

Faculty Senate Tables Motion On Tuition Hike

The Faculty Senate tabled a resolution opposing a tuition increase at a special meeting Friday.

The senate also heard statements from Pres. Howard Bowen and Pres.-elect Willard Boyd on the ramifications of expected cuts in the state legislature's appropriations to the University.

The Faculty Council had passed a similar resolution on April 18 and called the special meeting of the Faculty Senate to consider the resolution. The Faculty Council's resolution states "that the Council go on record as opposing in principle tuition increases as a procedure for solving the University's budgetary problems."

The resolution presented to the senate was proposed by George Bedell, professor of internal medicine. The resolution stated that the senate regretted the amount of the legislature's proposed appropriations to the University, but that "the Faculty Senate strongly opposed proposed recommendations that tuition at the University be increased significantly to meet the financial needs in the forthcoming biennium."

The resolution gave two reasons for opposition to the proposed tuition increase:

An increase in tuition would have its most detrimental effects on financially disadvantaged students. The resolution stated that "a high tuition at a state university makes learning available on the basis of ability to pay rather than ability to learn."

The scholarship programs would not be enough to satisfy the increased need of financially disadvantaged students.

Bedell said, "I don't think the legislators give a damn about the social consequences."

James Dickinson, assistant professor of education, said that there would be a 22 per cent cut in National Defense Education Act funds for loans next year. In addition, work study funds will be cut by $80,000 and Educational Opportunity Grants (EOG) will be cut 40 per cent. EOG funds are used for scholarships to educationally disadvantaged students.

The faculty of the School of Religion also expressed opposition "to any substantial raise in tuition."

A position paper, presented to the senate by Prof. George Forell, director of the School of Religion, stated four reasons for objecting to a tuition increase:

• A tuition increase would contradict the principle that the "University was founded to enable all Iowa students to obtain a first-class education without regard to their financial resources."

• An increase would be difficult for upperclassmen who could not pay higher tuition or change schools, since they are "well along in their programs."

• An increase in tuition would represent a step backward in a country that has "led the world in making high quality education available to its citizens by means of state universities."

• "Experience indicates that any tuition increase is irreversible."

Bedell pointed out that with no tuition increase, the resulting shortage of funds would "involve the curtailment of some programs, the slowing down of other programs, and the loss of some excellence."

Bowen said that he was in "full agreement with everyone here who believes in the principle of open doors" for those who have ability.

But, Bowen asked, "To what extent should we allow the quality of this institution to be dissipated in comparison to a tuition increase?"

Bowen said that the only excess in the University's planned expenditures for the biennium is $6 million for program development. Even if that spending were eliminated, students would still have to pay over $400 in a tuition increase to cover the rest of the budget, he said.

Boyd, dean of faculty and vice president for academic affairs, estimated, however, that a tuition increase would probably be no more than $300 — and possibly as low as $200 — based on an assumption that still more excess can be pared from planned University spending.

Bowen said that a further reduction in the budget would require the cutting of major programs and staff.

Boyd said that the budget as it stands "will not allow any new positions."

When questioned about the tuition increase and its rise in comparison to inflation, Bowen said, "the increase is about in proportion to inflation."

Boyd said that possible additional economies would be eliminating compensation for moving expenses of new faculty members, the elimination of two commencement and an attempt to merge some staff positions. A staff merger is currently being considered between the Office of Student Affairs and the residence halls offices.

Boyd said that there were also the possibilities of not filling some staff vacancies when they come up, closing the Union at 7 p.m. or eliminating the fund for purchase of new library books. But these measures are considered severe and would probably be used only if an effort were made to lower the proposed tuition increase below its current estimated level.

The motion to table the resolution carried by a 22 to 14 margin.

Daylight Savings Time Takes Effect Sunday

It will be Daylight Saving Time again Sunday. Here's how the change-the-clock game will be played this year:

Forty-seven states, including Iowa, will turn their clock one hour ahead. At 2 a.m. Sunday morning it will officially become 3 a.m.

Three states — Arizona, Hawaii and Michigan — will not play the game. Michigan's legislature vetoed DST in a referendum. The Hawaii and Arizona legislatures exempted their states.

Speakers at the rally urged students to attend a march on the State Capitol Monday and to boycott classes May 6.

Big 10 Deans Discuss Black Unrest

By LES CARROLL and RIC LEPLY

CHICAGO — Rising black tensions and tuition increases on Big 10 campuses drew special attention at a Conference of Big 10 deans held here Thursday.

M. L. Huit, dean of students, and Philip Hubbard, dean of academic affairs, represented the University of Iowa at the day-long discussion.

Hubbard was invited to the conference as one of a trio of special advisers commenting on solutions to black problems on campuses.

The discussions focused on efforts to give black students "an active, responsible voice in the university institution."

Huit commented, "Sometimes minority students feel things are done on a token basis. We are attempting to get at the heart of the problem to bring more relevance to the minority student."

Both men said they thought there was sufficient evidence that grievances of black students at the University were similar to black students' problems throughout the Big 10. Discovering more complete methods of involving the black student in the total campus environment would help alleviate some black tension throughout the conference.

The conference took the form of an informal round-table discussion. The morning session consisted largely of comments from each of the deans on minority, notably black, problems.

Purdue, Michigan, Northwestern and Indiana University deans were not present at the conference. Huit said that administrators from these universities were probably forced to stay home to cope with problems on their respective campuses.

Classes at Purdue were interrupted this week by student demonstrators protesting a proposed tuition increase.

Several deans commented on the University's athletic situation.

Last Friday, 16 black football players were dropped from the team because they boycotted the opening spring practice in protest of what they termed "an intolerable situation" on the campus.

Commenting on the situation at the conference, Huit concluded, "Athletes have a very real grievance if they are brought to the University solely to play football. If this is true, then the University has not fulfilled its obligation to the individual athlete."

Hubbard added, "Football, of course, is an extra-curricular activity. The coach is the expert, and he knows what it takes to get the best performance from his men."

The effects of proposed tuition increases at Big 10 schools were also scheduled for discussion during the conference.

Nearly all the Big 10 universities are considering tuition increases ranging from $75 to $400 for an in-state student.

"Nobody, from the president down to the student wants a tuition increase," Huit said.

He summed up the dilemma facing the administrators at the conference. Most of the deans are concerned about the quality of their institutions diminishing if appropriation cuts are not met with an increase in revenue from another source. The majority of the deans agreed that nearly all increases in revenue would have to come from increases in student tuitions.

"We are concerned that the overall quality of the University, specifically the quality of the students' degrees will decline if appropriation cuts are not met by an increase in revenue," Huit said.

A bill passed Wednesday by the Illinois House which would remove state scholarships from students who are involved in disruptive incidents at state-supported institutions drew comment from Hubbard, who opposed the measure on the grounds that it "permits students who financially do not need state aid to carry

Class Plans Auction For Scholarship Drive

Members of a University speech class are planning an auction next Thursday to raise money for the Martin Luther King Scholarship Fund.

A spokesman for the eight-member group, Steve Chollar, A1, Waterloo, said the class had written letters to about 250 representatives of fraternities, sororities, dormitory houses and faculty asking them to contribute money for the fund or services — mowing lawns, washing cars, etc. — to be auctioned at the sale.

Chollar said no merchandise would be auctioned, only services.

He said Thursday that his group had not yet received any response, since the letters were only mailed that morning. However, he said Pres. Howard R. Bowen had contributed a "large sum" to the fund Thursday afternoon.

