Columbia Rebels Waste No Time As School Opens

NEW YORK (AP) — About 300 persons, students and their supporters, forced their way into one of the campus buildings Wednesday night after the university withdrew permission for a scheduled meeting sponsored by the Students for a Democratic Society.

The demonstrators marched into Schermerhorn Hall, which houses the social sciences department, ignoring the objections of a campus security guard, and entered a large classroom. The scene was reminiscent of the student takeover of several campus buildings last spring.

The university withdrew permission for SDS to use a campus auditorium for its "International Assembly of Revolutionary Students" about half an hour before the meeting was scheduled to start.

The school said it took the action because of a demonstration earlier in the day when about 30 students — suspended for their role in the disorders last spring — clashed with about a dozen campus policemen who barred them from registering.

Irving de Koff, director of student interests, told the SDS steering committee that because of the afternoon incident "space will not be granted to the SDS tonight or in the future pending a hearing by the students and faculty . . ."

The clash between the students and the campus guards lasted about 15 minutes. Observers said several plain-clothesmen from the New York City police department also were on hand.

The students were among 150 demonstrators who gathered outside the gymnasium, where registration for the first of the Ivy League university's 25,000 students was taking place.

The executive committee of the Columbia University Student Council voted unanimously in support of the suspended students, and called for their immediate reinstatement.

The demonstrators were led by Mark Rudd, head of the Columbia Students for a Democratic Society, and one of the initiators of last spring's protest and subsequent student strike.

William Kahn, the university proctor, told the crowd that registration — which opened Wednesday — could not continue if there were more clashes on campus.

The 30 suspended students then charged into the line of Columbia policemen who were armed with clubs.

Newsmen said at least two of the demonstrators were clubbed by the policemen, drawing chants of "This is another Chicago" from the crowd. No one appeared to require medical attention, however.

Kahn said, "These policemen didn't use clubs."

Before the clash, Kahn said the suspended students had a "right to appeal." He said that a group of the demonstrators would be admitted to the gymnasium to negotiate with administration officials, but his offer was turned down.

Many of the campus guards at Wednesday's clash were black.

'Radical' Faculty To Form Group

The first campus meeting of a new "radical" organization for faculty members and graduate students will have "plenty of surprises," one of the leaders of the group predicted Wednesday night.

Howard J. Ehrlich, associate professor of sociology and anthropology and a member of the organizing committee of the New University Conference (NUC), told The Daily Iowan that he and other organizers were hoping for a large turnout at tonight's debut meeting, to be held at 8 p.m. in the Union Harvard Room.

The NUC, described by Ehrlich as being dedicated to promoting radical thought on campus, has been characterized by a New York Times writer as "a post-graduate Students for a Democratic Society." The group is designed to end what an NUC brochure calls "university export of experts in social manipulation and international coercion."

Specifically, the national organization was formed to unite faculty members, graduate students and other intellectuals who oppose the war in Vietnam and have worked for black liberation, the brochure said.

A feature of tonight's meeting will be a talk on draft resistance given by Edward Hoffmann, counselor for Resist here.

Specific actions, Ehrlich said, could include a condemnation of the "antiriot" amendment of the Higher Education Act now under consideration in Congress, which would deny federal scholarships, grants or loans to any student convicted during a demonstration.

On a University level, the group will consider a proposal by the organizing committee to denounce the appointment of William L. Binney, retired professor of aerospace studies, as chief of Campus Security. The appointment was made by University Pres. Howard R. Bowen without the approval of the student-faculty Parking and Security Committee, according to Ehrlich.

Ehrlich said the organizing committee felt that such a move should be condemned because it bypassed the usual University procedure for appointments to staff offices.

The organization will also consider political issues and not shirk from demonstrations, Ehrlich said.

supporters forced their way into one of the beleaguered university's buildings after Columbia withdrew permission for a scheduled meeting sponsored by SDS on campus. — AP Wirephoto

Dec. 5 Trials Begin

Some of the drama of the Dec. 5 anti-war demonstration on campus was revived Wednesday when the first three cases springing out of the disturbance were heard in Iowa City Police Court.

The testimony in the cases of three students charged with disorderly conduct was finished in the four-hour session, but verdicts will not be given until the attorneys for the defense file briefs. Judge Marion Neely gave no deadlines for submitting the briefs.

The students who are awaiting verdicts are: David Drum, G. Chula Vista, Calif.; James W. Mall, G. Iowa City; and Jerry Sies, A4, Iowa City.

In all, 18 persons were arrested during the all-day Dec. 5 demonstration, which was directed against on-campus recruiting by the Dow Chemical Co., manufacturers of napalm used in the Vietnamese war.

A fourth student whose case was heard Wednesday pleaded not guilty without defense to her charge of disorderly conduct. The student, Dale McCormick, A4, Sigourney, was fined $30 and court costs.

The trials of four other defendants were continued. The case of Christine A. Bailey, A2, Rockville, Md., was continued because she was out of state and gave the court prior notice. The attorney for Ware R. Smith, G. Honolulu, did not appear and his case was continued.

One student's case was continued until other charges to be tried in Johnson County District Court are disposed of. The student, Fred McTaggart, G, Iowa City, has been indicted by the Johnson County Grand Jury for resisting an officer in connection with the demonstration.

Charges against Lory Rice, a former graduate student from England, were continued since Rice could not appear. Rice was denied a continuation of his student visa this spring and has emigrated to Canada.

Bonds of five defendants who did not appear in court were forfeited. The five were: Jon B. Gholson, Iowa City; Roy Harvey, and his wife, Karen, who are now living in Minneapolis; Judith Starbuck, formerly of West Branch; and David Salner, a former graduate student.

Neely told The Daily Iowan Wednesday night that his secretary had mischeduled some of the trials.

David Grant, G, St. Louis, and Barbara Schmuelewitz, A4, Sigourney, were not called to appear in court Wednesday. According to Neely, both should have been called up, but will have their trials scheduled for a later date.

Bert Marian, G, North Liberty, has had his trial changed from Neely's court to the court of Justice of the Peace Carl Goetz in order to have a jury trial, which are not given in Police Court.

