16 Black Grididders Off Squad

Boycott of 1st Practice 'Self-Elimination': Nagel

By MIKE EBBING

Sixteen of Iowa's 20 black football players did not attend the Hawkeyes' opening spring practice Friday afternoon and Coach Ray Nagel said the athletes involved have "dismissed themselves" from the squad.

The list of those dismissed includes four defensive starters from last year's squad — backs Ray Cavole, Ray Churchill and Coleman Lane, and linebacker Mike Phillips.

Other players missing practice were letterman Louis Age, offensive guard; Dennis Green, tailback; Tom Wallace, fullback; and Ken Price, defensive end. All the rest of the dismissed players were sophomores-to-be with the exception of junior offensive end Herschel Epps. They were defensive tackle Wendell Bell, defensive backs Craig Clemmons and tailbacks Levi Mitchell and Rich Solomon, fullback Frank Holmes and defensive guard Jerry Nelson.

The four black players attending the opening workouts were tight end Ray Manning, who led the Hawks in pass receiving last year; senior offensive tackle Mel Morris; reserve tailback Bill Powell; and sophomore split end Don Osby. Osby apparently was the only sophomore who was listed as a starter on Nagel's preliminary lineup.

"This is not any of my doing at all," said Nagel at practice Friday. "The players who didn't attend today dismissed themselves from the team. You might call it self-elimination by the individual." The dismissed players have not commented on the situation as yet, however it is believed that the boycott of practice is related to the treatment of the black athletes by the Department of Athletics. Jerry Stevens, A3, Denver, president of the University's Afro-American Student Association, and a former trackman here, said a statement on the player boycott might be forthcoming this morning.

Stevens, speaking on behalf of the dismissed players and the Afro-American Association, said late Friday night that the group had no comment on any of the developments of the past week, including the boycott.

In a squad meeting Tuesday night, the only black players attending were Morris and Powell. The squad meeting was held at the same time as a campus rally in support of jailed Des Moines Black Panthers, and it is believed that some of the players were attending the rally.

Nagel said he wasn't sure if the black players' actions could be considered a boycott because he had instructed the players in two previous squad meetings that any such action would be grounds for automatic dismissal from the squad.

"Here at the University of Iowa," Nagel said, "we are an integrated football team and an integrated University. All I know is that we have a young group of men who have decided to no longer be in our football program."

Nagel did not comment on whether those players involved on scholarship would have to sacrifice their aid.

"As I've said before," Nagel said, "they've been dismissed from our program and you can take that any way you want to."

John E. Moore, director of student financial aids, said Friday night that if the athletes withdrew voluntarily from participation in athletics, they would lose their scholarships.

However, since there is some question as to whether the players were "dismissed" by Nagel or voluntarily "dismissed themselves," Moore said he was not sure what the status of their scholarships would be.

One of the football players in attendance at practice said that the spirit of the team was still "pretty high" in light of the developments.

The Hawks worked out for about two hours on basic fundamentals and running. Another practice is planned at 2:30 today.

All the rest of the spring football squad was in attendance.

One of the black athletes attending practice said Friday night that he thought the 16 players "were making a mistake."

Nagel was optimistic about the squad, which had been rated high in pre-season national polls, even though the 16 black players were absent.

"Anytime you see a bunch of young men who have gone into a situation like this and have been on the team, you can't feel too good about it," Nagel said.

"I do feel that the squad we now have out on the field is a representative one and will do a good job. I think they will rally together and I think they will give a 100 per cent performance on any given Saturday."

Two other black players, Greg Allison and Charles Bolden, had been dismissed from spring practice earlier this year for what Nagel termed "personal reasons."

One of the black players not attending practice, however, refused to comment as to whether this might be an underlying reason for the boycott.

-Korean Flights to Continue- Nixon: Prospects For Peace Better

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, in a news conference dominated by a pledge to protect future flights by intelligence-gathering aircraft, said Friday he believes prospects for a Vietnam peace have significantly improved since he took office.

But he added he does not want to raise false hopes that peace may be coming this summer or fall. Nor did he claim any softening in enemy attitudes which thus far have balked progress in the Paris talks.

Nixon met nearly 300 newsmen before live television cameras and radio microphones in the East Room of the White House in a session scheduled before North Korea shot down a Navy reconnaissance plane with a presumed loss of 31 lives.

He set forth a new interim policy of continuing such flights — but with armed protection. And he gave his reasons why he thinks the Vietnam situation is looking better.

Responding to a question as he stood without notes before a single, slender microphone, Nixon voiced the view that "The chances for peace in Southeast Asia have significantly improved since this administration came into office."

While the President disclaimed full credit for any such improvement he did say that his administration in its 90 days in office has done some things which have improved the chances for peace.

In the 30-minute session, the chief executive renewed his appeal for adoption of his compromise Safeguard antiballistic missile proposal currently under heavy fire on Capitol Hill. And he conceded that a uniform administration approach to enforcement of civil rights laws still is being developed.

Continuing to avoid the impression of a crisis atmosphere at the White House because of the loss of the intelligence aircraft Monday off the North Korean coast, Nixon did not offer an expected opening statement on the subject. Instead, he turned directly to questions.

When, predictably, the first inquiry dealt with what the administration planned to do about the shooting incident, Nixon stated the destroyed plane never flew closer than 40 miles from the North Korean shore and was shot down 90 miles offshore after having canceled its mission on orders from above.

Without elaborating on why the orders were given, Nixon said the site of the shooting, according to U.S. intelligence, could be pinpointed on the basis of not only American but North Korean and Soviet radar records.

To protect the security of the 56,000 American troops in South Korea, he is responsible for the spy flights. While disclosing such flights were discontinued immediately after the incident, Nixon said he has ordered them resumed while promising unspecified protection for them. "This is not a threat; it is simply a statement of fact," he said.

Nixon gave no details on the planned protection. Later in the day the Pentagon disclosed that several U.S. warships and aircraft are being redeployed but stopped short of saying they are going to the Sea of Japan.

Discussing peace prospects in Southeast Asia, the President readily conceded "We still have some hard ground to plow."

