Negro Leader Suggests White March On Capital

NEW YORK (AP) — Negro leader Whitney Young Jr. suggested Tuesday that top echelon white leaders organize a huge "white march" on Washington to demonstrate white America's commitment to racial equality.

Such a march by hundreds of thousands of whites, followed up by white marches on city halls all across the country, is "the last chance" to avoid rebellion by poor and frustrated Negroes, Young, the executive director of the National Urban League, said.

"Black people have marched for a long time . . . and it hasn't gotten us much more than sore feet," he told about 700 newspaper publishers at the American Newspaper Publishers Association's annual meeting.

Young said the white march would demonstrate to Congress that it must regard the urban crisis as its top priority. It would tell white Americans, he said, that they must end their "conspiracy of silence and injustice" toward the Negro. It would show the Negro that there is cause for hope in a white-dominated society, he said.

Leaders Called On

He called on such men as industrialist Henry Ford, financier David Rockefeller and labor leader George Meany to lead the march.

"I used their names," he said at a news conference later, "because I think they are symbolic of white American leadership."

$1 Million King Bounty Cited By Ray's Jail Pal

DALTON, Ga. (AP) — A convicted murderer who was in prison with the mysterious James Earl Ray, now hanged in the slaying of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., said Tuesday he heard Ray say he would be willing to try to collect $1 million for killing the civil rights leader.

Raymond Curtis, 40, the same age as Ray, is serving a life sentence at Whitefield County jail. Curtis said he and Ray were prisoners at the Missouri State Penitentiary when John F. Kennedy was assassinated Nov. 22, 1963, in Dallas, Tex.

"Another boy said, 'Well, there's a million-dollar bounty to get King,' King was running his mouth pretty good then. Ray said, 'If there is a million-dollar bounty on King, I believe I can collect it,'" Curtis said in an interview.

Curtis said he met Ray in 1955 when both were prisoners in Jackson County jail at Kansas City, Mo. He said they shared a cell for seven months.

Sent To Leavenworth

Then, Curtis said, Ray was transferred to the Leavenworth federal prison to serve a term for forging postal money orders. Curtis said that two weeks later he also was sent to Leavenworth.

Curtis said he and Ray were in the same 281-cell building at Leavenworth and at one point were in adjoining cells.

He said after about six months he was transferred to the Atlanta prison and did not see Ray again until late 1961 or early 1962, when Curtis went to the Missouri State Penitentiary on a 10-year armed robbery sentence.

Ray was there, Curtis said, serving a 20-year armed robbery sentence. Prison records confirm that Curtis and Ray were inmates at the same time.

The two saw each other "almost daily" Curtis said.

Bounty Discussed

It was in the prison yard, Curtis said, that he and Ray saw television news reports of Kennedy's assassination. A few days later, he said, a new prisoner came in and said that a $1 million bounty had been put on King by a "K-K-K businessman's association."

Curtis said Ray did not associate freely with other inmates.

"You could pick him out of a crowd of 2,000 men in the prison yard. He would be off to himself walking and his mind would be somewhere else."

"The only thing he would make a long conversation out of was when he was planning something and you were a part of it," Curtis said. "Anything he did was thoroughly planned. He never went off half-cocked."

Students Cast Ballots In Choice '68 Today

Students may vote in the nationwide Choice '68 college political opinion poll today at the following seven polling places:

Union Gold Feather Lobby, the Medical Building, the Law Building, the Pentacrest, and Hillcrest, Quadrangle and Burge Hall dining rooms.

The polling places will be open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., except those in the dormitories, which will be open only during the meal hours.

The Board of Directors of Choice '68, sponsored by Time-Life, Inc., announced recently a clarification of the second referendum question, dealing with Vietnam.

They said that the phrase "temporary suspension of bombing" should be interpreted as a temporary suspension of all bombing, and the phrase "maintain current level of bombing" should be interpreted as maintaining the present level of limited bombing, referring to President Johnson's recent order limiting bombing in North Vietnam to what has been interpreted as being below the 19th parallel.

Senate Agrees To Avoid Constitution Showdown

Student Body Pres. Carl Varner suggested to the Student Senate Tuesday night that University Pres. Howard R. Bowen's suggestions be followed regarding the Student Association Constitution. No senators objected.

This move will gain administration approval of the constitution and will allow the senate to disburse funds and organize and act with constituted authority.

In a letter Varner read to the senate on April 9, Bowen rejected the Constitution's preamble, which declares the document the supreme authority over the student body. Bowen proposed to accept parts of the present constitution and suggested implementing it as a provisional document, pending an entire redrafting.

