Land War Slow; Thieu to Discuss Peace Proposal

SAIGON (AP) — The ground war slackened off another day in South Vietnam Friday but U.S. planes kept up their attacks on the North Vietnamese panhandle despite speculation that a halt in the air strikes may be imminent.

South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu was preparing to break his silence on a new package peace proposal from the United States to Hanoi.

High government spokesmen said Thieu would discuss the subject "if he is asked about it" during a visit this morning to Vung Tau, a beach resort 40 miles east of Saigon.

The announced purpose of Thieu's trip is to visit a pacification training center and confer with the four Vietnamese corps commanders.

Thieu has made no public statements on the subject while holding four meetings in the past two days with U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker.

The peace plan was understood to be under study by North Vietnam.

But there was no indication that Thieu was ready to make known the Saigon government's decision on the question of a bombing halt.

A foreign ministry source was quoted by a Saigon newspaper Friday as saying South Vietnam remained opposed to such a move without guarantees of reciprocal restraint or de-escalation by Hanoi.

A decline in ground action in the last few days, however, has helped to feed speculation that the enemy is purposely holding back to await developments connected with the new U.S. proposal.

U.S. military officials said they saw nothing unusual in the lessening of contact. They pointed out that similar lulls had occurred frequently in the past two months, only to be broken by renewed enemy activity.

U.S. spokesmen said again Friday night that they had no information that might signal a suspension of U.S. bombing of North Vietnam. Raids apparently were scheduled to be carried out as usual today.

U.S. Air Force, Navy and Marine jets Friday kept up the steady pounding of enemy supply channels in the southern panhandle, the area south of North Vietnam's 19th Parallel. Reports on the raids are to be available today.

Pilots reported destroying or damaging at least 18 supply boats Thursday.

American military sources said the air crews were concentrating more on the waterways because there was less truck traffic moving south.

U.S. headquarters also announced that a joint U.S. Navy and Coast Guard task force smashed a Viet Cong provincial headquarters Thursday in the first such inland naval operation of the war. The Navy said the task force normally maintained counterinfiltration patrols along the coast.

The enemy headquarters was near the tip of the Mekong Delta 155 miles southwest of Saigon. Moving through the canalized delta, Navy and Coast Guard boats shelled the Viet Cong base, destroying or damaging 125 huts and 40 enemy water craft. But the Viet Cong apparently fled before the attack.

Two American helicopters were shot down by enemy ground fire, one 25 miles northeast of Saigon Wednesday and the other south of Da Nang Thursday. One crewman was killed and one wounded.

The two losses raised to 896 the number of U.S. helicopters down by enemy ground fire in South Vietnam.

Report Shows Massive Withdrawal From South by North Vietnamese

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. intelligence analysts believe the equivalent of five North Vietnamese army divisions have pulled out of South Vietnam since late September.

The prevailing military opinion here is that these divisions have gone into North Vietnam, Laos, and Cambodia to refit, resupply, reorganize and reinforce. The enemy has followed this pattern often in the past.

But American military sources conceded they could not dismiss the possibility that the enemy pullback this time might be connected with negotiations on a possible total halt of U.S. bombing in North Vietnam.

Analysts estimate that between 40,000 and 60,000 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong soldiers have moved out of South Vietnam. This includes some enemy independent battalions and sapper units which have disappeared.

That would leave between 60,000 and 80,000 main force enemy troops inside South Vietnam, grouped chiefly in five North Vietnamese and two Viet Cong divisions.

2 Athletes Get Walking Papers

Olympic Team Drops 2; No Further Black Protest

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The threat of additional trouble following the dramatic expulsion of U.S. sprinters Tommie Smith and John Carlos failed to materialize Friday night as Lee Evans, another militant black athlete, won the Olympic 400-meter run and accepted his gold medal without incident.

The possibility of more racial protests and a general walkout by American athletes cropped up earlier in the day after the U.S. Olympic Committee suspended Smith and Carlos for their actions in a victory ceremony Wednesday night.

