Clifford told the new executives, President Johnson ordered a comprehensive review of American policies and programs in Vietnam.

"Results Clear, Encouraging"
"The results were clear and the results were encouraging," Clifford went on.

South Viet Army Ordered On Alert For Saigon Attack

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnam's army in Saigon and 11 outlying provinces was ordered on full alert Monday, apparently because incidents of the past three days convinced officials the enemy is about to launch a second big offensive against the capital.

Key sources laid the alert to a case of war jitters. A U.S. mission spokesman said, "No alert or any warning has been issued to American personnel."

Another source said U.S. military police in Saigon had been told to exercise caution in the next few days. Marine guards at the U.S. Embassy were briefed on Vietnamese intelligence reports, but the source described this as routine.

Tet Fury Expected

Vietnamese intelligence reports asserted the attack would be with all the fury of the Tet offensive in February that wrought havoc in Saigon.

The alert seemed to put little reliance on Operation Complete Victory, the biggest allied offensive of the war now sweeping the 11 provinces around Saigon in an attempt to flush enemy forces.

This drive by 100,000 allied troops, launched April 8, has encountered small North Vietnamese and Viet Cong units but not the big divisions sought.

What touched off Vietnamese jitters was the defection Friday of a North Vietnamese colonel — the highest ranking officer to turn himself over to the allies in the war. Vietnamese sources said the colonel turned over plans for an attack by upward of 5,000 troops on Saigon Monday. He said for some reason the attack was called off.

U.S. Skeptical

The colonel's defection and telling of plans for an attack led to U.S. skepticism that the enemy planned anything big for the present against Saigon.

"If you were the Viet Cong and one of your high ranking commanding officers defected and spilled his guts about an upcoming attack, would you go ahead with it?" one U.S. official asked.

Saigon police, however, pointed to two other suspicious incidents. They reported a bus en route from the Mekong Delta was stopped outside Saigon Saturday and police found seven rifles and 40 cases of TNT with detonators in baskets of vegetables. Twenty-one persons were held for questioning.

It was by such infiltration tactics that the Viet Cong were able to launch their surprise attack on Saigon in the Tet offensive.

A U.S. military spokesman declared American troops were on the same alert they had been on since the Tet offensive, adding: "We're just normal."

NASA Suffers Setback Over Budgeting Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — The space agency, already braced for heavy cuts of its 1969 budget by the House next week, has suffered a new and damaging setback: an official report that it erred in not insisting that a multimillion dollar lunar module subcontract be awarded through competitive bidding.

The subcontract for radar equipment, was estimated originally at $23.4 million. It already has cost the government $112 million, says the General Accounting Office, the agency which checks executive spending for Congress.

Grumman Aircraft Engineering Corp. is the prime contractor for the lunar module, one of three major sections of the Apollo spacecraft that is to attempt to take men to the moon. The subcontractor named in the GAO report is the Radio Corporation of America.

Report Cited To Senate

Citing the report on the Senate floor, Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, ranking Republican on the Senate Space committee, said she has generally opposed any large scale cuts in the space budget but added:

"If the Grumman radar subcontract is illustrative of the manner in which the space agency maintains surveillance over its appropriated funds, it would appear that substantial savings could be realized merely by strengthening the agency's contracting practices."

The GAO report is almost certain to have an immediate effect on the House, whose members expect to begin debate May 1 on the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

The GAO report, issued last week, criticized NASA for approving Grumman's proposal "to award, without specific competition, the procurement of the lunar module radars to the Radio Corporation of America."

Cost Plus Fixed Fee
RCA was awarded the subcontract on a cost-plus-fixed-fee basis in November 1963 at an estimated cost of $23.4 million, GAO said.

Grumman's selection of RCA was made during the preparation of the lunar module proposal under an informal agreement whereby RCA was expected to be a major subcontractor, GAO said, despite the fact that "prospective contractors were cautioned not to make any moral or legal agreements with possible subcontractors."

RCA obtained proposals from prospective manufacturers to determine whether it should make the radar equipment or buy it from another source, the report said.

On Aug. 20, 1962, a team composed of one Grumman employee and three RCA employees reviewed and evaluated the five proposals," GAO said. "The team rated RCA's proposal superior on cost, weight and performance to the other proposals."

McCarthy Suggests Anew That Rusk Should Resign

CLEVELAND (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy repeated Monday that Secretary of State Dean Rusk should resign and said he could name eight or 10 persons he would like to see in the job.

The Minnesota Democrat arrived by plane from Indiana and was asked at a news conference about a comment that he would like to see Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield in Rusk's position.

"I didn't really propose him (Mansfield)," McCarthy said. "I was asked to name someone and didn't really offer him that position."

Mansfield said he wouldn't accept anything.

McCarthy didn't name the others he had in mind.

SEN. EUGENE MCCARTHY Asks Rusk's Resignation

About 150 persons, mostly students, greeted the Democratic presidential hopeful at Burke Lakefront Airport on the first step of an 18-hour campaign visit, his first to Ohio.

Earlier McCarthy visited three industrial towns of northern Indiana, aiming his campaign at college students and the labor vote.

He told a group of about 100 supporters at Michigan City that he was "hopeful of getting at least 25 per cent or more" of the vote in Indiana's May 7 presidential primary.

He didn't elaborate on what effect such an outcome might have on his national bid for the nomination, but he said this of New York Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, "I think if he loses in Indiana he's in real trouble."

McCarthy, Kennedy and Gov. Roger D. Branigan as a favorite son are contenders in the primary.

He estimated his Indiana campaign would cost $200,000 to $300,000.

No Candidate Has Iowa Sewed Up, Johnson County Democrats Contend

Johnson County Democratic leaders said Monday that they thought Iowa support was anything but assured for any presidential candidate. New York Sen. Robert F. Kennedy was favored in most of the party's county conventions held Saturday throughout the state.

"A lot depends on the results of the Indiana and Nebraska primaries," George Bedell, associate professor of internal medicine, Johnson County Democratic chairman and a supporter of Minnesota Sen. Eugene McCarthy, said.

Indiana will hold its primary May 7, while the Nebraska primary will be held May 14. McCarthy has won a large percentage of Democratic votes in two key primaries already held. He won over 40 per cent of the vote in the New Hampshire primary held March 13 and 58 per cent of the vote in the Wisconsin primary held April 2. Kennedy's name was not on either ballot, but he won 5 per cent of the Wisconsin vote as a write-in candidate.

In the county conventions, McCarthy carried only Johnson and Story counties. The other counties favored Kennedy, Gov. Harold Hughes, a favorite-son candidate, or were uncommitted.

Although Johnson County supported McCarthy, the First Congressional District, which includes Johnson County, is a Kennedy stronghold, according to Mrs. Gertrude MacQueen, a Kennedy supporter.