Bowen also rejected Article I, which is the Student Bill of Rights and Freedoms; Article II, Section 14, which states that no regulations can be imposed upon any student by the administration without the express consent of the senate; and Article IV, Section 1, which states that all amendments to the University judicial structure for non-academic violations must be ratified by the senate.

In place of Article I, Bowen suggested substituting the Joint Statement on Rights and Freedoms of Students, which had been endorsed by the local American Association of University Professors, and the Student Senate.

In other business, the senate defeated a resolution introduced by Mike Lally and Jim Sutton, both Hawkeye Student Party members, calling for students to boycott classes unless they were released with the ROTC students to greet Gov. Harold Hughes on May 1, Governor's Day.

In opposition to the resolution Varner read a statement from Philip Hubbard, dean of academic affairs, stating that ROTC students were released from attending classes, but must make up work missed, which was a disadvantage to the student and could not be considered a privilege. The resolution was defeated 22 to 9. Only a portion of HSP members supported the resolution, a move which resulted in Lally's turning in his HSP card and re-classifying himself an independent.

Although there were strong arguments within the HSP ranks at Tuesday's senate meeting, party members declined after the meeting to comment on the possibility of organizational problems within the party.

A bill increasing the Traffic Court to 10 members was given unanimous approval by the senate. This will create two five-man courts to handle more rapidly the increased load of student appeals.

In other action, Varner urged senate members to speed up their work as there are only five senate meetings remaining before summer adjournment. Varner said there were 17 bills awaiting action; a $30,000 budget awaiting approval; and 85 student committee appointments to be made.

GOV. HAROLD HUGHES To Address Student Body

Varner Arranges Talk To Head Off Boycott

Gov. Harold Hughes told Student Body Pres. Carl Varner in a telephone conversation Tuesday afternoon that he would be willing to address the student body when he visits the University May 1 for the Governor's Day ceremonies.

Varner said he called the governor because of a resolution slated to be introduced to the Student Senate Tuesday night calling for a boycott of classes by students unless the student body were released to greet the governor along with the ROTC students who had previously been excused.

The governor told Varner to plan the time and place for the address. At Tuesday night's senate meeting Sen. Jim Robertson (Hawkeye Student Party) and Jim French (Independent) agreed to meet with Varner at 3:30 p.m. today to plan the event.

University administration officials, including Pres. Howard R. Bowen have given sanction to Varner's actions in planning the time and place for the governor's speech, and have indicated classes could be dismissed for the speech, according to Varner.

Resist, SDS Plan Protest Here For Governor's Day

Plans for a demonstration directed against the military to coincide with Gov. Harold Hughes' review of University ROTC groups May 1 are being spearheaded by two local antiwar groups.

Members of the Iowa City chapters of Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) and Resist are planning to take part in a demonstration to be held on the parade grounds of the Athletic Field as military groups and coed auxiliary groups march in the annual Governor's Day ceremonies.

Governor's Day falls in the midst of several days of on-campus recruiting by the Marine Corps, April 29 to May 1, and The Army, May 2 to 3. It is anticipated that the recruiting by military groups, long a sore point among campus militants and antiwar activists, will add interest and participation to the demonstration.

A detailed plan of action will be discussed by SDS at its meeting at 7:30 tonight in the Union.

Resist members decided at a meeting

Tuesday night to participate in the demonstration as individuals and not as a group. The group will spend its time planning other upcoming antiwar activities.

SDS may also demonstrate against the Marine and Army recruiters who will be holding interviews at the Business and Industrial Placement Office.

All of these activities are to come on what is referred to as a University "Gentle Wednesday and May Day."

Steve Morris, AI, Iowa City, an SDS spokesman who attended the Resist meeting, said that since the University will be holding a demonstration to exhibit its military prowess, it was only fitting that an antimilitary demonstration be held at the same time.

Morris said that SDS may take action asking the University to excuse all students from classes on May 1 since a letter sent to the University faculty has asked that members of the military groups be excused on that day to participate in the review.

McCarthy Wins, Nobody Defeated In Pennsylvania

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, only candidate on Pennsylvania's presidential preference ballot, received the bulk of the early primary returns Tuesday night.

With 270 precincts of 9,460 reported, McCarthy had 7,496 votes on the Democratic ticket.

Nearest contender, with 415, was Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York, who, like the Minnesotan, campaigned briefly.

Vice Pres. Hubert H. Humphrey, still a candidate, had 312; ex-Gov. George Wallace of Alabama 70 and President Johnson 130.

On the Republican side, with 245 precincts reported, Richard M. Nixon had 553 write-ins. Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York 246. Gov. Ronald Reagan of California 50. Wallace 35. Gov. Raymond Shafer of Pennsylvania — an announced "favorite son" — 15 and Johnson 11.

