

Poetry Reading To Protest War

Iowa City will be the scene of a major poetry reading, "American Poets in Support of the Resistance," at 8:30 p.m. Friday in Macbride Hall.

The series will begin in Portland, Ore., today and end in Milwaukee May 3. Other cities included in the "week to confront campus militarism" are Chicago, Pittsburgh; Philadelphia; Detroit; Boulder, Colo.; Santa Barbara, Calif.; and Minneapolis.

Robert Baker, assistant professor of philosophy and an NUC member, said Tuesday that proceeds from the readings would be used to help draft resisters with legal fees and other financial problems.

Six poets will be reading their own work at the event, including Ted Berrigan, visiting lecturer in the Writers Workshop. Also appearing will be Ed Sanders, a member of a rock-protest group called The Fugs.

Robert Creeley, W. S. Merwin, and Lou Lipsett, all well-known American poets, will also appear on the program.

Other poets participating in the series in other cities will be Lawrence Ferlinghetti, Allen Ginsberg, Diane Wakoski and Denise Levertov.

None of the poets will be paid for his appearance, so that all proceeds can go to Resist. All money raised will go to organizing new projects and to support local resisters and resistance groups.

George Starbuck, associate professor of English and director of the Writers Workshop, said, "Merely as a literary event, it's (the reading) the greatest thing that's hit Iowa City in years. A whole year's lecture budget wouldn't have been enough to set up a program like this. It will be a grand evening for anyone who wants to hear what the best of American poetry sounds like."

Starbuck added, "The money will be going to help the young men who have said 'No' to the Vietnam war in the most direct, quiet, unarguable way. They have offered three, four or five years of their lives in prison at hard labor, rather than two years in the relative safety of a vast military machine."

Tickets will be available at the door and are now on sale at the Paper Place. Student tickets are $1.50. All others are $3.

School Board Hears Plan for Fringe Benefits

The Iowa City Community Board of Education heard a proposal from the Life Underwriters Committee on fringe benefits for teachers and central office personnel in the school district at a special meeting of the board last night.

Carl Ostrem, a spokesman for the underwriters said the committee had worked with both the Iowa City Educator's Association (ICEA) and the board, in drawing up the fringe benefit program.

The proposed fringe benefits package would be of five years duration.

The committee will receive bids on the plan from area insurance companies, and will forward the bids to the school board.

"We had to start with a base on this, (the fringe benefit package)," Ostrem commented. Options will be asked from the insurance companies now reviewing the benefits program in the future, to make it as flexible as possible.

Specifications will be drawn up by the Life Underwriters Committee and presented to the board at the regular board meeting May 6.

Drive Is Underway to Set Up Epileptic Foundation Branch

A one-man drive is under way here to set up an eastern Iowa branch of the Iowa State Chapter of the Epileptic Foundation.

Stanley Mortensen, 20, 530 N. Clinton St., an epileptic himself, said he had recently received approval from the Des Moines office of the state chapter to establish an eastern branch, which would be headquartered in Iowa City.

"Iowa City is the logical place to set up a branch," Mortensen said, "because of the number of people drawn by the hospital, and particularly because of the quality of the neurology department."

Iowa presently has two chapters of the national Epileptic Foundation, the state chapter headquartered in Des Moines and a Sioux City branch.

However, Mortensen said, neither chapter can serve the population centers in the eastern third of the state.

The foundation's purpose, Mortensen said, is to counsel epileptics and their employers and to "help them understand what is wrong with themselves or with their employees."

Mortensen said he had spoken to several employers and employment agencies in the Iowa City area about epilepsy and was "disturbed" by what he learned.

"Many employers don't even know what epilepsy is," he said. "Some employers said they didn't hire epileptics because insurance didn't cover them. But the majority of insurers do cover epileptic employees."

"What most of them don't know is that 80 per cent of epileptics are employable."

Mortensen said he would hold a meeting in mid-May for persons interested in setting up an eastern Iowa branch of the Epileptic Foundation.

