Try Resistance in All Areas, Hoffmans Says

By JOANNE WALTON

WASHINGTON, March 15. A Defense Department official, speaking on Sunday, emphasized the importance to the drive of the civil rights movement in winning the hearts and minds of the American people. The official said that the goal was to create a sense of unity and purpose among all segments of society.

Admiral Questions Conduct of the Melbourne in Crash

By ROBERT H. WILSON

Admiral Thomas C. Hart, U.S. Commissary General of the U.S. Navy, expressed concern Sunday about the conduct of the Melbourne, a Royal Australian Navy vessel, in the collision with the USS Argo which killed 15 men last week. Admiral Hart, who was in charge of the investigation, said: "It's clear that the Melbourne's actions were a contributory factor in the collision." Admiral Hart's statement came after the Navy announced that the Melbourne's captain had been relieved of duty and that the ship's crew had been suspended pending further investigation.

Ways and Means Unit Still Discussing Surtax

BY ANTHony G. MACNABB

Washington, March 15. The Ways and Means Committee of the House of Representatives continues to study the issue of a surtax, but has not yet decided on a course of action. Speaker John W. McCormack said today that the committee is still working on the problem and that no decision will be made until after the Easter recess.

Court: House Couldn't Unseat Powell

WASHINGTON, March 15. The Supreme Court today refused to hear an appeal from the House of Representatives that sought to remove Representative J. Edward Brownell, D-Conn., from his seat in Congress. The court's action came on the day the House voted to remove Brownell, who is under a cloud because of his failure to pay his income tax.

Shrubs Brazil As Rocky Arries

BRASILIA, March 15 (AP) - Brazil's security forces are on high alert in the capital city today as the government announced it is sending in additional military personnel to help maintain order.

The government's decision comes in the wake of recent protests by students and workers over the cost of living and education.

Seven people have been killed and 15 injured in clashes between security forces and demonstrators in recent days.

The government has vowed to crack down on any further unrest and has ordered police to fire on anyone who tries to disrupt public order.

Last week, Brazil's president, Getulio Vargas, declared a state of emergency in the country, giving police and military authorities a broad mandate to maintain law and order.

This is the first time Brazil has declared a state of emergency since the 1964 military coup that ended the democratic process.

The move comes amid growing public anger over rising prices, unemployment and the ongoing conflict in Angola.

The government has promised to hold elections later this year, but many Brazilians doubt its commitment to democracy and fear that it will escalate the violence.

Repression in Congress

The Nixon administration is widely being charged with the charge of using legislation against the younger generation. As of now, no one has found a way to counteract this move. The Select Committee on the National Violence commission has heard testimony from law enforcement officials, students, and others. The chairman of the committee, the late Sen. Edmund Muskie, has stated that "the evidence is clear that the Nixon administration has been using legislation as a tool of repression against the younger generation." The committee has called for hearings on the matter and has recommended that the Nixon administration be held accountable for its actions.

It is worth noting, however, that the Nixon administration has been using legislation as a tool of repression against the younger generation. The administration has been seen as using legislation to stifle dissent and suppress student protests. Measles Vaccine Available Soon

A new vaccine for human immunodeficiency against measles, offered as a gift to German and British newborns, is expected to be available on a commercial basis by the mid-European summer.

The vaccine is being developed to prevent a widespread measles epidemic expected in the United States in 1976. Although outbreaks are likely to persist, the potential benefits of this new vaccine cannot be overstated.

The vaccine will be given to all newborns in the United States in the first year of life, with the exception of those who have had measles previously or have been vaccinated against it.

Services Planned For Body Donors

A biodegradable memorial service will be held for all body donors at the University of Iowa Hospital.

The service will be held at 4 p.m. on June 29, 1976, in the University of Iowa Hospital Chapel.

The service will be attended by family members, friends, and medical personnel.

The service will conclude with a reception held in the University of Iowa Hospital Chapels.

The best thing we’ve ever hidden is our light under a bushel.

Our secret of success is that we have no secrets.

How much we take in... how much we pay out... what we keep to cover our small cost of operating... everything we do is a matter of public record. It’s all there, in fine detail on file.

Wherever we broaden benefits to meet your health care needs... every time we add health care services to your coverage... when raising health care costs call for a rate adjustment... the change must first be approved.

That’s why we have the legislature’s stamp when they passed the act allowing us to operate without profits.

The happy part is that we don’t have to apply to the tax law and regulated providers of health care benefits is the state. It allows us to spend a lot more of your money on you.

There’s one more thing they asked for in exchange: the 24-hour day.

John J. Risk, a spokesman for MSA, said yesterday that MSA’s application to provide 24-hour care was turned down by the state.

MSA has threatened to sue the new law in court and to seek a legal action in order to carry on 24-hour care and maintain its already successful program.