Douglas Roby, president of the committee, said U.S. officials took the action after the International Olympic Committee threatened to throw the entire American squad out of the Games if action were not taken.

When Evans said he would run in the 400 and not pull out, it was surmised he might follow the lead of Smith and Carlos, his close friends from San Jose State College, in the victory ceremony for the 400.

When Evans, second-place Larry James of White Plains, N.Y., and third-place Ron Freeman of Elizabeth, N.J., mounted the award stand, they wore black berets and gave a clenched fist salute.

However, when the national anthem was played, they took off the berets, held their hands at their sides and faced the flag.

At the award ceremony for the 200-meter dash, Smith and Carlos wore black socks with no shoes and each raised a black gloved hand above his head while the anthem was played.

"Everything has worked out fine. Lee Evans accepted his medal in fine style," said Everett Barnes, acting director of the U.S. Olympic Committee.

In a post-ceremony interview, Evans said they wore the berets because it was raining. Asked about the clenched fist salutes, he said: "It is just a salute. Some do it like this, some do it like that. This is our way of saluting."

All three medalists, however, declined comment on the suspensions of Smith and Carlos.

Barnes, on the other hand, reiterated the

HSP Plans for Rally In Spite of Warning

By LINDA ARTLIP

The Hawkeye Student Party (HSP), after a two-hour emergency meeting Friday night, decided to go ahead with plans for a rally and teach-in Monday noon on the east steps of Old Capitol.

The sparsely attended meeting, called Friday afternoon after a member of the University administration had warned a HSP leader to change the location of the rally, was closed to the press.

Jerry Sies, HSP cochairman, in a statement drawn up at the meeting, declared that the HSP would not be intimidated.

According to Sies, A4, Iowa City, the HSP did not plan any violence at the rally and it hoped that the administration and police would reciprocate.

Concern over the legality of the rally arose after Dennis Wonderlich, cochairman of the HSP, had consulted with Roger Augustine, associate dean of students, Friday afternoon.

Augustine reportedly told Wonderlich, A2, Ollie, that use of the east steps of Old Capitol for the rally would be illegal under the new Code of Student Life.

Augustine reportedly told Wonderlich that any other free space in the University could be used for the rally and that he had reserved the Union patio from noon to 4:30 p.m. Monday for the HSP rally.

Augustine told The Daily Iowan Friday afternoon that the policy of the University and the rules for schedules do not permit any unusual activity on the Pentacrest during the time classes are in session.

He said the usual practice was to consider 4:30 p.m. a starting time for such activity.

Augustine said that if the students did hold their rally on the Pentacrest, "It is very likely that disciplinary action would be taken against the student organization sponsoring the event and the individual participants."

He said that action could be taken against the leaders of the HSP, all participants and the organization.

For individuals, disciplinary cases would go to the dean of students, according to

Stumpf's Plea for Unity Gets Applause at Cornell

MOUNT VERNON (AP) — Calling troubled Cornell College "a great school with a strong faculty," President Samuel E. Stumpf issued a call for unity to students Friday.

"I urge you to close ranks and preserve the greatness of our school," Stumpf said as several hundred students who attended an all-campus convocation applauded.

The convocation was called to explain the college administration's response to the seizure of the administration building by 32 young people Thursday morning.

The 30 students in the group, who barricaded themselves in the building for five and a half hours, were suspended from the college "without prejudice," meaning the suspension will not be placed on their records.

The 33 young people, who included three nonstudents, were charged with unlawful assembly by police, and were ordered to appear in court next week.

The Student-Faculty Judicial Board will meet later to decide whether the suspensions should be made permanent.

Students said they seized the administration building to dramatize black demands for better treatment at the college.

There are about 30 blacks in the 1,000-member student body at the private liberal arts college, and 11 blacks were among those arrested Thursday.

Stumpf told the convocation audience that the college has done "creative things" like curriculum changes to answer blacks' complaints and has gone to "great lengths" to recruit more black students.

"Only 3 per cent of the students are black," he said, "but 12 per cent of the aid goes to black students." Blacks make up about 20 per cent of the United States population.

