Marines, Warplanes Hit North Vietnamese Force

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Marines and warplanes hammered Friday at a North Vietnamese force fighting with its back to a river 18 miles south of Da Nang. Leatherneck headquarters in the North.

It was the second straight day of furious fighting there, and field reports said casualties numbered 130 enemy and 25 Marines dead. This put the toll for two days at 261 North Vietnamese and 51 Marines killed.

The battle is part of a mission named Operation Allen Brook launched May 4 aimed at crushing strong North Vietnamese forces threatening Da Nang and Hoi An, provincial capital to the south.

The strength of the North Vietnamese was shown Sunday when about 5,000 of them overran the fortified outpost of Kham Duc, about a dozen miles southwest of the present battle.

Division Fought French

Associated Press correspondent John T. Wheeler reported from Da Nang that the Marines had identified the enemy south of Da Nang as elements of the 308th North Vietnamese Division, an outfit that took part in the final assault on Dien Bien Phu in the closing stage of the French war in Indochina.

The North Vietnamese were fighting from bunkers in a village complex with their backs to an arm of the Thu Bon River. Despite the heavy pounding, they were still blazing away with rockets, machine guns and small arms as night fell.

To get into position to attack, the Marines were forced to pick their way through a thick mine field laid down on the approaches to the village complex.

Marine Action Heaviest

While the Marine action was the heaviest reported across the country, it was disclosed by the U.S. command that the month-long allied drive into the A Shau Valley had been ended.

The valley, about 55 miles west of Da Nang, stretches for 25 miles along the border of Laos southwest of the old capital of Hue. It has been the enemy's largest storage site in South Vietnam.

Allied troops entered the valley April 19 for the first time in more than two years in an operation described as a reconnaissance in force.

Lt. Gen. William B. Rosson, provisional corps commander, announced that the major portion of allied troops began withdrawing from the valley several days ago. The operation was said to have terminated officially Friday, but other details were withheld on grounds of security.

North Vietnamese To Recover

Rosson told newsmen at his headquarters in Phu Bai that he credits the enemy "with being able to restore his lines in the valley, with cost, within a matter of weeks."

"We don't know fully the extent of the stockpiles in the valley," he added. "Vastly greater amounts are still there."

The command said U.S. troops killed 726 North Vietnamese in the fighting in and around A Shau during the operation. U.S. losses were placed at 139 killed and 662 wounded.

Showdown Seen

Poor People Plan Large D.C. Rally

WASHINGTON (AP) — A leader of the Poor People's Campaign said Friday it plans a huge Memorial Day demonstration by one million persons — even though it is still $3 million short of housing the protesters already arriving. And he called for a halt in enlistments in the campaign for the present.

The Rev. Bernard Lafayette, the campaign coordinator, told a news conference that $3 million is needed to complete construction of the shantytown settlement near the Lincoln Memorial. He gave no explanation why the simple, unpainted plywood shelters would cost such a sum.

Another 900 protesters arriving from New England and the Northeast were halted in the suburb of Greenbelt, Md., where hasty arrangements were made to give them bedding in church basements for at least two nights. Another caravan has been delayed in Pittsburgh, Pa., since Wednesday night.

The Rev. Ralph Abernathy told a church conference in Minneapolis, Minn., that the encampment is running out of food, blankets, medicine and other necessities.

Abernathy, leader of the campaign, said the protest march may be the nation's last chance to solve its problems "in a decent way." He said, "Time is not running out — it already has run out."

While no precise bookkeeping on the march is available publicly and estimates of the shortage of funds vary with each official questioned, Lafayette conceded, "We are in a financial crisis at this time."

He issued an appeal against any more enlistments in the Poor People's Campaign until the Memorial Day rally because the movement lacks the funds to house them.

Lafayette gave no details of the holiday demonstration, but said, "We are expecting no less than a million people." He offered no substantiation for the estimate.

The figure would be five times as high as the 200,000 who participated in the historic civil rights rally here in 1963.

Pressed with questions on how the Poor People's Campaign may continue to meet its multimillion-dollar costs, Lafayette said, "We feel the American people will come through."

Draft Records Burned

BALTIMORE (AP) — Nine persons, six of them present or former members of Catholic orders, grabbed files from a draft board office Friday and burned them in a parking lot.

Two of the group had been convicted last month of spilling blood on draft board records.

"We destroyed these records because they exploit our young men and represent misplaced power, concentrated in the ruling class of America," said a prepared statement by the seven men and two women.