This opinion was supported by Edward Mezvinsky, Johnson County Kennedy chairman. He said he felt that the votes of Johnson County's delegation would be overcome by the votes of the other 12 county delegations in the First District when the caucuses are held May 25.

In those caucuses four delegates and three alternates for the state convention held on the same day will be chosen from the more than 400 delegates selected in county conventions in each district.

Bedell said that he realized Kennedy supporters had been hampered in the county because Kennedy had announced his candidacy so late.

George Forell, professor and director of the School of Religion and co-chairman of the Johnson County McCarthy for President Committee, said he realized that McCarthy's chances were not good at the state convention. However, he said that he thought a strong showing by McCarthy in the coming primaries would improve his support at the state convention.

Branstad Ticket Gets Recognition From State CYRs

Iowa College Young Republicans (CYR) voted Saturday to recognize the slate of officers headed by Terry Branstad, A3, Leland, as the legal slate of University YR officers.

The voice vote, taken at the state CYR convention held in Council Bluffs Friday and Saturday, reinforced a March 9 state CYR executive board ruling that supported Branstad.

The March 9 decision was the opposite of one reached April 3 by the Student Senate Activities Board, which ruled in favor of the slate headed by Hugh Field, L2, Waterloo.

Howard Husinga, A3, Aplington, was elected state treasurer in elections for executive board members at the convention. Other officers are: chairman, Jeff Brooks, Buena Vista College, Storm Lake; vice chairman, Peter Voorhees, University of Northern Iowa, Cedar Falls; and director of the region that includes the University, Peter Buffer, B3, Estherville.

Choice '68 Is Chance For Students To 'Vote'

All University students will have an opportunity Wednesday to express their choices for president and their opinions on three current political issues. The University will be among approximately 1,500 colleges throughout the nation participating in Choice '68 Wednesday.

There will be seven polling places on campus where students, by presenting their identification cards, can obtain an IBM punch card ballot. The ballot lists 14 presidential choices. There is a place to mark first, second and third choices.

The choices are President Johnson, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy (D-N.Y.), New York Mayor John Lindsay (R), Sen. Eugene McCarthy (D-Minn.), former Vice President Richard Nixon (R), Sen. Charles Percy (R-Ill.), California Gov. Ronald Reagan (R), New York Governor Nelson Rockefeller (R), former governor of Minnesota Harold Stassen (R), former governor of Alabama George Wallace (American Independent), Fred Halstead (Socialist Worker), Oregon Gov. Mark Hatfield (R) and slain civil rights leader, the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

According to Gary Musselman, G, Coralville, King's name has not been scratched from the ballot since his assassination on April 4.

City Council To Investigate Low-Rent Housing Problems

See Related Story Page 10
By STEVE MORAIN

Iowa City Mayor Loren Hickerson said Saturday that the City Council would begin an investigation of the city's low-rent housing conditions within a month.

Hickerson made his statement at a conference on housing for low income families.

Hickerson explained the council's policy of enforcement of the housing code. His statements came after City Atty. Jay Honohan and City Building Inspector James B. Hemesath were charged with concealment of public records concerning the city's building codes.

Jerrold Sies, A4, Velle Stream, N.Y., filed charges against the two city officials in early April. Honohan has filed a request for an injunction against Sies to prevent him from "earning the names of landlords whose buildings fail to meet minimum standards.

Honohan's injunction request will be heard May 2 in Johnson County District Court.

Hickerson said the investigation would be conducted to determine the degree of housing code enforcement.

A domestic question concerns the urban crisis and what area of government spending should receive the highest priority — education, housing, income subsidy, job training and employment opportunities or riot control and stricter law enforcement.

The student will record his choices by punching out the appropriate hole on the card with a pencil or pen.

The polling places will be the Union Gold Feather Lobby, the Medical Building, the Law Building, the Pentacenter, and Hillcrest, Quadrangle and Barge dining rooms. The polling places will be open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. except those in the dormitories which will be open only during the meal hours.

Choice '68 At Soapbox

Students will answer questions about Choice '68 at Soapbox Soundoff today from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. in the Union Gold Feather Lobby. Supporters of Nixon, McCarthy and Kennedy are scheduled to speak.

Approximately 1,500 colleges and universities with student bodies representing over 75 per cent of the nation's total enrollment will participate in the Choice '68 election. It is sponsored by Time-Life Inc. to give the estimated 2 million students a chance to show their power as a political force.

All students registered at the University can vote in the election.

Each participating school will receive a complete analysis of the voting on its campus. The returns will also be made available on request to other interested parties.

"It is the intention of the council, through inspection, to bring the entire city up to the code," Hickerson said.

"The heart of the city has not received heavy enforcement because plans for urban renewal. Urban renewal could cause a type of double taxation for property owners there," Hickerson said.

Some situations exist, Hickerson said, where strict enforcement of the code would create serious financial hardship on low income landlords.

Hickerson said that the low income landlords who made serious efforts to improve their properties and meet housing code requirements were given time to do so.

"The criteria for judgment of time given an owner would depend on the seriousness of the owner to bring the property up to standards," Hickerson said.

Failure to meet minimum standards can result in condemnation of the property or city refusal to approve the property for occupancy by tenants.

Hickerson pointed out, however, that condemnation proceedings were seldom used. He said that only one property lot in the city was condemned at the present time.

Senate Will Discuss May 1 Class Boycott

The University student body will be asked to boycott classes May 1, Governor's Day, unless the campus ROTC students are required to go to classes on that day, or unless the entire student body is released from classes along with the ROTC students, according to a resolution to be introduced to the Student Senate tonight.

The resolution, to be introduced at the meeting in the Union Yale Room by Sens. Mike Lally and Jim Sutton, (Hawkeye Student Party), calls for students to be released from classes so that they might greet Gov. Harold Hughes along with the campus military students.

Backers of the resolution say their proposal is justified since the University administration did not honor the 8,500 student signatures on a petition asking for a two-day extension of Easter vacation and since the administration did not suspend classes for one day in honor of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, yet plan to release military students from classes to greet the governor.

Businessmen Request Court To Bar Council On Renewal

A group of Iowa City businessmen filed an appeal Monday asking that all five Iowa City councilmen be barred from voting and taking other action connected with urban renewal projects. The action is the businessmen's answer to the city's appeal of a conflict of interest ruling.

On March 23, Eighth District Judge Clair E. Hamilton permanently enjoined Mayor Loren Hickerson and Councilmen Robert Lind and Robert J. Connell from voting on urban renewal projects in Iowa City because of conflicts of interests.

The businessmen, represented by Bar by Law Offices, said conflicts of interests also exist with Councilman Roy Butcher and Tim Brandt. These two councilmen also should be kept from participating in urban renewal voting, according to the businessmen.

States' Right To Regulate Juvenile Materials Upheld

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court told the states Monday they have a right — even a duty — to decide what kind of sex material youngsters may see and read.

"The well being of its children is of course a subject within the state's constitutional power to regulate," Justice William J. Brennan Jr. said in a 6 to 3 decision.