The auction, which is the result of instructor William Freeman's assignment to "induce constructive social action," will be held from 8 to 11 p.m. Thursday in the Union Main Lounge.

News in Brief

ALSO IN THE NEWS LAST NIGHT: CHICAGO — A black high school student was shot in the back and wounded and seven policemen were injured as authorities tried to break up fights between black and white students at a Chicago high school. It was one of a series of high school disorders around the nation.

WASHINGTON — The 30-day period of mourning for former President Dwight D. Eisenhower will end at midnight today, the White House says.

HAMILTON, N.Y. — Black students took over a faculty club at Colgate University, as sit-ins, strikes and demonstrations simmered on campuses across the nation.

PANAMA CITY, Fla. — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird said the Soviet Union could seize superiority over the United States in all military fields by the mid-1970s.

WASHINGTON — Iowa has been granted $750,000 by the federal government for repair of flood-damaged public facilities due to the spring floods. The allocation came as President Nixon declared the state a major disaster area after floods swept through central and northwest sections and currently threaten cities along the Mississippi river on the east.

ABM Decision Delay Opposed by Dirksen

WASHINGTON — A Nixon administration Senate spokesman rejected Friday fresh compromise proposals for a year's delay in development of the Safeguard antiballistic missile (ABM) system.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said he is opposed to delaying until next year a congressional showdown on President Nixon's decision to start construction of two Safeguard sites.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana has made such a suggestion. "The issue is pretty well set," Dirksen said. "It is just as well to have confrontation at first as at last. Postponing deployment a year means losing a year."

The GOP leader, who usually is well informed on White House views, thus chilled the hopes of some Democratic and Republican critics to avoid at this time a final, bitter battle over the new President's first major decision.

Students Protest Tuition Increase

About 400 persons gathered on the Union patio Friday to hear about alternatives to a threatened tuition increase, discuss a tuition protest march in Des Moines, and watch a "guerrilla theater" troupe mock recent actions of the Iowa legislature.

The rally was sponsored by a group called the Coalition to Fight the Tuition Increase, which is also helping to organize a march in Des Moines Monday. The marchers will protest the tuition hike and a bill to restrict student voting, and support lowering the voting age to 19.

John Clemons, A3, Elmwood, Ill., the University's representative on a march-coordinating committee, said Friday that either a bus or cars would pick up marchers at the south entrance of the Union at 8:30 a.m. Monday and return them to Iowa City by 4 p.m.

The march is scheduled to begin at 11 a.m. Monday at the Grand Avenue Bridge in Des Moines and continue to the Capitol.

Clemons told the crowd that the marchers will make four demands — that the tuition be lowered or remain the same, that the voting age be lowered to 19, that the Iowa House of Representatives defeat a bill that would eliminate students' voting in their college communities, and "that the rights of students as citizens not be coerced."

He said that the march is not sponsored by any particular organization, but that it was a coalition of interested people.

Scott Nagel, A3, Davenport, a member of Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), cited the differences between the march and a planned boycott of classes May 6. The march, he said, would demand only that tuition be lowered, or remain the same, but offering no alternatives. The Coalition, which has called the boycott, demands that corporations foot a heavier share of the cost of higher education through higher taxes.

Blacks will suffer most from a rise in tuition because, he said, "there are not that many rich blacks. The burden of unity in this fight will have to be carried by white students."

In urging support for the boycott, Nagel said, "If there are no students, the University will not be able to work."

Walt Race, G, Port Jervis, N.Y., read a statement from the executive board of the New University Conference (NUC) supporting a graduated tuition, similar to that in Michigan. The plan would shift the major cost of education to the students who could afford it.

The Guerrilla Theatre presented a skit concerning what it called the "Stanley and Ray Circus, The Greatest Stars on Earth." The ringmaster tore up an "appropriations check" and attempted to piece it together. When he could not, he presented an elaborate "scientific" excuse.

In ring one was a magician who could make a bill disappear in a few seconds under many amendments. A representative to the legislature from "Flat Grass County" was in the second ring. She was aroused at the language used at a symposium on student power and threatened to arm campus police and dismiss students without due process of law.

A duel was held in ring three between supporters of the goldfinch (state bird of Iowa) and the sunflower (state flower of Kansas).

In a related development, Sen. Minnette Doderer (D-Iowa City) told The Daily Iowan Friday night that a bill which would summarily dismiss students and faculty who participate in campus disorders is dead in this session of the legislature.

Sen. Doderer said she thought students should know the bill was dead before they came to Des Moines to march, because they had enough other things to protest about.

DI Publishers Sidestep 'Dirty Words' Decision

The Board of Trustees of Student Publications, Inc., publisher of The Daily Iowan, maintained the current policy concerning the use of "dirty words" in the paper Friday.

The board's action came about when discussion on the present policy, initiated by DI Editor Cheryl Arvidson, was cut off by a motion to table the matter.

The board action was followed by a heated discussion about the powers of the editor and the powers of the publisher in the day-to-day operations of the newspaper.

Miss Arvidson had asked the board to consider action taken by DI Publisher John Zug concerning an article which Zug refused to let run in Thursday's DI.

The article in question was a reply to a letter run last week concerning the black athlete situation on campus. It was written by Fred Woodard, G, Davenport, who is a rhetoric instructor and a free lance writer.

Zug, after reading the article Wednesday, said it contained "objectionable" language and should not be run.

Miss Arvidson asked that Zug be required to give specific reasons for his decision to stop publication of an article. Without requiring reasons for such a decision, she said, a form of censorship could be exerted over the DI editorial staff.

The board informally endorsed Zug's actions as being consistent with board policy and said that "objectionable" was a sufficient reason not to run the story.

The current board policy concerning objectionable language is that all copy containing questionable words be cleared by the publisher before it is run. If the publisher feels that the material should not be run, he can kill the story.

The motion to table was made by Mike Finn, A4, Jefferson. Those voting with Finn were William Zima, former DI publisher and assistant professor of journalism, and Dawn Wilson, A4E, Singapore. Board Pres. William Albrecht, assistant professor of economics, and Jerry Patten, A3, Perry, did not vote on the question.

The four other members of the board were not present at the meeting.

The tabling action, in effect, removed the matter from consideration for the current DI staff, which concludes its work May 14 — a date preceding the next board meeting.

Childs to Speak June 6

Marquis Childs, a noted Washington columnist, will deliver the commencement address at University graduation ceremonies June 6.

Childs is the writer of a syndicated column of Washington news and analyses entitled "Washington Calling," as well as the author of several books on political and economic subjects and fiction.

His recent book, "Taint of Innocence," was published in 1967 and concerns the role of the C.I.A. in "the big-power cold-war age."

A native of Clinton, Childs received his M.A. degree in journalism from the University in 1925, having received a B.A. degree at the University of Wisconsin in 1923. He taught English composition at the University while working on his master's degree.

He has worked as a reporter and correspondent for the St. Louis Post-Dispatch since 1926. His first foreign reporting venture was in 1930, and in 1934 he joined the Post-Dispatch Washington staff as a Washington correspondent.

After that, he made numerous trips to Europe and the Far East studying war, post-war and cold-war conditions. Recently he completed a Vietnam trip. He has also traveled extensively in America to give firsthand reports of the political and economic thinking of the United States.

MARQUIS CHILDS To Speak at Graduation

BUFORD GARNER Superintendent Resigns

F. Sheets and Arthur L. Campbell, have become increasingly critical of Garner and of the district's administration.

In a prepared statement, Garner said, "From 2,500 students in 1952 to approximately 9,000 in 1969, the school system has provided sound education and extended services in education while meeting physical plant expansion and staffing needs."