Pigs Honored By U.S. House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Every hog had his day Tuesday in the House of Representatives restaurant.

It was "Hogs are Beautiful Day" under joint sponsorship of Reps. Fred Schwengel (R-Iowa), Edward J. Derwinski (R-Ill.) and Henry S. Reuss (D-Wis.).

The house menu listed such items as Schwengel pork chops, Derwinski Polish sausage and Reuss German Knockwurst.

Grad Assistants Continue Protest For Higher Wages

About 15 Union members paced for about 2 hours, from 11:15 to 1 p.m., marking the second day of a projected week-long picket.

Approximately 200 University graduate assistants are members of an American Federation of Teachers local union. There are about 1,300 graduate assistants on campus.

The teaching and research assistants are picketing for higher wages, allowances for dependents, free tuition, and fair suspension and dismissal practices. They are also seeking equal pay for equal work, more freedom for assistants in planning the courses they teach, and options for appointment renewal over assistants who have not worked for the University previously.

There has been no reaction to the picketing from University officials, according to Russell Menard, G, Newark, Del., one of the organizers of the picket.

Senate OKs Crime Lab For UI Medical School

DES MOINES (AP) — The Iowa Senate Tuesday approved $9 to 0 a bill creating a state crime laboratory under the University of Iowa College of Medicine.

The laboratory will save the state about $250,000 in fees paid to private laboratory personnel and other expenses involved in obtaining analysis of evidence in criminal cases, Sen. Dean Arbuckle (R-Jefferson) said.

Theta Sigs to Name Woman, Coed of Year

Eighteen coeds and 15 Iowa City women have been nominated for the annual Theta Sigma Phi awards.

The coed and woman of the year will be announced at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Union Ballroom. Donald Kaul, "Over the Coffee" columnist for the Des Moines Register, will speak. The event is open to the public, and tickets are available for $1 at the Union box office during regular box office hours and an hour before the speech. An invitational reception will follow.

The coeds are: Susan Anderson, A4E, Council Bluffs; Cheryl R. Arvidson, A4, Des Moines; Ann Breunier, A4, Waterloo; Mary Clark, A4E, Bancroft; Gerard F. Fiala, A4, Mason City; Diane Hawkinson, A4, Northfield, Ill.

Community women nominated are: Mrs. Samuel L. Becker, 521 West Park Rd.; Mrs. Joseph Buckwalter, 416 Monroe; Mrs. George Carsner, 411 Terrace Rd.; Mrs. Wilfred Cole, 19 Caroline Ct.; Mrs. Oluf Davidsen, 12 Bella Vista Pl.

Other Iowa City nominees are: Mrs. Fred Doderer, 2008 Dunlap Ct.; Mrs. Joyce Fountain, 404 Oakland; Mrs. Clay Harshbarger, 6 Longview Knoll; Mrs. J. W. Howe, 1635 Ridge Rd.; Mrs. Glenn Lackender, Route 3.

More candidates for Woman of the Year are: Mrs. Adelia Liercke, 3 Oak Park Ct.; Mrs. Henry Linder, 120 N. Dodge St.; Mrs. Marion Neely, 1127 Wyde Green Rd.; Mrs. Frank Seiberling, Route 1, North Liberty; and Mrs. Harold Shipton, 820 Woodside Dr.

Visiting Pacifist Blasts Draft

A prisoner of his own country during World War II and the Korean War, Arlo Tatum, pacifist and draft counselor, told University students Monday night that the draft was an "anachronistic institution of hostility."

Speaking to approximately 75 students and faculty in the Senate Chamber of Old Capitol, Tatum, 45, called the draft "a unique law for the procurement of young bodies to serve the interests of middleaged people."

Twice imprisoned for non-registration under the Selective Service Act himself, Tatum, has actively fought the draft system for 23 years.

He called the draft "an institutionalization of hostility on behalf of the middleaged people and directed against the young."

The small, soft-spoken pacifist said he noted a growing public acceptance of the ideals of conscientious objectors and peaceful draft resisters.