Two other Dec. 5 suspects, who have major charges against them resulting from grand jury indictments, have had their cases in Neely's court postponed. Neely said the major charges are always tried first. The two are Paul Kleinberger and Ross Peterson, both former students. They have been charged with conspiracy.

During the Drum case, patrolman David Harris, who arrested him, testified that Drum was part of a crowd of demonstrators on the second floor of the Union. The crowd, according to Harris, did not respond to police commands to halt.

Harris said that he was hit by Drum in the following skirmish between police and demonstrators. When Drum turned to run with the rest of the crowd, Harris stopped him from behind, he said.

Drum's attorney, Keith Borchart, contended that Drum was not a part of the demonstration. Borchart argued that Drum was taping the demonstration as part of a film project. Photographs admitted as evidence show Drum with a tape recorder in his hand when he was arrested.

Robert Coover, visiting lecturer in the writers workshop, testified that Drum was part of a team of six — three persons with cameras and three with tape recorders — who were working on the project. Coover said the film, which he was coordinating, was to be about demonstrations on campuses.

Drum acknowledged in cross-examination that Coover had asked him to be part of the project a half hour before the incident while Drum was waiting to hear a speech on the Union patio.

The only loud outbreak in the crowded courtroom occurred when City Atty. Jay Honohan asked Drum if a man who is not doing anything wrong generally runs from the police.

In Mall's case the prosecution and defense also disagreed on what happened. Police Sgt. Robert Vevera, who arrested Mall, testified that Mall was part of a crowd running down a hallway on the second floor of the Union.

Vevera said that when he yelled twice at the crowd to stop and it did not, he sprayed chemical Mace. Vevera then said that he and other officers began arresting the demonstrators near them.

Vevera said that Mall hit him with a knapsack in the struggle. Vevera said Mall ran away from him after the first struggle and again hit him with the knapsack when Vevera caught up with him.

Several witnesses and Mall himself, however, testified that Mall emerged from an alcove after the crowd dispersed and was walking toward a stairway which leads out of the building when Vevera arrested him.

Mall said he had been at the tail-end of the crowd rushing onto the Union's second floor and that he had then waited in the alcove for the crowd to disperse. He contended that he was not really part of the demonstration but had followed the group out of curiosity.

In the Sies case, Johnson County Sheriff Maynard Schneider testified that Sies was calling law enforcement officers obscene and profane names when he was arrested. Sies was arrested outside the Campus Security Headquarters where a crowd of demonstrators had gathered.

Schneider also said that he had seen Sies previously during the day using profane language.

Student witnesses called by Sies' attorney testified that at the time of his arrest Sies was asking police near him such questions as what they were doing at the demonstration.

Connie Hughes, A2, Sac City, and Max Brown, A4, Sac City, said that they were standing near Sies at the time of his arrest and that he was not using obscene or profane words or gestures.

Firearms Registration Rejected—

Gun Mail Sales Ban OKd

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate passed Wednesday a bill to ban interstate mail order sales of rifles and shotguns. It rejected proposals for firearms registration and the licensing of owners.

The vote on passage was 70 to 17.

The bill is similar to a measure passed by the House on July 24. A Senate-House conference committee is expected to have little difficulty in agreeing on a final draft.

The legislation goes only part way to carry out President Johnson's recommendations for tightened firearms controls, sent to Congress following the assassination in early June of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The Senate rejected a series of moves to write in some form of licensing and registration of firearms.

Johnson had strongly urged Congress to include such a provision but both the Senate and House rejected this.

The measure extends to rifles and shotguns the ban on interstate mail order sales provided for handguns in the omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act passed by Congress earlier in the year.

The Senate bill not only outlaws mail order sales of all firearms but also of ammunition for shotguns, rifles, handguns and other destructive devices.

It also prohibits over-the-counter sales of firearms to non-residents of a state. However, a person in one state may make a purchase in an adjoining state if this is legally permissible in both states.

Sales of rifles and shotguns to persons under 18 years of age would be banned. The anticrime legislation passed earlier bars sales only of handguns to persons under 21.

All firearms dealers, manufacturers and importers would have to be federally licensed under standards set out in the measure.

In general, any person other than a licensee would be prohibited from transporting or receiving in his state of residence any firearms purchased or otherwise obtained by him outside that state.

Penalties for violations range up to 10 years' imprisonment and $10,000 fines.

In knocking down efforts to tie in a registration and licensing provision, the Senate first defeated 55 to 31 an amendment by Sen. Joseph Tydings (D-Md.). It would have required the registration of all guns and the licensing of their owners.

Another approach by Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.) failed by a 48 to 35 vote. His amendment would have required that after Dec. 31, 1970, no federal licenses for firearms dealers and manufacturers would be issued in states that failed to establish a registration system meeting federal standards.

Then the Senate beat back, 53 to 31, a proposal by Sen. Edward W. Brooke (R-Mass.) to establish a national firearms inventory in the Treasury Department. In this would be kept information with respect to the sale, transfer and ownership of firearms.

Also rejected, 49 to 35, was a proposal to require a license for carrying a concealed firearm.

The bill as it stands would impose a ban on interstate mail order sales of rifles and shotguns. And penalties were written in Tuesday for possessing a gun while committing any one of a list of federal crimes.

Registration and licensing was urged strongly by President Johnson after the assassination of Kennedy, as a followup to the firearms control legislation he had submitted earlier.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy (D-Mass.), the slain senator's brother, came into the Senate to vote for Tydings' amendment, his first appearance there since the assassination last June. He took no part in the debate.

Police Violence Most Dangerous, Clark Declares

Attorney General, FBI Chief Trade Blows on Handling of Disturbances

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, in apparent criticism of the bloody battles between police and antiwar protesters at the Democratic National Convention, condemned police brutality Wednesday as the most dangerous type of violence.

Clark and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover differed dramatically on police handling of such disorders as they testified at the start of hearings before the President's special commission on violence. Hoover praised Chicago police for preventing disruption of the convention and said "vicious attacking mobs" left police no choice other than the use of force.

Clark, without naming Chicago, said police should be told to use only minimum force necessary to curb disturbances.