Moreover, Brennan said, parents, teachers and others who have the prime responsibility of rearing children "are entitled to the support of laws designed to aid discharge of that responsibility."

The ruling was the court's first venture into a growing kind of anti-pornography law — one designed especially for children.

A New York statute was specifically endorsed. And in a companion case, the court threw out a Dallas ordinance geared to movies, because the justices found the classification standards vague.

Justices William O. Douglas and Hugo L. Black filed a dissent in the New York case.

Commenting wryly that "the juvenile delinquents I have known are mostly over 50 years of age," Douglas describe the court as "the nation's board of censors."

In another area, in a civil rights case from Mississippi, the court said states can control picketing outside government buildings though this may have "a chilling effect" on protest and freedom of expression.

The test, Brennan said in a 7 to 2 decision, is whether the anti-picketing law "clearly and precisely delineates its reach in words of common understanding."

Law Passes Muster

The court found the Mississippi law, enacted in 1964 and used to convict about 35 civil rights pickets who demonstrated outside the Hattiesburg courthouse, passed muster on both counts.

The pickets, alleging racial discrimination in voter registration, urged Negroes to register.

In other significant actions the court:

- Refused to tinker with a consent agreement that makes it difficult for a group of state and city governments to recover millions of dollars they claimed they were overcharged by publishers of children's books.

- Set the stage for an important decision in the field of civil rights by agreeing to decide next term if the Railway Carman Union and the St. Louis-San Francisco Railway worked a scheme to keep Negroes from job promotion.

- Ruled that the Los Angeles Times must give up three San Bernardino newspapers it bought in 1964 for $15 million.

Goddard Hits Drug Industry For Proper Labeling Delay

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — The nation's drug industry is dragging its feet in distributing government-required warnings about certain drugs, Dr. James L. Goddard, commissioner of the Food and Drug Administration, charged here Monday.

"Our surveys show in some cases information about side-effects, warnings and usage were still missing from the labels a full year after they were required," Goddard said.

Goddard made his remarks in a speech to members of the National Association of Chain Drug Stores. In a news conference later, however, Goddard said that his agency had the power to force a speedup in compliance.

"We have so far chosen to exercise patience," Goddard said, "but the situation doesn't need to exist and shouldn't exist."

In his speech to the druggists, Goddard said, "How long should it take for a drug that has new indications, new precautions, new warning statements, or other new prescribing information — how long should it take for that drug to be properly labeled?"

Goddard said investigators from his department sampled drugstore stocks a full year after new standards were set and found drugs without warnings against use during pregnancy, possible danger to eyes and other required information.

Telephone Strike Enters 6th Day; Union Fights Bans

WASHINGTON (AP) — A nationwide telephone workers' strike persisted Monday as a federal judge in Kentucky threw out one of two state court orders which union officials said blocked chances of settling their walkout.

Attorneys for the Communications Workers Union (AFL-CIO), representing some 200,000 strikers in 40 states, were also reportedly asking a federal judge in Mobile to void the Alabama state injunction.

Alabama strike leaders said, meanwhile, the picket lines would remain up in that state.

CWU Pres. Joseph A. Beirne described the two state-court injunctions obtained by the Southern Bell Telephone Co. as preposterous and antiunion, and said they had dashed hopes for new negotiations to end the wage dispute which started the strike last Thursday.

Southern Bell obtained the injunctions on grounds that its contracts with the union still were in force and that workers refusing to cross picket lines of telephone installers were violating the agreement.

Supreme Court Requested To Rule On Textbook Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court was told Monday that a New York law that requires public schools to lend textbooks to parochial students aids religion and thus violates the First Amendment.

Marvin E. Pollock, attorney for two school boards that asked the court to declare the three-year-old law invalid, said its provisions are so vague that religious schools might be able to play a major role in the selection of books.

He suggested that this could come about if a religious group gained a majority voice on a school board.

But he said he assumed, in response to a question from Justice William O. Douglas, that New York's Board of Regents would have the ultimate choice in books.

Iowa Aims For Clean Sweep Against Simpson Here Today

Jim Koering and Tom Staack will be Iowa's starting pitchers today in a doubleheader starting at 2:30 against Simpson College at the Iowa Field.

Coach Dick Schultz said Monday, however, that he would use several pitchers in each game.

The first game lineup for the Hawkeys, who are 8-1 for the year, will be:

Dave Krull, cf, Pat Prina, 3b, Stony Jackson, lf, Greg Parker, rf, Mike Wymore, 1b, Bob Perkins, ss, Gary Breshears, 2b, and Steve Hirko, c.

The Hawks will travel to Bloomington Friday to begin their Big 10 schedule with a doubleheader against Indiana. They then move on to Columbus Saturday for a doubleheader against Ohio State.

STARS SURVIVE SHOCKS—

BOURNEMOUTH, England (AP)—Professional tennis stars survived a series of shocks Monday before crushing amateur opponents in the British Hard Courts Championship, the world's first open tournament.

Fred Stolle, the lanky Australian who tours with the professional American Tennis League, was almost upset.

S. Africa: Ban Illegal

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—The South African member of the International Olympic Committee called on all members of the IOC's executive board Monday to resign.

Reg Honey termed the action of the board "illegal and immoral," in unanimously recommending that South Africa be barred from the summer games at Mexico City in October.

The nine-man board, in an extraordinary meeting at Lausanne over the weekend, bowed to tremendous pressure and unanimously urged the IOC membership to reverse a previous stand and bar South Africa from the Games.

A mail vote of the 71 IOC members was ordered immediately. There was no indication when the final tally would be made but indications were that South Africa definitely would be out of the Mexico City Games.

The IOC in a majority vote announced at the Winter Games in Grenoble, France, in February readmitted South Africa to the Games after receiving a pro-mixed field a mixed team of whites and nonwhites. The decision set off a worldwide explosion of protest. Led by the African nations, some 40 countries announced they would boycott the Mexico City Games.

The powerful Soviet Union and its Communist satellites issued threats.

Avery Brundage, 80-year-old president of the IOC, called the executive board meeting after pressure from Mexico City organizers, who said they feared the Games would be a failure.

The executive board decision Sunday to urge that South Africa be barred came as no surprise although Brundage fought militantly for South Africa, contending the pressures were of a political nature.

Hawks' Tennis Team Looking For Rebound

Iowa's tennis team started its spring season with two losses.

The team's first game of the season was against Arizona which beat Iowa 6-3. The purpose of the annual trip to Arizona was to get out on the courts and practice, not to schedule matches, according to Coach Don Klotz.

Iowa lost its opening Big 10 match Friday, 8-1, to defending champion Michigan State in East Lansing.

Iowa's only win was in a doubles match which Randy and Russ Murphy beat Steve Shafer and Orhan Enuspan 1-6, 7-5, and 6-3. Chuck Branard of Michigan State beat Hawkeye Rich Stokstad 6-2, 6-0 in the No. 1 singles match.