Tabulation of returns was slowed because of the nation-wide telephone strike and hand-counting of write-ins on machines.

Despite a clear spring day it was estimated only 35 per cent of the Keystone State's 5.2 million voters went to the polls, or somewhere around 1.8 million.

Campaign managers for McCarthy had hoped for 200,000 votes in the unopposed balloting to demonstrate that McCarthy, contrary to trends in New Hampshire and Wisconsin, "is able to attract votes in a large industrial state."

Czechoslovakia Warns Soviets Not To Meddle

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovakia's liberal government warned the Soviet Union against interference in its internal affairs Tuesday and told Moscow it would walk out of a world Communist meeting in Budapest today if criticized there, reliable sources reported.

They said the leader of the Czechoslovak delegation, Jozef Lenart, secretary of the party Central Committee, had been authorized to tell his Soviet counterpart that "interference in Czechoslovak internal affairs" must stop.

The threat of a walkout meant that Czechoslovakia was ready to assume renegade status within the European Communist world, joining Romania, Yugoslavia and Albania. None of the three is represented in Budapest.

Behind Czechoslovakia's stand was the Soviet Union's backing of conservative elements with the Czech Communist party who are opposed to the liberal course of First Secretary Alexander Dubcek.

The situation was strained by unconfirmed reports that Soviet Ambassador I.V. Chervolenko had several meetings earlier this month with Antonin Novotny, the party leader and president ousted by Dubcek.

Novotny, a Soviet-type old-liner, retains a seat on the Central Committee and still has the allegiance of about a third of its members and thousands of party apparatchiks, or bureaucrats.

Faculty Council OKs Dismissal Procedures

By MARY ANN McEVROY

The Faculty Council, the executive body of the Faculty Senate, endorsed a proposal Tuesday for teaching assistant dismissal procedures. It will be discussed with teaching assistants next week.

The proposal is a combination of previous documents concerning the dismissal of teaching assistants written by rhetoric and core literature teaching assistants, the local chapter of the American Association of University Professors and the Faculty Council.

Interest in dismissal procedures for teaching assistants was stimulated when Paul Kleinberger, G, Silver Springs, Md., was dismissed from his position as a rhetoric teacher after being charged with conspiracy in connection with the Dec. 5 antiwar demonstration.

Kleinberger was reinstated as a rhetoric teacher at the beginning of second semester.

The main difference between the council's and the graduate assistants' proposals was that the council's did not allow graduate assistants to be members of a hearing committee which would listen to formal complaints about teaching assistants.

Graduates Make Proposal

The graduate assistants in their draft of dismissal proposals wanted three graduate students on the hearing committee.

The council's proposal asks for a hearing committee of five impartial faculty members appointed by the dean of the graduate student's college.

Richard Lloyd-Jones, professor of English, a member of the council, said that graduate students were omitted from the hearing committee because they would be placed in awkward positions if they disagreed with their superiors on a decision.

Michael J. Brody, associate professor of pharmacology, a council member, said that it would be sad if any committee member was subjected to pressure from above. He asked that graduate students be included on the committee.

Brody received no support for his idea, so no motion was introduced to change the document.

Bert Marian, G, Iowa City, a rhetoric instructor who was instrumental in organizing the graduates' proposal for dismissal procedures, said later Tuesday, "It is unfortunate that the council is proposing a document that is practically feasible rather than ideal in its attempt to deal with the problem of dismissal."

Marian said that to remove the teaching assistants, for whatever reason, from the hearing committee is, in his opinion, equivalent to "having a black man tried by an all white jury."

After the document is discussed with graduate assistants next week, another document that will incorporate any changes agreed upon between the graduates and the council, will be drawn up. This document will be considered by the council on May 7 before it is taken to the Faculty Senate for discussion on May 21. Any policy would eventually have to be approved by the State Board of Regents.

Greek Man, Woman Of Year Named At Annual Banquet

Patricia Henderson, A4, Council Bluffs, and Mitch D'Olier, A4, Chicago, were named outstanding Greek Woman and Greek Man of the year at the annual Greek Week Leadership Banquet Tuesday evening.

They were selected from 35 students, each nominated by a University social sorority or fraternity.

Miss Henderson has served as president and scholarship chairman of her sorority, Kappa Kappa Gamma, as well as junior and senior Panhellenic Council delegate. She was a member of Student Senate, and served on the senate Committee for Academics. She also was a Union Board committee member, and president of her pledge class and of Junior Panhellenic during her freshman year. She is majoring in elementary education.

D'Olier has been vice president, rush chairman, and scholarship chairman of his fraternity, Delta Chi. He has been a Union Board director and vice president of Union Board. He was vice president and rush commissioner of the Interfraternity Council.