But while avoiding any claim of a break in enemy intransigence at Paris, Nixon cited what he sees as three major plusses within South Vietnam.

He said the South Vietnamese government:

- has meaningfully improved its own military capabilities;
- has begun talking about broad-based future regime — something Saigon leaders "wouldn't even have considered six months ago";
- and has achieved a significantly greater degree of political stability.

All these developments, Nixon said, "will give a better opportunity for negotiating room" in Paris.

Asked whether he is considering a unilateral pullout of American troops from South Vietnam, Nixon replied "I am not."

He said any such move would undermine the American position in Paris "although I realize it might be rather popular to do so."

Nixon: U.S. Read N. Korean Radar

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon disclosed for the first time Friday that the United States is capable of "reading" radar pictures of another country from miles away.

The chief executive gave the word in affirming that the Navy EC121 electronics plane which was shot down by North Korea never came closer than 40 miles to its coast during its surveillance mission.

Nixon said the North Koreans knew this despite their claim that the unarmed propeller plane violated their air space. "We know what their radar showed," Nixon told a news conference. "We, incidentally, know what the Russian radar showed."

Both Korean and Soviet radars — as well as a U.S. radar watching from some location he did not disclose — all showed the same thing, Nixon said: that the plane was 90 miles out in the Sea of Japan when attacked.

Knifing at Union 'Personal Matter'

A scuffle between two men in the Union River Room about 6:15 p.m. Friday was broken up by bystanders and Union employees when one of the men involved cut the other with a large knife.

Witnesses said the two were sitting near each other when one suddenly drew what appeared to be a butcher knife with a blade about eight inches long.

When the two men were separated, one was bleeding from a gash on the hand.

Union night manager Craig Schoon said by the time he got to the River Room the injured man had left, but Schoon said he understood the man's wound was not serious.

Schoon said he was told that the two men were acquainted and that the disagreement "was a very personal matter." He said the person who had pulled the knife was taken by friends to Psychiatric Hospital.

Names of those persons involved were not available. Police were not notified.

Legislature's Bad Image Could Cost, Sutton Says

The Iowa legislature has a "bad image" that could cost the state thousands of dollars on federal appropriations Student Body Pres. Jim Sutton, said Friday.

Sutton has just returned from a trip to the nation's capital where he was lobbying for increased federal aid to higher education and also gathering information on the campaign program he promised to implement.

"Student funding programs of the Nixon administration will be cut back drastically," Sutton said at a news conference at the Union. He cited a 30 per cent budget cut for Health Education and Welfare as opposed to a six-tenths of one per cent cut in the defense budget.

"President Nixon is overreacting to inflation," Sutton declared, "and just delaying the inevitable."

Sutton visited the Department of Housing and Urban Development and investigated rent supplement and college cooperative housing programs while in Washington.

Sutton said that much of the housing that students can afford is substandard.

One of Sutton's prime campaign goals was the erection of co-operative "Fullerdomes" built and operated by students.

A Fullerdome is an aluminum structure, that are designed to be constructed by two workers in six hours.

"We are not trying to compete with Iowa City housing," Sutton emphasized, "but rather we're trying to fill a void caused by the fact that students can't afford to pay $110 a month to live."

Responding to questions from reporters, Sutton said "we will increase the pressure geometrically" on University officials if there is no response from the administration on teaching assistant salary increases. "An analogy can be drawn between a teaching assistant and an apprentice," he stated.

Sutton cited a National Labor Relations act that says workers must receive full salary during their apprenticeship.

Sutton made an "off the cuff" proposal that University teaching assistants get paid half the salary of a high school teacher plus $500.

Sutton said "100 per cent" of teaching assistants' salaries are "below the poverty line, according to salary scales."

Accompanying Sutton on the trip to Washington were Connie Maske, A4, Lockport, Ill., Student Senate secretary; Bert Marian, G, North Liberty; Brent Stanley, A3, West Burlington; and Student Body Vice Pres. Jim Dougherty.

D.M. Arson Trial Gets Under Way

DES MOINES — The trial of three persons accused of arson began in here Friday while about 30 others, including students from the University of Iowa and Grinnell College, picketed outside the Des Moines courthouse.

Inside the courtroom, Calvin Jones Jr., 19, of Waterloo, one of the prosecution's key witnesses, took the stand a second time after first refusing to testify on the basis of the Fifth Amendment.

Jones testified that he and a companion used gasoline and a Molotov cocktail to start a fire which caused $750,000 damage to the Jewell Lumber Co. in Des Moines last Oct. 9.

Jones and another witness, Terry McDonald, 19, also of Waterloo, are being held in Polk County Jail awaiting trial on arson charges in connection with the fire.

The defendants in Friday's trial are Charles Knox, 24, a leader of the Black Panthers here; Mrs. Joanna Cheatom, 43, a Welfare Rights Organization leader; and her son Marvin, Jr., 16.

Jones said he got the fire bomb from a Des Moines house and was taken in a car to the lumberyard. He testified that Knox and Mrs. Cheatom were with him at the house and in the car.

During cross-examination, Jones said he was using heroin during the time of the firebombing.

Jones is facing three charges of grand larceny in Waterloo and one in Cedar Rapids and has been treated in the State Mental Institute at Independence, cross examination also revealed.

Dubcek Retained In Minor Position

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovakia's Communist leadership accused demoted party chief Alexander Dubcek Friday of shortcomings in carrying out policy. At the same time it awarded him a largely ceremonial job as president of Parliament.

A communique said the Central Committee in its latest plenary session "took notes of shortcomings in the work of Comrade Dubcek in the implementation of approved decisions," but noted his "initiative, honest and nonpersonal approach to the necessary solving of personnel questions of the party leadership."

It also called him "a self-sacrificing and honest Communist, convinced internationalist, whose main aim in life was to serve the Communist party and his people."

Dubcek, popular leader of the ill-fated Czechoslovak reform program, was removed as party first secretary Thursday and replaced by Gustav Husek, who is expected to impose a more authoritarian brand of rule.