"Of all violence, police violence in excess of authority is the most dangerous," Clark said. "For who will protect the public when the police violate the law?"

Milton S. Eisenhower, chairman of the violence commission, said, "It is perfectly apparent there was uncalculated action on both sides."

But the retired educator added, "If a bag of urine were thrown in my face, I think I would react."

Hoover said antiwar demonstrators deliberately provoked police by hurling abuse and human refuse at them. He said it was a tribute to the police that paralysis of the city was prevented without loss of life.

The controversy over the Chicago clashes dominated the initial hearings of the commission created by President Johnson upon the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy last June.

Both Clark and Hoover surveyed the wide range of violence in America. Each spoke out strongly for gun control only hours before the Senate approved a major gun control bill.

Hoover endorsed licensing and said tough gun controls are "imperative for the public's safety." Clark said gun controls "will save thousands of lives, eliminate tens of thousands of serious crimes."

Clark told the presidential panel nearly half a million crimes of violence were committed in the United States last year. He said most murders happened at home and warned, "The major threat of violent crime is from family, neighbor or friend."

Hoover criticized what he termed a permissive attitude by the public toward crime, emphasis on violence in television shows, and attention given by television coverage to protest demonstrations.

The FBI chief said the Democratic convention was the target of deliberately disruptive tactics by demonstrators and told the panel:

"If it is true that some innocent people were the victims of unnecessary roughness on the part of the police, it is also true that the Chicago police and the National Guard were faced with vicious attacking mobs who gave them no alternative but to use force . . ."

Clark told the blue-ribbon group that police have the duty "to control violence, not cause it; to seek ways of relieving tension, not to look for a fight."

The commission excluded public and newsmen from the hearings but made public the statements presented by Clark and Hoover. Eisenhower said the hearings were closed because the FBI is still investigating the Chicago disorders.

The panel plans its own probe of the convention clashes, but Eisenhower said the study isn't under way yet because the commission is having trouble recruiting the staff personnel needed.

The panel plans eight weeks of hearings running into November. Eisenhower said he hopes the commission can complete a preliminary report by the end of this year. Its final report will be due next June.

News in Brief

ALSO IN THE NEWS LAST NIGHT:

BUCHAREST — Fourteen Romanian victims of Stalinist trials, some long dead, were rehabilitated by a ruling of Romania's Supreme Court. The names of four former Communist party leaders and 10 prominent non-Communists, mostly engineers and administrators, were officially cleared in a move with anti-Soviet overtones.

CAPE KENNEDY — An attempt to launch the world's most powerful communication's satellite failed when the Delta booster rocket shot off course and was destroyed deliberately two minutes after it blasted away from Cape Kennedy.

DES MOINES — Iowa state government would end the next biennium $26 million in red unless spending is cut or new taxes imposed, the Iowa Legislative Interim Committee said. The committee released figures it said show that expenditures will outdistance revenues in all but the last year of the three years remaining before June 30, 1971.

SAIGON — Almost half of all persons who died in Saigon last year were 4-years-old or younger, the government said. Statistics showed that 16,614 city residents died during 1967, and that 7,522 of them were 4 or under. Infant mortality is a problem throughout South Vietnam, with gastrointestinal diseases taking an especially heavy toll.

BEIRUT — The Arab nations seem to have abandoned hope of regaining their lands lost to Israel by political means, and war talk once more pervades the Middle East. A rash of gunfights, ambushes and artillery duels marks the 15-month-old cease-fire lines.

Killing sacred cows

The age and theme "tell it like it is" has entered into the University publications. Now, don't get alarmed, I don't mean the official University publications.

As the new freshmen and transfer student begin to look over their reams of University printed material, my advice is to throw them all away and begin reading a new booklet that covers all a student needs to know here.

This book is called, "The Unofficial Guide to the University of Iowa." It is published by a group that calls itself the Sacred Cow, an organization "with the intent of destroying its many mascots."

A list of the chapters in this booklet includes:

1. An Unofficial Portrait of Howard R. Bowen
2. Unofficial Guide to Student Activities
3. Saturday Afternoon at the Iowa Stadium
4. Unofficial Hustlers Guide
5. Unofficial Images of the University
6. Bits & Pieces
7. Unofficial Guide to Political Groups
8. Unofficial Guide to Publications
9. Unofficial Drinkers Guide to Iowa City

10. Unofficial Glossary of Terms
11. Unofficial Coloring Book of the University of Iowa
12. Unofficial Guide to Restaurants
13. Unofficial Guide to Student Senate
14. Unofficial Guide to Men's and Women's Fashions
15. The Difference Between a Freshman and a Senior

An example of the inside information that students should have at the University is this definition of Activities Board:

"Activities Board was set up to coordinate various campus organizations. It had two strikes against it to begin with, because Student Senate appoints its members. Dr. Augustine is its adviser. Strike three."

This booklet covers every aspect of University life in a sarcastic, humorous and realistic style. This booklet is to be treasured and appreciated by upperclassmen and valued and used by freshmen.

These books were printed up this summer and will be available to students at various locations around town. This is an opportunity that should not be passed up.

Iowa's version of Chicago

Iowa has its own Chicago in the form of Waterloo. Conventions are big money making propositions and no matter how serious the situations in town are, the conventions must go on.

The fact that Waterloo is its second major series of racial demonstrations and demands from its black population has little bearing on Waterloo officials. The only thing that matters is the National Dairy Cattle Congress, which opens Saturday and lasts until Sept. 29.

To keep everything quiet for the Cattle Congress, National Guard troops will remain in Waterloo until the Cattle Congress closes. Waterloo regards the Cattle Congress as the big event of the year. Schools are dismissed for the Congress, and the whole town turns out for the events.

It seems ironic that Mayor Daley of Chicago was so sure that the Democratic Convention would be held in good, peaceful Chicago that he vowed to stop any sort of dissent in the process. Waterloo's Mayor Lloyd Turner seems to be taking the same line of attack for the Cattle Congress. Perhaps, if Turner is so worried about Waterloo, he might do well to study Daley's strategy and learn from it. By making such a big deal of squelching dissent, Daley ended up with more trouble than he would have had by allowing dissent on the limited scales that the hippies and yuppies were planning.