OH, MY ACHING HEAD — Dr. Ralph B. Williams, an Alaska bacteriologist with five bullets in his head, remained on the serious list Friday at a San Francisco hospital. This x-ray photo, released Friday by the hospital, shows the five slugs in Williams' head. Arrows locate slugs. Williams was attacked and beaten in San Francisco's Tenderloin district Sunday night but was unaware of his injuries until Monday, when x-rays were taken. — AP Wirephoto

After Storm Comes Calm— Except For Insurance Agents

By JUDI PIER

After the storm comes the calm, but not for the insurance agencies and automobile body shops. This is when their work really begins.

Thursday was one of the busiest days in years, Iowa City insurance companies and body shops were swarmed by throngs of people complaining about damages that occurred during Wednesday's hail storm.

Dented automobile bodies, broken windshields, headlights and shredded convertible tops were the main automobile damages reported to the body shops.

The office manager of Meyers Motor Body Shop, Walnut St., estimated damages to cars brought into the shop as being from $300 to $700 each. Eldon M. Curry of Fare Body Shop, Coralville, estimated damages as being from $300 to $600 each. An employee of You Smash 'Em I Fix 'Em, 126 S. Gilbert, estimated average damages at approximately $500 per car.

Body Shops Busy

Some body shops make their estimates by assigning a fixed price to each individual dent, and others use experience on which to base their estimates, said Curry.

In a majority of body shops, dents, if accessible from the bottom of the car, are pounded out. Plastic fillers are used when it is impractical, or inaccessible, to pound out the dents.

Heat is also used to remove dents, according to an employee of You Smash 'Em I Fix 'Em. When a car is dented, the metal is stretched; heat is applied to shrink the metal back to its original shape.

Curry said that most of the cars brought into the Fare Body Shop would have to be repainted.

He estimated the cost of replacing windshields as ranging from $50 for small cars to $150 for large ones.

An employee of You Smash 'Em I Fix 'Em estimated the cost of replacing convertible tops as ranging from $50 to $150.

A Waiting List

The waiting list for cars to be repaired is growing by leaps and bounds. One man said that his shop had a full schedule for the next month.

Besides damaging cars, the hail caused extensive damage to homes. Pitted siding, cracked paint, broken windows and loose shingles were among the numerous damages reported to insurance companies by home-owners.

Wood siding that is pitted will either be replaced or sanded down and repainted, said an employee of one insurance company. Some companies do not insure aluminum siding, he added.

In July of 1965, a state law was passed which made it mandatory for all home-owner's policies to be $50 deductible. The law went into effect immediately for new policy holders. Those who already had a policy, when the law was passed will not be affected by the change until July, 1968.

Although several homes were extensively damaged, the majority of claims received were concerned with automobile damage.

An employee of Auto Owners Mutual Insurance, 335 S. Dodge St., said that most of the claims concerned dents in the body of cars and broken windshields and headlights.

Another person estimated that his company has received more than 50 claims, which total more than $3,000.

Comprehensive Insurance Covers Most

Anyone having a comprehensive insurance policy, and most owners of new cars do, is totally covered for damages done by the hail, as well as broken glass, fire, theft, wind and vandalism, according to employees of numerous insurance agencies. Accidents caused by the hail are not covered by the policy.

Many insurance companies are sending adjusters here to facilitate in the estimating of damages.

In order to collect for damages, the policy holder must obtain an estimate of the damages. This can be gotten from body shops or, in some cases, from the insurance company's adjuster.

If a shop estimate is made, the policy holder must get at least two estimates and submit them to the company, which will, in turn, determine whether the estimates are satisfactory. If the holder gets the estimate, he can either use the money to repair his car or he can pocket it.

Tornado Targets 'Disaster Areas'

WASHINGTON (AP) — All parts of Iowa and Illinois that were damaged by tornadoes and flooding Wednesday were declared disaster areas by the Small Business Administration (SBA) Friday.

The declaration permits owners of homes, businesses, churches and charitable institutions whose property was damaged to apply for 3 per cent repair loans. Applications will be accepted at SBA's office in Des Moines, and at emergency loan offices to be opened at Charles City and in the affected areas of Illinois.

The SBA said it was investigating possible locations at Oelwein, probably to open an office there also.

North Vietnam Refuses Bomb Halt Compromise

PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam refused any compromise Friday on the issue of a complete halt to U.S. bombing of that country. The stand posed a prospect of deep stalemate in the preliminary peace talks.