As a freshman, D'Olier was a Student Senate freshman intern and later served on the student-faculty Fee Review Board. He also was the 1967 editor of the "Hawkeye Greek," a fraternity pamphlet for prospective rushees. D'Olier is an English and general science major.

Thomas A. Loudon, Keokuk, a member of the Board of Regents and a University alumnus, gave the banquet address, "Greeks Dedicated to Service."

Loudon said that the individual should try to better society by giving of himself, but that this giving would not be sufficient unless it were tempered by a purpose.

He said that the Dec. 5 demonstration against Dow Chemical Co. and the passing of the new Student Association Constitution were not tempered by purpose. Loudon said the new constitution was never presented to the administration nor to the Board of Regents for approval.

Forecast

Mostly fair and warmer today with high in the mid 50s. Little chance of rain. Warmer Thursday.

$1.57 Million Needed To Better City Streets

By CHARLA COLE

It will cost the city an estimated $1,572,000 to make improvements in arterial streets which were recommended in a recent report by the city's traffic planning team, according to City Manager Frank Smiley.

Smiley submitted cost estimates for 10 suggested improvements to the City Council Monday, and noted that consideration of what the city could afford was particularly timely, since the 1969 budget would be determined soon.

The council met two weeks ago to discuss the plan and members indicated then that they generally agreed with the recommendations, and would like to see estimates of the cost.

Financing the improvements would not require a public vote, according to City Atty. Jay Honohan.

The Traffic Planning Team, composed of city officials and private citizens, was originated to update the major street plan.

However, when the city decided to undertake a new study of transportation and traffic, which will be partially financed by the federal and state governments, the team's assignment was changed to considering improvements which the city could make on the present street system.

Recommended changes near the campus included turning Church Street into an arterial thoroughfare from Dubuque Street to Governor Street, a change which would not cost the city anything, according to Smiley's report.

Also recommended was the widening and resurfacing of Burlington Street between Gilbert and Summit streets, at an estimated cost of $300,000.

4th Graders To Wage War Against Litter In Iowa City

By CHERYL TURK

An Iowa City elementary school teacher is planning to have her pupils wage a war against litter.

Mrs. Barbara Ferguson, a fourth-grade teacher at Henry Sabin School, said her class would begin the campaign. Eventually she hopes to involve the whole school in the clean-up project.

Mrs. Ferguson, who has taught two years, plans to have her students make a huge collage from the litter they gather.

"We'll probably have to wire on the pop bottles," she said.

Mrs. Ferguson got the idea from a Des Moines man who cleaned up a badly littered lot and then hung a collage made from the litter on a tree in the lot.

"He didn't have to say anything," she said. "He made his point."

To further emphasize their war on litter, the children will also draw posters, which they will ask stores to display, and make car litter bags.

"I'd love to picket!" Mrs. Ferguson said, "but I don't know if we will."

Centering school work around projects is the best way to teach, Mrs. Ferguson said.

"Children have to enjoy what they are doing before they'll learn," she said.

"In order for them to remember something, they must associate it with an experience."

In keeping with her theory, Mrs. Ferguson has organized several other projects for her students.

One project the children enjoyed the most this year was a classroom store in which they bought make-believe goods of empty cans and boxes with real money, Mrs. Ferguson said.

Students Play Store

The children were each given a small amount of money. Some were customers and others were storekeeper.

They learned how to make change and how to act in a store, Mrs. Ferguson said.

"The last day I let my best storekeepers try to cheat their customers," she said.

In another project connected with a unit on Pacific islands, the children prepared a meal of island food, including sweet potato cake, avocados and crab and coconut meat.

The fourth graders also do creative writing projects. During a science study unit, Mrs. Ferguson has her students write a story in which they pretended to be germs. The germs entered a human body and then ran into some penicillin.

"I hope these experiences make my students more aware," Mrs. Ferguson said.

Students Boost Candidates For President At Soundoff

Presidential candidates from Richard Nixon and Robert Kennedy to Dick Gregory and George Wallace were praised and criticized by students at Soapbox Soundoff, Tuesday noon in the Union Gold Feather Room. The session was held to give student backers of candidates a chance to present their positions before the Choice '68 Election to be held on campus today.

"The Republican party must think of its primary purpose — to win elections," said New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller-backer Susan Webster, A1, Des Moines, as the discussion began on an anti-Nixon note which was to continue throughout the 90-minute session.

Randy Mott, Keokuk, wearing an RFK button, attacked what he termed Nixon's "fifth-grade mentality" in advocating reduced balance of payments while supporting the war in Vietnam, which Mott cited as the greatest of the three reasons for the present balance of payment deficit.