Czechoslovaks took with astonishing calm the downfall of the man they had hugged and kissed in the streets eight months ago.

But the news that another liberal, Josef Smrkovsky, had been ousted from the party presidium brought the possibility of weekend demonstrations. Smrkovsky, unlike Dubcek, comes from this section of the country. There was angry reaction in January when he was demoted a step in his state job to deputy chairman of Parliament.

Graduate Assistant Dismissal Policy Ready to Make Rounds Once Again

By KAREN GOOD

After over a year of discussion, graduate students have again come up with a graduate assistant dismissal policy proposal.

The dismissal policy, if approved by the University, would provide for a hearing and an appeal for any graduate assistant who has been dismissed by the University.

The policy was unanimously accepted Thursday night by the Graduate Student Senate, a body which, in part, was created because of the need to formulate a dismissal policy acceptable to graduate students.

Senators also unanimously accepted a resolution which would not allow revisions to the policy, although the resolution did provide for meetings and discussions of the policy with interested faculty members and deans.

The policy was first proposed last spring by a group of graduate students, following the University's dismissal of Paul Kleinburger, a former University rhetoric instructor, following his arrests in the Nov. 1 and Dec. 5, 1967, antiwar demonstrations on campus.

The policy proposal was referred to the Faculty Senate and University deans for approval last year. However, the version hammered out by the senate and deans was unacceptable to its originators because it did not provide for an appeals board.

The version accepted by the graduate senate Thursday night is "basically the original policy drawn up last year," according to John Casey, G, Reinbeck, a graduate senator who has worked on the policy proposal most of this year.

Casey suggested to the senate that it also pass a resolution stating that it wished no revisions of the policy.

"If we say that we don't want revisions, it will place the senate in a defensive position and we can quit messing around with all the revising that has been done in the past," he said.

Three "appointments" to University committees were also confirmed by the senate Thursday night.

Don Smith, G, Ames, and Christian Swift, G, Washington, were named to the Liberal Arts Adjustment Committee, and Colleen Sterling, G, Coralville, to the University Housing committee.

Graduate Student Senate appointments to University committees have been a controversial issue since last February when the senate appointed Dave Leslie, G, Mt. View, Calif., to the Board in Control of Athletics.

Because Graduate Student Senate appointments to University committees are not recognized under the Code of Student Life, and because the board is a committee which decides financial policy for the Athletic department, Leslie was told by board members that he would not be asked to the meetings.

Under the Code, the Student Senate is the only campus body which can appoint University students to campus committees.

Grad senators feel that the graduate senate should be recognized on an equal basis with the Student Senate. However, so far the only official campus recognition it has received is from Dean of the Graduate College, Duane Spriestersbach.

Committee chairmen are still trying to determine what the committee's policies should be to the graduate senate appointments.

However, so far the only graduate student appointee who has been told he will be able to vote on committee decisions is Casey, who was appointed by the senate to the Committee on Student Conduct.

Boyd Objects To Way Views Were Given

University Vice Pres. Willard Boyd said Friday that a Graduate Student Senate committee report delivered to the senate Thursday night had misrepresented his views on graduate students.

At Thursday night's senate meeting, an ad hoc committee of four students who had met earlier with Boyd reported on their interview. The committee's report quoted freely from Boyd and was met with general disbelief and laughter by graduate senators.

Boyd said Friday that, while he was not claiming that he had been misquoted, he did feel that his views had not been done adequate justice by the report.

Boyd said, "I don't consider the report an accurate assessment of my philosophy about graduate students."

Policies are always under review, according to Boyd, who is to become University president Sept. 1. He said that sometimes administrators can't do everything that is asked, but they try their best to "assess and implement."

When the graduate students met with him, he said, he thought their presentation was excellent. Boyd stated that he is "trying to follow through on the conversation the way we left it."

The presentation dealt with graduate student housing and graduate student autonomy.

Boyd reported that Richard Trumpe, associate dean of student affairs, Phillip Hubbard, dean of academic affairs, and Gerald Burke, assistant director of Hillcrest men's dormitory, have studied the graduate students' proposals concerning housing.

The administration committee has reported back to Boyd with a suggestion and he has instructed them to meet with the Graduate Student Senate committee and discuss the suggestion.

Oakdale Concern: Community Safety

A spokesman for the Oakdale Maximum Security Hospital told an audience of some 75 area residents Friday morning that the safety of the community will be a major concern of the hospital staff, even if it means cutting back on the number of patients that may be treated.

Nolan H. Ellandson, director of the "Division of Adult Correction in the state department, assured Iowa Citizens that while there will not be sufficient funds to hire extra manpower, the hospital will be adequately staffed.

"We are charged with the protection of society, and we shall do our best," Ellandson said.

Area residents have complained that restricted funds might cause hospital administration to cut corners on security.

Ellandson said that staff members will be diverted to meet needs in specific areas whenever a shortage in help occurs.

"We can make changes in our staffing as long as we stay within our budget allotments," he explained.

"We may have problems with our staffing," he added, "but we will try to provide service and make improvements."

Ellandson called the meeting at Ramada Inn to answer questions and explain the security hospital's proposed plan of operation.

The hospital, designed to treat mentally disturbed persons with criminal tendencies, is scheduled to open later this year. Ideally, Ellandson said, such a hospital should have more than one staff member per each patient.

He said that the plentiful labor supply and large number of trained personnel in the area were important factors in choosing Iowa City as a site for the hospital.

Ellandson said that the security hospital will work in conjunction with the Bureau of Mental Health to see that patients from the Anamosa reformatory who cannot be accommodated here will still receive treatment somewhere.

Ray said the addition $17 million, raising his budget to a record $1.43 billion, will be spent in part on capital improvements at state universities and to bail out the financially-troubled Medicaid program.

Ray Announces Budget Increase

DES MOINES — Gov. Robert D. Ray announced a $17 million increase in his proposed budget Friday, and Republican legislative leaders said they will support greater taxing of banks and savings and loan institutions.

Ray said the addition $17 million, raising his budget to a record $1.43 billion, will be spent in part on capital improvements at state universities and to bail out the financially-troubled Medicaid program.