With the talks resuming Saturday after a two-day recess, a North Vietnamese delegation spokesman said Ambassador Xuan Thuy would again demand that the Americans stop the bombing and other acts of war against the North. Hanoi has repeatedly said it was unwilling to offer any concession in return.

The United States insists that an end to the bombing must be matched by some form of de-escalation in North Vietnam's contribution to the Viet Cong war in South Vietnam.

The U.S. delegation declined to be pinned down to any specific formula for a total end to the bombing, but it has tied such action closely to a demand for a significant letup in North Vietnam's infiltration of men and supplies to the South.

Hanoi To Hold Out

Hanoi, the delegation spokesman said, intends to hold out indefinitely for a bombing halt.

"We will ask it again and again until it comes to pass," said the spokesman, Nguyen Van Sao. Asked if North Vietnam would offer anything in return, he replied: "There is not a single Vietnamese plane flying over the United States. The United States must stop the bombing. There is no compromise possible on this issue."

William J. Jordan, spokesman for the U.S. delegation, told correspondents a North Vietnamese agreement on any one specific point, for example on restoration of the demilitarized zone between North and South Vietnam, would not be enough to justify an end to all military action against the North.

Americans Have Room

This gives the Americans some elbow room to maneuver. Jordan emphasized this by disagreeing with a questioner that restoration of the buffer zone, where heavy concentrations of North Vietnamese troops now operate, would bring an end to the bombing.

"I would say that the condition for the cessation of the bombing would have to be based on the total situation prevailing at the time," Jordan said, adding that such a decision would have to be made personally by the President of the United States.

The aim of the American effort seems to be to seek a step-by-step matching of concessions, ruling out any gesture to Hanoi without assurance of reciprocity.

U.S. Wants DMZ

The first step might, as Ambassador W. Averell Harriman, the chief U.S. negotiator, has suggested, involve the demilitarized zone created at Geneva in 1954 when Vietnam was divided.

If the North Vietnamese were willing to re-establish the DMZ, the United States probably would be willing on its part to take a definite step toward de-escalation of the war.

The next step might involve Laos and Cambodia, Vietnam's sister nations in what once was French Indochina. The United States wants the territorial integrity and sovereignty of the two agreed and guaranteed by international supervision. This could be a likely key to the total end of the bombing.

Laos and Cambodia both are routes for the infiltration of men and arms into South Vietnam.

The restoration of the demilitarized zone alone would not prevent North Vietnam from continuing the infiltration, which the United States says it wants stopped or at least scaled down in return for a total bombing halt.

Other Points Complex

If agreement could be achieved on these points, the meeting could proceed to complex questions of how to disengage the warring troops and to other military and political questions blocking the road to peace.

A North Vietnamese spokesman told correspondents Hanoi was prepared to continue talking, but would not speculate on how long the current sparring phase of the meeting would last or what might come next. The Hanoi representatives are not yet ready to end the phase of public debate, statements and exchanges of accusations. The Americans want the talks to go into private business sessions.

"We will go on talking Saturday and then we will see," the Hanoi spokesman said, a suggestion that it was up to the United States to make a concession first. He insisted, however, that "no common ground had been reached as yet."

Goal Of Students Set At $17,707 For King Drive

With their goal $17,707 — a figure that equals spring enrollment — University student fund-raisers will fan out among students Monday and Tuesday to seek contributions for the Martin Luther King Scholarship Fund. The campaign begins officially with a meeting at 6:30 p.m. Monday in the Old Capitol Board Room.

Student workers, all volunteers, plan to knock on the doors of every student residence on and off campus in an effort to add money to the fund, which was established by Pres. Howard R. Bowen to help bring more students of minority background to the University.

When he created the fund shortly after King's assassination, Bowen suggested that each student might donate $1 a year to the fund.

The student drive is the first part of a four-part campaign organized by the fund's executive board, which is headed by Mrs. James Murray, 630 Beldon Ave., an Iowa City housewife.

WSUI Promotes Drive

Drives among Iowa City residents, the University faculty and staff and citizens in other Iowa communities will follow the student campaign, according to Mrs. Murray.