"It was my privilege and responsibility to participate actively in this 17-year-period of growth and development, he said.

"A public servant should give more to a community than he takes away from a community. I feel my cycle of service to the Iowa City Community School District has been successfully completed with the opening of West High School this year.

This cycle has included elementary building and expansion, junior high building and expansion, senior high building and expansion, district expansion and many extensions of special services, curricular offerings and educational development."

Board Pres. Henry W. Piro expressed his regrets over Garner's resignation and praised the superintendent for his performance as administrator. Specifically he cited district expansion, new school construction, enlarged curriculum, and the library system, which was recognized for improvement by the Encyclopaedia Britannica at a luncheon here Tuesday.

Board member William V. Phelan said Garner did not seem to have adequate encouragement in recent months from a majority of board members. He emphasized that he, Phelan, was not a part of that majority. He said he told the board that members should spell out any grievances they might have, but that they had not done so.

Sheets, in commenting on Garner's resignation, said that he thinks the board will talk to Garner next week. He said he had not been aware of the resignation until asked to comment on it.

Campbell indicated he might have a statement on the matter at a later date.

Board member Arnold M. Small Jr. and board Secretary Robert T. Davis expressed regret. John E. Moore and Russell M. Ross, the other board members, could not be reached for comment.

Garner, 52, holds an M.A. degree in education administration and has done graduate work beyond the M.A. at Columbia University in New York, the University of Iowa and the University of Missouri.

He came to the school district in 1950 as principal of City High School. In the fall of 1952, he became school superintendent.

When he assumed that position, the school district's physical plant consisted of Iowa City High School, Central Junior High (then simply Junior High School), and five elementary schools, Sabin, Mann, Lonewolf, Roosevelt and Lincoln.

Added during Garner's tenure as administrator were Mark Twain, Herbert Hoover, West High, Southeast Junior High, and Robert Lucas Schools, all in Iowa City. This fall Ernest Horn and Grant Wood Elementary schools will open. By district merger, Coralville Central, Kirkwood, Hills and Penn Schools were added to the system.

Garner said his future plans were "definitely . . . indefinite." He added that he had been considering resignation for the past three years, because he feels he needs the challenge of a new position.

PAGE 2 SATURDAY, APRIL 26, 1969 IOWA CITY, IOWA

Des Moines march

A march on Des Moines to protest a pending increase in tuition, the pending defeat of a bill calling for 19-year-old voting in the state and a Republican-sponsored bill which would restrict the voting rights of students is planned for Monday.

So the marchers are going to Des Moines to demand that Ray and the legislature find the money to keep quality education costs at a level that both in-state and out-of-state students can afford.

Marchers are asked to meet at the Grand Avenue Bridge in Des Moines at 11 a.m. Monday. The group will then march to the Capitol in an effort to meet with Gov. Robert Ray and several prominent state legislators to discuss student demands.

In addition, the marchers will show their dissatisfaction with the legislature's opinions on lowering the voting age. The students believe that 19-year-olds are every bit as qualified to vote as 21-year-olds and, possibly, some of the legislators themselves.

House and Senate legislative committees have drastically cut appropriations to the three state schools. The University should receive an annual general expense budget of $46.9 million - for a two-year period, this is approximately $15 million less than the State Board of Regents' askings and $3 million less than the estimated minimum operating costs of the University for a two-year period.

A third area of dissatisfaction is House File 774, a bill designed to improve some voting regulations but vastly hinder some others. For instance, the bill will make it mandatory for a student of voting age to vote in his home town, not in the town where he attends school. Consequently, the student will usually have to use an absentee ballot system and the number of students who vote will be substantially decreased.

University Pres. Howard Bowen said that the tuition would have to be increased if the legislature did not appropriate the minimum amount necessary to support the University. The legislature didn't.

All three of these areas are of importance to students here and at all other colleges and universities in the state. The march will include students from at least four other schools - including Iowa State and University of Northern Iowa. A move of this sort can only be successful if it receives mass support and solicits mass participation. So go to Des Moines, march, and demand some answers and some action.

We won't go

About 250 - one out of every four - college newspaper editors and student body presidents recently signed a letter to President Nixon stating their objections to the war in Vietnam and to the present draft system.

were born after World War II and were babies during Korea. These students have been taught about World War I, World War II and Korea and have had these wars justified in terms of "making the world safe for democracy."

In this statement, the editors and presidents said they would refuse induction into the U.S. armed forces to fight an "immoral and unjustifiable war."

Now we see Vietnam as the fourth costliest war in American history in terms of loss of American lives. Korea, previously the bloodiest war that students today had come in contact with, is now fifth. And the killing in Vietnam continues, day after day, although "peace" talks are going on in Paris.

It is no secret that there is rising dissatisfaction in the student communities across the country with the war in Vietnam. But recently, not only have the students objected vocally, but various influential community groups have added their objections.

Vietnam has not even been declared to be a war, and it certainly has not been justified by anyone.

No more can war advocates accuse the objectors of being "hippies" or "radicals." This is even more true now after the mass decision to refuse induction.

It seems ironic to me that the United States has to fight and kill others to convince countries that democracy is the best governmental system. If democracy is so good, countries should want to - not be forced to - adopt the system.

Among the 250 editors and presidents are the campus "straights," the campus leaders and the intelligent and ambitious students who will undoubtedly succeed in their later lives. The very makeup of this group should show the country that the war in Vietnam is causing moral and ethical dilemmas which can no longer be ignored.

And even those who are drafted and go have qualms about the war and killing for a country which has divided opinion on the war.

Most of today's college students

This generation may well be the worst fighters and killers the country has ever had. Surely there is a better way.

Campus presidents refuse induction

WASHINGTON (CPS) - More than 250 student body presidents and campus newspaper editors have signed a statement opposing the Vietnam war and saying they will refuse induction into the armed forces as long as the war continues.

will not serve in the military as long as the war in Vietnam continues.

The statement, released by the National Student Association, has been sent to President Nixon, along with a request for an appointment "to share more fully" with him the students' concern over the war and the draft.

The statement was circulated to demonstrate how widespread this position is among persons who hold elected offices and positions of responsibility on college campuses, NSA officials said. The signers come from Ivy League, Big 10, denominational teaching and community colleges.

The signers say, "We will act according to our conscience. Along with thousands of our fellow students, we campus leaders cannot participate in a war which we believe to be immoral and unjust. We publicly and collectively express our intention to refuse induction and to aid and support those who decide to refuse. We

"Mr. President," the letter signed by nine of the students said, "We urgently write you now to advise you that many of the basic questions students and other concerned Americans have raised about our purposes in Vietnam remain unanswered. We must now number ourselves among those students who cannot at this time square military duty with integrity and conscience."

The overall statement also said, "Most of us have worked in electoral politics and through other channels to change the course of America's foreign policy and to remove the inequities of the draft system. We will continue to work in these ways, but the possible results of these efforts will come too late for those whose deferments will soon expire. We must make an agonizing choice: to accept induction into the armed forces, which we feel would be irresponsible to ourselves, our country and our fellow man; or to refuse induction, which is contrary to our respect, for law and involves injury to our personal lives and careers.

"Students have, for a long time now, made known their desire for a peaceful settlement. The present negotiations, however, are not an end in themselves, but rather, the means to a complete cease fire and American extrication. And until that cease fire has been reached, young men who oppose the war will continue to face the momentous decision of how to respond to the draft," the statement continued.