Boyd reported that Richard Trumpe, associate dean of student affairs, Phillip Hubbard, dean of academic affairs, and Gerald Burke, assistant director of Hillcrest men's dormitory, have studied the graduate students' proposals concerning housing.

The administration committee has reported back to Boyd with a suggestion and he has instructed them to meet with the Graduate Student Senate committee and discuss the suggestion.

Military Honors Given At Awards Ceremony

A number of high national military awards were presented at the Joint Awards Ceremony held Friday. The awards were presented to Army and Air Force officers, enlisted men, ROTC cadets and civilians at the annual ceremony in the Field House Armory.

The Soldier's Medal for "unusual bravery and heroism," was awarded to Dr. Franklin J. DeRusso of Iowa City. While serving as a captain in the Army Medical Corps on Okinawa, DeRusso, "with complete disregard for his own safety" prevented a suicidal patient from jumping from the fifth story ledge of a hospital building.

DeRusso is now a resident in thoracic surgery at University Hospitals.

Sgt. 1/c Donald D. Smider received the Bronze Star Medal and First Oak Leaf Cluster for "heroism in connection with military operations."

Smider repeatedly came under enemy fire while aiding wounded soldiers to safety during combat in Vietnam in August 1968.

1st Sgt. Shelby R. Kempf also received the Bronze Star Medal for "outstanding meritorious service" in Vietnam, July 1967 to March 1968.

Both Smider and Kempf are members of the Department of Military Science.

Dewey B. Stuit, dean of the College of Liberal Arts, received a Certificate of Appreciation for Patriotic Civilian Service for his "promotion of ROTC through personal example and student counseling." Stuit's award is from the Department of the Army.

Air Force ROTC cadet Fred N. Lineer Jr., G. Iowa City, received the Bernard Westfall Award. The award is presented annually by the widow of Air Force Cpt. Bernard Westfall to that senior AFROTC cadet "who most consistently displays those qualities of integrity, compassion and dedication" exhibited by Westfall. This is a special University award.

The Angel Flight Commander Award was presented to Mrs. Leanne Bilstron, formerly Leanne Miller, N4, Des Moines. The award is presented for outstanding service at the University as commander of Angel Flight, the Air Force ROTC women's auxiliary.

Jonathan L. Heaslet, AA, Iowa City, was one of 20 Army ROTC cadets in the nation to receive the National Defense Transportation Association Award for overall academic, military and extracurricular achievement.

The Defense Supply Association Award for seniors enrolled in General Military Science was awarded to John E. Boggess of Nodaway. Daniel W. Collins of Albion received the Defense Supply Association award for juniors. Each award is presented to only 10 cadets in the nation.

Awards were presented to approximately 80 Army and Air Force cadets by various civilian and military agencies.

The list of other award winners will appear in Tuesday's edition of The Daily Iowan.

Rightists Claim German General

BONN — The leader of West Germany's ultra-rightist National Democratic party disclosed Friday night that party ranks include a general of the West German Army.

ROTC Flunks out at Harvard

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS One of two policy-making bodies at Harvard University agreed Friday to student and faculty demands to downgrade ROTC, prompting students to suspend their class boycott for one week.

A brief demonstration by a renegade group of protesters at Columbia University ended after it failed to win general support.

The Harvard Corporation agreed to reduce the Reserve Officers Training Corps to the status of an extracurricular activity. An official said the university's other governing board, the Board of Overseers, could intervene, but probably would not.

About five hours later, more than 3,000 students voted to end their week-long boycott. They promised a moratorium for seven days to evaluate the university's response to their demands. A secret student ballot will then be taken to determine further plans.

At Columbia, leaders of the Expansion Committee of Students for a Democratic Society admitted "we made a mistake" and ended their sit-in at Hamilton Hall after about seven hours.

SDS leaders had urged other students not to participate in the protest, claiming the Expansion

Committee members were "renegades."

The demonstrators — whose numbers varied from 30 to 75 during the day — moved into Hamilton as workmen were cleaning up Philosophy Hall, abandoned late Thursday by SDS members who were served with a restraining order.

The minority group demanded an end to ROTC on campus and an opening up of 197 university-owned apartments off campus to "working people."

Lone Tree Home Destroyed by Fire

LONE TREE — An elderly Lone Tree woman was injured in a fire that completely destroyed her 2-story frame home located 4 1/2 miles from here Friday afternoon.

Lone Tree volunteer fireman James Hartsock reported that Clara Stemm, who is about 65 or 70, was burned on her hands and legs to an undetermined extent, but refused medical attention because she said she was a Christian Scientist.

The fire, which was reported by a neighbor about 6:15 p.m., apparently started when an oil burner was knocked over by Miss Stemm's pet cat, firemen reported.

Senate Unit OKs Softer Pot Penalty

DES MOINES — A bill to soften the penalty for first-time possession of marijuana by persons found with a small quantity of "pot" has been given unanimous approval by the Senate Law Enforcement Committee.

Illegal possession of marijuana would become an indictable misdemeanor with a maximum penalty of 6 months in jail and a $1,000 fine. The offense is now a felony carrying a possible sentence of two to five years in prison.

House Approves College Grant Bill

DES MOINES — Hoping to ease the strain on the three state universities, the Iowa House approved Friday a bill providing tax-financed grants to students attending private colleges.

Rep. Floyd Miller, (R-Farmington), chief sponsor of the bill, said that without state assistance many private colleges would collapse and the state universities would have to grow to "mammoth" proportions.

The state's private schools have a capacity of 42,000 students but are enrolling only 32,655 at the present time, while the University of Iowa, Iowa State University and University of Northern Iowa are straining under the pressure of expanding enrollments.

Helping students attend private schools would fill the vacancies there and keep growth down at the state universities, he said.

The 92-19 vote came after seven hours of debate stretched over two days. The bill now goes back to the Senate, where it was approved earlier, for concurrence on some House changes.

The House balked at a Senate amendment extending the grants to graduate students. Under the House version, only undergraduates would be eligible for the grants.