Turner, in his attempts to make the Cattle Congress successful, may end up in the same situation as Daley. National Guard troops are notorious for leaving bitter tastes in the mouths of the city they appear in. The National Guard troops are just not good public relations men. When law enforcement officers, city administrators and government leaders over-react to a situation, the situation usually worsens.

The Cattle Congress draws thousands of visitors and scores of livestock exhibitors to Waterloo yearly. The event is a tradition that is as expected and normal as the Iowa State Fair in Des Moines.

But with 350 guardsmen who have had extensive riot training present, Waterloo is not back to normal.

'By Dick Gregory —' The black majority

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first installment of another new feature for The Daily Iowan editorial page, a weekly syndicated column by Dick Gregory, comedian-turned-black activist and fourth party candidate for President.

By DICK GREGORY
Among the current crop of film offerings is a most interesting movie entitled "Wild in the Streets." It is based on the quite valid statistical observation that 52 per cent of the nation's population is 25 years of age or younger.
In another decade, 80 per cent of the population will fall within that age group. Black people in America have learned from personal experience that this nation does not take the opinions of its minorities seriously. Nor will the problem-solving, decision-making capacities be given to the "over-thirty minority" in years to come.

I spend more than 90 per cent of my time on college campuses because I have always believed the moral revolution which is sweeping our country today is not a matter of black against white. It is simply right against wrong. The peace movement has brought this truth out into the open, especially on the college campuses, and has greatly benefited the civil rights movement by expanding moral outrage and protest activity to cover all wrongs.

A simple illustration will serve to focus the current youth attitude. It is possible for me to check into a hotel some night and burn to death in my sleep if the hotel catches fire. But I would never check into a hotel which is already on fire with the intention of going to sleep! The young people of America, both black and white, know that this country is on fire and they have no intention of sleeping through a moral revolution. And those youth represent the greatest moral potential in the history of this country, perhaps even the history of the world.

To understand the ferment on the college campus today, you must have some perspective of recent history. When the civil rights movement first began, there were many honest and sincere white kids who wanted a piece of that action but their parents prohibited their involvement.

In like manner, the white youth who are seizing college administrations and protesting the war in Vietnam today really wanted to be involved in the early days of the civil rights movement. And parents who forbade that involvement fed and nurtured the resentment their kids are expressing now.

White youth all over America today are resisting the oppressor and identifying with the oppressed. It is the reverse of what we black folks used to do. We went from the bottom of our feet to the top of our heads trying to be white. When black folks came to this country as slaves, we didn't wear shoes or good clothing.

But we put on the white man's shoes, his socks, his underwear, his shirt and his tie. We even tried to change our physical appearances in our effort to be white. We grew moustaches to cover up our thick lips. Since nappy hair is not a white characteristic, we got processes to straighten out that problem. But every effort we made to impress the white man had no effect on his determination to oppress us.

As a result, there has been a change in attitude. Negroes have developed a new pride in being black. Black folks consider it a badge of honor to be themselves, to be natural, and have rejected the unnatural obsession with trying to be white.

And the new mood of black identity is being shared by white youth all over America. Young white kids are acting colored — talking loud, playing their music loud, saying "What's happenin', baby," and even kissing like black folks.
Blackness is not a color, it is an attitude. No matter what statistics the census bureau may publish, the youth of America are demonstrating a black majority.

Reader 'resents' UI housing rules

To the editor:
In the state of Iowa, an individual who is over the age of eighteen can live anywhere he pleases. Why does the University, a state institution, have the right to usurp the laws of the rest of the state to fulfill its own questionable ends? And who can call the actions of the University's Housing Committee anything but questionable when nearly 40 per cent of the housing they approve rents illegally?

The University is a service institution. It should have the same amount of control over an individual's private life and personal affairs as do other service institutions such as the Post Office or the Department of Parks and Recreation. In other words, no control at all. As a student and an individual, I resent the University doing anything other than spreading knowledge and presenting the opportunity to learn. This oppressive, restrictive, illegal, and ridiculous policy of approved and unapproved housing must go. Now!

40-Seat Gain In Congress For GOP Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Gerald R. Ford, House Republican leader, renewed Wednesday his prediction the GOP will pick up at least 40 additional House seats in the November election.

House Speaker John W. McCormack countered with talk of a Democratic gain.
Republicans need a net gain of at least 31 seats to win control of the House in the new Congress. Predicting a 40-seat gain, Ford said: "If the trends continue — and with the effective campaign of Dick Nixon — we could have an election that will produce substantially more."

McCormack, commenting on Ford's news conference prediction, said Republicans make claims every two years that they will capture the House.
"I have every confidence," McCormack said, "that the people of the United States will not only want to keep the Democratic majority in the House but will increase it by 15 to 20 members."

Ford spoke out after the first of a series of 11 conferences his party's leaders have scheduled with GOP congressional candidates for a discussion of campaign issues. Candidates from Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia attended the initial meeting.

Rep. Bob Wilson of California, chairman of the GOP congressional committee, stressed a second Republican goal-capture of a majority in each of 26 state delegations in the House, to assure election of a Republican president in case the electoral college vote is inconclusive.

Wilson said approximately $1 million will be spent on campaign of Republican candidates trying to unseat Democratic incumbents. Another $1 million, he said, will go to help Republican incumbents.

Local McCarthy Man May Join Dissidents

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A leader of Iowa Democrats who supported the presidential bid of Eugene J. McCarthy said Wednesday he would attend an Oct. 5 Minneapolis meeting of dissidents trying to liberalize the Democratic party.

John Garfield of Iowa City, who was McCarthy's finance chairman in Iowa, emphasized, however, that he would quickly withdraw from the group if his intention was to form a fourth party.

Another prominent Iowa Democrat who was invited to the Minneapolis meeting, William Sueppel of Iowa City, said he "threw the invitation into the waste basket."

"I want no part of it," said Sueppel, who was chairman of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's Iowa organization.