Tatum also said that as long as the draft continues, "the young will be pressured into marrying early."

He further charged that universities were accomplices to the draft in that they kept the various draft boards informed of students' status. "This is the registrant's obligation," he said, "not the universities'."

Tatum told students that "because of the frequent loss of credit hours in changing majors or a college, the Selective Service was penalizing the student for making a mistake or changing his mind." Students are required under a 2S deferment to make steady academic progress towards graduation.

"With 350,000 young men to be picked from 2 million available in the Selective Service reservoir," Tatum added, "how can any selection be fair?"

University Grant Program To Get $217,000 from HEW

The University is to receive approximately $217,000 for grants to students from financially depressed families, according to Rep. Fred Schwengel, Republican of Davenport.

John Moore, director of the office of student financial aids, said official notification of the grants may come some time next week. The money, which is provided by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, will be used to fund the University's Educational Opportunity Grants (EOG) program.

Moore said that EOG funds are given to students on the basis of financial need. The student's need is determined from his parents' financial statements and any money that the student himself is able to provide.

Moore said that approximately 800 students a year are given EOG grants at the University. About a third of the grants are given to entering freshmen, and the other two-thirds go to renew the grants of students who have received them before.

The University is not required to add any money to the federal funds, but students accepting the grants must agree to accept loan funds, scholarship funds provided by the University, or their own job earnings to help pay for their education.

ABM System Will Be Topic Of Public Forum Thursday

A public forum to discuss the Anti-Ballistic Missile (ABM) Safeguard System is scheduled for 8 p.m. Thursday in Phillips Hall Auditorium.

A concluding speech will be given by Stanley Ruby, a physicist who helped organize persons opposed to the location of an ABM site in the Chicago area.

Ruby, a physicist for Argonne National Laboratory, will speak on "Technical, Military and Political Viewpoints on the ABM System."

A panel discussion will be moderated by Charles Hammer, of the Iowa State University physics department. Also scheduled to participate in the panel are Dee W. Norton, associate professor of psychology at the University and a former consultant for the Defense Department; Edward R. McCliment, assistant professor of physics and Edward Lipfert, specialist in foreign policy for the national office of Americans for Democratic Action (ADA).

Hammer will also conduct a discussion at 3 p.m. Thursday in 301 Physics Research Center on the problems of scientific technology and government policy.

The forum is sponsored jointly by ADA, the Graduate Student Senate, the Iowa chapter of the Federation of American Scientists, the Johnson County Democratic Conference, the Association of Campus Ministers, and the Johnson County Democratic Central Committee.

Mrs. Michael J. Brody, political action chairman of the Eastern Iowa chapter of ADA, said the purpose of the forum was "to give people the information they need to make a decision on a crucial national question."

Mrs. Brody said that results of a recent Gallup Poll indicated that about 60 per cent of the American public has not yet made up its mind on the ABM question.

Harrelson Will Play in Indian Uniform

NEW YORK (AP)—Ken Harrelson, "realizing what I was doing was bad for myself," reversed his decision to retire from baseball and agreed Tuesday to report to the Cleveland Indians.

The decision by the Hawk was announced early in the evening after Harrelson and his lawyer, Bob Woolf, met most of the afternoon with General Manager Gabe Paul of Cleveland, General Manager Dick O'Connell of Boston, Baseball Commissioner

Bowie Kuhn and Joe Cronin, president of the American League.

Paul made the announcement in the commissioner's office, where the meeting was held, that the slugging outfielder-first baseman would be in an Indians' uniform tonight for the game against the New York Yankees in Cleveland.

"They made me realize what I was doing was bad for myself and that I should be back in baseball," Harrelson said. "I'm glad to have settled this thing. I feel great. I'm a ballplayer. I want to get back and do my thing."