Stumpf said the demonstrators do not mean that peaceful demonstrations will not be allowed on campus, said Stumpf.

Thursday's protest represented "definite threats of violence and property destruction," he said.

Asst. Prof. Bob Clarke of the political science department revealed that faculty members decided on the suspensions because of fear that "right wing" students might turn to violence if lesser penalties were exacted.

"We heard threats that they'd be beaten up or even killed," he said.

The assemblymen were told the number of Russian soldiers staying on is 70,000 and the rest of the Soviet, Polish, East German, Hungarian and Bulgarian troops will leave within two months. This force has been variously estimated at 250,000 to 500,000.

The assembly voted 228-4 with 10 abstentions on the treaty after hearing Premier Oldrich Cernik make assurances that its signing was not a complete surrender of sovereignty, although Czechoslovakia will have no control over the movement into the country by Soviet troops and their families — all exempt from passport and visa control.

The Warsaw Pact soldiers invaded Czechoslovakia Aug. 20 and Moscow forced the Czechoslovak leaders to reverse such liberalizing trends as freedom of speech and assembly.

In Moscow, the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet unanimously ratified the treaty. Announcement of this by Moscow Radio came a few hours after the Czechoslovak ratification.

Cernik declared in a 40-minute speech that the Soviet Union is paying for upkeep of its forces here and that offenses they commit against the public or Czechoslovak law will be prosecuted by Czechoslovakia.

Cernik signed the treaty in Prague Wednesday with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin.

The agreements and understandings were detailed in Prague as including:

1. 70,000 Soviet soldiers to remain indefinitely, stationed mainly in northern Bohemia and around Prague, Brno and Bratislava.

2. Size of the Czechoslovak army, now about 170,000, to be reduced in exchange for improved technical equipment.

3. Soviet secret police and military intelligence units now in Czechoslovakia to leave with the troops.

4. The Soviet Union to pay 30 million crowns as settlement in full for occupation damages to date. This equals $1.9 million at the tourist rate of exchange.

5. Czechoslovakia to sell Soviet units local foodstuffs at retail prices and the Soviets to provide other supplies them selves.

Herdbooks Set For Next Week

University Directories — more commonly known as "herdbooks" — should be available by the first of next week, according to Robert Leahy, associate director of admissions and registrar.

The directories, which contain listings of all students, faculty and staff members at the University, were scheduled to make their appearance last Wednesday. However, part of the faculty section had to be reprinted because it was inaccurate, Leahy said, and the reprinting delayed the arrival of the books by close to a week.

Herdbooks can be purchased in city bookstores for $1.50.

Rockefeller, Percy To Aid Iowa GOP

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

National-known Republicans will parade through Iowa during the next few weeks to bolster the hopes of GOP candidates on the state's Nov. 5 general election ballot.

State Republican Chairman Jack Warren of Waterloo announced Friday that New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller would make appearances in Clinton, Newton and Davenport Wednesday.

Rockefeller will speak at a luncheon in Clinton, attend the Jasper County Republican organization's Pancake Day in Newton in the afternoon and speak at a Scott County GOP dinner in Davenport that night.

State Sen. David M. Stanley of Muscatine, GOP candidate for the U.S. Senate, announced Friday that Sen. Charles H. Percy (R-Ill.) would tour some major Iowa cities Oct. 28 on Stanley's behalf.

Stanley and Percy's itinerary had not been definitely set, but tentative plans called for him to make major speeches in Ames and Des Moines, appear at rallies in Davenport and Waterloo and cap the day with a fund raising speech in Sioux City.

Iowa Republican officials also reported that the GOP "Truth Squad" composed of two senators, two congressmen and one governor would hold news conferences in Cedar Rapids and Sioux City Monday.

The squad, which travels around the country behind Democratic candidates, is composed of Sens. Robert Griffin (R-Mich.) and Len Jordan (R-Idaho), Reps. James Harvey (R-Mich.) and Sam Devine (R-Ohio) and Gov. Dewey Bartlett of Oklahoma.

Mayor John Lindsay of New York City will address a $100-a-plate Republican fund raising banquet in Des Moines Monday night.