Saturday's match with Michigan at Ann Arbor was cancelled because of rain.

The team's next match will be Thursday against Illinois at Champaign. After two more road meets, they will return to Iowa for a home match May 1.

The rest of the meets will be played here, including the Big 10 Championships which will be in Iowa City for the first time, May 16-18.

Klotz said the Iowa players had more experience this year, with six returning lettermen.

Referring to this spring's Big 10 race he said that any one of the teams in the "top five"—Northwestern, Michigan, Michigan State, Minnesota or Illinois—was going to be "murder."

Wisconsin Interviews 2 Coaches

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Basketball coaches at Army and Southern Illinois were called for interviews before the University of Wisconsin Athletic Board Monday night as possible successors to coach with Syracuse and DeKalb coaches.

Robert Knight, 27, head coach at Army for the past three seasons, was the first to be interviewed. Jack Hartman of Southern Illinois and Ray Krzoska of Wisconsin-Milwaukee also were on hand for the interviews.

A fourth candidate present was Earl Lloyd, a former National Basketball Association player with Syracuse and Detroit. Lloyd was an assistant coach and head scout for the Pistons from 1960 until 1965.

He is now in a public relations job in Detroit.

At least three more persons are expected to be called for interviews Tuesday night before the board reaches a decision.

The three still to come before the board are expected to be Jim Hardin, coach at La Salle of Philadelphia, and Dave Brown and Jim Powless, assistant coaches under Erickson.

Erickson compiled a 13-1 record in his final season at Wisconsin. He resigned, effective May 1, to accept the general manager-ship of the new Milwaukee franchise in the NBA.

DIGGING ONE OUT OF the sand is Dr. Ed Updegraff of Tucson, Ariz., during Monday's first round in the 68th North and South Amateur Golf Championship at Pinehurst, N.C. The action was at the sixth hole of the Pinehurst Country Club.

Dodgers Rally, 5-3
PITTSBURGH (AP)—Wes Parker's two-out double in the ninth inning drove in the tying run and Zollo Versalles followed with a two-run triple, giving the Los Angeles Dodgers a 5-3 victory over Pittsburgh Monday night.

The Dodgers trailed 3-2 when Tom Haller led off the ninth with a single off rookie reliever Bob Moose. One out later, Len Gabrielson stroked a pinch single, sending pinch runner Paul Popovich to third. After pinch hitter Rocky Colavito struck out, Parker doubled to right, tying the game.

Rojas Leads Phils
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Cookie Rojas singled home Richie Allen with one out in the 10th inning and the Philadelphia Phillies nipped the San Francisco Giants 2-1 Monday night for their fifth straight victory.

Allen, who did not start because cold weather affects his injured hand, walked as a pinch hitter for winner Rick Wise with one out. He stole second base and reached third on Tony Taylor's single to right field before Rojas connected off loser Frank Linzy.

Twins Lose In 10
MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (AP)—Andy Etchebarren lofted a home run in the 10th inning, giving the Baltimore Orioles a 2-1 victory over the Minnesota Twins Monday.

Etchebarren's homer, a 385-foot shot into the left field pavilion, was his first of the season and came after Jim Merritt got Dave Johnson, the leadoff batter in the 10th, on a fly.

Hawkeyes Last In Triangular; Next Action Is Drake Relays

By JOE LOOMER

Iowa opened its outdoor track season with a loss to Big 10 opponents Indiana and Minnesota in a triangular meet Saturday on the Hawkeye track.

Indiana won with 94 points, Minnesota was second with 74, and the Hawks finished with 47.

Coach Francis Cretzmeyer said he wasn't too disappointed with the team's performance because they had just returned from a week of twice-a-day workouts in Arizona and were tired.

Iowa's next activity is at the Drake Relays Thursday and Friday in Des Moines.

The Hawkeye got 1-2 finishes Saturday in the 440-yard run and the pole vault.

Mondane, Utsinger Win

Mike Mondane won the 440 in 48.6 seconds and Jerry Stevens ran 49.8 for second. In the pole vault, Don Utsinger cleared 15-4 — the second best vault of his career — to win, and Rich Gershenson went 15-0 — the best vault of his career — for second.

The only other Hawkeye winners were distance men Larry Wiczorek and Rollie Kitt.

Wiczorek sprinted away from the field with a 56-second final victory to win the mile in a slow 4:13.8.

Kitt, the defending Big 10 steeplechase champion, ran his specialty for the first time this year and won in 9:28.0, 26 seconds over his 1957 best.

Phelps Falls Short

Hawk long jumper Chris Phelps came within an eyelash of victory, but his jump of 23-1/4 was one-fourth of an inch short of the winning leap by Indiana's Mark Betner.

Cretzmeyer said Monday that Mondane, Dale Teberg and Carl Frazier were almost fully recovered from their leg injuries and hoped the team would be at full strength soon.

THE INFERNOS

The Infernos will hold a soccer practice at 4 p.m. today behind the Field House. All who would like to play in a game against Cedar Rapids Sunday should attend.

Owner Plans Company

BALTIMORE, Md. — Jerry Wolman, real estate developer and owner of the Philadelphia Eagles, presented a plan Monday which would hopefully pay off his creditors by forming a public company to operate several profitable business ventures.

The plan placed before Joseph O. Kaiser, federal referee in bankruptcy, would allow Wolman to retain complete ownership of the Eagles but would turn over all income from the National Football League club to the new company.

Kaiser set another hearing for May 27, giving creditors five weeks to decide whether to approve the proposal.

Kekke Tops Iowa Ruggers

By CHUCK STOLBERG

Ken Kekke scored seven points and Steve Welter and Tom Ross each scored one try as Iowa's Rugby Club boosted its season record to 3-1 with a 14-0 victory over Carlton College Saturday.

Kekke's seven points came on a try (3 points), a conversion (2 points) and a penalty goal (3 points).

A strong wind played a major factor in the game. The Hawks lost the coin toss and were forced to operate against the wind in the first half.

The wind help Carlton's kicking game and helped keep the Hawks bottled up inside their own 25-yard line most of the half.

The Hawks took possession of the ball late in the half after a loose scrum. The ball went out to the backs and to Kekke on the wing. Kekke passed off to Joe Barrows who carried it down near the goal.

As he was being tackled, Barrows passed off to Kekke who cut to the inside, faked one defender out, and scored a try. The conversion attempt failed and the Hawks held a 3-0 advantage at halftime.

With the wind at their backs in the second half, Iowa began to move. Using the wind to their advantage, the Hawks took control of the game with some long kicking.

Early in the period, Welter took a short pass, faked in between two defenders, and bulled his way over for a score. The conversion attempt again failed and the Hawks led 6-0.

Late in the game, Ross took a pass near the Carlton 25 yard line and ran over the goal line for Iowa's third try of the game. Kekke booted the conversion to make it an 11-0 lead.