The aid, which could be as much as $1,000 a year per student, would be available to needy students attending all accredited institutions and three nonaccredited ones — Parsons, Dordt and Midwestern colleges.

Along with the graduate student amendment, the House rejected a Senate proposal that the grants be made available to students at special skills institutions such as barbering and nursing schools.

Critics of the bill said it amounts to giving private schools state financial assistance in violation of the constitution.

Schmidhauser Says Lottery Draft Better Than Professional Army

By PENNY WARD A University professor and former U.S. congressman advocated Friday night the creation of an impartial lottery system as a better substitute for "the present patch-work system" of the military draft than a professional army.

John Schmidhauser, professor of political science, told a meeting of the Iowa Conference of the American Association of University Professors in Phillips Hall that "the lessons of history are clear. Professional armies help generate wars, and modern wars will involve all." About 10 people attended the meeting.

Schmidhauser said that the elimination of most deferments and adoption of the lottery system would avoid the long range dangers of a full professional army.

"The historic lesson of the Prussian professional army was vividly impressed upon the young men of the entirety of Europe over many decades. Its very reason for being tended to generate militarism among its neighbors," Schmidhauser said.

He dismissed the argument that a professional army composed largely of blacks, Mexican-Americans, poor whites and Indians would represent a rung in the ladder of attainment for the underprivileged.

Charges Dropped In Death of Baby

BURLINGTON — William Edward Miller, 21, of Ottumwa, was released from jail Friday after Municipal Court Judge Gary J. Snyder ruled there was insufficient evidence to hold him for the death of an infant and dropped the charges.

Miller was arrested on a charge of assault with intent to inflict great bodily injury, but the charge was changed to murder after the 18-month-old boy died at University Hospitals in Iowa City Sunday.

Diana May Rose, 21, of Burlington, told police her son, Jeffrey, was injured during a toilet-training session April 10, according to Des Moines County Atty. Alan Waples.

Antidraft Speech To Be Given Here

Arlo Tatum, 45, a native Iowan who has twice been in prison as a result of his objection to the draft, will speak in the Old Capitol Senate Chamber at 8 p.m. Monday.

Tatum, executive secretary of the Central Committee for Conscientious Objectors, will discuss "The Draft and the University."

His appearance is sponsored by the Action Studies Program and the Iowa City Office of American Field Service Committee.

Government Seminar Set

"Social Status and Political Participation" will be the theme of a seminar sponsored by the Institute of Urban and Regional Research at 2:30 Tuesday in 245 University Hall. The speakers will be Asst. Profs. Everett Cataldo, Richard Johnson and Lyman Kellstadt of State University of New York at Buffalo.

4 Hawks After Tramp Title

Four Iowa gymnasts compete today in the NCAA trampoline championships in Ann Arbor, Mich.

Jim Morlan, Barry Slotten, Don Uffelman and Craig Berg will try to give the Hawkeye gym team their second National Collegiate title.

Iowa won the NCAA gym title two weeks ago at Seattle. The trampoline tournament is being held separately for the first time.

Morlan, Slotten and Uffelman competed on the Hawkeye varsity gym team this year. Berg is a freshman and can compete under the recently adopted Big 10 policy which makes freshmen eligible for NCAA championship events.

Michigan is favored to win the title. Its superb trampolinists, Dave Jacobs and George Hantzicker, were the big reason the Wolverines defeated Iowa for the Big 10 title. Other strong contenders for the title are Illinois, Southern Illinois, Indiana State and Iowa State.

Iowa Coach Mike Jacobson will be attending an Olympic events meeting at Denver and will not be with the team. Jacobson was recently named the NCAA coaches' representative to the Olympics.

Accompanying the team will be assistant coaches Dick Holzappel and Neil Schmitt.

Preliminaries are scheduled for 2 p.m. today with the top three teams and top eight individuals advancing to the finals Saturday night.

Trevino, Archer Tie for Lead In Tournament of Champions

Lee Trevino, U.S. Open Champion, comes out of a sand trap at the edge of the first hole in Friday's second round of play in the Tournament of Champions at Rancho La Costa, Calif. He two-putted the hole for a bogey five, but finished with a 68 to tie George Archer for first place.

RANCHO LA COSTA, Calif. (AP) — Laughing Lee Trevino, the U.S. Open Golf champion, came from seven shots off the pace with a second-round 68 Friday and moved into a share of the lead with George Archer — each at 142 in the $150,000 Tournament of Champions.

Young Dick Lotz, the first round leader with a 67, fell back in the pack when he struggled over the 7,114-yard par 72 La Costa Country Club course in a 78 for 145.

Trailing Trevino and Archer, the Master's champion, are Gene Littler, South African Gary Player, PGA champ Julius Boros and Arnold Palmer. Littler had a sparkling 68, including a course record-matching 30 on the front nine while Player, Boros and Palmer all had 74s.

Dave Stockton was alone at 144 after shooting a second round 75.

Billy Casper, one of the pre-tourney favorites in the select field of 28, took a 76 for 147 while Jack Nicklaus shot himself out of contention with one of his worst rounds in years — a nearly incredible 80.

Trevino Comes on Strong—

Lee Trevino, U.S. Open Champion, comes out of a sand trap at the edge of the first hole in Friday's second round of play in the Tournament of Champions at Rancho La Costa, Calif. He two-putted the hole for a bogey five, but finished with a 68 to tie George Archer for first place.

Ruggers Face Chicago Lions, Carleton, in Weekend Action

The Iowa Rugby team will be back in action this weekend with games today and Sunday. Both the A and B teams will be facing the Chicago Lions beginning at 1:30 p.m. today. Carleton College will be in Iowa City Sunday for an A game.

According to Coach Larry Mitchell, the Chicago Lions are a big, physical team that has defeated Michigan 5-3 this season. Michigan is the team that knocked Iowa out of the Big 10 championships last week, 6-0.