Attired in one of his mod outfits — blue bellbottom slacks,

KEN HARRELSON Ends Brief Retirement

cowboy boots, white turtleneck sweater, ascot tie, a white belt with a big buckle and a blue long-sleeved jacket — Harrelson added:

"They convinced me the outside opportunities in Cleveland could be the same as in Boston. If we win the pennant in Cleveland I'm sure the same business opportunities would be open to me there. My Boston interests are solid, although my future business in Boston probably would be hurt by not being there.

"I've got gambling blood in me. I'm ready to get out and try. Everything is based on performance."

It was Harrelson's many financial ventures off the field in Boston — said by Woolf to be worth as much as $750,000 — that he cited when he announced his retirement after Boston sent him to Cleveland in a six-player trade Saturday night.

Along with Harrelson, the Red Sox traded pitchers Dick Ellsworth and Juan Pizarro for catcher Joe Azcue and pitchers Sonny Siebert and Vicente Romo. The Hawk's announcement Sunday to quit rather than leave Boston, where he became the darling of the fans with his mod ways and American League leading runs batted in last year, left everyone up in the air and Red Sox fans angry enough to picket the team offices.

O'Connell, however, said Harrelson would not be returning to Boston, even if he went through with his decision to retire and the deal was nullified. Paul said a substitute player would not be acceptable. And the five other players were ordered not to report to their new clubs, leaving them in the middle of the confused situation.

Harrelson said he signed a two-year contract with Cleveland, but no one who attended the meeting would disclose any figures. However, it was said to be for the same amount he was to get for this last year of his three-year Boston pact — rumored at between $50,000 and $75,000 a year.

Keoppel Goes 4-for-7 in Twin Bill—Hawks, Upper Iowa Split

The Iowa baseball team, behind the five-hit pitching of Bruce Reid, split a doubleheader here Tuesday with Upper Iowa College. The Hawkees won the opener 4-1 and lost the second game 7-2.

Reid went the distance in the first game, striking out four and picking up his third victory of the season. Reid, who leads the team with a 1.03 earned run average missed a shut-out in the third inning when he threw the ball into centerfield on a pick-off attempt.

The Hawks scored in the first inning of the first game on a sacrifice fly by Gary Breshears. They scored again in the second inning on a 350-foot home run by third baseman Bob Perkins.

Iowa scored again in the fifth inning when Andy Jackson stole home and in the sixth when Dave Krull singled Gary Keoppel home. Keoppel went three-for-three in the game, getting half of the team's six hits. He went 1-for-4 in the second game.

Dave Close was the losing pitcher for the Peacocks in the opener. It was his first loss of the season after winning five games.

Upper Iowa scored five unearned runs in the eighth inning of the second game to gain a split.

Radio-TV Money Keeps White Sox In Town: Haney

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—A more lucrative radio-TV package in Chicago is keeping the White Sox from moving their baseball franchise to Milwaukee, Fred Haney said Tuesday.

Haney, now vice president of the California Angels, managed the Milwaukee Braves to National League pennants in 1957 and 1958. The Braves have since moved to Atlanta.

"If it weren't for that radio and TV thing, the White Sox would be here in a minute," Haney said. "That's what's keeping them there. They have a superior package in Chicago."

The Sox reportedly are receiving $12 million over 10 years for the television-radio package in Chicago.

Frazier KO's Zyglewicz

HOUSTON (AP)—Jolting Joe Frazier unleashed two thunderous left hooks to kyo game but out-gunned Dave Zyglewicz Tuesday night at 1:36 in the first round of their scheduled 15-round bout for Frazier's share of the world heavyweight title.

Both fighters came out slinging leather and the unbeaten Frazier caught Zyglewicz flush with a stinging left hook. It sent the former Navy Atlantic Fleet champion to the deck for the first time in his career.

After the mandatory eight count, Zyglewicz came back for more and the 24-year-old Frazier obliged. Another left hook, the most potent weapon in Frazier's

Cubs Drop Pair to Pirates; Robertson, Kline Lead Bucs

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Rookie Bob Robertson's tie-breaking sacrifice fly and clutch relief pitching by Ron Kline boosted Pittsburgh to a 6-5 victory over the red-hot Chicago Cubs and a sweep of their doubleheader Tuesday.