Sueppel joined Garfield in voting for McCarthy at last month's Democratic national convention.
Two other Iowa delegates to the convention who also voted against Humphrey announced they would be co-chairmen of an Iowans for a Humphrey-Muskie organization to support the national ticket in the state.

LT. Gov. Robert Fulton, of Waterloo, and state Rep. Minnette Doderer, of Iowa City, the Iowa Democratic national committeeman and committeewoman, said they have accepted the job.

They, in turn, named Des Moines lawyer and former Democratic State Chairman Lex Hawkins as state coordinator of the group and James Brick, of Des Moines, as executive director.

Highway Chief Defends 'Oversizes' on Interstates

AMES (AP) — Iowa Highway Commission Chairman Harry J. Bradley Jr. Wednesday defended his proposal that oversize vehicles be permitted to travel on interstate highways.

Highway Director Joseph R. Coupal Jr. disagreed with Bradley on grounds that suggested regulations would be too liberal and would conflict with present state law.

The commission deferred action on the proposal for two weeks.

Viet Cong Mass along DMZ For Predicted Fall Offensive

SAIGON (AP) — Three North Vietnamese divisions with about 30,000 troops are massed along the demilitarized zone for the enemy's annual fall offensive in the northern provinces, U.S. military sources said Wednesday.

If the enemy command follows its practice of the past two years, the once-neutral buffer zone between North and South Vietnam will see heavy fighting later this month and in October as the enemy tries to get the upper hand before the monsoon season reaches its peak in November.

Waves of U.S. B52 bombers have been trying to blunt this expected thrust by blanketing the DMZ with tons of explosives, and periodically venturing into North Vietnam above the six-mile-wide zone.

The sources estimated that 20,000 North Vietnamese soldiers infiltrated South Vietnam during August, across the DMZ or down the Ho Chi Minh trail through Laos and Cambodia.

This is a drop from the previous month's estimate of 30,000 infiltrators, but much higher than the monthly average of 7,000 a year ago.

American spokesmen suggested three possible reasons for the infiltration reduction: the enemy command may feel it has brought its units up to full strength; air strikes on infiltration routes; and monsoon floods which slowed traffic along the Ho Chi Minh trail.

In its weekly report on battle statistics Wednesday, the South Vietnamese government said 2,484 enemy soldiers were killed last week compared to 1,664 the week before. Government casualties were 376 killed and 1,269 wounded, also slightly higher than the previous week.

American casualties will be released today by the U.S. Command.

The U.S. mission reported Wednesday that terrorism directed at South Vietnamese refugee camps has become standard enemy policy. Officers said there have been more than 50 such attacks since late June in an apparent effort to force refugees to return to Viet Cong controlled areas where they can provide recruits, food and labor.

The mission said Viet Cong terrorists killed 160 refugees, wounded 259, abducted 16 and burned 1,689 homes in resettlement areas in July and August.

In Saigon, sources reported that South Vietnamese marines in the capital military district have been replaced with rangers because they were "not responsive" to the command of Maj. Gen. Nguyen Van Minh.

The marines are commanded by Lt. Gen. Le Nguyen Khang, a close associate of Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky. Khang lost his command of the capital military district two months ago following rumors that President Nguyen Van Thieu feared a coup attempt involving Khang.

Radio Hanoi claimed Wednesday that Viet Cong soldiers shot down a helicopter carrying U.S. Marine Brig. Gen. William Chip. Chip had a fractured spine after the Tuesday crash.

Chip was the third allied general downed in a helicopter crash in 10 days — the other two were killed — and in each case the Viet Cong have taken the credit.

Fight to End Segregation In Northern Schools Begins

WASHINGTON (AP) — The woman directing the government's new search for racial discrimination in Northern school systems says the effort will produce little desegregation unless the courts are asked to require it.

"There's going to have to be a lot of litigation fast, or nothing much is going to happen," said Mrs. Ruby Martin, chief of the Office for Civil Rights of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

She said in an interview that the department's first probes into the North indicate that much of the segregation has been perpetuated, if not caused, by decisions of school officials over the years.

But she said proving that school boards are to blame requires long and painstaking digging through school records. With its small staff of investigators — 30 at present — the department can have no early, broad impact on the large-scale segregation in the North, she said.

Mrs. Martin contrasted the situation with the South where, she said, "the evidence is right there sitting up for you" because most Southern school systems traditionally had operated legal-separate schools for whites and blacks.

The Supreme Court ruled in 1954 that school segregation by law is unconstitutional.

In the North, school segregation has grown up with segregated housing. And no court yet has ruled that such school segregation itself is unconstitutional, regardless of the circumstances. But Mrs. Martin said she has hope that such decisions will come.

The Justice Department has just begun its attack on Northern discrimination. Its first suit won a federal judge's order for desegregation of schools in South Holland, Ill., a suburb of Chicago. Another department action has led to plans for desegregating teachers in Indianapolis.

Several suits by private groups also are pending in the North.
In the North so far, officials have completed full-scale investigations in six cities and preliminary reviews in 24 others.

Mrs. Martin and other officials said they have found generally that their area of greatest concern — pupil assignment and school district boundaries — shows less obvious discrimination than they had anticipated.

They said, however, that the places where schools are located has in several instances proved to be apparent discrimination and may be more important than they had thought.

The first investigations haven't turned up the dollar differences in spending between white and black schools that the civil rights officials said they had expected.

Hughes OKs Debate Plan

SIoux CITY (AP) — Gov. Harold E. Hughes said Wednesday he has accepted an invitation by Des Moines television station KRNT to appear jointly Nov. 2 with his Republican opponent for the U.S. Senate, David M. Stanley.

Stanley, a state senator from Muscatine, has already accepted the station's offer.

Station officials said the Senate candidates will appear between 8 and 9 p.m. on the last Saturday before the Nov. 5 general election.

Ray to Visit City Today

The Republican candidate for governor, Robert Ray, will be in Iowa City this morning on his way to West Branch to meet with one of his primary election opponents.

Ray will arrive at the Iowa City airport at 10 a.m.

Ray and his defeated opponent, Donald Johnson, will hold a press conference at 11:30 a.m. in West Branch.