Nixon Blasted

During the discussion, Nixon opponents accused him of having poor economic judgment, running a campaign based on old political cliches, representing the "stagnation of the Eisenhower Administration" and being a "stooge for big business."

William Nile, A3, Iowa City, defended his candidate by quoting Nixon campaign material to show that Nixon policies are "both practical and realistic." He charged that "Kennedy is not worth debating about because he changes his policies so often, no one can ever tell what he stands for."

Mott retaliated to the anti-Kennedy charges by calling him "the young Democrat" who consistently criticized Johnson policies "long before anyone ever heard of McCarthy."

Although no one spoke exclusively for Sen. Eugene McCarthy, the number of buttons in the crowd for the Minnesota Democrat supported Mott's prediction that today's student vote would be overwhelmingly for McCarthy.

"Can't Win Yet"

As the issue turned from personalities to that of civil rights, Judson Jones, A4, Montezuma, presented a prepared speech for Negro comedian Dick Gregory, who along with Vice President Hubert Humphrey is on today's ballot.

"Gregory can't win yet, but he knows what's going on," said Jones, who predicted that Gregory would be a strong political force by 1972. "You're not ready for Gregory, but you'd better get ready, because the country is going to be burned down anyway."

Jeff Shay, A3, Muscatine, seemingly the only Wallace supporter in the group, replied that civil rights could not be won by tearing the country apart. Shay said that if Wallace were elected there would be no more riots.

"I'm not prejudiced," he said, "but I'm for Wallace because I'm tired of riots in the street. Wallace will declare a moratorium and end the injustice of the federal government taking money from tax-payers to pay for those who are trying to turn our nation asunder."

Sam Kramer, A3, Elkader, also spoke out against demonstrators but proposed a different solution: a vote for Reagan and an end to all aid and trade with "Communist satellites" as well as a general cut in defense spending. He said that the National Defense Education Act budget should also be cut "because all the money is going to demonstrators and protesters."

GOP Aspirants For U.S. Senate To Debate Here

Iowa's three contenders for the Republican nomination for the U.S. Senate will participate in a candidate's debate at 8 tonight in the Old Capitol House Chamber. The debate is sponsored by the University-recognized branch of the local Young Republicans, headed by Hugh Field, L2, Waterloo.

The contenders are William Plymat, a Des Moines businessman; State Sen. David Stanley of Muscatine; and James Bromwell, a Cedar Rapids lawyer and former congressman. The debate will provide for constructive speeches and rebuttal speeches by each candidate.

The three debated here March 25, but since that time, a number of developments, such as the passage of the Civil Rights Act, President Johnson's announcement of de-escalation in Vietnam, and the assassination of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, may have changed their stands on certain issues.

Plymat said in the March 25 debate that he favored halting the bombing of North Vietnam and negotiating with the National Liberation Front. He also called for an increase in corporation taxes to finance the war, and a rejection of President Johnson's proposed 10 per cent personal surtax.

Stanley spoke out against unilateral de-escalation in Vietnam in the debate, saying that such de-escalation would only lead to war against stronger Communist foes in the future.

He also called for stricter law enforcement during riots.

Bromwell criticized Johnson for never taking the Vietnamese issue to Congress for its approval. He called for popular discussion of the war before any further action was taken.

New Trial Requested In Seydel Drug Case

Donald M. Seydel filed a motion for a new trial and an appeal Tuesday in Johnson County District Court of his conviction of possession of marijuana, on the grounds that his defense was hindered by the failure of two witnesses to testify at his trial.

Seydel, a 20-year-old former student from West Branch, was sentenced Feb. 23 to two years in the Iowa Men's Reformatory and fined $1,000. He was arrested Sept. 22, 1967, in an apartment at 109 1/2 S. Clinton St., where 93 grams of marijuana were found.

The appeal and motion for new trial were filed by Seydel's attorney, Edward H. Norton, Chicago. In the motion, Norton said Seydel's defense had been difficult because two witnesses who were present when Seydel was arrested did not testify at his trial.

The two, Richard J. Roehlk, 20, and Walter E. Kellison, 20, both former University students from Cedar Rapids, were tried for possession of marijuana after Seydel's trial. To avoid self-incrimination, neither one testified at Seydel's trial.

Roehlk and Kellison both pleaded guilty to charges of possession of marijuana Feb. 29. Both were fined $200 and were put on probation for three years in the custody of their parents.

Norton said that if Roehlk and Kellison had been able to testify at Seydel's trial, the defense would have been able to prove that Seydel had never had possession of the marijuana found in the apartment nor had had knowledge of the presence of the marijuana.