Robertson also doubled home a two runs in the opener as the Pirates cooled off the Cubs 7-5.

Robertson's deep fly to center field broke a 5-5 deadlock in the nightcap after Pittsburgh loaded the bases against loser Rich Nye on singles by Rich Heber and Roberto Clemente, a wild pitch and a hit batsman, Willie Stargell.

Stargell had given the Pirates a 4-0 lead in the first inning with the third grand slam homer of his career and Robertson tripled and scored on a sacrifice fly to make it 5-0 before the Cubs came back to tie.

The Cubs had tied the game in the seventh when Randy Hundley hit a two-run homer after Ernie Banks had capped a three-run fifth with a pinch two-run single.

N.J. Denies Girl Jockey License

CHERRY HILL, N.J. (AP)—"We came in here broadminded, so we're disappointed," said Carol Ann Alden after the New Jersey State Racing Stewards turned down her application for a jockey license.

Miss Alden, a stunning blonde, is 5-2 and weighs in at 101 pounds. She looks more like a model than a jockey, even a lady jockey. She's femininity personified.

When the stewards took their eyes off her Monday, they made a decision. Miss Alden needs more experience before she rates a riding license in New Jersey.

Miss Alden filed her application at Garden State Park, which opens its spring meeting today. She was accompanied by Burton K. Sipp, a trainer who planned to have her ride one of his horses opening day had she been granted a license.

Ryun to Forego Open Mile, Run Team Relays at Drake

DES MOINES (AP) — Jim Ryun, world record miler, will forego the mile run at the Drake Relays this weekend to anchor Kansas' sprint medley and four-mile relay teams, meet officials said Tuesday.

Ryun originally was scheduled to run against Sam Bair, formerly of Kent State, and Conway Nightingale, formerly of Kansas State, in the mile run, but Jayhawk coach Bob Timmons revised his strategy Monday night.

The move sets the stage for a match between the Kansas and Kansas State sprint medley and four-mile relay teams. Kansas State came out on top in earlier meetings at the Texas and Kansas relays.

JIM RYUN Foregoes Open Mile

The Kansas strategy will force Ryun to run a half-mile leg and a one-mile leg in a period of just over two hours Friday, the opening day of the Drake meet.

Timmons said Tuesday he bowed to pressure from fans in withdrawing Ryun from the mile run so he could anchor the two relay teams.

"There were some people who were so critical of us for not running Jim in the sprint medley that we decided to go that direction," said the coach.

Timmons said he has become irritated by talk that Kansas was unwilling to compete against top-flight rivals.

"This kind of talk gets a little hard to take," he said. "We've never avoided competition, and we're trying to compete with the best."

Stoneman Blanks Cards

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Bill Stoneman, fresh from his no-hitter over the Philadelphia Phillies, again pitched excellently and Rusty Staub singled home an unearned run in the first inning as the Montreal Expos beat the St. Louis Cardinals 2-0 Tuesday.

Mack Jones hit a homer, his third of the year, into the center field seats off reliever Ron Willis in the ninth to give Stoneman a cushion.

Maury Wills opened the game with a walk, stole second and reached third on an infield out. After third baseman Mike Shannon dropped Staub's pop foul for an error, Rusty singled to left, scoring Wills.

Stoneman scattered six hits and struck out five.

Stoneman's 2nd Straight Shutout—

Montreal's Bill Stoneman (right) gets hand shake from teammate Jose LaBoy Tuesday after shutting out the National League Champion St. Louis Cardinals 2-0 Tuesday. The victory was Stoneman's second straight — the first was a no-hitter last week — and evened his season record at 2-2. Before the no-hitter, Stoneman had only one complete game to his credit in the majors.

Celtics, Lakers Open Tonight In NBA Championship Series

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "If just four or five of our guys have good days, we're going to be tough," said Los Angeles Laker coach Bill van Breda Kolff.