The Lions have been strengthened this year with the addition of Steve Jones, a former Hawk-

Boston Beats Indians 10-7

BOSTON (AP) — Ken Harrelson cracked a pair of homers and Tony Conigliaro, Rico Petrocelli and Carl Yastrzemski hit one each Friday as the Boston Red Sox snapped a three-game losing streak with a 10-7 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

The Red Sox unloaded their big guns against right-hander Luis Tiant, who won 21 games with a 1.60 earned run average in 1968. Tiant was battered for five homers, five doubles and a single before being shelled in the sixth inning and taking his third defeat.

Stoneman Shares No-Hitter Glory With His Manager

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Bill Stoneman pitched a no-hitter against the Philadelphia Phillies Thursday night but he had to share the limelight with his manager, Gene Mauch.

Mauch was the first to disclaim any credit for Stoneman's achievement, but his players obviously were anxious to see that he got his share. They seemed to feel this first visit to Philadelphia meant a lot to the little skipper, who was fired as boss of the Phillies last June.

Asked if his knowledge of the Philadelphia hitters had helped Stoneman, Mauch reported, "I knew someone would ask that. You can't cram eight years' experience into a 25-minute meeting. After the fifth inning, all that fringe stuff was forgotten. I was just afraid he would walk one too many. I was afraid of Deron Johnson breaking it up."

Johnson, the husky third baseman, was the final batter. He hit a sharp grounder to shortstop where Maury Willis fumbled it, picked it up and threw him out. In the first inning, Johnson had ripped a liner past third base, just inches foul.

Mauch tried to play it cool, but his satisfaction leaked through. He looked at the writers surrounding him in the unfamiliar visitors' dressing room and commented, "You're pretty clever, but none of you could have written that script."

The Expos tore up Stoneman's contract Friday and gave him a new one with a $2,000 increase as a reward for his no-hit performance.

Now Ready— YOUR ANNUAL NEWSPAPER

THE WORLD IN 1968

For all its hard back cover and slick paper, THE WORLD IN 1968 can well be regarded as the annual edition of your own newspaper.

In fact this handsome volume was prepared by our chief source of national and international news, The Associated Press, and was written largely by the skilled correspondents who in the first place reported the year's outstanding news.

Unlike any other annual, it gives breathtaking immediacy to the 12-month period's unparalleled events.

Its hundreds of news pictures in color and black and white form an outstanding collection available no place else.

Whether you want it for reference or as a help to your children in their school work, or for just plain enjoyment, you should not miss the opportunity of ordering now.

- THE WORLD IN 1968 volume contains:
- 300 pages, page size 9 1/2" x 12 1/2"
 - 140,000-word text on outstanding news events of the year
 - 240 photographs, 60 of these in full color
 - 30-page almanac containing world chronology, the world's top stories and newsmakers, U.S. economic and sports statistics.

Standouts in Twin Win— Ben Banta (left) and Bob Cataldo lead Iowa to a doubleheader sweep over Monmouth College Friday. Cataldo stroked two of the Hawks' four hits in the opener and Banta hurled a five hitter as Iowa won the nightcap 5-2.

Iowa Tops Monmouth Twice

By TOM STARR

Iowa swept a doubleheader from Monmouth Friday afternoon at the Iowa Field. The Hawkeyes took the first game 5-2 and then won the nightcap 5-2.

In the initial contest, Bruce Reid pitched a three-hitter and struck out six Monmouth hitters as he ran his record to 2-2.

Iowa scored both times in the second inning. The two tallies were unearned as Monmouth first baseman Bruce Stollar made a costly error on a routine play to allow Hawkeye runners on second and third to score.

Monmouth got its run in the top of the seventh as Iowa catcher Gary Koepfel allowed a Reid pitch to get by him for a passed ball. On the play Monmouth's Ron DePuy scored from third.

Iowa collected only four hits in the game. Bob Cataldo had two of the four to lead Hawkeye batsmen.

The Hawks had the bases loaded with one out in the fifth inning but could not take advantage of the situation as Monmouth relief pitcher Terry Henderson retired the side.

In the second game, Mike Wymore doubled in three runs in the bottom of the third inning to give the Hawks a 3-2 lead.

The Hawkeyes came back with a run in both the fourth and fifth frames and blanked Monmouth the rest of the way to put the game on ice.

Ben Banta hurled a five hitter and struck out four as he went the distance to take the win. Banta is 1-0 for the year.

Iowa could only muster four hits again in the second contest. Bob Cataldo and Wymore had doubles while Jim Koering and Gary Koepfel stroked singles.

The two victories were the fourth and fifth of the year for Iowa. The Hawks have lost 10.

An experimental intentional walk was used in the games. Instead of throwing four balls

Minnesota and Parsons Next Iowa Tennis Foes

Iowa's tennis team will be in Minneapolis, Minn., today to face a strong Minnesota squad and then returns to Iowa City for its first home meet of the year against Parsons at 2 p.m. Monday.

Iowa and Minnesota are both 1-0 in conference competition and have defeated a mutual opponent. The Hawks slipped past Northwestern last weekend 5-4 and Minnesota knocked off the Wildcats earlier this week by a 6-3 score.

The Hawks are coming off an impressive performance at Iowa State Tuesday afternoon. Iowa white-washed the Cyclones 9-0, winning all six singles matches and all three of the doubles matches.

Coach John Winnie, whose team now owns a 4-3 overall dual meet record, plans on using the same line-up which has proved successful against Northwestern and Iowa State.

Sophomores Jim Esser and Craig Sandvig will again man the No. 1 and 2 singles spots, followed in order by Rich Stokstad, Nate Chapman, Steve Ehlers, and Steve Houghton. Esser and Sandvig will comprise the No. 1 doubles team, Houghton and Chapman the No. 2 team, and Ehlers and Randy Murphy the No. 3 unit.

Winnie said Friday that the team's spring trip to Arizona was very encouraging. Against the tough opposition of Corpus Christi, Arizona, Arizona State, and New Mexico State (twice), the Hawks came away with two wins and three losses.