Directing the student drive will be an eight-member committee made up of student leaders appointed by Bowen. Committee members are William Burnette, A4, Maywood, Ill.; Cheryl Arvidson, A3, Des Moines; Carl Fackler, M3, Indianapolis; Robert Lehnen, G, Danville, Ill.; William Newbrough, G, Des Moines; Virginia Owens, A4, Lake City; Gordon Shuey, A2, Jefferson and Kenneth Wessels, A2, Dyersville.

To help promote the student campaign, the University radio station, WSUI, has scheduled several hours of programming today on King's "dream" of human equality, and the University's efforts at helping that dream partially come true.

Bowen On WSUI

"The Legacy of Martin Luther King" will be aired from 3:30 to 5 p.m. and will feature excerpts from the civil rights leaders speeches and statements by Bowen, Iowa City Mayor Loren Hickerson, and John Schmidhauser, professor of political science. Also featured will be an interview with Philip Hubbard, dean of academic affairs, a panel discussion and spiritual singing by the Silver Light Gospel Singers, led by Fred Martin Jr., 717 S. Capitol.

John Huntley, associate professor of English, will lead the panel discussion. Panel members include David Grant, G, St. Louis; Fred Woodard, G, Davenport; and Dwight Coty, A2, Mason City.

Earlier in the day WSUI will carry programs featuring speeches made by King and by the Rev. Ralph Abernathy, who succeeded King as president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

THE WINNER — A BIT PREMATURELY — Richard M. Nixon, the front-running candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, raises the hand of former heavyweight boxing champion Joe Louis into the air in Washington Friday. Youth will predominate when Coach Ray Nagel introduces his 1968-69 Iowa football team to the public today. The occasion is the annual spring intrasquad game. Game time is 1:30 p.m. at the Stadium. Admission is $1 to the general public and students are admitted free with ID card.

Perhaps it is too soon to be making predictions for the future football season, but one thing is certain — a great deal of the Hawks' success will depend highly on a group of inexperienced sophomores. In fact, half of the starting offensive and defensive units today are sophomores.

The squad is divided into two teams — the White Team (which is the No. 1 offensive and defensive units) and the Black Team (which is the second-string offensive and defensive units). The spring football game is the culmination of the Hawkeye spring practice session.

Nagel has shifted 10 sophomores into the No. 1 starting units and 12 are on the second team units. Seventeen lettermen return from last year's squad.

The Hawks' abundance of bright sophomore prospects came from a superb freshman team which Nagel called "the best freshman team I have been associated with."

Sophomore tailback Denny Green is the only newcomer to the White Team's offensive backfield. He joins veterans Ed Podolak at tailback, Parry Cress at wingback and Tim Sullivan at fullback.

Other sophomores on the No. 1 offensive unit include tight end Ray Manning and guard Charles Legler.

Only four returning lettermen are starting on the White Team defensive unit which is loaded with seven sophomores. They are ends Ken Price and Dan McDonald, backs Ray Churchill, Coleman Lane and Ray Cavola, tackle Layne McDowell and linebacker John Hull. Hull replaces veteran Greg Allison who was injured in practice last week.

The Black offensive backfield is composed entirely of sophomores with Larry Lawrence at quarterback, William Powell at tail back, Kerry Reardon at wingback and John Palmer at fullback.

Mike Citek, who alternated with Podolak last year at quarterback, is sidelined with a knee injury.

Michigan Sparkles In Tennis Tourney

Michigan virtually clinched the Big 10 tennis team championship here after the semi-final round of play was completed Friday.

The Wolverines have a commanding 130-94 1/2 edge over second place Michigan State with only the finals remaining today.

Minnesota and Northwestern were tied for third with 68 points. Iowa was fifth with 60 1/2, followed by Wisconsin 59, Illinois 56 1/2, Indiana 56, Ohio State 60 1/2 and Purdue 56.

Iowa's Steve Ehlers beat Jeff Fertz of Illinois 6-2, 6-4 to advance to the finals in the No. 6 singles bracket and the Iowa doubles team of Ehlers and Randy Murphy beat Garry Myers and Steve Schaefer of Michigan State 4-6, 9-7 and 6-2 to advance to the finals in the No. 3 doubles bracket.

In other semi-final action involving Iowa players, Dale LePrevoist was defeated by Michigan's Richard Dell, 7-5, 6-4; and Muphy lost to Jon Hainline of Michigan 6-3, 6-1.

In the singles consolation bracket, Iowa's Rich Stokstad

U.S. Won't Leave 'Vacuum' In Vietnam, Clifford Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—The eventual U.S. withdrawal from South Vietnam will not be carried out "in such a way as to leave a vacuum," Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford said Friday.