Eight of the nine who signed the letter to Nixon held a press conference on Capitol Hill to issue personal statements. Wayne Hurder, editor of the Daily Tar Heel at the University of North Carolina, at Chapel Hill, said he can "no longer duck the issue of an immoral draft and an immoral war."

'But some . . . are more equal than others'

A finish to Anguillan power

The only bright spot in the news these days is what has happened in Anguilla. In one of the most amazing reversals in modern military history, tiny, helpless and - up to now - ineffectual Great Britain defeated the powerful forces of Anguilla and conquered this impregnable island fortress.

"No one thought the British could do it," said a London correspondent at the national press club bar where everyone was buying drinks. "But I believe this proves once and for all Her Majesty's government: may no longer be considered a paper tiger."

The bar rang with cheers. "The Anguillans bit off more than they could chew," someone shouted.

What everyone wanted to know was how the lightly armed British paratroopers and marines managed to break through the heavy Anguillan defenses which consisted of one Napoleonic cannon, 12 shotguns, three Ford trucks and 2,000 sheep. "The Anguillans were overconfident," the British correspondent told us. "They thought our troops were afraid of their sheep. But we used their overconfidence against them to our advantage. We pulled frigates up and when the sheep saw them, they scattered. The shepherders tried to rally the herds, but by this time the sheep were so disorganized they couldn't possibly put up any defense."

"It proves again that a small, tight-knit, well-trained force of paratroopers and marines can overwhelm a larger force of sheep if they are determined to do the job."

This was the first military defeat for Anguilla in its history and there is great soul-searching going on now among the Anguillan armed forces, consisting of three constables, six deputies and three Red Cross nurses. There will probably be a shake-up in the Anguillan military within the next month.

Anguilla watchers in Washington felt that the consequences of the British invasion would be felt throughout the world. "Anguilla can no longer be considered a major power," a State Department man at the bar said.

"We have to adjust our thinking vis-a-vis their military potential. If a little country like Great Britain can defeat them, with all the hardware the Anguillans had at their disposal, then we'll have to figure out some other way of defending the Caribbean."

The London correspondent said, "We have always insisted that we could take Anguilla any time we wanted to, but everyone laughed at us. I don't imagine

Explains recreation building

To the editor:

Discussion of the merits of the various proposed schedules for utilization of the new (recreation) building, now being constructed west of the stadium, has been popular recently. A review of the articles and editorials suggests that people would be well advised to study the actual proposals and undertake some basic arithmetic before drawing conclusions in any direction. Assuming that the new building will be open 7:30 a.m. to 10:30 p.m. seven days each week, there would be 112 hours available for activity groups to use during any given week.

Under the current schedule plan, proposed by administration, the 112 hours would be distributed as follows:

Recreation: 76-92 hours / week (67.8-82.1 per cent of available time)
Phys. Educ.: 18-24 hours / week (14.2-21.4 per cent of available time)
Athletics: 4-12 hours / week (3.6-10.7 per cent of available time, seasonally variable within this range)

Physical education would have time priority 7:30-11:30 a.m. and 1:30-3:30 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays while Athletics would have time priority 3:30-6:30 p.m. the same days. The remaining hours that the building would be open would be available for recreational sports activities, with the addition of occasional overlaps with both P.E. and Athletics.

At the March 6th meeting of the Recreation Advisory Committee, a counter proposal was made for scheduling of the Sports Building. The proposal originated with the Graduate Student Recreation Committee and was presented by Warren Palmer, G. a member of RAC. The Palmer proposal would provide:

Recreation: 88-90 hours / week (78.5-80.3 per cent of available time)
Phys. Educ.: 4-12 hours / week (3.6-10.7 per cent of available time)
Athletics: 12 hours / week (10.7 per cent of available time)

Athletics would have priority for use of the building 7:30-10:30 a.m. Mondays through Thursdays. Physical Education would have priority 10:30-11:30 a.m. and 1:30-3:30 p.m. the same days. Remaining hours would again be available to recreational sports activities. The stated intent of the counter proposal is to maximize availability of the building for recreational activities during "prime recreational time" which was defined by Mr. Palmer as 3:30-6:30 p.m. Whether these hours are truly the prime hours for recreation, or merely a reflection of the present availability of facilities and personnel to coordinate activities, is a question needing careful study and will be considered by RAC's sub-committee on scheduling.

Students with room and board contracts are served their evening meal between 5:00-6:30 p.m. while many other students and faculty are commuting to their homes, preparing a meal, or consuming their meal during the 4:30-6:30 p.m. period (or maybe those afternoon traffic jams represent mass hallucinations?), and would not be participating in recreational sports. Our current indoor facility, the Field House, has a morgue-like atmosphere after 3:30 p.m. despite the availability of such activities as archery, golf range, swimming, handball, volleyball, and ping pong. The men's weight room is the only area I have observed being used on every occasion that I have visited the Field House between 3:00-6:00 p.m. for the specific purpose of observing who uses what at what times. It is possible that the Palmer proposal, though well intentioned, is based on wishful thinking. Only time and honest, systematic study of actual needs and desires can determine the answers to this. On the face of it, the Palmer proposal would create major scheduling problems to both the Department of Men's Physical Education and Department of Intercollegiate Athletics while creating a net gain of only 5 additional hours per week for recreation. Since this additional time would be accrued during the conventional supper hour, would there be any really significant gain for recreation?

The current schedule plan for utilization of the Sports (Recreation) Building provides an average of 89 hours each week for recreation. This is approximately 75 per cent of the total time the building will be in use. If and when it can be clearly substantiated that the building would be well used for recreation at hours other than those provided in the current plan, then would be the time to consider alternative schedules, but not before that time.

SPI Board Approves DI Staff

Twelve appointees to The Daily Iowan staff for the 1968-70 school year were approved Friday by the Board of Trustees of Student Publications, Inc.

Appointed were Larry Chandler, A3, Waterloo, managing editor; Susan Sanders, A3, Kansas City, news editor; Stephen Silverman, A1, Fairfield, assistant news editor; Mark Rohrer, A2, Dubuque, city-university editor; Karen Good, A3, Bedford, associate university editor; Joanne Walton, A3, Lone Tree, associate city editor; Michael Slutsky, A3, Rockford, Ill., sports editor; Keith R. Gillette, A1, Fort Madison, associate sports editor; Rick Greenawalt, A3, Davenport, photography editor; Mal Moore, G, Carbondale, Ill., editorial page editor; Linda Boettcher, G, Iowa City, summer photographer; and Phil Dantes, A3, Waterloo, entertainment editor.

The appointments were made by Lowell Forte, LI, Webster City, editor-in-chief of the DI.

The structure of the staff has been reorganized somewhat to include a managing editor who will be in charge of the day to day operation of the newsroom. This position does not exist on the present staff.

The new staff, which takes over May 15, is composed entirely of journalism majors who have a wide variety of experience in the field.

Chandler is a DI reporter this semester, assigned to cover the University administration. Miss Sanders has been a stringer for the Des Moines Register and the Davenport Times-Democrat, and was co-university editor of the DI last semester. Silverman

Democratic Group Endorses March

The Johnson County Democratic Conference (JCDC) Committee on Domestic Order and Justice Friday strongly endorsed the march on the State Capitol in Des Moines planned for Monday. The JCDC is a Democratic party reform group.

The march is planned as a dramatization to state officials of student support of the 19-year-old vote, student opposition to a tuition hike and a bill which would restrict student voting.