Humphrey Voices Nixon 'Trusts' Hope That Korea War Can Be Over Before Inaugural

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey expressed hope Friday the North Koreans would free the crew of the U.S. spy ship Pueblo to mark the change of administrations in January and said an armistice in Vietnam would help his campaign.

The Vice President campaigned in the bright fall sunshines and bright autumn colors of Connecticut — a state some Democratic politicians fear may fall to the Republicans in November.

The Democratic presidential candidate was hoarse from talking but obviously happy about a national Harris poll result that showed he had picked up three points on Republican Richard M. Nixon.

"I think if peace could come," he said, "the event of that would not only help me but it would help every living mortal in the world."

Humphrey also argued that if Nixon is elected president that he would have to govern through a coalition.

"He'd have to make it with the most conservative elements of the Democratic party and the Republican party," the Vice President said.

"Mr. Nixon will have to govern on the basis of putting together the reactionary and conservative elements," he said.

Culver's Republican challenger, Tom Riley of Cedar Rapids, said in a statement that he thought the United States ought to take the lead in providing food and medical supplies to starving civilians in Biafra.

"We should begin flights of mercy to Biafra immediately," he said.

Higher Ed Enrollment In Iowa Tops 100,000

Enrollment in Iowa colleges and universities has passed the 100,000 mark for the first time, according to a report made Friday to the Association of Iowa College and University Presidents.

A total of 100,187 students are on Iowa campuses this fall, compared with last year's total of 96,058. The 4,129 gain represents a percentage increase of 3.5, compared with a 2.9 per cent increase last fall.

The report, prepared at the University, showed that total enrollment at the three state-supported universities increased 6.7 per cent, from 43,739 in 1967 to 46,665 this fall. Private college and university enrollment had a collective decrease of 1.2 per cent, or a drop of 438 students, which reflects a loss from the closing of one private school which last year had an enrollment of 107 and a drop of 577.

Judiciary Unit Being Set Up In Girls Dorms

A Women's Inter-Hall Judiciary Board is being set up to serve as an "umbrella" board to deal with disciplinary problems in the four women's dormitories this year.

The single board will replace seven local judiciaries that handled University residence hall and women's hours violations last year.

According to Barbara Cochran, counselor for women's residence halls, the selection of a chairman, a secretary, and 10 board members will be done before Nov. 1.

Plans for a men's judicial board will not be made final until after a meeting of house presidents next Friday, according to William Arbes, counselor of men's residence halls. A similar type of "umbrella" board will probably be implemented to serve the five men's dormitories, he said.

Women's Inter-Hall will consist of two representatives each from Currier Hall, Stanley Hall and Kate Daum House, and four from Burge Hall. Five of the 10 members will sit at any one time, on a rotating basis, with a non-voting chairman and a secretary at each meeting.

Women's Inter-Hall will act as a local judiciary being concerned with violations of noise and quiet hours, late slips, and privileged hour violations. According to Miss Cochran, more serious violations of women's hours regulations are referred directly to the Associated Women Students Central Judiciary.

Residence hall disciplinary problems are presently being handled by head residents, advisers and dorm counselors.

Wallace to Return To Barnstorming After TV Weekend

BOSTON (AP) — Republican Richard M. Nixon chose an audience of political friends Friday as a heckler-free forum for some campaign jabs at Hubert H. Humphrey — and a statement that "we trust" the war in Vietnam can be ended before inauguration day.

A speech before some 1,200 GOP campaign workers planted a public rally on the Nixon schedule, and Republican sources said the threat of massive heckling had led to the shift.

The rally was called off Monday, and Ron Ziegler, a Nixon campaign spokesman, denied that heckling threats led to the action.

Ziegler said the public rally was never more than a tentative plan, and was canceled because the national campaign staff decided the campaign workers' meeting and a New England-wide television broadcast Friday night were more worthy of the nominee's attention.

But other sources said the schedule had been shifted because Boston area students were planning a siege of protest and heckling.