"They'll be the toughest we've faced in the playoffs and we've already played two tough series," commented Boston player-coach Bill Russell who called a secret practice Tuesday.

The best-of-seven series between Los Angeles and Boston for the National Basketball Association championship opens tonight at the Forum with the second game there Friday night.

Five times since they came to Los Angeles, the Lakers have met the Celtics in the finals and five times Boston has won. This year, however, the Lakers have Wilt Chamberlain and have come up with a prize rookie in Bill Hewitt.

Jerry West has set the scoring pace and Elgin Baylor showed his form of old in scoring 29 points Sunday as Los Angeles closed out the Western division finals against Atlanta.

Russell's scoring in the playoffs has been the difference between the Celtic club which finished fourth during the season but has downed Philadelphia and New York in playoffs.

He's been averaging in double figures, going to the hoop more than he has in years.

Player match-ups look interesting, starting with Russell vs. Chamberlain. The Lakers plan to use Hewitt against the Celtics' leading scorer, John Havlicek.

A's Halt Twins

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Rollie Fingers gave up five hits in his first major league start and the Oakland A's snapped Minnesota's winning streak at seven with a 7-0 victory Tuesday.

The A's staked their rookie right-hander to a 2-0 lead in the first when Bert Campaneris, who had three hits, a walk and a stolen base, laid down a bunt single and scored on Sal Bando's triple off Tom Hall. Danny Cater lined a single to score Bando.

Campaneris triggered a four-run outburst off Hall and reliever Dick Woodson in the third with a single to center. Cater, Dick Green and Rick Monday hit singles and Phil Roof smacked a double in the big inning.

Billy Martin, Twins' rookie manager was ejected for the first time this season after the third inning by umpire Larry Barnett, after Martin objected to a called strike.

Angels Sock Sox

CHICAGO (AP) — Home runs by Rick Reichardt, Jim Fregosi and Jay Johnstone backed Jim McGlothlin's eight-hitter Tuesday as the California Angels broke a six-game losing streak with an 8-0 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

Pitcher Sammy Ellis, obtained from the Angels last January, lasted five innings with his record sagging to 0-2. The first two men he faced, Vic Davalillo and Fregosi, singled and moved up on Johnstone's sacrifice. Then Reichardt singled then home.

California made it 5-0 with three runs in the fifth. Bobby Knoop walked and McGlothlin sacrificed. Davalillo singled home Knoop and then scored behind Fregosi's second homer of the season.

Boston Rocks Yanks

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Red Sox hit four home runs, including a three-run tie-breaking shot by Tony Conigliaro, as they roughed up last year's nemesis Stan Bahnsen and went on to an 8-3 victory over the New York Yankees Tuesday.

Mike Andrews, Rico Petrocelli and Carl Yastrzemski all hit solo homers for Boston to back up the strong pitching of unbeat-en Ray Culp, who allowed only four hits in posting his third straight victory.

Andrews' homer came in the first inning but the Yankees took a brief 2-1 lead in the second when Roy White walked and Joe Penitone belted his fifth homer.

Petrocelli's homer tied it in the Red Sox second. Then in the fourth George Scott and Dalton James singled and Tony Conigliaro drilled a 2-1 pitch into the left field screen for the decisive runs.

This is the "something good" you've been looking for.

And now AM radio can be beautiful too. The Model Twenty-Four also available with new high quality AM.

When you go shopping for "something really good" in stereo equipment, you usually have to pay more than you expected, or settle for something less than you expected.

The KLH Model Twenty-Four changes that situation—radically.

The Model Twenty-Four is a complete stereo music system. Its performance and sound quality are close—very close—to that of the best equipment that KLH, or anyone else, makes. But it costs only a fraction of what it sounds like. And it fits gracefully into any living room.