Opponents of that bill have said that it would make it impossible for a student to vote either in his hometown or in the city where he attends school.

Marchers from the University and at least four other Iowa colleges have asked for a meeting Monday with Gov. Robert Ray, Lt. Gov. Roger Jepsen and representatives of the legislature to discuss the three issues.

Governor to Give ROTC Awards to 25

Twenty-three Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) cadets will receive awards at Governor's Day ceremonies today. Two coeds will also receive medals for participation in Angel Flight and Guidon Society.

The awards will be presented by Gov. Robert D. Ray, who will review the University's 700 ROTC cadets at 11 a.m. on the parade ground west of the Field House Armory.

University cadets and coeds receiving ROTC awards are listed alphabetically by hometown:

AMES: Mark Burke, Superior Cadet I Award for outstanding freshman cadet.

ANKENY: Douglas Shadle, Outstanding Junior Cadet Award.

BELLEVUE: Gary Giesmann, Chicago Tribune Gold Medal Award for proficiency in drill and academic achievement.

BOXHOLM: Thomas Shepard, Campus Leader Award for the cadet who has demonstrated leadership in campus activities.

BURLINGTON: Hans Kulsle, Outstanding Senior Cadet Award and University Commendation Award presented to the top two senior cadets.

CEDAR RAPIDS: Lars Larson, Governor's Award, an annual award for outstanding performance as deputy corps commander; Mark Stodola, General Dynamics Award for the cadet displaying a positive attitude toward his scholastic work and service in the Air Force.

CENTRAL CITY: Steven Warbasse, Brigade Commander's Award, given to the commanding officer of the Army brigade of cadets and the Air Force ROTC.

DIAGONAL: Roger Reece, Air Force Times Award for a cadet who has brought constructive attention to the Air Force ROTC.

IOWA CITY: Thomas Cjek, the Governor's Award, an annual award for outstanding performance as Corps Commander; Lawrence Wilson, Athletic Award for outstanding junior or senior athlete in Army ROTC.

MARION: Steven Rucker, Association of U.S. Army Award for outstanding junior cadet.

MASON CITY: Jay Pedely, Outstanding Sophomore Cadet Award.

SHELDON: Dennis Murphy, Chicago Tribune Gold Medal Award for proficiency in drill and academic achievement.

WALCOTT: Clyde Stollenberg, Academic Student Award for cadet with highest grades in Army ROTC.

WELLMAN: James Groff, University Commendation Award, presented to the top two senior cadets.

WEST POINT: Gerald Jenning, Outstanding Freshman Cadet Award.

MIAMI, Fla.: Edward Nevels, the Col. Brooks W. Booker Campus Service Award for outstanding and unselfish devotion to campus-wide activities.

Grads Will Continue Picket; No Action on Demands Yet

Graduate assistants decided Friday to continue picketing for higher wages in front of Old Capitol although they had previously planned to end the action Friday.

According to Russell Menard, G, Newark, Del., two assistants will picket for two hours each day for the next week.

The decision was made by 12 members of the Graduate Assistants Union steering committee Friday afternoon after a rally at the Union to discuss threatened tuition increases.

Menard said that he could not give a specific reason for the decision. He also said that no action has been taken by the administration about the graduate assistants' demands, but that members of the union would see Pres. Howard R. Bowen about the situation sometime next week.

Out on Bond in Rape Case, Man Is Arrested for Assault

A West Liberty man who was arrested last October and charged with raping two local women, is being held in Johnson County Jail in lieu of a $2,500 bond on a charge of assault with intent to inflict great bodily harm.

Bernard N. Descoteau, 23, who has been free on bond since November, was arrested by Iowa City police about midnight Thursday for allegedly attacking a woman at Lakeside apartments earlier that afternoon.

Descoteau appeared in Police Court Friday morning before Judge Marian J. Neely, who set a preliminary hearing for next Wednesday.

Police charged Descoteau on two counts of rape on Oct. 24 and bond was set at $10,000 on each count. He posted $2,000, or 10 per cent of each bond.

Detective Ronald Evans said that conditions of Descoteau's bond were that he seek employment and that he not come to Iowa City unless accompanied by another person. Descoteau was working as a truck driver here before being arrested.

Work Begins On New Plant

Groundwork is being laid for the opening next winter of a paper products plant in Iowa City.

H. P. Smith Co. of Chicago, a subsidiary of Phillips Petroleum Co., plans to begin construction of the $4 million plant this summer.

Through a partnership arrangement with the city, the firm has purchased a 20-acre site in the city's industrial park off Highway 6 Bypass and preliminary plans for the plant itself are presently being drawn up.

The City Council in February authorized a $4 million industrial bond issue to pay for the plant and site. The bonds will involve no tax money and will be repaid by Smith through a lease arrangement with the city.

City Atty. Jay Honohan said details of the lease are currently being worked out. A public hearing on the bond sale will be held in May or June, he said.

Although the plant and site will technically be public property, Smith will pay all local, state and federal taxes just as if it owned the property itself. Since the bonds offer tax-free income to the purchaser, Smith can sell them at less interest, thus reducing capital costs.

Scientists Say Bomb Tests Could Trigger Earthquakes

WASHINGTON — Contrary to their previous beliefs, a group of scientists reported Friday there is growing evidence that underground nuclear blasts can trigger earthquakes.

But they stressed that virtually nothing even approaching a hazardous tremor has yet resulted from the American test program in Nevada — and that an intensive precautionary program is aimed at preventing any such occurrence in future tests.

One of the researchers, Dr. John A. Blume, said a blast touched off last April, packing a wallop equivalent to more than a million tons of TNT, may have been "close to a threshold" of causing damage to buildings in Las Vegas.

Blume, a specialist on structural damage resulting from natural earthquakes, is president of a San Francisco research firm working under contract with the Atomic Energy Commission.

The panel held a news conference after presenting reports to a meeting of the American Geophysical Union.

A team of University of Nevada seismologists, not present at the news conference, told the meeting that small secondary earthquakes apparently have been generated out to distances of 24 miles from the blast-point by some of the Nevada shots.

Dr. John H. Healy of the government's National Center for Earthquake Research, Menlo Park, Calif., said an estimated 10,000 mini-earthquakes were generated by the 1.1 megaton "Benham" blast of last Dec. 19, virtually all of them within about eight miles of the blast point.

Healy said in response to a question that such secondary tremors would "definitely be triggered further out" by blasts more powerful than those so far tested.

But he added: "We are measuring the seismic effects of each shot, and there would be no testing if it was felt there was a hazard."

GIs Beat Back Attack at Border

SAIGON — Enemy forces unleashed a heavy rocket and mortar barrage over the Cambodian border into an American patrol base early today and then lost 78 dead in a screaming charge at the base, U.S. authorities said.

American artillery returned the fire, officers said, with shells exploding about 1,000 yards inside Cambodia.

The Americans, anticipating the attack, had burrowed deeply into their recently established fortress, called Frontier City. They suffered only four wounded, according to the report.

Perkins Safe on an Error

Iowa third baseman Bob Perkins crosses first base safely in the Hawks' Big 10 opener against Ohio State Friday. The throw from Ohio State third baseman Phil Morgan got by first baseman Dave Heiss and Perkins raced to second. Perkins was left stranded at second, however, and the Hawks eyes lost the doubleheader, 4-0, and 7-3.