OPERA SINGER SILENT— PARIS (AP) — Opera soprano Maria Callas, whose name had been linked romantically with that of Aristotle Onassis, refused to make any comment Thursday night on his forthcoming marriage to Jacqueline Kennedy.

CULVER'S REPUBLICAN CHALLENGER, Tom Riley of Cedar Rapids, said in a statement that he thought the United States ought to take the lead in providing food and medical supplies to starving civilians in Biafra.

"We should begin flights of mercy to Biafra immediately," he said.

New York City School Strike Continues As Custodians Refuse to Open Buildings

NEW YORK (AP) — School custodians threw their support behind a citywide strike of teachers Friday, deepening the paralysis of New York City's 1.1 million-pupil public school system.

The Board of Education said 25 schools in the city had been broken into as some parents and non-striking teachers sought to circumvent the walkout by the 55,000-member AFL-CIO United Federation of Teachers (UFT).

On orders from Staten Island Dist. Atty. John M. Braisted Jr., a policeman broke a padlock to open a Staten Island school, PS 45, and let 300 pupils in. But they had to be sent home because the custodian had not reported for work and there were no lights or running water.

School custodians are members of the AFL-CIO Union of Operating Engineers and School Supt. Bernard Donovan said: "Mechanics of the Board of Education will not cross picket lines to turn on lights and water. In spite of this, district superintendents have been instructed to open schools wherever possible."

However, the Board of Education reported that only 128 of the city's 900 public schools were open Friday, compared to 397 the day before. Attendance fell from 104,000 pupils, to 35,500.

The UFT strike has extended

Lennon, Girl Friend Picked Up, Charged with Having Marijuana

LONDON (UPI) — Beatle John Lennon, who once described marijuana as "a harmless giggle," was arrested with his Japanese girl friend Yoko Ono Friday on a drug charge.

It was the first arrest to mar the image of the Beatles, the most successful entertainers in history of British show business.

Lennon, 28, and Miss Ono, 34-year-old wife of American film producer Anthony Cox, were taken from Lennon's London apartment and charged at Paddington Green police station with possessing cannabis—the British name for hashish or compressed marijuana.

They were released on bail and ordered to appear in court today on the drug charge and an accusation of obstructing a police search of Lennon's apartment in London's residential Marylebone district.

It was the second recent blaze of publicity for Lennon and Miss Ono, the girl he declares loves and the "other woman" in a divorce suit by Lennon's wife, Cynthia.

A new recording by Lennon and the Japanese artist, called "The Two Virgins," caused a furor last week because of its cover showing the two of them in the nude. Musical magazines turned down advertising for the record as "unsuitable."

Lennon, with his shoulder-length hair, steel-rimmed spectacles, eccentric clothes and his prolific talent for lyrics and literature, is considered the most intellectually adventurous member of the millionaire pop group.

Drugs have been a feature of the pop scene in Britain and arrests of pop stars have been frequent. Guitarist Brian Jones of the Beatles' rival group, the Rolling Stones, was recently convicted and fined for the second time on a cannabis charge, but this was the first run-in with the law by a Beatle.

But the Beatles — Lennon, Paul McCartney and George Harrison, with the exception of Ringo Starr — have been publicly quoted as saying they have experimented with drugs.

"Drugs probably helped the understanding of myself better, but not much," Lennon said in "The Beatles," an authorized biography of the group published a few weeks ago.

Lennon mused that "pot," or cannabis, was just a joke but LSD was the self-knowledge which pointed the way in the first place. I was suddenly struck by great visions . . .

But the book indicated that the Beatles had lost any interest in drugs since they took up Indian-style meditation.

Iowa Goes for 1st Big 10 Victory

By MIKE EBBING

Wisconsin and Iowa, two teams who haven't won a Big 10 game since 1966, will be trying to escape the conference cellar when they meet at 1:30 p.m. today in Iowa Stadium.

The Hawks and Badgers shared last place in the final conference standings last year with identical 0-6-1 records. In fact, the last time the Hawks did escape the cellar was their eighth-place finish in 1963. They shared last both in 1964 and last year and had it to themselves in 1965 and 1966.