There's nothing missing from the Model Twenty-Four. It has a sensitive, drift-free FM stereo tuner, a custom-made Garrard record changer with Pickering cartridge and diamond stylus, plus jacks for external equipment and for making tape recordings. The solid-state circuitry is powerful enough for any living room, and the unobtrusive speaker cabinets contain a pair of full-range, two-speaker systems.

The modest size and price of the Twenty-Four are the results of advanced engineering instead of corner-cutting. Everything from its components to its oil-walnut cabinetry is designed to provide a genuine surprise rather than that "nice for the money" feeling. Come see and hear how little it can cost for something really good.

Lower Crests Are Forecast

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Residents of Dubuque and Clinton received some good flood news from the Weather Bureau Tuesday and Gov. Robert D. Ray asked President Nixon to declare 37 counties disaster areas due to flood damage.

The governor said damage thus far totals an estimated $18 million, mostly from the Big Sioux and Little Sioux rivers in northwest Iowa and the west fork of the Des Moines River in north central Iowa.

Mississippi River forecasters said the near record crests expected to hit Dubuque and Clinton over the weekend will not be quite as high as had been expected.

The peak expected at Dubuque Saturday now is estimated at 23.6 feet, 6.6 feet above flood stage. The earlier estimate was 24 feet.

At Clinton, where flood stage is 16 feet, the latest estimate is a crest of 21.7 feet, off .3 of a foot from the earlier prediction on Sunday.

The more cheerful outlook is a result of exceptionally dry weather since Feb. 1. Most cities and smaller towns along the river have completed their flood preparations and now are waiting for the crest to pass. The river peak was nearing Prairie du Chien, Wis., on Tuesday.

The disaster designation requested by Ray would make the counties eligible for federal funds for emergency repair to public buildings and facilities such as roads.

Ray said about $3 million of the total damage has been to public facilities.

Welfare Decision to Have No Immediate Effect in Iowa

The Supreme Court's decision to invalidate state residence requirements for welfare recipients "will have no immediate effect on welfare programs in Iowa," according to Charles Meyer, assistant director of the Johnson County Social Welfare Department.

The court ruling is expected to make 100,000 to 200,000 more poor people in the United States eligible for Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC). The nationwide increase in eligibility would increase welfare costs $125 million to $175 million a year.

Meyer said there is no basis to think that the Supreme Court

City School Libraries Lauded

By JANE LEONARD

Iowa City community schools were presented a $2,500 first place Encyclopaedia Britannica 1969 School Library Award Tuesday for development of elementary school libraries.

W. R. Dell, editor of Encyclopaedia Britannica yearbooks, praised the city school libraries and cited the reasons for their selection during the presentation of the award at a noon luncheon of district school librarians at the Union.

William Hawley, a former editor of the London Times, who resigned his position last week as president of the Encyclopaedia Britannica, had originally been scheduled to make the presentation, but was unable to attend the awards luncheon. "Under the direction of Supt. Buford Garner and Library Director Walter Ostrem, your schools in three years have increased the number of full time librarians from 8 to 13," Dell said. "The number of central libraries has grown to 12, one in each of the schools. You have developed a strong multi-media program for the benefit of your young students while significantly increasing your book and audio-visual collection. Your dramatically increased budgets indicate that your citizens are willing to support good schools, good leaders and good education."

Dell also spoke on the impact of the technological revolution on education, especially on elementary and secondary school libraries. He said many libraries are now being called "instructional materials centers" or "information retrieval centers," and are questioning established theories and traditional materials of education.

"The facts our grandfathers learned might have been useful through most of their lifetimes. But we have discovered that facts we learn today may be challenged by a discovery of tomorrow," he said.

Dell cited the computer as the single most useful tool for storing and retrieving information. Yet, he said electronic advancements should be put in perspective.

"In the center of that frame of reference stands the single most essential element—the human factor; that is the teacher, the librarian, the administrator, the student," he said. "Electronic devices would never replace the human element. 'Nothing will ever totally replace books. No electronic scanner will ever take the place of reading.'"

Dell related the technological change to the two "revolutions" on college campuses, the "black revolution" and the "young radical revolution."