Ohio State Sweeps Twinbill As Iowa Starts League Play

By JOE LOOMER
Four Iowa pitchers were unable to stop hard-hitting Ohio State here Friday as the Buckeyes swept a double-header from the Hawkeyes, 4-0 and 7-3, in the Big 10 openers for both teams.

In the opening game, Hawk ace Jim Koering took a three-hit shutout into the sixth inning but couldn't hold it as Ohio State reached him for six hits and four runs in the last two frames.

The Hawkeyes threatened twice in the game on singles by Bob Cataldo and Bob Perkins in the second inning and singles by Andy Jackson and Gary Breshers in the third, but couldn't get their hits at the right times.

The loss dropped Koering's record to 2-3.

Buckeye starter Fred Strine went all the way, shutting out the Hawks on six hits.

In the second game, the Hawks jumped out to a 3-0 lead in the first inning as Buckeye pitcher Joe Sadelfeld walked the first two Hawkeye hitters, Dave Krull and Jackson, and clean-up hitter Bob Cataldo followed with a two-run double off the right-center field fence. Mike Wymore then drew the third walk of the inning and Perkins followed one out later with a run-scoring infield single.

However, in the top half of the third the Hawks got a shot of their own medicine as Ohio State got the three runs back on three walks, a sacrifice fly and a two-run double by third baseman Phil Morgan.

Earl Foster, who had replaced Iowa State starter Al Schuette in the third inning uprising, got shelled for three more runs in the fourth before being replaced by Mike Klein, who allowed only two hits and one run in the final three innings.

Foster took the loss for Iowa, his second of the season against no victories.

Gene Rogers, who replaced Ohio State starter Sadelfeld in the first inning and pitched shut-out ball the final 5-2/3 innings, got the decision for the Buckeyes.

The game was called after six innings because of darkness.

The Hawkeyes, now 8-13 for the year, will face their second Big 10 opponent, Indiana, here today in a doubleheader starting at 1 p.m.

The Hoosiers have a 5-4 season record and were scheduled to play Big 10 favorite Minnesota in a doubleheader Friday in Minneapolis.

Iowa Coach Ernie Andres said he would start juniors Mike Ward (0-1) and Gary Brown (1-0) against the Hawks.

Iowa Coach Dick Schultz will go with Bruce Reid, who leads the Hawkeye pitching staff with a 3-2 record and 0.86 ERA, and Ben Banta.

Sox Edge Twins On Single by May

CHICAGO (AP) — Rookie Carlos May singled in the winning run in the ninth inning, bringing the Chicago White Sox from behind to a 6-5 victory over the Minnesota Twins Friday night.

The Twins had entered the ninth with a 5-4 lead on pinch-hitter Craig Nettles' three-run homer in the eighth, but pinch-hitter Gail Hopkins started the winning rally with a walk.

With one out, Ron Perranoski relieved and Walt Williams and Ron Hansen stroked pinch singles to tie the game.

Woodie Held, still another pinch hitter, was walked intentionally to load the bases before May delivered.

Chicago starter Tommy John was sailing along with a 4-2 lead when Tony Oliva singled and Bob Allison doubled before Nettles unloaded his second homer of the season off reliever Bob Locker.

Bucs Top Expos

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Steve Blass cracked a single and a tie-breaking triple and combined with Chuck Hartenstein on the mound as the Pittsburgh Pirates routed Montreal 8-2 Friday night.

Blass, 2-0, singled and scored the tying run in the fourth inning, and, then with two out in the fifth, he stroked a triple to keep left center, breaking a 2-2 deadlock.

Devlin Fires 66 to Share Nelson Golf Classic Lead

DALLAS (AP) — Slim Bert Greene, fighting growing pressure and the blustery, gusty Texas winds, sank a crucial, birdie putt on the last hole Friday and retained a share of the lead at the end of two rounds of the $100,000 Byron Nelson Golf Classic.

Greene, still looking for his first victory, finished with a 71 for 137 and a tie for the top spot with Australian Bruce Devlin and steady Frank Beard.

Devlin, a one-time Sydney plumber, had a brilliant 66 in the 30 mile per hour winds, four under par on the tough, 7,086-yard Preston Trail Golf Club layout. Beard had a 67.

Closing out on No. 9 — he'd started on the backside — the 25-year-old Greene needed a birdie to tie. He put his drive down the middle and rifled a six iron to within two feet of the pin, and calmly tapped it in.

His 66 had led the opening day. Aside from Greene, the other first-round leaders couldn't cope, and dropped back in the pack.

Bunched behind the leaders, two strokes off the pace at 139, were lefty Bob Charles of New Zealand, who had a second round 70; Julius Boros, the 49-year-old PGA king who added a 72 to his opening 67; Australian Bruce Crampton, 70; and U.S. open champion Lee Trevino, also 70.

Arnold Palmer's score ballooned to a 75, five over par, and was well back at 144. "A bad day at black rock," the muscular millionaire commented.

Villanova, Tennessee Pace Annual Penn Relays' Field

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Villanova turned back a surprisingly strong bid by William and Mary to win the distance medley, while Tennessee gained the shuttle hurdle relay title with the help of a break during Friday's opening of the 75th annual Penn Relays at Franklin Field.

Other winners at the nation's oldest relay carnival were Hakin Oberg of Puerto Rico's Mayaguez A & M in the 440-yard hurdles, Maryland's Richard Drescher in the discus, Ronald Wheeler of Johnson C. Smith College in the long jump, and Harvard's Charles Ajoftian in the hammer throw.

Anchorman Marty Liquori lost all but a yard of a 20-yard lead before turning on his Olympic form in the stretch to give Villanova the distance medley championship. Coach Jim Elliott's Villanovans seek to duplicate their unprecedented five relay victories of 1968.

Liquori, a sub four minute miler looked back at least half a dozen times before sprinting in the home stretch to beat off a challenge by William & Mary's Howell Michaels by 12-yards. Villanova was clocked in 9 minutes, 38.2 seconds with New York University a distant third and Manhattan fourth.

In the 480-yard shuttle hurdles, Maryland appeared ready to spring a big upset over top rated Tennessee as anchorman Tyrone Brown held off a late bid by the Volunteers' Rich-

Phils Beat Gibson As Cardinals Drop To Eastern Cellar

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Grant Jackson won his first game in Connie Mack Stadium as the Philadelphia Phillies beat St. Louis, 5-1, dropping the Cardinals into last place in the National League's Eastern Division.

Leading 1-0, the Phillies jumped on loser Bob Gibson, 1-2, for five straight hits and four runs in the sixth inning for their fourth straight victory.

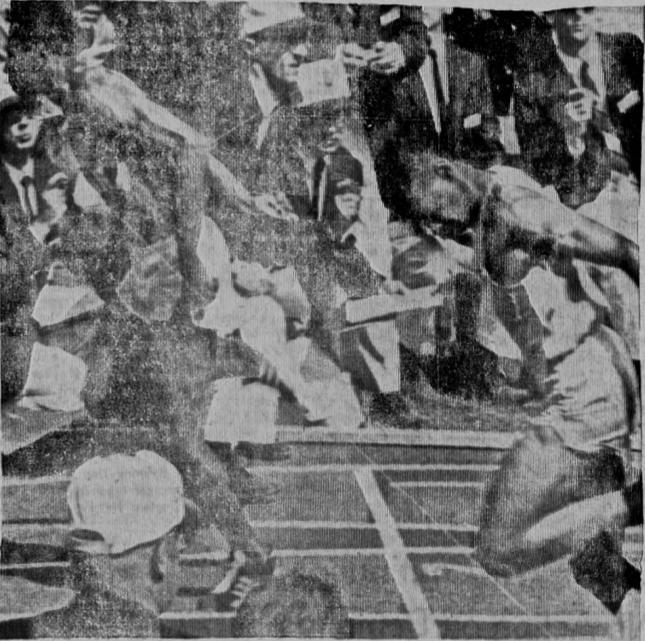

Jackson began the inning by beating out a bunt and Tony Taylor followed by beating out a slow grounder. Ron Stone failed to bunt and then singled scoring Jackson and Richie Allen, back in the line-up after missing five games, doubled to left, driving in Taylor and Stone.