It was Kekke who put the Hawks' final score on the board near the end of the game. An offside penalty against Carlton gave Iowa a shot at a penalty goal and Kekke converted to make the score 14-0.

YOUNG OUTSTANDING—NEW YORK — George Young, a two-time Olympian who won eight straight races over two and three miles, was voted Monday the outstanding athlete of the indoor track and field season.

Where have all the heroes gone?

A young woman cries out her agony to
The Brooklyn sky
As good citizens dim their lights
So they may watch unseen
The late show in the streets.
A pregnant mother is harassed by hoodlums
While spectators stand mutely by.
And the young men?
The young men stand aside
Too smart to get involved.
In the current lingo they "keep their cool".
Well, listen here
No great civilizations have been built
By men who kept their cool...
No frontiers conquered
No revolutions waged
No brave new societies forged
By men who kept their cool.
All of mankind's shining achievements
Have been propelled into being
By hot-blooded young men, fired by an idea.
When the heroes take to the sidelines
Civilizations decline and disappear.
Right now this country needs heroes
To stick out their necks
For better schools
Better housing
Better jobs
Better government.
It's up to you to take it on.

Three University faculty members have won $1,000 awards for excellence in teaching at the undergraduate level.

Recipients of the awards are Gustav Bergmann, professor of philosophy and psychology; Robert A. Corrigan, assistant professor of American civilization; and David W. McDougall, instructor in mechanics and hydraulics. The prizes were given by Standard Oil Company of Indiana in cooperation with the University.

The winners were named by six students representing four undergraduate honor societies: Tau Beta Pi, engineering; Pi Omega Pi, business education; Phi Beta Kappa, liberal arts; and Rho Chi, pharmacy.

The nominations were endorsed by the Council on Teaching and approved by Pres. Howard R. Bowen, who notified the winners. The awards will be presented at an Honors Convocation at 10 a.m. May 4 in Macbride Auditorium.

Bergmann, who joined the University faculty in 1939 as a research associate, has Ph.D. and J.D. degrees from the University of Vienna, his native city. He practiced law for four years in Austria before coming to the United States, and also has an honorary doctorate from the University of Goteberg in Sweden. This term Bergmann is teaching a course in introduction to philosophy of science. He has written more than 100 articles and reviews, and is the author of "The Metaphysics of Logical Positivism," 1954; "Philosophy of Science," 1957; "Meaning and Experience," 1960; and "Logic and Reality," 1964.

Corrigan came to the University in 1964 after earning a bachelor's degree at Brown University, and master's and doctoral degrees at the University of Pennsylvania, all in American civilization. He taught three years at the University of Gothenburg in Sweden and one year at Bryn Mawr College.

He teaches courses in computational methods and numerical calculations, related to mechanics and hydraulics. His research has concentrated on numerical simulation and hydrology.

Bowen To Discuss University With Students On TV Show

How three of its students view the University will be discussed with Pres. Howard R. Bowen on a special "University Report" television program which will be seen in the Mason City area Friday.

The 30-minute special will be shown at 3:30 p.m. Friday on KGLD-TV, channel 3, Mason City.

The students who will appear in the half-hour color program are Karen Bell, A4, Burlington, Michael Wolfe, A4, Marshalltown, and Robert Braslie, G. Woodstock, Ill.

The "University Report" program was filmed in relation to Foundation Day, the annual commemoration of the creation of the University, Feb. 25, 1847, by the first Iowa legislature.

In addition to the discussion with students, Bowen will report on major accomplishments of the past year by students and faculty. He will also note that the University awarded its 100,000th degree in 1967, the 120th anniversary year of the institution.

He will point out that among honors won during the year were the naming of a third University Rhodes Scholar in just five years and the winning of the Metropolitan Opera national auditions by a woman student.

Scots To Hear Highlanders Piping 5th European Tour

What are 74 pretty girls from Iowa doing playing the bagpipes for the Scots?

This summer the Scottish Highlanders, the largest all-girl bagpipe band in the world, will make a two-month tour of Europe. The girls will perform at least eight times in England and Scotland as guests of various cities.

The coeds will leave Iowa City June 28 and return Aug. 23. While abroad they will tour Germany, Austria, Italy, Switzerland, France and the Netherlands. In August they will sightsee and give performances in the British Isles.

Although the Highlanders have performed before more than 10 million persons here and abroad, this summer's trip promises two special highlights. While in Scotland the group has been invited to perform at Balmoral Castle, summer home of Queen Elizabeth. The Queen is scheduled to be in residence for the performance. And, on Aug. 16, the group will compete with the finest pipe bands in the world in international competition at the Murrayfield Highland Games in Edinburgh, Scotland.

The Highlanders, whose bright red and green costumes are familiar to Hawkeye football fans, have been a University tradition since 1937. This summer will mark the group's fifth tour of the Continent. The trip is made every four years, giving each member a chance to go abroad once in her college career. Each member pays her own way.

This year the group will travel under its new director, Alan McIvor, a former Peace Corps member and bagpipe expert. His parents are native Scots and his grandfather was a regimental piper. According to McIvor, "the purpose of the trip is not only to perform and sightsee but also to be part of an experience in international understanding."

Senate Bill Threatens Photocopying Services

The University Library may be forced to end its photocopying services if the copyright revision bill now before the U.S. Senate is passed, Dale M. Bentz, associate director of the University Library, said Monday.

"If this bill is passed and we adhere to it as we'll have to, we will be prohibited to copy any material still in print," Bentz said.

According to provisions of the bill, libraries would be held responsible for any copyright infringements by those who duplicated materials on their facilities.

An example of an illegal use, according to William C. Rosselle, library administrative assistant, would be an instructor's having several copies of a book still in print made for use in his classroom.

The University Libraries have 50 staff-operated photocopying machines plus three coin-operated ones in the Main Library, the Education Library in East Hall and the Medical Library. Approximately 30,000 copies are made monthly on the staff-operated machines at 10 cents a page, Bentz said.

The Printing Service has a Xerox machine and runs about 250,000 copies a month, Robert F. Thompson, superintendent of the Printing Service, said.

Bentz said that the Research Library, the American Library Association and the Association of College and University Libraries are working on a settlement.

Ancient Arena Sets Scene For UI Choir

The University Choir last week sang in one of the most evocative and legendary settings for music in the world — the Juego de Pelota (Ball Court) in the historic Mayan ruins at Chichen Itza, Yucatan, Mexico.

Directed by Daniel Moe, professor of music, the choir appeared in the ancient stone-walled outdoor arena to give an evening program which was called a "brilliant and moving performance" and "a magnificent concert" by reviewers in newspapers of Merida, Yucatan.

About 1,500 music lovers traveled the 75 miles from the capital of Yucatan, Merida, to Chichen Itza for the concert and were joined by hundreds of farmers who live near the ancient ruins. The program was a benefit for the Mexican Association for Child Welfare.