Iowa will be trying to end a nine-game conference losing streak and Wisconsin will be looking for its first Big 10 victory in seven games. The Hawks, however, unlike the Badgers, have tasted victory this year. They beat Oregon State 21-20 in their season opener. Three straight losses then followed, however, to Texas Christian 28-17, Notre Dame 51-28 and Indiana 38-34.

Most Badger fans probably can't remember the last time they saw Wisconsin win. Its last victory was in 1966 at the end of the season. Since, the Badgers have lost 13 games and tied one. The tie was last year in Madison when they battled the Hawks to a 21-21 thriller.

This year, the Badgers haven't been able to move the ball, as their three touchdowns and four season losses would indicate.

They lost to Michigan State in their only Big 10 game 39-0 and also fell to Arizona State 55-7, Washington 21-7 and Utah State 20-0. In fact, it has been three weeks since the Badgers have even scored.

Iowa's offensive statistics run just the opposite and the Hawks should be heavily favored to win their first conference victory since beating Indiana 20-19 two years ago.

In the latest Big 10 statistics, Iowa leads the conference offensively, but ranks 10th in defense. The rankings are based on comparative grading of points, first downs and yards per play. Wisconsin, on the other hand, ranks last in offense and seventh in defense.

For the first time this season, the Hawks will be starting both Eddie Podolak and Larry Lawrence. Lawrence, who currently ranks as the Big 10's top passer, will be starting at quarterback and Podolak will be moved to tailback.

Tim Sullivan is again at fullback with Barry Crees at wingback. Sophomore Denny Green, one of the Hawks' top rushers, will probably be sidelined with an ankle injury.

Defensively, Iowa has moved Larry Ely from his offensive guard position to linebacker. Louis Age will replace Ely at guard. The move is expected to strengthen the Hawks' defense which gave up 527 yards to Indiana last weekend and 587 yards to Notre Dame two weeks ago.

Both teams will be displaying talented pass receivers. The Hawks' reception artists include Al Bream, who led the Big 10 last year in receptions; Barry Crees; and Ray Manning. Bream needs only one more catch to tie the Iowa career record for most receptions — 102 — held by Karl Noonan.

Leading the Badger offense is split end Mel Reddick. He finished fourth in the conference last year in receptions. The problem this year, however, is that Coach John Coatta hasn't found a steady quarterback to run the Badgers. Coatta used three quarterbacks — seniors Bob Schaffner and John Ryan and junior Lew Rutherford — last week against Utah State. None had much luck.

The Badgers will start Ryan against the Hawks. He has completed 32 of 71 passes for 290 yards and a touchdown. The thing that disappoints Coatta, however, is that Ryan has had seven passes intercepted.

If Wisconsin's passing game falters, the Badgers will probably give the ball to their hard-running fullback Wayne Todd. Todd, who has been out with an ankle injury, injury, was a starter for the Badgers for the last two years.

Wisconsin has the edge in the series with Iowa — 29-15 and one tie. A Hawkeye victory today would be the Hawks' first since 1961 when they beat the Badgers 47-15 in Iowa City.

Chass Attempts Recovery In Picking Pro Grid Scores

By MURRAY CHASS

NEW YORK (AP) — Avery Brundage probably would cringe at just the mention, but the International Olympic Committee might want to consider adding pro football prognosticating to its calendar of events in Mexico City.

True, it's PRO prognosticating, but the way it's done around here, it's a purely amateur sport.

At least that's the way it looks after last week's miserable showing of six right and six wrong and this weekend's schedule doesn't exactly soothe the savage selector.

So in an attempt to lose the amateur standing, here are the picks to be added to the season's 43-20 record. All games are Sunday.

NFL

OAKLAND 24, KANSAS CITY 13 — Raiders still trying to figure out how San Diego held Hewitt Dixon to 21 yards in 10 carries. It doesn't figure to happen twice in a row. Then, too, Chiefs' offense doesn't appear to be improving in potency.