Humphrey Zeroes In on Dissidents

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey's efforts to attract dissident Democrats will take him across half the continent today to accept public embraces from Sens. Edward M. Kennedy and George S. McGovern.

Kennedy and McGovern, both of whom bucked Humphrey's quest for the Democratic presidential nomination at one time or another, will introduce the Vice President at meetings in their home states.

Humphrey flies first to Boston where Kennedy will present him at a noon-hour campaign rally in the business district. The Vice President then goes to Sioux Falls, S.D., for a series of appearances with McGovern, whose dissenting views on the Vietnamese war prompted him to run against Humphrey at last month's Democratic National Convention.

The Vice President and his partisans hope the visits to Massachusetts and South Dakota will mark an auspicious start for a campaign tour that will span the next three weeks and take the candidate to such states as Illinois, Kentucky, Ohio, California, Washington and Oregon.

Barring unexpected developments requiring his presence for official business, Humphrey does not plan to return to Washington until early October. His campaigning will be interrupted only for occasional and brief rest stops at his home in Waverly, Minn.

After getting off to a shaky start in his vote quest, Humphrey got a psychological lift Tuesday from leather-junged Democratic audiences in Buffalo and Rochester, N.Y.

"We're on our way," he declared.

Tuesday also produced an enthusiastic public endorsement from President Johnson and an announcement that Jesse Unruh, California's Assembly speaker and an ardent supporter of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, would serve as an honorary chairman of Humphrey's campaign committee in that state. Unruh was conspicuously absent when the Vice President made his first campaign visit to California.

Humphrey has been making a determined effort to woo all segments of the Democratic party.

Nixon Sips from Heady Brew Of California Grape Gripes

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon stepped into California's heated farm labor controversy Wednesday, saying workers shouldn't cripple "an industry already in trouble." He was loudly heckled as he began to speak.

About 50 of a crowd of 5,500 at a rally, demonstrating in support of an AFL-CIO drive to organize farm workers, chanted

"we want justice" and clapped in unison. Nixon ignored them.

The majority applauded and cheered at intervals during the Republican presidential candidate's talk in this California agricultural heartland. Nixon made it clear he supports the growers.

Police took away the protesters' signs and they marched out of the hall, still chanting and clapping. Nixon's farm labor remarks came after they left.

It was the first time in his presidential campaign Nixon had been heckled during an address.

Feelings have run high in California's Central Valley over efforts of Cesar Chavez and his Agricultural Workers Organizing Committee to win recognition from growers of table grapes. The union, as a weapon, is urging a nationwide boycott of California grapes.

The area, solidly Democratic in registration, gave strong support to Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan in the 1966 governorship race.

"It is unfair to damn a whole great industry and to boycott a whole grape industry because of the excesses of a few," Nixon said. "I'm against the grape boycott."

He ate a couple of grapes from a case given him before he spoke and said, "I will continue to eat California grapes and drink the product of these grapes whenever I can."

But the former vice president pledged to "improve the life of the migratory worker in America today and to offer new hope to him and his family tomorrow."

Earlier, in a panel discussion with farmers, Nixon said farm workers don't make enough money and have poor housing. Growers, he said, are hit by inflation, export difficulties and marketing problems.

Of the boycott, he said: "You do not help the worker by crippling an industry that is already in difficulty. You must not confuse industrial labor problems with agricultural labor problems as my opponent apparently does."

He proposed a three-point program, including:

1. Providing "new economic incentives" for farmers to invest in improved housing facilities for migratory workers.
2. Reversal of administration policies he said "discriminate against the poorer rural counties" in education.
3. Improvement of farm workers' income. He suggested "pool arrangements between growers that increase earning opportunities for migrant workers and improve information systems that match men with jobs on a scheduled basis."

City Slates Sewer Study

The City Council Tuesday night decided to hire an engineering consulting firm to conduct a study of sanitary sewer additions in the city's North Side.

The specific area to be surveyed is the "peninsula" area bounded by the Iowa River, Interstate 80 and Dubuque Street.

City Manager Frank Smiley, who suggested the study to the council, called the study a first step in long-range planning for the North Side.

The firm which will conduct the study is Veestra and Kimm, a West Des Moines company, that has conducted several sewer studies for the city previously.

The cost of the work is not to exceed $6,000.

The council also asked the Planning and Zoning Commission to study zoning classifications concerning sewerage, fraternity and boarding houses and apartment complexes.

Final Curtain Rings Down for Franchot Tone

NEW YORK (AP) — Franchot Tone, ever urbane, ever handsome in a 40-year career in the Broadway theater, Hollywood movies and national television, died Wednesday in his East Side Manhattan apartment. He was 65.

Born and bred to wealth and culture, Tone broke away from an affluent background after he was graduated from Cornell University in 1927 with a Phi Beta Kappa key.

Joining a Buffalo, N.Y., stock company, Tone later achieved success on Broadway and in 1933 was summoned to Hollywood for the first of a long series of movies.

"Millionaire actor arrives today," was a headline on the West Coast when Tone hit Hollywood.

But he was to claim later that he arrived broke.

Despite the spicy off-stage facets of Tone's career, he remained essentially a serious, intent intellectual, at home in conversations on economics, politics and art.

Tone went to Hollywood after his Broadway performance in "Success Story," and his first film appearance was in "Gabriel Over the White House." Other picture credits included "Lives of a Bengal Lancer," "Mutiny on the Bounty," "The Bride Wore Red," "Advise and Consent," and, in 1964, "La Bonne Soupe."

War Debate Hot in Paris

PARIS (AP) — U.S. and North Vietnamese envoys met head-on Wednesday in a bitter conflict over the origin, conduct and possible resolution of the Vietnamese war.

During a 3½-hour meeting, Ambassadors Cyrus R. Vance and Xuan Thuy exchanged charges from positions unaltered since May 13 when the talks began.

The deadlock, after the 22nd session, seemed so complete that a spokesman asked U.S. spokesmen William Jorden, "What's the point of the talks?" "There is the hope," Jorden said, "that one of these days there will be a change of mood, a change of position."