Both, he said, are based on the fundamental issue of the relevancy of higher education to society. Both revolutions seek the involvement and participation by students in establishing educational standards, formulating the curriculum, selecting the faculty, and forming entrance requirements. Dell contended.

He said that the first reaction

Prepared for Anything

The Rev. Ralph Abernathy, head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, came to Charleston, S.C., prepared to spend the night in jail Tuesday. The civil rights leader carries tooth paste and brush as he leads striking workers of Local 1199B of the National Hospital and Nursing Home Employees Union on a march through Charleston. The march was peaceful and no one was arrested, however.

Let Your Little Light Shine

WASHINGTON (AP)—There are those to whom the annual switchover to daylight saving time brings little light and no joy.

There are also those who—in the name of crime prevention and other claimed benefits—would have the government double the time and give the nation an extra hour of afternoon daylight all year around.

Files at the Department of Transportation, which sets the nation's time guidelines, are bulging with letters from people who, in the words of one aide, "all have their own magic potion for dealing with time, and a lot of other problems as well."

The department is charged with implementing the law which now calls for uniform daylight saving six months of the year.

Several pending House and Senate bills would change that span at one or the other end of the period which now runs from the last Sunday in April to the last Sunday in October.

At least one bill, by Rep. Craig Hosmer (R-Calif.), would make daylight saving a year-round affair.

"It would also eliminate the nationwide confusion and expense which surrounds the twice-yearly readjustment of communications and transportation schedules," Hosmer said.

There are others who don't think much of that idea at all and want all daylight saving ended.

"Certainly when a place like Dayton, Ohio, stays light until almost 10 p.m. at night, youngsters are going to be on the streets and get into trouble," a Dayton housewife wrote President Nixon recently.

From Monroe, S. C. came the comment: "It has never saved any time and it never will. Eighty per cent of the people in this country don't like daylight savings time."

Regional Airport Bill Squeezes By

DES MOINES (AP)—A regional airport bill survived on a 68 to 51 vote Tuesday efforts of rural lawmakers to beat it to death in the Iowa House.

The bill, however, suffered some damage in the fight when members allowed only a maximum one mill annual property tax levy for up to 40 years to finance airport authority bonds.

The measure as passed by the Senate had allowed up to 2½ mills property tax levy. The measure now will have to go back to the Senate for consideration of the change.

Critics scoffed at the claim by the bill's backers that regional airports would aid Iowa agricultural interests by providing wider market for products.

They also predicted gloomily that regional airports would spring up all over the state when they were not actually needed.

Some lawmakers also resisted any rise in property taxes to finance the airport projects.

"It is a state idea and it should be funded by all the people of the state," declared Rep. Rayman Logue (R-Marengo).

Rep. Richard Radl (D-Lisbon) took exception to the claim that it would help Iowa to have airports large enough to handle jumbo planes such as the Boeing 747.

BUCHER GETS MAIL

NEW YORK (AP)—Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher of the spy ship Pueblo said Tuesday he had received 7,000 letters since his release by the North Koreans, and only 10 of them were critical of his actions.

Last month, Henry Morton and his family charged at 9 different stores.

He just paid all 9 bills... with one check.

FirstCard. One card, one statement, one check, charge just about everywhere.

Remember how paying bills used to be, way back a couple of months ago? Lots of bills, lots of checks to write, and very difficult to keep track of how much you charged at each store?

FirstCard is a better way to charge. It works just like a department store charge account. Except you can use it at nearly every merchant in town, as well as 330,000 other merchants across the country.

Charge anything. Merchandise, auto repairs, lodging, transportation—it's hard to think of something you can't charge with FirstCard. Take advantage of sales and specials at places you couldn't charge before.

When you have a FirstCard, a bank says your credit is good. And, that's good enough for most of the merchants in town, and the rest of the country, too. There's no service charge if you pay in full within 25 days. Or, budget your payments over a longer period of time.

FirstCard, the hardest working charge card, and it costs you nothing to get.