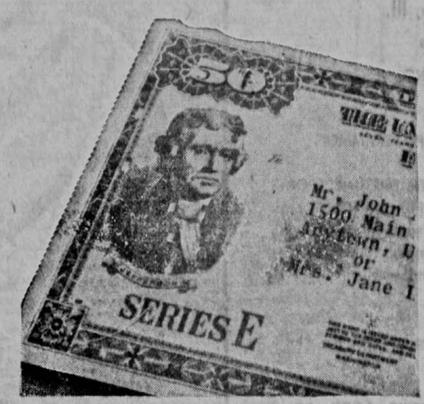

Senior Randy Murphy was elected team captain during the trip to Arizona. Winnie said that Murphy is competing only in doubles play now because he is still recovering from a bout with mononucleosis.

The Hawks will not have a home meet after the Parsons match Monday until May 2 against Michigan. In the time between, the Hawks will take on Northern Illinois, Ohio State, Indiana, Notre Dame, and Wisconsin, all on the road.

'Quake Day' Greeted with Party—San Francisco Lives

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — San Francisco, crushed and burned by earthquake and fire 63 years ago Friday, thumbed its collective nose at the prophets of doom with a swinging, predawn party around City Hall.

More than 5,000 persons accepted the invitation of Mayor Joseph Alioto to listen to music and poetry, cheer, watch movies, and cry a little as the sun came up over the tranquil, sleeping city.

"We are not here to tempt the gods or to harass the gods," said the mayor. "We are here to demonstrate that nobody needs to get hysterical over predictions of soothsayers and to commemorate the rebuilding of our city."

The "guest of honor" was present, though unseen — the San Andreas Fault which shook the city to bits at 5:13 a.m., April 18, 1906. City Hall was left looking like a bereft, monstrous bird cage after the great shaker lopped masonry from its dome and gingerbread from its friezes. Seven hundred persons were killed.

Newspaper columnist Herb Caen recited lines from Lawrence W. Harris' post-quake poem:

"From the Ferry to Van Ness, you're a godforsaken mess; 'But the Damnedest Finest Ruins: nothing more and nothing less."

Brother Antoninus of St. Albert's College, read his poem, "The City That Does Not Die," and he said if San Francisco should be destroyed again, it most surely would rise anew.

No one can predict when a quake will strike, assured Don Tocher, a U.S. government seismologist.

Great cheers rose when clips from the old movie, "San Francisco," were shown on a theater-size screen hanging on the front of City Hall.

The star, the late Clark Gable, climbed out from under some bricks in the film and more cheers came from the crowd.

A statue of Enrico Caruso, who was shaken out of bed when the quake struck, stood by as some of his old recordings were played.

Passage of Voting-at-19 Bill Urged by Iowa City Jaycees

The Iowa City Jaycees Thursday urged passage of the bill now before the legislature to lower the voting age in Iowa to 19.

The group also voted to support a proposal that candidates for governor and lieutenant governor run together and that the secretary of state, state treasurer, state auditor, secretary of agriculture and attorney general be appointed rather than elected to their offices.

In a letter addressed to the three Johnson County legislators, Sen. Minette Doderer and Reps. Joseph Johnston and Edward Mezvinsky, all Democrats, urging them to support voting at age 19, the Jaycees said, "We see in this proposal a compelling opportunity more effectively to bring about participation in the democratic process on the part of the youth of Iowa to the extent of its demonstrated capability."

"Today's 19-year-old is more mature, better informed and possessed of a larger sense of responsibility than was yesterday's 21-year-old. We urge passage of this legislation confident that it will produce an improved and more representative electorate."

As part of their support of the second proposal, the Jaycees urged that gubernatorial elections be held during the off-year general election and that governor and lieutenant governor be elected to four-year, instead of the present two-year terms.

"However," the letter read "it is our considered belief that the remaining officials in the executive department should be appointed by the governor, subject to confirmation by the state Senate."

"We prize our right of franchise as zealously as does any man, yet we believe that removing these few officials from the ballot will result in more qualified individuals filling these positions and will serve to make state government more efficient and representative."

Dubuque Flood Watch Takes on New Urgency

DUBUQUE (AP) — National guardsmen and high school students worked shoulder to shoulder Friday evening as flood preparations in Dubuque took on new urgency.

The crest on the Mississippi River was some 50 miles downstream from Minneapolis, Minn., Friday and was expected to reach Dubuque April 26. The predicted level here was a near-record seven feet over flood stage.

The Mississippi was three feet over Dubuque flood stage Friday as Gov. Robert D. Ray ordered 125 National Guardsmen into the city at the request of Mayor Walter Pregler.

Pregler said the troops will maintain 24-hour patrol of the city's dike system.

Upstream at Marquette the bridge linking that town and Prairie du Chien, Wis., was closed due to high water. It is the only Mississippi River span on the 100-mile stretch from Lansing, Iowa, to Dubuque.

Also on hand in Dubuque were three large pumping units dispatched by the Corps of Engineers. Pregler said they would be placed alongside the dikes to pump seepage water back to the river.

In central and western Iowa the flood threat has passed on virtually all streams.

Hard-hit North Sioux City, S.D., continued the clean-up job as the Big Sioux River eased back toward its banks after reaching its highest level in history.

The Big Sioux was receding along its entire length and should be back in its banks within 12 days, the Weather Bureau said.

The west fork of the Des Moines River was expected to fall below flood stage at all points by Thursday.

The Des Moines River was reported cresting in Des Moines Friday. Upstream it was expected to fall below flood stage at Fort Dodge and Boone on Sunday.

Highways closed due to high water were Iowa 10 three miles north of Hawarden; U.S. 18 west of Inwood; Iowa 4 five miles south of Emmetsburg; Iowa 15 six miles south of West Bend; Iowa 3 west of Westfield; and Iowa 76 from Marquette to its junction with Iowa 364.

Sarah Holm, A2, Davenport, was a runner-up for the Drake Relays Queen chosen in Des Moines Friday. Miss Holm, who represented the University in the beauty pageant, is shown posing on campus in one of the photos submitted to the contest. Irish Girl, 21, Wins Election To Parliament

OMAGH, Northern Ireland (AP) — An Irish girl in blue jeans, who is the youngest woman ever elected to Britain's House of Commons, faced a typical female problem Friday — what to wear to Parliament.