The fourth run scored as Johnny Callison doubled to the scoreboard in right center. Jackson, who gave up seven hits, lost his shutout in the seventh when Shannon started with a single and scored as Deron Johnson and Terry Harmon committed errors on ground balls. In more than two years with the Phillies, Jackson was 0-5 at home.

Bucks Report Increase In Season Ticket Sales

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — General Manager John Erickson of the Milwaukee Bucks, the National Basketball Association team which signed big Lew Alcindor, said Friday the team already has received 6,000 requests for season tickets for the 1969-70 season.

Erickson had announced the price for season tickets only the day before, when it became known the Bucks would play 38 home games at the Milwaukee arena, which has a seating capacity of 10,476.

Goodrich Races to Relay Record

Indiana University's Mike Goodrich breaks the tape Friday and the Drake Relays' 100-yard dash record with a time of 9.2 seconds during the 60th annual Drake Relays in Des Moines. Behind him is Mickey Mathews of Kansas University.

Iowa's Frosh Distance Team Breaks Drake Relays' Mark

By TOM STARR

DES MOINES — Eight Drake relay records were broken, including one by Iowa, as the event opened its 60th year Friday. A crowd of 13,000 saw the initiation of a new $175,000 tartan track.

The Hawkeye freshman distance medley team smashed the old freshman-junior college mark of 10:10.2 by registering an impressive 9:57.1. The Iowa team included Mark Steffen, Kris Maynard, Chuck Christensen and Bob Schum. Schum was credited with a 4:09.3 anchor mile.

Iowa did not fare so well in its other entered events. Bruce Presley could only manage fourth in his heat of the 440-yard hurdle event in the preliminaries. Presley was timed in :55.4 and did not qualify for the finals. Presley also failed to make the finals in the 120-yard high hurdles.

A dropped baton ruined the chances of the Hawkeye 880-yard relay crew. The Al Bream-to-Jay Pedely exchange was booted after Bream had run the first leg of the relay. The Hawks also failed to make the finals in the one-mile relay.

Carl Frazier was sixth in the special invitational 440-yard dash. Curtis Mills of Texas A. and M. broke the old Drake mark of :46.5 with clocking of :46.2 in the event. Frazier rounded the track in :47.8.

Along with the distance medley and 440-yard dash, six other Drake marks fell.

Mike Goodrich of Indiana whizzed to a :09.2 clocking in the 100-yard dash to top the old mark of :09.4. Three other runners had :09.3 time.

Other records broken were: 440-yard relay (university division) by Kansas, :40.4 — old record, :40.5; 880-yard relay (university division) by Rice, 1:23.2 — old record, 1:23.7; two-mile relay (university division) by Kansas State, 7:18.3 — old record, 7:20.6; two-mile relay (college division) by Prairie View, 7:27.1 — old record, 7:30.0; and pole-vault (high school division) by Brian Myers of Marshalltown, 13-10 1/4 — old record, 13-9 1/4.

The two biggest stars at the first half of the two-day event were Olympic standouts Jim Ryun and Dick Fosbury. One of them was a disappointment and the other was not.

Ryun, the Kansas ace who holds the world's record in the mile with a 3:51.5, only managed a 4:11.0 anchor in the four-mile relay and was somewhat of a letdown to the jeering throng of fans. Ryun was just pushing enough, however, to qualify for the finals today.

Fosbury was the most popular athlete in the Stadium as he electrified everyone in the stands with his famous "Fosbury Flop" over the bar in the high jump. Fosbury answered the cheer by going 7-0 in the first year of the event at the Relays.

Drake basketball player Rick Wannamaker was second at 6-11 in the same event.

Rain is expected as the Relays are completed today with a full slate scheduled to start at 8:50 a.m. with the last event to be at 4:55 p.m.

Golfers Compete In Purdue Tourney

The Iowa golf team will attempt to improve upon a second-place finish in the 11-team Illinois tournament when it journeys to Lafayette, Ind. today for the Purdue Centennial meet.

Coach Chuck Zweiner said that the Purdue meet would include basically the same field as last weekend's meet, including all the Big 10 teams. Purdue nipped the Hawkeyes by a stroke in Champagne.

Zweiner said, "If we can do as well as we did last week, I might start getting optimistic."

The Iowa swingers are led by Bob Mulert along with Phil Aldridge, Brad Schukat, Jim Carney, Bob Lightner and Pat Stopoulos.

Along with the second place finish in the Illinois meet, the Hawks are 1-1 in dual competition after splitting a pair with Arizona.

Hawkeye Rugby Team Meets 2 Tough Foes

Iowa's rugby team has two more home games on tap this weekend. The ruggers square off with St. Ambrose at 1:30 today and meet rugged Palmer College at 3:00 Sunday. A B game with William Penn will precede the Sunday action.

St. Ambrose and Iowa have met once already this season with the Hawks grabbing a 23-3 decision.

Coach Larry Mitchell is looking for one of the toughest games of the season from Palmer. He said Palmer was a much better team than the Chicago club that Iowa beat, 3-0, last weekend.

Since the origin of the Iowa Rugby Club in 1965, the Hawks have won only one game from Palmer. Mitchell says that this is the year and the team to get even. Palmer is made up of mostly New Zealand, Australian and South African players while the Iowa squad is completely home grown.

Infernos Battle Central In League Soccer Meet

The Iowa Infernos will put their 4-0 record on the line twice this weekend. The Infernos travel to Pella today to take on Central College in a league game, then return home Sunday for a game with Monmouth College.

The Sunday game begins at 2 p.m. on the new field by the Hawkeye Apartments.

The Infernos are currently leading the Upper Mississippi Soccer Alliance and have outscored opponents 12 goals to 2.

Drysdale Declared 'Disabled,' Sidelined for 21-Day Stretch

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The once indestructible pitching ace of the Los Angeles Dodgers, Don Drysdale, goes on the 21-day disabled list Monday. Whether it will stretch longer — into retirement — no one, even Drysdale, can say.

A torn muscle deep in the right shoulder of his throwing arm is the problem. That arm has kept him in the $100,000 bracket the past several years.

"I think things will work out," said the man who has won 205 games as a Dodger, a club record, and who holds the major league record of 58-2/3 consecutive scoreless innings.

Drysdale's place in the pitching rotation will be taken today by young Alan Foster against the Cincinnati Reds at Dodger Stadium.

Early Friday the club — after talking it over with the 32-year-old Drysdale and manager Walter Alton, as well as the club physician, Dr. Frank Jobe — decided to place Drysdale on the disabled list Monday.

Cubs Snap Streak With 3-1 Decision

NEW YORK (AP) — Don Kessinger, Ron Santo and winner Ferguson Jenkins each hit solo homers and Jenkins hurled a six-hitter as the Chicago Cubs snapped a three-game losing streak with a 3-1 victory over the New York Mets Friday night.