He commented under questioning of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on what this country planned to do to protect its multibillion-dollar investment in military installations, port facilities and public works in that country.

The defense secretary, in his first appearance before the committee, said any U.S. recall of its forces would take place "over a period of time." But he did not estimate how long that period might be.

He told the committee the number of North Vietnamese troops in South Vietnam had increased from 54,000 in January to 74,000 in mid-March, with more recent figures classified.

The secretary said North Vietnamese forces had been used to replenish Viet Cong units that suffered heavy losses in the Tet offensive.

Clifford's official mission before the committee was to urge support of administration proposals for $420 million in military-aid grants and $269 million in credit sales of arms in the fiscal year beginning July 1.

His appearance closed out a dispute in which the committee had refused to advance President Johnson's new foreign-aid proposals unless Clifford testified personally.

City problems and progress were the subjects of two days of meetings in Des Moines Wednesday and Thursday.

The mayors of Iowa's 16 largest cities met Wednesday with Gov. Harold Hughes as a follow-up to the governor's March visits to the cities. The visits were an attempt to rally local citizens to help the underprivileged persons this summer.

Iowa City Mayor Loren Hickerson, City Manager Frank R. Smiley and other local representatives attended the governor's meeting.

Hickerson attended two meetings Wednesday night and Thursday involving the Iowa League of Municipalities.

At the governor's meeting, Hickerson said, the mayors gave "very encouraging reports of their progress in areas of jobs, housing and recreational opportunities."

"Cedar Rapids, for instance," Hickerson said, "spoke of a plan whereby the service organizations will buy swimming pool tickets for underprivileged kids."

Reports On City Projects

Hickerson said he reported on Iowa City's committee on employment, the Low Rent Housing Agency report and plans for a June conference, and the possibilities for a youth council and a human resources board.

The employment committee, a seven-member group headed by Jack Newman, plant manager for Proctor & Gamble Manufacturing Co., is working to find summer jobs for low-income group youths. It will also establish patterns for continuing employment in Iowa City.

The Low Rent Housing Agency had suggested a conference to be held in Iowa City in June to discuss ways to reduce substandard housing and to consider the establishment of consulting services on housing for citizens, Hickerson said. The City Council will finance the cost of the conference.

The human resources board, Hickerson said, would act as an arm of the council in coordinating activities of existing agencies involved in welfare and self-help programs. The board, he said, would be acquainted also with how each agency is financed and would be able to recommend ways to use the money more efficiently.

Iowa City established a human relations commission in 1964. The Cities' Task Force was organized in the summer of 1967, because of concern to help prevent riots of the magnitude of

The 16 mayors also heard the governor explain his plan for citizen participation in law enforcement. Hickerson said the plan was designed to make the individual more responsive to crime fighting by urging him to report suspicious situations. A central "crime alert" telephone number might be established in each city, he said.

The legislative committee of the league, of which Hickerson is a member, met Thursday to suggest legislative proposals for the 1969 General Assembly. The 40-member committee represents about 950 Iowa towns and cities.

Hickerson said the primary activity of the committee would be to contact all the candidates running for the Iowa House and Senate in November and find out their views on the legislation proposals. The committee would be acting as a lobby group, he said.

"Iowa City is far ahead in the game," Hickerson said. "We do not have serious problems in these areas."

Kosygin Drops In At Prague

PRAGUE (AP)—Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin arrived here unexpectedly Friday, hard on the heels of a top-level Soviet military mission, for what was officially described as medical treatment and talks with the leaders of Czechoslovakia's new liberal government.

The visit, announced only after Kosygin's arrival from Moscow, came as Czech officials were trying to play down some of the violent anti-Soviet attacks of the uncensored Prague press. The government has been bending backward to assure the Kremlin that it will remain Communist, despite Soviet concern.

Kosygin, according to an announcement, came at the invitation of the Czechoslovakian party presidium and the government. It said he would undergo treatment for an undisclosed illness and exchange views with officials "on questions of mutual interest."

Kosygin was described as taking "a short leave," suggesting he might visit one of the Czech health spas near the border of West Germany.

The Soviet premier is not publicly known in Moscow to have any medical ailment which would explain his trip.

His visit seemed planned on short notice. Only last week, Czechoslovakian Premier Oldrich Cernik told a news conference he did not expect Kosygin to come here in the near future.