Des Moines Youth To Get Job Aid By Businessmen

DES MOINES — Responding to pleas by Gov. Harold Hughes and Des Moines Mayor Thomas Urban, Des Moines businessmen Tuesday pledged $120,000 to help city youths find summer jobs.

The officials and business representatives met with officers of Community Improvement, Inc., a local nonprofit corporation which places youngsters in summer jobs.

CII head Mrs. Kate Goldman of Des Moines said she hoped the group would be able to raise some $200,000 before school is dismissed for summer vacation.

Under the CII program, the youths will work 32 hours a week for eight weeks, making $1.25 an hour in jobs provided by government or private business.

One project the children enjoyed the most this year was a classroom store in which they bought make-believe goods of empty cans and boxes with real money, Mrs. Ferguson said.

Students Play Store

The children were each given a small amount of money. Some were customers and others were storekeeper.

No Indictments Handed Down In Newark Riot Death Probe

NEWARK, N.J. — An Essex County Grand Jury investigating 25 of the 26 deaths in the city's riots last July found no cause for indictments in its presentment made public Tuesday.

The 27-page presentment was mixed with praise and blame for authorities and persons connected with the deaths.

The fatal shooting of Mrs. Jessie Jones, a mother of four, was not investigated by the grand jury since another session of the grand jury had already indicted Ewynd Lee Chandler, 32, a Negro bartender, on a charge of manslaughter.

Chandler was sentenced Tuesday to 8 to 10 years in State Prison for the shooting of the 31-year-old woman during the riots. An all-white jury found him guilty last April 2.

The jury investigating the 25 other deaths reported that 22 of them were caused by gunshot wounds. Eight of the 22 persons were "actively participating" in looting or assaults on police, the grand jury presentment declared.

While police and National guardsmen "acquitted themselves with courage and restraint in the early stages of the riot," the grand jury said, "there were examples of poor judgment, excessive use of firearms and a manifestation of vindictiveness that cannot be tolerated in law enforcement personnel."

Kinney spent most of the morning describing the Newark chapter of SDS, an organization FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover says is aimed at promoting Communist activity throughout the United States.

Kinney, a Newark police officer for 21 years, testified before a subcommittee of the House Committee on Un-American Activities Tuesday morning. The subcommittee has been holding hearings to find out whether subversive activities had contributed to last year's disorders in the nation's cities.

Newark Cop Links SDS To Rioting

WASHINGTON — A veteran Newark police detective testified Tuesday that the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) described by the FBI as Communist-sponsored, was active in Newark prior to the last July's riots there.

Capt. Charles E. Kinney, who has been investigating the rioting, said, "For the past five years, they have tried to exploit every grievance between Negroes and whites in Newark. They have tried to exploit every arrest."

Soviet Party Journal Fears Loss Of China From Clan

MOSCOW — Communist rule in China could be overthrown by "a surging wave of discontent" created by the policies of Mao Tse-tung, the Soviet Communist party said Tuesday.

An editorial in the Soviet party's theoretical journal, Kommunist, indicated that the Kremlin had lost hope that China would return to a calm, stable form of communism.

Instead, the Kremlin appeared worried that China might cease to be a Communist country. What might succeed communism in China was not suggested in the editorial.

"What is now taking place in China is causing growing concern and anxiety among Marxists-Leninists throughout the world," the Kommunist editorial said.

"Already clearly in sight is danger of a change in the nature of China's government and, hence, a real danger to the Socialist gains of the Chinese revolution."

The editorial added that Mao's policies were harming the Communist and revolutionary movement by leading China away from the world movement and converting China "into a force hostile to the Soviet Union and other Socialist countries."

The editorial appeared on the eve of a meeting in Budapest of many of the world's Communist parties. This meeting is to organize a world Communist conference, scheduled for this fall, against imperialism in Moscow. China has opposed the fall conference, which is Soviet-directed, by saying it is against China.

Looking over the history of communism in China, Kommunist reached the conclusion that Mao never had been a true Communist.

"It has now become evident," the editorial said, "that Mao's building up Communist power was in China was 'guided mainly by nationalistic reasons.'"

Economic failure led to a waning of Mao's authority and of belief in his infallibility, the editorial added. Mao met economic failure with more hero worship and greater militarization.

Instead, the Kremlin appeared worried that China might cease to be a Communist country. What might succeed communism in China was not suggested in the editorial.

"What is now taking place in China is causing growing concern and anxiety among Marxists-Leninists throughout the world," the Kommunist editorial said.

"Already clearly in sight is danger of a change in the nature of China's government and, hence, a real danger to the Socialist gains of the Chinese revolution."