PRICE PROTECTION AT EAGLE

COPYRIGHT 1968 By Eagle Stores. All Rights Reserved

Here's why you can count on continued savings with Eagle Everyday Low Discount Prices — because Eagle has instituted a "Price Protection Policy!" You've seen the "Price Protection" seal in our ads since we began Discount Pricing. It reads: "We will maintain our Everyday Low Prices and adjust prices when product costs change." What this means to the shopper is that we will not only maintain our Discount Price savings program, but also that we will further reduce product prices when a lower wholesale cost permits. "Key Buys" are an example of this latter aspect of our "Price Protection Policy" in action. When we can get a lower wholesale cost through an exceptional purchase or through a manufacturer's temporary promotional allowance, we lower the shelf price below even our low Discount Level and mark the product clearly with our green "Key Buy" markers.

The satisfaction of buying top quality merchandise at the lowest possible price is something that everyone is looking for. And why shouldn't we, because this is what can be called a true value in every sense of the word. True values today don't just happen, they are made by stores like Randall's because we are concerned about the price you pay for your groceries. This is why we have made every effort to give you the most FAMOUS BRAND NAME ITEMS at lowest possible price. Yes, Famous Brand items that you can depend on to serve your family and friends with complete confidence that you are giving them the very finest. In most cases, anyone buying top quality merchandise would expect to pay more for that added protection of getting something good. Of course, there are always exceptions and Randall's just happens to be one of them in breaking the old rule and giving you FAMOUS BRAND NAME ITEMS at prices you would expect to pay for lower quality items. This is our policy, if you want to call it that, but it's really a value, a true value for something truly good . . . FAMOUS BRAND NAME ITEMS at our famous every day low, low prices.

Washburn Repeats Perry No-Hitter

SAN FRANCISCO — Ray Washburn of the St. Louis Cardinals pitched a no-hitter Wednesday, stifling the San Francisco Giants 2-0 and helped write major league history with the second masterpiece in as many days at Candlestick Park.

Gaylord Perry of the Cardinals had no-hit the Cardinals less than 24 hours earlier at Candlestick and it was the first time two no-hitters were pitched in successive games in one ballpark.

Washburn, a sturdily-built 30-year-old right-hander, struck out eight and allowed five runs, all of them on walks.

He was in complete control and pitched his way out of his only jam in the seventh inning by getting Jim Hart on a bouncer and striking out Dick Dietz.

Washburn, whose record is 13-7, had the Giants beating the ball into the ground. Only Hal Lanier, who filed to Lou Brock opening the sixth inning, got the ball into the outfield until the ninth.

He walked Willie Mays in the first with two out but retired Willie McCovey on a grounder.

In the second, Dietz walked and was erased on an inning ending double play.

Then Washburn sailed through the Giants' batting order, retiring 12 straight batters until Ron Hunt walked to open the Giants' seventh.

Mays struck out but McCovey walked. Both runners advanced on Hart's ground ball and then Dietz struck out, ending the threat.

In the eighth, Dave Marshall, pinch hitting with two out, drew a walk but Bobby Bonds fouled out.

In the ninth, Washburn got Ron Hunt on a bouncer to second baseman Phil Gagliano, Mays on a grounder to third baseman Mike Shannon, and McCovey on a soft liner to Curt Flood — only the second ball hit to the outfield.

Washburn was locked in a scoreless duel with Bob Bell until the seventh when the Cards got him the only run he needed.

Orlando Cepeda singled with one out, went to second on Edwards' ground ball and scored on Shannon's double.

In the eighth, St. Louis scored again. Dick Schofield opened with a double, went to third on Washburn's sacrifice and scored when Curt Flood beat out an infield single.

Injured Hawks Prepare For Opener with OSU

Injuries still seem to be the major concern of Iowa football Coach Ray Nagel as the Hawks face a strong Oregon State team Saturday at Iowa Stadium.

Three Hawkeye regulars will definitely not be starting when the Hawks take the field before an expected crowd of 40,000. Senior center Don Sibery, who is out with an injured ankle, defensive end Scott Miller and sophomore linebacker Dave Clement are all expected to be on the bench.

Nagel said that other doubtful starters included fullback Tim Sullivan — bruised shoulder, sophomore defensive back Ray Cavole — hand injury, and right tackle Rich Stepanek — knee injury.

To complicate the problem, Sullivan's back-up man at fullback — Tom Wallace — is also injured and a doubtful starter.

Speculation is that Nagel will bring sophomore Bill "Zoom Zoom" Powell into the starting tailback position and shift sophomore tailback Denny Green into the fullback slot.

Nagel said that senior Greg McManus, 228, will fill in at Sibery's post.

The Hawks lost 38-18 last year to the Beavers, but they hold a 5-2 edge in the series.

World Series Atmosphere Strikes Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — The champagne bottles were cleared away and the grass and outfield fences at Tiger Stadium were repaired Wednesday in the wake of an emotionally exhausting celebration of the Detroit Tigers first American League pennant in 23 years.

Thousands of Tiger fans celebrated at the ball park and in downtown Detroit after the Tigers wrapped up their American League title with a 2-1 victory over the New York Yankees Tuesday night.

Usually sedate Tiger owner John Fetzer found himself dumped in the Tigers' whirlpool bath and Manager Mayo Smith got the same treatment as the Tigers celebrated by tossing players, newsmen and anyone else they could get hold of into the whirlpool or dousing them with champagne.

Thousands of the 46,000 fans who saw the Tigers pennant clincher rushed onto the field to mob the players.

Tiger officials said large sections of sod were stripped from the playing field. Fans carried home in triumph an estimated 300 box seats. Still others knocked part of the right and left field lower fences loose.

Detroit police posted two officers atop home plate and they repulsed a few fans who had designs on digging it up. The fans then tried to dig up a pitchers warmup rubber but found it was in too deep.

"These people were not mean... they were just out for a good time and a long awaited celebration," a Tiger spokesman said.

Police would make no estimate of the number of Tiger fans who milled about on streets, stopping traffic and chanting "Go, Go, Tigers, Go, Go" in unison as they climbed atop car roofs, trucks or any other vantage point.