The 40-foot-high stone walls enclosing an area larger than a football field provide an effective acoustic setting, Moe said. The choir could be heard perfectly even by persons who sat on the steps of nearby ruins. All of the chairs which had been set up in the Juego de Pelota were filled.

Choir Gives Other Concerts
The choir gave two other outdoor evening concerts and sang twice in the Cathedral of Merida during the group's week in Yucatan as good-will ambassadors for the Iowa-Yucatan Partners of the Alliance.

They sang in the Merida public stadium for 3,000 employees of the Cordemex Plant, which they had toured during the day, and gave a concert which was part of the celebration of the 50th anniversary of the founding of the American College in Merida.

Commenting on the latter, the Novedades (News of the Day) De Yucatan said: "Last evening, before an audience of nearly 2,000. The University of Iowa Choir offered a brilliant demonstration of its artistic qualities in the acoustic shell of the Park of the Americas."

The Diario Del Sureste said of the concert: "The beautiful performance deeply affected all who were present. We can affirm, without exaggeration, that the three concerts, by the Iowa Choir in Merida earned for the group not only the respect, but also the love of the people of Yucatan. We are impressed by the extraordinary way in which these young people during their brief visit here have been able to dominate the attention of young and old, and of educated and uneducated."

Sang First in Cathedral
The choir's first public appearance in Yucatan was in St. Iglesia Cathedral in Merida, where they sang the Solemn High Mass on Easter Sunday. The Diario de Yucatan said, "From the processional hymn of Gabrieli until the final movement when Bishop Ruiz embraced him in congratulation, Daniel Moe, conductor of the Iowa Choir, demonstrated the integrity of a vocation dedicated to the nobility of music."

The coeds in the choir were the first women ever to sing in the cathedral, part of a choral ensemble, since the church's regular choral group are made up exclusively of men.

Archbishop Solarzano of Yucatan invited the choir to sing again at the cathedral because of the response of the congregation to the group's appearance Easter Sunday. So the students climbed the circular 75-foot stairway to the choir gallery a second time to sing at a 5 p.m. mass on Friday, April 19, the day of their departure from Yucatan.

Couple Launch Fire Engine Fund For Mexicans

MINDORO, Wis. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence E. Sherman of Mindoro and formerly of Des Moines, Iowa, have launched a campaign to raise $3,000 to buy a fire truck for the people in and around Montemoreles, Mexico.

The Shermans said some 18,000 persons in the area of Montemoreles are without modern fire-protection equipment.

They are aiming their campaign mainly at residents of La Crosse County, Wis. The Shermans hope to buy a 1947 model fire truck.

Sherman, 48, said, "It seems with so much hatred in the world that here is something we can do for a deserving friend and neighbor."

Iowa Blue Cross and Blue Shield are 134 million dollar businesses.

That's a handsome figure. It makes your Blue Cross and Blue Shield Plans rank among Iowa's biggest businesses. That is, if you can call us a business. Businesslike, yes, and efficient, but not moneymakers.

But, handsome is as handsome does, and Blue Cross and Blue Shield do handsomely by their members.

Which is probably the reason we've become the biggest factor in the financing of hospital and doctor care in Iowa.

Exactly what makes us look so good? Realistic benefits based on your need. Non-profit operation to put a lot more of your money into care. Cost controls to help keep your rates low. Experience in millions of cases to give us a lot of knowledge.

Those are part of the reasons Blue Cross and Blue Shield now serve almost every other person in Iowa. If you're not in on it, why not come over and see how the other half lives.

City Plans Housing; Des Moines Acts Reunions, Award Presentation Urbanization Parley Slated For Teachers Of Geography

By CHARLA COLE

Iowa Citizens attending a conference on low-rent housing at the Civic Center Saturday morning learned of a housing project nearing completion in Des Moines and found that the Iowa City Low Rent Housing Agency had just completed another study of housing needs here.

The conference was sponsored by the Eastern Iowa Unitarian Universalists.

The study, a profile of need, was mailed Thursday to members of the boards of directors of the Chamber of Commerce and the Junior Chamber of Commerce, members of the Board of Realtors, Home Builders Association, Apartment Owners Association, Hawkeye Area Community Action Program (HACAP) board and Religious Leaders Association.

Agency Promotes No Program

Chambers of Commerce, realtors, home builders and apartment owners have fought public housing projects in many Iowa cities, including Cedar Rapids and Des Moines, but the Rev. Robert L. Welsh, chairman of the Iowa City Low Rent Housing Agency, said he thought these groups would see the need his agency found.

Welsh said his agency had no program to promote, but was interested only in interpretation of the needs of Iowa City. He outlined solutions to the city's housing problem and said coordinated effort was necessary to meet the needs.

In contrast to the Iowa City group's passive role in housing, the Rev. James Lenhart, president of a housing project in Des Moines for low and moderate income persons, told the group he was tired of listening to speeches and jargon.

He outlined efforts of the Council of Churches in Des Moines, the group which started the housing project, to overcome government red tape and "ideological rigidity" of people who opposed public housing on principle.

Group Fights Uphill Battle

Speaking with a get-things-done voice, more like a determined businessman than a congregational minister, Lenhart said public housing in Des Moines had progressed from defeat in two public referendums to approval by two successive Des Moines city councils, endorsement from builders, unions and realtors and finally to the construction of 300 units in the Des Moines urban renewal area.

Lenhart said it was impossible for private enterprise to build low rent housing without either rent supplement payments or low-interest money for construction. The Des Moines program used both, he said.

He said the Des Moines project depended upon both government and local businessmen. Local banks provided low-interest money and even agreed to go without their usual handling fees, adding $200,000 to the money available for the project, Lenhart said.

City Council Helps

The Des Moines city council approved the housing project unanimously and helped get land from an Urban Renewal Board, which was reluctant to sell land to a non-profit group that would not pay taxes, he said.

"The establishment is bad, but not all bad. So go along with the parts that are good and try to change the rest. That's necessary in problems of the poor as well as racial problems," Lenhart said.

Another speaker, Mrs. Phyllis Maloney, an Iowa City realtor and member of the Low Rent Housing Agency, said she did not think realtors would agree as a group with either public housing or high-rise housing.

She said the realtors generally had no objections to housing for the elderly or for people who could not work, but added that they probably would resist helping people who just did not want to go to work.

High-Rise Plans Criticized

William Whetstone, vice president of the HACAP board, said he represented the low income people. He agreed with Mrs. Maloney in opposing high-rise buildings. Whetstone said high-rise buildings have no yards for children to play in.

Mrs. Barbara Bailey, University instructor in Urban and Regional Planning, said the professional approach to housing for low income people had always tried to classify people by economic status alone.

She said professionals lumped people and their needs together and came up with a single answer to their housing problems.