The editorial added that Mao's policies were harming the Communist and revolutionary movement by leading China away from the world movement and converting China "into a force hostile to the Soviet Union and other Socialist countries."

The editorial appeared on the eve of a meeting in Budapest of many of the world's Communist parties. This meeting is to organize a world Communist conference, scheduled for this fall, against imperialism in Moscow. China has opposed the fall conference, which is Soviet-directed, by saying it is against China.

Looking over the history of communism in China, Kommunist reached the conclusion that Mao never had been a true Communist.

"It has now become evident," the editorial said, "that Mao's building up Communist power was in China was 'guided mainly by nationalistic reasons.'"

Economic failure led to a waning of Mao's authority and of belief in his infallibility, the editorial added. Mao met economic failure with more hero worship and greater militarization.

Trial Date Set In Spock Case; Motion Denied

BOSTON — U.S. District Judge Francis J.W. Ford Tuesday set May 20 as the starting date for the trial of pediatrician Dr. Benjamin Spock and four codefendants charged with conspiracy to counsel young men to evade the draft.

In ordering the case to trial in U.S. District Court, Judge Ford denied all motions of the defendants to dismiss the charges against them, and all motions for a bill of particulars.

Indicted Jan. 5 with the 64-year-old pediatrician-author were William Sloane Coffin Jr., 43, Yale University chaplain; Mitchell Goodman, 44, of New York City and Temple, Maine; Michael Ferber, 23, of Boston, a Harvard graduate school student; and Marcus Raskin, 33, of Washington, coordinator of the Institute for Policy Studies.

Judge Ford denied all motions by Raskin's attorneys to have his trial separated from that of the others and to have it transferred to Washington, D.C.

All motions by Coffin's attorneys for a separate trial also were denied.

The judge did agree, however, to defense requests to be supplied with material that the government has and plans to use in evidence.

— Accreditation Lost — UI Still Welcomes Area School Credit

By MARGE HUMKE
The recent loss of regional accreditation of Mason City and Burlington community colleges will not affect transfer of credits from these schools to the University, according to Duane D. Anderson, assistant professor of education.

Anderson, director of the Office of Community College Affairs, expressed concern that students may think this loss means that the two schools are inferior institutions.

On the contrary, he said, transfer students from Burlington and Mason City have done good work at the University and that there is no reason to believe that this will not continue.

Students from these two schools have smaller changes in grade-point average after transferring than do other community college transfer students, according to Anderson. He said that customarily the grade point of a transfer student drops somewhat as he adjusts to the University.

Last fall 81 students from Burlington and 60 from Mason City transferred to the University.

Accreditation Denied
The North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools (NCA) recently denied accreditation to Area 2 Community College at Mason City and the Area 16 school at Burlington. Both colleges had been accredited as junior colleges before their becoming part of the state area college system.

Of the 37 Iowa junior colleges existing before the emergence of the area schools, only five had attained accreditation status. Ellsworth, Marshalltown and Muscatine junior colleges were the three other accredited colleges.

The NCA did not find fault with the programs, facilities or faculties of the two colleges that lost accreditation, Anderson said.

Rather, the regional group objected to excessive state control of the budget, the hiring of faculty and the determination of curriculum.

The State Department of Public Instruction controls the area colleges.

Weakness Cited
"I do not disagree with what North Central said. They found a legitimate weakness," Anderson said.

He added that it may be a blessing in disguise for the community colleges to have had the problem raised.

Accreditation by a regional association is not required of a college. Seeking accreditation is asking for evaluation by one's peers, Anderson said.

NCA is one of six regional accrediting agencies in the country. It is a group of colleges in a 19-state area that has set up its own criteria for accreditation.

Although application for NCA accreditation is voluntary, Anderson said he saw no choice for the community colleges other than to do so.

"There are many things you can't do without North Central's accreditation," he said. Regional accreditation is necessary to be eligible for consideration for some federal funds.

Changes May Be Necessary
Meeting the criteria of NCA may mean changing the structure of the State Board of Public Instruction in regard to community college control, or placing the colleges under another state agency, according to Anderson. Other state agencies could be either the Board of Regents or a separate board for community colleges, which does not now exist in Iowa.

Area 10 Community College in Cedar Rapids is in the first stage of seeking accreditation, that of a correspondent. This status means that the college is meeting with NCA, has been assigned a consultant from the evaluating group, and is allowed to apply for certain federal programs.

Anderson said it appeared that NCA will have nothing to do with the community colleges under the present state organization.

The colleges should try to find another method for control before Jan. 1, when the Legislature meets, since the Legislature will make the final decision, he said.