The only thing we’ve ever hidden is our light under a bushel.
Democrats Oppose Redistricting Plan

NEW DES MOINES - The state Democrats and Republicans have reached an impasse on the redistricting plan for the Iowa Legislature.

Democrats have faulted Republicans, who hold a majority in both houses, for ignoring the population discrepancies among counties when drawing the lines for the state House of Representatives.

"The redistricting process is not just about drawing lines for political advantage, it's about fair representation," said Rep. John D. Conner, D-Cedar Rapids. "We're not just talking about Republicans gaining more seats, but about the need to reflect the population in the legislative bodies.

Conner is concerned about the possibility of a lawsuit challenging the plan, which could delay implementation of the new district boundaries.

"We need to move forward on this issue," Conner said. "The people of Iowa deserve representation that accurately reflects their needs and concerns.

Republican leaders argue that the currentistricting process is fair and that the Democratic assertion is based on a misunderstanding of the law.

"We're following established guidelines and the law as written," said Senate Majority Leader Bob }) of the Democratic Party. "The districts are drawn in a way that reflects the population distribution across the state.

The dispute centers on the issue of proportional representation, with Democrats arguing for a plan that more accurately reflects the population distribution across the state.

"The current plan is a violation of the U.S. Constitution," said Rep. Patricia Smith, D-Minneapolis. "It's time to do things right and create a fair and just redistricting process.

Senator Lee McDaniel, R-Fairfield, defended the current proposal, saying it reflects a balanced approach that takes into account both population distribution and geographic boundaries.

"We've done our best to create a fair and just process," McDaniel said. "I urge my colleagues to support this plan.

The current redistricting process is expected to continue over the next several weeks, with both sides pledging to push for their respective agendas.

"The stakes are high on this issue," said Conner. "We need to get this right, and that means making sure the people of Iowa are represented fairly.

The dispute over redistricting is just one of the many issues facing the Iowa Legislature, which is set to convene later this month.

"We have a lot of work to do," said McDaniel. "But I'm confident we can find a solution that works for everyone.

The Daley-Delaware debate is expected to continue over the coming weeks, with both sides vowing to push for their respective agendas.

"We're committed to doing the right thing," said Conner. "Let's make sure the redistricting process is fair and just for the people of Iowa."
How About Some Races and a Water Show?

It was the weekend that the Mississippi became stage center for two days of water shows and boat races on June 7 and June 8 at the Dubuque Yacht Basin. In the upper left picture, the crowd watches the boats roar by. There were races on both days. The picture at the lower left shows one of the performers in the water show. The "wings" he wears lift him out of the water high into the air — sometimes to a very unceremonious and wet landing. The picture immediately below shows a thousand-yard stare while he waits for his turn at the course. In the upper right picture, the crowd can see the scene in the water show. The title to the lower right picture was "Man or Bird?" The picture below shows a 15-year-old racer while he waits for his turn at the course. In the upper right picture, the boats race into the corner with the spray flying.
Who Says Sports 'Figures' are Drobs?

Now that we have our statistics — Mike McCovery, pitcher/Shortstop, was you watch at the Hilltop Park Granada Theater on Saturday, July 16, at 2 p.m. — the Sports BRIEFS section for June 16, 1969.

Mike McCovery is a right-handed pitcher who has been called a "drob" by some sports figures. However, he has shown great promise as a pitcher and shortstop.

McCovery was born on March 15, 1947, in Chicago, Illinois. He attended Roosevelt High School and then played baseball for the University of Illinois. McCovery was drafted by the Chicago White Sox in the 1969 amateur draft and made his major league debut with the Sox in 1970.

McCovery has a 93 mph fastball and a changeup that is difficult to hit. He has also shown good control and a good understanding of the game. He is expected to play a key role in the Sox's future.

Academic freedom is generally defined as protection from censorship in teaching and research. It is not an absolute right, but a right that is limited by the interests of the state. Academic freedom is important because it allows professors to teach what they believe to be true, and it is a fundamental right that should be protected.

Arson Cases Across State Increasing, Fire Chief Says

More than 180 cases of arson were investigated in Johnson County last year, and an estimated 3,000 more were not. The City of Iowa City, the county seat, has seen a sharp increase in the number of arson cases in recent years. This trend indicates a growing awareness of the importance of arson as a crime.

It Was a House Full of Drugs; A House That Possessed Fear

By HARRY L. MAHONEY

It's not an old, mistaken, traditional society of the kind that is often referred to as the "white" or the "youth culture," but rather a generation of society in which the idea of drug use, or even the idea of drug use as a viable alternative to the norms of society, is no longer accepted.

But the supply of narcotics in the city is still available, and the demand is high. As the price of drugs increases, the supply is reduced, and the demand rises.