"For my civil rights activities I wear jeans and an anorak (parka)," said Miss Bernadette Devlin, who plans to take her seat in London next Wednesday, her 22nd birthday.

Petite Miss Devlin said her entry in the House of Commons would be "the arrival of a peasant in the halls of the great."

The brown-haired, blue-eyed politician emerged from obscurity six months ago as a member of a left-wing student group campaigning for Roman Catholic civil rights in troubled Northern Ireland. She quit her studies in psychology at Belfast University to campaign full time, and Thursday night she won a special election in Mid-Ulster, defeating her Protestant woman opponent by 4,211 votes.

Miss Devlin, who sometimes switches from blue jeans to a miniskirt and boots, took over a seat that had been held by the pro-British Unionist Conservative party for 12 years.

She was orphaned at 19 and brought up her three sisters and two brothers. Miss Devlin, a Roman Catholic, ran as an independent and called for a unified Socialist Ireland and an end to discrimination against Catholics in the Protestant-ruled North.

She marched in the streets, campaigned from the rear of an old truck and used the civil rights anthem "We Shall Overcome" as a rallying song.

"We have started to overcome," said Miss Devlin after her election, her eyes bloodshot and her shoulders drooping with fatigue. "We have won a moral victory. We produced a machine which beat the Unionist party."

"Now the hard work starts and I intend to be forthright and straightforward in my quest for civil rights throughout Ulster," she added before heading home to rest at Cookstown, 40 miles from Belfast.

Miss Devlin is the 27th woman lawmaker in the House of Commons, and one of the youngest members elected — man or woman — since William Pitt won a seat at 21 in 1781.

1st Atomic Blast Linked to Death Of Cancer Victim

HOUSTON (AP) — A Federal Land Bank official died Friday of leukemia, believed to have been caused by the world's first atomic blast.

Patrick Stout, 53, had descended into the crater formed by the first atomic bomb blast in New Mexico in 1945.

Stout developed leukemia, cancer of the blood, in May, 1967, and the Veterans Administration recently ruled that "there is a strong probability that the leukemia was the result of exposure to atomic radiation during service."

A former master sergeant in special intelligence, Stout was assigned to the atomic test project site in New Mexico. He was nine miles away when the first blast took place July 16, 1945.

Mrs. Stout said recently that her husband later joined an expedition to go into the crater to show that the radiation had disappeared.

"They got about half way down into the crater and the test devices were clacking like crazy," she said. "They were ordered to come out right away."

Soviet Ships Worry NATO

NAPLES (AP) — Soviet naval combat strength in the Mediterranean has reached an all-time high and has created "a real problem" for the Atlantic Alliance, the commander of allied forces in southern Europe said Friday.

"There are today over 50 ships of the Soviet fleet in the Mediterranean, of which more than half are combatants," U.S. Adm. Horacio Rivero said at a NATO ceremony.

The Soviet buildup, with an unprecedented combination of ships from Black Sea and North Atlantic squadrons, indicates the Russians "may be preparing to conduct a major exercise" in the Mediterranean, Rivero added. The fleet includes conventional and nuclear submarines.

The 55-year-old admiral, who spoke on the 20th anniversary of NATO, said that although the total number of Soviet ships in the area was lower than the high of more than 60 last September, the present lineup includes more fighting ships.

One NATO official said that the addition of new submarines — 80 per cent of them from their Atlantic fleet — has created a serious tracking problem for the United States and its Mediterranean allies.

House Moves To Legalize 'Body Banks'

DES MOINES (AP) — Human bodies or parts of them could be donated to the medical profession for transplants or research under a bill approved unanimously by the Iowa House Friday.

The bill, which now goes to the Senate, was passed without discussion.

It provides that persons 21 years old or older may arrange through wills or other documents to donate their organs or bodies when they die.

Also, a person's close relatives could make the donation provided the person had not objected to it before he died.

The bill prevents physicians who certify that a person has died from removing or transplanting any part of a body except the eyes.

Donors may carry cards indicating they wish the give their body or parts of it to a medical practitioner or institution.

Physicist Opposing ABM To Be Featured in Forum

Stanley Ruby, an Argonne National Laboratory physicist who helped organize opposition to a Chicago ABM site, will speak at 8 p.m. Thursday at Phillips Hall at a public forum on the ABM Safeguard System.

The forum also includes a panel discussion with Dee W. Norton, an associate professor in psychology who has served as a consultant for the Department of Defense; Edward R. McCliment, assistant professor of physics and astronomy; and Edward Lippert, foreign policy specialist for the national office of Americans for Democratic Action.

Charles Hammer, of the Iowa State University physics department at Ames, will be moderator. Hammer will also participate in an informal discussion at 3 p.m. Thursday in 301 Physics Research Center on the problems of scientific decision-making in government. Both sessions are open to the public.

ARMORED CAR STRUCK
DALLAS (AP) — Three men robbed an armored car Wednesday, handcuffed the driver and shot him to death, wounded the second man on the truck and fled with a large portion of $60,000 in used bills.

Black in Atlanta To Run for Mayor

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A black educator, Horace E. Tate, announced Friday he will be a candidate for mayor of Atlanta.

Tate, 46, the first black to seek the office, said he thinks his chances of winning are very good. He noted that there are seven prospective white candidates for the job held by Ivan Allen Jr., who is not seeking reelection.

Tate holds a Ph.D. in education administration and has been a school teacher and college professor. He is a member of the Atlanta Board of Education and is executive secretary of the Georgia Teachers and Education Association.

Tate said he and his advisers agreed that a black "must offer for mayor this year" because of possible future annexation of white areas by the city. Blacks currently comprise about 40 per cent of the population.

House Unit Approves Iowa Riot Control Plan

DES MOINES (AP) — The House Law Enforcement Committee approved Friday a bill establishing on Iowa riot control plan. The measure earlier received unanimous Senate approval.

The bill requires the governor to devise a riot control and emergency mobilization plan to coordinate law enforcement efforts during civil disturbances.