Student, Faculty Amateurs Invited To Show Their Art

Amateur artists among University faculty members and students are being invited to exhibit their works in an art show to be sponsored May 10 through 23 by the Local Shows Committee of the Union Board.

To be presented in the Union Terrace Lounge, the exhibition will include up to three works by each artist, with paintings, water colors, prints, drawings, ceramic pieces, jewelry, sculpture, metal work and photographs being accepted for the show.

Betsy Zimmerman, A2, Bettendorf, chairman of the sponsoring committee, said that her committee would like to encourage persons to enter who have not exhibited before, as well as those whose works have appeared in previous Union shows. Exhibitors must not be students or faculty members in the School of Art.

Those planning to enter works are asked to call the Activities Center in the Union at 353-5745 by May 6 to indicate the number and type of pieces to be shown so that the committee can estimate the space needed.

Entries for the show should be brought to the Activities Center by May 9. Paintings, prints, drawings and other art works should be ready to be hung when brought in.

Pianist To Close 'Meet Arts' Series

Pianist Marian Buck-Lew, assistant professor of music, will close the current "Meet the Arts" programs in the dormitory units with a lecture-recital at 7 p.m. Monday in Carrie Stanley Hall. Her topic will be the piano composition "Carnaval," by the 19th-century composer Robert Schumann.

Events of the "Meet the Arts" series, which is designed to bring programs by outstanding University performers in all of the arts to students in an informal setting, are also open to the public without charge.

The "Meet the Arts" series is sponsored by the Committee on Cultural Affairs, which is headed by Himie Voxman, professor and director of the School of Music.

 Claude Chabrol's brilliant color film deals with the famous wife killer (more commonly known as Bluebeard) during the years of World War I. Screenplay by Francois Sagan makes the film a highly ornate and entertaining black comedy. Film color and period settings are extraordinarily evocative. Considered by some critics to be "the most unjustly neglected film of the past decade."

4th State-Supported School To Be Located In West Iowa

DES MOINES (AP) — A 39-county area of western Iowa was designated Tuesday as the general location of a fourth state-supported institution of higher education. The area, bounded on the east by Ringgold, Union, Adair, Guthrie, Greene, Webster, Humboldt and Kossuth counties, was approved by an advisory committee of the State Board of Regents. Although one member of the committee said he believed the line should have been set farther east, Sen. Joseph Flatt (R-Winterset) said the demarcation line "makes sense."

Flatt was the chief backer of 1967 legislation which ordered the regents to establish a school in western Iowa.

Southwest Iowa Community College Supt. W. R. Pierce of Creston contended P o' k County should have been included in the area.

But after being assured by other committee members the eastern boundary line limits only the area of location, not potential student population, Pierce agreed with the decision.

Wayne Richey, executive secretary of the regents, said final approval of the line would be left to the regents at their May 8 meeting.

Designating the 39-county area is the first step in selecting a site for the institution, Richey said. A general site, perhaps the size of a county, will be selected by the regents by late May, he said.

Then a consulting firm, Cresap, McCormick and Paget of New York, will be directed to begin picking the exact site, he added. That step will be completed by late August or early September, Richey said.

Flatt said he was "delighted" to see that the regents are beginning the process of selection. The group was given $500,000 to make the site selection and purchase land prior to next Jan. 1. Flatt said the legislature authorized the new school because many college students, particularly those from southwestern Iowa, are going to neighboring states.

Current state educational institutions under the regents are the University, University of Northern Iowa at Cedar Falls and Iowa State University in Ames.

Establishment of a fourth college, Flatt said, "is not a question of whether we will or won't. It is a question of where and when."

Five persons have applied for the editorship of the The Daily Iowan.

Officials of Student Publications, Inc. (SPI), the publisher of the DI, announced Tuesday that the following persons had applied for the position:

Cheryl Arvidson, A3, Des Moines; Betsy Becker, A3, Le Mars; Jim Sutton, G, Iowa City; Norm Rollins, G, Mitchell, S.D.; and Roy Petty, A3, Iowa City.

Miss Arvidson is city editor of the DI. Miss Becker is a DI reporter. Sutton is managing editor of The Iowa Defender. Rollins is a journalism graduate student. And Petty is news editor of the DI.

The Board of Trustees of SPI is scheduled to select one of the five as editor Monday. The new editor's term runs for one year beginning sometime in May.

The by-laws of SPI require that candidates for editor show evidence of having qualifications in these areas:

- Experience on publications which is pertinent to the position of editor,
- Demonstrated executive ability, and
- Evidence of adequate scholastic performance at the college level, which is interpreted as a 2.0 grade point average.

The new editor selects and appoints the DI executive staff, with the approval of the SPI Board of Trustees.