Housing problems require the availability of choices for people who needed low cost housing, not just the provision of one kind of housing, according to Mrs. Bailey.

Although Iowa City has only 189 families who qualify as low income families, according to the Low Rent Housing Agency's study, the difference between Iowa City's planning approach and Des Moines' action approach was startling.

Lenhart said planning was essential, but "eventually you have to take the big step beyond planning."

Reunions, the presentation of distinguished service awards, scientific seminars, tours, concerts and exhibits will be the mixture this weekend when thousands of alumni return to campus for the University's annual Alumni Weekend.

The class reunions were shifted this year from the traditional June commencement weekend to a time when classes will be in session.

Alumni Weekend planners say, "These special visitors will profit from the general atmosphere of the University as a vibrant, thriving center of educational and cultural endeavor."

At the all-alumni luncheon scheduled for noon Saturday in the Union, eight outstanding University graduates will be honored with Distinguished Service Awards.

Recipients will be Walter L. Stewart, Des Moines attorney and banker; Robert H. McDonald, New York City stock broker; Charles H. Whitmore, Davenport utility president; Bourke B. Hickenlooper, Cedar Rapids, retiring U.S. senator; Leslie M. Fitzgerald, Dubuque oral surgeon; Norman F. Lion, California television producer; Thomas R. McConnell, Berkeley, Calif., professor; and Harold J. Gallagher, a New York City attorney and native of Clinton.

Pres. Howard R. Bowen will present a bronze medallion and a leather-bound citation to each recipient.

Distinguished Service Awards are given annually by the Alumni Association to honor alumni who have shown "distinguished accomplishments in business or professional life, distinguished human services in community affairs and meritorious services in behalf of the quality and advancement of the University of Iowa."

Tories Share Racial Ideas, Hit Language

LONDON (AP) — Conservative leader Edward Heath said Monday night he favored strict curbs on colored immigration into Britain but that he had dismissed Enoch Powell from the party high command because of "the inflammatory language" he used in urging the same curbs.

Heath said he had the unanimous backing of the party hierarchy for his action Sunday in ousting Powell from his "shadow cabinet."

In a television interview, Heath rejected — almost contemptuously — Powell's accusation that in effect the Tory leader was prepared to compromise with principle to win party unity.

In a letter to Heath earlier in the day, Powell accused Heath of "unsaying policies and views which you hold and believe to be right, for fear of clamor from some section of the press or public."

"What I like about IBM is the autonomy. I run my department pretty much as though it were my own business."

"Tell some people you work for a big company and right away they picture rows of gray steel desks with everybody wearing identical neckties.

"Well, that's the stereotype. When you look at the reality, things are a lot different. (This is Gene Hodge, B.S.E.E., an IBM Manager in Development Engineering.)

"IBM has over 300 locations. They believe in decentralization, and they delegate the authority to go with it. To me, it's more like a lot of little companies than one big one.

"Take my own situation, for example. I act as a kind of entrepreneur for my department. I decide if we should bid on certain government contracts for my group. I also decide the proposal strategy and come up with all the facts we need to set a bid price. Of course, upper management reviews my decisions, but to a great extent I run my own show.

"Another thing that makes this like a small company is the close relationship with your boss. You're almost always hired by the manager you're going to report to. And you work for him on your own or in a small team. It's part of his job to know your long term goals and help you reach them.

"This same interest in the individual also shows up in IBM's educational programs. I'm getting my Master's now, and IBM's paying the entire cost, and some of the class time is on company time. It makes it a lot easier to get your advanced degree."

Bishops Score Use Of Force In War, Riots

DALLAS (AP) — Bishops of two denominations, on the eve of an historic church merger, joined Monday night in denouncing the use of suppressive force as a solution either to racial unrest or to the Vietnamese war.

Declaring that "radical repression" of racial upheavals may signify "creeping totalitarianism" and that armed might won't settle international issues, bishops of the Evangelical United Brethren Church and the Methodist Church said:

"This is the hour for the church to join in the greatest prayer of man, which asks, not for victory, but for peace."

The "state of the church" message, issued by the combined corps of 98 bishops of both denominations, came amid last-hour preparations for their merger today into a single body — the United Methodist Church.

Largest Merger Yet
As the nation's largest church merger yet, it will have more than 11 million confirmed members domestically, plus 1.8 million baptized children, and another million adult members overseas.

In the keynote episcopal message, delivered by Methodist Bishop Lloyd C. Wicks, the bishops said "force commits suicide" as an instrument of solving modern international conflicts.

Without specifically naming the Vietnamese war but clearly referring to it, they added:

"Whatever the judgment of the past concerning war, who can defend it in our time? Yesterday's Four Horsemen have been augmented by apocalyptic terror and the threat of universal annihilation."

Citing the "catastrophic violence" erupting from racial conditions in American cities, the bishops called it "a warning blast that a plague is rampant in the land," and added:

Remedy Criticized
"A portion of our citizenry 'legitimizes violence' and another sector resorts to legalized suffocating of the eruption. The remedy many prescribe is increasing and radical repression.

"Such a course continued may ultimately abrogate most of our hard-won victories for personal freedom. . . . Though the sovereign must protect himself, the employment of troops in the process, however reluctant, may be the symbol of creeping totalitarianism and must be used sparingly."

Although "lawlessness cannot be tolerated," the bishops added, "to repress these explosions by whatever means without major attention to the conditions causing frustration and hopelessness escalates the spirit of hate and compounds the final destruction."

They said "the resort of the nation to war is dictated by a belief that force is the ultimate and final arbiter," but that "reliance on such force seldom, if ever, provides the desired end."

Wounds Ourselves
It not only wounds the enemy but ourselves, the bishops said, adding:

"Is it becoming to murder without committing a murderer? Can individuals or nations lie without becoming liars? Need we note the U-2 incident, the Bay of Pigs event, the Dominican Republic accident, the Gulf of Tonkin happening. . . ? Can we embrace chicanery and savagery without becoming contaminated?"

Pockets of continuing opposition to the projected merger were cited as the consummation of it neared.

"There has been some questioning, some opposition, some wavering in loyalty," Bishop Reuben H. Mueller, president of the E. U. B. Church, told a final session of its delegates.

But he said the "vast majority of our people" are looking forward with "eager expectancy" to the new enlarged enterprise.

Hughes Opposes Turner Opinion On Appropriation

DES MOINES (AP) — Gov. Harold Hughes said Monday he disagrees with Atty. Gen. Richard Turner's opinion that the State Executive Council may not appropriate more than $30,000 from its contingency fund to complete a new state office building.

Hughes, chairman of the council, termed Turner's opinion "ridiculous."

The council and the legislature's Interim Committee had appropriated $75,000 from the contingency fund in addition to a $3 million appropriation for the building.

Turner advised council members they would be personally liable for the $75,000 if the action was carried out. The council last week rescinded its action, thereby cancelling the $75,000 appropriation.