MIAMI 21, CINCINNATI 14 — Dolphins have a similar situation with fullback Larry Csonka out with concussion, but Bob Griese's passing should be just enough. Like the game above, though, could go the other way.

To

MARSHALL 20, HOUSTON 10 — Houston intercepted Joe Na-

math six times in a game last year and five teams have intercepted him 12 times this year. But that sort of thing can't go on forever.

SAN DIEGO 31, DENVER 14 — Chargers operating at top speed and ready to slow down charging Broncos, who have won two straight.

BUFFALO 14, BOSTON 10 — Bills still having quarterback troubles and running back Ben Greer out after knee surgery. Patriots' offense, on other hand, appears to have deteriorated just enough for Bills to overcome.

MILWAUKEE 21, CLEVELAND 14 — Dolphins have a similar situation with fullback Larry Csonka out with concussion, but Bob Griese's passing should be just enough. Like the game above, though, could go the other way.

NFL

LOS ANGELES 31, ATLANTA 7 — Even if Rams are looking ahead to following week's showdown with Baltimore they have too much for Falcons.

DALLAS 35, MINNESOTA 17 — Amateur Jim Hines assumed Bob Hayes' title of world's fastest human with Olympic 100-meter dash victory, but Hayes, not to mention the rest of the Cowboys, is still too fast for Vikings.

BALTIMORE 28, CLEVELAND 18 — Johnny Unitas, who threw a touchdown pass in first appearance last week, gets in a little more time before Rams' visit.

GREEN BAY 14, DETROIT 13 — Bill Munson and Mel Farr hot, but Packers have to get serious and start winning or they'll watch title game on tv.

ST. LOUIS 28, WASHINGTON 21 — Cardinals limited Leroy Kelly to five yards in 11 carries last week while offense showed improvement.

NEW ORLEANS 14, PITTSBURGH 13 — Steelers getting closer to first victory, but Saints rate bare edge.

CHICAGO 28, PHILADELPHIA 21 — Eagles, on the other hand, aren't getting closer to that first victory.

Douglass Leads Sahara Golf Open

LAS VEGAS (AP) — Dale Douglass, who as a professional golfer for eight years has yet to win a major tournament, fashioned a three-under-par 68 Friday to take the 36-hole lead with 135 in the $100,000 Sahara Invitational.

The 32-year-old pro from Denver, Colo., broke out of a three-way first round tie with Jack Nicklaus and Bill Collins to go to the front by two strokes, seven under par for 36 holes.

Doubling champion Nicklaus remained very much in contention with a 78 for 137, and said, "I didn't play as well as yesterday. I drove the ball in general better but my putting was not good at all."

Tied with Nicklaus were Kermit Zarley from Seattle, Wash., with a 69, and young Ron Cerrudo, a rookie from San Rafael, Calif., who had a 67 in a unique round. He had four birdies and no subpar putt was longer than three feet.

Ruggers Face Palmer

The Iowa rugby team will be moving into its toughest weekend of the season today when they play Palmer Chiropractic School at 12:30 p.m. in Davenport's Municipal Stadium. The ruggers will then travel to play Iowa State at 1:30 p.m. Sunday.

Palmer is known as one of the top rugby powers in the United States featuring South African, New Zealand and Australian players.

The Hawkeye ruggers will be hampered by more than their opponents. Several starting players have been lost by injury. But Coach Larry Mitchell's A and B ruggers have strong momentum going now through four straight victories and have yielded only six points for their opponents.

The game against Iowa State will be the first A contest against the new Cyclone team. But despite having a young team, Iowa State has shown good potential behind the play of five British Commonwealth team members.

INFERNOS PLAY SUNDAY

Iowa's Soccer club, the Infernos, meet Cedar Rapids at 2 p.m. Sunday at the Robbins Lake field in Cedar Rapids. Seven Infernos members will play with the Cedar Rapids team Sunday. Cedar Rapids plays Iowa soccer champion Des Moines next week and is seeking to strengthen its roster. The team will leave at 1 p.m. from the South Entrance of the Union.