Eleven persons were arrested for minor incidents and one Detroit policeman, patrolman John Gallagher, 25, suffered a cut lip and damaged teeth while defending the steps of the Tiger dugout from would-be intruders.

All was peace and brotherly love in the Tiger dressing room as thoughts turned occasionally to the upcoming World Series and the St. Louis Cardinals. Tiger Manager Smith and his Tuesday night winning pitcher Joe Sparna, who had a minor tiff during the regular season, took turns saying nice things about each other.

The Tigers announced Wednesday how Detroit fans can apply by mail for about 20,000 tickets a game that would be sold on a random selection from mailbags.

Oklahoma Gets Nod over Notre Dame

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK (AP) — Two of college football's giants, Notre Dame and Oklahoma, crash into each other going around the first corner Saturday, and the question is which one will fall.

The odds-makers say it has to be Oklahoma, smaller, with less depth yet more speed. Notre Dame is ranked third nationally, Oklahoma fifth. But chances are the Fighting Irish will be looking over the head of the Sooners to the following week's game with Purdue.

So it's Oklahoma in our first upset-special of the season:

Oklahoma 21, Notre Dame 13: The Sooners had a 9-1 season and beat Tennessee in the Orange Bowl. Look for them to intercept Terry Hanratty.

Louisiana State 14, Texas A&M 10: The Aggies will test Texas for the Southwest title.

Penn State 22, Navy 14: The Nittany Lions are big, strong and plentiful, should repeat as Lambert Trophy champs.

Southern California 17, Minnesota 14: This one could have been played in the Rose Bowl last January.

Michigan State 19, Syracuse 7: The Spartans are bouncing back after a frustrating year; Syracuse will miss Larry Csonka.

Clemson 28, Wake Forest 13: The Tigers have most of their defensive bulwarks back in uniform.

UCLA 23, Pittsburgh 7: The rebuilding program at Pitt's nearing fruition, but this is too big an opening bite.

California 20, Michigan 14: The Golden Bears pick up momentum from their good 1967 finish.

Florida 17, Air Force 7: The Gators are atop over a 220-pound line whacker named Larry Smith.

Some others:

Friday Night
Miami Fla. 28, Northwestern 14.

Saturday
MIDWEST — Nebraska 28, Utah 7; Purdue 35, Virginia 0; Indiana 25, Baylor 6; Kansas 21, Illinois 14; Oregon State 25, Iowa 14; Kansas State 23, Colorado State 13.

SOUTH — Alabama 33, Virginia Tech 0; North Carolina State 15, North Carolina 13; Auburn 14, Southern Methodist 7; South Carolina 19, Duke 15; Florida State 17, Maryland 13; Missouri 20, Kentucky 7; Mississippi 18, Memphis State 8; West Virginia 19, Richmond 7.

SOUTHWEST — Texas 18, Houston 15; Arkansas 10, Oklahoma State 7.

FAR WEST — Stanford 27, San Jose State 7; Wyoming 21, Utah State 10; Colorado 19, Oregon 15.

BRAVES DOWN ASTROS 2-0—HOUSTON (AP) — Phil Niekro cut down Houston on three hits and Hank and Tommie Aaron sliced run-scoring doubles, sending the Atlanta Braves to a 2-0 victory over the Astros Wednesday night.

Fregosi Paces Angels In Doubleheader Split

MINNEAPOLIS — ST. PAUL (AP) — Jim Fregosi tripled home two first-inning runs, then got California an insurance run with some daring base running in the seventh, leading the Angels to a 4-3 victory over Minnesota and a split in a doubleheader Wednesday.

The Twins took the opener 4-3 as Bruce Look singled home two runs in a three-run fourth inning and Ron Perranoski put down an eighth-inning California rally.

Fregosi's triple off Danny Morris followed singles by Jay Johnston and Jarvts Tatum. Fregosi also bunted for a single in the seventh, streaked to third on a wild pitch by Dave Boswell — which rookie catcher George Mitterwald was slow to retrieve — and scored on Jim Spencer's sacrifice fly.

Bobby Knoop singled home the other Angel run in the third.

California's relief pitching failed when the Twins scored the three runs in the fourth inning of the opener. Jim McGlothlin had to leave with a muscle strain below his right shoulder, and Bill Harrelson and Bobby Locke walked four batters between them and Harrelson committed a balk to bring in the winning run. Rick Reichardt doubled home an Angel run in the eighth to cut the Twins' lead to 4-3 before Perranoski retired the side when Rich Reese made a leaping catch on Knoop's line drive.

Red Sox Beat Orioles

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Red Sox, held hitless for six innings by Roger Nelson, erupted for three runs in the seventh Wednesday and defeated the Baltimore Orioles 4-0.

Mike Andrews' leadoff single broke up the no-hitter. Carl Yastrzemski walked and Ken Harrelson singled to fill the bases. Reggie Smith grounded a two-run single to right to finish Nelson, and another run scored as reliever Pete Richert walked Joe Foy with the bases loaded. Smith knocked in an eighth-inning run with a sacrifice fly.

HOCKEY TEAM GETS INVITE

WATERLOO, Iowa (AP) — Waterloo Black Hawks officials said Wednesday the team had accepted an Amateur Hockey Association of the United States invitation to tour Europe.

Prices are up now-a-days -- "and you're out!"

But I'm always "safe" -- with Gas and Electricity

*U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics (1947 equals 100) **For all Iowa-Illinois Customers

If the high cost of living has caught you "off base," then here's a comforting thought: the cost of gas and electricity (per ccf, therm or Kwh) has remained low.

One of the reasons for this is the ever-increasing use of gas and electricity in the home, in industry, in business, and on the farm. Other reasons even more important are the continuing efforts to increase the efficiency of facilities and personnel. Constant research and development . . . larger, more economical generating units . . . vast networks of inter-connected electric systems . . . improved data processing and other techniques . . . and effective employee training programs have all helped combat rising costs of construction, operating expenses, and taxes.

You can be sure that this Company will continue its efforts to keep ahead of your requirements for gas and electricity — at reasonable cost.