Kessinger lashed his first homer of the season — and only the third of his career — off Met starter Tom Seaver with two out in the third.

Santo led off the fourth with his fourth homer, and Jenkins slammed his 370-foot blast over the right field fence in the fifth.

Seaver, 1-2, gave up only two other hits before he was lifted for a pinch hitter in the seventh.

Jenkins, 3-1, checked the Mets until Ron Swoboda hits his first homer with two out in the sixth. He retired the next 10 in order.

Nats Top Indians

CLEVELAND (AP) — Frank Howard and Brant Aleya slammed two-run homers, and combined for seven RBI's Friday night as the Washington Senators clobbered Cleveland, 10-3, extending the Indians' losing streak to eight games.

Sailing Club Competes In 7-Team Event Here

Seven teams will compete in 14 races for the Area C championship of the Midwest Collegiate Sailing Association (MCSA) today at Lake Macbride.

Wayne Robinson, UI Sailing Club commodore, says Notre Dame and Wisconsin, one-two finishers in 1968, will probably repeat their performances this year.

Robinson expects the Iowa team to be a challenger for third place, along with crews from Marquette and Northwestern.

Purdue and Wisconsin State University (Oshkosh) will also race. Teams that finish in the first three places will be eligible for competition in the MCSA Midwest Championship on May 10 and 11.

Area C finalists will face teams from the Area A and B eliminations that will be held today at Wayne State and Cincinnati.

'Instant Hospitals' Stored By County for Disaster Use

Two fully equipped hospitals, each capable of accommodating 200 patients for 30 days, are stored in Johnson County, ready for use in an emergency, according to Civil Defense Director Wayne D. Walters. Each hospital is stored in about 600 boxes and ready for quick assembly. The units include X-ray equipment, surgical instruments and a 30-day supply of drugs. They are equipped with water and power facilities. If an emergency occurred and more than one existing hospital space was required, one unit would be available to operate in conjunction with University Hospitals and one with Veterans Hospital. The units would function as satellites to the base hospitals, using their medical and nursing staffs. The permanent hospitals would also provide food for the emergency hospitals. The units could be used in small communities around the county if a disaster was limited to that community. Walters said that most of the supplies and equipment can be stored indefinitely. Certain items are stored under refrigeration, and all supplies and equipment are checked periodically. The equipment stored will be replaced as it becomes outdated.

LABOR SPEECH SLATED

Prof. Jack Barbash of the University of Wisconsin School of Workers will speak on "Labor's Attempt at Liberal Education" at the graduation banquet of a Union Leadership Academy Sunday at Carousel Restaurant in Coralville. Some 150 persons are expected to attend the banquet, marking the completion of the second year of the program directed also by CLM.

Backers Pushing Aid To 'Private' Students

DES MOINES (AP) — Legislative backers of a plan to give state aid to needy Iowa college students attending in-state private schools want to go ahead despite a warning by Atty. Gen. Richard Turner that the plan is unconstitutional.

"I think the decision should be made by the courts rather than any one lawyer," said Senate Republican Leader David Stanley of Muscatine.

"I think the governor should go ahead and sign it, as I think he will, and it can be tested in court," he said.

Turner said he believes the bill, which has been passed by both houses of the legislature, conflicts with the constitutional separation of church and state.

Turner's opinion was sought by Sen. Eugene Hill (D-Newton).

an opponent of the tuition-grant plan.

Hill said the Iowa constitution prohibits the state spending money on a plan which would benefit church supported or affiliated schools.

Supporters of the plan contended the money goes not to the schools but to the students.

Turner disagreed: "It is contemplated that the student will pay it (the state's money) to the college. So the students act only as conduits through whom the public funds will flow into the treasuries of the colleges."

"However indirectly accomplished, public funds may not be granted to private colleges."

The attorney general's opinion strikes a blow at one of Republican Gov. Robert Ray's major legislative proposals. Ray has said the program would benefit not only private colleges and universities but the three state-supported universities as well.

The governor has not indicated whether he would sign the bill in light of Turner's ruling.

Abernathy, 70 Others

Jailed in Hospital Strike

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — The Rev. Ralph Abernathy and about 70 others were arrested Friday when they joined a picket line at the South Carolina Medical College Hospital for the second time of the day.

Abernathy, head of the Southern Leadership Conference, and the others arrested were charged with violating a state court injunction which forbids more than 10 pickets at a time in front of the hospital.

Education Faculty Honors 4 Students

Four students were honored for their achievements at a faculty meeting of the College of Education last week.

Bernard R. Bartholomew of Iowa City received the Perry Eugene McClenahan Award as the outstanding candidate for an advanced degree in educational administration, and Bonnie J. Donady of Iowa City received the Paul C. Packer Award as the outstanding candidate for a master's degree in education.

Pi Lambda Theta, the national honorary professional society for women in education, gave its senior award to Miss Margaret L. Mosier of Mount Ayr and its graduate award to Sister Marie Michelle Schiffgens of Davenport. Both women were cited for their field scholarship, promise in the field of education and outstanding personal qualities by the local chapter, which originally presented the awards at its annual March dinner.

Prof. Harold McCarty, the first chairman of the Department of Geography, organized in 1946, was honored at a banquet at the Athletic Club during the two-day annual spring conference for geography teachers.

French Voters Deciding Fate Of De Gaulle

PARIS (AP) — Charles de Gaulle — his presidency perhaps threatened in Sunday's national referendum — appealed Friday night for time to accomplish his "grand design" for France.

Insisting the nation's destiny is in the balance, De Gaulle urged approval of his bill to decentralize the country's administration and strip the senate of its legislative powers.

He left no doubt, in a brief, defensive radio-television address, that he would quit the presidency immediately if the project is rejected.

"If I am disavowed by a majority among you... my present task as chief of state would obviously become impossible and right away I would stop the exercise of my functions," he said.

His address was a last-minute attempt to redress a trend measured by public polls against the bill, and against his continuation in a post he has held for more than a decade.

He appeared to recognize that some opposition is found among former Gaullist supporters willing to vote his disappearance on the calculation that former Premier Georges Pompidou would assure an orderly succession.

For these voters, impatient for change, but desirous of a calm transfer of power, De Gaulle for the first time set a deadline on his continuation in power.

If the referendum is approved, he said, he would continue the task undertaken more than 10 years ago "to give our country the democratic institutions adapted to our people."

"Finally, at the end of the regular term, without rending and without upheaval, turning the last page in the chapter of our history which I opened 30 years ago, I will transmit my official charge to the one that you will have elected to assume it after me."

This was the first time De Gaulle has said without equivocation he would step down when his present, second seven-year term expires in 1972.

Photography Prof To Be Featured At Meeting Here

Job Corps Trainees to Be Relocated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor George P. Shultz said Friday every Job Corps enrollee whose center is closed down will be given a chance to go to another one or to take part in a different job training program.

Shultz appeared before a Senate labor subcommittee to defend the Nixon administration's decision to close 59 centers this summer, including one at Clinton, Iowa. He said the Job Corps has done a relatively poor job of meeting the needs of many disadvantaged youth. Nevertheless, it does meet some needs, he said, and about 50 per cent of its centers will be kept open.

McCarty Honored Before Retirement

A professor who came to the University as a student in 1919 and later built one of the country's outstanding graduate departments of geography here was honored Friday evening by more than 100 geography teachers and former students on the eve of his retirement. Prof. Harold McCarty, the first chairman of the Department of Geography, organized in 1946, was honored at a banquet at the Athletic Club during the two-day annual spring conference for geography teachers.