CORRECTION

In Friday's list of undefeated intramural football teams, Floor 4 of the Rienow II League was inadvertently omitted. Floor 4 has a 3-0 record. The Daily Iowan regrets the error.

940 Scholarships Awarded To UI Undergrads This Year

A Florida citrus grove provides money for some University students' tuition.

Funds for the Drew Scholarship are supplied by the profits of a Florida citrus grove bequeathed by the Drew family. The number of scholarships awarded each year varies, depending upon the crop and harvest of the grove. The Drew Scholarship is only one of the many scholarships awarded annually by the Student Awards and Aid Committee.

About 940 scholarships were awarded to undergraduates this year, according to John E. Moore, director of the Student Financial Aids Office and a member of the committee.

In addition to awarding scholarships from the two major funds, the Awards and Aid Committee also approves and selects recipients for special scholarships, and other awards and prizes.

The General Motors and Alcoa scholarships are special scholarships awarded each year to freshmen who are residents of Iowa. Two individuals who have "outstanding high school achievement" are selected to receive the General Motors Scholarship, which offers from $200 to $2,000 to the student on the basis of his financial need. The Alcoa Scholarship is available to three freshmen majoring in math, science or chemical engineering. The recipients of this award are given $625 in their freshman year and $1,000 for the remaining three years.

In 1965, the Hancher Memorial Award was established from faculty and alumni contributions in honor of former University president Virgil M. Hancher. Intended, according to Moore, to be the highest honor available to a University student, this award for $500 is given annually to a senior who has demonstrated "academic excellence and leadership." Nominees for the Hancher Award are selected by the undergraduate colleges and appear before the committee, which chooses the recipient.

The Hancher Award and a certificate are presented at the annual honors convocation held in May. Other special awards and prizes given by the committee are also presented at the convocation.

Gladys Grabs Tampa Area By Surprise

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Gladys, veering suddenly eastward, fell on the thickly populated Tampa area Friday night. Howling winds and driving rains caught many of the million-plus residents by surprise.

Gales gusting at 60 miles an hour and driving sheets of rain hit during the evening rush hour. Shortly afterward, the full fury of 75-mile-an-hour hurricane winds blasted in windows of storefronts near the beaches.

Frantic efforts were begun to evacuate residents along the beaches, especially the elderly and the infirm of St. Petersburg's senior citizen colony.

"It wasn't supposed to hit here!" exclaimed one merchant as he hurriedly began to board up his storefront.

In 1965, the Hancher Memorial Award was established from faculty and alumni contributions in honor of former University president Virgil M. Hancher. Intended, according to Moore, to be the highest honor available to a University student, this award for $500 is given annually to a senior who has demonstrated "academic excellence and leadership."

Nominees for the Hancher Award are selected by the undergraduate colleges and appear before the committee, which chooses the recipient.

The Hancher Award and a certificate are presented at the annual honors convocation held in May. Other special awards and prizes given by the committee are also presented at the convocation.

THE NILC C. KINNICK AND FRANK "BUCKY" O'CONNOR SCHOLARSHIPS are two memorial athletic scholarships. The Kinnick scholarship is given annually to an Iowa athlete in memory of Kinnick, a former Iowa athlete and all Iowans who died in service during World War II. The scholarship provides tuition, room, board and books.

The O'Connor scholarship is in honor of the head Iowa basketball and golf coach, who was killed in a car accident several years ago. It awards $500 to the basketball player or golfer who best typifies the ideals O'Connor sought when he taught.

The Old Gold Scholarship is a general award provided by the University of Iowa Foundation for undergraduates achieving a high academic standard and demonstrating financial need.

Scholarships are awarded twice a year by the committee, and special awards and prizes are given at various times during the year. Freshmen scholarships are awarded in March and upperclassmen scholarships are awarded in July.

The Student Awards and Aid Committee consists of seven faculty members, who represent the various undergraduate colleges, and four ex officio members, who represent various University departments. Two students are also ex officio members, appointed by the Student Senate. The other members are selected by the faculty senate and recommended by President Bowen. They serve three year terms during which time they set policies of the committee and present awards.