Hughes contended Monday the state will have to take steps later to complete what would have been done with the $75,000.

Hospitals To Buy Simulator To Aid In Cancer Treatment

A $20,000 grant by the Iowa Division of the American Cancer Society has enabled University Hospitals to purchase a "Simulator," a machine designed to aid in the treatment of cancer.

Using the Simulator, physicians are able to direct with greater precision either electrons or gamma rays emitted from a Betatron machine into deep-seated cancers.

The Betatron is capable of generating radiation or electron beams of up to 18 million volts for cancer treatment.

By injecting enough energy into growth areas cells are either killed or changed so much genetically that the newly-formed cancer cells die.

The Simulator was purchased with funds contributed by Iowans during last year's April Cancer Crusade.

Aid In Diagnosis
Dr. Howard B. Latourette, professor and acting head of the Department of Radiology in the College of Medicine, refers to the Simulator as a "diagnostic unit" because it allows physicians to use a diagnostic beam of radiation to check the size and location of a patient's cancer just prior to treatment by the Betatron.

Latourette said, "The word 'Simulator' is applied because the geometry of the treatment beam of the Betatron and the diagnostic beam of the Simulator are the same.

"This means we can put a patient on the Simulator and actually see the area we are going to be treating when we move the patient into the Betatron room. "This, of course, is particularly helpful where there are bony and other anatomical landmarks that can be identified so that we can check the position of the cancer and also identify the landmarks that will help us adequately cover the volume that should be treated."

325 Patients Treated

The Iowa Division of the American Cancer Society was instrumental in the purchase of the $150,000 Betatron for the University two and one-half years ago by providing $60,000 of the cost.

Latourette added that 325 patients have been treated by the Betatron in the past two years. He said about 50 patients underwent treatment with electron beams. Others received gamma ray treatment.

The Iowa Division of the American Cancer Society has also provided $5,000 for modification of electron microscopes and the purchase of equipment and supplies for their use in the Department of Pathology.

A total of $96,320 for research, equipment, and special training at the University was provided this year by the American Cancer Society and its Iowa Division.

KNOWLER SCHOLARSHIP

Robert Ford, A3, Lacona, has been awarded the Lloyd Knowler Scholarship for 1968-69, according to John Moore, director of student financial aids. The $370 award is given annually on the basis of academic record to a student interested in statistics, engineering or business.

Malnutrition Victims Are In Millions, Study Unit Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — A special committee of private citizens reported Monday there is concrete evidence of chronic hunger and serious malnutrition in all parts of the United States but primarily in the South and Southwest. It estimated victims number in the millions.

The Citizens' Board of Inquiry into Hunger and Malnutrition in the United States, established by the Citizens' Crusade Against Poverty, studied the program for the past nine months and concluded:

"If you will go look, you will find America is a shocking place."

The board was formed after a Senate subcommittee toured Mississippi last spring and found pockets of malnutrition and hunger. A few weeks later six doctors reported that they had personally observed what they called inhuman and intolerable conditions in Mississippi.

In its 100-page report, released Monday, the board said there is a prevalence of chronic hunger and malnutrition which has been hitherto unimagined and "this prevalence is shocking."

"Situation Worsening"
"A thousand people who must go without food for days each month would be shocking in a wealthy nation," the board wrote. "We believe that, in America, the number reaches well into the millions. And we believe that the situation is worsening."

It listed 256 "hunger counties" in 20 states. Georgia led with 47 while 36 were named in Mississippi.

The board, which held hearings around the country and made field trips, said wherever it went poor people spoke "not with precise analysis of foods consumed in grams or ounces — but . . . of constant, chronic, unremitting hunger."

The board reported it found:
• High incidence of anemia, growth retardation, protein deficiencies and other signs of malnutrition among the poverty population.

• That pregnant women in poverty suffered from nutritional deficiencies and were constantly anemic.

• Diet deficiencies resulting in the most severe protein-deficiency diseases — Kwashiorkor and Marasmus, diseases usually found in underdeveloped countries.

Board Critical

• Evidence of high incidence of parasitic diseases associated with malnutrition which the board found on its visits to South Carolina, Florida, Mississippi, Alabama and Indian reservations.

The citizens' board was highly critical of the federal food programs administered by the Department of Agriculture.

The board recommended that federal food programs be removed from the administration of the Agriculture Department and Congress.

It said its principal recommendation was for the establishment of a free food stamp program keyed to need and a completely adequate diet, and one which would be administered with minimum controls.

NAACP Chief Turns Down Bid By Des Moines Police

DES MOINES (AP) — The president of the Iowa Conference of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Robert A. Wright, Monday turned down an invitation from Police Chief Vear Douglas to serve as a community relations instructor at the Des Moines Police academy.

Wright, a Des Moines attorney and former policeman, said it would be inappropriate for him to serve until a dispute between Douglas and John Estes Jr., head of the Des Moines NAACP unit, is resolved.

Douglas had previously refused to allow Estes to deliver lectures to police recruits.

The police chief said he dropped Estes from the training program because of what Douglas called Estes' "unfounded and unconstructive" criticism of the police department.

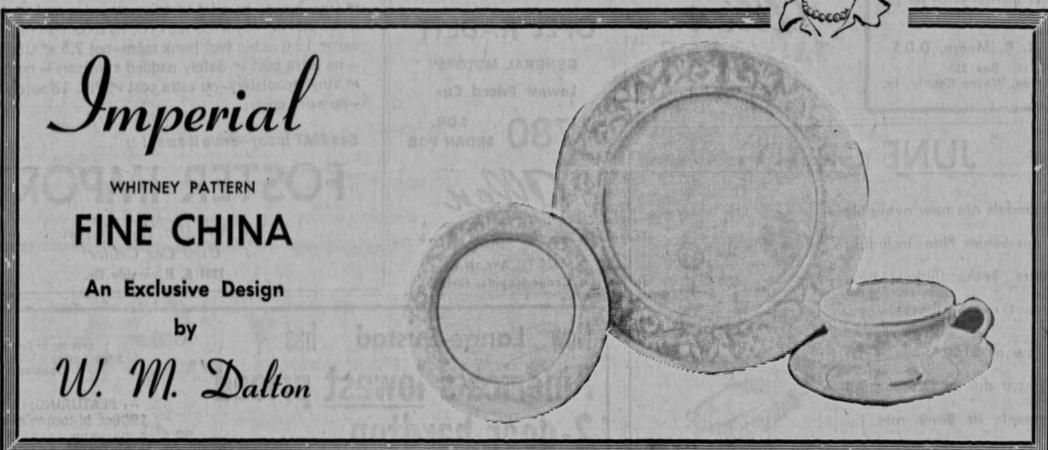

Mayor Thomas Urban said he was disappointed over Douglas' refusal to allow Estes to serve. The mayor said he was "very concerned" because the police attitude will "make it harder for various groups in our community to understand one another."
